"Sit-Down" Strikers Are Driven From North Chicago Plant; More Strikers Reported In Other Sections Friday

(By The Associated Press)

THE committee for industrial organization, supporter of strikes in many sections of the nation, pointed its unionization drive toward Ford Motor company employes yesterday.

President Homer Martin of the United Automobile Workers of America, C.I.O. affiliate, instituted the drive at a Newark, N. J., mass meeting.

No. 1 Project

He listed the 3,700 workmen at Ford's Edgewater assembly plant as the No. 1 objective with New Jersey's oil refineries and textile plants next in line.

MARTIN GIVES ORDER

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 26. (AP)—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, today defied Governor Harold G. Hoffman's attack on the sit-down strike as a method of industrial unionization with the verbal order to "move out of the way."

"If we have to sit down to save lives, we are going to sit down," he declared.

"We are going to articulate the voices of the working people of the country so that they can sound out above the battle and noise of machinery.

"But if you (Hoffman) don't join with us," Martin said, "just move out of the way, because that's where we're going."

Hoffman had stated he would use "if necessary, the entire resources of the state to preserve the rights and property of its citizens."

The U.A.W.A. sponsored the recent widespread strikes in General Motors plant and has arranged a collective bargaining conference with the second of the automotive industry's "big three," the Chrysler Motor corporation.

Thirty Thousands Kept Idle

These significant moves shared attention with a wide range of disputes keeping an estimated 30,000 in idleness.

New and forceful blows were dealt "sit down" strategists. A militant corps of officers drove 61 squatters from two Fansteel Metallurgical corporation factories at North Chicago, Ill., in a spectacular tear gas attack. C.I.O. and union leaders there were ordered arrested.

The ultimatum "get out or be indicted" prompted 200 others to leave the Northrop Aircraft factory

Temperature Here Slightly Warmer

Slight moderation of temperatures which that morning had slumped to a low of 17 degrees, Friday night had set in at Lubbock.

The midnight recording was 23 degrees, 4 lower than the 10 o'clock reading, said main line station of West Texas Gas company. A lazy but cold wind continued to blow. Wind velocity from early morning had ranged from 4 to 14 miles an hour.

The West Texas forecast was for mostly cloudy weather, freezing rain or snow in the north, rain in the southeast portion, and slightly colder in the extreme west portion. Cloudy weather for Sunday was predicted.

Railroad dispatchers Friday said no snow had fallen on their divisions. Need of moisture was stressed. The day's maximum temperature was 31 degrees, said the gas station.

ALLOWABLE INCREASED

AUSTIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—Texas oil operators received authorization today from the state railroad commission to increase production in March.

The commission fixed the starting allowable for that month at 1,398,514 barrels daily, 60,036 more than the basis allowable for February and 141,918 more than the federal bureau of mines estimated would be required.

Peace Guarantee Is Eden's Price

Restoration Of War-Lost Colonies To Nazi Government Hinges On General Accord

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Great Britain today set the guaranteed peace of Europe as the price for restoration of Germany's war-lost foreign empire.

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, stipulated the terms in a long, surprise conversation with the German ambassador, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, who was expected to leave for Germany tomorrow to report to Adolf Hitler.

Before Great Britain even could consider returning the Reich's colonies or yielding League of Nations mandates over former German overseas possessions, diplomatic sources said Eden insisted, the security of Europe must be established by a general accord.

One of the chief stumbling blocks well-informed sources pointed out has been Germany's unwillingness to join a pact including Soviet Russia and Czechoslovakia in eastern Europe, despite the desire both of France and Britain that any security treaty be all-embracing. It was said Reichsfuehrer Hitler has shown no inclination to modify his stand.

The coincidence of the conference and the departure of a Belgian mission to Italy under the leadership of Count Charles de Broqueville, former premier of Belgium, was seen in some quarters as evidence of a renewed efforts to reach a western security agreement to replace the discarded Locarno treaty.

Sponsored by the Aggie club, R. C. Mitchell, president, attendance of students and alumni of 250 is expected.

Student speakers on the program are Fred Day, freshman; Herbert Hoover, sophomore; W. D. Holley, junior; and Sam Hill, senior.

Idahoan Is Sentenced To 25 Years For Burning Children

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho, Feb. 26.(AP)—Adolf Zetlitz, jr., pleaded guilty to a second degree murder charge in the shooting and burning of his three tiny children and was sentenced today to 25 years to life in the Idaho penitentiary.

The 37-year-old southern Idaho rancher was arrested a few hours after the charred bodies of the children were found in their razed ranch home near American Falls last November 9.

Sheriff L. D. Davis reported Zetlitz admitted shooting the children, Ruby, 5, Gertrude 4, and Don, 2, because they "seemed to be in the road," then firing the home and fleeing across farmlands toward Rupert, 50 miles west. He was arrested there.

Cafe Operator Is Blown Into Street By Terrific Explosion

WYNNEWOOD, Okla., Feb. 26. (AP)—A terrific explosion ripped through a cafe here today, injuring the proprietor seriously and starting a fire that swept through four other buildings before it was controlled.

J. W. McGibony, cafe operator, was found in the street, dazed suffering from burns and a back injury. He said the explosion, which rocked the town before daybreak, had blown him into the street.

European Nations Trying To Set Up Barricade Around Spain Face Unexpected Difficulties After Action

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 26.—European nations trying to set up an international barricade around Spain faced unexpected difficulties tonight.

Decision of Russia and Portugal not to join a naval blockade of Spain with four other powers at first promised a clear-cut way for the others to launch the program.

Must Act Separately

Then it was recalled that it would be necessary for each of the 27 nations in the neutrality combine to take separate measures to require shipping to comply with the control scheme.

Some nations, it was pointed out, presumably can meet the situation with existing government regulations, but Great Britain rushed preparation of a bill ordering ships bound for Spain to call at "control ports" or "anchorages" to take on committee agents. They will see that no foreign arms or men are aboard.

May Be Delayed

Informed sources said tonight it might be impossible to have the full details of the neutrality program in effect by the March 6 deadline, but expressed hope it could be made substantially effective then.

Petition Filed To Void Amendment

TOPEKA, Feb. 26. (AP)—Senate opponents of the resolution to ratify the child labor amendment to the federal constitution filed a petition in the state supreme court late today for a writ of mandamus ordering clerks of the senate and house, Lieutenant Governor Lindsay, secretary of state Frank Ryan, and Speaker Buzick to endorse the measure as "not passed."

The resolution was declared adopted by the senate, 21 to 20, with Lieutenant Governor Lindsay casting the deciding vote.

Senator R. W. Coleman (R) who challenged the lieutenant governor's vote at the time, said he had no constitutional right to voice in a legislative matter, and served notice that he might make a court test of it.

Prison Years Stretch Ahead For Former Naval Officer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP) — Years in prison stretched tonight before John S. Farnsworth, former American naval officer charged with delivering fleet secrets to the Japanese.

As a warning to others who might be tempted to sell out their country, Justice James M. Proctor fixed his sentence today at from four to a dozen years.

Farnsworth, grey-haired and broken at 43, listened listlessly as the court denounced him for communicating naval secrets to two Japanese naval attaches formerly stationed in Washington.

Farnsworth previously had thrown himself upon the mercy of the court, his attorney announced he would not confess but likewise would not dispute the charge. He tried vainly later to change his plea to "innocent."

Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard of Texas, Gov. James V. Allred and Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul were among high state and federal officials who attended.

License Bill Tightened By House Move

Measure Is Passed 106 To 12 And Sent To Senate; Would Require Examinations For Automobile Drivers

Promotes Safety

Public Safety Department, To Be Empowered To Suspend And Revoke Licenses For Habitual Violations

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—The house of representatives sent the senate a bill today to tighten the driver's license law. The vote on final passage was 106 to 12.

Strengthening of the law was recommended by Governor Allred as one of the cardinal points of a traffic safety program.

Would Restrict Licenses

The bill which would become effective immediately if approved by two-thirds of the senate membership would restrict licenses to those able to pass examinations given by state highway patrolmen except persons applying within three months after its effective date could obtain them by convincing the patrol they had driven satisfactorily for at least a year.

The public safety department would be empowered to suspend or revoke licenses of habitually reckless or negligent drivers, law violators and motorists responsible for accidents resulting in injury to someone or serious property damage.

Bills Total 1,014

The total number of bills and proposed constitutional amendments offered in the house before the deadline was 1,014; henceforth, four-fifths permission will be required for the introduction of a bill in either branch unless the rules are changed. Sen. Grady Woodruff sent up a resolution to extend the deadline in the senate to next Friday.

