Jim Shearhart Named State Hybrid Grain Sorghum Champ

Representatives Of Sugar Beet Groups To Meet

A meeting limited to representatives of sugar beet organizations in Texas and New Mexico will be held Wednesday, Jan. 4, in the Community Room of the First National Bank of Hereford.

The meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will not be open to the public. It will be conducted for briefing organizations planning to go to Washington in connection with sugar beet legislation.

Some 22 counties have been invited to send representatives to the meeting, which will be under direction of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers' Association, H. L. Benefield of Hereford is president of the Association.

Benefield and James W. Witherspoon and J. H. Sears, also of Hereford, will be on hand to answer questions asked by representatives. All have had a year's background in work connected with the securing of favorable sugar beet acreage.

They will suggest size of groups and dates representatives should go to Washington to give their viewpoint on the situation.

Fourteen-year-old Jim Shearhart of Hereford finally reached the top rung of a ladder he has been climbing for three years — when he was named state champion in the 1960 Texas Hybrid Grain Sorghum Contest this week.

The lanky, quiet youth has made two previous tries for top honors in the annual competition, placing third in 1958 and second in 1959.

In addition to being named state champion, the young farmer also won first place in the Area II irrigated acreage division of the contest, which is sponsored by Texas Hybrid Grain Sorghum Association.

Shearhart, an eighth grade student at Stanton Junior High, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shearhart, who farm and ranch 13 miles northeast of Hereford.

The youth's father placed second in the irrigation section of the hybrid grain sorghum contest. Bill Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cole of Hereford, placed third in the same division.

Shearhart grew RS-610 hybrid variety of grain sorghum on his five-acre plot. The crop yielded 7,892.9 pounds per acre.

His father and Cole also raised RS-610 variety. Harold Shearhart's crop yielded 7,633.51 pounds, and Cole's crop produced 7,103.0 pounds to the acre.

The first place winner will receive $50 for taking top honors in the irrigation division of the state competition and a plaque for being named state champion.

Pick Top Ten News Stories For Past Year

The year 1960 was an eventful one in Hereford and Deaf Smith County. It saw many activities which will be remembered.

What then were the news that made it different from past years? The Hereford Brand news staff picked the following as the ten most outstanding news stories of 1960.

1. A home for the aging for Hereford, carried from a dream, through a fund drive, planning and near reality all in one year.

2. Problems of the city, county and school in trying to decide how to value property for tax equalization purposes.

3. A determined drive, not yet completed, to secure more sugar beet acreage for this area.

4. Weather in all forms: tornadoes, rain, snow, hail and more rain, particularly as it affected agriculture.

5. Elections, both the national election and the unusually strong local races at the county and district level.

6. Completion of the new Hereford County Club.

7. Opening and extremely wide use of the new Hereford Community Center.

8. Changes in the county judgeship and school superintendency.

9. Tie between the completion of the new county jail and renovated courthouse and the work done by the Hereford Migrant Ministry Committee.

10. The most memorable sports event, as Hereford beat Phillips in football for the first time in ten years and broke the Blackhawks' six-game winning streak.

There were many other major stories. Among them were contract lettings for widening U.S. 60 inside the city and the county, the Moreman Street paving squabble, the Harvest Festival, Hereford's battle to tie for the district basketball crown, winning the district basketball title, change in hospital administrators.

And perhaps it was some other event that will make 1960 memorable in your mind. But certainly, 1960 was not a dull or a "do nothing" year in Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Area II includes about 100 counties in Texas, which consists of five Extension Service Districts.

Jim Shearhart this September was named 4-H Wheat King at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. He has been a member of the Hereford 4-H Club for five years.

In the fall of 1959, he was on the drill box survey team with about 15 other 4-H youths who made a field testing program to check purity and yields of certain varieties of wheat grown in Deaf Smith County.

Shearhart also has placed in beef calf production contest. In the annual Hereford Junior Livestock Show, his calves placed fourth in 1957, sixth and tenth in 1959 and fourth in 1960. One of his calves placed second in the 1960 Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

He plans to continue farming after completing his education.

Poll Taxes Go On Sale Tuesday

State poll taxes will go on sale in the Deaf Smith County Tax Assessor-Collector's office on Tuesday, Jan. 3 and will remain on sale through Tuesday, Jan. 31.

Although this is an "off year" for elections, Texas will get to put their poll tax to work early in the special election to name a U. S. Senator, replacing Lyndon B. Johnson.

For last year's presidential campaign, voters turned out early to set a new record for poll taxes sold in this county.

Every person between 21 and 60 must have a poll tax in order to vote in Texas. Exemptions are made for those above age 60, with those becoming 21 and new residents getting a free poll tax.

The poll tax originally was levied by the Republic of Texas in 1837 solely as a revenue tax. In 1902, the Texas Constitution was amended to make the poll tax a requirement for voting.

Of the $1.75 charged for each poll tax, the money is allocated on the following basis: $1 for school purposes; 50 cents for general state revenue; and 25 cents for county fund purposes.

Major Projects Lacking As Residential Building Soars

Although there was a noticeable lack of "major" construction activity in Hereford in 1960, 142 building permits were issued by City Hall during the year for a total valuation of more than a million dollars — which shows Hereford is still growing fast.

Highlighting building during the year was construction of 54 new one-family dwellings.

Construction of publicly-owned units and additions and alterations to existing structures constituted most of the other enlarging of the community. Permits issued during the year totaled a valuation of $1,068,415. That figure is shadowed by $1,519,361 for 133 permits issued in 1959.

Fifty-four permits for construction of one-family homes during the year amounted to $752,250. Average cost figures out to approximately $14,000 per home. Estimated costs of homes built or being built ranged from $3,500 to $90,000.

The 1960 total falls short of the preceding year's valuation in building permits by $450,946. Record year for building in the city was recorded in permits totaling $2,028,295 in 1955, which was $959,880 more than for 1960.

Permits for the past year showed that building activity was fairly evenly distributed throughout the 12 months. Construction projects were hampered somewhat by unusually heavy rainfall this year.

Monthly totals were: 11 permits in January for $67,850; 12 permits in February for $33,500; 13 permits in March for $94,735; 17 permits in April for $85,480; 11 permits in May for $85,500; 16 permits in June for $77,800.

Seven permits in July for $43,600; eight permits in August for $95,000; 17 permits in September for $133,500; 13 permits in October for $53,700; 11 permits in November for $175,100; and seven permits in December for $84,200.

The year got off to an average start, as 36 permits were issued during the first quarter — January, February and March for an estimated valuation of $236,085.

