In Brief

OPEC agrees

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Key OPEC oil ministers said today they have agreed to cut production to shore up their $29-per-barrel benchmark price in the face of price cuts by three countries.

The proposed reductions still require approval at next week's meeting in Geneva of all 13 OPEC members. Sources at today's meeting, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the cuts would require unanimous approval to take effect.

Conspiracy

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The chairwoman of the board investigating the Benigno Aquino assassination today concluded he was killed in a military conspiracy, and President Ferdinand E. Marcos said the suspects would be promptly tried in a special civil court.

The 121-page report, presented to Marcos by Corazon Agrava in a televised ceremony, did not implicate Marcos or his chief of staff,

Grid guessers

Last week's SDN football contest proved to be a close one, with the ultimate winner determined by the tie-breaker point total.

Each winner missed only two of the 16 contest games. Terry Snyder of Box 756 won the first place money of $12.50, and Don Cheek of 2302 Sunset captured second place, winning $5. Snyder predicted 35 total points in the Snyder-Lamesa game and Cheek guessed 49 points. The actual number of points was 28.

Electricity shutoff ordered for apartment unit

Water discovered in electrical conduit which provides electricity to a College Ave. apartment unit has prompted local fire department officials to order electricity to the building shut off.

Local fire units were called to a minor fire in the Park Village Apartments Monday around 8:30 p.m. The small fire was in Building Six. The complex consists of six separate buildings, each containing eight apartment units.

An electrical receptical in the wall of one of the ground-floor apartments had apparently caught fire. Only minor damage was reported.

Fire Chief Terry McDowell said Tuesday morning the discovery of water in the conduit prompted him to order Texas Electric Service Company to shut off power to the structure.

Under his order, power to the building cannot be restored until a licensed electrician can make repairs to the wiring and certify the building as safe.

City officials said Tuesday morning also that they had received complaints from tenants in the affected Building 6, noting severe roof leaking problems.

As a result of these complaints, City Building Inspector Jim Haynes had notified building owners they could be cited for code violations if repair work was not implemented within 60 days.

This letter was mailed during the first week of October, city officials say.

According to the local manager of the complex, Pat Scott, only three of the eight units in Building Six were rented as of Monday evening.

All three were occupied by women in their 70's with limited incomes, she said, adding these tenants will now likely be forced

Demo effort urged

Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle told a group of 25 Scurry County residents to "get mad and get even" at an appearance here Monday evening.

Slagle and former San Antonio Mayor Juan Maldonado, chairman of the Mexican American Democrats organization, were in Snyder on behalf of their party's candidates making election bids this Nov. 6.

Slagle urged the group to get "mad" about the record of the Reagan administration and to campaign "one-to-one" in their home precincts for Mondale-Ferraro and State Senator Lloyd Doggett in the next two weeks.

Slagle told the group that the Democratic candidates can do well in Texas. if campaign workers make a concentrated effort to identify their voters and to get them to the polls.

The chairman reminded the group of 1982 — when Texas Democrats defeated incumbent Republican Gov. Bill Clements in spite of election-eve polls which showed the Clements' forces leading the race. Slagle cautioned local party followers to disregard the polls and to continue working for the candidates.

He attributed Mark White's victory over Clements to the some 3.4 million persons who voted in the election. This compared to Texas pollster predictions of a turnout of only 2.5 million.

According to Slagle, each Democratic worker is worth at least 10 votes on election day.

Slagle spent approximately one hour of Monday's meeting in criticism of the Reagan administration. As encouragement to the group, he noted

Houston Parkway...

2nd hearing here to address project

A second meeting has been scheduled here to allow public comment regarding the extension of Houston Street to the south and east to the Big Spring Highway.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has scheduled the session Dec. 11.

W.R. Walker, the Abilene-based administrative engineer for the district, notes that it will be a formal public hearing. The first gathering was labeled a "meeting," and followed a more open format than the one planned Dec. 11.

The first meeting was followed by a 10-day period during which residents could file written comments regarding the project.

During that period, some 160 letters were mailed to the state office voicing support for the plan and some 80 were sent with negative comments, Walker said.

As part of the review process for such federal funds, he said a second public hearing is scheduled if requested by affected private citizens. Walker said two such requests had been filed with his office, prompting the Dec. 11 hearing here.

At it, Walker said a verbatim transcript will be kept to be mailed to the federal authority with final approval power regarding some $868,000 targeted for the street work.

This is the Federal Highway Administration, which has tentatively approved the urban development funds. The local "match" — provided by the city — has been to secure right-of-way and a promise of curb and guttering along the route.

Both of these requirements have been met by the city.

Regarding public hearings, the first session was conducted here July 24 and attracted a group of some 30 individuals. Approximately 20 of these were comprised of West Snyder home owners who opposed the project.

Comments "for" the work were voiced by City of Snyder officials — who proposed the street extension in the early 1970s as part of a long range "master plan" — as well as official resolutions presented by Scurry County commissioners and the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

Despite rainfall, runoff into lake holds about same

The water line at Lake J.B. Thomas is still holding at approximately the same level noted at summer's end, despite intermittent rainfall in the area the past few weeks.

