Midlander Makes Deals For Wildcats In Lamb, Schleicher

O. L. Johnson of Midland has turned two deals to H. L. Hunt of Dallas, both of which call for the immediate drilling of Ellenburger wildcats.

One of the prospectors will be in the Sudan area of Central-West Lamb County and the other will be in Southeast Schleicher County. Both are to be on large blocks of leases which were assembled by Johnson and turned to Hunt to drill.

Johnson retains an overriding interest in both blocks. Exact locations for the two explorations will be staked and announced in a few days.

The Central-West Lamb County wildcat will be on a spread of about 18,000 acres assembled by Johnson in the areas adjacent to the town of Sudan.

Honolulu Farmout

He secured approximately 10,000 acres of leases on a farmout deal with Honolulu Oil Corporation out of a block of more than 19,000 acres which the concern owned in that region.

He then leased an additional 8,000 acres of acreage adjacent to the tracts he secured from Honolulu. That concern retains ownership of approximately 9,000 acres in the block.

Johnson then turned his leases to Hunt who assumed an obligation to start operations on an Ellenburger test on the block immediately.

In SE Schleicher

In Southeast Schleicher County, centering on the D. O. Wilson ranch, Johnson turned a block of about 4,700 acres to Hunt, which transaction also carried an obligation to start an Ellenburger wildcat in the near future.

In working up the spread Johnson took 2,700 acres of checkerboarded leases on the Wilson ranch from The Ohio Oil Company and then secured a contribution of 1,400 acres of scattered leases from Continental Oil Company.

He followed that up by leasing approximately 600 acres more in that area. He turned all his acreage to Hunt for drilling a wildcat to the Ellenburger.

It is expected that the location for the Schleicher County wildcat will be picked shortly and actual drilling work is due to start on the project soon.

C-S Nolan Test Gets Free Ellenburger Oil

Sun Oil Company No. 1 J. P. Maddox, wildcat in Central-South Nolan County, has recovered some free oil on an Ellenburger drillstem test.

On the test at 7,117-32 feet, gas surfaced in 20 minutes. The tool was closed after one hour, and recovery was 250 feet of clean oil, 200 feet of oil and gas cut mud—estimated to be 50 per cent oil—and 50 feet of heavily oil cut drilling mud. Flowing bottom hole pressure varied between 300 and 1,800 pounds.

Operators are preparing to take another drillstem test over the same section.

Tentative top of the Ellenburger was picked at 7,114 feet, on an elevation of 2,522 feet.

This prospective discovery is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 43, block 1-A, H&TC survey, and 21 miles southeast of Roscoe.

Deep Zone Wildcat Scheduled In Pecos

Callery & Hurt, Inc., of Houston has staked an Ellenburger wildcat in the Pecos Valley-High Gravity area in Central North Pecos County.

The venture will be the No. 1-A H. J. Eaton, located 1,944.4 feet from southeast and 660 feet from southwest lines of section 27, block 3, H&TC survey.

Slated depth is 8,500 feet. Drillsite is six miles southwest of Imperial. Operations are to begin immediately.

Outpost Staked Near Gas Opener In Pecos

J. S. Meriwether, Jr., of Fort Stockton has staked an east outpost to his recently completed gas discovery from the Yates sand of the Permian in Central-North Pecos County, six miles west of Fort Stockton.

The proposed venture is Meriwether No. 1-A Leon Farms Corporation, to be 1,650 feet from northeast and 330 feet from northwest lines of section 311, C. McKinley survey.

Slated depth is 3,100 feet. Operations are to begin immediately.

Wolfcamp Has Shows On C-E Irion DST

Wilshire Oil Company and Balboa Oil Company of Midland No. 1 Lawrence D. Brooks, wildcat in Central-East Irion County, has developed more gas-distillate shows in a drillstem test in the top of the Wolfcamp.

On the test at 5,960-6,015 feet,

U. S. Engages In Arms Race Against Time

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The government is racing against time to win the Korean conflict and arm for possible war with Russia—with full knowledge that a continued poor U. S. showing in one easily could bring on the other.

When might Russia drop her mask and step openly into war? The guess by some highly placed officials is three years. Others, at equally high level, think the time could be less.

Russia is watching us in Korea to see how we fight. We are fighting badly now. If the final showing is the same, the Kremlin may not wait three years.

Also, the time estimate could be wrong. We were wrong in our guess about how soon Russia could make its first atomic bomb.

The Administration reportedly is talking now about a $35,000,000,000 outlay in this fiscal year, which began July 1. That would include money for fighting the current war; for building up against the mounting menace of another, bigger one; for making the free European nations stronger, militarily and economically, by giving them more arms aid and more economic help.

Urgency Apparent

One of the major problems is manpower.

Here the feel of urgency really is apparent. Last Tuesday, President Truman, in asking Congress for a $10,500,000,000 supplemental military appropriation, said that among other things it would provide for 600,000 more men in the armed

Midlander Hurt In Road Accident

Ray Robertson, an employe of Anton Theis, distributor for Magnolia Petroleum Company, was picked up Friday in a dazed condition on the Rankin Highway and brought to Western Clinic-Hospital, after the pickup truck he was driving had overturned 20 miles south of Midland.

A. T. Meador of Odessa found Robertson on the highway and brought him to the hospital.

After preliminary examination, his condition was described as satisfactory. He suffered a head injury, lacerations and multiple abrasions and contusions.

Robertson was unable to recall how the accident occurred, or how long he had been waiting on the highway. Meador picked him up at approximately 9:15 a.m. Friday.

He lives with a brother, C. D. Robertson, at 904 North Fort Worth Street.

Rains Taper Off In Most Of Texas

By The Associated Press

Rains slacked off gradually in Texas Friday.

The main area of activity shrank from a wide-spread section of the northern half of the state to a Northeast Texas triangle.

There were morning rains in a triangle from Dallas to Tyler and back up toward Greenville.

San Angelo, in West Texas, had a very light shower.

Prospects were for more — but widely scattered — showers in parts of East Texas, with clear to partly cloudy skies, and warm weather in the rest of the state.

Wage-Price Control Plan Gains Favor

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Considerable support built up in Congress Friday for a drive to put the country under rationing and wage and price control.

The idea is to substitute full homefront mobilization for President Truman's limited economic control bill.

The House Banking Committee approved the President's plan 20 to 1 late Thursday, but only after it failed by a one-vote margin to take instead the all-out economic control plan proposed by elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch.

The Baruch plan lost 10 to 9. Six Republicans and three Democrats supported it. Nine Democrats and one Republican opposed it.

Vinson Supports It

Representative Kunkel (R-Pa) author of the all-out substitute, announced immediately he will take the fight to the House floor when the bill comes up there Tuesday. His measure would roll back prices to their lowest level between July 24 and 28.

Powerful support gathered behind the Baruch plan. One high-placed Democrat said it might pass the House.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee said "I am for the Baruch plan. Otherwise there will be inflation, absolutely out of control."

Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve

New Hospital Cites Room Rate Schedule

Room rates at the new Midland Memorial Hospital were made public by hospital officials Friday to clear incorrect rumors which have circulated here recently.

The rates range from $7 to $15 per room per day, Administrator E. R. Andres said.

Room facilities at the 100-bed hospital include four-bed wards with connecting baths, two - bed wards, semi-private rooms with connecting bath, private rooms with connecting baths, and private rooms with private baths.

Second Kind Midlander Sends Contribution To Help Little Dennis Polson Walk Again

Sometimes a three-foot fall can be a long, long way.

When two and a half-year-old Dennis Polson of Stanton fell from the foundation of his uncle's home in Odessa, he fell only three feet, but he landed in a hospital bed for two months.

