

President Will Ask Tax Cut

Ford Envisions One-Time-Only Levy Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford, after deciding to seek an antirecession tax cut of about $15 billion, is weighing a novel plan to spur consumer spending by mailing government tax rebate checks to millions of U.S. taxpayers, administration officials said today.

As Ford's economic advisers met at the White House, several sources confirmed the President's approval of the tax cut—a one-time-only reduction of about 10 per cent in taxes due by individuals for 1974—as a major element in his program to pull the nation out of the deepening recession.

If approved by Congress, the sources said, the plan could involve sending U.S. Treasury checks to millions of taxpayers. As outlined by sources, here is how the proposed plan would work:

10 Per Cent Cut

The amount an individual taxpayer, or couple, owes for 1974 federal income taxes would be reduced by about 10 per cent. For a couple whose 1974 tax bill totals $3,000, this would mean a cut of about $300.

If the plan is not enacted until after most taxpayers pay their 1974 bills, rebates in the form of government checks would be necessary. But if it were quickly adopted by Congress, taxpayers presumably would simply deduct the amount of the reduction from their taxes due to be paid by April 15.

Presumably the tax rebates (See FORD Page 4A)

After reaching an October peak of 78.9 million, the department said, nonagricultural payroll employment declined by 465,000 in November and 675,000 in December to a level of 77.7 million.

Officials of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the loss of 1.1 million jobs was the greatest in any two-month period since 1945 when American industry came off its war footing.

The December decline was concentrated in the goods-producing sector of the economy and was most severe in the manufacturing industries, which were down 505,000 jobs for the month and 840,000 from October.

This reflected widespread declines among the durable and nondurable goods industries, with the largest reductions in electrical equipment, 70,000; transportation equipment, 65,000; primary metals, 55,000; apparel, 55,000 and fabricated metals, 50,000.

Employment in the construction industry dropped 50,000 in December bringing the over-the-year job loss to 305,000 and pushing the unemployment rate to 15 per cent.

Trade Jobs Off Despite the usual pre-Christmas buying spree, employment in retail trade jobs dropped by 135,000 last month.

The statistics followed last week's report from the Labor Department that the nation's unemployment rate rose from 6.5 per cent in November to 7.1 per cent in December, with 6.5 million Americans unable to find jobs.

Mid-Air Crashes Kill 23 Persons

By The Associated Press In-flight plane collisions over California and Virginia took an apparent toll of 23 lives.

Fourteen persons died Thursday at Whittier, Calif. in a collision involving a commuter airliner and a small plane. Another nine were feared dead in a Newport News, Va., crash involving an Air Force training plane and a single-engine craft.

The California crash involved a collision between a Cessna 150 and a Golden West Airliner. Debris and bodies rained down on a schoolyard where 300 students were watching a basketball game.

Big Explosion Duke Bernal, 18, was playing basketball at the school. "We heard a big explosion, and it was just coming down—pieces of the airplane and bodies. One of the bodies came down on the courts," he said.

Twelve persons aboard the liner and a pilot and student pilot aboard the smaller craft were killed. Nobody on the ground was injured, although nearby houses were damaged.

A Cessna 150 was also involved in the Virginia collision. It collided with an Air Force T29 propeller-driven plane on final approach to Langley Air Force base in Newport News. The Air Force plane plunged into a shallow portion of the James River.

No Survivors Maj. Errol Loving, information officer at Langley, said there appeared to be no survivors among the seven persons aboard the Air Force plane and the two on the lighter craft.

The California crash occurred at about 4:10 p.m. PST over a middle-class residential neighborhood in Whittier, where former President Richard M. Nixon grew up.

The small plane fell into an empty intersection. A motor from the airliner, its fuselage and tail assembly hit the ground 200 yards from the basketball courts at Katherine Edwards Intermediate School.

Smashed House One of the wings from the Golden West plane cracked Claude Aguirre's roof. An engine smashed into his 3-year-old daughter's bedroom.

"Thank God she was at a baby-sitter's," he said. Authorities said they did not know the cause of the collision.

Investigators from the National Transportation Safety Board were at the scene.

The Golden West airliner, a De Havilland Twin Otter, carried 10 passengers and two crew members, airline officials said.

The Cessna 150 had taken off from nearby Long Beach Airport only minutes before the collision.

Crew Of Five The T29 in the Virginia crash carried a crew of five and two passengers. Two persons were aboard the smaller craft.

The Cessna, which officials said was piloted by a Navy enlisted man stationed at Little Creek Naval Base in Norfolk, Va., had left Norfolk Regional Airport late Thursday afternoon and filed a flight plan indicating it intended to remain in the area.

Wild Weather Hits Texas

Snowdrifts as deep as three feet dotted the Texas Panhandle today, and numerous points in East Texas surveyed wind damage in the wake of raging thunderstorms and at least one tornado.

A cold front which already was racing out of the state toward the southeast by early morning triggered the wild weather as it collided with a humid mass of warm air from the Gulf of Mexico.

The resulting turbulence prompted a tornado watch, lasting into the predawn hours for 18 counties in North Central and Northeast Texas.

Winds To Diminish Gusty winds that whipped the Tall City Thursday should diminish tonight, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

Arriving in Midland with the wind was a temperature drop which saw Thursday's high of 71 slide to an overnight low of 32, with today's anticipated high reaching only the lower 50s.

The weatherman predicts a low tonight in the middle 20s and a Saturday high in the middle 50s.

Winds Stir Snow Winds gusting to 25 m.p.h. this morning stirred up the fall snow in the Panhandle Plains sector. Three-foot drifts piled up around Perryton, although the snowfall there and at Dalhart measured only two inches. Forty miles northeast of Perryton at Beaver, Okla., the measurement was five inches.

While stiff north winds chilled most of the state, stout gusts from the south churned tides two to three feet above normal along the Upper Texas Coast and threatened to chew into some coastal roads.

Temperatures near dawn plunged to 16 degrees at Dalhart, 18 at Perryton and 26 at Amarillo as the Panhandle Press reported.

at the rate of current spending, there would be a surplus of $1.4 billion on Aug. 31, 1977. But the board's recommended budget would eat up all but about $500 million of that.

Bullock said in a statement that Texas has been fortunate in withstanding the impact of national conditions and inheriting a surplus which was created by inflation and the international oil and gas problems.

"These revenues are available for our wise use, but there is no financial Santa Claus," he said. "We must provide for ourselves."

Late Bulletins

LONDON (AP) — The five main gold dealers on the London gold market fixed the price of the precious metal at more than $171 an ounce this afternoon—down $3 from the opening level. And in Zurich, the price edged down a dollar to $179 an ounce.

AUSTIN (AP) — The Governor's Energy Advisory Council voted overwhelmingly today in favor of regulation of public utilities by the state, with Gov. Dolph Briscoe's chief adviser voting "no."

Plane Crash Killing 88 Blamed On Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bomb on board caused the Trans World Airlines jetliner crash which killed 88 persons off the coast of Greece last September, the National Transportation Safety Board said today.

Another TWA flight over the same area two weeks earlier also had a bomb hidden in the plane but that device malfunctioned, the safety board said.

That device was found in a suitcase after a fire was discovered in the cargo hold.

However, the safety board said it was not confirmed that a bomb was on board that plane until after the other TWA plane had crashed.

The successful sabotage was the first against a United States aircraft since 1964 when a Pacific Airlines flight crashed after the pilots were shot. It was the first confirmed bomb explosion on an American aircraft since 1962 when a Continental Airlines jet crashed in Missouri, killing all 45 persons on board.

A bomb also was suspected in the disappearance of a National Airlines plane over the Gulf of Mexico in 1962 but this never was proven.

The safety board said laboratory investigations of debris recovered from the doomed TWA plane "establish conclusively that the detonation of a high-order explosive took place in the aircraft's air cargo compartment."

The TWA plane was on a flight from Tel Aviv, Israel, to New York, with stops in Athens

Bullock Is Expecting $999 Million Surplus At End Of Fiscal Year

AUSTIN (AP)—Comptroller Bob Bullock, in his first revenue estimate since taking the job, predicted today that $999 million surplus will be available at the close of the fiscal year for spending by the new legislature.

Bullock estimated that $4.04 billion in general revenue, including the surplus, would be available during the state's next two-year business period for spending by the new legislature.

The Legislative Budget Board estimated previously that, at the rate of current spending, there would be a surplus of $1.4 billion on Aug. 31, 1977. But the board's recommended budget would eat up all but about $500 million of that.

Bullock said in a statement that Texas has been fortunate in withstanding the impact of national conditions and inheriting a surplus which was created by inflation and the international oil and gas problems.

"These revenues are available for our wise use, but there is no financial Santa Claus," he said. "We must provide for ourselves."

Bullock said he would issue another revenue estimate at the end of March, making use of later information and taking into account any emergency appropriations approved by the legislature.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has asked emergency action on $304 million in appropriations for immediate aid to schools, for public employ pay raises and for teacher retirement benefits.

Two Probes Are Slated For Pecos

Two exploratory tests have been scheduled in Pecos County. Gulf Oil Corp. will drill No. 1-1C Blackstone, et al-State, a 13,500-foot prospector, 10 miles southwest of Fort Stockton.

Drill site is 1,320 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 144, block 3, T&P survey, 3 1/2 miles northeast of the Oates, Northeast (Devonian) gas field.

Texas Oil & Gas Corp. will drill No. 1-C Blackstone-Slaughter as a 9,200-foot prospector for Strawn oil and Devonian gas, six miles west of Sheffield.

It spots 967 feet from north and 647 feet from east lines of section 64, block A-2, TCRR survey, 1/2 mile east of an 8,900-foot failure and two miles east of the Yucca Butte, West (Pennsylvanian detrital) field. It also is 1/2 mile north of Hillin Production Co. No. 1-64 Blackstone, a scheduled deep wildcat, which has been abandoned.

Exxon Completes Discovery In Lea

Exxon Corp. has completed No. 1 Fairview Mills-Federal as a Wolfcamp gas discovery in Lea County, N.M., 2 1/2 miles west of the Dogie Draw (Wolfcamp) oil field.

It gauged a preliminary, calculated, absolute open flow of 5.7 million cubic feet of gas, plus 238 barrels of condensate per day, through perforations at 13,797-13,805 feet.

Drilled to 20,915 feet, it is plugged back to 13,830 feet, in a 7 1/2-inch liner hung from 12,561-16,835 feet.

It also tested through Fusselman and Ellenburger perforations.

Location is 960 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 14-25s-34e, 14 miles west of Jal.

Operator was preparing to run an official potential test.

TIPCO To Drill Sterling Wildcat

TIPCO, operating from Midland, has amended to an 8,100-foot wildcat in Sterling County, its No. 1 Glass, previously planned as a two-mile north outpost to the Big Salate (Canyon) oil field.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 19, block 22, H&C survey, 13 miles west of Sterling City.

Triple Well Finals In Borden Sector

The Fluvanna, Southwest field of Borden County gained its first triple producer with completion from two additional zones at James P. Dunigan, Inc., Ahlens, No. 2-B Clyde Miller, Ellenburger oiler, four miles west of Fluvanna.

It finished as a fourth lower Strawn well and location northwest extension to that pay. (Continued On Page 10B)

CIA Reportedly Destroyed Files On Some 10,000 Dissidents In U. S.

Man Charged In Deaths Of Four Women

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Four Raleigh women, three of them sisters, have been killed in a series of shootings police say apparently were related.

Joe Louis Harris, 39, Raleigh, was charged with four counts of murder in the shootings late Thursday, officers said.

Police said that the three sisters were killed in the same general area and the body of the fourth victim was found about three miles from there.

All had been shot with a small caliber gun, officers said.

The victims were identified as Gertrude Clark Harmon, 29; Azalee Clark Jackson, 31; and Bernice Clark Harrington, 33; the sisters; and Haveligh Monte Ravera White, 51.

Police said one of the victims, Mrs. Harmon, had been charged Sept. 23 with throwing lye into Harris' eyes.

Harris also was charged with kidnaping, police said. They said Mrs. Jackson's husband was locked in the trunk of a car just before his wife was shot to death.

Police said Robert Jackson told them that he and his wife were at Harris' home when Harris ordered him into the trunk of a car.

Jackson told police he heard screams, then one or two shots. He told officers the car then was driven a short distance where he heard two more shots. Jackson said he was then freed.

It's Just Too Cold In Alaska, Folks

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — It is too cold in Alaska to mush. And that, Florida, is cold! The 49th state is longing for a seaborne storm and the accompanying warming winds to boost the thermometer above zero. But forecasters say immediate prospects for such relief are dim.

So, as Alaskans curl up next to fireplaces and pile on the blankets, a whole new repertoire of "It's so cold..." jokes are born. Carefully waxed skis are indoors. Cars are plugged into sockets for heat. Bedraggled plants dangle in windows, suffering from terminal frost-through-glass bite. Even dog teams are staying home because of the cold blast. Sled dog mushers canceled last weekend's scheduled races.

Cold Temperatures

Thursday, Anchorage recorded temperatures near 20 below zero. Some 700 miles north in the oil fields at Prudhoe Bay, it was 44 below. Bettles had 55 below. But the chill spawned by fierce arctic winds pushed the frigid factor far lower in the interior mountains.

It was too cold to snow. And the ice pack in Cook Inlet bordering Anchorage was two feet thick, causing minor delays in shipping.

At Fairbanks, it was 40 below after last weekend's 65 below. A thick coating of snow and dense ice fog failed to stymie citizens as they puffed along in their personalized clouds of ice crystals.

Schools Closed

Schools, closed Monday and Tuesday because of the zero visibility triggered by the temperature inversion, again were in session and most businesses were open. But plane flights to Anchorage and the North Slope were erratic because of the fog.

Plumbers can't keep up with the calls and many homes had water damage because of exploding pipes. One enterprising Fairbanks woman saved her carpet by reversing her vacuum cleaner's flow and aiming it at the ice-clogged water lines.

"The only major problem we've got is with cars and trucks that simply won't move," said one resident. "That wouldn't be so bad except that the tow trucks are frozen too."

Justice Department officials have been given reason to believe that the lists supplied by the department were separate from another list of American political radicals that was maintained by the CIA's counterintelligence division, the source said Thursday night.

The CIA also has told the Justice Department that it made no use of the lists supplied in 1970 by a Justice Department domestic intelligence unit, according to the administration source. The lists reportedly were destroyed last March, the source said.

Midland Resident Attending Course

COLLEGE STATION — Johnny C. Krause of Midland is among 28 participants this week in a water pollution control technology short course at Texas A&M University.

The weeklong course, culminating Saturday in a certification examination, provides public works and utilities information.

The lists had been supplied to the CIA to allow the agency to increase surveillance of U.S. political dissidents while they were on trips abroad.

It could not be determined why the CIA did not use the lists or why the agency destroyed them.

