JUNCTION-KERRVILLE TO HAVE BASKET PICNIC

Towns to Celebrate Completion of Highway Between Junction and Kerrville on August 28th at Moos Ranch.

Last Friday, Messrs. Smith, Pampell, Seanger, Peterson and Moses came over from Kerrville to meet with a committee from the Chamber of Commerce here to make preliminary arrangements for a big Basket Picnic that is to be held August 28th in the big pecan grove on the W. G. Moos ranch near Segovia.

The Junction committee, composed of John M. Hankins, C. T. Holekamp, Oren C. Reid, Clifford Hamer and H. G. Perry, met the Kerrville gentlemen in the Hankins-Riley Hall and the proposition was discussed at length. Later in the day the two committees drove down the Kerrville road to select a suitable location for the celebration. They decided that the pecan grove mentioned above was the best place to be found, and Mr. Moos kindly offered them the use of his property for that day. Just above the pecan grove is an excellent ball ground, that is so situated that the spectators can sit in the shade and view the game.

This is to be a Basket Picnic, to which everyone is invited. Those attending should bring their own dinner and enough for supper, as there will be a big dance that night. Persons attending are also asked to provide themselves with drinking cups, but plenty of coffee, tea and ice water will be furnished free of charge.

A number of interesting games and contests will be held, that will be announced later. A baseball game between two of the best teams in this part of the State will also be part of the entertainment features.

Stands will be operated where visitors can secure cold drinks, tobacco, ice cream, lunches, etc., but the committee in charge is going to see that the usual high prices are not charged for these.

Several good public speakers will be on hand to deliver short but interesting addresses.

The following were selected as local chairmen of the different committees and will select others to assist them in making their part of the celebration a success:

Concessions, drinks, etc., Hankins and Pampell; baseball, Hamer and Smith; Entertainment, Reid and Moses; dance, Peterson.

More details will be published later, but enough has been done to insure the success of this celebration and facilities will be adequate for taking care of several thousand visitors from Kerr, Kimble and adjoining counties. A special invitation is extended to the people of adjoining counties to attend this celebration and get acquainted with each other.

W. M. Crook, prominent attorney and Banker of Beaumont was in Junction Wednesday and Thursday, accompanied by his wife and a son who is spending the summer at Camp Rio Vista. Mr. and Mrs. Crook are enthusiastic in their praise of the Llano River country.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beddingfield and little son, Jimmie, and Mrs. Ada Dockery, left Saturday for San Antonio. Mr. Beddingfield is attending the Reserve Officers' Training Camp in San Antonio.

Mrs. Emil A. Loeffler with her two sons, Louis and Reuben, returned to Fort Davis last Saturday.

STATE FISH SPECIALIST COMING TO JUNCTION.

Several days ago the Eagle had a communication from Mr. Mark Riley, Superintendent of the U. S. Fish Hatchery at San Marcos, stating that he would be glad to assist us in any way possible in outlining some plan for supplying the streams of this county with fish. The subject of a local fish hatchery has been discussed here and its need is seen by every one.

It was decided that Mr. Riley would be asked to visit Junction and look the streams over and examine the vegetation necessary for fish culture, and give us definite information as to the advisability of trying to establish a small hatchery here.

Mr. Riley has kindly agreed to come, provided we would pay his expenses to and from here to his home. Monday the Eagle Editor started out with a contribution sheet and in about 30 minutes had the money made up. Every man, except one, that was approached, contributed to this small fund. It was not possible to see everyone, but those who were found contributed the amounts shown below, for the expense of getting Mr. Riley to come here.

Tuesday, in a telephone conversation, Mr. Riley stated that as they were just closing up the year's work at the hatchery, it would not be possible for him to get off this week, but that he thought he would be able to get out here next week, or at least at an early date. He will have charge of the construction of the newly established hatchery at Medina Lake, and expected to make the trip here before he begins this work.

This list could have been increased had more time been taken, an if any not listed below, want to contribute any small amount to this fund, additional contributions will be listed next week. In case something should happen to prevent Mr. Riley from coming, their money, less the telephone calls, will be refunded.

THE TOURISTS REGISTER.