Among the new bills was a proposal to create a commission to supervise boxing and wrestling. Such supervision now is exercised by the labor department. Another, by Rep. John J. Bell of Cuero, would increase the gasoline tax one cent a gallon to retire bonds used on roads not a part of the state highway system.

Would Tax For Publicity

Gaines Show Is Opened On Friday

(Special To The Avalanche)

SEAGRAVES, Feb. 26.—The biggest poultry show in the history of Gaines county was underway here today as the 11th annual Gaines County Poultry and Livestock show started with over 200 birds and 50 head of livestock were on display. Cold weather delayed arrival of some stock and a number are expected Saturday.

"Business men have raised over $175 in premium money and everything will be paid in full," Joe H. Webb, president of the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce, said tonight.

Four-H club boys and vocational agriculture boys are exhibiting the stock. Euel Liner, vocational teacher, with his boys of the Seagraves school, are in charge of the affair.

Judging begins at 9 a. m. Saturday. Taylor White, Odessa vocational agriculture teacher, is to judge poultry and R. N. McClain, Brownfield, Terry county agent, will judge livestock.

Silence Accents Mystery Of Suicide Strike And Underground Death Fight

(By The Associated Press)

PECS, Hungary, Feb. 26.—A story of hunger-crazed men swinging pick-axes in a battle along narrow, murky tunnels at the bottom of a mine shaft was pieced together tonight from the accounts of terrified survivors.

Authorities, however, had difficulty fitting the jig-saw picture of the fight from the 250 bleeding, starved "suicide" strikers who staggered from the mine after two days entombment.

Some of them, suffering hallucinations after their experience, refused to tell police what happened. Others, who had been carried from their underground barricades on their comrades' shoulders, still were too weak to talk.

Those who could tell a coherent story admitted glumly a fight, had started—apparently over whether to continue their hunger strike, but refused to identify any strikers who had insisted on remaining below.

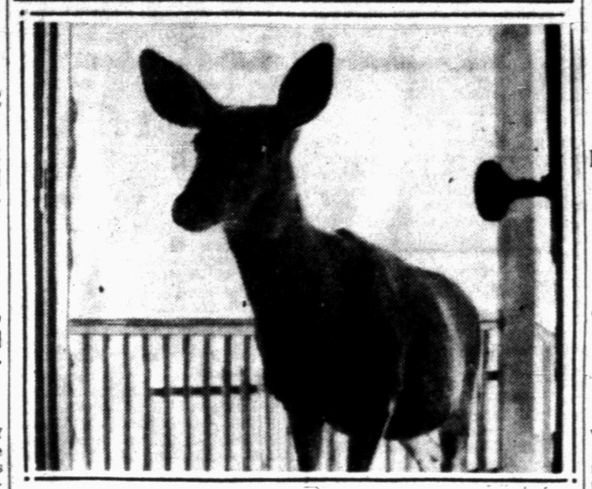

"This is our private fight," one of them answered, "and it doesn't concern the company or the authorities."

Reports that others were left dead below could not be verified.

Neutrality Is Senate's Task

Permanent Neutrality Law Is Tackled By Upper House Of Congress; To Seek Tighter Provisions In Law

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The senate tackled today the job of writing a permanent neutrality law, amid signs that the harmony with which the foreign relations committee acted was near an end.

The bill, which won the endorsement of the committee, was made the next order of business, though actual debate was postponed until Monday. There were indications it would develop a new break between advocates of mandatory and discretionary legislation.

To Seek Stranger Bill

Senator Nye (R-ND) former chairman of the munitions committee which long has fought for mandatory action, said he would attempt to tighten up the bill's provisions for an embargo on arms shipments to belligerents.

Senators Johnson (R-Cal.) and Borah (R-Idaho) also were preparing to wage a floor battle against the "cash and carry" principle written into the bill by Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.), of the foreign relations committee. Both of these senators have contended the bill would make for war rather than peace.

The Pittman bill would make permanent the present law requiring an embargo on arms shipments to belligerents and further would require that no goods of any kind could be shipped to belligerents until American title to then had been transferred.

Stronger Cooperation With U. S. Is Desired By France

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP) — George Bonnet, new French ambassador to the United States, voiced today a desire by his government for stronger economic cooperation with the United States.

In presenting his credentials to President Roosevelt, he avoided any reference to war debts, but he spoke France's gratification over the tripartite monetary understanding and conclusion of a Franco-American trade agreement.

"France is convinced, in particular," the new envoy said, "that return to liberty of exchange of goods is a supreme condition of salvation for a civilization founded on division of labor between men and between peoples."

Wallace Perry Resigns Post At El Paso; Is To Buy Paper

Perry, widely known for his forthright editorial policies, said he has been planning to acquire ownership of an independent paper, but is not yet ready to make an announcement in this connection.

Five States Receive Snowfall; Rain Is Predicted Today

(By The Associated Press)

GUYMON, Okla., Feb. 26.—Green wheat thrust up through a white mantle over the Panhandle country tonight as a winter storm, general over the Midwest, transformed the Southwest "dust bowl" into a near-brimming "snow-bowl."

Farmers' crop hopes roes as the dust-laying snow fell. A blanket from one to two inches thick was spread over the "blow lands" of southern Kansas and most of the Oklahoma Panhandle.

Five States Get Fall

Light snows fell in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico and part of the Texas Panhandle. Sub-freezing temperatures were recorded throughout the area.

Weather bureau forecasts predicted snow for South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma tonight, while rain was in prospect for the Texas Panhandle.

Snow continued to fall in western Oklahoma and in parts of the state's "dust bowl" area, where blinding "black blizzards" raged for six successive days earlier in the month.

Southwestern Kansas lay beneath protecting snows. The snowfalls in Kansas and Oklahoma augmented a moisture supply stored in the dry soil when snow fell last week, dispelling stifling dust palls.

Move Is Seen As Relief For Court Tension

Measure Sent To White House Would Allow Voluntary Retirement At Age 70 Judges Who Served Ten Years

Vote Is 76 To 4

"Fireside" Radio Talk Slated For March 9 By Roosevelt; Senator Johnson Expresses View On Legislation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. — 'Congress enabled six members of the Supreme court to retire on full pay for life today, with leaders hopeful that thereby the unremitting strain and tension aroused by the Roosevelt court reorganization program may be materially lessened.

Although Senator Johnson (R-Calif.) asserted that any justice who withdraws from the court "at this particular time" will forfeit his respect, the senate passed 76 to 4 and sent to the White House a bill permitting such voluntary retirement for judges who are seventy years old and have served ten years.

Roosevelt Plans Talk

At the same time, President Roosevelt, who has endorsed the measure although it was not specifically included in his court recommendations, announced a "fireside" radio talk for March 9. White House officials said they expected the address would include a discussion of his court proposals, which include a recommendation that one new justice be placed on the Supreme bench for each judge past 70 who declines to step down.

During the senate's 45-minute debate, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) in charge of the voluntary retirement bill, said "it may be within the scope of possibility that this bill, if enacted, would relieve the tension that does prevail." Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, and others prominent on both sides of the great dispute have expressed the same viewpoint, some even more forcibly.

Issue May Be Cast Back

When the bill passed the house recently, Representative Celler (D-NY) an opponent of the general White House program who has shown a disposition to compromise, asserted that "if the justices do not avail themselves of this retirement privilege, the issue will be cast back at us."

As the bill would operate, Chief Justice Hughes, now 74, and Associate Justices Brandeis, 80, Van Devanter, 77, McReynolds, 75, Sutherland, 74, and Butler, 70, would

Unfavorable Vote Is Given Measure

AUSTIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—The house highways and motor traffic committee voted a 11 to 5 unfavorable report tonight on a bill to increase the motor truck load limit above its present 7,000 pounds.

A floor test was assured as supporters of the bill gave notice of a minority report. The proposal would permit a load of 14,000 pounds if the truck was equipped with certain safety devices.

A large number of county judges opposed the increased load limit. They said trucks with heavier loads would destroy secondary roads and make the main highways less safe for travel.

Seventy Girls Of Lubbock Schools Are To Attend District Homemaking Rally

WE heard of a mother who in the hurry of getting her small daughter off to school, used to wonder if she had taken a handkerchief—and usually she hadn't. So now she irons the handkerchief first, then tucks one into the pocket of each little dress, and skirt before she hangs it up. Then she knows she is provided with a "handy."

