Burglars take $45,000 in jewelry, watches

An estimated $45,000 in jewelry and watches was taken when Moon Shell Galleries in downtown Rockport was burglarized on Good Friday, April 9.

Rockport police were still investigating leads Monday in the incident that occurred around noon.

Police were called to the shop at 409 S.

Austin about 12:04 p.m., according to the report, when a burglar alarm went off. According to the report, entry was gained to the building after the burglar or burglars threw a brick through the rear window on the north side.

One witness allegedly saw a vehicle leaving the area "at a high rate of speed" at about the time of the burglary.

The "take," according to the Moon Shell's owner, Portia Doggett, consisted of "all of our 14-carat gold in the cases and all of our Seiko watches. They got the most expensive stuff," she added.

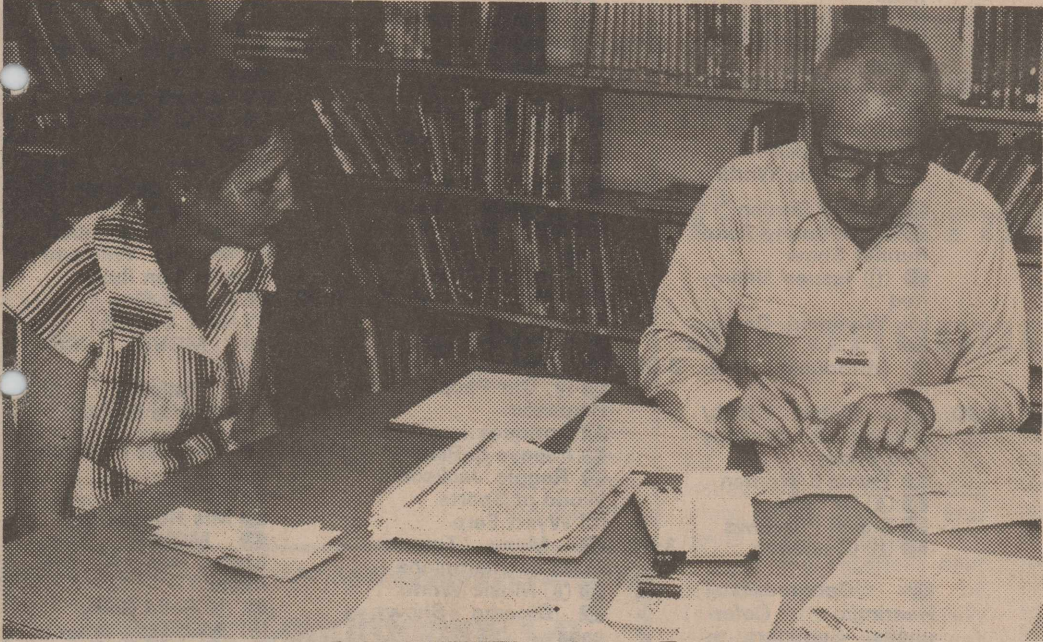

The items were in display cases in the store. Doggett said the burglars didn't break the cases. "They were popped open," she said. "Actually it surprised us — we've broken those cases ourselves, accidentally. Apparently they were a lot more careful than we've been — those cases are all glass and pretty fragile."

Adding to the high value of the missing items, Doggett said, is the fact that several of the items "were pretty much one-of-a-kind," including some antique rings Moon Shell had on consignment.

She added that Moon Shell was not wiped out by the burglary. "We have backstock on a lot of it — and we still have our silver," she said.

By Monday morning, the broken window had been replaced and the other relatively minor damage, including a bent lock on one of the cases, had been repaired.

B. Bates, one of the Tax-Aides at Aransas County Public Library, assists Betty Little in preparing her 1982 federal income tax. Thursday, April 15, is the last day for filing income tax without being penalized. Bates said Tax-Aides will be at the library through Thursday afternoon to help with last-minute tax filings. The Tax-Aide program is sponsored annually by the local AARP chapter and is a completely volunteer program set up to assist people of all ages.

Council defers decision on vacancy

By Pat Blair

A decision on whether a council member will be elected or appointed to fill a vacancy created by election of Burt Mills as Rockport's new mayor has been deferred pending a workshop council session set for next Monday, April 19.

The workshop, called by Rockport's city council during this past Monday's, April 12, meeting, will be at 6 p.m., preceding a public hearing on a proposed Central Power & Light rate hike. The hearing will be at 7 p.m.

In other action during this week's council meeting, Mills and re-elected aldermen Betty Jean Ward and Murray McMillan took the oath of office and were officially seated on the council and the council gave formal approval to a resolution suspending the proposed CP&L rate schedule.

The CP&L rate suspension will go into effect on April 30 and will remain in effect for up to 120 days. In the meantime, Rockport has joined the Texas Municipal League in action to block the proposed rate increase.

The council vacancy in Ward 2 was created by the resignation of Mills as Ward 2 alderman following his election, in the April 3 city races, as Rockport's new mayor.

The council officially declared a vacancy on the city's governing board Monday night but Alderman W.B. Allen first suggested then moved to hold a special workshop session to discuss how to fill the vacancy.

The vacant alderman's term will expire in April, 1983, and the council has the option of either appointing someone to fill out the unexpired portion or of holding a special election to fill the position.

Although the matter may be discussed in a workshop session, no final action can be taken until a regular council meeting.

In other action relating to the council, Alderman Murray McMillan was elected mayor pro tem by council members Monday night. As mayor pro tem, McMillan will preside over council meetings in Mills' absence.

The council appointed Mills the city's representative to attend the monthly meetings of the Rockport Area Chamber of Commerce.

In other action Monday, the council set May 24 as the date for opening bids on purchase of a new police car — to be paid for with Revenue Sharing funds — and the fencing of the 4.009 acres of recently-annexed park land adjacent to the existing Memorial Park.

The ordinance for annexation of three tracts of land on Highway 35 North, site of Rockport Country Club Estates development, was officially approved. The annexation was approved in a meeting of the council last month following the required two public hearings on the matter.

Also approved was an ordinance rezoning two lots in Live Oak Heights from R-1 to R-3 duplex. The rezoning was approved March 22.

Two requests for installation of street lights were approved, at the intersection of Highway 35 South and 5th Street — to be installed at no cost to the city — and in the 600 block of Rowan Street, at a cost to the city of $157.15.

Also approved was a request that an alleyway between Mathis and Young streets be closed.

A request by Rockport Police Chief Joe Hinojosa for additional clerical help was tabled for additional study. Hinojosa told the council the police department's paperwork "had doubled if not tripled recently" and that the department needed another clerical worker, preferably full-time.

An agreement with H.E.B. relating to the closing of Mimosa Street was tabled at the request of City Attorney Allen Lee who said he had not had an opportunity, as of Monday

City adopts building code

A city building code was adopted and will go into effect in the city on May 1, and a protest by property owners in Harbor Oaks regarding construction of a condominium project was tabled during action in Rockport's city council session Monday night, April 12.

The building code, based on the Southern Standards Building Code with some modifications, was presented earlier this year in a public hearing. The code will regulate new construction in the city and in its extra-territorial area.

Among requirements in the code will be that buildings larger than 5,000 square feet must be designed by an architect or registered engineer.

The code sets up a building code board of appeals that can hear requests for variances from the code and sets a time limit of 45 days for the board to reach a decision.

Also to be regulated under Rockport's building code will be pier construction, and the code will require that "substantially damaged piers" must be removed or repaired within one year after the pier owner is notified by the city. If action has not been taken within a year, according to City Administrator Herman Johnson, the code would allow the city to file a lien against the pier.

The effective date of May 1 for the new building code was set at the request of City Inspector Mike Henry.

Members of the Harbor Oaks Property Owners Association, including Association President Calvin Scholz, appeared before the council Monday night to protest proposed entrance and exit drives at the new Villas of Harbor Oaks condominium project. A median down the center of Harbor Drive divides the drive into two one-way roadways and both Urban Engineers and the Texas Highway Department have said the median should be cut through to allow traffic access from the condominiums to both lanes.

Scholz, speaking for the property owners, said, "The problem with cutting through the median as proposed is that it will create four intersections within 400 feet." He argued that allowing both entrance and exit from the condos onto Harbor Drive will create a traffic hazard and suggested that one or more of the proposed openings into

Dumping problem occupies county commissioners

By Becky Werhan

The Aransas County Commissioners Court dealt with a wide gamut of issues at their April 12 meeting. A prolonged discussion of the problem of illegal garbage dumping in the county occupied the commissioners, who had been approached by the Chamber of Commerce in regards to forming a special committee to deal with the problem.

