

Hired Hand Everyone Should Use Nameplates

By Glenn Shelton

During this newspaper's recent "open house," employees wore nameplates, and I'm here to suggest that nameplates be made part of every costume. I think that every business suit, and every dress suit, should display prominently the wearer's name. The obvious place for the nameplate is just above the left pocket and could be located there in lieu of a handkerchief, and the handkerchief is, after all, merely an ornament itself, without any utility value. If we all wore our names on our suits the fact would save considerable embarrassment and greatly expedite things. I think it's a capital idea!

A personal nameplate could become an item of jewelry which every man (and perhaps even women) could own and display. There would be nothing vain about it—it would be a practical, useful gadget.

The military has already adopted the idea. The officers and airmen at Sheppard don't wear nameplates to tout their horns, or to prove their importance; but because the nameplates make things easier all the way around. How much easier it would be if we all wore 'em!

During open-house here, I even learned the names (for the first time) of some of my own colleagues. And I'm sure many of them learned mine. Visitors, moreover, could take a gander at our nameplates and know to whom they were speaking, or at whom they were gawking. It helped very much.

Who knows what friendships nameplates might inspire, or, at least, what harmony they might create in social and business intercourse. As I see it, the possibilities are impressive. I'm for every man wearing nameplates at all times.

OFF ON A TANGENT — Jack Cox of Childress dropped by to tell me that one can order a martin house through Sears-Roebuck catalog. That's good to know; because so many people are interested in putting one up on their premises.

BEEF JOKE: "Tommy!" the father gasped, looking at his son's report card, "how is it that you're at the bottom of your class?" "Well, Dad," was the reply, "Jimmy's usually at the bottom, but he's out sick."

All this fussin' is absurd; The truth is "ain't" just ain't no word.

THE MAILBAG — "About this preacher in your column last Friday: He is setting a good example for the other folks who don't go to church. That is why it's so hard to get them into church. Everyone sits at home and waits for someone to invite him to church. If he's a preacher, he should know that he is welcome into any church door in Wichita Falls. We need more calling, and less sitting."

Sunny And Warm Weather Said Due

Sunny and warm weather will prevail in Wichita Falls through Saturday with the high Friday expected to be about 78 degrees. Winds are expected to be light and from a southerly direction Friday and the skies will be mostly clear with a few high thin clouds.

Thursday's high reached 70 degrees after a near-freezing low of 36 was recorded during the early morning hours. Weather bureau officials had predicted a light freeze for Thursday morning.

Brazil Cracking Down On Leftists

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil's military ministers enacted tough new measures Thursday night to purge Communists and fellow travelers from positions of influence they acquired under overthrown President Joao Goulart.

Sitting at the supreme command of the revolution that ousted Goulart, the ministers gave sweeping powers to an interim president still to be elected by Congress. Military chiefs received power to suspend political rights for 10 years and to revoke mandates of federal, state and municipal legislators without any recourse to the courts.

Rights Bill Only A Start, Johnson Says

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said Thursday night passage of the civil rights bill would leave the nation "on the side of the hill, with the big peak still above us."

Johnson said that scaling of the peak would require "the cooperation, the good will, the moral courage, the determination, the good sense and the patriotism of every single American."

Addressing several hundred business leaders in the East Room of the White House, Johnson said enactment of the civil rights measure now being debated in the Senate would not automatically eliminate racial problems.

Ultimate Success
The President said ultimate success in this area would rest upon "men like you."

Johnson, in talking to corporation officials who signed pledges to observe nondiscriminatory policies in employment, said: "Emancipation may be a proclamation but it's not a fact. I appeal to you to give us the leadership to make it a fact."

Johnson, departing from a prepared text, called upon the businessmen to cooperate, assuming passage of the civil rights bill, "to make this legislative work as smoothly and effectively as possible."

Action Necessary
He said action by businessmen to advance the cause of civil rights "is just as necessary" as was Lincoln's signing of the Emancipation Proclamation some 100 years ago.

While civil rights was the theme, Johnson alluded to the cold war and the continuing economic tug of war with the Soviet Union.

Johnson declared that the American capitalistic system "can outproduce and outdevelop any slave state."

He said the Soviet Union may have more people and resources but that it lacks the imagination, initiative and ingenuity of the capitalist system.

Tribute Paid To Mrs. FDR

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson joined Thursday in tributes to Eleanor Roosevelt and declared the best memorial to the former First Lady would be to fight prejudice, fear and hate in our day as she did in hers.

Let us earnestly resolve, Mrs. Johnson said, "to pluck prejudice from our lives."

The First Lady flew to New York for the day to speak at the first anniversary luncheon of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation before an audience of 2,800. Their contributions were expected to raise $100,000 for humanitarian causes in the spirit of Mrs. Roosevelt.

At a reception before the luncheon, Mrs. Johnson shook hands with $1,000 contributors and many VIP guests, including James Roosevelt, son of the late president, and Margaret Truman Daniel, daughter of former President Harry S. Truman.

The First Lady found herself heaped with praise along with the eulogies and accolades for her predecessor, Mrs. Roosevelt.

But, she reminded the gathering, which included many friends of Mrs. Roosevelt, that they would be engaging in "idle ceremony" if they merely praised Mrs. Roosevelt's great qualities. That would not have pleased Mrs. Roosevelt, she said.

MacArthur's Body Taken To Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's long funeral journey ended Thursday in Norfolk, his adopted home, where his body is to be entombed Saturday in the MacArthur Museum, a repository rich in mementos of his long and glittering career.

An Air Force C130 carried MacArthur's body to Norfolk from Washington, arriving at 3:33 p.m.

His widow, Jean MacArthur, and their son, Arthur, 26, arrived in Norfolk a few moments earlier. Adm. H. P. Smith, Atlantic commander in chief, greeted her at the foot of the ramp and escorted her to the position where brief ceremonies were held at the airport.

They began when a color guard brought the national flag. The flag-draped casket followed.

At the same instant, a battery of artillery began firing the traditional 19-gun salute.

MacArthur's personal flag, five white stars on a red field, fluttered in the brisk afternoon wind. A navy band played "The General's March" as the pallbearers slowly carried the casket toward a waiting hearse.

Norfolk is the scene of the last of a series of testimonials to the 84-year-old general who died last Sunday. His body lay in state in New York at the 7th Regiment Armory on Tuesday, and in the Capitol rotunda in Washington on Wednesday.

Wayne Johnston, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, said on behalf of management: "We pledge ourselves to continue our efforts to reach a fair settlement in the national interest."

Roy Davidson, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, AFL-CIO, said telegrams were being sent to members of all unions to support the railroad workers.

From there, it moved slowly through the streets to the MacArthur Museum.

Appalachia Plan Submitted To LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. handed President Johnson a $4.3-billion program Thursday that he said would provide a new economic foundation for the depressed Appalachian area.

About two-thirds of the total would be provided by the federal government, and the remainder by the nine states in the region, which stretches from Pennsylvania to Georgia. Johnson "is not committed to a specific program of rehabilitation for Appalachia, but he included $250 million for that purpose in his budget for the fiscal year that begins next July 1.

Roosevelt, undersecretary of commerce and chairman of an Appalachian regional commission set up a year ago by President

John F. Kennedy, told a news conference he is "very, very hopeful that the program will be adopted by this Congress."

The commission, which included governors of the states affected, said the area needs public investment to provide a base on which private enterprise can build.

The group recommended an expanded highway system, development and control of the area's abundant water resources, accelerated construction of sewage facilities, conversion of cut-over woodlands to pasture for livestock, promotion of recreational areas and a broad human resources program to provide education, housing and other services.

A proposed Appalachian regional commission would have broad powers to channel funds to specific areas. A complicated proposal for the financing of some local development projects drew an objection from Pennsylvania's Republican governor, William W. Scranton.

The commission would be empowered to raise money by selling bonds which would be partially supported by congressional appropriations. The commission, in turn, would purchase bonds issued by communities for local development projects.

In a one-man minority report, Scranton said he thinks financing should be handled "through congressional authori-zations and appropriations reflected in the budget, thus making the programs accountable to the electorate."

The 93-page report calls for an appropriation of $218 million for the fiscal year which begins July 1 with $24 million more for education and welfare to be carried out under the proposed antipoverty program.

Roosevelt said Johnson probably will meet with Appalachian governors sometime in the next few weeks.

The area includes parts of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia. Ohio was included in the planning but its officials declined to sign the commission's report.

15-Day Halt Won By LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson received Thursday night a pledge from both sides to postpone for 15 days a national rail work stoppage slated to start at 12:01 a.m. Friday. The President had asked earlier for a 20-day delay.

The news came in a bizarre fashion when a television technician mounted a prompting device atop a waiting camera in a White House office.

Across a screen on this piece of equipment was written the start of Johnson's statement in large letters. In mounting the device on the camera, the technician turned it so newsmen waiting to hear the President, could read it even before Johnson entered the room.

Negotiators for more than 200 railroads and five operating unions met briefly with Johnson at the White House a little after 6 p.m. to hear his appeal for a 20-day delay and a request that they give him their decision by 8 o'clock.

The union and carrier representatives returned to the White House shortly before the agreed time but 8 o'clock passed and then 9, 9:30, 10 and 10:30 with no word from the White House.

Technical arrangements were made between 8 and 9:30 for Johnson to go on television and radio from the Fish Room, a room in the executive offices often used for presidential broadcasts. But two hours later he had not gone on the air and there had been no announcement.

Johnson made the announcement after a four-hour meeting with representatives of both sides. He said "railroad service...will continue," and that negotiations will resume at 10 a.m. Friday in the White House.

The President congratulated both sides and said they "acted suspend the strike against the Illinois Central, which precipitated the national crisis on Wednesday.

Davidson said the union members were being asked to "back to work on the Illinois Central 'at the urgent request' of President Johnson.

Davidson spoke for all five unions involved in the long work rule dispute, which also came to the brink of a nationwide strike last year and was halted by emergency legislation from Congress.

Johnson spoke on behalf of all the nearly 200 railroad involved in the dispute.

Fire Destroys Duke School; Cost $125,000

quietly and calmly. Only a few knew that a fire had broken out in the basement boiler room of the brick building.

Three minutes later, the fire department in Altus had received the alarm and was on its way to Duke, 14 miles west of Altus.

Units from Mangum and Hollis joined the Altus Fire Department but low water pressure precluded extinguishing the fire. Mrs. Howard Darb, who lives across the street from the school, said, "The fire department arrived, but there wasn't enough water to make a dent."

As the flames consumed the building, firemen saved some water resources to protect other property in the area.

Superintendent D. L. Boyer estimated the loss at $125,000 and said the school was insured for $80,000. As the fire burned, school officials were making arrangements to resume classes Monday in the Baptist and Methodist churches.

During the fire fighting, two men received minor injuries. A school janitor tripped over a fire hose and injured his shoulder. An electrician slid off the building and broke his heel.

Wayne Johnston, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, said on behalf of management: "We pledge ourselves to continue our efforts to reach a fair settlement in the national interest."

Roy Davidson, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, AFL-CIO, said telegrams were being sent to members of all unions to support the railroad workers.

The 5 1/2-inch casing was cemented three feet above bottom at 1642 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 200-1.

Mangum Area Churches Plan Tulsa Trip

MANGUM, Okla. (Special) — The Mangum, Brinkman, Granite, Reed, Vinson and Willow Churches of Christ have been contacted by the congregational development committee of the gigantic April 12-17 gospel meeting in the new $9,000,000 Tulsa Assembly Center.

The committee, directed by Leroy R. Borden, Tulsa, has invited the members of the churches to attend the huge gospel rally either singly or as a congregation. Many Churches of Christ within a 125 mile radius of Tulsa as well as Springfield, Mo., Wichita, Kan. and Fayetteville, Ark. are coming to the evangelistic meeting in bus chains of as many as 40 vehicles.

The attraction is a six-day series of sermons delivered by Leroy Brownlow, Ft. Worth, Texas Church of Christ minister, famed as an evangelist and author of 11 best selling books on the subject of faith in every phase of American living.

The theme of the meeting, the first religious gathering in the Assembly Center, is "A Week Which Will Change Your Life." Approximately 10,000 persons are expected nightly.

L. O. Sanderson, nationally-known song director and editor of internationally used song books, will lead the a cappella singing by the congregation.

Additions Planned For Altus Schools

ALTUS, Okla. (Special)—Additions to the Will Rogers grade school building and more classroom space at Altus Junior College, as well as construction of a dressing room at the north end of Hightower Memorial stadium for use of visiting football teams are among the facilities planned by the board of education.

Efforts will be made to have the projects completed at time for opening of classes for the 1964-65 school year.

The four-room addition at Will Rogers will make it a 16-classroom structure, same as Sunset and Roosevelt elementary schools. All three schools are in new residential areas and have been constructed in the past few years. All have had from two to three additions to the original eight-classroom core building. Sunset and Roosevelt each had four classroom additions last summer, bringing their size to the 16-room total.

Will Rogers has been using a temporary building in addition to its regular facilities this year, and is faced with a still larger enrollment increase next year as the housing area it serves continues to expand.

The board of education also instructed Clifford Peterson, superintendent of the schools and president of Altus Junior College, to work with architects in planning a classroom addition for Altus Junior College.

Various causes of mental illness were outlined to 24 prospective volunteer workers at the Wichita Falls State Hospital Thursday morning by Dr. S. Somodevilla.

Dr. Somodevilla spoke to the group during the fourth session of a five-session spring orientation course for hospital volunteers in the Volunteer Services Building of the hospital.

Also speaking was Mrs. Eleanor Hays, director of nursing, who spoke on nursing service at the hospital.

Some of the many facets of volunteer service was outlined by Mrs. Lou Beck, volunteer services secretary.

In the three previous sessions those attending the course have toured the hospital wards other facilities.

Lectures have been presented by department heads on how their part of the hospital functions.

The orientation courses are designed to better acquaint volunteers with the hospital, its patients and procedures and all volunteers are urged to attend.

Those completing all five sessions are presented with a certificate of graduation by Volunteer Services Department and qualify for a 100-hour service pin.

Attendance does not obligate anyone to do volunteer work at the hospital.

The final session of the Spring Orientation course will be held Tuesday at 9 a.m. in the Volunteer Services Building with Mrs. Virginia Hess, director of education at the hospital, speaking on "How to Work with Mental Patients."

Dr. Howard Patterson, chief psychologist, will speak to volunteers on the various treatments of mental illness. Additional facts on volunteer service in the hospital will be given by Miss Beulah Ann Johnson, volunteer services coordinator.

Sheriff To Escort Webster To Prison

Julian Price Webster, twice indicted and once convicted of murder, will be taken to Huntsville Friday to begin serving a life sentence at the Texas Department of Corrections there.

Sheriff Ham Vance said Thursday he will escort Webster personally.

An Erath district jury gave Webster life for killing Bird C. Robertson of Vernon on Nov. 20, 1961. Attorneys for the man had recently filed and failed in attempted reversals before the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

CHARRED REMAINS — The Duke, Okla. school was destroyed by fire Thursday. Fire-fighting units from Altus, Mangum and Hollis were helpless to stop blazes since water pressure in the Duke community was too low for fighting such a large fire. Flames engulfed the building so fast, Mrs. Howard Darb who lives across from the school said, "There's not enough water to make a dent." (Staff Photo)

Senator Kennedy Makes Appeal For Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., invoked the memory of President John F. Kennedy on Thursday in an emotional appeal to the Senate for passage of the civil rights bill.

In an off-the-floor development in the long struggle over the House-passed measure, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader from Illinois, failed to unite Republican senators behind his proposals to alter the bill's fair-employment section.

Kennedy was the focus of attention on the Senate floor.

Making his first speech since he entered the Senate in January 1963, the youngest brother of the slain president spoke in a voice that sometimes broke as he faltered and struggled to control his emotions.

"Heart And Soul" In Bill

While his wife, Joan, put her handkerchief to tear-filled eyes in the special visitors' gallery, the 32-year-old senator said of the late president's views: "His heart and his soul are in this bill."

After Dirksen presented his fair-employment proposals to a closed conference of all Republican senators, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., a leading GOP supporter of the 11-part bill, told reporters "no consensus, broad or narrow was arrived at" in the 2½-hour meeting.

Dirksen conceded as much in talking to newsmen but he insisted that there are several senators who won't vote for the bill or back a move to end a Southern filibuster against it as long as the fair-employment section remains as it is.

The minority leader holds a key position, the bill's proponents concede, because only with his support would there be a good chance to get the two-thirds majority required to limit debate—if that move is made to halt a filibuster.

Tunnell expressed enthusiasm for the museum prospects. "I think it is an excellent collection... as good an area collection as I have ever seen."

"I think this is going to be a real impressive small museum. He listed periods covered by the Ray collection as Paleo-Indian, from 20,000 to 8,000 B.C. during the age of mammoths and extinct bison.

Archaeic, from 8,000 B.C. to 500 A.D. in which Indians hunted modern forms of animals and began processing plant foods; Neo-American, from about 500 A.D. to 1500 A.D. when Indians began to settle in villages, grow gardens, began making pottery and began using bow and arrow.

Vernon Teacher Receives Grant

VERNON, Tex. (Special) — Mrs. Irl Holt, a seventh grade mathematics teacher at Vernon Junior High School, has been named recipient of the national Science Foundation Fellowship for Summer study.

She will take special courses in mathematics during a six week period at San Jose State College in San Jose, Calif., beginning June 22.

Mrs. Holt, one of 46 instructors from throughout the United States to receive such fellowships, will have all tuition, fees and travel expenses paid and will receive $75 per week while attending the school.

The courses will apply on a masters degree toward which she is working at Midwestern University.

After the speech, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, said Kennedy gave "new inspiration to those of us who work in the vineyard of civil rights."

Humphrey and several other Democratic senators went to Kennedy to shake his hand and congratulate him.

Robbery, Assault Is Investigated

A 20-year-old Wichita Falls Negro was arrested Wednesday night in connection with the robbery by assault of Olivia Smith, a Negro woman of Whitehurst, Tex. about 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Glass Bar in the 400 Block of Flood.

The victim said she walked outside the bar and a man knocked her to the ground by a blow on her head and then ran away with her purse which she said contained about $52.

Police said that the Negro man was taken into custody about 9:45 p.m. and that they had several signed statements linking him to the robbery but he denied the assault in a written statement.

Franco Planning To Stay In Power

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco told a cheering Falange National Council meeting Thursday night he plans to head the Spanish government for "as long as the Lord gives me strength."

Franco said nothing will change substantially in Spain in the future—words of disappointment for monarchists who had hoped he might announce changes in his government at the closing session of the Supreme Falange body.

The Spanish Civil War "is now recognized as having served Europe's interests, freeing the West from Communist chaos," Franco said.

The 71-year-old Franco, who on April 1 celebrated the 25th anniversary of the end of the civil war, spoke for just over 30 minutes from a throne-like golden chair in the old Senate building.

His words were a strong tonic for the Falange leaders as they heard him praise what he called the continued vitality of the movement he heads.

At the same time, Franco said "we must establish Spain's future not upon the life of a man, but on the stability of our institutions."

He said "many of the powers which are now mine are, because of their very nature, non-transferable. Thus there is need for the future of regulations which determine the functions which may correspond to the chief of state, the chief of government and the head of the (Falange) movement."

Franco now holds all three of these posts, but there have been frequent reports he planned to hand over to an associate at least the post of the chief of government.

Nikita Sees Failure For Chinese Efforts

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev declared Thursday Red China has "maliciously split the Communist movement" but predicted its efforts will end "in shameful failure."

In a biting attack on Peking, he said the Red Chinese answered Soviet conciliation efforts by stepping up maneuvering to seize the leadership of international communism.

"Under the cover of Marxism-Leninism, the Chinese leaders are trying to push the Communist movement into a swamp of great-Chinese chauvinism," he told a Soviet-Hungarian friendship rally concluding his 10-day visit to Hungary.

Their adventurous policies weaken the fight against imperialism. But their spasmodic efforts to subordinate the Communist movement will end in shameful failure."

Again Khrushchev accused the Communist Chinese of "irresponsibly playing with the destiny of millions of people" by trying to hamper the struggle against thermonuclear war.

The premier said the Red Chinese make demagogic assertions that the "atomic bomb is a paper tiger" and "the imperialists are a paper tiger."

This, he said, builds harmful illusions about "such a dangerous enemy as modern imperialism."

Indeed, he said, the Red Chinese actually join with the forces of imperialism by issuing vile slanders against other Communist parties. He said they thus were trying to do what imperialism was unable to achieve—to disorganize the world Communist movement.

"The imperialists can rub their hands in satisfaction," he continued. "The Chinese leaders have left the path of the revolutionary class and base their policies on such elements as the color of skin, race and continents."

This touched upon a common fear in the Soviet bloc—that the Chinese will rally the yellow race of Asia and the black race of Africa against the white Communists — rending the movement beyond hope of ever restoring unity.

A call for showdown "This fear is behind the reluctance of some Soviet friends to support Moscow's call for a showdown meeting with Peking."

Only Wednesday, East bloc sources in Budapest said Communist Romania was making new efforts to mediate between the two sides and proposed a second peace mission to Peking. The first Romanian mission in February ended in failure.

Henrietta FFA Boys Hold Banquet And Give Honors

By NEAL JOHNSON

Farm Editor
HENRIETTA, Tex. — Clay County businessman Bill Glassford and Henrietta FFA chapter member Keith Short received two of the top honors here Thursday night during the annual FFA Farmers of America Parent-Son Banquet.

The event started at 7:30 p.m.

in the V.F.W. Building and featured Larry Lefevre, chapter president, as master of ceremonies.

Following the invocation by Carl Bullinger and the meal, the 1963-64 chapter officers conducted opening ceremonies and Robert Lyde gave the welcome address. Introduction of guests was conducted by Jim Boddy and a review of the chapter's activities was discussed by Jim Lemons.

Presenting the awards was Perry Woods, vocational agriculture instructor of the Henrietta High School and the Chapter's advisor. Woods recognized the following: Butch Hamilton, poultry; Alfred Moser, farm mechanics; Jim Lemons, livestock farming; Larry Lefevre, DeKalb's senior student award. The Star Greenhand award was given to Carl Bullinger because of his outstanding first year program. His projects included swine, beef cattle and gardening.

When recognizing Short as the Chapter Star Farmer, Woods noted his work had been outstanding on the radio and livestock teams and Short has served the chapter as a district delegate, an officer and attended the Texas FFA convention in Lubbock, Tex. last summer.

Weldon Sullivan presented Short with the scholarship award.

Selection of the Honorary Chapter Farmer completed the awards presentation. Glassford, editor and publisher of the Clay County Leader, was the choice of the chapter members as the businessman who has donated both time and effort to the group's program of work.

Royce Priddy was introduced by Lefevre as the featured speaker of the evening.

Ann Avis, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Avis was honored by Lefevre and presented to the banquet group as the chapter's sweetheart for the 1963-64 school year.

The annual event was ended with the closing ceremonies conducted by the 1964-65 officers. They are, Gary Scheer, president; Short, vice president; Clyde Prigmore, secretary; Jim Lemons, reporter; James Brasher, treasurer and Carl Bullinger, sentinel.

DEAN, Tex. — A pie and cake auction, preceded by speeches from Clay County candidates, will be featured at a special meeting of the Dean Community Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the O. D. Mathews residence.

Proceeds from the auction will go to the Dean Community Fund. Music will be furnished by John Duckett and his group, of Stanfield community.

All Clay County officials have been invited to the fete, including candidates for the offices of Clay County sheriff, county attorney, county tax assessor-collector, district judge and state representative for the 61st District.

Next regular community club meeting is slated for Thursday, April 23.

Wichita Farm-Ranch Club Holds Meeting

Taxes, membership and scholarships were featured items of discussion during the monthly meeting Thursday night of the Wichita Farm and Ranch Club.

The program opened at 7:30 p.m. at Underwood's Cafeteria in Southmoor Center with Paul Berend, president, serving as master of ceremonies.

Featured speaker was Flynn Stewart of Wichita Falls. Stewart is a Certified Public Accountant and a registered Angus breeder. His discussion concerning law changes involved with the Internal Revenue Service dealt mainly with farmers' and ranchers' problems.

A new program was proposed and accepted by the club. A membership drive will be conducted through the summer months and will end with the October meeting. Two teams were appointed in the drive with Neal Johnson and Roddy Peoples, chairmen. Members of the Johnson team are, George Krohn, Clarence Mahler, Leon Deaton and Roger Kerr. Peoples' team members include Gad Garland, B. T. Haws, Ralph Swinford and Lee Mils Jr.

Reports were given concerning the scholarship program being conducted by the Farm and Ranch club. Each year, members of the Wichita Falls organization have sponsored an agriculture student in his senior year at Texas A&M or at Texas Tech. It was reported that last year's winner, C. E. Simpson of Winters, Tex., a Texas A&M student, is now completing his masters degree work in plant breeding. This year's winner at Tech will graduate in June with a B.S. degree in Agricultural Economics and is planning to continue in the graduate field.

Present plans call for the Wichita Farm and Ranch Club to sponsor an agriculture student during the 1964-65 school year in both Texas A&M and Texas Tech.

The scholarship winners have received $180 from the club.

OLNEY, Tex. (Special) — Career Day was launched at Olney High School Thursday with a general assembly featuring John C. Kosanke of Wichita Falls in an address on "Success Through Planning."

Kosanke stressed the importance of mental attitudes in knowledge growth and in career planning. The human mind responds to mental attitudes somewhat as a field planted with seeds that can grow poison plants or life-giving wheat, Kosanke said. He urged students to regard educational opportunities as advantages, rather than "millstones around their necks."

Kosanke related his address to real life success stories. A director of public relations for the Pardue, Read and Dice firm of architectural engineers of Wichita Falls, Kosanke is a native of Henrietta, a graduate of Baylor University, vice president of the Wichita Recreation, Inc.; director of the junior chamber of commerce and an ambassador of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and is past vice president of the Wichita Optimist Club.

Kosanke was introduced by Tommy Tomlinson, president of the Olney High School Student Body. Invocation was by Bobby Lovett, Student Council President. Supt. of Schools Charles Mitchell brought the welcome address and High School Principal Harlen Lowe introduced special guests.

Air Force Seeks Young Musicians

The U.S. Air Force is seeking young men and women with band experience.

Recruiter T.Sgt. Lee Milam reported Thursday that an audition would be arranged at Sheppard Air Force Base for any young person interested in the program. After the audition, the qualifying applicant may select duty with any of 32 air force bands in the United States.

The applicants are assured of the band of his choice before making any formal commitment to the air force. He then undergoes basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio for a period of five weeks and then to his permanent band assignment.

EMERGENCY REPORT

Traffic Calls
Eight traffic accidents, one of which injured a five-year-old girl, were reported to the Wichita Falls Police Department Thursday.

In Shady Park Trailer Park at 2944 Fifth at 3:37 p.m. a truck driven by Maxie Dee Davidson of 1618 Oceola hit a bicycle ridden by Barbara Burnett, 5½ daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burnett of 441 Knight Circle. The child was taken to Sheppard Air Force Base Hospital with abrasions and bruises but was not believed seriously injured.

