REVAMP PENDING NEW DEAL BILLS

PARENTS "READY", ABDUCTORS TOLD

Kidnap Victim

Seized by kidnapers on his way home from school in Tacoma, Wash., George Weyerhaeuser, 9, above, is held prisoner by kidnapers for $200,000 ransom. His father, John P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr., multi-millionaire lumberman, is reported ready to pay the sum at once for the boy's release.

Insert Ads in Paper To Establish a Contact Today

TACOMA, May 28, (AP)—Ready to negotiate with the kidnapers of their son, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser today contacted his abductors through classified ad columns of a Seattle newspaper, saying, "We are ready. Percy, Minnie." The kidnapers had demanded $200,000 ransom.

The search for the kidnapers of George Weyerhaeuser, 9, extended across the international boundary today with officers considering "remnants of the Alvin Karpis and Machine Gun Kelly gangs" as possible suspects.

Gave Five Days

The heir to a lumber fortune was kidnaped Friday noon and the abductor's note, signed "Egoist," gave his parents five days to comply with demands for the ransom.

The note bore ominous similarities to those in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping.

It was believed the meeting of officials and members of the child's family in the offices of the Weyerhaeuser company was to determine the next step for the boy's recovery.

Money Not Raised

A banker, close to the family, who asked his name be withheld, said Monday that the family had been "working 24 hours a day since last Friday, but that they had not succeeded in raising the money."

The hurried conference took place at the Weyerhaeuser office shortly after the family had firmly requested the federal operatives to cease their "interferenc."

"We most earnestly ask you not to interfere further," the family informed the government agents. "If you refuse to do this, it will bring all our efforts to naught."

Second Message

An interpretation placed upon the request was that the kidnapers may have contacted the parents with a second message in the flood of letters, telephone calls and special delivery messages deluging the Weyerhaeuser residence.

Shortly after noon, F. Rodney Titcomb, uncle of the missing child, who was kidnaped Friday noon, entered the Weyerhaeuser home and it was believed he might have been disignated as a "contact man."

The boy's father and F. Marfield Bolcom, of Seattle, a family friend, were known to be inside.

MISS MILLER, CO. DEM. AGENT HERE, RESIGNS HER POST

The resignation of Miss Myrtle Miller as county home demonstration agent was accepted by the commissioners' court Monday. Miss Miller is resigning her post here to return to school at CIA.

She came to Midland about two years ago as demonstration agent for a tri-county area. Later she confined her work to Martin and Midland counties and since March 1 of this year has been full-time agent for this county. Demonstration work has shown expansion and progress under her direction and county clubs have been active, both among women and girls.

Miss Miller's successor has not yet been named.

Two Softball Games Scheduled Tonight

Two games of softball are on schedule tonight for the first time this season. They are both practice games as the league season does not start until next Monday night.

In the first game the Southern Ice team will tangle with the Gulf club and in the aftermath the Hughes Tool team will try to defeat the Hardware.

The Southern Ice team has lost one and won one in the two practice sessions they have played so far while the Gulfers have their first game to win yet as they have lost the only two games they have played so far—both to the Hardware.

The Hardware team has three victories to their credit so far but it will be the initial appearance for the Hughes club.

The first game will start at 7:45 and the second as soon as it is over.

OFFICERS ELUDE MOB WITH NEGRO

DALLAS, May 28, (AP).—Alex Bridgewater, negro ex-convict, who assertedly attacked a white woman near Wilmer, Dallas county, was rescued from a Wilmer mob today and rushed to Dallas.

The negro was shot in the shoulder before officers could get him out of Wilmer. City Marshal Bob Atwell had arrested the negro but the mob acted before the officer could slip him out of town.

Salesman Testifies In His Own Defense

SAN ANGELO, May 28, (AP).—Taking the stand late Monday afternoon in his trial in 51st district court here on a charge of murder without malice n the death of Mrs. Ella Mae Barbian, 22, of Abilene, C. M. Akard, Abilene traveling hardware salesman, testified the accident in which Mrs. Barbian as fatally injured was "unavoidable."

Mrs. Barbian, whom Akard testified accompanied him to a night club near San Angelo on the Ballinger highway, was struck by an automobile on the highway about 200 yards from the resort on the night of last December 15. She died several hours later in a hospital here, Akard's arrest following.

World's Most Famous Babies Celebrate First Birthday

It's a red-letter day at the Dionnes, as the quins celebrate a truly happy birthday. Cecile, left, and Yvonne, center, are evidently crying out the infantile equivalent of "whoopee." The general confusion makes Marie, second from left, register alarm with a big "A" and Emelie and Annette seem to be chewing this birthday thing over.

CITY-WIDE TRADES DAY IS PLANNED BY MERCHANTS, WITH INDUCEMENTS OFFERED ENTIRE TRADE TERRITORY

Midland merchants want a city-wide trades day each month! That was the unanimous opinion of the large group that attended a meeting at the chamber of commerce offices this morning to work out a plan for the inauguration of a unified program of merchandising activities for a period of one year.

A committee headed by George Philippus will canvass the entire business district of Midland this week in an attempt to familiarize each merchant with the details of the plan and to solicit the co-operation of each one.

