Two Dead, 42 Hurt In Train Wreck

19 Americans Are Victims Of Eire Tragedy

(By The Associated Press)

SHANNON AIRPORT, Eire, Thursday, April 15—Thirty persons, 19 of them Americans, were reported killed today in the wreck of a Pan American World airways Constellation—the "Empress of the Skies."

The plane, bound from London to New York, crashed and burned while trying to land at Shannon airport at 3 a.m. (9 p.m., CST, Wednesday).

Mark Worst, a Californian and manager of the Lockheed Aviation corporation's base at Shannon, was the only survivor. He suffered only shock and saved himself by climbing through a hole in the wrecked fuselage. His wife, waiting here to greet him, witnessed the crash.

Names Of Dead Withheld

In London, Fred Tupper, Pan American public relations officer, said names of the dead will be withheld until next of kin have been notified. That, he said, will take hours.

Tupper said the 10 crewmen all were from the United States and so were nine of the passengers besides Worst—six men, two women and a year-old boy. Other passengers he said, were one British woman, five Italian men, one Frenchman, two Indian men, one Pakistan woman and one stateless man.

Basil Warnock, American overseas airlines stationmaster at Shannon, said weather observers reported three miles' visibility at the time of the crash.

12 Killed In 1946

The last air disaster at Shannon was in December, 1946, when a Transworld airlines Constellation crashed near the airport, killing 12 persons.

The "Empress of the Skies" left London at 12:25 a.m., Greenwich mean time (6:25 p.m. CST, Wednesday). The British Press association said its original point of departure was Karachi, Pakistan.

The wreckage of the plane was completely burned out.

According to Worst, the pilot made one unsuccessful attempt to get the plane down on Shannon's main airstrip. Then on the second try the liner struck an obstruction, bumped along the ground for a considerable distance and burst into flames.

Pilot Approaches Twice

Warnock, said the plane still was burning more than an hour after the crash.

"The pilot made one pass at the airfield to land but did not succeed and was making his second approach," Warnock said. "I don't know what happended, but the pilot couldn't make it."

Tupper, said in London that 21 passengers and a crew of 10 were on the plane, adding "that is the official passenger list as I understand it."

Tupper talked by telephone from his home to an Associated

CINCINNATI, April 14 (AP)—The Ohio river ran out of its banks today almost the entire 981 miles from the golden triangle of Pittsburgh to the Mississippi.

However, it was still a toss-up whether the thousands of river people had a mere spring rise or a disaster before their doors. City, state, federal, and private rescue agencies were getting ready for either.

George Mindling, U. S. meteorologist at Columbus, said no more rain was in sight for Ohio until Saturday.

Bank Deposits Show Seasonal Drop Here

Lubbock bank deposits showed only a seasonal decline at the close of business on April 12 over year-end figures, statements of the three local banks revealed Wednesday. Statements were made in answer to a federal bank call.

Deposits totaled $83,757,092.98 on that date compared to an all-time peak of $90,669,303.99 last Dec. 31.

Total resources of the banks were $86,848,340.17.

Loans totaled $15,803,084.16.

All figures showed substantial increases over those of a year ago.

In addition to savings accounts reported by First Federal Savings & Loan association, customer accounts of all Lubbock financial institutions total $86,757,092.98.

Mine Chief's Fate May Be Known Today

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 14—John L. Lewis, glowering and silent, refused today to defend himself against a contempt of court charge that lays him open to a possible heavy fine or even a prison term.

Lewis may learn his fate tomorrow after the government winds up its effort to prove him and the union guilty. The mine chief called no defense witnesses. His lawyers declined even to enter a formal argument.

Miners Await Decision

The charge: That Lewis and the union disregarded an April 3 court order directing an immediate end to the coal miners' walkout which cut deep into the nation's industrial output.

Lewis told the miners to stop their "voluntary" work stoppage last Monday—after he reached an eleventh hour agreement in an old age pension dispute.

The government charges that he didn't act soon enough. About half of the 400,000 miners still were away from their jobs today—waiting to see what happened to their chief.

Not Guilty Is Plea

Through his battery of lawyers, the bushy-browed Lewis entered his and the union's plea shortly after 9 a. m. (CST). "Not guilty," it said.

Then he sat, impassive and occasionally chomping on his peppermint drop, while the government called witness after witness in an effort to show:

1—That Lewis really ordered the walkout, although he insists he didn't.

2—That the walkout was—in the words of the Taft-Hartley act—a strike endangering national health and safety.

3—That Lewis and the UMW were guilty of contempt for not calling it off immediately when a federal court told them to.

Dismissal Asked

On the bench, affable and some times smiling, was U. S. District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who fined Lewis and the UMW $3,510,000 on a similar charge less than two years ago. (The Supreme court later cut the fine to $710,000.)

Time after time Welly K. Hopkins, who heads Lewis' defense staff, hopped up to object to government testimony. Some times the judge ruled for him, sometimes against him.

At the end of the day's session, Hopkins made the customary motion to dismiss the contempt charge. He said the government's evidence was "not sufficient to sustain either criminal or civil contempt beyond a reasonable

Father Finds New Use For Bank Book

BERLIN, N. H., April 14 (AP)—Fireman James E. Sullivan rushed into a bank here four times within 10 minutes—making a deposit each time in the same account.

A curious cashier—a bit annoyed at what he thought unnecessary work for everyone—asked Sullivan why he didn't make a single deposit.

"That bank account is for my son, Edward, who was born today," replied Sullivan. "I think it's a good way to remember just when everything happened."

Sullivan's first deposit was $19.48 (year), then came $4.14 (month and day), $12.03 (time) and $7.98 (weight).

25-Division Army Urged

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 14 — Gen. Omar N. Bradley said today that if universal military training is shelved, the nation should raise a standing army totaling 1,500,000 men and costing billions of dollars.

Russia has more than 170 active divisions now, he said, and added that "our intelligence advises they could raise that to over 300 in less than 60 days." About 95 more divisions would come from satellite countries.

It is estimated that the U. S. now has about nine under-strength divisions. At the end of the war, Bradley said, the U. S. had 90 ground divisions, 89 of them overseas.

Air Force Expansion Pushed

As Bradley testified before the House Armed Services committee, congressional backers predicted House approval of a billion dollar fund to put a 70-group Air Force plan in motion. (This compares with the present program of 55 groups).

Yesterday Air Secretary Symington said an Air Force of 70 groups is more important to the nation's security than UMT, but Gen. Bradley disagreed today.

"There is no relationship between the 70-group program and UMT," he said. "The alternative is not 70 groups, 170 groups or 1,000 groups.

UMT Or Standing Army Asked

"The alternative to UMT if we are to have the barest type of security is a standing Army big enough to carry the Army portion of a war burden for one year until mobilization can be effected.

"This would require at least 25 divisions initially, or about 1,500,000 men, and would cost many billions annually."

He testified before the House committee studying a draft bill which would boost the Army's total strength from 542,000 to 782,000 men. It is hearing military leaders express their views of

The action, four days before the Italian election, came even though American production is still lagging from the recent strike.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN CONTINUES

Italy's Reds Claimed Confused By Russia's Parley Rejection

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, April 14—Rightist newspapers said today that Italy's Communists had been thrown into consternation by Moscow's turndown of the western powers' proposal to hold a conference on Trieste.

United States diplomatic observers said they believed the Soviet Union's refusal to talk about the American-British French proposal to return the free state to Italy signified Moscow had abandoned hopes of Communist victory in the Italian elections of April 18.

Premier Alcide De Gasperi returned from a northern campaign trip today expressing confidence over the outcome for his Christian Democrats.

Communists, however, were as vigorous in their campaigning as ever. Six thousand demonstrated in Milan tonight, led by workers who carried placards attacking De Gasperi. They were in evidence at almost every pro-government meeting, where they engaged in heckling.

Tractors Claimed Standing Idle In Fields

Plains Farmers Feel Fuel Shortage Pinch

ANSWERING complaints from some farmers that their tractors, irrigation pumps, and other equipment are standing idle because they cannot buy fuel, petroleum products distributors here said yesterday the gasoline situation appears to be tightening, but that they can see no cause for alarm.

Major companies, some of which have been on allocation of products for some time, and others on a generally similar plan, said they are taking care of old customers, but are not taking any new business, except replacement of a customer who has dropped out, or decreased his consumption of their products.

Investigation Is Planned

State Senator Sterling J. Parrish and Rep. Preston E. Smith are to go to Ropesville this morning to interview those refused gasoline service to formulate plans for seeking relief for the the farmers. They had been requested to aid in the problem by a group of the farmers.

What happens to the farmer who is starting operations for the first time, or has not been on a consumers' list?

Major company distributors had no answer to that question, other than to say that some companies—independents and co-ops—are still caring for some new business, and it would be up to the consumer to find the source.

Co-op Has Partial Answer

One co-op organization which operates in this and other area counties appeared to be a partial answer. After explaining that petroleum products as a whole are about 40 per cent short of potential demand over the nation, the management, which said the organizaiton is designed and chartered to serve the farmer, added that all demands for fuel from farmers are being met.

Product of a refinery, owned and operated by the concern, move almost exclusively into farm circles, and, as one bright spot in the generally dark picture, capacity of the plant can be stepped up, and even quadrupled, if necessary, it was said.

What is the cause of the tight gasoline and petroleum products situation?

Consumption Has Zoomed

The answer in all circles was the stepped-up consumption of such products, such as increased farm mechanization, rapidly expanding use of pump irrigation in this area, conversion of heating equipment in many parts of the nation from coal or other fuel to petroleum products, and generally increased consumption in private

State's Net Oil Allowable Cut

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 14—The Railroad commission today issued a 60-day oil order for May and June cutting the net allowable 9,733 barrels below the current figure.

Permissive production for May was set at 2,608,196 barrels daily compared with 2,617,929 as of last Saturday. Retention of the East Texas field on 21 producing days in the 31-day month is responsible for the drop in total production. A 92-barrel increase was granted in the Gulf Coast district.

East Texas will continue on 21 days in the 30-day month of June, thus bringing production for that month back to approximately the current level.

Production Cut

The oil order is calculated to result in actual production of 2,456,421 barrels of oil daily during May. This is 6,421 barrels more than the United States Bureau of Mines estimate of daily market demand for Texas crude for the coming month.

The production cut comes at a time when the national government is asking for more oil if possible. Gov. Beauford H. Jester revealed several days ago that Secretary of the Interior Krug had written him to urge increased production if it can be done without

Seamen Battle Police After Attempt To Block Exchange

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—A group of unemployed seamen battled police on Wall Street today after attempting to block the entrance to the struck New York stock exchange.

It was the first outbreak since the lie-down tactics on the second day of the strike of AFL United Financial employes against the stock and curb exchanges and four brokerage houses.

A group of seven seamen tried three times during the afternoon to block the exchange entrance. On the first two attempts they were driven across the street by officers.

The third attempt was accompanied by flailing fists and swinging clubs.

UN Announces Truce Plan For Palestine

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—The United Nations tonight announced a truce plan designed to end fighting and bloodshed in Palestine.

One section would bar all persons of military age—either Arabs or Jews—from entering the Holy Land.

Security Council delegates were reported in virtual agreement on most of the provisions of the plan which will go to a council vote tomorrow at Lake Success.

There was no immediate comment from the Jewish agency and the Arab high committee, which previously failed to agree on a truce.

House Group Votes New And Tighter Checks On Communists

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—New and tighter checks on Communists were voted by the House committee on un-American Activities today.

Rep. Mundt (R-SD) announced adoption of an amendment to his bill designed to curb Red activities in the United States.

The amendment would require the Communist party as well as "front" organizations to register with the Justice department each July 1. Each organization would have to supply the names and last known addresses of its members.

The original draft provided only for the registration of Communist front organizations.

Stassen Wins In Nebraska; Aims At Ohio

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

OMAHA, April 14.—A roaring tide of Nebraska Republican votes carried Harold E. Stassen today into the field of top-notch contenders for the GOP presidential nomination.

His smashing victory in yesterday's presidential primary here delivered to the former Minnesota governor 13 of the state's 15 votes on the first nominating ballot at Philadelphia.

In a sweep that promised him a final margin of more than 15,000, over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Stassen climbed to the top of the popularity standings in this heavily-Republican midwestern area.

Taft Is Poor Third

Stassen collected about 43 per cent of a GOP ballot total expected to top 200,000 when all of the state's precincts are counted.

Dewey, apparently in line for support of one convention delegate, got 34 per cent. Senator Robert A. Taft was a bad third runner with 10 per cent.

The count, from 1,868 of the state's 2,024 precincts stood:

Stassen 74,925, Dewey 59,135, Taft 19,348, Senator Arthur Vandenberg 8,340, Gen. Douglas MacArthur 6,269, Gov. Earl Warren of California 1,675, House Speaker Joseph Martin 843.

Ohio Is Next

With this victory wrapped up, Stassen turns tomorrow to campaigning in Ohio. There he is seeking to take away from Taft some of that state's 53 delegates in a May 4 primary.

At Minneapolis he promised to carry on the work of "developing a vigorous, forward-looking and humanitarian Republican party." He thanked Dewey and Taft for their "clean, constructive" campaign in Nebraska.

Dewey, absorbing his second political beating from the Minnesotan in a week, indicated at Albany he will continue the fight in a head-on battle with Stassen in the May 21 Oregon Republican primary.

GOP Showdown To Come Later

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 14 — What effect will Harold E. Stassen's Midwest popular support, as shown in Nebraska and Wisconsin, have on the Republican national convention when the time comes to pick a presidential candidate?

That appeared today to be the main question in the minds of politicians trying to gauge the significance of the Minnesotan's capture of the Cornhusker state's preference vote.

Stassen's supporters claimed the Nebraska result, on top of his sweeping Wisconsin victory, made him the "No. 1 contender" for the nomination. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's backers replied that their man still is in the lead.

Vandenberg "Dark Horse"

Dewey and Senator Taft of Ohio, who ran second and third respectively in the seven-man "popularity" race in Nebraska, are looking to future primaries to balance the score.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who ran fourth in Nebraska, is still regarded as a good "dark horse" choice in event of a convention deadlock, although he says he is not a candidate.

Politicians familiar with convention traditions say the big dele-

No Immediate Rain Forecast

Another longtime West Texas 'adage' has bitten the dust, West Texas dust at that.

For as long as most people can remember, a 'ring' or 'rainbow' around the moon meant a change in weather and more than likely moisture. At least, that was the saying the oldtimers had and the newtimers, digging dust from under their doors, hopefully picked it up.

It isn't necessarily so, though, it seems.

Last night, a 'lunar corona,' or 'ring' if you please, caused the moon to take on a very unusual and luminous glow in Lubbock and over the South Plains. A number of people expressed interest and the opinion that it meant possible moisture.

The weatherman had noticed the glow around the body that rhymes with June, also, and came up with a few interesting, although somewhat discouraging facts.

It seems that last night's

Three Hurt In Area Mishaps

THREE persons were seriously injured yesterday in two accidents in the Lubbock area, one of which involved a collision of a motorcycle and a truck.

Alvin Gary, 24, of Southland, suffered a mangled leg and cuts and bruises, and his wife, Mrs. Gean Stovall Gary, 20, suffered a fractured pelvis when the motorcycle they were riding collided with the rear of an empty explosives truck one mile east of the 'Y' on the Slaton highway about 6:15 p. m.

Driver Not Hurt

The driver of the truck, E. O. Lee, of Dallas, was not injured.

The truck and the motorcycle were both being driven east at the time of the accident, according to the highway patrol. Lee was preparing for a left turn at an intersection on the highway, highway patrolmen reported, but had not crossed the center stripe.

Gary was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital by Rix Funeral home ambulance, and his wife was taken to West Texas hospital by Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral Home ambulance.

Farmer Is Injured

In a farm accident east of Lubbock yesterday afternoon, W. L. Hales, 39, of route 1, suffered third-degree burns on the hands, and first-degree burns on the face when gasoline caught fire.

He had been cleaning an irrigation motor at the farm of C. L. Huff, his uncle, and the motor backfired after being cranked, setting fire to the gasoline.

Hales was admitted to West Texas hospital.

Open Safety Pin Removed From Baby's Throat With Tweezers

Slain Hero's Widow Thwarts Move To End Colombia Crisis

(By The Associated Press)

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 14—The government's attempt to end the national crisis arising from last week's bloody revolt was thwarted today by the delayed burial of an assassinated political hero.

The plan to give a state funeral to Jorge Eliecer Gaitan, whose slaying set off the futile insurrection, was held in abeyance when his widow refused to permit this burial until President Mariano Ospina Perez resigns.

Gaitan was the leader of Colombia's Liberal party Ospina is a Conservative.

The widow told newsmen, U. S. army officers and Uruguayan delegates to the Pan-American conference that Gaitan would not be interred until the president quit his post. She told the Uruguayans it was not her desire to delay the funeral, but that "the people" wished it postponed.

The development occurred as the 21-nation Pan-American conference formally resumed its work for the first time since the uprising disrupted the meeting Friday.

Streamliner Is Derailed In Oklahoma

(By The Associated Press)

KREMLIN, Okla., April 14—A speeding Rock Island streamliner plunged from the tracks here today killing at least two persons and injuring 42 more as it crashed into freight cars on a side track.

The passenger train, the Texas Rocket, was struck by a dump truck as it sped southward at nearly eighty miles an hour. The three coaches of the train, derailed by the impact, careened down the right-of-way, smashed into the freight train and caught fire.

The state highway patrol said two persons were killed and 27 more hospitalized, five of them in critical condition. The patrol said 15 others were treated for less serious injuries and released.

Bodies Badly Mangled

One of the dead was tentatively identified as Mrs. Earl McClintock, 35, Wichita, Kas. Earl McClintock, Wichita, arrived in Enid, Okla., tonight and identified the badly burned body as that of his wife through a bracelet and dental work.

The body of one unidentified man also was in an Enid morgue.

The injured were taken to hospitals in Enid, 12 miles south of this town of 100 in northwestern Oklahoma's wheatlands.

The left sides of the three coaches were ripped off. Two caught fire. The coach hit by the truck was burned out. It was here the dead and most of the injured were found.

One of the critically injured was Raymond Dvorak, of the University of Wisconsin music faculty at Madison, Wis. Dvorak was enroute to Enid to judge a high school music festival which began today. A patrolman said one of Dvorak's arms was amputated at the hospital.

As the train—a diesel locomotive, baggage car and three coaches roared into town it was hit at a crossing by a dump truck filled with dirt.