Other accidents were: At Denver and Ninth, involving a vehicle driven by Darrell E. Daniel of 709 Warford and a parked car owned by Jerry Odom of 607 Van Buren; Avenue H and Kemp, D. McBride Green of 4106 Kingsbury and Mary Hunter Green of 2120 Hiawatha;

Seymour Highway and Fairway, Harlen Eugene Arnold of Odessa, Tex. and Alma F. McKinley of 5025 Seymour Highway;

Van Buren and Ninth, Earl Dwayne Jones of 2109 Eighth and Lydia Dolores Corona of 306 Second.

At 900 Brook, Glenn Rhea Coats of 7025 Seymour Road and Ann V. Rogers of 4104 Seymour Road.

At Seymour Highway one-half mile west of Farm Road 360, a car driven by Elizabeth C. Hatcher of 405 Willow Drive went off the road, through a private drive and hit a barbed wire fence.

Barbers Initiate New Member

David Wade, 24-year-old grandson of veteran barber Jesse Wade was initiated into the local barbers' union No. 608 Thursday night at a meeting in the Marchman Hotel.

Wade, 76, is president of the local and has been a barber since 1907. David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Wade, is continuing in his grandfather's trade after two years of apprenticeship.

Members of the union met for routine business.

CECIL W. SEMM

Gallon Club Adds Member

A member of the 3750th M&S unit at Sheppard Air Force Base, Cecil W. Semm has become a member of the Red Cross Gallon Club at the Red River Regional Blood Center.

The center serves 18 counties in Texas and Oklahoma and Semm donated a gallon of A positive type blood to help save the lives of hospital patients.

For his service, the Wichita Falls Times and Record News awarded him a certificate of appreciation and the blood center presented him with a Red Cross Gallon Club lapel pin. Semm, his wife Leta May, and his daughter, Linda Gale Davis, reside at 304 Burnett. He is Lutheran and likes to bowl.

Semm has 11 years of military service and has served a year each in Korea and Iceland and three years in England.

Geologist Speaks To Graham Club

GRAHAM, Tex. (Special) — Dr. Jack Watkins, Midwestern University geology instructor, stated "No nation can become great unless it is endowed with rich minerals," and added, "I cannot overemphasize the importance of minerals to a nation." Dr. Watkins was guest speaker for the Graham Gem and Mineral Club this week.

He discussed minerals in this order: native elements, sulfides, oxides, carbonates, halides and silicates.

Richard Layfield, president, conducted the meeting. Katherine Garvey received the door prize.

Ape Turns In False Fire Alarm

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—An ape turned in a false alarm Wednesday.

The ape, being used for experiments at Stanford University Medical Center, was being wheeled in a cage when he reached between the bars and pulled the alarm lever.

Firemen from the campus department and nearby Palo Alto responded and found some red-faced researchers — but no fire.

Mrs. Johnson Rites Planned

Funeral services for Mrs. C. B. Johnson, a Wichitan for 45 years, will be at 4 p.m. Friday from the Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home chapel.

Rev. Wilson Wood, pastor of Southside Baptist Church, and Rev. A. C. Turner, former pastor of Southside Baptist, now of Irving, Tex., will officiate.

Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery. Pallbearers include Wayne Davis, Butler Moore, George Allen, Gerald Mote, C. R. McBee and C. B. Whiteman.

Mrs. Johnson, born March 16, 1881, died Wednesday in Wichita Falls at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. D. McBee.

Survivors are five daughters, Mrs. Jack Jackson of Freeport, Mrs. L. E. Loyd of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Velma Bernhardt, Mrs. D'Roy Allen and Mrs. McBee, all of Wichita Falls; three sons, C. F. Johnson of Fort Worth, and H. E. (Jack) and Rubie T. Johnson, both of Wichita Falls; two half-sisters, Mrs. Olive Stella Stirmann of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Elsie Rogers of Newcastle; two half-brothers, Alvis Savell, Seattle and W. W. Savell of Oklahoma City; nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Porter Rites To Be Friday

Funeral rites for Mrs. Purnia Porter, 83, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday from the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church with Rev. L. H. Hood, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Crestview Memorial Park under direction of Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home. Pallbearers will be L. A. Wittenberg, L. T. Boren, Henry Brown, Jess Smith, Hubert Hensley and Norman Kuykendall.

Mrs. Porter, who made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Toss Brown, 4610 Lake Park Drive, died Wednesday afternoon in a city hospital.

A resident of Wichita Falls since 1922, Mrs. Porter was born March 24, 1881 in Shiloh County, Ky. She came to Wichita Falls from Clovis, N.M., and had been active in the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church here.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Brown, include one son, Roy Porter of Ennis, Tex., a half-sister, Mrs. Willard Parsons of Electra; four half-brothers, Burl, Homer, Lester and Grigg Russell; one grandchild, and four great-grandchildren.

Former Wichitan Dies In Oklahoma

Funeral services for Raymond L. Rhodes, former Wichitan who died Wednesday following a heart attack, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Owens & Brumley Funeral Home chapel.

Rev. Paul McClung, minister of the Faith Village Church of Christ, will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Pallbearers will include Pierce Nelson, Glen Atkins, Roy Neal, Lynn Hammond, Robbie Shepherd and Jimmy LaPine.

Rhodes, born June 24, 1906 in Burleson, Tex., had been a Wichita Falls resident for 40 years before moving to Apache, Okla., eight years ago.

He was an oil field worker. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Emma Rhodes; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Tucker of Fort Worth; three sisters, Mrs. E. V. Hawkins of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Floyd Pitts of Phoenix and Mrs. Thelma Doucet of Webb City, Mo.; a step-brother, Howard Wickersham of Dallas; and five grandchildren.

AREA DEATHS

Rev. I. L. Parrack Dies In Childress

CHILDRESS, Tex. (Special)—Rev. Ira Landis Parrack, 84-year-old Baptist minister, died in a Childress hospital at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday from the First Baptist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Joe Allen, and Dr. B. J. Martin of Pasadena, Tex., officiating.

Interment will be in Childress Cemetery directed by Newberry Funeral Home.

Born Dec. 27, 1879 in Waco, Rev. Parrack attended Baylor University and was graduated from Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ky. In 1907 he married Miss Ida Caswell, who died in 1937 in Chillicothe. He married the former Leila Rose Aiken in 1938 at Quanah, and was pastor of the High Point Community church before his death. He also served as interim pastor at the First Baptist Church in Childress.

He has held Baptist pastorates

Mrs. Orsborn, Knox City, Dies

KNOX CITY, Tex. (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Alma Nelson Orsborn, 89, will be conducted Friday at 3 p.m. in the Knox City Methodist Church.

Mrs. Orsborn, a resident of Knox County for 54 years, died Thursday at 7 a.m. in the Knox County hospital.

Rev. Jarrell Sharp, pastor, will officiate at the funeral service and burial will be in Knox City Cemetery under direction of Pinkard-Smith Funeral Home of Knox City.

She was preceded in death by her husband, J. T. Orsborn, who was a well known rancher and businessman in the Knox City area. He had owned stores in the Needmore Community and in Knox City.

Mrs. Orsborn and her husband came to Knox County in 1910. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Nettie Oliver of Castro Valley, Calif., and Mrs. Phil Dudley of Dallas.

She was an active member in the Methodist Church and in civic affairs during the last half century in Knox County.

Ed McDonald Funeral Set

Funeral services for Walter Edward (Ed) McDonald, 70, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday from the Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home chapel with Rev. Carl Alcorn, pastor of the Southside Assembly of God Church at Holliday, Tex., officiating.

Burial will be in Lake Creek Cemetery, located just south of Wichita Falls.

McDonald, a long-time area resident and at one time chief of police of Wichita Falls, died early Thursday morning at his home here, 1424 Twenty-Fifth following an illness of several months.

Born Aug. 20, 1893 in Olney, Tex., McDonald had lived in Archer and Wichita counties all of his life.

He joined the Wichita Falls Police Department in 1929 and served as police chief for a year beginning in May 1935. He quit the force in 1947 and has served as a city patrolman at Lake Kickapoo, the city reservoir lake, for several years.

He was a member of the Southside Assembly of God Church.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Schurman of Clarkston, Wash. and Mrs. Elsie Lee Hanks of Duncan, Okla.; four sisters, Mrs. Mattie Faulkner of Bowie, Mrs. Myrtle Lassiter of Olney, Mrs. Nell Foley of Albuquerque, N.M. and Mrs. Sally Gant of Baton Rouge, La.; three brothers, Jim of Childress, Will of Glorieta, N.M. and Jess of Texarkana; and 11 grandchildren.

Another brother and veteran law officer in Archer County, Joe McDonald of Elkinsville, died Wednesday.

Throckmorton Native Dies

THROCKMORTON, Tex. (Special)—Funeral services for Andrew Stout, 71, native of Throckmorton County, will be held from the First Baptist Church at 3 p.m. Friday. Stout died Thursday morning in the Crestview Nursing Home in Throckmorton. He had been ill for several years.

Rev. Hollie Briscoe, pastor, will officiate and will be assisted by Rev. Andy Daniels of Crestview Baptist Church and Rev. Hubert Faust of Graham. Burial will be in Throckmorton Cemetery under direction of Meriman Funeral Home.

Stout was born March 8, 1893 in Throckmorton County and had been a farmer and rancher. He was married to the former Edna Sittin in 1918.

Besides his widow, Stout is survived by two sons, J. W. of Graham and Glen of Throckmorton; three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Thompson of Graham, Mrs. Dorothy Denham of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Doris Self of Throckmorton; a brother, Dick Stout of Carlsbad, N.M.; two sisters, Mrs. Denzil Condon of Throckmorton and Mrs. George London of Throckmorton; 13 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Retired Farmer Dies In Vernon

VERNON, Tex. (Special)—Raleigh Neel, 65, a retired farmer of 1103 Yamparika, died Wednesday morning in a Wichita Falls hospital following an illness of three years.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Thursday from Sullivan Funeral Home chapel with Howard Emerson, minister of the Paradise Street Church of Christ, officiating. Burial was in East View Memorial Park.

Born March 1, 1899, in Indian territory, Neel came with his late parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcelus Neel, to the Five-in-One community in 1905 from Oklahoma. He and Mrs. Nannie Mae Still were married in Vernon March 3, 1949.

He is survived by his wife; five sisters, Mrs. Nettie Turley and Mrs. Sam Carter of Vernon, Mrs. Dave Burelsmith of Idalou, Mrs. Jess Hensley of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Albert Rosson of Blackfoot, Idaho; a brother, Payne Neel of Plainview; a stepdaughter, Mrs. W. F. Magee of Garland and a step-son, James Collins of Oklahoma as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

Lee Caffey Rites Slated

MANGUM, Okla. (Special)—Funeral services for Lee Caffey, 68, will be at 2 p.m. Friday from Johnson's Chapel with Rev. Mitchell Lowery officiating. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Caffey was found dead at his ranch home two miles southwest of Mangum Thursday.

He was a well-known rancher and businessman of Mangum and Greer County, and was head of the Selective Service Board there. A veteran of World War I, he was a member of the Black Beaver Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Survivors include a daughter, Dorothy Lee McGregor of Oklahoma City; two sons, Bill of Woodward, Okla. and Gene of Mangum; two sisters, Mrs. Guy Brooks of Mangum and Mrs. Bill Pace of Amarillo; and seven grandchildren.

British Leader Sets Election Date In Fall

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home deferred a British general election until fall, giving himself time to maneuver and try to recoup the sagging prospects of his ruling conservative party.

The decision Thursday by the 60-year-old British leader means the Conservatives will cling to power until the last possible moment. They have been in office continuously since 1951 and their five-year term expires in November.

The most likely election dates were regarded as Oct. 8 or Oct. 15. A formal statement from the prime minister's office did not name the date.

"In order to remove present uncertainties about the date of the general election, the prime minister thinks it right to inform the country of his decision not to ask the queen to dissolve Parliament before the autumn," the statement said.

The monarch's dissolution of Parliament is the first constitutional step in advance of a general election.

The prime minister had been under mounting pressure from inside and outside his party to give a clear statement of his intentions. He had frequently hinted the election would be held either in June or October. He obviously ruled out the former date on the assumption that the Conservatives stand little chance of winning an early encounter with the hard-hitting Laborite opposition. The Laborites have a 10 per cent edge in the latest public opinion polls.

It is less than six months since Sir Alec succeeded to the premiership, stripped himself of his ancient earldom and fought a special election in Scotland to win a seat in the House of Commons. He clearly felt that more time is needed if he is to win a new term.

Hines Funeral Set Saturday

Funeral for Mrs. O. W. Hines, who died Wednesday at her home in Wichita Falls, will be at 10 a.m. Saturday from the Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home chapel with Dr. Earle Crawford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery. Pallbearers include Ernest Robertson, Malcolm Putty, William L. Donnell, Frank Harvey, Squibb Parish, all of Wichita Falls, and Royal C. Kinder of Archer City.

Mrs. Hines was the widow of a pioneer Wichita Falls mortician.

Titan 2 Logs 14th Success

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force's Titan 2 rocket, which 29 hours earlier made its debut as a space booster, Thursday logged its 14th straight launching success and concluded a two-year military test flight program.

The 103-foot-tall projectile, most powerful in the U.S. defense arsenal, flung a warhead into a target zone 5,000 miles down range. The warhead is capable of packing a nuclear charge equal to about 10 million tons of TNT.

Meanwhile, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration prepared for another attempt Friday to launch a Project Fire payload designed to plunge into the atmosphere at 5,000 miles an hour to study heat problems which will affect manned space ships returning from the moon.

The launching is scheduled in a period between 3:31 p.m. and 11:33 p.m. It was postponed Monday because of unfavorable weather in the South Atlantic re-entry area.

A modified Titan 2 hurled an unmanned Project Gemini capsule into orbit Wednesday in the opening shot of the United States' second man-in-space program.

Titan 2 started test flights here March 16, 1962, with a successful 5,000 mile launching. There were 33 firings, 24 successful. Sixteen of 23 from Cape Kennedy were good, as were eight of 10 from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., where testing ended last month.

The Titan 2 was declared operational last year and 54 of the intercontinental range rockets are stationed in protected underground silos in Arizona, Arkansas and Kansas.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair and warmer weather is forecast for Wichita Falls Friday. Rain is expected in the Pacific Northwest and central plateau area Friday with snow showers in the northern Rockies and northern plains. It will be warmer in the eastern half of the nation and cooler in the north and central plateau area as well as the southern Pacific coast region. (AP Wirephoto Map)

WOULD ACCEPT 'HONEST DRAFT'

Scranton 'Not Interested' In Republican Nomination

By DAVE LEHERR

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton said Thursday he wants "crystal clear" he is not interested in the Republican nomination for president. But, he said, he would accept an unelected draft if the national convention deadlocks.

Scranton told a news conference he was making what he described as "one final effort" to convince supporters he is not a candidate.

The Pennsylvania governor, however, did not close the door irrevocably, because, he said, "An American has the right to take that position."

He said he had considered announcing flatly that even if drafted, "I would not accept the nomination."

But, he said, "I would accept a draft if I personally felt it came from the hearts of the people and was not something engineered."

Scranton told the crowd he had called the special news conference because he was becoming "very worried that so many persons were interested" in his seeking the presidential nomination.

Asked if his statement was any different from his earlier position that he would accept the nomination only on an "honest and sincere" draft, Scranton replied:

"I feel this is the strongest statement I've made on the matter."

He said this is his final answer to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower who urged him several months ago to give serious thought to running for the nomination.

Scranton said he made his decision after long, hard thought during a two-week vacation in Hobe Sound, Fla., which ended Wednesday.

"The same thing applies to the vice-presidency," he declared, referring to reports that he might be drafted for the second spot.

Scranton said he would issue an order directing the people in his administration to halt all efforts booming him for the presidential nomination.

Almost immediately, the "Scranton for President" signs and posters came down in the office of press secretary Jack Conmy.

Scranton also said he would ask Craig Truax, Pennsylvania's Republican state chairman, to discontinue promoting a sticker write-in campaign for 28 primary. No presidential candidates are listed on the ballot.

Truax however appeared undiscouraged by Scranton's position.

"The forthrightness marking the governor's statement is the very thing attracting growing numbers of supporters looking to him for leadership," Truax said in a statement.

He said Scranton will be the favorite son at the convention.

Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, founder of the Scranton for President Club of Pennsylvania, said Scranton's comments as a willingness to "respond to the call of Republicans throughout this great nation to lead them to victory in November."

"That call will come," Schweiker said.

Rare Types Of Cancer Said Cured By Drug

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer CHICAGO (AP)—A drug nicknamed DON is bringing some apparent cures of rare types of cancer in women, researchers reported Thursday.

Notably, it causes remarkably few harmful side effects, they said.

Latest results with the drug were reported to the American Association for Cancer Research by Drs. David A. Karnofsky and Robert B. Golbey of Memorial Hospital and Sloan-Kettering Institute, New York City, and Dr. Min Chi Li of Nassau Hospital, New York.

DON has brought benefits lasting one to seven years in six women with chorio carcinoma and closely related tumors, they said. In three women, the cancers had spread throughout their lungs.

Chorio carcinoma is a cancer appearing during and after pregnancy. It arises from the chorion, the outer membrane surrounding the unborn baby early in its development.

Two other women have shown early benefit, while two died during treatment, the physicians said.

The first chemical cure of this kind of cancer was reported in 1956 by Dr. Roy Herf and associates of the National Cancer Institute, using methotrexate. But it and another useful drug, actinomycin D, can sometimes cause damage to blood-forming tissues.

DON is safer, Dr. Karnofsky said. If it continues to prove effective, it would seem to be the drug to use first in treating these tumors, especially in early and less malignant forms of the disease, he said.

Officials Hold Talks With Striking Doctors

By TOM OCHILTREE

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Premier Theo Lefevre's government began bargaining with 12,000 striking doctors Thursday night on terms for ending a walkout which already has deprived Belgium of normal medical services for nine days.

The strike continued in force while ministers and strike leaders argued behind closed doors on the outskirts of Brussels.

One government official told newsmen: "This could be the beginning of the end."

With national anger evident in demonstrations and picketing, the talks came just in time to relieve pressure on the doctors and enable the government to seek a face-saving formula for all while still maintaining essentials of a new socialized medical scheme.

Hope rose throughout this nation of nine million that the country's 10,000 physicians and 2,000 dentists would soon resume their regular practice. At present only grave cases are being cared for on an emergency basis.

Premier Lefevre, Interior Minister Arthur Gilson, Social Affairs Minister Edmond Leburton and Justice Minister Pierre Vermeulen spoke for the government.

The doctors were represented by Dr. Rene Thonet, president of the physicians association; Dr. Andre Wynen and Dr. Pierre Mundeleyer.

Earlier in the day a doctors delegation had called on Gilson at the Interior Ministry. Gilson promptly informed an emergency meeting of the Cabinet that the strike leaders produced "a show of good will which must be answered in the country's interests."

The doctors and dentists struck against the new medical law which placed them under the close supervision of government inspectors and fixed the various fees they could charge for 3,600 listed types of treatments.

The strikers say the legislation would undermine the dignity of their professions and abolish the confidential nature of their relationships with their patients.

Miss Throckmorton Contestants Named

THROCKMORTON, Tex. (Special)—Twenty-two young ladies have been selected to compete in the "Miss Throckmorton" contest for 1964.

The contest, sponsored by the Throckmorton Chamber of Commerce, is to be at the school gymnasium Friday, May 15, under the direction of Mrs. Archie Davis, Mrs. W. T. Lindsey, Mrs. Odessa Jones, Mrs. Nancy Jo Murphy, Mrs. T. F. Falls and Mrs. Leon Shields. Richard Lunsford, president of the chamber of commerce, will be master of ceremonies.

Contestants will be judged on poise, talent and beauty, as presented in evening dress, street wear and a costume appropriate for the talent demonstration. The winner will be crowned by Miss Throckmorton 1963.

Alvord Native Rites Scheduled Friday

Funeral services for Jesse Munkres, 78, will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday from Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home with Dr. Landrum P. Leavell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Rev. Burley J. Welch, pastor of Primitive Baptist, officiating.

Burial will be in Hope Cemetery at Henrietta.

Munkres, a retired barber of 1905, 18th died Wednesday of an apparent heart attack. He is a native of Alvord and was born Aug. 8, 1885. Before moving to Wichita Falls 20 years ago, Munkres had lived in Electra.

He is survived by his widow; three sisters, Mrs. Effie McClure of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Ethel Moon of Dallas and Mrs. Lucile Shaw of Coffeyville, Miss.; and two brothers, John Munkres of Artesia, Calif., and Oscar Munkres of Wichita Falls.

Members Of Board Named At Crowell

CROWELL, Tex. (Special) — Mike D. Bird was re-elected president of the Crowell Independent School Board this week at the organizational meeting following last Saturday's annual school election. Bird has served as board president for 12 years. Merl Kincaid, elected to the board this year, was named vice president. Bird is a dry goods store owner, member of the Lions Club, a Mason and Scottish Rite member, a fire department volunteer and has worked in Little League baseball since it was organized here in 1958. Kincaid is president of the Crowell State Bank, which was founded by his late father, Dr. R. L. Kincaid. The new board member is a Scottish Rite Mason and serves as a director of the Greenbelt Water Authority. He is past president of the Rotary Club.

MRS. REUBEN B. KNIGHT JEAN PITZER MRS. REX LEHMAN

GORDON PITZER DR. O. W. WILSON SYDNEY GAINES

Altrusa Club To Honor Eight For Civic Service

Eight Wichita County residents will be honored by the Altrusa Club of Wichita Falls at its annual recognition dinner, April 15, for outstanding community service and devotion.

These include Sydney Gaines, Frank B. Hayes, Mrs. Reuben B. Knight, Mrs. Rex Lehman, Jean and Gordon Pitzer, Lt. Col. Raymond Seidel and Dr. O. W. Wilson.

Reservations for the dinner which will be held in the Woman's Forum clubhouse at 7 p.m. must be made by Monday noon. They may be made by telephoning Maude Thomas at 723-6328.

Gaines is receiving special honors for his dedicated work with crippled children of the North Texas area. He has been a director of North Texas Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center since 1948 and first vice president of that organization since 1951. He also serves as chairman of that organization.

Chamber Work
In addition to that work, he has served in every capacity in the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, ranging from committee chairman to presidency. He also has worked with, and been an officer for, Wichita Falls Industrial Foundation, chairman of Wichita County Crippled Children's Committee, vice president of Texas Society of Crippled Children, member advisory committee, Crippled Children's division, member of Advisory Committee Citizens Council, Wichita Falls High School advisory committee for board vocational training and other groups.

Hayes for 32 years has served as Santa Claus for less privileged children and families in Wichita Falls. He also has been available to organizations and individuals to serve in this capacity and he spends many hours during the Christmas holiday season bringing gifts and happiness to people who otherwise would have no Christmas at all.

Other Service
Hayes spreads his work throughout the year, not only collecting food and clothing for known needy families in Wichita Falls but collecting and sending clothing and food to the people on the Indian Reservations in Arizona and New Mexico.

Difficult Tasks
Mrs. Knight will be honored for "accepted the difficult task of leadership in establishing the first Regional Mental Health Center in Texas" and because of her "patient and untiring efforts in behalf of this project."

The present North Texas Mental Health Center is considered the result of Mrs. Knight's "patient and convincing effort."

Mrs. Knight's leadership and enthusiasm guided the Junior Service League in adopting financial assistance in the center as that organization's project. With her thoroughness in research, including an extensive survey of local doctors and city-county agencies who might use such a service, many citizens were made aware of the void in community psychiatric facilities. Mrs. Lehman of Iowa Park was one of three Texans named to receive the 4-H Alumna Recognition Awards in 1963 at College Station and her outstanding record was submitted for national consideration.

FRANK B. HAYES

This Iowa Park resident was Young County's first Gold Star Girl, was a winner in dress reviews and blue ribbons on her canning exhibits and her outstanding work was responsible for a trip to the Farmers Short Course.

For more than two decades she gave freely of her time and talents to 4-H and other youth groups and organizations and she has become a symbol in her area for the ideals of clearer thinking, greater loyalty, larger service and better living as expressed in the 4-H Club pledge. Her interest in 4-H Clubs has grown through the years.

Jean and Gordon Pitzer came to Wichita Falls in 1951 and since that time they have become an integral part of the community through their unselfish and unheralded deeds of good.

The couple devotes practically all their spare time to church activities and to entertaining foreign students. Members of the First Presbyterian Church, the couple has served in every capacity in the church. Mrs. Pitzer was for many years superintendent of the three-year-old Sunday school department and she was vice president of the church women's organization last year. He is superintendent of the mid-high department.

Many times Mrs. Pitzer has added to her grocery budget to fix meals for foreign students who she has in her home as often as possible.

Friends say the couple does this "because they love it and they feel what they are doing is important."

The couple entertains foreign students every weekend and they have received letters of thanks from over the world for their unselfish sharing with these young men.

Col. Seidel, public information officer at Sheppard Air Force Base, can be given much credit for the continued outstanding relations between the base and the city of Wichita Falls.

Col. Seidel is on duty during his "off duty" hours and during disasters like the recent tornado or the emergency like "Operation Big Lift" he was available on 24-hour duty.

He is a member of the military affairs committee of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce; is active in area relations work for Boy Scouts, makes many talks to organizations in the entire area, and maintains a special interest in family situations of the personnel who work under him.

He and his family are active members of the Lutheran church services at Sheppard and in the past he has acted as lay minister for Sunday services at SAFB. His entire family has been active in the off-base community Lutheran churches where they have been stationed. He and his family have been special vocalists.

Dr. Wilson, in his red and black Wichita Falls High School colors, is a familiar sight, and has been for many years, at athletic events in this city.

This Wichita Falls physician of more than 40 years, has kept close contact with the youth of this city that many years and his attendance record at Coyote football games has extended back some 35 years.

He maintains personal friendships with the many young men who have been on playing fields while he sat on the bench, ready to go to their assistance immediately.

He is reputed to have been with the team longer than any other person in Wichita Falls and he is still one of the team's physicians.