The next quarter contributed 43 permits for $247,230, bringing the total for the first six months to 79 permits issued for $483,315.

The third quarter of the year saw 32 more permits issued in amount of $272,100, bringing the total for the first nine months to 111 permits for $756,415.

Thirty-one permits issued during the final quarter of 1960 added $313,000 to the year's total of $1,068,415.

The year 1960 was a time for "finishing up" of three major projects in Hereford, the new Country Club, Hereford Community Center, and Deaf Smith County Courthouse. Permits for those three units were issued in 1959.

Permits issued in 1959 for one-family homes totaled $466,100 for 33 permits issued. September was the "gusher" month for home builders that year, when $122,500 was included in six permits issued.

Big month for home builders during 1960 was September, when six permits for estimated cost of $168,500 were issued by City Hall. A $90,000 home was included in that

Around Town

There's nothing quite like starting out the New Year on the right foot (particularly since the left one) and that's the way this year started for the Brand. Type like, which are similar to the gremlins of World War II, got into our plant and fouled things up royally. As if that weren't enough, we are going to try to set the readers straight. Here's what happened: we got the society page where the editorial page belonged. Therefore, the continuation from the editorial page will be found on page two of the third sections, which is numbered as Section Two. And the continuations from the society page will be found on page two of the second section, which is numbered as Section Three. Better still, just take our word for it that the continuations of all stories are in the paper somewhere. While you're at it, just relax and read all the Dollar Day ads that are inside.

Local residents who desire to get diphtheria shots, but are unable to pay for them, are advised to go by the county welfare office for aid. (Continued on page 3)

Win One Class Has Yule Party

The annual Christmas program was held Tuesday, Dec. 20, by the Win One Class of the First Methodist Church. Held in Fellowship Hall, traditional holiday theme prevailed.

Mrs. C. B. Williams was in charge of the program and led the group in singing favorite Christmas carols. Mrs. A. C. Thompson and Mrs. Lillian Bilbro presented a vocal duet.

The legend of the first Yule was presented and Mrs. William McGehee gave the secretary's report. Mrs. A. C. Pierce reported on the cheer committee.

Fruits and vegetables were brought by class members to be given to the local minister for the Methodist Church for Latin Americans.

Gifts were also brought to sent to the two girls supported by the class in the Methodist Home located in Waco.

Refreshments of orange slice candy cake, fruit cake and cocoa were served to Mesdames William McGehee, C. B. Williams, J. F. Ward, A. C. Thompson, I. H. Spratt, E. W. Harrison, H. M. Benefield, Clemmie Randall, J. E. Byer, Fred Higgins, A. C. Pierce, M. F. Cherry, Laura Thomas, Andy Thomas, D. H. Bryant, Mary Woolroy, W. A. Gearn, C. E. Boone, and Misses Nettie Green and Miss Lula Botsford.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Duderstadt and Mrs. Hershel Thurston were special guests.

Hostesses for the event were Mesdames W. A. Gearn, C. E. Boone, J. F. Ward and Andy Thomas.

BACK FROM HAWAII

Mrs. Helen McCauley has recently returned from a vacation trip to Honolulu, Hawaii. Accompanying her were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Yates of Hillsdale, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Brownlee and daughter, Peggy, of Danville, Calif. The vacationers visited all points of interest on the island, including the Dole pineapple factory, the orchid gardens and Waikiki Beach.

where the shots will be given free so long as the toxoid is available. This information was released this week by Bill Fielder, manager of the clinic.

Mrs. Harold Rudd is going into retirement as a correspondent for the Westway community. Mrs. George Zetche will take over as the Westway correspondent. Her telephone number is AV 9-413. She asks that you call and give her your news.

Tickets are on sale now for the Glass Bowl basketball doubleheader which will be held Tuesday, Jan. 10. You can buy tickets at Hereford Bakery, Dub's Man's Shop, McDowell Drug or from any Kiwanis Club member. All proceeds from the games will be used to purchase glass backboards for the high school gym. One game will match the Kiwanis Club and the Lions Club. In the other contest, the high school faculty will take on the junior high faculty.

Three calves raised by two Deaf Smith County youngsters will be entered in the Odessa Fat Stock Show this week. Two calves raised by Larry Minks, 14, and another raised by Debbie Thomas, 11, will be shown in Odessa on Thursday, Jan. 5. County Agent J. W. "Lefty" Thomas took the calves to the show Saturday. Weigh-in is scheduled for Sunday.

Two Hereford players, Carl Miller and Dennis Hodges, were named to the all-tournament team at the conclusion of the Caprock Holiday Invitational tournament in Lubbock Wednesday night.

Signs of the changing times: An itinerant printer came in to the Brand office Saturday morning and the girls didn't even know that such a unique creature existed. Anyone who worked in a newspaper office before 1942 can recall that nearly all the printers in the shop would be wanderers who would stay from a week to three months before drifting to another job. And it was a rare week when at least one didn't show up asking if you had an opening. But times change, and you rarely see one anymore. Maybe they got tired trying to keep up with so many W-2 forms for their income tax return.

Sit down and make a list of New Year's Resolutions! Promise to do things you missed. Be firm and stick by your guns. But it's much easier to make Only those you can break.

BY JIMMIE GILLEN
Most people are inclined to over-emphasize their troubles. If you happen to use two dabs of a certain hair pomade, things could really get serious but, for the most part, our troubles are little ones, hanging on things like a need for money, affection and good health.

tice where they have some real troubles. The inauguration parade is coming up and the birds do not seem to realize the full importance of the occasion. Already, they have sprayed the trees along Pennsylvania Avenue with $5,000 worth of chemical which smells bad to birds and at the same time gives them a mild chemical hot foot. Still, they are afraid they may run into trouble.

In Boston, Mass., the taxi drivers have organized a special service for New Year's eve celebrators; for double fare they will take the tippler home in the cab, while another driver pilots his personal automobile close behind. In Houston, they offer the same service without charge. Thirty special sheriff's deputies have been employed to drive revelers home free on request.

You also run into a certain group of people who have no troubles, and have to make their own. These people are the ones who go out of their way to make up a bunch of resolutions which everybody knows they won't keep - especially their wives. These resolutions include such things as losing weight, quitting smoking, driving slower on the highways, and never again losing one's temper with the children. They provide a great American sport, which even the New Year bowl games cannot challenge. So me of them last a full week, while others suffer a more abbreviated termination.

And a few people just cannot complain. Laura Milburn, for instance, got the best Christmas present any woman could ask: a fine, registered bird dog.

