Mayor Explains Federal Flood Control Aid

Mayor Herman Johnson explained to the City Council at their regular meeting the mechanics of applying for aid for drainage and flood control from the Federal government, through the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army. In a letter issued by one of the engineer's offices in the area, the following steps were outlined:

The Secretary of the Army has been authorized by Congress to devote funds for construction of small flood projects not specifically authorized by Congress when, in the opinion of the Chief of Engineers, such work is advisable.

Not more than $400,000 may be allocated to any single locality in any one year, and the work must be complete in itself and not commit the United States to any further improvements to insure its successful operation, except as may result from normal procedure applying to projects authorized after submission of preliminary examination and survey reports.

Bank protection, flood control features of a multi-purpose project to be constructed by another agency or by local interests, and projects that would nullify a condition of local responsibility required for a project constructed under specific authorization of (Continued on page 8)

2 Million Women to Join Mothers' March To Support March of Dimes Health Goals

The Golden Key of Hope—a new symbol for a new decade of medical progress against crippling diseases—is the badge some two million volunteers will proudly wear in the 1961 Mothers' March climaxing the New March of Dimes.

Symbolizing the need for research to unlock the mysteries of such major cripplers as birth defects and arthritis, the Golden Key also represents the vaccine "keys" to polio prevention perfected through research made possible by the March of Dimes.

In most communities, the Mothers' March will take place the evening or afternoon of Tuesday, Jan. 31. Volunteers identified by the Golden Key badge will call on their neighbors for support in the campaign against tragedies which affect one in every four American families.

Each of the estimated 40 million households visited in the Mothers' March will receive valuable health information cards including Do's and Don'ts for expectant mothers, Arthritis Warnings, and Vaccination Alerts for the almost 85,000,000 Americans still not protected against polio.

Beclouded by centuries of superstition, birth defects are considered by medical authorities to be the nation's most serious child health problem. Yet the fields of cause and prevention were largely unexplored until funds from the March of Dimes began to make intensive research possible. Pointers derived from early research are included on the cards to be distributed by Mothers' March volunteers.

The cards are also designed to bring home the realization that more than 11,000,000 Americans suffer from some form of crippling arthritis. Many victims, grasping at straws, pay out a total of more than $250,000,000 annually on quack "cures." The fact is that the causes of arthritis are largely unknown. There is no known cure, no known preventive. But research to find the key is being rapidly advanced through March of Dimes support.

To improve treatment and rehabilitation of those crippled by birth defects and arthritis, a network of clinical study centers is being established by means of March of Dimes funds. Techniques developed by The National Foundation in aiding polio sufferers are applied to children suffering from birth defects and arthritis. All of this research and patient care would be impossible without health manpower—and womanpower—to put it to use. To help meet this drastic problem, March of Dimes funds support a health scholarship program in every state each year. Thus the Marching Mothers also seek support for an increase in the critical supply of doctors, nurses, physical therapists and others dedicated to the improvement and protection of the nation's health.

Mothers' March Appeals For Volunteers

An urgent plea for Mothers' March volunteers for the New March of Dimes was issued today by Jack Horton, county chairman in charge of the house-to-house drive.

"We need more volunteers to give an hour of their time for our Mother's March on Jan. 31," Mr. Horton said. "We need additional workers from every section of the county, and we need them urgently."

The civic leader said that the Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes is the greatest single volunteer effort put forth by the women of America for any cause.

"More than a million women march each year to help the National Foundation raise funds in its battle to prevent crippling diseases," (continued on page 8)

Schools Schedule Science Week Here

Traveling Science Teacher On Grant From National Science Foundation Will Lecture and Demonstrate

A science program of unusual interest will be presented at Aransas County High School during the week of January 30-February 3 by E. D. Freeman, one of 26 specially-trained men participating in a ten-state traveling science demonstration and lecture program, sponsored by a $250,000 grant from the National Science Foundation to the University of Oklahoma.

Freeman, is a native of Mississippi and holds a BS degree from Ole-Miss and a ME degree from the University of Texas. He was selected by a committee of scientists because of his outstanding qualifications to participate in the program, and spent three months last summer at Stillwater, Okla., for briefing.

