GERMANS HAVE CAPTURED POSITIONS AT PRSANYSZ

Teutons Take Important Positions In Drive Upon Stronghold of Warsaw From Northwest

By Associated Press:

Berlin, July 15—Prsanysz, a town of Russian Poland, 40 miles north of Warsaw, has been captured by the German forces, according to the official statement given out today by the German army headquarters.

The Germans also announce that they have captured the village of Konsyya to the south of Kolno and have stormed the heights of Osiszauka to the northeast of Suwalki.

The official statement says:

"The French made repeated attempts yesterday and last night to recapture the positions we took from them in the forest of the Argonne. Notwithstanding the employment of large quantities of ammunition and strong forces all their attacks broke down. East of the Argonne fighting was more lively yesterday.

"In the forest of Le Petra a French advance broke down before our fire.

"Battles in the neighborhood of Prsanysz are being continued. Several enemy lines were captured by our trenches and the city of Prsanyz which was attacked in the last days of February and whic Awas strongly fortified by the Russians has been captured."

TENS OF THOUSANDS LOSE LIVES IN CHINESE FLOODS OVER THREE PROVINCES

By Associated Press.

Hong Kong, China, July 15.—Tens of thousands of natives are estimated to have been drowned by the floods in the Chinese provinces of Kwantung, Kwangsi and Tiangsi, and the desolation in the devastated district is terrible, according to the latest reports reaching here.

Consul General Anderson here reported today that Canton was isolated except two powerful steamers. Thousands have been drowned and tens of thousands are taking refuge on high places. Thousands of buildings have been damaged or destroyed and foreigners are taking refuge at the British consulate at Fu Chow. No Americans have been lost so far.

A fire swept area of one mile and raging floods are handicapping the work of rescue in Canton. The city was in darkness last night, the water having inundated the machinery of the electric light plant. The last report received before communication was broken said the American missionary hospital was in danger.

PLAN CONFERENCE RELATIVE TO BRITISH BLOCKADE ORDER

AUSTRIA PROTESTS MUNITIONS EXPORTS

SAYS THEY ARE APPROACHING DIMENSIONS THAT THREATEN U. S. NEUTRALITY

NOW UNDER CONSIDERATION

State Depatment Has Had Protest Since July 1—No Decision Has Been Reached

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 15.—Austria's diplomatic representations that American exports of war munitions to the allies have obtained dimensions endangering the neutrality of the United States have been under consideration in the state department since July 1 and so far it has not been determined what reply, if any, the U. S. will make.

GERMANY AND TURKEY JOIN IN THE PROTEST

By Associated Press.

London, July 15.—A dispatch from Berlin by way of Amsterdam says:

"The Austro-Hungarian protests to America is a sequel to the recent conference at Vienna of the German imperial chancellor, the German foreign minister and the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister.

German officials have openly declared the United States fully within its rights as a neutral in selling war exports to the allies. State department officials do not regard the Austrian communications as a protest and are not yet certain it requires an answer.

COTTON AND LIVESTOCK INTERESTS TO CONFER

To Discuss Calling Of Session Of Congress To Secure Rights From Germany And Great Britain

By Associated Press:

Washington, July 15.—American meat packers in conference here with the state department seeking relief from British detention of some $14·000,000 worth of meats consigned to European neutrals have been asked by representatives of cotton growers, live stock men and state officials in the cotton and cattle belts, and other American interests affected by the war to join in a general conference here having for its subject a proposal for a special session of congress to deal with the rights of neutrals.

It would also take up the question of providing shipping facilities for Americans. Representatives of the great Chicago packing houses in conference with state department officials today declined any initiative action in the proposed conference and said their co-operation in the movement depended on whether the negotiations now in progress resulted in anything tangible.

JURORS WANTED TO SUSPEND SENTENCE

DECLARE WOULD NOT HAVE RETURNED VERDICT OF GUILTY OTHERWISE

BASSETT ASKS NEW TRIAL

Judge Overrules Motion and Defendant's Attorney Gives Notice He Will Take Appeal

A motion for a new trial in the case of Ernest Bassett, charged with theft from person, was overruled by Judge Nicholson in the 78th district court this morning, and notice given of an appeal. The motion was presented under peculiar circumstances, growing out of the jury's misunderstanding of the suspended sentence law. The verdict of the jury found the defendant guilty and assessed his punishment at two years, but recommended that sentence be suspended.

Judge Nicholson's charge to the jury said nothing about suspending the sentence, and a suspension could not have been asked, under the law. The jury first stood six and six, later seven for acquittal and five for conviction. Then the question of suspended sentence came up, but as some of the jurors were in doubt as to the legality of this course, they decided to ask the judge about it. They asked him if they might recommend suspension and the judge's answer was a "no." This answer, however, was constructed by the jurors to mean that such a recommendation could not be made utnil the verdict was returned. Accordingly they proceeded to agree on a verdict of guilty, recommending the suspended sentence.

Four of the jurors were put on the stand at the hearing this morning, and three of them declared they would not have found the defendant guilty had they not believed the sentence could be suspended.

"When the judge told us the sentence couldn't be suspended," said one of the jurorrs, "somebody said that would amount to his deciding the case for us, and that he didn't mean it that way."

The jurors said they did not understand the matter, it being the first experience as a juror for several of them. District Attorney Humphrey brought out that the jurors must have had some belief in Bassett's guilt or they would not have voted so. Judge Nicholson said that if this sentence could be set aside, any sentence could be returned under any circumstances could be set aside, and he overruled the motion. Bernard Martin, counsel for Bassett, gave notice of appeal.

Bassett was indicted for theft of about $60 from the person of a young man from Oklahoma in the reservation. He was sentenced this morning. Asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed, he said, "I'm not guilty."

Eli Brewer, the negro convicted of murder and given a ten year sentence was also sentenced today. His case will not be appealed.

NEBRASKAN ATTACK CLOSED INCIDENT

GERMANY ADMITS "UNFORTUNATE INCIDENT" AND AGREES TO REPARATION

THE ATTACK WAS A MISTAKE

State Department Accepts Explanation—Amount of Damages Now the Only Question

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 15.—Germany in an official memorandum transmitted today from Berlin by Ambassador Gerard admits that the American steamer, Nebraskan was torpedoed by a submarine, expresses regret and agrees to make reparation and assures the United States that the attack was "not meant for the American flag but is to be considered an unfortunate incident."