IS SLEEP VITAL?

HOW often have we heard some one say: "Oh, I just must go to sleep because I have a hard day tomorrow and I shall be tired if I don't get to sleep pretty soon." As a rule the restless one has flounced about and has hardly given himself a chance to go to sleep. He has fussed and fretted and more than likely worn himself out in trying to get a little rest. All too often he has at last arisen, gone to the medicine chest and taken some sort of sleeping potion or capsule. Most of the drugs which are used for this purpose are at least mildly habit forming and none of them should be used except under the express direction of a physician.

Dr. Thurman B. Rice, professor of bacteriology and public health at the Indiana University School of Medicine, points out that the fundamental error in this dangerous practice lies in the belief that one must sleep on a given night. Everyone has had the experience of missing an entire night's sleep without being dreadfully tired. In times of emergency at our office men reporters and desk editors have gone without sleep for long periods of time.

Sleep is valuable but sleep on a particular night is by no means essential to health or efficiency. The very fact that one is trying so hard to sleep is often the reason why one cannot. Sleep is an act of relaxation, but such persons do not relax because they are worried and fretful.

Actually the person who says that he hardly slept at all last night is usually wide of an accurate estimate. All of us have observed a person sleeping soundly and then have heard him say the next morning that he was awake all night. Rest is the important thing. Just relax and rest. If you forget your troubles it is dollars to doughnuts that you will be sound asleep in twenty minutes.

A VALIANT WOMAN

CARRIE STINSON who died in Plainview Thursday was our good friend. When we first heard the title of the book, "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie," we thought of Carrie Stinson, because she was valiant. In sincerity we say that we believe she was the most courageous woman we have ever known.

We had known her for very many years and had acquired a great respect for her forthrightness of character and unimpeachable integrity. When she was a young girl, Miss Stinson's parents died and she took the full role of motherhood on her young shoulders, educating, advising, sympathizing with seven younger brothers and one sister. All thought of a higher education for herself was sacrificed, although she became a proficient stenographer, because she also was a breadwinner. She might have thought of marriage after her charges were grown had not a malady kept her confined to her bed most of the time.

Never once in the years that we knew her did we hear Miss Stinson complain of her state of health. Her brothers almost worshipped her and she was happy in realizing that they were such stalwart men, a credit to her pains and love.

Slaton To Be Meeting Scene

Group To Leave This Morning Accompanied By Teachers; To Invite Session To This City Next Year

Seventy girls representing the home making departments of Junior and Senior High school will leave this morning for Slaton to attend the seventh annual district home economics club meeting. The girls are being accompanied by Misses Gertrude Watson, Elma Miller, Ilse Wolfe, and Pauline Hooser, home making teachers.

From 10:05 until 10:15 o'clock this morning the Lubbock delegation will present their part of the planned program, giving a skit on the homes of Ekypt. The skit fits into the program of the entire morning as various schools present homes of all nations in novel form.

To Invite Group

During the business session this afternoon the Lubbock delegation will extend an invitation to the meeting to choose Lubbock as the meeting place for next year.

Henrietta Bowlin, president of the Senior High Mary Emma club and also of the Future Homemakers of Texas association, will represent the school by serving on the resolutions committee.

To Exhibit Work

In addition to the program to be presented during the morning there will be an exhibit of club work from Lubbock which will include posters, song books, scrap books, club minutes, Mary Emma banners, a miniature file program suggestions, block prints, badges, placards, plays, spelling lists, book shelves, and year books.

The student committee in charge of the exhibit includes: Madeline Cobb, Anna Kathryn McNeill, Juanita Parker, Ruth Jacobs, and Orline Huff.

Girls who will have speaking parts in the skit include Henrietta Bowlin, Roberta Ellison, Onita Bell Hufstedler, Ruth Zeh, Oleta Zeh, Gladys Parnell, Luene Anderson. Juanita Parker will be the Egyptian mummy, while Barbara Yeager and Ruth Martin will be the Egyptian slave girls.

More than 30 architects, building contractors, and other persons interested in air conditioning attended a meeting in the Chimayo room of the Hotel Hilton at 7 o'clock Friday night conducted by Marvin C. Nichols, executive of Texas Air Conditioning corporation at Fort Worth.

Chief speaker was R. C. Watson, regional manager of the southwest region of Airtemp Air Conditioning equipment, subsidiary of the Chrysler corporation.

Other air conditioning specialists, technicians, and executives who came to Lubbock Friday in connection with showing and preview of 1937 Airtemp equipment at Sherrod Bros. Hardware company, exclusive dealers of the equipment on the South Plains, and the meeting last night were: Gilbert Shaw, engineer of Fort Worth; A. L. Gossett of the Fort Worth corporation, and Homer A. Hunter, also of the corporation.

New Trial Granted John W. Vaughn In Edwards Slaying

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 26. (AP)—John W. Vaughn, convicted of the pistol slaying of A. A. Edwards, city motorcycle officer, and sentenced to die in the electric chair, was granted a new trial today.

The new trial, set for March 8, was granted when Paul J. Kilday, assistant district attorney, said the question of law involving the qualification of W. D. Trapp, as a juror, was so close the state would join the defense in asking for a new trial.

Modification Is Considered

Government Reorganization By President Roosevelt Will Be Changed Slightly, It Is Disclosed Friday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—President Roosevelt's government reorganization program has been modified in some respects, it was disclosed today, particularly in suggesting that the proposed new auditor general be an agent of congress rather than of the chief executive.

The auditor would replace the present comptroller general, who has been charged with determining that government funds are spent as congress decrees. Several congressmen had criticized placing the officer under the executive branch.

Proposed To Committee

The modifications were proposed yesterday to a joint congressional committee by Louis Brownlow, chairman of the president's committee on administrative management. They included:

A provision that the president may not abolish an executive department, and that he may not transfer all its functions to another agency.

A limitation to keep quast-judicial functions separate from policy determining or other administrative functions, such as in the interstate commerce commission.

A provision that only certain major presidential appointments, such as cabinet officers, undersecretaries and the auditor general, would be subject to senate confirmation.

Medalist Harry Todd And Other Favorites Fade From Houston Golf Tourney

Edwin McClure Defeats Todd In Second Round; Dawson Is Winner Over Rice Owl Star

Reynolds Smith, O'Hara Watts Advance To Quarter-Finals With Victories Over Hack Williford And And Clifford

By LEWIS T. NORDYKE

HOUSTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Four brilliant young shotmakers were eliminated along with Medalist Harry Todd in today's second round matches of the 23rd annual Houston Country Club invitation golf tourney, leaving the quarter-final flight mainly up to veterans.

Todd, 1935 Texas champion from Dallas who has combined his zooming drives with fine putting to make himself a favorite, lost to Edwin McClure of Shreveport, former Louisiana State champion, who shot a birdie on the 18th to win, 1 up.

Jack Cameron, University of Texas student from Houston who upset state champion Don Schumacher in the first round, couldn't withstand the near par shooting of Ed Herron, jr., of Houston, and lost, 2 and 1.

Dawson Wins At 20th

Robert Glover, Rice institute student from Lafayette, La., fought his way to the 20th before losing, 1 up, to veteran Johnny Dawson of Chicago, and Ed Anderson of Houston lifted Western champion Paul Leslie, Louisiana State university flash from Jefferson City, Mo., 3 and 2.

The other youngster who found the sledding too rough was David L. Davis, University of Texas student from Tyler who was defeated by young T. J. Ahern 4 and 3.

Veteran Gus Novotny of Chicago eliminated Rueben Albaugh, Dallas ace, 3 and 2. Novotny clipped one off par on the sixteen holes.

O'Hara Watts, another Dallas veteran, defeated the San Antonio champion, Hack Williford, 4 and 2, and Reynolds Smith, Walker Cup player from Dallas, shot even par in eliminating P. J. Clifford, eight times champion of Mexico, 4 and 3.

The weather was cold and wet and rain started falling as Todd and McClure, the first pair out, approached the eighteenth green.

Rain continued falling late in the day and wet course was promised for tomorrow's quarter and semi-final matches.

Quarter finals will be played tomorrow morning and in the afternoon the field will be cut to two for Sunday's 36-hole final.

Quarter-final pairings:
McClure vs. Novotny
Dawson vs. Anderson.
Ahern vs. Watts.
Herron vs. Smith.

Paxton High Player Ruled Out Of Regional Tourney

AUSTIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—The executive committee of the Texas Interscholastic league today found Morris Samford, Paxton High school cager, over age and disqualified the team for regional tournament play.