Also handled during the court session was the opening of bids for a new dump truck, a request for Water Safety Program funds from the City of Rockport and a request from the Council on Aging for a commissioner to be present at all their meetings. The fund request was denied, as was the request by the COA.

Present at the court session was Chamber of Commerce representative Ed Armstrong, who explained the Chamber of Commerce activity in regards to the dumping question. The chamber has, said Armstrong, been "working on" the problem for some time.

Agreeing with Armstrong on the severity of the illegal dumping situation were County Judge John Wendell and all four commissioners. "Human beings are funny animals," said Wendell, discussing why people would not use dumping facilities. "You can give them a free dump and they'll still throw trash over their back fence rather than drive a few extra miles to dump it."

The main problem with enforcing dumping regulations is catching people in the act of illegally disposing of their garbage. Unless it can be proven by an eyewitness that an individual is directly responsible for dumping, no punishment can be levied.

Commissioner for Precinct I John Lee said of the problem, "We've got to get some community input. I know that my neighbors and I have started following these people. If you see somebody dumping, just follow them and ask them to pick it back up."

The need for a special committee was questioned by the commissioners. "I don't see why we should form a committee if the committee can't really do anything," said Commissioner for Precinct 4, J.M. Spiegel. Agreeing with Spiegel was Armstrong, who said, "No, if your hands are tied, a committee won't do any good."

Though nothing was officially acted on, the possibility of a county clean-up week or day was discussed. The matter was tabled with no action.

The bid for a new dump truck was awarded to Commercial Motors of Aransas Pass. The truck, with an extra-large gasoline engine, will cost the county $13,545.44. Six companies bid on the truck.

State and federal candidates to speak here at 'Stump Night'

Democratic candidates for offices from the U.S. Senate to county justice of the peace will be in Aransas County for the county Democratic unit's annual "Stump Night" Friday, April 16, at the Paws & Taws Building.

Sponsored by the Democratic Women of Aransas County, the event features a shrimp gumbo supper starting at 6:30 p.m. and the opportunity to hear the Democratic candidates for various federal, state and local offices up for election in the May 1 primaries.

Cost of the dinner is a $5 donation. Proceeds are used by the county Democratic Party unit to defray its election expenses.

"All of the Democratic candidates for office have been invited to speak," said Lola L. Bonner, county Democratic Chairman. As of Monday afternoon, candidates who had accepted the invitations included U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen, running for re-election this year, and Texas gubernatorial candidate Buddy Temple.

Temple indicated he would be unable to attend himself but that he would send his representative, John Sharp.

Also to be represented at the affair will be John Hannah, Democratic candidate for Texas attorney general, and Warren G. Harding, seeking re-election as state treasurer. Harding will be represented by Ben Cash.

Other candidates who will be present themselves at the "Stump Night" affair include Howbert A. Steele, candidate for Associate Justice, Court of Appeals, 13th District, Place 3; Rachel Littlejohn, judge of the 156th District Court; and Tony Harden, district clerk.

County level candidates who have accepted the "Stump Night" invitations include Val Jean Eaton, running for county clerk; Ray Longino, county commissioner, pct. 2; J.M. Spiegel and Mike Womack, both running for county commissioner, pct. 4; and Philip D. Baldwin, candidate for justice of the peace, pct. 3.

Coming down

The old Rockport water tower on Magnolia Street begins its descent shortly before noon Tuesday aided by workmen with Jones Demolition who was awarded the contract for tearing the tower down. A small crowd gathered to watch the landmark which city officials decided to have removed on the grounds that the old structure was unsafe. More photos are on Page 7B of today's Pilot.

ACLLA to hold opening ceremonies on Saturday

If you haven't caught spring fever yet you probably will this Saturday when the Aransas County Little League Association holds the opening day ceremonies for the kick-off of the 1982 Little League season.

According to Allen Lee, president of the ACLLA for the 1982 season, a big opening day is on tap for the area.

The season gets started with a parade that will begin near the Rockport post office at 5 p.m. Saturday and make its way down Austin Street then up Highway 35 to the Dairy Queen and then to Memorial Park.

Opening ceremonies will begin at 6 p.m. at Memorial Park and according to Duke Eaton who is in charge of them they should really be exciting. Duke refused to reveal his plans for the ceremony but you might want to bring your cameras.

Eaton says that the opening ceremony will be a patriotic salute to all veterans and he says that he hopes that every veteran in the county will attend.

Eaton says that a Bar-B-Q and Bake sale will begin at 7 p.m. with the proceeds of the event going to the ACLLA.

At 7:30 p.m. there will be a ballgame between the ACLLA and a team made up of the Aransas County Emergency Medical Services, the Sheriff's office and the Rockport Police department.

Eaton said that every Aransas County and Rockport official has been invited to come take part in the opening day ceremonies.

Buck permit issuance rates are announced by TP&W

AUSTIN — Issuance rates have been announced for buck permits to be issued next fall for hunting white-tailed deer in four South Texas counties.

Buck and antlerless deer hunting permits will be issued simultaneously during October at locations and times to be announced later, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Officials said the buck permit system for the 1982-'83 hunting season is proposed to include Duval County for the first time. During the 1981-82 seasons, the system was in effect for Maverick, Webb and Zapata Counties, which also will participate this year.

The four counties will form a "quality deer management unit," wherein the controlled harvest of bucks is combined with the harvest of surplus antlerless deer with the objective of maintaining overall quality in the herd.

Buck permits would be issued to landowners or their agents in Duval County on an unlimited basis for the 1982-83 seasons, since it would be the first year for the program in that county.

The issuance rate for Maverick County will be one buck permit per 350 acres throughout the county. In Webb County the issuance rate will be one permit per 250 acres in the portion of the county west of U.S. Highway 83 from Laredo to its junction with State Highway 44, and in that portion of the county north of State Highway 44 from U.S. Highway 83 to the Webb-LaSalle County line. In the portion of the county east that line, the issuance rate will be one permit per 150 acres.

In the portion of Zapata County north of Farm Road 3169, the issuance rate will be one permit per 150 acres; south of FM 3169, the issuance rate will be one permit per 250 acres.

Buck permits will be required for harvesting forked-antlered bucks in those counties. Buck permits will not be required for taking "spike" bucks, those which have only single antlers protruding through the skin without prongs or forks.

From the press box

In June this year, former basketball great Bob Cousy, Dallas Cowboys Football coach Ernie Stautner and billiard champion Steve Mizerak journeyed to a small town in South Dakota to help raise funds for Sky Ranch for Boys, a home and rehabilitation program for delinquent boys. The message Help gives a boy a second chance. Bob, Ernie and Steve helped to raise needed funds for the Ranch, but they did much more, they showed the boys that somebody cares for them.

Cincinnati Reds president Dick Wagner says he has no plans to trade Dan Driessen and says Driessen has the starting first-base job that he lost to Johnny Bench last season. "Dan Driessen is basically the first baseman, and I think he'll probably open at first base for us in 1982," Wagner said. "It is not in our basic scheme to talk about trading Driessen." Driessen asked to be traded last season when Bench — catching no more than twice a week at his request — won the starting first base job. Driessen got his position back when Bench broke his ankle before the mid-season player's strike, but Driessen said at the time that it didn't change his mind about wanting to leave the Reds. Volatile, exuberant Romanian tennis star Ilie Nastase, to whom taciturn Scandinavians are more than just foreign, is amazed by Bjorn Borg's ability to concentrate. "In the locker room, Borg might not talk to anyone for an hour," Nastase says. "They should send Borg to another planet."

Chris Evert Lloyd says she will retire from tennis when she has a child. "I really don't think that I could play at the top level that I'm playing now plus be with John (her husband) at his tournaments plus devote myself to a child."

Brothers win trophies

Tim and Tommy Smyrson won a trophy each in Luther Duffy's Grand Texas Karate Championship in Waco, April 3. Tim, a Brown Belt, placed First in his division. Tommy, a Green Belt, placed Third in his division. Tim also placed Third in Huntsville, March 27, at Steve Powell's SHSU Open Karate Tournament.

Confused about which air conditioning unit to buy?

Fortunately, there's an easy way to determine which one will operate most economically: look for the model with an Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER) or Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER) of 8 or higher.

In addition, you should make certain the system is sized to fit your home and installed correctly—other factors essential to maximum efficiency and electricity savings.