Secretary Lansing made public the German memorandum which closes the incident, it was said, except as to the payment of damages. The following statement was issued at the state department:

"Ambassador Gerard has telegraphed to the state department the following memorandum from the German foreign office:

"'On the evening of May 25 last the submarine met a steamer bound westward without a flag and with no neutral signs visible. In the twilight the name of the steamer of the steamer was not visible from the submarine which attacked the vessel believing that it had an enemy vessel before it. Some time after the shot the commander saw that the vessel had hoisted the American flag, so refrained from any further attacks. Since the vessel remained afloat and continued under its own steam the submarine commander did not concern himself with the boats which had been lost. It results from this, without a doubt that the attack on the steamer Nebraskan was not meant for the American flag, nor is it traceable to any fault on the part of the commander of the German submarine but is to be considered an unfortunate accident. The German government announces its readiness to make compensation for the damage thereby sustained by American citizens.'"

The official report of the attack forwarded by Ambassador Page stated that although the Nebraskan's flag had been hauled down at sundown as is the custom there were painted on her side in letters six feet high the words "Nebraskan, New York."

ONLY THIRTY DAYS' FOOD SUPPLY IN CANAL ZONE

Panama, July 15.—An investigation ordered by Lieut. Col. Chester Harding, U. S. A., acting governor of the Panama Canal has developed the information that no more than thirty days' supplies of foodstuffs are available in the Republic of Panama and the Canal Zone. The results of the investigation have been compiled into a lengthy tabulated report which has been sent to the war department at Washington.

Most of the available supplies are stored in the two cities of Panama and Colon. The stores available in the provincial districts are estimated sufficient for the interior population for perhaps six months. This is due to the fact that the merchants in the interior order larger quantities of staples than do the city merchants because of the lack of transportation. The report also brought out the information that there are probably 400,000 head of cattle within the borders of the country but that they would not be immediately available owing to the difficulties of transportation to the canal cities.

The investigation was made with the view of ascertaining just how long the available food supplies would last in case of trouble between the United States and some foreign power which might be able to prevent the importation of food stuffs into the Panaman republic and thus the Canal Zone.

SLANDER CASE MAY GO TO JURY TOMORROW

The case of Mrs. Lula Westbrook vs. Wiley Wyatt for $20,000 damages for alleged slander, will probably go to the jury tomorrow. Indications were that the testimony would be completed this afternoon. The plaintiff rested late Wednesday and the defense completed the prsentation of its testimony this morning.

Much of the testimony in the case has had to do with the reputation and conduct of the plaintiff, who was formerly employed at the Westland and a large number of witnesses have been put on by each side. The plaintiff was on the stand Wednesday afternoon and Wiley Wyatt, the defendant, was a witness this morning. The defense is seeking to show both that Mr. Wyatt did not make the statements attributed to him and that such statements were true. The defense has also alleged a conspiracy on the part of discharged employes of the Westland hotel against Mr. Wyatt.

Force of Little More Than 3000 Fought More Than Six Times Their Own Number

By Associated Press.

Berlin, July 15.—The Overseas News Agency today said:

"The conditions of the surrender of the German forces in Southwest Africa made clear that the German troops number 204 officers and 3,094 men, a little more than one regular infantry regiment on a war footing, with seven field pieces and twenty-two machine guns. This force was matched after prolonged warfare and terrible fatigue against 20,000 men. The bravery of the Germans was admitted by the British who even permitted non-commissioned officers and privates to keep their side arms and guns."

LET THEM VOTE SAYS GOVERNOR FERGUSON

Governor Tells How He Stands On Suffrage Question In Address to Teachers

Austin, Texas, July 15.—In an address to the county school superintendents and teachers attending the rural school week at the University of Texas, Governor Ferrguson stated that he would rather see $3,000,000 spent for rural education than the $1,000,000 appropriated by the Thirty-fourth legislature for that purpose. About 1,500 persons heard the governor's address.

"I wish to approve your work," said the governor after being introduced by President W. J. Battle. "I am glad to be here and encourage you because I want a closer relationship between the government of this State and the University of Texas to exist. I want a closer, relationship between the teachers and the governor to exist.

"I am glad there are no more old school 'marms' and that we have so many young women in higher educational institutions who are studying to become efficient teachers.

"I am not afraid to tell you how I stand on the suffrage question. If a woman wants more power the only thing to do is to give it to her, for she'll get it anyway. A man and wife never did have a fight but that the man came out second best. If the women want to vote, why I say, let them vote. And if the women of Texas can get together and decide by voting that a majority of the women of the State want to vote I would be one to say, 'Let them vote.'"

WELCH MINERS VOTE TO STRIKE--150,000 HAVE ALREADY DROPPED PICKS

London, July 15.—A dispatch from Cardiff to the Central News Agency says that the miners conference by a vote of 180 to 113 decided not to accept the recommendations of the council to return to work. ....

150,000 MINERS QUIT WORK THIS MORNING.

By Associated Press.

Cardiff, Wales, July 15.—In spite of optimistic predictions that serious labor difficulties in the coal fields would be averted, virtually every mine was idle this morning on the day fixed for the beginning of the miners strike for higher wages. In one district alone 20,000 men struck defying the government's proclamation that the provision of the munitions act would be invoked to prevent a cessation of operations.

By ten o'clock it was estimated that upwards of 150,000 men were out in all parts of the Welsh field. Men on a strike in face of the government's prohibition are subject to a fine of $15 a day in default of which they may be imprisoned. Theoretically the government is empowered to check the strike forthwith but it is a puzzling problem how the fines authorized are to be enforced. No rioting in the strike district has been reported.

The leaders have called a conference in the hope of a settlement and the whole country is watching the outcome of the case which is to be a test of the government's power to force labor to arbitrate in the face of the men's contentions, though not of the leaders, that having made their demands there is nothing to arbitrate.

