THE ONLY NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN ARANSAS COUNTY

Along The Waterfront

Fishing was good here over the weekend for doctors from half a dozen Texas cities, who stayed at the Sandollar Motel and fished from charter boats, catching more than 400 fish.

Included in the group were Dr. Tom H. Garner, Dr. O. M. Daugherty, Dr. Carl C. Harden, Jr., and Dr. R. T. Beber, all of Austin; Dr. S. H. Rabon, Kingsville; Dr. E. R. Johnson, Dallas; Dr. Jack R. Winston, Houston; Dr. H. A. Zappke, Mineral Wells; Dr. R. F. McGasland, Tulsa; and Dr. W. C. McNeil of Silsbee.

Mrs. Ruth Dokie, who, with her husband, recently bought property in Fulton, joined the Perch Club recently, falling off the pier Arthur Davis has in front of his property.

Sandollar Motel reports that K. P. Morrow, of Houston, caught 173 trout over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Abercrombie of Sugarland, and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Abercrombie, of Houston, caught 73 trout.

Good Luck Pier reports that many families are fishing, and the children are very proud of their catches. Most of them leave with stringers of perch.

The night fishing is still very attractive. The big ones have been plentiful, but a bit wily of the bait.

W. E. Smith and family of Houston caught 35 trout, several 3-pound ones were on their stringers.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Williams of Dallas, staying at the Sandollar, reported 15 trout.

Mr. and Mrs. Dub Canfield of Dallas, strung up 37 trout. Mrs. Canfield accounted for 35, just wasn't the Mister's night.

Sam Friedsam of San Antonio, had a 4-pound pompano and several trout.

Supt. of schools, Charles Rice and sons of Tivoli, spent a few hours fishing and were very excited about the ling caught by Charles Jr.

Coach Tom Pruitt and family took home a nice catch of trout.

The above mentioned Horace Williams of Dallas, just reported that he also brought in 3 flounder and a Spanish mackerel.

Fishing notes from Sea Gull Cottages: A very happy group returned to Louisville, Ky. after catching more fish at one time than they had ever experienced before.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Devers, David and Glenda Devers and Dainel Taylor, Jr., guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Devers of San Antonio, took home 183 trout and reds after a previous day's catch of around 60.

Larry Geary and family of Elizabeth, Pa., reported average size catches of speckled trout.

G. L. Allen of San Antonio, 69 trout; Charles O. Halton also of San Antonio with a string of 16 better than average size trout.

Toast of Coast Signs Get Wide Distribution

Out of forty brilliantly-colored "Toast of the Coast Signs" prepared by the Tourist Promotion Committee of the Chamber of Commerce for distribution by homeward bound tourists last spring, cards and pictures have been received showing that at least 22 of them have been erected.

A picture was received from Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hobbs, showing the sign on a tree near West Parsonfield, Maine; another picture shows one of the signs near Beloit, Kans., on Highway 14. It was placed by Mrs. Russell Fuller through the courtesy of another winter visitor, Ernest Dooley, also of Beloit.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Weaner of Loraine, Ohio, put the sign they carried on the highway 12 miles north of Albuquerque, N.M. Glen Quick writes from Martinsburg, Iowa, that the sign he took is displayed "in our lumber, feed and hardware store here."

Mrs. H. H. Cox placed one of the signs near the junction of highways 96 and 54; Marvin Kizer of North Liberty, Indiana, is displaying one on his barn. Clifford J. Miller, of Winterset, Iowa, says that he "placed sign on south of garage, cars passing about one a minute." The Millers stay at Oak Shores.

Leo Wilson, Spickard, Mo., put his Rockport sign on U.S. 65 in northern Missouri; Louis Wigen says they placed their second sign one mile west and four miles north of Ruthven, Iowa, on their way home to Ayrshire, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. C. Alten placed theirs on Highway 7, in the heart of the Mantrap resort region in Minnesota.

