District Sells Bonds

By Pat Blair

Aransas County's $3.57 million in school bonds have sold for an effective interest rate of 8.4978 percent and a net interest cost to the district of $3,020,565.43.

The sale -- to Rose-Winston, a firm representing a number of businesses including Dallas and Houston banks -- was approved by the Aransas County School District Board of Trustees during a meeting that began at 7 p.m. Monday, November 10.

In other action during the meeting, board members and School Superintendent Joe Randow heard from parents complaining about disciplinary measures used by the schools.

The school district received three bids on the proposed school bond sales in Monday's meeting. The bidders represented a total of 19 firms known nationally and/or across Texas.

Laddie Janecek, serving as the school district's financial advisor, told the board the bidders were "top investment houses in Texas and some of the largest in the U.S."

Board members had the option of awarding the bid Monday night or rejecting all three bids and trying again later. However, Janecek reminded board members they were "playing with taxpayers' money" and if interest rates do not go down and the board was unable to sell the bonds later at lower interest rates, "the monkey's on your backs."

The clown dolls will be just part of the goodies — everything from surprise packages to tree trimmers to food — that will be for sale at the Bazaar. Dottie and Bonnie, by the way, are Winter Texans and "regulars" at the Travel Trailer Haven in Fulton.

'WE'RE GETTING THERE!'

That's what Vi Street, left, and Francey Leggett were saying Monday afternoon as they pointed to the line showing current collections in this year's United Fund campaign. As of last Thursday's, November 6, luncheon meeting of Aransas County United Fund officers and board members, the organization has received $12,595.88 toward its 1980 goal of $20,103. Some 1,000 letters have been mailed out to individuals in the county, seeking contributions, and about 1500 more will be mailed in the near future. Campaign Chairman Betty Jean Ward says this year's campaign is "right on schedule," having gotten underway on October 1. Vi is special gifts chairman for this year's effort and Francey is publicity chairman.

Annual ACMSI Bazaar Set For This Weekend

Want to do some Christmas shopping, have fun while you're doing it — and at the same time, help a worthy cause?

Then you're invited to the Annual Christmas Bazaar sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Aransas County Medical Services Inc.

It's set for this weekend — Saturday and Sunday, November 15 and 16 — at the Paws & Taws Building on Fulton Beach Road, and it's open to everyone.

Booths feature all kinds of items, from "white elephants" to handmade "tree trimmers" to home-baked "goodies" of all sorts.

Of course there will be lots of items — like the hand-painted skirts, towels and you-name-it — that are made in the Women's Committee's own workshop in Encina Plaza.

Among new features this year will be the "Surprise Package" booth where you can buy a gift-wrapped "surprise" to take home. And if you get hungry, you can buy food to eat "on the spot" — as well as edibles that you can take home for later.

The Bazaar will open at 9 a.m. Saturday and remain open until 5 p.m. Hours Sunday will be from 11 a.m.

Nathan Jones Spent

Days On The Road, Nights In The Ring

By Johnnie Littleton

Nathan Jones was living in Miranda City, working out of Laredo as an oilfield truck driver and taking all comers in the boxing ring at night.

Of course that was in the early 1920s when Jones was about 19 years old and it didn't bother him to drive from 250 to 600 miles a shift.

What he hauled on those trucks was all kinds of oilfield equipment, and where he drove was all over Texas. He did not have the highways, expressways, and good paved roads we now have, so he drove hard and fast over muddy roads, some filled with holes — and sometimes there was no road at all. That equipment had to get to the well and it had to get there on time.

The old adage about the mailman and sleet snow, rain and hail also applied to those oilfield truckers — they had to get the stuff there or the boss would find someone who could.

Jones said he remembered in the Rio Grande Valley there was a small town where the truckers went with empty drums and the gaugers would fill it with gasoline. It was free and the sand and water had to be strained from it, but it worked fine. "You could smell that stuff a block away," Jones recalls.

Some of the old wells near Laredo are still pumping — maybe two or three barrels a day and some maybe 10 — but the oil's still coming. He remembers that those were wells that were cleaned and pumped each day.

Trucks, ships and automobiles were few and oil was plentiful in those days.

"I remember during WWI my daddy said 'Well, gasoline is up to 3 cents a

R-F Band Rated 'Excellent'

"The entire community should be proud of the band," said band director Dwayne Bishop. Saturday, November 8, the Rockport-Fulton High School Band participated in the annual U.I.L Marching contest in Robstown, earning a II rating.

Two judges at the contest rated the band a II and one judge gave it a I rating.

A II is categorized as "excellent" by the U.I.L. standards.

"The rating does not really reflect the fine performance given by the band and I am very proud of their performance," said Bishop.

Wayne Maxwell of Brenham rated the band a II as did Joe Wassel of Port Lavaca. Henry Schraub of Hearst gave the band a I.

Pipelines...
make good neighbors

America has over 220,000 miles of petroleum pipelines carrying crude oil and products to refineries and storage terminals across the United States. Each day, more than 1.5 billion ton/miles of crude oil and products move through this network. These pipelines have a safety record second to none in the transportation industry . . . and we want you to help us keep it that way.

liquids on or a mist above the ground in the area of a pipeline.
- Flames originating from an opening in the ground.

If you become aware of a pipeline leak . . .
- LEAVE THE LEAK AREA IMMEDIATELY.
- Avoid driving into vapor clouds.
- Avoid direct contact with the escaping liquids.

GROUND MARKER | GROUND MARKER | CASING VENT | AERIAL MARKER

When you see signs like those shown above, they tell you that there's a pipeline nearby. If it's underground, you can't see it, of course. But it's there, working quietly to provide energy for you and other consumers throughout this nation.