This recalls the story of the time Jim Robinson gave his wife an expensive, high powered rifle one Christmas. Everything went along fine until Jim was telling a friend about his find gun, and suggested that the friend use it on a hunting trip. "Just go by the house and tell Ethyl I said let you have it," he said.

"No!" declared Mrs. Robinson. "This is my gun. I got it for Christmas, and no one

VISIT OWENS' HOME

Mrs. Emma Owens and Juel of Portales, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Owens of Bovina were visitors Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Owens.

BORROWS IT

My wife has an aunt who bought her husband an antique chair one year for his birthday, and he was so elated over the gift that he bought her a new saddle when her birthday rolled around.

A lot of people are never satisfied. Les Combs, for instance, is unhappy with my weather predictions. He sent me a high-powered sheet that says January, 1969, will be about normal (average 37-degree temperature for Amarillo.) The sheet says this will be far different from last January which was extremely cold and wet in this area.

Personally, I am looking for some cold weather, including at least one snow in January. Moisture should run about average. I hate to agree with someone else - but that's how it looks to me.

I notice where the County Commissioners passed up The Brand offer of free space to tell why they do not want a tax equalization survey. There were two long pieces in the Amarillo papers, however. I read them both, and the main thing I got was that they are going to do things "their way" - and they don't want anybody telling them how, or making suggestions. This sounds a little bit high-handed to me, but I guess it is no worse than failure to equalize the taxes. Besides, I don't think anybody really meant it like it sounded. A lot of this situation is due to friction between the groups. It started a way back with the rural fire truck deal, and the Morem a Street paving didn't help a bit.

They are probably just as mad at me and at The Brand and, as usual, there are two sides to every question. On the other hand, I still think we are entitled to tax equalization as guaranteed under the Constitution, and the people - minority or majority - are entitled to a fair shake when it comes to collecting or spending of public money, acquired through forced tax collections. And if you don't think the collections are forced, just let 'em go long enough and see what happens to your property.

You hardly ever hear the term "sissy" anymore. The reason is probably due to the fact that youngsters who run home to hide behind their mother's skirts always find her wearing slacks.

Wedding Ceremony Performed In Home

Simplicity keyed the exchange of vows uniting Miss Jeanette Worthan and Johnny Hodges in marriage Monday, Dec. 19.

The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Clarence Powell, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Olson.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Worthan of Frio and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hodges, also of Frio.

Wedding vows were spoken as the couple stood before a natural wood arch. Floral arrangements were baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a pale avocado green silk dress as her wedding costume. Accessories were in black. She wore a white carnation corsage and carried a white Bible.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The bride's table was overlaid with an elaborate white lace cloth and decorated with an arrangement of white mums, accented with greenery.

Miss Norma Jean Worrick served the cake, which was iced in white and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Martha Duncan presided at the punch bowl.

Guests were registered by Miss Earlene Worthan of Abernathy.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Worthan of Abernathy.

The living room was dominated by a white Christmas tree, decorated with white net angels, white doves and gold balls. White lights added a fairyland touch to this unusual tree.

Each member answered roll call by telling of a family tradition in her home at Christmas.

Mesdames R. B. Miller, D. H. Alexander, Philip Barkley, H. L. Thurston and Colby Conkright, serving on the social committee, had charge of all the arrangements.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Janet Elmore, Owen Bybee Jr.

Miss Janet Lucy Elmore of Dallas became the bride of Owen Lynn Bybee Jr., in an impressive double ring ceremony Friday, Dec. 30, at 2 p. m.

The couple pledged vows in St. Matthew's Episcopal Cathedral in Dallas, with the Rev. George A. Dettor officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Elmore, 7129 West Lake, Dallas. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Bybee, 134 Star, Hereford.

The wedding chapel was decorated with the traditional Episcopal Christmas decorations. Bright red poinsettias added touches of color to the altar arrangements.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Henry Sanderson of Dallas at the organ.

The bride, wearing a formal bridal gown of off-white silk tulle, was escorted to the altar by her father. The dress featured an unadorned portrait neckline and long tapering sleeves ending in dainty petal points over the bride's hands. The waistline and midriff were accented with clusters of pearl-studded lace encircling soft bias folds. The smooth floor-length skirt ended in a sweeping chapel train. A small pearl-studded lace calotte held the misty veil of tiered silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of feathered carnations and stephanotis, centered with an orchid, and was carried atop a lace covered prayer book.

Mrs. Dale H. Cowser of Corpus Christi served as matron of honor and Miss Mary Ann Smith of Dallas acted as bridesmaid. The attendants were identically attired in emerald green dresses, styled in princess fashion and featuring scoop necklines and tiny cap sleeves. Long opera gloves and matching emerald green silk taffeta calottes and green shoes completed the ensembles. The attendants carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums intermixed with stephanotis.

Bruce Bybee of Adrian assisted his brother as best man and Gordon W. Elmore of Dallas, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman. Ushers were Gerald G. Bybee of Hereford, also a brother of the groom; and Don Teague and Thomas A. Boea of Dallas.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Great Hall of St. Matthew's Cathedral. The bride's table carried out the white and red Christmas theme which was used in the church.

Members of the houseparty were Misses Nancy Cone, Bethlyn Hand and Penny McPhail of Dallas; Miss Pat Price of San Antonio, Miss Janelle Jones of Austin, Miss Judy Stringer of Houston, Miss Julia Ann Partain of Amarillo and Mrs. Bruce Bybee of Adrian.

The bride chose as a going away costume a jacket dress of gold light weight wool. It was highlighted by a brown fur collar and this darker brown was carried out in the colors of her accessories. The couple will make their home at 516 North Frost in Pampa.

The bride is a 1960 honor graduate of Southern Methodist University in Dallas. She was an active member of Gamma Phi Beta Social Sorority and served as rush chairman and corresponding secretary of Alpha.

Tech Students Exchange Vows

Miss Jane Evalyn Newsom and Norman Ben Bookout were united in marriage Thursday evening in the First Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Newsom, 130 Ave. C, and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bookout, 511 Schley.

The Rev. Herschel Thurston officiated over the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with sunburst arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums against a background of banked emerald palms and circular candelabra holding white tapers. The communion table was centered with a gold cross, flanked by two brass vases of white chrysanthemums and tall white tapers.

Mrs. Bill Stanford, organist, played "Clair De Lune," by Debussy, as the bride's mother was escorted to her seat in the family pew. Mrs. Newsom chose a dress of blue silk shantung and matching flower hat for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were navy.