The brown-eyed youngster suffered a fractured femur—the long bone between his knee and his hip—and is in a traction bed at Western Clinic-Hospital.

And to complicate the seriousness of the fracture, the split runs the long way of the bone, almost from knee to hip socket—so healing will be a long, slow proposition.

But there's a ray of hope for Dennis and his family. (There are three other children, Judy, Jerry and Donnie.) After appeals in The Reporter-Telegram for donations from kind people to help pay Dennis' hospital bill, another kind Midlander, who prefers to remain anonymous, has sent $10 to bring the fund to $15.

The response of Midland area citizens to this appeal is especially appropriate since Dennis and his brothers and sister helped another little friend last Christmas.

The four of them wrote a letter to Santa Claus, which was printed in The Reporter-Telegram, asking nothing for themselves, only that something be done for Roger Dean, another little Stanton boy who breathed through a tube in his throat. Thanks to their appeal, Roger Dean received free treatment from a Midland physician and now is on his way to complete recovery.

So the opportunity to help a child who thought of others before him-

Army Hikes Draft Calls To 100,000; May Ask For More

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Army, already slated to get 100,000 draftees by October 30, may follow up with at least one more draft call before the end of the year to boost its strength near the 800,000-man mark.

While the Air Force and the Navy are waiting to see if volunteers will fill their combined 340,000-man quota, the Army made clear Thursday it is relying heavily on the Selective Service Act to meet its manpower needs.

It boosted its September draft call from 20,000 to 50,000 and said it would call up another 50,000 men in October.

Even this increased total would fall short of bringing the ground forces to their 800,000-man goal. Army manpower on June 30—the last date for which figures will be released—was about 591,000.

In addition to the Army, the United States is building as swiftly as possible toward an Air Force of 548,000 and a Navy of 579,000—for a total military strength of 1,927,000 within the next few months. By next June this is expected to climb to 2,300,000.

In a move to stabilize the military force, President Truman Thursday signed an executive order extending for 12 months all enlistments in the armed services. This affects almost 300,000 enlistments due to expire before June 30, 1951.

Allowances May Rise

In a companion move, the Army extended by six months—effective August 31—the tour of duty of all personnel in foreign service, except

Republicans Will Name Candidates For County Offices

Republican candidates for county offices will be nominated at the Midland County Republican convention scheduled at 3 p.m. Saturday in the commissioners courtroom on the second floor of the courthouse, party officials said Friday.

Delegates to state and district Republican conventions also will be named at the gathering.

All citizens who are qualified voters, regardless of past party affiliations, "who believe in the principles of the Republican Party and who will support its nominees in good faith" are eligible to attend and participate in the convention proceedings, officials stated.

Midland County Democratic Meet Slated Saturday

Delegates to the Midland County Democratic convention will meet at 10 a.m. Saturday in the district courtroom of the courthouse, when 11 delegates to the state Democratic convention, scheduled September 12 in Mineral Wells, will be named.

Louis A. Bartha, chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee, will preside at the gathering.

The delegates to the county convention were named at precinct conventions held last Saturday.

Precincts 1 and 7, formerly Precinct 1, named 89 delegates and alternates to the county meet. The unit is entitled to 64 votes. Herbert Marshall and Francis Kingon are the co-chairmen.

Precincts 5 and 6, formerly Precinct 5, will be represented by 62 delegates. Hamilton McRae is the precinct chairman.

Other precincts, number of delegates, and chairmen, are as follows: No. 2, three, B. T. Graham; No. 3, one, J. C. Franklin; No. 4, three, J. R. McCarter.

Russians End UN Boycott

By A. I. GOLDBERG

LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)— (AP)—Russia late Thursday announced the end of its boycott of the United Nations Security Council. Its chief UN delegate, Jakob A. Malik, said he would take over the council presidency on schedule August 1.

The full meaning of the Russian return could not be evaluated immediately. It threatened vetoes over future council actions on the Korean conflict or on any other action the Russians oppose.

But there appeared here no way the Russians could recall actions already taken, although they have branded UN intervention in Korea illegal because the Soviet Union was not represented at the meetings and the Chinese Nationalists were.

Alphabetical rotation of the council presidency among its members gives Russia its regular term in August.

Meeting Called Tuesday

Malik notified Secretary General Trygve Lie Thursday in a telephoned letter that he planned to take his August term and that he wanted a council meeting held at 2:00 p.m. Tuesday. He told Lie he would announce the program of business later.

Lie's office notified all other members of the council immediately, including T. F. Tsiang, Chinese Nationalist delegate whose continued presence in the United Nations over Russian protest set off

Stracener Named Purchasing Agent For City Supplies

E. N. Stracener, an accountant employe with the City of Midland the last several years, has been named purchasing agent for the city, W. H. Oswalt, city manager, announced Friday. He also will continue his accounting duties.

Stracener replaces J. C. Hudman, who will devote full time to his position as city secretary. The increased quantity of office records and documents now will require full-time work, Oswalt said.

The position of purchasing agent was established in April when a central purchasing system for the city was established. At the time it was set up it was estimated that the city would save between $15,000 and $20,000 annually by making volume purchases on a competitive basis.

According to the city manager, the city already has saved up to $4,600 on the purchase of one type of supplies alone. Water works supplies purchased for $23,000 recently, were estimated to be $4,600 cheaper than under the former buying method.

Cigarettes Join Price Hike Parade

HOUSTON —(AP)— Two wholesale tobacco distributors Friday increased cigarette prices five cents a carton on two brands.

Distributors said they expect other manufacturers to follow the hike already established by Liggett & Myers and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Companies.

Retailers were expected to pass the increase on to the consumers.

Assault Hits Entire Front Of 200 Miles

TOKYO—(AP)—Red North Korean invaders threw a savage armored attack at American divisions Saturday in a decisive battle for the remaining U. S. foothold in South Korea.

The North Korean Reds were attacking in the rain along the whole front with an estimated 90,000 men in nine divisions.

The heaviest blows were dealt against the greatly outnumbered American forces in the West-Central sector northeast and southeast of Yongdong.

General MacArthur's early-morning summary said "a savage fire fight" was in progress, with concentrated assaults on the U. S. First Cavalry Division southeast of Yongdong.

The First Cavalry foot troopers lost some ground in the Hwanggan vicinity, 15 miles east of Yongdong, but last were reported holding firm against three enemy divisions.

Twenty miles farther northeast, elements of the Red 15th Division drove a small wedge between the U. S. 25th Division and the South Korean Sixth Division near Ichon village, MacArthur's announcement said. Efforts were being made to restore the breach.

Battle Is Critical

A First Cavalry Division spokesman in the field said the great Red onslaught covered the entire front of about 200 twisting miles. He said this battle was critical.

Fighting without much direct air support because of the weather, the Americans drove to bar the corridor to Taegu, temporary South Korean capital and supply-line hub 48 miles southeast of Yongdong and 40 miles above vital Pusan port.

A MacArthur headquarters intelligence spokesman said late Friday: "Enemy pressure is now reaching a maximum, and he must have a decision quickly."

This spokesman said the Red sup-

B-29's Hit North Korea Rail Centers

TOKYO — (AP) — American Superforts Friday rained destruction for the sixth consecutive day on North Korean communications, but bad flying weather cut down effective fighter support of ground troops in the battle zone.

The Far East Air Force said the B-29's met increased anti-aircraft fire around key marshaling yards, indicated increased "sensitivity" to planned bomb attacks on railroad yards and bridge targets.

The Superforts found a railroad marshaling yard between Pyongyang and Wonsan in North Korea choked with railroad cars. The jam-up resulted from Thursday's raids, the FEAF said.

As bombs hit this target area, a column of smoke rose 5,000 feet, indicating they had touched off an explosion.

