ROOSEVELT URGES END OF TEXTILE STRIKE

PEACE SEEN BY STRIKE LEADERS AT WASHINGTON

Proposal of Beard May Be Adopted to End Nation Wide Walkout

By United Press
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 21.—President Roosevelt today called on the textile strikers to return to their jobs.

His appeal was contained in a formal statement as follows:

"In formally improving the report submitted to me by the board of inquiry for the cotton industry, I want to express the very sincere hope all employees now out on strike will return to work and all textile manufacturers will take back employees without discrimination."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Textile strike peace, after more than two weeks of blood shed, appeared imminent today as leaders rushed here for a decision on the federal mediation board peace plan.

It was learned the strike chiefs' plans felt peace was near.

The president's unexpected request the strikers return to work on the basis of the Winant board program for adjusting problems in the industry was received without comment by Francis J. Groman, strike leader.

Proposals of the board were:

Creation of an impartial three-man board similar to the steel labor board and the national labor relations board to protect labor's collective bargaining rights and other labor provisions of the code.

An independent study by the department of labor and the federal trade commission in the industry with a view of discovering what changes in hours and wages can be made.

Hundreds Killed In Japanese Storm And a Tidal Wave

TOKIO, Sept. 21.—With deaths among school children the largest toll, prefectures of Southern and Central Japan tonight counted at least 871 dead and 280 missing in the wake of a terrific typhoon and tidal wave which struck this morning.

Relief workers, surveying the havoc of cyclonic winds and mountainous waves, estimated 150,000 persons need food and clothing.

Working mostly by lantern light, as power plants were flooded or wrecked, rescue workers found additional bodies as they dug into the debris of more than 6,000 wrecked buildings. Many of the ruined structures were school buildings in which the children were trapped while at their lessons. The death toll among the children in the thickly populated region of Asaka alone was 110.

Eastland C. of C. Officials Invited To Joint Conclave

Milburn McCarty of Eastland, West Texas Chamber of Commerce director, and other officials of the Eastland body have been invited by James D. Hamlin, Farwell, president of the regional chamber, to attend a joint meeting of the directors of the West, South and East Texas chambers in Waco Friday, October 5.

According to Hamlin's notice the meeting is "For the purpose of throwing the combined strength of the three regional chambers of Texas behind a definite work program which would have for its objective championing the rights of property and business."

Conducts Revival at Nazarene Church

Rev. A. R. Hodges of Detroit, Mich., once resident of Eastland, who is now conducting a revival at the Church of the Nazarene.

School Bells Will Ring For Samoyed Tribe

WASHINGTON.—Samoyed nomads are going to get their first taste of school life—and the National Geographic Society fears truant officers are in for a lively existence.

Seven little red tents have been pitched on the bleak tundra near Arkhangelsk, northern Russia, marking the first Samoyed school-houses.

Although most numerous in the vicinity of Arkhangelsk, about 20,000 Samoyeds live in a primitive state of culture from the eastern shores of the White Sea along Arctic shores east to the Gulf of Khatanga, Siberia. They extend southward between the basins of the Ob and the Yenisei.

However, the Geographic Society believes difficulties of American school teachers will seem small compared with problems to be faced by Samoyed instructors. Illiterate and preserving their traditions solely in songs, the Samoyeds boast a sonorous language, resembling Finnish, which has three dialects and twelve sub-dialects. Although believed to be moderately intelligent, they have had little or no schooling, as most of them lead a hand-to-mouth existence by reindeer herding, hunting and fishing.

Of Mongolian origin, they possess straight black hair, oblique eyes, and yellow-brown skin. However, it was said their skin often appears darker, as they reputedly never wash. Men and women are hard to distinguish, as both wear reindeer skin tunics and trousers.

Some Samoyeds have become nominal Christians, but their veneer of Christianity is thin. Many of the natives worship the bear as a divine being in disguise and wear his teeth as amulets.

Convention Cost State $10,000 In Salaries

AUSTIN, Tex.—The State Democratic Convention at Galveston cost the state $10,000 as capitol statisticians figure. A day's cost of a legislative session is put at $3,000. The Galveston convention resulted in two days of idleness because more than a third of the members were at Galveston. Their $10 a day pay was uninterrupted.

