ANARCHIST HURLS BOMB AT MUSSOLINI RISING STAR OIL FIELD GETS THE LARGEST PRODUCER IN WEEK SWEEPING INVESTIGATION IS PLANNED

FEW MEMBERS LEGISLATURE REACH AUSTIN

Satterwhite and King
May Call for Caucus
On Sunday Afternoon

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Less than a dozen members of the legislature had arrived in Austin Saturday night for the special session of the legislature which convenes at noon Monday. Not until Sunday was anywhere near a quorum of members expected here, and those who have arrived are saying very little as to how they will vote on the resolution to appoint a joint committee to make the sweeping investigation of all departments. There are some members who prefer to postpone the investigation until the regular session of the fortieth legislature, which will convene on Jan. 11.

Speaker Lee Satterwhite and Representative A. H. King of Throckmorton county are the only two members now here, who are outspoken for an investigation at this time. If a sufficient number of members have arrived Sunday, a caucus probably will be held to discuss the investigation subject.

No matter what decision has been reached in the caucus, Representative King is determined to introduce his resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of seven members of the house and three senators to start an immediate investigation. King thinks there has already been too much delay, and he will insist that the special session start the ball to rolling.

Early in the session, the governor is expected to submit the subject of an appropriation to supplement the available school fund to increase the per capita from $11.50 to $15, and also the subject of increasing the gasoline tax from one to three cents a gallon for the relief of the schools. She also may suggest a tax on cigarettes.

THROCKMORTON MAN TO ACT INDEPENDENTLY

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—The concurrent resolution, drawn by representative A. H. King, of Throckmorton county, providing for a "state investigation committee" to make sweeping investigations of the highway department, the state prison and other state departments will be introduced a few hours after the house convenes next Monday, King said today. It is to be a joint committee, consisting of seven members of the house and three senators.

Only signature of King will be on the resolution, he said, adding that signatures of other house members has not been requested.

Members of the legislature are arriving slowly in Austin, but those who are here say there is no doubt that there will be a quorum in both branches, when the special session convenes at noon on Monday.

Hickman Files His Report On Killing Bandits

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Ranger Captain Tom Hickman, made the following report to his chief, Adjutant-General E. J. Matthews:
"Two men robbing the Red River National Bank at noon, resisted arrest and were killed by former Ranger Stanley, Constable Ivey and myself."

Another Cut In Taxes Will Be Demanded

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Further tax reduction in the December meeting of Congress, will be asked by democrats, Senator Simmons, tax expert explained tonight.
Figuring a surplus of $377,760,817 for 1926 fiscal year, and $185,000,000 for 1927, Simmons held that these sums should be written off in reduced taxations "without delay."

HOGG REVIVAL CAMPAIGN IN RANGER CLOSES

The Will Hogg revival campaign for Ranger will come to a close on Sunday night. The last day of the meeting will be featured by three co-operating services. All the co-operating congregations will worship together in the Methodist church at 11 a. m. when the evangelist will take for his subject, "Heaven and How to Get In."

There will be service for everybody at 3 p. m. in the Methodist church, Evangelist Hogg will speak on the Christian Home.

The closing service of the campaign will be held in the open air on the High School grounds at 8 p. m. Sunday night. In case of rain, the service will be held in the Methodist church.

High Plain
This campaign has been conducted on a high plain of real New Testament living, and will leave all Ranger nearer the Kingdom of God. Scores of people have united with the local churches and he did not in sight. It is freely predicted that the altars of all the Ranger churches will be crowded the Sunday after the meeting with hundreds of people who realize their obligations to the church and Jesus Christ.

Capacity crowds have heard the evangelist all the week, and every service has closed with many accepting the salvation offered in Jesus' name.

Housewright Wins
The vote for Ranger's most popular person laid the honor upon W. W. Housewright of the Citizen's State Bank. This vote came from all denominations, and persons of no church affiliation and is an honor indeed.

Rev. Will Hogg presented Mr. Housewright with a beautiful Bible Saturday night. Many other Bibles were given away to active persons in this city-wide campaign. This meeting has been characterized by literally sowing down Ranger with copies of the Gospels, new testaments, and complete Bibles. There have been 2786 copies of Bibles or portions of scripture given away by Evangelist Will Hogg in Ranger.

INVESTIGATION MADE OF OKLAHOMA WRECK

By United Press.
TUPELO, Okla., Sept. 11.—Detailment of two coaches and a mail train of the Oklahoma City, Ada and Atoka railway, resulting in injuries to three women near here last night, was being investigated today by officials of the road. The cars left the track and plunged into a ditch, resulting in confusion among the passengers.

SPAIN QUILTS, TURKS SEEK ADMISSION

By United Press.
GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 11. Spain today resigned from League of Nations. The Spanish representative communicated his nation's decision to Sir Eric Drummond, the league secretariat at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

Spain's resignation followed the league's refusal of the demand made by her to grant her a permanent seat in the council of the league.

Turkey today applied for membership in the League of Nations, according to advices from Constantinople. The republic's request, however, demanded it be granted membership in the council of the league as a provision for its membership.

GASSER ABLAZE NEAR EASTLAND DRAWS INTEREST

Humble gets 400 Barrels
Well at 1,197 Feet On The Kilgore Lease

The Rising Star field contributed the biggest producer of the week in the West Central Texas field—the 400-barrel well of the Humble Oil & Refining company, at 1,197 feet. The producer was the No. 15-B on the E. P. and W. H. Kilgore lease in Brown county.

The McLeister Oil company of Eastland brought in the number 8 Woodridge for 200 barrels at 1,250 feet in the Crosscut field.

Great interest is being attracted by the 2,000,000-cubic foot gasser struck at 305 feet of Moore & Clayton, drilling a wildcat on County Judge Ed S. Pritchard's farm, seven miles southeast of Eastland. The unexpected gas burned the rig down and was still burning 24 hours later.

Completions.

Completions for the week follow:
Shackelford County—Roeser & Pendleton's No. 21-A, W. L. Cook, section 84, 200 barrels at 1,355 feet; Roeser & Pendleton's W. L. Cook No. 14-A, section 85, 86 barrels at 1,318 feet; Roeser & Pendleton's W. L. Cook No. 1-A, section 60, 80 barrels at 1,201 feet; Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 J. L. Terry No. 6, 2,217 feet, 60 barrels; Frech & Lewis No. 2 W. P. Newell, 1,657 feet, dry.

BOOKKEEPER FOUND DEAD PISTOL SHOT

By United Press.
LUBBOCK, Sept. 11.—B. Lacy, bookkeeper for three years for the Whaley Lumber Company, was found dead in his room today at 4 p. m., shot through the heart with a .32 calibre Spanish automatic.

He was lying on the bed with a bullet imbedded in the mattress. Justice of the Peace Johnson is withholding his formal verdict until Sunday or Monday.

Justice Johnson admitted finding letters directing payment of small debts from Lacy's insurance. One letter to a young woman and a letter to Lacy's father, Don Lacy, of Ardmore, Okla.

Officials of the lumber company said that Lacy's books were in order.

Ranger Junior College Enrolls 20 First Day

The Junior College of Ranger will open Monday morning at 10 o'clock with a program, which will be held in the Ranger High school chapel.

Dr. T. H. Musselman of Dallas, one of the state's foremost educators, will be the speaker on this occasion, which to Ranger people, is an outstanding one, opening as it does a new era in its educational world.

Friday last, C. E. May and Professor Kennedy of the faculty spent the day in Desdemona rounding up students for the college. While they were there, Hall Walker was in Frankell and Caddo, and C. C. Patterson and Professor Lanier, in Strawn, where they interviewed eight prospects. All day Saturday members of the faculty were busy at the High school looking after the registration of college and High school pupils.

At 5 o'clock Saturday, 20 students had registered for the Junior college and High school pupils to H had registered up to that hour. It was estimated that the High school enrollment would far exceed that of last fall.

Enrollment of College and High school students will continue through Monday.

DESTROYERS RETURN FIRE OF CHINESE

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Three United States destroyers engaged in a heavy artillery duel with Chinese forces at Hangchow late yesterday while convoying American and British merchant vessels down the Yangtze river, according to dispatches to night. There were no casualties.

The United States steamer Stewart, after joining with the Palos and Pidgeon in answering the Chinese fire went to the aid of a marooned British merchantman carrying the wounded from the battle of Wanehsien earlier in the week.

Accompanied by a British gunboat, the Stewart transported the victims to Hankow. The dispatches added that Americans have left Wanehsien on Japanese merchant vessels.

The British cruiser Hawkins has arrived at Hankow.

FOUR ARE HURT; ARREST IS MADE BY DETECTIVES

Second Assault To Be Made On the Head Of The Italian Affairs

By United Press.
ROME, Sept. 11.—A bomb was thrown today at Premier Mussolini. He was not injured. This was the second recent assault on the Italian premier. A month ago he was shot through the nose by a British woman, but was only slightly wounded. While Mussolini escaped, uninjured, four Fascists were injured.

The assassin, Ernest Giovannini, was arrested and when searched two other bombs and a pistol were found in his pocket.

Mussolini was unmoved by the attack and calmly ordered his chauffeur to drive him to the foreign office. The assassin was almost immediately arrested by detectives who were following the premier's car.

Not Worried

"It was a nice bomb, Premier Benito Mussolini said today, when he received a United Press correspondent and discussed today the attempt by a 26-year-old Italian anarchist to assassinate him with a small infernal machine. The premier was unperturbed by his experience. Seemingly confident that the almost miraculous good fortune which has so far shielded him from more than minor hurts at the hands of assassins would always guard him.

Three major attempts have been made this year against the premier, and there is no way of computing the hundreds of half-formed plots which have been aimed at this remarkable man.

Mussolini received the United Press correspondent in his office where he directs Italy and her colonies overseas.

Back At Work

His greeting was cheerful. "You see I am back at work as though nothing had happened," and laughing, Mussolini arose from his desk and advanced for a gripping handshake.

"It was a nice bomb, I tell you, but that was nothing. This attempt, like previous ones, has left me completely calm. A few minutes after the bomb exploded I was back at my desk to send the necessary order through Italy. Excitement has been great in all classes but order was not disturbed," he said.

TEACHERS WILL MEET IN RANGER

Ranger was awarded the 1927 Eastland county teachers' institute while Eastland, for the fifth consecutive time, was chosen as the meeting place for the Eastland county interscholastic league, by a vote of the teachers at the close of the teachers' institute in Eastland Friday afternoon. The institute also voted its approval of the stand taken by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce favoring the equalization of state taxes so that counties in West Texas would not have to bear more than their share. An increase in the state apportionment to $15 also was urged.

W. Z. Bates, superintendent, and R. L. Speer, principal, of the Eastland public schools, were re-elected, Bates as director general and Speer as athletic director, of the interscholastic league. Other officials of the league were: J. D. Connor, Rising Star, date; B. E. McGinnery, Gorman, declaration; Miss Sief, Carbon, spelling; Mrs. Keen, Cisco, essay writing; Mrs. Howdeshell, Ranger, music memory; C. S. Arledge, New Hope, assistant athletic director.

Resolutions thanking the citizens of Eastland, the various civic organizations of the city, Miss Beulah Speer, county school superintendent; Dr. Charles Evans, and others who helped to entertain them, and make the institute a success, were passed before adjournment.

FROM THE BIBLE
Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free. Ephesians 6-8.

PRAYER—Endow us with strength O Lord, so that we may be enabled to overcome weaknesses, and better to serve Thee and our fellow man. Amen.

MUST SUPPORT SCHOOLS.

The educational system of Texas is facing a crisis in its history, and something must be done so that when it emerges from the battle with political powers that the flag of victory will fly over every schoolhouse in the state, and the day of the politician using the schools as a handball will be a thing of the past. Something must be done to reorganize the entire system from the institutions of higher education on down to the rural district school and the kindergarten.

Politicians have cut the per capita of the scholastic until it is doubtful if the schools will run the average length of time. To curtail the length of the school term is nothing less than criminal. Cutting the school term is robbing the children of the heritage handed down to them by Houston, Jones, Lamar, Austin, Crockett and other forefathers of Texas, who bought the right to establish free public schools with their blood at the Alamo, Goliad and San Jacinto.

If necessary, parents must dig down and keep the schools running. Texas stands too low in the list of states in literacy. Property owners, who heretofore have been negligent in paying their school taxes must not forget that the money is needed and badly needed and pay promptly. Collectors in special school districts must impress upon the minds of the delinquents that they must pay up, that the schools need money. The best way to impress that fact upon their minds is to file suits for collection against the property and foreclose it. School taxes are a lien on property the same as other taxes, and must be paid. The schools need the money. Property owners do not want their titles clouded with failure to pay taxes.

In the meantime, a system must be studied out that will eliminate politics from the schools. It is absolutely necessary. The development of the great resources of the state depends upon the education of its citizenship. Politicians already have robbed the children of school age out of too much. The appalling figures show that 10 per cent of the children of scholastic age are illiterate.

In the special districts, especially in the towns and cities, steps probably will be taken. Something must be done for the rural child who is entitled to opportunities that are equal to the city-bred child.

One great writer has said, man made the city and God made the country. God is the creator of both the city and country child and both should have equal opportunity to get an education and preparation to fight the battles of life.

The schools must be supported and the fathers, mothers, and all interested in education must be prepared to make additional sacrifices to lengthen the terms of the schools.

THE GREAT REVIVAL CLOSES.

