Holiday Decoration Contest Under Way

"Let's make Wellington the most decorated town in this entire area for Christmas," urges Tommy Hudson, chamber of commerce president.

Plans for the contests to determine the best decorated home and the best decorated business in Wellington this Christmas season are complete.

"Anyone can use any decorating theme they want to as long as they are basically around the Christmas idea," he pointed out. "You do not have to stay with traditional decorations. They can be modern, comical or whatever you wish. We're not emphasizing that things have to be old and traditional." All decorations must be arranged so they can be seen from the street.

Neither homes nor business houses will be judged automatically, Hudson pointed out. "During the week of December 12-16, you will need to call the Chamber of Commerce office, 447-5848, or contact Margaret Vines, secretary, and tell her you want your place in the judging. You must leave your address with her. Be specific so the judges will not lose time hunting your location," Hudson said.

The judging will take place on Sunday, Dec. 18, and out of town judges will pick the winners.

The residence selected as the best decorated will receive $25 in script redeemable in script from any business participating in the Chamber of Commerce Christmas promotion program.

Hudson announced a new traveling award or plaque for the best decorated business.

This will be an ongoing program. The winner this year will keep the plaque through 1984, then it will rotate to a new winner next year.

Blessing Fund Accepts Donations for Needy

The Christmas Blessing Fund has total contributions so far this year of $444.06 to help needy families in Wellington and Collingsworth County during the Christmas season.

Donations are being accepted at an account at Wellington State Bank. Judy Forrester is handling the account.

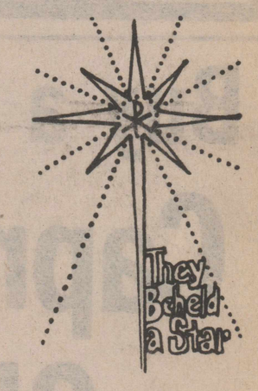

The fund will be used to provide holiday-related assistance, such as food, clothing or toys for children, to underprivileged families during the holiday season.

The fund is not intended to pay off indebtedness, to provide long-term assistance for chronic illnesses or physical handicaps or provide luxury gifts.

Applications for help from the fund are available from local church offices, the County Judge's office, the Community Action Center, and at The Wellington Leader.

Applications will be accepted for review by a local committee through 4 p.m. Thursday, December 22.

Donors to the fund so far this year are Anonymous, Wheeler Oil Company and Anonymous.

The fund last year raised over $1600 to help local families, and organizers this year hope to raise $3,000.

Lone Star Rate Reduced $21.5 Million

AUSTIN - The Railroad Commission on Monday, Nov. 21 finalized a $21.5 million reduction in rates charged for gas sold by Delhi Gas Pipeline Corp. under contract to Lone Star Gas Co. for the period April 1 through August 31, 1983.

Because of the substantial reduction in gas costs to the consuming public, the Commission had approved the reduced rates on a temporary basis beginning in May while it analyzed the application.

Delhi asked to reduce rates charged to Lone Star from $6.48 per MMBtu to $4.81 per MMBtu, which would save Lone Star $21.5 million over the five month contract period. Lone Star delivers gas to industrial end users, other pipelines, and city distribution systems across the state.

The Commission's order said the reduced cost of gas will be passed directly to city gates and other customers by previously approved automatic adjustment clauses.

Delhi filed the request with the Commission on May 31, but asked that the rate reduction be effective April 1.

In the Nov. 21 order, the Commission made the temporary rate permanent and also moved back the effective date to April 1 "since Delhi and Lone Star have agreed to the earlier date and indirectly affected customers will benefit from a longer period of lower rates."

Lone Star estimated that moving the effective date back to April 1 would save an additional $1.7 million.

Delhi Gas Pipeline Corp. line extends through the northwest part of Collingsworth County, and on to the

A Wichita, Kansas truck driver, 51-year-old Bennie W. Storey, died about 7:45 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 26, while working underneath his truck one-half mile north of the US 83-US 62 intersection (The Hollis Y). A driver for National Carrier, he was southbound enroute to Houston with a load of meat he had picked up at Iowa Beef Co. in Liberal, Kansas, according to Childress County Sheriff's Department.

Deputy Jack Hill, who headed the investigation, and Deputy Bill Hammon, said that Storey had stopped to work on brakes that were hot from snow and ice that had packed around them. He waved down another truck driver, Thomas Edeward Irwin of Denton, also southbound and asked for

FmHA to Explain Financial Forms Tues., Dec. 6

A meeting of Farmers Home Administration borrowers and others who are interested has been called for Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 7 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Building, according to Raymond D. Hodges, county FmHA supervisor.

Purpose of the meeting is to explain the Coordinated Financial Statement, which FmHA will require of its farmers and which will be explained in a presentation of four sets of slides, Hodges said.