While there, he was issued a station wagon completely equipped with supplies and lecture-demonstration apparatus, much of which he constructed and assembled himself.

He is on leave from the Austin school system, where he teaches physics and biology, and is head of the department of physics. He is a member of Alpha Tau Alpha, Phi Beta Kappa, International Relations Club, Baptist Church, Rotary International, NEA, TEA, and NSTA.

While in Rockport his program calls for lectures and demonstrations at each school, and for a number of speaking dates before service clubs and similar organizations.

On Monday, Jan. 30, Freeman will meet in general assembly with pupils in senior and junior high (Continued on page 8)

Local Firm Licks Tough Pipe Line

A local firm of marine contractors has just completed a job that everyone said couldn't be done—the laying of a 16-mile, 4½ inch pipeline by helicopter in the Laguna Madre area of southeastern Kenedy County.

DeForest Marine Construction Company, headed by Gus DeForest had the contract from the McWood Corporation of Abilene, and completed the chore between Dec. 13 and Jan. 17, the first firm to lay pipe by this method.

Three helicopters crashed—without injuries to anyone—and there were 163 men on the job at one time and another before it was completed.

The pipe was barged to the location, and crews were flown in by helicopter. Pipe was also laid by the "whirly birds."

Twenty three days of rain, rough terrain, quicksand, mud and water all made things tough for the contractor and crew before the project was finished. And by the time the job was finished, DeForest was paying double the usual rates to keep crews at work.

The line was laid from Sun Oil Co. No. 2-297 State Tract gasser in the Laguna Madre, near the Intracoastal Canal, sixteen miles south-southeast of Conoco No. 1, State Tract 393, gasser, which has a tie in with Tennessee Transmission's line to the southwest.

Theft Cases Cleared By Arrests At Sinton

Sheriff A. C. Shivers said this morning that several cases of theft in and around Rockport had been cleared when San Patricio officers arrested four men in Sinton last week.

The four arrested were Eddie Escobedo, Raymond Martinez, Reynaldo Benavides and Arturo Cisneros.

Clues uncovered when the group, thought to number seven, broke into Cage Hardware at Gregory on Jan. 7, finally led to the arrest by the San Patricio Sheriff's Department.

The local cases in which they were implicated were the burglary of Roe's Food Market, theft of a car belonging to Bill Hottle, Jr., and possibly an attempt at entering West's Red and White, Sheriff Shivers said today.

Other breakins solved by the arrests included ten cases in San Patricio County, and eleven in Bayside, Portland, Corpus Christi, Robstown, and Woodsboro.

Charges places against the men, who were booked at the San Patricio County Jail in Sinton, included burglary and felony theft.

An Editorial

Everyone wonders these days where his money goes. We hope that your money goes to the Mothers' Marcher who knocks at your door for the 1961 New March of Dimes on the night of Jan. 31.

Your contributions to the Mothers' March go directly into the fight to prevent crippling diseases—birth defects, arthritis and polio.

The money you give at your door supports The National Foundation's fight against these three diseases. This fight is carried on through research, patient aid and professional education.

This is the same program which has already produced:

The Salk and Sabin anti-polio vaccines; the world's largest non-governmental outlay of funds for medical aid; thousands of trained hands and new medical techniques to restore the stricken to lives of usefulness and hope.

The choice is yours. You can help prevent crippling diseases. Please say YES to the Mother's Marcher when she calls on your family on behalf of the 1961 New March of Dimes.

LAND OF 1100 SPRINGS—The story of one of America's purest artesian waters is mapped out in this schematic drawing of the Edwards Underground Water Reservoir and its watershed. The underground reservoir, a vast waterway channeled out of honeycombed limestone, furnishes San Antonio with one of America's great natural brewing waters. It is the water with which Pearl Beer is made. Spring water from the Hill Country of the Edwards Plateau filters into the subterranean waterway through cracks in the earth's crust. The legend in the lower right hand corner explains this water system. The watershed area is sometimes called the "Country of 1100 Springs".