It might be of interest to state that the printing of the tourist register of the Junction Hardware Co., or Alex J. Hamer Co., is done more to show the large number of outside people that are visiting, than to attempt to keep a complete record, as it would be impractical to publish both of these lists each week. Whenever these lists or either of the hotel registers are published, the list is for the week preceding publication and not for a longer time as some seem to think.

Tourists are coming here by the thousands and of course only a small part of them register at either the hotels or the stores but by glancing over the lists when published, one can get an idea of the many different sections that are daily represented in the camping population of the Junction Country.

TELEGRAPH BARBECUE WAS GREAT SUCCESS.

One of the best arranged and managed community barbecues and picnics ever held in the county, was the one at Telegraph on Wednesday of this week. The people of that community, alive to every beneficial community interest, prepared a feast and gala day for their friends. Twenty-two chevon and two beeves were barbecued to a most appetizing degree, and all the pickles, bread, cake, etc., that was necessary to make a "square" meal, was furnished free to the public.

In the morning there was a general get-together of friends and plenty of good music and public speaking. Coke R. Stevenson was master of ceremonies, and after making a brief talk, introduced Weaver H. Baker, Fred E. Knetsch and J. B. Randolph, each of whom made short, interesting speeches. The music was furnished by Messrs. O. M. and E. D. Brown and Mesdames Maude Hays and Bunting, all of Mason.

Invited guests from Edwards, Menard, Mason, Sutton and Kerr Counties, joined the people of the Telegraph community in the general good time and the dinner.

About 2:30 the rodeo features began and for a couple of hours the large crowd was entertained with steer and broncho riding. At 4:30, the first polo game ever played in the Llano River valley was begun. The "Meadow Brook" polo team from the Watson Divide country furnished a fine game for the crowd, many of whom had never before witnessed this kind of athletics. The ground was very rough and the players were at a great disadvantage, but the game was hard fought and interesting. O. W. Cardwell featured in the game as it would hardly seem possible that a man handicapped by the loss of one arm, could play this game.

Supper was served to a large crowd that remained for the program at the school house that night. Mrs. Conde Hardeman was in charge of the program and those who know Mrs. Hardeman, know that those who remained for the evening, were well entertained.

This is the first attempt of these people to have an event of this kind, and the success of this one justifies them in their desire to make it an annual affair. The crowd was unusually well behaved and the day was a credit to the community.

FISH LADDER AT THE DAM IS COMPLETED.

The Llano River Irrigation & Milling Co., have recently completed a large fish ladder at the dam four miles above town. This ladder is three and one-half feet wide and about twenty-five feet long. While the results accomplished from such a contraption is rather doubtful, a number of complaints have been made by people living above the dam, and the L. R. I. & M. Co., in order to satisfy these people, and to strictly comply with the law, have built the fish ladder at considerable expense.

The theory of those who enacted the law, is that the fish will climb these ladders and the dams along the rivers will not obstruct the passage of fish upstream. In cases such as the one near town, and this one four miles above, there is sufficient wasteway to allow all the fish in the river to pass up stream, unless they were just naturally acrobatically inclined, they would of course, try the ladder.

BOOSTER LETTER FROM PROMINENT WRITER.

The following letter received by Mr. Hankins brought with it a splendid article about the Llano River country, that was written by Mr. Waide of the Houston Chronicle, and printed in that paper of June 17th. In the photogravure section of the Chronicle of that date was a number of pictures furnished Mr. Waide by Mr. Hankins. In another part of this paper will be found a part of Mr. Waide's article about the Llano River country.

The Mr. Dudley referred to, was here recently for about two weeks, and is editor of several big oil publications for the Magnolia Petroleum Co.

The letter follows:
Mr. John M. Hankins,
Junction, Texas.

Dear Sir:
Inclosed is a page of pictures picked up on my recent tour through the West. You will note that some of them are Junction scenes.

Mr. Dudley told me just now that he met you and that you were very nice to him, which he and I both appreciate. Perhaps Mr. Dudley told you that I told him that Junction is the best summer resort in Texas. Not only have I told all who have asked my advice, but I stated in one of my stories about my trip that I regarded the Llano river around Junction as the prettiest stream in Texas and Junction the best summer resort.

After beginning this letter I concluded to send you the article dealing with Junction and let you see for yourself what I think of your town, so I am inclosing it. Probably 100 people have written or called on me since my return to ask my advice about vacations, and I have advised all of them to go to Junction.