Vital Bridge Blasted

Capt. Ralph E. Bower of Albuquerque hit a rail-highway bridge east of Seoul and reported, "It will take some time to repair the damage."

Lt. Edward C. Looker of Lead, S. D., in an accompanying bomber, agreed.

Capt. Owen E. Radcliff of Tampa, Fla., said he attacked 200 Communist troops. Lt. John M. Netterblad of Miami, Ariz., and Capt. Homer K. Hansen of Saint Ansgar, Iowa, reported hits on tanks but the results were not given.

On Thursday, Allied warplanes made widespread sweeps in advance of the Reds' all-out offensive.

Targets included three tanks, 27 trucks, 16 miscellaneous vehicles and five railway cars.

No Allied planes were reported

Midland National Hikes Hospital Gift

An additional gift of $8,000 by The Midland National Bank to the Midland Memorial Foundation, parent organization of the new Midland Memorial Hospital, was announced Friday by Dr. John B. Thomas, foundation president.

The gift brought the bank's contribution to the hospital to $10,000, Dr. Thomas said.

The new $1,500,000 hospital, opened for service July 11. Gifts to the community institution still are being received.

'Bed-Check Charlie' Returns To Disturb Doughboys In Korea

By DON WHITEHEAD

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN KOREA —(AP)— Old "Bed-Check Charlie" is back again at the fighting front and in the rear areas.

The veterans of World War II will remember Charlie. He was the enemy pilot who always came snooping around after dark as if to see that everybody was tucked into his blanket or foxhole.

When Bed-Check Charlie wore a German uniform, he patrolled North Africa, Sicily, Italy and then kept late hours across Europe. He would come droning over in the darkness and you would lie there and wonder if he were looking for you this time with a stick of bombs.

Well, Bed-Check Charlie was back again the other night—this time in the uniform of a North Korean Red, I suppose.

He flipped through the American night air patrols and came over at less than 500 feet to plop a fire bomb in our area.

Puny Effort

He probably returned home north of the thirty-eighth parallel and reported: "We slaughtered 'em, boss. There was a great explosion and flames shot into the air for hundreds of feet. I must have hit an ammunition dump."

Actually, old Bed-Check put his bomb smack in the middle of an empty courtyard. The most damage he did was to interrupt the snores of correspondents and get a South Korean Fire Department out of bed.

It was a puny effort, but it made me thankful once again that the American flyboys rule the air almost completely over Korea.

Bed-Check Charlie wouldn't dare stick nose out during the day. Not with those jet Shooting Stars and F-51's roaring through the skies, giving the fighting troops magnificent air support.

Navy Reduces Time On Reservists' Calls

HOUSTON —(AP)— Capt. George Sharp, Naval Reserve inspector, Friday said a small number of highly trained communications specialists in the Houston reserve have been called to active duty. He said the men have been given only five days to get their private affairs in order.

Other Naval reservists called to active duty have been given 10 days, he said.

No Filmland Housing Problem; Censors Have Suites To Spare

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — There's a reception hall between the two suites occupied by Broderick Crawford and Judy Holliday in the movie version of "Born Yesterday." The hall is referred to at Columbia as "the respectability corridor."

In the play there was only one suite. The film censors insisted on separate suites. Hence the hall. The censors have changed some other things, too.

Brod explains Judy:

"She's my fiancee. We've been engaged for nine years."

Another blow for liberty has been struck in behalf of the Society for the Suppression of Theater Popcorn Eaters, Peanut Shell Snappers and Crackerjack Chompers. Arnold Brumm, manager of the Ritz Theater in Milwaukee, Wis., says Monday nights at his theater will be known as "dignity night."

Chawers of all the crackly stuff will be quarantined in a special section.

Ferrer Knows Noses

Jose Ferrer played "Cyrano de Bergerac" on Broadway by sticking a thimble on his nose with adhesive tape and covering it with putty.

One night he forgot to don the nose—"I don't think anyone knew the difference"—but at the play's conclusion he went to the footlights, joked about his forgetfulness and said:

"I guess the nose was stolen by a bobby soxer. Maybe 100 of 'em are worth one Sinatra autograph."

Jose's Broadway nose cost about 15 cents. Now he's playing "Cyrano" for the movies and producer Stan Kramer claims he spent $5000 in preparing sketches, life masks, molds, plastics and what not in developing the famous Cyrano beezer.

It measures 2 3/4 inches, horizontally, from lip to lip and will, no doubt, give Bob Hope and Jimmy Durante such inferiority complexes that they will give up the screen forever.

Jose wore the nose home one night. He was driving a convertible.

"I had to stop and put the top up. I was stopping traffic."

Howard Hughes will have to finish "Jet Pilot" during John Wayne's month of liberty between "Rio Bravo" and Warners' "Operation Pacific"—or delay the picture another year. Wayne's schedule is more crowded than Gregory Peck's.

Mama Olga will be stepping, too —right back to her acting career when the stork pays her a second visit in early August.

Maybe Vic Damone will have better luck, but Mel Torme isn't pasting up a picture of Leo the Lion in his book of golden memories. A click at the Mocambo, Mel told me:

"I'm disgusted with what happened to my film career. I'd like a crack at good pictures. For nine years I worked like a beaver to get acting experience in radio, but M-G-M wouldn't listen to me. They kept giving me one-song specialties in pictures."

Then he added: "I'm only 24. I guess it's a little ridiculous for me to feel sorry for myself."

James P. Hart Named First Chancellor Of University Of Texas

AUSTIN — (AP) — Modest, quiet-spoken James P. Hart, associate justice of the State Supreme Court, will be the first chancellor of the University of Texas. His appointment was announced Thursday.

The scholarly, 45-year-old jurist will assume his new duties November 15 at an annual salary of $20,000—highest pay ever offered a state official.

As chancellor, he will be top-flight administrative officer of the university and its many branches. He will be the long-range planner, the man who studies problems and makes recommendations to the university Board of Regents.

The University of Texas graduate has been a member of the State Supreme Court since his appointment by the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester Oct. 1, 1947. One of the youngest men ever to serve on the high court, he was elected to a full six-year term in 1948.

At Hart's suggestion, the regents agreed that he should not resign from the court until November 15, thus allowing him time to complete his judicial duties.

Dr. T. S. Painter, university president, will act as chancellor from September 1 to November 15. Thereafter, he will be charged only with administrative responsibility for the main university (at Austin) and the Institute of Marine Science, Port Aransas.

Take Care Of Birthmarks Early; Many Rheumatic Fever Recoveries

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Probably the most common of the defects or difficulties which are present at birth are the so-called birthmarks or marks on the skin. When in a conspicuous place and on girls, these cause a great deal of distress to the parents.

Q—My daughter has a birthmark between her eyebrows. Can an operation or medicine take it away?

A—There are several different kinds of birthmarks. Many of them can be treated satisfactorily early in life by X-rays, radium, or other measures. Surgery sometimes is used. The thing to do is to get expert advice while the child is still very young and certainly before school age when other children may make fun of the mark or otherwise harm the youngster's psychological reactions.

Q—How dangerous is rheumatic fever? Is it catching? Do you ever get over it?

A—Rheumatic fever is a serious disease because it so often affects the heart. Rheumatic fever itself is not directly contagious. Many people recover from an acute attack of rheumatic fever without any harmful effects, that is, the joints improve entirely and the heart does not seem to be affected. However, in all cases the patient who has had rheumatic fever must be watched carefully for quite a long time.

Q—A few months ago I had a bone biopsy which showed that I had osteomyelitis in my upper right forearm. I was told that this probably came from blood poisoning two years before. Is this possible?

A—Osteomyelitis is an infection of the bone. It could have come from germs in the blood stream which sometimes is called blood poisoning. Osteomyelitis should be carefully cared for but the chances of cure, especially if caught early, are much better now than they used to be thanks to the sulfas and to penicillin and its relatives.