The Coordinated Financial Statement is a financial system that FmHA will require completed by each farmer for the supervisor to make a decision on.

It is also for the borrower to understand how much money he has invested in farming, the income and expense involved and the amount of money he needs to borrow to carry on his farming operation.

"We urge you and your wife to attend this meeting," said Hodges.

Those he urges to attend include FmHA borrowers, potential borrowers and persons who do income tax returns for FmHA borrowers.

City Warns of Transient Salesmen

City Manager Glen Taylor this week warned Wellington residents to beware of out of town persons selling house to house or attempting to make sales by telephone or soliciting donations for organizations or groups the resident does not know about.

The approach of the Christmas season brings out this type of scheme to separate the resident from his money.

Beware, even through the person/stranger may have a permit issued by the City of Wellington.

"The city cannot refuse to issue a permit allowing a person to solicit or sell house to house in Wellington, if he presents the proper credentials and has a license to sell," Taylor pointed out.

"That does not mean we approve or back that person, nor does it mean he is even honest."

Many times the merchandise is of inferior quality or higher price, it was pointed out.

"If you think the salesman is legitimate, be sure the cost figure is legitimate," Taylor urged.

"Ask for recommendations. No salesman or solicitor who is on the level will object to this. Ask for any Wellington area people the saleman may know or has done work for. Don't be bashful about asking questions. It is for your benefit.

"If you have any doubt, call the sheriff's office or city hall and we will check that person out for you," Taylor said.

The city manager pointed out that this warning is not aimed at those persons from other towns who from time to time render services or sell merchanidse to Wellington customers, and who are well know here.

Schedule for Fingerprinting School Children Announced

The schedule for fingerprinting Wellington school children has been announced.

The voluntary program will be conducted Monday, Dec. 5 through Friday, Dec. 9, at Wellington Elementary School.

Volunteers from the sponsoring organizations, Wellington Parent Teacher Organization and Business and Professional Women's Club, will assist in shifts of 6 from each organization.

The Sheriff's Department will do the fingerprinting at no cost and provide a large certificate with space for the fingerprints and a place for a picture of the child.

The work schedule is:

Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 5 and 6, elementary school children, 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 to 3 p.m.

Workers for these two days will meet in the office of Melvin Cardwell, principal.

Wednesday, Dec. 7, preschoolers, 9 a.m. to 12 noon in the GATE room of Elementary School. Parents should bring their children through the north door of the building, 15th street, and someone will direct them to the right room.

Thursday, Dec. 8, junior high and high school students, 9 a.m. to 12 noon, the GATE room.

It is emphasized that the children's fingerprints are not kept by the Sheriff's Department. The copies are turned over to the parents who are responsible for keeping them. They are not recorded for any law enforcement agency.

A Child Registry Handbook may be orderded for recording additional information about the child.

Those wanting one should contact Debra Belew, 447-2487. The cost is $2 per copy.

Elementary students have received a request form which must be signed by their parents before their fingerprints will be taken. Parents may, if they wish, give a copy to the school to be kept in the child's permanent record.

help.

Irwin told the officers that Storey crawled under the cab of this truck with a wrench and attempted to adjust the brakes. Storey suddenly gave a slight gasp and groaned slightly, then fell back, officers were told.

Irwin, realizing Storey was dead, using his CB radio, called for help, contacting unknown motorist.

This motorist, driving north of Wellington, notified the Collingsworth Sheriff's department who in turn contacted the Childress Department of Public Safety. Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell and Deputy Ray Akemon were the first to reach the scene.

Deputy Hill said an autopsy performed by Dr. Ralph R. Erdmann, pathologist, indicated Storey died of cardiac arrest. Hill said that had Storey not been stopped, in all probability he would have died while driving his truck.

Storey who had been with National Carrier 12 years, has two sons driving for the same company. He was in his own truck, a 1983 Kenworth cab over truck, which he leased to National Carrier.

Friends Find Each Other Through Story

The Wellington Leader unwittingly united two friends who had lost contact for 41 years.

Willene Judd, who now lives at Clarendon, tells the story:

"Through your paper, I got in contact with a very dear friend I had not seen in 41 years with the item about Mrs. Lennie Carson's dying in Dallas.

Her daughter, Maxine, and I were very good friends during our 5th, 6th and 7th grades.

I wrote her and got an answer right back. I had thought of her all through the years, but did not know where she was.

In my 7th grade, I moved to California. When we returned, she had moved.

You made a life time dream come true for us. We are now making plans to get together some day soon.

I thought I would write and thank you on behalf of us both."

Lisa Gaye Vaughan and Johnny Glen Gill, both of Amarillo, were married Saturday, November 26, in the Fellowship Tabernacle in Amarillo, at six o'clock in the evening.