Some of these signs list the commodity transported in the pipeline, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached at all times.

Although pipelines have an exceptionally good safety record, once in a while a leak can occur. Indications of a leak might include:
- A strange or unusual odor in the vicinity of a pipeline.
- A hissing or roaring sound (caused by petroleum or product escaping from a pipeline).
- A dense white cloud or fog.
- A spot of dead or discolored vegetation.
- An accumulation of petroleum
- Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which could cause the liquids or vapor to ignite and burn. If you find yourself in a suspected vapor area, do not light a match, start an engine or even switch on an electric light.
- Notify the pipeline operator as soon as you reach a safe area. Call collect. Give your name, a description of the leak and its location. If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police or sheriff's department, or the state police. Advise them of the nature and location of the emergency.

If you see someone digging near a pipeline or doing other construction work . . . or if you plan to do such work near a pipeline yourself . . . please call the telephone number shown on the sign and let the pipeline company know so damage can be avoided. It's in your interest . . . and the nation's.

America's Petroleum Pipelines
Pipelines are the safest way to move petroleum and products and you can help keep it that way!

State Of The Region

By Juliet K. Wenger
Coastal Bend Council of Governments

In parts of the Coastal Bend, flood waters receded after Hurricane Allen and left layers of mud and debris in homes, some of them homes of the elderly, phisically unable to deal with the ordeal.

The Voluntary Action Center of the Coastal Bend called upon various churches which responded with volunteers who cleaned out the homes.

On the other hand, Red Cross and other agencies needed help in documenting and validating losses from wind and water.

Older people, quite able to do this work, responded through RSVP, the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

So older people receive help they need from volunteers and give their communities the help they need by volunteering.

Some of the senior citizens have only recently retired and are at an age where it is not remarkable for them to be active.

But in the Coastal Bend there is a 101-year-old man who is a regular volunteer. He does landscape work and watering of plants at a senior center.

And he goes into schools and gives a living history lesson, talking about the time he rode with Teddy Roosvelt in the Rough riders, and Roosvelt helped him select a horse.

Grants are no longer available for paid staff to handle an RSVP program, as was the case in the past, but the state office will assist any church or organization willing to coordinate an RSVP program in the community.

This means enrolling residents who are 60 years old or older and helping them to find volunteer work that will fill community needs. The matching of volunteers and tasks is as important to the older people as it is to the community.

The volunteers do not have to be physically active. There is a retired teacher who is in a nursing home, bedridden. A child, who needs extra help, comes to her bedside after school and is tutored.

Volunteers in wheel chairs can call games or square dances in nursing homes.

One group of older volunteers takes discarded clothing and rips the seams, providing material that can be reused. Others make that material into children's clothing for families in need. Smaller scraps are made into doll clothes to dress dolls in Christmas packages, or into quilts or lap robes for use in nursing homes.

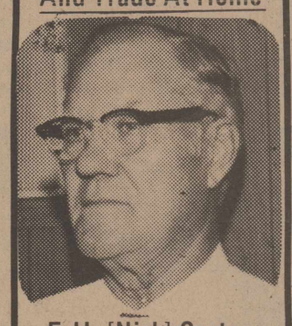

Older volunteers are using their talents in puppetry. Writing their own scripts, they take the puppets into senior centers to teach nutrition, into nursing homes for entertainment, into schools where students begin to realize that aging can be simply living longer and living well.

Starting volunteer work soon after retirement is a good idea to avoid retreating and beginning to feel isolated. When this has happened, the older person is often reluctant to begin volunteer work.

Encouraging the person to work first in a senior center is a good first step into community work.

The steps that can be taken after that are only limited by the creativity and imagination of those in the community organization which coordinates and RSVP program.

Made for each other: South Texas and the heat pump...

Even in much colder parts of the nation, the electric heat pump is gaining in popularity as an energy efficient system for both heating and cooling.

But where the heat pump really performs is in a relatively mild winter climate like ours. Research indicates that in the area served by Central Power and Light Company a properly installed heat pump can produce at least 2½ BTU's of heat for every BTU of energy required to run it. And that means savings on your electricity bills.

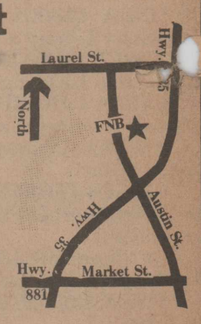

The heat pump is an efficient air conditioning/heating system because it is less expensive to move heat than to make it. In cold weather, a heat pump extracts heat from outside air and brings it inside. In the summer, it moves heat from the home's interior to the outside, thus becoming an effective air conditioner. Consider installing a heat pump if you're building a new house or remodeling your present one. It can help you use energy wisely—and save money, too.

Accident Report

Two Rockport men were involved in a traffic accident on Rockport Beach Road near the bandshell about 4:40 p.m. Saturday.

Police said both men were driving west on the road when Thomas Michael Halstead, 37, of 1110 Nopal passed another car. As Halstead was passing the third vehicle, Franklin D. Rowe, 18, of 906 North Church attempted a left turn across the road.

Police said Halstead swerved to try to avoid Rowe but his vehicle skidded and collided with Rowe's car.

WHAT A CHOICE!

Marilyn Williford helps Jerry Michael Schibi and Tabby Krogsgaard, both second grade students at Live Oak Elementary School, pick some good books. The school is sponsoring its fourth annual Book Fair November 10 through November 14, and librarian Linda Clark said it has been very successful. Since this year's fair is going well, she hopes to have another in the spring. Children were allowed to browse and buy from selections of science, sports, how-to books and even some cookbooks for beginners. There are also posters, records and activity books selling at the Book Fair, and classics by Charles Dickens, Mark Twain, Jack London and Mary Shelley for the older students.