Q—I have observed a preponderance of men with extremely thin or bald heads in the 20 to 40 age group. If memory serves me correctly, about 15 or 20 years ago the practice of going without hats became popular with the young men. In your opinion is there any connection between these two circumstances?

A—In my opinion there is not. So far as seems to be known, ordinary baldness is largely a hereditary or family affair. In fact, there have been some who claim that wearing hats cause baldness but this too does not seem to be borne out by the facts.

Q—What are the chances that children of a couple, one of whom is an albino, also will be albinos?

A—An albino is a person who is lacking in pigment. The hair is white and the skin also is very pale. This is known to be an inherited trait. The children of parents, both of whom are albinos, will also be albinos. The children of one albino and a person with normal pigment (and who does not carry a buried albino trait) will on the average consist of three ordinary pigmented persons and one albino. Albinism is not a disease and except for the pigment albinos are as a rule just as normal as other people.

Q—What can be done to stop underarm perspiration?

A—For most people the common commercial antideodorants, most of which contain the same harmless active chemical, are quite satisfactory. In the occasional person who continues to have difficulty, a visit to a skin specialist may be necessary but even the skin specialist cannot perform miracles.

CITIZEN AND TAXPAYER...in 123 towns

IN YOUR community... and in 122 other towns and communities in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Arkansas... The Texas and Pacific Railway and its subsidiaries is a citizen and a taxpayer. It helps support and maintain schools and roads, police and fire protection, streets and parks and all the other functions performed by the federal, state, county and municipal governments in these 123 communities. In 1949 it helped to the extent of paying a tax bill of $5,892,975.01!

No other form of transportation contributes so much to the cities and towns it serves.

The railroad is the only form of transportation that pays its own way all the way—that uses its own money to build and maintain its roadway, and then pays local and state taxes on its roadway.

The Texas and Pacific Railway means more than efficient, dependable transportation. It is a good neighbor... a taxpaying neighbor ...interested in the communities it serves and in helping the communities build, develop and prosper.

Here are the taxes paid by the Texas and Pacific Railway and its subsidiaries in 1949:

Federal	$4,245,670.67
State	527,312.27
County or Parish	209,766.20
Road (highway)	142,501.09
School	458,393.19
Drainage-Levee, etc.	82,838.10

Midland Ministers Are Away; Guest Speakers Scheduled

It's vacation time for many Midland ministers and revival time for others. Guest speakers are scheduled in several of the churches Sunday.

The Rev. Vernon Yearby, First Baptist; J. Woodie Holden, Church of Christ; the Rev. R. J. Snell, Trinity Episcopal; and the Rev. H. H. Hollowell, First Methodist, are on vacations. The Rev. A. L. Teaff, Calvary Baptist, and F. I. Stanley, Southside Church of Christ preacher are in revival meetings.

David Mason, a student in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., will speak for both services of the First Baptist Church Sunday in the absence of Mr. Yearby who, with his family, is in South Carolina. Don Morris, president of Abilene Christian College, will be the speaker for both services of the Church of Christ. Mr. Holden and his family are in Tennessee.

Mr. Snell is vacationing with his family in Alabama and North Carolina. Mr. Hollowell and his family are in Laguna Beach, Calif., on vacation. The Rev. J. B. McReynolds of Midland will be in charge of the morning service of the First Methodist Church and a film, "Like a Mighty Army," will be shown in the evening service.

The Rev. A. W. Shewmake of Big Spring will speak for both services of the Calvary Baptist Church. Mr. Teaff is concluding a revival meeting in Tenyson. Raymond Boyd is in charge of the services of the Southside Church of Christ.

The Bellview Baptist Church begins a revival meeting Sunday with the Rev. M. T. McGregor of Texarkana, Ark., as the evangelist. Services will continue through August 6.

A youth group from Pasadena College, Pasadena, Calif., will conclude a series of services in the Church of the Nazarene Sunday night. Services began Wednesday night and good crowds are reported. Nova Rogers, daughter of the Rev. P. W. Rogers, the pastor, is a member of the group from the college. Others include Bill Hanna, Dorothy Reddy and Leta Mae Gunstream.

Says Hadacol Only Thing That Relieved Gas on Stomach
Caused by Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin

Lincoln Robinson, 519 Lindsey Street, Newport, Kentucky, wrote us this: "HADACOL is wonderful . . . I suffered from stomach gas. I've taken only three bottles and can eat anything. I could write for a day about this HADACOL. It's the first thing I found that helped me."

Why don't you get that wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about? HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese — elements so vital to maintain good health. And these vital elements come in special liquid form, so that they are more quickly absorbed into the blood stream—ready to go to work at once! Trial size, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Anti-Leopold Strikes Paralyze Brussels As Tension Mounts

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM — (AP) — Brussels walked to work Friday as the country's widespread anti-Leopold strikes hit the capital. The city's factories and most large department stores were closed.

With some 300,000 workers already idle in protest against King Leopold's return to his throne, both the monarch's supporters and his opponents pulled their battle lines tighter. Tension mounted throughout the nation.

An anti - Leopold demonstrator died of injuries received Thursday night in a bloody 90-minute fight between police and anti-Leopold partisans who penetrated to within 300 yards of the king's palace at Laeken. The dead man reportedly was run down by a car he was trying to stop.

Force Way Inside

A crowd before one open store sang the Communist Internationale and booed members of the staff going to work. Forcing their way inside, the demonstrators trampled two life-size pictures of the king. Rifle-armed police drove them out and drew a tight cordon around the store.

In Brussels Thursday night, 2,500 anti-Leopold partisans defied an order forbidding more than five persons to gather in the streets. They marched on the royal palace, hooting, whistling and calling for the king's abdication.

When police failed to disperse them with a baton charge, 24 motorcycle police rode into the crowd. Several persons were injured.

At Antwerp Friday, 4,000 workers in the major port's ship repair yards joined the country's Socialist-called strike wave. It was expected the city's 12,000 dockers would join them later in the day.

Brownfield Banker, R. M. Kendrick, Dies

BROWNFIELD —(AP)— R. M. (Marsh) Kendrick, 75, president of the First National Bank here, died early Friday in a hospital where he was taken Thursday night after becoming critically ill.

Kendrick, prominent Brownfield resident who came here shortly after 1900, had been in ill health for a few months. He established the bank in 1919. About two years ago he was a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee. He was born in Bosque County and formerly was a banker at Gomez.

Survivors include the window; a daughter, Mrs. O. L. Stice of Brownfield; two sons, Clovis and Richard, both officials in the bank here; a sister, Mrs. Mattie Young of Lubbock and six grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

for the Far East Command, where officers and men will be held "as long as may be necessary."

Congress moved meanwhile to restore family allowances for enlisted personnel of the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force and Coast Guard.

Identical bills were introduced in House and Senate by the chairmen of the Armed Services Committees, at the request of the Defense Department, to replace the existing law under which allowances set up during the last war are being dropped.

A total of $75 monthly would be paid to a wife, husband or dependent parent, with the GI chipping in $30 of that amount. For two dependent parents the sum would be $90. For each child the allowance would be $25, unless the enlisted person were the only parent, in which case $60 would be allowed.

Both government payments and deductions from the service man's pay would be increased in comparison to World War II. In the last war, a service man's wife got $50, of which he paid $22.

Russians—

the Soviet boycotts that finally extended to 30 UN groups.

United Nations diplomats were divided sharply Friday on the question: Was Russia's decision to end her boycott just another step in the cold war or an admission the boycott was a big mistake?

Speculation Rife

The question may be answered Tuesday when the Russians return, but meantime these lines of speculation were heard at UN headquarters:

1—Russia intends to challenge the legality of the Security Council's Korean intervention and try to block any further UN action.