Mrs. Hugh Bookout, mother of the groom, wore a dress of mauve lace, complimented with white accessories. Each wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Stanford accompanied the soloist, Miss Nancy Crawford, as she sang "Beca use" by D'Hardelot and "O Promise Me" by DeKevon.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a formal gown of candlelight blue de sole styled with a flattering low-necked bodice and elbow length sleeves. The bouffant bell-shaped skirt was fashioned with back fullness and featured a large bow delicately ornamented with tiny seed pearls.

The skirt fell gracefully into a chapel train and her fingertip veil imported French illusion was caught at the crown with a scalloped queen's crown of French lace embellished with seed pearls and rhinestones.

She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and her mother's engagement ring on her right hand. Her wedding attire was completed with the addition of long white gloves. Her crescent-shaped bridal bouquet was formed of white roses and stephanotis centered with a cattleya orchid.

Miss Carlynn Williams of Hereford was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Daniel of Hereford and Mrs. Barry Lynn Jones of El Paso.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identically styled dresses of electric blue satin. Their dresses were fashioned with scoop necklines, shirred bodices and bell-shaped skirts adorned with a bow at the waistline in back. Their headpieces were of matching blue satin and they wore short white gloves. Each carried a crescent arrangement of white Frenched carnations.

Robert Newsom, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer and Cynthia Newsom of Garden City, Kan., a niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in a white taffeta dress with a back bow at the waistline. The sleeves of her dress were puffed and edged with lace.

Don Bookout of Tulsa assisted his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Barry Lynn Jones of El Paso, David Wertenberger, of Hereford, Winston Allison of Muleshoe and Ed Merrick of Lamesa.

Miss Crawford sang "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap at the close of the ceremony.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a floor-length white nylon net cloth over taffeta. Narrow satin binding edged the net cloth. Centering the table was a tall silver candelabrum holding five votive lights. Glittered carnations were arranged around the candles. The tiered wedding cake, frosted in white, and a silver coffee service completed the table arrangements.

Punch was served from a second table, which was covered with a white imported grass-linen cloth. White tapers and the bridesmaids' bouquets formed the centerpiece. Appointments were in silver and crystal.

Serving in the house party at the reception were Mesdames Jimmie Durham, Robert Wagoner, Grady Rogers, Steve Williams, Tony Urbanek, Herschel Thurston and Misses Mary Katherine Huckert, Twyla Springer, Heidi Rutishauser and Sandra Moore.

Mrs. Carroll Newsom, Mrs. Wayne Newsom, Mrs. Don Bookout, Miss Sue Springer and Miss Joe Scott alternated at the coffee and cake service during the reception.

Christmas was observed at the Casa De Amigos. Herbert Boardman gave a short talk on why we of the Migrant Ministry are there, ministering to the needs of Latin Americans. About 50 children and 12 mothers were present.

Each individual was presented a health kit and a wrapped present. The gifts were given by the Presbyterian church.

SICK COSTS RISE
GEARHART, Ore. (AP) — You can look for the cost of hospitalization to go up in the years ahead, says the director of the National Hospital Association.

Dr. Edwin L. Crosby told an Oregon hospital group convention that for the past five years hospital costs have gone up 5 per cent a year. This just reflects general trends and is likely to continue, he said.

Dr. Crosby said that in the last decade the cost of educating a child in school has gone up 200 per cent while cost of caring for a patient in a hospital has gone up 100 per cent.

TOO MUCH LOVE
EHRHARDT, S. C. (AP) — Jody Morris, 10, of Augusta, Ga., was so delighted to see his grandmother, Mrs. Roy Morris, that he vowed he'd hug her with all his strength.

He did. Mrs. Morris was sent to bed with a broken rib and strained muscles.

Up In the Air

BY BENNY WOMBLE
Needless to say, the weather lately has been nearly too bad for much aviating. But when we have a nice day now and then several take advantage and take to the air.

The boys at the airport have a new Cessna 150 with a full gyro panel and radio. They tell me that they have already put about 15 hours on it in renting it out.

Arliiss Edwards is a new student, although he has some time in previously. Dick Kendrick and Frankie Longhofer are about ready to solo at this time. Norman Beauchamp has been checking out in the 150 Cessna and shooting some night landings this week.

Roger Osborn is home from Tech for the holidays and has been flying the Luscombe. Roger is working on his private license now and hopes to be the proud owner of some soon. His father Glen had better get on the ball or Roger will be carrying his Dad up, instead of vice-versa.

Curtis Traweck made a cross-country last weekend in the Blue Air Service Skylane.

The city has made a needed improvement around the office this week by putting caliche down. I know that everyone will appreciate this since they will not have to ford the river anymore to get their airplane.

I don't have much more for this time. My family flew to Tucumcari, N. M., Monday and returned, where we visited with my wife's sister and her family.

SAVINGS SAVE DAY
SOLANA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A woman seeking funds for a plane ticket to her mother's funeral back East recalled a savings account that her mother had opened jointly in their names.

She withdrew the entire amount — $251.59. Her plane ticket came to $251.79.

The five Supervisors who handle the business of the District are elected by farmers and ranchers within their area, and serve voluntarily and without pay. Members of the local Board of Supervisors are Luther Lesly, H. N. Benson, Carl Wimberly, Ira Scott and Eldred Brown.

Governor Price Daniel recently wrote of the Soil Conservation District movement; "I would like to say that I am highly pleased with the soil conservation work in the Soil Conservation Districts and in our state. I am a strong believer and supporter of the program and assure my continued cooperation in every way."

President-elect John Kennedy has cited the movement as the outstanding example of cooperative action to solve mutual problems on a local level.

The Knights Of Columbus Oath

Notwithstanding the indisputable proofs of its falsity, certain newspapers, organizations and individuals continue to print and circulate a certain bogus "oath" and to represent that the same is taken or subscribed to by the Knights of Columbus.

This so-called "oath" is false and libelous and is part of a propaganda based on bigotry. No proof that the Knight of Columbus take this alleged "oath" is offered and none can be produced.

If you have received a copy of this bogus "oath" and have believed it, perhaps you have received anti-Catholic literature and have believed it. Band News

BY ROYCE ANN GILLILAND
The Stanton Junior High Dogie Band had its last outing of the season Saturday, Dec. 3, when the band marched in the Santa Claus parade. The band's reaction was that it surely was cold.
Now that we've finally gotten settled down inside, we have started sight reading and picking out songs we like best.
Thursday, Dec. 15, we played for an assembly in the school auditorium. We played "Appalachian Suite" and a few Christmas carols.
After Christmas we will really start rolling and working hard for the spring contests.

