One Dead In Bitter Cold Wave; Area, City Schools Closed; Gas Supply Low

COLD FUN IN TEXAS—Snow isn't unusual in the South and Southwest this winter, but after freezing on the ground with added sleet and freezing temperatures, many a southern town saw its teen-agers making temporary sleds and having a gay time sliding down slippery streets which proved hazardous for motorists. In Fort Worth, the sight above was not uncommon Tuesday. Out for a test run on a frozen street are Anita Hay, Mary Owens and Patsy Sanford. (NEA Telephoto).

Bandit Flees Bank With $125 At Grapeland

Man With Toy Gun Foiled In Robbery

(By The Associated Press)

GRAPELAND, Jan. 27 — Armed with a toy pistol, a heavy-set man wearing dark colored glasses tried to hold up a bank here today, but the attempt was foiled when the banks' vice-president hurled a money changer at him.

Grabbing $125 in cash he had demanded from one of two customers in the bank at the time, the toy gun bandit fled.

Outside, he slipped on the ice-covered sidewalk, but got up uninjured and ran to a car two blocks away where he and an accomplice fled.

The toy pistol was broken in the fall, and one piece with fingerprints on it provided officers with a clue.

The attempt to rob the bank, the Farmers and Merchants state, was made at 3:40 p. m., 20 minutes before the bank was to close for the day.

Leon Anderson, vice-president of the bank, said the man, wearing a light brown overcoat, dark glasses and no mask, entered the bank and threatened him with a gun.

The bandit ordered two customers, J. C. Ellis and J. K. Chapman, to lie on the floor.

Ellis had just cashed a payroll

Aid Plan Faces Drastic Changes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP) — Broad outlines of the Marshall plan as it will appear when the Senate gets through with it began to emerge tonight.

And strong indications were that it will differ considerably from the four-and-a-quarter-year $17,000,000,000 program originally proposed by President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall.

Senate Republican leaders appeared near agreement on a European recovery plan that would:

Final Form Seen

1—Cut the $6,800,000,000 asked for the first 15 months of the program, possibly to $4,000,000,000. More funds might be voted later for the first year and a quarter.

2—Put a cabinet rank administrator, responsible only to the president, in charge of the program. Marshall has insisted on State department control.

3—Rule out any guarantee of U. S. assistance over a long period, but state somehow the "concept" that Congress has a four and a quarter year program in mind.

Cost Is "Guess"

The administration already has abandoned the $17,000,000,000 target figure, leaving Congress to decide from time to time what funds should be appropriated under changing conditions.

A businessman expert on Europe told a House committee today that nobody can come within $5,000,000,000 of guessing the final cost.

"This is war, gentlemen—political and economic war," said the witness, board chairman Philip D. Reed of the General Electric com-

Authoritative British informants said the big four deputies will meet here "within a couple of weeks" for discussions of the Soviet terms on Austrian reparations.

COWBOYS-TO-BE

British Lads Book Passage To Texas

(By The Associated Press)

LAMARQUE, Jan. 27 — The three little British youngsters who wanted to live on "a cowboy ranch in the USA" have been booked passage to a Texas port, possibly Galveston.

They are Fred 11, Leonard 9 and Dennis 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Payne of London. He is a truck driver and his wife a charwoman. They live in a bomb-torn section of London.

"We like to see cowboys in the pictures," they wrote in a letter some time ago addressed simply:

"To a cowboy ranch in the USA."

The letter was published here and contributions began to pour in as residents in the area began to raise funds to buy passage for the family.

The Lykes Steamship lines at Galveston announced today that the boys and their parents booked passage on a large freighter leaving Liverpool Feb. 25 and arriving at a Texas port, probably Galveston, about March 10.

J. C. Tomkins, vice-president of the steamship company, said the lines put a ship in the British port especially to pick up a cargo there in order that it could bring the family to Texas. Money for the tickets was raised by residents here, Texas City and nearby points after the letter was published in the Lamarque Mainland Times.

GOP Tax Cut Plan Wins In Test Ballot

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—Republicans snowed under President Truman's tax proposal today and rammed their own $6,300,000,000 tax-slashing measure through the House Ways and Means committee on a 15 to 9 party line vote.

Democrats themselves split on the President's proposal, which was rejected 19 to 5. But they threw up a solid wall of opposition to the GOP measure.

Promised Veto Ignored

Committee Republicans ignored a promised presidential veto in sending their bill to the House floor.

One prominent GOP member told reporters privately, however, the Senate must reduce the size of the tax cut in order to pick up enough Democratic votes in both houses to overcome a veto.

House debate will begin Thursday with a showdown vote set for next Monday. The bill then will go to the Senate for whatever revisions that body wants to make.

Many Demos Approve Some Cut

Many Democrats show willingness to vote for some tax cut but consider the GOP bill too much. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said it would put the government $2,100,000,000 in the red next year.

The GOP bill as drawn by Ways and Means Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) grants tax reductions ranging from 100 per cent in the lowest income area to 10 per cent in the upper brackets.

It would strike over 7,000,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls altogether and grant substantial cuts to the rest of the 52,000,000 taxpayers.

Parties Call Meetings

Only five of the nine Democrats present in committee, voting behind closed doors, supported Mr. Truman's tax proposal, offered by Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) as a substitute for the Knutson bill.

The President asked a $40 a person "cost of living" tax reduction with a new $3,200,000,000 excess profits levy on corporations to make up the revenue loss.

Mr. Truman's proposal would

Gold Plan Hits Snag In France

BY LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Premier Robert Schuman's money program ran into parliamentary opposition today.

The bill to establish a free gold market in Paris appeared doomed in its present form at least. Socialists joined Communists and DeGaullists in fighting the program, and the National Assembly's finance commission rejected the gold trade bill, 11 to 15. There were five abstentions in the committee.

The life of the two-month-old Schuman cabinet was not yet endangered by the opposition of the Socialists, who are represented strongly in the cabinet.

Schuman's program had three parts:

1. Devaluation of the franc. This was put into effect by government decree on Sunday and cannot be changed by Parliament.

2. Creation of a free money market in France, which also was established by decree and therefore untouched by parliamentary opposition.

3. The free gold bill which must be approved by parliament.

The decision of the finance committee meant the measure would be sent to the Assembly with an unfavorable report for final action.

There were several unclarified points raised by the decision of the Socialists at a caucus of deputies to oppose the measure in its present form.

Socialist ministers in the cabinet approved the gold bill before it was sent to the assembly. It was unknown whether Schuman would permit their remaining in the cabinet now that the deputies had reversed the party's position.

250 Missing After Ship Strikes Mine, Sinks Near Japan

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Wednesday, Jan. 28—A Kyodo news agency dispatch from Okayama said today a 400-ton vessel struck a drifting mine and sank at 2 a. m. with 250 of its 341 passengers still unaccounted for.

The dispatch quoted police at Ushimada as saying the craft sank two miles off shore, in the inland sea off Kuroshima island, and that they could hear distress whistles as it went down.

U. S. Navy headquarters here had no reports of the sinking but was checking Japanese shipping sources.

Kyodo said Japanese fishing and patrol boats were searching for the missing passengers.

HST Demotes Top Official

By MORGAN REYNOLDS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—Marriner S. Eccles, long-time New Dealer and advocate of a managed economy, was demoted by President Truman today from chairman to vice chairman of the Federal Reserve board of governors.

To take over one of the key control points in the nation's fight against inflation, the President picked Thomas B. McCabe, a 54-year-old Republican businessman who in 11 years jumped from salesman to president of one of the largest paper companies in the country.

New Policies Seen

Thus the stage was set for a new approach to the solution of monetary problems confronting the United States and the world at large. For 12 of the 34 years the Federal Reserve board has been in operation, Eccles has held the chairmanship and thereby wielded great influence over the seven-man agency.

In New York financial quarters Eccles' demotion was interpreted as the climax of differences between him and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, President Truman's close personal friend.

But an authoritative source here denied Snyder was responsible. This source acknowledged the two men had differed on policy, with Snyder opposing greater central controls over banks and business, but stressed they had not had personal differences or reached an impasse.

McCabe Not Newcomer

There had long been reports here from usually informed persons that President Truman was being pressed by financial leaders to replace Eccles as Federal Reserve board chief because of his advocacy of strong government controls.

Eccles' position was that controls are necessary to prevent the

Federal Employes' Names On New List

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP) — A new list of commodity traders, studded with the names of 738 government employes or their kinfolk, was made public by the Agriculture department today.

The list, which named persons who traded at some time or other between Jan. 1, 1946, and Dec. 15, 1947, included a number of high officials.

On it was James Bruce, ambassador to Argentina, but he said he hadn't been in the markets since he entered government service last July.

Also listed were Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) and Frank Pace, Jr., recently appointed assistant director of the budget.

Snow And Ice Blanket Most Texas Cities

(By The Associated Press)

A PARALYZING cold settled over Texas from the Panhandle to the lower Rio Grande valley early today.

Before midnight Tuesday the snows and rains which had ice-coated much of the state had virtually ceased. Residents huddled indoors against forecasts ranging from five below zero in the Amarillo section to 26 to 34 degrees at Harlingen.

Wide Area Hit

The ice and bitter cold had slowed or stopped travel, caused schools to close in more than a score of communities, damaged timber in northeast Texas, and snapped power and telephone lines in many places.

From the United States Weather bureau came a forecast of temperatures 5 below to 5 above in the Panhandle and South Plains, and 5 above to 18 above elsewhere in the state west of the 100th meridian.

East of that division, lows of 5 to 15 degrees were forecast from Dallas and Fort Worth north to the Red river; 15 to 25 in the central portion, and 25 to 30 along the coast.

Injuries Numerous

Injuries from falls on ice or in traffic accidents Tuesday were numerous. Attendance dropped in schools which remained open. Trains were two hours or more late throughout the ice area. Buses ran late and cancelled some schedules.

The U. S. Weather bureau said no snow or rain was forecast for Texas today.

Where airports were iced in as at Abilene, Texarkana, Waco, and Austin, airlines cancelled stops.

Elsewhere in the nation most of the area from the Rocky Mountains eastward shivered in frigid temperatures. High winds and dust storms swept California, and a blizzard struck New Mexico.

One of the few places reporting snow in Texas Tuesday night was El Paso, where the temperature had dropped from a maximum of 71 Monday, to an all time record

Riots Rock Iraq; Cabinet Resigns

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Jan. 27 (AP)—The cabinet of Premier Salih Bey Al Jabur resigned tonight after 24 hours of rioting in which 70 persons were reported killed and more than 300 wounded.

The resignation signified collapse of Salih Bey's fight for ratification of the British-Iraq treaty of friendship and mutual military aid he signed in London 12 days ago.

Violence Breaks Out

Regent Abdul Illah announced the resignations in a broadcast to the nation, and appealed for restoration of order. Police exchanged fire with anti-treaty demonstrators.

News that the treaty had been signed Jan. 15 touched off riots in which 11 persons were killed. These finally were quieted by the regent who promised that no treaty would be ratified which did not guarantee Iraq's "natural aspirations."

The unrest bubbling under the surface erupted again last night after Salih Bey returned from England and announced he would remain in office and fight for treaty ratification.

The treaty would give Britain the right to send troops into Iraq in event of war or imminence of

Mercury Falls Near Zero Here; More Cold Weather Forecast

Conservation Of Gas Urged As Pressure Drops Over Area; Industries Affected; O'Donnell Woman Accident Victim

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

BITTER cold of unprecedented duration resulted in the closing today of virtually every school on the South Plains, cessation of many non-essential industrial activities, impairment of communications and the death of at least one South Plains resident.

The temperature in Lubbock was expected to reach zero about 7:30 o'clock this morning. At midnight it had reached 8 degrees, and was static at that point at 1:30 a. m. A bitter northeast wind which averaged 25 miles per hour during Tuesday put more bite in the cold.

Mrs. F. M. Page, 52, of near O'Donnell was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon when a "pear burner" she was using to thaw a pressure pump exploded at her home.

Gas Conservation Is Ordered

A shortage of natural gas supply in 25 South Plains and West Texas counties brought requests from West Texas Gas company officials that schools burning gas close to conserve it for home use. Telephone reports from South Plains school superintendents indicated full compliance.

Lubbock Public Schools were ordered closed today, according to an announcement by Supt. R. W. Matthews Tuesday afternoon. Supt. Matthews said that announcement as to whether schools would be open Thursday would be made late today or tonight and would be announced in the press and over the radio.

Whether school would be resumed Thursday depended on the weather and fuel situation, but indications at midnight were that the situation will be little, if any better.

An extended forecast from the Weather bureau indicated the extreme cold temperatures will continue at least through Thursday night, with a slow rising trend Friday and Saturday.

Schools at Levelland, Brownfield, Littlefield, Ralls and Seagraves were closed Tuesday because of lack of heating in the buildings.

In a few cases, although there was sufficient gas pressure for heats, the schools closed voluntarily to conserve gas.

Supt. Joe Hutchinson, Littlefield, reported school there closed Tuesday, and today, with an indefinite schedule for the remainder of the week. He also reported schools closed at Sudan, Amherst and Anton.

Other schools which dismissed school today, and with indefinite schedules Thursday, included Plainview, Crosbyton, Post, Tahoka and Slaton.