Alex Jacobson, another Minnesotan, displayed a sign near Hanley Falls in that state; the Ducharmes have theirs on their garage door, which faces Highway 6; while Mrs. Eric Sundhelm writes from Golden Col.:

"I was sorry to have to leave the large plaque that I received to advertise Rockport up here in Colorado. When our car was packed, my husband did not have room for it. It would be a good idea to have stickers for car windows made in the same design. We surely would have displayed one like that."

Harold V. Tibbitts placed the sign he carried on U.S. 23, just out of East Tawas, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Light, of Scranton, Iowa, have the sign in their window facing the highway, and have seen a lot of people looking at it. Orlin Shaver erected one nine miles south of Indianola, Iowa, on Highway 69; and Louis Wigen says they placed their first sign 1/4 mile south of Ayrshire, Iowa, on Highway 314, six miles south of Highway 18.

Mrs. Dan Anderson writes from Robinson, Kans., that the sign they carried is placed on a post as one enters Robinson, on a black-top highway connecting U. S. Highway 36 with U. S. Highway 73. Another card from Iowa, this time from Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ahrends, says:

"We left your sign at Pelican Rapids, Minn., on Highway No. 34."

Last, but not least, is the card from Mrs. Ellen Davison, of Hepworth, Ontario, Canada, that says: "The 'Toast of the Coast' sign has been erected on the Sauble Falls road, leading to the Provincial Park. Every time I look at it I get lonesome for Rockport."

CARE OF LOCAL BEACHES STEADY JOB

Somer Smith keeps the beach in place, scooping up piles of drifted sand with the high lift on his Ford farm tractor and carrying it back to the shore in a ceaseless battle against sea and wind.

And he uses all kinds of tricky gadgets he has invented himself to make his work easier as he maintains the miles of beaches and roads surrounding the four harbors which belong to Aransas County Navigation District No. 1.

First of courses are the nine-foot blade and the high lift, bought with the tractor, which is equipped with dual wheels that give it a good grip on the sand without allowing it to sink.

And because storms, cars, and ceaseless winds make the beach rough and uneven, he uses the reversed blade, stayed by chains at either end, to smoothen and clean the sand.

In its normal position, it has been found the answer to another problem. When thoughtless or armed (continued on page 8)

ANIMALS — A displaced Russian, 66-year-old Konstantine Tscherepanow, liked animals. While walking his dog in a Chicago park he tried to stop three 15-year-old boys from throwing rocks at ducks in a pond. One youth turned on him, striking and killing him. Here, his daughter identifies his body, while his dog keeps vigil.

Local Coaches Attend School In San Antonio

Four Rockport men—Dave Segler, Pat Smith, Gene Wilkins and G. C. Watkins, were among coaches from a dozen states that streamed into San Antonio Saturday to take part in the world's largest coaching clinic.

All-star football and basketball squads also arrived last Saturday and held workouts that afternoon. Coaches registered Sunday and school started Monday.

John Bridgers of Baylor, Frank Broyles of Arkansas, Claude Gilstrap of Arlington State and Blanton Collier of Kentucky, will lecture on football during the five-day clinic.

Harold Bradley of Texas and Frank McGuire of North Carolina are the basketball lecturers.

Bobby Bragan, former big league player and manager, now with the Houston Colts of the National League has baseball for his topic, and John Morris of the University of Houston, will lecture on track.

Weaver Jordan of Baylor is the lecturer on athletic training. Pete Ragus, of Miller High, Corpus Christi, and Joe Golding of Wichita Falls, whose teams clashed last fall for the State AAAA championship, are coaching the all-star football teams for their battle Thursday night.

Woman's Club Has Interesting Meeting Tuesday

The Woman's Club convened for its monthly meeting last Tuesday with President Mrs. J. W. Hunt, presiding. After a short business meeting, Mrs. C. E. Nickerson presented Miss Barbara Liggett of Corpus Christi who told of her interesting and exciting experience as a reporter who often interviewed famous people. Miss Liggett gained her experience while working for The Nacogdoches Sentinel and The Houston Post.

