STANDING ON THE CORNER

... With P. J.

It is said that the Bank of England requires its employees to sign a daily register and record their reasons should they be late. London weather being what it is, the first tardy gentleman generally writes "fog" opposite his name, and those who follow, "Ditto."

One morning the first latecomer wrote, "Wife had twins." Under the twice blessed gentleman's name mechanically followed 20 others, each with a "ditto."—Hickory Spoke via Scandal Sheet.

Well, tomorrow's Old Settlers Reunion and no doubt many old friends will get together to whittle and spit.

They'll brag on each other's children, knowing all the time that their own are much prettier and smarter.

What's really fun is just to sit back and watch the old timers enjoy themselves. They can pack more laughter into one day at the reunion than most of us can in two months.

We had planned to run a picture and a feature story one of these days on Mrs. Larry Hagood's four-wheel buggy and five-gated horse, but "Deacon," as the horse is called, just never did seem to want to be hitched up to the vehicle.

This seems to be a good time to tell you about them anyway. Janie received the buggy for a Christmas present from her husband—no not as a joke. She is quite accomplished in the art of horsemanship. She has both taken and taught riding at William Wood College in Fulton, Mo., and at various camps has shown three- and five-gated horses with English saddle and fine harness for two years as an

Four O'Donnell Men In Wreck

Four O'Donnell young men were injured, three seriously, when their car crashed into a tree at the roadside park on US Hwy. 87 north of Tahoka at about 1:30 a. m. Tuesday.

The injured are: James (Red) Rains, 22, given emergency treatment at Tahoka Hospital, and then sent on to Lubbock Methodist Hospital to a nose and eye specialist, severe lacerations of the face and forehead, fracture of right frontal sinus and nose and severe damage to right eye, severe compound fracture of right thumb. Dr. Skiles Thomas reported he was conscious and rational Wednesday but still on serious list and may lose sight of right eye.

Mack Forbes, 18, severe laceration of right hand and fingers, broken ring finger, and laceration of lip and chin, a patient in Tahoka Hospital.

John Wheat, 20, laceration of scalp, severe bruises and possible fractures, also in Tahoka Hospital.

Wayne Mott, 22, badly bruised, but did not require hospital treatment.

The four young men were returning home from a visit with a friend, Johnny Billingsley, in Lubbock. Rain had been falling, and as they hit a slight dip on the pavement just north of the roadside park, the new 1957 Ford being driven by Wheat went out of control and crashed into a tree on the west side of the pavement.

The car was a total wreck. Wheat and Forbes, in the front seat, were thrown out of the wreckage, and Rains was pinned down between the seats. No passer-by showed up immediately, and Mott started running down the highway to town. About a mile and a half down the road he was picked up by some Mexicans who carried him to town for an ambulance.

Dr. Thomas said Thursday Forbes and Wheat may be released in a day or two if no other injuries are found.

Red Cross Gives Aid To Victims of May Tornado

American Red Cross assisted a total of 15 families in the total amount of $9,445.32 for losses in the May 24 tornado which swept across Tahoka and northeastern Lynn county, according to Miss Henrietta Brooksmith of St. Louis, who finished making settlements for losses here Wednesday.

The greater amount went to tenant farmers and farm laborers east of Wilson, although assistance was also given several Negro families in Tahoka.

All Red Cross assistance is on the basis of disaster-caused need and is not a loan but is an outright gift. Funds came from the National Fund Campaign for Disasters.

A group of Lynn county business men served as the advisory committee to approve the cases, she said.

Broken down, the $9,445.32 was spent as follows: 10 families assisted with food or clothing, $332.48; two families assisted with building and repair of houses, $79.80; 11 families assisted with household furnishings, $1,919.31; one family assisted with medical, $43.00; and three families assisted with occupational supplies and equipment (farm machinery), $707.73.

Although the tornado damaged approximately 130 homes in town and on farms, most of them were covered at least partially by insurance, or were homes of people who would not qualify for Red Cross assistance under the disaster program.

Miss Brooksmith stated: "American Red Cross is very grateful to the local welfare group, who made their donated clothing available to the victims. This relieved Red Cross of the necessity of receiving, sorting, and distributing the used clothing which ordinarily comes to them following a disaster, and yet good clothing was available to the families who needed it."

She also complimented the stricken people very highly. In not one case, she said, did a single person ask for more than bare necessities, nor did a single person seek in any way to take advantage of Red Cross assistance, so far as is known.

New Home has won first place in the Rural Neighborhood Progress contest for the 20-county District II of Texas, and the award will be made at a community-wide meeting at New Home Club House today, Friday, at noon.

