In this age of space travel, you would not ordinarily think that an embargo on horses could cause so much concern.

But the horse definitely is on the way back, according to the stasticians, and when travel and transportation of horses was suddenly banned Tuesday night, the effects were far reaching. Rodeos and horse shows were out of business, and in Texas that meant many events had to be suspended. And then the great circus was caught in Big D with its big string of equines.

Sitting anxiously near the state borders were the operators of race tracks in New Mexico and across the line from El Paso in the Republic of Mexico. If the dreaded VEE should get into their precincts, a lucrative business could come to a standstill.

I suspect that if you had asked the "average" citizen last week what the effect might be if horses should suddenly be "grounded," he probably would have said "little or none."

Alligators have a practical value to other wildlife during times of drought, biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department have learned.

They dig holes. And these holes, dug by the alligators so that they can hibernate, are the only places in a wildlife management area which have water during droughts. This water which collects in the alligator dens sustains not only the alligators lurking within them, but also other animals who get thirsty enough to risk getting a drink.

The New York Times says its own crew was much better at keeping the Pentagon Papers on the Vietnam War secret than the Pentagon and the committee were.

Times Managing Editor A. M. Rosenthal reported that no less than 75 Times people "were privy to at least some phase of what was going on" from March to June 13. Yet, not a word leaked about the specific nature of the project the Times was undertaking.

"You can pass out all the security regulations you want," said Rosenthal, "but it's impossible to enforce them unless people want not to talk." — WACIL McNAIR.

Phone Service Goes On Despite Giant Walkout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Effects on telephone service were minimal today as a strike by some 400,000 members of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America against the highly automated Bell System entered its second day.

"If my wife wants me, just tell her to dial O," one Southern Bell executive told his staff as he and thousands of other management personnel took over the striker's jobs after the 6 a.m. walkout Wednesday.

The result was minor inconvenience a male Washington information operator did not know the area code for Denver, callers waited up to 50 rings for a long distance operator in Miami.

Direct-dialed calls generally went through normally but both sides agreed that in a matter of time service would begin to deteriorate. Repairs and installations were slowed or halted in the strike-affected area.

The union said its complex strike ending procedures guaranteed that the walkout would last at least two weeks.

CWA President Joseph A. Beirne said late Wednesday that formal and informal talks on a variety of issues had been [illegible] in New York and Washington since the strike began.

A spokesman for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said its director, J. Curtis Counts, had been in touch with both sides and that "there have been discussions of matters which are in controversy."

Union demands include wage increases, improved health insurance, an agency shop, better pensions and an end to geographical wage differentials and what the CWA calls an "antifeminist" wage scale.

It put no price tag on the package. Last May 23 the union rejected a wage-benefit package the company said was a 30 per cent increase.

Less than 18 hours before the strike deadline, the company announced a new offer of "more than" 30 per cent, but Bierne said that too was unacceptable to the union's leadership.

Average pay for all Bell workers is $3.43 an hour, ranging from tops of $118 weekly for operators to $193 a week for craftsmen, lower outside the big cities.

Effort Made To Avert Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's top rail trouble-shooter worked today to avert a seemingly inevitable strike against two railroads set for 6 a.m. Friday.

Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery Jr. met at the Labor Department with representatives of the AFL-CIO United Transportation Union, which threatens to shut down the Union Pacific and the Southern Railway. Industry bargainers awaited Usery's call.

A spokesman for the railroad industry said he saw no progress and little chance of averting the strike. "I think it will come," he said.

The industry says it will introduce work rules resulting in thousands of layoffs if the strikes come off.

A federal judge in Chicago postponed a UTU strike against the Chicago & North Western until July 23. The union also threatens to strike the Southern Pacific and the Norfolk and Western 6 a.m. July 24.

Stephen Ailes, president of the Association of American Railroads, said Wednesday that because of interline switching of cargoes, the walkout's effect would be substantial.

"It is not much different that if we had a nationwide strike" he said.

Chief issue is work rule changes recommended by a presidential emergency board to balance a recommendation for a 42 per cent wage hike for four unions.

One change would end a requirement that crews be changed every 100 miles of train travel.

Nixon Continues His Stay In West

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon will continue foreign policy conferences at the Western White House and then will fly back to Washington on Sunday.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Wednesday that Nixon will continue his talks with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and adviser Henry A. Kissinger before winding up a 12-day stay here.

Ziegler said the President had considered a stop at Yosemite National Park en route to Washington, but decided against it, at least for the moment. He said Nixon might visit the park next month if he returns to San Clemente, as expected.

Italy Hit By Quake

PARMA (AP) — Much of Italy's industrial and wealthy north, in a vast triangle from Genoa to Florence to Venice, was jolted by a strong earthquake early today. Two persons died of heart attacks.

Thousands took to the streets in panic.

The earthquake registered 4 to 5 on the 10-point Mercalli Scale.

Over-all, damage did not seem serious. But there were no immediate estimates. A check was expected to be made on art treasures in churches and museums.

In Venice, the tremor sent ripples through the canals and shook palaces. In Florence, priceless art treasures in museums were jolted but it was not clear if any had been damaged.

The earth shock, estimated to have lasted up to 30 seconds in some areas, hit at 3:40 a.m.—9:40 p.m., EDT, Wednesday.

Bruce Launches 'Useful Dialogue' In Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce started today what he said could be "a useful dialoge" with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong at the Paris peace talks.

He replied to four questions put to him by the Viet Cong's Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh last week and in turn posed five questions of his own about her new peace plan.

But the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong delegates told newsmen later that Bruce had "not given a concrete reponse" to the Viet Cong's seven-point peace plan and had "raised a series of divorce questions to elude and avoid a response."

Bruce told newsmen that he had tried to "elicit clarification of their proposals without any response or answers to the series of questions" he put to them.

Bruce, who will soon be leaving his post for health reasons, told the Communist side:

"First, you asked whether we agree to consider your seven points as a basis for negotiation. Our answer is that we are willing ... to consider for negotiation any proposals that have been or may be put forward here by your side, as well as our own...

"Second, you ask which of your seven points we agree with and which we do not, which points we consider positive and which are unacceptable to us. In order to make a full response we will need much more explanation from you as to what your various points actually mean."

He said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese deal with the complex issue of troop withdrawal and prisoner release "in a highly superficial and misleading manner. You gloss over the fact that you still seem to be asking acceptance by us of the same fundamental objectives you have always sought here—the total, unconditional withdrawal of U.S. forces without any previous negotiation on the subject, and our acquiescence in your demand that we impose a government on the South Vietnamese people."