There have been allegations in recent weeks that the CIA spied on leaders of the antiwar movement and on radicals within the United States during the late 1960s and early 1970s.

However, a former assistant attorney general said Thursday that intelligence data received by the Justice Department provides no indication that the CIA conducted any domestic spying.

The CIA is barred by law from internal security functions, but is not restricted in its surveillance activities in foreign countries.

Jerry Leonard, the former Justice Department official, said the names were supplied to the CIA with a "request to advise the Justice Department of the specifics of any foreign travel" by the leaders of domestic disturbances.

According to Leonard, the radicals were suspected of traveling abroad to receive training in civil disturbance techniques.

It was unclear whether this was the same list referred to by the New York Times in an article quoting unnamed sources as saying that the CIA kept files on 10,000 American citizens.

In other developments in the CIA controversy: —Former CIA Director Richard M. Helms has agreed to undergo questioning by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the allegations of domestic spying. Helms will appear at a closed hearing.

—The Washington Post reported in today's editions that the CIA secretly read the mail of AFL-CIO President George Meany and two of his aides during the 1950s.

—Eugene Fodor of Fodor's Travel Guides Inc., said "a handful" of writers he hired to work in Europe in the 1950s were CIA agents. However, Fodor denied assertions by E. Howard Hunt that his company was formed with the help of the CIA. Hunt, a convicted Watergate burglar, is a former CIA agent.

—Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., said the CIA solicited bids last November for a study of ground and air transportation technology in foreign countries that might become competitive threats to U.S. industry.

Woman Governor Will Sell Plane

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Gov. Ella Grasso has ordered that a plane bought by her predecessor be sold because Connecticut can't afford it.

"A state plane is a luxury we cannot afford at a time when the state faces a critical budget situation," said Mrs. Grasso, the first woman in the nation to become governor who did not follow her husband into office.

Gov. Thomas J. Meskill, a pilot, purchased the 1974 Piper Navajo last month for $260,400 and trade-ins on two older state aircraft.

Rabbi Says Nixon Mistreated By Government

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon spent a quiet 62nd birthday, visiting for a while with an admirer who emerged to tell reporters that the former president had been mistreated by the government.

Included in the missing objects are such things as a cartoon, elephant, pen and gavel collections, Julie Nixon Eisenhower's wedding dress and Pat Nixon's inaugural gowns, he said.

Nixon, an undicted coconspirator in the Watergate case, resigned under pressure last August.

Rabbi Baruch Korff told reporters Thursday that personal records and memorabilia from Nixon's political career had been withheld from him "without reason and without excuse" for the five months he has been out of office.

Rabbi Baruch Korff told reporters Thursday that personal records and memorabilia from

"want them now, their personal property, because they are theirs in the first place."

A White House spokesman told the Los Angeles Times that language in a recent bill appropriating government funds for maintenance of Nixon can be construed as mandating the withholding of anything the former president had acquired in office.

The matter is understood to be under discussion between Nixon's lawyers and government attorneys, the spokesman said. He said the collection of elephants, pens and gavels were included in the personal effects, but he could not confirm that gowns were among them.

Nixon's wife, Pat, was with him on his birthday.

President Ford telephoned Nixon to wish him a happy birthday, and the two reportedly conversed for a few minutes.

Rabbi Korff, trustee of the President Nixon Justice Fund, organized to pay Nixon's mounting legal expenses, chipped in with Nixon's staff and presented him with flowers Thursday. Nixon also had a cake, a staff member said.

Rabbi Korff said Nixon was pleased at the release from prison of three former associates, but the rabbi said emphatically that he felt Nixon owed the nation no further statement of contrition, remorse or explanation of Watergate.

Daniel Ousts Top Assistant Of Heir-Apparent As Speaker

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — With five days left in office, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. has ousted the top assistant of his apparent successor from a committee clerk's job.

Daniel said House rules had been violated by Jack Gullahorn's activities on behalf of the speakership candidacy of Rep. Bill Clayton, D-Springlake.

Clayton is expected to be elected speaker when the legislature convenes Tuesday, with Gullahorn, 26, his probable executive assistant.

Daniel privately had hoped Rep. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, would win the speakership, but Clayton has collected pledges of support from two-thirds of the 150 House members.

Gullahorn receives $500 a month for his work in Clayton's campaign, plus $700 as a clerk for the House Natural Resources Committee and its subcommittee on water.

House Administrator James Cole received a memorandum from Daniel Thursday morning instructing him to lop from the payroll any employe, except those on representatives' personal staffs, who was assisting in a campaign for speaker.

House Rule Cited — "Included among those terminated from such payrolls should be Mr. Jack Gullahorn," Daniel said.

Daniel cited a House rule against House employes participating in speakership campaigns. House parliamentarian Bob Johnson has rendered an informal opinion that committee clerks are not covered by the rule.

Cole showed reporters a House resolution giving the speaker power to remove an employe "when in (his) judgment the best interests of the House of Representatives would be served by so doing."

It has been widely known, and reported by Clayton in his financial statements for months, that Gullahorn was working in the Clayton campaign for speaker.

But Carlton Carl, Daniel's administrative assistant, said Daniel became concerned only recently "when it was brought to his attention that Mr. Gullahorn and other employes of the House were working in speaker campaigns."

Clayton later issued a statement saying he did not think any House rules had been violated. "However, neither Jack nor I have any desire to embarrass Speaker Daniel and his aide, Carlton Carl, by pressing the matter further, and for that reason Jack has asked to end the question by his resignation."

But Carlton Carl, Daniel's administrative assistant, said Daniel became concerned only recently "when it was brought to his attention that Mr. Gullahorn and other employes of the House were working in speaker campaigns."

Clayton later issued a statement saying he did not think any House rules had been violated. "However, neither Jack nor I have any desire to embarrass Speaker Daniel and his aide, Carlton Carl, by pressing the matter further, and for that reason Jack has asked to end the question by his resignation."

House Rule Cited — "Included among those terminated from such payrolls should be Mr. Jack Gullahorn," Daniel said.

Daniel cited a House rule against House employes participating in speakership campaigns. House parliamentarian Bob Johnson has rendered an informal opinion that committee clerks are not covered by the rule.

Cole showed reporters a House resolution giving the speaker power to remove an employe "when in (his) judgment the best interests of the House of Representatives would be served by so doing."

It has been widely known, and reported by Clayton in his financial statements for months, that Gullahorn was working in the Clayton campaign for speaker.

Carrasco Shootout Last Year May Block Meaningful Prison Reform Legislation

AUSTIN (AP) — The shootout with Fred Gomez Carrasco at Huntsville last Aug. 3 will prevent any meaningful prison reform this legislative session, predicts Rep. Mickey Leland, D-Houston.

"The time is not right," said Leland, vice chairman of the Joint Committee on Prison Reform and a leader in the effort to change the way Texas treats prisoners.

The Carrasco affair destroyed "any hope of trying to promote prison reform in Texas for this session," Leland said.

Carrasco, inmate Rodolfo Dominguez and two hostages died in the attempted escape from the Walls Unit of the Texas penitentiary.

More Disturbances Likely — That incident will not prevent further disturbances, however, Leland said.

Legislative opponents of reform will talk about Carrasco every time reform is mentioned, Leland said, but "they don't realize that inmates are going to revolt, even at the sacrifice of their lives, for prison reform."

Some gains will be made in the area of appropriations for rehabilitation programs, he forecast, because Jim Estelle, prison director, will push for these.

Some of the proposals made by Leland's committee were for more work-release programs, study of conjugal visits, community-based correctional operations, and a study of the possibility of giving "allowances and incentives" to inmates, especially those who are indigent.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who presides over the Senate, and Speaker-apparent Bill Clayton, D-Springlake, say they have not had time to study the committee's recommendations in detail, but Hobby agreed with Leland that the adverse effect of the Carrasco matter is "inevitable."

However, Hobby said, more money can be expected from the legislature for prison medical services. The Legislative Budget Board recommended on Dec. 18 that 33 medical personnel, including six doctors, be added to the 106 jobs budgeted for this year in the medical section.

Also, the board recommended that doctors' salaries be raised from $24,500, plus housing and utilities, to $32,000 in an attempt to be more competitive in attracting and holding physicians. On conjugal visits, Hobby said, "I'm inclined to be in favor of it," but he said he was not well versed on the proposal.

Any kind of payment for work that approaches minimum wage—something the committee deliberately refrained from proposing—amounts to "a whole bunch of money," Hobby said.

Clayton said allowances and incentives "might hold some merit if something like this was proposed for those prisoners with good conduct, as an enticement."

Child Care Proposals — Several proposals are expected to be offered to the legislature in the area of child care, and most will ask that the age limit be raised from 16 to 18 for children covered by facilities that must be licensed by the Welfare Department.

In a case involving radio evangelist Lester Roloff, the Texas Supreme Court last year upheld the age figure, 16, that the Welfare Department had used as a matter of administrative policy for three decades.

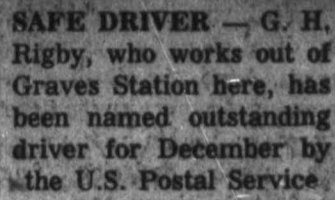

Asst. Atty. Gen. Lynn Taylor said this leaves those children between 16 and 18 "out in the cold. They're not adults. They're not going to be protected by any law" unless the legislature acts.

The Texas Youth Council has been ordered by U.S. District Judge William Justice of Tyler to phase out the big rural reform schools such as Gatesville and Mountain View. The TYC has presented Justice with alternative proposals, including the retention of Gatesville for the toughest juveniles, but the judge has not yet said whether they are acceptable. Deputy Director Clinton Kersey says.

The prison reform committee recommended a wait-and-see attitude on the TYC dispute.

Halfway House Objections — Rep. Emmett Whitehead, D-Rusk, reacted angrily to Justice's demand that juveniles be placed in halfway houses and that patients at the Rusk State Hospital for the criminally insane be turned loose if doctors determine they are sane.

Whitehead said he might introduce a bill to put a halfway house next door to Justice's home in the "silk-stocking district" of Tyler.

SAFE DRIVER — G. H. Rigby, who works out of Graves Station here, has been named outstanding driver for December by the U.S. Postal Service.

Today In History

By The Associated Press — Today is Friday, January tenth, the tenth day of 1975. There are 355 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: In 1946, the first General Assembly of the United Nations convened in London.

On this date — In 1776, the American revolutionist Thomas Paine published his pamphlet, "Common Sense."

In 1815, Britain declared war against the King of Kandy on the island of Ceylon.

In 1899, France established a protectorate over the Ivory Coast in Africa.

In 1920, the League of Nations was established as the Treaty of Versailles went into effect.

In 1928, one of the chief architects of the Soviet Union, Leon Trotsky, was ordered into exile.

In 1942, Japanese invaded the Dutch East Indies in World War Two.

Ten years ago: Ports from Maine to Texas began shutting down as dockworkers struck on the East and Gulf Coasts.

Five years ago: Twenty-four persons died in a nursing home fire at Marietta, Ohio.

One year ago: President Nixon impounded nearly one-half of $7 billion allocated by Congress to help communities build sewage treatment plants.

Today's birthdays: Opera baritone Sherill Milnes is 40 years old. Actor and dancer Ray Bolger is 71.

Thought for today: A wise man will make more opportunities than he finds. — Sir Francis Bacon, English philosopher and writer, 1561-1626.

Humphrey Vetoes Primaries In '76 — ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Saying "I just don't want to go through it again," Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey vowed to sign affidavits of noncandidacy in order to keep his name off presidential primary election ballots in 1976.

The Minnesota Democrat said in an interview Wednesday, "I'm not going down the primary route or run around to these state conventions. If the party should turn to me, that's a different matter."

Sweden To Honor Comedian Chaplin — OSLO, Norway (AP) — Comedian Charles Chaplin, who was knighted by Queen Elizabeth II of England last week, will have a statue erected in his honor in Oslo.

City Cinema Director Arnljot Engh said sculptor Nils Aas has been asked to come up with a model, either life-size or smaller.

CLOTHING DILEMMA— Small-Size Women Facing Problems

By AUDREY GELLIS
Copley News Service

The garment industry is in serious trouble with dozens of companies closing and tens of thousands of employees laid off. The situation is so grim that New York City (where most apparel manufacturing is centered) has appointed a special commission to help save the industry.

Part of the industry's troubles is that women can no longer be bullied into buying whatever a coalition of designers, manufacturers, retailers and magazine editors declare to be this year's look. (It hardly seems appropriate to label a problem that fact that women are no longer compelled to buy unnecessary clothing.)

The other source of industry woe is the recession-inflation economy. With jobs in jeopardy and food prices skyrocketing, many women are willing to settle for the status quo in their closets.

Still Around
Nevertheless, there is still disposable income around and more of it would be disposed of in women's clothing if the fashion people were less concerned with dictating to women than serving us. For instance, they might start by straightening out the sizing mess.

Right now there are three size categories: "Misses"—which is the tall, slender, modelish ideal; "Juniors"—which means short and short-waisted (I don't know where they got the name; are we supposed to grow up to be Misses?); and lastly, "Women's"—sized for those (horror) neither slender nor young. (Note that while "woman" has become a term of pride to feminists, it's still a stigma in the fashion world.)

Most designing effort and expertise go into Misses sizes; Juniors are the stepdaughters of the industry with the basic look being that of a sophisticated teen-ager. Sometimes I think the master pattern must have originally been a drum majorette's uniform.

Impossible Dream
Since I'm 5 feet, 2 inches tall, I'm a Junior size, which means that buying anything that is at all appropriate for the adult I am is an almost impossible dream, entailing endless shopping expeditions and adding the cost of my time to the cost of whatever I buy.

There are exceptions and these are higher-priced clothes. Evidently a Junior who can afford to pay in the neighborhood of $100 for a dress is considered an adult.

If Junior sizes are the stepdaughters of fashion, then Women's sizes are stepmothers (wicked Cinderella type), judging from their treatment. Most women's departments offer a standard uniform—a shirtwaist in drab colors or uninspired prints. Again, the situation improves as the price on the ticket increases; women with money are worth designing for regardless of size or age.

Department stores are set up according to these three categories and fashion houses specialize in only one size group. Thus the stereotype of the Junior and dowdy matron are perpetrated.

It's about time for the apparel industry to stop bewailing the demise of dictatorial chic and do something about reorganizing its sizing situation. They could start by setting up three or four basic figure types (based on real women—not models) with no ageist overtones.

Then the same designs could be offered in several size types. We Juniors can really wear the same styles as our taller sisters; just shorten the waistlines and hemlines. And except for the truly obese, there are very few styles that plump women can't wear, providing they're cut in the proper proportions.

Study Club Has Business Meeting

The Progressive Study Club met Wednesday in the Midland Woman's Club for a business session. Mrs. Thomas P. Ingram, president, welcomed members and guests and led the reading of the club collect.