Fire deaths fewer but injuries rise

There were fewer fire deaths in 1979 than in 1978, but injuries increased, the National Fire Protection Association reports.

About 7,780 civilians died in 2,845,500 fires to which public fire services responded, a 4.3 percent drop. But 31,325 civilians were injured, 5.1 percent more than in 1978.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

This letter not only shows my ignorance but I think it shows a weak link in justice and our juvenile probation program in Rockport.

In mid-January of this year, I was called by my pastor and a police officer late Saturday night to see if I would take in a 17-year-old boy for a few days because he was hungry and tired and had gone to the police station for help. I agreed and they brought him out.

I fed him and put him to bed. The next morning while I was at work, he stole and wrecked my car. I fed him for two more days until I noticed the damage.

I pressed charges on the boy and they locked him in the juvenile shelter. The police then checked him out and learned he had fled authorities in Washington State after he had stolen a vehicle there.

I have worked in the shelter many times and I can say from experience that for this type opportunist of a boy the shelter is no less than a quiet motel where he can sleep and watch TV all he wants and get three meals a day.

This young thief stayed in "jail" one night, even though he had already stolen two vehicles. The next day his mother, whom he had not associated with for years, came and got him out. I complained to our juvenile authorities but they said they had to release him to his mother and they did not indicate there would be a trial. I got the feeling the case was closed. It didn't matter that I had received $226 in damage to my car.

Then about six weeks later, I got a call from our juvenile officer requesting that I file charges. It seems the boy had stolen a truck in Brownsville and then assaulted a lady in our shelter. Our authorities quickly returned to me to ask me to file charges because mine had become "the lightest case."

The stolen truck and assault were dropped by our elected and hired officials for the lighter case. It was just tough for the truck owner and lady even though the law says a person can be tried for two similar accounts at the same time.

The hearing time came, April 2, and I made another stupid move by letting my insurance company pay for the damage and asking the defendant for only the deductible because I felt sorry for his mom who would have to pay cost — but it was the same mom that would not let her boy pay with some confinement.

I asked for $92 damages from the boy. I don't know if I got it because they had the policemen and me leave the courtroom after I testified. I received $50 of the $92 in the mail.

It's been six months now, and I haven't seen the other $42. I have called the juvenile officer three times in that six months and each time she has given excuse for why the mother can't come up with the $42.

I have spent more than $92 worth of time trying to get the $92.

My question: Who are our county officials for?? No wonder some of our youth are the way they are, with the impractical way our adults deal with the problems.

s/John Smith

A Different

This column this week is a repeat of my first column, which was published Wednesday, October 22. Through no one's fault, my picture was not included in the first run of this.

It seems that most people identify my column with my picture. Many have told me that they could not find it — hence a repeat.

REMINISCING

In January, 1979, I wrote my last "Nit Pickins" column for the Pilot. I elected to stop for several reasons. I have been asked by friends to this day to resume my weekly ramblings. I thank my Rockport-Fulton people and all my winter friends for continued requests.

So, here I am again with a different format. Just one subject per week, plus a laugh or words of wisdom.

This week it is titled, "Reminiscing". Since I have moved into the 80's, I must admit I am old and old people must be excused of their reminiscences.

It all started when in October of 1971, Joe Lister sold me No. 30 Mazatlan in Key Allegro, completely furnished, including food and wine, for $24,950 (can you believe this?)

Having just lost my wife in Houston, I migrated — why—the Lord must have said "go"—to Rockport. I and my Siamese cat (now 20 years old and at this writing is sound asleep on my bed) moved in. It was a lucky day for me.

One factor that cinched the move was that John and Gladys Knoche of 1512 West Terrace lived here. They were Houston neighbors of many years. They helped install me at 30 Mazatlan. Also, my brother owned a lot on Key Allegro on which he hoped to build someday; this was another plus.

How good these nine years have been! I had not been here but a few days when I found an invitation on my door to an Octoberfest on Edgewater Street. It was sponsored by a neighborhood group — the Sam Crosbys, etc.

I had a ball eating cheese, crackers and cool beer as well as meeting my new neighbors. No [illegible] Key Allegro asked to s[illegible] my pocketbook. They just accepted me as a lonesome widower—one of the poorest I am sure.

Thus, Uncle John had made a start of a new life. I widowered pretty good, cooked my own meals, etc. for about a year until I met and married in May 1972, one of the large supply of widows in the First Presbyterian Church — Dorothy Morrison. I left the Island and moved into her new brick home in Peninsula Oaks.

By 'Uncle John' Leslie

Then I became interested in the Girl Scout programs in Rockport—an interest I have had most of my life—and still have.

What a happy nine years! I became interested in organizing the AARP, the Concern Center and the Senior Citizens' programs. I worked with the United Fund, got involved in the big Auction for the Medical Facility. I became active in the First Presbyterian Church. I wrote "Nit Pikins" for two years.

I have been doing many things and am very happy in my new home—in Rockport. Best of all, I have made friends in all walks of life. Young and old call me "Uncle John" — it is about the only name I answer to.

One of the happiest memories of my nine years in Rockport was the arrival in Rockport of my son John D. and his wife Gail. They came in 1975 and bought my house on Key Allegro. Never, since he was 16 years old and left home for colege, the war, etc., have we lived in the same town.

This all came to a sad end when in 1979 they moved to Washington, D.C. where he is employed by the Farmers Home Administration. As the old saying goes "you can't have your cake and eat it too." It was good while it lasted. His being here brought my grandchildren and my great-granddaughter to see me.