I was raised at Paint Rock, not very far from you, and have a genuine love for that part of Texas, even if I have lived here for the past ten years.

Yours very truly,

C. D. Waide.

TECH. LOCATING BOARD AT BRADY AND MENARD.

The members of the board that is inspecting the towns making application for the Texas Technological College, to be located in West Texas, were at Brady Tuesday morning and looked over the proposed sites offered by Brady and were royally entertained by the citizens of that wide-awake town. The party arrived in Menard shortly after the noon hour and at four o'clock, accompanied by some forty or fifty business and professional men, visited the two sites offered by Menard. One two miles above town on the south side of the river; the other, four miles below town on the same side of the San Saba.

A banquet was given the locating board that night, at the picnic grounds west of town and a large crowd was present to voice their enthusiasm in the proposed location.

Messrs. Coke R. Stevenson, Oren C. Reid and Fred Knetsch represented Junction, in Menard that day at the invitation of Menard businessmen.

For the information of those wishing to exhibit livestock at the Kimble County Fair, the executive committee wishes to say that pens are ready beneath the shade trees in Schreiner Park. Exhibition coops for poultry will be provided to help give the poultry exhibit a neat and orderly appearance and show the fowls to the best advantage.

LLANO RIVER IS IDEAL SPOT FOR VACATION.

Man Who Wants to Loaf, Fish And Swim, Will Not Go Far Wrong When He Visits Junction, "The Heart 'o the Hills."

(By C. D. Waide in the Houston Chronicle.)

When you have believed a certain thing for 30 years and then find you were wrong, sometimes it is hard to admit it, and even harder to put it down in cold type. For 30 years the writer has believed the Concho the prettiest river in Texas, largely because he caught his first fish and swam his first strokes in it. But a trip along the headwaters of the Llano has brought disillusionment. Along the headwaters of the Llano is the prettiest stream in Texas and worth all the rough traveling necessary to see its beauties.

On our eastward lap of the "See Texas" loop, we have just come from Alpine to Junction, and have just completed 105 miles of the roughest road encountered on the trip. It required eight hours of running to get over the 105 miles, but at the same time the last 25 miles of the trip is the prettiest, although not the most scenic, through which we have traveled.

West of Junction, near Roosevelt, the road crosses and recrosses the Llano eight times in six miles, winding along the river bottom under tall pecan trees going through groves that are veritable tunnels in which the sun rarely shines.

And when you reach Junction you have reached the ideal place for the summer outing if you merely want to loaf and rest. There are literally hundreds of swimming places, excellent fishing and beautiful scenery. It lacks the ruggedness of the Ft. Davis section, although Junction is surrounded by high hills that almost attain the proportions of mountains. The nights are just cool enough to make one blanket feel good, while with an elevation of something more than 2,000 feet the atmosphere does not strain weak hearts.

Perhaps the forgoing paragraphs leave a wrong impression about the inaccessibility of Junction to the outer world. While it is 40 miles from a railroad there is almost a solid pike from San Antonio to this city. While from here to Kerrville, the terminus of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad there is a wonderful road. From here to Menard, the terminus of the Frisco, the distance is less than to Kerrville, but the road is rougher and for Houston people the Kerrville route is more convenient.

The first 30 miles of the road from Sonora to Junction are not particularly attractive until you cross the divide into the upper Llano valley.

The last 32 miles form one of the most beautiful, as well as one of the roughest, drives in Texas. An average speed of 12 miles an hour is about all that can be maintained on the 62 miles, but there are many places where the tourist will want to slow down below that and enjoy the scenery. On this road is a free camping place in a big pecan grove on the banks of the Llano, where there is as good fresh water fishing as anywhere in Texas, good swimming and plenty of shade in the day and cool nights with no mosquitoes. Water for drinking may be had from a spring near the grove.

BRADY SECURE FEDERAL AID ON JUNCTION-MENARD ROAD.

(Sentinel)

Judge and Mrs. Joe Matthews of Menard County, passed thru the city Tuesday returning from Austin where the Judge had been to appear before the Highway Commission to ask for Federal aid on the building of a good road from Menard to the Kimble County line, being Menard's part of the highway to be built between the towns of Menard and Junction. Judge Matthews was assured by Chief Engineer Fauntleroy that the aid would be granted provided Menard County raised her part of the funds needed, which Judge Matthews stated would promptly be done.