Rev. Will Hogg and party have been in Ranger during the past three weeks conducting a revival under the auspices of all the Protestant churches. In that time he has done much good. Many have been made to see the error of their way. Ranger has been made a better town since he came here. The churches have had their membership rolls increased. Hogg has preached the gospel as he has interpreted it, on a broad tolerant basis. He has done something few evangelists have ever done, he has distributed Bibles and testaments. He leaves Ranger with both Christian and non-Christian wishing him God-speed in his work, and hoping that he may grow in grace in the sight of God.

THAT EASTLAND FAIR.
Farmer, stockmen and all who are interested in the development of Eastland county must not forget that great fair to be held in a short time. Look around your farm and find an extra sized sweet potato, a large pumpkin, something odd that you have produced and enter it in the exhibits. Friendly rivalry helps. Enter that pretty mule colt you have in the pasture in the livestock exhibits. Enter that Jersey calf. Look around and bring something so as to make that fair the best ever held.

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE THE KILLINGS

UNIVERSITY M'DONALD WILL CASE

By United Press.
PARIS, Sept. 11.—The University of Texas at Austin, will receive the million dollar residue estate, of the late W. J. McDonald, wealthy banker, a jury ruled today.

The case, in which various relatives sought to break the will, went to the jury last night. McDonald's will stipulated that the university was to use the money to build a large observatory. The contestants of the will, who were nieces and nephews, attempted to prove that McDonald was of unsound mind when he made the will leaving the bulk of his fortune to the university.

"Rough Riders," the story of the life of Roosevelt, more than half finished, San Antonio has taken on every aspect of a Texas Hollywood.

"Rough Riders," is being filmed within the city limits of San Antonio, the studio lot having been located with the old Fort Guadalupe. The cast includes a notable array of Paramount stars.

A miniature battle ground covering several hundred acres has been under construction at Camp Stanley, Texas, near here, for the filming of the war scenes in "Wings." A French village has been erected and includes several blocks of French huts and a magnificent French cathedral.

Hopes for making San Antonio a movie center are being entertained by business interests here, pending the outcome of the two productions now in the making.

Mussolini Forbids Children Drinking Wine At School

LONDON.—"Encouraged by Mussolini, the school authorities of Italy have forbidden the children to take bottles of wine to school with their lunches," announced Ed J. Richardson, European secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, returning from a tour of Italy.

"Mussolini is working strenuously for sobriety among the youth. Italy now has a fascist law forbidding any wineshop to sell liquor to those under 18 years of age."

"Furthermore, there is a widespread movement to educate the more ignorant classes not to give any alcoholic drinks to children in the homes."

How Dawn Comes In Movie World Told by Griffith

By United Press.
NEW YORK.—Came the dawn! "One—two—three—four—five—" The sonorous voice of D. W. Griffith boomed above the confusion of the studio, his eyes watching the dingy window, through which Carol Dempster was formerly gazing. Beyond the window were dimly visible the roofs and chimneys of old White-chapel—a scene from the veteran director's latest picture, "Sorrows of Satan."

"Six—seven—eight—nine—" The deep voice continued, while a property man standing beside a great sun-lamp fastened against the rear of the window removed, one at a time thin frames of gauze from before the lamp. The light grew imperceptibly brighter as each numbered frame vanished at the director's command. "Ten—eleven—twelve—thirteen—fourteen—all on!" The last diaphanous veil slid from before the lamp, letting its strong refulgent rays beat against the window.

Day had dawned—movie style.

Japanese Paper Says Americans Show Barbarism

By United Press.
TOKYO.—Instances of "barbarous mentality" on the part of Americans are cited by the Tokyo "Hochi" in an effort to prove that "the contemptible persecution of different races by Americans is one of their national propensities."

The episodes to which particular attention is drawn by the newspaper are an episode in Korea where an American missionary indelicately marked—"branded" is the word used by the Japanese press—the Chinese character meaning "thief" on the cheeks of a Korean youngster caught apple-stealing.

After a general discussion of the alleged cruel attitude of Americans toward Orientals in which it is asserted that the Americans "are in the habit of pleading the cause of humanity and represent themselves as the only defenders of peace, but whose cruelty is in inverse ratio to their profession," the editorial concludes:

"The sweeping contempt of our nationals as a very inferior race is a national sentiment inherent in American nature. It is their racial obsession. From the eugenic point of view, the Japanese are by no means an inferior race, and the fact that they are better than Americans in certain respects is recognized by intellectual Americans, who bear witness to the truth of this contention. Our people are entitled to assume the instructorship of Americans in their sense of justice."

Court's Decision Favors Marshall Dallas Sheriff

By United Press.
DALLAS, Sept. 11.—Schulyer Marshall, Jr., was declared winner over Allen Seale in a contested sheriff's race today by Judge Claude M. McCallum. Marshall led by 60 votes in the recount, while the first count after the primary election showed that Seale was nominee by more than 200 votes.

The contest has been going on for more than four weeks and hundreds of witnesses and statements regarding alleged ballot box manipulations were offered.

Keeping Thin Is Necessary For Movie Atresses

By LINCOLN QUARBERG (United Press Staff Correspondent)
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11.—Keeping thin is an elaborate art among the movie kueens.

A slender figure is a cashable asset on the screen, and the first signs of overweight bring stern warnings from the producers.

Each star has her own individual method of remaining slim. It is not by strict living and dieting, as generally claimed by the press-agents.

The United Press asked a group of representative stars today how they really kept within the weight limits prescribed in their contracts. Most of the film girls eat and drink whatever and as much as they please, and there are no curfews in their lives.

Marie Prevost, dainty Metropolitan star, rides a bicycle. The former bathing beauty pedals to the beach from her Beverly Hills home each morning, takes a dip, and bicycles home, all before breakfast.

"I never worry about my weight," said Miss Prevost. "I eat when I'm hungry and go to bed when I'm tired. The bicycling is fun and it keeps me at normal weight."

Colleen Moore keeps slender by bicycling also. She pedals half a mile daily, from home to the studio.

Norma Shearer, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, takes a strach bath, once every four days. "It turns the trick," she explained. "I stay in the water about 15 minutes."

Claire Windsor retains her normal weight by what she terms the "water cure." "I drink 12 glasses of water a day, between, and not with my meals," she said. "I swim a lot also."

Eleanor Boardman said she kept her slim figure by avoiding meat and potatoes, and by eating a pound of raw spinach, seasoned with pepper, salt, lemon-juice and olive oil, every day.

Clara Bow, red-headed flapper star, declares the art of keeping thin is not a problem with her.

"My weight never varies a pound," said the flame-haired actress. "I eat whatever I like, swim and dance when I feel like it, and I just stay at 108 pounds."

Petty Bronson, mere wisp of 32 pounds, is more concerned about putting on weight than getting thin.

"I tried to put on a few pounds," when I was in New York recently," she said. "I ate milk, steaks and everything that my girl-friends recommended—in three months I gained just one pound."

Priscilla Dean keeps thin by avoiding exercise. "When I over-exercise it hardens my muscles and I take on weight," she said. "I keep slender by being myself."

Ancient Method Of Hardening Copper Found

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 11.—Working in an improvised kitchen laboratory, Dr. J. George T. Grant, philosopher, former clergyman, novelist and chemist, claims to have discovered the ancient Aztec secret for hardening soft copper to the strength of steel, his friends believe.

The discovery, Dr. Grant said, can be used to harden aluminum, tin, lead and other soft metals. He declared today that it may revolutionize airplane and motor car construction.

Although ordinary commercial copper has a hardness number of 43, Grant's treated cast copper reached 114, 116 and 128, officials of the city laboratory said. The accepted hardness of structural steel is 170, it was declared.

Dr. Grant is guarding carefully the secret of his reported discovery. He said he was able to effect some hitherto unknown rearrangement of the atomic structure of molten metals with a pinch of a mysterious powder he called volenium.

We hope an Arkansas engineer who plays a tune on his whistle has learned "At the Crossing."

2 ALLEGED HOLDUP MEN ARE KILLED

By United Press.
SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 11.—Two men, thought to be the bandits who on July 28, robbed a bank at Pleasant Green, Mo., of $7,000 in cash and liberty bonds were shot and killed near here today by Cecil Jenkins, a one-eyed deputy sheriff.

When Jenkins came upon the men, Williams Palmer and Elbert Bardwell, as they sat in a motor car several miles from here, they opened fire. The deputy returned the fire and both men slumped forward in their seats, dead.

Jenkins came here leaving the two bodies in the car to report the shooting to the coroner.

EINSTEIN PLAYS VIOLIN INSTEAD OF MAKING SPEECH

By United Press.
GENEVA.—Einstein, despite his lectures about his famous and complicated Theory of Relativity is a poor impromptu speaker and he hates to be called upon suddenly for an address.

At a dinner of the Intellectual Cooperation Committee of the League of Nations at Geneva recently, Einstein was unexpectedly called on by the toastmaster. Instead of speaking, the great scientist went quickly over to the musicians' box, borrowed a violin and played magnificently for the astonished guests.

British Royalty Pays Dividends; Despite Upkeep

By United Press.
LONDON.—Royalty costs England $2,805,120 a year, according to the finance accounts of the United Kingdom, published by the Chancellor of the Exchequer as a Blue Book.

The King and Queen, receive each year $535,700 for their personal expenses, but their household represents a total cost of $2,288,900 to the nation, including salaries and housekeeping expenses, maintenance of buildings, pensions and other burdens.

Annuities paid to other members of the royal family amounted last year to $814,500 but since the death of the Queen Mother, the Queen, during the year of Queen Alexandra, the $516,200 which had been assigned to her will cease in future accounts.

The royal family, however, in spite of these heavy costs, turned in a handsome profit to the public treasury because the Crown lands, which were the property of the sovereign and his family, were given to the government many years ago in return for annual grants to maintain Royalty. The income from the Crown lands last year was $6,795,000 and, with the renewal of leases at higher rates expected during the year, the national profit from this source is expected to be considerably higher in future.

Age Plays Minor Part in Love Game; Say This Couple

By United Press.
STRADELLA.—The best age for loving was decided by Giuseppe Velluti and Maria Agati, who have just been married here. He is 81 and she 79.

This is Giuseppe's own story of his courtship: "I was in her town for business one day when I saw her coming down the main street. I liked her at once. A man likes women at 80 just as at any other age, you know. I stopped her and asked her her name. My heart was in my mouth. She told me, casting her eyes on the ground. She blushed, and so did I. She took to me at first sight, and so we got married. That's all there, is to it."

Veteran News Writer Hands In His "Thirty"

By United Press.
DALLAS, Sept. 11.—John Sneed, 53 years old, for more than 20 years a member of the staff of the Dallas Morning News, died tonight. He is survived by a widow, two sons and one daughter.

Sneed was widely known as a writer on economics and politics and for a number of years was in charge of the Fort Worth office of the Dallas Morning News.

His death followed an operation, and occurred at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The editor of this paper worked with Sneed on the Dallas News for more than two years.

Mail Robbery Work of Alcohol Gangsters, Belief

By United Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The need of funds to defend the alcohol gang leaders now in jail, led the members of the gang to stage a daring $135,000 mail train robbery here yesterday, police believe today.

The robbery was the work of the Satis-McErlen gang, according to Deputy Chief of Detectives Stago.

Saltis, a former alcohol king, now held on a charge of murdering a rival bootlegger, is said to be almost penniless, while McErlen, who is to be tried soon at Valparaise, Ind., for the murder of a lawyer there, also is believed to have squandered the large fortune he once had.

SENATOR MCKINLEY'S RECOVERY IS SLOW

By United Press.
MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 11.—There has been no material change during the past 24 hours in the condition of Senator William McKelvey of Illinois, ill at a sanitarium here, it was stated by the sanitarium attendants here today.

Improvement in his condition has been slow since his first rally in the crisis in his first illness of pneumonia and sciatic rheumatism.

AUTO RACE ENDS IN BAD ACCIDENT

By United Press.
EDEN, Texas, Sept. 11.—The race of Ler Wright, advertising a direct route to the gulf highway from Amarillo to Corpus Christi, ended in an accident here today.

The racing car crashed into a car driven by Rev. Leslie D. Smith, wrecking both cars. Rev. Smith and his wife were painfully injured but the occupants of the racing car escaped unhurt.

Wright was making an attempt to make the distance from Amarillo to Corpus Christi in 15 hours, a distance of 746 miles.

The injured persons were taken to Ballinger.

Shooting Victim Sent to Marshall T. & P. Hospital

E. H. Parker, victim of an accidental shooting while hunting doves near Cisco, last Wednesday, was taken to the Texas & Pacific railroad hospital at Marshall, Friday, he having been an employee of the railroad company at the time of the accident.

It has developed that the gun with which Parker was shot was in the hands of Victor Mercier, a companion, when it was accidentally discharged. In his excitement when reporting the accident H. C. Porter, who was with Parker and Mercier when the accident happened, failed to make it clear just how the shooting was done.

Porter's second statement about the shooting was corroborated by Mercier who stated that Parker was shot by his (Mercier's) gun when it was discharged as he was climbing through a fence about 15 feet from where Porter and Parker were standing.

Chevrolet Plans Output of 1000 More Cars Daily

Preparing facilities for manufacturing 1,000 more cars per day in 1927, the Chevrolet Motor Company is proceeding rapidly with additions to its plants and equipment in the United States.

These additions are being made under the $10,000,000 expansion program announced recently by W. S. Knudson, president and general manager of the company.

The addition to the huge motor plant at Flint is now well under way. New machinery for making cylinders, cam shafts and small parts is arriving daily and extensive enlargements are being made at the Flint sheet metal division. A building 206 feet long by 134 feet wide is under construction to increase production at the Toledo transmission plant. Enlargement of the heat treat department of the Bay City small parts plant will provide additional facilities there.