I have run out of reminiscing. Just hope I have crossed your path and we are friends.

A Chuckle for you—

"Me slept with Daddy, last night" said the small child, excitedly, to the kindergarten teacher.

"I slept with Daddy last night," the teacher corrected.

"Well, Then," said the child, "you must have come in after I went to sleep."

Almonds Provide Taste

The Pilot
729-9900
For News

Meatless entrees are appearing more regularly these days at the family supper table for reasons of economy and nutrition. By including alternative sources of protein such as eggs, cheese, grains and nuts in place of expensive meats, an entree like Upside Down Almond Tamale Pie can be wholesome, economical and delicious.

This dinnertime specialty gets its high marks in protein from a combination of California almonds, eggs and Monterey Jack cheese. The tender cornmeal crust is enhanced with the unique flavor and distinctive crunchiness of toasted chopped almonds. This is the nut that comes in more convenient forms than any other — diced, sliced, slivered or whole — and makes generous contributions of nutrients like vitamin E, riboflavin, phosphorus, copper and magnesium. No wonder almonds are such a reliable and versatile ingredient to add to so many menu categories from soups to breads, and salads to desserts.

The inside filling of this upside-down pie is no less rewarding in flavor and goodness. The filling is a distinctive array of onions, corn, bell peppers, ripe olives and cheese. Served with the zesty tomato sauce, this nourishing almond entree is guaranteed to become a traditional family dinner favorite.

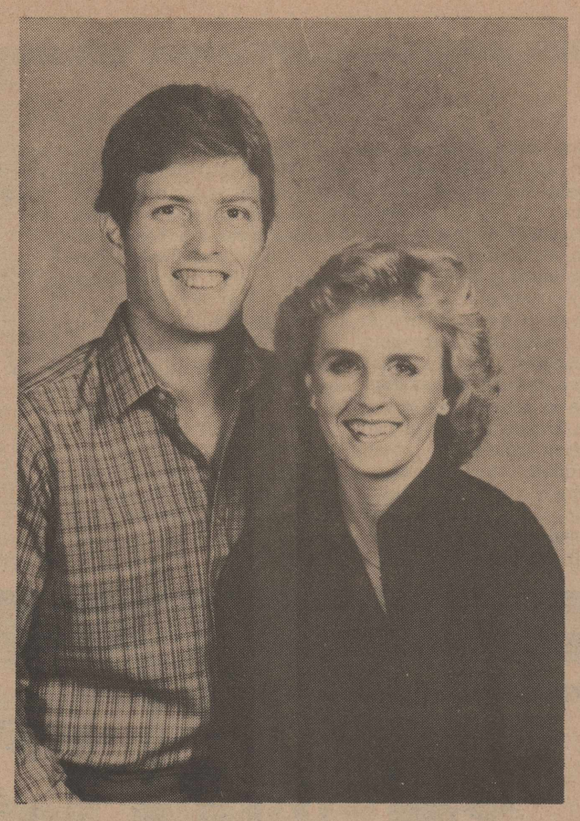

ALMOND TAMALE PIE

1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed chicken broth
3/4 cup yellow cornmeal
1/3 cup water
Mexicali Filling (recipe follows)
1/2 cup chopped almonds
1 large egg, beaten
2 Tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 Tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
Sauce (recipe follows)

In top of double boiler, combine broth, cornmeal and water. Cook over direct heat, stirring, until mixture thickens. Set over boiling water, cover, and cook 20 minutes. Meanwhile, prepare Mexicali Filling. Grease a 9-inch cake pan and sprinkle with 3 Tablespoons of the almonds to coat. When cornmeal mixture is cooked, stir a little into the egg. Beat egg mixture into remaining cornmeal mixture. Add remaining almonds, cheese, butter, and salt. Mix well. Pat all but 3/4 cup of the mixture into pan to line bottom and sides. Pour in Mexicali Filling. Fold cornmeal mixture over edge of filling, then pat remaining cornmeal over center of pan to cover filling. Bake in 350 degree oven 40 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes, then invert onto serving plate. Serve with hot sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Mexicali Filling: Saute 1/2 cup chopped onion in 1 teaspoon vegetable oil 5 minutes. Combine with 1 can (12 ounces) whole kernel corn with peppers, drained, 1/3 cup sliced ripe olives, 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese, 1 egg beaten, 1 Tablespoon chili powder, and 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Sauce: Saute 2 Tablespoons finely chopped green pepper in 1 teaspoon vegetable oil. Add 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato pieces, and 1 teaspoon each Worchestershire sauce and sugar. Simmer 5 minutes. Serve with tamale pie. Makes 1½ cups.

AARP News

By Lucille E. Skrobarcek

Tommy and Lucille Skrobarcek hosted game afternoon Thursday, November 6.

Winners in bridge were William Scarth and Mrs. Maxine Eckerd. Mrs. Leone Davito won the "Pouch of Coins" and the finale went to Mrs. Leila Scarth.

Mrs. Eckerd and Mrs. Davito were house guests of Mrs. Frances Cook, president of Chapter 1536.

The next game afternoon is on Thursday, November 13, at 1 p.m. at the Paws and Taws Building.

The AARP-sponsored dance Wednesday, November 5, at 7 p.m. was very well attended. One hundred people were there and everyone had a wonderful time. Mrs. Irene Hopper and Casey Edmiston hosted the affair.

Another AARP-sponsored dance will be held on Wednesday, November 19, at 7 p.m. Gene Rickles, the Music Man, will provide the "numbers to dance by" and refreshments will be served at intermission.

The business meeting of AARP Rockport Chapter 1536 on Wednesday, November 12, is a very important meeting — "Election Day." Make a special effort to attend.