This contest is sponsored annually by The Farmer-Stockman magazine and the Extension Service of Texas. The district prize is $100.00 cash.

Judging in the contest is based on just about every phase of community life and progress, including improvements in home, church, and social life, educational progress, and farming methods.

Competition has been very keen in this contest, and Blakney said they felt fortunate in winning the award.

T-Bar Fairways In Fine Shape

Continued rains are causing the grass on fairways at T-Bar Club to grow very rapidly, and eight of the nine fairways are now almost completely sodded. Grass on No. 9 has still not covered the fairway, but a temporary fairway is being used alongside until grass gets a better start.

The new mower recently purchased is helping get the course in excellent shape, and members hope also to have the roughs cleaned up soon.

An airconditioner was donated to the club this week by the Duplicate Bridge Club, and this was installed Monday.

Load of Cotton, Early-Day Tahoka

Rain And Sand Help And Hurt

Farmers were back in their fields this week following another stormy weekend that resulted in the loss of some crops from high winds and blowing sands Saturday and Sunday and from heavy rain Monday night.

Rain Monday night measured .92 in Tahoka, but two to three inches fell in the Three Lakes, West Point, Petty, and Lakeview areas. Most of the north and east portions of the county reported about an inch, with little or no damage.

Some cotton and feed just coming up was damaged by the washing, but considering the county as a whole the loss was negligible.

Exceedingly high south winds Saturday and Sunday had blown out some cotton, mostly in the sandier western part or in the south-east portion where so much rain has fallen farmers have had difficulty tilling the soil and planting.

A few farmers are still planting this week, but most of Lynn county's crop is finally planted and most of it is up to a good stand. In fact, County Agent Bill Griffin estimated Wednesday that at least 90 percent of the cotton acreage is up to a stand.

Rainfall for June now totals 2.39 inches and the total for the year is 16.37 inches, far above normal. Moisture in some amount has fallen on 53 days of this year, so far.

City Winner In Fire Truck Suit

City of Tahoka was winner Saturday in 72nd District Court in Lubbock in a suit against Keystone Fleming Transport, Inc., for damages to a city fire truck.

The civil court jury placed damages to the truck at $2,500.00. Tahoka had asked for $6,000.00 in damages.

Judgment was sought for damages to the truck on April 26, 1953, when an explosion and fire followed the collision of two butane-loaded semi-trailer trucks belonging to the transport firm on Hwy. 380 six miles west of Tahoka. Driver of one truck was burned to death in the fire.

Among the 33 special issues answered by the jury, principal one was finding that the driver of the second truck was negligent in traveling too close to the front truck at the time of the accident. Others included failing to stop to avoid a collision and failing to turn left to avoid a collision.

Huffaker and Green, local attorneys, have been representing the City of Tahoka in the suit.

Colored Woman Raises Fund For Newsom Family

Local Colored people this week raised a fund of $19.70 to help Dixie and Gene Newsom, whose two little boys are polio patients in a Lubbock hospital.

Mrs. Carrie Williams, Colored, who raised the fund, states: "I raised the fund to help the Newsoms because I knew this was a Christian duty. Dixie has lots of friends here, regardless of race or color, and it is our Christian duty to help her. She is a friend of mine, and I thank each and every one for helping me."

David Newsom, age six, is still on the critical list at the hospital and still is in an iron lung. He is reported to be showing improvement but is not out of danger and is still paralyzed. Dennis Ray, age four, is still reported to be recovering nicely.

The father, C. E. Newsom, said The News was in error in stating a physician sent the child to the Lubbock hospital. He requests The News to state the physician treated the child for tonsillitis and both children were found to have polio when they took them to the hospital.

Mrs. Perry Walker returned one Sunday from Cleburne, where she recently underwent an operation performed by her uncle. Following her release from the hospital, she visited a brother in Dallas a week.

Mrs. J. W. Fox, 70, of Grassland, mother of Mrs. E. A. Thomas, is reported improving at Tahoka Hospital, where she has been a patient since June 12.

Adrian Evans of Petty received a broken right leg Tuesday while working on a tractor at his farm.

Henry Clay is credited with saying "I'd rather be right than president."

Conway of Roper, Jack Reynolds of Tahoka, Sam Hysmith of Chillicothe, and Merl Redwine of Alamogordo, N. M.

Prizes will also be presented to the oldest pioneer man and woman not having received the award in the past, and the person coming the greatest distance.

New officers will be elected at the end of the session.

An old time dance is planned for Saturday night at the Legion hall. Meantime, several store windows are being filled with pictures and relics of early days in Lynn county.