MISHAPS MAR QUIET FAIR

VAN WERT, O.—The Van Wert county fair is usually a quiet event, like any other American county fair. But this year two mishaps marked its third day. David Carman, 32, jockey in the final of the running races, was crushed when his horse stumbled. Then Charles Riggins, 70, was injured seriously when run down by a hit-skip autoist while directing traffic.

Typed Message Is Sent By Radio

WASHINGTON.—Experiments looking to radio transmission of the facsimile of a typed, or handwritten, message as a method of disseminating weather information now are being conducted by the Commerce Department.

Eugene L. Vidal, Director of Air Commerce, announced that a radio facsimile transmission system already has been given a favorable preliminary test by the Bureau of Air Commerce.

Facsimile transmission is based on the scanning beam principle. Its peculiar advantage over other systems of radio transmission in which written or typed messages are reproduced automatically is that messages may be sent through static, or heavy background noise, and still be legible at the receiving end.

Rex Martin, Assistant Director of Air Commerce, explained the system as follows:

"The message to be sent is typed or written on a strip of paper tape. The tape with the message is fed into the transmitting set, where the scanning beam passes rapidly over the letters and causes radio impulses to be broadcast."

"At the receiving end," Martin continued, "the impulses are translated into extremely narrow black lines, which make up the separate letters of the words. The scanning beam passes over each letter numerous times and the character appearing on the tape in the receiving machine is made up of a similar number of tiny black lines."

The system transmitted 76 words a minute during tests.

Orphan Chickens Hatched By Sun

MERCEDES, Tex.—NRA's curtailed production program is going unnoticed in the Lower Rio Grande Valley these days. Nine newly-hatched chicks gave concrete evidence of the Texas pioneer spirit of "never say die."

The chicks are the unexpected property of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hampton of Mercedes. Recently the Hamptons decided to do away with all their chickens. After selling most of them they remembered a hen which had been placed on a setting of eggs a week or more previously. The hen was taken off the eggs, placed in a pen, and the 10 unhatched eggs were tossed into thick Bermuda grass in the rear of the yard.

About 10 days later the Hamptons were startled to hear the plaintive "cheeps" of baby chicks. Investigation disclosed 10 chicks struggling to make their way through the tall grass.

With one exception the arrivals are hale and hearty, even without the care of a mother hen. The exception crossed paths with a belligerent duck, dying as a result of the collision.

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD SON OF J. M. THOMAS KILLED IN CAR CRASH

10,000 HOMES MAY BE BUILT IN WEST TEXAS

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Sept. 21.—Construction of 10,000 new homes and employment of 30,000 men in West Texas as a result of the housing act, were anticipated today by R. A. Stuart, West Texas director.

Stewart said he had been notified the second section of the housing act, providing for loans for construction of new homes, will be extended to West Texas cities.

The director predicted the program would mean construction of 10,000 new buildings at a cost of about $3,000 each, or an expenditure of $30,000,000.

Each house, he said, would employ 10 men.

"This will mean a building boom for West Texas, comparable to that brought about by the opening of oil fields," Stuart said.

Pennsylvania Has 75 Parties

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Five-Cent Carfare, Honest Elections, Anti-Wall Street and Unemployed are only a few of the 75 new political parties pre-empted in Pennsylvania in anticipation of success in the Nov. 6 general election.

This unprecedented congestion in the Keystone State's political arena will send a bewildered electorate, resembling a hand-bill distributor, into the voting booth. Mechanical limitations of voting machines, used in some precincts, are likely to be taxed.

Confusion will be especially acute in the Wilkes Barre area, 17 new parties having been organized in Luzerne County.

"Roosevelt" is a component in the titles of four new parties: Roosevelt Independent, Roosevelt Progressive, Roosevelt New Deal, and Plain Roosevelt. In this category are the New Deal Progressives and the plain New Deal parties. There's a Square Deal party, too.

The remainder includes several variations of Independents, Taxpayers, Citizens, and Liberals parties; Prosperity, Keystone, Congress, Peoples Choice, Equal Rights, and All-American. Many feature a full line of local and state-wide candidates; others are purely local in influence.

Eastland Co. Man's Sister is Fast Typist

AUSTIN, Sept. 21.—With but nine months' training, Mary D. Burger, high school student of Abilene, sister of Donald Burger formerly of Ranger and Cisco, entered the international typing contest at the World's Fair in Chicago, in June, and set a record for new students by reaching a rate of 88 words per minute, a school publication states.