Phone Service Also Hit

Telephone service was still suffering delays. Company officials said the situation was "about the same" as Monday night, when delays of one to two hours were reported on calls to Dallas, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City.

The bus lines were operating normally, with the exception of one cancellation to Fort Worth and Dallas, employes at Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches said.

Highways Are Dangerous

Highway conditions on the South Plains were still dangerous. Capt. E. L. Posey of the Lubbock district of the Texas Highway patrol said "all the highways are open to traffic, but most of them have places covered with ice, making driving dangerous." He explained that bridges and underpasses are particularly dangerous, as a motorist may proceed normally until he turns into one of the icy patches, then find himself on slippery pavement. He urged extreme caution.

No serious highway accidents had been reported on the South Plains, however.

There was possibility—but slight possibility—of more snow today, observers at the Weather bureau north of the city said, but indications at midnight were that skies were clearing temporarily.

The clearing skies would bring the temperature even lower, it was said.

Relative humidity Tuesday ranged around 85 per cent.

Temperatures from five degrees below zero to five degrees above zero were forecast for West Texas tonight.

Gas Officials On Job

West Texas Gas company officials, still at work at midnight in an effort to maintain gas service to the 25 South Plains and West Texas counties it serves, urged all possible conservation measures in order that no homes would be without gas.

A portion of Levelland, including residential sections, was without gas service from 3:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. Gas company officials explained that the stoppage came after the gas pressure at Levelland, at the extreme end of one of the main lines, had become too low for service.

The larger industrial users were cut off or switched to auxiliary fuel oil in order to keep the supply flowing to residential and other smaller users.

Cotton compresses, oil mills and gins, ordinarily heavy users, were not operating. At Texas Technological college the heating system was switched to auxillary fuel oil.

Lubbock bakery officials, in a special meeting Tuesday afternoon, agreed to curtail the use of gas as far as possible, using the ovens

Blizzard Hits New Mexico

(By The Associated Press)

WINTER, which has been dealing icy blows to most of the states from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast, swept angrily over southern California and New Mexico Tuesday with high winds, dust storms and, in New Mexico, a blizzard.

Albuquerque was without highway communication as snow drifts blocked principal thoroughfares serving the city. Temperatures were expected to drop to 5 below and schools were dismissed for two days.

88-Mile Winds Reported

In southwestern New Mexico, at Deming, three persons were killed when eight automobiles piled up in a swirling dust storm. Business firms in Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Clovis, Tucumcari and Portales were asked to conserve natural gas.

Los Angeles reported winds reaching 86 miles an hour in gusts, which blew down trees and telephone poles in the San Bernardino valley. The winds, which averaged 50 to 60 miles an hour, stirred up great clouds of dust and sand.

Large Area Shivers

Meanwhile, most of the area from the Rocky mountains eastward shivered in frigid temperatures, but forecasters said "real relief" is in prospect from the cold and snow that have caused 153 deaths in a week.

A gradual warmup was expected to start Tuesday night in Minnesota with considerably warmer weather in prospect for the north central states by Thursday night. The moderation, of from at least two to three days duration, is expected to extend to most eastern and southern areas chilled by a succession of cold waves earlier this month.

New Cold Wave Seen

Three More Quakes Hit Philippine City

MANILA, Jan. 27. (AP)—Three more earth shocks, the 53rd in three days, rocked the port city of Iloilo today, sending its terrified citizens pell mell into the streets once more for safety.

The Philippine Weather bureau described the new tremblors as "only the after shocks" of Sunday's great earthquake, which by unofficial estimate did $1,000,000 in damage to Iloilo and nearby areas.

Woman Killed Near O'Donnell

Explosion of a "pear burner" she was using to thaw a pressure pump resulted in instant death of Mrs. F. M. Page, 52, at her home six and a half miles northwest of O'Donnell about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Page and her husband were using the device, described as a tank containing three gallons of kerosene with a hose and "blow-torch" like device, in an effort to thaw out a pressure pump outside their farm home.

Page had returned to the house for a moment when the kerosene exploded and a metal piece on the head of the device struck her in the head, causing instantaneous death.

Page rushed to neighbors for aid, and a Rix Funeral home ambulance was summoned.

The body was brought to Rix Funeral home in Lubbock, where arrangements remained indefinite Tuesday night.

Mrs. Page is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Stacks Stokes of Seagraves, two sons, Ira Page, Wellington, and Carl Page, Abilene; and three grandchilrden.

'AM I BEING TOO FRANK, GOVERNOR?' ELLIS ASKS

Texas Prison System's New Manager Hands Jester Sweeping Plans For Reorganization, Improvement

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 27—Governor Beauford Jester today received sweeping recommendations from the Texas Prison system's new general manager for reorganization of the system's financial operations and for general improvement in its facilities and means of handling inmates.

O. B. Ellis, who assumed direction of the far-flung system Jan. 1, made his "frank" recommendations and comments while conducting the governor on a "thorough" inspection of the prison's main unit here at Huntsville and the nearby Wynne and Goree farms.

The governor's "first hand" look at the operations of the system is to continue tomorrow with a swing through other farms in Fort Bend and Brazoria counties.

Following a tour of the main unit, Ellis told Jester there is need for placing the system on a sound financial basis, for better segregation of prisoners, replacement of antiquated machinery and equipment, better sanitation facilities and more efficient and experienced personnel.

He particularly emphasized the financial, segregation and personnel problems.

Upon completion, he said: "Am I being too frank, governor?"

"I came here for the facts," was the brief reply.

Ellis said that if the system is to be placed on a sound financial basis, two things must be accomplished.

"First, we must produce as nearly as possible everything the prisoners need," he explained, "and, second, we must produce, in

INDUSTRIAL SHUTDOWNS FORCED

Critical Shortages Of Fuels Threaten Wide Part Of Nation

(By The United Press)

The cold seige cut deep into the nation's dwindling fuel supplies Tuesday disrupting vital steel production and forcing industrial shutdowns in five states.

Sub-zero weather extended all the way from Montana to Michigan in a belt which included northern portions of Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois, and it was cold all the way to the Atlantic coast.

Thousands of families in widely scattered sections had used their last drop of heating oil.

Critical gas shortages disrupted industrial production in the Mid-west and East, but some plants reopened today as temperatures rose in the eastern third of the nation.

Fuel Oil Exhausted

U. S. weather forecasters at Chicago, however, said the respite was temporary. By tonight, they said temperatures in the Eastern states would begin to drop again.

The fifth cold wave in 13 days was spreading eastward and southward, forecasters said.

New York City, anticipating its fourth snowstorm in little more than a week, exhausted its 400,000 gallon fuel oil reserve last night. City officials said there was no more oil left in the reserve pool to meet emergency requests from home-owners with no fuel.

Barges Trapped In Ice

At Chicago, oil industry spokesmen reported that the fuel supply was 'tight,' and recommended formation of a civic committee to screen hardship cases to be given emergency fuel rations.

Near Haseilles, Ill., 30 river barges loaded with Chicago-bound fuel oil and coal were trapped in an ice jam. Army engineers said they would make a second attempt to pry loose the barges, loaded with 3,000,000 gallons of oil and 21,000 tons of coal.

Despite the oil shortages, Undersecretary of Commerce William C. Foster told a House committee at Washington that he opposed banning oil exports to ease the domestic shortage. He said such a move might prove "dangerous" because the nation now imports more oil than it exports.

Appeal Is Made

In Ohio, the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., which serves most of the state, appealed to schools, churches, theatres, lodges and taverns depending on gas for heating to close down during the emergency.

Company officials said that if the request were not met voluntarily, they would appeal to the public utility commission for an order forcing compliance. At Toledo, O., about 2,000 workers idled when all industrial gas was shut off. The Libby Glass Plant sent 1,400 workers home.

In the Cleveland area, 300 plants employing about 25,000 workers were using standby fuel in the absence of gas.

Brief Bits Of Local News

City, county and chamber of commerce officials from Lubbock received invitations yesterday to participate in ground breaking ceremonies for the new Veterans hospital at Big Spring scheduled for Friday at 2:30 p. m. The invitations came from J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring chamber.

Two fires were reported Tuesday, firemen said. At 4:40 a. m. they went to 2114 Fifth, where a blaze was believed caused by efforts to thaw water pipes. At 11 a. m. a truck went to 1959 Texas Ave., where a car was afire.

Highlight of the program of the Optimist club luncheon, held in the Lubbock hotel at noon yesterday, was a sing-song conducted by Mrs. C. H. Scales, club pianist. Prior to the sing-song the club voted to stage some sort of program in Lubbock on July 4. Gordon Treadaway, Winston Clark and Jim Holt were named on a committee which will be in charge of arrangements. President J. Holland Cox announced a nominating committee composed of Walter Davies, chairman; Albert Ohlenbusch, Gus Oberg, C. H. Scales, J. B. Morrisset, Dr. A. W. Young and C. C. Born. Jerry Holeman was introduced as a new member.

The March of Dimes and the Wishing Well that is part of the local drive, received much attention at a luncheon of the Lions club yesterday at the Hilton hotel. The program was shortened due to lack of heat in the luncheon hall. The club is to have charge of the Wishing Well, near the corner of Broadway and Ave. J, today. Club president J. William Davis presided, with invocation by Dr. J. Ralph Grant.

Square dancing by the Lubbock Square Dance federation which were scheduled for Tuesday night in the Playmor dance hall on Slaton highway was postponed because of weather conditions.

A cablegram was received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hodges, of 1320 Fourteenth from Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Hodges, who live in Lloilo, Philippine Islands, reporting they were safe after an earthquake had swept that city the first of the week. C. N. is a brother of J. A. Hodges and has lived in the Philippines for many years and is a merchant and landowner there.

Despite inclement weather, approximately 600 poll taxes had been paid Monday through Tuesday noon, J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector, said. The total of persons who have paid poll taxes now stands at approximately 13,087, he said. Including exemptions, approximately 13,887 persons have guaranteed their right to vote in this year's elections. Johnston again reminded the public that polls may be obtained at Senior High school and Mark Halsey Drug store No. 1. Beginning Thursday, it also may purchase them at Wylie's Drug store. Deadline for purchase of polls and obtaining of exemption certificates is Saturday midnight.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

ONE shouldn't be so open minded that he has no convictions.

PRACTICE SAFETY TO SAVE LIVES

TEXAS club women are being called upon to "practice safety to save lives." The writer thinks it is a commendable move and hopes every club woman in the state will get back of it. As Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumford, state safety chairman of the TFWC, says in her plea for support:

"Club women are challenged to preserve the freedom of security from accidents, needless death, destruction and suffering.

"Accidents do not happen, they are caused. We can improve the situation to the extent we wish if we use the existing knowledge for the betterment of all. When you are informed, you are interested; when you are interested, you act."

Mrs. Collier has divided the safety program activities into five classifications: home, work, school, recreation and transportation. She suggests that each club appoint a good safety chairman a year, with a safety roll call.

Keep records of accidents and deaths in the community.

Have regular information reports in local communities.

Use safety motion pictures. Present safety radio talks. Organize a local safety council. Integrate all phases of safety in the councils: school groups and officials, men's and women's clubs, church organizations, welfare agencies, Red Cross, business groups, the judiciary.

If the club women could be instrumental in beginning a safety education program in the first grade; eliminate fire hazards; eliminate highway danger spots and make travel for pedestrians less hazardous their work could indeed be called worthwhile.

Since so many types of accidents occur in the home, we think it behooves all of us to check for hazards there; electric, water, weather, heating and cooking. And having checked them, to see that they are repaired and corrected.

CIRCUS CONCERT

JENNY Lind owed her American concert career to circus impresario P. T. Barnum, but she restricted her appearances to concert halls. Friday night in Sarasota, Fla., Helen Jepson will prove that the big top and concert music are not as far removed as one might think—she'll sing a full recital in a circus tent.

It all started when James C. Petrillo's Musicians' union banned the use of the Florida city's regular concert facilities. As a protest, the Ringling Brothers offered one of their circus tents for Miss Jepson's scheduled concert. She'll use a lion's cage as a dressing room.

Lubbockites will recall Miss Jepson sang here several seasons ago on the Tech artists course. She is a large, yellow-haired brown-eyed woman; one who seemed to have a mind of her own, as Caesar Petrillo is discovering.

THOSE WHO KNIT

WIVES who are knitters are better matrimonial risks than those who are non-knitters. At least that is the opinion of a Baltimore columnist.

The husband of a knitter occasionally has a fighting chance of spending a quiet evening at home, she comments. A woman who is picking up stitches—turning a heel or casting off an armhole isn't apt to interrupt her better half when he's reading or listening to the radio.

She is occupied and will let him alone, the Baltimore columnist believes.

The Woman's Angle disagrees. Our friends who knit seem to ply the needles faster when they are talking. Who was it who said a woman talks because it gives her something to do when she knits?

THERE is this about women knitters all right. They usually sit still when they do their needlework. So regardless of whether or not knitting keeps them quiet, we suppose husbands would like to see a few sweaters or socks in the process of being made if it would mean their wives wouldn't be jumping up to straighten a picture, to telephone a friend, to light a cigarette.

For those who are as restless as kangaroos, we suppose there are these alternates: a small whiff of chloroform or two knitting needles and a ball of wool.

IS HE YOURS?

A black Scottie that appears to be about a year old has put in an appearance at the Jess Davidson home on the Levelland highway. He wears no tags; has white markings on his chest.