Nation's Farmers Face Decision On Plowing Under Winter Wheat

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Many farmers from the East Coast to the Pacific Northwest faced a decision Thursday on whether to plow under several million acres of land they planted to winter wheat last fall.
This involved perhaps 40 million to 60 million bushels of the bread grain. Much of this wheat is approaching the heading stage in the South and Southwest. Likewise, quite a number of cotton farmers were confronted with a similar decision on land planted this spring.
These decisions were forced on growers by House action early Thursday in completing congressional action on the administration's controversial wheat and cotton bill. The legislation was opposed almost solidly by Republicans. It passed 211-200. Farm organizations were sharply divided on it.
President Johnson termed the House action "good judgment and economic progress." He was expected to sign the bill shortly.
It offers payments to wheat growers which, sponsors say, would give them $450 million more for their crops than otherwise would be possible. But these payments are limited to growers who cut back wheat acreages to a level set by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman last year in his efforts to reduce a wheat surplus.
Funds for these payments would be raised by a system of processing and export taxes collected through a certificate plan. Sponsors say the cost of wheat to millers should be no higher than at present.
Compliance could mean 60 cents or so a bushel to growers. This is about a third of present growers' prices.
Extra Payment
In the case of cotton, farmers who reduce their plantings around a third below previously determined farm allotments can earn an extra $17.50 a bale in price support payments on the cotton they sell.
The House action brought a sharp conflict in comments from Freeman and President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation as to the potential results of the new wheat and cotton programs.
Freeman said in a statement that these programs will bring benefits to farmers, consumers.

taxpayers and wage workers. He said that in addition to increasing wheat income and broadening markets for cotton, they will reduce government farm program costs, and provide consumers with lower-cost textile products.
Want Fewer Controls
Shuman countered in his statement that the programs will be bad for all. He said his big farm organization, which wants fewer controls over agriculture, will continue to work for "sound agricultural programs."
The winter wheat crop was planted at a time when farmers did not know what kind of program would govern this year's crop. Growers had rejected at a 1963 referendum a program which would have imposed penalties on overplanting growers. Similarly spring wheat farmers—few of whom have yet planted their crops—must decide whether to stay within their allotments totaling close to 11.5 million acres. A recent department survey indicated they plan to plant 11,719,000 acres.

Sertoma Clubs Mark Birthday

In Wichita Falls to help the Sertoma Club celebrate its 17th birthday Thursday at a luncheon at the Villa Motel Restaurant, H. Irving Gysel of Cheyenne, Wyo., president of Sertoma International, hammered on his theme that "knowledge is our greatest weapon."

club and the Nortex Club, which normally meets on Wednesdays at the Marchman Hotel.
Gysel urged concrete steps in promoting Americanism and the freedom programs for which it stands.
Citing the fact that Sertoma is the second oldest service club in the world, Gysel said it was first established 52 years ago in Kansas City, Mo., and now has 17,000 members in 425 clubs in the United States, Canada, and Mexico. The club gets its name from its motto: "Service To Mankind," using the first two and three letters of each word.

THE OLD GRAY MARE AINT — London, England — Buckingham Palace horse and buggies — like the one above — will be abolished in the interests of efficiency. Crown equerry in charge of the Royal Mews, Lt. Col. John Moller, told grooms he had lost the fight to keep the broughams going and that personal errands for Queen Elizabeth II in future will be done by royal cars or hired taxis. Seems the broughams were helping snarl up London's already considerable traffic problem and recently one caused a monster traffic jam when it lost a wheel near bustling Piccadilly. Other royal carriages for state occasions will be retained. (AP Wirephoto)

19 Hopefuls Due Saturday For District Spelling Bee

Nineteen young hopefuls—one to advance to national competition in Washington, D.C. — will gather Saturday at Midwestern University for the 10th anniversary district spelling contest, sponsored by the Wichita Falls Record News.

Representing counties in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma, these champions have outlasted some 15,000 other students who entered the annual bee at the classroom level in the 250 local and area schools.

District competition will begin at 10 a.m. in the main auditorium at Midwestern University and spellers are asked to report for the speech auditorium at 9 a.m. for registration and instructions.

Spellers will have breaks at regular intervals during the bee, and the lunch break will run from noon until 1:45 p.m.

During this break, the county spellers and their guests will be feted with a luncheon at the Woman's Forum by the Record News. Each winner will be presented a personalized collegiate dictionary.

A district winner will be declared in the afternoon to represent the Wichita Falls district at the national spelling bee in Washington, D.C. in June. Other prizes are a Zenith Trans Symphony Radio, a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica and a Paper Mate pen set.

The longest district contest in the history of the Wichita Falls bee ended at 5:40 p.m., while several winners have been declared shortly after 2 p.m.

Officials for the bee include Eldon Hallum, pronouncer, and Jerry Bumpus, Henry Herring and George Hoffman, judges. All are on the Midwestern University faculty.

'Speak-In' Called Off

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP) — Demonstrators demanding a strict local anti-racial discrimination ordinance called off a week-long speak-in at 2 p.m. Thursday.

The halt came several hours after the Austin city council walked out on the demonstrators, leaving a Negro minister to claim the vacant mayor's chair.

"Forgive this sinful city," the Rev. Wesley Sims, Bethany Christian Church, said in a city council chamber prayer that ended the unique filibuster. "Touch the hearts of the people of this city and give them a sense of justice...open their eyes."

Volma Overton, chairman of the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which sponsored the demonstration, read the announcement saying the speak-in would be recessed until the city council meets again "in a public meeting to do business."

The demonstration began a week ago with a series of white and Negro speakers demanding council passage of a strict local anti-racial discrimination ordinance. One session lasted 14½ hours. Most speakers asked heavy fines and jail sentences as punishment for racial discrimination.

The council asked more time to consider such ordinances, saying Austin has made rapid progress without compulsory integration. Many Austin public facilities, including schools, have been integrated the past few years voluntarily or by negotiations between local leaders.

A year ago the Chamber of Commerce urged Austin businessmen to voluntarily integrate their facilities.

Tornado Funds Total $3,359

Contributions in two funds totaling $3,359 were counted late Thursday as assistance grew for tornado victims.

Funds of $1,865.10 were reported by Red Cross head George Clevenger from disaster headquarters at Seventh and Scott.

Total of $1,419 was given as Thursday's high for the Slavation Army Fund, said Brig. William Johnson.

However, another benefit organization, the Disabled American Veterans, insisted Thursday that "...we are a self-supporting agency and have never solicited cash contributions."

A spokesman for the DAV said the organization's store at 717 Indiana has provided clothing, bedding and appliances for 47 families. They ask only that contributions be in the form of articles, not money.

Bird Feathers
Feathers grow only in certain areas of a bird's body. Each kind of bird has a pattern of its own in which its feathers grow. Only kiwis and penguins have feathers evenly spread out over all parts of the body.

"Glaucoma cannot be cured, but if detected early and properly treated, it can be arrested and blindness prevented", according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry", advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

Accusations Attributed To MacArthur Denounced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Publication of two interviews Gen. Douglas MacArthur gave ten years ago—one quoting him as accusing the British of betrayal in Korea—evoked hot responses Thursday on both sides of the Atlantic and spotlighted anew an old Soviet spy scandal.

Earl Attlee, who was Britain's prime minister at the time of the Korean War, denounced as "complete nonsense and perfectly ridiculous" the accusations of British treachery attributed to MacArthur by James G. Lucas of Scripps-Howard Newspapers.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's close friend and associate, called the statements about the British "pure fantasy."

Present At Interview

Whitney also hurled the charge "fictional nonsense" at the report written by Lucas of his interview with MacArthur in January 1954. This was not a denial that there had been an interview. Whitney was present at it.

In comment on Whitney's blast, Earl Richert, editor of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance, said in Washington: "We stand by our published account of the interview and the integrity of our reporter."

Walker Stone, editor in chief of the Scripps Howard Papers said:

"My only answer to the Whitney statement is that anybody who knows Jim Lucas knows he does not write fiction."

Statement Delivered

The other old interview with MacArthur, but only now published, was by Bob Considine of Hearst Headline Service who said he talked with MacArthur in the same month as Lucas but not on the same day. Stories on both interviews were first published Wednesday.

No New Light

Actually, except for the reported characterizations of personalities, there was not a great deal in either interview to shed more light on what happened or how MacArthur felt about it.

Congress held hearings on MacArthur's dismissal. From these and other sources it became well known long ago that MacArthur wanted to use Chinese Nationalist troops in Korea, wanted to bomb what he called the enemy "sanctuary zones" in Manchuria and the bridges over the Yalu River from Manchuria to Korea. It was known he wanted to do these things and was restrained by Washington.

It was known too, long ago, that MacArthur believed information on his plans was reaching the enemy through British channels.

1956 Statement

MacArthur, in a 1956 statement of comment on publication of Truman's memoirs said:

"But what may have triggered my removal was my recommendation, made in January shortly before my relief, that a treason trial be initiated to break up a spy ring responsible for the purloining of my top-secret reports to Washington. My campaign plans, including those of the 8th Army, were transmitted daily to Washington. Gen. (Walton) Walker complained constantly to me that the enemy was receiving prior information of his movements. We could find no leaks in Korea or Japan. Then suddenly one of my dispatches concerning the order of battle was published in a Washington paper within a few hours of its receipt. I insisted that those responsible be prosecuted in order that such subversive activity be stopped but the case was never processed and I was shortly relieved of my command.

Burgess-Maclean Case
"It was not until the recent exposure of the British spies, Burgess and Maclean, that the true facts began to unfold. These men with access to secret files were undoubtedly links in the chain to our enemy in Korea through Peiping by way of Moscow."

The Burgess-Maclean affair was the big spy scandal — the disclosure that Communist spies had infiltrated the British Foreign Office.

Whitney said it was to this that MacArthur referred when talking with Lucas. He put it this way in his statement: "The implication (in the Lucas story) that the British government itself betrayed our forces in Korea is pure fantasy. The general always felt that any such betrayal probably stemmed from the machinations of the individual British traitors, Burgess and Maclean."

Disappeared In 1961

Donald D. Maclean was chief of the American section in the British Foreign Office. Guy Francis Burgess had been in the British Embassy in Washington. The two of them disappeared from Britain in 1951 and later turned up in the Soviet Union. Burgess is reported to have died there last year of a heart attack.

And only last year, a third man, a former British Foreign Office employee, took sanctuary in the Soviet Union. He was Harold Philby, once first secretary of the British Embassy in Washington. Assertions were made in Parliament that Burgess and Maclean fled because Philby tipped them that their part in spying was about to be exposed.

PUBLIC OPINION POLL

Foreign Policy To Be Main GOP Target During Campaign

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J. — The

Johnson administration's foreign policy will be the chief target of Republican orators during the coming campaign, if present views of "grass roots" leaders of the party are followed.

Aside from the traditional GOP arguments of "too much spending" and "too much Federal control," the Bobby Baker scandal is seen as the top domestic argument the Republican party could use in winning votes.

Current views of the party "pros" are in sharp contrast to 1960 and 1956 when the slogan, "Peace and prosperity," was considered the best case for the Republican party, then in power.

1952 Issues

In the election year of 1952, only two of the top eight arguments offered by the GOP county chairmen dealt with foreign policy. Corruption in the Truman Administration was considered the top argument for beating the Democrats that year. Extravagance and waste, high taxes, and the danger of war ranked high as GOP "talking points."

To learn which campaign arguments the "grass roots" leaders of the Republican party believe will be most effective, a ballot was sent to 3,000 county chairmen listed by the Republican party. A very high proportion of these — approximately two-thirds — recorded their views in the present survey.

Each Republican county chairman was asked:

"As you now appraise the political situation, what is the strongest argument the Republicans can use against the Democrats this year in the Presidential campaign?"

Seven Arguments

The seven most frequently mentioned arguments are listed below with the number of county chairmen who cited each. In most cases, the GOP party leaders offered more than one argument.

1. "Weak and indecisive" foreign policy; loss of prestige around the world; give-away foreign aid program; bad handling of situations in Cuba, Vietnam, and Panama. Cited by 1,302 of the 1,935 party leaders contacted. Typical replies of persons in this category:

"The complete deterioration of the foreign situation with loss of leadership and respect throughout the world" (Indiana).

"The indeterminate foreign policy, with failures in Cuba, Vietnam, and Panama" (Texas).

"The almost total collapse of U.S. prestige abroad and the consequent deterioration of our international position because of it" (Michigan). "not standing firm with our enemy countries — always easing up just to let them push us again" (Michigan).

Federal Spending

2. Too much government spending. Mentioned by 491 party leaders. Typical of this line of argument is the remark of an Illinois county leader:

"Increased spending in all areas of government, with returns far too small. There are too many unnecessary government jobs and too much waste in government, as well as too many give-aways overseas."

3. Federal government is too powerful. Listed by 409 GOP party leaders. A typical comment, from Texas:

"The strongest argument we could use would be the headlong rush of the Democrats toward a socialistic welfare state."

4. Bobby Baker scandal and corruption in government. Cited by 289 party leaders. An Arkansas Republican states his views in these words:

"There are too many like Bobby Baker and Bill Sol Estes feeding out of the Democratic political trough."

Personal Criticism

5. Personal criticism of President Johnson. Mentioned by 164 GOP county chairmen. A Michigan county chairman said:

"With the proper candidate, the Republican party can take advantage of the vast difference in 'image' between Kennedy and Johnson. Johnson's phlegmatic speeches and Texas hootenanny style is the antithesis of the urbane, dynamic and eloquent image of his predecessor. Furthermore, Johnson's over-simplification of foreign problems will be damaging to him."

6. Administration is pushing integration too fast. Cited by 172 local GOP party "pros." The strongest arguments in the view of a Tennessee chairman:

"Too much government, too much talk, too much integration."

Interestingly, the Administration's integration effort is not the top campaign argument in the view of Southern party leaders. As in the other major regions of the country, foreign policy is by far the most often mentioned.

7. Farm policy. Mentioned by 94 GOP party leaders. A Minnesota county chairman, who is also a farmer, wrote:

"It seems to me that farmers are uneasy about the proven inability of the government to handle the farm problem. Many are expressing more confidence in the law of supply and demand."

PRINCETON, N.J. — William E. Miller, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, has directed the attention of the Gallup Poll to the opening sentence of an article dealing with the views of GOP county chairmen regarding the chances of defeating Lyndon Johnson in this year's presidential race.

The consensus of 1935 "grass roots" leaders who participated in the poll was that Nixon could beat Johnson if the election were being held now, but that Johnson would likely win against Lodge, Rockefeller and Goldwater.

The opening sentence of the report dealing with the results of this poll said:

"Local Republican leaders across the nation show a lack of confidence in a Republican victory this November."

A more accurate statement would have read: —

"Many local Republican leaders across the nation lack confidence in a Republican victory if the election were being held today."

NTSU Ex-Students Slate Annual Fete

The North Texas State University Ex-Students Association will hold their annual-banquet in Wichita Falls on April 22 at 7 p.m. in McGaha Elementary School with W. S. Thomas, superintendent of Holliday Schools, president, presiding.

Entertainment for the annual event and dinner music will be provided by the String Band of Adam Lee & the Apache Cowboys.

Lee, a recording artist from Altus, Okla., will have several of his recordings available at the banquet and any profit from the sale of the records will be put into a scholarship fund to enable a high school graduate to attend college.

The program also will include two special numbers from the Wood's Quartet of Holliday. This group has been singing together for several years and are well known in this area.

Members of the group are Kenny, Dena, Kathy and Kevin Woods. Mrs. W. A. Woods is their manager.

Officers of the ex-students association, other than Thomas, include Marie Duke, Bill Grace, Mrs. Guy Underwood, Mrs. Lucille Bell and Mrs. Barbara Brock, all of Wichita Falls.

Any person who has ever attended North Texas State University is considered an ex-student, officials said.

Reservations for the banquet may be obtained by calling 767-5862.

Aviators Forum Slated Friday

"Safe Airmen," "Safe Aircraft," and "Aviation Safety" are the titles of three films of the Federal Aviation Agency to be shown at the second meeting of the Wichita Falls Aviation Forum from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Friday in the second floor auditorium of Texas Electric Service Co. at 904 Scott.

The group also will discuss plans for an air show with exhibits slated for Wichita Falls this summer.

The sessions of the Wichita Falls Aviation Forum, open to all aviation-minded people from beginner fliers to professional airline pilots, owners and personnel from related industries and just friends, are being held the second Friday of each month.

The sessions were instigated by the FAA Flight Service Station at the Wichita Falls Air Terminal.

Sunrise Optimists Hear Industrialist

Jack Hudson, secretary-treasurer of Building Components Inc., Wichita Falls industry, discussed the city and its people as speaker at the Sunrise Optimist Club meeting Thursday morning.

Guests included Lyle Cherry, Dale Erwin and Eddie Huffman. It was announced that the club directors will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in Parker Square State Bank and that the Sunset Junior Optimists will hold a model car contest in the Pan American Recreation Club in Spudder Park at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Charles B. Johnson, club president, was in charge of the meeting.

Honored Guests

Wichita Falls will have a group of honored guests Saturday morning in the tenth annual district spelling contest at Midwestern University's main auditorium.

These children are those representing the nearly 18,000 who started last October. The program is designed to select the best speller in the 20 counties of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma to represent this region in the national meet at Washington.

They survived first school room, then school and finally county contests to win the privilege of entering the regional meet here. By this long series of eliminations each has the right to claim he is a real champion. The advancement to this point required long hours of study and drill.

First each completely learned his drill book of some 3,000 words and then expanded his word knowledge by study of dictionaries and other words sources.

The child took this tremendous word sense into the contests, stood before a crowd and spelled perfectly, in many cases for several hundred words. The poise gained in performance before an audience alone was a great gain.

Regardless of who wins here Saturday, these children have advanced greatly in their ability to learn and work in the future.

Words and word understanding are one of the most important tools a child can learn to use. Even the greatest scientist on earth could add nothing to human advancement if he were unable to translate his findings into words to bring his knowledge to the level on human use.

We admire these word champions. Our area will be better for their having had the patience and self discipline to go this far.

Wichita Falls should welcome them with a good crowd at Midwestern University Saturday morning when they undergo this final test.

U.S. Lags On Weapons

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—In attempting to build better weapons, U.S. scientists are running into major gaps in their knowledge.

Yet Defense Secretary Robert McNamara is making plans to slow the pace of military scientific research spending.

Reports from Moscow show Khrushchev is taking a different tack.

His military expenditures roughly equal ours. Although he lags in intercontinental ballistic missile output, Khrushchev is not investing heavily in today's ICBMs.

On the day he announced budget plans for cutting his conventional armies, he made clear he was sharply increasing the pace of Soviet military scientific research. That increase may be equivalent to half a billion dollars a year.

Under McNamara there has been a growing tendency to cancel out research for which there is no clear, foreseen, strong military usefulness. This is good business applied to the automobile industry. It is not good in national defense. This attitude, under a previous defense secretary, enabled Khrushchev to beat the United States to the intercontinental ballistic missile.

The Russians, on the contrary, are spending a good deal of money and effort in "way out" and "esoteric" research. Most of it will fail. But one success, like their achievements with the ICBM and Sputnik, could give the Reds a major advantage.

Though Soviet military research is secret, the Russian approach can be seen in the Khrushchev space program.

The Russians are concentrating their work in a few critical fields. They're letting the United States carry the bulk of the work load in communications, meteorology and navigation and taking our results "for free."

They are launching more scientific satellites than we, with a comparatively high percentage of successes. In the area of planetary exploration, the Russian effort is clearly much greater than ours.

Results of their specialized work are being kept secret; much of ours isn't. They thus have the benefit of much of our work and all of theirs. Their use of our results enables them to concentrate. It means their research ruble can go further. They can gamble large sums for a break - through in risky but potentially profitable fields.

Military men, in random examples, say McNamara is spending too little on research aimed at:

1. A revolutionary type of missile to replace Polaris and Minuteman.
2. Radical new methods of propulsion.
3. Learning more about the basic characteristics of electromagnetic waves (possible key to break - throughs in anti-submarine warfare and missile defense).

The thought is now being posed that McNamara made a serious mistake in cancelling research on the Skybolt - an airplane-carried ballistic missile which could be fired 1,000 miles to target.

If the United States should decide to go ahead with a skyborne "Polaris," a hovering plane that could stay in the air for three to four days on constant alert, it would have to be armed with something like the Skybolt. But cancellation of the Skybolt research some time back, means such a plane may not be feasible in the reasonable future. An opportunity may have been lost.

Air force officers would say more research is needed on a new type of long-distance bomber.

Research is not costly. It offers huge savings by keeping defense production from costly blind channels. A few hundred million dollars more a year on such research could bring about revolutionary changes. The money could be acquired without increasing the military budget by slowing development and production. We'd have fewer but better weapons.

Congressional Quarterly

Parties Agree On Votes

WASHINGTON — (CQ) — Democratic and Republican majorities agreed on more than half of all issues settled by roll-call votes in Congress in 1963.

Fifty-two per cent of the 348 roll calls were settled by across - the - board agreement of Democrats and Republicans.

Such "bipartisan" voting occurred 53 per cent of the time in the Senate and 51 per cent of the time in the House.

Of the 162 victories on roll calls chalked up by the late President Kennedy in the 1963 session, 69 came on bipartisan votes. Of these, 42 came in the Senate and 18 came in the House.

Of Mr. Kennedy's 19 defeats, four came on bipartisan votes.

The average Democrat in Congress supported bipartisan majorities 71 per cent of the time and opposed them 11 per cent of the time.

The average Republican voted with the bipartisan line-up 71 per cent of the time and opposed it 14 per cent of the time.

Conservatives Least 'Bipartisan'

Among Democrats in both chambers, the highest opposition scores were registered by Southerners - generally the conservative element of the party.

Similarly, conservative Republicans in both chambers registered the highest scores in opposition to bipartisan majorities.

Many of the bipartisan votes were on non-controversial issues. Prominent among these were roll calls to demonstrate national unity, such as the unanimous Senate vote and near-unanimous House vote approving the 1963 defense appropriations.

Other apparently noncontroversial roll-call votes were taken after the main disputes had already been settled in previous votes. Examples include many final votes on appropriation bills.

Outstanding among the bipartisan votes in both chambers were the votes on mental retardation facilities. Other major bipartisan roll calls included Senate approval of the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty and medical school aid. Both chambers approved college aid and vocational education bills by bipartisan votes.

The percentage of roll calls in which party majorities agree is not in itself a complete reflection of the bipartisan action of Congress. Many, if not most, noncontroversial decisions are made by standing or voice votes.

Junket Fever Hits New Congressman

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — There are certain old - timers in Congress known for their junkets abroad. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem, for instance, is a faithful junketeer who regularly every summer takes off on a trip abroad. Another is Sen. Allen Ellender of Louisiana. Both are Democrats.

However, it is unusual for a young congressman to get the junketing fever early in his career.

Such an exception is Rep. Lucien Nedzi, the Detroit Democrat, who has been in Congress only three years.

Nedzi got infected with the travel bug one year after election when in October, 1962, he went off on a junket with the Inter - parliamentary Union to Mexico, Peru, Argentina, Brazil, and Trinidad. He spent $740 in U.S. currency in addition to the cost of airplane travel, both being put up by the taxpayers.

The next October — 1963 — Nedzi got restless again. And, though Congress was clogged with work and had not yet passed the tax bill, Civil Rights, or most appropriation bills, he took off for England, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, and Spain as a member of the House Armed Services Committee. His transportation was paid by the taxpayers, and in addition he spent the dollar equivalent of $477.23 of counterpart funds supplied him by American embassies abroad.

Congressman Nedzi's motto

seems to be: "Join Congress and See the World."

Tips For Senators

The Senate Rules Committee, now charged with investigating the Bobby Baker case and other influence - peddling connected with it, is the same committee charged with scrutinizing campaign contributions and the corrupt practices act.

This is a most important function, because the growing tendency to bet heavy contributions on congressional candidates tends to put those candidates under obligation to big business and big labor after election. In the past, the Senate Rules Committee has done an important job of investigating. But not in recent years. Recently it has winked one eye, looked in the other direction.

Foreign Aid Strategy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

And PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The historic Senate struggle over the sweeping civil rights bill is taking a singular turn.

Whether by deliberate design or fortuitous coincidence, the protracted battle over civil rights is providing a very effective smoke-screen for a wily plan to slip President Johnson's controversial $3.4 billion foreign program through the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in piecemeal form.

The first effort to do that was stopped dead in its tracks. But the last has not been heard of this backstage scheme. It's still very much alive and kicking. There are significant indications it has high-level administration backing.

Two other dramatic aspects of this eventful foreign aid fray are: The rival leaders are Senators J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., die-hard foe of civil rights legislation who is going to exceptional lengths to win approval of the President's multi-billion dollar foreign aid proposal, and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., veteran champion of civil rights who is militantly demanding drastic pruning of large-scale foreign aid spending, particularly military.

To "grease the skids" to ease the President's huge foreign aid authorization bill through the Foreign Relations Committee with a minimum of opposition and public attention, Fulbright has resorted to the ingenious strategem of splitting that legislation into eight separate measures (S. 2650 to S. 2666) covering the major provisions (titles) of the President's bill.

Fulbright's justification for this artful maneuver is that there is little or no opposition to some of these provisions and, therefore, they should be acted on separately. Otherwise, he contends, an across-the-board slash of the foreign aid budget, as Congress has voted the last several years, would adversely affect these generally approved titles.

The opposition emphatically disputes this, holding that foreign aid must be considered as a whole to prevent Congress from being lulled into voting piecemeal appropriations that in the end amount to what was originally contemplated.

Flagging 'em Down'

Senator Fulbright's first move to slip several of his piecemeal bills through the Foreign Relations Committee occurred at an unpublicized closed-door meeting last week.

Only a few committeemen were present; Fulbright had a number of proxies in his pocket; and the stage appeared all set for his pulling off a neat coup.

BARBS

The ever - loving wife is as dear to her husband as her clothes.

We should all be tired April first after a march of 31 days.

Six million Americans were glasses for the first time during the past three years, making that many people who had their looks improved.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Teach us to pray aright, O God. We would not try to bend Thy will to our desires but rather seek to do Thy righteous will. Cleanse our prayers from human frailty. Attune our lives to Thine. Help us to live in the spirit in which we pray: in Jesus' name. Amen.—Lyndon B. Phifer, Tallahassee, Fla., retired Methodist editor.

As part of the proposal by Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., that Congress not have a double standard for itself, the Senate Rules Committee should start investigating campaign contributions immediately. Here are a couple of leads:

Lead No. 1 — The committee will find that the late Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma, the man who started Bobby Baker off on his influence career, put up a large amount of cash to re-elect Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky in 1962.

Morton is a Republican and was chairman of the Republican National Committee. Kerr was a Democrat. It is highly unusual for a Democratic senator to contribute to the campaign of a Republican, especially a national chairman, and more especially when Morton was being opposed by ex - Mayor Wilson Wyatt of Louisville, a Democrat who had masterminded Adlai Stevenson's campaign for President.

Yet Bob Kerr, Democrat, poured in a generous supply of cash to elect Thruston Morton, Republican. Morton won.

When Morton filed his contributions with the clerk of the Senate, however, he listed only two major contributions for the 1962 campaign:

$2,500 on July 19 from the GOP Senatorial Committee.

$2,500 in late October from the same committee.

On Nov. 6, 1962, he further filed a statement that there were "no subsequent contributions." Why didn't he file the sizable contribution from Bob Kerr?

More Contributions

Lead No. 2 — Bobby Baker's lawyers report that he has a letter written to him by Joseph D. Tydings, former U.S. Attorney in Baltimore and now a candidate to the Senate from Maryland, in which Tydings asks Baker's help for friends in getting a savings and loan setup organized in Puerto Rico. The letter is written on the stationery of the United States Attorney in Tydings' own handwriting.