The meeting is at 10 a.m. and coffee and cookies will be served at 9:30 a.m.

Keep in mind that the midday buffet luncheons will begin on Wednesday, November 16. The activities will begin at 11 a.m. with a short business meeting. This will be followed by the luncheon.

Series Will Explain How To Furnish

A livable, attractive and comfortable home doesn't just happen.

It is planned, according to a new publication series on how to furnish a home. The new series is now being offered to San Patricio-Aransas Counties residents by the County Extension office.

Whether furnishing one room or a whole house, many basic principles are the same. However, each person is different, so a home should be furnished for the way you live in the space you have available.

"This publication series will help do just that" Mrs. Kaye Woodward, County Extension agent, said.

The series will explain how to plan on paper, decide what you need, and develop buying skills — so the 'home decorator' can create desirable home environment, she added.

The series, "Furnishing Your Home" is available from Mrs. Woodward by writing P.O. Drawer 1340, Sinton, Texas 78387 or by phoning 364-2334 in Sinton.

It's provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is free of charge and is available to all people regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

The "Furnishing Your Home" publications also will feature such topics as how to arrange furniture, identify and select different periods and styles of furniture, buy upholstered furniture and case goods and develop a furnishing plan.

Smoke Your Own Bird

COLLEGE STATION — Smoking or curing poultry at home goes back to a bygone era, but it can still be done without a lot of "back-breaking" work.

The result can be a delicious smoked bird, says Dr. James H. Denton, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

All that is needed to cure and smoke poultry at home is a curing vat, a small scale, curing ingredients, ice, a smoker and a hypodermic needle.

A curing vat can simply be an insulated cooler or ice chest. Curing ingredients can usually be purchased from a local co-op or locker plant. Brown sugar cure can be used and is usually available in grocery stores.

To begin, mix the curing solution as follows:

— 5 gallons of water
—½-pound of saltpeter (solium nitrite)
—4½ pounds of salt
—¾-pound of sugar

If brown sugar is used, dissolve five pounds of the ready-mixed ingredients in four gallons of water. Substitute ice for part of the water to chill the solution to 34 to 36 degrees F., advises Denton.

Next, weigh the bird to be cured. Then inject 10 percent of the body weight of curing solution using a hypodermic needle. This distributes the bine uniformly in the muscles.

After the injection process, place the bird in the curing vat (cooler or ice chest) filled with the remainder of the brine and add a small amount of additional ice to insure a temperature of 34 to 36 degrees F.

Remove the bird after 48 hours in the curing solution and drain thoroughly (about 15 minutes), recommends Denton. Be sure there are no brine pockets in the body cavity. Place the bird in the smoker when it's nearly dry.

Any type of backyard cooker that will hold the temperature between 170-200 degrees F. is suitable for a smoker. A 55-gallon drum-type smoker works well, says the specialist.

A small fire, such as one of charcoal, is needed to generate the heat. For smoke, use some type of green wood, such as green hickory, pecan or oak.

Keep smoking the bird until it takes on a light-brown pecan color. This usually takes 8 to 12 hours for turkeys and four to six hours for chickens.

The bird is done when the muscle temperature reaches 162 degrees F. or when a slight twist will loosen the drumstick, says Denton.

A turkey or chicken will shrink about 20 percent with this smoking and cooking process. The finished product is completely cooked and will keep in the refrigerator for two weeks. Of course, it can be frozen for longer storage.

Gold-nickel 'glue' bonds F-16 parts

Belgium, Denmark, The Netherlands, Norway and the United States are co-producing the F-16, the newest multipurpose air-superiority plane. Critical parts of its power plant must operate continuously with absolute reliability surrounded by searing air and reactive gases at temperatures above 1,100 degrees Fahrenheit.

They can do this because an alloy of 82 percent gold and 18 percent nickel serves as a "super-glue" to bond the parts together with a strength of 75 tons per square inch.

Alma Hobson Takes Third In Art Show

Alma Hobson of Fulton won third place and a check for $50 for her alabaster sculpture, "Erotica," at the Southwest Sculpture Society's Annual Show that opened Friday, November 7, in Corpus Christi.

Another entry by Mrs. Hobson, a male and female figure sculpture cast in epoxy and titled "Midsummer," won Honorable Mention during opening-night judging of the show at the Art Community Center in Corpus.

Some 36 sculptures were entered in the competition which was judged by Brother Cletus Behlmann of San Antonio.

Also entered in the show from this area are Mike Rollins — president of the Southwest Sculpture Society — and Ron Crabbe.

Work entered in the show will be on exhibit at the Art Community Center, 902 Park Avenue, throughout the month of November.

First place in Friday night's judging went to Kent Ullberg, formerly of Sweden, for a bronze work, "For Fear We Shall Perish," and second place to Beau Hydrick of Portland for his bronze entitled "Mar I."

Meeting Set On Children's Health

Physicians, nurses, social workers and other professionals responsible for the health care of children will meet in San Antonio to discuss ways to improve they way they do their job.

The two-day workshop, which is open to the public, will be held at El Mercado on November 14 and 15. The meeting is co-sponsored by Santa Rosa Children Hospital, Camino Real Health Systems Agency and the Santa Rosas Children's Foundation.

RAUL CASTRO AND PETER BOOTH

Pirate Cross Country Runners Castro And Booth To Compete In State Meet

By Bob Crawford

Two Pirate Cross Country runners will participate in the State Cross Country Meet in Georgetown, based on their individual performances at the Regional Meet in San Antonio this past weekend.

Raul Castro and Peter Booth finished fifth and eighth, respectively, to qualify in the top 10 runners, all of which advance to the state level.