Guests were Mrs. George Doyle and Mrs. Doug Swift. Mrs. J. C. Lawrence was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Joe Rhodes was hostess to the social hour following the meeting. Mrs. Conard Reeves served cake, and Mrs. A. A. Jones served coffee.

Mrs. John E. Reid, Mrs. W. C. Kimball and Mrs. Lee Davis were appointed to serve on the nominating committee. A report will be given at the Jan. 22 meeting.

Following the social period, members made a tour of Midland College.

Robin Schlagal, McCarley Wed In Home Ceremony

Robin Elizabeth Schlagal and Andrew William McCarley Jr. were married Thursday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Schlagal, Cotton Flat Road. The Rev. Ross Payne, pastor of Cotton Flat Baptist Church, officiated for the double ring ceremony and Polly Creech, pianist, and cousin of the bride, provided wedding music.

Parents of the bridegroom are A. W. McCarley of Austin and Mrs. Virgil Bowling of Clyde.

Carla Cross of Fort Worth attended the bride as maid of honor and best man was Robert Durbin of Midland. Ushers were Russell Mark Schlagal and Charles Schlagal of Midland, both brothers of the bride.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street-length dress fashioned with an Empire waistline, Chantilly lace bodice and sleeves and a peau de soie skirt.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the reception. Serving in the house

The couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., following the ceremony, and reside at 1710 N. A. St., Apt. 30.

Mrs. FitzGerald Presents Review

Mrs. John M. FitzGerald reviewed "Thomas Jefferson" by Dr. Fawn M. Brodie for a meeting Wednesday of the Fine Arts Club in the Midland Woman's Club.

Mrs. John T. Hampton, program chairman, introduced Mrs. FitzGerald, who discussed the personal and political activities of Jefferson.

Mrs. Charles Hicks conducted the business session. Mrs. John E. Cross, Mrs. Albert M. Horne and Mrs. Walter Putnam were elected to the nominating committee.

Hostesses to the tea hour were Mrs. George Vannaman and Mrs. Yale E. Key. Centering the serving table was an antique ceramic automobile filled with flowers.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Stained Patent Defies Cleanup

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Editor/Printer Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I cannot remove some lipstick stains from an expensive white patent purse I bought in Europe. There is no chance of contacting the store for information. These stains are from my hands after I had applied the lipstick and not straight from the tube. I have tried bleach, polish remover and detergents as well as the polish I bought with the bag but nothing helps. I also have shoes to match and hate to wear them soiled. — ROSE.

DEAR ROSE — I do not know whether there now is a difference in foreign made patent but ours is usually a vinyl. I have had great luck removing spots of many kinds from white vinyl patent shoes and purses by rubbing with a cloth that had been dipped in rubbing alcohol. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pevee is with people and organizations who insist on offering candy to children. I always have had trouble and resulting great expense with my teeth and am trying to save my children from the same. Our kids do get candy on holidays and special occasions so they are not deprived of it. On a day-to-day basis it is not available to them at home. It is hard to explain to a child that your reason for having them refuse it is for their own well-being. They cannot understand when they are offered it by the banker, at Sunday School for having been good and even by the doctor.

My Pointer is along the same line as for the above reason plus the high cost of sugar. I cut down on the amount of sugar used in desserts made at home. I use just enough to satisfy that "sweet tooth."

DEAR LIZ — Since candy is also becoming more expensive due to the high cost of sugar perhaps your Pevee will be eliminated since candy may not be offered so freely. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Before I go grocery shopping I put my very STURDY rectangular plastic clothes basket in the back of the station wagon. Two brown grocery bags fit nicely in the basket. When they are put in at the grocery I am sure that one contains the "fragiles." The support of the basket keeps them from tipping over and spilling during the drive home. Put basket in the car last so it comes out first and carry groceries into the house in the basket. You have handles for a good grip and there is no danger of a torn paper bag. I seem to get the job done faster or perhaps it is the elimination of the frustration I used to feel. Do be sure yours is a heavy-duty basket and it will last a long, long time. — MRS. R.M.M.

Bride Honored
Mrs. Louis Farrington, the former Beth Ingram, was honored recently with a household gift party in the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Service Co. Mrs. Johnny Hill, Mrs. Ken White and Dot Laird were the hostesses.

Book Review Unit Holds Luncheon

The Book Review Unit of the Midland Woman's Club met recently in the clubhouse for a luncheon.

Mrs. I. W. Hynd, Mrs. Dae Davis, Mrs. Earl T. Glasgow and Mrs. Ken Clark greeted the guests. Mrs. Laura Self presided at the punch service for the social period prior to the luncheon.

The unit president, Mrs. Martin Neill, presented the welcome, and Mrs. Ernest Neill gave the invocation.

Mrs. B. J. Tharp introduced the guests, who were Mrs. Bernice Huff, Mrs. Frank Shriver, Mrs. Robert Ivy, Mrs. Curtis C. Rogers, Mrs. Dale Clemmer, Mrs. Robert Lynch, Mrs. Don McMillan, Mrs. A. A. Jones and Paula McMillan. Mrs. Robert Bechtel announced there will be an art exhibit by members of the Midland Palette Club in the clubhouse this month.

Serving on the decorations committee were Mrs. Hynd, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Glasgow and Mrs. Self.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Mom Won't Let Gal, 25, Leave Home

DEAR ABBY: I am a 25-year-old unmarried woman. I hold a responsible position and have been self-supporting since I was 18. I was raised to have decent moral standards and I know right from wrong.

I have always lived at home with my parents. I love them very much, but they are my problem. (Especially my mother.)

I've been wanting to have my own apartment for the last three years, but my mother will not hear of it. She says, "Why would a girl want to have her own apartment, if not to have wild parties and let men sleep over? Nice girls live at home. Tramps have apartments!"

This hurts me, Abby, because I am not a tramp and I do not plan to have any wild parties or let men sleep over.

I have dated some, but I never had a steady. I'm not blaming my mother, but when I'm on a date I keep looking at my watch because I know she's waiting up for me.

Am I wrong to want my own apartment? And how can I convince my mother that she's wrong?

OVER-PROTECTED
DEAR OVER: You may not be able to convince your mother that she's wrong, but if you're wise, you'll cut the cord. You sound like a mature young woman. So the word from here is, go, and don't feel guilty.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 26 years, have three wonderful children and thought I had a good marriage. I now find that my husband (a school teacher) has been having an affair with an 18-year-old girl. He is 48.

I've given him one chance after another, but he says he's "addicted" to this girl. I've showered him with love and understanding, but he still goes back to this girl, who is the age of one of his daughters. He attends church faithfully and even teaches a Sunday school class, and none of this seems to bother him. I'm about ready to go out of my mind. It's needless to say how all this affects our teen-aged daughters.

I say he's sick. He says he's fine. He lies all the time, which is not like him. Do I kick him out, or force him to see a doctor?

HAD IT
DEAR HAD IT: If it's possible to force a man to see a doctor, that's exactly what you should do. Of course he's sick. His behavior is in conflict with his moral principles.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning to marry a woman who was widowed four years ago. (This will be my first marriage.) When we went to pick out the rings, she said all she wanted was an "engagement ring" because she wanted to be married with the wedding ring she now owns. This struck me as being rather odd, but I didn't say anything. (I wasn't even sure I heard right.)

We finally had a discussion about it, and she insists that she doesn't want me to buy her a wedding band—she wants to continue wearing the one her first husband gave her.

Have you ever heard of this before? I am now wondering if it would be a mistake to marry her.

We have known each other only four months, but have spent several weekends together and I thought we knew each other well enough.

I would like your opinion.
SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR SECOND: I'd have second (third, and fourth) thoughts about marrying her. Get to know her better yet. And don't marry her (or anyone else) while there are still doubts in your mind.

Pre-Nuptial Party
Fetes Sarah Nanny

A coffee and kitchen shower honoring Sarah Stuart Nanny of Tulsa, Okla. was held Thursday in the home of Mrs. George Eng, 3105 Gulf St. Hostesses with Mrs. Eng were Mrs. J. C. McFarland, Mrs. Robert A. Hobbs and Mrs. Walter S. Parks Jr.

Miss Nanny and William Regan Brunner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Brunner, 914 Princeton St., will be married at 4 p.m. Jan. 25 in the Trinity Episcopal Church at Tulsa.

A door piece of dried wheat and hand decorated caricatures of the bride-elect and bridegroom-to-be greeted guests. Entering the serving table in the dining room was a brown and white canister set filled with an arrangement of spaghetti, macaroni, dried wheat and wooden kitchen utensils.

House party members were Mrs. Rufe S. Bynum Jr., Mrs. John Grimland Jr., Mrs. John Hackney, Mrs. L. Decker Dawson, Mrs. John Euston, Mrs. John Runwe and Mrs. Courtney Cowden.

Smorgasbord
Luncheon Set

The United Methodist Youth Fellowship at First United Methodist Church is planning a smorgasbord luncheon Sunday noon. The public is invited.

Serving will begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 1 p.m. in the church fellowship hall. The menu will include fried chicken and steak, along with a variety of salads, vegetables and desserts. Proceeds from the luncheon will be used for various UMYF projects.

Houston Man
Mister Midwife

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston man claiming to be the world's only full-time male "midwife" went to state district court recently and legally changed his name to Mister Midwife.

"Every time the police stop you and ask for your driver's license," Judge William Blanton told the newly named man, "you better have a copy of this order or they'll think you're putting them on."

With Judge Blanton's signature, Norman Casserley, 47, became Mister Midwife.

"I'm about the last one left doing this full-time," Midwife said. "I guess they are probably about extinct. I think the name change will bring attention to the public again."

Midwife said he came to Houston from his native Dublin, Ireland, 26 years ago and started practicing midwifery.

Ford To Ask $15-Billion Tax Cut

(Continued From Page 1A) would be handled separately from tax refund checks, due those entitled to refunds for over-withholding deductions. Officials cautioned that final decisions had not been made on the rebate plan, but several sources said it was in the outline of the President's program now being presented to top level officials.

Another key element of the program is a $3 per barrel levy on imported and domestic oil. This would result in higher retail gasoline prices, but officials said ways of returning the estimated $15 billion to $18 billion raised by such levies to the economy are being considered. To ease the impact of a rebate system on the Treasury, officials were talking in terms of spreading the rebates to individual taxpayers over a nine-month period. This could mean, for example, that some taxpayers would receive a check in April, while others would receive checks in July or September.

"It's not a question of everyone getting their checks on April 15," said one source familiar with the planning. As the high level economic discussions continued today, indications mounted that Ford would present his State of the Union address to Congress next week soon after it opens its 94th session. The previously targeted date had been Jan. 20. A decision on timing of the address presumably was a major topic scheduled for discussion in Ford's afternoon conference with House Speaker Carl Albert.

The idea of sending every taxpayer a check was reminiscent of Sen. George McGovern's pledge during the 1972 presidential campaign to replace the welfare system with a minimum income grant that would be paid to every citizen. Annual checks of $1,000 would be sent to every citizen, according to one example that McGovern used to demonstrate his plan.

The plan reportedly being studied by the Ford administration could conceivably fit in with tentative presidential decisions to impose a $3-per-barrel levy on imported and domestic oil and channel that revenue back into the economy in the form of lower taxes or a "rebate" device. One Ford aide cautioned against any suggestion the President had decided on the unusual plan to place spendable cash in consumers' hands. "All the pieces of the puzzle aren't fitting together," he said. But other sources said such a plan means "U.S. Treasury checks sent to taxpayers could total anywhere from $15 billion to $30 billion. This would average about $70 to $140 for each of the roughly 200 million men, women and children in America."

Reserve Officers To Hold Banquet

The Reserve Officers Association here will install 11 new officers at its annual banquet tonight in the Elks Club. The event will begin at 6:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Toni Malins, national first vice president, Reserve Officers Association—Ladies (ROAL). Mrs. Malins is being accompanied by her husband, Capt. Chester Malins, USNR. Mrs. Malins is in Midland to set up a ROAL group here. She said ROAL is patriotic and "serves exclusively to support the ROA in its efforts to safeguard our country through national security."

Good Idea Not Always Good Idea

Austin Bureau AUSTIN — Sometimes a good idea isn't such a good idea. Newly elected State Comptroller Robert Bullock was somewhat irritated that two of his key staff members have been consistently late for staff meetings. So, his No. 1 aide, Harry Ledbetter, told Bullock that back when he was playing football for Texas A&M, Coach Gene Stallings had a system of calling pregame meetings and locking the door at the appointed time. "If you weren't there, you wouldn't know the plays so you couldn't play that week," Ledbetter explained.

'Donnybrook' Looms On Gas Line Route

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — through Alaska and to the West. predicts the 94th Congress will have a "real Donnybrook" over a routing of a natural gas pipeline from his state's North Slope. Stevens said Thursday a small segment of Congress "wants to foreclose the Federal Power Commission from making the decision" whether to ship gas through Canada or Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., is pushing to remove the routing question from the FCC. Stevens said But he said he doubts it will succeed despite the 1973 precedent set by congressional authorization of the trans-Alaska oil pipeline. The decision would rest ultimately with Congress anyway. Stevens said in an interview, but the FCC decision is our primary consideration at the moment.

Two Persons Held In Theft Case

Two Midlanders were in custody at city jail today pending charges for the theft of more than $3,000 worth of cash and checks from the Handy Spot Grocery, 1100 N. Lamesa Road. Police said the pair, a man and woman, were arrested late Thursday after employees at the grocery reported the theft.

Sculpture Found In Prigmore's Car

A bronze western statue was found in the car of Richard T. Prigmore by officers who investigated his death Tuesday near Shallowater, the FBI confirmed today in Midland. The statue was believed to be one which was stolen last April from the home here of Mrs. Bennie Sue Thomas, authorities said. Prigmore, of Midland, died Tuesday after he was hit by a train near Shallowater.

On Monday, he had been arrested in Odessa and charged with interstate transportation of stolen merchandise—a painting—and assault on a federal officer. The Charles Russell statue is of a cowboy on a horse leading a pack mule; officers said. Lubbock Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy said he would hold a hearing Jan. 17 and then make a ruling in Prigmore's death. LeCroy said Prigmore died of massive head injuries.

Wild Storms Lash Nation

By The Associated Press A powerful winter storm erupted today, triggering tornadoes and flash flooding over parts of the midcontinent after dumping foot-deep snows in the West. Five persons were injured when a twister dipped into the northeast Arkansas community of Springdale early today. Police said the injured came from two mobile homes. Power lines were torn down and one home was heavily damaged. Two persons were reported injured late Thursday when a possible tornado damaged several homes near Lake Providence, La.

Tornado watches remained in effect during the predawn hours for parts of Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. The funnel clouds dipped out of thunderstorms that rumbled through the night from the Lower Mississippi Valley to the Great Lakes region. March-like temperatures in the 40s and 50s were widespread through much of the country, from the central Plains to the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley. Flash flood watches were up for the western half of Arkansas and several counties in Missouri. Golfball-size hail rattled into Ozark, Ark., during the night.