"Third, you ask whether we are prepared to set immediately a date in 1971 for the total withdrawal of our forces from South Vietnam. The answer is that we have long been ready to negotiate a timetable for a complete withdrawal date as part of an over-all settlement. But the fixing of a withdrawal date must be the result of a genuine negotiating process, not a price we must first pay for negotiations to begin or a unilateral action we must take because you so dictate.

"Fourth, you ask about our intentions regarding the government of the republic of Vietnam, our answer to this has always been perfectly clear. The South Vietnamese people must be allowed to determine themselves their own political future. The United States will not impose any government on South Vietnam, nor will it be a party to any such imposition."

Xuan Thuy, the chief North Vietnamese delegate, told the 121st weekly session of the talks that the Nixon administration "has often stated that it wanted a prompt release of American prisoners of war, that it would set a terminal date for the total withdrawal of U.S. forces when the date for the release of prisoners was known."

They said the new Viet Cong peace plan, with its provision for release of all POWs if U.S. forces withdrawa by the end of the year, gives a "clear answer to that question."

Earlier in the meeting, the Viet Cong insisted that an agreement on troop withdrawal and prisoner release "is not difficult and could be reached quickly."

Oil Allowable Reduced Again

The Bureau of Mines forecast an August demand for Texas crude of 3,415,000 barrels a day, down 20,000 from July.

Three of the 14 major purchasers nominated fewer barrels for August than for July. Two nominated more. Nine asked for the same amount.

Buy It By Moonlight Tonight In Snyder

Family at odds

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: My father and brother are having a go-around about my brother's hair. Sam is 18 and wears his hair below his collar. My father says he is going to buy him some ribbons and curlers if he doesn't get it cut. He's not kidding. [Yesterday he gave him a hairbrush with jewels on it.]

They've always gotten along so well until this hair business came up. My brother works after school and weekends, so I told Dad to lay off and pretty soon Sam's boss will tell him to cut it, and in the meantime let Sam go thru this stage and get it out of his system. When I was my brother's age I teased my hair into a beehive until I realized how ridiculous I looked.

What can you advise fathers who have sons who like long hair?

SAM'S SISTER

DEAR SISTER: To paraphrase a columnist who said it beautifully: "If Jesus returned today, He would probably be stopped, searched and carted off to the precinct station by the first cop who spotted Him. Shoulder length hair, bearded, with sandals, a dropout from school, hanging around with dubious characters and a notorious frequenter of low places, what chance would He have today? Even less than the Romans gave Him.

"I am convinced that our antihair phobia is in some mysterious, but deeply-fixed way connected with the Bible and religion; that it serves as an unconscious reminder of the way we have lost, the message we have ignored. Nothing less than this can explain the ugly and irrational rejection and contempt we express for the ancient tresses."

DEAR ABBY: We are about to have our first litter of Abyssinian kittens and with your permission we would like them to be officially named "Dear Abys." Have you any objections? Please hurry your reply as the event is expected soon.

MRS. B. R. S., DOWNEY, CAL.

DEAR MRS. B. R. S.: I have had baby girls [Abigails], baby boys [Abners], race horses, greyhound dogs, parakeets, white mice and even a baby ape named after me. So, be my guest and call your Abyssinian kittens "Dear Abys." I think it's the cat's meow!

DEAR ABBY: My suggestion to that woman whose friends call her early in the morning when they know she likes to sleep late: Call THEM late at night when you think they are asleep, and repeat their exact words: "Oh, did I wake you up?" It works? MILDRED IN MUSCATINE, IA.

DEAR MILDRED: It will also help you to lose friends and alienate people.

DEAR ABBY: In regard to shotgun weddings in order to give the child a name: In Illinois, all that is required is the father's signature on the birth certificate and the child can legally use his father's name. No marriage is required. Since this is the reason a lot of kids marry when they know from the start it's a mistake that will never work out, I thought I would mention it.

Britain Bans U. S. Horses

LONDON (AP) — Britain has banned the import or shipment of horses from the United States because of a virus brain disease that could infect animals here.

The Ministry of Agriculture announced the ban Wednesday in Parliament. It will last indefinitely.

A Ministry statement said only horses issued a special license—based on veterinary health certification—and coming from disease-free areas would be permitted into the country. The ban was ordered because of a disease called encephalomyelitis, first reported in Venezuela, which now has spread through Mexico into Texas, the Ministry said.

A Ministry sapokesman said the ban could also have some effect on the shipment of race horses from here to the United States, because the animals would have difficulty returning to Britain. No embargo has been placed on sending horses from here to America, however.

150-Year Prison Term Is Levied

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP) — Willy Van Myers, 26, of Ennis was assessed a 150-year prison sentence Tuesday in the armed robbery and slaying of a Navarro Junior College student.

The victim, Johnny Colvin, 18, also of Ennis, was shot to death April 4 at Bardwell.

Dist. Atty. Ward Casey sought a 5,000-year term for Myers.

The jury found Myers guilty after 30 minutes of deliberation.

Billie Sol Is Back In Church

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes has showed up where many didn't expect him—at his home in Abilene—and he's been there since late Monday.

It was just past midnight Sunday when the former West Texas wheeler-dealer was released on parole from the La Tuna Federal Correctional Institution at El Paso.

Prior to his release his wife Patsy had said they would take a short trip before returning home.

Newsmen trying to follow the Estes family were cut off by a self-styled "bounty hunter" who identified himself as John Ernst.

But Ernst helped Estes on his own, Mrs. Walter Tedford of Houston, Estes' daughter, quoted her father as saying.

Ernst told a reporter Tuesday it was he who ran interference in a big Lincoln Continental as Estes left La Tuna with his wife and three of their five children.

Estes did not know Ernst before he entered prison and he had no idea that anybody would be waiting outside the prison when he was freed, Mrs. Tedford said.

Making his first public appearance since his release, Estes and his family went to the T&P Lane Church of Christ services and Estes led the closing prayer Wednesday night.

Mrs. Tedford said that after her father's release they decided to come straight home, although a week's sidetrip had been planned.

The five Estes children will be hosts for a reception at their home Saturday night to mark their parents' 25th wedding anniversary.

Prince's Sons Are On Trial

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Two sons of Cambodia's deposed chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, went on trial today on charges they took part in a series of terrorist attacks, including the bombing last year of the U.S. Embassy.

Norodom Narairith, 27, and Norodom Naradipo, 25, could receive the death penalty under martial law regulations adopted last year when their father was ousted and Cambodia entered the Indochina war.