Zavalla High school of the Nacogdoches district will replace Paxton in the Longview regional tourney tomorrow.

Slaton Quint Is 67 To 32 Winner

WILSON, Feb. 26. (Special) — Sparked by thoughts of nearing competition in the southwestern AAU at Dallas, Slaton's Oilers romped on Wayland college's cage quint here tonight, 67 to 32.

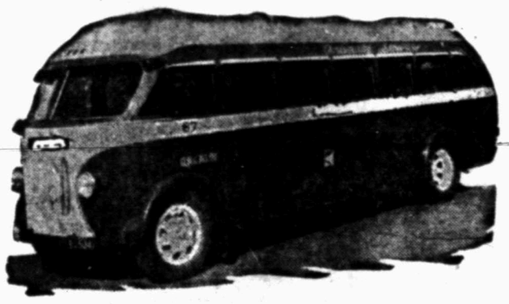

Off to an 8-point lead before the collegians could part the mesh, the Slaton club maintained a blistering pace and, at the half, led 27 to 17.

Every member of the winning aggregation tabbed points, paced by A. Crews, a forward, with 18. Pete Burke, center sub, counted 12; Jack Miller, forward, 10; Jim Neely, center, 9; L. Crews, guard, 6; O. Crews, guard, 10, and O. Cannon, reserve guard, 2.

Wayland's starters were Saul and Ray, forwards; Brian, center; Woods and Carroll, guards.

The Slaton entry in the March 3 to 6 AAU tourney will be sponsored for the meet's duration by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce. Winner of the tourney will be sent to the national AAU meet at Denver.

'Slinging Sam' Signs Contract At Alma Mater

FORT WORTH, Feb. 26. (AP)—"Slingin'" Sam Baugh, the Texas Christian footballer, finally made up his mind today and plucked from a hatful of offers, a contract to coach three freshman sports at his alma mater.

SAMMY BAUCH

L. C. (Pete) Wright, business manager, said Baugh would start tutoring frosh football, baseball and basketball in September.

Baugh had fat offers to play professional football, coach high school teams and enter business, but he signed a Texas Christian contract that was believed to be in the neighborhood of $2,000. The professional football offer, reliable sources said, included a $5,000 salary and $1,000 bonus for signing the contract.

Baugh, perhaps the greatest of all T. C. U. athletes, winds up his career with the coming baseball season. He gained fame as one of football's best "pitchers" of all times.

"It's what I wanted to do from the start," said Sammy as he autographed the Horned Frog contract. "I finally decided that coaching was my profession and I couldn't think of a better place to start than under Dutch Meyer."

Deans Discoverer Claimed By Death

WACO, Feb. 26. (AP)—D. D. (Don) Curtis, 57, veteran baseball scout who discovered Jerome (Dizzy) Dean in a San Antonio army camp, died today.

He was ill a week of pneumonia.

Curtis was a familiar figure in baseball for 40 years. He played with Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco of the Texas League shortly after 1900. Upon his retirement from active play, Curtis became a scout for several major league clubs, among them the St. Louis Cardinals.

Willis Hudlin, Cleveland pitcher, was another discovery of his. He signed Hudlin for the Waco team in 1926 and Hudlin became the "boy sensation" going to Cleveland in 1927.

Curtis was born in Elkins, W. Va., in 1880. He went to the University of South Dakota but left school to follow professional baseball.

For the last 30 years Curtis also was connected with the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad.

Survivors included: His widow and two daughters, Gwendolyn and Ruth Curtis, Waco; a brother, Odell Curtis of Cumberland, Md., two sisters, Mrs. Alva Williams and Mrs. Grover Deveney, Cumberland, Md.

MONTANEZ BEATS VENTURI

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—In one of the most sensational lightweight bouts witnessed in years in the big town, Puerto Rico's Pedro Montanez punched his way to the decision over his Italian rival, Enrico Venturi, in 15 savage, whirlwind rounds at Madison Square Garden tonight. Montanez, floored his rival twice.

Carey Bests Meadow To Get To Region 1 Final

By 36 To 20 Count, Semi-Finalists In '36 State Tourney Show Way With Fast Pace

(Special To The Avalanche)

CANYON, Feb. 26.—Flashing brilliantly in every department of the game, Carey's district 4 champions tonight outscored Meadow High school, district 3 winners, 36 to 20 and earned the right to go into the finals of region 1 cage tournament with the winner of Saturday morning's Meadow-Canyon encounter, the final game will be played Saturday night.

Carey led all the route. By quarters, the score was:

Carey	10	8	10	8—36
Meadow	3	4	5	8—20

Canyon took a 37 to 34 decision from Perryton, the district 1 and 2 champions, respectively, putting up a glittering scrap.

Foust of Carey was high point in the semi-final row, with 10 points. Finley of Meadow parted the mesh with 8 points.

Winner of the region will go to state meet next week. The carey team lasted to the semi-finals at Austin last year.

Meadow Beats Canyon

The Meadow team, champions of Terry county and of District 3, scraped through a close game with Canyon in the first round, 29 to 27, Finley and Gamble, forwards, scoring 10 points each to turn in a great game. The serious-playing Meadow team, lacking height in most departments but making up for it in fire and determination, took a 6-5 lead in the first quarter, led 18 to 12 at the half, but were outscored in the second half by a desperate Canyon team.

Carey, the defending regional champions, defeated Perryton, 30 to 16, in the other first round game Friday afternoon.

Box score of the Meadow-Canyon game:

National AAU Indoor Track And Field Games To Attract Cream Of Olympic's Crop Tonight At Garden In New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Track and field competition on the boards reaches its peak tomorrow when 13 champions, 10 of them individual titleholders, defend their laurels in the National A. A. U. indoor games at Madison Square Garden.

The meet, bringing together 29 Olympians from five countries, holders of 30 world records and outstanding entrants from 35 colleges and universities and 17 clubs, figures to turn into a record-smashing orgy.

Once again the 1500-meter run holds the spotlight with Gene Venzke defending the title he won in world record time of 3:49.9 last year. The former Pennsylvania stylist has been beaten consistently this season by Glenn Cunningham, the favorite, and there is the added danger of Don Lash, Indiana's champion two-miler and Luigi Beccali, 1932 Olympic champion from Italy. Archie San Romani of Emporia, Kas., Teachers, Arthur Clark of Toronto and Miklos Szabo complete the field.

Eddie O'Brien of Syracuse, who bettered his own world mark for 500 yards last week, should have keen rivalry from Bick Gill of Boston college, Al Fitch of the Los Angeles A. C. and Sam Miller of Indiana in an attempt to lower the record of 1:21 he made in the 600-meter last year.

The 5,000-meter race will find Norman Bright of the San Francisco Olympic club defending his title against the Rideout twins, Wayne and Blaine, of North Texas Teachers, and Jimmy Smith of Indiana.

Tarleton Cagers Finish 4th Year Without Defeats

STEPHENVILE, Feb. 26. (AP)—The John Tarleton college Plowboys tonight won their 78th consecutive basketball victory and closed their fourth undefeated season by decisively whipping the North Texas Aggies, 52 to 32.

Coach W. J. Wisdom's elongated and eagle-eyed sharpshooters started ringing up baskets with clock-like precision a few seconds after the game started and continued their stride with one brief lapse throughout the game.

Thurman Hull, the Hughes Springs goal-shooting wizard, counted 19 points to lead the scorers. As the second half opened, Hull tallied eight points in five minutes on four sensational field goals, two of them from near mid-field.

Spencer Abbott Papa To Minors On West Coast

By FRANK GORRIE
(Pinch Hitting for Paul Mickelson)

SEATTLE, Feb. 26. (AP)—First it was cold weather and snow, and now it's the humidity (Los Angeles for rain) retarding the University of Washington's Olympic games championship oarsmen.

With their first 1937 test—racing the California Bears on the Oakland estuary—less than two months away, the Huskies still are a long way from a racing beat.

To date, the Huskies have done no work over a 28-stroke, so Al said he will crack the whip from now until they can hit a 32.

The first boat contains all last year's Olympic champions save Coxswain Bob Moch, who's coaching the yearlings. Several likely lads are battling for the "passenger seat."

Spencer Abbott, Seattle's new Coast League baseball manager, will be the daddy of them all out here this season. He's a sort of Connie Mack of the minors, having put in 28 years' professional ball lot service and has figured in nine championships, nine as a manager and one as a player. He started with Topeka in 1905 but took out three years to be chief of Topeka's police.