Winter storm watches and warnings remained in effect in the central and northern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley. Travel advisories persisted for mountain areas of the West where up to a foot of snow fell through the early hours Thursday. An avalanche warning was continued for the Colorado Rockies. More than 50 such snow slides were reported there in the last two days. Snow lingered in parts of the Northwest as well as the northern Plains. A fresh 6-inch snow blanket covered Pendleton, Ore.

Clear skies favored sections of the Far West outside the Northwest and most of the Eastern Seaboard. Unseasonably mild weather was the rule in much of the country from the central Plains to the Atlantic. Normal January temperatures were confined to the northern and central Rockies. Temperatures before dawn ranged from -14 at Havre and Cut Bank, Mont., to 75 at Key West, Fla.

Oil Union Accepts Gulf Wage Proposal

(Continued From Page 1A) of the contract: —A wage increase of 75 cents an hour, effective Jan. 8 this year, an additional 4 per cent July 8, 1975, and an additional 8 per cent Jan. 8, 1976. —A wage reopening clause for the second year of the contract if the cost of living in the country rises more than 5 per cent from the Jan. 1, 1976, level. —The addition of a tenth paid holiday. Workers now have nine paid holidays. Improvements in the company portion of hospitalization insurance payments and in pension fund payments also were made, Grospross said. The union's members are involved in production of 60 per cent to 70 per cent of the nation's 14.2-million barrel daily crude oil processing capacity.

Park Weddings No Longer Free

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A free wedding in the park has gone the way of the 50-cent bag of sugar and the nickel cigar with the Milwaukee County Park Commission's decision to charge $5 for the privilege. The fee will help offset administrative expenses and discourage couples from taking out permits for the blissful setting and then not showing up, parks superintendent Alfred Koplin told the commission before Thursday's vote.

Midland County Drought Disaster Rating Sought

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe today asked that Midland County be declared a disaster area because of prolonged drought and other adverse conditions. Briscoe sent the request to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz. If the request is approved, low-cost loans will be made available to farmers and ranchers who suffered losses because of severe weather conditions.

First Savings & Loan Association reported this morning following a Thursday stockholders meeting that the association enjoyed a year of progress in the face of continued inflation and a tight money market. "The tight money situation was eased to some extent during the last quarter of 1974 as a result of Midland's strong economy, and it is our opinion that the increased savings flows will extend into 1975," T. L. Cauthen, association president, said.

Coppola Reaches Life's Midpoint

Copley News Service
HILLYWOOD — "The Godfather" was a drama of a young victim of his heritage. "The Godfather, Part II" is about the effect of ruthless power on its wielder as well as its victims. Francis Ford Coppola was the director and co-writer of both.

Coppola, since ending his film studies at UCLA nearly a decade ago, has had artistic and financial success, occasionally at the same time. During "The Godfather," which made Coppola and others rich, the others felt Coppola might be artsy-crafty and get out of hand.

Speaking of "The Godfather, Part II," Coppola said: "Of course, this is the film where I had the most control, not in the diplomatic sense but in the artistic sense. This has been the best experience I've had."

As for the fears that he might be the goose that laid a box-office egg rather than the golden kind, Coppola said: "I believe it's not necessary to have contractual control over me. I have the good of the film at heart and I always will listen to other people's criticism. I just don't like it when I'm ordered around as I was on the first film."

Ironically, at the peak of a career he has sought since youth, retirement is rumored for Coppola. Is it true?

"In a way, yes. I'm going to retire with a small r. I am going to lead a retiring existence for awhile. During the last year, I turned 35 and decided to view it as the end of Part I of my life."

"It could be considered a midpoint, you know, and certainly a good time to evaluate one's life which I've been doing for some time now. It's certainly a good time to investigate or initiate changes if you want to. And there are certain things I want to do."

"There's some writing I want to do and I want to put together a small group of actors. I have a small theater in San Francisco where we can work."

"I simply want to become involved in a kind of very personal theater-film type of operation which has no aspirations for national or international fame or fortune."

"I'd write something and we'd work on it, maybe present a portion of it to an audience or go out and film it or videotape it, but be loose enough to really experiment with the nature of writing, acting and presentation. I have some theories I'd like to try without the pressure of commercial success."

Capt. Midnight's Returning To Tv After Years-Long Layoff

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — If you're between 25 and 35 years old, you're a product of the Captain Midnight generation of tv viewers. If you are, you may have wondered what's happened to that dashing figure over the years.

Richard Webb played that part, and today Webb is a good-looking man who doesn't look much older than he did in his space-hopping heyday.

From '54 to '58, Captain Midnight was one of the biggest things on the airwaves. For some years after that, the reruns called Jet Jackson, Flying Commando, continued to be big. But then the planets stepped in and things were slow for Webb.

Now, everything's changed. His old sponsor, Qvaltime, has the rights to Captain Midnight and he's negotiated a deal whereby he'll produce new versions of the show. He feels he's too old to play the part, so he'll just produce. And he's updating the scenario a bit — now the dashing captain will tattle around space in a flying saucer.

Webb has also written a book, "These Came Back," which purports to be true reports of reincarnation. He believes in it firmly and cites a story out of his own life as proof.

As a young man, he met a girl and was infatuated with her. But they broke up — he was 19 — and he gave her a book as a parting gift. Some years later, he met a man who told him that, in a previous life, he had been a scribe with Genghis Khan.

Fade out. Fade in. Webb later met that old girl friend and there's still a spark and they got married. She showed him the book he had given her years before. It is the life of Genghis Khan. "Why would a 19-year-old boy give that kind of book to a girl?" he asks, and there is no ready answer.

Beatles Dissolve Last Legal Ties

LONDON (AP) — A court has dissolved the last legal ties binding the Beatles together.

The singers — John Lennon, Paul McCartney, Ringo Starr and George Harrison — have not performed together since 1969. But they have helped one another on various recordings.

The court's action Thursday came almost four years after a high court judge approved a writ filed by McCartney asking that a receiver be appointed to handle the group's multimillion dollar business affairs pending settlement of the suit.

Details of the settlement were not revealed.

Why Casey's good fried chicken tastes so good.

Mouth-Watering Flavor. Every piece is marinated 24 full hours in a flavor bath that soaks good taste right down to the bone.

Big Pieces. Casey's buys bigger chickens and cuts them into fewer pieces.

Extra-Crunch. Each piece is dropped twice in batter for super crisp crust.

Fried like chicken should be. Until they hit the hot shortening, the pieces are kept ice cold, so that the crust seals faster, keeping the grease out and the flavor in.

School Of Christian Living To Begin

An annual event with widespread interest in the city and surrounding area is the School of Christian Living sponsored by the Midland Association of Churches. This year's school will begin Sunday night and continue through Thursday morning in First Presbyterian Church, 900 W. Texas St.

Five outstanding theologians and ministers will serve as faculty members of the 1975 school, theme of which is "Born to Be Responsible." The Rev. Caleb Hildebrand, pastor of Midland's St. Mark's United Methodist Church, is dean of the school.

The opening event of the school is scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday in the First Presbyterian sanctuary, to be followed by the first class sessions at 7:30 p.m.

Monday through Wednesday class sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., with a final session scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Mr. Hildebrand said. He added that persons may sign up for either a morning session or an evening one, or if a person's schedule permits, he may take both a morning and an evening course.

Registration fees for the school are $5 for individuals,

$7 for family groups and $5 for students. Persons may register at the school's opening on Sunday evening.

Courses to be offered in the School of Christian Living and the teacher for each are announced as follows:

— "The Hebrew Bible, Its Theology," Dr. Levi A. Olan, rabbi emeritus of Dallas Temple Emanu-El and a visiting lecturer at Perkins School of Theology of Southern Methodist University. Dr. Olan will center his discussion of the Hebrew Bible around such topics as "Knowing God's Will," "Who Is God?" and "Who Is Man?"

— "The Lively Experiment Revisited: Christ and Cultural Conflict," the Rev. Nathaniel Lacy Jr., a Methodist minister and former professor of practical theology who has been cited for outstanding work in the area of human relations. Mr. Lacy in his classes will examine the Christian faith as a basic resource for dealing with cultural conflict and color-castes within the American civilization.

— "Discovering Your Hidden Potential Through Meditative Prayer," the Rev. L. Robert Keck of Columbus, Ohio, a former Little All-American football star and champion handball player, who presently heads a prayer and meditation research project under a grant from Lilly Endowment and the First Community Church of Columbus.

The visitor will present and examine techniques of meditative prayer for the revitalization of individual life as well as congregational life of churches.

— "Church-State Relationships," Dr. Ronald Bruce Flowers, associate professor of religion at Texas Christian University, formerly a minister of Christian (Disciples of Christ) churches and author of numerous articles for religious publications. Dr. Flowers will discuss such church-state issues as legality of prayer and Bible reading in schools, the legal status of conscientious objectors, retail store sales on Sunday and the tax-free status of churches.

— "Pop Music — Use It," Ed Kilbourne, a singer, guitarist, humorist and concert performer with a far-reaching and unique music ministry sponsored by the United Methodist denomination, in which Mr. Kilbourne is an ordained minister. His lecture topics will include "Sing in My Ear and I'll Follow You Anywhere," "The Music Is You" and "The Personal Music of Ed Kilbourne." The young man has been a Midland visitor and performer in the past.

Ministers and theologians who make up the faculty for the 1975 School of Christian Living here next week will be pulpit guests in various Midland churches Sunday morning.

The Rev. L. Robert Keck of Columbus, Ohio, will be the speaker at the 10:50 a.m. service of First Christian Church, 1301 W. Louisiana St. Mr. Keck is one of several ministers on the staff of First Community Church of Columbus and holds a special grant for a prayer and meditation research project.

The Rev. Nathaniel L. Lacy Jr., of California, a Methodist minister and former professor of practical theology, will preach at the 10 a.m. service at St. Nicholas' Episcopal Church, 2900 Princeton St.

Ed Kilbourne, young Methodist minister with a unique music ministry, will lead the morning worship service of Memorial Christian Church, 1001 Andrews Highway. Mr. Kilbourne, a singer, guitarist and concert performer, was a worship leader at the same church during a Midland visit in late 1973. The Sunday service will begin at 10:50 a.m.

Dr. Levi A. Olan, rabbi emeritus of Temple Emanu-El and now a lecturer at SMU's Perkins School of Theology, will be the pulpit guest at St. Luke's United Methodist Church, 3011 W. Kansas St. The service will begin at 10:50 a.m.

The fifth faculty member of the School of Christian Living, Dr. Ronald Bruce Flowers of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, will speak at the morning worship hour of St. Mark's United Methodist Church, 1701 N. Main St. The service will begin at 10:50 a.m.

All the services will be open to the public.

Witnesses Cancel Meetings To Attend Circuit Assembly

The Midland Spanish speaking congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is canceling meetings this weekend to enable members to attend a circuit assembly at San Angelo Saturday and Sunday.

The program activities for the 12-area circuit conclave will center around the theme, "What Sort of Person Ought You to Be?"

Both days of the assembly will consist of morning, afternoon and evening sessions of Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations, which are opened to the public without charge. Sessions will be in the San Angelo City Auditorium.

More than 700 delegates are expected to attend the convention.

Motion Picture To Be Shown Here Sunday Evening

"A Thief in the Night," a new color motion picture about Bible prophecy, will be shown Sunday evening at the Midland Church of the Four-square Gospel, 415 Alta St.

The movie, filmed on location in Iowa by Mark IV Pictures, shows what can happen when Jesus Christ returns to earth. The story centers around an average American girl, who is caught up in living for the present with little or no concern for the future. What happens when unexpected events confront her provides an action-packed memorable drama, said the Rev. Pete Adcock, pastor of the Midland Four-square Church.

"A Thief in the Night" received the Best Film of the Year award from the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., and the lead actress, Patty Dunning, received the Outstanding Female Actress award from the foundation at the same time.

The Sunday screening here, scheduled for 6 p.m., will be open to the public at no charge, although a free-will offering will be received, Mr. Adcock said.

Catholics Favor Changes

By GEORGE CORNELL, AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 79 per cent of American Roman Catholics favor changes permitting priests to marry, and 83 per cent of them approve artificial contraception despite papal teachings against it.

These are among findings of a representative survey made by the National Opinion Research Center in Chicago under direction of a priest-sociologist, the Rev. Andrew Greeley.

The survey found that: — Almost a third of American Catholics would support ordination of women as priests, and more than four-fifths would vote for a qualified woman for president.

— Sixty-seven per cent think recent changes in the church are for the better, and only 19 per cent think they are for the worse, with the rest feeling the changes made no difference.

— More than four-fifths of the Catholic population approve of the English-language liturgy, and about two-thirds approve of guitar masses, lay clothes for nuns, progressive religious education and sex education in Catholic schools.

Summarizing the findings for the January-February issue of the Catholic periodical, the Critic, Father Greeley and three colleagues who assisted in the study, write: "Despite the pontification from both the left and the right that 'the people' are upset about changes in the church, we could find little evidence that any more than a minority are opposed to the 'new church.'"

However, a slight majority,

49 per cent, think there have been enough changes.

Most of the laity, 72 per cent of them, have a "great deal" or "some" sympathy for priests who have left the ministry, the report says, adding: "Despite the argument frequently heard in high ecclesiastical circles that the laity would not accept a married clergy, 80 per cent of our respondents say they would be able to accept a change, and 79 per cent say they are in favor of such a change."

The study, made under a grant from the National Institutes of Education as a follow up to a similar study made 10 years ago, involved questionnaire responses from a nationally representative sample of about 1,000 Catholics.

Weekly mass attendance was down, over the 10-year span, from 71 to 50 per cent. Monthly confessions declined from 38 to 17 per cent. Those "never" or "practically never" going to confession increased from 18 to 38 per cent.

However, while some traditional forms of religious practice declined, the proportion receiving weekly communion doubled, rising from 13 to 26 per cent, and new forms of religious life, such as charismatic prayer, meetings, home liturgies, marriage encounters and religious discussions "attained a surprising popularity."

Grace Lutheran Officers Installed

Officers of Grace Lutheran Church who will serve through 1975 were installed during the worship hour last Sunday.

The officers and board chairman, along with the pastor, the Rev. Donald V. Hafemann, make up the Church Council, the congregational governing body.

Installed at the ceremony were: LaRoye Drenman, congregational president; Rod Maxson, vice president; Bill Schindler, secretary; James Hall, treasurer; Don Neujahr, chairman of the Board of Elders; Max Beavers, chairman, Board of Education; David Penick, chairman, Board of Trustees; Dick Ragan, chairman, Board of Stewardship and Terry Clay, chairman, Board of Missions.

New Year May Test Solidity Of Church

EVANSTON, Ill. — As 1974 reiterated the diversity within the United Methodist Church, so 1975 may test its ability to withstand both diversity and adversity, church leaders say.