There are 11 other defendants in the case, including a soldier, an ice cream vendor and two pedicab drivers. Naradipo was convicted of treason by the same military court last year and is serving a five-year term.

Small Animals Not Affected By VEE

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Dogs, cats, sheep and other small animals are not known to be susceptible to a rare form of sleeping sickness which has already killed scores of horses in Texas, a government spokesman said today.

"I have heard of no problems with other animals and as far as I know there have been no cases reported," said Dr. E. S. [illegible] of the animal health division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"We're working with top scientists and none have ever heard of anything but horses or people coming down with the disease," said Dr. Oscar Claybaught, responsible for distributing vaccine throughout Texas.

Suspected human victims of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) were hospitalized today in five Lower Rio Grande Valley hospitals.

Dr. John Copenhaver, director of the joint Hidalgo-Cameron County Health Department, said Wednesday that 34 persons are hospitalized and laboratory tests confirm that three of them have VEE. The disease, which is spreading rapidly in Texas horses, is transmitted by mosquitoes and has killed thousands of horses during the past two years in Central and South America and Mexico.

Dr. Copenhaver said three confirmed cases had been treated at Mercy Hospital in Brownsville where 18 others are hospitalized. Others hospitalized include six at McAllen, three each at Valley Baptist Hospital in Harlingen and Dolly Vinsant Hospital in San Benito and one at Edinburg General Hospital.

The disease was spreading so rapidly in horses Wednesday in Texas that a spokesman for the VEE task force said "we have so many sick horses we can't even count them all." The spokesman said the number of sick horses with VEE symptoms in Texas has passed the 500 mark.

Mexican President Luis Echeverria, touring portions of his nation which have been struck by VEE and encephalitis, flew to Matamoros just across the Rio Grande from Brownsville Wednesday.

"We will defeat this disease, which has come to us from far away," President Echeverria said.

President Echeverria, who conferred with Tamaulipas and Matamoros health officials concerning the disease, said reports of investigations of the disease made in Mexico will be made available to other nations.

The entire state of Texas remained under a horse quarantine imposed by the U. S. Agriculture Department. An experimental vaccine against VEE was also being distributed to veterinarians through out the state.

Disabled War Vets Drown

ELDORA, Iowa (AP) — Three disabled war veterans in wheelchairs drowned after a boat overturned during a fishing outing from the Soldiers Home in Marshalltown.

Six others in the pontoon boat—four other home residents and two attendants—were rescued after the boat capsized Wednesday about 12 feet from shore in Upper Pine Lake of central Iowa.

Sheriff Lowell McCormick identified the victims as Charles Seaton, 81, of Springville, Chester Stroud, 40, of Des Moines, and Jorgen R. Hoversten, 77, of Jewell.

McCormick said the boat overturned when the weight of one of the occupants shifted to one side.

The sheriff said the boat, which was encircled with a railing and equipped with an awning, was anchored in about 12 to 15 feet of water.

Deputy Sheriff Robert D. Callaway said the boat occupants did not have life jackets, but did have life perserver cushions.

Laugh-In's Funny Fashions Cost $10,000 Weekly

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When the star's pants fall down or the leading lady trips on her dress, most costume designers cry. Michael Travis laughs.

Travis is the prolific designer who turns out 350 wildly colored flamboyant—and purposely funny—costumes per week for the "Laugh-In" television show.

Fondly, he recalls the show on which comedian Don Rickles, dressed as a trapeze artist, almost [illegible]. "He kept tugging at them—it really made the scene funnier."

"Laugh-In," the weekly variety-comedity series now in its fifth year on the air, hit it big with a format based on "blackouts," one-minute gag scenes ending with a quick, funny punchline.

Stars featured in each scene need new outfits even for quick shots. Thus, "Laugh-In" uses perhaps more costumes than any running series on the air. Each segment also features musical production numbers which require identical fantasy-oriented costumes for stars, dancers and singers.

The show's producer George Schlatter appraises most of Travis' work before it's seen and the designer knows he's succeeded when Schlatter gasps, "Michael, they're so awful! they're marvelous!"

Travis, a bachelor in his 40s and a native of Detroit, drifted into theatrical designing after studying fashion design in Paris and finding costume work was more lucrative—and more fun.

When he's not working on "Laugh-In," Travis designs elegant gowns for singer Dionne Warwick's night club act and period costumes for productions of the Hollywood Television Theater. He did the clothes for the award-winning "Andersonville trial."

In season, "Laugh-In," takes about six days a week of Travis' time. His weekly wardrobe budget is $10,000 which he scales up over the season. Sometimes one elaborate get-up costs as much as $1,000; others produced in multiples can be done for $100. Some costumes are altered or redesigned for further use; most go to NBC's wardrobe department for use on other shows.

Concert Is Set By Two Beatles

NEW YORK (AP) — Two members of the Beatles, who have not performed together in public since 1966, are planning a benefit concert Aug. 1. George Harrison and Ringo Starr will team up with Ravi Shankar for the appearance at Madison Square Garden.

Profits from the concert are to go to a special United Nations fund to aid children displaced by strife in East Pakistan.

Candace Mossler Weds Contractor

[illegible], Tex. (AP) — Candace Mossler, acquitted of murder charges in the death of her millionaire husband, was married Wednesday night to Houston electrical contractor Barnett Garrison at the First Presbyterian church.

A spokesman for Mrs. Mossler said the two have known each other for about a year. Garrison met Mrs. Mossler at a party in her home, the spokesman added.

Mrs. Mossler was the widow of Jacques Mossler, who was stabbed to death in Miami. Mrs. Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, were acquitted following a widely publicized trial.

Vic Damone Files For Bankruptcy

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer Vic Damone says one reason he filed for bankruptcy was that he was duped into signing a $25,000 bank note.

"Unfortunately, I put considerable trust in people who took advantage of my position—both socially and financially," said Damone after the bankruptcy petition was filed in U.S. District Court.

Damone, who reportedly makes $25,000 a week for his frequent appearances here, said he faced $784,000 in debts and [illegible] in assets. The Internal Revenue Service was listed as [illegible] or $274,797.

A famous cancer expert once said that he rarely saw skin cancer on beautiful women. The reason: many beautiful women give special care to their skin, and protect it against overexposure to sunlight. They also have blemishes removed as soon as they find them. Skin care, says the American Cancer Society, helps you protect yourself from skin cancer - the most common and most easily cured of cancers.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q.—I am constantly throwing away paint brushes because I fail to take care of them. I have an important paint job coming up and plan to buy an expensive brush for a change. It is my understanding that a brush should be conditioned before using it. Can you tell me how this is done?