In Detroit the building known as General Motors Truck Company plant No. 7 has been purchased for manufacturing axles and small parts and will be merged with the gear and axle plant.

New buildings and the erection of 37 steam forging hammers at the Detroit forge plant will make this plant one of the largest forging centers in the United States.

Chevrolet factories at Cincinnati, Janesville and St. Louis will be extensively enlarged under the program.

Fisher body plants at these cities are to be augmented, providing manufacturing facilities for 750,000 closed bodies and 250,000 open models. A proportionate increase in employees will follow the completion of these plant additions.

Eastland Stores May Close Day During the Fair

The Eastland Retail Merchants' association will meet Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 15, according to the secretary, Miss Marie Stevens, who states that the meeting date was advanced one week on account of the Central West Texas fair. The matter of closing business houses for one day during the fair will be discussed at the meeting, Miss Stevens said.

Two Ranger Men Are Honored By Texas Legionaires

Two Ranger men were elected to office at the State Convention of the American Legion at Amarillo, this week, and two men of the 17th district honored. Al L. Tune, of Ranger, was appointed grand conductor of Texas, in the La Societe Des 40 Homes & 8 Chevax, and Steve A. Lillard, Jr., was elected grand Cheminots, a member of the grand executive committee. R. L. Winters of Abilene, who is a member of the 17th district, was elected to the post of State Commander, and W. J. Buile of Stamford, another 17th district man, was elected to fill the post vacated by Winters, which was vice commander of this district.

Al L. Tune and Julius Krause were the only two men attending the convention from Ranger. They arrived home Friday afternoon and report a most wonderful convention, stating the Amarillo people had the true convention spirit and treated them most royally, and that every "buddy" present seemed to enjoy the convention greatly.

New Ice Station
Will Be Opened
Public Monday

Having finished their handsome new station, the Oil Cities Electric company of Eastland, will open their downtown retail ice station on West Commerce and South Green streets, Monday morning, where they will be prepared to serve their ice patrons.

This new building was erected in order that better and more prompt service might be rendered patrons of the Oil Cities Electric company's ice department. Concrete driveways have been constructed so that cars may drive in from the street.

The opening of this downtown office will eliminate the necessity of ice customers having to drive to the plant near the Texas & Pacific railroad for ice.

Administrators And Guardians Make Returns

A large number of administrators and guardians appointed in probate cases filed in the Eastland county court-at-law, have been and are now violating the law and orders of the court in not making the reports required by law, according to Judge Tom J. Cunningham, judge of the court, who has sent out notices in more than 100 cases of this kind.

"The probate docket of this court is in a very bad condition and must be cleaned up," Judge Cunningham said. "And in order to do so I have notified all guardians and administrators who have not complied with the law, that they must make all reports required by law and do so at once," Judge Cunningham stated.

Among other reports guardians and administrators in probate cases are required to make, is annual reports showing condition of the estate of which they are in charge. The law prescribes methods of removal and imposing fines in cases where violation of the law is proven, and Judge Cunningham intimated that it was his intention of strictly enforce the law if the reports were not made.

Norris Will Hold Religious Meetings In Tarrant County

Special Correspondence.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 11. — Announcement was made Friday by Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist Church, under indictment for murder in connection with the death of D. E. Chippis, a wealthy lumberman, who was killed in the study of the church by Norris on July 17. The pastor announced that the evangelistic services will begin in a few weeks. Norris trial has been set for Nov. 1 by District Attorney R. K. Hanger.

It is the purpose of the Norris congregation to make a drive on Oct. 1 to raise money to defend him and pay the expenses of the trial.

It is understood that Rev. Mr. Norris already has organized 500 workers for the religious campaign, and for meetings to be held at Arlington, Handley, Mansfield, Webb, Kenedale, Sublett, Grapevine, Euless, Keller, Azle, Crowley, Benbrook, Elm Grove, Birdville, Riverside, Newark, Retta, White's Chapel, Forest Hill, Saginaw, Haslet, Smithfield, Dove, Branford, Waston, Harrison Britton and other communities.

WRECK OF LIMITED---27 LOSE LIVES

Twenty-seven deaths and injury to 50 was the toll of this wreck of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway's "Scenic Limited" near Salida, Col. The locomotive, a baggage car, two coaches and a pullman plunged from the rails to the bottom of the Royal Gorge as the engineer attempted to round a curve at 40 miles an hour.

Both G. M. Lillis, relief engineer, and Harold Harpending, from whom Lillis had just taken the throttle, were killed as the engine of the "Scenic Limited" hurtled down an embankment to this resting place in the river bottom. In a statement blaming Lillis for the disaster, President J. S. Pyeatt of the Denver & Rio Grande said rules of the road restricting speed on curves were not observed.

Texas "Aggies" Begin Meeting For Big Season

By United Press.
COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 11.—The Texas Aggie, champions of the Southwest, began their 1933 fall training here Friday when fifty-five stalwart young athletes reported for the first day's workout. During the morning the players were issued full equipment which was followed by blackboard work. In the afternoon a practice session was held. "We will have blackboard work and field practice in both mornings and afternoons until school opens," stated Coach D. X. Bible. "I like to give the boys theory on the board and then see if they can carry it out on the field," he said.

The champion Aggies will be well fortified with a corps of coaches. D. X. Bible, head coach, will be assisted on the first team by Claude Rothgeb, line coach. Rothgeb is from Illinois University, and his work last year with the Aggies was heartily endorsed by Coach Bible. In the spring Rothgeb coaches baseball. A number of coaches have been assigned to the freshmen football teams. John K. Bender of Nebraska will again be head freshman coach. Frank Anderson, track coach, also will help with freshman teams. Dr. D. C. McIntosh, a regular member of the faculty, and H. W. Hitt, former A. and M. student, will assist in coaching the frosh aggregation. C. T. Sprague is trainer of the squad.

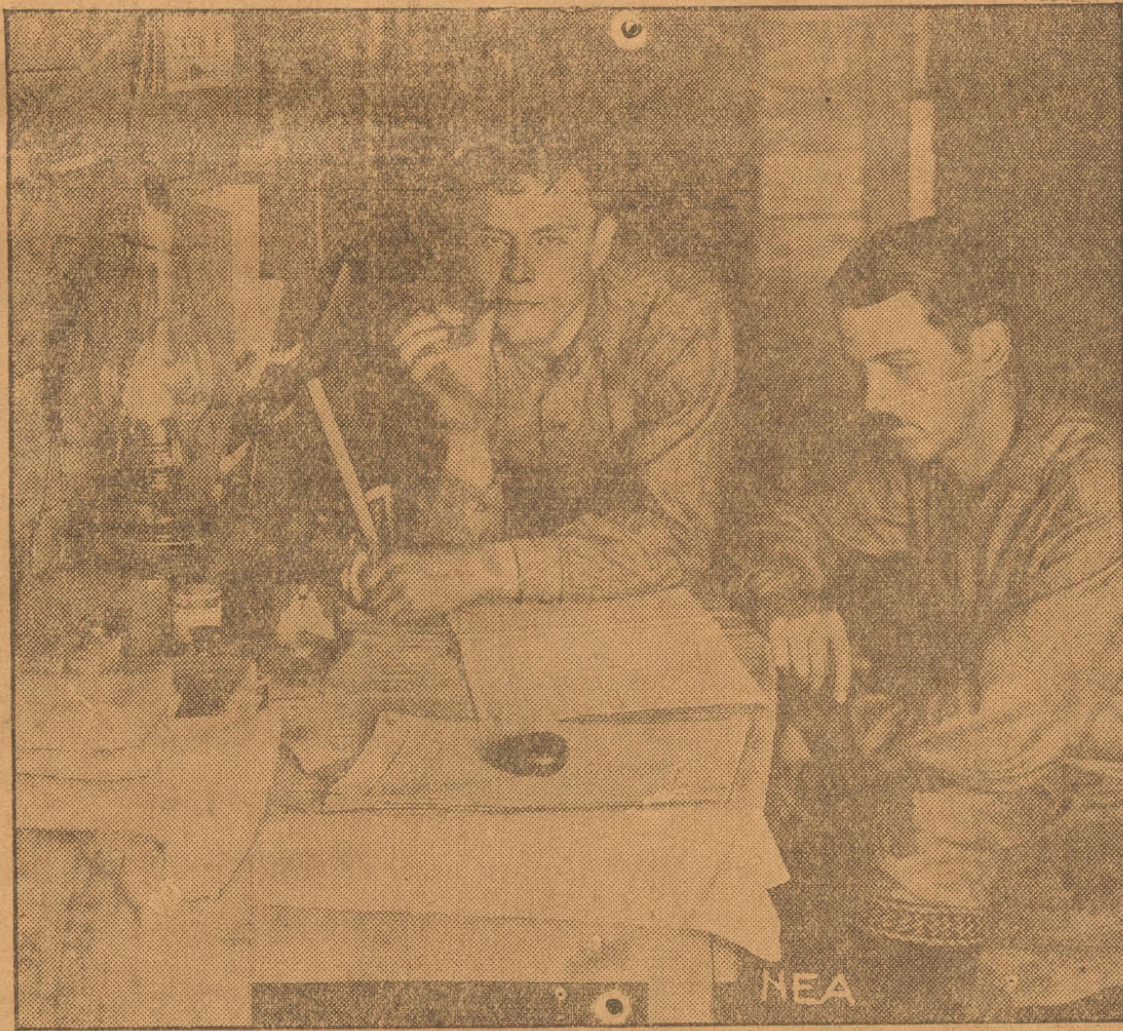

The first day's practice revealed that many of last year's team will not play under the spangles of the Aggies in 1933. Among the 1933 champions who will not be back this fall are Henry Eitt, center; John Braselton, center; Ray Wilson, half; Norman Dansby, guard; W. H. Scutzel, end; Bones Irvin, tackle; T. Kishi, half; J. D. McGuire, half; Bob Berry, quarter; W. J. Ochterbeck, guard; C. D. Speed, guard.

The following players reported to Coach Bible at Kyle Field, Friday: D. C. Arnold, Del Rio, back; Z. W. Bartlett, Marlin, center; R. E. Biffle, Paula Valley, Okla., back; J. J. Bisagnio, Gainesville, back; W. R. Bodine, Temple, guard; A. C. Bryant, Mexia, end; H. E. Burgess, Hale, center; back; P. C. Colgin, Gatesville, back; W. L. Crawford, Palestine, tackle; J. H. Heir to Hill Railway Genius Makes It at $2.35 Per Day---No Quitter

SAYS LOUIS W. HILL JR., (with pipe in mouth): "Grandfather started at the bottom, and so did Dad. I guess I can, too." Beside him is Bruce Ferguson, his first mentor in the railroading business.

By RAY L. SICARD
Special NEA Service Correspondent
PUNNEBY, Minn., Sept. 11.—Twenty-four years of age, fresh from Yale and Oxford, the grandson of James J. Hill has entered upon his career as a railway magnate here. His entry was as a section gang timekeeper, at $2.35 per day plus bunk and board.

The grandson is Louis W. Hill Jr., son of the chairman of the board of directors of the far-flung Great Northern.

His "office" is a rough board table nailed against the inner wall of a Great Northern commissary car. An iron cot, disheveled blankets, oil lamp and hand-made bench are the rest of its equipment.

Meal time finds him in a "shanty" eating the plain fare of a score of track workers, the majority of whom speak the English language but meagerly.

Young Hill got his job by applying to the Great Northern offices in the same building where his grandfather had signed one generation before.

He stepped down the next day from a mixed train at the station in Punneby, 150 miles west of Superior, and made his way to a work train, drawn up on a siding nearby.

"You're Hill, I guess," said Bruce Ferguson, the timekeeper whom he was to succeed.

"Yes, I'm Hill. When do I start to work?" the newcomer asked. Ferguson would "break him in." It was raining, but Hill refused a slicker which Ferguson offered to take from his back.

"Square Jaws, Denim and Hob Nails" And the square-jawed heir to the "Empire Builder" railway genius, garbed in gray cambric work shirt, blue denim trousers and hob-nailed boots, soon afterward was at his rough board work bench being "broken in."

Pipes helped establish a ready companionship between the pair. Young Hill returned from aboard only recently. At Balliol College Oxford, he studied contemporary history.

Sir Arthur Steele-Maitland, England's minister of labor, had interested himself in Hill and helped him choose his Oxford tutor.

"I was introduced to the minister of labor through an acquaintance I made aboard my steamer—a man who had read grandfather's life history," Hill explains.

"I had no idea just where I was going when I sailed. I owe Sir Arthur a debt of gratitude."

Graduation from Yale with high honors preceded his Oxford sojourn. And now, his education finished, the third of the Hill line of railway celebrities toils with a section gang.

Cherry Rounding Bulldogs in Shape For Strawn Game

With the first game Saturday, when Strawn and Ranger meet in combat, at Ranger, Coach Cherry, of the Ranger Bulldogs, is working the boys out daily and gradually rounding them into shape. It is a sight for sore eyes to see the big huskies as they return to the High school gym after an afternoon's practice.