Edwards Plateau Is Source of Purest Water

Nature was generous with the Texas Hill Country. This South-eastern corner of the Edwards Plateau was favored with gentle valleys, beautiful highlands and hundreds of crystal clear springs. The land has been called, at times, "The Country of 1100 Springs."

Half a dozen famous Texas rivers, the Guadalupe, the Frio the Medina, the Nueces, the Sabinal and the Blanco, rise in this country. These rivers, each starting as a rivulet, grow as they gather in water from many spring-fed creeks which pour down the hillsides.

As the source region of these rivers, the Hill Country is the watershed of the Edwards Underground Water Reservoir, a deep underground waterway supplying fresh spring water for over 650,000 Texans.

This is one of America's rarest and purest waters. It is interesting to note it is also one of America's few naturally perfect brewing waters. So excellent, in fact, that it brought Texas' first breweries to San Antonio. The Pearl Brewing Company is the foremost example. Its own deep artesian wells tap the underground waterway a fourth of a mile beneath the company's brewery at San Antonio to bring up pure, clear water filtered through 100 miles of honeycombed limestone formations. This is the great natural brewing water with which Pearl Beer is made.

The Edwards Plateau is an uplifted region which rises from the fairly level floor of the Coastal Plain. A line of dark green hills distinctly marks it from Austin south to San Antonio and west to Ded Rio. The Colorado River borders it across the north. On the west, the Plateau disappears into rolling plains.

It is wooded country, covered with cedar, several varieties of oak, mesquite and a large array of bushes and native shrubbery. Sheep, goats and cattle range the hill sides. The valleys are planted to grains.

Disturbances within the earth, perhaps 250 million years ago, pushed the area upwards. Mountains and hills were formed and layers of limestone were pushed to the surface by the uplifting. The limestone lies at an angle through the earth, sloping downward from the hills to great depths at the coast. A shearing occurred around the east and south borders of the uplift, leaving a crack in the earth's surface called the Balcones Fault.

Rain falling on the limestone outcroppings of the Hill Country is absorbed by the porous rocks to form hundreds of flowing springs. Streams fed by the release of this spring water, become the rivers flowing down to the coastal plain.

As the streams cross the Balcones Fault, a portion of their water spills through cracks in the earth's surface into the underground reservoir.

Geologists estimate the reservoir, very nearly paralleling the Balcones Fault, to be some 250 miles long and 18 miles wide. It lies 600 to 1,000 feet beneath the surface.

The average annual withdrawal from the reservoir is an estimated 500,000 acre feet of water, enough to cover that many acres with water one foot in depth. The springs at San Pedro and Brakenridge Parks in San Antonio, the Comal Springs at New Braunfels and San Marcos Springs are relief valves through which excess water flows out of the reservoir when it is full.

The hilly country so generously providing this water system was a favorite land of Indians before white men discovered it.

The first settlers of the Hill Country, Germans seeking a favorable location in Texas for colonization, penetrated the Hill Country about 1845. They were attracted by the beauties of the land, the fertility of the soil and its climatic advantages.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bracht left here Thursday morning to attend the golden wedding celebration of Mrs. Bracht's oldest brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, of Compton, Calif., The Brachts flew jet out of Dallas.

Second Course In Dramatics Now Offered

For the first time in its history, students at Aransas County High School may take an advanced course in dramatics, according to Mrs. Florence Horton.

"We have had a junior course in drama for several years," Mrs. Horton said, "but only beginning this semester have we been able to offer a more advanced one. Nineteen students have signed up to take the course."

Also available this term, after a lapse, is a course in public speaking, for which 28 have registered, and classes in Texas history and in economics, Mrs. Horton said.

Dramatic students are trying to decide, she said, what they will present at the spring interscholastic meet when Aransas County, Woodsboro, Calallen, Bloomington, Gregory-Portland, Mathis, and Ingleside will all participate at Woodsboro on April 17.