O.H. Ivie, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said Tuesday morning that the "characteristics" of the recent rains "just haven't been right," noting, "it's been too slow."

This pattern of slow rain has allowed the moisture to soak into the ground, providing very little runoff.

He pointed out, however, "We're in excellent shape for runoff now."

Specifically, he noted the ground was to the saturation point and that any type of heavy shower would likely produce a good flow of runoff water.

The rain total at 7 a.m. Tuesday at the lake was .60 of an inch. This was in addition to 1 inch of moisture recorded there prior to 7 a.m. Monday — bringing the total from the recent storm system to 1.60 inches.

Other areas of Scurry County received traces of rain Monday afternoon and night.

Snyder received the heaviest total late Monday, recording .38 of an inch. This brings 1984's official rain tally to 13.24 inches.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The chief defect of a democracy is that the only one who knows how to run the country is always the one who is outta office."

This year's Scurry County United Way effort is well on its way to success and there are several reasons for this. One is Carol Egelston who serves as campaign secretary and a host of volunteer workers.

One group of volunteers is the VIVA group over at the Senior Citizens Center. Directed by Billie Smith, VIVA has assisted the United Way in a mailing program to the more than 5,000 royalty owners.

The project got off to a shakey start when the mail was returned for not being sorted properly. The senior group graciously agreed to do it over again.

It was all made worthwhile Monday morning when Egelston open the mail and found a $1,000 check from a new contributor that pushed the royalty owners over the 100 percent mark.

VIVA is an example of some workers "quietly" getting the job done.

Several times during the Sunday night football game between Dallas and New Orleans, the announcers made the point that New Orleans had never beaten Dallas in Dallas on Sunday.

We might add they haven't beaten them on Monday either. The game actually ended Monday morning at 12:30 a.m. after being delayed for an hour by the Presidential debate.

C.A. Haskins called to say he didn't put much stock in those polls about who's ahead in the Reagan-Mondale battle.

Haskins, a retired Exxon employee, says he'll be happy to tell us who won the dabate--but he'll tell us Nov. 7.

Western Auto owner Bob Womack is one of many in Snyder who keeps in shape by jogging. In fact, Bob is more of a runner than a jogger and enters events all over the country.

There's one question that needs to be answered. If jogging is so much fun, how come you never see runners smiling?

39 merchants set new auto Yule promotion

A new Dodge Charger will be given away here Dec. 22 as part of a Christmas sales promotion sponsored by 39 Snyder merchants.

Beginning in November, Snyder shoppers who buy locally will be eligible to register for the car giveaway.

Persons may fill out an entry form in each participating merchant's store every day up until the pre-Christmas drawing.

In addition, each merchant will donate prizes. The drawing for these will be Dec. 22 also — making a total of 39 winners in addition to the new car prize.

The drawing itself will be conducted on the steps of the courthouse beginning at 2 p.m. It will be held the Saturday before Christmas.

To build suspense, the names of three finalists will be drawn. These three will then be asked to draw three sets of keys from a hat. The ultimate winner will be the one whose key fits the new car.

Canadian strike...

Layoffs, losses mount at GM

DETROIT (AP) — The strike against General Motors Corp. by the auto giant's Canadian workers could cost the company $285 million by early November and push the number of layoffs in the United States past the 17,470 mark, officials say.

The 36,000 workers at General Motors Canada Ltd. walked out Wednesday rather than accept labor contract terms similar to those ratified by their U.S. counterparts. Thirteen plants, including three assembly operations, closed.

The layoffs of 17,470 U.S. autoworkers were announced Monday, although more than 13,000 workers knew by the end of last week that they wouldn't be working.

In Ypsilanti, 1,900 workers at GM's Willow Run assembly plant got the word early. Another 2,300 showed up only to be sent home when supplies ran out.

"They just didn't have the parts and were sent home before the shift ended," said GM spokesman John Mueller. "Obviously, there will be more like this. It's hard to say one day to the next where the next ones will come."

GM will have lost $30 million to $35 million by tonight because of the Canadian strike, said Gary Glaser, auto industry analyst with Sanford C. Bernstein & Co. Inc. in New York. He said the walkout could cost the automaker $80 million to $90 million next week and $150 million to $160 million the week after, for a three-week total of up to $285 million.

At the giant Buick works in Flint, spokesman William Schiffel said GM was trying to squeeze out another few days of big-car production before closing the assembly lines.

"We're OK on the Regal through Friday," Schiffel said. "We've got the LeSabre through Thursday." Those operations also turn out the Chevrolet Caprice-Impala and the Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme.

The U.S. auto industry's adoption of kanban, the Japanese method of just-in-time delivery of parts to the factory floor, has quickened the impact of the strike at GM.