The two economic pressures of inflation and recession, the growth of new groups opposed to present church policies and practices, the pressures of ethnic minorities and women for full partnership, the question of how to stop membership decline, the reaction to hunger and starvation — these are among the major problems facing the denomination which emerged in a survey of United Methodist communications workers.

Much of the action in these areas in 1975 is expected to consist of groundwork for denomination-wide response by the 1976 UMC General Conference. This will be concentrated in two short periods — the May-June election of almost 1,000 delegates to the meeting in Portland, Ore., next year, and the October-November meetings for most general agencies preparing recommendations for legislation.

Diversity emerged as one of the major trends in 1974, the communications workers said. Its ramifications included evangelism vs. social action; support of, or opposition to, such public issues as labor disputes, amnesty, impeachment, repression; the growth of ethnic minority leadership, but apparent stagnation on inclusiveness; and financial contributions which increased in total at a pace about equal to the nation's double-digit inflation rate, but which lagged appreciable behind it in several individual general fund categories.

Whether the diversity within the denomination reflected in 1974 and seen ahead for 1975 is a bane or a blessing has never been fully determined, at least not to everyone's satisfaction. Some of the communicators foresee "growing disunity" within United Methodism, while others see almost the same facts as part of a "pluralism of many views" which give it strength.

Dr. Josef Zeitlin Notes Anniversary

ODESSA — Dr. Josef Zeitlin is marking his fifth anniversary as rabbi of Temple Beth El of Odessa, which includes among its members residents of Midland, Big Spring, Crane, Fort Stockton, Odessa and other Permian Basin communities.

Dr. Zeitlin, a native of Mainz, Germany, is a former chief rabbi in Shanghai, China. He holds a doctorate from the University of Cologne, Germany, where he wrote his dissertation on the history of Johann Gutenberg, the inventor of printing, and the Gutenberg Press of Mainz.

In addition to serving as spiritual leader of Temple Beth El here, Rabbi Zeitlin also serves on the chaplaincy staff of the Veterans Administration Hospital at Big Spring and is active in interfaith work in the Permian Basin. He is a frequent speaker at schools and churches in Odessa, Midland and elsewhere. Recently he conducted the Jewish Shofar, or Ram's Horn, service in St. Luke's United Methodist Church of Odessa. He has spoken before students of Midland and Lee high schools on several occasions.

Seminar, Workshop To Be Held Sunday At Howard College

Leaders and church school workers in Midland's six United Methodist churches will join those from other churches in the Big Spring District of the UMC in a "Know Your Job" seminar and workshop Sunday afternoon.

The event will be in the auditorium on the campus of Howard College at Big Spring.

Dr. Ewart Watts, editor of the United Methodist Curriculum, will be keynote speaker for the 3 p.m. opening meeting. Educational leaders of the various participating churches will have a joint session in the auditorium beginning at 3:45 p.m. which will be directed by Dr. Watts and Dr. Marvin Boyd.

Following, separate age-level workshops will be held under direction variously by Mrs. O. A. McBrayer and Carol Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hardaway, Dr. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ford and Dr. Wallace Chappell.

Concurrently, work-area meetings will be held in the college cafeteria under direction of Dr. Roy Ryan, Jennie Youngblood, Dr. Boyd, Dr. Watts, the Rev. Thomas Nelson, Ray Guinn, Jarrell Sharp, the Rev. William Wilkinson and Charles Parham.

Midland Methodist churches to be represented at the workshops include St. Mark's, Hollowell, St. Paul, Asbury, St. Luke's and First churches.

Downtown Parking

Parking space in Downtown Midland is at a premium most of the time of late, due to the vastly expanded business activity and the loss of some parking lots.

In other words, just try and find a place to park. New construction projects (we love them) have forced the closing of certain parking areas, with more buildings yet to come. Then, too, the street parking slots around some of the construction projects also have been lost to motorists.

It all adds up to a parking problem in the central business district.

It seemingly would be a very good time for city personnel to study the situation, making the rounds with the idea of opening up some of the street parking places which no longer need to be restricted.

Several slots might be opened for parking around certain facilities which no longer require restricted parking. There are other places—former loading zones which no longer are in use—which might be redesignated for the convenience of the motorist. The increased parking meter revenues also might be helpful to the municipality.

The availability of more parking spaces also would cut down on gasoline consumed while making the rounds, searching for a place to park. Having even a few more available parking places would help soothe the ruffled nerves of motor vehicle operators.

Remember These?

"I'm Gettin' Sentimental Over You" and "I'll Never Smile Again" (Tommy Dorsey); "Mood Indigo" and "Take the 'A' Train" (Duke Ellington); "April in Paris" (Count Basie); "A-Tisket, A-Tasket" (Chick Webb with Ella Fitzgerald); "Begin the Beguine" (Artie Shaw); "My Blue Heaven" (Gene Austin), and "In the Mood" (Glen Miller) . . .

Remember any of those? They are among the top numbers of the big band days of yesteryears. They also are among the nominations for the Recording Academy's Hall of Fame, which honors records released before the academy's Grammy Awards started in 1958.

The list of 30 finalists has been forwarded to the 90 members of the Hall's election committee. Five will be selected for Hall of Fame honors. Several of the selections have been recorded by the Midland Downtown Lions Club's famed "Big Name" Band.

Bandleaders Tommy Dorsey and Duke Ellington and Singer Billie Holiday have been nominated for three recordings each. The only other person nominated for more than one is bandleader Benny Goodman, with two. "Those were the days (and the selections), my friend . . ."

The War Has Already Started

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with LES WHITTEN
WASHINGTON—Richard Nixon has spent almost double the amount Congress allotted for his transition from President to common citizen.

Congress voted a flat $200,000 to help him adjust to private life. He already has spent at least $367,000. We have obtained the expenditures that Nixon has run up in exile at San Clemente, Calif.

During the first three months, $107,000 was paid out in salaries to 29 aides, including his personal butler, maid, three chauffeurs and a medical corpsman. This doesn't count $47,000 for the Nixons' living expenses, nor $2,149 for their miscellaneous travel bills.

Nixon's own travel from Washington to San Clemente cost the taxpayers $8,440 during the transition fund. But this was only part of the cost; the rest was charged to the White House because he technically remained President during the first part of the flight.

There was a bill for $3,147, however, for packing and moving Nixon's personal effects to Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington. No charge was made against the transition fund for the shipment to San Clemente, because the crates were carried on scheduled military flights.

Nixon's military drivers picked up the crates at El Toro Marine Base, Calif. Subscriptions, too to keep Nixon's fleet of government cars in gas has cost $2,000. The taxpayers are even paying for magazine subscriptions for the former President.

A bill for $9,172 was submitted for office supplies, wire service machines and magazine subscriptions. Not included in the transition cost, of course, is the $17 million that the federal government has sunk in the Nixon estates in California and Florida.

But even after he gave up the presidency, the government continued to lavish money on his two estates. During the first three months of his retirement, $52,160 was spent at San Clemente and $23,540 at Key Biscayne to operate the facilities.

It has cost another $83,000 to screen, crate and store millions of Nixon papers. There has been no final decision, meanwhile, on who will wind up owning his presidential papers and gifts.

Except for the $17 million that went into the presidential compounds, all the expenses listed above were supposed to come out of the $200,000 transition budget. This is clear from the language of the House Appropriations Committee report.

Yet on Nov. 9, when these figures were submitted, the former President already had exceeded the budget by a whopping $167,000. This raises the question of who will be stuck for the overspending.

Since Nixon has been pardoned for the crimes his associates have been convicted of, he is still eligible for an annual $60,000 pension and $96,000 staff allowance. The fairest solution might be to deduct the excessive spending from his future appropriations.

reviewed under a law passed to expedite the process. After his written appeals went unanswered, he came to Washington to try in person. But after 19 phone calls, he was still unable to get past a secretary or switchboard operator.

Bands Drifting Away From Brass

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — The old brass band ain't what it used to be — and, you may not know it, but it hasn't been for 17 years.

School marching bands have been switching to fiber glass sousaphones and one manufacturer here, C. G. Conn, now reports fiber glass as "top brass" in sousaphone sales.

At Michigan University, where the marching band made the switch 17 years ago, Director George Cavender likes the lighter weight of the new instruments since moving with on-field formations is as critical as the music.

Bull Evaluation Center Opened

KILGORE, TEX. (AP) — A new facility for East Texas ranchers has opened at the Kilgore College Demonstration Farm near Overton.

The Bull Evaluation Center, the only one of its kind in Northeast Texas, is directed by Wayne Lacy, Kilgore College agriculture instructor.

The center will provide a practical environmental test condition for evaluating an animal's rate of gain, soundness, structural frame, rousing and other traits of importance to beef cattle producers.

The center will also provide performance testing and identification of genetically superior beef cattle.

DON OAKLEY The Why Of Watergate Coverup Yet Big Puzzle

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Indiana Republican David W. Dennis, one of Richard Nixon's handful of faithful advocates during the historic deliberations of the House Judiciary Committee last summer, probably expressed the sentiments of millions of Americans when he commented on the just concluded Watergate coverup trial:

"I've never understood why it (the coverup) was done. That's still the great puzzle."

The former congressman may be counted among the extensive ranks of indirect victims of Watergate. He was defeated for re-election last November, a fate shared by most of the other stubborn-vallant, last-ditch Nixon defenders on the Judiciary Committee.

But Dennis, as he himself will admit, is small potatoes compared to the mighty whose fall was confirmed by a jury verdict in Washington last week.

Of the four convicted defendants H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell and Robert Mardian — the first two were at one time quite easily the first and second most powerful (and despised) men in the United States. Guarding as they did the portals of the presidency, they decreed who should see the President and for how long and on what business.

Indeed, with their influence over an astonishingly indecisive and persuadable Nixon, as revealed in the notorious White House tapes, Haldeman and Ehrlichman — certainly the former — may at times have had more to do with executive branch decision-making than the nation's Chief Executive himself.

In dismissing them 21 months before, President Nixon had called them "two of the finest public servants he had ever known." Even after their conviction and his own disgrace, even then, Nixon could not bring himself to admit wrongdoing on their or his part. Even this small, belated opportunity for nobility proved beyond his grasp.

The puzzle remains: Why the coverup? One can imagine someone, like John Kennedy disposing of the problem in an afternoon, possessing as he did the toughness to deliver to the executioner whatever heads had to roll and the political savvy, if not basic honesty, to take his lumps before the people — and in all probability emerging more popular and admired than ever.

Why the crime at all? If anything was unnecessary in 1972, it was fear of the Democrats or plots to sabotage their campaign or attempts to extort millions from corporations. Even today, polls have shown that many of Americans would still vote for Richard Nixon over George McGovern.

Arrogance, some will say, small men in elevated positions or a perplexing failure to understand what the American political system is all about. Placing loyalty to a man above loyalty to country, a budding dictatorship, just nipped by a saving piece of tape spotted on a door in the Watergate complex, not to mention being utterly smashed and discredited by tape of a different kind.

Men will be writing about Watergate for as long as they write about the United States, but if the resignation of Richard M. Nixon ended the story as far as most Americans are concerned, the decision of the jury in the coverup trial will be the final chapter in future histories.

THE CONSUMER ALERT— Review Family Records And Keep In Safe Place

By JOHN L. HILL, Texas Attorney General

AUSTIN. — This is the time of year when many of us begin to think of putting our financial house in order, what with federal income tax filing time approaching and many local taxes due.

And it's often at this time that many of us realize our family records are in such a disorganized state that the job is going to be more difficult than it has to be. Necessary records may be lost or misplaced, scattered in several different locations, haphazardly grouped, or buried among unimportant papers.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division attorneys say that many consumer experts recommend reviewing your personal or family record-keeping system annually to determine if it is adequate, thus avoiding such a situation.

A review would include checking to be sure other family members or responsible persons know where records are kept and who legal and financial advisers are and how to reach them. Each person should know how to contact the individual's or the family's attorney, banker, broker, insurance agent, employer, creditors, and debtors.

Reviewing the state of your records would also include determining which records are vital and should be protected, which are important but replaceable, and which can be thrown away to save space.

A good rule of thumb might be to put whatever would be impossible, costly, or troublesome to replace in a safe place, such as a safety deposit box. Using such a guide, then, the following records normally would need to be protected:

— Family birth and death certificates. Although these can be replaced, it might take several weeks to do so.

— Marriage certificates, divorce or other legal papers relating to dissolution of marriage, adoption papers, citizenship records, service papers, and any other government or court-recorded document.

— Wills of carbon copies of wills. If the original will is kept in the safe of the attorney who prepared it, one carbon copy should be in a safe place and another should be kept where it will be readily available.

— Certificates for securities. These are non-negotiable until signed by the owner, but replacement involves cost and delay. If they are not kept by the broker, they should be stored in a safe place.

— Government bonds. These can be replaced at no cost, but it can take several months.

— Papers showing proof of ownership, such as real estate deeds, other mortgage papers, important contracts, car titles, leases, notes, and any special papers such as patents and copyrights.

— A detailed household inventory. This is a list of important items, their purchase dates, prices, descriptions (model numbers, brands, etc.), and often photographs. Such an inventory can be invaluable in making insurance claims after fires or burglaries and in assisting police recover any stolen items. Keep one copy in a safe place, one at home, and perhaps give one to your insurance company.

You likely would want to keep the following records handy as long as they are relevant, but in general they need not be kept in a safety deposit box or other special place: Income tax returns, education and employment records, bank books, Social Security cards, guarantees, copies of insurance policies (copies are available from the company), and cancelled checks (copies are available at most banks).

Any cancelled checks or receipts that may be needed for income tax purposes or as proof of payment of consumer installment debts, however, should be readily available.

For assistance with a consumer problem, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or the local Better Business Bureau.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

France assumed a protectorate over Annam on March 15, 1874, according to the 1874 World Almanac, in a treaty signed at Saigon. The Emperor of Annam was obliged to confirm his foreign policy to that of France and to recognize French possession of Cochinchina while the French promised protection and suppression of piracy. The emperor, however, systematically violated treaty provisions and appealed to China for aid against the French.

Ashley Says Bell Offered $40,000 For His Silence

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Fired executive James Ashley says he saw a news release aimed at clearing him of alleged wrongdoing as part of a bargain proposed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. before he filed a $29.2 million suit against them.

C. E. "Chet" Todd produced the letter after offering a $400,000 package deal for Ashley's silence about the inner workings of Bell, the ousted employee said Thursday.

Promises Acknowledged — In a statement earlier Thursday, Todd acknowledged he promised Ashley that Southwestern Bell would continue trying to keep Ashley's name out of newspapers and to disassociate Ashley from any allegations of wrongdoing for which he was not accused by the company.