Definite announcement of the various details will appear in an early issue of The Reporter - Telegram, such details to be worked out by the canvassing committee based on the ideas advanced at the meeting this morning.

At least $200.00 in cash prizes will be given away by the participating merchants each month and it is expected that people from all over this section will be drawn to Midland as a trading point as the amount is large enough to induce them to come here, together with the values in merchandise to be offered.

Gratification was expressed by the proponents of the idea for the harmony that existed among those present. Those merchants who have individual or group plans said they were willing to dispose of them as quickly as possible if a workable plan were substituted and a majority of the business houses joined to make it a success.

It was suggested that a contract form be drawn up and that same would be binding on a merchant to participate in the plan for at least 12 months.

Funeral Services Held for Aged Man

Funeral services for George B. Wallace, 70, who died at El Campo Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, were held from the chapel of Ellis mortuary this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Pickering of the First Christian church officiated.

Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Wallace, with his wife and son, Robert B. Wallace, came to Midland a few days ago enroute from Tucson, Ariz., to Memphis, Tenn.

The surviving relatives are continuing on their journey eastward.

Will Present Spring Recital

Advanced students of the Watson school of music will be presented in their spring recital at the Methodist church tonight at 8 o'clock.

Grade school students held their recital at the same place and hour last night.

Variety will be stressed in the numbers composing the program, including both solo and ensemble work.

HAND INJURED

Mrs. Chas. Holzgraf sustained a painful injury today when her hand was caught in the wringer of a washing machine at her home. Prompt surgical attention showed that no bones were broken, the injury being only to the skin and flesh.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP). Denial of applications for permission to erect new radio stations at Midland and Big Spring was recommended to the communications commission today by Ralph L. Walker, examiner.

The Midland application was filed by Raymond L. Hughes and that at Big Spring by E. F. Houser and Clyde Miller. Both cities requested 100-watt power.

Walker said that neither Midland nor Big Spring received satisfactory broadcasts from any licensed stations but recommended denial on the ground that neither applicant gave sufficient assurance of financial ability to operate a station.

AUTO COLLISION FATAL TO THREE

DENTON, May 28, (AP)—An automobile collision on the highway north of Denton today killed Jim McCamey of Fort Worth, E. G. Adams of Montague county and an unidentified woman. All three were riding in a sedan which collided with a produce truck from Oklahoma City.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO OPEN MONDAY; ADOPT SCHEDULE

Final arrangements were made last night in a managers meeting for the starting of the Midland softball league games next Monday night.

A schedule was adopted by the managers that calls for the starting of the league season next Monday night and will end September 12. There will be a split season and the winners of the first and second halves will meet in a play-off at the end of the season unless both halves are won by the same team.

There will be two games played on each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights. The first games each night are scheduled to start at eight o'clock.

More power will be placed in the hands of the umpires this season than ever before. The managers unanimously agreed to give the chief arbiter the right to banish from the games any player who deliberately causes any delay in the games or whose conduct is such that the umpire feels he should be banished. The umpires are also to be given authority to forfeit any game when a club is not ready to start playing within fifteen minutes of the time scheduled for them to start.

Big Sheep Comeback

HELENA, Mont. (U.P.) — Rocky Mountain sheep, at one time nearly extinct in Montana, are making a comeback, Tom Peasley, assistant state fish and game warden, reported.

Quintuplets Are Year Old Today; Hold Celebration

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28. (U.P.)—Today five of the world's most noted misses achieve a world record. The Dionne quintuplets celebrate their first birthday.

It is a big day for this tiny northern Ontario hamlet. There are dignitaries of state, church and the medical world to make their day memorable.

One year ago the five came into the world unexpected. The miracle of their continued, healthy life is unique in history; therefore Canada proposed a really rousing celebration of the event.

Many Presents

Presents by the score, sent from the far corners of the earth, have arrived for the babies and are being opened by their nurses, Madame Louise De Kiriline, Yvonne Leroux and Patricia Mullens, while Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the physician who delivered them in the drab, frame cottage home of their parents, Oliva and Elzire Dionne, a year ago, looked on with pride and evident joy.

Most attractive presents, at least to the recipients, will probably be five small, icing-coated birthday cakes, each bearing one bright candle, and with the names, Yvonne, Cecile, Marie, Emilie and Annette, written in flowing script across the tops. Although they will not get even one small piece of the delicacy, they will be given at least the privilege of seeing them.

After all the presents have been opened all the officials formally introduced, and congratulations extended to Dr. Dafoe, the nurses and the babies, they will be put to bed for their afternoon nap, just as on any other day.

World Radio Broadcast

Feature of the formalities planned for their birthday will be an international radio broadcast to carry full description of the birthday to a listening world. Speakers scheduled are Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, leader of the Ontario government; Welfare Minister David Croll, chief guardian and official "protector" of the quintuplets—now wards of his Majesty King George V; Judge J. A. Valin, veteran North Bay, Ont., jurist, now retired, chairman of the board of guardians of the babies appointed by the government, and others.

Present also at the celebration are the proud "Papa and Mama" Dionne; Oliver Dionne, the girls' grandfather.

During the broadcast the famous babies themselves will probably take turns at the mike—and everybody here hopes they will oblige with a few coos and ahs for their admirers.