A.—First, you'll find that a good brush not only will last longer but will spread the paint better from the day you use it. The manufacturers of brushes made from synthetic materials usually say that conditioning their brushes, aside from getting rid of any dirt and dust, is not necessary. For other brushes, the cleaning process is followed by a 24-hour soaking in linseed oil, being certain the bristles are not in a bent position during the period. After the soaking, press out all the oil with a wooden stick, then dip the brush in turpentine. Twirl it in an empty container, comb the bristles if they appear to need straightening and go ahead with the job. You'll notice the difference.

In cleaning the brush after use, be sure to use the correct solvent—turpentine for oil paints and varnishes; denatured alcohol for shellac; lacquer thinner for lacquer; mild soap and water for latexes.

A.—In making a brick barbecue, what is the formula for the mortar used between the bricks?

A.—Mix one bag of portland cement, one sack of fire clay and five sacks of sand with enough water to make a workable mixture. This will be enough to lay about 150 bricks. In some cases, this type of mortar is used for the entire barbecue. In others, it is used only around the firebox, with hydrated lime substituted for the fire clay in the mixture for the bricks in the remainder of the project. Be sure the bricks are soaked in water just before using.

Q.—I want to set fence posts into the ground without using concrete. Is it necessary to apply wood preservative to the part that is in the ground or only to that above ground?

A.—You have it backwards. It is the part below ground that requires the wood preservative as a prevention against rot. Be sure, too, to put the preservative on the part of the post at ground level. Since you aren't setting the posts in concrete, I assume you are anchoring them to cleats or otherwise insuring their solidity.

5 Demos Agree To Limit Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring the American voter cannot be bought," five Democratic presidential hopefuls have agreed among themselves to limit radio-television spending to a nickel per eligible voter in next year's primaries.

That's the only way the party, facing prospects of a crowded primary ballot and carrying over a 1968 election debt of $9 million, can avoid drying up financial resources [illegible] a full campaign, Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien said Wednesday night.

The 5-cent-per-voter agreement would limit a candidate running in all 23 primaries to a total radio-TV expenditure of $2,819,000, O'Brien told newsmen.

In California, for example, each candidate would have a $435,000 ceiling, compared with estimated 1968 primary spending by Robert F. Kennedy of $1 million and by Eugene J. McCarthy of $534,000.

At a private three-hour meeting with prospective candidates and congressional leaders over steak and strawberries, O'Brien said agreement was reached to hold down primary spending and aim political guns at Republicans rather than at each other.

Presidential hopefuls at the affair were Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Birch Bayh of Indiana, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and George McGovern of South D[illegible]

All five walked out before O'Brien opened his news conference.

O'Brien said Sens. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Harold E. Hughes of Iowa were unable to attend because of scheduling conflicts, and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts turned down an invitation.

Hughes called a news conference today amid reports he will take himself out of contention for the party's presidential nomination.

[illegible] were Senate Majority Leader Mike [illegible]field, House Speaker Carl Albert, par[illegible], Treasurer Robert Strauss and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, the House Ways and Means Committee chairman who has been mentioned as a possible presidential contender.

O'Brien said the hopefuls agreed to name top liaison men to work with the national committee on proposals to reduce radio-TV spending even more, set ceilings on other campaign expenditures, ban TV spot advertisements, organize, televised face-to-face primary debates on contributed time and share polling costs.

In addition, he said, they agreed to work for legislation permitting taxpayers to check off political contributions on their income tax forms.

Muskie has suggested banning TV political spots and limiting primary spending to 10 cents a voter, half for radio-TV and half for other campaign outlays.

O'Brien said the agreements are in principle only since he has yet to discuss them with Jackson.

"This should serve as a firm indication of how this party will approach the American voter in 1972," he said. "That American voter cannot be bought."

O'Brien said the prospective candidates voiced agreement to avoid frivolous challenges to delegates' credentials or "challenges seen to be related solely to the fortunes of one candidate" at next year's national convention at Miami Beach.

In a related development, O'Brien said a report to be released Friday will show 40 states expected to be in compliance by Jan. 1 with Democratic convention reforms. Party officials did not name the 10 states described as having "[illegible] problems with their legislatures."

Her parents on June 5 reported missing Mrs. Simmons' husband of five days, Ed Simmons, 29, of Amarillo.

He also was a freshman football coach and assistant high school baseball coach in San Antonio for one year before moving to Snyder.

A native of Kissimmee, Florida, O'Day received a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and a Master of Education degree from Sul Ross State University where he graduated cum laude. He lettered in basketball and baseball three years at Sul Ross. He was named to NAIA All-American baseball team one year. Also while at Sul Ross, he was president of the student body and a member of Who's Who in Alpha Chi, a scholastic fraternity.

O'Day and his wife, Monette, have three children: Mike 12, Tammy 9, and Tracey 7. They reside at 4502 El Paso and attend [illegible] Methodist Church.

Coach O'Day has announced the signing of six golfers to letters of intent with Western Texas College. They will receive golf scholarships. The six are Bobby Wine, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Wine, 1207 East Warren, Brownfield; Tim Stuerzenburger, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Stuerzenburger, 1617 Sylvan Drive, Abilene; Barry Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hays, 921 Harrington, Borger; Blake Arnwine, son of Mrs. Irmaru Arnwine, 805 Billaire Drive, Burleson; Frank Woner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Woner, 1601 Pease Street, Sweetwater; and, Max Tenorio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tenorio, 4411 E. 33rd, Amarillo.

Wine attended Cornnado High School, Lubbock, and lettered two years in golf. He was active in student government at CHS. In 1971, he and fellow CHS team members finished second in District 4-AAA. In individual competition, he finished sixth in district medalist competition.

He was a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and a member of the Highland Baptist Church, Lubbock.

Stuerzenburger played on the Madison Junior High and Abilene Cooper High School teams three years each. He participated in all district and invitational tournaments including the Del Rio Invitational and Lafeda Border Olympics.

He is an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has been playing golf since he was 10 years old.

Hays played golf for three years at Borger High School. During that time he received several awards, and the team of which he was a member placed fifth in region. He took fourth place honors for regional medalist. Since he graduated, he entered the Phillips Invitation and placed first. In the Air Base Partnership, he took first, and in the Spearman Tournament second.

Barry says, "I am looking forward to a rewarding and prosperous two years with Western Texas College."