However, Todd said he never made an offer to cover up irregularities or maneuver news coverage concerning Ashley and an internal company probe. Ashley and the family of T. O. Gravit, who headed Bell operations in Texas until he committed suicide last October, are suing Bell for alleged libel and defamation arising from the investigation.

The suit contends the probe was unwarranted, resulted in Ashley being fired and drove Gravit to his death.

Todd said Thursday that Ashley demanded $400,000 under threat "to wreck the Bell system" before filing the suit.

Counter-Charge Made — Ashley counter-charged that "it was Todd who made the bribe, I who rejected it. If the truth wrecks the Bell system, then it would be justified."

The suit alleges irregularities in Southwestern Bell rate-making policies, broad use of illegal wiretaps, illegal political contributions and a system of contractor kickbacks.

Ashley said Todd agreed to a meeting the day of Gravit's funeral that Ashley was guilty of no wrongdoing. And Ashley said Todd produced a news release aimed at clearing him which was to be distributed if Ashley dropped intentions to sue.

have been a part of the Bell system for many years, the arrogance displayed in actually reading me a press release aimed at completely clearing me of any charges resulting from the investigation and at removing all stigma of the investigation from my name," Ashley said.

Rollback In Domestic Air Fares Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's airlines, having just finished one of their most profitable years, should be forced to roll back domestic fares by 10 per cent, the Department of Transportation says.

The department said Thursday that such a rollback would combat inflation, create greater efficiency in the use of jet fuel and increase the number of airline passengers.

Meanwhile, the scheduled airlines reported that they had one of their most profitable years in 1972 despite losses suffered by the country's two largest international carriers, Pan American and Trans World Airlines.

The Air Transport Association estimated the final net profit for 1972 will be about $350 million, or the fourth highest in history. The highest profit its ever recorded by the airline industry, $428 million, came in 1966.

The Civil Aeronautics Board has allowed the airlines three fare increases totaling 15 per cent since Dec. 1, 1972. The airlines said the higher fares were needed because of rising fuel costs and general inflation.

Assistant Transportation Secretary Robert H. Binder said the department believes "that in view of the inflationary pressures in the economy, declining air traffic and the need to achieve more efficient use of scarce fuel, a reduction in fares for all coach passengers must be considered."

The department said the CAB should take immediate steps to instruct the airlines to slow down a 10 per cent reduction should not take place. The

"If they knew I was innocent, why didn't they go ahead and clear me. Weren't they morally obligated to do it?" he said. A Bell spokesman said he knows of no such news release and that the company would stand on its earlier statement. Todd was unavailable for comment.

Ashley said he talked to Todd the day of Gravit's funeral and Todd asked "if I would be willing to sign a statement that I would not reveal what I knew about the Bell system operations if he could obtain for me one year's salary and an early retirement without discount which would amount to some $17,000 per year."

The ousted executive said he told Todd that Gravit's death made the situation more personal. "I advised him that I was not sure any financial accommodation would be possible in view of the personal issues raised by Gravit's death."

Proposal Rejected — Todd said he heard Ashley's alleged $400,000 demand through a lawyer. But Todd said Bell rejected the proposal.

Bell offered to extend Ashley's pay two months if Ashley would accept resignation rather than dismissal, according to Todd. "I did ask him to drop his quest for revenge and retaliation."

"We thought any allegation or charge that Mr. Ashley might want to make... would be printed and could be blown out of proportion and distorted to where it would hurt our company," Todd said.

Ashley said the only mention of two months pay came when he announced he would pursue his suit and reject the alleged Bell proposal. He quoted Todd as saying, "If I give you two months pay, would you at least give me your word you'll think it out before you file action?"

Version Given — Todd gave this version of the meeting at Dallas on the day of Gravit's funeral:

"I told Mr. Ashley that I was aware of his earlier demands, made through an attorney. I tried to reason with him that he was caught in wrong-doing, and that he would have to take the consequences. I did offer to work out a severance-pay arrangement with my superiors."

"Mr. Ashley's reply was—I am sick, sick all the way through. You give me a year's salary for sick leave, and I'll fade out of the picture."

Todd said he dismissed Ashley Nov. 1, the day after the final meeting of the two.

Ashley said Todd told him before he was fired that filing a suit would be "a very serious mistake on my part; that if I dared tell what I knew about the inner Bell workings, that he and the Bell system would bound me to the ends of the Earth."

Ashley said Todd told him: "Jim, why don't you be reasonable and think of the financial well-being of your family. We have no desire to hurt you or your family, but let me assure you of one thing—we will do whatever is necessary to destroy you and discredit you completely if you dare go through with your suit."

Toastmasters Meet — Hastings Pannil was named best speaker at the Thursday meeting of the Permian Toastmasters. Best evaluator was Hap Weaver. Tying for best tabletopics were Rene Wojcik and Dave Stice.

Margaret White Honored By Midland Boys Club

Margaret White was honored for outstanding service to the Midland Boys Club when the board of directors met to elect the 1975 executive officers. Meeting Wednesday in the Crockett Elementary School Library, board members elected Joe Davis as president, replacing Jim Alsop in the top post. Other executive officers are Rocky Ford, first vice president; Charles Bullion, second vice president; Sandy Ward, secretary, and Leon Jeffcoat, treasurer.

Boys Club directors include Thane Akins, Larry Allman, Otis Archer, Joe Campbell, Jerry Cox, Larry Melton, Scott McKee, Frank Nall, Milton Nickel, Tom Newman, Daniel Randolph, George Rowe, E. V. Scott, Bill Sherman, Bob Southerland, Bob Watkins, Mrs. White, Bill Williams and D. L. Willis. Mrs. White, presented a plaque for her services, has been on the board of directors for the organization since 1969, of which will be offered for serving as secretary for three years. She has been instrumental in fund raising projects such as the candy and fireworks sales. The Wednesday meeting also included an announcement of programmed activities for the year by Donny Thompson, executive director. Thompson said activities this year will include educational, arts and crafts, vocational, cultural, health, special events, sports and group clubs, many of which will be offered for the first time.

Thieu Planning Counteroffensive

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said tonight that he will order South Vietnam's armed forces to recapture Phuoc Long Province. He did not say when the counteroffensive would begin. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said Gen. David Jones, the U.S. Air Force chief of staff, will arrive in Saigon on Saturday as part of a familiarization tour of Southeast Asia. To Discuss Offensive Sources said Jones most certainly will discuss the current Communist offensive in South Vietnam and the needs of the South Vietnamese air force. The Ford administration is said to be considering asking Congress for $300 million in supplemental military aid to South Vietnam. The original Ford administration request of $1.4 billion was cut in half. North Vietnam charged that U.S. reconnaissance planes guided South Vietnamese aircraft in bombing raids on Loc Ninh, Viet Cong headquarters 75 miles north of Saigon, for the last three days. Phuoc Long Province fell three days ago and South Vietnamese planes began hitting Loc Ninh within hours. Thieu said in a radio-television broadcast that since the North Vietnamese completed their conquest of the province on the Cambodian border north of Saigon on Tuesday, he has been meeting with his top generals and the National Security Council to provide maximum support for the new operation. To Come Back "We will come back to Phuoc Long as we did in An Dien, Rach Bap and Kien Duc," Thieu declared in his address. These were towns the South Vietnamese lost then recaptured but at the cost of heavy casualties. Such an operation likely would require 10,000 or more men and would result in heavy fighting as well as a severe drain on the government's dwindling supplies of ammunition and other war materiel. Meanwhile, the South Vietnamese military command reported more air attacks on North Vietnamese troops and bases in Phuoc Long and hard ground fighting in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon. The government admitted heavy losses in two clashes in the delta, reporting 19 of its troops killed, 19 missing and 34 wounded. The Saigon command claimed 40 North Vietnamese or Viet Cong killed and more than two dozen military installations destroyed in air strikes northwest of Phuoc Binh City, the Phuoc Long provincial capital 75 miles north of Saigon that was captured by the North Vietnamese on Tuesday. The command also reported that its forces around Bong Son, on the central coast, killed 85 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong Thursday. The Communist command's month-old, offensive spread to that area this week, and government forces are trying to block a push eastward into the populous, rice-producing coastal plain. In Cambodia, three rockets landed in the central part of Phnom Penh, and police reported a child killed and three persons wounded. Later two men on cycles threw four hand grenades into a crowded market, killing four persons and injuring 19 others, police said. The terrorists escaped in the confusion. The Khmer Rouge also made their fifth rocket attack this week on the airport west of the city, wounding three persons, the Cambodian military command reported. UT Tavern Sets Sunday Opening AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas tavern opens Sunday night as the first state university in Texas selling alcoholic beverages on campus. The tavern, in a remodeled section of the Varsity Cafeteria that formerly was the athletic dining area, will serve beer, wine and mixed drinks as well as food. A UT student identification card is required for admission.

Huge Fireball Lights Up Skies

By The Associated Press Thousands of persons in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma were excited by huge ball of fire which lighted the skies for a few seconds Thursday evening. It was generally assumed a meteorite burning as it sped through the earth's atmosphere or possibly a returning chunk of space debris was responsible for the aerial fireworks. Reports from across Texas indicated it was brightest across this state and it was observed mostly in the north, central and west to northwest sections. "From the description it could have been a meteorite," a Federal Aviation Administration employee said in Dallas, and one with the National Weather Service agreed. Officials at the McDonald Observatory in West Texas said they did not see the ball of fire. Dr. Ulrich Herrman, professor of physics at The University of Texas-Arlington, said in Dallas it appeared to be a meteorite. Some observers thought the ball of fire appeared to fall northwest of Dallas but this could not be confirmed. Police in Weatherford, about 60 miles northwest of Dallas, reported the fiery object seemed to disintegrate and hit the ground near that area, but no trace of it could be found. At Bowie north of Weatherford, police said residents there reported something appeared to have fallen nearby. Dallas resident Richard Boydston said, "The sky lit up west of the town in bright blue and yellow colors." In El Paso, 430 miles west of Dallas, John Berlin said he and his wife saw "something fiery and red in the sky. It was moving east and it looked like a plane on fire with a big flame in front and a little flame behind."

Rebels To Host San Angelo; Bulldogs At Big Spring

Midland Lee will be on the prowl for its 13th victory in a row when the Rebels face San Angelo at the Lee High gym tonight while Midland High will be after its 14th win of the season at Big Spring in District 5-4A basketball action.

Lee and Midland share first place in the 5-4A race with Abilene Cooper and Big Spring, all with 1-0 records. Cooper plays Odessa tonight and should retain its share of first place.

Lee breezed by Odessa High, 63-46, pushing the brakes to the floor board from the second period on, but should face stiffer resistance from San Angelo, a 53-50 loser to

The Midland Reporter-Telegram

SPORTS

1B-FRIDAY, JANUARY 10, 1975

Cooper Tuesday night.

San Angelo leaped to an 18-9 lead in the first period, but couldn't stand prosperity and by halftime Cooper had whittled the margin to 26-23.

The Bobcats Coach Paul Stueckler's Rebels will have to defend are 6-3 Arnold McDowell, 6-2 Alfred Flelds and 6-0 Steve Speer, who teamed up for 42 of San Angelo's 52 points Tuesday.

McDowell and Fields are let-terms while Flelds and Speer are only juniors.

The Rebels are tough inside with 6-5 Junior Miller the top rebounder and outside shooters Ron Farish and Brett Blackwell keep opposing defenses from cheating too much.

Midland High, coming off its big win against Permian, will be at Big Spring, the opening night surprise team in the league with its 60-60 win over Abilene. The Steers, 5-14 going into tonight's action, fell behind Abilene 37-26 at half and there was no hint of an upset.

Then in the third period James Zapp, a 6-4 junior letterman, pumped in 10 of his 21 points and the Steers took a 49-47 lead.

Big Spring went 25 of 49 from the field and surprisingly did most of their damage inside against the taller Eagles. Robert Aldridge, a 6-3 junior, chipped in with 15 points.

With Donnie Roberts and Michael Cobb, both 6-5, the Bulldogs will have a slight height edge over Big Spring. Zapp and transfer senior David Owens, also 6-4, are the tallest Steers.

Midland raised its record to 14-5 by riddling Permian's zone defense from the outside, but tonight will face a different task. The Steers run and gun in contrast to Permian's more disciplined pattern type offense.

Perhaps the night's biggest game will be at Abilene when the Eagles host Permian, 18-3. Both the Eagles and Panthers figured to be contenders in the 5-4A race, but with each sporting a defeat already, tonight's game shapes up as a must win contest.

Defense Key To Super Bowl

Steelers, Vikings Must Establish Run

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It is just another ball game, yet it is a very different one, this Sunday's Super Bowl IX between the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Minnesota Vikings.

It is, like all games, one to be decided by defense, by a rushing game which, if successful, can open up the passing lanes . . . by fundamentals.

Yet it is like no other pro football game because it is for the championship, and only one team can ever be the best.

Those are the feelings that permeate this Super Bowl city of jazz, Creole cuisine and the Mardi Gras, a city already stamped by tourists from the cold communities of Pittsburgh and Minneapolis-St. Paul, as well as the rest of the nation — tourists waving pennants, flaunting lapel buttons as large as bread-and-butter dishes and proclaiming their teams and players as the greatest thing since the invention of the goalpost.

Tough Defense

It seems to come down to ferocity vs. savvy, the fury of the Steelers' front four vs. the veteran experience of the Vikings' line. It is, both coaches agree, a game that could be decided between the 20-yard lines.

And, between those two points, both sides hope to be able to push each other out of the way enough times to establish a consistent rushing game, another key to success in this National Football League championship.

"You have to establish a ground game first and go from there," said Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw, who hopes Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier will keep the Steelers going steadily enough so that he can throw because he wants to, not because he has to.

Must Run

Coach Bud Grant, bringing his Vikings into their third Super Bowl and their second in a row, agrees, with Bradshaw's assessment. "You can't live by the pass," he said. "You've got to be able to run the ball."

Overshadowed by Harris, who gained 1,006 yards during the regular season, Minnesota's Chuck Foreman is the mainstay of both the rushing and passing attack. The second-year pro gained 777 yards on the ground and, as the Vikings' leading receiver with 53 catches, added 586 aerial yards. He also led the NFL in scoring among non-kickers with 90 points on 15 touchdowns.

Rushing Attack

"I feel that, for us to win, I have to touch the ball 20 times," said Foreman, who carried only seven times for 18 yards a year ago in the 24-7 Super Bowl VIII loss to Miami. "We have to run the ball and we have to gain 150 yards on the ground. If we do, we'll win. It's an honor to be here."

Foreman added, "But it's more of an honor to win."

The importance of the game is not lost on Harris, either. "It's definitely a different feeling," he said. "This is the one we want. All the others were played to get here. Now we've got to go all the way."

For either team to do that, it comes down to which defensive line will do its job the best.

For Minnesota, it means Carl Eller, Alan Page, Jim Marshall and Doug Sutherland closing Harris' rushing lanes, forcing Bradshaw to go to the air, then storming in on him.