The General Motors contract in the United States, covering 350,000 workers, was weighted toward job security. The Canadian UAW leaders want more wages and a return to guaranteed annual raises, which the U.S. contract doesn't contain.

"We're really waiting for GM to make some kind of a move," Robert White, the head of the UAW in Canada, said in Toronto. "We're a little discouraged, but responsibility demands that we stay at it."

Paulette Charbonneau, spokeswoman for GM and chief negotiator Rod Andrew, said there was "no indication of progress. Progress is really slow."

Sandinistas vow to hold elections

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The coordinator of Nicaragua's Sandinista junta says the government will hold elections Nov. 4 even if all opposition parties boycott the voting.

"We will go to the elections with one, two, five or seven parties and in the end, if all abstain, the Sandinista Front will go alone to the elections, but they will be held Nov. 4," said Daniel Ortega, the Sandinistas' presidential candidate, in an interview Monday with the leftist government's Voice of Nicaragua radio station.

Elsewhere in Central America, leftist rebels attacked El Salvador's power lines for a second day Monday, shutting off electricity in the capital and most of the north, and the U.S. Embassy expressed "outrage" over the slaying of a peasant leader's 14-year-old son by a rightist death squad.

Ortega was commenting on the Independent Liberal Party's announcement that it is joining the Nicaraguan Democratic Coordinate, the nation's largest opposition group, in boycotting the vote for president, vice president and a national assembly.

The decision of the Independent Liberals, a small but influential party, to withdraw from the election was announced Sunday after a 94-20 vote on the issue at a party convention. It leaves the Sandinista National Liberation Front and five small parties in the campaign.

In El Salvador, U.S. Embassy spokeman Don Hamilton said an unusually strong embassy statement on the murder of a peasant leader's son was released because of the "egregiously seedy and disgusting" nature of the killing.

Boris King Montes, son of Alirio Montes, spokesman for the Salvadoran Peasant Union, was kidnapped from his house in the San Salvador area last Friday night. His body was found Saturday dumped along a road with a warning to the father draped around the neck, the embassy statement said.

Reagan detached remote

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Well behind in the polls, Walter F. Mondale is entering the stretch run of his presidential campaign with a harsh refrain designed to last until Election Day — that Ronald Reagan is "the most detached, most remote, most uninformed president in modern history."

"We cannot permit and will not tolerate a president who does not know what he must know to protect and serve this country," the Democratic nominee said Monday on a day that stretched from sun-up in Kansas City, Mo., to nearly midnight in Youngstown, Ohio.

In between, Mondale addressed crowds in Philadelphia and Paramus, N.J., and spoke to a Liberal Party gathering in New York, with a message that varied little.

Dear Abby

High Price of Friendship Takes Usher by Surprise

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please print this so parents will think twice before planning a "sky's the limit" wedding for their son or daughter.

Our son was recently "honored" when a college fraternity brother asked him to be an usher at his wedding.

Although this meant a long trip either by plane or automobile, as well as time off from work, our son agreed. What he did not realize (nor was there any mention of this until the day before the wedding), he was expected to pick up a tab of $70 for his tux rental! We were floored when we were informed at the tux rental shop that the wedding had become too expensive for the groom's family, so everybody had to pay for his own.

Since our son is not financially well-off, we are paying for his tux rental.

Weddings with the attendants all dressed alike make a pretty picture, but in my opinion, unless the bride and groom or their parents are prepared to foot the bill, the wedding should be kept on a more conservative scale.

DISILLUSIONED BY FANCY WEDDINGS

DEAR DISILLUSIONED: When the bride and groom select their attendants, they should state whether they will pick up the tab for tux rental and attendants' gowns. Unless the bride and groom are extraordinarily well-to-do, the attendants are expected to provide for their own gowns and tuxes, but this should be clearly understood when the attendants are invited to serve.

DEAR ABBY: While shopping in a card shop recently, I remarked to an elderly lady standing near me that it was difficult to find just the right "get well" card.

She replied, "Yes, especially when you know that the person is not going to get well."

The lady was right. As I looked at card after card in the "get well" section, they all bore the same message: "Please, get well soon!"

Abby, the reality of life is that many sick people do not get well, so to send such a card to a terminally ill person who is aware of his condition is to deny reality.

I am not suggesting that we send a card saying, "I know you're dying and I hope it will be as easy as possible," but, Abby, surely there must be some way to say, "I hope you're comfortable."

Thanks for listening.

THE REV. DOROTHY LAIRMORE, PRESCOTT, ARIZ.

DEAR MS. LAIRMORE: Your point is well-taken. Next time, look in the "friendship" section. You will find cards that say, "Thinking of you," or, "I value your friendship." And if you can't find an appropriate message, write one.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: If you are not registered, you cannot vote.

If you do not vote, you are voting against the candidate of your choice. Your vote is important. Edmund Burke is reported to have said: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

Habits affect hiatal hernia

DEAR DR. LAMB — For the last three years I have been bothered with a continual burning in my chest. My doctor suggested an upper barium test, which proved that I had a hiatal hernia. He advised a bland diet, which did no good. Is surgery necessary for this condition?