Arnwine attended Burleson High School for three years and Hereford his senior year. He lettered four years in golf. He won medalist honors in several tournaments and a medalist award in district. In 1970, he and Steve Rutherford won State Junior partnership in Andrews, and in 1971 they placed third.

He will be moving to Snyder to live in athletic facilities in time for the WTC August 26 enrollment date.

Woner played for the Sweetwater High School golf team four years. During that time the team journeyed to the regional tourney in Odessa his senior year. He and his teammates took second place this year in district behind Snyder and third in regional.

Woner said, "I am very happy that I was asked to play for Western Texas. I have seen the [illegible] and I hope that I can make a worthwhile contribution to the team."

Tenorio attended Amarillo Caprock and lettered three years in golf while he was there. He was co-captain of the team his senior year. He earned first place medalist award in the Amarillo golf tourney, a second-place medalist award at the San Angelo High School tourney, fourth place medalist award at Roswell, New Mexico High School Tourney, and the most valuable player award at Caprock during his senior year. During his junior and senior years, he played number 1 position on the golf team.

He will be residing in the college athletic facilities when he enrolls in August.

Coach O'Day said any golfer interested in trying for a golf scholarship should call him at 573-3814.

Spurs Stick Shreveport 13-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steve Green knows what country and western singer Jerry Reed means now with the song "When You're Hot You're Hot."

The Dallas-Fort Worth third baseman went four-for-four Wednesday night and drove home seven runs as the Spurs mashed Shreveport 13-3 in a Dixie Association game.

Green had a two-run single in the third, a one-run single in the fourth, a two-run double in the sixth and a two-run homer in the eighth.

In other Dixie action, San Antonio shaved Arkansas 4-3, Asheville dropped Montgomery 4-1, Savannah tumbled Charlotte 2-1, Jacksonville at Columbus was postponed because of rain, Albuquerque trimmed Memphis 4-1 and Birmingham outlasted Amarillo 8-4 in 11 innings.

Detroit Tiger coach Charlie Silvera collected six winner's shares and one loser's share in World Series with the New York Yankees.

Richey Loses Temper, Match To Gimeno

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two years ago, shortly after he was married, Cliff Richey said he was turning over a new leaf and would hold his temper on the tennis court. For the most part, he has kept his word.

But during Wednesday's second round of the $50,000 Washington Star International Tennis Tournament, the nation's top-ranked player threw a tantrum when he tripped over a loose service line tape in his match with Spain's Andres Gimeno.

The 24-year-old Richey, who now makes his home in Sarasota, Fla., raced back to the tape, pulled it loose, threw his racket to the ground and went to the sidelines to sit down.

"I was at fault," said Richey, defending champion and No. 5 seed after he lost to unranked Gimeno 6-3, 7-6. "I told Andres that if he wanted a default, I would have given it to him.

"Maybe I should have walked off the court, but I've seen referees call it both ways. I want to make it emphatically clear, I was wrong for what I did."

In other upsets, unseeded Pierre Barthes, France's No. 2 player, ousted third-seeded Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., 7-6, 1-6, 6-1, and unranked Roger Taylor of Great Britain knocked off 15th-seeded Clark Graebner of New York City, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5.

Top-seeded John Newcombe of Australia, second-seeded Stan Smith of Sea Pine, S.C., and Rod Laver of Australia, No. 4 seed, advanced to today's third round in their quest for the $10,000 first prize.

Newcombe, who won this year at Wimbledon, knocked off Ray Moore of South Africa 7-5, 5-7, 6-3.

Junior Girls Vie For Title

Miss Long meets Carla Spenkoch of San Antonio in one semi-final match today while medalist Brenda Anne Goldsmith meets fellow hometowner LuAnn Thames.

Hill Signs With WTC

Jimmy Hill, a 6-4 forward from Tascosa High in Amarillo, has signed a basketball letter of intent with Western Texas College. Coach Sid Simpson announced the signing of Hill and noted that "Jimmy has some fine offensive moves around the basket. We feel if he can improve his rebounding and defense he can become a fine college player. He has a great deal of desire and should be a real asset to our program."

Hill was all-city and all-district in addition to making the honor team at Odessa Tournament. He led the district in free-throw shooting while averaging 16.9 points per game. His best game of the year came against State AAA Champion Dumas when Hill's 26 points led Tascosa to a 70-63 upset victory. Jimmy also averaged ten rebounds per game for the season.

A "B" average student in high school, Jim plans to major in forestry engineering. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Hill of 4317 Charles Street in Amarillo.

There are 10,188 golf courses in the United States. In 1931 there were 5,691 courses.

IS THIS ANY WAY TO RUN A COUNTRY?

Take A Long Look At Popular Assumptions

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Experience teaches us that it is always wise to take a long, hard look at assumptions widely taken for granted. To name a few:

—BIGGER IS BETTER. During much of the 1960s this notion was pursued by hundreds of corporate enterprises, most of them convinced that the sum really could be bigger than the parts.

Conglomerating was the name of the game, the route to bigger profits, the remedy for deficits and most other ills. Mold 5, 10 or 20 companies into one and they'll all be better for it.

The rationale generally was that bigness makes possible easier access to financing, reduction in duplicate efforts and so on. There were enough successes to imply that the idea was correct.

Now there is growing suspicion that while bigness might be better, it might be better only to a point, after which it becomes bad. References to dinosaurs are constantly made in speeches and articles.

The bankruptcy of the Penn Central Railroad, the inefficiency of huge utilities, the impaired borrowing capacity of Lockheed Aircraft and the dependence of other aerospace firms on government contracts are fueling the criticism.

Doubts are being raised about the ability of centralized management to know what is going on in its divisions, about its ability to retain the loyalty of worker and community. Concern is expressed about lagging productivity and thwarted initiative.

And one of the areas in which solutions are being sought is, of all things, smallness. Smaller units allow for more imagination and innovation, it is said, as well as better identification with worker and community.

—TAXES WILL ALWAYS RISE. It would seem so, because the upward pressure has continued to grow relentlessly, despite efforts to control or lower them.

The Tax Foundation calculates that per capita tax payments rose from $365 in 1950 to $1,348 in 1970. Even with inflation wrung out, that 1970 figure totals $850, or more than double the 1950 tax toll.

"Nor is the end in sight," said the chairman, Alger B. Chapman, in the foundation's annual report on government finance.

"Despite the indisputable need for prudence in fiscal affairs, expenditures at all levels of government continue to climb without halt. Taxes and public debt inevitably follow."

Chapman may, however, be too close to the statistics to detect what other observers hear, at town meetings, for instance. There appears to be a growing resentment against waste and inefficiency, pressure for priorities in spending and more accountability by those who spend.