Officers this year are: Belton Howell, president; Maurice Small, vice president; Mrs. Dale Thuren, secretary; Clint Walker, finance; Small and Albert Curry, grounds and seating; Norvell Redwine, dinner; Happy Smith, refreshments; Mrs. Pridmore, program; R. C. Wells, fiddle contest; Mrs. Hall Robinson, trophies.

City Is Fogging Flies, Mosquitoes

City of Tahoka this week is operating its fog-spraying machine to poison flies and mosquitoes.

Because of the many water holes and the rank growth of weeds, both flies and mosquitoes are expected to be numerous this summer.

Operators of the fogging machine warn parents that they should stop their children from riding bicycles in the fog behind the machine. Several times cars have dashed into the fog at street intersections, and a child could very easily be injured or killed by such.

Delores Rhoads Is Married Saturday

(By Mrs. Carl Gryder)

An archway of greenery and candelabra decorated the Wilson Baptist Church last Saturday for the wedding of Miss Delores Rhoads and Lee Ham, with the Rev. H. F. Scott officiating at a double ring ceremony at 5:00 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rhoads, and Ham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ham, Slaton.

Mrs. G. L. Nelson accompanied Misses Nita Hewlett and Nancy Cook as they sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle and net over taffeta, designed and made by her mother. The fitted bodice had a scooped neckline detailed with applique lace and tiny seed pearls. A billowing waltz-length skirt of nylon tulle was designed with a row of scalloped lace. Lace mitts completed her attire. A short veil of silk illusion cascaded from a lace and satin cap seeded with pearls, and she carried a white Bible showered with an orchid and white satin ribbon streamers.

Miss Pat Smith of Slaton attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Willie Pat Baxley and Linda Crowson. They wore identically fashioned dresses of corresponding tones of blue cotton satin. Cumberbunds frosted with seed pearls accented their bouffant street-length skirts. They wore mitts and headbands of net and seed pearls. They carried carnation fans of matching colors.

Misses Sharon Kaye Rhoads, sister of the bride, and Mária Stanger lighted candles. Vicki Lynn Rhoads, another sister of the bride, was flower girl and Eddie Dean Ethridge, nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings.

Weldon Pruitt, Floydada, was his cousin's best man. Roy and Joe Bob Jones, cousins of the bridegroom; Leroy Poer and Dickie Thomas, all of Slaton, ushered.

At the reception, held in the educational building of the church, the serving table was covered with lace over blue and centered with a tiered wedding cake, surrounded by the attendant's floral fans.

Registering guests was Mrs. Gene Ethridge, sister of the bridegroom from Slaton. Assisting with hostesses were Misses Mary Lou Lichey, Joyce Church, Eunice Buxkemper and Ida Mason. Also Misses Truman Baxley, J. B. Smith, Jessie Earwood, D. J. Hutcheson and H. H. Hewlett.

For traveling, the bride chose a navy sheath and white accessories. After their wedding trip, the couple will live in Slaton, where the bridegroom is employed by E. W. Ham and Son Plumbing.

The former Miss Rhoads is a 1957 graduate of Wilson High School and husband was graduated from Slaton High School in 1956.

Electric Living is FUN!

Linda Baxter demonstrates, to her mother, modern cooking techniques learned in school homecoming class.

"Our daughter sold us on ELECTRIC COOKING!"

says Mrs. CLYDE BAXTER
College and 5th Streets
LOCKNEY, TEXAS

Mrs. Clyde Baxter, like many adults, has had the advantages of electric cooking pointed out to her by her high school student daughter, who learned that the modern way is the accurate, dependable way.

Of course, it's electric! Says Mrs. Baxter, "I'm mighty glad we installed an electric range when we built our new home. The counter-top height oven gives perfect baking results and we get more broiled foods since getting the new range."

Sixteen-year old Linda Baxter is a sophomore student with two semesters in homecoming. Her teacher, Mrs. Quentin Adams, says, "Although our department has both types of household cooking equipment, most of our girls prefer to use the electric range."

Why not "take a tip from your teenager"? If you are not yet cooking electrically, ask your daughter to tell you why you should.

16-MILE HAUL — 4300 FEET UP — When Sheriff Col. Boles of Maricopa County, Arizona, sends his 4-wheel-drive GMC to his radio transmitting station on a mountain peak, one round trip deals out more punishment than a year's ordinary use.

IT CROSSES 3 MOUNTAIN CHAINS, wades through shifting sand, picks its way over boulder-strewn passes—goes where no sane horse would set foot. The deal includes climbing up a 65% grade. But—"It hasn't even breathed hard yet," says the Sheriff.

How tough could you make it for this GMC 4-WHEEL DRIVE?

You probably never would push a GMC truck this far.