George Brogren of Eastland, who attends McMurry in Abilene, is training in the same work with the objective of setting a record in the future. On several occasions Brogren has typed at a rate of over 100 words per minute.

Tarleton Will Play Tonight Under Lights

STEPHENVILLE, Texas, Sept. 21.—John Tarleton college will have its first night football game here tonight when Abilene Christian college comes here for the first game of the season. The game has been called for 8 o'clock.

Installation of lighting equipment was completed this week, and was ready for testing Monday night.

Legion is Asked Not to Interfere In Arms Legislation

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Senator Champ Clark, Dem., Mo., demanded today at the senate munitions investigation the American Legion refrain from aiding armament manufacturers in opposition to legislation in Congress.

Clark is a war veteran and a Legion member. He attacked the organization activities after reading correspondence of the Lake Erie Chemical Co., which showed in January, 1933, the president of the war gas firm sought aid from the Legion in opposition to the Borah arms embargo resolution.

DISCONTENT OVER RELIEF IS EXPRESSED

AUSTIN, Sept. 21.—Dissatisfaction with relief administration was voiced in the house today with presentation of a resolution for a general investigation.

The resolution proposed that five members be designated to study rehabilitation and report next January.

The committee would be directed to ascertain if funds for relief are being adequately administered.

Rep. E. E. Hunter, Cleburne, was cut off in a discussion of the resolution when the time allotted for resolutions expired. He is co-author of the proposal.

"Everyone who has been before us in discussion of relief has told us there has been waste and misapplication of funds," Hunter said.

Texas Native Is Conducting Meet At Caddo Saturday For Mrs. W. L. Carey

Rev. A. R. Hodges of Detroit, Mich., who claims Texas as his native state, is now conducting a revival at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Sadosa and Lamar streets, according to announcements.

Rev. Hodges came to Eastland with his parents when a small boy in 1879 when the first railroad was entering the city. A brother of the pastor, John T. Hodges, lived in Eastland several years before his death at Gorman.

Services, the announcement states, are held every night at 7:30 o'clock. On Sunday, school is held at 9:45, preaching at 11 and evening services at 7:30.

Members of the church have extended all an invitation to attend the services.

Three Bandits Rob A New York Bank

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Three bandits robbed a branch of the Corn Exchange Bank and Trust Co. of $50,000, today after slugging the night watchman and tying up nine employees.

The robbers gained access to the bank through a skylight. They surprised the watchman, knocked him unconscious and concealed themselves to await arrival of the bank manager.

As employees came through the door they were seized, bound and tossed into a closet. When the bank manager arrived he was forced to open a safe and the robbers scooped up the money and fled.

Eastland Gets 2.28 Inch Rain

Eastland and the immediate vicinity experienced their heaviest shower of the year Thursday night when a 2.28 inch fell, which temporarily filled several street with water which ran over curbs.

The rain was followed by a 55 degree drop in temperature. Early Friday morning the temperature stood at 54 degrees and on one occasion Thursday was 99.

According to present reports, Eastland was the heaviest beneficiary of the rain.

WARRANT ASKS EXTRADITION TO NEW JERSEY

Officers Convinced He Was Directly Involved In Lindbergh Case

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 21.—Extradition of Bruno Richard Hauptmann from New York to New Jersey was asked by Gov. A. Harry Moore in a warrant charging Hauptmann with the murder of Charles Lindbergh Jr., it was learned today.

The warrant stated Hauptmann was wanted for trial in Hunterdon county on a murder charge. There has been some question as to whether the child was killed in Hunterdon county or Mercer county. The Lindbergh home was in Hunterdon county, while the body was found in Mercer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A thimble-sized ex-convict from Germany today resisted efforts of officers to link him with the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

Pale and at times with tears in his eyes, Bruno Richard Hauptmann refused to yield when confronted with positive proof $13,750 of the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom money was in his possession. Then they battered him with questions about circumstances designed to connect him with the kidnaping.

After Hauptmann had stood in the white glare of light in the police lineup and after he had been bound over without bail at his arraignment, police and federal agents were convinced that the prisoner was directly involved in the planning and execution of the most sensational crime of the century.