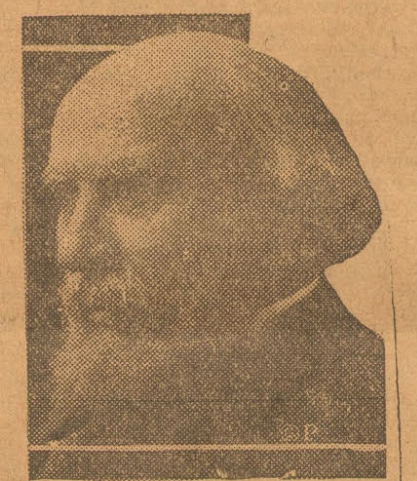

The contest for quarter-back has developed into a pretty race between Bryan Reeves, Seth Hubbard and Alfred Glenn. Each of the three are working hard and all are showing up fairly good in generalship.

Due to the fact that one or two of the larger boys here have not returned as yet, a hard battle is being waged for the guard and tackle positions and the candidates for these positions are receiving extra strenuous workouts, usually being drilled after the rest of the squad leaves the field.

Quite a few new men have showed up. Roy Knott returned Saturday from the oil fields, where he has been working all summer, and is in fine condition.

Coaches Cherry and Davis feel that a lot of hard work is needed to put the boys in shape for the contest in the conference and are doing some hard practice now and hereafter.

The Hill line of railway geniuses—the third of them now in the making—is pictured here. Top to bottom: the late James J. Hill, "Empire Builder"; Louis W. Hill, Sr., Great Northern chairman; Louis W. Hill, Jr., section gang timekeeper.

Expects More Speed In Payment Of Delinquent Taxes

"Now that school has opened we expect people to come in and pay their delinquent taxes," School and City Tax Collector E. A. Ringold of Ranger said Saturday. A number have come in during the past week and paid off, but we are expecting the payments to speed up from now on. The schools need the money and it is up to those who owe back taxes to come to the aid of their schools and pay up promptly," he said. The office is at the city hall, Ranger, lest one forget its location, and there is some one on hand all day to take the money.

Talent Favors Georgians For Best In South

By United Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 11.—With the opening of the 1925 football season just around the corner Georgia and Vanderbilt seem to most observers to have the edge on other teams in the Southern Conference.

The University of Georgia will return more lettermen from the 1925 team than any other team in the conference race, with nineteen veterans of last year's team. The squad is being handled by Head Coach "Kil" Woodruff, Jimmy Crowler, one of the famous four horsemen at Notre Dame two years ago, Harry Mehre, another Notre Dame player on the varsity coaching staff, and Coach Stanley, head freshman coach and D. W. (Bill) White, assistant coach for the freshman team.

Heavy Team
With one of the heaviest teams in the history of the institution, with an interesting schedule, and with Coach Dan McGugin assisted by three of his former "stars" Josh Cody, Hack Wakefield and Lewis Hardage, it looks like a big year for the Vanderbilt eleven. Vanderbilt has lost but three of their men from last year's line-up.

Alabama, last year's champions, will be minus the service of "Pooley" Hubert, fleet footed half back who was largely responsible for the title being brought back to Alabama. Grant Gillis, another star of the Crimson Tide last year now is playing professional baseball with Birmingham in the Southern League. However Coach Wallace Wade expects to make it three in a row this year a feat no team has yet accomplished in the Southern conference.

Georgia Tech will enter the field this year also a strong contender for the conference title. With more than 76 men on hand W. A. Alexander, head coach at Tech, is confident of whipping into shape a team that will bear watching.

Golden Tornado
Douglass Wychoff, last year's captain of the Golden Tornado and who has been touted as the greatest full-back who ever darned a jersey at Tech, graduated last spring. Owen Poole, star center on the Tech line, will lead the Yellow Jackets into action this year.

For the first time in the history of the institution, Georgia Tech will have a velvet gridiron, choked with Bermuda grass. Since early this summer Coach Alexander has been supervising the work on the gridiron. The new field will insure fans of a faster game.

Tulane during the last year's race established a reputation that has placed them in the position of a champion defending his title. Harry Gamble, captain, and "Doc" Wilson will not be disturbed at the ends. This pair, along with "Hoss" Tabor, tackle, were the main factors in Tulane's line last year.

Tulane has replaced the University of Florida on the Georgia Tech schedule and will play the Golden Tornado on Oct. 9.

With the loss of several men from the 1925 line-up Florida will not furnish so strong a team this year as in the past, according to several critics.

Prospects Poor For Chicago In Football; Staggs

By CLARK B. KELSEY.
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Alonso A. Staggs of the University of Chicago will start his thirty-fifth year as coach of the Maroonos with a stadium seating 50,000 spectators, and the poorest prospects he has had during his career, he admitted to the United Press.

He will have but five "C" men back: the captain, a regular back, two linemen, and two substitute backs. The regulars are Capt. Wallie Marks, who weighs 178 pounds, Kenneth Rouse, center, 180 pounds, and R. L. Wolf, a 182-pound guard. The reserves are Bert McKinney, who alternated with Austin "Five Yards" McCarty in the backfield, and Stanley Rouse. Fifteen letter men graduated last June.

As additional woe, the gray-haired coaching veteran pointed out that he lacked a single experienced quarterback, tackle, punter or drop kicker.

In substitute material left over from last year—men used in games but who did not play enough to win letters—he has Apitz and McDough, ends, Borden and Neff, guards, both weighing more than 210 pounds, and Anderson, a halfback.

A Dangerous Contender

A dangerous contender for the national tennis wreath—that's Rene Lacoste, flashy little pastimer from France. Lacoste has made rapid strides during the last two seasons and there are many that believe he will be the next champion of the world. Lacoste will bear watching and should stay in the running until the semi-finals, at least.

He listed his last year's best freshman talent as follows: Weislow and McEwen, tackles; Spence, end; Leveyers and Libby, fullbacks, and Small, center. All save Spence, who played at St. John's Military academy, and small, who hails from Sioux City, Ia., got their prep training in and about Chicago.

With the final work on the stadium nearly completed, the Maroons will have a first class football plant in which to show. An unusually stiff schedule, with intersectional games including Florida and Maryland at Stagg field, and Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, has been booked. Purdue, Ohio State, Illinois and Wisconsin are the conference teams to come to Chicago, while Northwestern will be met in the new stadium in Evans-ton.

Coach Staggs has had poor prospects before, and has whipped great lines out of what seemed to be mediocre material. Although "the old man of the midway" admits that he hasn't much to show this year, he is not down-hearted. While it would seem that the Maroons are out of the running for the conference title, chances are that they will not have a horribly disastrous season as long as Staggs is at the helm.

Minnesota's Football Squad Is Best in Years

By WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. What looks to be the best material the University of Minnesota has seen in many years will take to the field for initial practice Monday, Sept. 15. A veteran squad, headed by Shorty Almquist and Herb Joesting will line up for Coach Clarence "Doc" Spears. Others, who were moulded and welcomed into a strong offense, the backfield mechanism by Spears in his first year coaching are back. Among them are: "Dutch" Arendsen, Bob Peplaw, Eldon Mason, Mally Nydahl and Joe Gordon. In addition an especially strong recruit from the freshman squad of last season, Fuzzy Riddell will probably become an important gear in the Spears pile driving backfield engine.

Murrell, one of last season's finds, has gone to West Point but Coach Spears finds plenty of available material to work into the vacancy.

Southwestern Conference Teams Are Taking Stock

By United Press.
DALLAS, Sept. 11.—Home grid-irons of the seven Southwest conference teams became scenes of activity Friday as coaches lined their respective football material up for the first official workouts of the season. For the men it meant the beginning of a routine of football which will not be ended until the final conference game sometime in November.

With nearly half a hundred candidates reporting for the initial workout at S. M. U., eleven of them letter men of last year's squad—hopes of the Methodist institution for a conference winning team were well based. Mann, the flashy quarter of last year; the husky Chris Cortemeglia; Wade, Craig, Bishop, Kimbrough, Dawson, Ford, Tatum, and R. L. Waters, all last year's men, were among the candidates reporting Friday. These veterans are strengthened by W. C. Lynch, Hume, Lowe, and other members of the freshmen squad of last year.

Baylor University
Baylor University opens its season with the football machine in the hands of a new coach, Morley Jennings, who has taken the place of Frank B. Bridges, as head of athletics. Jennings comes from Ouchita College at Arkadelphia, with a record of ten championship clubs for that institution. Baylor, who failed to win a single conference game last year is out to vindicate itself. Lettermen who reported to the Baylor squad today included Morris, captain elect; Coates, Sisco, Johnson, Fall, Naylor, Kelley, Slade, Porter, Reid, Taylor and Riley.

Bible Optimistic.
Although, A. and M. lost some of its most promising men through graduation last year, Coach Bible and his assistant, Bothsch, expressed themselves as optimistic with the initial turnout. The Aggies will doubtless feel the loss of such stars as Wilson, Barry Irvin and Dansby, but a powerful defensive team centered around such men as Captain Ox Deitrich, Joel Hunt, Watts of Austin, a promising center and Sikes, can be counted upon. The tradition of Kyle Field and the games that are to be played upon it cannot be left entirely out of the pre-season speculation.

If veteran material means anything the T. C. U. Horned Frogs should be given a slight edge over the other teams. The unexpected loss of John Washington, one of the best centers in the conference last year, will leave a gap in the T. C. U. lineup, however. Letter men reported for practice at the Fort Worth College included Herman Clark, all conference quarter in 1925, Harry Taylor, Carson, Williams and Brewster.

Doleful Dock Stewart
The Texas Longhorns' greatest need at this early date appears to be a few good linemen. Doc Stewart will have his choice of two capable quarters. Joe King, of Dallas, who has already made a name for himself in high school athletics and on the state freshman team last year, and Ed Boular of Beaumont, captain of the fish team in 1925, are both out for the position. Other promising men for the line and backfield are Captain Mack Saxon, R. King, Stallter, Estes, Allen, Higgins, and Moore.

Heisman Thrust.
"Football prospects at Rice are better than they have been for some time," Coach Reisman told the United Press in speaking of his outlook for the coming season. "While we have lost an array of our last year's men, we have a lot of sophomores that look mighty promising," he said. Captain Underwood will head the Rice aggregation again this year and Joseph the left end of last year's team will be in uniform again. Sauer, Loughridge and Crain are about all of the regulars that will be in the lineup again this year.

The Arkansas Razorbacks really began their football practice Monday, the conference rules allowing that a school may begin its football practice two weeks prior to registration. Of the teams in the conference Arkansas looks best to those that have "doped" it out, however coaches and sport writers generally agree that the conference teams seem to be more evenly matched this season than at any previous time in its history.

Oil Belt Coaches Address Lions Club At Breckenridge

"I attribute the success of Ranger High school athletics to Ranger business men," Coach Blair Cherry of Ranger said Friday at a Lions club luncheon in Breckenridge, given in honor of football coaches and players.

Cherry, it was stated, was the least pessimistic of any of the four coaches, who attend the meeting. In fact he seemed optimistic and said, "I can't make the same speech that Pena or Chapman did and go home with a clear conscience." He stated that most of his men were back and that he had better material and more of it than last year.

Chapman of Cisco declared that Cisco is for anything that goes for making better spirit. "We're short-handed over there," he said, "but the team that beats us and wins the district title can count on Cisco's support."

Pena, who will coach the Eastland Mavericks this season, declared that newspaper reports emanating from the Maverick camp to the effect that Eastland doesn't have much to count on, had better be taken for the truth. "We have only two letter men back from last year," he declared, "and the rest of the boys will do well to average 140 pounds," but the big newcomer declared that he hoped to win one game around Thanksgiving, as he had only lost two Thanksgiving games since he had been coaching.

"I wish I could promise you business men that we will have a winning team this year," said Coach

Coan, who was called upon last. "But I can't make any such promises. However, Ranger may beat us but we won't concede victory until the last whistle, and I think I speak for Mr. Hill and the men of the team when I say that we will be able to step up to Cherry and shake his hand. I hope the best team wins when we meet Ranger and Cisco and Eastland and the rest of these teams."

Common Law Wife Files Suit For Divorce

Abandoned after having lived with him for four years as his common law wife, Josefa Rilki has filed suit for divorce against Felix Rilki and is asking for the appointment of property and for the custody of their receiver to take charge of his unborn baby.

According to the allegations in the petition filed by Judge Tom J. Cunningham, attorney for Josefa, she and Felix agreed in January, 1922, that they would live together as man and wife and did live together under this agreement until July 1, 1926, when Felix, without her knowledge, secured a marriage license and married another woman.

Returning from her work one day at noon, Josefa learned that Felix was paying attention to the other woman and when she charged him with it, he admitted that he was married to her. It was then that Josefa went to the county clerk's office and a search of the marriage license records revealed the fact that license for Felix and the other woman had been issued and that they had been returned for record with the proper returns on them showing that the couple had been married.

Felix, it is said, has two houses in Eastland and some cash and Josefa claims a wife's share in this. A child born to Josefa and Felix two years ago, died only a few months ago, and they now have no children.

Charges of bigamy and wife desertion will doubtless be filed against Felix, according to Judge Cunningham.

Felix and Josefa are Mexicans but are American citizens, Josefa being a native of the United States.

DeMolays Return Home From The National Camp

The five Ranger De Molays who attended the national De Molay camp at Bear Lake, Colo., are home again in Ranger, but not the 50 Ford that they left here in. The boys said that the old boat breathed it last at Catuplin, N. M., and they sold its remains for money enough to get home on.

They report a wonderful time. A look into their faces confirmed that report, and they saw most everything that was lying idle in the way of scenery in that country of rivers and mountains.

Their program each day was varied with work and play. They rose at 6:30, breakfasted, had classes from 8:15 until 11:15, swam in the waters of Bear Lake, in water testing 50 degrees, until 12, then lunch. After lunch they hiked over the different mountains and through canyons until 5 o'clock when they returned to camp for supper which was served at 6 o'clock. After supper they attended ritual school from 8:15 until 10 o'clock.