RUSSIAN RETREAT FROM SAN RIVER

BRITISH EYEWITNESS DESCRIBES ADVANCE OF GERMANE ON RUSSIAN THIRD ARMY

SAYS RUSSIANS NOT BEATEN

Retreat Big Success of Technique and Russian Army is Firmer Than Ever, He Believes

(Correspondence by the British Eye Witness)

Headquarters of Russian Third Army, in retreat behind River San, June 30.—The details of the German advance on the Third Army are now clearer. The Russian advance over the Carpathians was not met directly, but by a counter advance on its flank. Here five army corps were concentrated, some of the fresh troops being drawn from reserve divisions on the French front.

Meanwhile the long period of comparative inaction had been employed in bringing up the heaviest German and Austrian artillery and getting the range not merely of the Russian lines but of squares which covered a good part of their rear.

Germany Forced Gap.

The enemy's advance was at first directed against what was thought to be the weakest part of the Third Army, namely its right flank, which had sent a number of reinforcements to the Carpathians. But the lateness of the Russian general on this side produced an alteration in the plan; and the attack was diverted to the next army corps eastwards. This corps contained regiments which had had heavy losses in the previous hill fighting. A gap was forced between the two army corps; and the right flank of the threatened corps was crushed by the pounding fire. The flank retreated in good spirit but with the heaviest losses, coming into line with the broken forces to the right of them. Meanwhile a tremendous cannonade was directed on the division still further eastward, with the result that some regiments suffered terribly.

The whole advance of the enemy was a counter stroke to the Russian advance over the Carpathians further eastwards. The right wing of that advance was now out flanked and had to come backward. Half of this corps succeeded in rectifying its positions without serious loss; but the other division had the greatest difficulty in fighting its way through and lost heavily.

Trenches Wiped Out.

Meanwhile the enemy's attack was extended also westward. Here the cannonade was furious and trenches were in many parts wiped out, all approach to them from the rear for reinforcements being made almost impossible. Ultimately a retreat was ordered by the Russians on their side also.

When the retreat reached the San the Third Army stood on a not extensive front partly in front of and partly behind the river. The apparently endless file of supply and ambulance trains had all made its way along the single line across the river. Wherever they stopped, the station was infested by the enemy's aeroplanes, at one time ten of these flying along the line. In one day there were brought down, all the airmen being killed.

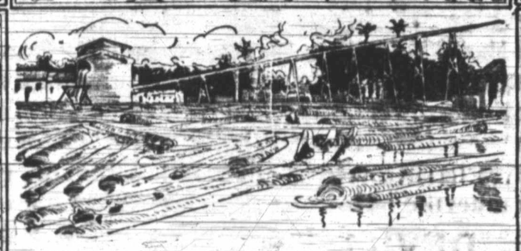

In their positions along the San the Russians had a very difficult stream to guard and could easily be put under a flanking fire. The officers were vigorous but deeply mortified at the loss of ground for which they had sacrificed so much.

The enemy's cannonade became more and more intense, lasting all night and into the next day. Then the enemy made good a footing on the Russian side of the river, was driven back, but returned and finally established himself and forced another Russian retreat of some miles.

Battle Not Over.

The staff is in no way down hearted; it is sometimes preoccupied, sometimes cheerful, but always full of vigor. The cause of the losses has been localized; and there is no sign of panic or hurry in the thought for the necessary remedies. The commander of the army is full of spirit and energy and all consider that they are only half way through this battle.

I return to my inevitable conclusion. The Russian retreat has been a big success of technique; and it has wiped out a number of good lives. The battle is not over, and the Russians are on the offensive at points which offer hope of better results. The Russian army is firmer than ever, and more and more men are being poured in.

Over Fifty Per Cent Saved

The lumber industry in the South represents many millions of dollars in the business of the States in which the lumber plants are situated.

Materials which were formerly regarded as waste are utilized for making many things of importance to the people of this country.

Paper, boxes, shingles, staves and other articles have been added to the products of the mill which formerly produced only planks, etc.

In the organization of this vast industry every available means for reducing waste has been studied with great care. It is natural to find that the largest lumber plants in these States with the most complete organization are using

SOME PROBLEMS GROWING OUT OF FEMALE LABOR IN ENGLAND

London.—(Correspondence to the Associated Press). The British ministry has promised the National Union of Railwaymen that at the end of hostilities the railwaymen serving with the armed forces will obtain jobs equal to those they gave up. At the same time, J. H. Thomas, M. P., secretary of the union, says he is extremely uneasy over the problem of women railway workers. In a speech at a meeting of the men in Nottingham he said:

"I am profoundly convinced that you have to face the fact that female labor has come to stay. Therefore we have got to make up our minds upon one or two things. First, what grades would it be dangerous for female labor to be engaged in; second whatever grades they work in, they must not be used as a means for reducing the prices that we have secured for particular grades by years of agitation. What we have to say is that no woman's labor is to be made the means of reducing the status of any grade in the railway service."

According to the speaker, there are certain classes of railway work which women are unable to perform, and women are not proving satisfactory in all the positions that have been opened for them.

Two Courses Open.

In short there were two courses open to the unions—either to refuse to allow the experiment of women workers altogether, as has been done in some places by the street car men or to devote the union's energies to insisting upon the maintenance of the standard of wages. Most of the speakers favored the latter procedure, urging that "while the trade unionist cannot, without stultifying his own principles, protest against female labor, he has every right to protest against female labor which is merely cheap labor under an alias, and it is in the interest of the country that he should so protest."

The only government department which has made any wholesale effort to avail itself of the large amount of female labor at its disposal to take the place of men in military service, is the postoffice. This department now has 3,000 new women employes in the various branches of its work throughout the country.

Women in Postal Service.

Of the 170,000 men employed by the postoffice before the war, 37,000 have joined the army. In the rural districts women have been employed in a limited way as letter carriers for some years past; they have now been introduced into some of the small towns and cities. Other places which are being opened to women are those of the mail sorters and messengers. Girl telegraph messengers, mounted on bicycles, are gradually taking the places of the boy messengers, and a great deal of the postoffice's telegraph work is being done by young women. Women clerks and accountants have been introduced for the first time into the London general postoffice.

On the authority of a high postal official, it is stated that the reports from all quarters are to the effect that the work of the women who have been engaged to replace men has been extremely well done. "They work quickly and accurately, and they are very conscientious," says one report.