A few weeks ago a meeting was held in which a number of the prominent citizens of Junction met a delegation from Menard and went over the road situation, at which time each county agreed to build to its line, thus connecting the two towns with a good road.

BROWNWOOD. CONSERVATION SURVEYS REPORTED TO START SOON.

(Banner-Bulletin.)

The following news report from Austin is of interest to Brownwood people because of the fact that the big water conservation project which is on industrial program of this section, will probably receive early attention.

"Actual surveys contemplated in the act of the Legislature authorizing appropriations amounting to $600,000 for conservation and reclamation for and against flood waters in Texas will begin by engineers of the United States Geological Survey within the next thirty days, it was announced Monday by John W. Gaines, prominent attorney of San Antonio, who has been a pioneer advocate for water conservation and land reclamation. Mr. Gaines was in Dallas on legal matters and returned to his home Monday night.

"The first work by the engineers of the geological survey will be done on the upper reaches of the Colorado and Trinity and will be continued block by block as sections until the work is completed. The Federal Government through the Geological Survey will furnish the labor and equipment and provide half of the expenses under the agreement between the two arms of the government."

(The Llano Rivers are among those included in the first six that will probably be surveyed by government engineers under provisions of the State law.)

BRYAN KEEP TEXAS MONEY HOME

(Eagle)

It is the general opinion among those who have visited both places, that the climate and scenic attractiveness of the Fort Davis section in Texas equals that of Colorado and yet how few Texans visit Texas mountains, and how many hundreds of Texans visit the Rocky Mountains. This can be explained in but one way: Colorado advertises and Texas don't. But wouldn't it pay to keep Texas money in Texas?

(This fact is being proven at Junction. People are now spending their vacations here who have been going to Colorado, and they state that this country's scenery, climate and camping facilities are much superior to Colorado or California. We have advertised some and are going to advertise more, and our observation is that every tourist who visits Junction, begins making plans to return the following summer.)

MORE OWN MOTOR CARS

New York, July 12.—Motor cars and trucks registered in the United States July 1, totaled 13,048,128, according to a survey just completed. This was a gain of 2,440,000 over the July 1, 1922, total, an increase of about 23 per cent. Registrations already have passed the December, 1922, high mark by 683,751, thus indicating the final 1923 figures will show another gain of 1 million or more.

Every state had more vehicles registered than on July 1 a year ago, while thirty-seven states have already gone over the final 1922 total.

There now is one motor vehicle for every 8.5 persons in the United States.

COUNTY JUDGES TOLD ELECTION IS REVOKED.

Austin, July.—Acting Secretary of State Payne late Tuesday officially notified the county judges in the 251 organized counties of the State of the action of Acting Governor Davidson in issuing a proclamation revoking and annulling the proclamation heretofore issued by Governor Neff, calling a special election of July 28 to vote on the amendment to the constitution.

Payne sent the notices by mail, inclosing a copy to each county judge of the Davidson proclamation and requesting that these county officials notify each precinct in their respective counties that the election has been called off and not to make any preparations for holding the election.

"I find it to be a fact that the proposed amendment was not sent to the newspapers for publication until June 4, 1923, and that no publication of said proposed amendment was had until after said date," said Acting Governor Davidson in his proclamation. "Making it impossible to secure publication beginning at least three months before the election as directed and commanded by the Constitution, and for that reason the election would be futile and of no effect to accomplish an amendment to the Constitution."

WM. L. BLACK AIDED MOHAIR INDUSTRY.

Another Ft. McKavitt reader sends a story published in Texas newspapers, originally in the Standard, San Angelo, telling how Col. William L. Black lost his fortune trying to popularize goat meat. This same clipping was sent in by a number of readers, among them Col. B. M. Halbert. Col. Black, who lives at San Antonio now, was a resident of Fort McKavitt when he published (in 1900 at Ft. Worth) his book, "A New Industry; or Raising the Angora Goat and Mohair for Profit." It was unprofitable as a publishing venture. He had previously issued a pamphlet on Angora raising in 1895. It is stated that Col. Black sent a copy to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which used the information but gave no credit to the author. This is in part an error, as reference has repeatedly been made to the work, not only by Government writers, in the United States, but S. C. Cronwright Schreiner, in his work, "The Angora Goat," published in 1898, refers to the original 1895 circular by William L. Black, and quotes from it (page 246). Col. Black is also quoted, in the Schreiner volume, by W. R. Payne, New York mohair buyer. The Schreiner book was published prior to the volume by Black, who was at that time manager of the Fort McKavitt Tanning Company, Menard County. So much for the point at issue. The editor of the Angora Journal is loath to believe that Mr. Black was correctly quoted in saying that "goats ruined him." Be that as it may, Mr. Black is recognized as having performed a great service for the mohair industry, and as having aided its growth. The industry owes a debt of gratitude to Col. Black, who is now stated to be perfecting a device for shelling pecans, from which he hopes to reap rewards, at his home in San Antonio.—Angora Journal.