A rail was broken, the coaches

Freight Averts Worse Tragedy

KREMLIN, Okla., April 14 (AP)—On the scene late today, rail and law officials speculated that a standing freight train on the next track prevented a much worse wreck of the Rock Island's Texas Rocket.

It was a paradox—because they also expressed belief that the flames which burned out the Rocket's two rear coaches were caused by that same freight train—by friction of three careening coaches against the freight cars that ripped off their left sides.

At least two—and possibly three—charred bodies were taken from one of the burned out cars, Detective Chief Earle Moore of nearby Enid, said.

Firemen Fight Flames

"They were burned beyond recognition. There were two of them, anyway. Maybe three.

"No, we couldn't tell what they were—nor be sure of how many. They were too badly burned—wedged in the wrecked seats.

"The rear coaches would have turned over if it hadn't been for the freight on the next track—and the toll probably would have been higher."

Lt. E. S. Clark of the Oklahoma highway patrol said the passengers "churned" in the derailed coaches as they hurtled against the freight.

The Enid fire chief, John Sweeney, said his men fought the Trade Between U. S., Soviets Slumps Sharply, Survey Shows

By EARL RICHERT
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 14—Trade between the U. S. and Russia slumped sharply in February, Commerce department statistics revealed today.

U. S. exports to Russia amounted to $5.1 million, $2.3 million less than in January and only a third of that shipped in December. In February, 1947, the amount was $15.7 million.

Goods arriving here from Russia also dropped more than 50 per cent from January, the February imports amounting to $2.2 million. Imports from Russia in recent months had been averaging slightly above $5 million a month.

Russian Action Unchanged

Commerce department officials said they had no knowledge of any Russia curtailment on shipments to the U. S. in retaliation for our now-tightened controls on exports to eastern Europe.

They said it was not significant that U. S. imports of Russian crome and manganese ore dropped 50 per cent from January. The January imports of 2.2 million in these industrial metals was unusually high, they said, and the February figure of $1.1 million is more nearly normal.

Fur imports from Russia also were down sharply, only $440,000 worth being brought in. These imports usually run into several millions each month.

As usual, machinery accounted for about 90 per cent of Russian purchases from the U. S. in February.

The Russians bought $1 million worth of oil-well and refining equipment and about half that in ore rock-crushing and smelting machinery and pumps.

They bought $1.3 million in electrical equipment, including two railway mining locomotives and 267 stationary motors for $456,000.

Other purchases included six milling machines for $157,000 and $399,000 worth of forging machinery and parts. Among the small purchases were 44,000 pounds of wheat cereal and $337 worth of biscuits and crackers.

As has been the case in recent months, the U. S. shipped more to Poland than to Russia in February.

Exports to Poland totaled $10.8 million, of which nearly half was cotton. The Poles also got about $2½ million worth of machinery, including 102 surplus airplane engines and 179 complete propeller assemblies worth $134,000. February exports to Poland were about $2 million under January when the Poles got 60 steam locomotives valued at $7 million.

Of the other Soviet satellites, Yugoslavia received the largest amount of U. S. goods in February, slightly topping $1 million. Her biggest import was $396,000 in lard and $63,000 in margarine.

We shipped Bulgaria only $16,000 worth of goods mostly charity clothing, food and drugs, but bought $230,000 of her products, including fitch and hare furs, rose oil for perfumes and unstemmed cigaret leaves.

Albania received $33,000 worth of condensed milk and lard from the U. S. and Romania about $200,000 worth of charity gifts and nine new automobiles. Our only import from Romania was $857 worth of stamps and stamped envelopes for stamp collectors.

Illinois Solon Suggests Government Get Down To Earth On Agriculture Research

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 14 — You'll be happy, and most likely right proud to know tha. your government is getting down to earth.

As Rep. Ed Dirksen of Pekin, Ill., looks at it, there's no other way to go now but down. To the very good, old earth as Pearl Buck used to say. We've already examined and conquered the four needles of the compass, and there's not much up yonder we don't know about. Except maybe the green cheese in the moon and what color, if any, are the people on Mars.

The honorable Mr. Dirksen was appearing before the House Agriculture committee in their spiffy green-appointed meeting hall; on H. R. 4752. Mr. Dirksen's own bill. It would establish a national fertilizer and soil fertility laboratory.

Goes To Point

Mr. Dirksen smoothed out his powder blue suit, fingered the starched white hanky in his coat pocket and got right to the point. To his way of thinking, said he, conservation of soil fertility is the greatest problem confronting all humankind today.

He pointed out that agriculture, as an industry, is 4,000 years—40 centuries—old. How much progress have we made, he asked? We haven't even licked the dandelion.

"Take the electric light bulb, which is a little over half a century old," he cried.

"It started out as a trickle of light. But today it lights the world. Almost. Does agriculture brighten the world with its progress? No."

Reps. Reid Murray and August Andresen from the great farm states of Wisconsin and Minnesota, in that order, blushed in shame, along with other members of the committee.

The Hon. Mr. Dirksen then took his audience, which included no more than a couple of dozen, on a tour of the world. To India. There, he said, he was on hand while a million and a half people starved, and he was helpless. Why? The fertility of the good earth was not preserved. He went from there to China, England and Palestine, etc. He added that, speaking of soil—why didn't we go back to the original formula. Or as nearly as possible.

Soil Lacks Minerals

"The good earth," he said, "used to provide us with all the vitamins we needed. Then, all of a sudden, we found we lacked vitamins. Turned out we did. Science produced them. So we gulp 'em down. And why? Because we don't get them in the foods we eat, like we used to."

It's because the mineral salts that used to be in the soil aren't there any more, the man from Illinois said. That among other things.

All a matter of nutrition, said he, look at Germany, where they have neglected that sort of thing. There, the average adult is 26 pounds under weight.

"I hear that half of the mail carriers in Hamburg had to be slapped in hospitals because of their health."

Too skinny to carry a bag of mail!

Labor Relations Board Orders Election At Dumas Zinc Plant

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The National Labor Relations board has ordered an election among employes of the American Zinc company plant at Dumas, Tex., to determine whether they want the Dumas smeltermen's union, C.I.O. as their collective bargaining unit.

The election, to be held in the next 30 days, was ordered as the result of a hearing at Amarillo last Dec. 22.

The plant, which manufactured products valued at more than $3,000,000 last year, has been operating under a contract with the international union of mine, mill and smelter workers, another C.I.O. group. The Dumas local split away from this group last year and affiliated with the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America.

The company declined to recognize the new local as the bargaining group because of the smelter workers' certification. The new group petitioned for an election.

Air Reservists To Receive Pay

Seventy-eight officers and 20 enlisted men of Lubbock vicinity who are in the 707th Bomb Squadron (VH) will receive pay for training periods, as result of the new pay bill passed by Congress and signed by President Truman.

All are civilians and members of the air force reserve. Heretofore, they have been participating in reserve activities without pay.

M/Sgt Harry K. Johnson has received a copy of the bill and information regarding payment for participation in reserve activities from Col. Robert W. Warren, commanding officer of Hensley field.

Paid For Training

Men affected by the pay bill can receive pay for regular periods of instruction such as flying, ground school and administrative duties. Colonel Warren said, however, that those reserves must have been engaged in that duty for a period not less than two hours and also have met the additional prescribed minimum standards of training, instruction or duty to be credited for pay purpose, that the organization to which they are attached has set up.

Class B and C units — within which the 707th Bomb squadron would come as a C unit—that have a full complement of officers and enlisted cadre will receive 24 pay periods per year. Pay will be received at rate of one-thirtieth of the monthly based pay.

Amass Flying Time

The local squadron amassed a total of 118 hours and 45 minutes flying time during the three-day training period Friday, Saturday and Sunday, which may be a record for a training period for any unit in the Hensley field area, said Master Sergeant Johnson. Twenty men of Lubbock vicinity took part.

Johnson said men are needed in the following grades and military occupational specialties in the 707th squadron: master sergeant, 750, 747, and 684; sergeant, 747, 684, 405, 060, and 611; corporal, 747, 684, 405, 060, 345, and 620; privates, 747 and 405; staff sergeants, 502, 911, 580, 2,756, 1,685, and 612.

"Buccaneers" was a term first applied to early-day French cowboys in Haiti who turned pirate when cattle raising proved unprofitable and left their designation to all pirates.

Texas Fishermen Barred From Part Of Lake By Technicality

SHERMAN, Tex., April 14 (AP)—Texas fishermen wanting to visit the Oklahoma section of Lake Texoma ran into a legal snag today.

Scores of hardware and sporting goods dealers at Sherman, Denison, Whitesboro and Gainesville stopped selling Oklahoma fishing licenses. They had been notified that the Oklahoma fish and game commission has suspended the sale of licenses by out-of-town agents under a new interpretation of law.

A recent series of meetings between the Texas and Oklahoma commissions to work out a uniform Texoma license was stalemated and the problem thrown back into the laps of the two states' governors.

SHIFTING WOOL TANGLES LINES

Five Divers Trapped In Hulk Of Sunken Treasure Ship Rescued

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., April 14 (AP)—Five divers told today how a sunken treasure ship trapped them for two hours in the black deeps of the Atlantic as they hunted the wreck's $8,000,000 cargo.

The story excited this waterfront, but listeners had to be satisfied with sketchy details from the veteran divers who escaped from 120 feet down yesterday in cold seas off Cape Cod.

Tom Griffin, credited by the others with their rescue after two hours of exhausting struggle in the depths, said only:

"It was plenty rough."

Bales Of Wool Shift

Edward Lane of Somerville, one of three brothers seeking the manganese cargo of a freighter torpedoed in wartime, was the first pinned helpless in the hulk when shifting bales of wool tangled his lines.

Then three other divers came down to his aid—Walter Silveira of Boston, Thomas Sacco of Springfield and Clarry Edwards of New Bedford.

One by one they were bowled over in the blackness. One would free his lines and those of the mate he'd reached first and then the rocking wreck would send them sprawling again.

"Then Tom Griffin came down," Lane said, "and finally we were all cleared and able to go up. Tom worked two hours doing it and he'd already spent an hour down there on his first shift."

Will Try Again

The rescued men shrugged and didn't answer questioners who asked about the danger or their fears in the long ocean floor battle after they docked here in their leaking old fishing schooner.

Edwards said:

"It was awful. I hope it's all the tough luck we're going to have.

The treasure hunters will try again, Lane said, because:

"We've had bad luck with leaks. That's why we had to put in here today. But if we had a vessel we could depend on, there'd be nothing to raising that eight million dollars."

MANSION SHOW

President Accepts Fancy Texas Boots

WASHINGTON, April 14 (U.P.)—The scene at the White House today was like something out of a vaudeville show.

Calling at the White House were men in cowboy hats, a miniature train and a lady passenger in hoopskirts.

President Truman first accepted a pair of black, gold and silver cowbo yboots—gift of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce and presented by the former sheriff, Chris Fox, and a group of Texas congressmen.

Then a motor-driven replica of the "Pioneer," the first train to operate out of Chicago 100 years ago, puffed into the White House grounds. Mr. Truman inspected the equipment of the Chicago & Northwestern system.

A conductor in mutton chop whiskers and a "passenger" in gingham hoopskirts welcomed the President. He turned down a proferred engineer's cap.

"They would say I was after the engineer vote," the President said. "This is a political year but I'm not pulling any political stunts like that."

SHOOTING LEADS TO RIOT—Jorge Eleicer Gaitan, Colombia's Liberal Party presidential candidate for 1950, was shot to death in Bogota by an unidentified assailant. U. S. Officials Deny Report Of Soviet Planes Over Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 14 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Joseph Atkinson, commander of U. S. Air Forces in Alaska, said today he "had no report of any Russian jets nor the planes of any other nation being sighted in Alaskan skies."

He commented after U. S. Rep. Margaret C. Smith (R-Me) said at Waterville, Me., last night that Russian jet planes "have violated Alaskan skies."

Air Force headquarters officers at Washington, D. C., also said they had heard nothing of any Russian planes being over Alaska.

Commons Votes To Abolish Death Penalty For Murder

LONDON, April 14 (AP) — The House of Commons voted tonight to abolish Britain's death penalty for murder for a five-year trial period.

The vote was 245 to 222.

If the bill becomes law, hanging will be imposed only for such offenses against the nation as treason or piracy.

MacArthur's Backers Continue Campaign

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—The word "quit" is not in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dictionary, one of the leaders in his presidential nomination campaign said here tonight.

He was Warren Wright of Grayslake, Ill., national coordinator of the MacArthur-for-President club, commenting on the Wisconsin and the Nebraska presidential primaries, Wright said:

"We do not have the least intention of quitting. The word quit is not in General MacArthur's dictionary, nor in ours."

"The results of both the Nebraska and Wisconsin primaries mean nothing. The Nebraska primary was only a popularity contest, with the chief contestant 10,000 miles away.

"It was more of a disappointment to some other candidates who had been on the scene and done more work there than we had.

"We are going right ahead with our national campaign."

Book Store Manager To Attend Meeting

W. C. Cole, manager of the Texas Technological college book store, will attend the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Association of College Stores to be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City April 18-21.

Cole, who is chairman of the Southern region of the association, comprising the states of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico, will leave by American Airlines plane from Dallas Sunday and return by plane April 23.

A talk by a Veterans' administration official from Washington on problems of veterans in college pertaining to book stores, and talks on store modernization will be features of the meeting.

The annual meeting is usually held in the Midwest, Cole stated, but due to the fact that this marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the association, it was decided to hold the session where the first meeting took place.

A. W. Littlefield of New York is president of the organization.

INAUGURATION

THE inauguration of Dr. William D. White as president of Baylor college at Waco was of special interest in Lubbock where the brilliant Baptist minister formerly held the pastorate of the First Baptist church and has many friends and well wishers.

The story of the eventful day carried one sobering incident in the activities. Miss Mary Brown of Houston, who had taught 11-year-old "Billy" White and had watched his career through the years, was to have been a special guest of the university. She came to Waco to see him installed in the highest position of his life.

As the elderly woman stepped into the foyer of Waco hall immediately preceding the ceremony, she fell and broke her hip, missing the ceremony.

Mrs. White was not present for the inauguration either. She is ill in Fort Worth.

AGE-OLD POWDER

IF milady's beauty depends on face powder, women in 4,000 B. C. probably looked as well as they do.

A pharmacy professor at the University of Texas, W. F. Gidley, says there isn't much basic difference between the Egyptian siren's face powder and that used by women today.

Face powders in 1948 may be finer and more sterile, smell better and come in a variety of colors, but Egyptian hieroglyphic translations from the year 4,000 B. C. indicate that women were busy with their powder puffs, or the Egyptian equivalent, even then, he says.

Soapstone or talc was, and still is, the base for most powders. The form that Cleopatra used might have been a little gritty compared to highly refined present-day brands, but it served the same purpose, according to the pharmacy professor.

WRITING SURVEY

FORTY-FIVE per cent of the errors which make writing illegible are made on the letters a, e, r and t, it has been shown by the New York board of education. The most frequently unreadable numerals are 5, 6 and 7.

The survey recommends that manuscript writing or printing be taught in the lowest grades, with the change to cursive writing, or script, be made when the individual child is ready for it.

We have no recommendations for the improvement in methods of teaching writing but we are in favor of it. Half of the stories that are mailed or brought in to our desk are on papers that vary from double-spaced typed notes on white paper (our favorite kind) to undecipherable scribbling on the back of laundry lists, blank checks and scratch paper. Not being the haughty type, we don't care what the paper looks like, but sometimes we spend precious minutes crowding a deadline trying to unscramble "i's," "e's" and "o's" and "a's."

It's been our observation that engineering students and engineers in business write the most easily read hands; usually in rapid printing. It's surprising, but true, that teachers are included in those who write the most illegible hands.

Children in whom left-handedness is definitely pronounced should be allowed to write with their left hands, according to the survey. They can learn to write easily, rapidly, comfortably and legibly if conditions accompanying the writing situations are suitable for them.

MISS Norma Lee White, of the nurses staff at Lubbock Memorial hospital, lost her purse billfold recently when she stepped from a cab at the west entrance to the hospital. Since it contains papers valuable to her, but of no use to anyone else, she is anxious to get the billfold back in her possession.

Although there were several bills and change in the wallet, the finder may feel free to keep the money if he or she will only send back the other contents, Miss White said. Credit, social security and nurse registration cards are included in the papers which she needs.

Study Units, Business Women, Musicians Attend Wednesday Afternoon Programs

Wednesday afternoon meetings were those of an AAUW Study unit, a UDC chapter, a business women's club and a music club. Programs were presented at the meetings and business sessions were conducted.

Members of AAUW Child Study unit, group 2, who met with Mrs. Gordon Deering, 2106 Thirty-first, Wednesday afternoon elected the following officers:

Mrs. Paul Cates, president; Mrs. Jess Hendrix, vice-president; Mrs. H. J. Roper, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. R. E. Gee, librarian; and Mrs. N. A. Cox, reporter. Mrs. Frank Todd, retiring president, presided.

A guest, Mrs. Iris Bergholm, spoke on "Preparing the Child for School." She suggested that parents check their children physically, mentally and emotionally before they send them to school and that cooperation with the school Summer Round-Up program is important. The speaker told the mothers that in general it is not a good idea to teach a child to read before he starts to school; it is better, she said, to occupy children with art work and handcrafts. Mrs. Bergholm warned the group that telling a child what to do all the time is very bad for him.

Mrs. R. H. Canaday was cohostess and members present were Mesdames Ray Livesay, J. D. Sanders, H. J. Steinhoff, H. J. Roper, Jess Hendrix, Otis Fincher, Odis Hackney, C. M. Neel, Ralph Caldwell, C. A. Spencer, Preston Smith, W. T. Rogers, N. A. Cox, Eugene Knox, Bob Gee and Dr. Agnes True.

Mrs. J. H. Hankins made a report on President Truman's Civil Rights bill.

Wheat Making Good Growth, But More Rain Is Needed In State

AUSTIN, April 14. (U.P.)—Wheat is making good growth in northern Panhandle counties, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

But in its weekly crop and weather bulletin, the Department said rapid growth, high temperatures and winds had exhausted surface moisture and rains were needed to keep up the growth.

However, the department's report covered the week ending April 12, and did not include early week rains. The report had stated that rain was urgently needed in "practically all areas," and added that range and pasture grasses were making "very slow progress."