His pennant-winning teams were Topeka, twice; Wellington, Lyons, San Diego (in the old Southern California league); Tulsa, twice, Portland and Memphis, and President "Bald Bill" Klepper says Abbott will be on the trail of another pennant this year.

They're talking about Bill Vandermay out on the University of Washington campus since he topped the bar at 6 feet 4 inches in an early season indoor high jump private last week. Unofficially, that broke all U. S. students' indoor marks and was just half an inch under the local pavilion record set in 1935 by Stanford's great Smith.

COLLEGE BASKETBALL

University of New Mexico 37; University of Arizona 32.

Arizona Tempe Teachers 40; Texas College of Mines 33.

John Tarleton 52; North Texas Aggies 32.

Howard Payne 35; Southwestern university 30.

Because Harry Speelman, fiery Michigan State tackle, had become known to his mates as the "Fire Chief," he was presented with a huge toy fire truck for Christmas. The truck carried individual pictures of all his teammates and the 1937 grid schedule.

John Cain, new grid coach at Southwestern Louisiana institute, called signals for the 1930 'Bama team that beat Washington State, 24-0, in the Rose Bowl.

Normal Racing Conditions In Prospect For 3rd Running Of Added Santa Anita 'Cap Race

Eighteen Horses Named Friday To Start In Rich California Race; Rosemont Remains Handicappers' Favorite

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26. (AP)—Eighteen horses were named today to start in tomorrow's third running of the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap.

As the track prepared to welcome the greatest throng in the brief history of the handicap, and bright sunshine beamed over the rain-pelted landscape, the entry list brought out the following contenders:

Rosemont, Red Rain, Time Supply, Star Shadow, Special Agent, Indian Broom, Rushaway, Mr. Bones, Seabiscuit, Accolade, Chanceview, Boxthorn, Gold Seeker, Goldeneye, Grand Manitou, Water Splash, Sablin and Don Roberto.

They are the leading handicap talent in the nation, slated to run one mile and a quarter for the richest turf offering in the world.

Upwards of 50,000 race fans are expected to witness the race, and the betting on the eight events of handicap day will undoubtedly soar far over the million-dollar mark. Last year $1,246,497 jingled through the betting window, and $350,033 of it went on the big handicap itself.

Rosemont, the Foxcatcher's farm's future book favorite, remained a favorite to win, and coupled with his capable running mate, Gold Seeker, offered the shortest probable odds—$2 for $1.

Mindful that past pre-race favorites ran out of the money—Discovery last year and Equipoise the year before—many refused to stay with Rosemont, and took up the colors of Seabiscuit, Red Rain, Time Supply, Chanceview and Star Shadow.

Clear weather and a good track were forecast, enhancing the chances of the Foxcatcher candidates, but Seabiscuit, the pride of the C. U. Howard stable, C. V. Whitney's Red Rain, Bert Baroni's Star Shadow, Frank Carreaud's Time Supply and Taylor's Special Agent and Indian Broom, also like a good strip.

Three Tie With 284 In St. Pete Golf Tournament

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—Three top ranking professional golfers, Ralph Guldahl, Harry Cooper and Horton Smith, all of Chicago, tied today for first place in the St. Petersburg open golf tournament with 72 hole scores of 284.

They will meet in an 18-hole play-off Monday afternoon.

Decreasing Working Hours

THERE is a whole lot more to the question of the diminished work week than appears on the surface. It is a problem worthy of our best minds and possibly is one that will not be solved without application of the trial and error method.

Advocates of the 30 and 35-hour work weeks logically point out that the machine age has decreased the number of man jobs to the point where those jobs must be shared. Only by cutting down the number of working days and working hours can the jobs be spread around, they contend, and certainly there seems to be a basis for the contention.

On the other hand, however, what will a worker do with his time if and when the 35 or the 30-hour week becomes general in this country?

And if practice makes perfect, will 30 or 35 hours per week give the average worker the amount of practice he needs to adequately serve his job?

If an employer must pay a man and a half for the work which has been done by one man, his labor costs are going up. If his labor costs go up, so must the cost of his product. Where, without inflation, will the extra money come from to go into circulation?

It sounds like an easy matter to put all workers on any designated working schedule and, despite a dearth of trained workers in all lines, that part of the problem doubtless could be solved in a few years. It is in the adjustment of the economic situation that the big question comes up and as The Morning Avalanche sees it, that question is going to be hard to answer.

Another angle, too, is that of the ambitious fellow.

While perhaps the majority of workers will be willing to work 30 or 35 hours per week, the fellow who wants to learn as rapidly as he can and advance as quickly as possible will not be satisfied to labor that long and no longer. If he is interested in his job and in himself he will want to exercise that American prerogative of working as long and as hard as he sees fit in order to improve himself and his economic station.

The idea of regimenting labor is beautiful to behold but we doubt its efficacy in practice.

The best that can be said for it is that it will take a long time and a lot of juggling to make it come anywhere near working.

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"We observed from last Friday's doings at City hall that Boy Scouts who held the reins of city government for the day turned their attention to traffic regulations at Main and D street," Eddie Warren says in the Post Dispatch. "It took the mayor, city secretary, commissioners, traffic cops and all of Troop 16 to keep this situation in hand. May we remind our city dads that a traffic light for this dangerous corner would be money well spent."

"Mayor Welch advises us that the City commission has voted to pass a chicken ordinance and as soon as the necessary arrangements are made the ordinance will be passed," V. A. Short says in the Meadow Star.

"Residents of agricultural districts should be particularly interested in securing the enactment of a standard drivers' license law," Morley Drake says in the Lamb County Leader. "During recent years motor vehicle driving has become a greater menace in the rural district than in cities. The number of deaths on the open road soared 150 per cent between 1924 and 1935. Number of people killed in cities during the same period rose only 27 per cent."

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?

Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? Or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect? Job, XXII:3-4.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

THE FAINTING DUCK

Billie Gamble, who lives in Spiro, Oklahoma, once owned a duck that actually had fainting spells when frightened. Every time the duck saw a sudden movement or heard a loud noise, it would fall over in a faint just as though it were dead. Billie then douse the duck in water, it would gasp and quiver, and then come to. The duck died in a faint when Billie wasn't around to revive it.

THE EGGSPERT

Amaya Porfiro recently startled the people of Jackson, Calif., when he ate 144 raw eggs at a single sitting in the Weng Lee Cafe of that city. He called for more eggs, but there were no more on hand. Amaya's record was established not long ago in Mexico when he sat down in front of 300 eggs and ate them all, raw. And he stands ready to repeat the performance any time a doubter will furnish the 300 eggs.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

by MARIE BLIZARD © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, good-looking, successful young New York advertising executive, decides to rent a beautiful Connecticut estate, her father left her when he was killed in a hunting accident. She needs the money after five years of providing for the education of her younger sister, JENNIFER, who has just finished college.

Daphne is showing the estate to some rather unwelcome prospective renters when, unannounced, an attractive young man steps into the picture offering to take the place. Liking his appearance, Daphne accepts, learns he is a "Mr. Smith" and able to pay $150 a month rental.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

"I'm not quite sure that you mean it as a compliment that I'm not obvious." Larry—Lawrence Hunter—Smith said.

"I did." Daphne assured him gravely and then remembered that he hadn't seen the house. "I think you ought to get acquainted with your future home before it gets too dark to see what you're getting into. Come along."

"If the rest of the rooms are like this one, I shall be happy enough," he said contentedly while his eyes traveled slowly and appreciatively around the gracious room, noting the elegance of fine woods and fabrics, the proportions and design—all eloquent of the taste of the comfort-loving person who had made them.

"They're not all like this. The rooms are as different as our family was," Daphne said as they crossed the wide hall and she opened a door.

They stopped before the portrait which hung above the hearth in the shabby room that had been Tom Brett's study. Studying the portrait of the golden-haired Margot with her two babies — one a small yellow-haired cherub, the other a grave-eyed child of six—he saw that they were indeed all "different."

The portrait interested him. Some day when he lived here, he would study those faces, reading the things he saw in the lovely and unlike lineaments. For they were all sensitive faces, the kind that can hide nothing of the natures back of them.

"This was [illegible]'s study and it is more like [illegible] than his photograph." Daphne was saying with warm affection in her voice. Larry Smith looked away from the eyes that were suddenly dim and then suddenly bright. He saw that the old-fashioned desk was closed, that dust had gathered on the fishing tackle, the guns, the sporting prints, and he understood.