Since Tydings is now running for the Senate on a platform of cleaning up savings and loan scandals, and since he aspires to be a member of the August Senate, the Senate Rules Committee has an obligation to probe the facts.

Baker refuses to release the letter, but the Senate committee has the power of subpoena, and attorneys advise that a specific, pin-pointed subpoena for a specific document, rather than a fishing expedition subpoena which the Rules Committee issued against Baker originally, must be honored.

Lead No. 3 — In his 1958 primary election, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., received $17,000 from the committee for an effective Congress. He is not in violation of the law regarding failure to file this contribution, because it was for use in the Pennsylvania primary. However, there is no reason why he should not let the public know about it just the same.

On World Affairs

Real Cooperation

By EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER

WASHINGTON — Last week President Johnson got a break. When the Brazilians ousted their irresponsible President, "Jango" Goulart, they not only saved their country from bankruptcy and communism but they removed from the U.S. Republicans one of their best campaign issues against President Johnson, namely, that by doing nothing in Cuba he was letting the rest of Latin America go down the drain.

Moreover, in this particular week that was, our President reached an agreement with Panama which could just lead to a Canal settlement satisfactory to both sides.

And finally, L.B.J. in a statement commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, included a couple of sentences which could re-consolidate the West just at the moment when it seems to be coming apart irreparably. I refer of course to the following:

"We are eager to share with the new Europe AT EVERY LEVEL OF POWER AND AT EVERY LEVEL OF RESPONSIBILITY. We aim to share the lead in the search for NEW AND STRONGER PATTERNS OF CO-OPERATION." (Capitals mine.)

This is precisely what the continental members of NATO have been waiting fifteen years to hear. For all during this time the United States has shared power and responsibility with Great Britain alone. And because the French particularly recognize no British right to exercise more power and more responsibility than they do, they have retaliated by excluding Britain from the Common Market and gone off adventuring on their own — much to Washington's annoyance.

A Strong Combination

Now, if L.B.J. means business, he can undertake certain things which will make NATO what it should have been from the beginning — a Western partnership in the military, political, scientific and, to some extent, economic fields, strong enough to laugh at communist threats anywhere. Then indeed Washington, London, Paris, Bonn, Rome and the others could successfully undertake a policy of liberation (essential to the world's peace) without serious danger of major war.

What are some of these things? The first would be inducing Britain and France to pool their nuclear weapons as the nucleus of a truly European deterrent.

similar to that of the United States. This is the key to any successful Atlantic Community for in our age only nuclear weapons confer power and Europe is weary of being powerless.

The next step would be setting up a NATO directorate to formulate a common military and political policy all over the world; not just on the European continent. I would suggest three permanent members, the U.S., Britain and France, with a fourth rotating member to be chosen by the other NATO countries each year. To make this body realistic the United States should possess two votes so that it could be overridden only by the unanimous vote of the other three. Any successful partnership will require that at times Washington submit to decisions with which it does not agree — just like the other members.

Finally, L.B.J. should re-create the kind of international scientific weapons and space pool that produced the first A-bomb. West Europe still contains the finest single group of scientific brains in the world, far superior to that of the communist world and at least the equal of that of the United States. A true NATO science board would lead the world in all appropriate fields.

Here then are some ways in which our President could immediately "share with the new Europe at every level of power and responsibility." And at the same time he could take foreign policy out of the coming presidential election.

Provided, of course, that he meant what he said to the NATO delegates in Washington.

The Country Parson

"The fellow who becomes an expert at making excuses may never make anything else."

Palmer, Four Others Lead Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Golf's fabled charger, Arnold Palmer, stung by hints he had lost his touch, slammed out of an extended slump with a three-under-par 69 Thursday and shot into an unprecedented five-way tie for the first round lead in the 28th Masters Tournament.

Bracketed with the fairway capitalist from Latrobe, Pa. after a day of humility for the normally awesome Augusta National Course were a pair of formidable foreigners, Gary Player of South Africa and Kel Nagle of Australia; husky Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., and a dark horse home professional from Charlotte, N. C., Davis Love Jr.

Jack Two Back

Jack Nicklaus, defending champion and tournament favorite, came to the final hole needing a birdie to tie. But his 12-foot putt hit the back of the cup and caromed four feet away. He had to settle for a 71, two strokes off the pace.

Billy Joe Patton, the colorful, wisecracking amateur who came within a shot of winning the masters' in 1954, excited the record first day gallery of 25,000 by knocking in an eagle on the 15th, where Gene Sarazen scored his famed double eagle in 1935. He came to the final hole needing only a par to tie for first place.

However, the 43-year-old Morganton, N. C. lumberman left his approach 50 feet short. He putted to within five feet and missed for a bogey and a 70.

Tied with him at that figure were former National Open champion Gene Littler, Don January and Dave Marr.

There were a half-dozen bunched at 71, including Nicklaus. The others were British Open champion Bob Charles of New Zealand, Dow Finsterwald, Jim Ferrier, little Chi Chi Rodriguez and Canadian amateur champion Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ontario.

Never Such A Charge

This prestige-loaded tournament, conceived by the great Bob Jones, has never before seen such a cavalry charge for first place—in the first round, or any other.

Previously, three had been the most ever tied for the lead. The 6,990-yard, par 72 course, softened by four inches of rain since Monday, was an easy target for players desiring to shoot boldly for the pin.

Fifteen players were under par at the end of the day, with temperatures in the 60s and virtually no wind. Old timers could not recall when the course had taken such a wholesale beating.

There were four even with par—Bruce Devlin of Australia, Retief Waltman of South Africa, Alfonso Angelini of Italy and Peter Butler of Birmingham, England.

No one could recall, either, when the invading golfers had made such a strong showing.

Even a pair of old favorites of by-gone eras thrilled the crowd.

Sarazen, a bouncy squire of 62 whose career spans four decades, came to the 17th green needing only to par in for a 71. He took consecutive bogeys for a 73.

Ben Hogan, the once feared Texas Hawk who dominated the sport a little over 10 years ago, also had a 73. But Sam Snead, the one oldster that many thought had a chance, skied to a 79 with four three-putts greens.

Palmer, who hasn't won a tournament this year although he set a record of $128,000—plus in winnings last season and is the biggest money winner of all-time, looked like the Palmer of old as he powered his way around the course without a single bogey.

He called his round "uninteresting," but said "I'd like to have three more just like it."

Player, the little South African who became the first foreigner ever to win this title in 1961 and then lost a playoff to Palmer the following year, had to choke off the pain of infected, inflamed tonsils.

Feverish and pumped with penicillin earlier in the week when it appeared he might not be able to carry on, he played almost flawlessly Thursday. He sank a 12 foot putt at the ninth and got birdies at the long 13th and 15th.

Nagle, 43-year-old Sydney pro who beat out Palmer for the British Open crown in 1960 at St. Andrews, Scotland, had to rally after bogeying the first hole.

He sank a 30-foot putt at the fifth, sent a brilliant two-iron shot to within five feet of the cup at the 10th, got a birdie at the 15th and closed with a 20-foot "snake" on the final hole.

Goalby, 33, turned in 37 after eight pars and a bogey on the fourth where he hit his tee shot into a trap. Then he suddenly caught fire, birdieing four of the first five holes of the incoming nine. He had to come out of traps for pars on the two finishing holes.

Cardinal Pitching Staff Is Jolted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals' pitching staff was jolted Thursday as Houston battered Bob Gibson and Ray Washburn was sent to the minor leagues.

The usually weak-hitting Colts blasted Gibson, the Cards' opening day pitcher, for six runs and nine hits in five innings en route to a 7-1 baseball exhibition-victory. Rusty Staub rocked the right-hander for a three-run pinch double in the fourth inning.

Washburn, hindered by a back injury last season, had been expected to hold down a

Gibson wasn't the only star hurler from 1963 to be handled roughly as the grapefruit season neared an end.

Cincinnati got to southpaws Gary Peters and Juan Pizarro in downing the Chicago White Sox 5-2. Bob Skinner hit a second-inning home run off Peters while Deron Johnson homered against Pizarro in the eighth. Pizarro made his first spring appearance after being the majors' last holdout.

Brooks Robinson sparked Baltimore to a 5-2 triumph over Milwaukee and Warren Spahn. Robinson knocked in four of the runs, three on a homer off Spahn in the third.

Camilo Pascual hurled Minnesota to a 4-1 victory over the New York Mets, pitching five shutout innings and allowing just three hits. The Twins scored all of their runs off Al Jackson, scheduled to pitch the Mets' opener.

"I saw it in the paper..."

...means she has faith in what she reads there. You've said it yourself many a time. You have confidence that it's true, if you read it in the paper. And that's a good place for an advertiser to be, surrounded by news and editorial features that people feel are authoritative. According to an actual survey, 8 out of 10 people felt that newspapers are "reliable" and "dependable," more than 7 out of 10 felt them to be "believable." This receptive frame of mind extends to the advertising messages. In the same survey, newspaper advertising is rated high in positive, and low in negative feelings. Peralta Eyes Ring History

NEW ORLEANS, (AP) — Argentina's Gregorio Peralta hopes to make ring history Friday night by dethroning light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano and becoming the first South American big man to win a world pro boxing title.

Conqueror of Pastrano in a non-title 10-round last Sept. 20, the 28-year-old South American heavyweight king was confident Thursday he will be able to repeat his success in the 15-rounder at the Municipal Auditorium.

The 15-round bout will be telecast nationally by ABC, starting at 9 p.m. CST.

Although this is Pastrano's native city, the 28-year-old champion was rated only even money in the first defense of the crown he won on a close decision over Harold Johnson at Las Vegas last June 1.

Peralta, a virtual unknown until he upset the solidly favored Pastrano at Miami Beach will match his fiery attack and left-hooking power against the speed, jab, and boxing finesse of the champion.

In their first fight, Peralta

Colts, Umbricht Made Plans For Him To Play

HOUSTON (AP) — Both Jim Umbricht and the National League Houston Colt 45s team made preparations for him to play during the 1964 season although they knew his illness was hopeless.

Umbricht, 33, right-handed relief pitcher for the Colts, died Wednesday of cancer.

Colt publicity director Bill Giles put Umbricht's career record next to his picture in the club's spring guide. In the clubhouse at the Colts' Cocoa, Fla., spring training camp there was a uniform hanging on a hook with No. 32 on the back and the name "Umbricht" printed neatly on a piece of tape above a locker.

Although Umbricht knew his illness was hopeless one of his doctors quoted him as saying: "Keep me alive until opening day."

But he died just five days before the Colts opened their 1964 season at Cincinnati, a year and 25 days after the removal of a cancerous cyst in the groin.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon with Umbricht's former teammate, Russ Kemmerer, now with Houston's Oklahoma City farm club, to deliver the eulogy. The body will be cremated.

The Colts will wear small black arm bands throughout the season in memory of Umbricht.

Sudderth Gains AAU Quarters

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Battering light welter Billy Sudderth of the Marines put an unexpected finish to Bonita Perez of Puerto Rico in 39 seconds of the second round in the National AAU Boxing Championships here Thursday night.

Sudderth, of Wichita Falls, Tex., now advanced to the quarter-finals. Only eight of the starting field of 32 of the nation's top 139-pound boxers are left in competition.

Jesse Valdez, sensational 16-year old from Houston, moved along in the 147-pound competition, battering out Joe Chapel of the Marines in 1:51 of the third round. Other Texas winners included Benny D. Preist of Dallas and Pat Bishop of Dallas.

Ruttman, Arnold Sign Indianapolis Entries

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Former winner Troy Ruttman of Dearborn, Mich., and Chuck Arnold of Indianapolis signed entries Thursday for the Memorial Day 500-mile race, hiking to 38 the number of racers seeking spots in the 33-car starting field.

Ruttman, winner of the classic in 1952, will drive a conventional Indianapolis roadster, while Arnold, making his second appearance here, will pilot a new rear-engine car.

CELTICS DO IT ROYAL(LY)

Earn Eighth Title Playoff On 109-95 Rout

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics relied on their patterned explosiveness and skin-tight defense for a 109-95 victory over Cincinnati Thursday night and clinched an eighth straight Eastern Division National Basketball Association playoff title.

There were more elbows tossed than flies on a picnic lunch in the rugged battle as the Celtics mopped up the best-of-seven series in five games. Boston was in charge most of the way.

With Bill Russell and Tom Sanders picking the boards clean, Boston made its move after trailing 8-5 in the early minutes.

Tommy Heinsohn sparked the surge as Boston outscored the Royals 28-11 the rest of the period for a 33-19 lead. Heinsohn got 12 points in the span, seven of them when the Celtics ran 11 consecutive points to jump from 13-11 to 24-11.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and the league's Most Valuable Player, was held to a stingy two field goals and nine points in the first half by the Boston defense. The Big "O" wound up as high scorer with 24 points. Teammate Jack Twyman had 16, Wayne Embury 15.

Russell, with seven rebounds and two blocked shots in the first period, poured in 20 points and grabbed 35 rebounds in the game.

Sam Jones finished with 23 points and Heinsohn had 19. Cincinnati was held to five field goals in the opening quarter and tried to get back in the game in the second period.

By halftime Boston led 59-41 and as the Royals pressed in the third period, with mounting foul totals as a result, the Celtics moved in front by as much as 24 points.

Jerry Lucas, who was held to six points and five rebounds in the first half, was knocked to the floor early in the game in a collision with Boston's K. C. Jones. He hit his head on the floor and did not get up for several minutes.

Lucas was knocked down again later in a battle for a rebound with Russell.

Sanders took an elbow to the groin and K. C. Jones took one to the chin during the rough going.

Halftime figures showed Boston hitting on 24 of 51 field goal attempts, while the Royals were good on only 14 of 29.

Braves Swap Sub For 2; Tigers Trade For Sherry

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves traded reserve catcher Bob Uecker to the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday for catcher Jim Coker and outfielder Gary Kolb.

Coker, 28, and Kolb, 24, were assigned to Denver in the Pacific Coast League. Veteran outfielder Gus Bell and rookie pitcher Phil Niekro were added to the Milwaukee roster as the Braves reached the opening day limit of 28.

The Cardinals also sent four pitchers and another catcher to the International League's Jacksonville team to bring their opening day roster to 26.

The pitchers included Ray Washburn, who had a 5-3 record with St. Louis last season but was hampered by a back injury. The Cardinals said he could be returned to St. Louis after May 2.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers obtained relief pitcher Larry Sherry, star of the Los Angeles Dodgers' World Series victory in 1959, Thursday in exchange for a minor league outfielder and $10,000.

Sent to Los Angeles was Lou Johnson, who played in the International League last year for Toronto and Syracuse and batted .296.

To make room for Sherry, a 28-year-old right-hander, the Tigers sent second baseman George Smith to Tigertown for assignment, probably to Syracuse.

Sherry was with the Dodgers for five full seasons but his big taste of fame came in his rookie year of 1959 in the Series against the Chicago White Sox. He figured in all four Dodger victories, winning two and saving two.

Toronto, Detroit Gain Stanley Cup Finals

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit's underdog Red Wings took a two-minute lead in the first five minutes and went on to defeat the Chicago Black Hawks 4-2 Thursday night in the seventh and final game of their semifinal Stanley Cup series.

The victory vaulted the Wings into the finals against Toronto in a best-of-seven series which opens in Toronto Saturday. Toronto eliminated Montreal, the National Hockey League champion, 3-1, in their seventh game Thursday night.

Detroit, which finished fourth behind third-place Toronto, had a mediocre record of three victories, eight defeats and three ties against the Maple Leafs during the regular season.

MONTREAL (AP) — Toronto's Dave Keon scored three goals—one while the Leafs were short-handed—as the defending Stanley Cup champions whipped Montreal 3-1 Thursday night in the seventh and deciding game of their National Hockey League semifinal playoff series.

The Leafs, who finished only third in the regular season, relied on an opportunistic offense in finally winning the all-Canadian battle from Montreal's regular season champions.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Cliff Richey of Dallas upset U.S. National champion Rafael Osuna 9-7, 4-6, 6-3 Thursday in the quarterfinals of the St. Petersburg Masters Tennis Tournament.

Richey, national junior champion, could handle anything that Osuna, from Mexico, put across the net. At 4-3 in the third set, Richey ran off five straight placements and won the set easily.

Roy Emerson of Australia defeated Ilo Pimental of Venezuela 6-3, 6-3; Nicola Pilic of Yugoslavia defeated Roger Werksman of Los Angeles 6-4, 6-2, and Frank Froehling of Coral Gables defeated Rodney Mandelstam of the University of Miami 7-5, 6-3.

In women's matches, Francoise Durr of France defeated second-seeded Karen Ann Susman of San Diego 6-1, 6-3 and Judy Alvarez of Tampa defeated Gloria Sullivan of St. Petersburg 6-2, 6-2.

CHICAGO (AP) — Congress will be asked soon by the National Collegiate Athletic Association to amend existing controls of pro football telecasts as a safeguard to high school football patronage.

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed disclosed Thursday the subject was discussed by the NCAA's legislative committee, of which he is chairman, at a meeting here this week.

Reed said the NCAA understood at least one Friday night National Football League game—the Washington-at-New York game Sept. 25—will be televised in the Washington, D. C., area.

Between 30 to 40 cars are expected to participate in more than 100 laps of stock car racing Saturday night at Red River Speedway on Farm Road 369.

Since races were called off last week because of the weather, the Saturday night-races will be the second program of the season on the big fast lay track. Claude Tanner, Wichita Falls racing promoter, says the track is in top condition and compares favorably with the finest quarter-mile clay tracks in the nation.

Stock cars must be signed in by 7:30 p.m. and races will start promptly at 8 p.m., with three heats, a trophy dash, two semi-finals, an oval track feature and a figure-eight feature.

Your Merc dealer invites you to compare the 9.8 hp Merc 110 with competitors' 9.5 hp fishing motor

Merc 110 is the lightest outboard in the 10 hp class ever built. Yet, it performs like a 12 hp, weighs like a 3 hp and weighs like a 5 hp outboard.

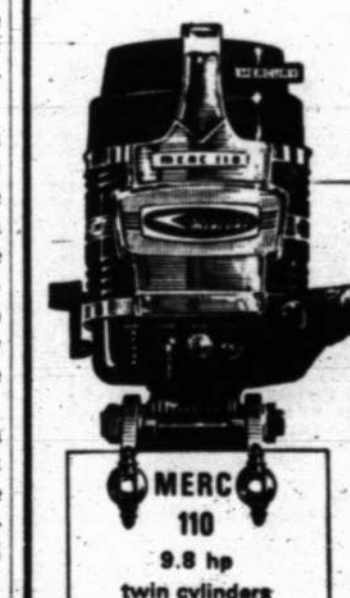

Merc 110 balances perfectly on the transom. You don't have to lean over the back of the boat to clamp it on...risking the chance of falling in the drink. Merc power plants are high enough to be at least as high as the transom. Unlike competitive outboards, it keeps its power dry.

Merc 110 has a tilted powerhead that prevents fuel "puddling" at any speed. It idles and trolls smoothly without flooding or misfiring on "raw" fuel. The fixed-jet carburetor is on the front of the motor toward the boat...not on the back. You don't have to get in the water when normal service is required.

Merc 110 has a unique Glide-Angle design that lets it slide up and over sandbars and through shallows. No need to tilt it by hand. It corrects itself when you hit deep water again. There's no protruding nose on the front to harvest weeds, snag rocks or plow sand. It has no shear pins...a live rubber safety clutch protects the prop on impact.

Merc 110 has a Jet-Prop exhaust system. The exhaust is fired through the center of the propeller hub...burying the fumes, and with it the sound, far behind the boat. The exhaust fits the vacuum pocket that forms in back of propeller hubs, resulting in increased thrust and improved breathing of the engine.

There are many other features to COMPARE on a Merc 110...and your Mercury dealer will be happy to have you make the comparison. See him soon. See how you get more RUN for your money with Mercury...100, 85, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8 and 3.9 hp outboards and MerCruiser Stern Drives...110 to 310 hp gasoline; 60 and 100 hp diesel.

Oklahoma Regents Formally Hire Jones As Football Coach, AD

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — University of Oklahoma regents agreed Thursday to hire Gomer Jones as head football coach and athletic director for four years at a total of $23,400 a year.

But the regents did not give Jones a formal contract, saying that under Oklahoma law no binding contract could be granted for more than one year. Jones had been named to the job previously, but the regents had not acted formally on his appointment until the meeting here.

Regents acted on recommendation of the president, Dr. George Cross, and Deal Earl Sneed, chairman of the school's athletic council. A formal four-year contract for Jones had been presented to the regents.

Bud Wilkinson, longtime Sooners coach and athletic director who resigned in January to seek the Republican nomination for the Senate, was paid $31,000 a year. Wilkinson held a 10-year contract, but one regent explained that under Oklahoma law this was no more binding than the four-year agreement with Jones.

Regents went on record as saying they intended to employ Jones, Wilkinson's longtime assistant, for at least four years.

Regents also approved hiring of eight assistant coaches and named Kenneth Farris, assistants athletic director and business manager as associate athletic director, raising his salary from $11,124 to $12,300 a year.

Jones' salary actually is $18,000 for the combined coach-athletic director job, but he also receives a $3,500 expense allowance and $1,900 annuity annually.

7 District Meets Slated Saturday

A giant field of 1,200 athletes from North Central Texas will face the axe Saturday in seven area district track and field meets.

The first trimming will eliminate all but 196 individuals for region, the last stop on the road to Austin for the state finals.

Wichita Falls, with no hopes of a team title, takes its forces to Irving for the 4-AAAA running. Jim McGrath, its shot put specialist, might qualify for region but in other phases the Coyotes are definitely lacking.

Other meets include: 4-A at Stephenville; 9-AA at Bridgeport; 5-AA at Wichita Falls; 6-AA at Abilene; 13-B at Knox City; and 33-B at Valley View.

Emphasis is on the individual performer since only first and second places in each event are accepted for region. Team championships are decided by six places on a 10.8, 6.4, 2.1 point system. Relay events pay double points.

4-A

At Stephenville. Prelims 8:30 a.m.; finals 2 p.m.

Brownwood, with at least six first places including both relays, is a solid favorite to burn up the field with its blazing speed.

Paced by Terry McCullough, Jeff Smith and a host of other top entries, the Lions display depth in almost every event. Breckenridge's Weathersford, Burk Burnett and Vernon are expected to be bunched in a tight battle for second place with Graham, Stephenville, Rider and Mineral Wells expected to finish in that order.

McCullough is considered untouchable in the shorter dashes. His best showing is a 9.7 in the 100-yard dash. Monte Stratton of Breckenridge has done 9.8 and Mike Littleton of Stephenville has a 9.9.

In the 220-yard dash McCullough's 21.8 eclipses the field. Stratton has a 22.5. Gary Giddens of Stephenville has a 22.3 and James Harris of Brownwood is capable of 22.3. It's possible that the Lions will be 1-2 at the finish line.

Smith is favored in the 440-yard dash and teammates Leroy Deandra and Eddie Lerner are slated for second and third places. Smith has a 50-flat, Deandra a 50.5 and Lerner 51.3.

Rick Priog, Rider half-miler, has done 1:58.4 and should take this event. Keenest competition is expected to come from John Nyby of Burk Burnett, Gary Ditto of Breckenridge or James Dillard of Brownwood, all in the 2:01 class.

The mile will be interesting with Dennis Treadway of Brownwood and Dale Ruth of Weatherford locking horns. Treadway has a 4:39 clocking. Ruth a 4:40. Butch Laxson of Vernon and John McNamara of Burk should battle for third.

Gordon Nees of Graham, with a 15.2 in the high hurdles, is a slight favorite, but Brownwood's Mark Thomas is probably the fastest in the lows.

Field events are another specialty and the Lions look for victories in the shot put and discus with Richard Carpenter as chief trophy hunter. E. A. Gresham and P. D. Shabay of Graham may press him in the discus, however.

The high jump offers a close duel between Nees and David Henry of Brownwood. Gary Ditto of Breckenridge might make it a three-way affair.

The two killers, double point relay events, belong exclusively to Brownwood. The Lions have a 43.0 in the sprint and a 3:23.4 in the mile. Those impressive runs rank them among the best in the state in all divisions, and far above any times turned in by other 4-AAA squads.

9-AA

At Bridgeport. Prelims 9:30 a.m.; finals 2 p.m.

For the second year in a row, Nocona and Decatur will slug it out for the team championship. The arch rivals got into a heated dispute over the finish in the mile relay last year and feelings haven't quite been the same since. Both take their track seriously and will be giving the gung-ho effort that is expected to wash away any outside competition.

Gary May and Tim Mercer are favored to capture the first two spots in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Larry Starnes of Decatur will be near the top in both events, with male Sonny Gasperson along to help in the longer event. May and Mercer have both done 10.2 and 22.3.

The 440-yard dash should go to defending champ Billy Williamson of Jacksboro, although Johnny Zachary of Nocona will be around to make sure there is no loafing. Gasperson will also challenge.

Bobby Guinn of Nocona and John Gibbon and Carlton Webb of Decatur are all around 2:03 in the half-mile. This could be a key event for both schools, as could the mile run. Decatur enters Mark Howard and Mike Atkins—4:58 and 4:59—in the longer event. Bridgeport's Bill McIlhenny did it in 4:45 last year, although he's considerably slower in showing this season.

Nocona dominates the hurdles with sophomore Cecil Reed favored in both events. He has done 15.3 in the highs and 20.4 in the lows. Billy Tuggle joins him in the latter and promises to take second, helping the Indians' cause.

The sprint relay is likewise slated to go to Nocona, which has done 45.1. Jacksboro could contest Decatur for second. In the mile relay, it's going to be another dandy between the two favorites. Decatur has done 3:32.0 and Nocona has clocked 3:33.0.

The field events give Decatur a big point lead in the morning session. The Eagles are slated to go 1-2-3 in the shot put with Pate Pullingim (49-9), Frankie Mitchell (47-6) and Paul Myres (45-7) dominating.

Carl Jordan should win the discus and mate Mitchell might take second, although Bridgeport's Gregg Bailey threatens here. In the broad jump, Decatur's Jack Watson and Nocona's Tuggle will lock horns around 20-8 and from there it's anyone's event.

The pole vault offers interest among the favorites, also. Dick Coleman and Don Dennis carry Nocona's Orange into the fray. Gasperson, Mitchell and Dick Stroud are entered for Decatur.

In the battle for third, Bridgeport would be the choice with Jacksboro fourth and Bowie last.

5-AA

At Wichita Falls. Prelims 9:30 a.m.; finals 2 p.m.

This little gem should wind up to be a two-team battle between Seymour and Iowa Park with placings in the relays probably settling the top spot.

Iowa Park is virtually assured of first places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes with Mike Brockman owning runs of 10.0 and 22.7 to top the field. John Holmes of Quannah and David Furr of Olney will press in the shorter event. Furr and Seymour's Robert Wilbanks should wage a close battle for second in the 220.