Telephone 2-9902 if he is yours.

Two Southern States Threaten Democrats On Negro Question

ATLANTA, Jan. 27. (AP)— Two southern states—Alabama and Mississippi are considering secession again over the negro question, this time from the national Democratic party.

Both, in brief, say they will not stand by idly if the national Democratic party includes three pro-negro planks in the 1948 platform.

Specifically, both states are against planks favoring an anti-lynch bill, any anti-segregation measures and the fair employment practices commission act.

Legislation Proposed

Mississippi brought up the subject of secession first and on an unequivocal basis, while Alabama put the matter on the basis that the national party could go too far.

In his inaugural address, Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi accused national Democratic leaders of aiming to "wreck the South and our institutions" and declared "the South will not longer tolerate being the target for legislation which . . . would destroy our way of life."

The Mississippi governor said he would regret a break with the national party, but "vital principles . . . transcend party lines."

Immediately after the governor's address, a bill was introduced in the Mississippi legislature to bind Democrats in primaries to vote for the party's candidates within the state, but absolving them of pledges to support any specific set of candidates in the national election.

Alamaba Less Direct

Alabama's approach to the same situation was less direct. The state Democratic executive committee simply passed a resolution saying "there are limits to what can be endured."

The committee's resolution said that if the national Democratic party wrote into the national platform any proposals which would lead to the lowering of the South's racial barriers, Alabama's Democrats would "resist with all their ability . . ."

Further, the resolution said that "such action by the national leadership . . . could force every Southerner into the undesired position of determining which is the greater loyalty, that to the South or to the party."

Ten Convicts Escape Jail In Mexico During Visiting Hour

TAMPICO, Mexico, Jan. 27. (U.P.) —Ten convicts, all described as "dangerous," broke out of Panuco jail here today during the visiting hour after beating up the guard assigned to watch them.

Two of the escaped convicts were later captured after a running gunfight in Tampico's streets and the search for the others is continuing.

As early as 700 B. C., the ancient Egyptians imposed taxes on the rich.

General's Airplane 'Talked' To Landing During Snow Storm

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (U.P.)— A twin-engined plane carrying Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff-designate, and two other generals was "talked down" to a safe landing at national airport Saturday night during a blizzard.

Details of the daring landing on the snow-swept field were disclosed today by civil aeronautics sources.

At the controls was Maj. A. E. Robinson, who flew Bradley through the war in the same plane—a C-47 named the "Mary Q" after Bradley's wife.

Runway Cleared

Aboard the plane besides Bradley and Robinson were Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, deputy chief of staff; Maj. Gen. Thomas B. Larkin, quartermaster general; Capt. Richard Olney, co-pilot, and a group of GI's whom Bradley took aboard at Dallas, Tex.

They flew here direct from Dallas, only to be told that the Air Forces Andrews field in nearby Maryland and Bolling field, just across the Potomac from National airport, did not consider a landing safe. They back-tracked to Knoxville, Tenn., and called national airport by telephone. Robinson said if they could clear a runway for him he could land on it.

Tim Madigan, CAA senior airport traffic controller, and Frank Randazzo, a radar technician, spotted the plane on radar scopes. They talked Robinson down by ground controlled approach (GCA) radar on a runway that had been cleared of snow. The landing was made at 6:10 p. m. EST.

I. C. Elliott asked judgment of $60,315 in damages in a suit against Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., filed Tuesday in 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair as outgrowth of a bus-car collision Sept. 18 in Shallowater.

The action was filed by the law firms of Burks and McNeil and Smith, Cunningham and Boling.

Elliott was driver of a car that was in collision with a bus filled with boosters of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair association. He was thrown from his car and the bus turned over.

Officers Probing Robbery In City

Floyd Hale of 1214 Ave. G reported to the sheriff's department and police Tuesday afternoon that he had lost $1,650 in banknotes of $100 and $50 denominations "since noon" and he offered a $400 reward for return of his money.

Police were investigating a complaint that S. Q. Chatman of Shallowater had been robbed of $22 by an unknown gunman about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning in an alley behind 1905 East Ave. A.

Chatman said the man, who claimed to have a weapon in his pocket, "held me and took $22 from my billfold."

Police Are Called

Pete Hubbard and M. V. McCarty, police patrolmen, went to the scene upon Chatman's telephone call.

Death of Harold L. Coffey, charged here with theft over $50, has been reported from the west coast.

Plans tentatively had been made to seek custody of the man after the government had completed a case in California allegedly accusing Coffey of Dyer act violation.

Charged In Car Theft

The man was charged with having stolen a car from Dan Daniels, a student of Texas Tech and an Army acquaintance of Coffey, here on Dec. 28. Count two of the indictment charged theft of the car by bailee.

The indictment was returned in the January term of 99th district court, by a grand jury of which Fletcher D. Sneed was foreman.

Unofficial reports said Coffey posted bond but that in a fight he was slugged and fell through a plate glass window, resulting in leg cuts that required eventual amputation of the member. He died on the operating table, it was said.

J. W. Moore, Jr., of 3409 Twenty-first reported theft of a radiator ring from his car while it was parked at 1802 Ave. J.

GOP Wins Test Vote

remove 10,300,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls.

House Democrats and Republicans called separate mass meetings tomorrow to organize their forces on opposite sides of the issue.

Income Split In Bill

The Republican bill, approved by the committee today, would raise individual exemptions from $500 to $600. This means an estimated 6,000,000 low income persons wouldn't have to pay any more income taxes. Cost to the treasury: About $2,000,000,000.

It also would permit husbands and wives to divide the family income equally for tax reporting purposes, thus putting the couple in a lower tax bracket. A dozen states now permit such income splitting by local law. Nationwide application would cost the treasury between $600,000,000 and $800,000,000.

In addition, the bill gives over $2,600,000,000 in percentage cuts, as follows:

Provisions Outlined

(A) Those with incomes (after deductions and exemptions) which do not exceed $1,000 get a 30 per cent tax reduction. About 29,000,000 taxpayers fall in this group.

(B) Those with incomes between $1,000 and $1,396 get reductions ranging from 30 to 20 per cent. This affects 14,500,000 persons.

(C) Those with incomes between $1,396 and $4,000 get a 20 per cent reduction. This group numbers about 9,100,000.

(D) Those with incomes (after deductions and exemptions) above $4,000 get a 20 per cent reduction on the tax applicable to the first $4,000, plus 10 per cent on the tax applicable to the remainder of their income. This affects about 1,700,000.

An additional personal exemption of $600 is given to persons 65 or older, bringing their total personal exemption to $1,200. This affects about 3,700,000 and removes about 1,400,000 low income elderly persons from the tax rolls. It would reduce revenues by about $280,000,000.

Finally, the GOP measure adjusts estate and gift taxes to fit into the community property provisions.

more moderate weather.

Sub zero temperatures were forecast for much of the Midwest for Wednesday morning and lower readings were predicted in the South and East for Wednesday and Thursday nights.

West Yellowstone, Mont., with 43 below zero, was the coldest spot on the weather map Tuesday. Big Piney, Wyo., had -35; Craig, Colo., -32; Butte, Mont., -24, and International Falls, Minn., -30.

Snow fell Tuesday over most of the southern Appalachian region, in extreme western Texas and New Mexico. Rain and a freezing drizzle pelted eastern Texas and most of Louisiana and western Alabama. Forecasters said the rain would move eastward through Georgia and go up along the East coast.

Elsewhere skies were generally clear and no immediate relief was in prospect for California which is suffering from the worst drought conditions in 70 years.

Temperatures remained in the upper seventies in southern Florida.

low for a Jan. 27 of 17 at 8 p. m. Tuesday. The snow fall there was light. Light falls about the same time were reported by the Weather bureau at Wink, Guadalupe Pass, and Junction. El Paso's previous low for the same date was 18 degrees in 1890.

A report from Harlingen, in the Rio Grande valley, said no frost was expected there because of brisk winds.

Young Timber Crushed

At Austin the State Department of Public Safety warned: "Don't travel unless you have to, then move slowly and carefully."

Schools closed at Pampa, Hillsboro, Cleburne, Cisco, Odessa, Athens, Kilgore, Sabine, New London, Leveretts Chapel, in the rural sections of McLennan county, at Abilene, and Mesquite. Schools closed at Lubbock today. Daniel Baker college at Brownwood dismissed classes. Schools, closed a half day at San Angelo, were to reopen today.

J. C. Burnside, chief of forest protection for the Texas Forest service, said at Lufkin that young timber was crushed to the ground by ice in an 11-county area of East Texas from Jefferson county north to Red River county. He expressed the fear that colder weather would bring a rapid increase in timber damage. Fire control telephone lines were broken by ice.

Telephone Circuits Hit

At Dallas the Southwestern Bell Telephone company reported that 550 long distance circuits were knocked out yesterday by ice, in the northeastern, northwestern and southwestern sections.

Similar conditoins were reported from San Antonio, Harlingen, Houston, Brownwood and other downstate points. Dallas, Fort Worth and nearby cities were almost icebound and minor wrecks and falls were numerous.

Abilene reported 11 persons injured in falls and traffic accidents. Odessa said a gas shortage caused by extra demands during cold spell caused closing of schools. The gas company in Odessa asked industrial users to halt operations and conserve scarce gas until cold snap breaks.

Pampa schools were closed. Wichita Falls and San Angelo reported everything almost at a standstill as a result of the cold.

Eccles Is Demoted

economy from careening from booms to busts.

McCabe is not a newcomer to the Federal Reserve bank, having been a director of the Philadelphia bank since 1938 and its chairman since 1939. He was nominated only yesterday by President Truman to the board of governors to fill out the term of the late Ronald Ransom which expires in 1956. The Senate must act on the nomination before it can become effective.

Although not having a banking background, McCabe is experienced in government business procedures.

McCabe's largest undertaking in governmental financing was as Army-Navy liquidation commissioner in 1945 when he supervised the sale of more than $3,803,000,000 worth of surplus goods outside the United States. For this he was awarded the medal of merit.

President Truman said in his letter to Eccles that the decision to ask him to step down "reflects no lack of complete confidence in you or dissatisfaction in any respect with your public service, or disagreement on monetary or debt policies, or with official actions taken by the board under your chairmanship."

Mr. Truman asked Eccles to remain on the board—his membership runs to 1958—and accept the vice chairmanship. This Eccles agreed to do.

Plane Inventor Orville Wright Suffers Another Heart Attack

DAYTON, O., Jan. 27 (AP)—Orville Wright, 76-year-old co-inventor of the airplane, suffered another heart attack at his laboratory office today and was taken to Miami valley hospital.

His physician, Dr. A. B. Brower, said it was "a little too early to determine exactly how serious today's attack was."

Cold Wave Holds Grip On Plains

only during the actual baking time. They agreed to further curtailment should the situation become worse Thursday.

Smaller industrial users were requested by telephone by the gas company to curtail their use of gas in every possible manner.

Statement Is Issued

R. F. Hinchey of Lubbock, a vice president of West Texas Gas company, issued the following statement:

"The extreme cold wave, which is due to continue for several days, has placed an unprecedented burden upon the facilities of the West Texas Gas company. Everything possible must be done in order to conserve gas for residential cooking and minimum heating requirements.

"The West Texas Gas company requests the support of all business establishments in protecting these domestic requirements. All business establishments are requested to minimize their heating load. Industrial business and establishments rendering service not essential to health and welfare are asked to discontinue use of gas in steam boilers. The cooperation received from industrial and commercial consumers will mean much towards insuring against the possibility of lack of natural gas for hospitals, homes and other health and welfare purposes.

"Homes can cooperate by turning off water heaters and closing off as much of the home as possible in order to conserve gas.

"All schools using gas have been asked to discontinue school during this emergency."

Cold Wave Unprecedented

Officials explained that never before had such an extended period of below freezing temperatures been experienced. Ordinarily, the gas company maintains 390 to 395 pounds of pressure in its lines, but late Tuesday night the pressure had dropped to the vicinity of 173 pounds.

Ordinarily the company's compressor stations store up gas pressure during "off periods" when consumption is low, but the company's resources have been virtually at peak load since last Friday, without recess.

Company officials emphasized that no line breaks or compressor station failures had occurred up to last night. All precautions were being taken, they said, to prevent such failures and to boost pressure from auxiliary and emergency sources.

The company's line and compressor station facilities have been increased as rapidly as possible, in the face of shortages of pipe and other equipment, in effort to keep up with the needs of rapid population growth in the 25 counties it serves, officials said.

Under any but the most exceptional circumstances, the existing facilities would provide an ample supply of gas, but a cold wave of this extent was exceptional, they admitted.

Over the entire South Plains, the reports were the same, a survey of numerous towns in the area by The Morning Avalanche disclosed. Streets were dangerous, schools were closing and weather conditions were similar to those in Lubbock.

Lamesa reported that it was locked in one of the most severe cold waves in its history and that schools would be closed there.

Cleaning plants, laundries, cotton gins and the cotton oil mill were reported shut down Tuesday to conserve gas.

No serious traffic accidents have been reported in Lamesa, but three persons received broken bones in falls on slippery footing there. A truck trailer skidded over the curb and smashed the front of a cafe in Lamesa before dawn Tuesday morning. The volunteer fire department put out a blaze at 6 a. m. in a water tower storage tank at the home of D. Koslosky. Little damage resulted except to the firemen, who were hampered in their efforts by a driving snowstorm.