Their last hike was to the Continental Divide, and a trip up Hall's Peak, which is 12,525 feet high.

En route home they stopped in Colorado City and Manitou. On Sunday afternoon at 5:30 they started up Pike's Peak and arrived there at 5:20, and saw the sunrise, although they said that was the only warm looking thing in sight as they were to cold to even talk and the thermometer registered 2 degrees below zero.

They took in the Garden of the Gods, The Cave of Winds, and then started the long trend back to Texas. They caught rides all the way back. The boys said that they would stop people and explain where they had been, and where they were going, so they had no difficulty in getting rides all the way, however, they could not all come in the same cars, so some of the boys arrived home Friday and some Saturday.

In speaking of the trip the boys kept saying how thankful they were to the Ranger men who had made the trip possible for them and stressed their appreciation. They felt that it had been well worth while as they had brought back much that would be of benefit to their chapter.

Texas had the largest representation out of twenty states, and Ranger the largest representation in the Texas group.

In the party were Cecil Cole, Floyd Killingsworth, Truett Wier, Clyde Alworth and John Stacks, who were their scribe.

LONGEST SPEECH

IN "WANING SEX"
Making a speech in the movies at first thought would seem rather a useless effort, but some of the finest bits of acting the camera has ever recorded have been done that way.

In "The Big Parade" when John Gilbert, as the doughboy Jim, becomes mysterious with taut nerves he makes a speech that is seen but not heard, but there is little doubt in the minds of anyone witnessing his expressions as to what he is saying. This is the scene where Gilbert starts out of his dugout on a search for the wounded pug, Slim.

One of the longest speeches ever "seen" is made by Norma Shearer in "The Waning Sex", where as the woman attorney, Nina Duane, she addresses a jury in behalf of a client.

Prisoner of Zenda Opera Will Be At Dallas State Fair

By United Press.
DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 11.—Howard Marsh and Evelyn Herbert are to head the company of 200 which the Messrs. Schubert will send to the state fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 9 to 24, to present their most imposing operetta, "Princess Flavia."

A musical dramatization of Anthony Hope's always popular romantic novel, "The Prisoner of Zenda," the operetta will be given in the auditorium at the State Fair of Texas every evening at 2:30, with four matinees weekly.

For the premiere of "Princess Flavia," Sigmund Romberg, is coming to Texas and the Fair. Romberg is the composer of the glorious music found in "Princess Flavia," and in the "Student Prince," which was so popular at the Fair last year. His presence, through the courtesy of the Schuberts, although only for the premiere of the production, will mean an outstanding feature.

Eastland City Schools to Open Tuesday Morn.

The program to be rendered at the Eastland High school Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock on the occasion of the formal opening of the term, had not been completed late Saturday afternoon, according to Supt. W. Z. Bates.

Classification of the students began Saturday. Freshmen were enrolled Saturday morning between 8:30 and 12 o'clock, and sophomores Saturday afternoon between 1 and 4 o'clock. Juniors are to report for enrollment Monday morning from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock and seniors Monday morning from 10:30 to 12 o'clock.

The public and especially patrons of the school is urged to attend the formal exercises opening the term Monday morning.

Mussolini Called Steam Engine By U. S. Senator Phelan

By United Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—"A steam-engine in breeches" is term applied to Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, by former United States Senator James P. Phelan, who has returned to his home here after tour of Italy.

"From Caesar to Garibaldi, there have been men in Italy who have startled succeeding generations over-turning governments," said Senator Phelan. "All Italy today is moving forward with Mussolini who will only be stopped by the hand of fate, but even then his triumvirate will carry on. He's a steam-engine in breeches, a male Joan of Arc."

G. A. R. Survivors Are Considering Final Disbanding

By United Press.
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 11.—Because of the fast thinning ranks and increasing superannuation of the heroic survivors of the Grand Army of the Republic, three of its national past commanders will serve as a committee to report on plans for the final disbandment of that old body, and the disposition of its funds and records, at the coming 60th national encampment here Sept. 19 to 24, it was announced today.

The committee is composed of Ex-Governor Samuel R. Van Sant of Minnesota, Lewis Pilcher of New York, and Corp. James Tanner of the District of Columbia, all past G. A. R. commanders. These three old warriors have expressed their hope that the patriotic program of their auxiliary, the Women's Relief Corps may go on forever. The G. A. R. will be asked to vote on the disintegration plans as a group.

All but one of the surviving past commanders of the Grand Army, comrade Gardner of District of Columbia, are expected to be present at the coming encampment.

The past commanders who are expected include Corporal James Tanner, D. C.; Ex-Gov. S. R. Van Sant, Minnesota; David J. Palmer, Iowa; Lewis S. Pilcher, New York; James W. Willitt, Iowa; Gaylord M. Saltz-gaber, Ohio; Louis Aronsberg, Pennsylvania; John R. Kinf, Maryland; Eli Torrance, Minnesota; and William J. Patterson, Pennsylvania.

Olney Farmers Will Standardize Cotton Growing

Special Correspondence.

OLNEY, Sept. 11.—In an effort to standardize the cotton growing industry in this section of the state, cotton growers of the Olney district are organizing an association, in cooperation with Olney cotton buyers and the Olney Chamber of Commerce.

This organization is being carried out through a number of smaller neighborhood meetings, at which time cotton experts have discussed the problems of the buyer with the grower.

The first step taken by the farmers was to vote to pick instead of pull the cotton this year, and to set the standard rate of $1.25 per hundred pounds as a price for gathering the crop.

Owing to continual rains, farmers are getting a late start in picking the year's crop, and the cotton has been damaged to some extent, but cotton experts are of the opinion that it will be the best crop for this district in many years.

A shipment of 75 cotton pickers, traveling in trucks was sent to Olney Thursday through the Fort Worth office of the United States Farm Labor Division.

Strike Of Texas Company Licens Olney District

Special Correspondence.

OLNEY, Sept. 11.—Interest has been running high in the Olney district fields since the bringing in of the Texas Company's 1500 barrel well in the Turberville pool, block 172, Archer county.

No less than 15 derricks have been erected within the past week and drilling operations are reported to have begun. The Texas company struck oil at something more than 1500 feet. This pool was opened by Simms three months ago.

The latest sensation in this field was the bringing in of a big gas well in Throckmorton county several days ago by the Humble Oil & Refining Company. Striking a sand at 812 feet, the well is reported to be showing 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas per hour. The well is located in section 960, T. E. & L. survey.

After plugging their No. 3 hole, when the driller could not force out a heavy flow of salt water, Cook & Reeder have taken out a permit to drill their No. 4 on the A. M. Kunkel land, Archer county, offsetting their No. 2 well, which was brought in for a good flow of oil several weeks ago.

G. B. Hamilton and W. R. Cooper have started drilling on the Leath farm, one-half miles east of Olney.

Kinnell and Dillard, a wildcat on the Parkey land in Archer county, is reported to be drilling at 1360 feet.

To Conduct Cooking School In Eastland Under Auspices Eastland Daily Telegram

MRS. IDA M. CHITWOOD

During the week beginning Sept. 28, a cooking and home economics school will be conducted in Eastland, in the City Hall under the auspices of the Eastland Telegram and Ranger Daily Times.

things are so cheap and nice, there is no place like home and that he will be glad to get back to Ranger again among his friends.

The letter was written in Paris and extracts from it read:
"I am the busiest man in Paris, trying to take in everything of interest, however, I am still thinking of Ranger and my friends, and want them to know where I am."

"Everything is very cheap here. You can ride a taxi cab for a great distance for ten to fifteen cents American money. Yesterday, I took a sight seeing car for 30 francs, about 75 cents American money. Lodging and drinks are exceptionally cheap. A good bottle of wine ten cents in American money, champagne 40 to 50 cents, a glass of beer 1 franc or 2 3-4 cents and they will give you a handfull of coppers, brass and iron pieces back for your change. Visits Versailles
"I know that this will make your mouth water, so will change the subject. A few days ago I visited Versailles, and worth mentioning are the Palace, Castle, Hall of Mirrors, Museum, Chamber of Le Louis XIV, view on the Terrace, Versailles Park, the Latone Basins, Rolay Alley and Grand Canal, also saw the room and table where the peace treaty was signed.

"It would take a long time to picture to you all that I have seen, but I shall something to tell you when I get home."

"One of the constructions that impressed me most was the Eiffel Tower, 450 meters high. I went up to the top on an elevator and had a general view of the city."

Photos Home

"I am bringing photos home of all the places I have seen. I shall mention here just a few places of interest in Paris, that I have seen. Trocadero Palace, Triumph Arch, and tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Great Palace of the Champ Elysees, Little Palace, Burbon Palace, Concorde Palace, Opera Theatre and Place, The Exchange, Notre Dame church, the Magdalen and many others.

"This is a great place for shows. Last night I was in Moulin Rouge. Paris is known for its gay life and things that are beyond description are to be seen here. Words are inadequate to describe. Seeing as believing. The shopping district here is marvelous and taking it all in all, it is a magnificent city."

"I would like to spend more time here, but my time is limited. I expect to leave for Germany in a few days, and will sail for home about October 1."

"My kindest regards to all my friends in Ranger."

Hagaman Leaves For Austin Today For Legislature

M. H. Hagaman of Ranger, representative from the 106th legislative district, will leave today for Austin to attend the special session of the Texas legislature. Mr. Hagaman said yesterday that "We are going down there to validate road bonds, to make supplementary appropriation for the public schools, care for all of the good recess appointments and then come home."

Mr. Hagaman expressed the opinion that the legislature would not go into any new legislation.

Mrs. Hagaman will not go for a few days as she wishes to stay here until school opens up.

Rev. Randolph Clarke of Ranger, veteran chaplain of the legislature, will have to have a substitute at the special session, it looks like, as he has just returned from Wichita Falls, and can't arrange to go right on to Austin.

Season Tickets Sale Means Same Seats Every Game

"It is a matter of knowing you have the same seat at each conference game to be played in Ranger," one of the Ranger athletic committeemen said, when talking of the advance sale of season tickets, which by the way aren't going like hot cakes at all, at all.

The first game will be played on Saturday afternoon in Ranger. This will not be a league game but they will have to play on the old field. The meausly sum of $500 would put the field in pretty good shape for the first conference game on Oct. 2. An improved field would put the boys in fighting trim as they would feel more loyal than ever to Ranger business men who have so long stood shoulder to shoulder with them. There are at least 1,000 Rangerites who will attend all four of the conference games and while they would not save a cent by buying their tickets in advance, they would be assured of the same seat each game and would not have to leave their businesses or their homes until the last minute, as they would know their seat was waiting there for them, and they would help the committee put the park in good condition.

It is planned, this committeeman added, to put aside 1,000 seats on the Ranger side for the purchasers of season tickets. It is expected that at least 15,000 people will see these four games, and the persons who are armed with season tickets will not have to wait in line, or scramble for a vantage point—it'll be right there waiting for them.

Ranger needs a good stadium and the park committee, consisting of Mayor Hodges, Raymond Teal, J. T. Gullahorn, Steve A. Lillard Jr., and Marvin Collier, feel that it is one of the best advertisements that a town can have. All this committee has tickets to sell, as do the members of the Lions club and should the public feel the crying need of season tickets, that the park feels for improvement, they won't have any further trouble putting over the sale of advance tickets.

Ranger Lads And Lassies Leave Home Amid Heartaches

Monday some mothers of Ranger will watch a tiny form depart for school for its first time—and possibly as she watches the little figure as it strides proudly down the street to enter on its new life, there will come an ache in her heart—a lump in her throat—because for the first time, her baby is to go where she cannot follow him, minute by minute—day by day. Then there are some who have watched their boy or their girl start off to school for many Septembers, but to whom this one will come different, as this time, they turn their backs on their Alma Mater and with grips and trunks packed, are saying good-bye—thrilled with the prospect of college. Which ever way it comes there is a heart-ache for mother—for her big boy is just her little boy grown up—and to a mother, separation from her children is temporary death. But children have the privilege of education as their birthright and even a mother's heart-aches should not interfere with youth as he or she begins to climb youth's hill, which opens upon life.

Some of Ranger's boys and girls go east—few go west, but several this year are going to stay in the old home nest. Rigby Valliant is one who will go west—to that wonderful college on the Plains, the Texas Tech. Charles Maxey has already gone to a military college in Claremore, Okla. Robert Campbell goes to State. Does Charles Gholston, Thurman Gholston, and Duncan McRae. Misses Elizabeth and Marie Barrett have also chosen State this year. Moorman Wagner and Misses Lucile Buchanan, Jennie Robison and Floyd Killingsworth will attend the Junior college here. The Dunaway brothers will be separated this year in their school life as Alton Dunaway will attend the school of mines at El Paso and Howard, Texas university. Miss Madeline Norman and Miss Helen Hall will return to S. M. U. at Dallas, and Miss Oreta Smith to C. I. A., Denton. Ted Rummage will go to T. C. U. Fort Worth. A number of boys and girls who graduated last year have not yet decided where they will go, but it looks as though a large percentage of them will go at Ranger High Monday to enter the Junior College of Ranger.

RUSSELL-LOVE WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Russell announce the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Ellis Love, at Eastland, Texas, on July 30. Mr. and Mrs. Love are now at home to their friends at the El Al Apartments, Mrs. Love, who as Evelyn Russell, was one of the 1926 graduates of the Ranger High School and a most popular member of Ranger's Younger. Mr. Love is with the Street Motor Company and is a splendid young business man.