As a team, the Pirates finished fourth, just three points behind Falfurrias, and five behind second-place Robstown.

The top three teams go to the state.

Austin Westlake was the overall winner in the competition which featured teams from Austin across to Del Rio, and then to the tip of the valley.

Mike Zlock, David Ramirez, Damaso Galvan, Clyde Barre, and Ernie Lara finished further back in the pack, much higher in position than usual. Zlock and Ramirez finished 25th and 26th, and they have been finishing in the middle teens or lower.

Lory Broadhurst represented the Lady Pirates in the regional run, and she took 11th place, one place from going to the state level.

JV Pounces On Bears 30-8

By Bob Crawford

For 47 minutes and 55 seconds the Rockport-Fulton JV kept the West Oso Bears scoreless before letting the Bears score on a long pass play in the Pirates' 30-8 win to close out their season.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Pirates finally hit paydirt on a four-yard run by Joe Cantu. In that drive, Paul Beck, Cantu and Mike Riddle made big runs to keep the scoring drive alive.

Cantu completed the drive with his four-yard run. The Pirates, who have had trouble making the extra points after scoring, added two points on a pass from Mark Cory to Michael Covarrubias, making the score 8-0.

Oso moved into good field position before Bill Jennings nailed the quarter back on a key play to stop the drive from progressing.

When the Pirates took over again, one of the longest plays of the season took place. Cory faded back and lofted the ball to Covarrubias. Covarrubias, who possesses sprinter's speed, caught the ball in flight and outran the secondary for a 76-yard scoring play.

On the extra point try, Rockport tried the halfback pass, and Peter Nichols tossed the pass to Buddy Smith to put the Pirates ahead 16-0.

Oso made a mistake in the third period when they fumbled near midfield after they had gotten out of danger deep in their own territory.

Dominic Dominguez pounced on the loose ball, and the Pirates had another good opportunity. The Pirates used Covarrubias on the end-around for 18 yards, then Cory pitched a short pass to Riddle.

On the play Cory was decked by the defenders after he had thrown the pass, and the referee threw a flag for roughing the passer. The ball was set into play at the Bear seven yard line. Cantu raced around the end for the Pirate TD. On this attempt, the Pirates could not pick up the two points.

The Bears drove deep into Pirate ground in the fourth period. On a long pass try, Lupe Contreras pulled the ball in over his shoulder for the interception, and then he returned the ball back to his own 38 yard line.

At that point, the Pirates began to have some troubles executing on offense. After moving to the Bears 47 yard line, two straight 15-yard penalties pinned the Pirates back inside the 30 yard line, giving them a first-and-forty-three situation.

Beck broke loose for 18 yards, then Cory kept for 14, and suddenly the Pirates had a third and nine.

Cory handed the ball off to Nichols, and Nichols passed the ball downfield. Buddy Smith, running across the field, reached up for the ball and pinned it to his helmet before pulling the ball down and running through the defenders for a 40-yard touchdown.

Beck blasted into the end zone for two points giving the Pirates a 30-0 lead.

As time was running out, the Bears tried a desperation pass, and the Pirates were out of position in the secondary. The play was complete, as the clock ran out, for a 65-yard TD. Two points were added to bring the score to 30-8.

The offense gained 373 yards on their way to the victory, with the passing game accounting for 159 of those yards. Covarrubias had three catches for 110 yards.

Beck was the leading ball carrier with 64 yards in nine carries. On many of the running plays, David Torres and Richard Nava were leading the way with their blocking.

The defense held the Bears in check for most of the game, especially with the Pirate offense controlling the ball.

Tom Walker played his defensive end especially tough in the game. Dominguez led the secondary in tackles with seven, and Bill Jennings added seven from his linebacker position.

Freshman Close Season Getting Forfeit

Rockport-Fulton's Freshmen Team closed out their season this past week the same way they opened the season, getting a forfeit from the opposing team.

The Pirates finished the season at 5-5.

West Oso Bears Pirates To Loss

By Bob Crawford

West Oso's "Dynamic Duo" of Kennard Rydolph and James Boyd rolled up nearly 250 yards on the ground to run the Bears past the Rockport-Fulton Pirates 33-3 in West Oso last Friday night.

The game closes out the 1980 season for the Pirates, but the Bears have a showdown with Gregory-Portland this week and could end up with a share of the District 15-4A crown.

The Pirates had picked up some pretty good press during the week before the game, but the Bears used the clippings to get inspired, and when freshman Dwayne Walls got the football, West Oso's super linebacker Kevin Price was there on a man-to-man coverage.

Walls went into the game with 834 yards, expecting a big game, but Price led the Bears in shutting down Walls and his running mate Micheal Simmons, allowing the pair only 68 yards between them.

The Pirates made their own headaches by fumbling three times in the course of the evening, and throwing two interceptions. When the Pirates made a mistake, the Bears made them pay.

The Pirates opened the game with a good drive, helped along by a 27-yard pass from Jim Eaton to Scott Meyer, but the offense went into a nosedive, and they gave up the ball on a fumble.

Oso drove the ball down the field, and only a big play by Jon Shaw, who nailed Rydolph in the back field for a loss, kept the Bears from going in for the TD. Instead, they went for a field goal. The kick was good from 35 yards away, and the Bears took a 3-0 lead.

The Pirates' second possession ended just like the first. A fumble turned the ball over to the Bears, and they made the best of it. Rydolph ran 17 yards for a score after Jesse Noyola had thrown for his only completion of the night to set up a first down. With the kick-after, the Bears' lead went to 10-0.

Boyd ran all through the Pirate defenders in the second quarter, but could never get in for a touchdown, thanks to a saving tackle by George Solis. He did kick a field goal following the third Pirate fumble.