Corn Planting Started

Planting of corn was underway in northwest and central counties, and some cotton was up to a stand as far north as the south-central counties, but the USDA said the crop needed more rain for continued growth.

Other crop conditions:

Flax—Made good growth in the costal bend area, but was suffering from lack of moisture in other areas.

Tomatoes—High, dry winds delayed completion of tomato transplanting in East Texas and caused further damages to plants already set in the fields.

Onions—The south Texas crop made "rapid progress" toward maturity, and harvest was expected to be generally underway this week in the lower Rio Grande valley, Laredo and winter garden areas. The coastal bend crop needed rain.

The Department of Agriculture reported that range and pasture growth was "practically at a standstill" in all areas except in the upper coastal counties and in some East Texas counties where local showers fell in the week ending April 12.

Equipment Will Be On Display At Tech

Modern equipment used in training military engineers in the ROTC unit at Texas Technological college will be put on display at the sixteenth annual Engineers' show, April 23-24, according to J. W. Stewart, engineering student of Lubbock and manager of the military science exhibits.

Some of the equipment will be demonstrated and explained by the students while other parts of it will be available for examination by the visitors.

Arms and ammunition, mine detectors, water purification systems, and various types of aircraft armament will be shown. On demonstration will be many pieces of equipment used in communications such as radio direction finders, sound power phones, which are operated on the field without the use of batteries, radio transmitters and receivers, and wire communication pieces. Model bridges of the type used in the field by combat engineers in World War II will also be on display.

Captured enemy equipment which should be of considerable interest to all visitors will be exhibited also, Stewart added.

The voting machine was first used in a New York City election in 1892.

Mickeys For Monkeys Fail To Pave Way For Capture

WICHITA FALLS, April 14 (AP)—Three monkeys who have made one end of this city a playground for six days, got a mickey finn in their milk today, but they still eluded capture.

The mickey made the monkeys sleepy. They could see no evil and speak no evil, but they could hear evil if it was in the form of someone trying to take away their liberty.

Whenever a would-be captor tried to scale the tree where the monkeys were drousing, their ears picked up the sound and away the monkeys would scamper.

C. C. Lynch, veteran monkey trainer from Fort Worth, put sleeping powders in milk set out for them but his labor was in vain.

Pauline, a fourth monkey who gave herself up yesterday, was released again in the hopes she would keep the others from scattering.

A fifth monkey was in captivity after he ventured too close to a trap baited with food.

The monkeys escaped from a sidewalk cage.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here Is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who know me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Hughes Charged With Waste Of Public Money On Plane Projects

WASHINGTON, April 14. (U.P.)—The Senate War Investigating committee today charged west coast millionaire Howard Hughes with squandering public money in wartime aircraft enterprises.

It also lashed the Air Force for "vaccillation and indecision" in its war contracting.

In a report submitted to the Senate the committee branded Hughes' wartime activities as "a failure". It said that the Hollywood millionaire spent "substantial sums" on government procurement officers with whom he was doing business.

But even more sharply the committee criticized the Air Force for a "lackadaisical" attitude in backchecking on Hughes contract for production of photo planes.

The report stemmed from a subcommittee investigation last year into the affairs of Hughes and Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers.

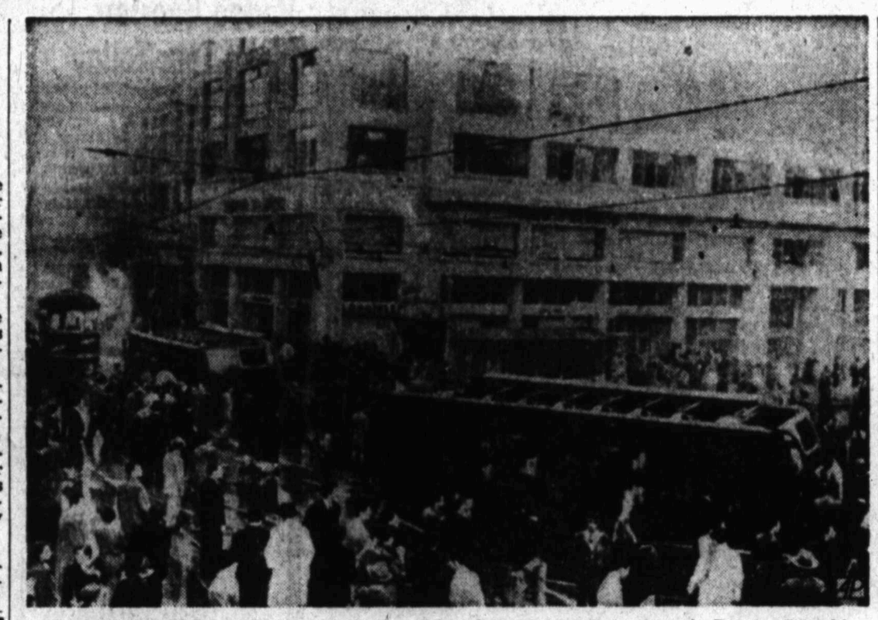

The committee criticized the Air Force and War department for failing to act against Meyers although they were "put on notice on several occasions that Gen. Meyers was conducting himself in a manner detrimental to the service."

Meyers, top wartime Air Force procurement officer, later was convicted of subordination of perjury.

Concerning the relationships between Hughes and Meyers involving charges of seeking and offering bribes, the committee said:

"In view of the conflicting testimony and in the absence of other evidence it is not possible for this committee to determine what offers and requests were made by Hughes or Meyers."

Supreme Court Gets Vote Case

AUSTIN, April 14. (U.P.) — The state Supreme court agreed today to accept jurisdiction in a case contesting the legality of votes cast by persons over 60 who do not hold current poll tax exemption certificates.

The case arose out of a school tax and bond election at Big Spring involving 45 votes cast by persons over 60 years of age who held permanent poll tax exemption certificates but did not hold a current exemption certificate.

State Law Amended

The trial, appealed from the Eastland court of civil appeals, was docketed for May 5.

The 49th Legislature amended a state law so that all persons over 60 were required to obtain poll tax exemption certificates.

In the Big Spring election, a canvass of the votes showed that 45 persons holding permanent exemptions, but not current certificates, voted. Disqualification of these votes changed the election.

The contest was filed by Ted Groebl against Howard Thomas, Howard county attorney, and others.

The trial court held that the 45 votes were illegal. This action was sustained by the Court of Civil Appeals.

However, Howard county has appealed on a writ of error, charging in two points that the act by the 49th Legislature in 1945 was illegal because the caption of the law was misleading, and further that in requiring a person to obtain an annual certificate of exemption, the law did not make it illegal for a person to vote who held a permanent exemption certificate.

Comparison Of Nazi And Soviet Pacts In Europe Prove Warning

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Nearly ten years ago a dictator of great power, determined that the world should bow to him, stood before a throng at the Sportspalast in Berlin and talked of his program.

Adolf Hitler said:

"We are not interested in oppressing other peoples . . . We want to live after our own patterns and let others live after theirs. I have selected a frontier that is fair to Czechoslovakia . . . I am a more just man than her Benes and I do not want to use the power I possess.

Differences Said Settled

"This (the Sudetenland) is the last territorial demand I have to make in Europe."

Using his previous deals with the Poles as evidence of his good faith, he said, "We Germans and the Poles, are two peoples. They shall live. One cannot annihilate the other. . . . The two administrations have a firm will and firm resolve continually to improve relations."

And of France he said:

"All the territorial differences . . . are settled. I no longer see any differences at all."

Comparison Is Made

That was Sept. 26, 1938. Three days before Munich. A year later Czechoslovakia had been invaded and dismembered without regard for the fair boundaries, the Nazi genocidal squads were preparing to continue the annihilation begun by the German Army in Poland, and Hitler was at war with France.

On April 6, 1948, Joseph Stalin, another dictator, spoke at a banquet celebrating the signing of a treaty with Finland.

"I want to proceed to a new period in our relations," said the man who now works on the world's nerves as did Hitler in 1938.

"The Finnish treaty . . . is concluded on the basis of full equality for both sides. Many peoples do not believe relations between large and small nations can be equal. We Soviet peoples consider such relations can be and must be. The Soviet people consider that every nation, whether great or small, has its own qualitative peculiarities. . . . These peculiarities are the contributions which each nation gives to the treasure trove of world culture. . . . In this sense, all nations, great and small, are in the same position. For this reason the Soviet people consider that Finland, although it is a small country, enters into this treaty as an equal partner in relation to the Soviet Union."

History makes bad reading for people who are forced to do business with dictators.

Crippled Author Puts Down Fear And Pain In Search Of God

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 14—Crippled Thomas Sugrue, who has taken more than a quart of cobra venom in the last nine years to still his pain, sat in a wheelchair today and talked of God.

"The most important thing in any man's life is his relationship with God," said the luminous-eyed little Irishman, "and this is inextricably bound up with the relation of every other man of God.

"Every man in a real sense is bound to his brother, and a man who arrived at heaven does so leaning on the arm of someone he has helped."

Uses Backscratcher

The phone rang. To answer it Sugrue put the receiver to his left ear with his right hand and held it with a hunched shoulder propped up with a wooden Chinese backscratcher.

Afterward he grinned and held up the backscratcher toy, which he uses as a kind of extended arm to rake things to him out of reach.

"It's a sort of insurance policy," he said, "if I didn't have it always handy my nose would itch."

Former Newspaperman

The backscratcher is only a symbol of the way Tom Sugrue, ex-newspaperman and magazine writer, has had to adjust himself to life. He was stricken in 1937 at the age of 30 with a combination of arthritis, spinal meningitis and infantile paralysis. He has never walked since.

He went to Florida, took fever treatments in which he spent days in a cabinet containing 80 light bulbs that heated his blood to 107 degrees. For two whole years he couldn't lie on his right side. In minute doses he has taken enough pain-killing cobra venom—it quiets the nerve ends—to kill three men, if given in mass injections.

Had To Make Living

"But sick or well, I had my living to make," he said. And he had a wife and daughter to support.

He wrote a novel, "Such Is the Kingdom." He no longer could use a typewriter, and the doctor would let him write longhand only one hour a day.

"So I memorized it, doing the editing in my head," he said, "and managed to write 1,000 words each day during the one hour."

Learned To Dictate

Then he learned to dictate. He wrote a biography, "There Is a River," and in 1946 he produced the best-selling "Starling of the White House." Last year, working with bandleader Eddie Condon, he dictated another best-seller, "We Called It Music," in three months.

Now he has completed his own autobiography, "Stranger in the Earth," a spiritually stirring story of one man's conquest of fear and pain and his search for God.

Sugrue believes that the purpose of "man's journey through creation is to discover the mind of God, piece by piece, and to know it eventually in its entirety, thus achieving a union or companionship with God."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists have developed several coatings made out of milk which can be used on metal, some of which may eventually be used as a substitute for tin coatings now used on cans for some foods.

Convict Gives Up To Sheriff

SWEETWATER, Tex., April 14 (AP)—Harvey Lee Glass, 24, who escaped from Darrington prison farm early in February with two other convicts, surrendered to Nolan county Sheriff Will Sample here last night.

The sheriff said R. L. Glass of Sweetwater, father of Glass, telephoned him last night and said his son would surrender if Sample would go to the sheriff's office and turn the lights on.

Sample said he did this and that the convict appeared about midnight and surrendered.

Mother Was Worried

The two other fugitives were recaptured Feb. 9 at Colorado City. Glass, who was with them at Colorado City, escaped officers. He said he went to Roscoe, Tex., then to Sweetwater, Tex., then to Brownwood where he got a job as a carpenter at Camp Bowie.

The convict said the job played out and he came back to Sweetwater where his mother was ill. He told Katharyn Duff, Abilene News reporter, that he surrendered because his mother was worried about him.

Glass, Cecil Chester Davis and John T. Ralings jumped a guard at Darrington on a foggy night in February, tied the guard and escaped the prison. They stopped an automobile in which a family was driving and forced the family to drive them to Gatesville, Tex. There they released the family unharmed and stole another car to continue their flight.

Silver should be put at each place so that the piece of flatware to be used first is always on the outside. It should never "sprawl" but should be placed carefully in a neat parallel arrangement. The cutting edge of the knife should be turned inward toward the plate; tines of forks and bowls of spoons should always be turned up.

Burial will be in Idalou cemetery, beside the grave of his wife, who died in 1937. Rix Funeral home is directing arrangements.

Odessa Bronchos Head Entries

Top Track Stars Due For Relays Saturday

Final plans for the first annual South Plains Relays, which will be conducted Saturday at the Texas Tech oval, have been completed and meet officials are ready for the arrival of approximately 30 of the top cinder path squads of West Texas here Friday and early Saturday.

The meet programs have been printed and arrangements have been made for the medal and trophy awards to individuals and team winners, sponsoring organizations have reported. Officials for the Relays have been selected and will be announced as soon as confirmations have been received.

Reports from district Interscholastic league track and field meets last weekend have made the Odessa Broncos, paced by Byron (Santone) Townsend and Gerald Campbell, heavy favorites to cop the meet championship; but Abilene Lubbock, Big Spring and Pampa loom as strong threats to the Bronco bid for a third major West Texas meet crown this year. Odessa won the District 4-AA title despite a strong showing by the Abilene crew and Lubbock coasted to the 2-AA triumph.

Outstanding performers entered in the meet form the greatest field of cinder path specialists to compete on the South Plains and include at least six of the schoolboys favored to win championships at the state Interscholastic league feature in May. Heading the Odessa competitors are Byron (Santone) Townsend, discus, high jump, broad jump and dash stalwart, and Gerald Campbell, who set a new district record of 9.9 seconds in winning the 100-yard dash last weekend.

Other track aces include Big Spring's great half-miler, Leon Lepard; Abilene's weight threat, George Lively, and sprinter Billy Rogers; Seminole's dash and hurdle star, Val Joe Walker; Jim Johnson, Lubbock's crack 440 speedster; Bill Howton, Plainview timber-topper; and Carl (Red) Mayes, Pampa's century dash threat.

All the contestants will compete together in a single division, regardless of the classification of their schools by the Interscholastic league. League regulations will apply to all phases of the meet, however, officials have emphasized. Individuals will be limited to a total of five events for the meet, including not more than three running events.

Preliminaries in all events will get underway at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, with the finals following at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Lamesa Loboes Defeat Broncs

LAMESA, April 14 (Special)—Lamesa's slugging Loboes pounded out 11 hits for 11 runs here tonight to drug the Big Spring Bronchos of the Longhorn loop, 11-7, in an exhibition tilt played before approximately 500 shivering fans.

The Loboes trailed for seven innings, but unleashed an eighth frame assault that pushed nine runs across the plate before the visitors could chalk up the third out. Singles by Sam Malvica and Jim Prince, two safe blows by Manager George Sturdivant, singles by Palmer and Chet Zara, three walks and two Big Spring errors all contributed to the Lamesa scoring splurge.

Sturdivant Leads Hitting

Sturdivant paced the home nine at the plate tonight, blasting out three hits that drove in three runs.

Zara struck out 10 Broncs in his nine-frame stint.

The Lamesans are scheduled to battle the Pampa Oilers here at 8 o'clock Thursday night in another exhibition setto.

ACC, NTS To Compete In Relays Saturday

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 14 (AP) A recount of entries today for the twenty-third running of the Kansas Relays Saturday show that 25 schools will be represented in the university division and 29 in the college class.

Regarded as the strongest threats for the Olympic team are Harrison Dillard, Baldwin-Wallace's great hurdler; Charles Fonville, Michigan's explosive shot putter; Fortune Gordien, of Minnesota, who has a 179' 6" mark in the discus, and Irvin (Moon) Mondschien of New York university, three time National AAU Decathlon champion.

A total of eleven NCAA and AAU national champions are in the two classes.

University class—Texas, Baylor, Texas A. and M., and Texas Christian university.

Colleges—Abilene Christian and North Texas state.

GOLF CLUB OFFICERS NAMED

DALLAS, April 14 (AP)—Central Texas Women's Golf association members today elected Mrs. Glenn Wasson of Lakewood Country club president for the ensuing year at a special outing at Cedar Crest here. Other officers elected were: Miss Helen Ewing of Glen Garden, Fort Worth, vice president; Mrs. Charles Barrett of Waco, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Guy Henry, Corsicana Country club, tournament chairman.

Broncho Nine Here Tonight

CLOVIS, April 14 (Special)—Lefty Frank Cobo was no puzzle to the Clovis Pioneers here this afternoon and Lubbock's Hubbers, looking anything but the West Texas-New Mexico league champions, took a 16-1 lacing from the cellar club of the 1947 flag chase. The game was called at the end of the first half of the eighth inning.

Southpaws Stan Wilson and George Matthews shackled the Hubbers with six hits, Wilson allowing Lubbock's only run on Manager Jackie Sullivan's round-tripper in the first inning. Sullivan also came up with a double off Matthews in the seventh.

Clovis Rallies In Fourth

Charles Scarbrough got singles the first two times up, Kermit Altizer beat out an infield hit in the fourth and Frank McAlexander rapped sharply through the box in the sixth for the Hubbers' only other safe clouts.

Clovis teed off with four hits in the fourth for four runs, Ray Sanders' double with the bases loaded being the big blow. Eleven men went to the plate in the big fifth, registering eight hits which included doubles by Wilcy Moore and Sanders and a triple by Ray Bauer.

Bauer led off the sixth with a homer over the left field wall, while the other run came as the result of a base on balls to Chuck Novotney, an infield out and Ted Dallas' single to right.

Sullivan Takes Mound

Clay, an outfielder, took over the chunking chores in the seventh, but walked the first two men to face him and then uncorked a wild pitch. Sullivan then charged the mound and retired the side, but not until two runs had scored on a fly to left and Royce Mills' error.

Al Smith sprained an ankle going down to second in the third stanza and was carried from the field. He was able to leave the park under his own power, however.

Cobo shoved the third strike past seven Pioneers, chalking up three of them in the second inning after Sanders had gotten the first of his three doubles. He showed good control with only two bases on balls.

Manny Ortega To Meet Grada In Featherweight Bout April 27

AMARILLO, April 14 (U.P.) — Manny Ortega of El Paso, one of the nation's top-ranking featherweights, signed today to meet Angel Grada of Mexico City in the 10-round feature of an April 27 fight card which will feature Middleweight LaVerne Roach as referee.

Promoter Arvis Woodring also announced that he had signed Hubert Gray, former state Golden Gloves star from Wichita Falls, to meet Chebo Hernandez of Mexico in a six-round semi-final and Red Routh, Gray's stablemate from Wichita Falls, against Jose Gonzales of Mexico City in a four-rounder.