The young people rather took their friends by surprise. They were married in Eastland by Rev. Singleton of the Methodist church, with Miss Alice McCaslin, a close friend of the bride's witnessing the ceremony.

MOTHERS SELF CULTURE CLUB

The Mothers Self Culture Club of Ranger, held its initial program, Friday afternoon at the Gholston Hotel, with Mrs. A. L. Duffer having charge of the program and Mrs. Cull Mooreman, club president, presiding. The first program was carried out splendidly and much interest was manifested by all the club members in the future of the club. The next meeting will be on Friday, Sept. 24. Mrs. Ungar of Fort Worth was a guest at Friday's meeting.

JUNIOR NEW ERA CLUB MEET

The Junior New Era Club will meet Monday night to start on its third year of club life. The meeting will be held at the Gholston Hotel at 7:45 o'clock and all old members, as well as those who contemplate becoming members are asked to be present. Work will be planned for the coming year and officers elected. This club differs from most Ranger clubs as with one or two exceptions, its members are all young ladies, and is composed of business and professional women. Its programs are literary, with social events intervening at pleasant intervals. Several of the members have married in the last year, which does not in any way affect their membership, unless they become non-residents.

Mrs. Palmer chose boxes of dainty hankies for prizes and they were awarded to Mrs. Harold Durham, who made high score and Mrs. Aubrey Jameson, who cut the lucky low.

Refreshments reflecting the usual delightfulness of the tea room's menus was served following the game to Misses Walter Murray, D. L. Jameson, Abbie Shaw, Jimmie Holland, H. H. Durham, Aubrey Jameson, Walter Cash, Saunders Gregg, C. C. Craig, and Harry Logsdon.

ADD PERSONALS
Mr. and Mrs. Jerome McLester are spending the week-end in Fort Worth.

Miss Rimmer of Hamlin, has returned to her home after a week's visit with Mrs. J. C. Pierson.

Mrs. Steve A. Lillard Jr., and children have returned from a few days' visit to relatives at Decatur.

Mrs. Walter Murray and children are spending Sunday in Fort Worth.

Miss Ernestine Davis of Fort Worth has returned home after a pleasant visit to friends here.

DELPHIAN CLUB ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

The Delphian Club is one Ranger club that has continued right on with its work throughout the summer, carrying heavy programs on current events, every other Thursday. The program below is for Sept. 23.

Will meet in the green room of the Gholston Hotel, Thursday, Sept. 23, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Anderson, leader. Roll call to be answered with current events. Answer to the following questions will be found in July quarterly.

Why must this generation devise some workable machinery for world-peace? What consideration entered into the Belgian debt settlement? How does the situation in France differ from that in Belgium? Are you familiar with the protocol of the world court? Mrs. Anderson.

Why pays for coal strikes, and how may someone else have to pay for the present anthracite strike? Tell how England avoided a coal strike, and why the plan was regarded as socialist. Mrs. Shattuck.

Outline the Moroccan situation, including developments since the quarterly was sent to press. Why is the issue of international interest? Do you think Secretary Kellor's action consistent with our official attitude toward Mexico? Mrs. Cummings.

State the case for and against China in the present controversy. What is Italy's problem? How far do nations have rights that conflict with human rights? Show the unsuitability of Bolshevik principles to American conceptions of life. Mrs. O'Donnell.

What have the Bolsheviks achieved? Account for their hostility to religion. Outline the "Polish Corridor" dispute. What is involved in the Mosul dispute? Mrs. Pitcock.

How do the aims of the Guild Theater differ from those of the commercial theaters? Discuss the feasibility of such an organization your town. Mrs. Granger.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Despite the fact that fall will be an extremely dressy season of velvets, metal brocades and lustrous silks, the sports dress is not neglected. Women have found that the sports dress is indispensable and gives more service than two or three more elaborate frocks.

For outdoor sports it is by all means the smartest thing one can wear.

The two-piece dress is still sponsored by smart gown houses although it is varied a bit this season by using two contrasting colors or by introducing the bloused bodice. Jersey and crepe are the favored materials.

The blouse may be of contrasting colors to the skirt or the two-colored idea may be carried out on the jumper only.

For instance, a jersey dress of burnt orange has two large squares of black jersey applied on front and rear of the bodice forming a plaid idea while the skirt is carried out in the major color, orange. White wool feather-stitching joins the black squares to the orange material. Purple and reds and wine colors are particularly stressed in sports wear this year. Jumpers of purple and red jersey cloth combine with navy blue jersey skirts. Again the bright color may be used as banding on a darker and contrasting color.

In getting away from the simple straight lines of the average two-piece jumper dress we find jumpers which are made very long and tight at the bottom so that they may be pulled up to fit snugly about the hips and form a blouse. Some models have the blouse held in by a stitched-on belt with a fitted neplum falling below the belt. Black is a very smart color this season for sports wear and we find many bright colored sports frocks combined with black and worn with a slender black kasha coat. The small black felt hat is one of these meeting with most success at present.

Velvet jackets worn with velvet or jersey skirts are also included among the smart sports outfits. Deep blues, browns, fine reds and greens are popular shades for these models. Skirts of most of the sports frocks are plain except for two or three pleats at the front or side front. Lengths are shorter for sports wear than for dress wear.

LONDON SMART SET HAS KICKED CHARLESTON OUT

By United Press.

LONDON.—Smart London has kicked the Charleston out of doors. It is one of those things that just are not done. It looked at first as if it would take London's dancers by storm, but the big dancehalls frowned on it and the socially prominent refused to learn it, and now the Charleston, with the "Kitchen Lancers" and the slow waltz, is an outcast. The Tango, on the other hand, is coming back into favor with a rush.

JEWISH REHABILITATION OF PALESTINE DEVELOPS ELECTRIC POWER PLANTS

By JOHN O'BRIEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS.—French and British engineers have completed a project which it is hoped will be put into execution very soon for the electrification of Palestine by causing the waters of the eastern Mediterranean to flow over a 250-foot ridge bordering the coast, thence through a canal cut out of solid rock, whence the waters would hurl themselves down in an almost sheer drop into Lake Tiberius and the Dead Sea, more than one hundred feet under the level of the Mediterranean.

It is estimated that the electric energy capable of being thus developed would be sufficient for Palestine, Syria, Asiatic Turkey and Egypt. The total cost is placed at about $75,000,000. Able scientists have calculated the net energy at 425,000 H. P.

"Palestine is the classic land of miracles," said Edouard Imbeaux, the French expert, chief author of the plan, to the correspondent of the United Press, "I firmly believe modern science will accomplish miracles there in its turn."

Scientist Speaks
M. Imbeaux has sent to the Academy of Sciences a long, detailed statement of the geographic and other er conditions favoring the plan for the electrification of Palestine. He emphasized that between the Mediterranean and the enormous depression in which are situated the valley of the Jordan, Lake Tiberius and the Dead Sea, there is only a low ridge less than two miles wide. He proposes therefore:—

1. Construction of a maritime canal from Haifa with twelve locks gradually rising to the summit of the ridge near the Zerin peak the Jizreel of the Bible.

2. Piercing of the peak, a distance of about 3,200 yards and construction of an artificial river on the other slope of the ridge leading to the commencement of the depression.

3. Construction of a plant which would receive the falling torrent about twelve hundred feet below just above Lake Tiberius. Another plant would be constructed further south, permitting a further drop of nearly four hundred feet into the Dead Sea.

"We have calculated," continued M. Imbeaux, "that the gross energy derived would be 617,000 H. P., but 190,000 H. P. would be needed for the lifting of the waters of the sea up to the peak, leaving a net product of 426,000 H. P., or 240,000 kilowatts, sufficient for all Palestine's railroads, industry and agriculture. This enormous influx of water into the valley would be amply taken care of by evaporation. Irrigation, which is one of the crying needs of Palestine, would take care of the rest."

Short Time
M. Imbeaux has been studying every angle of the problem for three years. He has been in communication with the British government, which has a mandate over Palestine, and believes that the execution of the project is matter of a short time. Referring to the fact that Niagara Falls develop electrical energy which serves a radius of twelve hundred miles, he said:—

If you draw a circle of six hundred miles with the region in Palestine to which I am referring as a centre you will find that you will enclose Syria, all Turkey-in-Asia, reaching to the Black Sea, and Egypt. We have in mind an extension of our plan which would bring into its sphere all that territory. We aim at an immense development of cotton and silk growing, fruit culture and general agricultural progress which should make Palestine what it was in ancient times.

There is really no material obstacle. The work on our preliminary scheme would take about three years. Labor is cheap. The Jews have shown at Tel-Aviv that they are capable of tremendous tasks."

Carelessness Of Driver Cause Of Accidents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Because a motorist has been driving a car for a considerable time is no reason for assuming that he cannot have a great deal to learn about careful driving, it is pointed out in a discussion of motoring safety by Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association.

In a statement issued at national headquarters of the A. A. A. here, President Henry is quoted as urging motorists to supplement safety movements by a year-round endeavor to avoid careless habits, which can bring an experienced automobilist to the point where he will possess relatively less competence than the merest novice.

"The most experienced motorist need not consider himself the most capable," declared Henry. "He should be able to qualify as being eminently fitted to use our streets and highways in the most exemplary manner, but, unfortunately, public safety is too often threatened by the drivers who have been piloting their cars for ten or twelve years.

"Accidents statistics are proof that experience does not imply driving with any great degree of security for other motorists or for the pedestrians who may cross the path of the 'old timer.' It is frequently the case that detailed tabulations of mishaps indicate that the greatest number has been due to the carelessness of drivers who have had five years' or more experience. In fact, some figures show a definitely inverse proportion of the number of accidents to the length of time the driver has been running an automobile.

"Statistics in one large city for the first three months of this year show only twenty-three accidents for persons who were driving three months or less, while but sixty-four mishaps were registered for drivers whose experience varied from three months to one year. Four hundred and five motorists who had driven cars for two to five years were involved in mishaps, while 688, whose driving records were of at least five years standing, figured in accidents of which seven were fatal.

"Of course, it may be said that the motorist of five years' experience are in the majority, but, even discounting the difference in numbers, the preponderance of accidents caused by the more practiced person has but one explanation and that is simply carelessness and a tendency to take chances. Many newer automobilists would have the utmost fear of trying to do what the more proficient ones think they can achieve but fail in doing.

"Figures in this same city also show that accidents were greatest in clear weather, during daylight hours and on dry roadways, which would indicate that physical circumstances played a minor role. The human equation, which so often is the unknown quantity, apparently was mainly responsible for the mishaps.

"The lesson for motorists is plain. The say, 'never too old to learn,' is a truism that has lost nothing of its forcefulness even in this enlightened age. Experienced automobile drivers should ever be careful to avoid that self-assurance which only too often is of serious consequence."

Dodge Brothers Turned Out Car Number 1,750,000

Dodge Brothers Motor Car No. 1,750,000 rolled from the assembly lines Monday, Aug. 23, at 3 o'clock p. m., just 11 years, 9 months and 9 days after the first Dodge Brothers car was completed. During this period the plant at Detroit has expended from a scant 30 acres of floor space to over 120 acres to which additions are constantly being made to care for increased demand.

Car No. 1,750,000, an all steel special sedan, is the crowning achievement of nearly twelve years devoted to the constant improvement and refinement of a sound basis design. The dates when Dodge Brothers output passed important production figures show clearly the continuous accelerated demand for the product. The first car was completed Nov. 14, 1914. Two years, lacking 19 days, were required to build the first 100,000.

Car No. 500,000 was completed June 30, 1920; Car No. 750,000, July 21, 1922 and Car 1,000,000 on Dec. 12, 1923. One million cars had been produced at the end of nine years and one month.

The last 250,000 cars were built in 7 months and 9 days, the first 250,000 in 41 months and 12 days.

Car No. 1,500,000 left the line on January 14 this year and was shipped to the Alberson Motor Company of Los Angeles to take its place in the famous "Scout Fleet" consisting of cars Nos. 300,000, 600,000, 900,000 and 1,200,000. These cars are in constant service on the highways of California laying out and rechecking tourist routes and investigating road conditions for newspapers and automobile clubs.

The Alberson Motor Company has a standing order for each 300,000th Dodge Brothers car.

Many other dealers have filed advance orders for cars which mark the completion of large round numbers in production.

A record of having built 1,750,000 motor cars in 11 years, 9 months and 9 days invites attention to Dodge Brothers production and sales policies. Undoubtedly the most important of the policies to which this success should be attributed is the one which always comes to mind at the mention of their name, "Constantly improved, but no yearly models."

Hudson-Essex All Steel Coach Proving Wonder

In many parts of the country Hudson-Essex dealers are demonstrating in interesting and spectacular ways the unusual strength of the Essex all-steel coach. In one city more than three tons of wooden and steel beams were placed on the roof of the body without in any way affecting it. After this demonstration was over, in fact, the body was remounted on a chassis and is being used as a demonstrator by the distributor.

In another city—located in the cotton belt—a dealer piled two bales of cotton on the roof of the car and drove around the streets. Inasmuch as all Southerners know that a bale of cotton weighs more than 500 pounds, the sight attracted a great deal of attention.

The test of the wooden and steel beams was tried by Walter Zimmerman of Columbus, Hudson-Essex distributor in the mid-Ohio district. After wooden beams and a platform had been placed on the roof of the car, a set of steel beams was obtained from a nearby sky-scraper under construction. These were piled atop the coach body until the total burden on it was 6,850 pounds.