LOCATORS ARE TOLD OF BOERNE'S ADVANTAGES

Boerne, Texas, July 14.—Inauguratory to a nearly four weeks' trip to more than three dozen towns in West Texas, the locating board of the Texas Technological College Saturday took a side excursion to this thriving Kendall County city and summer resort, with a view to considering Boerne's claims to preferment as the logical site of the State's most recently created educational institution.

The party leaving Austin early Saturday morning on the I. & G. N. railroad for San Antonio, consisting of Senator S. B. Cowell, chairman of the locating committee and head of the State Board of Control; Dr. W. S. Sutton, acting president of the University of Texas; S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Dr. F. B. Brally, president of the College of Industrial Arts, and a host of newspaper men.

Arriving in San Antonio at 9:30 a. m., these four members of the committee were joined by Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of A. & M. College, and also a large sized delegation from Boerne, which drove up to the Alamo city to escort the board to the prospective site of the college.

The beauty spots of the surrounding country were pointed out to the visitors.

After luncheon, the locating board was driven to the selected site of the new college, consisting of approximately 2,000 acres of land, just northeast of the city and as the final event on the program, dinner was served at the Kendall Inn at 7 o'clock. The committee left Boerne shortly after 8 o'clock for San Antonio, and there caught the evening train for Austin.

TOLERANCE.

We have recently reprinted a number of excellent articles dealing with a most important question—tolerance. We have done this because we believe in tolerance, and because there is seemingly a growing attitude on the part of many well meaning people to force their ideas upon other people. Tolerance is nothing but a practical application of the Golden Rule, and those who are not willing to extend the same privileges to their neighbors that they reserve for themselves, are not willing to give a due regard to the greatest rule of conduct ever given man.

Recently Mr. Swaney Aldridge ended a very successful term as Mayor of Dallas. In laying down the toga of his administration, he told of the things that Dallas needed most. Above everything else, he said, tolerant citizenship was the most important factor for the peace and happiness of the city.

The pretensions of superior sanctity on the part of the Pharisees led them to separate themselves from the other Jews, and they thanked God that they were better than other people. We have too many followers of this foolish standard today. The same rebuke that was given the Pharisees by the Savior is going to be meted out in this era to those who are unwilling to allow others the right of a free conscience.

There are those who feel their superiority over their fellow men and want tribute paid to them on account of the important role that they feel they play, and when people fail to recognize the importance of these pharisaic admirers, they take every opportunity to condemn and criticize.

There are people who feel that their station in life is such that the front pages of newspapers should be devoted to their praise, and when this desire is not granted, without any sane reason they give vent to their egotistic frame of mind by condemning the newspaper.

Tolerance is the Golden Rule applied to practical living.

If readers would occasionally look over the notices printed under the masthead above on this page, they would save considerable trouble to themselves and more or less embarrassment to us. Every week, one or more news items are mailed to us, that we would like to use, but we have a rule that these anonymous communications will not be used, and we have good reasons for this practice, and no matter how much we would like to use the news items, we can not do so. Those sending in cards of thanks, obituaries, notices, etc., must make some arrangement with the management for payment, or these communications will not be printed. We have too many of these little accounts on our books to which those responsible, pay no attention, to warrant us in continuing the practice. The rate is 1½ cents per word, and anyone can easily figure the amount that such articles will cost.

Considerable interest is being shown in Mason and Menard Counties in the construction of roads towards Junction, and these efforts on the part of our neighbors should receive the hearty co-operation of the people of Kimble County. As is shown in an item elsewhere in this issue, Mason County is asking that the road between Junction and Mason be designated a highway. Also, the prospects are reported good that Menard County will get aid in building the Junction-Menard road to the Kimble County line.