Women letter carriers will be seen in the suburban districts of London within a few weeks. Candidates for these posts have already been called for from the government labor exchanges.

Women are as common a sight in English fields now as in the continental countries. Over 150,000 male farm laborers have enlisted in the army and caused a grave shortage. Farmers complain of the scarcity of labor and say that they have suffered from recruiting all they can bear. As the local food supply was never so important as now, they have even asked for the release of soldiers for farm work. This request has been granted by the war office for the harvesting of the grain crops, but for that only.

ITALIANS IN GERMANY PROVIDE HARD PROBLEM

Basel.—The south German press is greatly exercised over the problem of what is to become of the Italians residing in Germany. The authorities seem to believe that those who would not be liable for military service in Italy should be at liberty to stay or to leave Germany with their families, as they prefer. For those between the ages of 17 and 55 restraint under police supervision is suggested. Such Italians as are engaged in industries where their labor, owing to the shortage of men, is indispensable, will probably be permitted to continue their work under the supervision of their employers.

At Buehl in Baden 500 Italians of military age have held a meeting and addressed the following letter to the former Italian consul at Mannheim, who had advised them to return to Italy:

"Respecting your orders to all of us to return to Italy to fight against Germany, we leave that to you. Here where we have gained our livelihood for some time past we shall remain until expelled by the German emperor. Let Sonnino, Salandra, Martino and Victiore Emmanuele go to war."

At Singen in Baden about 10,000 Italians have been gathered together for repatriation by way of Switzerland.

MISS UNDERWOOD HONOREE AT GARDEN PARTY WEDNESDAY.

A pleasant reunion of old acquaintances and school day friends was the informal evening's entertainment on Tuesday evening devised for her house guest, Miss Pearl Underwood of Van Alstyne, by Miss Alice Burnside. During her residence here a few years ago Miss Underwood made many friends who were delighted with the opportunity to be with her once more for a chat and school day reminiscences. The lawn of the Burnside home was strung with electric lights, shaded by Japanese lanterns and with rugs, tables and chairs, placed en tete tete, made an ideal reception room. Programs, bearing the name of hostess and honoree and date, were passed with places for ten numbers of progressive conversation, a topic for each number being designated. The punch table, placed on the lawn refreshed the guests at intervals and iced watermelon was served at a late hour. The guests invited to meet Miss Underwood included Misses Ola Mae Hamlin, Theresa Smith, Grace Nolen, Roslyn Lynn, Hazel Hunter, Olive Airey of Mobile, Ala., Bess Kell, Anne Frecar, Pauline Mears, Margaret McMahon of Houston, Blanche Kahn, Louise Fox, Margaret Burnside, Jeanette Walker; Messrs. MISS ROBERTSON HONORS MISS POPE TUESDAY EVENING.

Complimentary to Miss Lucy Pope of Fort Worth and Miss Lorna Shaw who will leave soon to make her home in Ohio, Miss Ellen Adele Robertson entertained the members of the I. G. B. C. Club with an elaborate 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday afternoon at the Robertson apartments in Kemp Kort. The Kewpie is the club mascot and this omtif with the club colors, pink and green ws prominently featured in the dinner arrangements.

The hostess and her mother added fresh laurels to their fame as entertainers in this affair, both the dinner and the dance that followed being perfection in every detail.

The dining table was arranged with a huge Kewpie standing on a daisy and fern banked mirror reflector. Pink and green ribbons were conveyed from the lights to the central Kewpie and smaller Kewpies were tied in graduated effect on these streamers. Ribbons to match the pink shaded lights extended from the centerpiece to each cover and were caught by daisy place cards. A tempting five-course menu was served as follows: Iced cocoa topped with green whipped cream, chicken a la Maryland, creamed potatoes, peas, cauliflower, olives, jelly, bread and butter, fruit salad with cheese wafers, pink and white brick cream with green iced cake, coffee and salted nuts. During the progress of the dinner the girls sang toasts to the air of popular college songs, toasting the hostess and her mother, and the I. G. B. C. Three toasts, exceedingly clever were given, Miss Marian Maer toasting Miss Robertson in the following order: "There is a young miss named Ellen Adele, and believe me, she's some belle. Although not yet twenty, she has beaus a plenty. There is a young man named Bob, who the Robertson family would rob, but the father, Walter, would take a strong halter and cause him many a sob. And now I, fain would our gratitude tell to our charming hostess and mother may the Good Lord send us another, our invitation list to swell."

Likewise Miss Louise Montgomery toasted the departing member, Miss Lorna Shaw: "Here's to Lorna Doone Shaw, whose departure has filled us all with woe. My, but we will miss her, we'll think of her every day when she has moved to regions far away." Miss Shaw responded with a toast to the I. G. B. C., commencing, "Here's to the I. G. B. C., the best little club in town;, I've only to name the members and you'll agree to our renown." In clever rhyme she brought in the names of the club members with a pun or hit on their chief characteristic. The girls in the club, with Misses Elizabeth Patterson and Rose Johnson, absentees, are: Misses Adele Adickes, Marian Maer, Gertrude Davidson, Leila Beall Anderson, Louise Montgomery, Margaret Noble, Lorna Shaw and Ellen Adele Robertson.

Following dinner several friends came in for a dance, including Mr. and Mrs. Noble, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dent and Mrs. Montgomery and the following young people: Misses Ruth Simpson, Anita Monroe, Dorothy Toney, Agnes, Leicham, Ellsouise Peery, Margaret Burnside, Berenice Dan of Fort Worth, Edith Yates, Berenice Jackson, Fannie Minter, Delphine Wyatt and Lodell Haynes; Messrs. Louis and Mack McGinley, Everett Whateley, Wade Arnold, Marcus Helber, Henry Robertson, Tom Taylor, Luther Robertson, Robert Nolen, Homer Crawford, Herbert Johnson, Twiggs Boger, John Mackesbney, Guy Airey, Edgar Garsline, Jim Jennings, Allen Montgomery, T. B. Noble, Jr., Eugene Mathis and Arthur Fontaine.

The dance was held in the Kemp Kort dining room and during an intermission refreshments of punch with tuna, bread and butter and cheese sandwiches were served.

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 15, 1915

Although it has been fifty years since the civil war closed, the pension roll still increases. Last year 19,000 pensioners were added. The Spanish-American war is now costing the United States in pensions the neat sum of $4,000,000 per year.