He was charged with unlawfully receiving the ransom money.

But Hauptmann and his exhausted, unstrung wife were as guileless as ever in denials of his guilt.

There were, however, significant developments in the drive of police to complete solution of the mystery.

It was significant that whereas federal officials were convinced it was a one-man job, the New York police took a different view.

Chief Inspector John Sullivan said the first visible break in Hauptmann's composure came as he talked to the prisoner. His shoulders sagged after many hours of questioning and tears came into his eyes.

"Lots of things are developing rapidly," Sullivan said. "As it now stands, if this man was not present at the kidnaping he had a hand in it. There are others in it, however."

Hauptmann will be indicted by the Bronx county grand jury today or tomorrow, Assistant U. S. Attorney Andrew McCarthy announced. Hauptmann was taken to the Bronx county jail for a hearing Monday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Important facts today bore out the belief of investigators Hauptmann was the actual kidnaping of the Lindbergh child.

The original ransom note and the "Jafsie" ransom demands contained evidence of being written by the same person. Hauptmann's writings have been identified with some of the notes. This is the most vital link.

Hauptmann apparently did not turn over the $50,000 to professional money passers. This fit the picture of the kidnapers as an amateur rather than professional gangster.

The note included Germanic phrases. Hauptmann is a German. The kidnap ladder was home-made, but workmanlike. Hauptmann is a carpenter.

Lumber used in the ladder was traced to a lumber firm. Hauptmann had dealings with that company.

Hauptmann once worked in the vicinity of the Lindbergh home.

KAMENZ, Saxony, Sept. 21.—Bruno Hauptmann, held in New York in the Lindbergh case, escaped in dramatic circumstances from prison here in 1928, German criminal authorities told the United Press today. They described Hauptmann as "sly and clever."

ON A BROADER BASE

As the democratic party at Galveston passed out of the woods of Ferguson domination, it showed that it has gained a broader footing for its official structure than for many years past.

Instead of having the controls in the hands of some minority group, as in the case of Ferguson's last two administrations, and perhaps during the Ross Sterling term, many elements of past party leadership had joined hands at Galveston with new leadership. Pretty well all the party is represented in the new official set-up. There are even some old-time Ferguson regulars in the ranks.

The Ferguson people were mollified in having been able to name Vice President Garner to the national committee, one jump ahead of what the Allred forces would have done.

There were at the party convention two former governors, Neff and Hobby; both present United States senators, Sheppard and Connally; two supreme court justices, Judge Pierson and the nominee, Judge Sharp; all three retiring congressmen-at-large, Strong, Bailey and Terrell. There were notable former leaders, such as Tom Ball and Cullen Thomas.

The new leadership at Galveston definitely called from the ranks many distinguished and well-known democrats of other times. This will mean a lot for future success and harmony. Even the most blatant of those who were Ferguson leaders when Fergusonism was in flower were not left to feel like homeless exiles; but in having their own policy with respect to Garner accepted by the party, were given a share in the responsibility of the party's welfare in future.

The convention's success was measured by this avoiding a restricted, narrow, and necessarily inexperienced group as sole helmsmen for the next two years.

So long as there is a margin between what our cities are as places in which to live and work and what they may become, there is plenty of work in every community for a chamber of commerce.

Little progress has been made by lawmakers toward encouraging the farmer and the business man. They restrict, they limit, they prohibit this and that, and often their purpose seems to be to hamper and annoy business.

This is no time to slack down. It is the time to pep up, stick out your chest like a pouter pigeon and go ahead.

Called Meeting B. Y. P. U.

The Intermediate Baptist Young People's Union group met in called session Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock for the election of officers. The session was conducted by Miss Mary Shepherd. Travis Cook was elected president; Katrina Lovelice, vice president; Eleanor Rae Drinkard, corresponding secretary; Mary Shepherd, recording secretary; Marzelle Wright, chorister, and Mrs. S. A. Green, pianist.

Leonard Pritchard was elected captain of group 1; Frances Norton, captain of group 2, and Chester Alford, Bible quiz leader.

There was a good attendance of members.

Bluebonnet Club

Mrs. Brashier Hostess

The Bluebonnet Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. W. E. Brashier with four tables for auction bridge at her home, Wednesday afternoon.