Eldorado held a big picnic on Wednesday of this week. Circulars were received by the Eagle announcing this event and were distributed. It seems from the advertising that all events were free and that there were a number of attractions, such as baseball, branding, and roping contests, broncho and steer riding, etc., that ought to draw the crowds. It seems that most every town in this section of the country is having one or two big days this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Corhn and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day of Rotan are camping on the banks of the Llano. Mrs. Day, (Ella Hudson Day) is a well known song writer and composer of music. Her "Texas, Pride of the South," is especially well known, and is used in the public schools of Texas. The Cotton Palace at Waco was opened with this song Mrs. Day expressed her delight at the beautiful scenery found here and declared her intention of "advertising" for Junction.

W. R. Eckert recently threshed John B. Wilson's oat crop on South Llano. From the twenty acres Mr. Wilson got 1,100 bushels, or fifty-five bushels per acre, and the oats weighed 37 pounds per measured bushel. This is an example of what can be done with small grain in this country, as these oats were not irrigated.

Tom Finty Jr., Editor of the Dallas Journal, was in Junction a few hours Monday and was a caller at the Eagle office. He had been at Kerrville and took an opportunity to drive over to see this part of the country, and stated he was very glad that he came, as he did not know there was such a "wonder country" in the State.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Horlock of Hearne, spent several days here recently camping and fishing on the river, and on leaving, stated that they expected to visit Junction every summer. Dr. and Mrs. Waltman from Hearne will arrive here next week. Many people in that part of the State are getting interested in the Llano Rivers.

HODGES FAMILY REUNION.

T. M. Hodges and wife had eight good reasons to be happy this week. For the first time in thirty years, their eight children were at home together.

Mr. Hodges is past 74 and Mrs. Hodges past 71. The oldest child is 51, and the youngest is 35.

On Monday, all the children, grand children and great grand children, gathered at the T. M. Hodges home and spent the day happily together. The following day they spent on the old farmstead just across the river from town. Mr. Hodges has owned this farm for more than 40 years and all the children were reared there.

Those present were: H. R. Hodges and wife of Brady; T. M. Hodges and wife of San Angelo; A. B. Hodges and family of Junction; Mrs. Mary McSweeney of Ft. Worth; Mrs. Agie Jarvis of San Antonio; Mrs. Lucy Motley and children and Mrs. Joe Ramsey and family of Junction, and E. W. Schroeder and family of Mason. There are seventeen grand children, ten of whom were present; there are seven great grand children, only two of whom were present.

Besides the children, a brother, Robert Hodges and family of Winters were here. He was a resident of Kimble County some 35 years ago, having owned the Jetton place on South Llano.

This was a great and happy event in the declining years of Mr. and Mrs. Hodges, and the Eagle extends congratulations on this happy occasion.

MASON AND JUNCTION WANT DIRECT HIGHWAY.

Citizens of Mason and Junction will present a petition to the State Highway Commissioners at Austin Monday asking for designation of the direct road, 45 miles, between those two cities for State and Federal aid, according to D. E. Colp, manager of the Glazier to Gulf motorway, who stated he had received this information by telephone Friday from Mason citizens.

"This road will undoubtedly be built," Mr. Colp said, "and when it is completed will furnish San Antonio Motorists one of the most ideal week-end trips imaginable."

"The entire trip of 305 miles lies through some of the prettiest scenery Texas can offer," he said, "and the distances between towns are interspersed with good fishing streams and hunting during the season. Good hotels all along the way and the proposed State Park at Junction make this trip one of exceptional appeal for San Antonians."

"The route for the week-end trip lies over Glazier to Gulf motorway from San Antonio through Boerne to Fredericksburg to Mason, 115 miles, and 45 miles from Mason to Junction and 135 miles from Junction to San Antonio through Kerrville, Comfort and Boerne."

"This route is all improved road with the exception of the 45 miles between Mason and Junction, which the Highway Department is to be asked Monday to designate for aid. With the exception of the stretches between Boerne and Kerrville, and Mason and Junction, this route is now up to the Federal standard, hard surfaced, and with the completion of the Junction-Mason stretch, can be made any day of the year, rain or shine."