2—Russia intends to try a new approach in her fight to oust Nationalist China from the UN and seat the Chinese Reds.

3—Russia is merely coming back for a propaganda blast and may resume her walkout-boycott which was started last January in protest against the presence of the Chinese Nationalists.

4—Russia is getting ready for new Communist moves either in the Balkans or against Formosa and wants to be on hand to veto any council action.

5—Russia realizes she has made a mistake and is coming back to try to find a way to end the Korean conflict.

All this, however, admittedly was nothing more than speculation. No delegate claimed to know what the Russians had in mind.

The Security Council held a meeting Friday—with no Russian delegates present. The meeting was called so council members could express their views, if they wished, on the review of UN military operations in Korea made by General MacArthur.

One Candle On Cake For 88th Birthday

Dr. J. F. Haley, pioneer Midland physician who retired several years ago, is celebrating his eighty-eighth birthday Friday—as a medical patient in Western Clinic-Hospital.

Nurses and doctors at the hospital planned a special birthday meal for him, featuring a tiny birthday cake, handsomely decorated with one candle.

Dr. Haley's home is at 600 North Main Street.

Remnants Of Cavalry Unit Reach Outpost

By O. H. P. KING

AN ADVANCED U. S. OUTPOST IN KOREA—(AP)—Remnants of a U. S. First Cavalry Division company, isolated by enemy action south of Yongdong, reached this American outpost Friday.

Several of the soldiers were carried on stretchers by friendly Koreans.

The group was one of two American forces sighted from the air Wednesday by pilots of observation planes.

The pilots had dropped provisions, medical supplies, maps and instructions on how to get out of the canyon where the GI's were trapped.

Division headquarters said the men were led to American lines by their group commander, a Captain Field.

The Americans were isolated when they attacked North Koreans pressing another American unit.

Rendezvous Will Reopen Saturday

Ray Pool, manager of the Rendezvous Restaurant, has set Saturday as the reopening date of this well-known Midland establishment. The Rendezvous has been closed the last several weeks pending the completion of a new building at 406 West Wall Street.

The new Rendezvous is unique in it's architectural style and resembles some of the cafes found in the old French Quarter of New Orleans. It has a seating capacity of 75 persons and is air-conditioned. New equipment has been installed throughout.

The Old World atmosphere which prevails at the Rendezvous, as well as the specialized types of food served, offers something new to the connoisseur of fine foods.

Parking space for 50 cars has been provided and the fountain and curb service improved.

PAUL DAVIS WITHDRAWS FROM COMMITEEMAN RACE

The withdrawal of Paul Davis from the runoff race for Democratic committeeman in Precinct 7 was announced Friday by Louis A. Bartha, chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee.

Davis' withdrawal gives the nomination to Herbert Marshall, incumbent.

Stripling Speaks To Air Reserve Group At Thursday Meeting

The complete incompatibility of communism and democracy was described by Robert Stripling, former investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committe, who spoke Thursday night at a combined meeting of 9816 Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron units.

Stripling, now a Midland oil man, was for 10 years chief investigator of the committee then headed by Congressman Martin Dies. He told the Air Reservists that communism in itself is a well laid plan, the blueprint for which was laid down many years ago.

"And they have not deviated from that plan one bit," Stripling said. "They are going right down the line, point by point."

He declared that Communists recognize there can be no compromise with democracy—that they cannot live in the same world with it.

"It is their avowed intention to conquer the world, and they won't stop with Korea or any place else until they have achieved their goal," Stripling said.

Lt. Col. C. E. (Bud) Bissell, commanding officer of the reserve unit, conducted the meeting. Routine business was discussed after Stripling's talk.

Groups from Flight B of the Squadron, with headquarters in Odessa, joined the Midland Flight A reservists at the meeting. A conflict kept Big Spring's Flight C from attending, Bissell said. The meeting was held in the court room of Midland County Courthouse.

Seymour Marks Has Lots More Pep—Gives Credit to Hadacol

Was Troubled With Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin in His System!

Seymour Marks, 1229 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, feels like a different man now due to HADACOL. He writes: "I started taking HADACOL a few weeks ago, and I feel much better. I felt tired all the time and couldn't sleep at night. Since taking HADACOL, I have lots more pep. I'm on my second bottle and feel like a different man."

So many weak, run-down, nervous men with stomach disturbances—due to lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin in the system—are telling how this great new HADACOL has helped build them up, has filled them full of the joy of living—has given them that wonderful HADACOL feeling. Be fair to yourself. Start taking HADACOL at once. A big improvement in physical well-being is often noticed within a few days. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

India's Effort At Mediation

India's efforts to mediate the Korean war are well-meaning but misguided.

An exchange of notes between Prime Minister Nehru and Premier Stalin brought forth a typical piece of Russian blackmail: Let the United Nations seat Communist China and steps might be taken toward settling the war.

This is the effrontery of the pickpocket who, caught stealing your wallet, wants to exact a price for handing it back. The Soviet Union unsuccessfully tried the same game during the Berlin blockade.

Again this time the answer, from the United States and other UN countries, properly has been a firm "No."

Secretary of State Acheson told Nehru UN members are not agreed on whether Red China should have Nationalist China's seat on the UN Security Council. (This country disapproves but has let it be known it would not veto the Communists' admission.)

Said Acheson to the Indian leader: "I know you will agree that the decision should not be dictated by an unlawful aggression or by any other conduct which would subject the United Nations to coercion and duress."

The UN has ordered a cease-fire in the Korean war and directed the invading North Koreans to withdraw behind the thirty-eighth parallel which is their border. We have said all along, and now reiterate, that such action is the rock-bottom minimum we will expect before mediating the Korean problem or discussing any other world issue with Russia.

To wander one inch from that insistence would be to appease Russia, to reward aggression and encourage further Soviet violations of the peace.

Stalin's note to Nehru on Red China is pure camouflage. Recognition of the Communist regime by the UN might well have been achieved this Fall had not the Korean war intervened. Sentiment among several key nations was building up toward favorable action, spurred perhaps by U. S. notice that we would not oppose it.

Stalin did not have to order his North Korean puppets to attack South Korea to gain UN acceptance of Communist China. Nehru's good intentions simply gave the Soviet premier an opportunity to confuse world opinion, to pose as peace-minded at the very moment he is pressing aggression.

To most of the free world his scheme is as transparent as the Russian claim that Moscow is not guiding the North Koreans. But Nehru, so desperately eager to steer a middle course and avoid offending anyone, is blinding himself to real Soviet purposes.

Perhaps a Russian move against Indo-China, Iran or Yugoslavia would clear his vision. The cause of freedom badly needs India's strength and prestige; it should not be dissipated in futile attempts to bargain with a blackmailer.

If you're not afraid of being overburdened you'll find it a lot easier to deliver the goods.

One rule of success is "Keep at it"—and can be wisely applied to the purchase of government bonds.

Who Do You Think Is Behind These Things?

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Russians goggle-eyed over American "luxuries"; Lush spending marks New Hampshire primary battle; Symington suggests existing agencies handle controls.

WASHINGTON—Our ex-ambassador to Russia, Gen. Bedell Smith, recently told a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee how a Soviet propaganda film backfired.

"The Russians are intensely interested in how the man in the small American town or city lives," General Smith told the senators. "The great Russian propaganda picture, 'Rusky Vaprosk,' which was a terrible indictment of American journalism and foreign policy, played in 500 theaters simultaneously in the Soviet Union. But it lasted only two weeks in Moscow.

"We had American observers at the theater almost every night. The audience reaction was interesting. In one scene, the producer had accurately shown a tenement in the East Side of New York—what we would consider extremely poor housing.