But air conditioners with the same cooling capacity can vary greatly in individual efficiency. By comparing EER/SEER numbers, you can tell which unit will do the job with less electricity.

Although a high efficiency model may cost more initially, it will save you money in the long run through lower operating expenses. That's an important consideration here in South Texas where air conditioning is in use so many months of the year.

Be sure to check EER/SEER numbers before you buy air conditioning. Your best value is a unit with an efficiency rating of 8 or more.

Palestine schedule released

PALESTINE — The Texas State Railroad launched its 1982 operating schedule Saturday (March 20) with complete trips between Palestine and Rusk with trains departing from each depot.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said 6 million worth of bridge repairs completed recently allows the popular excursions to make the entire 10-mile round trip between the two East Texas cities. The past two years, bridge repairs and construction allowed only runs to the halfway mark between the Palestine and Rusk depots.

The railroad will operate on weekends only until May 31 when it will shift to its summer schedule, operating Thursday through Monday.

The opening coincided with the start of the annual two week Texas Dogwood Trails celebration.

Officials said reservations are not mandatory, but advisable during spring weekends when the trains are usually running close to capacity. Reservations may be made in person, by mail or telephone. The address is Texas State Railroad, P.O. Box 39, Rusk, TX 75785. A toll-free number is available, 1-800-442-8951. Local residents may call 683-2561.

Theft of radio, battery and other items reported to Thefts of items ranging from a battery to a $6,500 radio system were reported to the county sheriff's department this past week.

The radio was one of two taken — the second radio was valued at $3,500 — from radio towers belonging to Marathon Oil Co. located in Aransas County. Deputies said the units were "just removed" and there was no cutting or damage done.

The thefts occurred sometime during March or early April, prior to April 6 when they were reported. Marathon is a Louisiana-based company.

In a separate incident reported April 5, a boat motor valued at $2,000 was taken from a boat in the yard of David W. Wells Jr. The motor is described as a 25 HP Evinrude and was taken sometime between April 1 and April 5.

An incident of "theft by exercising control" was reported by Floyd's TV Rental in Aransas Pass. Deputies were told a man named Nathan White entered into rental agreement for a stereo valued at $219 and a color console TV valued at about $164 around June 15, 1981, and that around Feb. 5, 1982, White began refusing payments.

Deputies said they learned the articles were sold on April 5 and a complaint was sworn against White. White was arrested April 6 and charged.

The battery, valued at $72, was taken from a car belonging to David W. Wells Jr. around April 1. Wells told deputies the car broke down and he left it on the side of the road. When he returned the battery was missing.

Recovery

A go-cart valued at an estimated $100 was found in a ditch on Liberty between Burton and Hood streets about 7 a.m. Wednesday, April 7. The cart was taken to the sheriff's Marketing orders benefit both the farmer and consumers

COLLEGE STATION — Marketing orders may be understood by only a few but they benefit many, particularly farmers and consumers.

Just what are marketing orders and what do they do? "Simply put, marketing orders are initiated by farmers to deal with marketing problems of certain seasonal commodities," points out Dr. William E. Black, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "They stabilize the marketing process to keep producers in business and at the same time allow a steady flow of high quality produce to consumers."

The U.S. currently boasts 48 federal marketing order and agreement programs. Five of these are in Texas and apply to oranges, grapefruit, tomatoes, onions, lettuce and melon grown in South Texas, notes Black. Last year these products had a farm value of about $150 million.

"Marketing orders first were authorized by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 to help growers with depressed incomes," points out Black. "They have helped keep many producers in business and have provided a stable, orderly supply of graded produce." Here's how marketing orders come about.

Growers initiate and design them in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Provisions of the particular marketing order are based on evidence as provided at a public hearing at which growers, handlers and consumers can all express their views, explains Black. Orders are limited to the smallest regional production area practicable.

Once the proposed marketing order meets all legal requirements, it must be approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in referendum or by growers who produce at least two-thirds of the volume in the particular production area.

"Fruit and vegetable marketing orders do not automatically regulate marketing," notes the economist. "An administrative committee must recommend each regulation to the Secretary of Agriculture who, upon evaluation of the merits of the request, issues the order which is applicable to all growers in the designated production area."

The most common program is to keep low quality produce at home, backed by federal-state inspection, says Black. Less desirable sizes are also withheld under some programs. Harvesting and shipping inferior quality commodities results in losses to growers because consumers purchase poor quality produce at prices that do not cover costs.

Marketing of various commodities can be regulated by grade, size, quality and maturity, explains the economist. Federal laws require any competing imports to meet comparable requirements for the same purpose of the domestic program — to see that poor quality produce does not drive customers away from the marketplace.

Some marketing orders help keep supplies at generally even levels for consumers," adds Black. "This is done by allotting the amounts of the commodity that can be marketed in any week, month or season. With the supply stabilized, produce flows to market more evenly and over a longer period. This reduces market gluts and shortages and sharp price fluctuations."

Fire ant program is becoming a reality

Mike Rothrock
County Extension Agent-
AG
San Patricio-Aransas
Counties

The fire ant bait distribution program is a reality. San Patricio County will receive 12,621 pounds of Amdro® bait for the treatment of fire ants. This is 12,379 pounds short of the total the Commissioners Court ordered from the Texas Department of Agriculture. The reason for the shortage is that the demand for the bait exceeded the available monies for distribution to the 107 counties in Texas that are infested with this pest. Requests from 88 infested counties to the Texas Department of Agriculture totaled 3,122,630 pounds of Amdro® and 28,545 quarts of MC-96.

Persons desiring the one pound bags of Amdro® at $1.25 per bag may purchase it from their local precinct commissioner. The commissioners will have their bait available at their precinct barns and it may be purchased from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. The 25 pound bags of the pesticide will be available from the County Extension Agent's office in Sinton during the same time period listed above and will cost $31.25 per bag.

People purchasing the bait will be required to give their name, address and possibly the location of the bait application. Purchasers will also be required to sign a form issued by the Texas Department of Agriculture. The Commissioners request that only residents and landowners of San Patricio County purchase the pesticide. If you wish to purchase bait for application in another county, you should procure the bait in that county.

The county Extension office will inform the public of the arrival of the Amdro® for sale. If you should have any further questions regarding the bait program or the use of Amdro® please contact your County Extension Agent at 364-2334.

Marijuana program to be sponsored

T-shirts, brochures and bumper stickers comprise a marijuana education program sponsored by the Texas Medical Association Auxiliary.

The project, conducted in cooperation with the state's War on Drugs campaign, carries the theme "Stop Pot!"

The green-and-white T-shirts include that message along with an insignia of a marijuana plant encircled and crossed out in the manner of a traffic sign.

The brochure, entitled

"The Dirty Dozen — 12 Things You Need to Know About Marijuana," notes that:

— More than three-fifths of all high school seniors have tried marijuana. In the last five years, the number of teenagers smoking it daily has almost doubled.

— The ingredient that causes the high in marijuana is THC, which tends to collect in fat. Since the brain has abundant fat, THC heads there. It also collects in the liver, lungs, kidneys and glands. The chemical remains long after the buzz has gone away.

— Recent tests show that it may take as much as a month for the body to clear out the THC from only one marijuana cigarette. Because the body still has almost half of the dope left after one week, even weekend smokers have it in their bodies all week.

— Marijuana adversely affects the growth and division of all kinds of cells. It may be worse on the lungs than cigarettes. Even light, but regular, smokers show mild lung damage in less than two months. Heavy marijuana smoking narrows the breathing passages. In addition, tests on monkeys indicate that marijuana may damage brain cells permanently.

— In pregnant women who smoke marijuana, THC goes directly to the unborn baby and interferes with protein formation and the growth of new cells the baby needs.

— Regular users often cannot drive well, have difficulty remembering details, show a loss of willpower, have problems concentrating and are paranoid.

The brochure also offers tips to parents in dealing with the situation.

Order blanks for the T-shirts can be obtained from county medical society auxiliaries or from the TMA Auxiliary, 1801 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin 78701. Brochures also can be obtained there. The bumper stickers will be available by May.

Texas Historical Commission planning public conference

GALVESTON— The Texas Historical Commission is planning a public conference on "The Victorian Era: Texas Comes of Age," to be held in Galveston, May 6-8. This Texana conference is the third in a series of THC programs examining the major eras in the state's history.

Texana III is funded by a public discussion grant from the Texas Committee for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Humanities. The conference will be cosponsored by the Galveston Historical Foundation, with additional support from the Galveston County Historical Commission, the Texas Historical Foundation, the Texas Chapter of the Victorian Society in America, and the Atlantic Richfield Co.