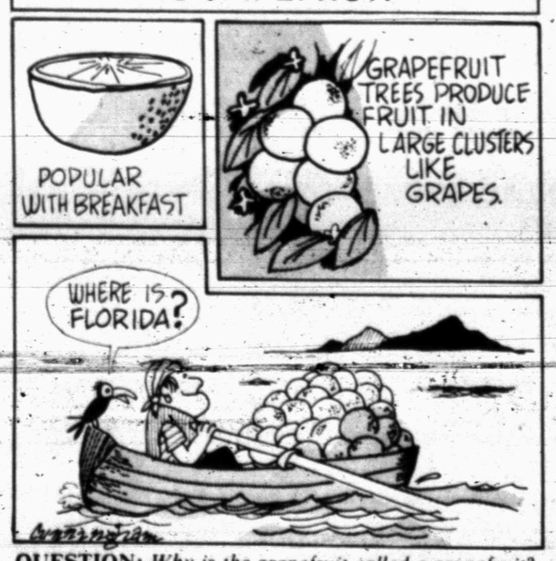

The Vietnam experience has convinced many Americans that the country cannot afford to spend for a foreign war and attempt to maintain a "peacetime" economy at home.

David Cassidy To Undergo Surgery

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — David Cassidy, the 21-year-old singer who stars on the "Partridge Family" television series, has canceled several engagements to keep one with a surgeon.

Spokesman said Cassidy, son of actor Jack Cassidy and stepson of Shirley Jones who stars with him in the series, entered a hospital Monday for surgery today to remove his gall bladder.

Junior Editors Quiz on GRAPEFRUIT

QUESTION: Why is the grapefruit called a grapefruit?

* * *

ANSWER: It is thought by scientists that the grapefruit came from a citrus fruit known as pummelo or shaddock. As far back as 1814, a scientist observed a large variety of the pummelo, which he called "grapefruit" on account of the resemblance in flavor to the grape. The grapefruit appears on millions of breakfast tables every morning.

No one is quite certain where the grapefruit originated, but the best theory is that it was first found in Jamaica. Grapefruit was being eaten as a fruit in the West Indies long before it was grown on the mainland. About 80 years ago the culture of the grapefruit began in Florida. Today it is grown in many states and many other countries.

The grapefruit grows on a tree, about 15 to 20 feet high, similar to an orange tree. The fruit is about twice the size of an orange. The trees thrive best on sandy but fertile soil and take about six years to bear fruit. Once a tree starts to bear, it produces large crops. Originally the pulp of the grapefruit was a light yellow in color, but now through a process of cultivation, a pink or red pulp has been developed. There are about 27 varieties, and they all contain a large amount of vitamin C. People enjoy this fruit all through the year even though the fresh fruit is only available from late fall to early spring. 7-15

Only The Old Timers Remember

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you an old-timer?

You are if it makes you sigh to look back and remember when—

A street had more tied up horses and buggies on it than parked cars.

Few girls expected to work outside the home after marriage. It was expected that the husband could bring home by himself all the bacon the family needed.

A man could live a long life without paying more than $100 to either a dentist or a doctor.

More floors were swept with brooms than vacuum cleaners.

A woman always tied her hair up in a white rag before starting a real housecleaning.

Nobody openly uttered the word cancer except in medical articles. In obituaries, victims of it were said to have expired of carcinoma or—more often—"after a lingering illness."

Only a playbody on a spree tipped a hatcheck girl a quarter. Most patrons grumbled over having to leave a dime.

You could take a quarter, go see a movie and enjoy a sack of popcorn, and come home with change in your pocket.

When you wanted to get warm in winter, you didn't turn up the thermostat. You stood over the hot-air raditor on the floor. If that didn't do it, you trudged down to the basement and threw a few shovelfuls of coal into the furnace.

Mah-Jongg, an old Chinese game, became such a fad it kept millions of American women from their household chores.

You could safely predict that any diner that charged more than a nickel for a cup of coffee would soon go out of business.

Relatively few people were robbed on the streets after midnight, because in most towns there wasn't any real reason to stay up that late most nights.

When a son reached an age where he started criticizing his father aloud at the dinner table, it was tacitly accepted that he would probably be leaving home soon.

A telephone was thought of as something of an emergency instrument, and sometimes you'd go days without making a call.

It was so quiet in the home that you could sit in the living room and hear the kitchen clock ticking.

Can you remember those days? Then there's no doubt about it. You're an old-timer—for better or worse.

Jury Wheel Mandatory

AUSTIN (AP) — All counties must adopt the jury wheel system, beginning Thursday, despite a 1971 law purporting to allow district judges to let smaller counties use jury commissions, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said Wednesday.

"Although the bill (Senate Bill 369) passed by the legislature purports to allow such procedure to be continued in the discretion of the district judge, the legislature specifically repealed all laws regulating the formation and functioning of jury commissions in the same act which undertook to authorize certain counties to continue using such commissions," Martin said.

Martin's official opinion affects Texas counties under 10,000 population which, previously, had been allowed to use jury commissions.

The jury wheels must be filled Aug. 1-15 of each year, Martin said.

"It is realized the repeal of these civil statutes will be both hectic and burdensome on the smaller counties," Martin said. "However, failure to comply by Aug. 15 could possibly render jury trials impossible in many counties for one whole year."

Martin said his opinion did not cover any questions concerning orders that may have already been entered providing for continuing the jury commission system. But Martin said judges who have entered such an order probably should rescind it before Thursday to remove any doubt about which system is to be followed.

Martin's opinion was requested by Dist. Atty. Murray Jordan of Brady (McCulloch County).

Statewide Distribution Of Vaccine Announced

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Statewide distribution of a protective vaccine against the spreading Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) was announced Wednesday by Dr. Fred D. Maurer, dean of research at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine.

All vaccinations must be given by veterinarians, Maurer reported.

Maurer is coordinating the vaccine program between Dr. H.Q. Sibley, executive director of the Animal Health Commission and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Maurer said horses have no natural immunity to the disease.

He gave the following report on the most common questions about VEE.

Q—What can the owner do to protect his horses until the vaccine becomes available in his area?

A—Each owner should keep his horses at home stop all horse movement and avoid contact with other horses. The owner should spray his horses and the premises with a mosquito repellant to protect his animals from bites. He should contact the local veterinarian to have his horses vaccinated as soon as the vaccine becomes available.