Public School Week Is Set for March 6-10 By Gov. Daniel for Texas

Gov. Price Daniel, in an official memorandum issued on January 6, designated March 6-10 as Public Schools Week in Texas, and called on all citizens of the Lone Star State to visit the public schools during that five-day period in order to become better acquainted with the public school system of Texas.

John Haynes has been appointed over-all chairman of the program in Rockport.

Governor Daniel's official memorandum is as follows:

"For each of the past 11 years, Public Schools Week in Texas has been set aside as a special time to place increased emphasis on our educational system.

"During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

"Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

"Therefore, I as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of March 6-March 10, 1961, as Public Schools Week in Texas. "In official recognition thereof, I hereby affix my signature this 6th day of January, 1961. "Price Daniel, Governor of Texas."

Parent-Teachers' Associations Hold Joint Meeting

The three Parent Teacher Associations of Aransas County held a joint meeting this week at which C. D. McDowell, Jr., principal of South Park Junior High School in Corpus Christi was the featured speaker.

Mrs. C. E. Nickerson, president of the Rockport P-TA presided and welcomed the audience after the invocation given by Rev. Cecil Lang, Jr., of the First Presbyterian Church, and a musical selection by Miss Jean Venable, teacher of music in the Aransas County public schools.

Mrs. Don Henderson then introduced Aransas County School Superintendent J. D. Gray, who in turn introduced the following members of the school board:

Dr. H. F. Elliot, president; J. B. Jackson, vice president; Shelly P. Roaten, secretary, and Francis M. Ronquette.

Following this, Mr. Gray presented A. B. LeFevre, principal at Aransas County High School; Chester Barre, principal at the Junior High School; Carl Snyder, principal at Fulton Elementary, and Thomas E. Dannelly, Jr., coordinator of elementary education.

Mrs. Henderson presented Mrs. Garvin Mitchell, president of the Aransas County High School Parent-Teacher Association, and Mrs. Charles Davis, vice president of the Fulton organization.

The speaker of the evening was introduced by Mrs. A. B. Chernosky.

In her introduction she pointed out that Mr. McDowell was a teacher, a parent, a minister and president of the Parent-Teacher Association at South Park Junior High School in Corpus Christi, where he is also principal.

McDowell, in his talk, said that parents could do a great deal for the betterment of their children simply by caring enough to see that they received those things that could enable them to develop their fullest potentialities.

The meeting closed with a benediction from Mr. McDowell, and was followed by a social hour in the new Rockport Elementary School cafeteria, where Mrs. Roscoe Johnson, Mrs. Buddy McLester and Mrs. D. M. Meador acted as hostesses.

Forshee-Armstrong
Wedding Celebrated

In a candlelight setting at the First Presbyterian Church on Saturday night, Miss Geraldine Armstrong became the bride of Van Carl Forshee, with the Rev. Cecil H. Lang, Jr. officiating at the double-ring ceremony. Branches of candelabra, holding white apers, and arrangements of white stock were used as decorations at the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clyde W. Armstrong and the late Mr. Armstrong. The groom's mother is Mrs. C. O. Moss of Oklahoma City.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, E. A. Laney of Aransas Pass, the bride wore a lightweight wool beige suit and a small beige satin hat trimmed in crushed net. Her accessories were brown and beige, and she carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Mrs. Daniel R. Adams, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and also wore a beige suit with harmonizing accessories.

Mike Womack was best man, and the bride's brother, Bubba Armstrong, served as usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The table was laid with a cutwork cloth and centered with a bouquet of red carnations. Miss Teresa Johnson served the wedding cake and Miss Sue Armstrong, sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

The bride is a graduate of Aransas County High School, and the groom was graduated from Del City High School of Oklahoma City. They will make their home in Rockport.

Austin Diary--

"The Citizens of Austin Request the Honor of Your Presence at the Inaugural Festivities . . ."

By Carrin Patman

A floodlight of glittering sunshine struck the Capitol, and balmy breezes blew the bunting, as we walked up the wide, tree-bordered mall leading to the Statehouse steps. The Inauguration Committee had planned the weather well; and some three thousand onlookers were properly grateful. For most of us from the 18th District, the occasion was already made. It was reward enough to personally see sun, and no longer have to take it on heresy!