Steelers Defense

For Pittsburgh, it's Mean Joe Greene, L.C. Greenwood, Ernie Holmes and Dwight White (or Steve Furness if White isn't fully recovered from a viral infection) containing the wily, dangerous Fran Tarkenton, a 14-year veteran who has passed for at least 2,000 yards in all but one of those years, and has the league's highest season averages in passes, completions, yardage and touchdown passes.

"I think the experience helps," said Tarkenton. "I think being able to call on 14 years of experience is an advantage in these types of games." And, of course, there's an added incentive for Fran and the rest of the Vikings. "We think it's time we won one of these things," he said. "We sure don't want to be the first team to lose the Super Bowl three times."

Bradshaw, who came into his own only late this season, his fifth, has plenty of incentive, too, and it's more personal with him.

"It all comes down to the quarterback," he observed. "I'm the leader. If I play good, we win. If I play bad, we lose."

The same might be said of Greene, the ferocious defensive left tackle who anchors Pittsburgh's front four. If he plays well, Tarkenton will spend more than his usual amount of time scrambling. And Greene thinks he's ready for the job.

"We knew we had to play the best game of our lives to beat Oakland" in the American Conference Championship. "And before that we had to play great" to beat Buffalo in the first round of the playoffs. "All of that we had to do to get here."

"We've got some more of those games in us."

If the Steelers have that in them, they'll be richer by $15,000 per man — but that's only secondary to Greene. "I want what goes on this finger," he said. "And I've got to work for it. You can go to the bank and borrow money . . . but you can't borrow a Super Bowl ring."

Track Team Sells Potatoes For Trip

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — If a student shows up on your doorstep selling potatoes, he could be trying for a track championship.

Idaho State University officials, faced with a tight budget, have been trying to figure out how to get a track team to the NCAA indoor championships in Detroit in March.

Six businessmen in nearby Blackfoot said Thursday they will donate 10,000 pounds of Idaho potatoes to the team to raise the money. Members of the men and women track teams hope to sell the spuds to raise the couple of thousand dollars for the trip.

Sloan Liked The Way Bear Bryant Called Plays

Sports in spurts, and, quick now, who holds the Detroit Lions record for consecutive field goals?

Houston Wheatley missed the recent Houston Junior Chamber of Commerce basketball tournament for the first time in years. No, they weren't miffed because Kashmere beat them in the finals a year ago to snap a six-year winning streak for Wheatley. The Wildcats were previously engaged in an eight-team Christmas tournament . . . in Israel. Hey, Tug, how come the Tall City schools don't play in a tournament like that?

Although Elk Grove, Calif., didn't win the Houston Dr. Pepper Christmas Tournament, Bill Cartwright, their 7-1 All-America, scored 35 points against Wheatley and 34 against Kashmere . . .

Steve Sloan, Texas Tech's new coach, says he likes the way Paul (Bear) Bryant calls plays at Alabama. When he was serving as a student assistant at 'Bama, Steve said, "Whenever the sportswriters asked about a successful play, Bear would say, 'Steve called that one.' Whenever a bench call turned into a disaster, Bear would say, 'I called that one.' Same way when Alabama lost, like the other night against Notre Dame, Bear just said he did a poor job of coaching. Somehow I get the feeling he isn't worried about job security."

Reggie Jackson on trade negotiations with Oakland A's owner Charles Finley and what he expects. "Gold is $192 an ounce now. And I'm 217 pounds, 24 karats."

The Vatican thought it pulled a fast one when it scheduled a golf tournament with Israel and made Jack Nicklaus a Monsignor. Jack called in the results the first two days and reported he had a one stroke lead.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

Then the third day he called Rome and dejectedly reported, "I lost."

"How, how could that happen? You were leading the first two days?" queried a distressed Cardinal.

"I'm not sure, but the guy I was playing was pretty good . . . somebody named Rabbi Trevino."

Baylor defensive back Tommy Turnipseed: "People say my name is weird and unusual but I don't think Tommy is that odd a name."

Now that Willie Mays has retired, baseball writers hint the long-time Giant great was no Ernie Banks at winning friends and influencing people . . .

Did you know that Washington Redskins cornerback Pat Fischer and Minnesota Viking center Mick Tinglehoff were college teammates at Nebraska back in the 1950's?

When Darrell Royal hired Dan Breaux, 34, from the Florida staff, to replace Fred Akers, it was with the intent of opening up Texas' passing attack. Breaux designed Arkansas' offense which set a Southwest Conference record of 4,898 yards in 1971. Royal predicts Texas will have its most balanced attack since 1968, the year before the Longhorns went to the Wishbone . . .

Consecutive field goals for the Detroit Lions? If you guessed Doak Walker, try Bobby Layne . . . 12 in a row.

SELF-STYLED FOOTBALL FREAK— Coaches Pick Teaff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grant Teaff of Baylor, a self-proclaimed football freak who specializes in curing sick programs, has been named national college Coach of the Year for 1974.

"I guess that's the story of my life," the 41-year-old Teaff said Thursday after winning Coach of the Year honors in voting by the American Football Coaches Association at its convention here.

"I didn't have a scholarship and I only played college football so I could be a coach some day," he said. "I'm kind of a freak in the major college coaching profession. I didn't play major college football and I didn't play under Bear Bryant or Bud Wilkinson or any of those great coaches."

After finishing 2-9 and losing all seven Southwest Conference games the previous year, Teaff turned Baylor's program around in 1974. The Bears, pre-season pick to finish in the cellar, instead won their first SWC championship in a half-century with a 6-1 record, 8-3 over-all. They lost to Penn State 41-20 in the Cotton Bowl.

Roy Kramer, 45, who led Central Michigan to a 12-1 mark and the NCAA Division II national championship, was named college division Coach of the Year. Teaff and Kramer were honored Thursday night at the AFCA's annual banquet, at which President Ford, a former player, assistant coach and member of the association, was the featured speaker.

Grant Teaff . . . more honors

Besides bringing Baylor its first season in 11 years, Teaff previously restored life to ailing football programs at McMurry College in Abilene, Tex., his alma mater, and Angelo State, another Texas school. He also was an assistant at Texas Tech.

"I can think of no greater honor for a man in the coaching profession than to be named Coach of the Year by his peers," Teaff said. "I accept it for a great group of young men who wouldn't quit, for a staff which believed that work was the key word in their lives and for a university which deserves some athletic recognition."

Waldrop To Skip Mile

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Tony Waldrop withdrew from the mile run in tonight's eighth annual National Invitational Indoor Track Meet, but the event may yet be the highlight on the program.

Moving swiftly to replace Waldrop, who ran seven consecutive sub four-minute mile races indoors last season including a record 3:55 clocking, meet officials got Steve Prefontaine to challenge Marty Liquori.

A year ago, Liquori won the mile in the University of Maryland's Cole Field House at 4:01.2, while Prefontaine was being upset in the two-mile run by Dick Burkley.

Prefontaine, however, is quite familiar with the one-mile distance. He cracked the four-minute barrier twice in the last two years, and his best mark outdoors is 3:54.6.

Waldrop contended earlier in the week that he was "not in running condition, not the way I'd like to be," and said he was training for an AAU trip to New Zealand this month.

With a dozen world record holders, and 10 defending champions among those entered in the 14 invitational events for men and women, the first major U.S. meet of the indoor season shouldn't lack quality.

Another top head-to-head duel is expected in the shot put between Al Feuerbach and George Woods, teammates on the strong Pacific Coast Club of Los Angeles which will have seven athletes in the meet.

Woods, the 1973 meet winner, has the record indoor toss of 72 feet, 2 3/4 inches. Feuerbach, who won in 1972 and last year, holds the outdoor mark of 71-7.

The PCC contingent also includes high jumper Dwight Stones, pole vaulter Casey Carrigan, middle distance runners Dennis Schultz and Jim Bol-

Preps Nix Head Tackle

Sparring To Draw 15-Yard Penalty

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The National Federation of State High School Associations has come out with a strong stand against teaching football players to use their heads as a blocking and tackling tool.

"We're going to direct this to coaches, urging them not to use this as a technique and also to officials, directing them to strictly enforce the new rule," said Clifford B. Fagan, executive director of the federation. The new rule, adopted near the close of the federation's annual meeting Thursday, makes head sparring a foul punishable by a 15-yard penalty and banishment of the offender from the game.

Sparring is defined as deliberate and malicious use of the head — diving the helmet into a player who is down, who is held so he is going down, is held so his forward progress is stopped or who is obviously out of a play.

Fagan said a statement will be issued to all members "emphasizing our concern about the dangers of using the head as a primary contact in blocking and tackling."

The federation sets prep football rules for all states except Connecticut, Massachusetts and Texas and also for the small college National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The federation also made kicking opponents and hitting them with fists, locked hands, forearms and elbows fouls that will disqualify players from games and draw 15-yard penalties.

Other rule changes adopted by the federation:

Fergy Wants Security Like Catfish

DALLAS (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins, not unlike Catfish Hunter of the New York Yankees, is thinking security these days. Therefore, 25-game winner Jenkins asked the Texas Rangers Thursday for a five-year contract.

"I know it has been the policy of the Rangers and the old Washington Senators not to sign players on multi-year contracts," the 31-year-old Jenkins said. "The owners seem to think that if an athlete has his salary set over a number of years then the athlete will not put out as well.

"Well, I won 20 games three times doing it at Chicago. The Cubs gave me two-year contracts in 1968 and 1971."

Not Unreasonable

Jenkins, who finished a close second to former Oakland star Hunter in the Cy Young balloting in the American League, said his salary demands aren't anywhere close to the $3 million plus the Yankees gave Hunter.

"Basically, the contract isn't similar in dollars or anything except the security part of it," Jenkins said. "Catfish got security and I certainly don't think my age is a problem. That would keep me with the team until I'm 36. I think I'm in the prime of my career. I think last season was just an inkling of what's ahead."

25-12 In '74

Jenkins posted a 25-12 record in his first AL campaign that in age as the Rangers, under new manager Billy Martin, finished just five games behind the World Champion Athletics.

The affable Jenkins, who lives in Chatham, Ontario, Canada, narrowly missed a no-hitter and also pitched a two-hitter.

"I feel I really helped the ball club and I want to be paid accordingly," said Jenkins.

Without Jenkins in 1973, the Rangers finished 37 games behind Oakland.

"I'd like to be a part of this Ranger club from now on because I think it can win the pennant," said Jenkins.

Jenkins wouldn't disclose the money terms of a six-point counter-proposal to an earlier Ranger offer. Jenkins made an estimated $125,000 last year and the Ranger offer for 1975 was reported in the $145,000 range.

"The multi-year contract is probably a hangup but I really thought it would be a proposal the Ranger owners would go for," Jenkins said.

Gen. Mgr. Danny O'Brien of the Rangers said "There certainly is a vast difference of opinion right now. We sent him a contract for what he considered a fair raise. The Rangers are certainly willing to pay him a price consistent with the major league level. The talks were amiable but far apart."

Texas balked at offering Hunter a multi-year contract although it put up a $2.5 million package in the bidding.

SAME OLD GAME FOR JOHNNY—

Miller Shares 1st Place

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Miller had just been asked to assess his play in the first round of the first tournament on the pro golf tour and he paused a moment to consider.

"Well," said the 1974 Player of the Year, "My game is just where it was when I left off last season.

"I'm driving good. I'm hitting my irons good. I'm putting good. Everything is good."

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — First round scores Thursday in the $120,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament on the 6,726-yard, par 36-71 Phoenix Country Club.

The combination produced a four-under-par 67 — despite a lapse that resulted in a double bogey — and gave Miller a share of the lead in the first round of the $150,000 Phoenix Open.

"I just made one mistake and it cost me," mused Miller, who said he should have used a wedge instead of an eight iron to gouge a second shot out of an old divot late in the round.

"The lapse led to the double bogey that put him in a tie with big Leonard Thompson and chipper John Mahaffey after 18 holes of this season-opening event that Miller won last year.

The group at 68, three under par on the chill, windswept, 6,728-yard Phoenix Country Club course, included former Masters champion Tommy Aaron, veteran Bob Rosburg, J.C. Snead, Mike Mitchell, Roy Pace and Mike Mitchell.

Some of the other standouts in the strongest field this tournament has ever had encountered their difficulties in the cold, blustery wind, however.

U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin took a two-stroke penalty for playing the wrong ball and recorded a 75. Tom Weiskopf had the same score. PGA titleholder Lee Trevino was six shots back at 73.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player are not competing.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — President Ford, a player and assistant coach in the 1930s, paid tribute Thursday night to football coaches for developing the youth of America.

"On the practice field and in the football stadium, you are conducting a living laboratory," Ford said. "a crucible of crumh that will make your youngsters — backfield and linemen alike — far better able to run with the ball in later life."

Ford made his remarks at the annual banquet of the American Football Coaches Association, which presented him with the "Tass" McLaughry Award, the group's highest honor. It is named after a former coach of Brown and Dartmouth.

The President's remarks came after the association presented its Coach of the Year awards to Grant Teaff of Baylor University and Roy Kramer of Central Michigan University.

UCLA Defeats Washington In Pac-8

By The Associated Press

North Carolina State played a "smart" basketball game Thursday night — and made Western Carolina look awfully stupid in the process.

Playing what Coach Norm Sloan called an intelligent game, the fourth-ranked Wolfpack sent Western Carolina to the back of the class with a textbook, 119-61 rout.

"I saw us doing things tonight more intelligently and like we want to do," said Sloan. "Our objective this game was to play like we wanted and not worry about the score. I liked a lot of what I saw tonight."

In other college basketball games Thursday night, second-ranked UCLA beat Washington 92-82; No. 3 Louisville nipped West Texas State 53-51 and No. 15 North Carolina turned back Clemson 74-72.

32 For Thompson

David Thompson, North Carolina State's All-American, scored 32 points and grabbed 10 rebounds to lead the Wolfpack's victory.

Using a fast-break and man-to-man defense, the Wolfpack hit 64 per cent from the floor and outplayed Western Carolina in every phase of the game.

Four of Thompson's teammates scored in double figures. Phil Spence had 20 points, Moe Rivers 19, Monte Towe 12 and Kenny Carr 11.

Western Carolina's 6-foot-9 center, Kirby Thurston, led the scoring for the Catamounts, 5-6, with 20 points.

Bruins Win

Forward Dave Meyers scored 21 points as UCLA, aiming for its ninth straight Pacific-8 basketball title, opened conference play by beating Washington.

The Bruins, 11-0, had six players in double figures as they won their 25th straight game over the Huskies and 74th consecutive at Pauley Pavilion.

Forward Rich Washington

and guard Pete Trgovich each had 18 points for the Bruins, followed by Marques Johnson with 12, Andre McCarter with 11 and 10 from center Ralph Drollinger.