The Reverend Tony Rogers, minister, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Neeley of Amarillo and of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vaughan of Galena, Kansas. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gill of Amarillo.

The altar was flanked by burgundy and candlelight silk roses, with candlelight satin bows marking the pews. Candlelight satin ribbons with bows and love-birds accented the brick background.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Keith Howard organist, and Ms. Nancy Cooper, vocalist, of Amarillo.

MRS. JOHNNY GLEN GILL

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal floor-length wedding gown of candlelight dacron organza and silk Venise lace over bridal taffeta. It was designed with a Queen Anne neckline, empire waist, long tapered sleeves and bouffant skirt with full back. Inserts of Venise lace, trimmed in Chantilly lace edging, accented with tiny seed pearls, complimented the neckline, bodice, sleeves and skirt. The hemline flowed to an apron effect in the back with attached chapel length train.

Her candlelight veil, which was of two tiers, was of imported illusion with a border of Venise lace and fell from a coif of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of burgundy and mauve candlelight silk roses with baby's breath and foliage tied with burgundy silk streamers tied into love knots.

Mrs. Rick Wammack, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Paula Neeley, also the bride's sister, and Mrs. Tim Gill, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. All are from Amarillo.

The attendants wore burgundy satin dresses with candlelight overlay with short puffed sleeves and off-shoulder neckline.

The floor-length skirts featured an overlay that was scalloped and tied with burgundy ribbon. Their flowers were identical to the bridal bouquet.

Tim Gill, brother of the bridegroom was best man and groomsmen were Charlie Light and Kenny Chavez. Brad Neeley, brother of the bride, and Paul Porter were the ushers. The bridegroom's attendants are from Amarillo.

Candles were lighted by Jimmy Patterson, cousin of the bride, and Marlo Moore, while the flower girl was Larrie Patterson, also the bride's cousin, and Brian Walden, cousin of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer. These also are from Amarillo.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the club house of Wellington Manor Apartments.

The bride's table was placed in front of a large rock fireplace and covered with an ecru lace table cloth with a deep rose underlay. Punch was served from a crystal bowl and the three-tiered candlelight cake with burgundy and mauve accents was topped with a minature ceramic bride and groom. The centerpiece was formed by the bouquets of the bride and the matron of honor.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Wellington and presently is employed by Royal Motor Hotel. The bridegroom is a graduate of Tascosa High School in Amarillo and is employed by Ray Electric Company.

The couple is at home at the Glens Apartment, Amarillo.

Attending the wedding from Collingsworth County were Mr. and Mrs. Jacen Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Hunt and Mrs. Eunice Nunnelley.

BRIDAL SHOWERS

Two showers, one given in Amarillo, the other in Wellington, honored the bride.

On November 4 a shower was given by Mrs. Larry Patterson, Mrs. Bruce Patterson, Mrs. J.T. Patterson, all of Amarillo and Mrs. Carl Patterson of Childress, in the home of Mrs. Bruce Patterson.

Burgundy and mauve cake and crystal punch set were placed on a table laid with ecru lace over burgundy.

Approximately 25 friends attended. Guests were registered by Crystal Patterson and the gifts were registered by the bride's sister, Monica Wammack of Amarillo.

Special guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Brada Alexander of Borger and the mothers of the couple, Mrs. Mary Neeley and Mrs. Bob Hill, both of Amarillo.

A come and go shower was given in Wellington by Janet Hunt, Melanie Jeffrey, Margaret Pendleton and Patsy Mitchell.

A white linen cloth covered the table and a crystal punch service was used, along with a crystal candle arrangement.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

TREAT WINDOWS TO SAVE ENERGY

With winnter approaching, it's more important than ever to be energy conscious. One way to conserve energy is to make sure window treatments are as energy efficient as possible.

One window treatment usually cannot satisfy both a homeowner's particular energy requirements and her specific desires in the area of design. Therefore, for the sake of efficiency and appearance, select a variety of layers to use as one window treatment.

A number of combinations may be created from available treatments. Often mini-blinds, vertical blinds, shades or shutters are used directly against the window.

Using this as a base, the homeowner may then choose some combination of sheers, draperies, curtains, valances, cornices or other treatments, or choose just one to supplement the base.

Each treatment varies in degree of energy efficiency. Various types of shades such as magnetically sealed Roman shades are more effective than shutters or blinds, and layered draperies with cornices are more effective than sheers by themselves.

Cornices and sealed shades are more effective than other treatments because they keep warm air from recirculating against a cold window and losing its heat. When this happens, the air requires more energy to be reheated. Lined draperies and shades are also better insulators in themselves.