Only gloom cast over the gay celebration is the knowledge that Nurse Madame De Kiriline and Yvonne Leroux were spending their last two days at the Dafoe hospital, home of the babies since shortly after their births, and named in honor of Dr. Dafoe.

Nuns Take Charge

The two nurses, Red Cross workers, resigned some time ago, the resignations to take effect today. In their place come sisters of the Grey Order, a Roman Catholic society, to watch over the famous babies. Nurse Patricia Mullens, who has also been with the babies since they were installed at the hospital, will leave later this month.

CATO PROSECUTION RESTS; MOVE FOR ACQUITTAL OF CO-DEFENDANTS ON CHARGES OF SLAYING STAFFORD

LUBBOCK, May 28, (AP)—The government rested today in the murder trial of Sheriff W. F. Cato and three other Garza county men charged with the machine gun killing of Spencer Stafford, federal narcotic agent, at Post.

Motions for instructed verdicts of acquittal were made in behalf of Dr. L. W. Kitchen, Dr. V. A. Hartman and Tom Morgan, co-defendants with Cato.

LUBBOCK, May 28. (AP).—Mont Bridges, under two indictments charging murder, refused late Monday to testify in the trial of Sheriff W. F. Cato and three others of Garza county for the machine gun slaying of Narcotic Agent Spencer Stafford at Post Feb. 7.

Bridges' refusal on the grounds that he would incriminate himself halted an attempt by the government to show that Sheriff Cato; two of his co-defendants, Dr. L. W. Kitchen and Dr. V. A. Hartman, and his former attorney, N. C. Outlaw, had entered into an agreement to engage in the narcotic business.

"Will Take Consequences"

Bridges was convicted of murder and assessed a 50-year sentence at Post last Nov. 9 for the slaying of Jay A. Donaldson near Post July 1. The case was reversed and remanded May 22 by the court of criminal appeals. He has not yet been tried on a companion murder charge in connection with the death of Bertha Gordon.

Called from the Lubbock county jail as a government witness, Bridges told the court: "I refuse to testify and will take the consequences."

Judge James C. Wilson excused the jury while opposing counsel debated the admissibility of the testimony.

Government's Questions

United States District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus announced in open court that he wanted to ask the witness "how long he has known Kitchen, Outlaw, Hartman and Cato" and "whether Kitchen, Hartman and Outlaw entered into an agreement to engage in the narcotic business with him at Post and Ruidoso, N. M., in 1934."

Witness Dismissed

District Attorney Eastus said the government desired to know the business relationship, if any, between Kitchen, Hartman and Cato, and if Bridges were connected with them in any way.

Judge Wilson dismissed Bridges when the witness said "I am willing to pay any penalty you put on me, but I won't testify."

Cato, Hartman and Kitchen were witnesses in Bridges' trial for killing Donaldson.

Tom Morgan, a deputized farmer who is the fourth man charged with the slaying of Stafford, was not mentioned in connection with any alleged narcotic ring.

Outlaw now is serving a 15-month sentence for subornation of perjury in investigation of Stafford's death.

Testimony of Addicts

Before the appearance of Bridges, the government had introduced the testimony of 13 admitted drug addicts and three former addicts, who said they had obtained narcotics from Hartman and Kitchen in exchange for cash and stolen property.

Two of the addicts, Mrs. Vera Gentry and Mrs. Alta Mae Hodge, both of Odessa, testified that Kitchen had given them morphine on several occasions for "dates."

Asked by defense counsel: "Would you sell your virtue for a shot of dope?" another addict, Hazel Robbins, replied:

"I would if I needed it."

She quoted the two doctors as telling her that if she got into jail "We'll get you out as fast as you got in. They never put addicts in jail, but you'll have to watch the nightwatchman—he's the only one who will bother you."

Kitchen and Hartman earlier this week pleaded guilty to charges of violating the Harrison anti-narcotic act.

Tell of Trades

The addicts detailed hundreds of purported transactions in which merchandise stolen from stores throughout West Texas was traded to the two doctors for narcotics.

One drug which witnesses said the doctors sold for $1 the grain costs four cents a grain wholesale, James J. Biggins, district supervisor of the bureau of narcotics, testified. He explained the government's use of addicts as informers in investigating narcotic law violations. An ordinary dose of narcotics would kill any other person, he said.

Stafford was shot down by Sheriff Cato in front of Kitchen's veterinary hospital where he and another federal officer were investigating narcotic activities.

Kitchen's Version

Kitchen's purported version of the slaying was put into the record indirectly by Jack M. Wilkinson, federal revenue agent, who said the veterinarian told him of hearing someone tell Sheriff Cato not to shoot and that "We're federal agents."

Mrs. W. T. Davis of Post said Kitchen appeared to take the shooting lightly soon after it occurred.

J. L. Watts of Lubbock described events immediately prior to the slaying. He said the only guns he saw at the scene were ones in hands of Cato and Morgan. The defense has sought to bring out that Stafford had a gun in his right hand at the time he was killed.

Motions for instructed verdicts of acquittal in behalf of each defendant are expected when the government rests its case, probably today.

Cattle Brand Stamp May Be a Reality

Ambitions of Marion F. Peters, former manager of the West Texas Gas company here but now of Plainview, to have the cattle industry properly recognized, may be realized soon.