In Lubbock, no serious traffic accidents have been reported during the cold wave. Police said they believed the dangerous driving conditions brought on added caution among motorists.

check for $125.

"Give me that money or I'll blow you in two," the robber told him.

Ellis dropped the money on the floor.

Suspecting that the gun was phoney, Anderson grabbed the money changer, weighing approximately three or four pounds, and hurled it at the man.

But his aim was bad and the money changer crashed into the cashier's grill.

Fingerprints Found

The bandit, scooping up Ellis' money from the floor, ran out the door.

Houston county sheriff Wayne McConnell, in Grapeland on business, immediately assumed direction of the search for the bandit, who was believed to have made his getaway in a maroon DeSoto sedan with Missouri licenses.

McConnell said that fingerprints were found on pieces of the broken toy pistol.

"I recognized the pistol as being a toy," Anderson said, "and called to the others in the bank, telling them that it was a fake, but they were not sure and didn't take any chances."

He said he threw the money changer at the man, then a large waste-paper basket and then a chair.

"He threw the chair back at me and then apparently decided that the holdup was a bad gamble and fled out the door," Anderson said.

war. British rights to occupy two air fields in Iraq would be surrendered, but British planes could use the fields. The treaty called also for continued training and equipping of the Iraq army by the British.

Demonstrators who had previously denounced the pact as "written in ink and repudiated in blood" surged into the streets of the capital last night.

Armed with sticks and stones and a few firearms, they battled with police.

The rioting spread to other cities of Iraq. A number of government buildings were set fire and one British building was wrecked.

Russia, he said, will do everything in her power to sabotage the Marshall program.

Aid Plan Is Urged

"And the cost of war is importantly affected by what moves the enemy makes and what he must do to counteract them," Reed told House Foreign Affairs committee.

But he declared we must go ahead with the Marshall recovery plan, whatever it costs. If we don't, he said, western Europe will become "a political and economic concentration camp."

Norman Thomas, the Socialist leader, said meanwhile that Democracy "will be discredited" if Congress turns down the aid program or "seriously" cuts it.

The former Socialist presidential candidate said Henry A. Wallace was guilty of "a barely honest kind of demagoguery" in proposing that European aid be handled through the United Nations.

That would be possible only "if the development of the United Nations had been very different," Thomas said.

Alabama Governor To Seek Presidency; Scores Truman

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 24. (AP)—Alabama's six-foot, eight-inch governor, James E. Folsom, announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination in a radio address today and charged that President Truman is "not running" either the party or the nation.

The 39-year-old governor declared that Truman "has got himself hog-tied" by "the monopolists, the brass hats, the grain speculators and the Wall street lawyers" who "are trying to force his nomination on the party."

Truman Moves To Stop Rail Strike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP) — President Truman moved today to head off a strike of 238,000 members of three railroad unions set for Feb. 1.

Under terms of the Railway Labor Act, he established a fact-finding board to look into a wage controversy involving the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's union of North America.

Delay In Strike

The law provides that after the President creates such a board, it has 30 days to hold hearings and report. An additional 30 days must elapse before a strike may be put into effect.

The White house order creating the board said the dispute threatens to deprive the nation of essential transportation service. The order named a long list of carriers which are involved in the wage controversy with the three unions.

Personnel of the board was not announced immediately.

The unions are asking a 30 per cent pay increase, with the minimum raise $3 a day, and also are demanding several changes in working conditions. They rejected an offer of an increase of 15½ cents an hour, such as was granted 1,200,000 non-operating employes of the railroads last November.

City Employes Attend Annual Dinner Meeting At Legion Hall

New committee members were named and a report of financial conditions was made at a dinner meeting of the Lubbock Federal Credit Union in the American Legion Hall Tuesday night.

A total of 135 persons attended, weather cutting down an expected larger turnout. The union is made up of a number of city employes.

Five new directors were chosen. They were Gerald Jarvis, Mark Long, W. B. Holden, Harold McInroe and Lloyd Ross. Four directors are holdovers. Sam McMillan and W. O. Sheely were named to the credit committee to serve with holdover A. V. Peek. Readean Barton was re-elected to the supervisory committee to serve with Preston L. Cochran and Vaughn Wilson, holdovers.

Prison Units Toured

addition, something to sell to other state departments at a price that will be profitable to those departments and to the prison system."

(At present the system is permitted to sell its products only at the actual costs of materials involved.)

Recommending building a segregation unit for "incorrigibles," trouble makers and mental cases," Ellis told the governor such inmates comprise approximately 10 per cent of the system's inmate population. He credited this group with being responsible for "causing all the trouble within the system."

The segregation unit, he said, would enable prison officials to maintain such inmates under constant scrutiny.

In what he termed an "earnest plea," Ellis also recommended the state should relieve the prison system of responsibility of keeping insane people.

Better Salaries Suggested

"Should we establish an institution for insane criminals?" Jester asked.

"Either that or have them placed in some mental institution," Ellis replied.

Better salaries and housing conditions were listed by Ellis as answers to what he said is a great need for "a better type of employe."

"We must make the opportunities here more attractive to capable, experienced personnel," he said.

Such personnel, Ellis continued, includes guards, who he said "should be more than just guards."

Foundry Is "Junk"

"They must be leaders also," he stated. "They should know more about the job they are directing than any man under their supervision."

"This is not true at present," he added.

Here at Huntsville, Jester saw a mixture of sound and dilapidated buildings, good equipment among antiquated, and both good and bad lighting and heating systems.

Ellis termed the facilities "the best we have to offer," but added part of the equipment "has been outmoded since the turn of the century" and machinery in the foundry is "just so much junk."

It was at this point he asked the governor if he were being "too frank."

While at Wynne, Ellis offered no recommendations but advised the governor laundry and bath facilities are needed at most farms.

Ship To Be Searched For Illegal Weapons

TEL AVIV, Palestine, Jan. 27 (AP)—The Palestine government ordered the American ship Exporter to sail to Haifa for a search for illegal arms.

Tel Aviv port authorities said the order was issued at the request of the United States government. They said the Exporter left the United States after secret arms destined for Palestine were found there.

The Exporter was to have docked today in Tel Aviv.

Municipal officers protested the order. They contended the ship was carrying only trucks and machinery for municipal use.

23 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

Continued Disputes With Soviet May Force New Spending By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—The military high command is reported to have told senators today that if friction with Russia continues it may have to ask Congress next year for a huge boost in funds to "modernize" the Army, Navy and Air Forces.

Top generals and admirals held a meeting with members of the Senate Armed Services committee. They were said to have put the committee on notice that the military forces are scraping the bottom of the barrel on wartime equipment.

Must Remain Strong

The point was made, some senators said, that the United States cannot afford to permit its military arm to wither as long as world conditions remain turbulent.

The cost of the new equipment, much of which would go to the ground forces, was not disclosed. But in this connection, Maj. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of the Army-Navy-Air Force joint staff, was quoted as saying the ground forces had not had any new tools, including such items as tanks, since the war ended.

Some of those present said the over-all program of military preparedness outlined by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gen. Omar Bradley, his successor as Army chief of staff, might require half again more than the $11,000,000,000 military fund President Truman asked Congress to vote for the year beginning July 1.

There was even some talk, it was said, of the possibility that the armed services budget might reach $20,000,000,000 in the event Congress approves universal military training.

GLASSES NEEDED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U.P.)—Fernando Lucero went for a drive without his glasses and it cost him $10. He was fined for reckless driving when his car was involved in an accident. His driver's license carried a restriction permitting him to drive only if he wore glasses.

Pioneer Organizer Of Vital Statistics Bureaus Claimed

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (AP)—Dr. William A. Davis, 74, pioneer organizer of vital statistics bureaus in Texas and Georgia, died here today.

Until his recent retirement, he had been state registrar of vital statistics. Dr. Davis had organized the Georgia bureau of vital statistics in 1918 after having served in Texas as secretary of the state board of health and registrar of vital statistics.

He was born in Salado in 1873, attended Belton High school, the University of Texas and the state medical schools of Texas and Missouri. He was graduated from Missouri medical school in 1899.

No Butane Shortage Reported In Area

The supply of butane gas available in Lubbock and the South Plains for heating homes and other uses was described last night as "adequate" and prospects for a continued adequate supply were said to be "the best in Texas," according to one local distributor.

Elsewhere in the state, particularly in the Dallas area, independent butane dealers were being deluged by telephone and personal calls from people who have no fuel to heat their homes during the freezing weather, the Associated Press reported.

One Dallas dealer estimated that he served some 5,000 customers in the area and was getting about 100 calls an hour from customers who need gas. "People are burning wood in fireplaces—even in wash tubs—as long as the wood lasts," he said.

Only the independent dealers reported such difficulties, the Associated Press said, the larger companies stating that they were able to take care of their customers' needs.

In Lubbock, independent dealers said that they were able to furnish enough butane to their present customers, but that they were not accepting new customers because of their limited supply of gas.

Distributors in this area stated that the supply of gas was adequate for the needs of the area. The apparently larger supply of butane available on the South Plains was said to be due to the nearness of refineries in this area, according to one distributor.

Houston Will Vote On Zoning Ordinance For First Time

HOUSTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Fast-growing Houston—whose enthusiastic citizens are predicting a population of 1,000,000 or more by 1955—votes Saturday for the first time on acceptance or rejection of a city zoning ordinance.

For over 20 years such an ordinance has been talked and discussed by residents of this coastal bayou metropolis but this is the first time the issue has not been killed or died of natural death before reaching the ballot stage.

Actually it is a "straw vote" designed to advise the city council on whether or not the ordinance should be adopted, but to the campaigners it is an "accept" or "reject" proposition.

Supporters of the measure maintain Houston is the nation's only city of more than 100,000 people failing to have a zoning ordinance. Opponents claim the plan is "an impractical dream" based on "regimentation."

Two other "straw vote" questions will appear on the Saturday ballot.

Voters also will advise the council on how to dispose of $2,000,000 in bonds already approved for development and improvement of facilities for the Houston Fat Stock Show and Livestock exposition, and recommend whether to buy land southwest of the city for another municipal airport.

A fourth city issue will determine whether Houston should adopt the state civil service regulations for firemen and policemen. This, however, is not a "straw vote."

Etex Heavy Champ May Enter Local Tournament

John Stevens Expected To Sign For Gloves Meet; Dwayne Vaughn Hurt

Presence of a new heavyweight with a sensational run of successes both as a Golden Gloves and Marine fighter, and injury of one of the South Plains best boxers in training Tuesday had local fight circles agog.

John W. Stevens, now 23, who has been attending Paris Junior college, returned to Lubbock this week to make his home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stevens, 2013 Avenue J, and his record as a fighter is another Golden Gloves and Marine success story.

Cut Over Eye

Meantime Dwayne Vaughn, 1946 regional Golden Gloves feather weight champion here, was going easy with a cut over his right eye. He was injured Monday during a workout at Tahoka.

Stevens, should he enter the tourney opening at Tech gym Monday, will go into the ring carrying an impressive record. The six-foot-two-inch tall—190 heavyweight, figting as a Marine, won the South Pacific title. In 1947 he won the heavyweight title in the Golden Gloves tournament at Tyler.

Only last week he won top honors in a VFW tournament held at Bonham.

Late Tuesday he had not fully made up his mind on whether he would enter next week's tournament.

The heavyweight division began to stack up as likely to produce some sensational fighting. Among those entered in this division were Wayne Pendergrass, Don Bryant, Gene James, Horace Underwood, all of whom listed all the way from 15 to 30 bouts.

Entries continued to pour in Tuesday, and as the total crowded 80 such close observers of past Golden Gloves tournaments as "Bo" Sexton, the referee, hailed the 1948 fightfest as likely to be "the most successful yet."

Tahoka's teams, both novice and open division contenders, came in Tuesday.

"Some of these boys are fair boxers," was the way Jim Foust, Tahoka High school athletic director put it.

He listed as novices Charles Brookshire, Jack Reed, Garner Barham, Paul Ellis and Van Brookshire.

The two open division entries were Rev. Randall Hinkle and Vaughn.

The two local training centers pronounced their fighters in top condition.

At the Allen Arena Charles Neff and Ralph White said the young fighters working there would train through Saturday.

As fighters hit top conditions fight circles began talking of likely naturals in the way of individual fights in next week's tournament. Both Bill Henderson and Dwayne Vaughn will be making bids for the featherweight title. Still another of "those expected to see" will find Lonnie Burch, the Lubbock middleweight, going against Rev. Randall Hinkle, the Tahoka parter.

A reshuffle sometime back at the Bert Kahn Health club sent J. D. Kirkpatrick into the light heavyweight division, leaving Gene James as that group's lone entry in the heavyweight division.

Still another fighter, who has tangled with Henderson before, and may meet him in the featherweight division next week, is Charles Neff.

Jackie Driver, another featherweight with much Golden Gloves experience, who is being discharged from the Navy, was expected to arrive in time to enter the tournament.

Two young fighters Tuesday decided to jump the novice group and fight in the open division. Duane Driver will enter as a bantamweight and Lindley Thomas will fight as a lightweight. Both are in training at the Allen Arena.

SPORTS Spotlight
By Bob Cone

All those young boxers who're fighting under the colors of the Allen Arena club, and next week will enter the regional Golden Gloves tournament here, "signed" themselves a second Tuesday . . .