Among the noted people interviewed were Dr. Carl Menninger, James Michener, Kathleen Norris, and Salvador Dali, who confessed that the antics which have brought him fame are publicity ruses often devised by his wife. Miss Liggett expressed her fascination for Mr. Dali's unusually long mustaches which waved rapidly through the air as he became engrossed in a conversation.

Those people who without exception left her with a sad feeling of sympathy for them were actors such as Ed Wynn, Dorothy Lamour, Elsa Maxwell, Hedda Hopper, and Ilka Chase. Perhaps the most notable of her interviews took place when Countess Tolstoy served tea to Miss Liggett and impressed with her regal poise and complete graciousness.

Analyzing her work Miss Liggett found that all these folk had three points in common, each had a great power for concentration on one subject, the one consumed his career; each was commanding in appearance, speech and action; each one qualified as an uncommon person.

Miss Diggett left this interesting field of work, feeling she should be doing more for her community rather than reporting what others were doing and through a (continued on page 8)

Vandalism at Rockport School Heavy, Gray Tells Board

Windows and Doors Have Glass Damaged; Paint Smeared on Walls; Obscenities Written On Buildings; Roofs Damaged; Shrubbery Destroyed

Vandalism at Rockport Elementary School has amounted to around $500 during the summer vacation, Supt. J. D. Gray told the Aransas County Independent School Board at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Water faucets in and around the school buildings were opened and let run; three glass doors at the cafeteria were damaged by air rifles; grease and paint were smeared on the outside walls of the buildings; beer cans and broken bottles were left in the breezeways and doorways; obscenities and filth scribbled on the walls; water fountains damaged; shrubbery damaged; roofs damaged by playing children and the fire alarm bell wrecked.

Gray was instructed by the school board to contact City Chief of Police C. A. Stautzenberger and to ask for cooperation in keeping loiterers off the premises.

In other business, Gray was authorized to place an order for a new bus, seating from 54 to 60 students.

Two new teachers were elected—Mrs. Lois Schepp and Jesse Harold Lindemeyer, thus completing the faculty for the 1961-62 season.

The Board also instituted a change in policy for insurance of football players during the coming season.

The District will provide football insurance on players with the football premium being paid by the District and the basic student insurance being paid by the parent or student. However, in case of injury to an athlete costing more than the part paid for by the insurance paid for by the district, the rest of the cost must be borne by the parent.

Football coaches have been instructed to secure and file with the superintendent a waiver of responsibility by the school, such waivers to be signed by the parent, and a statement acknowledging agreement with these conditions before the student can participate in football.

Furthermore, the Board agreed that the District will cease its practice of paying the cost of accident insurance on employed personnel. However, it will continue to make available to all school personnel and students an accident policy with the cost to be borne by the person insured. This insurance is optional, Gray stated.

Gray also gave a report on the condition of the athletic account in School Activity Fund, listing the expenditures rightfully chargeable to the budget and after some discussion the trustees directed that the Fund be reimbursed for such items in the amount of $2172.

The proposed 1961-62 budget was reviewed, and the date of a public hearing on this set for Aug. 15, at 8 p.m.

Gray told the Board that the gasoline contract for the coming year had been awarded to Gene Townsend's Mobil Service, which was low bidder. He also summarized maintenance and new work accomplished this summer on the school plant.

Fulton Firemen Thank Others For Assistance

A brush fire near the dump ground Friday threatened oil tanks in the area and burned some fifteen or twenty acres before it was controlled by the efforts of four fire departments.

The Fulton Department wishes to thank the fire departments from Rockport, Aransas Pass, and the 813th AC&W squadron for their prompt response to the emergency, and for their aid in controlling the conflagration which could have easily gotten away except for concerted action by the four departments.