Witness the following press dispatch issued from Washington yesterday:

"The glamorous cattle country of West Texas—cattle, brands and range—may be advertised over the cattle country next year.

"Rep. George Mahon has asked Walter D. Cline, managing director of the Texas Centennial, to consider including some part of this area if a Centennial stamp is issued. Many designs have been submitted by Marion F. Peters of Plainview and Mr. Mahon hopes that some harmonious combination with, perhaps, the Alamo will be evolved."

AAA AMENDMENTS, OTHER MEASURES ARE UNDER STUDY

Supreme Court Rule May Affect Many Provisions

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP).—New Deal chieftains in congress already were going ahead with their studies of the NRA situation today. Some expressed doubt that various pending New Deal legislation, such as the AAA amendments, utilities holding company and banking bills and the social security legislation, could withstand the unanimous ruling of the supreme court which yesterday held the heart of the recovery act unconstitutional.

The national labor relations board virtually suspended operations "pending determination of some future policy" in the light of invalidation of 731 codes.

A complete rewriting of the agricultural adjustment administration amendments to conform to the supreme court decision was decided upon by senate and house leaders, together with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Finding that far reaching licensing provisions provided in the act were affected by both the interstate commerce principles and the requirement that standards be set up in delegating authority, administration leaders decided to recommit the bill to the senate agriculture committee.

Confusion was evident on some markets, commodities declined to a certain extent and the stock market went down after opening fairly strong.

PRESENT, LEADERS PREPARE FOR ACTION

WASHINGTON, May 28, (AP)—Dismayed by the Supreme Court's destruction of the NRA, President Roosevelt, the congressional Democratic leadership and some forces of business, industry and labor dug in today for extended studies of how to straighten the situation.

The president ordered a wide research by lagal and government aides to determine the breadth of court action and the means to rebuild from it.

President Roosevelt probably will have nothing to say until the latter part of the week, but when he has completed his survey will speak out, it was said at the White House.

The first impression was that the decision demolished the whole system of 557 code agreements, including several operated by AAA; abolished Federal regulation of the liquor traffic, and seriously imperiled pending legislation on labor and other subjects.

In one high and informed quarter it was said the decision was a complete defeat for the new deal.

Hurried conferences at the White House and on Capitol Hill shed little light on the future. Whether NRA could be revived by new legislation was in dispute. On all sides responsible officials and legislators asked for time to study the words of the court.

Equally shaken and in confusion were the heads of the code authorities—boards named by the industries to administer the codes. They urge deliberation. One said too much had been gained to be thrown away. Another contended that industry "will find some way of accomplishing NRA's objectives."

DECIDE TO PUSH FOR CASH BONUS

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP).—Patman bill leaders in congress decided today to proceed with the drive for cash payment of the bonus at this session and to sacrifice the inflationary provisions of their bill if necessary.

House and senate supporters of immediate payment, in joint sessions, agreed to poll the senate to determine what cash payment plan would have the best chance to succeed, and then push for it.

PUBLIC ENEMIES GOING

The federal government's anti-crime campaign seems to be not unlike the "Mills of God"; if they occasionally seem to operate slowly, they do manage to grind exceeding small.

Arthur Barker, head of the vicious Karpis-Barker kidnap gang, will serve the rest of his life in prison for engineering the Edward G. Bremer kidnaping.

His gang is hopelessly scattered. His mother and brother have already met death at the hands of federal men; Karpis, his chief partner, is a frightened fugitive; most of the rest of his associates are, like their leader, due for long terms behind the bars.

Slowly but surely, society is getting the upper hand again. It is actually getting so that the ordinary newspaper reader can't even remember who "Public Enemy No. 1" is any more. Dillinger, Floyd, Nelson, Barrow, Barker—one by one they get what is coming to them.

That man who wrote the new book, "I Knew 3000 Lunatics," is revealed to have been a doctor in a state hospital, not a traffic officer.

With the Church Groups

Rijnhart circle of the First Christian church met for its last meeting until September with Mrs. Leonard Pemberton hostess at the home of Mrs. Frank Ingham, 811 W Wall, Monday afternoon.

The program was opened with a prayer by Mrs. J. E. Pickering after which Mrs. Geo. Ratliff conducted a study of the last 13 chapters of II Samuel.

The circle reported $120 on the building fund.

Mrs. J. E. Pickering expressed appreciation for the work of the circle officers in the following original verses:

To the Officers of the Past Year
Listen, dear ladies, and you shall hear
What the Rijnhart circle has done this year!
How the faithful members have met each week
The way of service true to seek!

First a prayer that God might lead the way—
Then the Bible study for the day.
From Genesis all through Samuel,
We've learned that part of the Bible well;
With Mrs. Ratliff, our able teacher

Asking us questions—explaining each feature:
We appreciate each lesson we hear,
And we're glad she will teach us again next year!
And Mrs. Brunson her assistant, too,
We want to thank you, for all you do!

Mrs. Clark had been president the year before
But faithfully served a few months more!
Then Mrs. Frank Elkin became president
And has been very faithful and competent!
Though the courthouse dinners and rummage sales—
And other affairs—must have brought forth wails
From her tired heart—she has always kept
A smiling face, (though some would have wept)
And for her helpers a word of praise
As we labored together more money to raise—
For the building fund our one hundred per—
And five dollars each month to the church treasurer!
We thank you now, as you leave the chair—
You have done your best, since we put you there!