Billy Buck, one of the battling Buck brothers, will do the seconding for all the boys who fight for the Arena club, and who are being literally whipped into shape by Charles Neff and Ralph White . . .

Billy, along with his brother Winard, was among the 150 or more persons who watched the boys go "a few rounds" . . . Another spectator was J. D. Kirkpatrick, now entered as a light heavyweight, who as a heavy decisioned Billy in the Golden Gloves tourney here in 1942 . . .

Duane Driver, the Tahoka boy, Tuesday looked over the field, took a new squint at his fighting ability, and decided to enter as a bantam rather than as a novice . . . And there was a gleam in his eye as he spoke of his brother, Jackie Driver, ex-Golden Gloves fighter, who's getting out of the Navy, and may make it home in time to enter the regional next week . . .

Paul Hill, the High schol fighter, is just that—a fighter . . . You'll hear of him some of these days in Golden Gloves fighting . . . Dwayne Vaughn, the 1946 featherweight regional champ, got a nasty cut over his right eye in a fistic mixup with young Hill in a Tahoka workout . . .

John W. Stevens is home, and that's big fight news . . . John, just out of Paris Junior college, just last week whipped all East Texas had to offer in the way of heavies in a VFW tourney in Bonham . . . Now that he's home it's virtually a cinch bet that he'll be out there in Tech gym next week, slugging it out with what this area has to offer in the way of heavies . . .

John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stevens, 2013 Avenue J, won the East Texas heavyweight title in the Golden Gloves regional in Tyler last year . . . As a Marine he won the South Pacific title as a heavy . . .

He stands six feet two inches and weighs 190 . . .

And "Bo" Sexton, the referee, thinks this tourney will set a record from every standpoint . . . He walked into the Allen Arena club Tuesday afternoon . . . His eyes widened and he said:

"Why it looks like there's already a tournament going on."

Jim Foust, the Tahoka High school athletic director, Tuesday came through with his team entries . . . Five in the novice and two, Randall Hinkle and Dwayne Vaughn, in the open . . .

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 27. (Special)—Pampa's high-scoring Harvesters continued their relentless march toward the District 1-AA basketball championship by drubbing the scrappy Plainview Bulldogs, 42-38, here tonight. The win was Pampa's 20th consecutive triumph this season and their fourth in conference play.

The gallant Bulldog quint made a desperate attempt to halt the Harvester offensive machine and held a 15-15 deadlock at the end of the first period. The Pampans pulled ahead at the half, 25-23, then broke loose for a 40-31 third quarter margin on the net-swishing shots of Center Jimmy King and Forward Arkie Miller.

Bogle Opens Up

A defensive type game by the visitors in the final period gave the Bulldogs a chance to whittle the Pampa lead, with Guard Bob Bogle hitting the basket for three field goals in the last minutes of play, but the Panhandle crew still held a safe 42-38 edge at the gun.

Miller copped high point honors for the clash, tallying 14 points on six field goals and two charity throws, but he was tied by Bogle's 14 high on seven field tosses.

Next scheduled games for the two quints send the Bulldogs to Lubbock Friday night to battle the Westerners, while the Harvesters and Amarillo's Golden Sandies tangle at Pampa for the top spot in the 1-AA title chase.

Cage Slate Cancelled Because Of Weather

Slick roads and the fuel shortage caused postponement of at least five area high school basketball games last night, as well as an independent basketball team tournament at Shallowater, according to information received by the Avalanche-Journal sports department.

Top games receiving postponement included O'Donnell at Tahoka and Muleshoe at Levelland, along with the Cooper-Southland, Friendship-Shallowater and Spur-Ralls battles.

The independent team tourney at Shallowater, which was to have opened tonight, also has been postponed for a while, possibly until Thursday night, depending on the weather.

Kiser-Getz Tangle In Grudge Battle

A grudge return match featuring tough Jack Kiser of Oswego, Ore., and Al Getz, Pittsburgh's durable Dutchman, will hold the spotlight tonight at Sled Allen's arena as the two of three falls main event of the weekly mat card.

The bout has been sought since Kiser defeated Getz in the local arena Dec. 31, with both contestants demanding a chance for revenge. Time limit for the bout will be one hour.

Gordon Hessel of Milwaukee and Pierre LaBelle of Portland, Ore., are slated to tangle in the two of three falls semi-final event. Hessel went the limit against the rowdy Getz last week and will provide a rough test for the newcomer.

Dory Funk, Indiana grappler who made a favorable impression on Lubbock fans last week by defeating George Lopez, will shoot for new honors in the preliminary bout against Johnny Carlin. Carlin, although very unpopular as a referee, is a ring veteran and a canny opponent.

Tickets for the program will go on sale at 9 o'clock this morning at Wylie's drug. Bouts are slated to start at 8 p.m.

Blair Cherry Gets Three-Year Contract As Longhorn Coach

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP)—Blair Cherry, who in his first year as head coach at the University of Texas piloted the Longhorns to a record of 10 victories in 11 games, today was awarded a three-year contract.

In announcing the new contract, Athletic Director Dana X. Bible whom Cherry succeeded as football coach, said:

"I think that Blair and his staff did a remarkable job, and I feel sure that so long as this group is in charge of our football, we will field a fine team. I don't think the squad could be in better hands."

Floydada Basket Tourney Will Get Started Tonight

FLOYDADA, Jan. 27 (Special)—The First Annual Invitational Independent Basketball tournament, sponsored by the Floydada Junior Chamber of Commerce, will open Wednesday evening in the high school gymnasium, with 13 outstanding independent quintets jockeying for finalist positions in the three-day meet.

A. H. Rainer, manager of the Floydada Jaycees basketball team, which will be the host entry in the tournament, said that, so far as he knew, this was the first tournament in the area to be sponsored by a Junior Chamber of Commerce. He said that the tourney, which is attracting strong area cagers, already had drawn much interest and that the gym should be filled for each game.

Among the quintets entered in the tournament, in addition to the Floydada five, are independent teams from Flomot, Crosbyton, Ralls, Petersburg, Lockney, Plainview, Tulia, Idalou, Brownfield, Kress, Matador and Paducah.

Five games will open the tourney Wednesday evening, with four games, including the quarter-finals, being played Thursday and both semi-final and final round tilts scheduled for Friday night.

Pairings Wednesday in the tourney include Petersburg versus Lockney at 7 p. m., Flomot versus Crosbyton at 7:45 p. m., Plainview versus Tulia at 8:30 p. m., Idalou versus Brownfield at 9:15 p. m. and Ralls versus the winner of the Flomot-Crosbyton game at 10 p. m.

Thursday night other first-round games to be played include Floydada Jaycees versus Kress at 7 p. m. and Matador versus Paducah at 10 p. m. In between, second round games will be played at 8 and 9 p. m. by first-round winners.

Harkins, Burch Pace Wayland's Goalers

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 27 (Special)—The Wayland college Pioneers have been paced on the basketball court this season by two high-scoring Texas lads, one from Levelland and the other from Plainview.

Forward D. W. Harkins of Levelland, a six-foot, one-inch cager, has tied for field goal honors at 96 in 16 games, with 35 free throws added to give him a total of 233 tallies. These he has has missed only 11 charity heaves.

Center Leon "Runt" Burch, a six-foot, five-inch court warrior from Plainview, however, tops the Pioneer scoring efforts with a total of 233 tallies. These has has garnered on 96 field goals and 41 charity tosses. His scoring efforts would be even better had he not missed 39 attempts from the black line in the keyhole.

These two players, with a total of 460 between them, have been the big reason why the Pioneers have won 12 of their 16 games. They have yet to lose their first junior college contest, dropping three games to four-year colleges and a one-point loss to the Texas Tech freshmen.

Meet The Men Behind Golden Gloves

Tournament Officials Are Set For Duty

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Don't think for a minute that the only people who work at the Golden Gloves tournament, to be held in the Texas Tech gym from Monday through Thursday next week, will be the fighters in the ring.

It isn't so at all. Of course the boxers will work up the heaviest share of perspiration, but there will be any number of other men, mainly working behind the scenes, who will have a lot to do with making the four-day fight card a success.

Take O. J. "Bo" Sexton for example. Bo has been the third man in the ring for these Golden Glove fights ever since their inception. He's the man who sees to it that both fighters remain in good shape during the fight and he has the power and authority to stop any bout in which it appears one man is not in condition to go on.

Bo steps right around with the fighters, breaking the clinches, keeping them punching and following the action closely By the time the last bout of the evening is over he's tired.

E. J. "Pinky" Lowrey, Lubbock High school business manager, will serve as the timer for the Golden Glove bouts. He doesn't move around much at the fights, but he is the man who sounds the warning buzzer, times each round and sees that the minutes are kept strictly. He can't relax at all and by the time the night is over, he's tired.

Then there are the judges, who peer through the bright light over the ring to watch the blows, scoring each fighter's work and making the decision awarding one of two men the fight. Golden Glove officials have secured three men, Stumpy Hamilton, Elmer Tarbox and Babe Curfman, to act as judges.

They'll sit tensely through every fight, watching arms flail, blood flow and boxers circle each other until they're dizzy, but from it they'll name winners. Heavy responsibility is theirs and when the fight comes to an end, they'll be tired, too.

Then there are the doctors who examine each fighter, both novice and championship class entries. These five men have the responsibility of seeing that no man in poor condition is allowed to enter the ring in the first place.

After that, they must be on hand to administer first aid to any fighter who is cut or injured in any way. They are the guardians of these youngsters and they have responsibilities resting on them. The five men secured are Dr. Henry Benson, Dr. Arthur Jenkins, Dr. G. S. Smith, Dr. James G. Morris and Dr. J. H. Stiles. They are bound to be tired each night.

Really out of sight from the crowd, but not the boxers, will be the various men running the dressing rooms. Take Billy Brown, Texas Tech trainer, for instance. Billy has charge of the equipment room. He will see that each boxer has the necessary clothing, mouthpiece and boxing gloves. He will dole out the gauze and the tape for wrapping fingers and wrists.

It will be up to him to see that the boxers are ready to go on at the right time. He will have to take charge of the lockers and see that there is some order out of chaos in the dressing room. When his night is finished, he'll be tired.

Dell Morgan, head football coach, will serve as bout clerk. He will have charge of warning the next fighters to be ready to go on, to conduct them to the ring, to keep order in the waiting room and generally to oversee all activities in the dressing rooms under the stands. He'll have more than enough to do to make him tired each night.

That's only part of it. Wes Youngblood and Joe Kelly will have the duties of clerking each fight, while Wes will announce the bouts. Joe Holmes and Dewitt "Judge" Landis will keep track of the pairings and will make the new ones for the succeeding day. Polk Robison, G. B. Morris and Maxey McKnight will have duties as assistants. In all, all these men will be tired by the time the closing hour arrives.

And above all the tumult and activity, Tech Athletic Director Morley Jennings, who is in overall charge of the tournament, plus being ticket chairman, will be running the show. On him falls the major share of the responsibility for, despite the fact that he has men in charge of various activities, he has the final say. He will administer the fights and supervise the entire four nights of fighting.

When the final night is over, and the bouts become history, you know he'll be tired. But you can also rest assured that the 12th Annual Golden Gloves tournament in Lubbock, the first regional tourney to be held here, will have been a success.

Louis-Walcott Terms Are Believed Ready

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27. (AP)—Negotiations for a return heavyweight boxing match between Champion Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott June 23 were believed completed today although no official announcement was made.

In a morning-long session the big three of heavyweight boxing issued a terse statement that "negotiations will be continued in New York, but everything looks very good."

Attending were veteran Promoter Mike Jacobs, owner of Louis' contract; Felix Boccicchio, Walcott's contract holder, and Sol Strauss, partner of Jacobs in the 20th Century Sporting club.

It was generally believed, however, that despite the lack of official confirmation, terms of the return match—which last week Jacobs predicted would gross $2,000,000—have already been set and only details have to be ironed out.

LUMBERJACKS WIN

Gerald Shipman's 16 point scoring attack paced the Leftwich Lumberjack quint to a 40-33 triumph over the Hilton hotel five in an independent basketball tussle Tuesday night at Texas Tech gym. Bill Eddins tallied eight points for the losers.

Three Persons Held, Woman Charged In Narcotic Cases

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (U.P.) — Three persons were in custody in Dallas and Corsicana today and one of them, a woman, had been charged in connection with a series of fraudulent narcotic prescriptions which have flooded Dallas in recent weeks.

Warren A. Heddens, chief of the Narcotics bureau, said that more than 500 fake prescriptions, written by an aged Dallas physician who no longer holds a narcotics license, had been passed recently.

He said a charge of using a fictitious name and address on a narcotics prescription had been filed against Frances Hogue of Dallas, who was held under $1,500 bond.

Two men were being questioned here and in Corsicana in connection with narcotic thefts from drug stores and Heddens said the man held in Dallas had admitted 45 burglaries.

Student Paper To Go To Semi-Weekly

The Toreador, weekly student newspaper at Texas Technological college, will go on a semi-weekly basis with publication on Wednesdays and Saturdays beginning with the Feb. 14 issue, according to Cecil Horne, head of the journalism department.