But it's great to know that GMC's can do incredible jobs, beyond all normal requirements for their class—and still run longer, cheaper and with fewer repairs than other trucks.

Got some tough assignments for this GMC 4-wheel drive? It's just about the handiest truck ever built—goes anywhere, makes its own roads, has full traction in muck or deep snow, has clearance on high-crowned roads.

With a few accessories, it pulls stumps, drills postholes or wells, stretches fence, pumps water, hoists anything. It takes a king-size cargo and—in 2-wheel drive—gives you full road speeds.

The GMC 4-wheel drive is really two trucks in one—and it costs surprisingly little. Just ask your GMC dealer!

ODds AND EndS

(By E. I. Hill, Elder)

Having come home from the Tahoka Hospital on or about May 22, the perpetrator of the Column adon ran into other serious trouble. On May 24 a tornado formed directly over the city of Tahoka and one of the first houses hit on my street was my house. Little damage was done to the house by the storm, but the fine grove of trees on my lots east of the house was almost reduced to kindling wood.

When the tornado alert was given all of our several visitors and our good neighbors made a dash for Mrs. Nurdyke's storm-house across the street. I was still unable to walk, but our neighbor, Husky H. P. Jones, who works for the Davis-Humphries Food store and one of Eva's relatives visiting us here at the time grabbed me up and took me across to the storm-house, post-haste. They had scarcely lowered me down into the man-made cavern when they suddenly realized that the tornado for our block was over. It had passed on to the "colored section" of the town, where it blew a number of residences down and wrought havoc with a lot of the warehouses owned and used by the cotton compress.

Now, the great mystery connected with that tornado, as much of us see it, was the fact that though scores of houses here were damaged or destroyed not a single life was taken. Not a single person, white or black, was injured by this terrific bombardment of the town by wind, hail, flying glass, planks, or frightful strokes of lightning. Three other storm warnings have sent us scuttling to

To whom it may concern: Please, Please! Aren't we overdoing the tornado alert whistle? We are not minimizing the damage and loss of the recent twister, but do you believe there is one in every thunder shower?

There are those of us who, for reasons beyond our control, couldn't go to a cellar if we had one.

So, let's leave the weather to the Good Lord and the weather experts. Interested Citizen.

the storm-house since, one of them the most terrifying electrical storm I have ever seen anywhere.

I have been slowly but steadily improving physically since coming home. Much of the time I have been laid up in bed but a few days ago my wife, who is a pretty good nurse, began to walk me around over the streets in the plenty of good needed exercise.

It has afforded both of us also to enjoy the beauties of nature. The grass and weeds have also grown so rapidly since the recent rains as to, mess up most of the vacant lots but even these rank pests have not been able to hide the wealth of Tahoka Daisies that are now blooming in our part of the town. These are by far the most beautiful flowers to be found on the plains. If you do not believe it, just drive down to the Women's building at the northeast corner of the Fair barn and look down toward the lake due east to the Industrial District.

CARD OF THANKS

May we express our sincere thanks to friends for the wonderful help given us following the loss of our home, and to Tahoka Fire Department for their effort to get to our home in time to save it. We really appreciate such kindness. Willie Schneider and family.

Wiley L. Curry Rotary Speaker

Wiley Lee Curry showed color movies and talked on Alaska at Tahoka Rotary Club the last Thursday noon meeting.

Preceding his talk, Alton Cain read the Robert W. Service ballad of "The Cremation of Sam McGee." Curry spent most of his Army service at a radar outpost near Anchorage, and his pictures and talk dealt with the weather and heavy snows, the beautiful mountain scenery, the Alaskan dog sled races and the Eskimos, and farming in the mountain valleys.

About half the size of the United States, Alaska is located, in one place, less than 50 miles from Russia and 300 miles from the nearest air base. If America is ever attacked by Russia, such such will probably come across Alaska. For this reason, the Army maintains constant radar vigil in Alaska, and it was at one of these stations that Wiley Lee worked.

Lowest temperature at Anchorage while he was there was 61 below zero. One winter, 147 inches of snow fell. However, there is little or no wind in this area.

He told of the long days and short nights and vice versa. In spite of the weather, there is much farming in the valleys. Alfalfa, pasture grasses and wheat are grown. But, the principal crop is vegetables, which are grown very successfully in the summer. A. M. Bray made a plea for help at Pony and Little League games in getting the field ready for play, umpiring, etc.

President Johnnie Reasonover announced that a college student from Switzerland is available to be the guest of the Tahoka Club this summer. Following the regular meeting, directors of the club voted to accept the student for the visit here. This will be the third European student the Tahoka Club has brought here for the summer, the other two having been from France and Austria.