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Franks of Rock Springs came over Wednesday for the Evergreen picnic. Mrs. Walter Tinsley accompanied them and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stevenson.

Mrs. M. E. Blackburn, Miss Mary Ellis Blackburn, Milton and Dayton Blackburn, left last Saturday for Hoover, Texas, to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Daugherty, Mrs. Blackburn's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Olney Patterson and little daughter, Patricia, have returned from a two weeks visit to Galveston.

Mrs. J. Milton Carson of Brownwood is the guest of her parents, Mrs. and Mrs. John S. Fleming.

DR. NICHOLA BUTLER ON INTOLERANCE IN U. S.

Any one who takes the trouble to read carefully the history of the American people, cannot resist the conclusion that intolerance, in some one of its many forms, has been characteristic of us since the days of our beginning.

Political as well as religious intolerance marked many episodes in early American history, and the liberal spirit won no small triumph when Thomas Jefferson succeeded in securing the passage of a statute providing for religious freedom in Virginia. It is not surprising that he wished to have engraved upon his tombstone a statement of this fact, to mark his own conviction that it had been one of his chief contributions to the welfare of his fellow man.

George Washington was conscious of the need for battling with intolerance among his countrymen in this new country, and much of his own greatness of soul sprang from the essential tolerance of his own nature, his broadmindedness, his openmindedness, and his human sympathy.

The only way by which it can be ended is through the energetic action of an enlightened and aroused public opinion.

Similar intolerance on race antagonism is mean, un-Christian, and immoral.

That there are real differences between the various races into which humanity is divided, all of us, except certain anthropologists, well understand, admit and appreciate.

These differences, however, offer no just grounds for intolerance, proscription, or hatred. Throughout our history we find episodes indicating that such hatreds have sprung up from time to time, and that often they have caused incalculable misery and sorrow. There is no record of a single occasion in which civilization has been advanced because of any of their operations.

Just now it is the Jew who, in the United States, is bearing the brunt of antagonism based upon race hatred.

To endeavor to determine the exact reason for this, would be to undertake that which is impossible of complete accomplishment, and, furthermore, would be to undertake a useless task, for tomorrow it may be the Slav, or the Italian, or some other particular group against which some body of inhabitants of the United States may decide to direct their animosity.

How are manifestations of this sort, so distressing to their victims and so inimical to the mental and the psychological progress of the nation, to be avoided?

Consider first, that remedy which has been tried most frequently and which invariably has failed. We have learned by repeated experiences that intolerance cannot be cured by law.

Only public opinion, a genuine conviction on the part of the vast majority, can bring manifestations of intolerance to an end in this or any other country.

The public opinion that is capable of doing this, and indeed, that is sure to do it, can be the product only of enlightenment.

JUDGE ATTACKSPRESS MUZZLE.

Portland, Ore., July 12.—The right of the American people and the American press to criticize the courts of the country is one which must ever be zealously guarded.

A woman, if she commits a murder, should pay the penalty, even though it be death, just the same as a man convicted of a similar crime.

These were two emphatic expressions here today by a woman occupying a distinctive position in American professional life—Judge Florence Ellenwood Allen—associate justice of the supreme court of Ohio, here attending the fifth annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Discussing the case of Carl Magee, the New Mexico editor facing a prison sentence following conviction on a charge of libel, the outgrowth of articles published in his newspaper, Judge Allen said:

"The tendency to abridge the press and public in expressing their opinions of our courts must be halted. It is merely fiction that our courts are too perfect to be criticized."

"Jurists must not lose sight of the fact that the courts were made for the people and not the people for the courts."

Following a day of discussion, the convention adopted a resolution commending conference between business women and those in industry for the proposed eight-hour day and minimum wage legislation for women.

VIEWS $25,000,000 CUT
IN TAX VALUATIONS.

Austin, July 14.—A total of 205 counties have reported their estimated tax valuations and the decrease under last year is $18,722,000.

J. W. Stewart, chief tax clerk in the Comptroller's Department, said Saturday that the decrease will be approximately $25,000,000 under last year, when all the returns are in from the 254 counties. All of the estimates are supposed to be in hand Monday, as the automatic tax law requires the assessors to submit their estimates by July 15, and the automatic tax board to meet within five days and fix the State tax rates. Thus the board is to meet not later than next Friday. However, its action has already been forecast by the large deficiency and the necessity for levying the maximum tax rates, the aggregate of which will be 75c on each $100 of valuation, being 35 cents for general purposes, 35 cents for schools and 5 cents for pensions.