Carrin covered her ears tightly, as three howitzers from Camp Mabry stationed on the Capitol lawn boomed their thunderous 19 gun salute to the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and thereby heralded the beginning of their big day.

While fathers listened raptly to the oaths of office and serious speeches on matters of state, mothers' attention was being subverted by another honored guest on the platform—pretty little Mari Ben Ramsey, 1½ year old daughter of the Lt. Governor, who was, perhaps, the only woman there who pointedly failed to applaud her father's speech and carried it off with charming aplomb.

At a Reception that afternoon, I asked Mrs. Ramsey how she felt, thinking she must be used to all the hoopla by now, since this will be her husband's sixth term in office.

"Excited," she said. "It's like getting married; I guess you could go through the ceremony a hundred times, and it would still be exciting."

I was secretly relieved to find I had such august company in the tremendous excitement I had felt ever since arriving in Austin. Since only four of the Senators are new this year, I had thought that we excited greenhorns must stick out like Christmas balls in an Easter basket.

The first people we saw at the Inaugural Ball were Mrs. Lois DeShazor and her son, Tommy, from Port Lavaca. We sat down by them to listen to the Midwestern University Choir from Wichita Falls present the evening's musical entertainment.

In the walt of a song, it was time for the Grand March of high state officials, a moment of greeting more than five thousand assembled Texans had been waiting for. Through the Grand Archway came an impressive parade. First came Governor Daniel and his lady, Jean, glowing beautifully in a sweeping golden brocade gown.

"Prettiest lady here!" commented Mrs. DeShazor. Which is, of course just as it should be.

Next were Lt. Governor and Mrs. Ramsey, whose dress was of French vanilla brocade with a rose quartz warp print.

For us lady onlookers, it was inevitably a fashion show, as well as an occasion of state, and at one point a flurry of sympathetic feminine whispers ran through the audience, when two identical ballgowns appeared in the official line-up.

Behind us, a man commented laughingly that we might well solve the state's deficit by auctioning the official ladies' dresses; but he sounded secretly pleased that they were making an elegant showing.

More than sixty dignitaries and their wives slowly made the round of the huge Municipal Auditorium, as the Longhorn band played stately music, and we watched and applauded with our fellow Texans.

The Grand March was over, and suddenly the floor was crowded with an almost hopeless crush of dancing couples. Among those brave enough to give it a whirl were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lala from Victoria. I must say the ladies looked as lovely as any there.

It had been a big day, and Bill and I soon hit the homeward trail. I expect many more than we were thinking that night, as they hit the hay, that this gay day had a solemn tomorrow in which the problems of our state must be faced, and clear-headed, responsible men must solve them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Denny returned to Kerrville Wednesday, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bachman. The Denny's intend to move to McAllen shortly.

GOOD SHEPARD CLASS MEETS

The Good Shepard Class held their monthly meeting Jan. 16, at the home of Norma Keith, co-hostess Marie Fincher.

The meeting began with a prayer led by the president. Those members present decided to complete the nursery in the new building. Plans were made for our February meeting to be at Ruth Stryker's, assisted by Katherine Dodson, Feb. 20. Each member to bring a guest for the white elephant sale, to be held that night.

Also was decided to have a bake sale Feb. 11. A question and answer game was played. Coffee, tea, sand tarts, brownies and sandwiches were served to the 9 members present.

VFW MEETING HELD TUESDAY

Stewart - Wendell Post 3904, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held their regular meeting Tuesday night at the VFW Hall.

County and VFW Service Officer Ed Barnard presented his report.
 Ernest Russell and Bill Gray gave an annual report on the explorer scout program which the local post is sponsoring.

All members were urged to remember the meeting of the San Patricio County Council to be held the First Monday in February at Aransas Pass, and Commander Chester Johnson told the members that he hoped this post would have the largest number present at the Council meeting, and thus regain the bell that was relinquished to the Sinton Post last month.