"To the Muscovite," Smith continued, "it was darn good housing, housing Russians would compete for. Between the tenement buildings were clotheslines, and audience reaction was, 'My God, how many clothes they have! Look at them!'"

General Smith smiled at this recollection and went on: "Then the film showed the little Westchester bungalow of the downtrodden reporter who was losing his job and his wife because he had written something good about the Soviet Union. The audience was not interested in what was happening to him, but they were gasping at the electric range and the electric refrigerator in the kitchen."

Lush Campaign Funds

Big-time money still is pouring into senatorial primaries, the latest to attract attention being the New Hampshire battle between two Republicans, elder statesman Senator Charles Tobey and ex-Senate Secretary Wesley Powell.

Powell, an energetic young man who formerly ran the office of New Hampshire's Senator Styles Bridges, seems to have an abundance of funds to spend in his campaign against Tobey. Yet he resigned from his job with Senator Bridges one year ago, has no law practice, no other important means of support, and has been giving all his time to campaigning.

Where he gets his lush campaign chest is not yet known. However, Truman's close friend Ed Pauley once vowed that he could contribute any amount of money to defeat Senator Tobey. This was after Tobey led the Senate attack which defeated oil-man Pauley for appointment as undersecretary of the Navy. Tobey maintained that with the Navy buying large amounts of oil, a big oil man who had raised thousands for the Democratic Party, should not be running the Navy.

Also sore at Tobey and reported anxious to unseat him are David Sarnoff of RCA, whose operations Tobey once exposed, and the Textron Company, also investigated by Tobey.

Meanwhile, Iowa's Senator Gillette, chairman of a special committee to probe election campaigns, has been requested to investigate New Hampshire. It isn't likely, however, that the likable gentleman from Iowa will do anything. In the first place, Gillette is too easy-going. In the second place, Senator Tobey once trod on Gillette's toes in a previous election probe.

This was in 1940, when Tobey and the late Senator Alva Adams of Colorado wanted to scrutinize the campaign machinations of the Hague machine in New Jersey. However, Senator Gillette was called to the White House and asked to lay off. Later, he called a meeting of his full committee, and, in urging them not to investigate the Hague machine, literally broke down and wept.

"Gentlemen," he said, "you don't know the pressure that I am under."

However, Senators Tobey and Adams went ahead with the New Jersey probe anyway.

Wasted-Effort Department

One of the minor mysteries of the Pentagon Building is why the Defense Department's Public Information Office wastes precious time and money getting such out-of-date and superfluous publicity photos.

As recently as July 14, the Defense Department sent newspapers a "fact sheet," accompanied by 22 handsome "official Dept. of Defense photos," showing various views of the Red River Arsenal of Texas, its tanks, guns, trucks, etc., stored there, employes at work on servicing and "de-cocooning" the equipment.

Except to show what expert photographers the Defense Department has, a more useless piece of defense effort has yet to be seen.

No New OPA

Conscientious Stuart Symington, who as chairman of the National Security Resources Board now becomes virtual czar of the civilian economy, has worked out a common-sense scheme for the administration of controls.

At least it sounds like common sense on paper, though old-timers have raised eyebrows as to whether it will really work.

What Symington plans is to place the administration of controls in the hands of the present government agencies instead of building up big new bureaus. For instance, he would have the Labor Department handle manpower and labor problems; the Commerce Department handle retail prices, and priorities on raw materials; the Interior Department coal, oil, and electric power.

The Commerce Department, Symington points out, has 56,000 employes. Therefore, instead of building up new bureaucracies, he would have the Commerce Department handle all war controls affecting business.

Experts who handled war controls in the last war agree that this is a most laudable idea. However, they point out that out of the Commerce Department's employes, 11,000 are scattered around the nation's airports with the Civil Aeronautics Administration; another large group is with the Coast and Geodetic Survey; and others are scattered around the country as weather bureau observers. And you can't do much about priorities or price controls when you're sitting in a lighthouse or sending up weather balloons.

Another criticism is that war controls have to be administered impartially and for the best interests of all. In contrast, the Labor Department's chief function is to campaign the cause of labor, therefore it would be handicapped in settling a wartime wage dispute.

Likewise, the Agriculture Department always has pleaded the cause of the farmer, might be prejudiced when given the job of keeping prices down.

However, Symington points to the futility of building up big bureaus only to disband them if the Korean crisis tapers off next Winter. So his idea will be given a good trial.

Discharged Union Chief Reinstated By NLRB Action

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The National Labor Relations Board Friday ordered the reinstatement of miner Lloyd H. Sidener of Canton, Ill., who was fired from his job and fined $50,000 by a United Mine Workers local after he tried to go back to work during the 1950 coal strike.

In a unanimous decision, the NLRB held that the United Electric Coal Companies, UMW Local 7,455 and a UMW subdistrict had violated the Taft-Hartley Law in their treatment of Sidener, who was president of the local at the time the dispute started.

The board ordered the coal firm and the unions to pay Sidener all the wages he had lost as a result of their action. The board also directed the unions not to force United Electric or any other company to discriminate against employes because of their union activities.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Maybe your friend Hard Luck Joe has been around here lately," writes a New Orleans correspondent. "We had a hand the other night that had us all changing our minds faster than we could make them up. Here is how the play went.

"West opened the ten of hearts, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer (a real Hard Luck Joe type) took the ace of spades and then led the king of spades. Curtain!

"East ruffed the king of spades and returned a trump. Now South had three losing spades in his hand

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	5 ♦	Pass
6 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♥ 10

and only two trumps in dummy to ruff them with. The hearts could not be set up, and nothing could be done. South was set.

"Naturally South complained about his hard luck, and we all jumped on him at once. We said that after taking the ace of spades he should have led a club to dummy's ace in order to lead a second spade from dummy. If East ruffed, South could play a low spade. If East discarded, South could take his king of spades and then proceed to ruff his low spades in dummy.

"South agreed that this plan would have made the contract. However, he pointed out that he would have run into disaster if West (rather than East) had held the singleton spade. Even if South played the hand according to our recommendations, West would ruff the king of spades on the second round of that suit. He would then return a trump and South would be just as badly off as he actually was.

"This made us change our minds once again. Maybe the hand was unlucky after all. What do you think?"

The hand was not unlucky. South should have made his slam contract no matter which opponent happened to have a singleton spade. The correct play after winning the ace of spades at the second trick is to return a low spade at once from the South hand!

The best defense the opponents can put up is to take this spade and return a trump. South wins in his own hand, ruffs his second low spade in dummy, cashes the ace of clubs, and returns to his hand by ruffing a club. He then ruffs his last low spade with dummy's last trump and once again returns to his hand by ruffing a club.

Since declarer has ruffed only twice in his own hand, he can now draw all of the trumps even if they are all held by one opponent. He can then cash the king of spades for the 12th trick.

When my correspondents suggested that this was a hand for Hard Luck Joe, I think they made a mistake. This was one for a Pessimistic Pete.

Korea Aid From UN Members; Offers Lack Most Vital Needs

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The U. S. government is open for business—as agent of the United Nations—but it has few customers offering troops or other military assistance to put down the North Koreans.

The "office" at which the U. S. would like to do a lot more of this business is Room 3151 in the new State Department Building. It is manned by a committee of two. They are Livingston T. Merchant, deputy assistant secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs and Capt. Albert C. Murdaugh of the U. S. Navy, a special assistant in the office of Defense Secretary Lewis Johnson.

Offers of aid from the anti-Communist countries go first to United Nations headquarters in New York. UN Secretary General Trygve Lie has been trying to drum up more business, but he hasn't been too successful, either. What offers have come in, Lie has forwarded to the State Department, where the Merchant-Murdaugh committee takes them over.