The paper has been on a weekly basis since 1942 due to the shortage of newsprint and with assurance of a sufficient supply for the future, it was decided to return to semi-weekly publication as a permanent policy. The present 20 by 14-inch size will be retained with four pages of seven columns on each page.

"During the period of restricted publication there was insufficient space to give everyone on the staff as much practical writing experience as was desirable, but under the new set-up the students will be able to participate to a much larger extent and bring their training up to a par with that obtainable anywhere in the Southwest," Horne said.

John Anderson, Toreador editor, has stated that there will be no changes in the organization of the present staff who will continue to work in their assigned positions on both papers.

Jerry Stoltz, senior journalism major, will succeed Winafred Larabee as associate editor for the spring semester. Mrs. Larabee, who has held that position since last September, will graduate in February and has indicated that she will enter the journalistic field in Houston.

PRAYER AND QUIET ADVISED

NEW YORK (U.P.) — The city would be quieter — and perhaps better — if motorists followed the suggestion of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale in a sermon at the Marble Collegiate Reformed church. He said that instead of honking their horns while waiting for a traffic light to change, the taxicab drivers, bus operators and motorists should rest and pray.

Former Ike Booster Sees Stassen Boom

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 27 (U.P.)— William H. Burnham, Hartford, Conn., an Eisenhower booster who made the switch to Stassen, predicted today that 85 per cent of General Ike's supporters will now give their backing to the former Minnesota governor.

Burnham, who had served as membership chairman of the draft Eisenhower organization, came to Topeka on a national tour. He said there had been draft Eisenhower clubs in 17 states.

From Kansas, Burnham said he would travel as an authorized Stassen representative into Oklahoma and Texas, westward to the Pacific coast and would swing back to New York with stops in Colorado, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan.

Majority Of Voters In Favor Of Return Of Price Curbs, Rationing

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 27. — With political implications of high living costs much in the minds of all Senators and Congressmen, the weight of voter opinion today favors a return to rationing and price control.

Throughout the country representative voters were interviewed by Institute reporters who asked:

GALLUP

"Do you think the government should or should not put rationing and price controls on some products?"

The national averages:

Approval	48%
Qualified Approval	3
	—51%
Disapproval	41
No opinion	8

On Friday the Institute will report what products the public thinks should be placed under price controls.

Qualifications reported by field reporters are significant, and, in general, represent the major blocks to congressional action on prices. The biggest "if" in the minds of voters who qualify their approval is: "if we can have price control without rationing."

Other qualifications are: "if the black market can be eliminated; if the law can be impartially and honestly administered; and if controls are placed on all items, not just some."

This being a presidential election year when Washington's ears are attuned to votes, the opinion of farmers has an important bearing on the fate of price control legislation. And farmers, in contrast to the rest of the population oppose both rationing and controls by a vote of almost two to one.

On the other hand, manual workers on whom candidates also must keep a wary eye, favor new control legislation almost as strongly as farmers oppose it.

Votes by occupational groups are shown in the following tables:

Occupation	Approve Rationing and Controls	Qualified Approval	Disapprove	No Opinion
Prof. & Bus.	47%	2%	47%	4%
White Collar	49	3	41	7
Manual workers	53	3	34	10

The same divergence of viewpoints exists between people in the smaller communities in the country and the larger cities:

Size of Town	Approve	Qualified Approval	Disapprove	No Opinion
Farmers	31%	1%	56%	12%
Under 10,000	45	3	43	9
10,000 to 100,000	52	3	37	8
100,000 & over	55	3	35	7

As in past surveys of voter opinion on price controls the present poll reveals strong disagreement between Democrats and Republicans, as follows:

	Approval	Qual. Approval	Disapproval	No. op.
Democrats	57%	2%	32%	9%
Republicans	37	3	54	6

Historically, the people of this country have been ready to submit to price controls long before their representatives voted the necessary legislation. Two months before Canada adopted a price-wage control program in 1941, and more than a year before the U. S. took similar steps, the majority of American voters were ready to see similar curbs put into effect in this country.

If Congress bows to Administration wishes and reimposes controls, the United States again will be following the lead of the Dominion government. In answer to increasing complaints from consumers over surging food costs the Canadian government on January 16 reimposed ceilings on the prices of meat and butter.

A survey made by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion just before the governmental action showed that 76 per cent of Canadian voters wanted price controls back again and a majority wanted controls placed on all goods.

The American public lost faith in the wartime set of controls between the Spring and Fall of 1946. An Institute survey in May of that year showed seven out of ten voters favoring retention of controls. By early October a slight majority voted to do away with them. President Truman abolished price control on meat October 14 when he asked OPA to speed decontrol generally.

People with the lowest incomes usually are sick oftener and die sooner than those with high incomes, according to a survey.

Cold Wave Causes Unemployment, Food Shortage In Dallas Area

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (U.P.)—Public welfare officials said today that more than 1,000 persons in Dallas faced shortages of food and fuel due to unemployment of family heads during the current cold wave.

Nearly 350 family heads not previously carried on public welfare rolls have appealed for financial assistance to purchase fuel and food during the last 12 days, it was announced today.

Nearly all the applicants were said to be outdoor manual workers who were unemployed because of the freezing weather.

Number Of Cases Are Reported In City

Damage From Frozen Pipes Feared Here

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lubbock and South Plains residents who woke up shivering Tuesday morning to find that water pipes had frozen solid during the night may have plenty more company with the same problem this morning, with the temperature expected to be near zero during the night or early today.

Plumbing companies Tuesday afternoon reported a number of frozen pipes in the city but said that broken pipes from the freezing would probably not be reported in any great number until thawing of pipes revealed the damage.

It was recalled that thousands of dollars in damages was caused from breaking pipes last January when a prolonged cold wave plummeted temperatures to nine degrees below zero. Fears were expressed that the threat of continued cold during the week, as predicted by the Weather bureau north of the city, would cause a duplication of the damage of last year.

Several companies indicated that nothing much could be done after pipes freeze up except the usual thawing out with hot water, blow torches, and other such methods. Most of the plumbers recommended precautionary measures before freezing if not already too late.

The best precautionary measure, according to the city water department, is to cut off water during the night and drain the pipes which are above ground. They emphasized, however, that cuting off the water is the worst thing one could do if facilities are not present for draining the pipes.

Probably the best suggestion in cases where pipes cannot be drained, the water department said, is to allow taps in the house to run slightly, the normal flow of water helping to prevent freezing. The cost of water would be far less than the cost of repairing broken pipes, they said.

Underground pipes in the city's main water lines aren't in any great danger of freezing unless the current cold spell lasts three or four more days, the water department said. Most of the pipes in the city are 30 to 48 inches below ground, they indicated, but a few water mains in the older part of the city are only 12 to 14 inches below the surface.

The water department has a unique but highly effective method of thawing out water mains in case they freeze. An electric machine which works on the same principle as an arc welder is hooked onto a 220-volt electric power line. The current is diverted through the water main, the natural resistance of the pipes causing enough electrical heat to thaw out the ice.

But if the pipes under the house freeze up, don't call the city water department. They said that their system of thawing out mains would be impractical for large scale operations. Not more than 10 or 12 jobs could be done during a normal day, the difficulty of hooking into power lines and other phases of the work prohibiting the use of the machines on small thawing jobs.

State Road Improvements Sought

Area Projects Are Authorized

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—Twenty-one of 26 delegations scheduled to appear before the State Highway commission today for hearings on highway projects were on hand despite freezing weather and hazardous roads.

Several groups mentioned the dangers of narrow, poorly-maintained roads in weather of the type which currently has bogged down transportation in many areas of the state.

The commission found more delegations than usual proposing projects under the highway department's policy of matching county funds with state funds on a 75-25 (county-state) basis, and gave these the go-ahead signal.

Mayor Richard C. Gusman of Bay City headed a large Matagorda county group requesting widening of highways through Bay City.

A. A. Meredith, city manager of Borger, Hutchinson county, requested the designation, construction and maintenance of access highways to Phillips and Borger.

"We have lots of heavy traffic with trucks carrying butane, high octane fuels and other heavy loads travelling narrow roads through the city," Meredith explained.

"Spur Number 119 from Borger to Phillips is carrying 6,500 vehicles per day," he reported.

"Anytime a road is carrying 6,000 vehicles a day, something ought to be done about it," declared Chairman John Redditt. "Work out the priorities and let's get started."

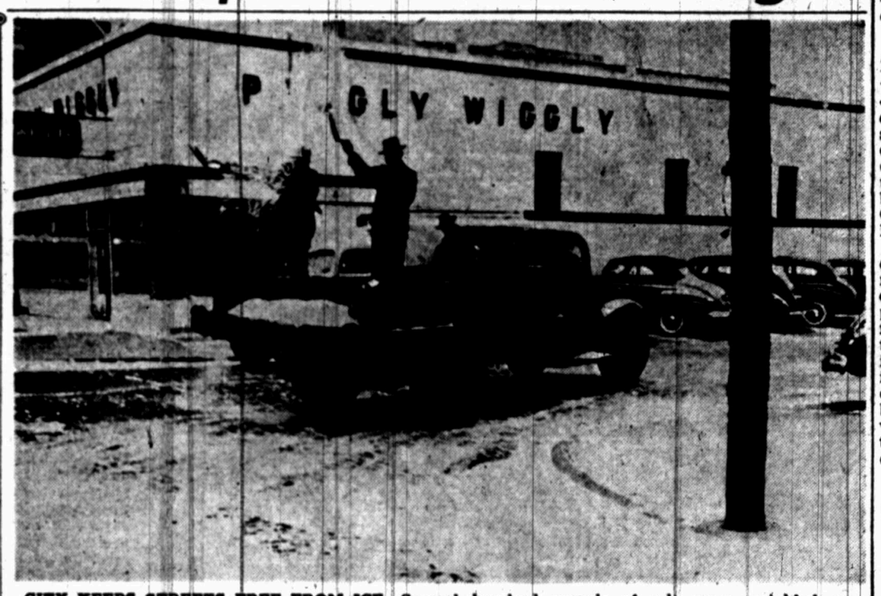

The Hutchinson county program contemplates an access road from state Highway 117 north of Borger to Phillips, 1.8 miles at an estimated cost of $140,000; from State Highway 152 east of Borger to a connection with the first access road; and a connection from Main street (loop 140) in Borger along sixth street to a connection with the second access road.

CITY KEEPS STREETS FREE FROM ICE—Several hundred pounds of salt were sprinkled on Lubbock's downtown streets and intersection walkways Tuesday by city workers as a precautionary measure against accidents. The salt, reducing the freezing point, causes the snow and ice to melt and leaves the streets in a safer condition. In the picture above, two workers are shown scattering the salt at a slippery intersection at Broadway and Avenue M Tuesday at mid-morning. By noon the city's streets were safe for normal driving in spite of the sub-normal temperatures. (Avalanche Staff Photo).

Mrs. Wilkinson had lived in the Lubbock vicinity 40 years, she and her husband having ranched near Lamesa before coming to Lubbock in 1913. Mr. Wilkinson is a grocer.

Survivors include the husband, two sons, Glen Wilkinson of Lubbock and J. C. Wilkinson of Midland; and a daughter, Mrs. Walter Vaughn of San Antonio.

Weather Hampers Activities Over Area

Plains Highways Are Open, But Dangerous

Motorists were still being advised not to travel on South Plains highways unless absolutely necessary, but the road conditions were made less dangerous Tuesday night by the winds which blew the dry, hard snow off the highways and none had been closed, said S. C. McCarty, district engineer of the state highway department.

Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches had resumed all bus schedules Tuesday except that of the through bus to Fort Worth and Dallas. Highways were blocked in hills near Jacksboro, resulting in canceling of that schedule. A blanket of snow improved conditions some, although travel was slow over highways, an official reported. Outgoing and incoming schedules had been canceled after two buses, to Big Spring at 8 p. m. and Clovis at 8:20 p. m., had departed Monday night.

Concern over South Plains power lines was expressed Tuesday morning by the Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton, who had received reports lines were loaded with ice from one-half inch to one inch thickness. Lines may begin breaking if wind blows more strongly, it was feared. The dispatcher received report the pump operated by electricity at Snyder to supply water for trains was out of operation because power lines were down.

Weather Bureau Busy

The questions given most frequently by persons calling the U. S. Weather bureau station Tuesday were: "What is the temperature now?" and "How cold is it going to be tomorrow morning?" Approximately 120 persons were estimated to have called the weather station from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.—and there was no way of knowing the number who received a busy signal upon trying to call. In addition to asking the temperature and expected temperature, callers ask a variety of other questions. Some want to know highway conditions. The weather station does not give specific highway conditions, although it gives weather information, such as whether snow has fallen in an area. Leo W. Weaver, official in charge of the weather station, was on duty by himself from 8 to 4 p. m. Tuesday.

"Keep off the highways—unless it is absolutely necessary to drive," cautioned Capt. E. L. Posey, commanding officer of the state highway patrol district here Tuesday. "They are deceptively dangerous." Capt. Posey said great stretches of the roads are safe, but there are occasional thin glazed areas where cars easily can go out of control.

Address Called Off

An address, "Report from Europe," which was to have been presented by Chas. A. Guy, Avalanche-Journal editor, Tuesday night in O'Donnell High school auditorium under auspices of the O'Donnell Parent-Teacher association was cancelled by mutual agreement because of the weather.