Levelland Nine And Westerners To Meet

Lubbock High's Westerner baseball team, undefeated in pre-season exhibitions this year will invade Levelland this afternoon for a practice tussle with the Lobo nine, officials have announced.

Diminutive Denny Davidson, ace of the Westerner mound staff, is expected to get the starting hurling assignment for the Lubbock crew, with Bill Wylie behind the plate. Other starters will probably include Dorrance Guy, first base; Charles Galey, second base; Bill Tatum, shortstop; Bobby Griffin, third base; Dwight Moore, left field; Jack Alderson, center field; and Jim Wilson, right field.

Coach Marvin Wheeler is expected to field a speedy, but inexperienced, Lobo team.

The two teams will meet here Friday afternoon at the Chapman field diamond in a return clash.

Ankle Injury May Keep Aggie Star Out Of Clash With SMU

COLLEGE STATION, April 14 (AP)—An ankle injury may prevent two former all-staters at Dallas' Adamson high school from teaming up once more as a battery before their home fans.

Catcher Jim Calvert sprained his ankle in the Southwest Conference game with Rice Saturday and may not get to play for the Texas Aggies against the Southern Methodist Mustangs Friday night and Saturday afternoon in Dallas.

Calvert, who has a fat average for four conference games, was the catcher for Earl Beesley at Adamson.

Masked Marvel Downs Knutson

Dr. Gil Knutson did more than any other wrestler at Sled Allen's arena has been able to do for the past three weeks, he pinned the Masked Marvel in the first fall before a crowd of deliriously happy fans.

But then the worm turned and the Marvel, in a vengeful mood, tossed Knutson out of the ring at the end of nine minutes of grappling in the second fall. Knutson was so stunned and hurt that he could not get back into the ring before Referee Billy McEuin counted him out. He couldn't come back for the third fall and the Marvel kept his victory skein intact.

"Big Train" Wins

Ray "Big Train" Clements made a triumphant return to his boyhood haunts, looking like one himself in a new mustache and the same old repertoire of dirty work.

He wasted a little time in losing the first fall to Jack Wentworth of Toronto, Canada, who pinned him in 16 minutes with a headlock. Then the express roared through the arena, taking the second grunt in five minutes on an arm stomp and the final mathumper in one minute on a half nelson.

Rowdy dowdy Pat O'Dowdy looked just like that for the better part of 20 minutes, but all he could get out of the preliminary with Ace Abbott of Abilene was a draw.

LOUIS, WALCOTT SIGN

NEW YORK, April 14 (U.P.) — Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and Challenger Jersey Joe Walcott, against whom he made a disputed title defense last Dec. 5, signed today at the New York State Athletic commission for their return 15-round championship bout at Yankee Stadium June 23.

PENNANT PREDICTIONS...By Frank Eck

WILL THE YANKEES REPEAT?—It's doubtful if any two fans would agree on the outcome of the American and National league races for 1948, but Frank Eck, Associated Press sports writer, who has made a personal survey of the teams, has offered his predictions, illustrated above. Eck picks the Championship New York Yankees to repeat. As for the Brooklyn Dodgers, 1947 NL pennant winner, Eck puts them down as a third-place team for 1948, with St. Louis' Cardinals, second last year in the NL, as this year's winner. Eck, however, seems to be on the side of widespread opinion when he places both Boston teams in the first-division of both leagues. The Braves and Red Sox are reckoned by most close observers as the best bet in either loop.

Doubleheader In Softball League Slated Tonight

Baldridge Bakery will try to get into the win column of the South Plains Softball league at 8 o'clock tonight when they meet undefeated Bluebonnet - Sunbeam Laundries in the first game of a twin bill at Jumbo-Webster field.

In the second game, Thomas Jewelers will be after its second win in as many starts when they meet untried Golden Light Coffee.

Season Ducats On Sale

A more sizable crowd is expected to see tonight's contests than that which braved chilly winds to witness the league openers Tuesday night.

In opening contests, the Jewelers scored a 1-0 win over Baldridge, Sunbeam downed Cloverlake, 7-1.

League sponsors have announced that season tickets continue on sale for $9.60. This is a special offer which will expire within a short time. After the expiration date, admission will be 50 cents per game. Season tickets can be obtained from any member of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, or from the Jaycees' office here.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

The first annual South Plains Relays, scheduled Saturday at the Texas Tech oval, will have an added attraction for area track fans since some of the most torrid personal feuds involving West Texas schoolboys will be in the meet spotlight. Every sports fan knows of at least three cases of extreme rivalry betwen performers slated to clash in the Relays, which may provide the final opportunity of the season for the youngsters to settle their claims of supremacy.

One of the hottest events, from the "grudge" angle, should be the 100-yard dash tussle of Odessa's Byron (Santone) Townsend, Seminole's Val Joe Walker and Pampa's Carl (Red) Mayes. Walker defeated Townsend in the preliminaries of the Sand Hills Relays at Odessa recently, but in the finals Santone finished first after a "good" start. Walker thinks he can beat the fabulous Byron with an equal start and the South Plains Relays will be the last chance for him to run against the Odessan. Red Mayes won the century dash at the Southwestern Exposition meet and he is reportedly ready to prove that he can beat Townsend every time the two meet.

Another duel is slated in the 440-yard relay event, when Lubbock, Odessa and Seminole quartets tangle for crucial points. Odessa defeated the South Plains sprinters at the Sand Hills Relays by a narrow margin, then the Lubbock Westerner crew beat the Odessans and Seminole in the preliminaries of the Big Spring Relays. In the finals of the Big Spring meet the Lubbock schoolboys were nosed out by both the Broncos and the Indians, however. The points in any of the relay events may decide the team championship of the Relays Saturday, so the rivalry will take on added importance.

Even Townsend has a few ideas of revenge ready for the South Plains event. A brash youngster from San Angelo, Gene Jett, failed to read Santone's press clippings and last weekend defeated the Bronco star in the high jump at the District 4-AA meet. Jett topped a height of six feet, three inches, while the best Townsend could do was six feet, two and one-half inches. Naturally Byron won't be satisfied until he puts the challenger back in his place. Townsend will also be ready to fight off the bid of Andrew's Jack Young in the broad jump, since Young has pressed him all too closely in several meets this year.

From any standpoint, spectator or competitor, the South Plains Relays will be the finest track and field carnival staged in this area.

Buffs Defeat Exporters In Texas League Opener, 6-4

Rebels And Cats Win Night Games

BEAUMONT, April 14 (AP)—Houston made one haul here this afternoon, a six-run outburst in the fourth inning, and defeated Beaumont's Exporters in the Texas league opener by 6-4 before 5355 paid admissions.

Lefthander Ross Grimsley went the route for the Buffs, surrendering only three hits, one of which was Chuck Sweeney's three-run homer in the fourth.

Five hits and three bases on balls contributed to Houston's winning splurge. The Shippers picked up a fourth run in the fifth on a hit batsman, a walk and a single.

Carl Ray was the losing pitcher. Gale Pringle did a brilliant relief role when he stifled the fourth-inning outburst and went on to allow the Buffaloes only one safety.

TIMELY HITTING GIVES REBS 4-3 WIN OVER TULSA'S OILERS

DALLAS, April 14. (AP)—Johnny Creel's timely hitting and Quentin Altizer's steady pitching gave the Dallas Rebels a 4-3 victory over the Tulsa Oilers as the 53rd Texas league season got underway here tonight.

Creel drove in two runs with a couple of doubles and Altizer, after a shaky showing in the early innings, held the Oilers in check.

Al Vincent, manager of Dallas last year, watched his Oilers tie the score in the third, when Tom Tatum's double scored Ross Jones, and go ahead in the fourth when Russ Burns hit a home run.

Dallas, with new owner Dick Burnett in the stands, tied the score in the fifth as Creel doubled Joe Smaza home and won the tilt in the seventh when Creel again doubled, scoring Roy Hartsfield.

Noren slammed out a home run and three singles. Walter Fiala also clouted a home run.

Injuries Might Slow Aggie Track Squad

COLLEGE STATION, April 14. (AP)—Alarming news — both good and bad—has resulted from the Texas Aggies dual track meet with Louisiana state last week at Baton Rouge.

Southwest conference opponents of the Aggies learned that Webb Jay ran a 9.8 hundred, indicating that he's rounding into shape; that Bill Cardon skipped the high hurdles in 14.8, a new low for him, and that Robert W. Stone stepped the 880 in 1:56.3, which also is a new low.

On top of that, George Kadera shoved the shot 48 feet, 7 inches and Robert Goode shot the javelin 187 feet, 8 inches. Both performances are right at the all-time highs for the weightmen.

Those are the warnings the Aggies issued to their opponents. However, reinjury of two old wounds may cripple A. & M.'s chances in the 440, the mile relay and the pole vault.

Trautman Will Visit Hubbers

George Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, will be a visitor in Lubbock from June 18 through June 21, it was revealed yesterday by Larry Larsen, general manager of the Lubbock Hubbers.

Larsen, a son-in-law of the National Association head, received a telegram yesterday informing him of Trautman's planned visit here.

The Hubber business office immediately announced that they would take advantage of the situation to have official pennant-raising ceremonies during his visit. No ceremonies will be held before the visit.

With Trautman on hand to take part in the pennant-raising, symbolizing the Hubber's championship in the West Texas-New Mexico league last year, the Hubbers will be playing host to the Lamesa Loboes. Official date of the ceremonies has been set for Sunday, June 20.

~~Hank~~ Greenberg Enters Lineup

TOPEKA, Kan., April 14 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, the big stick and swivel chair man, may become the first "playing vice president" in baseball history at the Cleveland Indians' opener next Tuesday.

The veteran home run slugger, who has insisted he would play "only in an emergency," was faced with that emergency in the ranks of his chattels today as the injury plague hit the Tribe.

Eddie Robinson, a key man in the Tribe's 1948 pennant hopes, was lost from the Indians' first base roster last night when he took a plane to Cleveland for examination and treatment of an injured right foot. Robbie and sub first sacker Elbie Fletcher have only two good feet among them at the moment, for Fletcher also is crippled with a bruised left foot.

Greenberg has been in tip-top condition for his "trouble shooter" role—and Boudreau plans to keep him that way. Hank was slated to park his high-priced heels on the initial sack here today, at Evansville, Ind., tomorrow and Owensboro, Ky., Friday. He will be ready, he says, if Robinson is unable to start next Tuesday.

Tumelson Given Hubber Release

The Lubbock Hubbers yesterday filed papers with the National Association of Profesional Baseball leagues re-instating Richard Seiler, shortstop, who failed to report to Lubbock.

At the same time, General Manager Larry Larsen announced that Seiler had been sold back to the Houma Baseball club of the Evangeline league.

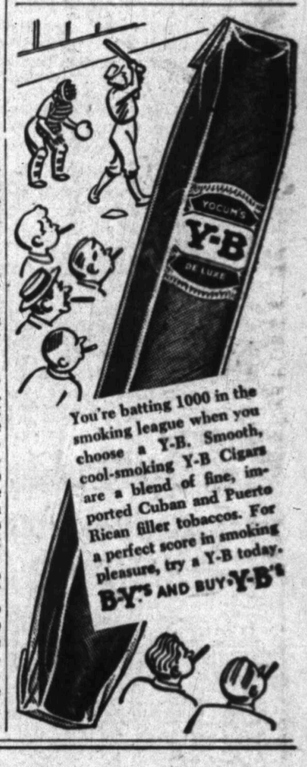

Tumelson Leaves Hubbers

Seiler had been placed on suspension for failure to report to the Hubbers, but when Houma indicated that they would buy him back, the Hubbers lost no time in selling the player.

Larsen also announced that Eugene Tumelson, who had reported to the Hubber camp here for another mound trial, had been released. Tumelson reported here in good shape, but pulled a muscle in his arm and was ineffective. He pitched less than two full innings for the Hubbers in spring practice, showing evidence of a sore arm at that time. Since then he has been receiving treatments.

Tech In El Paso Meet Saturday

Locals Favored In Track Show

EL PASO, April 14 (Special)—Texas Mines tracksters open their home season with a triangular meet on Kidd field Saturday, competing against Texas Tech and New Mexico A. and M.

Highly favored to cop the meet will be the Red Raiders from Tech, who finished second in the Border conference meet last year.

Renewal Of Feud

The meet will mark a renewal of the feud between the Raiders' Charlie Reynolds and Fred Wendt of the Miners in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Reynolds has been nosing Wendt out in both races during the past two years.

Coach Dale Water's Miners, fresh from a victory over Sul Ross, will shoot the works in an effort to outscore Texas Tech. The Aggies have not shown any over-all strength.

Other lettermen from last year's squad in addition to Wendt, are Ernest Keily, who is tossing the shot put around 43 feet; Gordon Thomson, who is hitting 12 feet in the pole vault; and Lauro Del Valle.

Night Events Slated

Top prospects among the new men are Lee Cargile in the dashes and broad jump; Terrill Scearce and Henry Valdez in the 440; John Magruder and Art Gray in the high jump Gerald Thompson in the javelin and Henry Giffen, shot put and discus.

Finals in the field events and the track preliminaries, will get underway at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, with the track finals scheduled for 7:15 p. m. under the lights.

RAIDERS TO LEAVE FRIDAY FOR TRIANGULAR MEET

The Raiders track team has been going through routine drills in preparation for the triangular meet at El Paso Saturday, with Coach Maxey McKnight hopeful of as good a showing as the squad made last week end against three Abilene colleges.

The Raiders will enter buses Friday for the trip to El Paso and will spend the night there. They will return Sunday.

Weak In Field Events

Coach McKnight indicated that about the same squad that competed Saturday will face the Miners and the Aggies. The Raiders, still weak in the field, will rely on Reynolds, El Clepper, Charles Pinnell, Costin Bufkin and Ernest Hawkins for most of the points, with others managing to pick up a few scattered points here and there.

Oklahoma Ends Sale Of Texhoma Fishing Licenses To Texans

SHERMAN, April 14 (AP)—Sale of Oklahoma fishing licenses to Texans who want to fish the Oklahoma part of Lake Texoma was stopped today at Sherman, Denison, Whitesboro, and Gainesville.

Hardware and sporting goods stores in those cities said they had been notified that the Oklahoma Fish and Game commission has suspended the sale of licenses by out-of-state agents under a new interpretation of law.

Texas Big Loop Baseball Urged

DALLAS, April 14 (AP) — Dick Burnett, new owner of the Dallas ball club in the Texas league, said today he planned to join the Pacific coast league in a fight for formation of a third major league.

"I think within a few years Dallas and Houston will be large enough for major league ball," Burnett declared as he explained the new Dallas set-up.

Ready In Two Years

He said he thought Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, New Orleans and Atlanta should be in this new big league. "Los Angeles and San Francisco are right—they should be in a major league," he declared, "and I am joining forces with them to see that we have another one. The fastest growing section of the nation is the southwest. We are going to be ready for major league ball within two years."

Burnett, who paid more than $500,000 for the Dallas franchise, announced that he and his wife and daughter, Mrs. Elsie Lou Wieser, would be sole owners of the club. Burnett will be president and Mrs. Weiser secretary.

Net And Links Teams Compete

Texas Tech's strong tennis team and rapidly-improving links squad will journey to El Paso this week-end for dual meets against the highly-rated Texas Mines representatives, with the netters opening competition at 10 o'clock Saturday morning on the Mines courts and the golfers teeing off at the same time at the Country club course.

The Raider tennis team has won six matches and lost only one in competition this season, but the Tech golfers have copped three decisions while losing four matches.

Ivy, Broyles To Compete

The Tech net victories were scored over North Texas, Southern Methodist, Eastern New Mexico twice, Amarillo Junior college and a joint team representing the three Abilene colleges, and the lone defeat was at the hands of the potent Texas Christian squad. The Raider golf team gained wins over Hardin-Simmons twice and McMurry once, but tied Abilene Christian and lost to ACC, TCU, SMU and North Texas.

Heading the Tech net squad will be lanky Jake Broyles, runner-up in Border loop competition in 1947, and veteran Glenn Ivy. Other members of the team will be Carl Schmidt, in the number three spot, Eddie Scudday, Joe Wheatley and Cecil Roberts.

Mines tennis representatives, undefeated on their home courts, will be Rodolfo Gonzalez, Winston Farquear, Jim Scott, Frank Barger, Bill Fairley and Mac Horne.

The Tech golf team will include E. H. McKinney, Jerry Stoltz, Ted Forsythe and E. C. Feagan. Their Mines opponents will be Dan Harden; Charles Harrell, Joe McNutt and Harold Scroggins.

Plainview Fete Honoring Roach Slated Tonight

PLAINVIEW, April 14 (Special)—The advance sale of tickets for the barbecue in honor of LaVern Roach, promising middleweight boxer from this city, indicates a capacity crowd in the City Auditorium tomorrow night.

The barbecue, being prepared by John Snider and staged by the Optimist club of Plainview, is an appreciation dinner for Roach, a local boy. The middleweight currently is visiting his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Roach.

Tickets $* Each

All proceeds from the dinner Thursday will be given to the sponsorship of activities for boys in Plainview and vicinity, with the Optimist club administering the funds. Tickets may be obtained from members of the club either here or in Lubbock and are selling for $2 each.

Roach, who got his start fighting in this area and in Golden Gloves at Lubbock, was termed the most outstanding fighter developed by the armed forces during World War II. He was the ace of the Cherry Point, N. C., Marine post team and turned professional soon after his discharge from service.

During his career, Roach has met many of the better middleweight fighters, winning 24 of his 26 professional ring engagements. He lost a six-round fight to Artie Towne in his sixth fight, then won consecutive bouts from such men as Indian Gomez, Vic Amata, Norman Rubio, Billy Arnold, Herbie Kronowitz and Tony Janiro, rated a top welterweight and good middleweight prospect. His next fight was a warm-up with Al Thornton, before meeting Marcel Cerdan of France.

To Fight This Summer

The Cerdan fight was the only engagement in which Roach ever was knocked down and, after an amazing rally in the third round, Cerdan scored a clean eighth-round knockout.

Roach presently is resting following that engagement and expects to fight again in June or July, with his next appearance possibly in Lubbock before his South Plains friends.