M. H. Wolf of Dallas, who is one of the largest exporters of cotton in the South, declares that the only solution of the cotton seizure question is the establishment of a merchant marine. Had it not been for the attitude of England and France in stopping ships laden with cotton destined for Germany and Austria, the price of cotton would never have gone below 10 cents per pound.

Al Jennings continues to attract attention. At Los Angeles recently he was a victim of a street railway hold-up, and gracefully turned over to the robbers his watch and spare change. It was nothing new to him. A fellow who had followed that business himself for a time knew that to resist meant death, and he quietly submitted. But Al is thrifty, and will make considerably more than he lost by having a movie film made of the hold-up, showing just how he acted when the tables were turned on him.

Governor Ferguson says he is about to solve the prison question and that it will not be necessary to call an extra session of the legislature for that purpose. If the matter is left entirely with the governor it will probably be best. At any rate, he could not possibly make a worse failure than has already been recorded. Let's hope the governor can do what he says, and if he succeeds in doing it, there's no use talking about defeating him for a second term. If he does nothing more than place the penitentiary system on a paying basis, he deserves commendation for his ability and should be re-elected.

Citizens of this city who have recently visited Abilene report that Abilene has adopted very stringent rules for the regulation of traffic in that city—more stringent in fact than in any city in Texas. And what is better, Abilene has not stopped by merely adopting the stringent rules regulating traffic on the streets, but they are being enforced. In the center of each street intersection is placed a concrete marker or post with signs giving directions how to drive. Such regulations may cause inconvenience and perhaps some delay to those who are driving automobiles or other vehicles, but there can be no doubt but that they will prevent fewer collisions and perhaps save a life, and if they do that—even save one life—it is worth the effort. There are careless and reckless drivers of automobiles and other vehicles in all cities. Wichita Falls has her full share of them, and they need to be held in check.

After a nine years fight, and after paying as attorneys' fees, etc., more than one million dollars, Harry Thaw has been declared sane by a jury of twelve men, and his final liberty is now in sight. Thaws' crime was that of slaying the man who, it is alleged and admitted by the prosecution, persisted in trying to renew intimate relations with the wife of Thaw after Thaw had married her. Perhaps he erred in choosing for his wife such a woman, but that is not the question. After he had done so, it was his duty to protect her, and if that duty involved the slaying of one man or a dozen, he should have been commended rather than condemned for his act. But Thaw and his mother had plenty of money, and they have been forced to part with a good sum of it. Had he been a man of only moderate means the chances are that he would never have been punished for slaying Stanford White. The woman for whom Thaw sacrificed so much is no longer his wife. It might have been better for Thaw to have never made them.

German-American citizens in this country and other sympathizers with Germany in the European war are standing in their own light, it seems to The Times, when they criticize and by their sullen attitude weaken the stand the American government has taken against the violation of our rights. As they weaken their government now by their failure to support it, so will they weaken it when the day of reckoning with England is at hand, and The Times believes it is much closer than many imagine. In the American controversy with Germany the United States is fighting for humanity as well as its rights, but no great economic or commercial matters are involved. Without any great loss to America other than to our self respect we could stop going to Europe and take our ships out of the war zone, continuing to trade with the allies in their own ships and would probably have no more trouble with Germany. But with England the case is different. England by her present tactics is striking a blow at our commerce not only with Germany but with all neutral countries and within the next few months the economic consequences of her policy, if permitted to continue, will be keenly felt not only in the South but throughout the country. Our relations with England are likely, within the next few months, to become even more strained than are our relations with Germany now. Already the state department at Washington is preparing representations to be made to Great Britain. If we are not to haul down our flag from the high seas and tell our citizens that they sail the seas at their own risk all elements of the American people must come together and stand behind their government forgetting ties of race and sympathy.

A SAMPLE OF BOORISHNESS.

(Alexandria, Ind., Times-Tribune.)

Here is a sample of boorishness and impoliteness that is only too frequently displayed by men and women who never for a moment imagine that they are doing anything boorish or impolite.

We refer to the person who, upon meeting two acquaintances upon the street, will salute one and call him by name and then utterly ignore the other.

Why could not he say, "Good morning gentlemen," instead of "Good morning, Mr. Smith," thus extending the courtesy of the salutation to both of them?

The answer to the query will be, "carelessness."

But it is this very "carelessness" that embarrasses people and humiliates them in public. Ignorance is carelessness and boorishness and impoliteness are the twin results of both ignorance and carelessness.

Why not be less careless and more considerate of the feelings of others?

LOCAL OPTION ELECTION IN FALLS COUNTY TODAY.

Marlin, Tex., July 15.—Voters of Falls county today were balloting on the prohibition, or local option question. The county is "wet" now. A vigorous campaign has been waged by both sides.

TRADES COUNCIL IS NEUTRAL IN FIGHT

Union labor as an organization will remain neutral in the prohibition fight in this city, by the terms of a resolution recently adopted by the Trades and Labor Council. This resolution repudiates any act or saying of any Trades Council official or publication, on one side or the other. The resolution as published in the Union Leader follows:

"Whereas, the constitution of the Wichita Falls Trades and Labor Council Article 1, Section 2 provides: 'Its objects shall be to discuss and examine all questions affecting the interests of the working class, except the prohibition question.'

"And, where there is a difference of opinion as to this and other public questions, which opinion the Central organization is in duty bound to respect, therefore be it

"Resolved, that it is the sense of the Wichita Falls Trades and Labor Council that no official connected therewith or publication purporting to represent this organization, shall take issue, either the one way or the other on the question of prohibition which now confronts the citizenship of this county.

"Resolved further, that we consider this question as one of personal opinion, to be settled and decided by each individual member of organized labor and we hereby deplore and repudiate any effort upon the part of any official of the Trades Council or publication acting in the capacity of official organ, to take sides in this controversy.

"Resolved, further that this action is taken in view of the fact that we hold dearer than all else the principles of unionism, the obligation of which does not conflict with any man's religious or political opinion and we hereby discourage any action that would seek to provoke dissension among the members of organized labor upon a question that has no part in the principles espoused by our membership."