Rockport tried a desperate pass at the end of the half, but the ball was intercepted.

In the second half, the Bears picked up a quick TD after the Pirate defense had been called for interference at the one yard line. Rydolph punched the ball in.

Bad luck for the Pirates continued in the third period when a pass was deflected into the hands of a Bear defender.

The Bears used an end-around play to set up their touchdown, and Boyd finally made the TD from six yards away, and the points continued to build up. Boyd scored again from 21 yards away late in the fourth period.

The only bright spot on defense for the Pirates was when Jeff Woodman intercepted a Bear pass near the end of the game.

With that turnover, Adam Harden directed the Pirates down the field, and on fourth down, the Pirates elected to give senior David Williams a chance to break up the shutout with a field goal try. With 55 seconds remaining, Williams made his kick true, and the scoreboard registered 33-3. The Pirate tried an onsides kick, but that, too, backfired.

Rockport closed out the season with a record of 3-7, a record most people felt would be reversed, but it did not come to pass. The Pirate defense was on the field for most of the night.

Harden led the Pirates with 15 tackles, followed by James Tumlinson and George Solis with 14, and Eddie Naro with 13 tackles.

Big Michael Arthur also hit the Bear runners on 10 occasions.

Girls Begin Basketball

By Bob Crawford

Rockport-Fulton's Lady Pirates begin their 1980-81 basketball season Saturday night against Aransas Pass in Rockport. There is a full slate of games with the Freshmen beginning at 5:30 p.m., followed by the JV. The Varsity plays last.

The Lady Pirates had a scrimmage this past weekend with Aransas Pass, so the two teams will not be strangers when they meet.

The Lady Pirates "Looked good at times," according to Coach Dennis Gartman. "We played only one full quarter under game conditions and the rest of the time we scrimmaged on one end of the court, working on defense first, and then on offense," he added.

a couple of board members that "the monkey's on our back now."

The next-lowest bid -- to the school district -- carried an effective interest rate of 8.515 percent and a net cost to the school district of $3,026,772.50. The third bid set an effective interest rate of 8.701836 percent and a net interest cost to the district of $3,093,067.49.

Six parents appeared at the school board's meeting Monday to protest the schools' use of detention as punishment for youngsters, particularly those who must ride the buses.

"I'm wondering if detention is a fair thing (for those who must ride the bus)," was the comment of Elsie Hamm. And James Metzner said the 30-minute detention after school for a youngster who rides a bus "means punishment for the parents" who must make arrangements to pick up their children.

Another parent, Barry Gatlin, said he was at the board to comment on the school athletic program. "There seems to be a little discontent overall with the athletic program from the sixth grade on," he said. "If you look at the record of the high school football team this year, it is not very impressive."

Gatlin told the board, "You need to take a general look at all of the athletic program."

In other action during Monday's meeting, the board looked at plans for a new roof for the high school — one of the items to be funded through the school's $3.57 million bond issue — and set its next meeting date, December 8 at 7 p.m., as the time for opening bids on this project.

The board opened and awarded bids on 600 yards of fill sand and concrete for construction of a new double tennis court and a new single tennis court.

Low bidder on the sand was Rouquette Construction at a cost of $3.50 per yard. Low bidder for actual construction of the courts was Dincans Plumbing and Building Inc. of Victoria with a bid of $42,000 and 60 calendar days completion time.

Action on purchase of two portable classrooms to be used in the remedial reading program was tabled due to lack of information from the apparent low bidder on the project.

Board members voted to sell some 120 old band uniforms to the Garland Christian Academy for $1,800. Randow said the uniforms had been advertised nationwide and this was the only offer the school district had received.

gallon and we can't afford that.' " What in the world would he say now?" Jones wondered.

Those nights in the ring at Laredo were promoted by a gentleman of the area and Jones and a boy from Mexico stood to gain from $35 to $75 each fight if they won.

Jones concedes that he was "pretty good at it and that was real good money in those days, but I didn't want to stay in the fight game. It was just extra."

Jones was born in Oklahoma and reared in Fort Smith, Arkansas where he received a fourth grade education. His life as a truck driver lasted 41 years and ended when he injured his back in 1963 while working in Corpus Christi.

Jones enjoys each noonday meal at the Council on Aging and when they close for a holiday or on Sunday, he just has "cold cuts at the house."

With a well-worn Bible and religious pamphlets on the table before him, he said he is studying to become a preacher, at the Church of God in Christ.

He has been studying seven or eight years and says he will be ready to preach when "I think I've learned to talk just right. Some of my grammar isn't good and I know I'd be nervous. I have a friend who has been a preacher for 44 years and he still gets a funny feeling just before preaching."

Jones, 77, said he will preach when "the time is right because it's a long journey and I have to know what I'm talking about before I spread it around from a pulpit."

The father of three children who all reside in Houston, Jones seems more contented when talking about others around him — about the good things they have done and their accomplishments.

He is always on hand to take care of the flag at the Concern Center Building on Magnolia Street. Morning and afternoon he sees that the flag is in place, then put away correctly.

When you pass the building and see that flag waving in the breeze you can be sure Nathan Jones is inside visiting, telling tales or just quietly reading scripture in preparation for his next job.

Prisoner Walks Out

Sheriff's deputies and area police were still looking Tuesday morning for a man who walked out of the Aransas County jail Monday afternoon, November 10.

The man, Warren Russell Mulkin, was arrested on the basis of a felony warrant from Ft. Collins, Colorado, and was still being "processed" when he walked out, according to County Sheriff Bob Hewes.

"That was the reason he was still downstairs," Hewes added. He said Mulkin had been in custody about an hour and a half.