Brockman is favored in another event, the broad jump. Wilbanks and Ridley Gibson of Quannah expected to fight it out for second. Larry Thompson of Iowa Park could make it a three-way joust. Brockman has been 22-1/4, the others 21-0 or just a little better.

Thompson should add a first place for the Hawks in the pole vault with a 3-way battle for second unfolding a foot lower on the bar at around 10-6.

Seymour, on the other hand, has Leonard Peters to assure it of first places in the two hurdle events and perhaps the mile relay. Because of a spike wound in his heel, the Panther ace will scratch from the high jump, leaving that event wide open. His times of 19.5 in the lows and 14.5 in the highs make him untouchable. Iowa Park will take second and thirds in both events, and Danny Tarbet close behind.

The discus medal appear to belong to Electra's Barry Richardson, who is in a class by himself consistently at 145-0 or better. Terry May of Iowa Park should win second.

Jimmy Blair is slated to give Seymour a first in the mile and mate Ronnie Bowman is a solid choice in the half-mile. Blair has done 4:36 and Bowman 2:01.9.

Carlton Wall is favored to give Iowa Park another first in the quarter. His 52.3 is tops in the field this season.

That brings it down to the relays. Iowa Park will be pressed by Quannah and Olney in the 440. The Hawks have gone 44.9 as has Quannah. Olney's best is 45.2.

Seymour has a 3:31.6 in the mile relay and should win it, although Iowa Park promises to make it interesting. The Hawks have done 3:34.0.

Unless the Hawks falter, their strength would tend to appear too much for the field. However, Seymour is the only contender with a chance. Others, in order, should be Quannah, Olney, Hirschi and Childress.

Russia Rejects Proposed Visit By Pro Cagers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has rejected a proposed visit by some of America's best professional basketball players and there is speculation that Moscow may regard them as too good.

It was learned Thursday that the Soviets weighed for three months an offer for a tour of U.S. Pros—then turned it down while some of Moscow's satellite states were happily inviting the Americans in.

At the same time, the Kremlin has laid out the welcome mat for a team of American amateur basketball players.

This has kindled suspicion here that the Soviets are afraid their state-subsidized amateurs would show up badly against the U.S. pros—and the Kremlin prefers to improve the image of Russian athletes by pitting them against the less than America's best.

If the Russians had not turned down the pro proposition, they would be seeing such National Basketball Association standouts as Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics, Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals and Tom Gola of the New York Knickerbockers.

As things now stand the NBA stars are to travel next month to Communist Poland—which initiated the invitation—and to another Soviet bloc country, Romania, and also to Communist Yugoslavia and to Egypt.

Washington sources said Moscow turned down the U.S. pro visit on the ground that playing the NBA group would violate the amateur status of the Russian athletes.

U.S. official deny that amateurs would lose their standing by competing with pros in exhibitions. They noted that other countries on the NBA team's itinerary do not feel their amateurs will be sullied by the U.S. pros.

Besides Russell, Robertson and Gola, NBA players slated for the coming tour include K. C. Jones and Tom Heinsohn of the Celtics, Jerry Lucas of the Royals, Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, and Bob Cousy, formerly of the Celts and now Boston College coach. Red Auerback of the Celtics will coach the touring pros.

Seymour has a 3:31.6 in the mile relay and should win it, although Iowa Park promises to make it interesting. The Hawks have done 3:34.0.

Unless the Hawks falter, their strength would tend to appear too much for the field. However, Seymour is the only contender with a chance. Others, in order, should be Quannah, Olney, Hirschi and Childress.

13-B

At Knox City. Prelims 9:30 a.m.; finals 2 p.m.

Knox City ranks a favorite with possibilities of six first places, including the mile relay. The Greyhounds have Brack Shaver in the hurdles with times of 15.8 and 21.7, Doug Logsdon in the 880-yard run with a 2:02.7, Derrell Marion in the mile with a 4:45.8, Jimmy Ryes in the 440-yard dash with a 54.7, and Shaver, Logsdon, Ryes and Richard Rodriguez in the mile relay with a 3:38.1.

Weinert's top performers include Dale Carroll in the shot with a 49-1/4, and John Cunningham in the low hurdles with a 21.5.

O'Brien has James Duncan with an 11-11 pole vault and a 5-11 high jump, and counts on vaulter Donnie Johnson for a second. He's been 11-4.

RIDLEY GIBSON

Quannah Star Named To All-State Game

QUANAH, Tex. (Special) — Ridley Gibson, Quannah's all-state quarterback, has been selected to participate in the annual All-Star football game next August sponsored by the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Gibson, who has accepted a four-year football scholarship at Baylor University, is the first football player in Quannah history to be selected to play in the All-Star game.

The notice of his selection was received this week by the Quannah coaching staff. He will be one of four Class AA players to be a member of the North team.

The All-Star game will be played Aug. 7 in Fort Worth. The North team coach will be Charlie Qualms of Mesquite. The names of the All-Star selections have not been released as yet.

Gibson, who chalked up an enviable high school football record, scored 122 points during the 1963 season, 89 of them in district play.

Gibson was the only football player in Class AA whose team failed to win district to land a place on the all-state first team.

In addition to his all-state selection, Gibson was named to the all-area team of the Record News and other area newspaper and was selected as the most valuable player in District 5-AA.

TEC Needs Questionnaires

Representatives of more than 300 Wichita Falls business were urged Thursday to complete questionnaires mailed them recently by the Texas Employment Commission in connection with a labor survey, while the TEC is conducting in the city.

Lee Nelson, general manager of Industrial Development, Inc., told members of an advisory committee appointed to assist the TEC in the survey, that 65 per cent of the forms have been completed and returned.

TEC officials say a return of at least 85 per cent would be required for the final report to be written "with any degree of accuracy."

It was agreed at Thursday's meeting that members of the advisory board would make personal contacts with firms which have not completed the forms to assure a speedy return of questionnaires.

HOLLYWOOD and VINE

by HEDDA HOPPER

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—David Niven was supposed to do two big pictures for Samuel Bronston this year and "instead I had a rude letter saying there would be no more films," the star explained. So Niven will go to Finland to make "Honey for the Bears," written by England's John Mortimer; then to Portugal for "Jack Be Nimble."

His wife, Hjordia, and Princess Grace take ballet lessons every Friday. They skied together in Gstaad, Switzerland.

"Hjordia took all her 15 fractures back on the slopes and looked beautiful," Niven said. "I'm a brave skier but ugly. I look like a big frog."

Rainier's Headaches
Niven says that Prince Rainier is still having headaches over the yacht he paid a fortune for. The thing blew up before he could take it out on its first run. It was reassembled, then the man who built it went broke, and a fellow who said he hadn't been paid showed up and took the engines out.

"So there's poor Rainier," says David, "with a boat and no engines."

Niven is in Hollywood for a month to do three one-hour shows for 4 Star's new "Rogues" television series.

Sammy Davis Jr. will go to Sweden for a benefit on April 25. Seven months ago he was invited to appear on an international festival for the United Nations Children's Fund. He said yes. Later he received a call from the State Department asking if he was definitely going.

He said, "Certainly."

The caller said, "We were just checking, because it would be embarrassing if you didn't."

Ingrid Bergman will be one of the stars. Sammy's wife, Mai, goes along and has been asked to sit in a special section with the Royal Family.

Sammy and his wife will fly to Sweden in different planes.

"We won't take a chance on having our children left without a parent," he said.

Van Dyke to Vacation

Dick Van Dyke is working like mad to have a four-week European trip, the first vacation he and his wife have had since they were married on the "Bride and Groom" show and got a free honeymoon.

They will visit England, France, Holland, Scotland, and Spain after crossing the Atlantic by boat.

Dick will fly back for the premiere of "What a Way to Go" at the New York World's Fair and then will return to Europe. His show is big all over the world. More than half of the jewelry Frances Stark lost in that robbery in New York was given to her by her mother, Fanny Brice. Fran said she had forgotten to have her jewelry reappraised, and the insurance won't come close to covering it.

Her husband, Ray, who has been in a cast 3 1/2 months after a skiing accident, will linger in New York for a few more days tying up loose ends on "Funny Girl," the hit musical about Fanny with Barbra Streisand.

Many words have been written about Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The greatest came from Herbert Hoover, who appointed him chief of staff in 1931: "He was a great man, a great general and a great patriot. The world is a finer place for his having lived in it. He was a statesman for peace."

Alfred Hitchcock's wife, Alma, likes to drive, so she will motor Hitch through France and into Yugoslavia on their vacation.

They will visit a walled city on the Adriatic Sea but won't go into Moscow.

Bergen's New Act

Edgar and Frances Bergen have opened in the Blue Room of the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans with a new act that doesn't include Charlie o. Mortimer.

Edgar has three new skits—plays the oldest living Scandinavian airline pilot and a plumber poet, with an assist from Frances.

October Wolf Hunt Planned

QUANAH, Tex. (Special)—Directors of the Northwest Texas and Oklahoma Fox and Wolf Hunters Association met to make plans for the annual wolf hunt the third week of October.

Plans call for both events to be held on the W. O. Neal Ranch southeast of Quanah. In the advent of poison being distributed in the area, the field trial will be held in Oklahoma.

The group voted to obtain the services of Dave Ware of Oklahoma City, member of the Fish and Game Commission in Oklahoma, as bench show judge for the hunt, and Alvin Robinson of Altus, Okla., will be asked to serve as master of field hounds. J. T. "Knothole" Wilson will be master of ceremonies for the night programs.

Lee Smith of Knox City is president of the association and Durwood Scott is secretary.

Publicity Director

PARIS (AP)—Fred Hift has been named director of European production publicity for 20th Century-Fox, the studio announced.

Banker To Attend National Meeting

N. A. Moore Jr., vice president of City National Bank who as vice president of the national association, American Institute of Banking, is a member of the American Banking Association Board of Directors, will attend a 10-day meeting of the latter group.

Moore will leave Saturday for White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., where the meeting will begin Sunday in the Greenbrier Hotel.

During the ABA directors' meeting a two-day session of the executive committee of AIB also will be held.

Moore will return to Wichita Falls April 22 after attending general business sessions in which both groups will plan the coming activities.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: JOHN MELVIN MOORE, Defendant.
Greeting:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable 89th District Court of Wichita County, at the Court-house thereat, in Wichita Falls, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 25th day of May A.D. 1964, on the 7th day of January A.D. 1964, in this cause numbered 73-54-C on the docket of said court and styled ETHEL JEAN MOORE, Plaintiff, vs. JOHN MELVIN MOORE, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: After alleging jurisdiction, plaintiff further alleges that she and defendant were married on or about September 4, 1962 and continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about May 6, 1963, when by reason of cruel, harsh and tyrannical treatment on the part of the defendant toward plaintiff without cause or provocation, was such a nature as to render their further living together insupportable; that there were no children born of this marriage and that there is no community property.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein, and that upon trial hereof, she have judgment for divorce, restoration of her former name and for such other and further relief in law or in equity, to which she may show herself justly entitled, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after date of issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The Officer executing this process shall promptly execute same according to law and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this 8th day of April A.D. 1964.

Attest: WAYNE WIGGINS, Clerk District Court, Wichita County, Texas. By Wayne Wiggins, Deputy

WELCOME, "BIG JIM"

We at Bill Waites Ford are happy to have "Big Jim" Davis with us and rightly so.

During his 16 years as a professional Ford salesman, Big Jim has acquired literally hundreds of loyal friends and customers by giving thoughtful, faithful service. Because of this, he has achieved membership in Ford's exclusive "500" Club for the last 13 years and is holder of the coveted Ford Medallion award. We're mighty glad to have Big Jim Davis on our team. Come see him.

RITUAL IN THE RAIN — Washington — The casket bearing the body of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur is transferred from a hearse to the horse-drawn caisson Wednesday at 16th and Constitution Avenue for the procession to the Capitol where the body will lie in state. In background is the White House. The body of the hero of three wars arrived in Washington during a steady rain. (AP Wirephoto)

For the 3rd time in three years, Fred Lorenzen takes the grueling Atlanta "500" at the wheel of his Ford.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thrifter in the long run. They're built for total performance.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

Inflation Is Major Problem In Brazil

By EDGAR MILLER

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — In 1967, a Brazilian housewife could feed a family of 12 for a week on 1,000 cruzeiros. Last week, before the ouster of Joao Goulart as president, 20,000 cruzeiros were not enough. Take the case of Ghislaine Costa Ribeiro who left Brazil in 1957 and returned in 1961. She hadn't realized in the years she had been away what inflation had done here.

"I especially remember going to buy a wicker clothes hamper shortly after I got back," she said. "I took less than 1,000 cruzeiros with me because I was sure it wouldn't cost more than 100 or 200 cruzeiros at the most. The price was exactly 1,000 cruzeiros."

Woman Joins Gallon Club

Mrs. Billy Broxson, 1404 Covington Lane, is a new member of the Red Cross Gallon Club of blood donors. She has given regularly of her O positive type blood to help others and for her service has been awarded a certificate of appreciation from the Wichita Falls Times and Record News. The Red Cross gave her a Gallon Club recognition pin shaped like a golden drop of blood.

Mrs. Broxson is a member of City View Baptist Church and the Eastern Star. Her husband, Billy, is at Sheppard Air Force Base. They have three children, Richard, DeNiece, and Lynn Marie. Mrs. Broxson's hobby is music.

Brink Of Takeover

Inflation has turned this largest Latin-American nation to what many say was the brink of a Communist takeover.

Goulart became president in September 1961, succeeding to the post from the vice presidency after the abrupt resignation of Janio Quadros.

Inflation ran wild under Goulart but actually it got its start with President Juscelino Kubitschek, the builder of Brasilia, the glittering capital on a plateau 600 miles inland.

Taking office in 1956 after the suicide of ex-dictator Getulio Vargas, Kubitschek vowed to develop Brazil through industrialization and by opening up its virgin interior by building Brasilia.

Under Control

Kubitschek economists fostered inflation as a necessity for development. But they kept it relatively under control, despite charges that Kubitschek was spending the nation into bankruptcy.

Quadros campaigned throughout the nation in his race for the presidency on a platform of financial stability and an end to inflation. He was elected to office with more votes than any other Brazilian politician.

Quadros made some headway in restoring confidence against the inflationary trend. But by the time he resigned Aug. 25, 1961—claiming he was prevented from doing his job—inflation was still running its course.

When Kubitschek took office, the cruzeiro was about 80 to $1. When he left it was around 2,000 to $1. But it strengthened to 1,300 to $1 when banks reopened since Goulart's ouster.

Three-Year Plan

Goulart made no effort to halt inflation. This was his three-year plan which the United States had considered worthy enough to give Brazil nearly $400 million in aid to make it work.

But Goulart gave in to various pressure groups and one by one pulled the teeth out of the plan. It collapsed last year and Goulart turned to the Communists and leftists for support.

The new government has some initial advantages. But perhaps the most important factor is that the new government, removed from partisan politics, will be able to act with an austere hand without being concerned about its popularity. It also will have the Brazilian armed forces to back it up.

Mayor Of Rule Wins Re-Election

HASKELL, Tex. (Special) — Mayor A. E. Ball of Rule was returned to office Tuesday as 154 ballots were cast in the city election.

Ball received 87 votes to defeat A. R. (Pete) Eaton by 20 votes. James Moore and R. W. McCandless, unopposed for city council, tallied 144 and 151 votes, respectively.

THE GUEST ROOM is frequently sacrificed in favor of a larger living room, a dining room or some other room. However, designers with a talent for combining two functions in one room can accommodate the guest room problem and the every-day functions with extraordinary harmony. Above, there is a conversation grouping in the fireplace end of a large living room; and at the other end, a cozy den arrangement with sofa, bookcases, a small game table and a pouffe, which resembles a tiny desk and serves as a writing table. The back pillows and bolsters are easily removed from the classic looking sofa which serves as a comfortable day bed. Large folding doors can be closed completely to afford privacy for the guest. When planning a dual purpose room, provide as many conveniences as possible for its use as a guest room, keeping colors and scale in balance for a unified appearance.

Quannah To Hold Book Fair April 15

QUANAH, Tex. (Special) — A Book Fair, with several hundred available for sale, will highlight the observance of Library Week next Wednesday at the Hardeman County Library in Quannah.

The Book Fair will be held at the library building all day Wednesday with the public invited to attend.

Mrs. J. H. Sampley, chairman of the County Library Board, emphasized that the main purpose of the Book Fair is to acquaint people of Hardeman County with the facilities of the library.

However, she pointed out, books will be on sale for home libraries and visitors are invited to come in and browse.

Ben Milam P-TA Elects Officers

Ben Milam P-TA elected new officers Wednesday afternoon when a meeting was held at the school with Mrs. Marvin L. Hamm Jr. presiding. A flag ceremony by Wa-Han-Ka Camp Fire Girls opened the program and Mrs. Donald Boley gave the devotional.

Officers elected were Mmes. Charles Sloan Jr., president; Charles Avera, vice president; James B. Burrus, second vice president; William E. Baird, third vice president; Don Neel, secretary; John Jernigan, parliamentarian; Bobby L. Chumley, historian; Eugene Getzen-danner, publicity and Marshall Shelton, City Council delegate. Wayne Hill was elected treasurer.

Ellis Barham, executive director of the North-Texas Mental Health Center spoke on "The Family, Wholesome and Happy." He was introduced by Mrs. Sloan.

Room banners were awarded to Mrs. Betty Woodruff and Hill.

Electra Flower Show Is Scheduled April 21

ELECTRA, Tex. (Special) — The Electra Council of Garden Clubs will present the annual spring flower show April 21 in the Bailey Building. The theme of the show is "A Floral Circus." Mrs. A. L. Dowden is chairman of arrangements and Mrs. Howard Houtchens will be show chairman. Assisting will be Mmes. E. W. Hindman, entries; Hollis Sullivan, staging; O. C. Harvey, dismantling; Clifton Waggoner, schedule; Paul Jones, placement and tabulations; L. L. C. Hayes, classifications; S. E. King, awards and D. C. Perkins, finance and publicity.

Mrs. Orville Wilson, hospitality chairman, will be in charge of luncheon arrangements to honor judges, participants and special guests. Mrs. Annie Powell will obtain judges. She said the standard system of judging will be used. First, second, third and fourth place winners will receive ribbons.

An award of merit will be given for the best horticulture display and sweepstakes ribbon will be given to the person scoring the most points in the ribbon awards division. Ribbons will be presented in appreciation to those exhibiting in the educational special or commercial exhibits.

Mrs. Etta Golden will be in charge of the Junior Division.

All flowers must be home grown. Entries will be received as early as 8 a.m. on the day of the show for competition until 10 a.m. Those received after 10 a.m. will be exhibited but will not be eligible for judging in competition for awards.

Club Hears About Education, Respect

KNOX CITY, Tex. (Special) — "Education" and "Respect" were topics discussed this week for members of the 1946 Study Club at the Woman's Club by two teachers from Knox City Schools.

Mrs. A. V. Kemletz, a first grade teacher, was followed by Mrs. Otis Cash, high school English teacher. The latter's subject was the respect for authority of God, parents, teachers, and others with whom you work. Music was presented by Pam and Tommy Waldrip.

The next meeting will feature a fine arts program given by Don Norris April 21 at the First Baptist Church.

Mental Health Program Topic For Study Club

IOWA PARK, Tex. (Special)—Mrs. Barbara Hodges of the Wichita Health Unit was guest speaker for the Horizon Junior Study Club Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hines. The program theme was "Keys To Better Living" and mental health was the speaker's topic. Mrs. Hodges said that 50 per cent of all the millions of medical and surgical cases treated have a mental illness complication. She said there are more people in hospitals with mental illness than all other diseases combined. Mrs. Hodges said that with good care and treatment at least seven out of ten patients can leave mental hospitals partially or totally recovered. During the business session conducted by Mrs. Clifton Roberts, it was announced that the second annual Miss Iowa Park Pageant will be held June 19. Mrs. Derrell Burrell was a guest. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Gerald Canaday April 21.

TEXAS GOES to the World's Fair in this dress by Johnson of Dallas. It will hold its crisp, fresh appearance for long hours because the fabric resists wrinkles, washes easily, dries quickly and requires no more than a touch-up with the iron. The round collar adorning the neckline is made of imported embroidered organdy edged with the same tatting trim that accentuates the semi-puffed sleeves.

THE REVIVAL OF LACE for day-time and evening is important spring fashion news. Luxurious lace, done in the Portuguese manner, is featured in the resort collection by Sylvia de Gay for Robert Sloan. Shirt-pullover (left), worn with brief matching shorts, is patterned in rich mosaic lace. Lace coat (right) becomes an ensemble when worn with a princess pinafore linen dress, traced with buttons and edged with lace tatting.

Iris Society Meets Saturday

SNYDER, Okla. (Special)—Details of the May 2 Iris show and a special program will highlight the quarterly meeting of the Quartz Mountain Iris Society Saturday at Quartz Mountain Lodge. Mrs. George Huckaby of Sentinel will tell of the iris show and Mrs. Joe Summers, Snyder, president, will conduct the business meeting at 11 a.m. The afternoon program at 1:15 p.m. will be arranged by Meses. C. E. Doyle, Roosevelt; C. O. Coston, Altus and Eldon Pfennig, Hobart.

Wood thistles which have a five-foot wing span, have been clocked in flight at 35 miles per hour.

Tile Advice

Basements are becoming a part of the home's living area. Play rooms, dens and photographic darkrooms are among the many uses to which basement space is being put. Since they get plenty of hard wear - and - tear, they should have easily cleaned, durable and economical surfaces. Quarry tile and unglazed ceramic mosaics are ideal materials for this purpose. Your tile contractor can advise you on sizes, colors and textures, and answer any other questions you have on tile.

ANN LANDERS SAYS

Leave The Cadaver Alone: Dig Into Job For Money

Dear Ann Landers: In 1926, when I was a youngster, my mother died. I was an only child and the family had quite a lot of money. My dad managed to lose everything by the time I graduated from high school. He is dead now.

A few weeks ago, at a family party, they got to talking about my mother and what beautiful jewelry she had. One of my cousins asked what happened to the jewelry. My great uncle replied, "They buried her in it."

When we got home I mentioned to my wife that we could sure use some money and I would like to have my mother's grave dug up and sell the jewelry. She looked at me like I was crazy. Would this be such a terrible thing to do? After all, I am entitled to whatever worldly goods my parents had. My wife says the thought of it makes her skin crawl. May I have your opinion?—PRACTICAL MAN

Dear Man: How practical can you get? You've managed to get by this long without digging up any graves, haven't you? If you are so nuts about money why don't you dig up a second job?

Dear Ann Landers: We are all shook up. It was discovered a few days ago that a certain girl in our class (we are high school juniors) has been putting up a "false front."

Her shower partner got mad at her for some petty reason and told. The news has spread like wild-fire and the boys are making rude remarks. The girl is so embarrassed she can't hold her head up.

We all feel sorry for her because she is a good person. Also, we don't feel that what she did was such a crime. She is tall and thin and built like a flagpole.

Please print this letter with a little plea for understanding. Thank you from all of us.—SORRY FOR HER

Dear Sorry: I can imagine no topic which would be less anybody else's business than this one.

A girl does not owe an affidavit to the public that everything they see is for real. This goes for teeth, eyelashes, hair and yes—measurements.

The one who should be hanging her head in shame is that big-mouth dame who blabbed.

Dear Ann Landers: I have a lot of respect for your advice. Am I immature or is there some thing wrong with the man I am married to?

Wallace (not his real name) is 30 years old. We have been married seven years and have two pre-school children. Wallace is a faithful and considerate husband and a fine father. Although we have our little spats, I would say our marriage is a solid one. I should add, our sex life is very satisfying.

Last week I discovered by accident that Wallace has hidden some girls' magazines under his toolbox in the basement workshop. I've heard about such magazines but I had never seen one. Believe me I was shocked that girls would pose that way without even covering up their faces. Should I throw the magazines out and keep quiet, tell him I know they are there, or just forget it? Help me.—NAOMI

Dear Naomi: Your husband is still operating at an adolescent level — like the little boy who hides behind the garage and smokes a cigaret. Tell him you have discovered the magazines and you hope he will outgrow the peeking stage before his children are old enough to use his tool box.

Brides, Grooms

Prefer Sterling As Wedding Gift

Casual living may be here to stay—but the bride and groom still want sterling for their table. Long a first on the bride's gift list—sterling now gets the vote of the groom of the not-too-distant future.

In a recent survey of college men's attitudes toward dining, 84 per cent said they preferred sterling to stainless steel or silver-plate since "it conveys a greater feeling of quality." Seventy-four per cent indicated they would like to be consulted when their fiancées choose their patterns.

Sterling is one of the precious things of life that both men and women respond to. Men appreciate it, as revealed in the survey, for its "high quality, prestige and permanence." The lady of the house admires its beauty and elegance. And she likes the secure feeling it gives her that her table flatware will always look right, for any occasion, for the rest of her life.

The traditional art of singing to harp accompaniment is so popular in Wales that a shortage of harps has developed.

Eastern Star

From Haskell To Attend Meet

HASKELL, Tex. (Special)—Members of the Haskell chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will join representatives of 27 other chapters in the Northwest, North Central Texas area for a school of instruction in Abilene, Saturday.

Mrs. J. B. Gipson of Haskell, district deputy grand matron, will be one of three teachers at the school of instruction to be held in Abilene's Masonic Temple. Others are Mrs. Joyce Roberts, district deputy grand matron in El Paso, and Mrs. Floy Yates of Stratford, grand examiner of District 2.

A luncheon will be held at the Starlite Inn, and a banquet at the Windsor Hotel. Eastern Star members from Rochester, Rule, Anson, Hamlin, Stamford, Knox City, and Munday, as well as Haskell, are planning to attend.

Keep Your Letters

Concise, Correct

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS
As every good secretary knows, business correspondence has its etiquette rules just as social correspondence has. It also has its taboos, among which you will find such stilted phrases as "in re. of," "yours of the 2nd," and "please be advised." Such outmoded expressions are not considered in good taste today.

Your business correspondence can and should reflect your personality. Of course, if you are a secretary, you naturally follow the letter precedent and wishes of your employer. But the business letters you write personally can show originality, right along with your clearest thinking. Whether you are writing to your favorite department store or to the milkman, your note may show your personality and still be entirely correct.

Write your business letters as though you were talking directly with the person to whom you are writing. Frankly, I for one feel definitely left out when a letter comes into my office directed "To Whom It May Concern." If it is meant for me, I like to see that "Dear Mr. Powers," or "Dear Sir," at the beginning. However, in a business letter, never give in to any impulse to be chatty or autobiographical. Stick to the point. Keep your sentences and paragraphs short, and most of all, keep your language clear.

For formal business correspondence, use plain, white paper, either flat sheets or those folded like a little book to make four pages. Flat bond is preferred.

If you can't type, don't fret. Use blue or black ink, a pen and your most legible hand. There is no time in an office to translate or de-code a message.