As a public humanities program, Texana III will provide a forum for an examination of Victorian

Texas and the legacy of that period for our lives today. Presentations at the conference by historians and humanities scholars will cover economic, political, aesthetic, social and cultural aspects of late 19th century immigration into the state; the development of Texas' cotton, oil, cattle and banking industries; the aftermath of Reconstruction and its effect on Texas politics; urbanization of Texas, urban planning and the introduction of city services; and landscaping and parks in the Victorian urban setting. The technological developments which so altered life in the late 19th century will be discussed in terms of the material culture of the era, including Victorian architecture, decorative arts and domestic life.

The effect of technological change of social attitudes will also be analyzed. In addition, the changing roles of women in late 19th century Texas, the effect of epidemiology and preventive medicine on urban life, and the effect of immigration of labor problems in Texas are all aspects of Victorian life which will be discussed at Texana III.

Galveston has been chosen for the location of Texana III because of its major role in Texas history during the last quarter of the 19th century and because of its large concentration of Victorian architecture. In conjunction with the conference, the Galveston Historical Foundation is planning its eighth Annual Homes Tour with seven of the city's finest private homes open May 8-9. In addition, an auction is scheduled at Ashton Villa the evening of May 8.

For more information on the upcoming conference and related events, contact Pat Eitel, Galveston Historical Foundation, P.O. Drawer 539, Galveston, TX 77553, (713) 765-7834.

Bullock will not have any part of drawdown plan

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock said today he will have no part of a Reagan Administration request that Bullock write hot checks to ease federal cash problems.

Bullock said a new federal cash management program called "delay of drawdown" would require him to pledge state credit for federal obligations by writing checks before federal funds were deposited to cover them.

"This strikes at the very heart of the pay-as-you-go provision of the Texas Constitution," Bullock said. "Right now, we get the money and then write the checks. They want us to write the checks and then get the money. This is government instability, a bookkeeping trick to help the federal government balance its books.

"But a bookkeeper with a Number 2 lead pencil can't fool the people of Texas. This is deficit spending and they want to come down here and put it on us. Seventeen states have already buckled under to this farce, but I don't think Texans will. Texans have made it plain they don't want spending in the red by putting pay-as-you-go in the state Constitution."

The delay of drawdown program is designed to save interest on federal funds but, Bullock pointed out, offers no relief to the individual tax payer.

Bullock has written to the Texas Congressional delegation asking them to support a resolution by California Congressman Robert Matsui that would solve the state's problem. Bullock pointed out in the letter that the new procedure "is totally contrary to the new federalism concept which President Reagan says will give more, not less, say to the states in how these funds are used."

"With the help of our representatives in Congress, we hope to keep federal red ink on the other side of the Red River."

Pet Talks

By Dr. Hap Lutz

Dr. Lutz is a former instructor of diseases of dogs and cats in the college of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University.

Feline Viral Upper Respiratory Disease Complex (Part 2)

Feline calicivirus is the other high morbidity disease of this complex, and it's frequently seen in this area by the practicing veterinarians. The virus is spread by air, because it is an air-borne infection. It is also spread by direct contact from one cat to another. The virus attacks primarily the lungs, but can after be isolated from the mucosa or lining of the eye and mouth. The mortality can be as high as 45 percent. Another nasty characteristic of this disease is that even though a cat has recovered from this disease, it may continue to shed an infective virus for two and a half years.

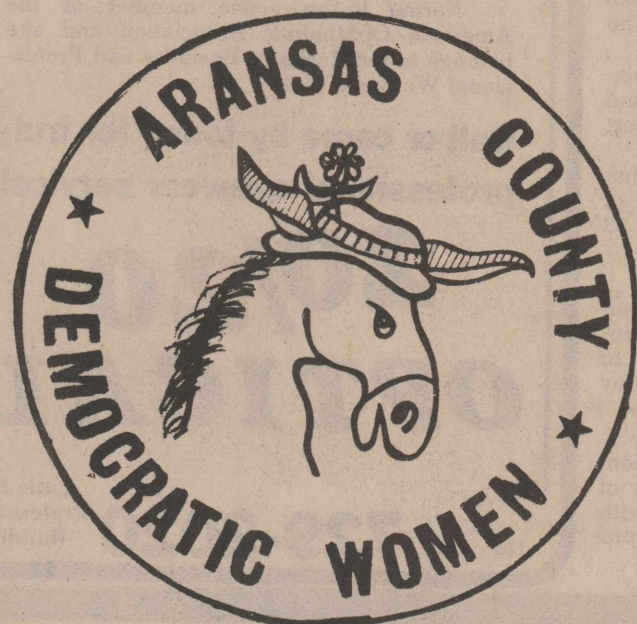

The symptoms of this disease are high fever, severe interstitial pneumonia, ulcers of the tongue, and hard palate. Gastroenteritis with diarrhea is also present.

There is a treatment consisting of injections, oral medication, and a lot of tender loving care on the owner's part. Because of the high mortality rate, this is another disease that you cannot afford not to prevent with inoculations while the kitten or cat is healthy. Kittens as young as six months of age can receive the preventive vaccine.

Dietze named Moot Court Champion

SAN ANTONIO — Jeff Dietze of Rockport was one of two Freshman Moot Court Champions named in last week's Moot Court Competition at St. Mary's University School of Law. Dietze and Deborah Davis of San Antonio were the only team out of 60 that survived four preliminary rounds, and the resulting four elimination rounds. Throughout the competition, the teams represented in different rounds, either respondent, the state or the petitioner — a 16-year old youth who had been sentenced to death. The cases were based on two issues: 1) whether the search of petitioner's automobile was a valid search incident to arrest; and 2) whether the imposition of the death penalty upon a juvenile offender is cruel and unusual punishment.

New plant disease lab opens at A & M

COLLEGE STATION — The Texas Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University is now in full operation.

Under the direction of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the lab is set up to handle all types of plant disease problems, from field crops to gardens and landscape plants.

Larry W. Barnes, Extension Service plant pathologist, will be coordinating the functions of the new lab.

"We are pleased to have this new lab in operation to deal with a broad range of plant disease problems," says Barnes. "Each year diseases inflict heavy losses to agricultural crops in Texas as well as to garden and landscape plants. We plan to give full emphasis to plant disease detection, evaluation and control so that many of these losses can be averted."

"We feel this service will benefit Texas producers, homeowners, people in the greenhouse and nursery business, and anyone else with a plant disease problem," adds Barnes.

Among major disease problems in Texas crops in past years have been root rot in cotton, powdery mildew and rust in wheat and a host of other crops, leaf spot and blight in peanuts, downy mildew and mosaic virus in grain sorghum, and blast and stem blight in rice.

"Through our network of county Extension agents in virtually every county of Texas as well as our staff of Extension plant pathologists located at Texas A&M and at various field locations, we hope to keep close tabs on conditions that might lead to plant disease problems so that these can be detected and controlled in their early stages," notes Barnes. "Early detection and control are essential for keeping disease losses and control costs to a minimum."

The new plant disease laboratory will operate on a fee basis just like the Soil, Water and Forage Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M. Cost per plant disease specimen is $7. Nematode tests will be $5 per sample. Checks should be made payable to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Plant disease specimens may be brought to the lab, which is located in Room 101 of the Plant Sciences Building on the A&M campus, or they may be mailed to the Texas Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory, Room 101, Plant Sciences Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, Tex. 77843.

Information on collecting and mailing plant disease specimens is available at any county Extension office, adds Barnes.

4-H roundup set

Upwards of 450 South Texas 4-H club members are in the final throes of preparing for district competition here Saturday April 24 which will determine who goes on to the State 4-H Roundup this summer at College Station. They are survivors of local competition in the 16 counties embraced by Texas Agricultural Extension Service Coastal Bend District.

Competition will begin at 9:30 a.m. The awards program, open to the public, will be held at 1 p.m. in the Bee County College Gymnasium.

The District 4-H Rifle Match with approximately 20 junior and senior teams competing will be held the same day at the Bee County Coliseum, starting at 8:30 a.m. Teams of four shooters will vie for trophies, with the top two senior teams going on to represent the District at State 4-H Roundup.

Members of the District 4-H Council, adult leaders, subject matter specialists from the Corpus Christi Research and Extension Center, county Extension agents and special guests from throughout the district will assist in the big youth jamboree.

Winners and runnersup from each of 31 senior events will go to Texas A&M University June 8-9 to compete against the top finishers from the other 13 Extension Service districts for state honors.