The other officers we too must mention—
For services rendered, time and attention!
Mrs. Blevins as vice-president willingly worked—
Mrs. Pemberton our secretary has never shirked
From writing the minutes and calling the roll,
And if we are late, collecting the toll!

Mrs. Heath, our treasurer, we thank
For keeping our money safe in the bank—
And Mrs. Hall we want to thank you
For keeping us all supplied with Skidoo!
And the various chairmen and members all
Who have worked so hard at every call—
Know that our labor was not for fame—
In as much as we did it in Jesus' name!

During the social hour which followed the business session, Rev. J. E. Pickering expressed appreciation for the work of the circle during the year.

Refreshments carried out a pink and white color scheme and on each plate was a capsule wrapped in pink. When opened these capsules were found to contain the name of some member of the circle who was to be treated with especial kindness during the summer months. Next fall the name of each unknown "sunshine sister" will be revealed.

Mrs. Pickering was asked to open her capsule first and it was found to contain a ten dollar bill as a love offering from the circle.

The guest list will include: the honorees, Miss Elsie Wolcott. Mrs. Swede Swenson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Glass, Mr. E. B. Dickenson, and Dr. K. F. Campbell.

The first legal execution by electricity is said to have been that of William Kemmler at Sing Sing prison, Aug. 6, 1890.

Midland Teachers Initiated into Fraternity

Two Midland teachers, Miss Anna Lee King and Miss Vada Crawley, were initiated into Delta Kappa Gamma, national fraternity for women teachers, at a luncheon meeting of the organization at the Settles hotel at Big Spring recently. Miss King is a member of the staff of the South Elementary school and Miss Crawley is on the faculty of the High School.

Other Midland teachers who are members of the fraternity are Mrs. E. R. Thomas, principal of North Elementary school, and Mrs. Iris N. Bounds, principal of South Elementary school.

To be eligible for membership, a teacher must have taught for five years and be outstanding in her work. Only 10 per cent of the white women teachers in a county may be asked to join the organization. Midland's quota of members is now filled.

Miss Annie Webb Blanton, former state superintendent of education, was guest speaker at the luncheon at which an active chapter of the fraternity was organized to include members in six counties.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

We seem to owe an apology to the young Midland man who valiantly endured sunburn for the sake of setting out trees and otherwise working on the grounds of his new home. And we, unfeelingly, accused him of going swimming! We're sorry that we were grading him, as teachers say, on the curve system which applies to most men.

Readers of the women's page of this paper, and also of this column, have noticed frequent use of articles written by Mary Margaret McBride. Perhaps they do not know (and certainly we didn't until yesterday) that Miss McBride is the Mary Dean who is making a reputation for herself in the radio world. She does free lance writing in New York and has written a book on Paris and London. Another thing that we did not know about her, until O O. McIntyre told us in his column, is that for a time she could make only a meager living by her pen.

Maybe there is something in that old affinity between the half-starved writer in his garret and eventual success, though we had about come to doubt it. Certainly the next time we read one of her articles we shall do so with a feeling of fellowship and sympathy, though we've always had enough to eat and have never visited Europe.

Our choice for the cleverest advertising line we've seen in some time goes to the Dallas News for yesterday's A. Harris ad which proclaims impertinently "Nuts to you but just Buttons to us" in describing the pecans, walnuts, and other squirrel appetizers now being used as buttons for up-to-minute sports frocks.

We imagine cold-drink stand proprietors are stifling a sigh now and then, no matter how glad they are to see the rain. Say what you will, cold damp days lessen the demand for cold, damp drinks. Like things not being compatible in this instance.

Paris Subwayites Get Phones

PARIS, (U.P.) — New Yorkers have been making their last minute and almost forgotten telephone calls from subway platforms these many years, but it was only recently that the first nine booths were installed in the Paris subway. Before the end of July, it is planned to have 300 booths installed in the 240 stations.

Norfolk Prospers

NORFOLK, Va. (U.P.) — Not only are building operations steadily increasing, but the outlook is better than at any time since 1929, George L. Wadsworth, secretary of the Builders and Contractors' Exchange, said today.

GARDEN GATE GOSSIP

Recent years have brought forth a development, that of complete balanced plant food, which has contributed in no small way to gardening success. This product being so different from the various miscellaneous materials formerly used, attention should be given to the proper methods for using, in order that the full benefit may be derived. Manufacturers of plant food ordinarily supply with each package complete instructions as to how it should be used. The first essential in the use of a complete plant food is to make an even distribution, otherwise, just as in the case of sowing seed, you will have an uneven and spotted growth. Next keep in mind that the excessive use of plant food should be avoided. It is wasteful and may result in at least temporary injury from over-feeding. Many have found their best results come from frequent feeding of small quantities. Here are a few points to keep in mind:

Never apply plant food when grass is wet.

Do not put the product on the leaves or stalks of flowers or vegetables, or in direct contact with seeds or the roots of plants.

Where water is available sprinkle the grass thoroughly after application is made.

If water is not available run the back of a rake, doormat, or something similar over the lawn to knock the plant food off the grass.