Hewes said the man was sitting downstairs and when the jailer turned his back for a minute, Mulkin walked out. The incident occurred about 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Mulkin was arrested on a felony theft warrant. As of Tuesday morning, Hewes said his people had not yet located Mulkin — "but we will," he added.

Healthful Hints

Most Often-Asked Questions On Nutrition

By Jean Glowka

Q. Boy, I hope you can help me with my problem! I've let myself get caught in the tangled web of legal drugs. At night I take sleeping pills to rest and then have to have pep pills to get going in the morning — tranquilizers in between to smooth out my nerves.

You know the story, I'm sure. I tried not taking ANYTHING last week for a couple of days and had bad withdrawal symptoms — deep depression, couldn't eat, couldn't sleep. If I try again, aren't there some vitamins that will ease things for me? What are they?

A. The following regime has been recommended and used with great success in cases similar to yours. At each "mealtime" (whether food is eaten or not) and before bed: 1,000 mgs. of niacinamide (this is to aid depression); 25 mgs. of B-6; 500 mgs. of magnesium; 1,000 mgs. of calcium; 2,000 mgs. of vitamin C; two balanced B-complex tablets; and 100 mgs. of pantothenic acid.

Because it is easily digested, yogurt should be eaten as soon as possible when there is a problem tolerating food.

In extreme cases there may be no noticeable difference for the first two days except that problems with sleeping should disappear.

In most cases the following two days bring remarkable change, and by the fifth day all depression is usually gone.

Q. I'm afraid to drink any water except distilled, but I have reservations about that. I'm not getting the minerals that occur naturally in water. What do you think?

A. Nutritionists feel that one should avoid prolonged drinking of distilled water. It is totally devoid of all minerals, and its prolonged use may leach out the body's own mineral reserves and lead to severe mineral deficiencies or related diseases such as osteoporosis, diabetes, heart disease and tooth decay.

If one is forced to drink distilled water, natural minerals could be added to it in the form of pure sea water — two to three teaspoons per quart.

Until next week, Folks, stay happy and healthy! It's a beautiful world!

Texans BuyLess

During the past year, gasoline consumption in Texas took a nosedive at a time when the number of vehicles on the state's roads increased, according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock in Austin.

He said during the state's past fiscal year, which ended August 31, Texas motorists consumed eight billion gallons of gasoline.

Figures for the 1979 fiscal year show that more than 8.5 billion gallons of gasoline were sold in Texas and about the same amount sold in 1978.

Bullock put total vehicle registration in Texas for the 1980 fiscal year at 11.9 million vehicles, compared to 10 million vehicles on Texas roads during 1979.

"A half-billion gallon drop is significant at a time when the state's car and truck population is skyrocketing," Bullock said. He added, "Our analysis doesn't show whether people are driving less or getting better mileage, but they are definitely buying less gas."

Texas motorists used between 600 and 700 million gallons of gasoline per month, Bullock continued.

He said his office collected $399.4 million in gasoline taxes during the past year, compared to $417 million turned into the state during 1979.

Three-quarters of the tax goes to the highway fund and one-quarter is put into the Available School Fund. Gasoline is taxed at five cents a gallon and diesel fuel is taxed at six and one-half cents a gallon, according to Bullock.

Diesel fuel tax revenues amounted to more than $78 million during fiscal 1980, compared to $70.7 million during 1979. About 5 billion gallons of diesel fuel were sold in Texas last year, Bullock said.

A comparison of vehicles and consumption of gasoline for 1980 shows the "average" automobile or truck used 680 gallons of gasoline during the 12-month period.

Registered vehicles and gasoline consumed 1979 "averages" out to 843 gallons a year.

San Patricio-Aransas Counties — AG

County Agent News

By Mike Rothrock

For about a year now, I've been bringing you this article on a variety of topics.

I hope I have served some of your needs and answered some of your questions.

Some people say I should add more personality to my column. I really don't know how to do that, though!

I think I'll continue to do as I have in the past, but from time to time I thought I might add a few personal notes. (Maybe this will add a little "personality" to my column).

Last week we held a cattle pregnancy determination or palpation (whichever you prefer) clinic for beef cattle producers in San Patricio and Aransas Counties.

The clinic consisted of a night study course and a morning "hands on" practice session. Dr. Bob Rupp, Area Livestock Specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, from Weslaco was our instructor. This clinic was sponsored by the San Patricio-Aransas Beef Cattle Subcommittee.

Those who learned about palpation included Powell Brown and Gary Jostes from Mathis, Jeff Porter of Sandia, Paul Pustejovsky of Taft, M.B. "Tony" Russell, Roselio Barries and Donnie Farrow of Sinton, and Ned Meister of Edroy.

All of these gentlemen seemed to have enjoyed themselves especially at the "hands on" practice session. The practice session was at the Berry Ranch in San Patricio. The students "practiced" on some very fine Beefmaster cows.

Mrs. Laura Berry was also on hand with some advice and cool drinks for everyone. Mrs. Berry began studying palpation earlier this year and has become quite good at it, too.

Hopefully, in the near future we can have a refresher course for those beef cattle producers who did not get to attend our last clinic.

Now for you area corn producers, we have a first. The first Coastal Bend Corn Symposium will be held Wednesday, November 19, at the Bee County Coliseum in Beeville.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and there is a registration fee that covers the cost of lunch and a copy of the proceedings.

The purpose of this program is to take a look at corn production in our area — dryland corn production — review what is new and what is needed.

I also want to invite everyone to our Extension Office at 313 N. Rachel in the Plymouth Courthouse Annex on November 7 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. for our open house Come by and see what the Extension Service has to offer you.

See you next week.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.