Ralph J. Childs, from Alois Leopold Post 3869, Park Rapids, Minnesota, was a visitor at the meeting.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capital

By Vern Sanford
 Texas Press Association

Austin, Tex.—When the Legislature faces a difficult problem on which there are sharp differences of opinion the final legislation is usually a sort of Irish stew of compromises.

In ingredients for this session's main dish, state financing, are fast pouring into the pot. Simultaneously, Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board presented plans for state spending in 1962-63.

Governor Daniel recommended general revenue spending of $479,964,734. Budget Board recommended $356,183,172—a difference of $123,781,562.

New spending recommended by the governor would include a medical care program for the aged, $600 a year salary hikes for public school teachers and other improvements in education.

As a primary source of new money, the governor endorsed the payroll tax proposal recommended last fall by the State Finance Advisory Committee. He also approved raising state college tuition by $50 a semester.

Daniel urged lawmakers to handle separately the deficit that's expected to be about $65,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year. For this he tabbed a temporary 3 per cent natural gas tax, a franchise tax, escheat bill and transfer of the farm to market road program from the general revenue to the highway fund.

Annexation Limit Proposed—A brake on headlong expansion of city limits would be provided in a bill introduced by Rep. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches.

Under the bill, cities could annex only 10 per cent of their surrounding territory each year. Meanwhile, each city would have a measure of control through "extraterritorial jurisdiction" of a zone from 1/2 to 5 miles deep on its perimeter. This would give the city direction over construction and sanitation codes and enable it to prevent the development of outlying slums.

Many officials feel that some Texas cities have gone overboard in annexing more territory than are able to digest.

Auto Insurance Change—Sen. Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, long time critic of present auto insurance regulations, has outlined a liberalized plan he will ask the Legislature to approve.

Changes recommended by the senator:

1. Use of only that part of a driver's record which was made since Jan. 1960, date the new merit system went into effect. As set up, insurance rates are based on driver's record for the past three years.

2. Eliminate from the list of violations causing insurance rate penalties (a) speeding less than 15 miles per hour over the limit (b) stop light violations involving amber, rather than red lights and (c) "creeping" at stop signs.

3. Eliminate from accidents that result in a penalty those where less than $100 damage is caused. Present limit is $25.

Schools' Portion Down—Texas' public schools' share of state spending has dropped from 35.5 per cent in 1950 to 30.6 per cent in 1960.

In a report to Governor Daniel, Texas Education noted that while state spending on public schools has doubled in the decade, other states have upped school financing even more.

In the 1950-60 period, the scholastic population increased 34 per cent, enrollment 46 per cent and average daily attendance 50 per cent. State spending on schools rose from $187,000,000 to $356,000,000.

Texas State Board of Education, TEA's policy making body, has recommended a raise for teachers, but did not specify how much it felt the raise should be.

Wealth from the Past—There's money to be made in museums, mansions and missions—if they're kept up and made attractive to tourists.

An improved and increased array of historic spots could increase tourism 10 per cent and thereby state tax revenue $1,750,000 a year, the State Historical Survey Committee reported to the Rockport Electric Co.

 SO 4-2412

Legislature.

Committee did not ask for state funds to renovate historic buildings. Instead, it suggested an $82,775 appropriation for leadership and guidance of local groups who want to preserve or improve something in their locale.

Also recommended was a $50,000 a year appropriation for the Civil War Commission to be used in setting up Texas' part in the centennial observance. Other states in the South, many of whom already have combined scenery and Civil War mementoes to make big drawing cards for tourists, have the jump on centennial planning.

Petticoat War—Women's rights advocates have come to Austin every session, as far back as most legislative observers can remember, to try to get rid of one or more of the Texas laws that treat women differently from men.

Every session the women are treated with courtesy, viewed with amusement, and their bills are good naturedly buried.

This year the irked women, mostly members of the Federated Business and Professional Women's Club, are going all out. Instead of trying to get one of two individual statutes repealed, they are trying for a constitution amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women and abolishing—at a stroke—all laws to the contrary.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Hutchins (Dallas County) will introduce the measure in the House.

New GOP Chief—Spokesmen for the Texas Republican party's "new generation" of leadership is Tad Smith El Paso.