Competition will also be held Saturday at Bee County College in the junior events, with the top three teams in each qualifying for honor ribbons. However, no juniors will compete at State Roundup, which is restricted to seniors.

San Jacinto Day set

HOUSTON — The annual San Jacinto Day celebration will be held Saturday, April 24, at the San Jacinto Monument south-east of Houston. San Jacinto Day, April 21, is a Texas Heritage Day which commemorates the Battle of San Jacinto fought in 1836.

A barbecue will begin at 11:30 a.m. on the park grounds followed by formal ceremonies with keynote speaker, U.S. Congressman Jack Fields. The program is sponsored by the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas and the Texas Heritage Project.

The skirmish at San Jacinto, considered one of the most decisive battles of the world, was the concluding military event of the Texas Revolution. The freedom from Mexico the Texans won in this 18-minute battle assured the establishment of the Republic.

The Texas Heritage Project, is a committee of the Texas Historical Foundation.

Vacancy

night's meeting, to let H.E.B. officials read the proposed announcement.

The council agreed that when the matter did come before the council again, it should be in a closed session since they would be discussing legal matters.

City administrator Herman Johnson reported on the status of city requests that the council and the navigation district contribute to the 1982 Water Safety Patrol Program.

the project be made entrances only, with exits being provided onto Encina Drive.

City officials pointed out that the developers of the condo project have already received their permits for the project as originally platted — with entrances and exits off Harbor Drive.

"The city has had this project at three different meetings," said City Administrator Herman Johnson. "We called a public hearing on it."

No protests were voiced over the traffic at any of those meetings, Johnson pointed out, and the city approved the plats as presented.

"Then we found out there was some dissatisfaction with the traffic," Johnson said, "so the city went to two experts, Urban and

Johnson said the navigation district had approved a contribution of $2,000 to the project but a request that the county contribute $1,000 was denied in Monday morning's county commissioners court meeting.

Council members reviewed the monthly police and animal control reports for March and approved bills paid from March 9 to April 7.

the Highway Department" and received the recommendations to cut through the median to allow traffic from the condos access to both lanes on Harbor Drive.

At this point, another property owner, Phil Adler, asked, "Was the plat fully developed?"

"Yes, Sir," Johnson replied. "I don't know if the developer would want to change," he added. "He has all his permits."

"I think the next thing is injunction in court," Scholz said.

At this point, Rockport realtor Larry Martin said, "I'd like to see somebody contact the developer (Scholz said earlier the developer had not been contacted by the property owners) because I think the man will listen."

Four California national cemeteries will be reopened by the Veterans Administration this summer for the burial of cremated remains. The creation of garden niches to provide for the dignified use of land unsuitable for the interment of casketed remains permits the reopening of the West Coast cemeteries where the call to bury cremated remains is particularly strong.

Dumping

each company submitting a bid on a gasoline engine and a diesel model. Bid specifications were based on those from the last dump truck purchased by the county, said Judge Wendell.

The City of Rockport's request for $1,000 for the Water Safety Patrol was denied by the commissioners, with their main reason being that the city had submitted their request months after the county's budget had been finalized. All four commissioners voted against the request.

Frank Samson, representing the Council on Aging, was active in the discussion that ensued from the COA's request for a county commissioner's presence at all COA meetings. Samson explained that, in light of the county's financial support of the council, the COA Board of Directors felt it would be justified to have a county liaison at their meetings. None of the four commissioners showed interest in attending the meetings in light of their work demands.

Commissioner for Precinct 3, W.B. Sanders said, "Is this going to be one of those things where we show up and you ask us for $100 here and $100 there?" Samson assured Sanders that financial need had nothing to do with the COA wanting the commissioners at their meeting.

In light of the commissioners' remarks about not having time to attend the meetings, held on the second Thursday of the month, Samson asked if a liaison could be appointed and asked to attend the meetings only when an issue vital to the county came up. This was agreed to and Commissioner Sanders was nominated for the position.

Also discussed, but not acted on at the meeting, was a request from Fulton Mayor

L.E. Casterline for the county to deal with a problem arising from an alleged right-of-way violation on Casterline Drive. According to Judge Wendell, a portion of fence and a building were on the road. Wendell advised the court that County Attorney James Anderson should look into the problem before any action was taken and the matter was tabled, pending Anderson's recommendation. The next commissioners' court session should include on the agenda this recommendation and the commissioners' action on the matter. The request from Casterline was originally received and discussed at the commissioners' meeting two weeks ago.

More court discussion centered around the requests of Al Johnson to have a portion of Fuqua Street closed between Market and North.

The commissioners could not at this point close the street until Johnson had taken care of public notices required for a street closing.

Also present at the meeting was Max Kluge, requesting commissioner approval of a proposed subdivision plat. Kluge's plan entailed 486 acres north of the airport. Questions from the commissioners arose regarding the drainage of the property. The property is drained by a number of ditches, some of which belong to the state easement. The commissioners, though showing support of Kluge's project, first requested that he obtain a statement from the Highway Department in regards to the state obligation to maintain the drainage ditches properly. Kluge indicated that he would contact the Highway Department and return to the Court.

It Works!

The growth of the Pilot Service Directory is a definite success story — one that our satisfied customers have contributed to.

The growth of this advertising section during the past year has been constant, says Classified

Manager Florence Sharp. "When I first started with this, I had about 15 ads in the Midweek and was to two in the Weekender. Now there are 36 ads in the Midweek and 14 in the Weekender."

Seems like quite a few customers have gotten the message — it pays to advertise in the Service Directory. Over the past year, a wide range of businesses have taken advantage of the opportunity. From well-established companies like The Prescription Center and 20-20 Optical to a number of individuals doing yard work, the Service Directory has provided a successful alternative advertising method.

Says Sharp, "This is really good for the new businesses; the ones who have started after the phone books have gone out. This is a way for them to get their phone number out in front of the public. It's better than the Yellow Pages, it's all right there on one page."

"You betch it worked," says Ed Madull. Madull, a newcomer to the Service Directory with his ad for Quality Services, is enthusiastic. "It definitely did me some good. You just have to get your foot in the door and that's all it takes."

A year-long Service Directory advertiser is Las Brisas Motel. "We were satisfied," says a motel spokesman. "We know people saw it and gave us a call."

"We were very satisfied," says Margaret Chastain of Merle Norman Cosmetics. Merle Norman has been advertising in the directory for three months.

"A lot of people told me they saw it," says J.J. Carpenter. Mr. Carpenter's service directory story about his mowing service and ad ran last winter.

Ron Clark, Prescription

Center pharmacist says, "I noticed a surge in business after my ad came out."

Fern Lindsey says of her ad and the story about her bookkeeping service, "It was beautifully written and it got results. I got calls immediately."

Lindsey says that she clips out and files the directory ads for businesses she feels that she might be in need of later, something that a number of Pilot readers do.

B's Upholstery owner Barbara Spurlock says she received "lots of business" as a direct result of her story and ad in the Service Directory. "Everyone says they saw it in the Pilot. It sure did work," she says.

It sure does work — and it can work for you. For more information, call the Pilot at 729-9900.

A lovely rock-framed fireplace, bar, & game section round out the room. The rest of the house includes a dining room, kitchen, & living room plus 3 bedrooms/2 baths with built-in storage. So many other distinctive features — including a circular drive with rock garden, a goldfish pond, Oriental touches scattered throughout, and a long deck on the bayfront, an enclosed garage, a workroom with bench and shelves, and a protected shower for the guests off the beach. $149,900

CANAL HOMES

BREATH-TAKING INSIDE & OUT — The full green of the landscaping sets off the bright yellow of the exterior, both complementing the clean lines of the architecture itself. Within, cool blues and whites blend with the high ceiling to create a light and airy atmosphere upstairs. Downstairs, hues of brown decorate the rooms, accented with a white mock fireplace and contemporary panelling. All of the house is carefully furnished and tastefully decorated - 4 bedrooms, 3 baths, living room & den, kitchen, & dining area, gameroom, even covered decks & patio space. Extras include a rock bordered pool with fountain, a spiral staircase, a canopied den, and deck, dock, and large utility room. $129,900

SUPER SAUNA ON THE GROUND FLOOR — Just one more extra to facilitate luxury living on the waterfront. This home is complete with professionally decorated living space - 2 bedrooms, 2 baths upstairs, oversized kitchen, den with a mirrored wall, track lighting and planked ceiling. Downstairs, an office and bath; workroom with sturdy built-in bench; 2 car garage; fenced back yard, boat dock; fish-cleaning table and patio. $155,000