A. Mistrot, organization and extension chairman of the district.

KNOW YOUR FISH

This is one of a series acquainting you with the Gulf species of fresh fish and shellfish in the Southwest, we'd like to call your attention to a shellfish that is continually growing in popularity throughout the country. Here it is:

BLUE CRAB

The common blue crab (Callinectes Sapidus) of the South Atlantic and Gulf Coasts is taken all along the eastern seaboard from New York to Texas. Unlike its relative, the shrimp, the blue crab is only occasionally found in the open sea but prefers bays, sounds, and the mouths of rivers, where it lives in waters ranging from true ocean saltness to brackish or even fresh.

Each year between the first of June and the end of August, a new generation of crabs is produced. At this season the female extrudes the tiny eggs, and these together form a large yellowish mass known as the "sponge" and remain attached to the female crab. As the young develop within the eggs the sponge becomes larger. They hatch in about 15 days. At this stage it is known as a "zoea." As it grows the zoea changes into a form that is more truly crablike and is now known as the "megalops."

About one month after hatching, the first molt of the megalops changes the developing youngster into the true crab form. The crab reaches maturity when 12 to 14 months old.

For the female crab, mating occurs only once in her life—immediately after the last molt, when she is still in the soft-shelled condition. The sperm received from the male at this time is retained by the female and used to fertilize each successive batches of eggs as she may lay during the remainder of her life. The first spawning usually takes place when the female is about two years old.

Many people have the mistaken impression that the so-called "soft crab" is a distinct species. The term refers to any crab which has shed its old shell, before the new shell has hardened. Some crabs are sold whole as taken from the water, in which case they should be alive when purchased, whether in the hard or soft-shelled condition. Many people, however, prefer to buy the meat ready for use, and so most of the crabs caught on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts go to the processing plants where they are cooked and the meat removed and packed in convenient containers.

CRAB MEAT SALAD

1 pound crab meat
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pick
1/2 teaspoon salt
Lettuce
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 cup chopped celery
2 hard-boiled eggs, chopped
Dash pepper.
Remove any shell or cartilage from crab meat, being careful not to break the meat into small pieces. Combine all ingredients except lettuce. Chill. Serve on lettuce. Serves 6.

Carl Osborn, Denny Elliot Complimented

Carl Osborn, Fire Marshal, and Denny Elliot, of the local Boy Scout Troop both made speeches at the annual Firemen's Training School, held recently at Texas A&M, and both were complimented highly.

Jim Noah, director of Fire Safety Education, Fort Worth, writes Denny's father, Dr. H. F. Elliot, saying:

"I had the great pleasure of meeting your son Denny at the 32nd Annual Firemen's Training School . . . I wanted to drop you a line to let you know that he behaved in a manner any parent would be proud of . . . I feel sure you would have been very proud to hear his talk before some 300 Fire Marshals in the assembly . . ."

Osborn's talk, for which a number of communities have written, dealt with participation of Boy Scouts in fire prevention and control. He said:

The fire prevention map of Texas shows many bare spots. There are approximately 300 small towns and cities which are protected solely by volunteer firemen or with only a token paid personnel of drivers or dispatchers. More than 200 communities have no planned fire prevention through a Fire Marshals office, also in those towns which have a fire marshal to qualify for key rate credit, many hold this as a civic duty as an unpaid volunteer with a token car allowance, devoting as much time as his private affairs will permit, to satisfy the requirements of the Fire Marshals Law governing key credits.

More than 150 of these men do not have any assistance or if they do, it is on the same part time basis. In most of this large unrepresented segment of our state, there is a feeling that they cannot afford the time and expense of attending the Firemen's School and other meetings that are planned to promote better fire protection.

Many who do realize their responsibility are frustrated in not having the time and help to properly safeguard their community. A few get help from their volunteer firemen, but here again is the fact of there not being enough time available.

After a man attends the required drills, answers fire calls and emergencies, he feels that he has performed his share of civic duty and that the balance of his time belongs to his private affairs.