Downtown motorists almost could choose their parking place. Tuesday numerous parking places were available on downtown streets, as residents stayed home because of the weather or left their cars in their garages.

Pythian Sister Temple had planned a hot dog supper and bingo party for Thursday night at the Knights of Pythias hall—but decided to postpone the event, awaiting improved weather conditions.

Lamesa School Election Set

LAMESA, Jan. 26 (Special) — Voters here and in eight rural school districts will go to the polls tomorrow to determine whether or not the nine districts involved will enter into a consolidation plan.

Proponents of the consolidation movement have waged an all-out campaign to acquaint voters with the plan, stating that it will bring to the school system thousands of dollars more of state aid and will make it possible to enlarge both the teaching staffs and classrooms facilities.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. with a light vote expected due to the freezing weather.

A majority of the total votes for all the nine districts will decide the issue.

Voters must have paid a poll tax or obtained an exemption, resided in their districts for at least six months, and in the state for at least a year to be eligible to cast a ballot, and must vote at the designated place in their district.

Polling places have been designated in Lamesa, Bartlett, Woody, Hancock, McCarty, Key, Mullins, Mount Olive and Liberty and school officials in all districts have urged a large turnout of voters.

AN OVER-ALL VIEW

Mr. Smith Returns

THE Lubbock City commission has plenty "on the record" to justify its re-employment of Marlin R. Smith, jr., as city manager.

In his four-year tenure in the job, and, previously, as city engineer, Mr. Smith made the record which justifies his re-employment. His record is a good one.

If there is any difficulty in justification of Mr. Smith's re-employment, it will be due to the salary at which he has been re-employed. His current stipend of $12,000 per year is $4,500 more than he was paid when he held the position which he resigned two years ago to enter private business.

It is true that salaries generally have gone up, along with expenses, during the time Mr. Smith has been away from City Hall. It also is true that Homer Hunter, whom Mr. Smith succeeds, was paid $10,000 per year, and would likely have been raised to $12,000 had he elected to remain at his post. But it is further true that $12,000 per year is a lot of money and that Lubbock executives who draw that much in salary can be counted on a very few fingers.

A survey of salaries paid city managers in Texas shows that Lubbock's arrangement with Mr. Smith is very much "in line." It supports the contention that Mr. Smith was under-paid during his earlier tenure, rather than the contention that he now is over-paid. It is undeniable that if the City commission had brought a city manager here from afar, at $12,000 per year, there likely would have been less eyebrow-lifting than at the employment of a local man—and a former manager—at that figure.

THERE is no doubt of Mr. Smith's ability to fill the managerial post at City hall. Soft-spoken, a first class gentleman and a good citizen, he also is well grounded in the work. But in order completely to justify the commission's arrangement with him, Mr. Smith should re-enter the job with the understanding that he really will manage the city's affairs, not just follow orders of the commission if and when they may be given.

When Mr. Smith was city manager before, he followed the broad policy of awaiting the direction of the commission on almost every undertaking of any moment. Perhaps that was the proper tack at the time, for Lubbock then was much smaller, faced fewer, over-all problems and was not immersed in a community-wide expansion program covering almost everything municipal. Today, however, the picture has changed. Lubbock needs a city manager in the exact sense of the word, who will leave to the commission only a relatively few major policies over which to direct.

Those who know and have confidence in Mr. Smith—and The Morning Avalanche is numbered among them—believe he can do the job satisfactorily, which means he will be worth his salary, and then some. If he adds to his recognized efficiency a greater dash of vision and aggressiveness, he'll make one of the best city managers in the country.

For our part, we're hoping—and believing—he'll do just that.

Swish!

Murder At My House

By Rene Ryerson Mart
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: It all started after I had been in Hollywood three months, writing the movie script for one of my own mystery books—and trying to get over Oscar Craig. I was having dinner with attractive Jeff Haverson, my director, and talking over our picture. Jeff said that young Jimmy Peters who is to play the detective and that Avis Vaughn, our glamor star, had insisted on Ati Cleve playing the male lead. I was curious to know why Avis, almost a has-been, could get her own way about this. But Jeff gave me no satisfaction. After he took me home, I discovered my beautiful Persian cat lying mangled and half-dead in the driveway. I put her to sleep with a bit of the poison I always keep on hand in case I ever started remembering too much. That night I dreamed again of Oscar—and Margo. I woke up screaming. I thought of the poison . . . and started to get it . . .)

IV

I DIDN'T take the poison!

Something stopped me at the bathroom door. Held me there immobile. Held me there while slowly but surely the hypnotic power of the death dream was shattered.

When I could move again, I crept shivering and sobbing back into bed and cried heartbrokenly until dawn came through the Venetian blinds.

I got up then and took a shower and toweled until a little color came into my face and I began to look less like a walking zombie. Then I went down to the kitchen and brewed a pot of coffee.

Afterwards, I found a hoe and a spade in the garage, left by some long-vanished gardener, and managed to dig a fair-sized hole in one of the flower beds. I buried my cat there in the sunshine.

I was walking around in the middle of the roadway, looking for some evidence of what might have happened the night before, when an automobile horn blared in my ears. A small black coupe came to a protesting stop.

I recognized the puzzled face of Jimmy Peters, who was to play the detective in my story.

"What are you doing?" he asked naturally enough.

"My cat was killed last night. Hit by an automobile, I think. I was looking for signs of where it might have happened.

He began to grin, a friendly impish grin. "You'd better watch out or they'll be burying you along with the cat."

His advice wasn't altogether a joke. The roadway is steep in front of my house. There is a turn just above where my driveway turns off and another a half square down the hill—a sharp turn there with a sheer drop and a heavy guard rail on the outside of the turn. A driver going either up or down the hill would be practically upon me in the middle of the street before he could stop. Just as Jimmy had been. I thanked him and said, "I didn't know you lived up this way."

"Four houses up," he explained. "The green stucco."

"Well, since we're neighbors, stop in for a drink sometime."

"I will." Then shifting gears, "I'm due at the studio now. See you later.

THERE was nothing in particular for me to do at the studio that morning. The inevitable bits of re-writing would come later, on scenes that didn't quite jell before the cameras—dialogue that failed to click. So, after checking in with my secretary to let her know where I'd be if Jeff wanted me, I went on over to the studio make-up department to get myself that Ravella lipstick.

Ravella, a thin tense woman with the exaggerated hair-do and make-up of a store window dummy, appeared and disappeared, driving her horde of assistants with sharp orders. Finally she found time for me. "What can I do for you, Miss Donn?"

I told her.

She took me into a curtained booth, seated me before a mirror and turned a battery of bright lights on my face.

Deftly she painted a series of experimental pouting mouths on my startled face. One was the shade of squashed raspberries. She examined this with a narrowed intent gaze. "That is almost the color tone . . ."

I wanted to be helpful. "Sometimes a lipstick color changes on my lips."

"You're acid," she said shortly.

I grimaced. "I have been accused of that, too."

Of course, she had no sense of humor. "Ahhhhhh," she trilled. "But you do not understand. It is some acid in you wich affects the chemicals in the lipstick coloring. I counteract that with an alkali in the lip rouge itself. You see, to be a successful cosmetician one has to have a thorough knowledge of chemistry."

I WATCHED her in the mirror a little amused, a little intrigued by her personality, wondering about her as I always wonder about people. Seen close, her lacquered unreal perfection broke up into nice details of golden brown hair, eyes that matched the hair in color, and an amazing white skin—alabaster white.

In the mirrors, Ravella's eyes had shifted from my face, as if she were looking at someone in the reception room behind me—someone I couldn't see—through the opening in the curtains. For a moment the mask that was her professional face slipped and an emotion warm and sweet softened her features.

Then her eyes came back to my face and she was once more as impersonal as chilled steel.

She said abruptly: "I'll make up a lipstick for you and have it ready, say by this afternoon, if you want it that soon. You can pick it up at my shop on Hollywood Boulevard. My laboratory is there."

I sized up the occupants of the waiting room as I went out. There were three or four actresses in camera make-up, and a man, a foppish, foreign-looking man. I would have bet he was the one who had brought that look of tenderness to Ravella's face.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

FOR seven years these two ladies fought over the choice puppy from a litter of Catawba Muscatel, by Vendas the Black Imp.

Seven thousand dollars in damages was claimed and the case was presented in an eighty-seven page disposition.

Last week it was settled—for $100.

The details of the case are unimportant.

It had something to do with one of the ladies having permitted her prize poodle to be bred by the prize poodle of the other lady.

BRANDEIS

She was to get the "choice puppy" out of the litter and that puppy, in turn, was to become the sire of a line of thoroughbreds of a total value exceeding $7,000.

Somehow or other the puppy, said the plaintiff, was not given to her, and so she sued.

Seven years of litigation.

Big lawyers' fees. Frayed tempers. Pages and pages of paper wasted on dispositions, claims and counter-claims.

And finally $100 was awarded to the claimant.

Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it?

But it isn't ridiculous at all.

While this particular case is somewhat out of the ordinary, there is hardly a day that people don't start fights, give up friendships and get themselves all worked up over nothing.

Some years ago one of my best friends and I had a fight.

We didn't speak to each other for seven years.

I didn't go to any affairs to which he went, and vice versa.

Then, one day, we ran into each other at a party, not knowing that both of us had been invited.

We couldn't help speaking. It wouldn't have been polite.

Finally I asked him: "Still mad?"

"No," he said, "how about you?"

"I'm not mad any more."

So we shook hands and became friends again.

After a while he asked me: "By the way what were we fighting about? I've forgotten."

I thought for a couple of minutes.

"Come to think of it, I haven't the slightest idea."

SO you see—for seven years we could have been friends. For seven years we could have had fun together and kept the gall out of our systems.

For seven years we were just plain d--n fools!

Funny, by the way, that poodle affair I mentioned above was also a seven-year affair.

Got a chip on your shoulder? Flick it off! Chips have splinters and splinters hurt.

HST OFFERS PROGRAM

Credit Curbs Sought

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman has presented a quiet but determined challenge to the Republican Congress and private bankers on the question of curtailing excessive extension of loans and credit to consumers, builders, industry and commercial institutions during the current drive against inflation. If they reject his program, as seems likely, he feels that he will be in a position to charge them with partial responsibility for further dangerous expansion.

TUCKER

Although the nation's financiers are aware of the White House attitude, it has escaped general attention because there was no public ranting over this highly complex problem. But Mr. Truman's program on the handling of private credit, federal securities, debt management and taxation can be gleaned from his economic report and from statements before Congressional committees by Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder and Federal Reserve Chairman Marriner S. Eccles.

OPPOSITION: Their policies are openly opposed by the Federal Advisory Council, which consists of twelve bankers representing each of the Federal Reserve Districts. Through Mr. Eccles they submitted a brief to Congress in opposition. Private financiers are also hostile, and have poured their complaints into the ears of Treasury officials.

Although Mr. Snyder has been represented as critical of the Eccles plan for credit curtailment, the area of disagreement between them is smaller than the headlines have broadcast. The Secretary of the Treasury simply prefers to try more orthodox methods before resorting to the Federal Reserve Chairman's more drastic curbs.

INSUFFICIENT: Incidentally, these protracted discussions of the problems of public and private finance have highlighted the fact that the vaunted Federal Reserve System's present power is utterly insufficient for producing an orderly management of money.

It was created when the public debt amounted to only about one billion dollars and it was given authority commensurate with the conditions of that day.

But the men who organized the system never dreamed of an era when the national mortgage would soar to $259,000,000,000, or that the banking institutions would hold $90,000,000,000 of federal securities as reserves for dangerous extension of loans and credits in a postwar period.

RECOMMENDS: Mr. Truman's anti-inflation remedies, insofar as they pertain to the part which loans and credit play in the upward trend, will affect every consumer and borrower as well as the money men who handle billions of dollars at New York, Washington, Chicago and way places. He recommends:

(1) Restoration of Regulation W for control of consumer credit, which requires a one-third down payment and liquidation of the balance within twelve months. Customers needing "time" for purchase of autos, refrigerators, stoves, furniture etc. sent the volume of outstanding consumer credit from four to five-and-a-half billion last year, and it is still rising.

(2). A more careful handling of real estate loans by public (National Housing and the Veterans Administration, for instance) and private agencies. Mr. Eccles bore down hard on wasteful lending on excessively priced homes in his testimony.

CURTAILMENT: (3). Congressional approval of a "special bank reserve" in addition to the legal reserves they are now required to maintain. The Federal Advisory Council and private lenders are especially hostile to this suggestion, arguing that it would have a deflationary effect.

(4) Reduction of the public debt as a means of sopping up the supply of federal securities held by the banks, which would diminish their lending power. Mr. Truman insists that this curtailment will prevent any tax reduction at this time, save in accord with his own scheme.

(5) A high-pressure campaign to sell government savings bonds to the public in order to reduce their buying power. The revenue from these sales would then be used to retire federal securities now held by the banks. It cannot be emphasized too often that the more "governments" the banks have in their portfolios, the greater is their lending power.

(6) Voluntary action by the nation's financial institutions to cut down on the extension of credit to small and large-scale borrowers.

HEADACHES: Messrs. Truman, Snyder and Eccles are adamant against the proposition of Senator Taft and many private bankers that federal securities be permitted to fall to a lower level, and that the rates of interest be allowed to rise. They regard this as a disastrous scheme, in view of the size and composition of the public debt.