It was shown as an exhibit in the main salesroom. As a part of the proof of strength, salesmen opened and closed doors of the cars, showing that there was no strain or distortion on the body.

"Such tests as these," according to White-Hampton Motor Company, the Hudson-Essex dealers here, "are evidences of the Hudson-Essex claim that there is no automobile body made, at any price whatever, which is more solid, rigid and strain-proof than the all-steel Hudson and Essex coaches. Not only are they built exceptionally strong and rigid, but also they are so united with the chassis that the whole structure is virtually one unit."

"The whole conception and construction of the bodies is original with Hudson-Essex, and we believe that the results are entirely unique in the automobile field. There has naturally been a strong demand for

Silvertowns Make Another Record For Victor Folks

"Another new record has been made by Silvertowns," says Mr. Vaughn, manager of the Thomas Tire Company. "This particular record, however, is of more particular interest to the radio fan than to be motorist, except where the one happens to be the other."

This record referred to is one that has been made by the Silvertown Cord Orchestra for the Victor Talking Machine Company and a report from the Goodrich Company indicates that the record has just been released offering "Reaching For the Moon" on one side and a "Night of Love" on the other. The refrains of both pieces are sung by the Silver Masked Tenor.

This famous radio singer was recently hailed into the sheriff's office in Bronx county, New York, and officially deputized to assist the Bronx county sheriff in apprehending evildoers. Since his early training was along the lines of prize-fighting no doubt the Bronx county sheriff had a very sensible object in view when he caused him to be sworn in as a deputy. Although the Silver Masked Tenor has made his fame as a singer, he swings an agile fist and has the weight to lend a considerable amount of force to any fistic arguments he might have.

Essex coaches—so strong that although they are built in the world's largest single body plant, we shall be hard pushed to meet the public demand.

Buick Adds Two New Models To Its 1927 Line

Buick has made several additions to the line for 1927 which lend themselves well to the shifting fancy of the automobile market.

Two entirely new models are included. The model 58 is a de luxe five-passenger coupe on the 128-inch wheelbase chassis. This coupe departs from the ordinary design by having a wide seat entirely across the rear. There is a comfortable driver's seat and a full sized folding seat in front for the fifth passenger. The long wheelbase of this model, combined with careful body design makes this car very roomy and comfortable for five large people.

This car, including the upper molding and window insets, is finished in colonial blue Duco. The top, fenders tires and rims are black. The wheels are natural wood. Stripping is cream. Like all other models on the 128-inch wheelbase chassis, the model 58 is custom designed throughout.

Another new model destined for great popularity is the model 265, a two-passenger de luxe with dicky seat on the 114½-inch chassis. This car is finished in special colors and has natural wood wheels. It carries the new Buick radiator cap emblem. It is finished exceptionally well throughout and will be especially appreciated as a fine performing second car for the average family, or as a sport type closed car where large passenger capacity is not essential.

The popular model 48, a four-passenger coupe, is continued at a saving of several hundred dollars on the 120-inch wheelbase chassis. The seating arrangement is the same as before. Refinements in the design of the body and rear deck retain the good looks which this model had when built on the 128-inch chassis. This car has been made one of a group of three models offered at attractive prices which make up the series 120 line. The others are a two and a four-door sedan. The color of all three is Delaware green Duco on the body and in the window recesses, with gold striping.

C. B. HUTCHINSON RECEIVES
NEWS OF DEATH OF FATHER

C. B. Hutchinson of Ranger, has been advised of the death of his father, T. R. Hutchinson, of Winter Haven, Fla. The message said that death came on last Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Hutchinson did not attend the funeral, on account of the distance. The deceased, who was 72 years old, was almost a life member of the Baptist church, and also member of the Modern Woodmen. He is survived by his widow and six children, who were all present when his death came with exception of the son living in Ranger.

Gorman Farmer Brings Pears To Sell In Ranger

That diversified farming and the use of intensive methods pay big dividends is being demonstrated by B. L. Brannon, a tenant farmer living a mile north of Gorman. He is proving beyond all doubt that Eastland county's sandy soil is as well adapted for the production of fruits as any other section of the United States.

Mr. Brannon came into Ranger Friday afternoon with the back of his Ford loaded down with eight or nine bushels of pears, that he had to strip from his trees that were over-loaded. He found a ready sale for them at $1.50 a bushel. They were sold to housewives for pickling and preserving.

On the other place also may be found 50 or 75 peach trees, the crop this year was cut by the late freezes and frost, but despite that has sold several bushels.

The fruit crop is a side issue, he has under cultivation forty acres in peanuts, that he says will make a good yield, 50 acres in cotton that is fair for this year, sweet potatoes and to top it all, two head of good meat hogs. Of course, poultry is part of the crop.

There ought to be more farmers like Brannon, and land owners ought to encourage diversification and the use of intensive methods.

Motor Industry Enters Fall With Bright Prospects

By ROY C. HAYES

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 11. — The motor industry enters the fall months with the greatest first eight months' production record in its history behind it and with outlook uncommonly bright for the remainder of the year.

Such preliminary figures as have come out for August indicate production in that month will probably exceed July of this year and especially August of last year by a substantial margin.

A year ago August production was low because of changes in the Ford line, output falling from 388,327 cars and trucks in July to 261,367 units the following month. In August this year, as far as can be ascertained, Ford has maintained normal output and a majority of other companies have stepped up production to supply dealers and the public with new models of which there has been a greater number than in any previous season.

Production during the first seven months of this year, according to department of commerce figures, totaled 2,804,638 cars and trucks, exclusive of Canadian July production, which is not yet available. Estimating July production in Canada at 20,000, total becomes 2,824,638 cars and trucks, which compares with 2,648,053 units produced in United States and Canada during like period last year, the previous record for such period.

Preliminary production figures of the Chevrolet Motor Car Company show that during August approximately 76,000 cars and trucks were turned out compared with 54,900 in July and 75,000 in June. September schedule is expected to exceed that of August.

Hupp Motor produced approximately 4,000 cars in August against 4,481 in July and 1,493 in August, 1925. It is the largest August business ever experienced by that company. A September schedule of 5,000 cars is being planned.

More than 4,000 employees of the Reo Motor Car Company have returned to their posts after the annual shutdown for vacations. Production is going ahead steadily and officials expect, on the basis of reports from distributors, that the balance of the year will be exceptionally active.

All General Motors divisions are operating at capacity following the slight mid-summer recession due to preparation for new models. A new monthly sales record is expected to be established by the corporation in August with anticipated total of 130,000 units.

A revival meeting will begin this morning at the Harmony Baptist church in the Pleasant Grove community, near Ranger, and will close on Sunday night, September 19. The pastor, F. A. Hollis, will conduct the services, to which the public is cordially invited to be present.

Notice

- Effective immediately we will start issuing purchase orders for each individual filling of gasoline or oil for each truck or car.
- We find this necessary in order to keep our records in order.
- As usual, purchase orders will be given for other material and supplies, and we cannot guarantee payment of any invoice not supported by a purchase order.

FOR LATE ARRIVALS:

(Fictitious cognomens, cities, streets, sidewalks and whiskers are used in this story to avoid possible identification.)

Well, Jimson Weed and Pearl Handle live in Omeomy, Ohio, just for example. Jim, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weed (his father and mother) marries Pearl, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Handle (her father and mother.)

The Weeds set forth upon their honeymoon, planning to tour the United States, which is the place discovered by Christofo Columbo, the explorer. Columbo died quite a while ago so doesn't enter into this remarkable novel at all.

The story itself, revolves around and around, and up until today it hasn't been such a fine story. Beginning today, however, or possibly tomorrow or some following day, the story improves.

HERE'S SOME MORE:

CHAPTER VII.

The author pauses here for an instant to recall that heart-rending predicament in which Jim and Pearl found themselves at the close of the previous chapter.

"Weep! Weep! Weep!" wept the weeping wife of Jimson Weed as the searing tongues of flame licked higher and yet higher.

"We are licked," cried Jim when a flame licked his hand.

A gasp of horror came floating up from the surging throngs upon the ground. Women screamed and fainted. Strong men covered their eyes.

Even the fire chief, accustomed as the hard-hearted old devil was to such gruesome sights—even he stood spellbound in his tracks and uniform. This was no common tragedy. It was an uncommon tragedy. Oh, it was tragic as everything.

Two humans were burning alive. One was Pearl, a lovely young bride from whose innocent features the bloom had yet to be erased. The other was Jim, the charming millionaire.

"Weep! Weep! Weep!" wept the sweet darling. She was crying like an Irish potato in a barrel of onions.

The tears trickling down her cheeks soaked her dress and filled her shoes. This, and this alone, protected her from the flames which by now surrounded and obscured her delicate form.

Jim took her in his arms. "We are saved! We are saved! We are saved!" whispered he into her ear three times.

It was true, practically. Pearl's tears had drenched the roof of the burning hotel.

"Saved! Saved! Saved!" laughed she hysterically.

But no. It was not to be. When Pearl quite crying the heat from below dried the tears.

"Cry, cry again!" screamed Jim. But Pearl could not cry.

Desperate situations demand desperate measures. Taking his bride into his arms again, Jim said to her, said he, "I'll poke you in the eye, you big slob."

Forthwith the lovely maiden burts into tears again. Trickle, trickle, trickle, went the tears down the side of the burning hotel.

The fire was extinguished. So they were saved.

There was quite a bit of talk around Atlantic City about making Pearl chief of the fire department.

The girl gave out, however, that she would refuse the offer. She said her husband, Jim Weed, didn't want her to work until their honeymoon was over.

Then, too, Pearl realized the notoriety gained by extinguishing the hotel fire would be her undoing. Her father would learn where she was and speedily hasten thither to shoot her dear husband.

Such action on the part of her father would inconvenience her. When the time came to shoot Jim she would notify her father. But now she must see New York.

When the situation was explained to Jim, he fell in with it readily enough. He, too, would enjoy seeing New York.

"It's settled then," cried the lovely girl. "We'll spend the rest of our honeymoon in that evil city."

Hand in hand they set forth for the railroad station. It was about a mile from their present hotel, but they skipped several blocks, shortening the distance by half.

"When is the next train north?" asked Jim at the ticket window.

"In about three hours," informed the ticket vendor.

"Does it stop at New York?" asked Jim.

"Yes," said the ticket vendor. "It stops there several minutes."

"I'll take two nice tickets, if you please."

Back to the hotel went Jim and Pearl to pack their belongings. Four more hours and they would be on their way, safe.

But four hours is 300 minutes. Or, is four hours 240 minutes? Pencils are so scarce. Anyway, it's a lot of minutes.

The news of the hotel fire had spread rapidly. It had reached Omeomy, Ohio. Detective Gumshoe had learned of Pearl's whereabouts.

"This case," said Gum, as he smoked his famous pipe, "calls for clever manipulation. It demands strategy."

So Detective Gum consulted his wife who also was a detective.

She was a detective, but a woman detective. Gum, himself, was a man detective.

Little suspecting this, Pearl gaily packed her few belongings which were scattered about the hotel room. Jim was pacing the lobby while waiting for his darling wife.

"Three hours," said Jim, glancing at his watch. "Three more hours and we'll be safely on our way again."

"Could you tell me the time?" crooned a lovely voice at his elbow. Its vibrant tones resounded through the cold marble lobby of the hotel and sent a thrill of exultation through all who heard. Jim failed to recognize Mrs. Gumshoe, the woman detective, in such a disguise.

"I beg your pardon?" stammered our Jim.

"Could you tell me the time, please?" smiled the woman detective. "I had it written on a piece of paper, but I lost the paper."

"It's half-past," giggled Jim. "Come, let us seek a more secluded spot. You are a stranger here, are you not?"

"I am a stranger everywhere," practically sobbed the woman detective when they were alone in a phone booth.

"Poor little wonderful girl," sympathized Jim, and his voice was like a downy caress.

"I am a stranger everywhere and to everyone, except here with you and to you," sighed the woman detective, who was a darn fast worker.

"I'm so sorry," soothed our Jim, closing the door of the phone booth, the blame scoundrel.

Two figures emerged from behind one marble column each, and stood gazing at the phone booth, chuckling. Who were they? One was Detective

Gum. The other was Mr. Handle,

Pearl's father. "He's trapped," whispered Gum. "Go get Pearl."

Pearl, as it happened, had finished her packing, and now she stepped out of the elevator into the lobby.

"Father!" she exclaimed upon seeing her old man. "What brings you here?"

"Jim's over there in that phone booth making love to another woman," said the villain, broaching the subject at once.

"He is not so," snapped credulous as well as astounded. But the sweet young thing osity was aroused. Crossing by she fung open the door booth. There stood the only black band she had. He was clasp arms of the woman detective. "What does this mean?"

Oakland Breaks Record for Single Daily Production

Oakland production records for the day were shattered last week when the huge factory at Pontiac turned out 3,006 Oakland and Pontiac cars, the best previous days record was 2,800.

Oakland Motor Car Company announced the introduction of the new six has stepped into the limelight with record breaking production. In fact a new record was set up every day since it was introduced. By July 23, the record for production of any make of car during the first full production. In fact a new record was set almost every minute of the day as Pontiac six cars are being produced at about that rate.

The popularity of the Pontiac six is evidenced by the fact that production increased every month since it was introduced. By July 23, 3,006 Pontiac Sixes had been sold, a larger number than produced by any other new car during its entire first production.

Due to the phenomenal increase in sales and production attained by the Pontiac and Oakland sixes, Oakland was forced ahead to place among the leading automobile manufacturers. This has been due not alone to the success of the Pontiac six because the Oakland six, during the fiscal year ending July 31 registered an increase of 100 per cent in sales and production.