OIL BURNING ENGINES ARRIVE AT CHILDRESS.

Childress Index: Last week the Denver road received the ten mammoth oil burning locomotives which were announced in this paper many weeks ago. They came stripped of their running gear and were brought to the shops here for completion before being assigned to the freight service between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. They are the first oil burners ever used on this line but it is supposed that at some time the company will install oil burners on all their engines. These engines are the largest on the road and among the largest in the South. They are some three feet longer than the big Mikados now pulling the passenger trains from her to Fort Worth. Their numbers will run from 401 to 410 and they will probably be known as the 400's.

RECENT PROHIBITION IN KANSAS

(ADVERTISEMENT)

In view of the fact that our prohibition friends so often refer to Kansas as the ideal State, it will be interesting to read the following extracts from an account of conditions in Wichita, as published by the Eagle of that city on July 7.

In referring to a proposed inquisition in that city, County Attorney Ross McCormick on the 7th of this month, stated as follows: "I understand that a number of persons have said recently that they knew of liquor being sold and that immoral houses are open.

"Among those Mr. McCormick says he intends to call before him are A. S. Roskam, who at a meeting in the West Side Baptist church last Sunday stated that the town is open. He said that he and another man went slumming and found things."

He also calls attention to the fact that the pastor of one of the churches had exhibited in his pulpit a bottle of liquor that he had purchased, charging that "if a minister can buy liquor it looks like policemen ought to find out."

The inquisition is expected to involve so many citizens of the city that Mr. McCormick announced that if his office was not large enough to accommodate the crowd that he would use one of the large court rooms.

And yet our prohibition friends would have you believe that prohibition prohibits in that State, when in fact the records show conclusively that such reports are without foundation, and that open illegal saloons exist in a great many of the towns and cities.

As further evidence of the failure of prohibition to prohibit, we would also call attention to statistics compiled from the government records, showing that in 1913 a total of 733 persons qualified under the federal laws to retail liquors in Kansas.

Such extensive illegal sale does not speak well for the argument of those who point with pride to this State as an example of the success of prohibitory measures, nor do the resulting conditions afford encouragement from a moral or material standpoint.

Government statistics show that:

Thirty-four States have a lower divorce record than Kansas.

Nineteen States have a lower percentage of juvenile delinquency.

Twenty-one States show a lower percentage of prisoners in the State penitentiary.

Twenty-four States have fewer mental diseases.

Kansas has an insane percentage of 4.41 per 100,000 population, while her neighbor, Nebraska, a wet State, has a percentage of only 1.7.

And Kansas is one of the six States having the lowest rate of church membership in the United States, four of which number are prohibition States. If prohibition is a benefit to the church, why is the percentage of church membership in Kansas lower than the percentage in thirty-seven States in which liquor is lawfully sold? If prohibition saves the boys and girls, as our prohibition friends would have you believe, why is the rate of juvenile delinquency higher in that State than in sixteen States in which liquor is lawfully sold?

SAYS GERMAN SYMPATHIZERS FOMENT STRIKE IN FACTORY.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 15.—The strike situation at the plant of the Remington Arms Company, where union organizations are disputing matters of jurisdiction, and which threatens, unless settled, to involve several thousand iron workers in the city and tie up shipment of war munitions, today was close to a standstill. Labor leaders did not look for any important developments pending word from President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, who had been asked to intervene.

The bone of contention the labor men say, is the matter of the affiliation of the millwrights employed on new buildings for the arms company, both the carpenters and the metal workers claiming them.

Major Walter W. Penfield, U. S. A., retired, head of the arms company, expresses belief that the differences are due to work of German sympathizers who wish to hinder the shipment of war munitions.

Grain, Cotton and Livestock Market Reports

Chicago Grain Futures.

Chicago, July 15.—Although wheat at the start today showed a tendency to decline, prices quickly recovered. After opening 1 1-4 to 1 1-8 lower the market underwent a further sag and then a rise on some cases slightly above last night's level. Corn swayed with wheat. In oats the chief factor was the action of the wheat market. Wheat closed unsettled. Corn closed nervous. Wheat, July 1.15; Sept. 1.08 1-4; Dec. 1.10 7-8. Corn, July 76 3-8; Sept. 72½; Dec. 73. Oats, July 49; Sept. 38; Dec. 39 5-8.

New York Cotton Futures.

New York, July 15.—Cotton was extremely quiet early today. The opening was steady at a decline of one point in response to relatively easy cables and a favorable weather map, but there was very little cotton for sale and the active months soon worked some three or four points net higher on renewed covering or scattered buying for a reaction. Firmness in the stock market and Wall street buying helped the early bulge but prices turned easier during the middle of the morning in sympathy with a decline in New Orleans. The market was very quiet about midday with prices 3 to 4 points lower. Reports that cotton was shedding in eastern belt sections and a firmer tone in New Orleans led to somewhat improved demand in the early afternoon. Cotton closed steady. July 8.36; Oct. 9.10; Dec. 9.37; Jan. 9.46; March 9.70.

Kansas City Cash Grain.

Kansas City, July 15.—Cash wheat No. 2 hard 1.30 to 1.39; No. 2 red 1.25 to 1.26. Corn No. 2 mixed 75½ to 76. Oats No. 2 white 52½.

Fort Worth Livestock.

Fort Worth, July 15.—Cattle receipts 4000 slow and draggy, beeves $6.50 to $8.50. Hog receipts 500, five to ten cents higher, lights $7.35 to 17.52½. Sheep receipts 600, steady.

El Paso, Tex., July 15.—General Villa has abandoned San Louis Potosi, according to reports received here today. This action has given to Carranza possession of all but one of the important points on the railroad between Mexico City and Laredo on the American frontier.

The exception is Querterro, but this place is occupied with a small force which is practically isolated. Villa's own position at Torreon is regarded by military observers as precarious. Villa has on hands some millions of rounds of ammunition and his army is not suffering fro mlack of provisions.

Sewing Broken Hearts.

A Russian surgeon named Zeidla reports 31 patients who recovered from stab wounds of the heart in the hospital at Obuchow. Prompt and rapid operations is the probable reason for this good showing.