This may also be done by sweeping with a broom.

Plant food may be applied by hand, with a kitchen colander or a plant food spreader. There are now on the market for use on the lawn plant food spreaders of various sizes at reasonable prices.

Early cabbage matures in about 60 days. You can figure your crop according to the time you set out the plant. Late cabbages take from 100 to 115 days to make firm heads.

Tie the cucumber vines to strings hanging from a pole or bar. It will make harvesting them easier, and improve the quantity of the crop.

The old-fashioned balm is coming back into fashion, a very ornamental annual and fine as a summer pot plant.

Try some of the Chinese cabbages this year. They are excellent salad material, and the fall crop is easiest to grow.

A handsome vine with fine flowers seldom seen is the butterfly pea or centrosema. For a novel vine try it.

Frat Rough Stuff Out

MADE BY HAPPY PEOPLE

Every woman knows that the best cooks are those who really enjoy their work. A careless, dissatisfied cook can take the finest ingredients and turn out very ordinary food.

Kellogg's have always made the well-being of their workers a prime consideration. Long before the New Deal was heard of, our employees were enjoying shorter working hours without reduction in living standards. To supply the immense demand for Kellogg Cereals the plant is kept running day and night. But under the four-shift system, no worker's day is longer than six hours.

Playgrounds and gardens, careful medical supervision, and the most ideal working conditions that can be devised, all contribute to a healthy and happy group of employees.

They like their work. They take genuine pride in the quality of the foods they make.

Much of the superiority of Kellogg's Corn Flakes can be traced to this attitude among our workers. You reap its benefits when you serve your family these purer, crisper, finer-flavored flakes.

Ask your grocer for Kellogg's—the original—always the best.

Taxicab Driver "Too Much Loser"

DALLAS. (U.P.)—Taxicab drivers, as a class, are generally regarded as gentlemen who can hold their own in the manly art of personal combat.

Not so in the case of taxicab driver H. H. Hancock of Dallas, who really never had a chance to strike back.

A passenger rapped him on the head with a bottle late Sunday night (May 19), shoved a "rod" in his ribs, relieved him of $5 and sped away in Hancock's taxicab, leaving him stranded out Lancaster way.

The passenger, Jimmie Hill, and the taxicab both were rounded up in Waxahachie the next morning.

Hill was held by Dallas authorities under $2,500 bond charged with robbery.

Houston Crooks Thrive

HOUSTON, Tex. (U.P.)—Houston crooks marked $16,276.26 on the profit side of their ledgers during March, according to police records. Of $18,936.59 in cash and property stolen, $4,660.33 was recovered.

Negress Dead at 110

HENDERSON, N. C. (U.P.)—When Julia Burton, negress, died here she left something to show for the 110 years she had lived. Surviving were one daughter, nine grandchildren, 36 great grandchildren, and six great great grandchildren.

Children to Study Shakespeare Plays

FORT WORTH. (U.P.)—A children's Shakespeare club here is soon to present "A Midsummer Night's Dream". It is believed to be the only Shakespearean drama organization in which children are the players.

Shakespeare, himself, said "Out of the mouths of babes . . ." should come the truth.

The immortal Englishman remembered children in many of his plays. Human understanding was Shakespeare's greatest faculty and he recognized the importance of children in this sometimes dreary world as guileless spirits who could see truth through the disillusioning adult mentality.

Politically Minded Village

PARIS. (U.P.)—The most politically minded village in all France was revealed by a local census to be Robou, situated on the main highway between Marseilles and Toulon. It has a population of 11 inhabitants, all men, and they are all members of the municipal council.