Good Health Should Be A Cinch For These Students

BY ANN MERCER AND LARRY FUHRMAN

There are eight students in Stanton Junior High School who should never have tummy aches, tooth aches, or back aches. They are the children of doctors, dentists, and chiropractors.
Edward Mims, son of Dr. A. T. Mims, says he is not glad his father is a doctor. Edward is 12 years old, but only gets to celebrate his birthday every four years since he was born on February 29. Edward lives at 609 East Fifth Street. His ambition is to be a major league baseball player. This past summer Edward played on the Cardinal baseball team. He also played with the Little League All Stars. This year he has played on the Stanton football and basketball teams. Edward is the homeroom representative from Mrs. Welch's homeroom. Edward says it doesn't make him mad for he and his father plan to go somewhere and then for his father to have to go out on a call. For one reason, Edward says his father won't let him yell as loudly as he likes at football games.
Andy Chanter has a little bit different opinion. Andy is the son of Dr. John H. Chanter. Andy is 11 years old and lives at 607 South 25 Mile Avenue. Andy says his ambition is to be a doctor. His hobby is all kinds of sports, although he doesn't participate in any sports at school. Andy says that he is glad that his father is a doctor because he doesn't mind his father's helping him to get well. Andy says it makes him mad for his dad and him to plan to go somewhere and then for his dad to get called out on a case.

Jim Owen's ambition is to date all the good looking girls in the world. He definitely doesn't want to be a dentist. His dad gripes at him about his teeth, or so he says.
Susan Stapp wants to be a beauty operator. She doesn't know what she would want her father to be if he weren't a doctor, so she's satisfied.
The ambition of Patti Nobles is to be a nurse. She would want her father to be a farmer if he weren't a doctor (so she could have a horse). Her dad keeps her in good health. "Just make some money," is all that Lewis Barnett wants to do. He would wish for his dad to be a farmer or a rancher if he weren't a doctor.

Horses are a favorite of David Grubbs. He wants to raise and sell them someday. He would want his father to raise horses if he weren't a doctor.
Debbie Beene enjoys going to school and participating in all the school and community activities. She enjoys her work in the junior high school library.

Ideal Girl
BY SAMMY CURTSINGER
My ideal girl would have the personality of Jo Ann Ferguson, the hair of Myrna Botkin, smile of Royce Ann Gilliland, figure of Peggy Neff and manners of Carolyn Boynton. She would be as intellectual as Gayle Newell, as nicely-dressed as Linda Martin, as friendly as Becky Johnson, and as beautiful as Linda Rickman. Also have the eyes of Nan Neal, the nose of Lynn Sowell, the voice of Cynthia Leasure, the ears of Betty Mae Scott, and she should be as witty as Marsha Robinson, and have the feet of Camellia Ann Anderson.

Dear Miss Lonely Heart:

Dear Miss Lonely Heart,

I need to find a boy friend my own age. I don't have many friends in junior high. I have to hang around with the high school kids. I don't get to go everywhere with the kids in Stanton because of this. Some and most of the junior high kids say that I act like a nine-year-old; well how do I pass for a 16 year-old when I meet a senior then? Explain!
Too Young

Dear Too Young,

Maybe you feel and act older when you are with an older crowd. Try to act that way when you are with your own age group.

Dear Miss Lonely Heart,

I am going steady with a boy 18 years old. I am only thirteen now, but I will have a birthday in four more months. I like this boy very much and we get along just fine; but for a Christmas present he wants to get me an engagement ring. My mother and father would probably keel over if they knew. I'm so sick of being told to wait until I'm sixteen that I am afraid I am going to accept this ring. What can I do?

Little Miss Blue
P. S. This is very true, and I want a very true and very thoughtful answer.

Dear Miss Blue,

Father knows best and so does Mother. Fourteen is awfully young to become engaged to and so much care-free fun to be had in high school; thirteen is so much younger. There is so much to look school.

What I want to know, though, what is a thirteen-year-old doing dating, much less steady dating, and an eighteen-year-old too?

Red Cross Group Discusses Plans

BY KATHLEEN KUPER

The Stanton Junior Red Cross met Dec. 21, to discuss plans for making Valentine favors for the Veterans' Hospital.

Red Cross group has just completed 200 Christmas favors and 100 crossword puzzles. They are planning to make some jig-saw puzzles and to collect more comic books.

Kathleen Kuper, president, read a letter from Henrietta Brooks thanking Mrs. Neely and her Juniors for the album sent to Japan last year.

Plans for future meetings include making Valentine and Easter favors and cards, jig-saw puzzles, collecting comic books and working on a scrapbook to be sent to Latin-Americans this year. David Marcontell is the chairman of the scrapbook committee. The group also is making plans to present an assembly in the future.

The Junior Red Cross has a safety committee which will meet after the Christmas holidays. Its work includes putting up safety posters in the halls of our schools.

The next meeting will be after the Christmas holidays. The last meeting was closed by singing Christmas carols.

Students Present School Programs

BY CAROLYN BOYNTON

Almost every week Stanton Junior High School has an assembly program presented by a different homeroom or organization. We have had several good programs the last few weeks.

Mr. Jones' homeroom gave a very good play called "Longhorn" on Tuesday, Dec. 13. On Thursday, Dec. 15, the Stanton Junior High School band, consisting of eighth, ninth, and a few seventh graders directed by Mr. Ben Gollehon, gave a very good program.

The band played several songs and Christmas carols. Wednesday, Dec. 21, Mr. Moore's choir, seventh, eighth, and ninth graders, put on a wonderful Christmas pageant which made the Christmas spirit real. It was on the Christmas story and scriptures.

We plan to have many more good programs in 1961.

The Story Of A Christmas Tree

BY JAMES O. COMBS

I was "hatched" from a pine cone,
On a Rocky Mountain slope;
Many of my kin were eaten by the deer and antelope.
Once a forest ranger saved me
From a raging forest fire;
Cut an earthen strip around me
With a tool of steel and wire.
'Tis a wonder I was living
When I saw a woodsman walk,
Then bent down and marked my branches.

With a colored piece of chalk.
Then he left, and another man came
And cut me clean in two;
I certainly didn't like it
But there was nothing I could do.

I was stored for three months
In a cold room,
And then yet another man came;
He picked me from hundreds of others,
And took me outside in the rain.

It wasn't long, however,

"Til I was taken into his home;
And my crown was adorned beautifully
With a red and green glass dome.
Colored balls were hung from my branches,
And golden bells here and there;
And finally I was laden
With strands of "angel's hair."
And that is how I got here,
To give you Christmas cheer;
And now I bid you one and all,
Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

The cor anglais, or English horn, is not really a horn. It is a woodwind.