Club members alternate in entertaining these student guests in their homes, about a week at each of eight or ten homes.

The club voted not to meet on Thursday, July 4, a national holiday.

Plans are being made for a special installation meeting for new club officers on Thursday night, June 27, in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church. This will be a ladies night meeting, and the speaker will be Truett G. Hull, Jr., grandson of a former pastor of the First Baptist Church here.

Urban Brown was introduced as a new member of the club.

Mrs. Lillian McCord accompanied her sister, Mrs. Russell York, to El Paso last week end on the latter's return trip to her home in California. They went to El Paso Friday, and Mrs. McCord returned home Sunday.

Vernon Wyatt has recently moved to Brownfield, where he is employed by the Chevrolet agency.

DRILLING SHOT HOLES for seismographic surveys has come a long way from the hand auger days of the mid-30's, pictured here. Where terrain permits, today's shot hole crews use power-driven bits mounted on trucks. The holes are drilled for explosive charges which, with the aid of sensitive instruments, give geophysicists valuable information about the position of formations deep in the earth.

Humble Observes 40th Anniversary

West Texas—back in 1926—did not figure much in the production picture of Humble Oil & Refining Company.

Yet, two years later, this area was supplying nearly half of that company's total oil production.

The difference was a highly successful exploration program in the Permian Basin—highlighted by the Hendricks field discovery in Pecos county—which jumped Humble's West Texas production from a 200,000-barrel trickle in 1926 to a 7,000,000 total in 1928. West Texas has been a major source of Humble crude ever since.

Forty years ago this month, in Houston, Humble Oil & Refining Company came into corporate existence—the pooled properties and experience of a group of pioneer Texas oilmen who believed in themselves, each other and the future. Charter of the company was issued June 21, 1917, but in a way Humble dates back to the Spindletop, for it was there that most of the men who later organized Humble met and became friends.

From a modest beginning in 1917, the company has grown and grown until, since World War II, it has moved into first place in gasoline sales in Texas. During this time, the company has expanded from production to refining, chemical manufacturing of intermediate materials.

ROY L. WILLIAMS ELLIS BARNES

ELMER BLANKENSHIP

The planting of Side oats grama on Glen Brewer's place northeast of O'Donnell has survived severe adverse weather conditions of heavy rains and high winds. This planting was made on top of the lister bed. Otherwise seedlings would have been covered by heavy rains.

Weldon Bailey's plantings of Blackwell Switchgrass and Side oats grama seeded on top of lister beds is up and well on the way to becoming established. These plantings may be seen from the paved road along west side of field. The plantings of Caucasian bluestem and Indian grass were not up to a stand last week. Weldon also made these plantings on top of lister beds. All of these grasses were planted for seed production.

Joe D. Unfred plans to use the twenty inch row spacing planter for stubble mulching land to go into the conservation reserve acreage of the Soil Bank. Grain sorghum will be planted this year and perennial grass seeded next spring.

The root cutter blade seems to be the most effective method of controlling mesquite trees. Seeding with this operation will result in establishment of desirable species of grasses. Following this method there will be a need for controlled grazing so that grass may hold mesquite seedlings in check. Along with this the small seedlings may be completely killed with one cut of a heavy hoe but if allowed to grow it will be a matter of control of trees again. Seedlings will germinate for a number of years as conditions are favorable.

At their regular monthly meeting the Supervisors approved three conservation plans and planned a farm tour sometime the week of July 22 to 26, to observe conservation on the land.

Robert Crawford, a Texas Tech student from Brownwood, has been employed by the Soil Conservation Service for the summer as a Soil Conservationist Student trainee. He will return to Tech in the fall.

Some of the duties of a Student trainee are: to develop complete basic farm conservation plans, to perform surveys for conservation practices; to supervise installation of ACP practices; to receive training in professional farm planning methods and procedure; and to receive training in all phases of the soil and water conservation program.

This training will take place under the direct supervision of the Work Unit Conservationist, Mr. Allyn B. Cox, Engineers and Soil Scientists will also assist in the training and development of the trainee.

The position of student trainees has been established for majors in an agricultural science considered appropriate as training for technical positions in soil and water conservation work. This position provides intensified training in soil and water conservation work and qualifying experience for a professional position with the Soil Conservation Service upon graduation from college.

Southwestern Life Insurance Company

Forty years ago, in June of 1917, the Humble Company received its charter from the State of Texas.

The Company was formed through a merger of the properties of a number of independent oil operators. Its founding brought together a remarkable group of men who occupy an important place in the annals of the oil industry:

R. S. Sterling and his brother, F. P. Sterling, the principal organizers of Humble Oil Company from which the present company acquired its name; W. S. Farish and R. L. Blaffer composing Blaffer and Farish; H. C. Wiess with assets from Paraffine and Reliance Oil Companies; Walter W. Fondren and C. B. Goddard, producers; and L. A. Carlton and E. E. Townes as lawyers.