Phillip Bond scored on a breakaway layup as time ran out to lead Louisville, 10-0, past West Texas State, 4-5, in a Missouri Valley Conference thriller. Bond's basket capped a Louisville comeback in the final three minutes of the game.

Heels Nip Clemson

A jump shot by Walter Davis with barely a minute left gave North Carolina the lead as the Tar Heels edged Clemson in a tense Atlantic Coast Conference game.

North Carolina's Mitch Kupchak had 20 rebounds and the scoring star was Clemson's freshman guard Skip Wise with 25.

The Kentucky State Troroaders, No. 1-ranked college division team, blasted Lincoln, Mo., 91-68, behind Lewis Lindner's 21 points. It was the ninth straight victory in as many games for Kentucky State.

Lincoln's Cliff Jackson led all scorers with 35 points.

Kentucky State had four men in double figures, including Andre Hampton with 15 and Arthur Box with 14.

In other games, Wichita State defeated Drake 106-92; DePaul stopped Manhattan 90-75; Oral Roberts trimmed Long Beach State 91-86; St. Francis, Pa., routed Iona 72-56 and South Florida bombed Lehigh 89-62.

Beard Picked As Top Amateur

DALLAS (AP) — Stubby English, Texas' All-America defensive tackle, was fourth yard gainer in Baylor's football history, has been named the Texas Amateur Athlete of the Year by the Texas Sports Writers Association, nipping teammate Neal Jeffrey by one point in the balloting.

The 5-foot-6, 190-pound Beard polled 38 first place votes and compiled 978 points.

Jeffrey, the poised senior quarterback who led Baylor to its first Southwest Conference football title in 50 years, received 40 first place votes in the preferential balloting and 977 points.

Louis Kelcher, Southern Methodist's All-America nose-guard, collected 19 first place votes and 910 points. Doug Others receiving votes and their position in the voting included Jim Gideon, Texas baseball pitcher; Mike Ayala, San Antonio boxer; Jim Hacker, Texas A&M baseball player; Christine Look, SMU diver; and John Harris, Lubbock Christian baseball player.

Beard led the SWC in rushing with a 110.4 game average. He was tops in the conference in tandem offense (rushing and receiving). Beard was the leading scorer in the WC with 16 touchdowns for 96 points and was seventh nationally.

SOUTH CAROLINA STATE PAIR GO—

Brothers Picked In Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — South Carolina State players, Brooks brothers and right-handed pitchers were in abundance when major league baseball dropped a big hand into the grab bag of free agent talent at its annual winter draft session.

The San Diego Padres led off the name dropping by selecting Gene Richards, a fleet outfielder from South Carolina State, which canned its intercollegiate baseball program last year.

Richards, now a senior at the Orangeburg, S.C., school, crashed the 400 barrier in his last two seasons there. His speed impressed the scouts, most notably San Diego's Gus Lombardo, who watched the 21-year-old outfielder steal 32 bases and rank in the top five in every offensive category except home runs last summer in the amateur Shenandoah Valley League.

The scouts will apparently miss South Carolina State when it leaves the collegiate baseball scene this year. California, selecting second in the primary phase of the draft, picked Richards' teammate, first baseman Willie Mays Aikens, a name with a lot of baseball history attached to it.

Other Shenandoah Valley alumni drafted in the first round of the primary phase were Tom and Tim Brookens, twin brothers from Fayetteville, Pa.

The brothers say they've been close all their lives, but professionally, it would seem, the closest they'll now get is opposite sides of the field.

Tom was selected by the Detroit Tigers, while Tim was picked by the Texas Rangers.

The brothers played together last season for the Shenandoah Indians of the Valley League near Charlottesville, Va.

Tom, the shortstop, hit .386 and was second in the league. Tim, an outfielder, hit .309.

Pitchers, the right-handed variety, dominated the first-round action. There were 12 pitchers selected, and 11 of them throw from the right side.

Only the New York Yankees, who selected 20th, picked a southpaw, which is understandable since they recently signed right-hander Catfish Hunter, the winningest pitcher in baseball over the past five years.

The first round of the secondary phase of the draft, for players selected last summer but who did not sign, also produced a bumper crop of right-handed pitchers.

A dozen moundsmen were selected and 11 look to their right hand for future income. Even the Yankees grabbed a right-handed thrower this time around.

The Philadelphia Phillies, with first crack at the secondary phase of talent, picked and signed Barry Bonnell, a 21-year-old outfielder from Ohio State.

Two notable names were called in the secondary phase of the draft. Bump Wills, son of former major league star Maury Wills, was picked by Texas in the first round, and Anthony Davis, the All-American running back from the University of Southern California, was chosen by Minnesota in the fourth round.

Wills, a product of Arizona State and now playing winter ball in Mexico, is expected to follow his father's footsteps into major league baseball, while Davis, runner-up in the Heisman Award balloting to Archie Griffin, is expected to follow the dollar signs into professional football.

Former Boston Star Dies In Alabama

SYLACAUGA, Ala. (AP) — Services are scheduled for today in Sylacauga for Walton Cruise, 84, who was an outfielder for the Boston Braves in the longest major league baseball game ever played.

Cruise, a retired superintendent of water works for the local water department, died Thursday in his home.

He played 10 years in the National League with the St. Louis Cardinals and then with Boston. And he was on the field on May 1, 1920, when Boston and Brooklyn battled to a 26-inning 1-1 tie, still the record number of innings for a major league contest.

He had a lifetime batting average of .277, his best season coming in 1921 when he hit .346 in 108 games for Boston.

GREENWOOD HOME TONIGHT

Greenwood's Rangers will host Water Valley at 8 p.m. today in the District 11-B basketball opener for both teams. The girls varsity game will begin at 6 p.m.

The boys take a 13-9 record into tonight's game while the Greenwood girls are 22-3 and heavy favorites to win the district title.

Coast Service Planned For Astro Hurler

HOUSTON (AP) — Funeral services were planned in Los Angeles today for Houston Astros pitcher Don Wilson and his son Alexander following memorial services here Thursday.

Wilson, preparing to start his 10th season with the Astros, and Alexander, 5, died Sunday when carbon monoxide filled their home here.

They were eulogized Thursday by J. C. Hartman, a former Astros teammate, and John White, who worked with Wilson in youth programs.

"I'll remember Don for several reasons and No. 1 is that he never did get too important for other people," said Hartman, now a Houston policeman. "He had a particular love for children. There were many times we'd call him to help out with program in the police department and he never let us down."

"I'll remember little Alex too," Hartman said. "Little Alex always was so full of life. He just bubbled over with life."

Ags, NMMI Polo Teams Play Here

Hard-riding polo teams from Texas A&M and alumni of New Mexico Military Institute will invade the Midland Polo Grounds for games at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Trophies will be awarded both days. Sunday's game will be sponsored by the Midland National Bank.

The Polo Club is located north on Garfield St. The public admission to the games is free.

In last week's action, Tony Devcich belted in five goals to lead Wilson Ranch to an 8-7 victory over Stimmiel Stables.

BUT SHERO DOESN'T HEAR FOOTSTEPS— Islanders Edge Flyers

By The Associated Press Philadelphia Flyers' Coach Fred Shero says he not only doesn't hear footsteps behind him, he's not even listening.

The Flyers lost 3-1 to the New York Islanders on Thursday night, failing to increase their seven-point first-place margin over the New York Rangers in Division 1 of the National Hockey League.

Someone asked Shero if he wasn't just a little concerned about the Rangers, who have won seven straight and have been biting into a Philadelphia lead that once reached 15 points over New York.

"I only worry about my team," snapped Shero. "I don't get paid to worry about New York."

Meanwhile, Boston Bruins' center Phil Esposito scored three goals to move into a tie with retired Jean Beliveau in fifth spot on the NHL all-time goal-scoring list. Esposito, whose three goals led the Bruins in a 5-1 victory over the Vancouver Canucks, now has a career total of 507.

In Thursday's other NHL game, the Los Angeles Kings beat the Buffalo Sabres 5-2.

The Flyers had 31 shots on goal against Islanders' goalie Billy Smith. They had four powerplay opportunities, but Smith played them tough in the net. He gave up only a late third-period goal by Ross Lonsherry, a shove-in of a loose puck in front of the net.

The Islanders' victory was their first on Flyers' ice since the Islanders joined the league in 1972.

It was only the second victory for New York in 14 games with Philadelphia over 2½ seasons.

Bruins 5, Canucks 1

Esposito and Greg Sheppard scored to give the Bruins a 2-1 first-period lead and Esposito completed his three-goal performance in the second period.

The win pulled the Bruins to within three points of the leading Sabres in Division 4.

Kings 5, Sabres 2

Goalie Rogatien Vachon again was the outstanding figure in a Los Angeles victory which came despite the Sabres' 35-18 advantage in shots.

The Kings went ahead 3-2 on Butch Goring's goal late in the second period and goals by Bob Berry and Mike Murphy added to the lead in the third period.

Greatest Trout Hole In West... Try Buhl

By ROLLA WILLIAMS
Copley News Service

BUHL, Idaho — This must be the greatest trout fishing hole in the West.

Three of us arrived here on the closing day of the season. The weather was a chilly 47 degrees and a wild wind was whipping waves on the water. It was 12 noon when we commenced fishing, but we had 30 trout stretching up to two pounds by 3 p.m.

We caught the fish with flies, with spinners, with nightcrawlers, with plugs, and one myopic trout even struck a crapple jig.

Still Hungry

And, as we left the lake, the fish still were bubbling on the surface, taking insects.

A yellow hybrid strain, which hatchery people call an albino rainbow, swam leisurely beneath the surface, daring the fishermen to cast.

This is Clear Lake, a water owned and controlled by the Buhl Country Club, a golf course. There is a $4 daily access charge, but nobody objects when they try the fishing.

Country Club members fish free, the 200 or so who belong. It may be the only fishing lake in the nation where the anglers sometimes arrive at the bank in a golf cart.

Fishing Fantastic

The fishing deserves the accolade "fantastic." It's the best I've known since that summer morn, years ago in the Sierra, when the golden trout struck everything offered at little Wedge Lake in the Humphrey Basin country behind Piute Pass.

Trout season here is May 25 to Oct. 31 and it is desired that fishermen first register at the country club.

It takes pluck to drive past the good fishing to register.

Clear Lake, according to Idaho fish biologist Bob Bell, produced a 17.5-pound rainbow in June, 1972.

"We checked it out on opening day this year," Bell says, "and the 860 fishermen were catching trout at the rate of five to six an hour. There was one 11-pounder taken and a whole bunch of four- to six-pounders."

"It's what we call an optimum trout fishery."

No doubt.

"There is some escapement from the raceways," Bell says, in his biological jargon. "And, besides, there's lots of organic material which flows in to help trout grow."

The yellow trout, which excite the fishermen because they are difficult to hook, are called "a natural genetic occurrence" by the biologist. He says yellows produce other yellows, but no attempt has been made in Idaho to exploit this oddity.

It has been seized upon in West Virginia where regular planting of these yellow rainbows (called golden trout in West Virginia) are made in open state waters.

Temperature Constant

The lake water comes bubbling from what is called the Thousand Springs. It is tapped by the Snake River Trout Farm and the Clear Springs Trout Co. in all its virginal purity. Its constant 58-degree temperature is considered ideal for raising trout.

The fish, grown to adult size, are dressed, frozen, packaged and shipped to wholesalers.

The Snake River operation is said to be the largest private fish hatchery in the world.

But it is the fishing itself which attracts the anglers. These poor, put-upon warriors seldom uncover a bite of such constancy, dimension and vigor.

A lake which can produce a strike a cast on a cold, windy day at 12 noon—a gathering of circumstances most ominous—is a water to be coveted and cherished. Particularly if you happen to be in the neighborhood between May 25 and Oct. 31 next year.

AT 40, COULD STILL PASS FOR COLLEGIAN— Race Through Life Wearies Jones

By MARCY SPRINGER
Copley News Service

LOS ANGELES — Parnelli Jones peers out his glass-enclosed breakfast room in suburban Rolling Hills, across the quiet slopes to the homes below.

Behind him, in an enlarged photograph, photographers and fans swarm around a flower-strewn race car and a grinning Jones, winner of the Indianapolis 500.

Remembering, Jones leans back in his chair and grins again. He recalls that day in 1963 and other moments in his career: the fiery explosions, the trophies and the sudden change in personality he felt each time the engines thundered.

He gazes past the glass and beyond the swimming pool where a gardener works noiselessly in the yard.

His stories and their fiercely competitive main character seem far removed from the quiet serenity of the breezy, blue-flowered breakfast room.

Receding Hairline

At 40, Jones might pass for a college athlete. Only the tiny laugh lines around his eyes and the blond, wispy hair sweeping across a receding hairline give him away.

Now Jones has semi-retired from racing and has become a millionaire businessman with more time at home.

It is a home he loved at first sight three years ago, but thought he could not afford.

"I suffered for one year," he says, "for letting a few dollars get in my way."

When the house went on the market again last year, Jones grabbed it. Now, he says, "I really enjoy this house."

But Jones is a man whose manner suggests he enjoys life generally. And why not? Jones has made his racing fortune doing "what comes natural," he says. And some say he was the greatest driver in the world.

Although he declines to tell his exact worth, Jones admits to being a millionaire. Somehow, it seems to him, the wealth and fame just happened. Especially the fame.

Jones first began tinkering with cars as a teen-ager in nearby Torrance, working in a garage after school. His first love was a souped-up 1934 Ford sedan that he bought for $25.

Even now, he says, explaining the three tractors in his yard, "machinery fascinates me."

At 17, Jones entered his first race. It was the beginning of another fascination.

Jones has a compulsion to win. And, like a fighter, Jones says, the knowledge that he may be maimed or killed is overshadowed by determination to win.

Before a race, he says, "I used to tell myself that I was going to take it easy today."

"But then the engines started and my whole personality changed."

"There is," he says, "always the freakish thing that can happen." But, he says, "it's just like the fighter who always feels like he's going to win. Most race drivers have a lot of confidence."

Even when the freakish thing drivers come back.

He Makes Comeback

Jones, too, came back after a near-fatal accident.

It was after a refueling, he remembers, "when I heard this rumble and they came running out of the pit flagging me down. I had taken off unaware that anything had happened."

Jones jumped from the car as flames filled the driver's seat. Only his arms were burned slightly.

Other than that, Jones says, "I've had my nose broken and my feelings hurt a few times."

Although Jones has semi-retired from racing, he still runs an occasional off-road race, such as the Mexican 100 in Baja California.

His reasons for retirement are two. First, as a partner of Parnelli Jones Enterprises in nearby Torrance and its five affiliate companies and president of Ontario Motor Speedway, the cost of insuring himself is prohibitive.

Second, he wants to spend less time in airplanes and more time at home.

Until now, he says, "I haven't really spent much time at home. I get tired of living out of a suitcase."

Now, Jones says, he wants to enjoy the good life which he has learned to appreciate.