Peaceable Lane by Keith Wheeler is an explosive book, both in its subject and in its writing.

A current choice novel from the Deaf Smith County library, it is on the best-seller list and is being hotly discussed.

Peaceable Lane is a dead-end street with a loop in the end and contains 11 houses in the $25,000-$30,000 range, each on a one-acre plot.

In the center of the loop is a swimming pool, jointly owned and operated by the owners. One side of Peaceable Lane adjoins the swank Grassy Tor Country Club.

Most of the 11 homeowners commute to their jobs in New York City, coming home at night and weekends to the headaches of suburban living.

Loosely allied, the residents suddenly become welded together when they find one of their neighbors plans to sell his house to a top-flight artist.

It's not that they object to artists, but Lamar Winter happens to be a negro.

Matt Jones and Zack Gold aren't so disturbed as some of the other residents, but the thought that Winter's presence might cost them $10,000 in property values does shake them.

After a lot of frantic discussion, each of the residents except one manages to put up $3000 to buy the house and hold it for a "more suitable" buyer.

It isn't for some time that Matt, an advertising executive, finds that Winter had tried to buy the house. This puts the matter in a different light. Matt and Winter work closely together on some big accounts.

After Matt meets Margo and Tod, Winter's wife and son, he faces a difficult decision. Do they deserve to be shut out of Peaceable Lane merely because of the color of their skin? Lamar and Margo are well-educated and Lamar makes more money than any of the residents. They dress better than anyone else and drive a red Jaguar sports car.

Matt and Zack resort to subterfuge and arrange for the Winters family to move in.

With a chip on his shoulder the size of a telephone pole, Lamar doesn't set out to make it easy. He has battled his way up from Chicago's lower East Side and doesn't know how else to act.

But his battle becomes Matt's and Zack's when he word gets out. When a negro "blockbuster" sets out to panic the neighborhood open warfare breaks out.

Keith Wheeler has explored a typical American problem in dramatic detail as he shows what happens when black and white confront each other in their own back yards.

That in the end some kind of courage and integrity emerge—that some of the right answers are found to an agonizing question—is the hope offered by Peaceable Lane.

You may not like the book, you may not agree with it, but you must agree that Keith Wheeler has explored the problem thoroughly and with crackling narrative, as explosive as the black bomb on the cover of the book.

Sugar Refinery Would Result In Many Changes

Hereford and Deaf Smith County have shown tremendous growth during the past 25 years. This growth, for the most part, has been gradual and steady; no particular year has tremendously outdistanced the others. The forthcoming 12 months in 1961 may easily bring a stepped up tempo in the area, however, and it is possible that we could see somewhat of a minor "boom".

We base this optimistic outlook, in exact contrast to the national picture, on the possibility that sugar beet acreage will be allowed and contracts may well be let toward construction of a sugar refinery in the area. In the first place, spending of 20 million construction dollars is an item well worthy of consideration, covering approximately three years duration.

Mostly, though, this achievement would completely alter the outlook of the people and, as Franklin D. Roosevelt often said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself." In addition, the mere announcement of such an installation would immediately perk things up in allied lines, such as cattle feeding, prospects of a reasonable base farm income, and increased retail sales.

Like most worthwhile things, location of a beet sugar refinery here would offer most through its long-range outlook. This area has been without a base crop which offered anything like reasonable price since grain sorghum was cut from the heavy support program. Only from increased yields through efficient methods have we been able to exist at all. An annual crop of sugar beets on the present price support basis would help bring local producers up to a parallel with those who now enjoy cotton, wheat, corn and other base crop acres in reasonable amounts.

Also of some importance would be the payroll necessary to operate a sugar refinery. It is an old story, but true, that each 100 new factory workers benefit a community as follows:

450 more residents,
112 more households,
174 total additional workers employed,
107 more registered passenger cars,
Four more retail establishments,
$360,000 more in annual retail sales,
$270,000 more in bank deposits, and
$590,000 additional personal income in the community.

As pointed out recently by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce there is also another side of the story concerning the 100 new factory workers. They also contribute:

about 100 new children in the school, adding around . . . $65,000 to the school budget, cause the city to buy four acres of land,

cost police department $4,510 per year, increase fire department costs $2,820 per year, add four new city employees at a cost of $12,000 to handle garbage, sweep streets, collect taxes, etc.

the water department will pump 10,000 gallons more per day,

107 new automobiles will flow in city traffic channels, one new hospital bed will be added at a cost of around $10,000, 500 new volumes should be added to the county library, and there will probably be a need for a fraction of a jail cell.

These things most of us already knew from past experience, although we may not have had such accurate figures. We have also found that the economic benefits of community growth far outweigh the economic burdens. In general, the story is summed up in the phrase: "A community either goes forward or backward; it never stands still."

Whether a sugar refinery is erected in this territory rests first in the hands of Washington, and the possibility of our law makers shifting U. S. sugar purchases back to the states on some basis. If this move occurs, it seems to us that the entire Panhandle stands on the threshold of a new era.

Certainly, nothing could change the way people live more completely than the location of a large plant of this type in the community. It is, to say the least, one of the important things pending for 1961.

The Miracle Of Free Enterprise

An elderly gentleman named E. F. Hutton writes a syndicated column which appears in several newspapers, including the Amarillo Globe-Times, and is full of conservative wisdom. Perhaps because Mr. Hutton insists upon hewing to the free enterprise theme which built this country, his is not a popular column as that of Drew Pearson, who insists that the government should take a bigger role in American living.

Anyway, Mr. Hutton in a recent column posed the following food for thought:

Suppose you were back in 1860—100 years ago—and were asked to choose, from among the following projects, the one you thought would be the easiest to do:

1. Deliver letters and packages to the country's population.

2. Deliver the human voice around the earth in less than one twenty-seventh of a second.

3. Deliver an event, like a Shakespearean drama, into any American living room, in motion and color, at the time it is taking place.

4. Deliver 115 individuals from Los Angeles to Baltimore in 3 hours and 19 minutes.

5. Design and build a horseless carriage capable of transporting a man 100 miles an hour in air conditioned comfort.

Which of the five would you have chosen in 1860 as the easiest to do?

The first, for certain.

The other four would have been looked upon as dreams of a Jules Verne. Yet, now a century later, the last four are commonplace. Only the first has remained, with some improvement, but essentially the same system of hand sorting and hand delivering mail that worked 100 years ago. The reason?

Government planners have had charge of the mail and it has been a government monopoly since it began more than a century ago.

Men acting competitively, cooperatively, voluntarily—in economic freedom—have wrought the four miracles and countless thousands of others.