Q—Will the vaccine currently used in the United States protect against Western Equine Encephalomyelitis (WEE) and Eastern Equine Encephalomyelitis (EEE) protect against VEE?

A—No. These diseases are different viruses. A separate vaccine must be used for each disease.

Q—Is the vaccine being made available in Texas safe and effective against VEE.

A—Yes, there is. A vaccine available in Texas will protect against this disease provided horses are vaccinated at least 10 days before exposure to the virus. This is an experimental live virus vaccine, developed by the U.S. Army for human use, but it has been used with excellent success in some two million horses of South and Central America. As soon as current tests are completed, it is expected the vaccine will no longer need to be classified as experimental.

Q—Since this is a live virus vaccine, do horses show any adverse reaction from it?

A—Reports on their reaction following the vaccination of some 14,000 horses in South Texas have shown less than two per cent had mild reaction.

Q—How soon will horses be protected after vaccination?

A—Significant [illegible] will have developed after 7 to 10 days. Horses are known to be fully protected after 14 days.

Q—Is it safe to vaccinate pregnant mares?

A—The vaccination of pregnant mares is not without some risk to the foal. But we know if the mare becomes infected with the natural disease, there is a 30 to 50 per cent chance that both she and her foal will be lost. Both mare and foal in an infected area are relatively safer with the vaccine than without it.

Many pregnant mares have been vaccinated with no ill effects to the mare or foal.

Q—Is it safe to vaccinate foals?

A—Foals as young as three weeks of age have been vaccinated with no ill effects.

Q—Is the vaccine available to horse owners or only to veterinarians?

A—The vaccine will only be available to accredited veterinarians for several reasons. It is still an experimental vaccine which requires administration by a veterianarian who can determine the condition of the horse before and after use.

The vaccine must be used properly after reconstitution and kept cold as well as administered in an antiseptic manner with fresh sterile equipment for every horse. Official records must be maintained by the veterinarian, who also must get a release signed by the owner.

Q—How is VEE transmitted?

A—Transmission occurs primarily through the bite of infected mosquitoes. Essentially all mosquitoes and some biting flies are capable of transmission of the disease. Although infrequent, transmission can also occur from contact with fluids from infected horses.

Cellist Suffers From Exhaustion

LONDON (AP) — World famous cellist Jacqueline du Pre, 25, is suffering from "nervous exhaustion" and has canceled all her professional commitments for at least a year, an aide says.

The aide said Monday that Miss du Pre, wife of conductor Daniel Barenboim, is weak after recovering from a virus infection-she suffered recently in the United States.

Dick Haymes Tells How Debts Soared

LONDON (AP) — Singer Dick Haymes blames luxury living and bad investments for the fact he owes $38,400 and has tangible assets of only $1,920. The 52-yéar-old crooner promised a court he would make good his dedts.

Haymes, a former husband of Rita Hayworth, earned $4 million over a 12-year period. He testified Tuesday that he was living in Spain with his fifth wife and two children and was working on a new film and some scripts that would enable him to pay the debts.

"Bless The Beasts. . ." To Premier In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Bless the Beasts & Children," the official United States entry in the Berlin Film Festival, will have its premier in this country in Augustm

The film, featuring recording artists, The Carpenters, was filmed in Arizona and on Santa Catalina island. Stanley Kramer produced and directed for Columbia Pictures.

Miniskirts Not Good For Jurors

FORT WORTH (AP) — Criminal Dist. Judge Byron Matthews has asked women jurors to refrain from wearing miniskirts in his court.

It's not that his honor objects to a pair of shapely legs.

"But," he says, "it's been shown that women in miniskirts spend so much time tugging at their dresses, holding down the hems, that some of them can't concentrate on the testimony and that's the important thing."

So far the decision has not been overruled.

Governor Says Mansion Unsafe

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. John Bell Williams says the governor's mansion is unsafe for occupancy so he's looking for new quarters for his family.

Manson Says He Chopped Off A Head

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles Manson, saying "I'll admit I chopped his head off," asked Wednesday to be allowed to plead guilty to two more murders.

Manson, onetime leader of a hippie-style clan, was convicted along with three women followers of murdering actress Sharon Tate and six other persons. The four were sentenced to death.

Manson made the remark during jury selection at his trial on charges he murdered Malibu musician Gary Hinman and movie stuntman Donald "Shorty" Shea. He didn't identify the victim. Hinman's head was not cut off and Shea's body was never found.

After Manson's attorney declined to allow him to plead guilty the judge asked if he would confer with another attorney about the consequences of doing so. Manson said he would.

Crude Demand Drops In State

AUSTIN (AP) — Major buyers of Texas crude oil have asked the Texas Railroad Commission for 2,242,462 barrels a day next month, a decrease of 30,344 daily from July.

The commission said Tuesday the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast for August demand for Texas crude oil is 3,415,000 barrels a day, a decrease of 20,000 daily from this month.

The commission will consider these figures in setting the August statewide oil allowable at its Thursday meeting.

FBI Now Can Probe Murders Of Policemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover disclosed today FBI agents now will investigate murders of policemen when asked to do so by local law-enforcement agencies.

However, an FBI spokesman reported there have been no such requests since the new policy was adopted last month in the wake of White House meetings on police killings.

"Nobody has asked us," the spokesman said, adding 96.4 per cent of police murders are solved by local authorities within 30 days.

For that reason, and because of Hoover's insistence the FBI not be made a federal police force, the agency has consistently opposed legislation making killing a policeman a federal crime.

In his report for the fiscal year ended June 30, Hoover disclosed the FBI will do by invitation basis what it opposes doing on a mandatory basis.

The switch in policy apparently came after President Nixon called Hoover, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and a score of state and local police officials to the White House to express concern over a rising number of police deaths.

Last year's toll is expected to be 100, compared with 86 officers killed in the line of duty in 1969. More than 50 policemen were slain in the first six months of this year.

Reviewing the fiscal year, Hoover said investigations into organized crime and extremist violence occupied much of the bureau's time.

More than 700 persons were arrested under provisions of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 since it became law last October, Hoover said.

Arrests in securities theft cases totaled more than 60, with the total value of stolen stocks and bonds recovered topping $26 ... for, he added.

Hoover said membership in the Black Panther party is now estimated at 800, a drop from the 1,000 he said belonged to the organization when he testified before a House appropriations subcommittee last March.

Among factors contributing to the decrease is the intraparty feuding between Black Panther commander Huey Newton and Eldridge Cleaver, the party's minister of information in exile in Algeria, Hoover indicated.