At close of game, high guest and high club score favors, similar serving kits, nicely outfitted, were awarded Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Veon Howard.

The cut-for-all, a novelty ash tray, went to Mrs. Guy Patterson. The tea plate of chicken salad, in lettuce rolls, wafers, potato flakes, olives, and iced tea, had delicious pineapple cake, the last course.

Guests of the afternoon, not members, were Mmes. J. V. Freeman, Gerald Wingate, W. J. Peters, R. A. P'Pool, W. A. Stokes, Carl Johnson; and club members present, Mmes. Bernie Blowers, Veon Howard, James Watson, R. L. Ferguson, James Harkrider, Joe Kraemer, Guy Patterson, E. R. O'Rourke, Roy L. Allen, Miss Ethel Fehl, and hostess, Mrs. Brashier.

Intermediate Girls Auxiliary

The Girls Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society held their usual mid-week session in the Baptist church, opened by Mrs. S. A. Green, their director, with ensemble singing of hymn, followed with minutes presented by their secretary. The devotional was led by Miss Mary Shepherd. Miss Geraldine Terrell told of evangelizing Europe. Both these talks were well prepared and very interesting.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Green, their director.

Social Hiatus

Socially, Eastland circles are going through that week that could be called "before, and after taking;" that period when the full swing of fall activities has not opened and the summer program of entertaining has nearly closed. Everyone's attention is focused on the Eastland county fair, where little groups of lads and lassies, and coteries of young married folks are making the rounds of the booths and the shop windows about the square.

The weather is drawing a good attendance and the bright lights make the night entertainment very attractive.

Junior High School Choral Club Organized

Miss Wilma Beard, director, announced the reorganization of the junior high school choral club, which was perfected Tuesday afternoon.

Practice will be held each Tuesday and Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Officers were elected in, Miss Elizabeth Jones, president; Miss Melba Ruth Wood, vice president; Miss Nan Mickle, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Beard's choral club of this school, last year, put on a number of very beautiful programs in assisting with club entertainments, and having an evening of music in the Methodist church service.

Junior High P. T. A. Board Meeting

The executive board of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher association held their called meeting for the consideration of plans for their year's work on Tuesday afternoon in the music studio of junior high school.

Intensive plans were developed toward the directing of committees and the introduction of a course of study for their association that would deal with the adolescent child.

The board hopes to standardize the work of the junior high association and in order to do this a study course, along this or similar lines, is required.

Confidence was expressed by the board that this would be an outstanding year in the junior association work.

Club Women Invited To Abilene

The clubs in Eastland in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs are in receipt of an invitation extended each club member from the Abilene Women's club, by Mrs. R. E. Rankin, president of the hostess club, to attend a style show and luncheon, sponsored by the Abilene Women's club, on date of Wednesday, Sept. 26, noon, at Hilton hotel, with "open house" at the clubroom in the afternoon.

Mrs. F. M. Kemy, president of Thursday Afternoon club; Mrs. W. K. Jackson, president of Civic league, and Miss Maurine Davenport, president of Junior Thursday club, were asked to advise their club membership of this invitation.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH

Mass on Sunday will be at 8 a. m., by Rev. J. Fernandez.

Sunday will be the eighteenth Sunday after Pentecost and the epistle read on that day is taken from the First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians, 1:4-8; the Gospel is from St. Matthew 9:1-8. In this Gospel it is stated that Christ cured a man sick of the palsy but before he performed the miracle he said to the man: "Be of good heart, son, thy sins are forgiven thee." Christ, therefore, had power to forgive sins and this power he gave to his apostles and their successors.

Dallas to Welcome 2,000 Farmers at Co-operative Meet

DALLAS, Tex.—Dallas will welcome approximately 2,000 farmers, representing 225 agricultural organizations in 200 counties, which the annual meeting of the Texas Agricultural Association and Texas Co-operatives Inc. convenes Dec. 3 to 6, inclusive.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and Dr. I. Meyers of Francis W. Peck of the Farm Credit Administration will be invited to address the convention. Other invited speakers will include State Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald, Mrs. Margaret W. Barry, extension sociologist in rural women's organization of the Texas A&M extension division; R. H. Bush, organization specialist of the A&M extension division; Sterling Evans, president of the Houston banks for co-operatives at Houston, and A. C. Williams of the agricultural banks of Houston.