DEAR READER — About half of the population over 40 has a hiatal hernia, also called a diaphragmatic hernia. In this condition, a small portion of the stomach tends to slide through an enlarged opening in the diaphragm. You can have such a hernia and not have symptoms. And you can have the symptoms you mention and not have a hiatal hernia.

The constant burning is probably from a leakage of stomach contents into the lower esophagus. This area is not protected with the same thick mucus covering that is inside the stomach and it is easily irritated by the stomach's acid contents. This symptom is often referred to as heartburn.

Antacids and measures to prevent stomach acid do help relieve the symptoms. Occasionally the burning is caused by bile that flows backward into the stomach and then leaks into the lower esophagus. Not all antacids help this problem.

You can do a lot to control such symptoms by modifying your lifestyle. Don't lie down until your stomach has had time to empty; sleep with the head of your bed elevated, and don't wear anything tight around your waist. Avoid anything that increases pressure inside your abdomen. That definitely includes large meals. Alcohol, even one cocktail or a glass of wine with dinner, makes the symptoms worse.

I have discussed the various things you can do to help yourself with this problem in The Health Letter Special Report 18, Hiatal Hernia and Heartburn, which I am sending to you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Most hiatal hernias do not require surgery, but a new operation has been devised for which some claim great success. It involves literally putting a collar around the esophagus (food tube) or at the top of the stomach. The collar is fitted just below the diaphragm and is intended to prevent the sliding hernia, but, more important, it seems to improve closure of the lower esophagus and prevent the leak in the lower esophagus that causes the burning pain.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What foods are loaded with tyramine or tyrosine? When I eat some of these foods, my blood pressure becomes extremely high. I can't seem to find a list of what I should not eat.

DEAR READER — Tyramine is a derivative of tyrosine, which is an amino acid found in most proteins. Tyramine is a natural artery constrictor that causes sharp rises in blood pressure. It is normally destroyed by monamine oxidase enzyme. Some people take monamine oxidase inhibitors to combat depression. These medicines inhibit the destruction of tyramine; if patients taking them ingest tyramine, high-blood-pressure crisis may follow.

Tyramine is found in ripened or decaying protein. Cheese, red wines, herring, chicken livers, canned figs, broad beans (fava beans), large amounts of chocolate, beer, brewer's yeast, aged meats, meat extracts and non-pasteurized yogurt, raisins, bananas, avocados (particularly if overripe), sour cream and soy sauce are all high in tyramine.

Former chairman helps form bank

DALLAS (AP) — Elvis Mason, The former chairman of InterFirst Corp., has joined forces with a group of prominent private investors to create the first merchant banking firm in the Southwest.

Mason, 51, announced the formation of Mason Best Co. on Monday and said it would have offices in Houston and Dallas.

"We have a good opportunity in this marketplace," Mason said. "In America, merchant banking is assuming an increasingly prominent role."

Merchant banking, which originated in Europe centuries ago, has been gaining momentum among Wall Street investment banking firms.

"Merchant banking allows the firm to frequently — more times than not — be a principal in the transaction rather than simply collecting a fee," Mason said.

Mason resigned from InterFirst, the nation's 15th largest bank with assets of $20.6 billion, in January. He has kept a relatively low-profile as he put together this new financial institution, which Mason said will include partner Randy Best.

Best, 41, is a private investor and financier in Houston.

Range Conservationist

Planned grazing systems offer ranchers multi-purpose benefits over year-long continuous grazing. These systems help maintain or speed up improvements in plant cover while properly using the forage on all pasture units. They improve efficiency of grazing by uniformly using all parts of each pasture unit and insuring a supply of forage throughout the grazing season.

The ability to manufacture food and sustain a grass plant is directly related to the amount of leaf surface the plant has to intercept sunlight. With rains, healthy plants are able to increase leaf surface rather quickly. This is why deferrments or rest periods are so important during good growing periods.

Deferrments can also be used to develop forage reserves to initiate grazing systems to allow several pastures periodic deferrment throughout the year. The types of grazing systems that are being successfully used in West Texas are as varied as our weather. They range from two pasture switchbacks, where one pasture is being deferred while another is grazed and then vice-versa, to the more intensified wagon-wheel type grazing system which allows livestock to be rotated every few days. Ranchers who came out of their grazing system during the dry summer should be thinking about going back into the system as soon as their forage is adequate. If you have not been in a grazing system it is likely that you could start on two or more pastures using existing fences and water sources.

The type of system that fits your livestock program and your operation is, of course, the one that needs to be used on your ranch. However, one fact applies to all operations, deferrment will make for better forage through the long summer or drought and can reduce that feed bill next winter.

The Soil Conservation Service offers assistance in planning or beginning a grazing system. If you would like more information, call us at 573-0171 or come by our office at 3423 Ave. T.

Beauty Briefs

Partial perming

Plan your permanents for best styling effect. A long, straight hairdo can be permed only at the ends, on large rods, for soft curl or neat turn-under.