There are available what might be called 'flash in the pan' aids supposed to make the community fire hazard conscious, such as the gimmick and prize type of school Junior Firemen and Fire Marshals; home inspection drives through the schools; clean-up and fire prevention weeks (indifferently received and with questionable lasting results); and traveling field visual aid programs, which draw a very small percentage of the people who should be interested.

These have only a temporary impact and are soon forgotten in the rush of daily living.

There is one potential continuing, efficient aid to the small town fire marshal—which has been too widely neglected—The Boy Scouts.

They are awarded merit badges for several different types of safety study and practice, including all phases of fire safety. Every fire marshal, in the category of those holding a non-profit job, should arrange to be a counselor for this scout activity bringing him in touch with the most reliable and finest youths in his community.

This can be the basis for a continuing corps of aides as new scouts are admitted into the troop and indoctrinated into a safety brigade. This brings up the question of an additional reward to their merit badges.

My plan is to take the outstanding patrol leader to the Firemen's School each year, as an observer. This would serve several purposes: A reward for outstanding work in the troop in safety work; it would give the scout the background experience to enable him to better instruct other scouts, especially new members; the forming of an efficient corps of assistant inspectors, within the scout organization and governed both by scout laws and rules set up by the fire marshal; any fire marshal who sponsored a scout and brought him to the school would benefit immeasurably more from the instruction there because the questions which that scout and his buddies at home would ask would truly make the Fire Marshals Key Rate Examination seem like a first grade problem.

Another long term benefit from a comprehensive program of this nature is that these youngsters will all too soon be the leaders of tomorrow and as Alexander Pope wrote in his "Essay on Man," "Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

To reach those communities which are not represented here—and too many are not—details and suggestions for the furtherance of this plan could be publicized as being studied by Firemen's Training School.

NOTICE

The Board of Trustees of Aransas County Independent School District will hold a public hearing to consider the proposed budget for the school year 1961-1962 at 8 p.m., August 15, 1961, at the school administration building, Rockport, Texas.

TWO OF MICHAEL'S STUDENTS EXHIBIT PAINTINGS IN VICTORIA

Two of the students attending classes held by Simon G. Michael, director of the Rockport School of Fine Arts, have prize-winning paintings among the six canvasses comprising the August exhibit of the Victoria Art Guild in the commercial room of the Victoria Bank and Trust Company.

Three works by Mrs. Robert Dunn are an oil portrait entitled "Joe" which she painted during the first session of the Rockport school this summer; an oil still life called "Wine and Cheese," which is a blue ribbon winner, and another oil called "Egg Plant," also a ribbon winner.

The three canvasses shown by Mrs. Thomas O'Connor include two oil portraits entitled "Sue" and "Girl With a Daisy," and a charcoal called "A Visitor," which was a prize winner at the Spring Sidewalk Show of the Guild, held in the Village arcade.

The paintings will remain on display throughout August.

Attending this session are Mrs.

"I don't know how we could ever get along without all the electric appliances in our Medallion Home."

Says Mrs. Carl Oates of Bay City, Texas

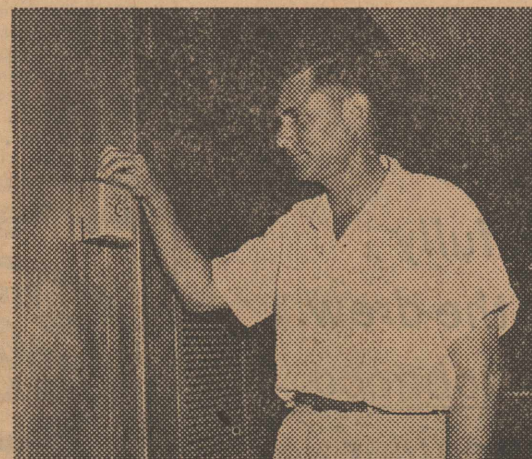

Mrs. Oates and her daughter in their all electric kitchen.