BASEBALL HISTORY IN FLATBUSH—Workmen shown above are putting finishing touches to foam rubber padding on the outfield walls at Ebbets field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Ebbets field is also the home of Pistol Pete Reiser, and it is for his sake as well as for other Brooklyn outfielders that the Dodger management voted to install the rubber mattress. This, it is hoped, will keep their skulls intact after bounding from the wall while chasing a line drive or deep fly ball. The new Ebbets field wall will be of one-inch thick chemical sponge rubber covered with mildew-proof duck. It it installed about 32 inches from the ground.

Law Enforcement Front Is Quiet

Law enforcement officers had a rather quiet tour of duty last night, as investigation was continued in a negro shooting case. Bond had been set for a negro woman in another shooting, both of which occurred Tuesday.

Barbara Roy, 30, was bound over to grand jury investigation under $2,000 bond set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, on a charge of assault with intent to murder her 40-year-old husband David Crockett Roy.

Admits Firing Shot

Police said they had arrested Earlie Fitts, 44, a negro, for investigation growing out of his admission that he fired a .22 rifle in direction of Bertie Lee Brown, a negro woman, after she persisted in walking across his front yard at 2310 East Ave. G. No charge had been filed.

Officials had a statement of 20-year-old Clifford K. Miller, a taxicab driver, in the Roy shooting.

He said he took the woman in his cab to the negro quarter and that she jumped out, pulled a pistol from the bosom of her dress, shouted something like, "Now I've got you," and commenced firing.

Four Shots Fired

Miller said there were four shots taken at the negro man, who desperately sought to evade being hit.

The third one was fired through Miller's cab, "right by me," Miller said, explaining that he fell for protection onto the floorboards of his car.

When another shot was loosed, he said, he scrambled out and ran into a negro beauty shop. He said he found the operators lying "flat on the floor." A call was made to police. Arrest was by the Sheriff's department.

Asks For Protection

Roy showed up at the sheriff's department and asked protection. He left to "start divorce proceedings." The woman had shot at him a few minutes earlier at their home, Roy explained.

Theft of a brief case and papers important to him were reported stolen from the automobile of Carl Richardson of 2514 Twenty-fourth. Value was estimated at $25.

Slaton authorities telephoned Lubbock officers that a black 1947 Mercury coupe, license AN 1071, had been stolen from John W. Brown of 400 East Curry in Slaton.

Police said they had arrested a 25-year-old Lubbock man for investigation into desertion from a branch of the armed services.

Rocks were thrown through a building at Twenty-eighth and Ave. G, they were informed.

County Judge Walter Davies fined Robert Edward Lee, about 35, $50 and court costs on a drunk driving charge filed March 16, after an attorney had appeared for Lee and pleaded him guilty, a judgment showed.

Rain Outlook

heavenly show was unusual only in that the 'corona' or 'ring' was so small and 'close' to the moon. Usually the 'ring' is somewhat larger and apart from the moon's reflection itself.

The glow or 'corona' was caused, the man who makes a habit of crawling out on limbs said, by the "diffraction of light raised from the moon by tiny water droplets in clouds" approximately 28,000 feet in the sky. There is a similar condition known as a "lunar halo" caused by the refraction of light through ice crystals.

However, before any of the folks hereabouts rush out in expectation of those 'droplets' dropping in any quantity, the Weatherman has a word of caution.

Belief Is Explained

Explaining the widespread belief that a 'ring' around the moon indicated a change in weather and possibly rainfall or moisture, Victor Halliburton, weatherman on duty at the Weather station north of the city last night, said:

"Quite often a high belt or thin layer of these clouds composed of these droplets or ice crystals precede a typical frontal disturbance which may be moving into any given area. This high cloudiness usually precedes the front by as much as two days. Owing to the fact that people observe the condition around the moon and predict rain and in some cases have the condition followed by a change in weather or moisture the belief has gained some foundation. However, this is true more often along the coast and not in the interior."

"It doesn't necessarily hold true elsewhere," he added.

And to further shatter the illusion, Halliburton answered a question of whether any immediate change was in prospect for Lubbock and vicinity by saying:

"The forecast for Thursday is fair and warmer weather with partly cloudy conditions and continued warm weather Friday." He added no indication was seen for any appreciable amount of moisture any ways soon.

The last date of measurable moisture at the station was on March 10, a total of .10 of an inch of snow. The rainfall for the area is now .99 below normal, a total of 1.69 inches having fallen to date. The normal is 2.68 inches.

Dr. R. S. Underwood, Texas Tech instructor, pointed out that possibly one reason the moon appeared somewhat obscured and the stars bright was because of the difference in the brightness of the two. He said it also might be interesting to note the planet Venus would reach a point of its greatest elongation, farthest east of the sun, tonight and would be at its brightest in the next three weeks.

Igloo, constant companion of Admiral Byrd, was the only dog that ever traveled to both of the earth's poles.

Train Wreck

skidded from the track and bumped along the ties for three blocks between towering grain elevators.

The locomotive, baggage car and diner remained on the rails.

Crowds Swarm To Scene

Then the coaches hit the freight train. Friction of the passenger cars on tank cars of the freight train is believed to have caused the fire. Enid firemen rushed up in time to control the fire.

Riding with Dvorak was Joseph E. Maddy, director of the Interlochen, Mich., music school. He fell to the floor of the coach and was not hurt.

A small fortune in jewelry—$60,000 worth—was in the remains of the gutted coach. Bernard Goldstone, 50, a Fort Worth jeweler, told the patrol his sample case containing the gems was in the wreckage. Later, it reported the jewels had been found.

Crowds who heard broadcast reports or saw the smoke over the rolling prairie country swarmed to the scene afoot and in cars. The patrol set up road blocks to keep them back and allow room for ambulances and rescue crews.

Several hundred feet of track were torn up. Wrecker crews were sent from El Reno, division headquarters of the Rock Island 60 miles south, to clear the main line.

Conductor I. N. Wilson said the Kansas City-to-Ft. Worth train was 15 minutes late and was running 78 miles an hour. He said normal speed through Kremlin is 62 miles an hour.

The engineer was identified by Rock Island lines as Clarence Kester and fireman as Joe Howarton.

STRATOJET IN ROCKET TAKE-OFF—The Boeing XB-47 stratojet, U. S. Air Force's newest bomber, trails plumes of smoke as it zooms skyward in a rocket-assisted take-off at Moses Lake Air Force Base in Washington. Eighteen rocket units, mounted nine on each side of the plane's 108-foot fuselage, are used in heavy-load takeoffs and for emergency power needs. Six turbo-jet engines supply normal power. Fuel Shortage and public transportation.

Refinery capacity in the nation has not been materially increased since before the war, and facilities are not sufficient to meet the sharply increased demand, one source said.

Another, asked about exports of petroleum products, believes this could have little if any bearing on the situation, because imports of the product have in recent months exceeded exports.

Government Is Buying

The government has been buying, for general use and no doubt for a certain amount of storage, a percentage of production. This for a time was about seven per cent of the total U.S. production, but recent figures on this were not available. Whether it has been increased was not known here.

As concerns the South Plains farmer and his fuel problems, most sources agreed that there probably will be some cases of hardship due to fuel shortages but believed there will be no widespread loss of time from crops because of it.

Local sources, however, would not hazard a guess on possibilities of the future, believing this will be influenced and dictated by world conditions.

Tough To Reject Business

They ruefully remind one that "it's tough to be forced to turn down business when it almost literally comes begging to your door," but add that they are making every effort to spread the allocated supply as far as possible under their announced distribution practices.

It was also announced that Dudley Brumett, Lubbock attorney and candidate for state senator from this district, had joined Troy Morris, Ropes newspaper editor, in sending telegrams to Gov. Beauford Jester and the Texas Railroad commission asking an explanation of the situation.

Stassen Widens Lead

ments, 13 of the 15 delegates chosen in yesterday's primary are pledged to support Stassen on the first ballot. Of these, five said they will back him as long as he has a chance for the nomination.

Results of the free-for-all primary which Stassen won, are not officially binding on the delegates.

Vandenberg, who wound up in fourth place in the popularity contest after saying he doesn't want the nomination, thereby remained as one of the leading darkhorse possibilities for the nomination.

The campaign for MacArthur seemingly was washed out here. But in Tokyo the general wouldn't comment.

Demos Back Truman

In Democratic primary voting, President Truman got the backing of the state's 12 convention delegates.

Unopposed in his party's popularity contest, he rolled up 55,353 votes in 1,769 of the 2,024 precincts. Senator Joseph OMahoney (D-Wyo), endorsed for vice presidential candidate, got 42,289 in 1,676 precincts.

The Democrats apparently cast about 75,000 of the 275,000 state ballot total.

Republicans renominated Senator Kenneth Wherry and Gov. Val Peterson. Democrats named Terry Carpenter, Scottsbluff businessman, to oppose Wherry. They picked Frank Sorrell, Syracuse auctioneer, to oppose Peterson.

Stassen's success in Nebraska was attributed by politicians here in part to a desire by the state's GOP voters for new faces on the party's national ticket.

armed forces needs.

With UMT as a backstop Gen. Bradley said America needs a plug-in-the dike Army of 12 regular combat divisions, backed up by six more from the National Guard and organized reserves. He said this was not a "war program."

War Claimed Inevitable

The House Appropriations committee studying an emergency $2,376,100,000 appropriation for air power was told by Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) that war with Russia is inevitable.

"Their (the Russians) provocative conduct of the past few weeks have made it all too plain that sooner or later war is inevitable," he said.

Rep. Taber (R-NY) urged prompt passage of the emergency money bill, which has been requested by the Air Force and Navy.

Sponsors of an amendment to start plane buying at once for a 70-combat group Air Force did not expect to get their proposal before the House until tomorrow. The amendment would add almost $1,000,000,000 to the bill.

Taber told the House that American preparedness "will have a very salutory effect on Mr. Stalin's operations."

Security Depends On Planes

Rep. Johnson (D-Tex) a member of the House Armed Services committee, told opponents of the 70-group Air Force that "security of the land will be decided in the air."

He said it would be unwise to place too much faith in large ground and sea forces. He said it would be "false and dangerous" to think such an Air Force would unbalance the armed services.

Forrestal has warned against over-expansion of the Air Force, saying it would throw the armed services out of balance.

Johnson said today the only thing that worries him is the balance between the American and the Russian air force.

"This country is hardly in danger of direct attack from land or from sea," he said. "The security of the land will be decided in the air."

that show they share my thought," De Gasperi told reporters. "An occasional whistle (jeer) always, but it seems to be done especially to show that today in Italy there is democratic liberty."

He said he did not believe the Russian answer on Trieste meant that Moscow was willing to discuss the question at a meeting of the 21 signatories of the Italian peace treaty.

A Moscow broadcast last night said the proposal to discuss the return of Trieste at a conference of the four main powers and other "powers principally concerned" was unacceptable and violated the "elemental principles of democracy." The broadcast pointed out that the free state had been created at a conference of all the signatories of the Italian treaty

Both De Gasperi and Palmiro Togliatti, Communist chieftain, will make their final speeches Friday night in Naples. Then silence will fall upon the piazzas, and Italians will have a chance to think for 24 hours before they go to the polls on Sunday.

Former Resident Of Levelland, Cone Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hankins, about 88, who had lived in Levelland and Cone, will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Cone Baptist church with the Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor of the First Baptist church at Brownfield, officiating.

Mrs. Hankins died Tuesday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lonnie Bell of Weatherford.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery, beside the grave of her husband, under direction of Marr Funeral home of Ralls.

Survivors include a son, P. W. Hankins; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Littlefield of Cone, Mrs. Troy Dobbs of Levelland, and Mrs. Bell; a brother, Willie Barnes of Vernon, Alabama; a sister, Mrs. Della White of Wewoka, Okla.; 34 grandchildren, 64 great grandchildren, and six great great grandchildren.

causing waste.

Production of 229,402 barrels of natural gasoline and distillate will boost Texas' total output to 2,685,823 barrels per day, 235,823 barrels above the Bureau of Mines estimate.

Protest Made

East Texas was kept on a 21-day schedule despite the plea of H. P. Nichols of Tyler for 20 days in both May and June. Nichols representing the East Texas Oil association, said the pressure drop of more than five pounds during February and March indicated the necessity for a cutback in the number of producing days.

The commission will hold its next statewide oil hearing in Austin June 16 to consider testimony for another 60-day order covering July and August. However, the commission scheduled a statewide gas hearing for May 19. Law requires a monthly gas hearing.

The Gulf Coast and East Texas district allowables were the only ones changed, East Texas dropping from 316,806 barrels daily to 306,981. This will mean the same total permissive for the state in June as the one now in effect, plus the 92 barrels granted in the Gulf coast. District 3, Gulf coast will be allowed 526,125 barrels daily.

Freight Train

blazing coaches for almost two hours before dousing the flames—before they could spread to the tank cars against which the burning coaches were leaning.

Truck Derails Coach

Engineer C. E. Kester of El Reno said the train plunged ahead a quarter of a mile before he could stop it after the crash.

The truck appeared to hesitate as the train neared the crossing, he told newsmen, and he thought it was going to stop in the clear.

Instead, it hit a coach in the side, dragged along its side nearly 50 feet and shoved its rear wheels off the track. The damaged coach was the evidence. That derailment also derailed the two trailing coaches, which caught fire.

In St. Mary's hospital at Enid, the truck driver, Hugh M. Laughlin, 38, of Oklahoma City, told newsmen he could not comment, when asked if he failed to see the train or hear its whistle.

Hospital authorities said he was "only bruised."

Fear New Violence

Many persons fear that if Gaitan is given a public state funeral, the patched up accord between the Conservatives and Liberals will burst and possibly result in violence similar to last week's rioting.

Apparently the Liberals now in Ospina's coalition government have been unable to persuade the more rabid of Gaitan's followers within the same party to come to terms.

Ospina was elected president in 1946, the first Conservative to fill the post in 16 years. His election was due to a split in the Liberal party. Opposing Liberals put up both Gaitan and the late Gabriel Turbay as candidates and Ospina polled more votes than either, although he did not have a majority in congress.

It had been estimated that about 300 persons died in the ravishing of Bogota by frenzied mobs during the weekend.

doubt."

Goldsborough leaned back and looked at the ceiling.

"The motion will have to be overruled," he said at last.

Goldsborough was plainly surprised when Lewis declined to call witnesses after the government rested its case.

He appeared even more surprised when Hopkins, a nattily-dressed Texan, said he dign't want to make a formal argument.

"The court just doesn't understand," Goldsborough said, "why the defendants don't wish to argue their objections on constitutional and other grounds."

He said he'd hear the government's final review of the case tomorrow (9 a. m., CST). The union lawyers can speak up then, too, if they change their mind, he said.

Lewis Fidgets

Lewis sat stonily, occasionally fidgeting and glaring at times at spectators in the crowded little courtroom, while the government went through the tedious business of trying to get him convicted.

Goldsborough, sitting as judge and jury, can impose practically any penalty he chooses if his verdict is guilty.

There was courtroom speculation that he might, if the verdict is guilty, impose a suspended sentence on Lewis.

That would mean the mine leader wouldn't go to jail at once—but he could be imprisoned if another walkout occurred and Lewis was held to blame for it.

Government officials openly weighed the possibility of another mine shutdown right away if any severe penalty is imposed.

Rep. Hartley (R-NJ) said he would call for hearings next week on new legislation, aimed directly at Lewis, if a new walkout occurs.

Hartley is co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, the law Lewis claims is unconstitutional and the one which is at the heart of the present dispute.

Under the act, President Truman ruled that a strike affecting the national health and safety occurred when the miners left their jobs in a pension dispute March 15.

Bald Law Student Grabs Queen Title From Co-Eds

(By The Associated Press)

UNIVERSITY, Miss., April 14—A slightly bald law student, Frederick T. Carney, defeated three co-eds in a May queen election at the University of Mississippi today.

Billed as "the candidate with the fringe on top," Carney led the field with 610 write-in votes.

In a campaign speech he said: "General William T. Sherman said, 'If I'm nominated, I'll not run, if I'm elected I'll not serve.' But that's just like a damyankee. If I'm elected I will serve."

But the student executive council ruled Carney out because he had not submitted his candidacy before the deadline. They ordered a runoff between a couple of the girls.

Official or not, said the law students, Carney will be crowned May queen.

Insect Pests Invading Area Early Due To Dry Weather

STAMFORD, Conn., April 14. (AP)—Certain insects, like some human beings, can get an alcoholic jag, an entomologist reports.

The worst inebriates in the insect kingdom are wasps, certain butterflies and moths, flies and ants, said Dr. Stanley W. Bromley, entomologist of the Bartlett Tree Research laboratories.

They may get "liquored up" by feeding on sap that exudes from trees and has fermented.

"Some of them don't know when to stop," Dr. Bromley said. Certain flies and moths may fly dizzly after drinking the intoxicating liquid. Yellow jackets have been known to fall over in a dead drunk. It takes them several hours to shake off a good jag."

Hongkong May Be First Oriental City To Eliminate Rickshas

HONGKONG, April 14. (U.P.)—Hongkong may become the first city in the Far East to eliminate the age-old ricksha as transportation.

A three-wheeled motor driven "rikmobile" has been found satisfactory after police tests. About 150 will be imported if official foreign exchange can be arranged, according to the assistant superintendent of police, Geoffrey Binstead.

The "rikmobile" resembles the three-wheeled motorcycles which American firms use for deliveries. Two passengers are seated behind the driver and are protected from the weather by a plexiglass hood. It does up to 35 miles per hour and makes 70 miles per gallon.

A single roost near Baltimore Md., is estimated to contain 230,000 crows.

PITTSBURGH, April 14 (U.P.)—A Pittsburgh alley cat has been honored as a heroine for the second time.

SUPREME COURT GETS ONE CASE

Second Texas Negro Files Suit To Force University Admission

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—A second suit in which a negro seeks to force admission to the University of Texas was filed here today.

This action came as Heman Marion Sweatt, a Houston negro mail carrier, carried his long-pending legal effort to enroll in the university law school to the State Supreme court.

The new suit was filed by W. Astor Kirk, professor of political science at Tillotson college here. It claims he was denied admission to the university Dec. 4 as a graduate student in political science.

Kirk said he was qualified educationally to enter, and was "arbitrarily and illegally" denied the right because he is a Negro. Sweatt made essentially the same claim in his original suit, filed here nearly two years ago after university officials refused to enroll him as a law student.

Sweatt lost the first two rounds of his legal battle. Both the 126th District court and the Third Court of Civil Appeals refused to grant him a writ of mandamus to compel the university to enroll him.