The patients were all put under the influence of ether very soon after the injury, part of the chest wall was removed, the heart lifted from its bed, and the stitches quickly introduced between pulsations. The bony chest wall over the heart was not put back in place, that organ being left covered only by skin and muscle. This was done to give the heart room to expand and to prevent adhesion from embarrassing the heart's action. Several of the patients are at their daily work after seven years since the operation.

New vaudeville bills is scheduled to open here tonight and the picture program includes a three reel drama, "The Heart of Cerise" with Pauline Bush as Cerise.

An all star cast engages in "The Heart of Cerise," a Rex three reel French drama of the stage. The play has been dramatized from the famous book, "The Spitfire" by Mollie Elliott Seawall and Joseph De Grasse plays a principal role with Pauline Bush, William Clifford, Agnes Vernon and Ray Gallagher supporting him.

The story of the play takes the spectator into that Bohemian land, which lies on the left bank of the Seine. Life in the artists' quarter of the French capital is lively enough at its norm, but when one adds to the gay restaurant and studio activities the glamor and Bohemianism of the stage one obtains the crux of happy go lucky enjoyment.

The Majestic.

The Chaplin comedy, "Dough and Dynamite" is today's special feature. That it is a two reel Chaplin comedy is all that need be said. The program is completed by a three reel Essanay "The Awakening Hour" with Byron Totten and Neil Craig. The picture tells the story of the struggles of a young girl before she realizes her ambition to become a famous actress.

The Gem.

Harry Morey and Betty Grey are featured in "The Girl Who Might Have Been" a three part Vitagraph drama showing here today. A short story is given.

Firm in his belief in the existence of a master criminal, Detective Cheney announces his determination to run the soundrel to earth. Liggett, the master criminal, publicly known as an eminently respectable gentleman of means, learns of Cheney's promise to "get him." Exerting his almost uncanny power upon Enid, his unwilling accomplice, he gives her an automatic with a silencer attached, and sends her to the detective's to assassinate him. In an almost miraculous manner Cheney discovers the purpose of her visit and coolly frustrates it. Realizing the girl is not acting of her own volition, he gently draws from her the story of how through no fault of her own she has been forced to do Liggett's bidding. She refuses, however, to divulge the criminal's name. "Three Fingered Lew" Liggett's right hand man, learns Enid is about to squeal and also that she has fallen deeply in love with the detective. At his master's order "Three Fingered Lew" gains admittance to Enid's home, and when Cheney, an hour later, arrives, he finds her dead with peculiar finger marks on her throat. The detective is almost crazed by grief, for that very evening he was about to ask her to marry him. Forcing himself to action, he notifies the police and feeling positive from the fingerprints that it is the work of "Three Fingered Lew" he secures the crook's photograph from the Rogues' Gallery, locates his man and arrests him. Lew supplies an alibi through Liggett and is released, but Cheney rearrests him. With the aid of a famous hypnotist and the third degree, he gains a confession from Lew, incidentally implicating Liggett. The detective goes to Liggett's home and after some thrilling adventures i nthat house of mystery, Liggett is killed by a fall from the roof. "Three Fingered Lew" receives his just deserts, but there ever remains with the detective a vision of "The Girl Who Might Have Been"—his wife.

The Empress.

"Eleven Thirty" an exciting detective drama with Al Jolson and Loretta Blake is on today's program, also a Keystone comedy "Miss Fatty's Seaside Lovers." An unusual picture is "The Huron Converts," a drama of Indian life written and directed by Dark Cloud, a Reliance Indian star, who plays the part of the chief. Bessie Buskirk and Joseph Hennaberry are in the leads in this Indian picture.

A Jesuit missionary and Abasan, an Indian convert of his, are tortured by a tribe which resents their teachings. Some simple miracles, however, overawe the Indians, and the missionary and his disciple are allowed to continue their work. Among those whom they win over to Christianity is Monoka, a beautiful Indian girl, whose sentiment becomes divided between the new religion and love for Abasan. Monoka's mother is a witch. She invokes a hideous spirit which visits the girl and puts her under a spell. Monoka is stricken blind. The medicine man is called in, but he can do nothing. The priest and Abasan drive away the evil spirit and restore the girl's sight. Soon after this she is dragged off into the mountains by spies of the witch, who fasten her to a rock to perish, if she will not renounce the Christian faith. Several days later, the Jesuit and Abasan find Monoka in the wilderness. They arrive just in time to save her from death. Monoka and Abasan are married by the priest.

Blindfolded Tire Buyers

This is to point out the way to the light.

Tires which seem identical are often most unlike. There are dozens of standards. The fierce competition compels many a compromise, affecting what you seek.

Features Which Cost Millions

Goodyear Fortified Tires have five great features found in no other tire. They have others which are rare—hidden features, never missed until the tire meets trouble.

These Goodyear extras, on this year's output, will cost us $1,635,000. Our 1915 improvements alone will cost us $500,000 yearly. And nearly all for things you never see—things you never miss until the tire falls down.

Yet our late price reduction saves our users about five million dollars this year. And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

How to Judge

Judge tires by the maker. Judge them by known features. Each exclusive Goodyear feature combats a major trouble.

Judge, above all, by records. Not by mere good luck or mishap, but by Tiredom's general verdict. In its 16th year the Goodyear tire far outsells any other. It has outsold for years.

By any measure you can use, Goodyear tires are best. Adopt them. Any dealer will supply you.

MINIONS OF THE LAW STOP OKLAHOMA YOUNG PEOPLE

(Frederick Leader)