When you add up all the marvelous conveniences of living in an all electric home, it is difficult to choose a favorite. Mrs. Oates quite naturally says all the electric appliances in her Gold Medallion Home are important to her. Mr. Oates said, "We are very much pleased with the economical and trouble free operation of the heat pump for all year air conditioning."

A Gold Medallion Home is many things to many people. Besides all the convenience of electric appliances and the comfort of year around air conditioning, you have Light for Living. And you have that important "hidden asset"—plenty of Housepower—which assures you proper wiring to serve all your electric needs.

When you build or buy, ask your Home Builder or CPL about a Gold Medallion Home and live better — electrically.

Mr. Oates sets the temperature on the heat pump for year around comfort conditioning.

Many Things Needed To Lower Insurance

According to the State Board of Insurance, an improved fire department, desirable as it may be, is not the complete answer or even the largest part of it for lowered insurance rates in Rockport, for at best, the decrease resulting from this would only amount to 2 cents per $100.

To qualify for the premium enjoyed in past years, the city on the basis of the 1960 census, would have to spend between $500,000 and $1,000,000. This, city fathers say, would necessitate a tax bond issue extending over a period of years, with a consequent long term rise in taxes.

In a letter addressed to the City of Rockport, from George C.

Hawley, Chief, Engineering Section, Rate and Casualty Section of the Board, he outlines the following requirements that must be met before Rockport can enjoy an appreciably lowered rate.

He says: "We recommend that a new well be drilled near the new pumping station of at least 250 gallons per minute, arranged to pump into the present 200,000 gallon reservoir."

"The city's ground storage reservoirs are 34% deficient in capacity, and we recommend that another 200,000 gallon tank be installed at the new pump station."

"The present elevated tank is 69% deficient in capacity. We recommend that a new tank of at least 150,000 gallons capacity be installed on a 100-foot tower, to the bottom of the tank. This new tank must be supplied by eight-inch or larger mains all the way into the mercantile district."

Hawley enclosed a map of recommendations on main and hydrant installations for future consideration of the council and continued:

"Special attention should be directed to connecting both of the pump stations to the mercantile district with 8-inch or larger mains. A charge of 2 cents will be eliminated when this has been completed. Charges totaling six cents will be avoided if the entire recommendations are completed."

Hawley said the fire department seemed to be in fair shape, but that "in order for Mr. Dye to be recognized as a full-time fireman, he must first be paid by the city a salary sufficient in amount to make him directly responsible to the city officials. Secondly, he must be on duty 24 hours a day and have no other duties except that of fireman. Proper relief must be provided for him on his days off and during vacation."

"The purchase of a new triple combination 500 gallons per minute pumper is recommended, and if purchased, a charge of 2 cents per $100 will be eliminated from the city's key rate."

"We are enclosing a blank," Hawley continued, "as a guide to follow for a roof survey. If a survey is made and combustible roofs are less than 75%, a reduction will be in order."

Thus, city fathers say, there are a world of things that must be done in Rockport to take advantage of every possible reduction in the key rate.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION FOR LOCAL SCOUTS

In Boy Scout Camps across the country, Scouts and Explorers this summer had the opportunity for the first time to earn national recognition for completing a continuous mile swim.

A local Scout and the Scoutmaster qualified for this award at Camp Karankawa this summer. They are: Gary Tuer and Scoutmaster Ron Schultz.

Developing the stamina and ability to swim a mile is a real achievement in fitness and water safety. To learn to do it safely and with ease, the purpose of the Boy Scouts of America Mile Swim Program, is a challenging goal for boys to work toward and complete.

rogant drivers persisted in traveling at high speed along the water's edge, endangering life and limbs of others on the beach, Somers, under orders from the Navigation Board, used the blade to cut shallow, sloping trenches about every hundred yards perpendicular to the shore.

Innocent to cars moving slowly, these trenches broke up speeding along the shore within minutes after they were cut, as the hot rodders slowed down to keep from breaking their own necks.