Annoying neck and temple wisps can be controlled with perming on tiny rods. Wisp bangs can be left straight while body perming the rest of fine hair for fullness.

Tanning dangers

Such "at-home" notions for sun tanning as cocoa butter, baby oil or safflower oil don't work. They just grease your skin and may contribute to more sunburn and dry skin later. Suntan formulas contain ingredients proven to protect skin against sun, if you use them as the label directs.

Doggett pulls 'negative' Gramm ads from air

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Democratic U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Doggett, while standing by everything he has said about his opponent, said today that he has pulled so-called "negative" ads off the airwaves.

He told a press conference here that he hopes that move will prompt Republican Phil Gramm would accept his challenge for a Friday-night debate.

But Gramm, speaking today in San Antonio, refused to meet Doggett in a third debate, saying Doggett had earlier declined his invitation for a total of five debates.

Doggett said he believed the television ads — which displayed quotes from Gramm on the issue of Social Security and education for the handicapped — had been effective against the Republican.

But Doggett said he accepted Gramm's proposal for a moratorium on negative ads because he believes integrity is a key issue in the race.

"I came into this campaign with my integrity intact, and whatever the result, I want to go out that way," Doggett said.

Doggett said that a full debate on the subjects addressed by the ads would allow Texans to "find out who's been accurate, who's been truthful."

But spokesmen for both campaigns say that negative advertisements are still on the air.

"At 10 p.m. I saw Doggett's latest ad on Channel 7, the CBS affiliate (KTBC), in Austin," Gramm spokesman Larry Neal said. "I would suggest that almost immediately, Mr. Doggett has violated his own proposal.

"If he hasn't pulled them in his own hometown, it is unlikely that he has pulled them anywhere," Neal said. "That casts something of a cloud over his announced intentions."

"They have the same problem as we do," Carville said. "When we issued our statement at 5 p.m. (Monday), it was too late to make 60 phone calls to stations. ... It is a logistics problem."

Carville emphasized that the agreement for a moratorium lasts only until 10 p.m. Friday, by which time Gramm must have agreed to a "a factual discussion on statements and campaign ads aired during the course of the general election campaign."

Doggett demanded that his Republican opponent agree to have a "real debate" in a joint appearance. His office's statement said he would not, in his own appearances, mention Gramm by name or inference.

The Doggett statement said the appearance should be "at a time and place of his choosing, preferably in a Texas city where the greatest number of voters would have access to the dialogue through direct attendance and media coverage."

It also urged all his committees or individuals campaigning for him to "to refrain from any negative inference to Gramm by public statement, advertising or direct mail."

Gramm, "of course ... will issue the same call," the Doggett statement said.

The Republican issued his challenge after reporters questioned negative statements and advertisements from both campaigns. Each candidate has exchanged barbs over allegedly unethical and inaccurate television ads.

Doggett said he wanted more than the televised debate the two candidates held in September and last week.

Regarding the lake's potential for runoff, Ivie noted "In our 31 year history, I can recall only one year when we had significant runoff after November. If we get it, we'll have to get it now."

Jubilance is barely restrained

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An air of barely restrained jubilance buoys President Reagan's campaign as the front-running incumbent moves into the final phase of his carefully paced re-election drive.

Fresh from his final face-to-face confrontation with Democratic challenger Walter Mondale, Reagan said, "We're entering the home stretch of the campaign, and we've set our sights on victory."

That contagious confidence was evident aboard Air Force One, where the president's wife, Nancy Reagan, resurrected a daily ritual of the 1980 campaign, bowling an orange down the aisle of the plane on takeoff.

Day care probe...

Workers, children are to be questioned

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — As state workers interviewed children enrolled at a day-care center about alleged sexual abuse, a number of parents shrugged off the allegations and entrusted their children to the Arlington facility.

Workers with the Department of Human Resources interviewed some 20 children enrolled at the La Petite Academy in this Dallas suburb Monday and said they would talk to another 20 students today.

"I figured they would be watched today better than ever. I wouldn't bring them if I didn't trust the school," said Lisa Riehl of her two sons.

State investigators Monday also interviewed about 10 current and former employees of the facility, where four female employees have been placed on leave of absences following implications of alleged sexual incidents with children.

No charges have been filed and there are no plans to close down the center, where 130 pupils are enrolled, authorities say.

Attendance was down, however, Monday. Parents said at least 30 children attended school Monday but some said they would eventually move their children to another center as soon as they could find one.

"We feel there is something there. We wouldn't be pursuing this unless we felt there was something to it," said Wayne Harigrove, who supervises the Fort Worth office of the state's child protective services unit, which is conducting the investigation.

According to the department, the investigation centers on allegations that La Petite employees undressed or forced children to undress and that they fondled children and also forced the youngsters to fondle staff members.