Sweatt's petition cited nine points of error in the court of civil appeals judgement adverse to him. He contended law school facilities for negroes set up by the last legislature are not equivalent to those offered whites in the University of Texas.

Sweatt said the racial segregation in the higher and professional fields of education is inherently discriminatory within the meaning of the 14th amendment to the U. S. constitution.

The court may or may not agree to review his case. If it refuses to accept it for review, the lower court judgment would remain in effect. Sweatt has said he will appeal to the U. S. Supreme court if necessary.

No action was taken in 126th District court on Kirk's plea. His petition for a writ of mandamus contended there are now no publicly-supported facilities for graduate work in political science except those at the University of Texas.

Ten High School Students To Take Part In Band Festival

Ten students of Senior High school, accompanied by L. L. Stoelzing, band director, left Wednesday morning for Enid, Okla., to present selections in ensembles at the Tri-State Band festival and to play in the final concert of the festival.

Selection of the 10 to take part in the final concert is considered an honor to the Lubbock school. Last year, only three were selected from Lubbock to play in the final concert of the festival.

Students going were Patsy Gibbs, cellist; Dorothy Dale Kennedy, violinist; Anne Adams, pianist; J. A. White, Kenneth Cox and Stuart Nichols, cornet players; Harvey Roth, Eddie Goetze and Don Medlock, clarinet players, and Van Scott, trombone player.

About 6,100 students from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and New Mexico are expected to attend the festival which will be conducted Thursday through Saturday. About 1,000 from that group are to take part in the final concert.

Autopsy Ordered In Death Of Man Here

An autopsy has been ordered in the death of Frank A. Brown, 52, whose body was found in his room at 1020 Seventeenth Tuesday night.

Justice of Peace C. E. Lynn found in an inquest investigation that death was "under circumstances such as to lead to suspicion that Brown came to his death by unlawful means."

He ordered that, "to properly determine the cause of death, I find it necessary that an autopsy be performed on the body." He designated Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer, to perform it. The viscera will be sent to a state laboratory in Austin, it was indicated.

Brown, an employe of Western Union office here since 1944, had been reported last seen alive late Sunday.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Adelia Brown, Onega, Kans.; two brothers, J. M. Brown, of Salina, Kans., and C. H. Brown, of California, and two sisters, Mrs. C. A. Crumbaker, and Mrs. G. J. Banjour, both of Kansas.

The body will remain at Plains Funeral home until 2:45 p.m. today, when it will be sent by train to Onega for services.

Grits are hulled and coarsely ground grain.

Dallas Man To Seek Post As Governor

DALLAS, April 14. (U.P.) — Charles B. Hutchison of Dallas said today he had mailed a check for $100 for his filing fee in the 1948 governor's race to R. W. Calvert of Hillsboro chairman of the state Democratic executive committee.

Hutchison had previously announced his intentions of having his name placed on the ballot in the Democratic primary slated for July 24.

He said he planned to open his campaign next Saturday in Corsicana.

Houston Millionaire Praises Martin For Helping End Walkout

HOUSTON, April 14 (U.P.) — Multimillionaire Hugh Roy Cullen sent a telegram to Speaker Joseph W. Martin of the House of Representatives, congratulating him on his role in ending the coal strike.

"The skill and qualities of leadership shown by you in terminating the coal strike have given the citizens of this country renewed hope and confidence in our form of government," the Houston oilman-philanthropist said in the telegram.

"The people can now rest assured that in you they have a leader who will zealously guard their interests against political exploitation and will prevent the shedding of blood by their sons except in defense of our liberty," the telegram continued.

Cullen, an admirer of Speaker Martin, would not comment when he was asked whether he thought the Massachusetts Republican would be a good choice for president.

YOUNG GOLFER GETS ACE

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (U.P.)—Using a No. 5 iron, Willie Wisely, 12, scored a hole-in-one. The shot was made on the 95-yard eight hole, the ball plunking into the around golf balls since he was 5 years old.

DOUBLY MARRIED

SANTA FE, N. M. (U.P.)—Robert N. Cyzmoure, Milwaukee army officer, and Jacqueline Cyzmoure, Los Almos, N. M., became man and wife here after two ceremonies. They took out a license here, but were married in another county, unintentionally invalidating the ceremony. A second license and a second ceremony here did the trick.

Pan-American Day In Texas Highlighted By U. S.-Mexican Observance At Border

(By The Associated Press)

A visit to Brownsville by a delegation from Victoria, Mexico, today highlighted the observance of Pan-American day in Texas.

The visitors traveled over the new highway from Victoria to Matamoros, across the Rio Grande from Brownsville. The highway is nearing completion.

At Victoria, capital of the state of Tamaulipas, Governor Raul Garate said:

"I am for better and closer relationship between Texas and Mexico. I shall always strive for better relations between Texas and the state of Tamaulipas and I hope that the Matomoros-Victoria highway, which will be completed shortly, will serve as one of the final links."

Coke Stevenson Speaks

A highlight of the celebration at Brownsville was dedication of a plaque placed on the gateway bridge under sponsorship of the Brownsville Historical society and Matamoros civic groups.

Other Texas cities also conducted observances.

At San Antonio last night former governor Coke R. Stevenson spoke at the annual Pan-American day dinner.

Stevenson, creator of the Texas Good Neighbor commission, commended the council of Pan-American relations for its fine demonstration of the good neighbor policy.

Maj. Gen. A. D. Bruce, deputy commander of the Fourth army at Fort Sam Houston, spoke on "good neighbors yesterday, today and tomorrow."

General Rene Picado, vice-president of Costa Rica, was scheduled to speak, but was unable to fill the engagement because of developments in the Costa Rican revolution.

Other speakers included several Latin American consuls.

Meanwhile, Texas cotton ginners have started a campaign to remove discriminations against Mexican laborers which caused the Mexican government to end a labor agreement with this state last year. J. C. Stilley, executive secretary-treasurer of the Texas Cotton Ginners association, has written directors and key ginners that:

"To a great extent it falls upon us to do everything in our power to eliminate all discrimination practices throughout the state of Texas. . . . Unless someone takes the lead and accepts certain obligations, we're going to have a cotton crop that won't be picked."

Musicians May Receive Direct Assignment To Army Bands

Authority has been given to enlist qualified musicians for direct initial assignment to Army bands in the Fourth Army area, Maj. Harold Fulghum, commanding officer of the U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting station here, said Wednesday.

Vacancies exist at Brooks Army Medical center, San Antonio, and Camp Hood, for qualified musicians who play the clarinet, cornet-trumpet, bass drum, snare drum, flute-piccolo, trombone, tuba, or French horn, he said. Men enlisting under that program are to be sent direct from place of enlistment to the unit to which assigned, it was announced, and will have a guaranteed assignment of one year to the unit of choice. Other details may be obtained at the recruiting station in Room 203 federal building.

Universe Claimed Rushing Toward Eventual 'Doom'

WASHINGTON, April 14 (U.P.)—The universe which is now flying rapidly apart in all directions was born in one violent hour some 2,000,000,000 years ago, a Johns Hopkins scientist said today.

Although it has been rushing ever since toward what seems certain destruction, the end won't come "for a long time yet," said R. A. Alpher, a member of the Johns Hopkins applied physics laboratory staff at nearby Silver Spring, Md.

Study Is Made

With the collaboration of Prof. George Gamow of George Washington university, Alpher drafted science's newest theory on "the origin of the chemical elements."

Judging by the telescopically observed speeds at which star galaxies are flying away from each other, astronomers have fixed the starting time of the universe's present expansion at about 2,000,000,000 years ago.

Scientists also have arrived at a similar time scale by observing the rate of decay of radioactive elements found on earth.

Working backwards with this and other data, Alpher concluded that the universe in the beginning consisted solely of neutrons tightly packed together. Neutrons are the uncharged constituents of atomic nuclei. They also are the "triggers" which make an atomic bomb go off.

Alpher arrived at the "philosophically unpleasant" concept of a universe of "infinite density" concentrated at a single "zero point."

Court Upholds Conviction Of Man In Poker Game Slaying

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP) — The Court of Criminal Appeals today affirmed the Hutchinson county trial court judgement which sentenced J. B. Cook to five years for murder in the poker game slaying of Orval Watson.

Court records showed Cook to have testified on trial that he intended playing a practical joke on his fellow poker players at an Odessa hotel. He left the game early in the morning $50 loser and returned disguised with a paper bag over his head and pistol. He claimed the fatal shot had been accidental discharge.

The appeal court, in upholding the judgment, noted that the trial jury was "not required to believe his explanation that his purpose in disguising himself and going with a gun to the premises was to scare the poker players."

Mechanical Hands Said Better Than Human Hands For Jobs

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — A new pair of mechanical hands, designed for atomic energy work, can do tough or delicate jobs better than human hands.

They can peel a banana, twist spaghetti on a spoon, mix chemicals, stand a bolt upright and screw on a nut without moving the bolt. They'll also write a name, light a cigarette, and operate drills, presses or other machinery, all by remote control.

The hands are double hooks, like those developed for amputees. They are part of an improved remote-controlled manipulator to do work in dangerously radioactive rooms of atomic energy laboratories. Long arms extend up and over a wall into the "hot" room, and the hands are worked by a human operator sitting safely behind the wall in another room. The operator uses binoculars and periscope mirrors to see what he's doing.

Survey To Study East Texas Water Resources Is Planned

TYLER, April 14 (AP)—A survey to determine water resources of East Texas was organized here today by representatives of 33 chambers of commerce and city governments. Cities involved are as far north as Greenville and as far south as Port Arthur.

The survey is to determine the potential supply of water for use by cities, industries, irrigation, navigation and recreation.

The survey will be made by zones and will be turned over to the Texas board of engineers.

Questionaires will be mailed towns in the area. The survey is due to be completed by May 10.

J. S. Hudnall of Tyler, coordinator of the program, appointed the following representatives: Joe M. Moore, Greenville chamber of commerce manager; Walter Hicks, Paris city engineer; Texarkana Chamber of Commerce Manager Holland; K. A. Anderson, Palestine city commissioner; Jack Lloyd, Tyler city water superintendent; Joe S. Moore, Conroe chamber of commerce manager, and C. K. DeBusk, Beaumont chamber of commerce manager.

Interviews For Victims Of Paralysis Scheduled Sunday

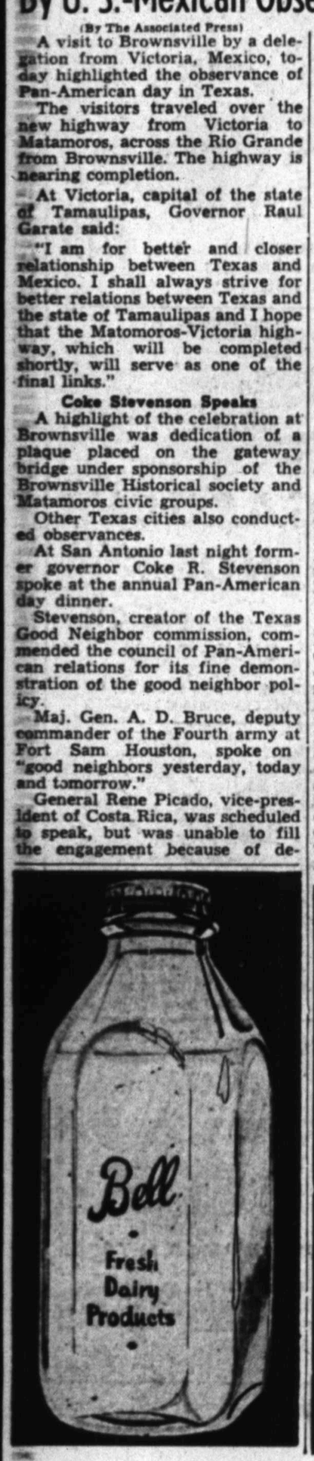

O. Robert Warburton, national divisional supervisor of the Milton H. Berry Foundation schools, and director of the foundation's school in Houston, will give interviews relative to victims of spastic and paralytic conditions Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Trow, 2010 Twenty-fifth street.

The Berry Foundation school in Houston, which receives pupils from all parts of the South, teaches spastics and victims of paralysis to walk again, and in many cases, to resume their places in normal life. Many of the Houston school's pupils come from various parts of Texas. They are taught to develop muscles to substitute for other muscles whose use has been lost as the result of accidents or other conditions, that have caused paralysis.

Often, as the result of the training, they are enabled to walk again without the aid of even crutches or canes.

Demos To Decide Issues At Session

Leaders To Meet At Fort Worth

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 14—How the State Democratic executive committee stands on three questions plaguing the party in Texas will be answered at a special meeting to be held in Fort Worth April 21.

Committee Chairman Robert W Calvert called the session today, saying it was for the sole purpose of answering these questions:

1. Whether an uninstructed delegation shall be sent to the national convention in Philadelphia.

2. Whether the committee opposes the inclusion of President Truman's civil rights program in the national Democratic platform.

Speculation Rife

3. Whether the committee favors support of Democratic party nominees for president and vice president, no matter who they are.

Both Calvert and Gov. Beauford H. Jester, executive and titular heads of the party in Texas, have said they realize the ultimate answer to how Texas Democrats stand on these issues can come only at the May 25 state convention in Brownwood.

There has been considerable speculation on whether or not Jester and Calvert see eye-to-eye on point 3. Calvert was quoted this week by The Austin American as saying that he will support the national party nominees. Jester told a capitol press conference that he has always supported the party's nominees in the past but he has not said flatly what he would do this year.

Rival Meetings Set

The special meeting of the executive committee will be held the day after the rival Democratic barbecues at Fort Worth and Waco. The executive committee, the Young Democrats and the organization of county chairmen are jointly sponsoring the Fort Worth affair.

A group of flatly pro-Truman Democrats headed by Woodville Rogers of San Antonio is sponsoring the Waco barbecue.

If the state committee comes out with a declaration of loyalty to the party nominee for president, whoever it may be, it would cut considerable ground from under the opposition forces.

A state convention battle over an instructed or uninstructed delegation and over the party's recommendation for national committeeman could still cause a sharp split at Brownwood.

Candidates for public offices in Lubbock county who are to run on the Democratic ticket are requested to start filing their names with County Democratic Chairman L. C. Ellis.

Ellis said Wednesday that he hoped candidates would not wait until the last few days to file their names as is the usual custom. No payment of candidates to get their names on the list is required at the time of filing but this payment must be made by June 15, he said.

Sherman Man Joins Faculty

Dr. Juddie Johnson Willingham of Sherman has accepted a professorship in the Dairy Manufactures department of the Agriculture division at Texas Technological college, Pres. W. M. Whyburn announced Wednesday.

Dr. Willingham is expected to arrive in Lubbock sometime in July to take up his duties during the second summer school session.

At the present time he is production manager of the dairy division of Meadowlake Foods company at Sherman and has been associated with the company in his present position since 1944.

A native of Texas, Willingham is rated as an outstanding authority in the dairy manufactures field, particularly in the production of ice cream.

He was a member of the faculty at Iowa State College for eight years where he taught the making of ice cream, advanced testing bacteriology, elementary dairying and special problems. During the latter years of his service at the college he was in charge of the ice cream department.

Dr. Willingham was graduated from Texas A&M in 1931 with a Bachelor of Science degree. While an undergraduate, he won membership in the Distinguished Student and Scholarship Honor Society. He was initiated into Sigma Xi and Gamma Sigma Delta, honorary science and honorary agriculture fraternities respectively, while completing graduate work at Iowa State.

In 1936 he submitted for publication his master thesis, "Oxidized Flavors in Ice Cream," and in 1941, "Action of Mold Inhibitors on Dairy Products," for his doctor's thesis.

Costa Rican Revolt Negotiations Started

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 14 (AP)—Negotiations were started here today to end Costa Rica's six weeks of revolution which have brought the rebel forces close to victory.

A representative of Jose Figueres, rebel chieftain, was escorted into San Jose and taken to the Mexican embassy where the negotiations are taking place. A commission representing the diplomatic corps in this capital is acting as intermediaries.

(Dispatches reaching Guatemala said that the rebels had slashed all communications with San Jose and fall of the capital appeared imminent.

(Government troops were reported prepared to make a last ditch stand in San Jose if negotiations break down.)

The revolution grew out of the country's presidential election last February which was won by Otilio Ulate Blanco.

FM TRANSMITTER—W. S. Bledsoe, chief engineer of Plains Radio Broadcasting company, looks over the 3,000 watt frequency modulation transmitter which has been installed on the eighth floor of the Lubbock National building. First broadcasts on FM frequency will be started by Station KFYO at 7 a. m. Sunday. (Staff Photo).

FM TO COVER LUBBOCK AREA

Radio Fans Can Operate Sets On New Broadcast Band Sunday

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Frequency modulation radio receivers in the immediate Lubbock area will get their first workout Sunday when radio station KFYO's new FM transmitter goes on the air.

Radio listeners since the war have heard and read a great deal about frequency modulation, and many in this area found that their new postwar sets came equipped with an FM band, but because there were no FM stations on the South Plains, they were unable to give the latest wrinkle in radio a try-out.

Radio Dials Differ

Sunday morning, beginning at 7 a. m., radio owners can tune in their FM sets on 99.5 megacycles, or if their sets have a different type dial, can tune to band number 258 and pick up the first frequency modulation broadcast from KFYO.

Heretofore the Lubbock station had broadcast only on an AM frequency of 1340 kilocycles, but beginning Sunday the station will broadcast identical programs over the two bands, AM and FM, from the Plains Radio Broadcasting studios on Avenue J.

The construction of the new FM transmitter began January 2 under the direction of W. S. Bledsoe, chief engineer for the broadcasting firm. The RCA unit was installed and then a 45-foot special antenna was erected on top of the Lubbock National building in downtown Lubbock. The tip of the antenna is 135 feet above the city's streets.

Tests Started Here

Bledsoe began test broadcasts about 10 days ago with programs piped to the FM transmitter by telephone line from KFYO's main studios. The programs were complete except for call letters, which, because the transmitter was on test, were omitted.

Bledsoe is one of the radio industry's oldest and top engineers. He was a radio instructor in the American Air corps during World War I. He was founder and owner of station KTSM in El Paso. He also served for some time with General Electric company as engineer and sales representative.

Son of the late State Senator W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock the chief engineer joined the Plains Radio Broadcasting company in April, 1936 and has remained with the company since that time.

Near Center Of Dial

KFYO's FM frequency lies almost at the center of the FM band. The present band is from 88 to 108 Megacycles, or from 200 to 300 on the FM band numbered dial.