Wayman Jarrell, son of E. Jarrell, a Manitou merchant, and Bertha Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Wyatt, living on Deep Red, northeats of Frederick, are sweethearts, and the tender passion got such a hold on them that, in spite of the fact that Wayman is but 18 years old and Bertha but 13, they came to the conclusion that they just must get married. Realizing that their parents would not consent they decided to elope. Jarrell hired the services of Mr. Moore, a rural mail carrier of Manitou and planned to take his lady love to Hobart and have the ceremony performed. Bertha was safe in her room at ten o'clock Thursday night. Friday morning she was gone. Young Jarrell had come with Moore in the car during the night and they had started to Hobart. Mrs. Wyatt telephoned to the sheriff's office in Frederick about the disappearance of her daughter, and her suspicions that she had gone with Jarrell somewhere. She asked to have the wedding stopped. Undersheriff Lynch telephoned a number of county seats and within 40 minutes after he had taken up the search had located Jarrell and the young lady at Hobart. They had driven into that city early Friday morning, but the sheriff had been reached by Undersheriff Lynch before the county officers were open for business. Consequently when young Jarrell appeared at the office of the court clerk his actions were being watched by a deputy sheriff. He made application for a marriage license, stating that he was 21 years old and that Miss Wyatt was 18. When he had signed the application Deputy Sheriff Robert Allen took him into custody. Miss Wyatt was not arrested, but was detained. The sheriff's office in Frederick was notified and Undersheriff Lynch lost no time in acquainting Mrs. Wyatt that her daughter had been found. Deputy Sheriff Conley went to Hobart on the local freight Friday afternoon and returned that night with the elopers. Miss Wyatt spent the night at the Lynch home, while Jarrell slept at the county jail. The next morning Mrs. Wyatt came in for her daughter and Jarrell was released.

THRESHER ENGINE EXPLODES FATHER AND SON INJURED

(Frederick Leader)

J. D. Cox and his son Virgil, were burned, the former slightly and the latter seriously, when the boiler to a threshing engine which they were using exploded at Hollister Saturday. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by the filling of the boiler with cold water after the water in it had become so low as to cause the boiler to be too hot for refilling. The threshing crew was operating in the edge of Hollister. Virgil Cox was engaged in filling the boiler when there was an explosion of steam on its interior and a crown plate was blown from the bottom of the boiler. Hot water and steam were thrown on both father and son, but the son, being in nearer proximity to the place from which the steam and hot water came, was much more severely hurt. His clothes caught fire from fire under the boiler and he was badly burned in that way in addition to the scalding he sustained. Dr. Mowell attended both father and son. Monday morning the Lender was told that young Cox was getting along nicely, with good hopes for his recovery. He is 22 years old.

PEOPLE OF POPERINGHE UNAFFECTED BY THE WAR

Lace Makers Ply Their Bobbins Paying Little Heed to Shells That Fall Close Around Them

Poperinghe.—The lace-makers of Poperinghe, seated before their low cottages, ply their bobbins with undiminished industry, notwithstanding the epoch marking history being made at their doors. Farmers go about their work in the neighboring fields without even looking up while death dealing monsters go screeching through the air over their heads. Yesterday and the day before more shells fell in the town; many others ploughed the fields all about in their search for the British batteries. After an explosion there is an inquiry as to where the last one fell and what havoc it wrought, then the life of Poperinghe goes on imperturbably where it was interrupted.

The town has suffered less than many others, but some Belgians, who do not share the stoicism of the inhabitants regard recent systematic firing as an ominous sign for its fate if the present positions are maintained much longer. Many of the inhabitants have been induced to leave, the rest, particularly the children, are taken away as fast as the authorities are able to overcome their resistance.

Beside the 12,000 native population there were 18,000 refugees from other regions in Poperinghe before the first bombardment. Then another exodus began. The well-to-do class goes first, the humble stick as long as they can. In many cases where their own roof can shelter them no longer they install themselves in the nearest abandoned house that happens to be rainproof.

Just outside the most dangerous zone the farmer is more prosperous than ever. All they raise finds a quicker sale, at better prices, and many of them have become dealers in such things as the soldiers demand, principally tobacco and chocolate.

The brewers in this region are making fortunes. They are unable to meet the demand for beer and some of them were tempted to eke out their brew by copious additions of water. Since pure water was not available in sufficient quantities they took the impure and added it cold, resulting in unsterilized beer. Now the sanitary department is hunting them closely and on the second offense the unscrupulous brewer must shut up shop.

Three schools are still open and fully attended here within range of the German field artillery; others are being opened farther from the lines as fast as possible, while children that it is possible to separate from their parents are being sent to schools opened for them in France by Monsieur Berryer, minister of the interior. Fifteen hundred have already gone and accommodations are being prepared for four thousand more. They are accompanied by Belgian teachers so that the plan of their instruction will be unchanged.

Schools of lace-making at the Belgian hospital near Montreuilsur-Mer in France and at points where other schools have been established, will be added to foster the important industry of this region. The lace made by the pupils is to be sold in England for the benefit of the refugees.

WILL FIGHT FOR LAWSON THROUGH HIGHEST COURTS.

Washington, July 15.—The American Federation of Labor will do all it can to free John R. Lawson, the labor leader under sentence to life imprisonment in connection with the Colorado mine war, Secretary Frank Morrison of the organization declared.

Mass meetings are already being held throughout the country, editorials are being published by newspapers whose sympathy the Federation commands and contributions are being received to carry on the fight.

The Federation launched its campaign with a circular sent out June 30.

DA VINCI ANTICIPATED MODERN WAR DEVICES

Rome.—The Leonardo da Vinci, of whom the world thinks only as a great painter, is now set forth in the Italian papers as a great prophet of what might come to pass in warfare. In the latter part of the fifteenth century his versatile genius included skill as a scientist, engineer, mechanician and architect, as well as a painter and musician, and his imagination led to the design of many remarkable implements of war, among which was a steam gun which was run by boiling water. In this invention, incidentally, it is said he anticipated the steam engine.

In certain of his works he told of several forms of bombarding engines, one of which threw minute particles, like a storm of hail, producing quantities of dense smoke to frighten the enemy. Among his papers are found what may be called the ancestors of the terrible cannon for throwing burning liquid at a great distance, which the Krupp and Essen factories are said to have turned out. "There will issue from the earth," he wrote, "that which, with frightful sounds, will deafen the surrounding and with its breath will kill men and ruin cities and fortresses." He suggested the use of a powder which would stun and suffocate the enemy, and at the same suggested a remedy. "To send poison in powder," he said, "be careful to have a wind which will not send the powder upon yourself, or have the nose and mouth covered by a thin wet cloth, so that the powder cannot pass."

He left sketches of mortars and other heavy engines of war which suggest the modern heavy and quick firing guns, and seemed even to have imagined a submarine and aeroplane. Of the former, he wrote, according to the quotations given in the Italian papers, "I do not publish or devulge my way of staying under water because of the bad nature of men, who would use it for assassination under the sea, by ripping open the bottoms of ships."