Contrary to Senator Taft, they say that an increase of the discount rate would not check loans and credit, even with a rise in general interest rates. The banks would simply sell their securities instead of borrowing, thus boosting their reserves. The discount power, once a powerful factor in the money market, is no longer effective.

A rise in interest payments would make other investments more attractive than "governments" and these would be dumped on the market, further feeding inflationary fires. It would add to the cost of carrying the public debt by billions of dollars, upsetting the budget and killing all chance of a tax reduction.

By agreeing to support federal securities at or slightly above par instead of at a premium figure of 110 or 113, the federal financiers have increased the return on them in the hope that owners will hold them instead of disposing of them. With $150,000,000,000 of government issues falling due within five years, Uncle Sam must continue to manage the market, willy-nilly, no matter how many headaches it causes at Washington and elsewhere.

REFEREE: In a fascinating historical summary too long to be published here, W. S. of St. Louis asks: "In the light of 1917-1947 events, what would have happened if our country had assumed the role of referee instead of partisan in World Wars I and II?"

Answer: A dogmatic answer to that question is impossible. That, however, was Woodrow Wilson's original aim. Although we sold arms to World War I Allies, and eventually extended them credits when their funds were exhausted, he had hoped that the U.S. could abstain from the conflict, and act as a peacemaker or as a referee.

I don't think that F.D.R. ever had such an idea. I believe he always expected that the U.S. would be dragged in. Anyway, adoption of Lend-Lease in March of 1941, months before Pearl Harbor, made such an impartial role impossible.

Moreover, if Hitler had crushed Britain, I don't believe that he would have accepted our services as a "referee." He would have done the refereeing in that case, and we might have gone down for the count.

'IKE' SETS HIGH STANDARD

Eisenhower's Stand Is Praised

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The jubilation among other presidential aspirants—Democratic and Republican—over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's withdrawal was described fully over the weekend. Likewise, the possible effect on other candidacies was explored and appraised.

STOKES

Those are strictly political considerations.

But there is a public service of considerable importance and of long-time significance that the general performed in his statement for which he is to be highly commended.

That was his clear declaration of the principle that the military must be subordinated to the civilian in our government.

Statement Said Timely

It was valuable because it came from a professional soldier and one so high in public confidence. The general showed a fine conception of American traditions, and he expressed it in a way that should make that portion of his statement a permanent contribution to our political literature.

It was valuable, too, because it was most timely. The trend around here has been too much in the other direction, with an undue proportion of military people in key advisory, administrative and diplomatic posts.

There has been much critical comment of that tendency and it is well that such a figure as General Eisenhower gives voice to the essential principle involved. It is hoped the practice will be abandoned.

It is hoped likewise, on the presidential candidate level, that General Eisenhower's example will be followed by General MacArthur.

There was another thing that General Eisenhower said, too, which is so apparent to anybody who observes politics and government. This was:

"Politics is a profession; a serious, complicated and in its true sense, a noble one."

It is a profession. It requires, initially, certain talents, certain aptitudes and attitudes, just as does any other profession, including the military and business. Dealing with people in a political capacity is entirely different from dealing with them as a soldier who is accustomed to give and take orders and as a businessman who is likewise accustomed to a managerial role.

Being a good politician, in the best sense, is something that no one learns in a day or a week or a month. That is why promotion in politics is usually slow. Experience and seasoning are needed for the higher and more responsible public offices and adaptability is needed. They are acquired gradually.

Politics Has Place

Politics can indeed, as the General said, be a "noble" profession, as we know from some who have given their lives to it, though too few can be called "noble." The General's statement on the profession of politics might well be inserted in our textbooks on political science as an inspiration to attract more able young men with vision into politics.

To anyone who holds the view about politics and the art of government that General Eisenhower now has so aply expressed, it was discouraging to see the booms for military figures for president. This is no reflection on the two men most often mentioned, for in their fields they were pre-eminent. But it seemed to indicate something about the spirit abroad in the land.

It seemed to indicate one or both of two things—either that there was so much confusion among our people that they were grasping for the "strong man" symbol, or that the political figures who were available were disappointing. Either would be a reflection on the state of our Democracy and the ability of our system to bring up capable leaders.

General Eisenhower dismissed the second possible diagnosis by his statement, an accurate one, that "in the American scene I see no dearth of men fitted by training, talent and integrity for national leadership." The first possible inference, is undoubtedly a postwar manifestation that will be dispelled as sanity and order are restored to our affairs, which must be slow, and must be in the hands of civilians, not military men.

Opinion On Spending Road Fund Given To Amarillo Attorney

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (U.P.)—Money from a county road and bridge fund can legally be spent for improvement of streets inside a city only when they form part of the county road system or connecting links in a county road, the attorney general's department ruled today.

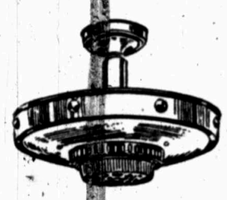

Otherwise the opinion said, the expenditure by a commissioners' court would be illegal.

The ruling was asked by County Attorney Roy C. Snodgrass of Amarillo.

MARKET IN SMALL GAINS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Stocks generally sat up and nibbled at recovery today with the overall market average, for the first time in nine straight sessions, posting a modest advance.

Further short covering and other buying of rails and industrials by professionals was based mainly on the idea the list was oversold and due for a good technical comeback. Transfers of 830,000 shares compared with 850,000 Monday.

Some bidding was attributed to the shakeup in the Federal Reserve board which inspired the thought that pressure on credit might be relaxed. Decision of the British to maintain the pound sterling in the face of the French franc devaluation aided sentiment. Approval by the House Ways and Means committee of the G.O.P. tax cut program was mildly helpful.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .2 of a point at 62.6, first advance since Jan. 16. The utility index, though, touched a new 1947-48 low. Of 987 issues registering, 471 rose and 275 fell.

U. S. Steel emerged up ½ at 73⅝ and, after the close, directors voted the expected dividend of $1.25 on the common and reported net for the December quarter of $2.65 a share against $2.86 in the final months of 1946 and $2.58 in the September, 1947, quarter. For 1947 earnings were placed at $11.66 a share, compared with $7.29 in 1946.

Union Pacific added 3¼ points at 158.

Gulf Oil dipped 2⅝ at 59¼ as "rights" to stock offered shareholders appeared on the ticker tape. Pacific Gas yielded 1½ at 34 when plans for new financing were announced. Standard Oil (NJ) slipped 1⅝ at 69¾.

Bonds steadied.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP) — Cotton futures turned irregular in moderately active dealings today. Liquidation in nearby March and scattered hedging depressed the market in initial trading.

Aggressive mill buying and some replacement demand later developed and carried the market up to gains of almost $1.50 a bale, but prices again weakened on profit taking. Most traders were cautious, pending further developments on the Marshall plan and improvement in textile demand.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 27 (AP) — Heavy liquidation, especially in the corn and oats pits, carried prices downward at the board of trade today. The nearby delivery of corn was within ⅜ of a cent of the daily permissible drop of 8 cents when a rally developed.

The weakness in coarse grains had an effect on wheat, but the decline was more stubborn. Soybeans were off the limit.

Selling in the corn pit developed after good advances had been registered. Houses with cash connections started the selling in fairly liberal quantities, and stop loss orders were uncovered.

Wheat was mixed at the close, finished 1⅛ cent lower to 1¼ higher than the previous close, May $2.87⅛-¾; corn recovered some of its loss and finished 1¼ lower, May $2.51¼-½. Oats were unchanged to 1 cent lower, May $1.22⅞-23. Soybeans were 7 cents lower after a closing rally, March $4.10.

HOUSTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—A 45-year-old man, convicted on a burglary charge, has offered to take the place of a 24-year-old Fort Worth resident who has been sentenced to death in the electric chair.

District Judge Langston King today said he has received a letter from Ralph O. Lucas, in the Columbus jail, under a 10-year penitentiary sentence for burglary, asking that he be permitted to replace Nolan Edward West, now in a death cell at the state penitentiary at Huntsville. UN Atomic Commission To Be Ready If Peace Plan Progresses

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United Nations Atomic Energy commission, working with the knowledge that there is no chance for international bomb control so long as Russian-American relations remain as they are, is going into secret session next Monday to consider the administrative make-up of a control authority just as if there were to be one.

The members are working on the theory that they want to be ready if peace should ever come, and that as long as they can keep the ball in the air there is a possibility of scoring a goal. But there is something about it remindful of the man who went out and bought a red-wheeled buggy because he dreamed someone was going to give him a horse.

Move For Record

The members want to be ready for a possible break in the world impasse brought about by Soviet Russia. They are making a dead pan and strictly academic play for the record and for propaganda purposes. Also, no one wants to take responsibility for breaking off the negotiations.

But the United States probably would be terribly embarrassed if, under present circumstances, Russia were suddenly to accept the control plan. Authorities are reported already considering, at least informally, what they would do in such a case. The odds are that they would have to come up with more hedges over which Russia couldn't jump.

Changes In Attitude Seen

Two years ago the air was full of statements that only international control could save the world from disintegration.

Now such men as Dr. Harold Uhey, one of the men who helped develop the bomb, are turning to a federation of non-Communist countries as the only hope. Others still pursue the idea of a world government under which would-be aggressors would be made responsible to the will of the majority.

Practical diplomats are following a more concrete line. The old-fashioned military alliance is coming back into its own on a larger scale than ever. There is a western hemisphere defense pact and the Franco-British plan for a military bloc in western Europe. Although the effectiveness of alliances and treaties has fallen into disrepute, the danger that Democratic countries will be knocked off one at a time and their resources turned against the remainder, should prove a strong tie.

The probability is that the western European bloc, if it is worked out, will be linked ultimately with the western hemisphere bloc.

In addition, the United States is going grimly about her own business of preparing to meet the possibility that Russia, either deliberately or through misjudgment of how far she can go, might turn the war from cold to hot. Military resources are being guarded and expanded in every direction.

"There is something incongruous, then, in the spectacle of the atomic commission's "iffy" activities. Something that it might be better to stop before its irony serves to belittle the stature of the whole U. N. organization.

Seminole Clinic For Case Of Alcoholism Has Formal Opening

SEMINOLE, Jan. 27 (Special)—The Tomb Hospital-Clinic annex for the treatment of selected cases of alcoholism was in operation this week following one of the most impressive dedicatory programs in the history of this West Texas center.

More than 450 guests, many of whom traveled distances ranging from 50 to 500 miles, attended, and participated in, a seven hour program running from 4 p. m. through 11 p. m. Sunday, and during which a number of speakers emphasized the need for such specialized treatment of the sick alcoholic.

Dr. Tomb, in announcing formal opening of the 15-bed annex, said "we decided to initiate this project only after careful study and realization that this annex would fill a vital need in this area for the understanding care of the alcoholic patient."

Following a buffet supper and open house at the hospital-annex, a program was held in the Seminole High school auditorium lasting until 11 p. m.

Guests were registered from Roswell, Midland, Odessa, Plainview, Snyder, Clovis, Hobbs, Dallas, Big Spring, Carlsbad, Dumas, Dalhart, Lubbock, Lamesa, Lovington, Albuquerque, San Angelo, Austin and San Antonio.

Manager Burton Lewis of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce added the commendation of the community and area for the project.

"Seminole is indeed fortunate to boast of this unique undertaking, and I have personally received inquiries regarding Dr. Tombs' treatment of alcoholism from two cities in California, several in the East, and the Pennsylvania State legislature is planning state facilities for the treatment of alcoholics patterned after this experiment," Lewis said.

Jester Scored Again For Bonus Statement

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester took another rap today for his recent statement that it is "un-Texan" for World War II veterans to want a bonus.

The criticism was from Roger Q. Evans, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and member of the House who advocated a bonus payment during the last session of the Legislature. The Legislature voted no bonus.

"Governor Jester served honorably as a captain of infantry in the 90th division during World War I," Evans said in a statement.

"Veterans of War I received a bonus from the government of the United States and I am inclined to believe that our good governor accepted that bonus. If he did get a bonus x x x to which he was fully entitled, I fail to understand how he can conscientiously brand his World War II comrades as 'un-Texan' for wanting a bonus."

Hung Jury In Case Reported

A hung jury was reported at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday night in the county court jury trial of Ernie Bishop, 36, of 206 Sherman Ave., who pleaded innocent of a charge of drunk driving.

The jury reported to Judge Walter Davies after having deliberated more than two hours.

Bishop was represented by James Kimmel of the firm of Key and Kimmel. The case was prosecuted by John M. Steele, county attorney.

Records showed the case was filed Jan. 17, Bishop pleaded innocent and was released under $600 bond.

Fines Are Assessed

Two judgments were filed by Judge Davies Tuesday morning, fining Curlee Tealer, 36, a negro, $50 and court costs and revoking his driver's license six months on a charge of drunk driving and making a similar assessment against Mike Gauna, a Mexican who appeared to answer a Dec. 29 charge of drunk driving. Both defendants pleaded guilty.

In 99th district court Judge G. V. Pardue Tuesday morning set aside a 10-year probation period for E. B. Barnes, 19, a Lubbock negro who pleaded guilty of burglary, and ordered that time to be served cumulatively with five years assessed in the case at hand, court officials said.

The probation, provided for in comparatively new statutes, had resulted from an appearance of the negro in a former case, it was said.