Bledsoe explained that because of the extra high frequency of the frequency modulation broadcast there was no interference from electrical appliances, and because of its compartively short range there would be no interference from nearby FM stations.

Some Dawson Schools Close

LAMESA, April 14 (Special)—A mounting epidemic of measles brought orders this afternoon from Dr. Urban H. Zee, county health officer, that the first five grades of all Lamesa and Dawson county schools be closed until Monday.

About 360 cases of the disease have been reported in Lamesa, Zee said, and perhaps another 200 cases are scattered throughout the county.

No fatalities have been reported, but several patients were in local hospitals with bronchial pneumonia contracted as an aftermath of attacks of measles, he stated.

May Close Other Grades

Measles have also affected the middle ears of some persons, and one case of encephalitis has been reported.

Zee described the present attacks of measles as "a fairly vicious type," but said that about 150 cases have been treated with serum which decreases the severity of the disease.

Most of the cases here involve children in the first three grades in school or children under school age. The county's schools might be closed entirely if the disease continues to spread, the health officer indicated. The ban on the first five grades of school may be extended beyond Monday if the epidemic increases, but Zee said he believed it had reached its peak.

(The epidemic apparently has been confined to the Lamesa area as no reports of an unusual number of measles cases has been received in Lubbock from other South Plains towns and counties. No unusual number of measles cases have been reported in Lubbock, a survey showed.)

Oilmen From Six States Hold Pre-Convention Discussions

SAN ANTONIO, April 14 (AP)—Oilmen from a six-state southwestern district of the American Petroleum institute today gave detailed attention to industry problems and their solutions.

Seven committee groups spent the day in closed sessions studying the problems preliminary to tomorrow's formal opening of the spring meeting of API's Southwestern district division of production.

Al Buchanan of the Buchanan Drilling company, San Antonio, will open the meeting's first general session at 10 a. m. tomorrow with an address of welcome to the approximately 300 oilmen.

Tomorrow afternoon E. B. Armstrong, Honolulu Oil corporation, Midland, and J. B. Harrell, Jr., Gulf Oil corporation, Odessa, will present technical papers on "artificial lift in the Permian basin."

Truman Calls For Quick Action On Long Range Housing Measure

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Truman appealed anew today for prompt passage of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill designed to spur home construction.

The chief executive made his plea as the Senate opened a sharp debate on the controversial measure.

Mr. Truman called Democratic leaders of the House and Senate to the White House to ask quick action on the bill. Besides Senator Barkley of Kentucky and Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the minority chiefs, Democratic members of both the Senate and House Banking committees attended the conference.

Situation Called Acute

Barkley said afterwards:

"The President is very much interested in getting this long range program into operation as soon as possible. He said the (housing) situation is still acute. We told him we hoped to pass it through the Senate Monday or Tuesday."

House members said they told the President there is a petition circulating to get floor action on a similar bill, which never has been reported out by the House Banking committee.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) lit the fireworks fuse in the Senate when he offered 16 amendments to the original T-E-W bill, which was approved by the Senate Banking committee a year ago. Last week the committee okayed a revised version.

LOCKHART MAN DIES

LOCKHART, April 14 (AP)—W H. Tabor, 87, who had extensive land and oil holdings in Caldwell county, died in Lockhart hospital today. Funeral services will be held tomorrow. Survivors include a son, Mayor Sam H. Tabor of Lockhart. Tabor, a pioneer Caldwell county citizen, was born on one of the farms he still owned at his death.

Records show soap was used as early as the eighth century in Italy and Spain, and the 12th century in France.

Lubbock Educators At Austin Meetings

Several representatives of Lubbock public schools went to Austin to attend meetings this week.

Alfred Smith, principal of Central Ward school, and Thomas F. Murray, director of elementary curriculum, attended a meeting of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development Monday through Wednesday. Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of curriculum for secondary schools, attended the Wednesday sessions and took part in a discussion group.

Mrs. Rheuby Rhodes, principal of McWhorter school, Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal of Roscoe Wilson school, Leo Warren, principal of East Broadway school, and Smith and Murray are to attend a meeting of Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors today through Saturday. Ishmael Hill, former director of elementary education in Lubbock public schools and now curriculum director at Beaumont, is state president of the organization. Mrs. Rhodes, district president, is to be a group leader for a discussion of "Physical Factors in Children's Growth and Development." Mrs. Savage is a member of the by-laws committee and will lead a discussion of "Children's Emotional and Personality Development."

Tech Student From Belgian Congo Speaks To Rotarians

Tom Cleveland, student in Texas Technological college, spoke to the Rotary club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at Hilton hotel, sketching a brief picture of a part of the Belgian Congo of Africa, where his parents have spent about 35 years as missionaries and where he was born.

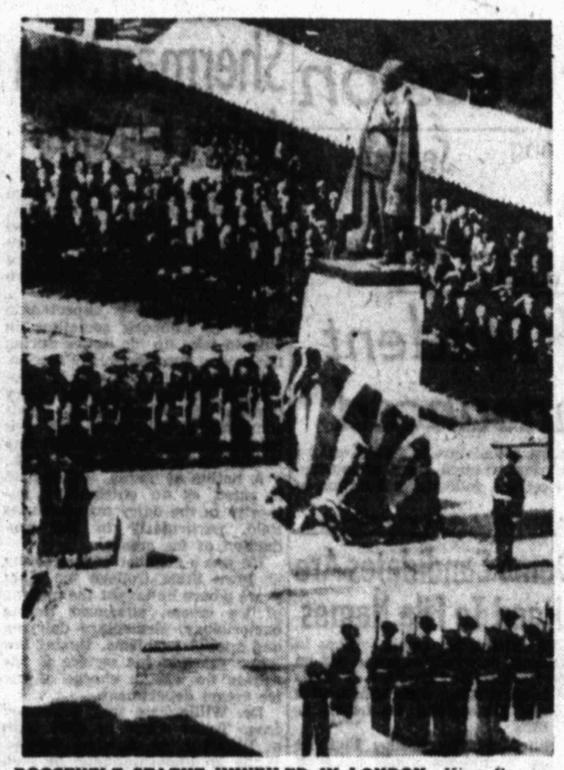

Cleveland is in the United States now to complete his education in agriculture, and expects to return to the Congo in an effort to teach the natives badly needed agricultural methods and practices.

Many of the natives in the Congo have been trained and have taken their places in many professions under the guidance of missionaries, he said, but agricultural practices and cultivation methods are still primitive. The situation is not helped, he said, by the Belgian system of exploitation of the country.

Superstitions are still widely prevalent throughout the area, Cleveland said, and this with the crude agricultural methods, serves to restrict the native diet to the point of malnutrition. He said infant mortality is exceedingly high, with only about one out of ten children reaching the age of five.

Cleveland was introduced by Neil H. Wright, jr., program chairman. Club President Rex Webster presided, with invocation by Dr. H. I. Robinson. Visiting Rotarians included C. E. Edmonds of Fort Worth, W. T. Andrews of Spur, W. B. Ditmore of Las Vegas, N. M., L. G. Daugherty of Seminole, Harvey Allen of Amarillo, Dr. J. E. Lovelace of Slaton, and Oscar McGinty of Spur.

French Firms File Suit Against U. S.

HOUSTON, April 14 (AP)—Owners of the ammonium nitrate cargo of the S. S. Grandcamp, which exploded at Texas City to start last year's disaster there, today sued the U. S. government for $400,000.

The owners were two French firms, the Wel and Cie Societe Commerciale Augustin Legay and the Union Nationale Des Cooperatives Agricoles D'Approvisionements.

This suit raised the total of claims against the government to $195,000,000.

The French petition said the claim was for "an explosive and dangerous material which plaintiffs had purchased as fertilizer with no knowledge of its explosive or dangerous character."

Eight insurance companies which jointly had insured the Texas City Terminal Railway company against loss yesterday filed suit for $1,450,000, the extent of their insurance liabilities, against the United States.

Four other insurance companies which had insured the French government against loss of its wheat cargo, part of the S. S Grandcamp's load, sued for $750,000 which the insurance companies said they owed the French government.

Period for filing claims ends April 17.

POLITICAL PLANS AWAITED

O'Daniel To Speak At Texas San Jacinto Day Ceremonies

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 14 — Speakers at the battleship Texas dedication near Houston April 21 will include Senator O'Daniel and possibly Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson.

But the occasion isn't likely to bring out whether they will oppose each other in the Texas Democratic primary this summer.

Asked if his scheduled 5-minute talk might include announcement for reelection, O'Daniel told a reporter he had not prepared any remarks.

Surprise Appointment Made

He then left the definite impression, however, that he does not intend to avail himself of the San Jacinto day celebrations to divulge his intentions.

It was on San Jacinto day seven years ago that O'Daniel, then governor of Texas, pulled a political surprise when he named Andrew Jackson Houston to the Senate to succeed the late Senator Morris Sheppard of Texarkana.

O'Daniel came out winner after a hot special election campaign waged during the hot summer months of that year, 1941. His chief opponent was Johnson, who entered the House from the Austin district in 1937.

In 1942 O'Daniel was elected to a full six-year term. His principal opponent then was James V. Allred, former Texas governor and former federal district judge.

O'Daniel Defines Rules

Here it is a question whether O'Daniel will seek reelection.

He advocates that all senators and representatives be limited in office tenure to one six-year term—but says if necessary he might try to stay in the Senate to fight for what he believes in.

He says the present "rules of the game" provide for more than one six year term—but he never has said if he will seek reelection.

As for Johnson's possible candidacy for the Senate, it's considerably more of a question than that regarding O'Daniel.

The 39-year-old representative would have to give up his House seat and a top notch spot on the Powerful Armed Services committee. The 1941 race was a special election, which did not require his resignation from the House.

While Johnson's district is limited to 10 south central Texas counties, he has been active in pressing various matters of state-wide interest.

The cast of the play includes Geraldine Cherry, Barbara Long, Jimmy Hughes, Frank Freer, Janice King, Helen Hancock, Patricia Blanton, Helen Keathley, Doris Corley, Gene Morris, Bryant Middlebrook, Betty Jo Chilton, Carroll Futrell, Gene Hilton, Suzanne Goen, Bill Cox, Sue Kellam, Raymond Tanner, La Vera Thompson, Dick Mitchell and Warren Massengale.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Suttle Purcell and Dan Ogletree. Stage manager of the production is Charles Smith, and Walter Massengale has served as publicity manager.

Funeral For Widely-Known Dawson County Resident Conducted

LAMESA, April 14 (Special) — Last rites for A. F. Hamilton, 64, widely-known farmer and long-time resident of Dawson county who died Sunday, were read Tuesday afternoon in Higginbotham Funeral home chapel.

Rev. W. C. Wright and Rev. Paul Deal officiated. Burial was in the local cemetery under direction of Higginbotham Funeral home.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Pearl Hamilton; one daughter, Mrs. R. B. Shaw of Lamesa; a brother, M. P. Hamilton, San Bernardino, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. W. R. Terrall, Clarksville; and one grandchild.

In carrying a tray to a convalescent be sure to see that it's in the correct position when offered so that it won't have to be turned around. A single flower or a small cluster of grapes will do much to make a tray attractive.

"DRUGS WITH A REPUTATION"

HE'S A BIG MAN

Baylor's President

LITERALLY thousands of Lubbock and South Plains citizens whose interest in Baylor university here-to-fore was entirely casual now will have good reason for lively interest in that great educational institution.

The reason for quickening interest in Baylor in this area is the university's new president, the Rev. Dr. W. R. White.

Widely known and long a leader among Baptists of the South, "Billy" White—as he was familiarly known here—at one time had a successful tenure as pastor of Lubbock's First Baptist church. During his time in our city he was a great deal more than simply a pastor of one church, or as representing one denomination. He was influential among members of many denominations, as well as an active worker in behalf of all good things for Lubbock.

The Reverend Doctor White takes to Baylor the best wishes of untold thousands of people in Texas and over the South, as well as a long record of outstanding service as a pastor and as an official of the Southern Baptist convention. He is a big man, mentally as well as physically, and may be expected to do big things at Baylor.

Johnson Is Right

REP. LYNDON JOHNSON, of Texas, is correct in characterizing as "stopgap legislation" the recent congressional measure which forbids the government from disposing of its war-born synthetic rubber plants to private industry until at least June 30, 1950.

Mr. Johnson insisted that the law should have retained the plants under government control indefinitely. Only in that way, he contended, can the nation be sure of enough rubber if an emergency arises.

However, the extension of government possession for somewhat more than two years was better than none at all. It is to be hoped that, when the expiration date of the extension nears, either Mr. Johnson or other congressmen of his type will be on the congressional scene to demand whatever legislation in the matter which then seems in the national interest.

"Rabies Control"

ANOTHER proposed scheme of federal regulation has been popping up here and there of late. Under this proposal, anyone who wanted to take or ship a dog from Lubbock to Slaton—or between any two communities in the United States—would have to get a federal government permit. The excuse is "rabies control."

No one certainly would make light of the seriousness of rabies. At the same time, it would be ridiculous to argue that the danger of rabies epidemics is so serious as to justify the extreme safeguard suggested.

The probabilities are that the rabies control scheme never will get to first base. But the possibility will bear watching. A few people with selfish motives might like to slip something like that over if they ever get the chance.

If things always went to suit us, we believe we'd enjoy life a great deal more.

America's Security

As Long As I Live

by Ione Sandberg Shriber
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Terror-stricken Ann Bancroft is convinced someone in her own household is trying to murder her and make it appear an accident. The household includes her husband Rush, a bacteriologist; Guy, Rush's attractive young lab assistant; Laurie, Ann's headstrong 19-year-old sister; Tommy, Laurie's fiance; and Rinda, Ann's old friend and houseguest. Ann first began to suspect foul play when she discovered that someone had waxed the soles of her new shoes, evidently hoping she would slip and fall down the steep staircase at Tophill. The can of wax was hidden in her own closet. Now that Rinda is going into Cleveland, Ann asks if she'll deliver a package and a note. She writes a letter to Enos Barton, her attorney, asking him to test the can of wax for fingerprints. But when she goes to look for the wax, it is gone.)

SLOWLY she got to her feet. Her heart was beating heavily. She moved out of the closet, into the bedroom.

Someone had taken the can of wax.

WHY?

On a sudden impulse she turned to the closet again, to look once more, to make absolutely certain she had not been mistaken. But her search was fruitless. The can of wax wasn't there.

She wondered what to do. There must be something she could do, some proper procedure she should follow. A few questions to the maids, perhaps, to find out who had been in her room this morning? Quiet questions that might tell her who had had the opportunity to take the can of wax.

But she realized almost at once that would be futile. Every member of the household had been in and out of the room last night.

As for the maids—well she could ask them if they had taken it. Maybe they had—maybe Susan had found the closet door standing open and seen the can of wax and returned it to the back hall broom closet where it belonged.

She drew a long unsteady breath and went to the back hall. She opened the broom closet. The closet was crowded but neat; there was a vacuum, brooms and brushes and mops, and, standing against the wall on the shelf above, cans of cleaner and wax and furniture polish. There was a can of floor wax on the shelf and Ann stretched to reach it. She brought it down and tugged at the lid with cold fingers. The lid came off and she looked inside. She found the wax was more than half used up. This was not the can of wax that had been in her closet.

SHE went back to her room. She held herself under rigid control. She tried to think. Tried to marshal her forces.

Her shoes! Of course. The shoes were still in her closet, in their original box. She hadn't touched them since yesterday afternoon when she'd put them on to go to the club for lunch. The wax would still be on the soles of her shoes.

She went into the closet and got the box, lifted the tissue from the shoes.

The shoes were placed in the box as shoes ordinarily are, turned inward, the bows face to face. Gingerly she lifted them out, turned them over, looked at the soles.

There wasn't any wax on the soles. None at all.

Unbelievingly she scratched the leather surface with her fingernail, but there was nothing there. No wax at all nor any trace of wax.

The fear crept insidiously into her body, chilling her. It was one thing to be afraid someone was deliberately planning your murder—but it was something else again to wonder if you were—if you were—

She felt rather than saw someone watching her. She looked up. Laurie was standing in the doorway.

"For heaven's sake, Ann," Laurie said almost querulously. "What are you doing? We've been waiting downstairs and Rinda's going to miss her train. What are you doing with your shoes?"

* * *

"RINDA?" Ann said. "Oh, Oh, yes. I—I'm sorry. I didn't mean to keep you waiting."

"Rinda said you wanted to send a package into town," Laurie said. "Where is it?"

"Well, it was the—the shoes," Ann said, wondering crazily how long Laurie had been standing in the doorway, watching her. "You know I told you they hurt me. I thought maybe I'd return them."

"Well, then, give them here. Rinda doesn't mind returning them?"

"It's probably horrible of me to ask her but she will be downtown and I've had them a week."

"All right, I'll give them to her. Are Tommy and I supposed to pick up the groceries?"

"If you will."

Laurie left the shoe box under her arm, and Ann sank back in the chaise. She felt exhausted, depleted, drained of emotion. The can of wax had vanished mysteriously and now the shoes were gone. But she hadn't been able to think of anything else to say when she'd looked up and found Laurie watching her from the doorway.

If Laurie had been there more than a few seconds she'd seen Ann examining the shoes, looking for traces of the wax she knew had been there yesterday. If Laurie had put the wax on the shoes—except that she didn't dare think a thought like that! Then she reminded herself pitilessly that she could not exclude Laurie. Not yet. Laurie had the same opportunities as had the others; Laurie had possibly a stronger motive because Ann controlled Laurie's inheritance.

But it didn't bear thinking of. Madness lay in that direction.

Madness.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

MY hat is off to the Southern Pacific Railroad..

I don't know whether it is done as a hands-across-the-country gesture, or whether it is just a routine matter, but here in a Florida newspaper the Southern Pacific runs a good-sized advertisement headed: "Just Picture Yourself on a Vacation in California."

Then comes a picture of the customary palm tree, the customary girl in a bathing suit with the customary fellow also in a bathing suit whispering the customary nothing into her shell-like ears.

BRANDEIS

Then there are the two frolicking youngsters, one of them with the customary pail, and in the background there are the customary sailboats in the customary race.

The text of the ad starts "In colorful California every golden hour of your vacation can be filled with exactly the things you like to do best—" and a lot more of enticing pro-California propaganda which makes you itch to go to California, unless you happen to be or to live in Florida.