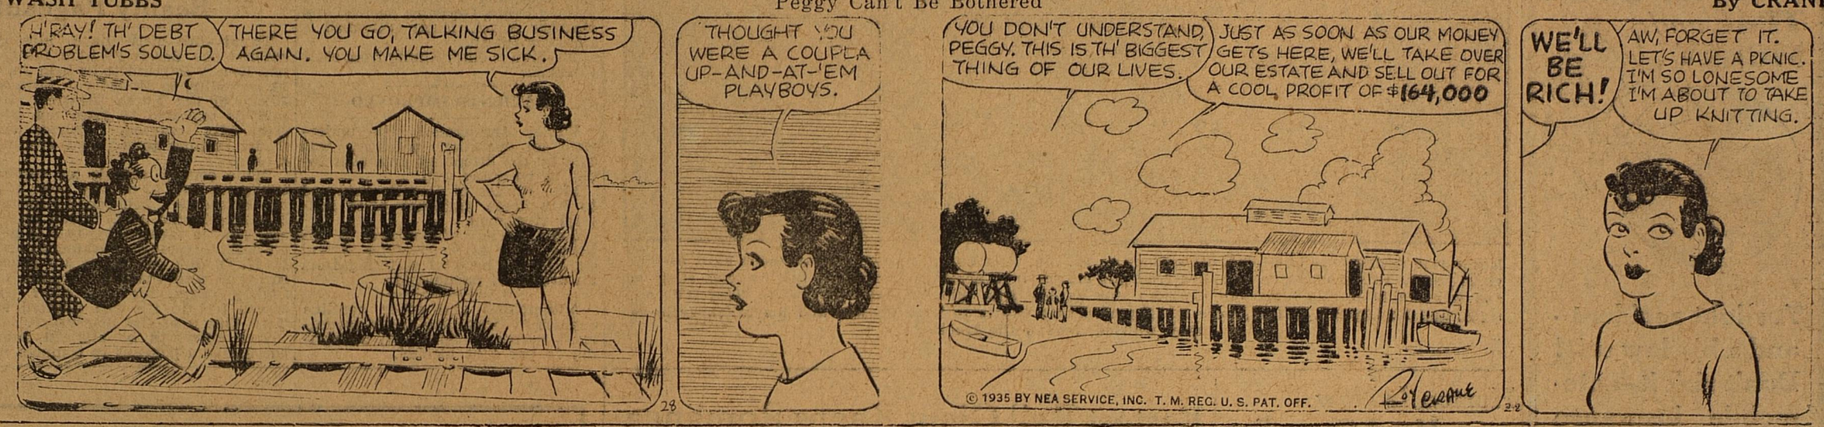

Pig Has Four Toes

LA GRANGE, Ind. (U.P.)—Floyd Lewis, living near here, is exhibiting a young pig born with four toes on one front foot and three toes on the other. Lewis' only regret is that the animal did not "go whole hog" and grow a couple of extra hams.

Devil's River Area Offered Visitors

DEL RIO. (U.P.)—Residents of the Devil's River Country want Texas Centennial visitors, when they come next year, to see what Val Verde county has to offer in the way of natural scenic beauty; its celebrated caves and deep artesian springs, in which mammoth fish can be seen for hundreds of feet.

It has been estimated that 215,537 persons of the 389,645 population of the Hawaiian Islands live on Oahu, principal island of the group.

It May Be Great Life; but This Would Weaken You

Motorcycle racing may be all it's cracked up to be, but Peewee Cullum would have been hard to convince just at this moment as he sailed from his mount in a spectacular spill at Los Angeles stadium and was caught in this remarkable camera shot as his legs whirled over his head. Tiny Carroll, right, and Bo Ligman, behind, were making desperate efforts to miss Peewee and his fallen cycle as they whirled around the track.

Horton Is Now Head Comedian

For more than a year movie fans have demanded that Edward Everett Horton be made head man of a comedy instead of popping onto the screen briefly in every second reel to breathe life into pictures featuring less interesting personalities.

"$10 Raise," the new Fox Film picture which comes tomorrow and Thursday to the Ritz theatre, is the answer. Horton is co-featured with Karen Morley in the romance of a Romeo, whose pay was enough to live on but not enough to love on. Everytime he goes in like a lion, to the boss' office, he goes out like a light, and the marriage gets indefinitely postponed.

The supporting cast is composed of Alan Dinehart, Glen Boles, Berton Churchill, Rosina Lawrence, Ray Walker, Frank Melton and William Benedict.

Fastest Rail Giant Keeps Romance

Heralded as the fastest in the world, its puffing smoke imparting some of the romance of the old iron horse, this giant of the rails is shown as it reached Chicago to be placed in service on the Milwaukee road. The first-built streamlined steam locomotive, designed to travel 120 miles an hour, the Hiawatha is resplendent in its coat of battleship gray, with orange and chromium trim.

Women Golfers To Invade Lubbock

LUBBOCK, May 28.—From 50 to 75 women golfers, including Mrs. Rhea Vernon, Abilene; Mrs. Alice Phillips, Big Spring; and Mrs. Frank Wolflin, Amarillo, are expected here June 12 to 16 for the first annual tournament of the Women's West Texas Golf Association, Mrs. Guy L. McAfee, Lubbock, president of the association, estimates.

Ten country clubs have already joined the association and pledged cooperation by sending a number of high ranking women golfers, and others are expected to join before the tournament, Mrs. McAfee says. Clubs that are now affiliated include Abilene, Amarillo, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, San Angelo, Big Spring, Slaton, Brownwood and Lubbock.

Appropriate trophies have been ordered for the winner, runner-up, and consolation in three flights, for the medalist and for team play.

Along with the contest, a full program of entertainment has been arranged, including a buffet supper and calcutta June 12; dance June 14, barbecue supper June 15, and presentation of trophies June 16.

Other officers serving with Mrs. McAfee for the Women's West Texas Golf Association include Mrs. C. L. Dean, Lubbock, secretary; Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Big Spring; Mrs. Frank Wolflin, Amarillo; Mrs. Rhea Vernon, Abilene; Mrs. Joe Brown, Mineral Wells, and Mrs. Will O'Connell, San Angelo, directors.

With the recent conveyance of 22,851 acres in 15 counties to the state game lands of Pennsylvania, that state now has a total of 452,960 acres of game lands, distributed in 47 of its 67 counties.

Plenty of Speed In Film at Yucca

A smart, sophisticated and always amusing picture is Universal's "It Happened in New York," now at the Yucca theatre. Based on the novel, "Bagdad on the Hudson," by Ward Morehouse and Jean Dalrymple, the story takes on plenty of speed and strikes pockets of hilarity every few feet.

Telling of a temperamental movie queen who visits the Great White Way and completely upsets everyone and everything, the plot is as refreshing as a steaming cup of coffee in the morning.