As St. Paul said, "Think on these things" before turning everything over to what Woodrow Wilson called "the palsied hand of bureaucracy."

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bradie

"Ring out the old, ring in the new . . .
Ring out the false, ring in the true."

The spirit of New Year is manifest in these lines by the great poet, Alfred Lord Tennyson, who believed: "Different language does not always imply different opinions, nor different opinions any difference in real faith . . . On God and God-like men we build our trust . . . The love of God is the true basis of duty, truth, reverence, loyalty, love, virtue and work . . . I should infinitely rather feel myself the most miserable wretch on the face of the earth with a God above, than the highest type of man standing alone . . . Closer is He than breathing and nearer than hands and feet . . . That God which ever lives and loves."

1960 Was A Wonderful Year In This County

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL
Happy New Year everybody. The year 1960 has been wonderful for our county and little city.

Our citizens go all out for anything for the betterment of the community in any way—not just for the recognition one might get from it, but because our town is a place of friendliness.

Did you ever stop to think how many meeting places we have and that are used and appreciated? Can you name them all without pause? We will start with the First National Bank's Community Room, the Hereford State Bank's Friendship Room, Pioneer Natural Gas Company's Flame Room and the Community Center. Then think of all the local men giving of their time and money to make Hereford and Deaf Smith County a better place to live.

We have organizations such as the Deaf Smith Research Foundation and Clinical Laboratory, the Business and Professional Women's Club and their work toward securing the home for the aged, the Council of Churches in the building of the Center in the Labor Camp during the summer and later finished by local help, the Community Center for Clubs and the youngsters of the city and county, and last, but not least, the hotel being run for the interest of the city and county and not just a money-making establishment.

Hereford is a little city of wonderful community-minded people, and like attracts like. We have several new businesses and one might say an uncounted number of new homes. Hereford has indeed had a wonderful year, and now we have a new slate to begin for the year 1961. Let's begin now to make 1961 even better.

Spent the weekend in Tucumcari, N. M., and was amazed at the amount of snow. The mountains still have a white coat, with the evergreens peeking out to the sun.

The marker telling of Ketchum, the outlaw killing two men there and hiding in a cave near Saddle Mountain, reminds us that at one time our country was not a safe place to live.

Tucumcari is giving the oldest house in the city to be used as a museum and has a number of relics of the past to be placed in it. But Hereford, has other relics, and more of them, but not a place to keep them. We do need a museum, so why not give it a start by talking

TESTING PLAN IS REVEALED

A massive drive by county fertilizer dealers in cooperation with the A&M Extension Service will get underway early next month to soil-test and prescribe proper fertilizer applications to as many farms as possible. In a planning meeting Tuesday afternoon at the First State Bank, it was pointed out that Castro County has a farm income of about $40 million per year and that with proper use of fertilizer alone, this income could be increased at least ten percent or $400 thousand. To be called the Four-Point Soil Fertility Program, it will utilize a new $2,000 state soil testing laboratory for the South Plains at Lubbock. Fertilizer dealers will take soil samples from their customers or from farmers in their areas who do not fertilize and will send the samples to the testing laboratory. Some arrangement for paying the $2 fee per sample tested is to be worked out between the farmer and fertilizer dealer. Both dealers and farm experts in the county are enthusiastic about the program. It was tried out on a skeletal basis last year at various points in Texas and worked out so well the state is promoting it everywhere as another in a long line of efforts to raise the dollar income of farmers.

CENSUS SHOWS BIGGER TREND

Lamb county farms became fewer—but larger—during the five-year period from 1954 to 1959, figures of the 1959 census of agriculture, just released, reveal. In 1954, the census shows, Lamb county had 1787 farms, but five years later that number had been reduced to 1,636. However, the average size of each farm increased from 368.9 in 1954 to 389.7 in 1959. Fifteen farms went off the rolls during the five-year period due to what the census calls "change of definition." Farms which reported crops harvested in 1959 showed a slight decrease from five years before—1,571 in 1959 as compared with 1,687 five years earlier. The fact that the small farm lost territory during the five-year period is reflected in the break down of the number of farms by various acreages. For example the census shows that the number of farms containing 1,000 to 1,999 acres increased from 32 to 43 during the five-year period while at the other end of the bracket, farms containing less than 10 acres decreased from 75 to 57 and the 10-49 acre farms slipped from 102 to 96.

EL PASO TO HIKE GAS COSTS

El Paso Natural Gas Company suppliers of approximately two-thirds of the natural gas for the city-owned utility, has served notice of plan to raise its cost of gas by approximately six cents per thousand cubic feet. The plan for the cost rise was included in a letter presented Monday to the Dumas City Commission and signed by J. M. Stricklin, sales manager for the firm. Following a more than three-hour discussion of the possible method would be explored to prevent a hike in gas cost to the individual consumers in Dumas. A full-scale study of present city costs for capital outlays slated through October—the end of the budget year—and other city expenses is planned, according to John C. Turner, city secretary. The plan would be to provide, through cutting of the budget, the money needed to meet the price hike. El Paso's move will mean that approximately $14,000 in extra funds will be needed by the city to meet the cost of the gas during the remainder of the 1960-61 fiscal year. The cost estimate was made on the basis of 1959-60 gas usage, Turner revealed. A complete year's cost increase would be about $20,000.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm sounds an optimistic note for the new year, his letter this week reveals. This may be cause for worry.

Dear editor:

With a new year at hand, I stopped by a neighbor's house to wish him a Happy New Year and borrow a pipe wrench, but he didn't seem in the mood for either one.

Said he'd been reading the papers lately during the holidays and watching television and had about come to the conclusion the world's not going to make it.

"Russia is arming to the teeth," he said, "Cuba is joining up with the Communists, France is having all kinds of trouble, the Middle East is always having trouble, there's all kinds of trouble in Africa, Germany is divided in half, the United States is running short of gold and half our missiles won't fly, looks like people are always at each other's throats and I don't see much hope for the world."

I didn't argue with him, but all this proves is that reading the newspapers only once in a while will ruin a man. You've got to read 'em every day for years to understand that things are normal. You drop in on the world, so to speak, for a few days at a time between long sessions of plowing and naturally you're in no mood for being wished a happy new year or asked to lend a pipe wrench.

Out of ears of reading about the world, I'd like to point out that its present shape is not much different from what it was last year, the year before, last decade, the decade before, and on back to the time Caesar was writing Latin books for school children. The world has always been in trouble, one way or another, the same as you and me.

The prospects for 1961 are no worse than, and just as good as, the prospects were for 1960, 1959, or any other year on back since calendars were invented.