Captain Murdaugh carries the offers over to the Pentagon for Secretary Johnson and the joint chiefs of staff to appraise. If the offers contain anything that Gen. Douglas MacArthur can use, the joint chiefs okay them.

Merchant handles matters from there. He deals with the Washington ambassadors of the foreign countries concerned. There are no formal treaties drawn up. There's a minimum of red tape.

Logistics Problem

In this way Australian air units and Australian, British, Canadian, Dutch and New Zealand naval units rapidly were assigned to U. S. Navy forces supporting General MacArthur's command in Korean waters. And just recently the French have offered to send a naval vessel.

There are two reasons for wanting to get maximum international aid for U. S. troops in Korea. The first is political—a desire to have as many nations as possible in on the UN act. The second is to procure and help move all useful supplies into the 5,000-mile "pipeline" that supports South Korean troops. The logistics problem in this operation is one of the most difficult parts of the campaign.

To this end, the offer of the Norwegian government to supply merchant ships to haul supplies to Korea has been of particular interest. The only question is how many ships are available, whether they are tankers or dry cargo ships, where they are and how soon they will be ready to load cargo.

The first offer of ground troops—which are needed as badly as anything else—came from the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa. Incidentally, this offer was not refused. There has been a delay, however, because of a number of considerations. Now, Thailand has offered a combat team of 4,000 troops, and England is considering sending ground troops from Hong Kong or Malaya.

So far, other nations have offered only materials that they have in long supply. The Danes have offered medicine. Philippine Islands have offered copra. Nicaragua has offered coffee and rubber. Chile has offered nitrates and copper.

Token Aid Appreciated

Since the United States now is furnishing a couple of billion dollars worth of military assistance to Western European nations which aren't any too strong as it is, maybe they can't offer sizable aid to Korea. All it would mean would be that the U. S. would have to bolster them up further. But even token aid from these countries—something more tangible than just moral support—would be most welcome.

One thing that may have held back offers of aid is that the 50-odd countries supporting the UN resolution against the Commies haven't known what would be useful. General MacArthur's headquarters and the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff now are considering issuance of a military shopping list of supplies they might use.

Even money would be useful, but no country has offered any money. As a matter of fact, the question of who pays for what, in connection with this UN effort, has not even been discussed.

The United States has insisted that all offers of aid be made to the Republic of Korea—not to the U. S. or the UN. So far there have been no strings tied to any offers of aid received. But if there are any bills in connection with this aid, you know darn well who will have to pay them.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the origin of the expression "Skid Road" or "Skid Row"?

A—The term originated in the woods country of the Pacific Northwest. A Skid Road is a road on which logs go down to water. Euphemistically, it is a road—not a row—on which human beings go down to oblivion.

Q—Who was the founder of Father's Day?

A—Father's Day was founded in 1910 in Spokane, Washington, by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd. Her own father was the inspiration of her plan.

Q—Does Mono Lake in California have an outlet?

A—This beautiful body of water has no outlet and is so densely alkaline that it contains no fish.

Q—How long can camels go without water?

A—The one-humped camels of Arabia and northern Africa can live from five to seven days without a drink. The two-humped camels of Central Asia can manage from three to four days with no water. The water is carried inside the stomach, where there are special pouches.

FUNNY FACE

By James Gunn

Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Lanning and Ellie Lane, old friends of mine, married 22 years ago and made quite a hit on the vaudeville stage as a comic dance team. Ellie, not ugly, was funny-faced, but she had convinced herself she was the ugly wife of a handsome man and at last she divorced Jack, who was bewildered and couldn't understand why. Jack got another vaudeville partner and Ellie returned to Broadway looking for a job. The next thing I heard was that she had a small part in a Broadway comedy and the audience loved her.

ELLIE LANE did not mention Jack Lanning again during our conversation and that letter was the last one Jack wrote. For a while he sent occasional presents to Janet. His dance team broke up—his new partner's looks did not make up for her lack of comedy—and from time to time I heard he was acting in road companies and on the coast. Then I heard nothing at all.

Ellie's play ran for more than a year. The next season she had parts in two plays. I saw a good deal of her, and I could not help thinking that the separation from Jack had been the best thing for her. She gained enormously in assurance. In her quiet way she was a tower of strength.

When I was depressed or my work had gone badly, invariably I called Ellie. She never failed to encourage me or to make me laugh at my troubles.

Before a year was over she had an impressive number of real friends. It occurred to me with a little shock that she might marry again. I hoped and then shrugged the thought aside. A second marriage did not fit in with my picture of Ellie. I was, of course, a fool. But I do not believe things would have been different if I had been otherwise.

The third year after the divorce she had her first real break. It was in a comedy, of course. Her part was a large one, and perfect for her—the wisecracking friend of the heroine. She had the best lines in the play and made the most of them. The whole production was very elegant and something of a style show. The designer wisely concealed Ellie's weak points and dressed her with exaggerated chic. On opening night I was amazed to see that Ellie looked quite smart and almost piquant.

When the play had been running a few months she phoned me. There was a tense, eager lilt in her voice.

"You'll never guess," she said. "I'm getting a vacation free. One of the Hollywood studios bought the play and they've asked me to go out and test for my part! And all expenses paid."

I congratulated her. At the same time it hit me with a sharp pang how much I had come to depend on her, and how I had taken her for granted. I said, and meant it, "I'll miss you, Ellie."

"Oh, there's not a chance of my getting it. Wait till they see how I photograph. But the trip will be lovely for Janet."

Her tone was certainly not normal. I wondered if there was another reason behind her eagerness to go. "If you run into Jack out there," I said, "say hello to him for me."

I heard her catch her breath at the other end of the line. Finally she said: "What makes you think I'll see him? Have you heard anything lately?"

"No, but Hollywood was the last place he showed up."

She gave a quick, nervous half laugh. "That doesn't mean anything, you know that. He's so restless. Heaven knows where he is by now. Anyway, I'm only going to be there four weeks."

I did not see her again, except on the screen, for 15 years.

ELLIE was signed for the picture almost as soon as they tested her for the part. She made quite a hit. I saw it and was amazed at how well she photographed. She was not pretty, but her large eyes and sharp features took beautifully to the camera.

During the next few years she worked incessantly.

"The stars fight to have me in their pictures," one letter said. "My face offers absolutely no competition."

Most of her parts were in the same vein wisecracking secretaries and telephone operators, and occasionally a society nitwit. Once, through some unexpected bit of casting, she appeared as a showgirl. I will never forget my shock when I saw Ellie on the screen done up in feathers and sequins.

At the end of three years Eleanor Lane was a well-established feature player. Parts were written or rewritten for her, and her style was ineptly copied by newer comediennes.

BUT about her personal life she wrote nothing. I found out about Ben Mallon through mutual friends, and filled in the gaps with what Ellie told me years later.

She met Ben when she was 31. He was a cameraman, 10 years older than she; tall, and agreeably ugly, and very shy. He was almost a recluse when Ellie met him on the set of a picture. People said she took pity on him, but that was never true: Ellie did not have the arrogance to feel pity for anyone. Quite simply she liked Ben at first sight and liked him more as she came to know him.

She invited him to her house and brought him into her circle of friends. Slowly he expanded. He learned how to relax with people, and some of Ellie's simplicity in making friends. He was solid and decent and he began to reveal a sly, kindly sense of humor he had bottled up for years.

Before long he was invariably her escort. He was very fond of Janet and he grew into the habit of spending Sundays alone with Ellie and the girl. One night after Janet had gone to bed—it was almost a year to the day from the time he had met Ellie—Ben asked her about Jack Lanning.

DECOY WALLET PAYS OFF

CHICAGO —(AP)— Four robbers surrounded Ralph De Leon as he sat in a parked car. They demanded money. He took a wallet from a coat pocket and showed it to them. It was empty. The thugs went away. They didn't know that De Leon carries his money in a second wallet that he keeps in a pants pocket.