All of these men contributed greatly in adopting the principles, in shaping the policies, and in laying out procedures that have guided the Company's progress through these forty years. Their influence will survive as long as the Company continues.

They possessed courage and business judgment. They established high standards of performance. They built a strong organization of competent men and women.

The Company, as it stands today, is a tribute to the leadership, the vision, and the work of its founders.

But it is doubtful that these men, with all their foresight, visualized the changes that have occurred in the oil industry since 1917, or the size and complexity of Humble's present operations, or the extent of the Company's contributions through the years to the progress of our society.

To all who have made those contributions possible—employees, customers, shareholders and the people of the states in which the Company operates—Humble extends its thanks.

Pony Teams Lose In Two

Tahoka Pony League teams continued to lose to Post by very close scores.

Thursday night here, the Post Indians defeated the Tahoka Orioles 6 to 5 behind the cool pitching of Leslie Acker, who also got two hits in two official trips.

Larry Brown started for Tahoka, and was relieved by Billy Nance. Nance also hit two for three, as did Billy Davis.

The same night at Post, the White Sox of that city won over the Braves of Tahoka 9 to 8. The News has no other information on the game.

Another attempt will be made this week end to start the first annual T-Bar Club Ladies Open Golf Tournament. Rains two weeks ago forced postponement of the first scheduled opening.

All ladies are invited to enter on payment of $3.00 entry fee. Qualifying must be finished by Sunday night, and play will end Sunday afternoon, June 30.

Following end of play June 30, a barbecue chicken dinner will be served, open to the public at $1.00 per plate, at the club house.

Giants Leading Little League

Although first half of Little League play is supposed to have ended, winner of this half will not be determined until make-up games are played this week end.

Although still leading percent-wise, the Giants dropped their first game of the season to the second-place Cubs. In the meantime, the Cardinals have put together two wins in the last week to improve their standing, while the hard-luck Yankees remain in the cellar.

Thursday night, the Cards came from away behind (5 to 11 in three innings) to take a close 14 to 13 win over the Yankees. Mike Anchondo, in relief for A. G. Cook, helped with the victory as the winning pitcher, and Tony Spruiell was the Card's leading hitter with two for two. Although the losing pitcher, Jack Burk, had three for four, as did Taylor Knight, both for the Yanks.

Friday, the Giants nosed out the Cubs 4 to 3 in the best game of the season. Winning pitcher Larry Thomas struck out eight, but loser Craig Leslie fanned 13. Andy Bray came on the hill for the Giants in the last of the sixth with no outs and the bases loaded and struck out three Yanks in a row. Grogan had two hits in two official bats.

Saturday, the Cubs nosed out the Yanks 7 to 6 behind the pitching of Terry Brown, relieving Grogan. Roy Stice started for the Yanks and was relieved by Burk. The latter was the leading hitter with two for three.

In the second game Saturday night, the Cards humiliated the Giants 15 to 4. Terry Harvick started for the Cards, and was relieved by Anchondo, who also hit three for four. Ronnie Shepherd was the losing pitcher.

Monday night, the Giants stopped a Yankee rally to win 13 to 10. Shepherd pitched four frames for the Giants, Thomas two. Elton George went three for the Yanks and Burk three. Burk hit three for four and Stice two for two for the losers, while for the Giants Thomas had two for two, Chapa three for three, and Kopecky two for three.

The Cubs-Cards game Tuesday night was postponed because of wet grounds.

Gail Leading In Softball League

Gail is leading and Draw is close behind in the five-team Draw Softball League, Gail having won all six of its games and Draw having won five and lost one.

Monday night, Lewis Construction strengthened its third place standing by defeating O'Donnell, which has lost all seven games, 9 to 8. Bill Murray was the winning pitcher, and Jackie Hay was the loser.

Tonight, there will be a double-header: In the first game, Draw and Gail will battle it out. In the second Lewis meets Tahoka, winner of one game in six starts.

Standings follow:

	Won	Lost
Gail	6	0
Draw	5	1
Dewis	3	2
Tahoka	1	5

Whose Early-Day Home Is This?

And Who Is The Proud Hereford Owner?

New Home Cubs Take Early Lead

New Home's junior baseball league, operating under Little League rules, got off to a rousing start last week with the Cubs defeating the Dodgers 18 to 13 in the first game played on Monday and the Athletics 33 to 25 in the second game played on Friday.