Part of his job consists of maintaining a road down Frandolig Island, owned by the Navigation District. During the time he was constructing the road, he killed rattlesnake after rattlesnake with his tractor.

And, of course, he scoops up the sand that blows against shore-side installations, buildings and the sea wall, carrying it back to the beach in his constant battle to keep it where it belongs.

Attempting to control this wind-blown sand, the Navigation Board directed that grass seed be planted broadcast, so that the roots would help stop the erosion. It was then that Smith came up with another gadget, a sort of miniature brush rake. With this he broke the hard crust on some porpoises of the beach so that the seed would have a better chance to grow.

And, because someone is always getting stuck, he carries a tow chain and shovel as part of his equipment. With these, as a sort of Good Samaritan of the beaches, he extricates motorists for free, and sends them on their way rejoicing.

Washington, D.C. became capital of the Southern States in 1800.

Assisting with serving were Miss Pat Andrew, of Guilford, Conn., sister of the groom-to-be, and Miss Linda Mills of Rockport. About thirty guests attended.

MISS MARY KATHERINE HATTENBACH MARRIES MIKE J. WOMACK FRIDAY

Miss Mary Katherine Hattenbach became the bride of Mike J. Womack in a candlelight ceremony at First Baptist Church on Friday, Aug. 4, at 8 p.m., with the Rev. C. Wilson Brumley, officiating at the double-ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hattenbach of Rockport. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Womack of Austin.

The altar was lighted by white cathedral tapers in tree candelabra. Flanking these were twin floor baskets of white gladioli. Miss Karen Casterline rendered the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length dress of white Chantilly lace, over taffeta, with triple tiers of scalloped lace forming the bouffant skirt. The molder bodice was accented by a jeweled sabrina neckline, and its long lace sleeves tapered to points at the wrist.

Her fingertip veil, of French silk illusion, fell from a lace cap bordered with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible centered with a nosegay of red roses and feathered white carnations.

Maid of honor was Miss Joy Hamblin who wore a street-length dress of pink embroidered taffeta, in sheath design, with full overskirt of pink organza, short sleeves, and a bateau neckline extending to a V in the back. Her headdress was a white flat bow, in cap shape, with half-veil, and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Merrily Johnson and Miss Sandra Gardner were bridesmaids, and wore blue sheath dresses in similar design to that of the maid of honor. White flat flowers, circled with crushed veiling, formed their headdresses, and they wore white carnation corsages.

Bert Phillips was best man.

Groomsmen were Elroy Parr and Van Forshee.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. The table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Serving the cake was Mrs. Cecil Cole. Miss Kathy McClellan served the punch, and Mrs. Van Forshee presided at the guest register.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Rockport. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a dress of royal blue polished cotton, with full skirt, short sleeves, and a bateau neckline. A small white hat and blending accessories completed the ensemble.

The bride is a graduate of Aransas County High School. The groom was graduated from A. N. McAllum High School in Austin.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included the following: Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Womack of Austin; from Corpus Christi: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Hattenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Hattenbach; from Houston: Mr. and Mrs. David Hessong, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hessong.

REBEKAH LODGE MEETING

Mrs. Jewel Mikeal, noble grand, conducted the regular meeting of the Rockport Rebekah Lodge at 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 3, with twenty-three members and one visitor present.

Mrs. Jo Suttle, who belongs to a Rebekah Lodge in Oklahoma, is back at her home in Lamar, was a very welcome visitor.

Mrs. Edith Baugh, a member of the local lodge, fell and broke her arm last week. Mrs. Baugh is confined to a wheel chair.

The committee for August, Mrs. Gladys Mullan and Miss Katie Lee Clarke, served cold drinks, cookies and chips during the social hour.

NOTICE FOR BUDGET HEARING

On motion by Commissioner Sparks, seconded by Commissioner Wofford, it was voted unanimously that a Public Hearing on the 1962 Aransas County Budget be held on August 31, 1961, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. in the County Court-house in Aransas County, Texas.