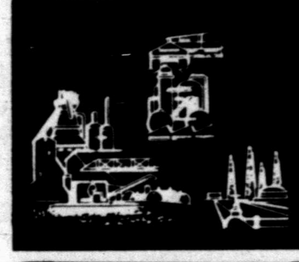

About six investigators conducted interviews with children, most of which were videotaped and aided by anatomically detailed dolls, Hairgrove said.

The interviews were videotaped to avoid repeating the process with police, grand jurors and courts.

Inside the center Monday, the president and a vice president of the La Petite Corp. met parents to assure them the four employees implicated in the sexual abuse allegations had been put on leaves of absence.

Jack Brozman, president of the La Petite Corp., refused to elaborate on the investigation, saying only "we have got a very difficult situation and we are trying to find the truth."

KELLEY'S SCHOOL OF DANCE & GYMNASTICS
1817 25th 573-4337
Jazz, Ballet, Tap, Gymnastics & Exercise Classes.

Kellye's School of Dance and Gymnastics, located at 1817 25th Street, began just last December and already has an enrollment of over 200 students. Tap, ballet, jazz, modern, gymnastics and ladies exercise classes are offered at the school for ages three and up.

Kellye Luera, owner of Kellye's School of Dance, and Gymnastics has been involved in dance for 17 years. She began her training at age 6 in Fort Worth. She attended Texas Women's University in Denton where she majored in Dance Education. TWU has a highly recognized dance department and one of the very few schools that offers a PhD in dance. While there, Kellye studied ballet, tap, jazz, modern and choreography. Her performances at WTU included two spring concerts, two young choreographers concerts and one senior concert. She began student teaching at age 16 and has nine years teaching experience. Tap is her specialty, but she also has a special interest in modern.

Kellye has choreographed the junior high plays for three years and choreographs all of the dance routines for her school.

Kay Porter and two student teachers, Benny Barrera and Monica Becerra assist Mrs. Luera with the gymnastics program.

Ladies exercise classes are offered by Gayle Kubena, Loraine Hall and Teresa Lain beginning at 5:30 in the afternoons.

An informal Christmas recital at her studio is planned in December with some of her students participating and they also plan to perform during the Christmas season at various clubs and organizations around town.

In May, the annual spring recital will be held with everyone participating.

Kellye offers extra incentives for her students. In February, she and some of her students are planning to attend the Joe Tremain Dance Convention in Dallas. Kellye also plans to join Dance Masters of America which will provide Kellye and her students the opportunity to attend more conventions.

The NGI co-ed camps are offered during the summer for students who want to attend. They are taught by All American gymnasts and offer everything from dance to the uneven bars. Eleven students from Snyder attended this past summer.

In the future Kellye's plans to include more participation in various conventions and a gymnastics competition.

Wayland provides stiff competition In Dallas...

Quarterback debate rages on

The Westerners and Dusters of Western Texas College got "good medicine" during scrimmages with experienced junior and seniors who play on varsity teams for Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

"Wayland has its finest team in years, and I think the Pioneers will win their NAIA district," commented WTC Coach Phil Spradling who observed that three of the Wayland starters within the past two years were voted first-team all-conference on teams in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference.

BULLETIN

Duster Coach Joe Cushing has announced a game with the University of Chihuahua has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the WTC gym.

runs a class program, and our scrimmage with Wayland was just what we needed," he added.

"Wayland has a team of exceptional shooters and a generally strong offense, and our kids did a real job of shutting them down," Cushing said. "It was good for our team to play against Coach Dave Ketterman's more experienced senior college group."

The Wayland girls will pay a visit to Snyder Saturday, scrimmaging the Dusters at 3 p.m. at the WTC gym.

"This will be a game condition scrimmage," Cushing said. "We'll dismiss players from the game when they commit their fifth foul, we'll shoot foul shots, etc." he added.

This will be the plan for the first two 20-minute segments. A third 20-minute segment also will be played.

"This will be our final scrmmage before we compete in the Wagstaff Classic in Tyler next weekend," Cushing said. First opponent there will be Angelina College at 6 p.m. on Nov. 1.

Cushing urged local fans to come out and support the Dusters in the scrimmage here Saturday.

In the men's scrimmage at Plainview, Wayland played a pressure defense, and it was "exactly what we needed," according to Coach Spradling, who added that the scrimmage "showed us what we have to do to be ready to open our season."

Spradling's bunch has more scrimmages lined up, all out of town. The Westerners will be in Abilene at 3 p.m. Wednesday to scrimmage McMurry College. Come Saturday, WTC has a pair of jousts in scrimmage sessions at Hardin-Simmons University. They will go against Ranger at 9 a.m. and against Kilgore College at 5 p.m.

The Westerners' first game will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 1 against McMurry College junior varsity in Snyder.

What are the Dusters working on?

"Offense," was Cushing's quick answer.

"People are learning to double team and triple team Clara Campbell (6-3) and our outside people are used to having Mary Nell Clayton (graduate from last year who averaged 23 points a game) shoot from outside. Our people are passng up too many good outside shots. Time will work out this problem."