TROPICAL GARDEN ON THE WATERFRONT. Pretty palms, lush greenery surround this home, and frame a patio overlooking the water. Two floors of living space with panellled den, dining area, kitchen, 3 second floor bedrooms and 2 baths, a ground floor bedroom and bath with separate heating and cooling, and utility room with built-in shelves. Other extras include boat lift, dock, fish-cleaning table, fenced back yard, and waterside deck. $159,500

MASTER BEDROOM with mirrored bath, and 2 more bedrooms and a bath fill out the upper level of this split level home. The balcony overlooks the mid-level den, dining area, and kitchen (comes with a big window over the water). And on the ground floor, there's another bedroom and bath, the tackle room, and the storage utility room with 1/2 bath. All the extras for canal-side living - boat dock with fishing lights and ramp; patio; screened front deck and fish-cleaning table. $200,000

LITTLE BAY VIEW — This excellent permanent home offers one of the best views possible. Main floor with two bedrooms, two baths, spacious living room, dining room, den, kitchen and utility/pantry. Ground floor with a bedroom, bath, den tackle room and two car garage. Boat docks for a 505 and 25' boat. Fishing lights. Existing financing. $225,000

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS OPPORTUNITY — This home has a bit of everything you want (waterfront location, a den & master suite overlooking the canal, wet bar with soda dispenser & icemaker, & a den with a fireplace), and everything you need (a den, a gameroom, 4 bedrooms & 3 baths, a kitchen with a Corning cook top, a workshop, an office, & a large storage room). Other pluses include a washed concrete patio, a deck overlooking the canal, a fenced backyard, and enclosed entrance and stairway. Large assumption. $225,000

THE MIRRORED PLANT ALCOVE accents the contemporary look of the upper living-dining room of the gorgeous home on Luau Lane. During recent remodelling, everything was done over; carpets, walls, interior and exterior design - all adding to the basic 4 bedroom, 3 bath structure. The master suite sports a mirrored Jacuzzi; a separate room for exercise has a mirrored ballet bar; an enclosed spiral staircase connects an upper level living room to a ground floor sun room; a wet bar downstairs also has full cooking facilities and looks out over the canal. Of course, there's a boat dock and fish-cleaning table, washed-concrete patio, and added storage space. $249,950

BEAUTIFUL, BEDAZZLING AND BRAND NEW from one of our fine island builders. Out on the end of the island, with easy access to and with a wide view of the bay, this home can be just what you're looking for. On the second floor, the den is windowed on 3 sides with a fireplace on the bay side; the master suite opens out to the covered deck and has separate vanities and walk-in closets off the bath; two more bedrooms are oversized with walk-in closets and share a large bath. The ground floor den/game room is panellled and has a wet bar with icemaker and bath. Other extras include an enclosed entry, a front and back deck, a fish-cleaning table, and boat dock. $264,000

Pamphlets go out to patients

Pamphlets being distributed to Texas physicians and their patients outline steps to deal with doctors suspected of incompetence, dishonesty or unethical conduct.

The information, compiled by the Texas Medical Association, covers such topics as fee disputes and disciplinary action.

In a pamphlet entitled, "If You Have a Problem With Your Doctor," the patient with a complaint is encouraged first to discuss it with the physician.

"Many complaints arise from misunderstandings between the patient and the doctor or his office staff," explained Dallas physician William F. Ross, TMA's president. "Many times, just talking about it solves the problem."

If no agreement results, there are other options.

If the physician is a member of the Texas Medical Association, his conduct is subject to review by the local county medical society. Ross said grievance committees of the county societies often are able to sort through misunderstandings, explain a physician's actions or suggest that the doctor take corrective action to resolve a dispute with a patient.

Disciplinary actions available to county medical societies are censure, suspension or expulsion of the physician from membership. The county societies also can report serious or continuing problems to the State Board of Medical Examiners in Austin for possible investigation.

If the physician is not a TMA member or if the patient believes a member-doctor's conduct violates the Texas Medical Practice Act or other state laws, the patient can contact the state board directly. As a state agency, the board investigates cases within its jurisdiction and can restrict, suspend or cancel a physician's license to practice in Texas.

Concerning fees, medical societies are prevented by law and policy from setting physicians' fees or restricting competition among doctors. Still, medical societies can provide an informed opinion on whether a fee seems reasonable. If warranted, a medical society can request a member-physician to reduce a fee charged. Any fee change by the physician, however, is voluntary.

A companion pamphlet for doctors, "Physician Responsibility," gives the steps to deal with impaired physicians and also says: "A physician should expose, without fear or favor, incompetent or corrupt, dishonest or unethical conduct on the part of members of the profession."

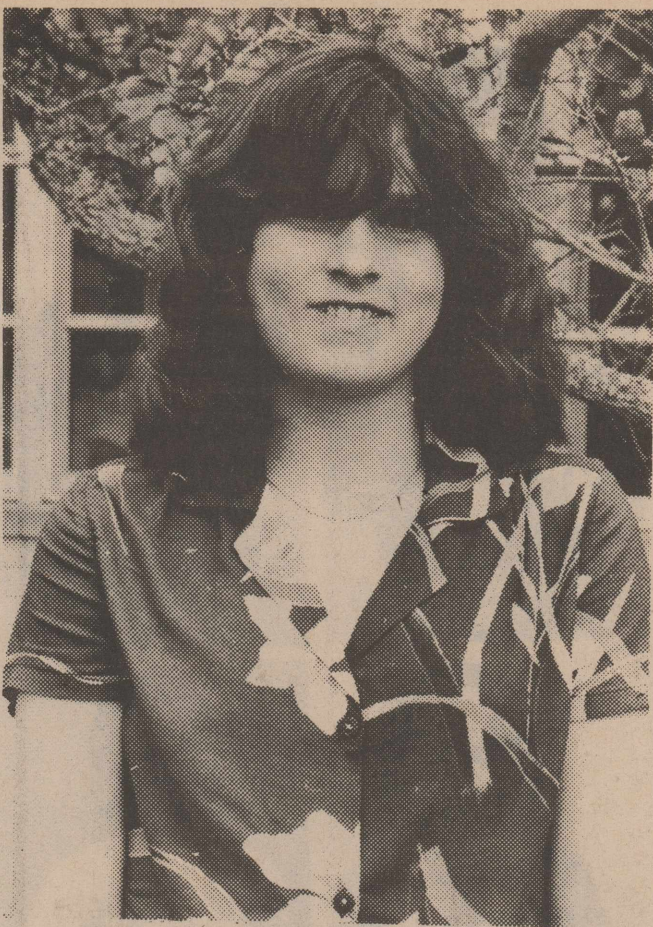

Pamphlets can be obtained from the local county medical society or the Texas Medical Association, Medical Ethics Office, 1801 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin 78701.

Information cards provide for victims

AUSTIN - If you're in an accident or suddenly taken ill, what do you have in your possession to guide police, paramedics or doctors to the fastest and safest way to help you?

The National Safety Council has produced an answer to this problem - the new "National Safety Council Medical Information Card." This wallet-sized card carries vital medical data on a strip of microfilm and has a built-in lens system which allows the card to be read anywhere. In an emergency, a rescuer need only bend the plastic card to bring the lens and microfilm together to read the accident victim's medical history on the spot. The Texas Safety Association (TSA) will distribute and market the card in Texas.

TSA President Dean Ward said a typical card contains identification

Two injured during rash of Friday accidents

A rash of accidents kept Rockport police busy Friday, April 9, but only two persons were reported injured in mishaps. Both were treated and released from Enterprise Medical Clinic.

Angelica Romero, 10, was released following treatment for apparently minor injuries after being struck by a car while trying to cross North Bronte about 5:20 p.m. Friday.

The car was driven by Duehl Thomas Falor of Aransas Pass. Police said Falor attempted to stop for the child but could not. They estimated Falor was traveling about 30 miles per hour at the time. No tickets were issued.

Also treated for minor injuries was Tony Aleman of Fulton whose car ran off the roadway and into some bushes as he was attempting a turn from Magnolia onto Cedar Street. That mishap occurred about 11:24 a.m. Friday.

Aleman was ticketed for not having a driver's license in his possession and failure to show proof of responsibility (no liability insurance).

Aleman and the Romero child were treated at the scene by paramedics with the Aransas County Emergency Medical Service before being transported to the clinic.

In a third accident Friday, both drivers received tickets following a collision about 12:14 p.m. on Bronte about 65 feet north of 1st Street.