I asked a native Floridian whether he and his fellow Floridians didn't resent this kind of advertising, when it was so well known that California and Florida are keen competitors.

"I certainly can't imagine Macy advertising their goods in Gimbel's—unless it is in the 'Miracle on Thirty-Fourth Street'," I said to him.

"That's all a lot of nonsense," he replied.

"We people here in Florida don't consider California a competitor at all, any more than California should consider us a competitor.

Having lived in California for a number of years and having revisited it several times since then, and having visited Florida a number of times, I fully agree with him and with the many other sensible people with whom I have discussed this silly animosity between the two states.

This is an enormous country. You don't realize how enormous it is until you have crossed it from North to South and from East to West.

* * *

CALIFORNIA grows oranges and so does Florida.

So what?

With both states supplying oranges to 145 million people have you ever had all the oranges you want?

With both states supplying millions of oranges have oranges ever become so cheap that everybody can have all the oranges he should have? Or grapefruit or tangerines?

Ninety per cent of all the tourists in Florida come from the Eastern and Southern states. In winter, Florida is so crowded that thousands are turned away.

I venture to say that the largest percentage of California tourists come from the West and the Middle West. And every time I have visited California the hotels and resorts have been so crowded that it was next to impossible to get accomodations.

California is growing by leaps and bounds. "Don't come to make money," they ask you. "Come to spend it."

Florida, too, is growing fast. But I doubt that it will ever become as much of an industrial state as California.

So why not be friends?

Both states are selling all the oranges and getting all the tourists they can take care of.

Yes, my hat's off to the Southern Pacific.

SOLONS TAKE NOTICE

Voters In Mean Mood

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Henry A. Wallace may never reach even the backyard of the White House, but his entry into the 1948 presidential campaign has forced Democratic and Republican conservatives on Capitol Hill to pass or consider a far more liberal and social-welfare batch of legislation than they planned. Harold E. Stassen's growing political stature may shake the pedestals of conservatism even further.

TUCKER

It is doubtful if Senator Robert A. Taft's measure for $300,000,000 worth of federal aid to education would have swept through the Senate by a 58-22 vote if it had not been for this outside pressure from the Wallace left and the Stassen left-of-center. Many members of the upper chamber voted for it in violence to their philosophy on the relationship of the federal government to the states.

MARGARINE: While it is doubtful whether the Taft proposals for a long-range health and housing program will be enacted at this session, the Wallace-Stassen impact has given them an unexpected boost.

Under a hurriedly revised legislative arrangement, they will probably be reported favorably by committees, but too late for action before the presidential election. But such procedure would almost assure passage in early 1949.

Forcing the bill for repeal of margarine taxes out of the butter-controlled Agriculture committee, which required 218 signatures in the House, is attributed directly to Mr. Wallace's apparent appeal to consumer groups in the large cities. Many members signed the pro-margarine petition only because they had to counteract his demand for lower prices for millions of urban dwellers.

Although enactment at the current session is not certain, the leaders plan to go through the motions of considering an increase in the minimum wage scale, largely to offset the Wallace strength in industrial centers.

MOOD: The men on Capitol Hill who must seek reelection next November—the full House membership and one-third of the Senate—interpret signs of Wallace and Stassen strength to mean that the voters are in a mean, questioning and querulous mood, and that a fresh breeze is sweeping across the political countryside. Such a phenomenon endangers their seats, and they feel that they must bow to—or at least bend with—the wind.

Whereas Congress has dawdled along with consideration of routine problems, save for the Marshall Plan, the people have shown their concern for solution of such domestic questions as prices, wages, production, the future of agriculture etc. They want homes, food, medical care, education and a general improvement of their status at a cost they can afford.

SENTIMENT: Although supporting Washington's various efforts to stave off another war through foreign expenditures, and generally favoring a greater strengthening of the national defense establishment than Congress seems willing to provide, they also believe that more attention should be given to bettering their lot at home.

That is the meaning which politically minded strategists read into all recent evidence of the prevailing national sentiment. And both parties at Washington intend to recognize the danger by attempts to appease the Wallace leftists and the Stassen liberals.

BURDENS: Ironically, Mr. Wallace's friends at Moscow tend to defeat the liberalization movement which his domestic pirouetting has inspired on Capitol Hill. Although he may not sense it, the Communist backers of his candidacy are preventing the realization of his professed dreams for greater medical, health, housing and social facilities.

Speaker Martin has indicated partiality toward the Senate-passed educational bill, but he questions whether the financial burdens imposed by Russian hostility will permit the required outlay of funds.

With a Marshall Plan bill of at least seventeen billions and a military budget that may run as high as thirty billions, he fears that the U. S. Treasury cannot finance an elaborate social welfare program.

DEAD: The threat of a World War III has had a definite effect on the movement for the return of war dead buried overseas.

When the government first announced its plans for bringing home the bodies of American fighters, it was estimated that the demand would run as high as seventy per cent. This estimate was based on the number of requests received from parents and close relatives.

This figure proved to be erroneous for, the reason that those eager for home burial were naturally the first to make known their wishes to the authorities. Few months ago, the number began to fall, and the estimate was revised downward to fifty per cent.

The ratio continued to drop until talk of a conflict with Moscow became general here and elsewhere. Now, with the prospect that American cemeteries might become a battleground (many of them are located in strategic areas), next-of-kin have begun to notify burial officials here that they have changed their minds. They want the boys home.

ABILITY: "I understand," writes M. A. of Los Angeles, "that there are about 1,000 newspaper, magazine and radio people—writers or commentators—at or around Washington. If they took a secret poll, who would be their favorite, on the basis of ability, as the Republican presidential candidate?"

Answer: That is a difficult question because the answer might depend on the kind of problems which the U. S. will be called upon to face in the next few years. However, from my contacts and conversations, I believe that they would name Senator Vandenberg (foreign affairs) and Senator Taft (domestic issues) as the best equipped by experience and ability.

WAR: That may be unfair to out-of-town candidates like Governor Dewey, Governor Earl Warren of California and Harold E. Stassen of Minesota. The explanation is that Washington correspondents do not know those men—or their records—as intimately as they do the men on the federal ground.

In connection with presidential possibilities, I have received many letters, asking whether the danger of war accounts for the advancement of Generals MacArthur and Eisenhower as the ideal type for the White House.

The answer, of course, is "Yes." Many people with deep prejudices against the idea of a military figure as President, especially ex-G.I.'s, seem to think that "now is the hour" for a man on horseback.

They have quit borrowing from Peter to pay Paul. Now they just apply for a government loan.

A radio technician says he has picked up a hissing sound coming from outer space. Could it be a minority group operating from Mars?

You can tell when things return to normalcy. Instead of a roll of big bills, there will be big relief rolls.

Believe It Or Not-By Robert Ripley

UNDERSTANDING CLAIMED NEEDED

Plan To Change UN Dangerous

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The 30 members of Congress—16 senators and 14 House members—who have joined in a proposal for revision of the United Nations evidently are men of good intention. They would seem, however, to be proceeding along lines that would defeat, rather than achieve, the very end they profess to seek.

Their aim is a stronger UN, which is the desire of most of us. This they would accomplish through their so-called ABC plan by: (A). Abolishing the veto in the Security Council in matters of aggression; (B). Requiring acceptance of the United States proposal for international control of atomic energy, and limiting other armaments with specific quotas for every nation; and (C). Creating an international police force of volunteer recruits from the smaller nations, with the armed forces of the big five nations as a reserve.

STOKES

Move Against Reds

This plan is embodied in a resolution that would put Congress on record for such UN revision—which would not, of course, be binding on our government, but would be advisory of congressional sentiment.

These are laudable objectives. But the whole maneuver is directed specifically at Russia, as is frankly revealed by its sponsors, two of them calling it "the new answer to Soviet Russia" and thus revealing a motive not entirely in keeping with their idealistic professions. It is a take-it-or-leave it proposal for Russia. If she should veto it, which she can under the UN charter, then a new UN would be formed with Russia left out. This is stated by the sponsors.

What we would have then would be a divided world instead of the unified world which is the only reason for UN in the first place. This UN revision proposal seems to be in the same category as our new military foreign policy. The latter is to try to bring Russia into line by a "show of force." The 30 members of Congress would try similarly to force Russia into line in UN—where she has used the veto so often—by a threat to freeze her out. Both seem to be based on falacious psychology in the light of circumstances.

It is a cart-before-the-horse proceeding. Instead of virtually inviting Russia out of UN, it would seem that we should try to go to the root of misunderstandings and disagreements that make her act as she does, remove these irritants, and then revise and strengthen UN with her as a partner.

Take the veto as an example. Why does she cling to it? A surmise is that she knows she can be outvoted constantly and, in suspicion and fear—which, though they may be unjustified, still are there—she wants it for her protection. We are a bit smug, too. At San Francisco, when UN was created, we were just as insistent on the veto as was Russia, for the very practical reason that the U. S. Senate would not ratify a charter that did not provide it. Our insistence was at the very point where the 30 members of Congress would remove it. We wanted it at the final stage where aggression might be certified. Something that we did might be labeled aggression by a vote of other nations in the Security Council, and we wanted that protection.

Would Keep Veto

Our government never has proposed removal of the veto on matters of aggression. We have recommended to the UN General Assembly that the veto be eliminated on all procedural matters up to the final question of aggression, on the theory that if a threat to peace were taken through all the arbitration machinery, this cooling-off process would eliminate it.

This was pointed out by Senator Vandenberg, foreign relations committee chairman, during Senate debate when he opposed an amendment to the European recovery program bill by Senator Ball (R., Minn.) for a military alliance of the 16 ERP nations. He also opposes this UN revision proposal, which might very well result in the same sort of thing—a military alliance against Russia, dividing the world in two.

A stronger UN is needed as a step toward eventual world government, the only real solution. But we must first eliminate differences with Russia through negotiation at the top level so that she can remain in UN. Only that way can the peace be preserved.

As Trygve Lie, UN secretary-general, said in his Hyde Park speech—delivered simultaneously with the introduction of the revision proposal in Congress—fear among peoples and governments is at the bottom of the world's troubles today. This must be removed. War talk must stop, and governments must work harder for peace, he said. And, putting his finger on the way to get peace, he pointed out that "for many months now there has been no serious attempt by any one of the big five countries at negotiation of the major differences about peace treaties." UN, too, is all right, he said. The trouble is the failure to live up to it and use it.

STOCKS IN SLUMP

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—The stock market couldn't shake off a tendency to sag today, despite a lift from aircrafts and some favored industrials and rails.

A few issues climbed to new highs for the year or longer, but a broad list of pivotals drifted narrowly lower.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite, suffering its second setback since March 26, dropped .3 of a point to 65.8. Declines outnumbered advances 490 to 334 among the 986 issues traded. Volume revived to total 1,030,000 shares. This compared with 950,000 yesterday.

Bonds were narrow and commodities steady.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — Cotton futures turned steady following early easiness today. Persistent trade buying of old crop deliveries credited mostly to mill account, along with scattered New Orleans and local buying met only limited offerings.

Early declines stemmed from hedge selling and profit taking. Most traders held to the sidelines, awaiting clarification of the export situation under the foreign aid program. In that connection, Washington advices indicated that estimates on foreign needs may be revised every three months.

Private crop advices said that preparations in cotton plantings had made fairly good progress this month in the southern half of the centra lcotton belt. The crop continued late in the eastern belt due to unwanted rain.

Electrical storms and static electricity generated by dust storms cause no distortion or interference of FM reception, he pointed out.

Have Sets Checked

"If there is apparent static or interference in reception of an FM program, the set owner should have his radio checked for the trouble probably lies in the set and not in transmission," Bledsoe pointed out. "Some FM sets which have not been used for a long time, or which have not been used on the FM band may require some adjustment," he pointed out.

"The 135 foot antenna should provide all frequency modulation sets within a 35 or 40 mile radius of Lubbock with clear reception. However, there may be some 'shadow' spots in the territory about which we do not know.

May Find Shadow Spots

"Since frequency modulation broadcasting covers only a 'line of sight' area, corresponding roughly to the horizon line seen from the top of the antenna, it is possible that some FM receivers within the radius of the broadcast will not operate because of a hill or other land rise between the set and the broadcast antenna," the chief engineer explained.

"Most FM receivers have an antenna built into the cabinet that will operate efficiently within our range, but special FM receiving antennas may be required for good reception near the outer edge of our broadcast area," he pointed out.

"We don't claim any 'miracle' for FM. It is a new development in radio, and many people have been led to believe it is the solution to all their radio reception problems, but this is not entirely the case. Frequency modulation does give greater fidelity of reproduction on the larger and better constructed sets, and it will give static-free reception, but it is not a miracle development," Bledsoe declared.

KFYO-AM broadcasts are made from 6 a. m. to midnight on week days and from 7 a. m. until 11 p. m. on Sundays. FM programs will be the same as those on AM, both originating in the central studio, but the frequency modulation schedule will begin at 6 a. m. on week days and close at 11 p. m. of week days, begin at 7 a. m. and close at 10 p. m. on Sundays. KFYO will change its call letters Sunday to "KFYO AM and FM" as the new transmitter goes into operation.

Czech Charter Is Made Public

PRAGUE, April 14 (AP)—Czechoslovakia proclaims itself a People's Democratic republic in a proposed new constitution made public today and sets itself up in "the great family of Slav nations."

The constitution was read for the first time at a meeting of the Central Action committee of the National Front, the government bloc of political parties.

The long document will be distributed throughout the country for popular comment and suggestions prior to final adoption by parliament. It was indicated the constitution would be accepted in its final form in a ceremony at the presidential palace May 9, the anniversary of Prague's liberation from the Nazis in 1945.

The preamble details the history of the Czech and Slovak people and says "we are resolved to defend with all our strength the gains of our national and democratic revolution against all efforts of home and foreign reactions."

Both the preamble and body of the constitution guarantee Slovakia equal rights with the Czech territories of Bohemia and Moravia. Significantly, however, it gives the central government in Prague the power to dissolve the council of ministers in semi-autonomous Slovakia.

Dr. Norris Says He Will Attend Meeting

FORT WORTH, April 14 (AP)—Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of Fundamentalist Baptist churches in Fort Worth and Detroit, said here today he will attend the Southern Baptist convention in Memphis next month "as a delegate."

Norris, longtime foe of Dr. Louis Newton, president of the convention, said he will hold a series of meetings in Memphis at the time the convention is going on.

"I have rented a hotel ballroom for night meetings," he said, "and I will hold afternoon meetings at another place—I'm not saying yet just where."

The pastor said he will preach at the ballroom on the nights of May 17, 18 and 20. "On the night of May 18," he said, "resolutions will be presented at my meeting demanding that the Southern Baptist convention apologize for Dr. Newton's stated views on Russia. The next day the resolutions will be brought before the Southern Baptist convention."

At Amarillo last fall, when Dr. Newton spoke before the State Baptist convention of Texas, a Fundamentalist preacher from Dr. Norris' Fort Worth seminary attempted to speak from the floor. The preacher was carried bodily from the auditorium while the convention audience sang a hymn.

Cuba is larger than most people think, being almost as large as Pennsylvania.

District Court Rules For Dewey Supporters In Republican Fight

SAN ANTONIO, April 14 (AP) — Dewey supporters bested Taft supporters in the Texas Republican legal battle before Judge Robert W. B. Terrell in district court here today.

Terrell today ruled the chairman of the Republican state executive committee and not the headquarters committee had authority to appoint county chairmen in counties where there is no Republican organization.

By his ruling he continued in force a temporary injunction granted last week to the Dewey faction headed by state chairman George C. Hopkins of Dallas.

Terrell said in his ruling:

"This case seems to involve a fight between the Dewey and Taft forces as to which one will control the Republican state convention. Governor Stassen does not appear to be represented in the law suit.

"The state executive committee is an agency created by law to represent the Republican party in Texas.

"The appointment of the so-called headquarters committee and duties of the state committee is null and void.

"No legally appointed agency can delegate its authority to someone else. This is fundamental.

"In counties where the Republican party is functioning, of course, the county executive committee has the right to select its own chairman. In counties where there is no Republican organization, the chairman of the state executive commtitee has the authority to appoint the county chairman subject to confirmation by the state executive committee.

"Counsel for plaintiff will prepare a proper order carrying out the court's opinion."

Attorney Neil Beaton for the Taft faction headed by national Republican committeeman R. R. Creager of Brownsville excepted to the ruling but leading Taft supporters indicated they would not appeal.

The Republican precinct conventions, like the Democratic, are scheduled for May 1. The time is too short for an appeal, the leaders indicated.

Four Clemency Cases Revoked By Jester

AUSTIN, April 14 (U.P.)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today revoked four clemency actions, three of which were conditional pardons.

A one-year extension of reprieve granted Jack Allen Barker on May 28, 1947, was revoked on recommendation of the Board of Pardon and Paroles, because he had been convicted of unlawful use of an automobile in Harris county. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Barker, who had been granted a six-month reprieve on Dec. 9, 1946, had been serving a five-year sentence for robbery by assault on conviction by Harris county district court on Nov. 8, 1945.

The governor also revoked a conditional pardon given John Parker on Jan. 16, 1948. Parker, convicted in Harris county district court on Nov. 25, 1932, and sentenced to life for robbery by assault, had been charged and fined recently for a misdemeanor in Walker county court.

Other conditional pardons revoked were:

Howard Buchanan, sentenced on Dec. 22, 1937 to 40 years for murder in Jefferson country district court. He had been granted a conditional pardon on Nov. 13, 1945, which was revoked on June 19, 1946, and reinstated Oct. 15, 1946.

Elroy Williams, sentenced by Nueces county district court on May 11, 1943, to seven years for murder and burglary. He was granted a six-month reprieve on Nov. 17, 1945, and a conditional pardon on April 26, 1946.

Public Employes Association Will Sponsor Essay Contest

As a part of Good Government week, proclaimed in Texas by Gov. Beauford H. Jester as April 18 to 24, the Lubbock chapter of the Texas Public Employes association has posted cash prizes for high school government students in the South Plains area for the best theme on "How I May Preserve and Improve Our Form of Government."

Details of the plan were announced yesterday by W. H. Garrett, recently elected president of the TPEA chapter.

Cash prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50 will be paid to first, second and third place winners, the announcement said. Government studen in any high school on the Sou Plains are eligible.

The best theme from each school is to be selected by that school's government teacher, and submitted to the Texas Public Employes association, Box 771, Lubbock, not later than April 23. A committee named by the chapter will select the three winners from the list submitted.