Smith, a 32 year old attorney, succeeds Thad Hutcheson of Houston who resigned.

Republicans are setting their sights on: (1) Getting revisions in the election code which they blame for their loss of Texas in the general election (2) Running a strong race in the April 4 special election to name a new U. S. senator (3) Building up momentum for a serious effort to challenge U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough when he comes up for re-election in 1964.

schools and with those at Rockport Elementary.

Tuesday he will meet with the Fulton pupils, then return to the high school where he will conduct demonstrations and lecture the plane geometry, chemistry and algebra classes.

Biology and physics classes at the high school listen to him on Wednesday, and he will be the speaker at Rockport's Rotary Club noon luncheon.

Thursday he lectures to several science classes and is a guest of the Rockport Lions Club, while on Friday he holds his last lectures addressing various classes in mathematics.

From Rockport Freeman goes to Aransas Pass, where he will spend a week, then to Gregory-Portland and, later, to Premont. From there he goes to schools in Central Texas.

At each place, in addition to giving twelve to fifteen lectures to science and mathematics classes and student assemblies, Freeman will be available for teachers' meetings, science clubs, civic groups and PTA meetings, according to A. B. LeFevre of Aransas County High School, who said that his meetings here had been scheduled approximately a year in advance.

"Freeman is one of twenty-six science teachers who were trained and equipped at Oklahoma State University last summer with the assistance of a grant from the National Science Foundation," LeFevre said. "Thirteen of the trainees were science supervisors who have returned to work in their home districts. The other thirteen teachers are working in schools in a ten-state area composed of Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas. Schools are scheduled only if they have requested the program. Aransas County schools are fortunate to have been selected to receive the program this year since more than twice as many applications were received as could be scheduled."

COURT OF HONOR TO BE HELD

The Presbyterian Church in Rockport will be the gathering place Monday night at 8 p.m. for a Troop 49 Court of Honor.

Various badges and awards will be presented at this time to those boys who have put forth the time and effort required to learn them. Among those slated to receive awards are: Russell Swann, David Roaten, Mike Schulz, Bubba Morrison, Roy Rogero, David Lichte, Gary Tuer, Monroe Menke and Jack Gwynn.

All persons interested in these boys and the work that they are doing, are cordially invited to this Court of Honor, and the parents of the members of the troop are requested to attend with their sons.

MAYOR EXPLAINS—

Congress are all barred from receiving such aid.

Projects planned and constructed must be the same that would be planned and constructed at that locality under a survey report authorization.

Local cooperation requirements are that local interests shall provide lands, easements and rights-of-way necessary for the project; hold and save the United States free from damages due to the construction; and agree to maintain and operate the works on completion.

In addition, present policies require that, where land enhancement constitutes a special benefit of the project, local interests shall pay 50% of the first cost proportionate to that benefit.

Furthermore, if the total cost of one of these projects exceeds the $400,000 limitation of the Federal share, and the cost of normal local cooperation requirements, all excess cost must be borne locally. Under no circumstances can the total Federal cost exceed $400,000. This includes costs of investigation and surveys as well as project costs.

To start such a program, local interests shall submit a letter to the District Engineer, setting forth details of their flood control problem and requesting that it be investigated for the possibility of Federal assistance.

This request must be submitted by some local government agency prepared to provide local cooperation outlined above for any project that might be developed.

Upon receipt of the letter, the Engineers would undertake an initial reconnaissance survey to determine the likelihood through detailed study, of developing an economically justified project. Not more than $1,000 may be spent by the engineers on this investigation.

If the reconnaissance report is favorable, a recommendation will be made that a design memorandum be prepared. Following submission of this design memo, it would be necessary that the chief of engineers approve the project and make an allotment of funds.

SCHOOL PICTURES
TAKEN TODAY

Principal A. B. LeFevre of Aransas County High School says that the final pictures for the school annual would be taken.

This includes all organizations such as clubs, teams, school favorites, the student council and others.

LeFevre said that it was hoped to have the annual ready for distribution before the end of the school year.