Despite the party's efforts to cultivate a responsible public image, Hoover said, "acts of violence traced to the Panthers resulted in the deaths of three law enforcement officers and the wounding of 21 others."

An FBI spokesman would not identify the three slain officers, but said the deaths occurred in Omaha, Toledo, Ohio and Detroit between August and November of last year.

Hoover said the Ku Klux Klan had experienced an increase in membership during the past fiscal year, from about 4,300 to about 4,500.

Say Bus Wagons Escape Federal Safety Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report describing bus wagons as marginally safe at best and inadequate at worst has pointed up loopholes permitting such vehicles to escape federal auto safety laws.

The report came Wednesday from Consumers Union, a nonprofit, independent product-testing organization in Mount Vernon, N.Y., which rated crash protection in the Volkswagen bus wagon and the Ford Chateau Club Wagon as grossly inadequate. Chevrolet and Dodge models were rated marginal.

Volkswagen challenged Consumers Union to provide any information from crash tests and said its bus—which it calls a station wagon—meets existing federal front-end crash standards for automobiles. Ford had no immediate comment.

The report also disclosed the government has exempted bus wagons from many federal safety regulations by labeling them "multipurpose vehicles" or "forward-control vehicles."

Thus, the bus wagons are not required to have head restraints. They need not have antitheft locking steering columns, or collapsible steering columns designed to prevent drivers from being gored in a front-end collision. The seat belts required on automobiles since 1967 were required on bus wagons only since the first of this month. And shoulder harnesses are optional.

The vehicles also are exempt from the Department of Transportation proposed standards on occupant protection in crashes and rollovers.

The bus wagons were granted exemptions though advertised as family vehicles and promoted as alternatives to station wagons.

Ford listed its sales of the bus wagons this year at 11,494. It has been making the wagons for five years. Volkswagen sales hit a record 65,069 last year and have been over 50,000 a year since 1968.

In its upcoming "Consumer Reports" magazine, Consumers Union called the Ford's brakes inadequate and had these other complaints:

"The VW has so much difficulty keeping up with highway traffic as to present a hazard not only to its occupants but to occupants of vehicles that share the road with it. We also judged that under some conditions lethal exhaust fumes could seep into the passenger compartments of the Dodge, the Ford and the VW buses."

The VW bus had received attention for its performance in collisions last year. The University of North Carolina rated it poorest with a death rate twice that of the average of other vehicles. Other bus wagon results were not compiled separately.

VW said it has redesigned its bus wagon since the North Carolina study, but Consumer Reports said the six inches of metal in front of a VW bus driver is not enough.

Okinawa Gas Moved

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — The U.S. Army today began moving about 3,000 tons of mustard gas from Okinawa to Johnston Island in the mid-Pacific.

Officials said five truck convoys took 630 tons of gas in sealed steel canisters to the 15,750-ton transport Sea Lift and that another 600 tons will be moved to the ship each day for the next four days.

About 2,000 residents along the route left their homes and 21 schools were closed for the summer six days early as a precaution, but officials said the operation was completed safely.

The U.S. high commissioner for Okinawa, Lt. Gen. James P. Lampert, said he hoped the future gas removal operations "will go as smoothly as it did today."

Police said a group of 60 radical students tried to block the shipment but were cleared from the road without incident. Although the leftists demonstrated repeatedly demanding that the gas be removed from Okinawa, they now claim its movement endangers the islanders.

The United States has had 13,000 tons of gas stored on Okinawa. Last January, about 150 tons were shipped to Johnston Island, 700 miles southwest of Hawaii, and Washington has promised to remove the rest before the island is returned to Japan next year.

The Army assured Okiawans living along the seven-mile route to the pier that all precautions were taken to assure their safety. Nevertheless, many persons left their homes.

Herbicide Release Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government panel's recommendation that a weed killer suspected of posing a birth-defect hazard be cleared for public sale has drawn sharp criticism from a Boston scientist.

"The report is in gross contradition to other scientific reports ... it uses assumptions that cannot be substantiated," Dr. Samuel Epstein, a researcher at Harvard Medical School and the Children's Hospital Medical Center of Boston, said Wednesday.

The Agriculture Department issued notices last year proposing cancellation of federal registration of the chemical—2, 4, 5-T—for use around the home, near water, and on food crops after indications it had caused birth defects in laboratory animals.

Dow Chemical Co. and Hercules, Inc., which manufacture the chemical, exercised appeal rights to refer the decision to review by a panel of nine scientists.

Epstein unveiled the panel's report, still held confidential by the Environmental Protection Agency, at a news conference called by consumer advocate Ralph Nader's Center for the Study of Responsive Law.

The review committee concluded current use patterns and "the known fate" of 2, 4, 5-T in the environment "are such that any accumulation that might constitute a hazard to any aspect of human health is highly unlikely."

The committee said large doses of the chemical could cause birth defects but said aspirin, caffein, nicotine and organic mercury pose a similar hazard.

The committee said, however, that the compound should bear a conspicuous warning that it might be dangerous to pregnant women and animals.

Cat Goes 800 Miles Back Home

FOREST LAKE, Minn. (AP) — Satin the cat now is content to lounge around the Lauri Tiala household here after an 11-month, 800-mile trek from Illinois to Pennsylvania.

One year ago the Tiala family moved from Towanda, Pa., to Forest Lake. Curled up in a traveling cage in the car was Satin with his owner, 12-year-old Sylvia Tiala.

The one-year-old cat's adventure began at a motel in Illinois. Satin chewed a hole in the cage and disappeared.

"She was heartbroken," Mrs. Tiala said of Sylvia. "We searched through cornfields for three hours for that cat. Little did we know that by that time he was well on his way back to Pennsylvania."

The family continued its journey and settled down in Forest Lake, about 25 miles northeast of Minneapolis-St. Paul. Many times during the winter Mrs. Tiala found Sylvia crying for her lost pet.

But it was last month that a former neighbor in Towanda called the Tialas to report Satin had come home.

He had first returned to his own house, then went to a neighbor's. The neighbor told the Tialas over the telephone that Satin would have nothing to do with people, but neither would he leave the premises.

And then one day this month, a familiar car turned into a driveway near where Satin crouched. The car door opened and out came Sylvia. The battered cat's joy was obvious as he raced to her, purring ecstatically.

"He was skinny and had ear mites, but he was my Satin," Sylvia recalled.

On the return trip to Minnesota, Satin never got out of Sylvia's sight.

Arriving at his new Forest Lake home, Satin stalked into the house, cuffed the family's dog on the head and established his kingdom—with Sylvia as chief admirer again.