Mr. Stewart said that all the large counties have submitted their estimates and that they usually show a healthy increase, but that, notwithstanding, the decrease has grown. It is because of this fact that he is able to predict a gross decrease of $25,000,000. This will not help the deficiency, but will add to it, as the tax money will be reduced accordingly.

It now appears that every factor entering into the revenue problem is for making the deficiency larger. The taxable values have decreased and the appropriations increased with a deficit of $4,000,000 or more on September 1st.

Frequent
Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Thedford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught.

NO ONE CAN RIDE BEER KEG TO WHITE HOUSE.

New Yor, July 14.—"No one can ride to the White House on the top of an outlawed beer keg.

With this statement Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, disposed of Gov. Smith's chances for presidency before sailing Saturday on the President Harding to attend a meeting in Copenhagen next month of the international congress against alcohol. He departed as the appointee of President Harding.

SOME SIMPLE RULE FOR AVOIDING FIRES.

Ashes, whether inside or outside the house, should be placed in metal receptacles. Rags or clothes used in oiling floors or polishing furniture often ignite spontaneously. They should be stored in metal containers or else burned after using. If kerosene lamps are used, keep them clean and well filled, for those allowed to burn with little oil in them are liable to explode.

Hanging electric light cords on nails or hooks is almost certain in time to destroy or injure the insulation; this condition may cause a fire. Kerosene should not be used to enliven a fire, nor poured into a range or furnace even when the fire is out. An electric light bulb used for warming beds or for drying clothes is almost certain to start a fire.

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTES.

CHERRY-BUCK.

One of the most interesting events of the season, to her many friends, was the marriage of Miss Elsie Buck to Mr. Carroll Cherry of Flatonia. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the ranch home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Buck.

The impressive lines of the marriage service were read by Rev. S. F. Marsh. The bride was charming in her bridal gown of Lanvin green Canton crepe, featuring an apron of all-over silk embroidery, the silk embroidery was lavishly used for further trimming, while a ribbon girdle with flower corsage completed the pretty costume.

The living room, where the ceremony took place, was brightened with sunflowers and dainty ferns. After the ceremony, delicious iced fruit punch was served; Mrs. Lee J. Corkill presided at the punch bowl table which had been transformed into a bower of greenery and sunflowers. Only the family of the bride and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Corkill, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKee, Mrs. Carl Wolf, Walter Buck and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Buck.

The event was a surprise to Miss Elsie's many friends. She had met Mr. Cherry while on a visit at Flatonia. On his first visit to Kimble County he claimed her as his own. Mr. Cherry is in the railroad business at Flatonia. The glimpse that our people had of him revealed an intelligent and accomplished young gentleman.

Mrs. Cherry is a charming young woman who is known and loved throughout Kimble County. She will be missed by her friends here but they all unite in wishing the young couple all happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cherry left immediately after the ceremony for San Antonio where they will spend a few days before going to their home in Flatonia.

Mr. Toepperwein is a brother of Emil Toepperwein of the Luckenbach Hardware Co., of Menard. He states that Editor Davis of the Boerne Star had sent him here to catch bait for us in the Boerne country.

LONDON NEWS.

The hot, dry weather, with such pests as the grasshoppers, has been a source of discouragement to the farmer, but by persistent efforts on their part, the crops look fairly good in this section.

A short while back Clyde Brewer, who lives near London, caught a porcupine in a trap and still has it in captivity. Judging from the number of people who have gone to see this little animal and from the quills which have been plucked from its back we think this young man might have charged for admittance and quills, and have made quite a neat sum of money.

Musical "stunts" of all kinds will be features of the evening.

Discouragement

COMES TO Us all. But it is up to us to meet all emergencies. Because we are not getting the rain that we think we need is no reason for discouragement.

THERE ARE Too many things to do to find time to complain. Plenty of feed is already on the ground and should be saved while the weather permits. The very fact that rains are not falling to provide moisture for planting late crops, is a good reason why the feed already made should be saved. We will need it thiswinter, or the surplus can be sold.

SAVE Every bit of feed stuff that your land has produced.