Cars driven by Jerry Dale Dierlam of Seadrift and Ted Greenfield of Rockport were southbound on Bronte when Dierlam's vehicle struck Greenfield's as Greenfield was attempting a left turn into a parking lot.

Dierlam was ticketed for following too closely and Greenfield received tickets for failure to show proof of responsibility, driving with an expired license plate and

Returns can still be changed

Many taxpayers discover that after they have filed their federal tax returns, some item was left out, such as a deduction or an income figure. These taxpayers can change their original tax returns by filing corrected returns on Form 1040X, the Internal Revenue Says.

The original return can be amended any time during the three years following the due date (including extensions) of the original, or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later, according to the IRS.

Taxpayers can receive copies of Form 1040X and additional information by calling the IRS at 688-9431 in Corpus Christi.

Bullock challenges Texans to keep federal funds at home

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday that Texans need to start deciding which of the federal programs threatened by President Reagan's budget axe they want to support in the future.

"Instead of crying over federal budget cuts, I think program administrators and local government officials should be thinking carefully about the real needs of Texans and how to fill those needs," Bullock said.

"The 1983 budget that the President has submitted to Congress proposes eliminating and trimming hundreds of programs Uncle Sam has been paying for. As best I can tell, these cuts will mean about $150 million less in social services and not more than half a billion dollars less in grant funds for Texas. We in Texas are lucky enough to have the money to pay for the best of these programs, but we'll have to spend wisely.

"Congress isn't going to sit still for all of these cuts.

Anybody who's paid any attention to the federal government knows that. But when our legislators report to the capitol next January, I expect they'll be greeted by Texans who will have real needs that will have to be dealt with here at home," Bullock said.

Bullock pointed out that

Texans have been short-changed under federal grant programs that returned $1 to the state for every $1.40 in taxes Texans paid to support them.

"We can keep that money at home and use it more efficiently. And, we can probably meet the needs of our students, the poor and needy, without a tax increase, since we can still depend on the federal government to spend more defense dollars for products made in Texas and to keep mailing Social Security checks to Texans.

"I'll do my part to meet this challenge by collecting every nickel that's due the state.

Open house, 'no fines' highlight Library Week

Aransas County's Public Library will celebrate National Library Week April 19-23 with a week-long open house, a display of new books and memorial books — and a "fine-free" week, according to Head

Librarian Eunice Hamon.

Refreshments will be served from noon until 6 p.m. throughout the week, and library fines for overdue books will be forgiven during the five-day period. "Regardless of the length of time the books are overdue, no fines will be charged," said Mrs. Hamon who urged library patrons to "Please take advantage of the fine-free week." A book depository located at the entrance to the library can be used when the library is closed. She urged all Aransas

County residents to visit the library during National Library Week — which nas also been declared State Library Week in a special proclamation issued by Governor William P. Clements Jr.

In declaring the statewide observance of the special week, Clements said, "The future of our state depends upon a well-informed public."

Theme of this year's Library Week in Texas is "Get to Know a Lifelong Friend — Your Library," and the observance is sponsored by the Texas Library Association as well as libraries throughout the state.

One of the largest of the statewide observances will be in Dallas where a new Central Library will be dedicated on April 18.

Frontier Days Festival coming to Houston

HOUSTON — The Second Annual Frontier Days Festival gets off to an exciting start as Louise Mandrell opens the Festival on Saturday, April 24. Mandrell and all other performers will entertain at 4 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Mandrell is a member of the immensely talented musical family. The Mandrells. She appears in the number-one rated, NBC-TV variety show, "Barbara Mandrell and the Mandrell Sisters" with her sisters Barbara and Irene.

America's favorite hobo, Boxcar Willie, comes to Frontier Days on Saturday, May 1. Boxcar was recently honored by Music City News as the "Most Promising New Male Artist."

Raised in Sterrett, Texas, Boxcar began imitating train whistles at a young age and since that time his realistic whistle has become his trademark.

Elektra/Asylum recording artist Eddy Raven will be the featured entertainer on Saturday, May 8 and Sunday, May 9. Raven's debut album for Elektra/Asylum, "Desperate Dreams," produced two big hits "I Should've Called" and "Who Do You Know in California." Also appearing on May 8 will be Amanda Arnold and the J.B. Carter Band.

Festival goers will get a double treat on Saturday, May 15 as the Kendalls and Toppall and the Glaser Brothers perform.

Named as one of Playboy Magazine's Top 10 Country Groups in 1981, the Kendalls' current hit, "If You're Waiting on Me," is listed as number 10 on Billboard Magazine's country chart.

The Kendalls won a Grammy Award and the 1978 Country Music Association Single of the Year for their song "Heaven's Just a Sin Away."

Toppall and the Glaser

Brothers have been nominated for eight Grammy awards as well as being hailed the "Country Group of the Decade" for the '60s by "Record World." Their current song "It'll Be Her" just recently broke in on the country charts at number 25.

Saturday, May 22 will bring Epic recording artist Charley McClain to the Second Annual Frontier Days Festival. Her current hit, "The Very Best Is You" is on the way to number one.

McClain has had over 15 hits since the beginning of her career with Epic in 1977. Her top songs in 1982 included "Surround Me With Love" and "Sleepin' With the Radio On."

The original Coca-Cola Cowboy, Mel Tillis, will be appearing at Frontier Days on Saturday, May 29. Tillis, who has been an important factor in country music for more than 25 years has had over 50 hits.

Memorial Day, Terri Gibbs will appear at Frontier Days. A combination of rich country and smokey blues, Gibbs' voice and album has been attracting accolades and awards. In April 1981, the Academy of Country Music gave Gibbs its Top New Female Vocalist award. Her single "Somebody's Knockin'" hit number one last year.

Also appearing on May 31 is Houston's own Roy Head.

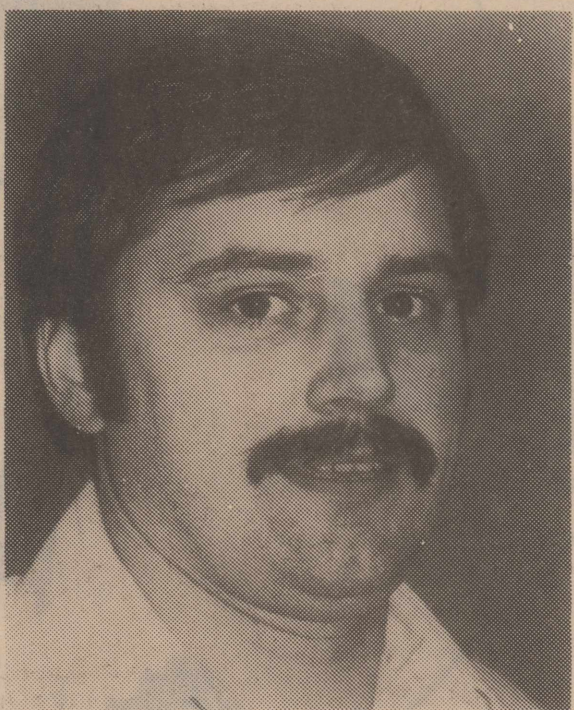

Coloring contest winners (Photos by Ted Norman)

ond in the 4 and 5-year-old division; Monica Lopez, first in 4 and 5-year-olds; Sammy Spears, first in 6 and 7-year-olds; Andrea Garcia, second, 6 and 7-year-olds; and Nellie Gutowski, first, 8, 9 and 10-year-olds.

Hi, Tim!

We've got a new vice-president we'd like you to meet. His name is Tim Gilles. He comes to us most recently from Brownsville, but his eleven years of banking experience have been gained in Oregon and Arizona as well as Texas.

Tim's real strength is helping his community grow. When he's at work he makes things happen, searching out opportunities rather than waiting for them to come to him. When he's not at work Tim stays busy too, and we expect that the Chamber of Commerce, the Lion's Club, and Rotary will all get to know Tim real well. He's a pretty terrific softball coach too.

We know that as Tim and his wife Jackie settle in here, that you'll make them feel welcome, and we know that Tim is going to make a great contribution to our group here at the bank because we're all working toward the same thing — the continued growth of Aransas County as the best possible place to work and live.

Come by and meet Tim real soon. He'd like to get to know you.

Collins sponsors surplus property legislation

WASHINGTON — Working to reduce waste by the Federal government, Texas Congressman Jim Collins has sponsored legislation calling for the sale of surplus Federal property.