DALLAS (AP) — The envelope, please. And the starting quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys in the second half of their National Football League season is....

Once again Coach Tom Landry will wait until his weekly press conference today to announce whether young and troubled Gary Hogeboom or veteran Danny White is his No. 1 quarterback.

No less an authority than Tex Schramm, managing general partner of the team, believes Landry will name White to start against the Indianpolis Colts this Sunday.

"I have a hunch it will be White," Schramm said on his weekly radio show Monday night.

The Cowboys have an unsettled quarterback situation despite the biggest comeback in their history Sunday night, defeating New Orleans 30-27 in overtime to move into a tie with Washington and St. Louis for the National Conference Eastern Division leadership.

"I don't make decisions on what happened the night of the game," said Tom Landry. "I have to look at the films and the overall situation."

It was the third straight game that the veteran White had replaced Hogeboom, who was named Dallas' No. 1 quarterback at the start of the season.

White came in with Dallas down 27-6 and threw a 12-yard scoring pass to Mike Renfro to cap an 88-yard march. He also took the team on the game-winning drive in overtime capped by Rafael Septien's 41-yard field goal.

"Danny put the points on the board," said Landry. "He has been a real class act for this team this season and he really deserved what happened."

Never in Dallas' 24-year history had the Cowboys come from so far behind to win in the fourth quarter.

White refused to say anything bad about Hogeboom's performance, which included Saint linebacker Dennis Winston's 43-yard touchdown return of an interception.

"This was a big game for me and it meant a lot to my confidence," said White. "I still wouldn't say I deserved to start. I know what Gary is going through, and it's tough.

"Like I said a long time ago, I didn't deserve to lose the job and I don't think he deserves to lose it because of the way he has played."

Hogeboom has had four miscues returned for a touchdowns this year on a fumble and three interceptions. He has four touchdown passes.

Asked if he felt he still deserved to start, Hogeboom said, "I don't make those decisions; it's up to Coach Landry."

Hogeboom bruised his right hand on the interception return.

"I couldn't have played," he said. "I couldn't even grip the football."

White took Dallas to three NFC title games but his teammates became disgruntled and openly sided with Hogeboom before the season started.

Enrollment over 2000...

Schoolboy 5A super league proposed to UIL council

AUSTIN (AP) — Some 250 Class 5A high schools will vote this winter on a proposal for a "super conference" state football playoff starting in 1986 that would include some of Texas' larger schools.

The University Interscholastic League's 20-member Legislative Council voted Monday to place the 32-team "super conference" proposal on the annual referendum ballot, which is subject to approval by the State Board of Education.

The new playoff concept would place most schools with enrollments of 2,000 or more into the "super conference" bracket if they finish first or second in their district football races.

If schools under 2,000 finish first or second, they would go into the regular Class 5A playoff. The third place team, meanwhile, would be the "super conference" playoff entrant, regardless of enrollment.

UIL Athletic Director Bill Farney told the council details of the plan still need to be worked out and is far from perfect. But he said that a special committee extensively studied inequities in the Class 5A enrollment bracket, saying 1,310 is the bottom figure, with no upper limit.

"This is the best the committee could do," Farney said.

Farney declined to speculate on how 5A schools may vote on the proposal. Results will be announced next February.

The council, composed of superintendents and principals from schools across the state, also approved for referendum vote a proposal to liberalize UIL restrictions on expense-paid college recruiting visits by high school athletes.

In the past, football and basketball recruits involved in other sports were allowed only three expense-paid visits before concluding their high school eligibility. Responding to a presentation by Southwest Conference Commissioner Fred Jacoby, the council approved a ballot item proposing to increase the total to five visits.

Also approved for a vote by Class A schools was a proposal that would, in effect, set up a separate state basketball playoff bracket for football-playing schools. In four decades since Class A began playing state basketball championship, only one school — Johnson City in 1947 — has followed its football season with a basketball championship. Snook, which has had no football program since the 1940s, has won six consecutive Class A basketball crowns.

A proposal for amendment of the UIL's 70-year-old policy against practice and competition on Sundays also may go on the ballot. The item would allow postponed games in regional and state tournaments to be made up on Sundays, if UIL officials and the schools involved agree.

Texas, SMU air battle shapes up

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas will match what Coach Fred Akers calls his "route runners" against Southern Methodist's "quick-striking" receivers on Saturday.

Texas, 4-0-1 this season and ranked No. 3, has won 16 straight Southwest Conference football games since SMU defeated the Longhorns 30-17 in 1982.

That game turned on a deflected pass that went for an SMU touchdown, and Akers recalls that two years earlier Texas had seven starters on the sidelines when SMU won 20-6.

"We just weren't a good football team that day, because we had several of our best football players sitting over there with us on the bench," Akers told his weekly news conference Monday.

In 1982, he said, "That day they had physically a better football team and they were fortunate because of the circumstances."

Texas has had more success passing than running the last two weeks in tying Oklahoma 15-15 and defeating Arkansas 24-18, and Akers compared Longhorn receivers with those of SMU.