Keep a supply of plain paper and regulation envelopes always at hand. Be direct, sincere and concise. In most cases, your business-like missives will be accorded the prompt attention they show they so well deserve.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY — Graham, Tex. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wooten celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with open house at the Woman's Club, Sunday. Hosts for the occasion were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Halsell, III of Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Loftin, Graham. Presiding at the tea table were Mmes. P. K. Deats, Garland Wilkins, Beverly King Jr., and Mary King Williams; Mrs. A. B. Maples and Mrs. L. A. Walther of Wichita of Wichita Falls. Mrs. Frank Shaw registered approximately 50 guests. Organ selections were played during the tea hours by Mrs. Lindsey Hawkins and Mrs. Earl Garvey. Mr. and Mrs. Wooten were married March 29, 1914 in Graham.

You Can Get Extra 'Mileage' From Home Floral Arrangements

There are ways to get extra "mileage" from flowers for home decorating.

One way is to avoid overcrowding main floral arrangements. A carefully planned composition can be spoiled if too many flowers are included. Use leftover materials for miniature designs that can express your originality.

For example, if you were arranging roses, daisies, and heather, the leftovers might include a couple of roses and daisies and some tiny heather sprigs. Arranged in a small basket, they would be an ideal decoration for a young girl's room. The basket should be lined with aluminum foil and the stems inserted in a pre-saturated foam flower holder.

If a single tulip were left from a living room arrangement of yellow tulips and white stocks, it could be tucked in an interesting shell and displayed on a bathroom shelf. Or, the single tulip would look lovely in a bud vase placed just about anywhere in the house. A few leftover sweet peas, jonquils, and stocks from a dining table centerpiece could be arranged in a demitasse cup, adding sparkle to the kitchen. Another way to get added "mileage" from already arranged flowers is to dismantle the arrangement and use the flowers, that have lasted longer, for one or more small or miniature arrangements.

For example, roses may be arranged from bud to full bloom. When roses mature, they become top-heavy. This is the time to shorten them for new, lower arrangements.

When smaller arrangements are made from the original floral compositions, be sure to recut the stems on a slant with a sharp knife, and place them in a container of warm water. All foliage below the water should be removed.

Eskimo Belief

Some Eskimos believe souls of the dead reincarnate themselves in newborn infants to protect them from harm and a parent should not punish a small child lest the spirit resent the interference. The spirit departs when the child grows old enough to take care of himself.

Nail Polish Preserves Flowers Otherwise Lost

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—Last fall when I brought a hanging basket full of artificial flowers in from my porch, they were dirty and faded from sun and rain. These flowers cost quite a bit so I hated to throw them away. I washed them in sudsy water, rinsed and dried them. I collected partly used bottles of nail polish, which we all have on hand, and applied the polish to each petal. My polish ranged from pink to red and even orange so I could make some of them different shades. The results were rewarding and I don't believe the flowers will fade next summer.—SADIE

DEAR POLLY—When using my sewing machine to sew on buttons, I found it difficult to slide the button under the presser foot without getting it out of place. Now I save time by putting each button in place under a piece of transparent plastic tape, sew through the tape and, in a matter of minutes, all the buttons are on in the right places.—MRS. C. R. W.

DEAR POLLY—I have a simple and clean way to take off muddy or snowy footwear. Start with a board approximately 8 by 16 by 1 inch. Cut a 7-inch-deep V in the 8-inch end, starting one inch in from both sides of the board. Nail a cleat 3/4 inch by 3/4 by 8 inches to the board near the point of the V. Drill a 1/4-inch hole so the boot jack can be caught over a nail in the floor. The cleat is on the bottom side. Stand on the back end with one foot while you run the other heel into the V until it is tight. Pull upward and off comes the boot. Reverse feet and repeat for the other boot.—J. E. B.

DEAR POLLY—My neighbor saves all her plastic bags and keeps them in her husband's and son's hunting jackets. They put game in these bags before putting it into the pockets of their hunting jackets or bags to keep the pockets from getting soiled.—MRS. R. J.

DEAR POLLY—When taking a cake to a bazaar or bake sale there is always the problem of getting back your cake plate and cover. I have contrived a very practical one that can be thrown away. I cover a square of heavy cardboard with aluminum foil and then put the round cake on it. Take a kitchen pan that is large enough to cover the cake without touching. Mold heavy duty foil all around the outside of the pan. Trim or fold back the edges. Remove from the pan and you have an excellent foil cover for your cake and one that does not stick to the icing.—MRS. K. S.

GIRLS—A bit of gummed tape fastened in two or three places to the "cover" and then to the "plate" would keep the top from shifting and marring the icing.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—If you have two or three belts to iron, lay them all on the ironing board at one time and one ironing will do it. It is a "three-for-one" sort of deal.—MRS. O. W.

Mrs. Davlin Receives Jewel Degree Ritual

Mrs. Henry Davlin received the Ritual of Jewels degree at the meeting of Zeta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Hansome Malone, 2001 Wilson. Mrs. Davlin was co-hostess. Maj. Margaret Rau, vice president, conducted the business session. Opening ritual was led by Mrs. Robert Codner. Refreshments were served to eight members and a guest, Mrs. Glynn McKee.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. LeRoy Reeder, 4433 Call Field Road, April 21.

Hannah Class Has Luncheon, Program

Members of the Hannah Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church were entertained Wednesday with a program and luncheon. The group met in the home of Mrs. Irvin J. Vogel, 4907 Alamo, with the four group captains as hostesses for a salad luncheon.

Class members then went to the home of Mrs. M. V. Edgmon, 1606 Mesquite, where the program chairman, Mrs. Aubrey Simpson, directed the program after which refreshments were served.

Gifts Make Fine Congratulations

By AMY VANDERBILT

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: I belong to a woman's organization here. Our sponsor is very dear to us and has been with the organization many years. She was recently presented with a very distinguished award from the Governor of our state. It has been suggested by one of the members of our group that we present our sponsor with an engraved spoon (she collects teaspoons) as a means of our congratulations. Is it proper to send a gift to someone receiving an award? Would it be in better taste to send flowers or just a note?—Mrs. I. G., Chicago."

I think the teaspoon would be greatly appreciated. It is a charming idea. Several years ago I was made an Honorary Citizen of Texas in San Antonio and Honorary Mayor of the Old City of San Antonio. To mark the occasion, my Texas hosts, the O. P. Schnables, presented me with a large silver serving spoon amusingly called a "Texas teaspoon." It bore my name, the star of Texas and the presentation words. It is just the right size for bullet service and perhaps your sponsor might enjoy such a large spoon to use for the same purpose. Any good jeweler can get you one and engrave it for you.

It is very nice at least to send a note to someone receiving an award and if you wish you may send flowers or, as in your case, a suitable gift.

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: I will be married soon and have a problem with which you can help me. My fiancé is a diabetic and I wonder if it would be proper to cut the wedding cake but not eat it? Would it be better if we let someone else cut the first piece of cake? Do you have any other suggestions?—M. E., Columbus, Ga."

I am sure his doctor would not object to his eating a little. There are diabetic cakes, but it wouldn't be fair to inflict them on all your guests.

Californian Flag

The state flag of California is patterned after the famous Bear Flag adopted by the Americans who revolted against Mexico in 1846. The brown bear on the flag symbolizes the determination of the settlers to fight for independence.

HANDSOME CHEST ON CHEST from the new Custom Folio Two collection is typical of the Louis Quinze period from which this lovely group derives its style inspiration. Plaque-like panels on the lower part of the chest are subtly curved, to harmonize with the serpentine silhouette; rococo drawer pulls, of antiqued brass, are in the asymmetrical style popular in the early 18th century when Louis XV reigned in France. The unit is one of a group of individual pieces from which the homemaker can choose those best suited to her specific needs. Made from cherry, it is shown here in a warm, natural wood finish, Bordeaux, one of three in which the Custom Folio Two collection is available.

HEALTH ADVICE

Canker Sores In Mouth Is Uncomfortable Problem

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I was 19 when I first got canker sores in my mouth. Now I am 25 and still have the problem. About a week before my menstrual period they appear and they are so sore that my eyes water from the pain and I can't eat solid food. My mother said she had the same problem.

What causes this? I have had all sorts of suggestions—rinsing my mouth every few hours with salt water, medicines and even a prescription to make my mouth numb so I can eat a decent meal.—MRS. R. L.

You do have a miserable problem. Many others have it, too, but rarely to the degree you describe.

In some women, changes in the system at the time of the period cause various difficulties—hives, cankers, and so on. There are other causes of canker sores, too—allergy or a chronic infection. Possibly an antihistamine taken as the period approaches may help. It has done so in many cases.

Recently a new preparation for cankers has been placed on the market. Discuss it with your doctor.

Dear Dr. Molner: You mentioned "calcified spots" in lung X-rays, and a remark about "whether they are from TB or histoplasmosis or something else."

What is histoplasmosis? What can the "something else" be?

Can the doctor tell which, and can he be sure it is a calcified spot?

Does it really make you immune if it was TB—A. M.

Histoplasmosis is a yeast-like infection of the lung which sometimes looks, in X-rays, a great deal like TB. Sometimes further tests are needed to be sure—skin tests are available for both TB and "histo."

What else could a "calcified spot" be? The scarring from any type of infection or injury. Tumors also show as spots. But there are various infections which can attack the lungs.

Sometimes an X-ray gives an immediate and strong indication of just what the trouble is; sometimes further tests are needed. It becomes a highly technical problem.

No, having had TB does not provide any immunity against recurrence.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about transverse myelitis? I have had it three years. I have improved very much but still cannot walk more than half a block. Will I ever recover?—F. V.

This is damage across the spinal cord. It can be from injury, infection or in some cases allergy or hypersensitivity, such as at times with rabies vaccine.

Recovery is always slow, but the fact that you have shown such improvement is a good sign. Unless your doctor has some specific reason to believe otherwise, I would look forward to further improvement. Whether it will be complete is less likely.

Dear Dr. Molner: My little daughter's hands are covered with warts, and now they are coming on her face. Do you know of anything besides nitric acid to cure them?—Mrs. A. E. K.

Don't use nitric acid. It can cause scarring. If there are so many warts that you are upset about them, take her to your doctor or to a skin specialist.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Wichita Falls Record News for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne—The Teen-Age Problem. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Mrs. Street To Give Graham Book Review

CRAHAM, Tex. (Special)—The "Nite Club" book review section of the Woman's Club will meet April 16 at 6:30 p.m. for a salad supper and book review by Mrs. M. Boyd Street. Mrs. Street will review "Careful, He Might Hear You," by Sumner Locke Elliot.

Mrs. W. J. Gruby, organist, will present dinner music. Marcy Morrison, Patricia Remington and Beth McKinley will sing a medley of April songs. A skit featuring numbers from "Hello Dolly," the new Broadway musical, will feature Carol Burkett and Judy Watson, Johnny Mills, and David Hinson.

I sat West and I was certain from the bidding that von Zedtwitz was ready for either a diamond or heart lead. I also knew that Ely held a minimum hand with two or possibly three spades. If he held only one spade, he would not have rebid to two no-trump. Had he held better than a minimum, he would also have found another rebid.

How was I going to beat the hand? Maybe my partner would hold the queen of spades in back of dummy. In that case, if I underled my ace of spades, Ely would never read the lead and would play low from dummy. We would then gather in two quick spade tricks.

I led the seven of spades and as soon as dummy appeared regretted my action. Of course my lead would not really have hurt if my partner had not held both the king and the ten.

Anyway the nine was played from dummy. My partner did play the 10 and Ely made a surprise trick with the jack and 11 expected tricks in the other suits.

Perhaps my partner should have played the king and not the 10. All I know is that if I hadn't been so brilliant, my opponents would not have made the slam.

By KATHERINE B. WALKER
True desert cacti have always been favorite house plants because they will endure almost anything except too much water. But to have them simply endure should not be your goal; they should thrive and reproduce and flower, too, if they are to be worth having.

First, be sure the plants are potted in a gritty, porous soil that will provide good drainage as well as ample food. A good mix is one-third garden loam, one-third sharp sand, and one-third leafmold or humus. Don't use peatmoss as a substitute for the leafmold, as it is acid in reaction, and desert cacti prefer an alkaline soil. If you think the garden loam may be acid, add a small amount of agricultural lime to the mix just to be on the safe side. After potting the cacti firmly, using pots an inch larger in diameter than ball-shaped plants or half as high as the taller sorts, allow a week or more to pass before giving any water at all. This will allow any injuries to the plant or its roots to heal properly.

During the winter months, most cacti are in a dormant state. This means that they prefer to be quite cool, even a little cold, and watering should be done very sparingly, if at all. Some varieties can go bone-dry for several weeks and will actually benefit.

As the days lengthen and the sunlight gets stronger, the plants will start into active growth; an increase in watering at this time will be in order but the soil should never be kept constantly moist, and it should be allowed to dry partially between waterings. Cacti always prefer the sunniest spot you can give them, and they must always have fresh air (or at least good air circulation) to prevent red spider mites and mealy bugs.

Most desert cacti need only two things to bring them into flower: one is the winter rest, the other is ample sun. Supplemental feeding with these plants is neither necessary nor desirable as it may well stimulate rank or abnormal growth. If the plants are repotted every two years, the fresh soil will provide all the nourishment they need. If you don't have room for a whole collection of individual pots, combine several different kinds in a single planter; they are especially lovely when used this way.

Questions and Answers
Q. I am told that an Elephant Ear plant is a form of begonia. Is this true?
A. It isn't any begonia that I am familiar with. Alocasias and colocasias are the plants generally known by this name.

Q. How can I pollinize a lemon tree which I have had for four years? It has never bloomed. I keep it in the basement all winter, and set it out in the summer. It gets leaves back.

A. You have to have flowers before you can have pollen, and you won't get flowers until you keep your tree growing all year long instead of storing it in the basement.

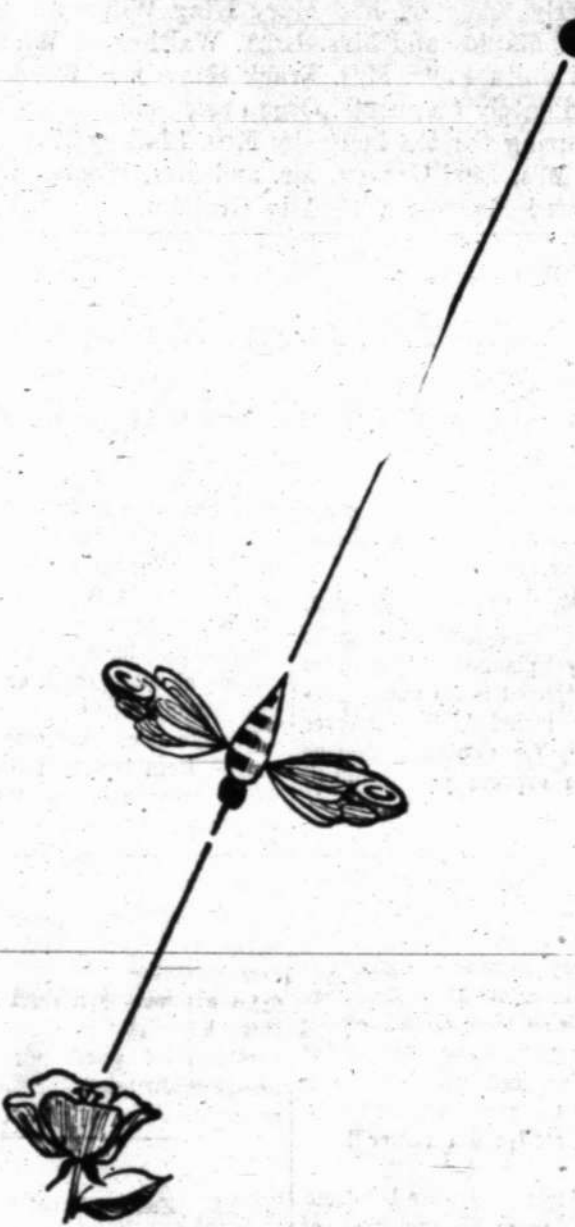

Katherine B. Walker has written a booklet on the care and culture of Gloxinias and other tuberous-rooted members of the Gesneriad Family. For your copy of GLOXINIAS, write to Mrs. Walker in care of the Wichita Falls Record News, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling costs.

The free Indoor Gardening Source Sheet has been revised and simplified. Most plants mentioned in Indoor Gardening can be bought from a local dealer, but if he cannot supply them, the Source Sheet lists where they may be obtained. For your copy of the new Indoor Gardening Source Sheet, write to Katherine B. Walker, in care of the Wichita Falls Record News, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Walker is always happy to hear from readers, and whenever possible she answers their questions on house plants in her column, but she regrets that because of the vast volume of mail received she cannot reply to individual letters.

APPLE-LAMB DUET

Winesaps Lend New Taste To Flavorful Lamb Dishes

Apples traditionally are part of a lamb dinner. But how many of us realize that this special fruit flavor is equally agreeable with all other meats? Too, the fresh fruit acids help balance the concentrated protein found in meat, and effectively aid digestion. This is why fresh apple salads, freshly-made apple sauce, or baked apples are so frequently included in a hearty dinner menu.

To illustrate the affinity of apples with spring lamb, we've chosen two quite different recipes. The first features a rack of lamb with minted, fresh Washington Winesaps rings, for an impressive and colorful meat course. Our second recipe spices both the lamb and the apples with ginger, nutmeg, and cinnamon; its gourmet flavor belying its ease of preparation.

Currently, the most versatile apple variety, the Winesap, is available. This is an all-purpose apple, excellent for both fresh and cooked uses. Coming to our markets from Washington State, the Apple Bowl of the World, the Winesap is rich in tangy apple favor, boasts firm, crisp white meat. Fortunately, Washington apple growers employ new "controlled atmosphere" storage methods to keep their fruit "harvest-fresh"—so you can be assured of crackling-crisp Washington Winesaps at this time of year.

Minted Apple Rings With Rack Of Lamb
4 Washington Winesap apples
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup white corn syrup
2 teaspoons lemon juice
6-8 drops green food coloring
1/4 teaspoon mint flavoring
Blend all ingredients in a 10-inch skillet. Simmer over medium heat for five minutes. Cut peeled, cored Washington apples into 1/4-inch thick rings. Slide rings into skillet and simmer until apples are tender, not mushy, turning once.

Lift apple rings with spatula and place around rack of lamb. Allow at least 2 ribs per serving when purchasing rack of lamb. Ask your butcher to "french" the ends of the ribs, score the fat in a diamond pattern, and to give you frills for each rib.

Wipe meat with a damp cloth or damp paper towels. Sprinkle with salt and pepper on all sides; then place, ribside down, in a shallow baking pan. Roast in a constant slow oven, 300 degrees F., until meat thermometer inserted in center of meat, without touching a bone, registers 175 degrees F.—about 30 minutes per pound.

Spicy Lamb Shoulder With Apples
2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 5-lb. boned shoulder of lamb, rolled and tied
2-3 cup honey
3 medium-sized Washington

apples, cored and cut in wedges

Combine salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon; mix. Rub salt-spice mixture over lamb. Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in slow oven, 300 degrees F., for 2 1/2 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 175-180 degrees (depending on desired degree of doneness.)

Combine remaining ginger, nutmeg, and cinnamon with honey; mix well. Add apples and cook over low heat 15 minutes. Serve lamb with apple-honey mixture. Serves 8.

OLD-FASHIONED CARAMEL PIE

Pie Is Made Modern Way

An outstanding pie with rich, old-fashioned caramel flavor can be made in minutes with a new packaged mix that has just been introduced locally. It is caramel nut pudding.

Actually, the pie recipe which follows is just one of many ways that the rich, full flavor of the new product can be utilized. The product also can be converted into superb candies, frostings, fillings, puddings, sauces, ice creams and other desserts.

Spicy Caramel Pie
1 1/2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine, melted
2 cups cold milk
1 package caramel nut pudding
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
Combine vanilla wafer crumbs, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, nutmeg and margarine. Mix until well blended. Press into 8-inch pie plate. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 5 minutes. Cool.
Measure cold milk into mixing bowl. Add caramel nut pudding. Beat until smooth (about 1 minute). Pour into cooled crust. Chill in refrigerator until set (about 1/2 hour).
When ready to serve, beat heavy cream with sugar and remaining cinnamon until stiff. Garnish pie with spoonfuls of whipped cream and pass remaining portion separately in a small bowl.
Makes 1 8-inch pie.

High-yielding grasslands may produce 12,000 to 15,000 pounds of milk or 600 to 700 pounds of beef or lamb per acre per year.

Deviled Eggs Are Served Hot Or Cold

Some serve them cold and some serve them hot, but Deviled Eggs—forget them not! These picnic-time favorites take on party airs when crumbled blue cheese and sour cream are added to the devilment. Served hot in a mushroom sauce, deviled eggs are a sunny addition to springtime menus.

Cheese and fruit are fine accompaniments for egg dishes. A handsome selection on a tray provides the appetizer or dessert to suit the occasion. Besides Gouda, blue, and cheddar there are varieties from around the world to tempt the appetite.

"Hard cooked" has replaced the phrase "hard boiled" in egg cooking terminology. Cooking the eggs at lower than boiling temperature assures tender whites and avoids the discoloration around the yolk. Best results are obtained by placing the eggs in a saucepan containing enough water to cover them by about 1 inch. Heat the water until it begins to boil rapidly. Turn off the heat, cover the kettle and allow it to stand 15 to 20 minutes. Then drain and turn cold water on the eggs for a minute or two so they cool quickly.

Deviled Eggs In Sauce

Yield: 4 servings
4 hard cooked eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon horse-radish
1 tablespoon crumbled blue cheese
1 tablespoon dairy sour cream
10 1/2 ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
Slice eggs in halves. Remove yolks and mash with a fork. Mix in salt, horse-radish, blue cheese, and sour cream. Refill whites with egg yolk mixture, heaping it lightly. Blend together mushroom soup and milk. Heat. Serve as a sauce over the deviled eggs.

Purple Plum Cobbler Has Rich Biscuit Top

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Family cooks like to have a file of dessert recipes that are "everyday" and yet good enough to serve to guests, whether they've been asked ahead of time or respond to a last-minute invitation.

Certain favorites fall right into this category. We have in mind the cobbler, grunt, hanky-panky and pandowdy—all cozy concoctions of fruit and batter or biscuit dough.
Here's the latest recipe of this sort we've tested, and an excellent one it is. In bygone days, stout-hearted eaters thought nothing of enjoying these for breakfast with "pour cream." Convenient to use, canned purple plums go into this modern version of a cobbler; the rich biscuit topping is pleasantly flavored with orange rind.

Plum Cobbler
1 can (1 pound and 13 to 15 ounces) purple plums in extra heavy syrup
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 stick (3 inches) cinnamon
1/4 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Rich Biscuits
"Drain plums, reserving syrup. Pit plums. In a medium saucepan stir together the cornstarch and salt; gradually stir in the reserved plum syrup, keeping smooth; add cinnamon stick. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened, clear and boiling. Add pitted plums, orange juice and butter; heat until butter melts. Pour into an ovenproof glass baking dish

Skillet Supper Features Franks

The magical freshness of a spring day creates the mood for activity — whether it's housecleaning, taking off storm windows or a fast game of sandlot baseball. Each whets appetites to a knife-sharp keenness, so at mealtime you'll want to serve something filling.

This skillet Supper is ideally suited for a fill-em-up meal. In it, wieners come to the table in a new way. And the addition of perky, diagonal-cut canned green beans and diced, cooked potatoes makes it almost a one-dish meal.

MENU-MATES
Skillet Supper
Lettuce Wedges
French Dressing
Buttered Rolls
Milk

8 wieners
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups shredded American cheese
1 16-oz. can diagonal-cut green beans, drained
2 cups diced cooked potatoes
Cut wieners in short thin strips. Saute in melted butter or margarine in large heavy frying pan; remove. Stir flour and salt into remaining butter or margarine. Gradually blend in milk. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently until thickened and smooth. Add meat and remaining ingredients; cover and cook over low heat, about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Yield: 6 servings.

(10 by 6 by 1 1/4 inches); top hot mixture at once with Rich Biscuits. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until biscuits are lightly browned—15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot or warm at once (or reheat). Makes 6 servings with lots of fruit.

Rich Biscuits
1 cup sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/3 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons milk
1 egg yolk
Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir in grated orange rind. Cut in butter until it is in fine particles. Add milk and egg yolk; stir until dough leaves sides of bowl. Turn out on prepared pastry cloth; knead lightly. Divide dough into 6 pieces. Roll each into a round that is about 1/4-inch thick; arrange over hot plum mixture and bake as directed in Plum Cobbler recipe.

Lemon Gives Fresh Flavor To Muffins

"Come for lunch. I won't fix anything special." You can say that and mean it when you dress up a simple meal with spring-fresh Lemon Muffins. They're made with whole wheat cereal, the kind with wheat germ added, that you have in your kitchen cabinet. Fresh lemons, both juice and peel, supply a new-season flavor, a kind of new spring hat, so to speak.
Muffins might be called a lazy cook's hot bread. You just put everything into a bowl and undermix. That's the trick. We always leave just a trace of the flour dry because by the time we have spooned them into pans, the lemon muffins are blended just enough.

If you have enough muffin pans, put the unbaked batter in them and store in the refrigerator about a half an hour before the guests come. Then, by baking one pan at a time, you can manage that nice easy "maid-in-the-kitchen" atmosphere of a steady supply of hot breads.
If, by some strange happenstance, you should have any delicious lemon whole wheat muffins left, don't forget to freeze them for another day.

Lemon Muffins
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup instant whole wheat cereal or 1/4 cup regular whole wheat cereal
1 tablespoon shredded lemon peel
1 egg
1/4 cup oil or melted shortening
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup milk
Heat oven to hot (400 degrees). Butter inside bottoms of muffin pans. Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking powder together. Mix cereal and lemon peel. Add to flour mixture. Beat egg, oil, lemon juice and milk. Add to dry ingredients. Stir only until ingredients are moistened. Fill muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake 20-25 minutes or until brown. (x)
Yield: 12 medium or 24 small muffins.
(x) These muffins can be frozen. To thaw, heat wrapped in a 400 degrees oven for 15 minutes. Then unwrap and heat 5-10 minutes or until hot but not dry.

Jiffy Meat Ball Stew Uses
New Convenience Ingredient

A little ground beef goes a long way in this new recipe in a short time ... half way around the world, in fact, for an exotic flavor born of rice, curry powder and canned tomato sauce with mushrooms. It's easy to prepare because much of the savor's already simmered into the new convenience ingredient - tomato sauce with mushrooms. Jiffy Meat Ball Stew is practically a meal in itself ... and a man - pleaser at that ... it contains meat, vegetable and starch ... in an aromatic sauce. All cooking is done in one utensil which makes for jiffy clean-up as well as jiffy preparation. Serve with crisp cole slaw pre-chilled in a scooped - out cabbage. Husky bread and honey is a natural accompaniment ... many eaters like to sop up the sauce! For a cooling desert, try orange sherbet.