Effort to meet the rapidly increasing demand for both Pontiac and Oakland Sixes, more than 3,000 already are at work on the new $7,600,000 plant which will be ready for occupancy by the end of the year.

One Of Slain Bank Robbers Had A Death Premonition

By United Press.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 11. — The family of A. M. Slaton, one of the slain Clarksville bandits, and his sweetheart, Miss Mabel Kruppman, had a premonition of death, Miss Kruppman, told Hick McKinney, a detective today.

Slaton had told his mother and fiancée goodbye Thursday.

"I'll be back Thursday afternoon," he said, Miss Kruppman told the detective, "but maybe I won't ever come back."

Slaton also promised that he would bring money so that he and Miss Kruppman could be married, she said.

"From then on a fear that I could not dispel came over me that a tragedy was about to happen," Miss Kruppman related.

She declared that none of his family or herself knew of his plan to rob a bank.

near Los Angeles and staged the "robbery" while most of the townspeople were asleep. At this party the heads of the institution were the guests of the producer. Police officers who had been tipped off on the robbery so they would not think it was real, also were spectators.

No one, however, discovered either the real life or reel life identity of the master crook, because he was masked when he arrived on the location and remained so until after he entered a closed motor car and returned to Hollywood alone.

West is the only one who knew the "Bat's" identity at any time during production. Although the general plot of the play is followed in the screen version, so many complications have been added by Julius Josephson, scenarist, that the producer feels sure the picture will baffles even the hundreds of thousands who saw the stage thriller, as well as those who will first see it at the Lamb theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Jewell Carmen, Jack Pickford, Louise Fazenda, Emily Fitzroy, Robert McKim, Eddie Gribbon, Tullio Carminati, Andre Beranger, Charles Herzinger, Lee Shumway, Arthur Houseman, and Sojin, Oriental character actor, are among the eminent players in the all-star cast.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE NETS MORE THAN $25,000

Concluding the first week of its sixty-day drive for membership, The Ranger Building & Loan Association yesterday announced that $27,000 worth of stock was subscribed by residents of the city during the past six days.

Ranger's crying need at the present time is more homes. The building and loan association through its established plan can loan enough money for home-building in Ranger to alleviate this condition and at the same time furnish an ideal investment for large and small investors in the city and county.

Salaried persons especially are benefited by the building and loan association's presence in Ranger. It came as a boon to the person who might own his home if he is permitted to pay for it in monthly installments as he pays his rent.

It furnishes like inducement to the salaried man or woman who wants to save a portion each month of his earnings. In addition to virtually unparalleled safety, the building and loan association pays a much higher rate of dividend than similarly safe investments.

The building and loan association has gained a firm foothold in Texas which has 430 such associations with no record of a failure in the state. It is under the supervision of the state department of insurance and its books are audited semi-annually. It is permitted to lend only on first liens on resident property and not to exceed 60 per cent of the value on a conservative appraisal.

The Wall Street Journal, one of the most influential financial publications in the country has placed the building and loan share on a par with government bonds for safety.

Pontiac Breaks Speed Records On Endurance Runs

The Pontiac Six which recently established several speed records on long endurance runs, gained new laurels in August by a startling high-gear non-stop economy performance, on the 1,039-mile round trip between Portland, Ore., and Boise, Idaho, demonstrating the high gear reliability of this popular six cylinder car.

The car, a Pontiac Six sedan with the shift lever removed and left in Portland, averaged 31.5 miles to a gallon of gasoline and used only one pint of oil, the figures being attested by Frank Reusswig, safety division engineer of the Oregon State Motor Association and representative of the A. A. A., who acted as official observer during the trip. The two drivers were Joe Kohler and C. Pritchett, amateur pilots, who alternated at the wheel every 100 miles.

VANITY CASE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Mysterious lights flash from the Heath Bungalow one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog over the murder of Myra Heath and the disappearance of her husband, Perry.

House guests of the Heaths are Lawrence Inman, heir to Myra's fortune, and beautiful Bunny Moore, to whom suspicion points because of her queer actions.

Myra Heath never used cosmetics, yet when her body was found she was heavily rouged. A rare old bottle from her collection of glass had been used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by Sam Anderson, Heath's rival for the club presidency. Al Cunningham, who is trying to solve the crime, and others.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath, saying Inman is the murderer. Cunningham goes to Anderson's house and there, while waiting for his host, is confronted by Perry Heath, who then slips away in the darkness. Anderson arrives soon after and upbraids Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

Todhunter Buck, who is in love with Bunny, is witness to a nocturnal meeting between the girl and Heath. He tries to get Bunny to explain and when she refuses he calls in his friend, Steve Truitt, a famous detective. Bunny tells Truitt she had gone downstairs the night of the murder and seen Myra Heath not yet cold in death, and Inman peeping from behind a curtain.

Truitt arranges for a meeting with Sam Anderson. He then takes Buck with him and enters the Heath bungalow by a French window, saying Heath will come in shortly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV
Once in, and adjoined to silence, Tod merely watched while Truitt noisily closed and locked the French window, and then stationed Tod behind a good-sized screen that was across a corner of the studio. He gave him a fairly comfortable chair, though not a large one, and then he ruthlessly cut an eyehole in the screen at the right height for Tod's eye while he was seated in the chair. Nodding in satisfaction, Steve whispered to his purpose, as Truitt hoped it would.

"No matter what happens, don't make a move until I do," and then, afraid lest he might not be implicitly obeyed, he added, solemnly, "Bunny's life may depend on your absolute silence."

This stretched the long bow a little, but it served its purpose, as Truitt hoped it would.

Then he took up his own position which was inside the folds of a long drapery curtain, that hung over a little used window. In this he also cut a small peephole, and the vigil began.

Truitt had dared a low light to make these preparations, but he had turned that off and they were now in total darkness. His greatest fear was that Tod would fall asleep, but he banked his lopes on the word he had passed about Bunny, and trusted that the hint would keep the boy awake.

Although it seemed hours, it was not so very long before a faint noise was heard at the window whereby they had entered.

Both men were alert, watching and absolutely silent.

Accustomed now to the darkness, and because of a faint bit of light from the waning moon, they saw a tiny diamond shaped pane move from its place in the window on the east terrace, not a French window, a small window with latticed upper sash.

This pane came out entirely, removed by a hand outside, whose fingers showed dully pink against the panes.

The pane out, a whole hand came through and easily turned the window fastening, after which, the window was slowly and cautiously raised.

Had Truitt been less imperative Tod could scarcely have withstood an exclamation, as a man's leg came over the sill, followed by the rest of anatomy.

It was Perry Heath. Though not closely acquainted, Tod had seen him before and recognized him at once. He knew the long lock of hair over his forehead that he was continually throwing back, for Heath took off his hat as soon as he was inside.

Then, stepping to the door of the lounge, he listened intently for a moment, and apparently satisfied, closed the door very softly, and turned on a small desk light.

Tod hoped his aunt was not having an insomnia attack, for she would certainly see that, and perhaps give an alarm.

But he had no time for thought, the sight of the man was too thrilling for that.

Heath, first of all, went to the bookshelves, took down a small volume and thrust it in his pocket, with a nod of decided satisfaction.

That done, he seemed about to leave, but paused and gazed about the room as if taking note of its contents.

He opened a large paintbox, and looked at it contemplatively, then closed it with a little sigh.

One the desk, beneath the lamp he had lighted, stood Myra's picture, a miniature in a velvet frame. This he picked up and gazed on for a long time. Then he sighed again, and it would seem was about to leave.

But as he stepped toward the window, Truitt came out from his hiding place, and snapping on a full light, said:

"Mr. Heath, I believe."

"Good Lord!" said Perry Heath, petulant, rather than frightened, "and who are you?"

"Oh, I'm Truitt, the detective."

"You are. And what are you doing here?"

"I'm just detecting around a little Come out, Tod."

Tod Buck came out of his corner, wondering what would happen next.

"So there are two of you," Heath said, meditatively. "I might have managed one."

"I know," and Steve nodded, "that's why I provided two. Now, Mr. Heath, have you any objections to going with me to the police headquarters?"

"Why—to be honest, I have. But I daresay, they will be overruled."

"They most certainly will be. So we'll just consider it settled that we'll go along. Will you go what is called quietly, or shall we call Mr. Inman to go along and help us keep the peace?"

"Don't drag him in, for Heaven's sake. I'll toddle along with you boys—I don't really mind going, you know."

The others were quite willing, and

Heath looked at him in silence a moment, and then said, quite calmly: "I'll talk at headquarters, but I won't talk here. Come on, let's get along."

"I say, Heath," put in Tod, who so far had been silent, "why does Bunny stand up so for you?"

"I suppose she thinks I did the killing. I didn't, you know, Larry did. But Bunny would stand up for either of us, or both of us—she's that sort."

"Then did Mr. Inman put that make-up on your wife's face?" This from Truitt.

"How do I know? If he killed her, he must have done it."

"Mr. Heath, have you no resentment toward the man you say killed your wife? Have you no desire to see him brought to justice? You loved your wife, do you want her death avenged?"

"Yes, she did. I can't think now how she happened to," and Heath again assumed that peevish tone, that meant some of his plans had gone wrong.

The walk to headquarters, of course, took them over the bridge and for a short distance on the Park side of the Harbor.

Also, they passed the Country Club, and Heath stopping suddenly, said:

"I say, I wish you fellows would stop here with me a minute. I want to get some letters I left in my locker. You can keep your eye on me, you know."

Better than Ever—

Following their traditional policy of constant improvement with no yearly models, Dodge Brothers, during the past eight months, have vastly bettered their motor cars in many vital respects.

Indeed, there has never been an equal period in Dodge Brothers history when so many refinements of a popular and fundamental nature have been made.

The public is registering its appreciation of this progressive industrial service by purchasing every motor car Dodge Brothers can build—in spite of the fact that Dodge Brothers production, during these months, has broken all previous records by an impressive margin.

Standardized Quality makes FINER PERFORMANCE and LONGER LIFE Mechanically Inevitable in the CHRYSLER "60"

The Chrysler "60" is the product of Standardized Quality—a new and higher order of manufacture which actually makes any deviation from its exacting and superior standards mechanically impossible.

Obviously, because the Chrysler "60" is a car produced under such a plan, quality is built in and the Chrysler "60" must therefore also stand up immeasurably better under the strain of hard service.

Sixty miles, and more, per hour; get away of 5 to 25 miles in 7½ seconds; gas economy of 22 miles and more per gallon; characteristic Chrysler beauty; astonishing riding ease and roadability; the safety of Chrysler four-wheel hydraulic brakes; oil-filter and air-cleaner; full pressure lubrication; seven-bearing crankshaft; impulse neutralizer; road levelers front and rear; roomy, luxurious bodies.

Come in and see the new lighter six, Chrysler "60". We are confident you'll be convinced that nowhere will you find a six at this price that can begin to compare with this great Chrysler achievement.

CHRYSLER "60"—Touring Car, $1075; Roadster, $1145; Club Coupe, $1165; Coach, $1195; Sedan, $1295.
All prices f.o.b. Detroit, subject to current Federal excise tax.

Superior Performance Results from Superior Manufacturing

The Chrysler plan of Quality Standardization differs from, and is superior to, ordinary manufacturing practice and methods, because it demands fixed and inflexible quality standards which enforce the same scrupulously close limits—the same rigid rule of engineering exactness—the same absolute accuracy and precision of alignment and assembly—in the machining and the manufacturing of every part, practice and process in four lines of Chrysler cars—"50", "60", "70" and Imperial "80".

Star 4-Cylinder Beats Crack Train Across Prairies

When the first slow, cumbersome, lumbering, one-lunged horseless carriage chugged through the streets, the skeptical public little dreamed that within thirty years an automobile would cross the Iowa prairies in less time than the fastest express train, yet that very thing has happened.

On Monday, July 19, an epoch in the evolution of transportation was recorded, when a Star four-cylinder touring car beat the time of the Continental Limited, crack train of the Chicago Northwestern Railroad, across the Iowa by way of the Lincoln Highway, Clinton, Iowa, to Omaha, Nebraska.

The distance, 102 1-10 miles, was covered at an average running speed of 51.6 miles per hour. It is believed that this constitutes a world record for a less-than-thousand-dollar car.

The timing was officially done by the Western Union Timing Service, the car being checked out of the Western Union office at Clinton, Iowa, checked in and out of every town en route and checked in at the Western Union office at Omaha, Neb.

The first 100 miles were run in 108 minutes and the first 125 miles in 128 minutes. One stretch of 14 miles was covered in 13 minutes flat.

Through Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where police protection and motorcycle escort were provided, the highest speed attained was 66 miles an hour.

The performance is really remarkable in view of the fact that the Star four touring used in the run was a stock car used without alteration and driven only 153 miles before it started on its history-making trip.

The fact that at the conclusion of the mad race the car showed no ill effects from the terrific grind is a remarkable tribute to its sturdy construction.

Power is one reason for Pontiac Six popularity

Powered by the largest six-cylinder engine used in any car costing less than $1000, the Pontiac Six exhibits a performance range entirely new in its field. Power to soar up and steadily through mud and sand. More power than any other six at its price—and a permanent source of power too. Beauty, comfort, economy and roadability—in all these qualities the Pontiac Six represents a decisive departure among low-priced sixes. Yet, on the basis of power in relation to wheelbase, weight and price, it ranks as the one outstanding engineering triumph of the day.

Pontiac Six, Sedan or Coupe, $825. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.