"I'm going to like it here," he said.

"I hope so," she answered and led the way to the staircase. "We'll go upstairs now." She talked as they ascended.

"There are four large bedrooms and two baths. There's also the nursery and the playroom and a sewing-room which I expect you will not need. On the first floor, in addition to the rooms you've seen, there's also a smaller dining room, the library which was Mother's favorite room—"

Larry was beginning to understand why Daphne Brett—lovely name, he thought—had been anxious to rent the house. The orphan girls were hard up.

"—then, there are little rooms sort of tucked around here and there which you will discover." Daphne finished.

"I've been looking into some of them," he said calmly.

Daphne turned her face to him with a puzzled frown. "I meant to ask you that. Do you mind telling me if you are a mind reader or, otherwise, exactly how did you happen to come to my rescue? How did you know how I felt?"

For a second time she saw the quick and dazzling smile that illuminated his features, too irregular to be handsome.

"So you won't give an ordinary fellow a chance to borrow a little glamour?"

Daphne shook her head.

"I'll tell you then," he said. "I'll tell you the whole story. I'm spending a few days with a chap who has a camp back here near Cornwall. This morning I came out for a cross-country ramble, saw your house, was utterly charmed by it. Reluctant to leave until I had seen all of it and having a hearty appetite, I . . ."

"I know," Daph[illegible] said and her voice was her apology.

"Since I wasn't invited to see it, I prowled. Prowling, I happened to observe the arrival of your . . . er . . . guests . . . who did not, to my way of thinking, add to the picture. Fortunately, I happened also to be studying the framework of your drawing-room window where your reluctance was quite plain to be seen."

"And where you heard me mention my imagined prospect?"

"And heard you mention him," he admitted.

"I'm glad you did. Do you usually make your approaches that way?"

He knew she meant by that, the whole situation. "Not usually," he said, "but it isn't a bad way. You see, I'm an architect and particularly interested in houses like these."

"Then you weren't looking for a house to rent?" Daphne's face was instantly beclouded.

"But I was!" he protested and believed himself.

"Well, then," she said more lightly, "We'd better get on with the details. If you haven't a servant, I'd like to recommend Prunella Bates. She's in the kitchen now and she'll tell you about linens and . . ."

"We'll just skip that," he said, "but we'll have a talk with Prunella. The other doesn't matter."

"But it does," Daphne said primly and another thought struck her:

"Perhaps you have a family?"

"A very small one," he answered.

"Oh!" There was a brief pause and then she said, "I see," with that upward note summoned hastily so that the phrase would not sound as she felt quite suddenly. It was, she thought, simply that she was surprised to hear that he had a family. She tried to picture Mrs. Smith, the other girl who would live in her house, walk in her garden. She couldn't assemble any imagined features but she knew she would be a nice girl with taste and, undoubtedly, beautiful, since he had married her. Or would he be the kind of a man who would marry a girl if she were not beautiful? Daphne felt like a fool forgiving it a moment's thought.

If there were little Smith, she need not worry about them. They'd be nicely disciplined and their father would see that her things were well protected. He had the same kind of love for beautiful things she herself had, she knew. Yes, Larry Smith belonged. She knew that he would find in Brett Hall the same things that she and Tom Brett had loved—loved every minute of the changing beauty that came with each new season. He would be, she felt, the kind of man who would wonder, as she and Tom had wondered, with awe at the miracle of each new spring and autumn.

When he had gone, Daphne saw that she had more than an hour until it was time for her to dress for her return to the city. She went back to Tom's study and curled up in his worn leather chair with her knees under her chin the way she had when she was a long-legged, big-eyed child. The ghost of the little girl in a pinafore with a slipping red ribbon on her black curls sat there. Sat there now, seeing her yesterdays and longing for tomorrows that were postponed.

It was only that they were postponed, Daphne promised herself.

There would be other summers to enjoy the hollyhocks, the warm sweet raspberries that grew along the garden walls. There would be other autumns, golden, red and fragrant with the scents of wet pine and burning leaves and good things baking in the oven of the wood stove. There would be other winters when the rolling hills, covered with a blanket of snow would mirror the stars that brought the heavens closer to earth. And with them, peace.

Daphne shook off the thought impatiently. She didn't want peace. That was what old people wanted. She wanted only a slower tempo to her life. She was mentally short of breath at this speed at which her life was paced. But she wasn't ready for the old ladies' home at 24 simply because she was bored with night clubs and occasionally found the proportions of her small apartment confining.

What did she want? She asked the ceiling above her and knew the answer while she refused to admit it. Fun? She had that. She had beaus, parties, dates. A career? Wasn't she molding that successfully at that

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

NO MEMBER of the Supreme court is more wounded by its present predicament than Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes. Friends confide that he took his hairbreadth defeat for the presidency more placidly than the storm now descending over his snowwhite crown.

At least one fellow-jurist regards Mr. Hughes as a greater Chief Justice than John Marshall. Legal companions are confident that Mr. Hughes cherished the ambition of duplicating Marshall's performance by extending the federal government's power into new fields. Whereas Marshall broadened the central authority in political realms, Mr. Hughes appeared anxious to clothe Washington with control over new social and economic problems. His early New Deal decisions clearly revealed this tendency.

But the presiding justice is not a fighter. Disliking dissents, he is essentially a compromiser. He frequently bores his colleagues at Saturday noon sessions with long arguments in favor of judicial amiability. But this time he could not effect a compromise—with himself or his fellows. Now he heads a body deeper in controversy than ever before.

MARATHON: Several recent samples of Congressional agility have aroused suspicion in certain high circles that the legislators are scheming to filibuster important presidential projects to a quiet death. The boys demonstrated that they can step fast when the political spirit moves them.

The $900,000,000-odd independent offices appropriation bill was rushed through the Senate without question, debate or roll call in ten minutes. Nobody inquired about new or hidden items which ordinarily provoke tedious arguments. The measure establishing a Flood Disaster corporation was pulled out of committee and slipped through both chambers in one afternoon. The leaders suppressed or sugared obstreperous orators in an amazing demonstration of legislative legerdemain.

Meanwhile the President's program for government reorganization sleeps in clerks' pigeonholes. The joint House-Senate committee has not convened to consider it. Members wrangle about the judiciary reform measure over the radio, but exhibit no haste to discuss it behind committee doors. Other major measures are backing up against the dam so solidly that insiders predict a session lasting through the fall. The race between White House and Congress looks like a marathon, with the track slow and muddy.

THUMP: The identity of Dr. Stanley High's sponsor in presidential circles has been a carefully guarded White House secret. Nobody was eager to admit godfathering the man whose "authoritative" articles on the President's plans were recently repudiated by Mr. Roosevelt himself.

Now it develops that the extremely practical Stephen T. Early, press secretary for the White House, drafted Dr. High for political cultivation of the nation's moral and religious forces during the last campaign. It seems that the President wanted to wish the job on "Steve," to the latter's keen distaste. So he got out of it by thinking and dragging up Dr. High, erstwhile prohibition zealot and editor of the Christian Herald.

It's a regretful episode for "Steve." But it is understood that Dr. High has notified the White House that he harbors no hard feelings for his repudiation. He admits quite frankly that, though innocent, he deserved it, and he won't offend again. Thus another supposed lap-sitter falls on the floor!

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE executive council of the American Federation of Labor has switched suddenly to new tactics towards John Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Instead of indignantly refusing to dicker with the "rebels" unless the latter surrender to its authority in advance, the executive council—via president Bill Green—now indicates a willingness to talk things over with C.I.O. leaders in a calm and reasonable spirit of compromise any time the Lewisites wish.

Bill Green himself and Labor Diplomat George Harrison are credited by insides with having sold their fire-eating associates the idea of trying a more pacific approach.

RUMBLINGS: It isn't likely that the new strategy will lead to practical progress towards reconciliation of the warring factions of organized labor. The breach is too deep and too bitter for that, as Green is well aware.

But the real aim—according to informed sources—is to improve the A. F. of L.'s public relations position. Lewis has had Green and company at a disadvantage in this respect practically since the quarrel began. Now—thanks to the General Motors strike, Green has a real chance to turn the publicity tables and is making the most of it.

Also there is the angle of a possible rift within the Committee for Industrial Organization itself. There are rumblings that some of Mr. Lewis' principal collaborators are privately not at all happy about the G.M. outcome and would welcome a satisfactory opening to get back in the good graces of the A. F. of L. Green is doing his best to provide them with one.