The relation of the railroads to agriculture will be discussed by J. C. Carter, executive secretary of the president of the Southern Pacific Lines.

Two exhibitions will be held in connection with the meeting. One will be a showing of products manufactured by factories handling supplies through the co-operative organization. The other will be an exposition of home industries, canned goods, clothes and other commodities produced in the homes of the members. Miss Zeth Melvin and Miss Maurine Hearn, specialists in the home industry, division of the A&M extension branch, will be in charge of this division.

The program being arranged includes an evening set aside for the annual farmers' supper, another for public speaking contests in which men and women will discuss in farm organization and co-operation. The outstanding farm woman, the outstanding boy and the outstanding girl in farm club work will be presented prizes at a special session.

One evening will be set aside for entertainment to be furnished by members of the association.

Economy Sought In Correspondence Of Relief Officers

AUSTIN.—State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson today sought to effect economy in the correspondence between county relief officers and the state office here by instructing administrators to assemble letters from the various departments at regular intervals for mailing to Austin under one cover.

Johnson said quite often from five to 25 pieces of mail are received daily from each of the various counties and that it had been the practice to enclose these letters in separate envelopes.

"This system will in no way affect the promptness of receipt of mail at Austin headquarters, but will bring about a most material reduction in postage and in amount of stationery used and will also save a great deal of time in addressing so many different pieces of mail through the day."

The director also instructed county officers in ways to save money in transmitting telegrams and urged them to eliminate telephone and telegraph communications except in emergency cases.

ON TEXAS FARMS

KAUFMAN—Nortex Oats secured from the Denton Experiment Station last fall by E. V. Kiser of the Lone Oak community in Kaufman county yielded an average of 54 bushels to the acre while oats planted by his neighbors averaged not more than 25 bushels per acre, according to C. A. Munch, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Kiser had 11 acres in Nortex Oats and he states that good seed pays even in time of drought.

HASKELL—One-third of a bale of cotton to the acre is being harvested on the farm of Jewel Day of Haskell county despite the drought, while his neighbors are harvesting only one-fourth of a bale per acre or even less, according to R. H. Maxwell, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Day attributes this large yield to the fact that moisture in the ground was conserved by terracing done last spring.

HEMPSTEAD—"I am way ahead for having cooperated with the government in the cotton control program," Roy Loggins of Waller county told J. V. Bush, farm demonstration agent. Under the new ruling permitting him to sell cotton from his rented acres, Mr. Loggins will make enough to buy the necessary grain for his livestock and poultry and still have enough roughage for his livestock through the winter. He also received a fair price for his cotton and his rental check which he says was "like a gift."

GATESVILLE—Provision for adequate storage space for the 836 containers she has canned this year is being made by Mrs. L. G. Perryman, pantry demonstrator of the Liberty Home Demonstration Club in Coryell county, according to Miss Gladys Martin, home demonstration agent. A concrete room 8 feet by 8 feet by 7 feet has been built and shelves 10 inches in the clear will be made for canned products. Wider shelves will be made to accommodate cans of lard and dried vegetables.

WHEELER—"I have been in open rebellion against the drought this year," Lorraine Brown, 16, food preservation demonstrator of the Dixon 4-H club, told Miss Viola Jones, home demonstration agent. Miss Brown has already canned 818 quarts of jam and jelly, vegetables, pickles and meat this year.

Miss Brown has charge of the family garden and in it she planted 3,836 feet of sturdy vegetables; 9,425 feet of leafy vegetables; 763 feet of other vegetables and 240 feet of tomatoes. She has not gathered as much produce as she expected, but she says that if it rains in the near future there will be plenty of food to supply her family this year.

CORPUS CHRISTI—Although the home demonstration club market was not open during July and August, Mrs. R. A. Woodward of Nueces county has made $55.40 since the first of June by selling to regular customers obtained through the market, according to Miss Dora Hale, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Woodward sold 23 cakes, 64 dozen eggs, and 45 fryers. She adds that she and her husband are making more through the market this year than they are through their cotton crop.

Celery seems to have come to Maverick county as a permanent crop. F. O. Weyrich has five acres of it already transplanted which is in fine condition and compares favorably with that grown as a