SMU receivers, he said, "have speed and quick-striking ability. They're awfully dangerous. Ours are not speed players. Ours are route runners, good hands, good competitors. They find a way to get open. Every now and then we even get behind somebody."

LA Rams dump Atlanta, 24-10

ATLANTA (AP) — Eric Dickerson was fuming.

"They really hacked me off. They have no class," the Los Angeles running back said of the Atlanta Falcons' defenders after helping the Rams to a 24-10 National Football League victory Monday night in a nationally televised contest.

Dickerson, who ran for 142 yards on 25 carries, including a 10-yard touchdown run, charged the Falcons with hitting late on numerous occasions and was particularly incensed at Atlanta defensive back Tom Pridemore, for an alleged tardy hit on only his second carry of the night.

"It was No. 27, I don't know his name. I think he wanted to do a head stand or a hand stand on my back after I had been down what seemed like five minutes," he said. "It was right there on the sideline and a referee was right there and said he didn't see it. I think somebody needs glasses."

He said that wasn't the only cheap shot, but "that's the way they play. I guess that's what the coaches down in Atlanta teach them.

"I'm not saying it's dirty, but I don't think it's real good football. If they want to play that way, they ought to go to Russia," said Dickerson.

The 6-foot-3, 220-pound speedster, however, didn't let it bother him in his performance, scoring the Rams' first touchdown on his 10-yard sweep after only 1:03 of the second quarter before letting Henry Ellard do the rest.

Ellard, the NFL's leading punt returner, who helped set up Dickerson's score with a 29-yard punt return, caught a 9-yard TD pass from quarterback Jeff Kemp only 1:08 later, then closed out the 21-point second period with an explosive 69-yard score on a punt return with 39 seconds left before intermission.

Mike Lansford closed out the Rams' scoring with an 18-yard field goal in the fourth period. The Falcons, who had beaten Los Angeles two weeks ago 30-28, could manage only a 39-yard field goal from Mick Luckhurst in the second quarter and scored in the closing minute on an 18-yard pass from Steve Bartkowski to Stacey Bailey.

Winslow knee injury severe

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Kellen Winslow, the San Diego Chargers' All-Pro tight end, may have played his last football game.

"The chances are difficult to predict, but it's a very, very severe injury," Dr. Gary Losse said Monday of Winslow's torn up right knee, the result of a hard hit he took after a pass reception against the Los Angeles Raiders. "We won't know for six months. My job ended last night ... the rest is up to Kellen's rehabilitation."

Winslow, the NFL's leading receiver over the past six seasons, will be in bed for several days, in casts for several weeks and in rehabilitation for half a year before he tests his mobility on the knee.

Losse operated on Winslow for 2½ hours Sunday night after the tight end went down following a catch in the fourth quarter of the Chargers' 44-37 loss to the Raiders.

Texas keep third in college grid poll

By The Associated Press

Washington, Oklahoma and Texas had close calls over the weekend but held on to the top three spots in The Associated Press college football poll while South Carolina cracked the Top Ten for the first time in its history.

Boston College, Southern Methodist and Kentucky all suffered their first setbacks of the season and dropped in today's rankings. BC and SMU, Nos. 4 and 6 last week, slipped to 11th and 14th, respectively, while Kentucky's 36-10 loss to LSU cost the Wildcats a Top Twenty ranking.

Washington, which became the No. 1 team last week, was hard-pressed to beat Oregon 17-10. The Huskies, who managed only 109 yards in offense, received 45 of 60 first-place votes and 1,161 of a possible 1,200 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. Nebraska is the only team to be ranked No. 1 for more than two weeks this season. The Cornhuskers held the top spot for three weeks.

Oklahoma, which trailed Washington 1,135-1,072 a week ago, closed the gap, although the Sooners needed a field goal and touchdown in the final period to turn back Iowa State 12-10. They received 7½ first-place votes compared to 10½ last week but totaled 1,121½ points.

Texas blew most of a 21-point lead and held on to defeat Arkansas 24-18 when time ran out with the losers on the 3-yard line. The Longhorns received 3½ first-place ballots and 1,-096½ points.

Nebraska, a 24-7 winner over Colorado, moved up from fifth place to fourth with 980 points while Brigham Young jumped from seventh to fifth with three first-place votes and 926 points after downing Air Force 30-25. Ohio State rose from eighth to sixth with 842 points by defeating Michigan State 23-20.

The other first-place ballot went to LSU, which clobbered Kentucky and vaulted from 10th to seventh with 829 points. Miami climbed from ninth to eighth with 752 points by downing Pitt 27-7.

South Carolina made the Top Ten for the first time by rallying to beat Notre Dame 36-32. The Gamecocks, whose 6-0 start is their best ever and the first time they have ever won six consecutive games in one season, received 719 points. Oklahoma State, 12th last week, rounded out the Top Ten with 613 points after routing Kansas 47-10.