RELIEF: Samuel Becker's resignation as special counsel for the Fedral Communications commission's inquiry into American Telephone's affairs is a consummation that has long been devoutly wished by the corporation itself.

Becker has been a constant thorn in American Telephone's side. Officials of the company have insisted from the beginning that his methods were grossly unfair. He was an expert in innuendo.

His retirement will be a relief to high financial and legal circles, but it should not be interpreted to mean that the F.C.C. will take a friendlier attitude towards the corporation hereafter. A force play was attempted once before to get him out of there—but failed. He is leaving because the publicity phase of the investigation is about over—but the prodding of the corporation to lower rates and to make certain changes in its setup will continue behind the scenes.

GAME: We recently reported the opinion of informed New Yorkers that Senator Burton K. Wheeler's opposition to President Roosevelt's Supreme court plan was inspired largely by motives of personal dislike. Here's another slant worth noting. It comes from sources who know the Senator well.

They point out that Wheeler regards himself as a serious contender for the presidency in 1940. He hopes to unite all "liberal" elements behind his candidacy. But he knows that there is no possibility, under any circumstances, of his being named as F.D.R.'s "crown prince."

Therefore his game is to do what he can to queer Mr. Roosevelt with the liberals. If the President retains his popularity with this element it will help him enormously to put over his personal choice as his successor, in which case Wheeler would be sunk. This is why the Montanan's criticism of Mr. Roosevelt's proposal focuses on the claim that it is a subterfuge which evades the fundamental issue of constitutional reform. Watch Wheeler's attempts to promote a constitutional convention in this connection.

PYRAMID: The trend in retail financing is to build up instalment sales. There has been a cumulated boost of 175 per cent in this type of financing in 1936 as against 1934, and another large increase is in the cards for 1937.

Department store instalment sales have not climbed so rapidly—increasing on the average about 10 per cent per year since 1934. But many a store which hitherto kept out of this field jumped in head over heels towards the end of 1936. This tendency will probably grow rapidly this year. Another item to be considered is that stores which have not previously handled appliances of the type usually sold on instalment are going into this field all over the country.

A huge new pyramid of domestic credit is being rapidly built by eager merchandisers. Keen financial observers are concerned about this unchecked expansion—a source of great danger to national economic stability in the event of another depression.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 36

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Ignoring George's warning, Tarzan continued his descent until he neared the end of the dangling bridge. The he entwined his legs in the ropes, hung head down and tied the rope he carried to the remnants of the structure. Soon he was ascending the swaying rigging.

When he reached the top, he handed to George the other end of the rope he had tied to the bridge. George looked at it blankly. He still did not understand what all this had to do with crossing the gorge, Ula and the Indian porters were equally puzzled.

Now Tarzan stepped back and measured the distance across the chasm with his eye. Then he calmly removed his shoes. George discerned his purpose. "Wait," he cried; "you can't jump that! Why, even an Olympic champ couldn't do it. That's more'n a world's record."

It was indeed a perilous leap, even for Tarzan, but danger never deterred the mighty ape-man. He took a short running start, then rose in the air at the very brink of the precipice. Ula Dale gasped, and George moaned woefully; "he can't make it! He can't make it!"

Houston Oil Company Earnings Are Decreased In Last Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Houston Oil Co. of Texas, in its 1936 annual report including Houston Pipe Lines Co., showed net income of $500,441 against $837,640 in 1935. This was equal to $1.40 a share on 6 per cent preferred stock, compared with 27 cents a share on common stock in previous years.

G. A. Hill, jr., president, explained decrease in income was due to Houston Pipe Lines Co.'s loss of contract for supplying fuel requirements of Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. and losses incurred by oil company in preliminary work in its new field at Silsbee, Texas.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Selected rail and industrial leaders plodded over the recovery route in today's stock market but numerous issues failed to work up climbing vigor.

Business news generally was bright. The rate of activity in industry got back to a new peak since 1929, retail sales exhibited healthy expansion and heavy steel melting scrap at Pittsburgh was reported to have sold at $21.25 a ton, the highest level in a decade.

It was the slowest full day's session since Jan. 4, last, transfers totaling 1,775,790 shares compared with 2,227,830 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was .2 of a point at 72.1.

A late rally in rails did much to put up prices at the close. The carriers reflected in part a more than seasonal increase in last week's freight loadings.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26. (AP)—An increase in activity on the cotton market today was not accompanied by a wider price range with the result that the close of trading active options held 4 to 8 points higher.

Many in the trade attributed this to mean that merchants, who have already contracted to deliver cotton to mills, have found themselves short of the commodity and entered the futures market to assure themselves of sufficient staple to meet immediate demands.

At the final bell March sold at 12.78, May at 12.61, July at 12.41 and Oct. at 11.68. The average price of middling spot cotton breasted the 13 cent a pound mark to hold at 13 cents even.

The futures market was held by an unusually strong basis for the actual staple in the interior.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Active covering in March lifted the spot position to a new high today and carried the rest of the cotton market with it. May rallied from 12.62@12.68 and closed at 12.67 with final prices 3 to 12 points net higher.

March rallied from 12.83@12.95, a new high for the life of the contract, compared with the previous high of 12.88, touched on Feb. 1. Final prices were at or within a few points of the best for the day.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 13.00 cents a pound; for the past thirty days 13.01 cents a pound.

Spain's Blockade

ade were reported virtually settled today.

France and Britain, following withdrawal of Russia and Portugal from the sea patrol, will take back patrol zones they had originally relinquished to those nations. Russia had objected to patrolling the rough waters of the Bay of Biscay. Her withdrawal was followed closely by Portugal, apparently by agreement. Russia was admitted to the patrol in the first place on condition Portugal could participate.

Meetings of the non-intervention subcommittee March 1 and the full committee March 2 are expected to ratify the land and sea patrol plans without further argument.

Forbess Releases Statement On His Removal By City

Statement relative to his removal as building inspector and fire marshal was issued Friday afternoon by D. A. Forbess.

"I desire to state that I made no undercharge for building permits issued from my office, according to my construction and interpretation of the building code of the City of Lubbock," said Forbess.

"The whole matter was caused by a difference of opinion of myself and some of the City officials as to the interpretation and construction of the building code of the City of Lubbock. I made charges under the building code according to what I honestly believed to be correct and proper," he continued. "I was not even invited by any City official to make any explanation before the City commission in session.

"I have done my best to render honest, efficient, and capable service to the citizenship of the City of Lubbock, and I have no apologies to make to any one for my official conduct or private life."

Suicide Strike

escaped previously told of hearing shrieks echoing from remote chambers as they climbed to daylight. The fugitives—14 of whom were hacked and bruised before they evaded the pickets—said many of the men were "half dead" in the bloody terror.

One striker told how oats for the mine ponies were rationed among the men—a handful to each twice a day.

Tension in the village kept police and steel-helmeted soldiers on the alert. Police officers said they were determined to identify agitators as the population, under close guard, prepared for the funerals of three demonstrators who were killed in surface riots Wednesday while the miners were barricaded below.

A company official said the complaints of the strikers—who sought an increase in daily pay from $1 to $1.20—were being investigated but it was improbable the raise would be given.

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Shaking off the influence of favorable weather conditions for the domestic winter crop, the Chicago wheat market late today advanced 1½ cents a bushel, maximum.

At the close, wheat was ½ to 1¼ above yesterday's finish, May $1.31⅝@1.31½, July $1.13½@1.13⅝, Sept. $1.10⅝, corn unchanged to 1¼ higher, May $1.07@1.07⅛, July $1.02⅞, Sept. 95½@95⅝, oats ¼ to ⅝ up, May 29, and rye showing ½ to 2⅝ bulge, May $1.05⅝. In provisions, the outcome was 2 cents to 15 cents gain.

From the outset, corn traders ignored declines in wheat prices.

Oats suffered a sinking spell early, but then paralleled the upward course of wheat and corn.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 26. (AP)—Demand for grain at Fort Worth today was dull.

have the privilege of retiring at once."

Other Judges Have Privilege

The privilege to "retire" instead of "resign" has been extended to judges of the lower federal courts since 1919.

Although the bill passed today was not included in the president's specific recommendations, it inevitably caused pointed references to the greater program. Senate discussion had hardly begun when Johnson was on his feet.

"Is it the purpose of the bill to afford the opportunity to members of the Supreme court to retire?" he asked.

"It is. That is the purpose of it," McCarran answered.

"At this particular time?"

"At any time."