Add Spice To Life
With Indian Pilaf

This is the time of year to add a little spice to life and go adventuring into the wonderful world of foreign foods. A family standby as simple as rice is turned into an exotic treat with this Indian Pilaf recipe. First the raw rice is sauteed in butter with cooked ham cubes until golden brown. Then it's simmered with savory chicken rice soup mix, nuts, raisins and three different spices until it's tender but firm, and full of rich flavor. A dish like this is ideal for luncheon. Or for a Far-Eastern family dinner, serve the pilaf with cucumber cubes mixed with yogurt as a green salad on the side. When planning a party, make the most of the pilaf's blend of oriental flavors by giving the whole menu an Indian theme. Chicken curry pairs well with the pilaf; serve them with chutney, chopped peanuts, sweet pickles, shredded coconut and chilled pineapple chunks. Then pour cups of hot brisk tea as a refreshing accompaniment to the meal. Guests will welcome this taste of colorful eastern cooking as a lively change from usual early spring fare.

Jiffy Meat Ball Stew
1 pound small white onions
6 carrots, peeled and cut in half
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 egg
1/3 cup uncooked rice
1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 (8 ounce) cans tomato sauce with mushrooms
1/4 cup uncooked rice
1 teaspoon curry powder
1/4 cup water
Cook onions and carrots in salted water until almost tender. Mix beef, egg, 1/3 cup rice, seasonings and 1/4 can tomato sauce with mushrooms. Heat oil in Dutch oven or skillet; drop meat mixture by tablespoons into oil. Add 1/4 cup rice, curry powder, remaining tomato sauce and water. Drain vegetables and add. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Purple Plum
Cobbler Is Easy To Fix

Ease personified is quite evident in the preparation of "Purple Plum Cobbler." Both canned purple plums and biscuit mix contribute to the "quickie" nature of this recipe. Simply pit the burgundy-hued plums, add them to their extra heavy syrup heated with lemon juice and sugar, drop spoonfuls of made-in-moments dough on top and bake 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm to savor the flavor fully. Save the leftover plum syrup to use as part of the liquid in fruit gelatin molds.

Purple Plum Cobbler
1 can (1 lb. 15 oz.) purple plum in extra heavy syrup
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup biscuit mix
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash nutmeg
1/3 cup light cream or half-and-half
Drain and pit plums, reserving 1/4 cup syrup. Heat syrup with 1/4 cup sugar and lemon juice until mixture comes to a boil. Turn into shallow baking dish and add plus. Combine remaining ingredients and mix to soft dough. Drop by spoonfuls onto hot plum mixture. Bake in 425-degree (hot) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm with cream or whipped cream if you wish. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

These Quick Tricks
Add Verve To Meals

Line muffin or custard cups with 2 or 3 slices partially cooked bacon, drop in egg. Bake until set.

Cook and drain broccoli, turn into shallow baking dish. Dot with butter or margarine, sprinkle with grated Parmesan, pepper and salt. Broil quickly until butter melts.

Bomb Threat Call Causes Evacuation

NEW YORK (AP) — A bomb threat forced evacuation of the New York Times building for an hour Wednesday night and delayed the second edition 40 minutes, a Times spokesman said.

The spokesman said a man told a Times telephone operator: "A bomb will go off in an hour in the pressroom."

About 700 employees left the building and remained outside while police searched the basement pressroom.

Peanuts Add Proteins To Every Course You Serve

Wishing you could think of some way to give old family favorites a new twist? New zip, good for a change? You can do it with peanuts. Peanuts are nutritionally enriched with protein and important B vitamins. Nutritionists list these little vegetable-nuts with the meat group in the Big Four Food Plan for healthy family meals.

Start by adding peanuts to old-fashioned, moist meat loaf. Our nutty new recipe goes from mixing to oven in a flat 5 minutes. Red-skinned Spanish peanuts added to creamy diced potatoes add protein value for traditional "just potato" eaters. Next time you fix cole slaw, toss in a handful of peanuts. Peanut oil, by the way, is an excellent salad oil for all your dressings. Bland by nature, it marries the flavor of seasonings, and exceptional clinging qualities bind dressing snugly to the salad. Our favorites round out with extra nutritional value in dessert. Ice cream sauces and cupcake frosting take honors when creamy peanut butter melts its protein-plus into basic old-fashioned recipes.

Creamed Spuds And Goobers

2 tablespoons peanut oil

2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon peanut butter
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 cup milk
1/2 cup Spanish peanuts
3 cups diced, cooked potatoes
Blend oil, flour, peanut butter, salt and pepper. Gradually stir in milk. Stir over low heat until thick and smooth. Stir in nuts. Pour over hot potatoes. Makes 4 servings.

Protein Plus Meat Loaf

1 pound lean ground beef
1 envelope dried onion soup mix
1 small can (2/3 cup) evaporated milk
1/2 cup crushed peanuts
2 tablespoons catsup, if desired
Mix all ingredients except catsup. Shape into loaf in oiled pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes. If desired, spread catsup over top 15 minutes before loaf is done. Let stand about 5 minutes before slicing. Serves 4.

Dixie Cole Slaw

2 cups finely chopped cabbage
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup salted peanut halves or chopped peanuts
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup peanut oil
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon salt
Toss to mix all ingredients well. Chill at least 1 hour before serving. Serves 4 to 6.

Peanut Butter Frosting

1/2 cup peanut butter
1/4 cup butter
1 pound package powdered sugar, sifted (about 4 1/2 cups)
About 6 tablespoons cream or evaporated milk
Blend butters. Add sugar alternately with cream. Blend until smooth. Makes enough to frost tops and sides of two 8 or 9-inch layers or 36 cup cakes.

Maple-Nut Sundae Sauce

1/2 cup peanut butter
1 cup maple syrup
Mix until smooth. Pour over orange sherbet or vanilla ice cream. Sprinkle each serving with chopped peanuts. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Hot Fudge-Nut Sauce

6 ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 small can (2/3 cup) evaporated milk
1/4 cup peanut butter
Stir over low heat until chocolate melts and mixture is smooth. Serve warm over ice cream, cake or pudding. Sprinkle each serving with chopped peanuts. Leftover sauce can be stored in the refrigerator and reheated over low heat. Add a little more milk if sauce is too thick. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Ham Utilizes New Glaze, Serve With Pickled Eggs

Post-Easter and springtime entertaining often calls for a glazed ham. Here is a new idea for a sweet-sour glaze, which utilizes bottled lemon juice, honey and brown sugar. The mixture is boiled until thickened and then used to baste the ham during the last 30 minutes of cooking time.

Serve with pickled eggs — an old-fashioned recipe which may have been your grandmother's favorite. These eggs are pickled in versatile bottled lemon juice, rather than vinegar. The addition of beets gives them a delightful pink coloring.

Honey-Lemon Glazed Ham

1/2 or whole ready-to-eat Ham x 1/2 cup honey
1/4 cup bottled lemon juice
1 cup brown sugar

Place ham, fat side up, on rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in a 325 degree oven 15 to 18 minutes per pound. Combine honey, bottled lemon juice and brown sugar; boil until slightly thickened. Baste ham three times during the last 30 minutes of cooking time with glaze.

x If a cook-before-eating ham is used increase time to 20 to 25 minutes per pound.

Lemon-Pickled Eggs

1 1-pound can sliced beets
1 cup bottled lemon juice
1/4 cup sugar

1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon mixed pickling spices
6 hard-cooked eggs, peeled
1 medium onion, sliced
Drain beets, reserving liquid. Combine liquid, lemon juice, sugar, salt and spices in a glass bowl or jar. Stir until sugar dissolves. Add beets, eggs and onions. Cover. Chill overnight before serving. Drain. Makes 6 servings.

Anjou Pears Combine With Bleu Cheese

Fresh Anjou pears make this enticing spring salad! Each pear half is filled with a delicious chicken mixture and served with cool, tangy bleu cheese dressing. Arranged on a platter, this makes one of the prettiest salads to grace a luncheon or buffet table and it's wonderfully easy to put together.

Shortly before serving time, line a platter with crisp salad greens. Halve fresh pears, remove centers and sprinkle with lemon juice to prevent darkening. Since many Anjou pears now in the markets are especially large, each will easily serve two. Heap a generous amount of chicken salad in the pear centers. Pass Creamy Bleu Cheese Dressing.

Fresh Anjou pears will be in good supply well into May. Notice they are green in color even when ripe, and you'll generally find them juicy and ready to eat in the markets. The test for ripeness is to press the pears gently at the stem end; if they yield slightly they are ready to eat. If not, they will ripen in a few days when placed in a fruit bowl and kept at room temperature.

The cool tangy flavor of fresh Anjou pears makes them delightful for salads, desserts and out-of-hand eating. In addition, they are an excellent choice for baking and broiling. Enjoy Anjous often now that they are among the best fruit buys!

Pear Chicken Salad

With Bleu Cheese Dressing
3 fresh Anjou pears
Lemon juice
Crisp salad greens
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1/2 cup diced celery
1/4 cup diced green pepper
1/4 teaspoon salt

Halve and core pears; sprinkle with lemon juice. Arrange on platter lined with salad greens. Toss remaining ingredients gently with light coating of creamy bleu cheese dressing. Heap in centers of pear halves and pass additional creamy bleu cheese dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Creamy Bleu Cheese Dressing

1 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
Crumble bleu cheese into mixing bowl and beat with mixer at low speed, gradually adding salad oil. Beat until smooth. Add remaining ingredients slowly and beat until thoroughly mixed. Refrigerate until serving time.

Peanut Butter Pie

Unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

1 cup corn syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup creamy or chunk style, peanut butter
Mix filling ingredients together, adding peanut butter last. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in 400 degree F. (hot) oven 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. (moderate) and bake 30 to 35 minutes longer. Filling should appear slightly less set in center, than around edge.

ORANGE-COCONUT CAKE IS GAY; RECIPE GIVEN

Orange-Coconut Cake

3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 large egg yolks
3 whole large eggs
1 cup fresh orange juice
Fluffy White Frosting
1 cup shredded fresh or canned flaked coconut

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, sugar, orange and lemon rind. Beat in egg yolks and whole eggs, one at a time. Add flour mixture alternately with orange juice. Turn into 2 well-greased, lightly floured 9 by 9 by 2-inch cake pans. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Place cake in pans on wire rack for 10 minutes. Turn out and cool. Spread Fluffy White Frosting over one layer. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup coconut. Top with remaining cake layer and frost top and sides with remaining frosting. Sprinkle rest of coconut on the top.

Scramble Eggs With Cheeses

Two-Cheese Scrambled Eggs

1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of white pepper
1 1/2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup cream style cottage cheese
2 tablespoons finely diced cheddar cheese
Beat eggs slightly with salt and pepper. Melt butter in an 8-inch skillet. Add eggs and cook over moderately low heat, stirring often, until almost set. Quickly stir in cheese. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

Yeast Bread Doughs Yield Two Recipes

Yeast is a remarkable little plant, for when it feeds on sugar, dough rises! When yeast is mixed with bread dough, it feeds on sugar, grows and produces small gas bubbles which become trapped in a framework of flour gluten. Kneading or beating has developed the gluten in the dough.

Refrigerator Bread Sticks

2 cakes compressed or 2 pkg. dry yeast

1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
1/2 cup shortening
1/3 cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
4 to 4 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1 egg
3/4 cup whole wheat flour
1 1/2 cups oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. (Use warm water for dry yeast.) Pour scalded milk over shortening, sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup flour and egg. Add softened yeast, whole wheat flour and oats. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; knead until smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover; let rise in refrigerator until double in size, at least 2 hours.

Punch dough down; brush with melted shortening; cover and refrigerate overnight. Dough can be kept refrigerated 3 to 4 days and used as desired.

Remove portion to be used from refrigerator. Allow to stand at room temperature about 1 hour. Pull off small pieces of dough and roll to form sticks about 8 inches long. Place on greased cookie sheets. Brush with egg mixture made by combining 1 egg white and 2 tablespoons water. Sprinkle with coarse salt. Let rise in warm place until nearly double in size, about 30 minutes. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 4 dozen sticks.

Crusty French bread is popular with everyone, and a fresh little loaf for two is sure to please! Water is used instead of milk for the hard crust, open texture and French bread flavor.

Miniature French Breads

1 1/4 cups lukewarm water
3 tablespoons melted shortening, cooled
1 1/2 teaspoons salt

3 to 3 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Soften yeast in lukewarm water in large bowl. (Use warm water for dry yeast.) Add shortening, salt and 1 cup flour to softened yeast. Add oats. Stir in enough more flour to make a stiff dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; knead until smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in size, about 1 1/2 hours.

Punch dough down; cover and let rest 10 minutes. Divide dough into 3 parts. Shape each part to form a loaf about 6 inches long. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet. Make diagonal slashes 2 inches apart on top. Let rise uncovered about 1 hour.

Brush with water. Set pan of hot water on top shelf of oven. Bake breads in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Remove from oven; brush with egg mixture made by combining 1 egg white and 2 tablespoons water. Return to oven and bake about 25 additional minutes or until golden brown. Makes 3 small loaves.

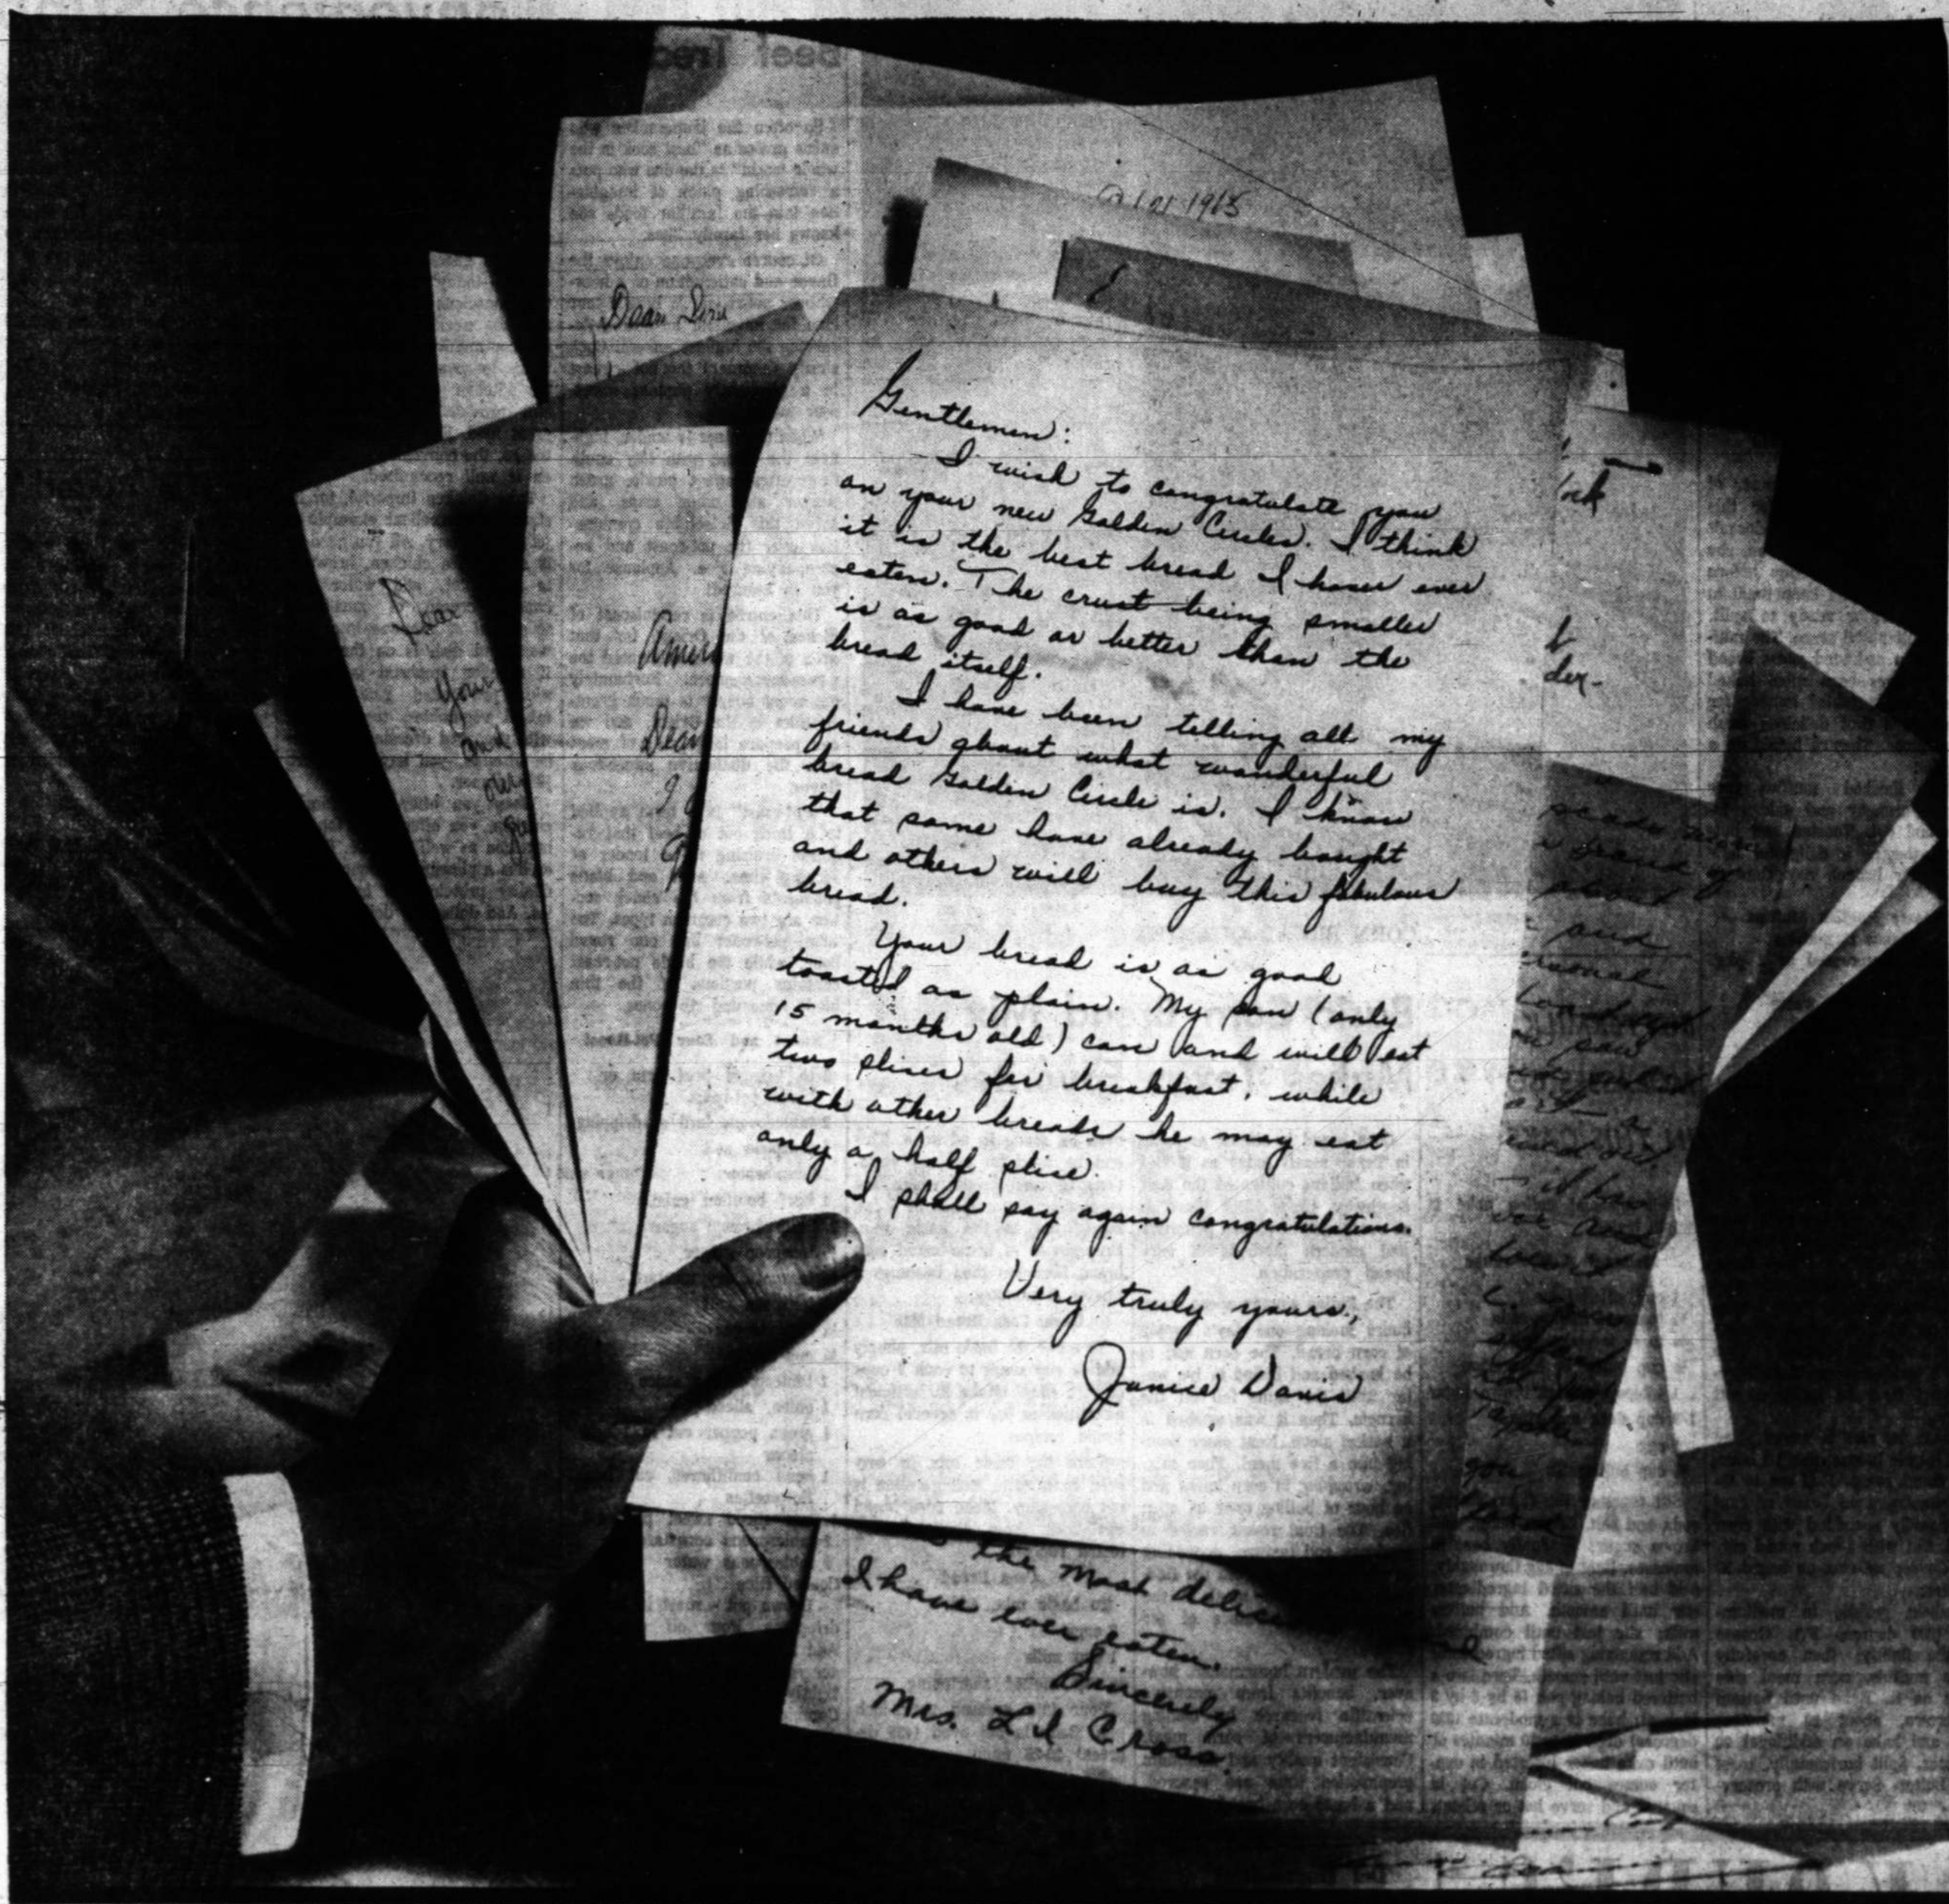

SALAD WEATHER WILL BE HERE: BETTER BE READY

Hearty portions of salad make the meal.

Tossed Chicken Salad

2 cups torn romaine
1/2 of a medium cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
1 shallot or green onion (scallion), thinly sliced
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon vinegar
Seasoning salt, salt and pepper to taste

Toss together all the ingredients. Serve at once. Makes 2 large servings.

Who in the world would write a fan letter to a loaf of bread?

Frankly, we are amazed at all the wonderful letters we have received about our new Golden Circles Bread.

We knew Golden Circles was special. Actually, it is the richest white bread we have ever baked, but never in all our years of baking have we received so many warm and wonderful letters from women about a loaf of bread.

We knew when we made Golden Circles that it was not just another round bread—we planned it that way. We made it with more milk solids, more shortening, and more spring wheat flour. This gives it that honest-to-goodness flavor, the kind only rich ingredients can give, and the kind of texture that is tender but good.

We added pure cane sugar because this helps to make for tenderer crusts and better toast.

Next time you shop pick up a loaf of Golden Circles and see if you don't feel like writing us a letter about it.

Taystee Golden Circles ... the bread that's richer all the way around!

Breakfast Comes Alive With Muffins

Everything comes to life in spring. Flowers poke up through the ground, tiny buds appear on trees and the sun's up to greet the early morning. It's the time of year to entertain with a colorful and delicious breakfast. Here's the menu:

Grapefruit Segments
on Bibb Lettuce
Choice of Ready-to-Eat Cereal
Scrambled Eggs with Ham
Toasty English Muffins
Strawberry Preserves
Coffee — Milk

English muffins must, of course, be homemade for this special brunch. If mom doesn't want to get up with the sun, she can bake them the day before her breakfast and keep them in the refrigerator ready to split, toast, butter and serve. The muffins are a no-knead yeast bread that features corn meal baked inside and sprinkled outside for crunch and that delicious fresh corn flavor. They're baked on a griddle!

The finished muffins are chewy, crunchy and golden inside and out. Toasted and buttered, they're a delightful new recipe for brunch any time of year.

Toasty English Muffins
Makes 12 muffins

1 cake compressed or 1 pkg. dry yeast
1/4 cup lukewarm water
1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup enriched corn meal

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. (Use warm water for dry yeast.) Pour scalded milk over sugar, salt and butter. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup flour. Add softened yeast and corn meal, mixing well. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes with a wooden spoon. Beat in remaining flour to make a soft dough.

Cover; let rise in warm place until double in size, about 1 hour. Stir dough down. Roll out to 1/4-inch thickness on board or canvas heavily sprinkled with corn meal. Cut with 3-inch round cutter. Cover; let rest on board 30 minutes.