The other aspect of window treatments which must be kept in mind is style. Recently, the country and country-French looks have become popular. These styles are mainly seen in curtains, although sheers and shades may also fit the style.

The Mackintosh raincoat bears the name of the inventor, Charles Mackintosh, the first man to wear truly waterproof fabrics.

One Man's Vision

"And it shall come to pass in the better days that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be raised above all mountains, and nations shall come and beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks. And nation shall not lift up sword against nation."

So read William Sloane Coffin, Jr. from the Book of Micah at the burial of Joseph Polowsky at the East German town of Torgau by the Elbe River last week.

Mr. Polowsky was a Chicago taxi driver who was among the American troops who linked up with the Russians at the Elbe in 1945.

The spirit of friendship along the river was a moment that Private Polowsky would never forget.

He spent the rest of his life in a one-man campaign to build friendship between the United States and the Soviet Union. And he asked that he be buried in Torgau where the two armies met 38 years ago.

In the years after World War II, Mr. Polowsky visited with Soviet veterans of the Elbe campaign, sent letters and petitions to world leaders, and every April 25, the day the troops met, kept a vigil by the Chicago River. It was all part of his effort to keep the "spirit of the Elbe" alive.

Mr. Polowsky's efforts are a confirmation of the belief that, although the two nations have been at odds for many years, their citizens do not regard each other as personal enemies.

Perhaps both sides should fire their striped-pants diplomats and think-tank strategists and send a delegation of Chicago and Moscow taxi drivers to the negotiating table to work out our differences. Or maybe Texan and Ukranian farmers.

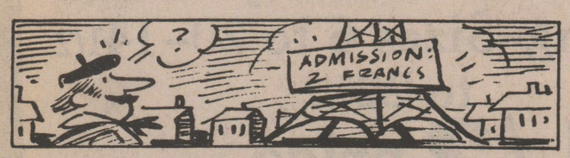

As the Rev. Coffin said of Mr. Polowsky: "Those farthest from the seats of power are nearest to the heart of things. And those of us who are farthest away from the seats of power have a much better chance of changing this world for the better if we will only stay true to the dream we're trying to keep before our eyes now."

---Henry Wells

Scoopin'

Well, I got my comeuppance for the turkey stories in last week's edition. During Thanksgiving dinner at our house, my uncle Howard Frost of Nocona, who had read the column, told us in detail about the time he stood up beside a pond and shot eight ducks with a single shot as they took to the skies. Got one better than that?

City Extends Rate Change Suspension

Wellington City Council has granted the request of West Texas Utilities Co., to extend the suspension of its rate change application for an additional 30 days to the maximum of 180 days allowed by law.

The action was taken in the council meeting Monday, Nov. 21 , after Tommy Hudson, WTU local manager, met with members.

In a letter sent to the city Nov. 16, Hudson pointed out that WTU applied to the city on June 10, 1983 for an increase in its retail rates charged in the city. Subsequent to that request the City suspended the rate application for 120 days.

"This additional 30 day suspension extends the suspension period to the maximum period provided by law in the Public Utility Regulatory Act and will preserve the City's jurisdiction over the Company's pending rate application. It now appears that the Public Utilities Commission of Texas will issue a final order in early December of this year," Hudson wrote.

In other action, the council approved bills amounting to $4,451.

Date of the annual Christmas party for city employees was set for Friday, Dec. 9.

Present were Mayor Ralph Owens, council members Gary Brewer, Willie Gragson, Sam McGill and Milburn Derryberry. City Manager Glen Taylor and City secretary Nell McKinney. Councilman Lyndon Crelia was absent.

IMPORTANT NOTICE FROM YOUR BANK REGARDING YOUR INTEREST-BEARING ACCOUNTS

Recent federal legislation requires that you provide your bank with your correct Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN). This is simply your social security number if you are an individual.

Failure to provide this information could result in a penalty imposed by the Internal Revenue Service of $50, plus your interest and dividend payments could be subject to a 20% backup withholding.

So, to keep you out of trouble with the IRS, your bank will be sending you a form asking you to supply your TIN number or to certify that the number now on file is correct. Please take a moment to review this form when you receive it, make any necessary corrections and return it to your bank as quickly as possible.

Basketball and Calf Fries Slated at Norwood Dec. 7

Basketball and calf fries will make for an interesting evening when Wellington and Samnorwood varsity boys and girls teams meet Tuesday, Dec. 7 at Samnorwood. Game time will be 7 p.m.

Before the game, the Samnorwood 7th and 8th grades will serve a meal consisting of calf fries, fried chicken planks, french fries, red beans, tossed salad, hot rolls, homemade pie and tea and coffee.

All this is for a price of $3.50, said Kenneth Martindale, principal. Tickets are $1.50 for children through 6 years.