Waves Finger At McCarran

Johnson paused for a moment, and waving a forefinger at McCarran, thundered:

"I will say to the senator from Nevada that a Supreme court justice who would retire at this particular time would not be the sort of individual for whom I would have the greatest respect."

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, entered the discussion:

"The statement of the senator from California is an interesting one and a very peculiar one. Justices of the Supreme court have never had the right of retirement. The senator from California makes the amazing declaration that if the right is extended he would have no respect for a justice who would avail himself of it."

"What I said was at 'this particular time'," said Johnson. "When the judges are sought to be removed in another way, if any man took retirement by virtue of the bait that was held out to him, I would have very little respect for him."

West Virginia Senate Approves FDR's Program

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 26. (AP)—The West Virginia senate went on record today, 20 to 8, as approving President Roosevelt's proposed reorganization of the federal judiciary. The resolution was sent to the house.

The population of all federal penal institutions increased approximately 1,000 during the fiscal year ending last June 30.

Laundry Workers Go On Strike

IRTHLINGBOROUGH, Northamptonshire, England, Feb. 26. (AP)—Three hundred girl laundry workers walked out on strike today because their handsome foreman, whom they called "Clark Gable," was to be transferred to another plant.

They chanted "We Want Ernie!" (Ernest Greasley, 26).

Later they agreed to return to work, pending negotiations with the management.

Six Children Burned Fatally In Rural Area In Kentucky

LEBANON, Ky., Feb. 26. (AP)—Six children burned to death today when their two-room log home on Old Lick creek, caught fire from a stove.

The victims ranged between four months and 14 years in age.

Their father, Turner Rakes, tenant farmer, his wife and a 16-year-old daughter, Louise, were dragged from the house. Coroner Robert Borders said he was informed the house was enveloped in flames when one of the children threw coal oil in the stove.

Labor Troubles

at Santa Monica, Calif.

Seventh Group To Quit

That was the seventh group of "sit-downers" who quit their demonstrations since once-nonplussed officials elected this week to discourage those tactics by forthright action.

The 341 squatters who evacuated the Douglas Aircraft plant Thursday were arraigned on trespassing charges and released on bonds totalling $341,000. The money, the bail brokers said, came "right out of John L. Lewis' war chest." Lewis is the director of the C.I.O. move to unionize the mass production workers—automotive, steel, oil.

At Groton, Conn., 107 stay-in strikers who were forcibly removed from the Electric Boat company's yards obtained a one week's continuance in their trespassing cases.

New Strikes Reported

Meanwhile, new strikes offset settlements. Approximately 1,700 U. A. W. A. members sat down in two Detroit auto parts factories, the Michigan Malleable Iron and Thompson Products companies. Several hundred quit work at two packing houses and a corset plant there. The La Grange flour mill at Red Wing, Minn., closed after 29 employes started a picket parade.

Gov. Elmer Benson of Minnesota sought the aid of a federal conciliator in a strike at the Northern States Power plants in Minneapolis. Thousands of homes had only intermittent service because of breaks in the lines.

Fights Break Out

Friction between unionists and non-unionists along an assembly line caused a strike by U.A.W.A. members in Janesville, Wis. Numerous fist fights occurred and 2,700 workers at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants were forced into idleness. A national officer, from Detroit, instructed the unionists to return to their jobs.

Pickets held their lines at two plants of the Illinois Watch Case company at Elgin.

Shoe union leaders and manufacturers conferred in an effort to reach an agreement on a demand for a 15 per cent wage increase in three New England towns. Approximately 2,400 were still out in seven plants although 28 firms had signed new contracts.

A half-dozen small strikes ended at Detroit. An agreement was reached in the month-old strike at the Star-Peerless Wallpaper mills in Joliet, Ill.

Affairs took a strange turn at Grand Haven, Mich., three hundred members of American Federation of Labor unit launched a "stay in and work" marathon in attempt to prevent a "sit down" strike by rivals allied with the C.I.O.

Snow Hides Dust

March blows.

Most of Oklahoma had snow, sleet or rain and temperatures below freezing.

Wheat fields blown nearly bare by recent dusters were greening, and Kansas farmers said well-rooted wheat would survive with additional moisture.

Eight Above Reported

Coldest point reporting was Beaver, in Okahoma Panhandle, with a low reading of eight above.

Light snows and sleet fell over sections of North Texas as rain covered most of the Lone Star state.

Traces of snow were reported at Borger and Fort Worth, while there was sleet at Wichita Falls, Longview, Paris and Sherman. Dallas had hail. Amarillo's 15-degree reading was the lowest reported in Texas.

New Tax Plan Is Introduced

Constitutional Amendment To Provide County Board Of Equalization Plan In Texas Proposed On Friday

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—A constitutional amendment providing that the county board of equalization, consisting of the commissioners' court, would fix the taxable valuations for all political subdivisions has been introduced by Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene.

Values fixed by the boards would be used as the basis for all taxation in their counties, including that by cities, school districts, levee, water drainage and road districts.

tax of six cents a pound on soft drinks and 20 cents a gallon on syrups used at soda fountains.

The house public health committee voted a unanimous favorable report on a bill to authorize the state dental board to revoke dentists' licenses.

Neither house will be in session tomorrow.

Public schools, colleges and universities would be requested to teach the harmful effects of alcoholic stimulants and narcotics under a bill introduced by Rep. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene.

His proposal would amend existing statutes requiring compulsory instruction in certain subjects. It alleged consumption of liquors and narcotics were "increasing at an alarming rate" and human lives were being "wrecked."

Seeks $10,000 For Museum

A bill introduced by Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock, would appropriate $10,000 to maintain a museum at the West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon.

Rep. G. H. Little of Amarillo offered a bill to permit residents of Potter and Randall counties to register motor vehicles in either county.

Bookie shops would operate legally for a $5,000 annual license fee and under regulation of the racing commission if the legislature adopts a bill introduced by Rep. John Dollins of Waco.

The author, who proposed that three-fourths of the revenue be allocated to old age pensions, said it was well known that many persons were operating bookie shops and there was considerable doubt sufficient funds had been or would be appropriated to pay thousands of aged needy. The remaining revenue would go to the available school fund.

Operating without a license would be subject to a $2,000 fine or one year in jail or both.

Bank Man Is Robbed Friday

Four Men And Woman Relieve East Texas Messenger Of $1,000 But Overlook Sum Hidden Under Car Seat

(By The Associated Press)

TEXARKANA, Feb. 26. — Four men and a woman, all masked and heavily armed, robbed M. D. Markham, Leary, Tex. bank messenger, of $1,000 in a driving rain eight miles west of here today.

They overlooked $1,095 hidden under a seat of his automobile.

Threatening the Guaranty State bank messenger with death, the quintet partially disrobed him, found the money in a belt and escaped down a little-used lateral road leading to the southern part of Bowie county.

Method Ingenious

The method used to trap Markham was ingenious.

The messenger had been to the State National Bank at Texarkana to get the money. On the return to Leary, 11 miles west, he was overtaken by a "big, new car that had its license plates covered."

The machine passed him, he said, and when it was several hundred feet ahead someone dropped a lady's purse from a window but the machine did not stop.

Light Truck Draws Up

Markham slowed his auto to investigate the purse. As he did so, the other car stopped, turned around and halted. Suddenly a light truck drew up behind. To men alighted and drew guns upon Markham. Those in the other car followed suit. Their eyes were hidden by large goggles.

As the men searched the messenger, the woman went through his auto.

When the money belt was found, she said: "It's a good thing, you——, we found the money or we would have killed you."

Arkansas and Texas officers quickly took up the pursuit of the robbers.

Lion Catches And Nearly Kills Burglar In Traveling Circus

MYSLOWICE, Upper Silesia, Feb. 26. (AP)—A lion caught and almost killed a burglar today.

The burglar, who said his name was Smolkowsky and who was well known to police, entered the grounds of a traveling circus before dawn. But he passed too close to the lion's cage and the animal clawed him through the bars.

His cries aroused the circus folk, who released him.

Black-Draught High In Quality Without Being High In Price

Black-Draught is "easy to pay for" because it is so economically packaged and so reliable.

But as to quality, there's nothing "cheap" about it. For instance, its principal active ingredient is the leaves of a certain species of plant that are brought 10,000 miles from where they grow to the factory where the medicine is made. These leaves from far, far away, help to give Black-Draught its well-known "laxative reliability." They could not be left out, or substituted without real loss of good medicinal quality.

For a good, purely vegetable laxative, insist on Black-Draught. About 25 doses in each 25-cent package.