Preheat griddle to medium-hot (300 degrees F.). Grease griddle lightly; then carefully place muffins, corn meal side down on it. Bake until bottom is brown, about 20 minutes; turn and bake an additional 20 minutes. Split horizontally, toast and butter. Serve with preserves.

CORN BREAD QUARTET

BUTTERMILK, MOLASSES GO IN THIS CAKE

This unusual coffee cake is worth trying.

Molasses Coffee Cake

1 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1/3 cup dark molasses
1 egg
1/4 cup buttermilk

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream butter and brown sugar; gradually beat in molasses. Beat in egg thoroughly. Add half the sifted ingredients; stir until smooth. Add buttermilk; stir just until combined. Add remaining sifted ingredients; stir just until smooth. Turn into a buttered baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cut in squares and serve hot or reheated.

Basic Corn Bread Mix Makes Texas Favorites

Corn bread is almost as basic in Texas meals today as it was when Indians cultivated the arid Southwest plains. But there is no comparison between primitive and modern methods of corn bread preparation.

The Indian woman spent many hours making one day's supply of corn bread. The corn had to be husked and boiled in lye water until the skins fell off the kernels. Then it was washed in a basket sieve. Next came beating into a fine meal. Then mixing, wrapping in corn husks and an hour of boiling over an open fire. The final result varied in goodness and texture, depending on several factors from the fineness of the corn meal to the fluctuating temperature of the fire.

The modern homemaker, however, benefits from extensive scientific research by leading manufacturers of corn meal. Consistent quality and minimum preparation time are assured, and a basic corn bread mix can even be made in advance. This can be used for several variations of corn bread which are created by the addition of a few ingredients to the basic mix. Preparation of home-baked corn bread favorites then becomes a matter of minutes.

Basic Corn Bread Mix

To make the basic mix, simply add 1/4 cup sugar to each 2 cups of corn meal. Make in sufficient quantities to use in several corn bread recipes.

Store the basic mix in covered containers. Refrigeration is not necessary. Make corn bread variations from the following tested recipes.

Corn Bread

To basic mix, add:
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1/4 cup melted shortening

Pour into greased 9x9x2-inch pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 20-25 minutes.

Corn Muffins

To basic mix, add:
2 eggs
1 1/4 cups milk
1/4 cup melted shortening

Fill greased muffin pans 3/4 full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 25 minutes.

Corn Bread Sticks

To basic mix, add:
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Pour into greased, pre-heated corn-stick pan. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 25 minutes.

Sweet-Sour Sauce Makes Beef Treat

So often the homemaker who earns praise as "best cook in the whole world" is the one who puts a refreshing pinch of imagination into the familiar foods she knows her family likes.

Of course everyone enjoys the flavor and satisfaction of a hearty beef pot-roast, so here's your clue for unveiling an entree deserving the highest esteem. Cook slowly (simmer) the pot - roast in a pleasantly piquant sweet-sour sauce.

When the meat is tender, highlight the sauce with tiny cauliflowerettes, sweet pickle, green pepper and onion rings, and serve this delectable combination over the pot-roast and accompanying rice. Applause for you is assured!

This entree is reminiscent of dishes of the Orient; for that area of the world originated the sweet-sour sauce. Fortunately our meat supply is much greater than in the Orient, and we can prepare large cuts of meat with the distinctive sweet-sour flavor.

"Pot-roast" is a term applied to a thick cut of beef that requires braising to be tender at serving time. Arm and blade pot-roasts from the chuck section are two common types. The arm pot-roast has one round bone, while the blade pot-roast contains portions of the thin blade bone and rib bones.

Sweet and Sour Pot-Roast

3 to 4-pound beef arm or blade pot-roast
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup water
1 beef bouillon cube
2/3 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup catsup
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 onion, sliced
1 green pepper cut in 1-inch pieces
1 head cauliflower, cut into flowerettes
1/2 cup sliced sweet pickles
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons water

Cooked Rice

Brown pot - roast in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup water, and bouillon cube. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours. Combine brown sugar, ginger, dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, vinegar, catsup, soy sauce and onion. Add to meat and continue cooking 1 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender.

Cook cauliflowerettes in boiling water 5 minutes. Drain thoroughly. Add cauliflowerettes, green pepper and sweet pickle to pot - roast. Cook 5 minutes. Remove pot-roast to heater platter.

Mix together cornstarch and 2 tablespoons water. Add to cooking liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Serve vegetables and sauce with pot - roast and rice. 6 to 8 servings.

Chicken Imperial Is Fast Convenience Supper Meal

We live in a pretty zippy age. You can fly from coast to coast in five hours, develop a home snapshot in seconds, and put through a direct dial phone call to any part of the country.

Whether all this time saved will be put to good advantage is anyone's guess, but one fact is certain—today's homemaker is a time-conscious lady. Chances are that she works or devotes time to community activities. She wants to spend as little time in the kitchen as necessary—and still provide her family with great food. For homemakers on the go, the convenience of chicken is well recognized.

Take Chicken Imperial, for instance—an excellent example of jet age cookery. All you need do is season the chicken, brown it in a skillet, add water and canned cream of mushroom soup—and 40 minutes later this wonderful dish is on the table. If Chicken Imperial is served with pre-cooked rice, frozen mixed vegetables, tossed salad with prepared dressing and frozen biscuits, you have a superb jiffy dinner.

When you offer your family chicken, you offer them tops in nutrition as well as taste. Chicken has a pleasing amount of top-quality protein—and few calories. And dollar for dollar, chicken offers more value than just about any other popular meat.

Today, many of us are so busy that, like the character in "Alice in Wonderland," we have to rush and rush just to keep in the same place. For the homemaker who puts a premium on her valuable time, chicken is a most valuable bird.

Chicken Imperial

1 broiler fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
1 teaspoon Accent
1 teaspoon salt, divided
1/2 teaspoon pepper

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup water
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
Sprinkle chicken with Accent, salt and pepper. Place chicken, skin side down, in melted butter in skillet. Brown, turning once. Remove. Add water, scraping brown particles. Gradually stir in mushroom soup. Add chicken pieces. Cover and cook over low heat until chicken is tender, about 40 minutes. Serve with hot cooked rice.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Fruit Is Added To Rice Pudding

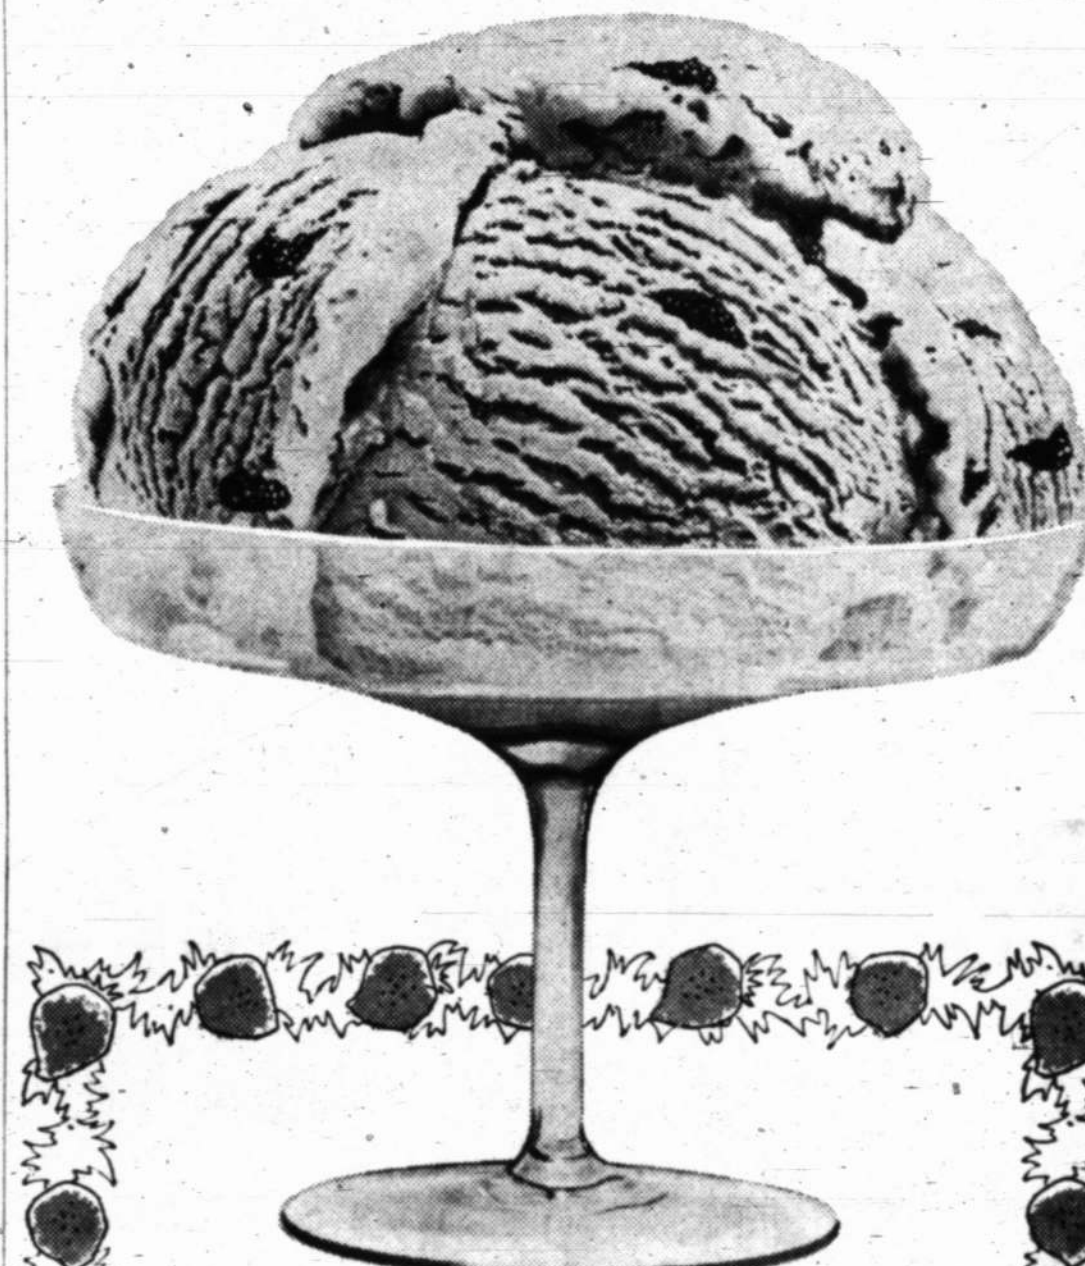

Rice pudding has long been a favorite of young and old alike. The addition of fruit adds a refreshing note. And when you add five fruits, it's just about five times as refreshing. That's what happens when the five fruits in canned fruit cocktail — Cling peaches, pears, pineapple, maraschino cherries — and seedless green grapes — are added to "Fruited Rice Pudding."

2/3 cup packaged pre-cooked rice
2/3 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup miniature marshmallows

Drain fruit cocktail, reserving 2/3 cup syrup. Combine rice, syrup, water and salt in saucepan; stir to moisten rice. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat; let stand, covered, 10 minutes. Add fruit cocktail and lemon juice. Chill. Whip cream, sugar and vanilla until stiff. Fold cream and marshmallows into rice mixture. Chill 1 hour before serving.

Makes 6 servings.

Borden's Strawberries 'n Cream ICE CREAM

Suppose you knew a secret berry patch where you could pick juicy bright strawberries at their sweetest moment. Slice and marble them through velvety-smooth vanilla ice cream. Then you'd know how Borden's Strawberries 'n Cream came to be so delicious. Borden's—the ice cream with that old-fashioned freezer flavor.

Fish For Seafoods In Freezer Section

Supermarket anglers know there's one place where the fish-in is always fine—the frozen food cabinet. Year in and year out, your favorite fish and shellfish are always plentiful, quick-frozen to seal in their fresh-caught goodness. You'll also find many of your favorite fish dishes—even complete seafood dinners—already prepared and frozen, for last-minute heating before serving.

Among the most popular members of the frozen seafood family are crisp, golden-brown fried fish fillets and steaks. They're already dipped in batter and breaded, and pre-cooked for you. All that's left is brief heating in the oven or broiler to complete browning. Frozen fried shrimp, clams and scallops are also available prepared, ready to just heat and serve.

For sparkling luncheons and dinners, try a combination platter of frozen prepared seafoods, served with a nippy dip sauce such as the one suggested here. And nothing complements these assorted seafoods better than frozen French fries.

Frozen Seafood

Assortment With Nippy Dip
1 package frozen deviled crabs
1 package frozen sea scallops
1 package frozen fried shrimp
1 package frozen fried fish fillets
1 package frozen fried clam sticks
1 package frozen French fried potatoes
1/2 cup catsup
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon curry powder

Be sure all seafoods are of the pre-cooked heat-and-serve variety; heat in hot oven as packages direct. For dip sauce, combine remaining ingredients, mix well and heat slightly to blend flavors. Arrange dramatically in interesting dishes and let guests select their favorites. Yield: 6-8 servings.

Dessert In A Hurry

Prepare instant or regular pudding, chill. Whip pudding with a rotary beater, then fold in whipped topping or crumbled macaroons, stiffly whipped cream. Serve in a stemmed glass with a maraschino cherry garnish.

FRUIT SALAD-DESSERT MOLD

Festive Dessert Omelet Is Easy To Fix With Recipes

The omelet and the souffle have long been shunned by novice cooks and shied away from by experts due to the erroneous impression that professional skill is required to produce them.

Now, however, the delights of a sweet souffle omelet after a light lunch or supper can be enjoyed by anyone who can follow simple directions. They are easy and quick to make, lighter in texture than a regular souffle and take less time to cook. Furthermore, the sweet souffle is a spectacular dessert, firm and golden on the outside, light and dreamy in the center, sometimes crowned with an airy meringue or brought to the table auflame.

The simple requirements for a basic souffle omelet are fresh eggs, butter, sugar and a scrupulously clean skillet or fry pan with a smooth, unscarred bottom. Pans made of stainless steel with aluminum-clad bottoms insure the even heat spread that produces proper browning without scorching. The handles are heat resistant for oven cooking and there is a dome shaped cover for use when a top of the stove souffle omelet is preferred. Here is a delightful example of the omelet flambe, together with some success tips.

Festive Souffle Omelet

Serves 6
Preheat oven to 375 degrees
Ingredients:
8 eggs (separated (reserve eggshells for flaming later)
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons butter
Rum or vanilla extract
Method:

Melt butter in pan. Beat egg whites with pinch of salt and one tablespoon of the sugar until stiff and glossy. With same beater, beat egg yolks until thick, gradually adding remaining sugar. Add vanilla. Fold egg whites into yolk mixture. Pour into skillet. Press eggshell halves cup-fashion into top of souffle and bake 16 to 18 minutes. Sprinkle with sugar. Just before serving pour heated rum or vanilla extract into shells and flame.

Fruit Surprise Souffle Omelet

Serves 2
7 inch pan
Preheat oven to 450 degrees
Ingredients:
6 egg whites
4 egg yolks
1 tablespoon finely granulated sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon orange juice
2 oranges, peeled and separated into sections
Confectioners sugar
Method:

Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry; beat sugar and orange juice with egg yolks until yolks are thick. The color will be pale. Now fold half of the beaten egg whites into the yolks with great care. The remaining whites can be folded in lightly and rather carelessly.

Pour the mixture into a buttered fry pan and bake in 450 degree oven for 10 minutes. When done, cover half of omelet with sections of orange and sift on about a tablespoon of confectioners sugar. Fold the omelet, turn it out on a pretty platter, sift on more sugar and arrange more orange sections around the edge. Serve quickly.

Note: If you wish to double this recipe, use a ten inch pan.

SUCCESS TIPS:
1. Beat egg whites with a pinch of salt until peaks are formed. Slowly add one tablespoon sugar and continue beating until stiff and glossy. (The addition of sugar gives more stiffness and body.) Do not beat egg whites to dry stage—some lightness and moisture is desirable.
2. Beat egg yolks and sugar until thick and lemon colored. Mixture falling into bowl from lifted beater should form a ribbon on the surface.
3. Fold egg whites into yolks. This is done by first folding half of beaten egg whites thoroughly into yolks, then piling the rest of whites on top and folding in lightly. No need to be too thorough here; use a rubber scraper.

Bacon Hors d'oeuvres

- (1) Cheese and bacon roll. Spread bacon slices with thin slices of cheese. Roll up and fasten with toothpick. Broil or bake in hot (400 degree F.) oven just before serving.
- (2) Small chunks of braunschweiger wrapped with bacon. Broil just before serving.
- (3) Pre-cooked chicken livers wrapped in bacon. Saute or broil.
- (4) Stuffed olives wrapped with bacon. Broil and serve on toothpicks.
- (5) Pre-cooked shrimp wrapped in uncooked bacon, sauteed or broiled.
- (6) Uncooked oysters marinated in lemon juice wrapped with uncooked bacon, sauteed or broiled.
- (7) Bacon, pineapple, olive on toothpick, using a curl of cooked bacon, a pineapple chunk and a stuffed olive.
- (8) Place strip of bacon on oblong soda cracker. Bake on broiler rack in hot (400 degree F.) oven for 10 minutes or until bacon is crisp.

Fruit Salad Doubles As Dessert Dish

A cool, shimmering mold is always the showpiece of the meal. This brand new notion in gel cookery offers one basic recipe that becomes a salad course or dessert course, according to its accompaniment.

The presto-chango technique begins with a handsome mold of mixed canned fruits encased in gleaming lemon jelly. Serve on a platter of leafy green vegetables, accompany with nippy lemon curry dressing, and you have a sensational salad course. Serve on a platter bordered with fruit, accompany with a little bowl of whipped cream, and you come up with a refreshing ideal dessert. Wherever the dish finds itself on the menu, it is sure to please—the mold is sparkling, handsome, and most delicious.

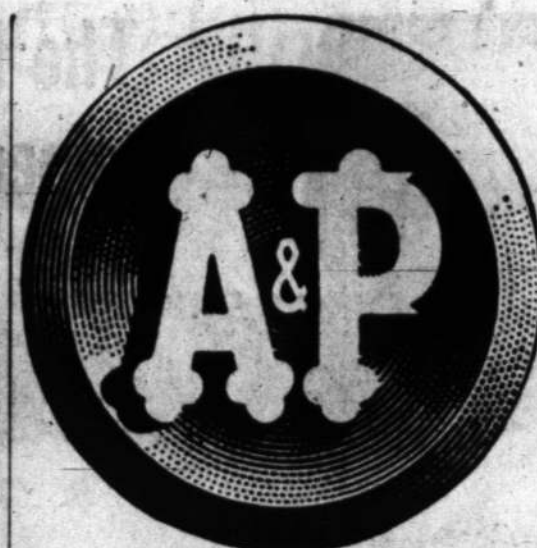

Thanks to the presence of reliable unflavored gelatin on the ingredients list, there is little cooking involved—only the length of time required to dissolve the gelatin. Mix the ingredients as directed and let the refrigerator do the rest of the work. Because this kind of gelatin is colorless and adds no flavor of its own, it permits all the true natural flavor of the fruits to come through—and the vivid tones of the mixed fruit.

Unmolding the mixture is a simple procedure. Simply dip the mold in warm (not hot) water to the depth of the gelatin. Loosen the edge with the tip of a paring knife. Place a serving dish on top of the mold and invert. Shake, holding the serving dish tightly to the mold. If the gelatin does not unmoil, readily, repeat the procedure.

Try the Fruit-Salad Dessert Mold as a salad, try it as a dessert. Either way, this delectable dish is tops in gel cookery.

Fruit Salad-Dessert Mold

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 1/4 cups cold water
1 can (6 ounces) lemonade concentrate, kept frozen
1 can (1 pound) fruit cocktail
Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in saucepan. Place over medium heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in frozen concentrate until melted. Stir in fruit with syrup. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from spoon.
Mix well and turn into 4-cup mold and chill until firm. Unmold onto serving platter. For salad, garnish with salad greens and relishes, and serve with Lemon Curry Dressing(x). For dessert, garnish with fresh or canned fruit, and serve with sweetened whipped cream.
YIELD: 6 servings.
(x) Lemon Curry Dressing
3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1 cup mayonnaise
3 tablespoons lemon juice (juice of 1 lemon)
Blend sugar, curry powder, and ginger into mayonnaise. Gradually blend in lemon juice. If desired, sprinkle with chopped parsley.
YIELD: Approximately 1 cup.

Maple Sugaring-Off Pie Is Good Bridge Dessert

Seasonings Accent Rock Lobster Tails

A devilish accent of seasonings complements the distinctive flavor of lobster in this recipe for Broiled Butterfly-Rock Lobster Tails. You'll find this method of preparation extremely easy, and the results delightfully different.

To thaw the frozen rock lobster tails, remove them from the freezer and let stand overnight on the refrigerator shelf. To butterfly them, use a sharp knife; turn the tails under side up and cut lengthwise almost to the end.

The National Fisheries Institute tells us that when cooked this way, there's no need to turn the lobster tails during broiling.

Broiled Butterfly Rock Lobster Tails

4 (5 to 7-ounce) frozen rock lobster tails
1/3 cup melted butter or margarine

2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash cayenne
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon onion salt

Thaw rock lobster tails. Cut away undershell and slice in half lengthwise, almost to end. Grasp tail in both hands and open flat; arrange on broiler pan. Combine melted butter with remaining ingredients; brush over lobster tails. Broil in preheated broiler about 4 inches from heat for 10 to 15 minutes, depending on size of lobster tails, brushing occasionally with butter mixture. Makes four servings.

Sugaring Off Pie is maple sweet with a hint of saltiness in a not-too-sweet crumb crust. A few salted peanuts account for the hint of salt. It's just right for sugaring off a dinner or an evening of bridge. Most dessert recipes that are suitable for a party call for expensive ingredients that you don't usually keep in the house. You'll be delighted to know that Sugaring-Off Pie doesn't include a single unusual ingredient. You'll find everything you need right in your kitchen unless the icebox raiders have gotten there first.

Prepare the crumbs of bite size shredded rice biscuits by placing them in a quart measuring cup. Crush the cereal with an ordinary water glass, mortar and pestle style. You'll have no crumbs on the counter or floor and will be able to mix all of the ingredients right in the measuring cup. Isn't it nice to be able to save cleanup and dishwashing time?

You'll also enjoy being able to make the dessert in the morning, refrigerate and forget all about it until evening. Forget all about it, that is, if your family is willing to wait until evening for delicious Sugaring-Off Pie.

Crust
2 2/3 cups bite size shredded rice biscuits crushed to 1/4 cup
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup finely chopped salted peanuts
3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine

2 teaspoons hot water
Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees). Butter 9-inch pie plate. Combine crumbs, sugar and peanuts. Add butter and water. Blend until uniform. With back of teaspoon, pack crumbs firmly and evenly onto bottom and sides of pie plate. Form an edge around top of crust, not on rim of plate. Bake 10 minutes. Cool.

Filling
2/3 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1 cup maple-flavored syrup
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon maple extract

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Gradually stir in milk and syrup. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils. Gradually beat at least half of hot mixture into egg yolks. Blend egg yolks into remaining hot mixture. Cook and stir over low heat until mixture is very thick and will mound when dropped from a spoon. Remove from heat. Add butter and maple extract. Mix well. Cool slightly. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until firm. To serve, garnish with whipped cream and peanuts.

Yield: 1 (9-inch) pie.

Put Wild Rice Under Seafood For Treat

Seafood Newburg With Wild Rice
1/2 cup wild rice

Favorite Spot

A favorite spot for a colorful floral arrangement is a console table. With a mirror behind the arrangement, the over-all appearance of the flowers and their reflection gives you "double your money's worth" of beauty.

1 package (6 ounces) frozen lobster newburg
1 package (6 ounces) frozen king crab meat, thawed and drained
Cook the wild rice according to package directions or your own favorite method. Heat the lobster newburg according to package directions for double-boiler heating; about 10 minutes before the lobster is ready, add the crab meat. Serve over the hot cooked drained wild rice. Makes 4 servings.

Pour Mushroom Gravy On Top Egg Croquettes

It's amazing how canned convenience foods can pep up meals. Take, for instance, canned mushroom gravy. Ready to use from your pantry shelf, it's the perfect meatless accompaniment for eggs in any shape or form.

Popular egg croquettes are extra moist and flavorful when made with canned mushroom gravy. Take 1/4 cup gravy right from the can... mix with the hard-cooked eggs and seasonings. Roll the croquettes in crushed walnuts and bread crumbs and brown in butter. Delicious... but here's the best part. The remaining gravy is heated with sweet pickle relish and mustard for zip... and poured over the croquettes. It makes a wonderful dinner the family will love.

Garnish the platter with sliced peaches. Serve with a tossed salad, brown and serve hearth rolls, and whipped gelatin with custard sauce.

Egg Croquettes

With Mushroom Gravy

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) mushroom gravy
8 finely chopped hard-cooked eggs
1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
Generous dash pepper
1/3 cup finely chopped walnuts
1/4 cup shortening
1 small clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
Thoroughly mix 1/4 cup gravy with eggs, bread crumbs, onion, parsley, and seasonings. Form into 6 croquettes. Roll in nuts and additional bread crumbs. In skillet, brown slowly in shortening until heated. Meanwhile in saucepan, cook garlic in butter; add remaining gravy, relish, and mustard. Heat, stirring now and then. Serve over croquettes. Makes 3 servings.

SWEET HOT BREAD WILL ELIMINATE NEED FOR DESSERT

Sweet Twists

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup enriched white corn meal
2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1/3 cup milk
1/3 cup orange juice
Orange Filling
Sift together the flour, corn meal, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until particles are fine. Gradually add milk, then orange juice, stirring lightly until mixture is dampened. (If necessary, add a little more milk to make a soft dough.) Turn out on prepared pastry cloth; knead gently a few seconds. Roll dough to form a 12 by 10-inch rectangle. Spread with Orange Filling. Fold in half so filling is together. Cut into 12 strips, 1-inch wide. Take hold of each end of a strip and twist tightly in opposite directions. Seal ends firmly. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet 1 inch apart in hot (425 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 1 dozen.

Orange Filling: Gradually beat 2/3 cup sifted confectioners sugar and the grated rind of 1 orange into 3 tablespoons soft butter.

➡ GOOD AND EASY way to get more protein, less fat, more calcium and minerals from milk! Switch to FAIRMONT 2% FORTIFIED SKIM MILK!

GOOD tasting and EASY on the budget

It's so good to know—so easy to be sure you are providing the ideal milk for your family—when you serve Fairmont 2% Fortified Skim Milk. Every glass-full contains more protein, more calcium and minerals than regular and skim milk—and has less fat than regular milk. What's more, Fairmont 2% not only has a rich, full-bodied sweet milk taste, but it costs less than regular milk. Pick up several half-gallons of Fairmont 2% Fortified Skim Milk—soon. Serve it to your family—use it for cooking, too.