The director, Alan Crosland, turned out a neat performance. There are deft touches of direction all through the picture, for which he is responsible. Dale Talbot gives the best performance of his career in this story, and is surrounded by two leading ladies, Gertrude Michael and Heather Angel. Hugh O'Connell is riotously funny.

The film is entertaining from start to finish.

PATIENTS IMPROVED

Wesley Ammerman, who underwent an operation recently, was said by the attending physician today to be doing well.

Mrs. Frazier of Royalty returned to her home yesterday after hospital treatment.

John Ansley will return to his home today after spending several days in the hospital suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

Automobiles and other gasoline engines in Brazil are under government decree to burn fuel containing 10 per cent alcohol.

Quintuplets--

$175,000, the Dionne quintuplets are among the world's wealthiest babies, with every prospect that their financial position will grow steadily larger with the passing years. Welfare Minister Croll recently, in announcing the fund already accumulated for the babies, said contracts in view indicated the little girls would be further enriched within the next few months. The money is being set aside in a special trust fund for them, with provisions being made for the care and support of their five brothers and sisters, often since the birth of the babies referred to as "the forgotten five."

25 Girls Enter Beauty Pageant

Twenty-five girls have already entered the Beach Fashion Parade and Beauty Pageant to be held June 14, according to Manager J. Howard Hodge of the Yucca theatre. He said he expected to have not less than fifty entered. Entries will model bathing suits and evening dresses.

"This contest affords an opportunity for girls to develop poise and to overcome self-consciousness," Manager Hodge said. "Much interest is being created for this is not an ordinary contest. Paramount and R. K. O. film companies are sponsoring it with the sole purpose of finding talent, for they offer a screen test to the girl selected as 'Miss Queen of the Southwest'."

Two girls will be selected from the Midland pageant to compete in Lnubbock with twelve other girls from six other West Texas towns. At the final contest in Roswell, N. M. the queen will be chosen from girls from Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

Every girl entering the local contest will be given a special two weeks' pass to the Yucca theatre.

The selections will be based upon poise, personality, and figure.

King's Jewelry will present a silver loving cup to the winner of first place in the contest here.

TO VISIT PARENTS

Mrs. Tom C. Bobo and daughter, Betty Lou, left this morning for a visit to her parents at Gainesville and to Dr. Bobo's relatives at Rhome, Texas. She will be gone probably two weeks. Miss Marguerite Wood accompanied them part of the way. She will probably stop in Fort Worth.

Dog's Barks Have Alarm Turned in

HENDERSON. (U.P.)—A Belgian police dog, owned by Dr. Will C. Roberts, showed the kind of stuff he is made of when he awakened his sleeping master and so alarmed him that the doctor followed the dog to a smouldering fire in a nearby furniture store.

"He jumped up on the bed, tugged the covers, barked and jumped around until I just had to see what it was all about," Dr. Roberts said.

The doctor promptly turned in a fire alarm which brought fire-fighting equipment to the store in time to halt the progress of the flames.

Gilchrist Thinks Well of His Road

SAN ANTONIO. (U.P.)—State Highway Engineer has made a $10 bet with an aviator flying the Austin-San Antonio air route, that within a month if both leave Austin at the same minute, one flying, the other in an automobile, that Gilchrist can reach a downtown San Antonio hotel before the flyer.

Gilchrist is confident he will outrace the flyer because of improvements, nearing completion, on the Austin-San Antonio Highway.

"The road will be as smooth as a billiard table by then," Gilchrist said.

"Treasure Cards" Build Box Office

DALLAS. (U.P.)—A new Texas theatrical enterprise, named in its State charter as "Box Office Attractions, Inc.", has been launched to heighten theatre enjoyment and attendance, according to C. N. Hilton, president of Hilton Hotels of Texas.

Under plans of the new organization, theatregoers received "Treasure Cards" which provide for sure cash awards after a specific number of attendances.

More Power
at your finger-tip
than in all the world's horses

Unfailing Electric Service is the Result of Unified Management

If you had 10,000 electric light bulbs in your home or business, you could turn them all on at once. "Of course," you say.

But 30 years ago you couldn't.

If you wanted to build a factory here today to use heavy electrically-driven machinery, you wouldn't have to worry about power. There's more at your fingertip than you ever would need.

When manufacturers come here looking for factory sites, you can tell them this:

"We can offer you unlimited power, at low cost. We are served by interconnected system power under unified management." No manufacturer can ask a better guarantee of efficient and limitless service than that.

In the past thirty years, unified management has developed the electric utility business from feeble beginnings to what it is today. Unified management was responsible for bringing together scattered and isolated plants into systems, for furnishing them with the money to make improvements, for advising them on better ways to serve you. To the holding company, unified management, should go the credit for today's unlimited power at low cost.

Yet the holding company, and in fact the whole electric utility industry, is in danger now. A bill known as the "Wheeler-Rayburn" bill, now in Congress, proposes to destroy the industry as you know it, and toss the remainder into the lap of political control. It would wipe the holding company out of existence, and strip your company of the present connections it has for giving you dependable service.

If government can do this to the utility business, it can do likewise to all business. Such an attitude retards Recovery. For Recovery, business must have confidence in government, instead of fear as to its future because of government.