"Surplus property held for decades, even a century, by the Federal government, should be sold to help reduce our $1 trillion national debt. We have a responsibility to the taxpayers of this country to better manage Federal assets — especially surplus property," Collins said.

H. Res. 265, which Collins is cosponsoring, directs the President to prepare an inventory of Federal assets, estimating current market value, and submitting recommendations to Congress providing for the sale of those assets which are determined to be "surplus." Collins explained that the proceeds from surplus property sales would immediately be used to bring down our massive Federal debt and the interest on it, which reached $95.5 billion last year alone.

Collins cited a recent Government Accounting Office (GAO) report which disclosed that the Federal government owns one-third of the land within the United States and 405,147 buildings with more than 2.65 billion feet of floor space. "The astounding thing is that the Federal government has no idea what this property is worth."

"The Treasury Department estimates that we have total assets of $1 trillion, with $130 billion in real property holdings. Of this, at least $1.3 billion is acknowledged as surplus property," said Collins. The fiscally conservative Congressman added that the $1.3 billion currently listed as surplus property is outdated: "When you are talking about property acquired by the Federal government years and years ago, the $1.3 billion figure merely represents an addition of original purchase prices — not actual market value, which would be substantially higher. The accounting and inventory procedures outlined in the resolution would lay the framework higher. The accounting and inventory procedures outlined in this resolution would lay the framework for arriving at the actual market value and selling the excess property," according to Collins. The Texas Congressman pointed out that this bill specifically excludes national parks, wilderness, monuments and historic sites from the inventory process. A few examples of Federal surplus property include vacant office buildings, abandoned military mases and land purchased for projects never completed.

The legislation has been referred to the House Committee on Government Operations.

Bentsen chairs WalkAmerica campaign

Senator Lloyd Bentsen has been named the Texas Senatorial Honorary WalkAmerica Chairman, and Congressman Jim Collins has been named the Texas Congressional Honorary WalkAmerica Chairman for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

Both Senator Bentsen and Congressman Collins, along with Texas Representatives E. de la Garza, Kent Hance, James Wright, Jack Hightower, Marvin Leath, Martin Frost and Tom Loeffler, were participants in the first Congressional WalkAmerica which took place on March 31 at noon on the Capitol grounds. The Congressional WalkAmerica was a symbolic kick-off for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation's nationwide fund-raising event, WalkAmerica '82.

These Texas congressional leaders were among 145 senators and representatives from 45 states who were assembled to show their support for the prevention of birth defects and urge their constituents to join WalkAmerica organized by March of Dimes local chapters for the April 24-25 weekend.

On WalkAmerica week-end, March of Dimes chapters will sponsor 30-kilometer community walks where walkers raise funds through pledges for the distances that they cover. The funds support March of Dimes research, medical service and education programs to fight America's major child health problem...birth defects.

The Congressional Walkers were joined by six youthful television celebrities, Morgan Brittany, Dean Butler, Claudia Lo-now, Andrea McArdle, Ted McGinley and Adam Rich, who will be visiting 19 other cities to promote WalkAmerica.

Contest judges

The judges for the Pilot Easter Coloring Contest had their hands full last Thursday. Lenora Beck (left) and Sharon True had a hard time picking winners out of the more than 70 entries. Other judges were Cam Leonard and Rick Schilling. All four judges remarked on the talent and creativity shown on the coloring contest and congratulated all the participants for a job well done.

County Cancer Crusade passes halfway mark

The Aransas County Cancer Crusade is more than halfway to its goal, with $3,800 raised so far through the door-to-door residential campaign, according to Rick Schilling, president of the Aransas County Unit of American Cancer Society.

Goal for this year's Crusade, which will continue through April 30, is $5,500.

Money raised through the Cancer Crusade is sent to the state unit of ACS in Austin and is then redistributed. Last year, Schilling said, approximately $1,700 was returned to Aransas County to directly benefit cancer patients here. Approximately 22 cents of every $1 collected through the Crusade is used for service-rehabilitation for cancer patients.

Of the remaining funds collected, approximately 25 cents of every $1 is used for public education on how to recognize cancer's early warning signs and 12 cents is spent on professional education. Another 26 cents of each dollar is used for cancer research.

Alice Moore is Crusade chairman for the door-to-door campaign in Aransas

County this year and Schilling is Crusade chairman in charge of the business campaign.

Emphasis in this year's Crusade is on education, getting the message to the public that cancer can be cured if detected and treated early, according to Crusade officials.

Today, the ACS reports, one of every three cancer patients is being saved through early detection and treatment, and officials estimate that, with present knowledge and methods of treatment, one of every two cancer patients could be saved — if only people were more alert to cancer's seven warning signals and the safeguards against cancer.

Health Systems Agency aids county EMS

KINGSVILLE — The South Texas Health Systems Agency (STHSA) approved 15 applications for federal funds — including one that benefits Aransas County's paramedic service — during 1982, according to the year-end report released recently by the STHSA board of directors.

The board also reviewed 30 certificate of need (CON) applications and recommended approval of all 30, including a new 30-bed skilled Medicare-nursing facility in Corpus Christi.

The Aransas County Emergency Medical Service (EMS) received a boost through a Proposed Use of Federal Funds (PUFF) application submitted by the Coastal Bend Council of Governments.

The COG application was for an Emergency Medical Services System Plan totaling $556,372. Of this, according to Bill Aston, chief paramedic with the Aransas County EMS, some $50,000 worth of equipment was purchased for the Aransas County service, with the federal funding covering about 75 percent of the cost.

"The entire telemetry system was funded through this," Aston said. Telemetry equipment has already been received and installed for one ambulance. Also being funded through the project is telemetry equipment for area hospitals.

In addition to the STHS, the Coastal Bend COG program was also approved by the Department of Health and Human Services.

The STHSA approved 15 PUFF applications during 1981, disapproved three and made no recommendation on one.

Recommendation for a Certificate of Need was made for a nursing home facility applied for by Trinity Towers in Corpus Christi. The application specified that a 30-bed facility would be constructed, equipped and operated as part of a 210 apartment retirement community.

Certificate of Need applications go before the Texas Health Facilities Commission for final action.

The STHSA board, made up of consumers and providers of health care, reviews applications and requests for projects relating to health care in South Texas. This board helps guide the changes that take place in the health care system in the region.

Victoria campus sponsors retail course

VICTORIA — How to improve retail skills and income will be the topic of a continuing education course to aid beginners as well as experienced retail persons as part of the continuing education program at the University of Houston Victoria Campus.

The course, with Phil North as instructor, is designed to enhance the selling techniques of all sales persons with strong emphasis on the art of persuasion and turning objections into closing the sale.

Two sessions will be conducted from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 20, and Thursday, April 22, in Room 21 of the UHVC Annex at 3402 N. Ben Wilson. They are co-sponsored by the Small Business Administration.

Topics will include completing a sale from greeting to closing, the ego trip of successful selling, value of good customer relations, body language of selling, customer behavior, and what a good sales talk is.

For further information call the division of continuing education at UHVC, 576-3151.

Brown reports on subcommittee

HOUSTON — Senator J.E. "Buster" Brown, Republican-Lake Jackson, reported the recommendations of the Subcommittee on Matagorda to the Senate Natural Resources Committee on Thursday, April 1.

"The subcommittee's first recommendation is that the 19,000 acres be returned to the original land owners," said Brown. "If this doesn't happen we recommend that the land go to the State of Texas. Whether the land is given to the State or returned to the original land owners, we would urge that the wetlands portion now owned by the State continue to be managed under the current guidelines."

Brown stated that copies of the subcommittee report as well as the transcript from the hearing has been mailed to the Department of Interior to be included in their Environmental Impact Study.

In other committee business testimony was given regarding toxic waste disposal. "It is clear from testimony given today," said Brown, "that those issuing the permits need to take a closer look at where the waste is originating so that a site will not be chosen where toxic waste is not produced. Ninety-five percent of toxic waste," said Brown, "is disposed by industry in their own disposal sites. The remaining five percent is what will be disposed in off site wells."

Those testifying on toxic wastes included: Dr. Stephen Safe — Texas A&M University, Mr. Paul Seals — Texas Department of Water Resources, Mr. C.

R. Miertschin — Texas Department of Water Resources, Mr. Jack Carmichael — Texas Department of Health and Mr. Harry Whitworth — Texas Chemical Council.

Testimony was also given in the area of solid waste management.

"In disposing of municipal solid wastes," said Brown, "we need to look at ways in which reclamation of our solid wastes will be cost effective."