I don't know any more about what's going to happen in 1960, but whatever happens, I aim to find it interesting. I can get along without that pipe wrench, but unfortunately here comes my neighbor with it now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Statistics Are 'Other People'

If you are one of those timid souls who is afraid to join the traffic parade on holidays, perk up. The National Safety Council says you are right by a ratio of better than three-to-one.

During the recent Christmas holiday week end, the council reported 488 deaths from accidents, 77 due to fires, and 82 from miscellaneous causes. Add the hazard of fire to all other miscellaneous deaths, and you are still three times safer at home.

No one doubts authenticity of the figures, but people keep right on braving perils and taking unnecessary chances. The big difference, it seems to us, rests in the fact that most people consider statistics as applying to someone else. When one of these accidents includes you, or some of your loved ones, it seems to take on an entirely different meaning.

Research Foundation Is A Service To Community

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL
The Deaf Smith Research Foundation was created in the minds of the people of Hereford and Deaf Smith County as early as 1943, following a period of time when it was noted that the dental decay rate of people living in this area gradually gained the interest of people, institutions and universities over the country.

At the insistence of Dr. Carl Moyer, who is now professor of surgery at Washington University in St. Louis, the earliest attempt at determining the chemical composition of food, water and soils of this area was started in 1951. More than $10,000 was spent in the actual chemical analysis of foods, soils, water, bone and similar products. From this information, interest was increased in a number of factors that were peculiar to the area.

With continuous effort upon the community's part, in 1957 a research foundation was formed by the people of Hereford and Deaf Smith County. This was a non-profit corporation, conceived to further the study of the importance of the soils and foods produced in the area. In 1958, a $60,000 research laboratory was completed. This institution is known as the Deaf Smith Research Foundation and Clinical Laboratory. It was designed for two primary purposes. First, to serve the people of the area, particularly farmers and ranchers with their soils and different fertilizers upon the quality of foodstuffs produced. A third function has recently been thrust upon it with the development of scientific cattle feeding in the area. It now serves as a means of determining quality of ration; proteins, sugars and fats, along with trace elements being of vital importance to a well-rounded feeding program.

This was entirely a community project up until 1960, at which time the Foundation was favored with its first outside financial aid in the form of grants. These grants were made by the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp. of Amarillo, and the Stauffer Chemical Company, with offices in Houston.

These two grants have been directed primarily at agriculture with the purpose in mind to determine the type of fertilizers best suited to preserve our soils for the longest period of time and to increase the quality of feeds and foods produced.

It is felt that this research effort on a local level could be most productive, and working in conjunction with our universities, it would tend to keep the results in more significant lines with the local problems. It represents a community's effort to better itself through research supported by its own people and by those people in private business, interested in helping an area to solve its own problems.

At the present time the research laboratory has an operating budget in excess of $20,000. The personnel consists of three people: two fulltime chemists and one full-time secretary in charge of records.

However, the laboratory is built to accommodate five working chemists and this expansion of personnel is planned for the near future. By its location the Laboratory has also served and is serving as a means of doing special chemical and radio isotope work in medicine.

So primarily it is divided into four phases of work: one-medical; two-Dental; three-Agricultural; and four-Supportive chemical studies for livestock feeding on products of this area.
In the medical studies, a series of bone composition analyses were started approximately ten years ago and these are being carried out in conjunction with two of our leading universities. The primary object is to determine the bone composition in different areas of the world in relation to the healing rate of bone in people of this area.

The dental studies are in the direction of the original studies done by the State Department of Health as early as 1940. From these studies grew the concept of fluorine in the drinking water to prevent decay. This study has been broadened to include not only fluorine but also other trace elements which might be beneficial in the prevention of tooth decay, as well as in bone healing.

Complete experimental studies are being carried out in the field of agriculture on all of the common crops grown in this area. The studies include initial soil analysis, follow up of plant yields and quality of plant and finally the total food value of the plant produced in terms of nutritional value per acre of soil.

Of recent growth is the scientific feeding program which is now developing over the entire Golden Spread. This is a long-delayed development that most people closely associated with the cattle industry have been predicting. The load on the laboratory for these studies is increasing daily and it is estimated that it will require additional chemists in the very near future.

In summary: the laboratory, in its brief history, is serving the medical, dental and agricultural and livestock people with a great degree of efficiency. It represents a community's effort to solve its own problems and particularly the problems that are related to its own soils, water and livestock industry. Frederick J. Edwards stated on Nov. 7, 1960, that the Federal government will provide an estimated 63 percent of all research and development funds spent in the nation during the fiscal year 1961.

This is a reflection against the faith in the economic responsibility of American business leaders. It reflects further upon us, the people, that we have shifted so many of our burdens upon a bureaucracy. That we allow federal government to take so much from us and spend it for us that it reflects upon us all that either we have, with indifference, surrendered our right to spend it in accordance with our own judgement, or that we have consciously chosen to have big government take over our responsibilities and our rights to private judgement.

This laboratory is one of Hereford's many efforts to provide its own facilities in order to foster and encourage the development of its own industries which are: one-human welfare, and two - agriculture, and all of its ramifications.

How Can I?

HOW CAN I???

By Anne Ashley
Q. What can I do about the nails, screws, and hooks in my walls when I'm about to repaper the room?

A. Remove these holders and replace with toothpicks, allowing the points to protrude from the wall. When the paper is smoothed over them, they will come through and there is no need to rip the paper or remeasure the walls to find the proper places for your pictures and mirrors.

Q. How can I prevent puckering when stitching sheer and stiff fabric, such as taffeta?

A. Place an inch-wide strip of paper under the seam line while stitching. After the seam is finished, the paper will tear away quite easily.

Q. How can I make Welsh rarebit?

A. Melt a tablespoon of butter over low heat. Add a cup of grated cheddar cheese. As it melts, add 1/2 cup of beer. Add 1/2 teaspoon of dry mustard, and a dash of cayenne to a well-beaten egg. Add to the cheese-beer mixture, stir well, and cook one minute longer.

How Can I?

By Anna Ashley

Q. How can I clean badly-soiled bathroom tile floors?

A. Wash them with a mixture of one tablespoonful of turpentine to a gallon of water. This will make the tiles look as fresh as when new.

Q. How can I prevent ribbon ends from fraying?

A. By applying some colorless fingernail polish to the ends.

Q. How can I tie packages securely so that the cord will not loosen?

A. When tying packages that are to be mailed, dampen the cord before winding around and tying up the parcel. It will shrink and hold the package much tighter for the journey.