In spite of the high scores, a number of boys showed potentialities of making ball players. At any rate, they had a lot of fun and started learning some baseball.

In the opening game, Max Blakney and Bobby Harris were pitchers for the winners, and Jim Crawford and Marguerite Alonzo for the losers. Don Murray of the Dodgers had the honor of binging out the first home run, and it was a grand-slammer with the bases loaded. Team-mate Don B. Rudd also got a homer, and Dave Hancock had the first home run of the season for the Cubs.

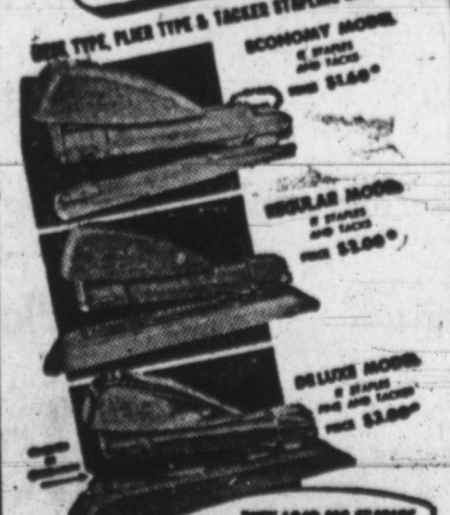

Results of Friday's game sounded more like a baseball score, and several boys tried their hands at pitching, and still the side in home moved around the bases.

Monday afternoon, the Dodgers defeated the Athletics 8 to 2 behind the control pitching of Don Murray. Buddy Harrison was the losing pitcher. Jack Reese and Jim Crawford each had homers for the victors.

Games are played each Monday and Friday at 5:00 p. m. in the three-team league.

New Home has between 40 and 45 boys on the three teams. Uniforms have been furnished all the boys from a fund raised by gins, merchants, and individuals of the area.

A backstop has been set up on the southwest corner of the football field, and a press box and concessions stand have been provided for convenience of fans.

Alfalfa Is Top Crop In Texas

College Station—About 318,000 acres of alfalfa, having a value of 18 million dollars, were harvested for hay in Texas in 1955 making it the principle legume used for hay in Texas.

A publication just released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, "Alfalfa Production in Texas," contains much information on the economic importance of alfalfa, the important areas of production and the varieties grown including Jahontan which may be used widely in the next few years because of its' spotted alfalfa aphid which is causing increased damage to alfalfa crops. The publication also contains valuable information on the regional adaptation of alfalfa, seed production, better utilization through pasture, silage, dehydration and soiling, plus helpful tips on production practices including soil, climate, land preparation, fertilization, inoculation, seeding and irrigation.

Alfalfa is not only one of the most palatable and nutritious of orange crops, but, according to Raymond D. Staten, A. & M. Agronomist, it has a favorable effect on soil by adding nitrogen and acting as a protective cover for the soil.

Copies of the publication, B-855, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Farm Exports Show Increase

College Station—United States farm exports for the current fiscal year are soaring to a record level. Four straight years of export increases find 1956-57 values approaching 4 1/2 billion dollars—a full billion ahead of last year.

Several factors help this favorable situation. Competitive pricing of CCC-owned cotton and other products has done a lot for our export market and a generally strong financial position is now enjoyed by most of our best customers. Extension Economist Alvin Wooten says there is also a growing desire abroad for the high quality products in US stocks. He stresses the fact that considerable progress has been made toward easing barriers against imports from this country.

The "sold out" sign has gone up on several commodities, Wooten says, including cottonseed oil, linseed oil and soybeans. Stocks of grain sorghums, rice, barley, butter and dried milk have been reduced and CCC wool stocks are being cut at a fast clip.

Exports for dollars are now being emphasized more and more. Dollar sales now total about two-thirds of all CCC disposals. Wooten says the 31 friendly nations now buying from America with foreign money will probably soon develop into dollar markets. A billion dollars in farm surpluses have been bartered for strategic foreign materials and vital defense needs, he says.

Wooten attributes much of the recent export success to better promotion tools. We now have top-notch agricultural attaches, marketing specialists, special export program and trade fairs to facilitate movement.

Eleven billion dollars have been spent in the last 10 years by the railroads for improvements, new equipment and for research.

"Deacon Jones" is the 10 year old grandson of Stonewall King, who was reputed to be the greatest American bred stud ever known. "Deacon" is 16 hands, two inches high and believe it or not, can trot at a speed of 15 miles per hour.

Janie's buggy, which is kept on the Hagood farm, is a four-wheel affair with rubber wheels and springs. Covered with a top for the one-seater for two people, the buggy is similar to those used by doctors in the old days.

The buggy was purchased in Indiana from one of the three companies in the world that still manufacture them.

We don't know whether she will or not, but it'd be kinda' fun if Janie would show her buggy off tomorrow.

Since this column this week is more or less dedicated to the "old-timers," we'd like to point out that doesn't necessarily mean they are "old."

You may be old at 40 and young at 80; but you are genuinely old at any age, if:

You feel old;

You feel you have learned all there is to learn;

You find yourself saying, "I'm too old to do that;"

You feel tomorrow holds no promise;

You take no interest in the activities of youth, and if their banter irks you;

You would rather talk than listen;

You long for the "good old days" feeling they were the best;

You will not help your neighbors, friends, and community;

You would rather win an argument than be right.

Now—how really young or old are you? It's a good question.

Frankly, I'd be embarrassed to admit my age established by this standard.

Our boss was talking to Joe Kolodziejczyk of Wilson the other day and says he was amazed at Joe's knowledge of European history. He declares he doubts if many history students have Joe's knowledge of affairs in Europe.

Joe is of Polish extraction, but he has lived in Texas all his life. In fact, Joe's grandfather came to Texas more than a hundred years ago—in 1844.

One reason he knows so much European history is because he has taken an interest in his ancestors. His family was once of the landed aristocracy of Poland, and his great grandfather fought with Napoleon in the War of 1812. But life in Poland has always been hard... being in the squeeze between Germany, long ambitious for more land, and Russia, hard-hearted and cold-blooded as a nation... and more than once has Poland been "sold down the river."

Although his name is hard to spell by our standards, he is rightfully proud that the family has held on to the Polish spelling... anyway, Kolodziejczyk is probably no harder to spell by a Pole than Wainwright is by one of us. What is the derivation of the name? Well, away back in the dim past, one of his ancestors was a wheelwright, and a descendant of this man became a "maker of little wheels"... and this is exactly what the word Kolodziejczyk means.

An old Indian legend from India is passed down by J. W. Nehru, prime minister of India, and has been passed on to us by Great Uncle Joe Hill of Canyon.

"In the beginning when Twashtri, the Divine artificer, came to the creation of woman, he found he had exhausted his materials in the making of man and that no solid elements were left. In this dilemma, after profound meditation he did as follows:

He took the rotundity of the moon, the curves of the creepers, the bloom of the flowers, the glances of deer, the joyous gaiety of sunbeams, the weeping of clouds,

The fickleness of winds, the timidity of the hare, the vanity of the peacock, the softness of the parrot's bosom, the hardness of adamant, the sweetness of honey, the cruelty of the tiger, the warm glow of fire, the coldness of snow, the chattering of jays, the hypocrisy of the crane, and the fidelity of the Chakravaka—

And compounding all these together, He made woman and gave her to man.

Or here's this one that appeared in a theme written by a school girl: God first created man. Then after looking at him for awhile He said, "I believe I can do better if I try again." So He created a woman.

Fritz Specman of Lakeview reports considerable cotton and feed were washed out in that area by Monday night's rain. He received more than two inches at his place, and others in the community reportedly had three to four inches.

Edgar Hammonds reports that his father, T. I. Hammonds, who underwent an operation last October, is now doing some better and currently is visiting at Maples.

B. R. Tate and wife returned Tuesday from Temple, where he recently underwent an operation for removal of a goiter. He says he is now doing fine.

Arlie McNeely is still in a Lonest hospital following surgery nearly two weeks ago. He was reported some improved on Wednesday, but still very sick.

Cattle Numbers Down 7 Percent

College Station—For the first time in seven years, cattle numbers are down in the United States. A nation-wide drop of 2 percent in total cattle numbers last year coupled with recent widespread rain creates a better-than-average chance for higher prices.

The long drought was largely responsible for this decline, and cattle numbers have not yet turned downward in either the South or Midwest although Texas registered a 7 percent reduction in 1956. Actually, national numbers are now at a point of balance and could swing either way if moisture conditions keep on improving.

Extension Economist John McHaney says cattle prices will probably improve if rains continue to fall at the right time, and in the right places. He figures this would cause many ranchers to restock, holding back a good many heifer calves from slaughter. He says it also might create a better demand for steer and heifer stockers.

McHaney says American cattlemen can generally expect higher cattle prices in a few years if the over-all economic activity and non-farm income remains high. He bases this prediction on the declining cattle to people ratio in recent years with the assumption that it will continue.

The economist advises to finish animals out by late June to avoid heavy July and August marketing. There were 4 percent more cattle on feed in January than a year earlier and indications this year point to a longer feeding period. Feeder cattle prices won't increase greatly by next fall, but they will probably be slightly higher. Increased pork and poultry supplies will compete with beef.