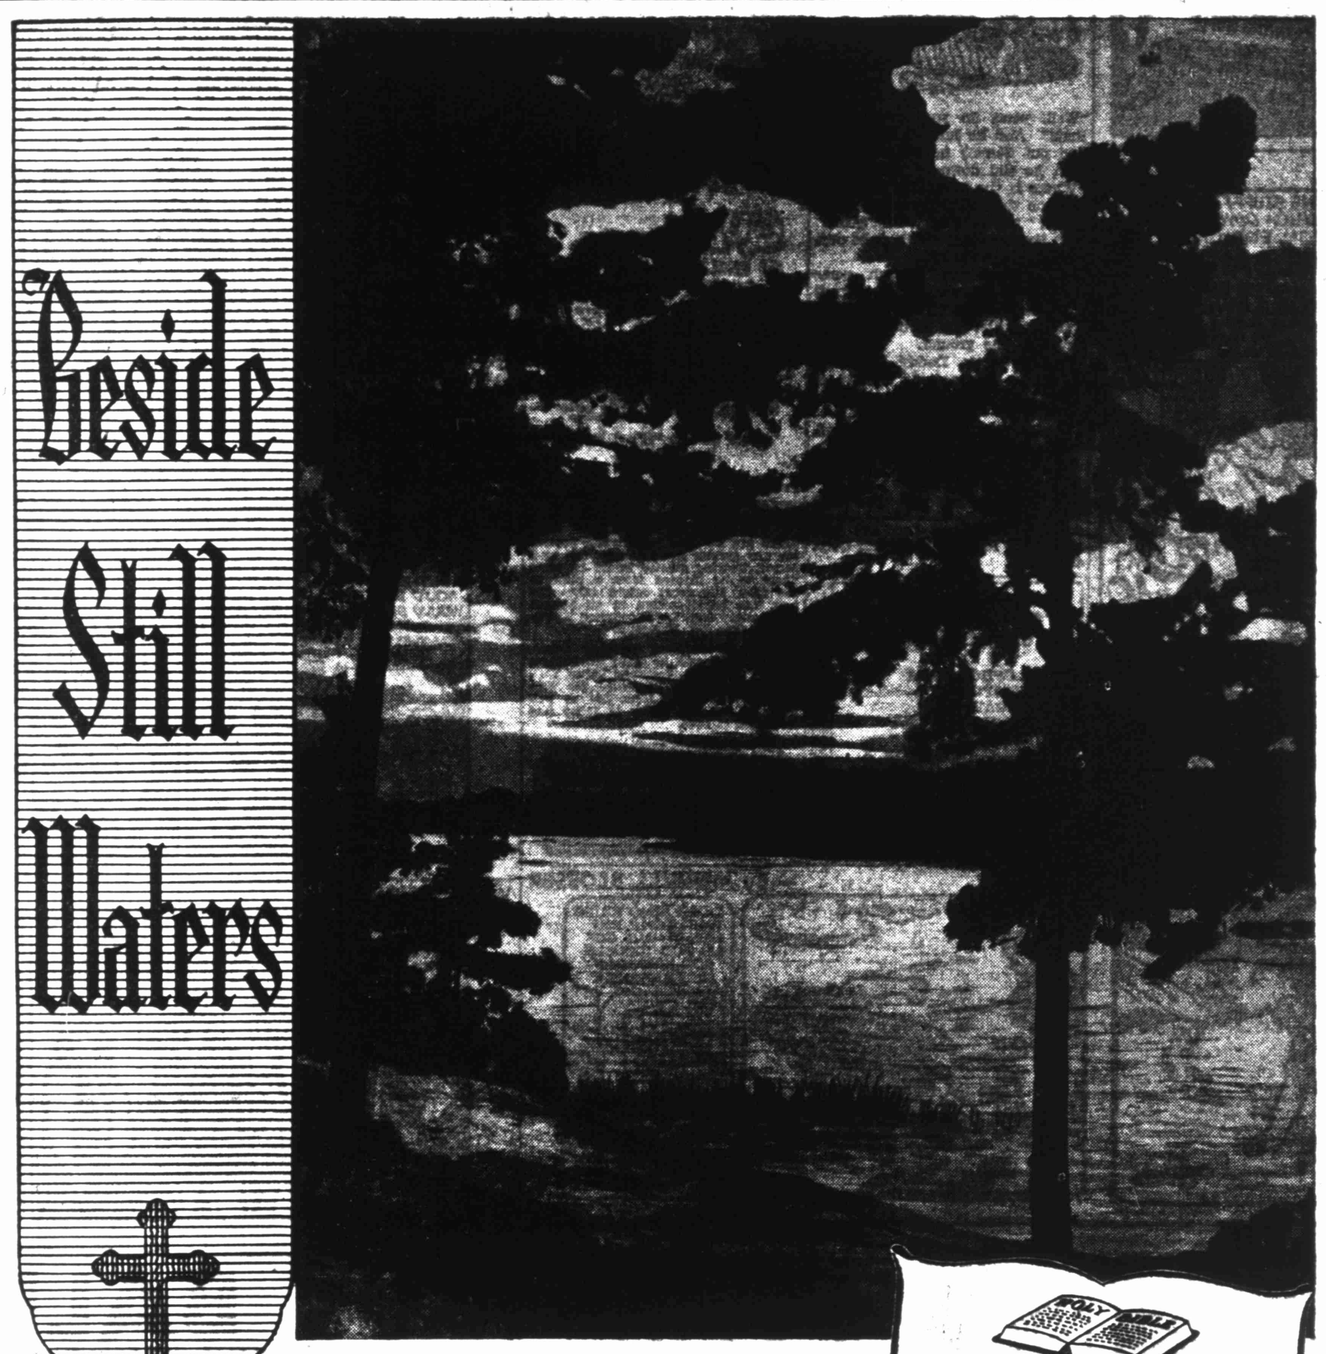

REMEMBERS COLUMBUS

GENOA —(AP)— The city of Genoa will mark the 500th anniversary of the birth of Christopher Columbus with a year-long series of celebrations beginning Oct. 12, 1960. A citizens committee has been formed to draw up a program for the commemoration ceremonies.

McCAMEY MINISTERS FORM ASSOCIATION

McCAMEY—The first meeting of the McCamey Ministerial Alliance will be held in the lounge of the First Christian Church at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

The meeting will be devoted to the election of officers and presentation of plans for the year. The Rev. Ross T. Welch, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has made all arrangements for the meeting.

Those stirring words of the Twenty-Third Psalm: He maketh me to lie down in green pastures . . . He leadeth me beside the still waters . . . He restoreth my soul!

The psalmist must have known the turmoil of life, even though he lived three thousand years ago. At least he had experienced the peace which comes upon a man when he escapes the bustling world and rests in the quiet stillness of nature's scene. And he caught its spiritual meaning!

A man's soul, like his body, needs to be restored. Just as sleep and recreation rebuild our physical strength, prayer and worship re-vitalize our spiritual being.

Thoughtfully, our forefathers taught us to spend part of each day in spiritual pursuits. Wisely, they set aside one day of the week for worship.

The Church provides opportunity for Sunday worship, and guidance in every-day devotion to God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Water-Boy Monkey

Daddy Ringtail was asleep one day when Sammy Ringtail, the monkey boy, came running to the house. "Daddy Ringtail! Daddy Ringtail!" called Sammy. "Come and see the water-boy monkey!"

"Hmmm!" Daddy Ringtail said, and opened one of his eyes.

"Daddy Ringtail!" said Sammy again. "Try to wake up. I want you to see the water-boy monkey!"

Daddy Ringtail yawned. He had never heard of a water-boy monkey, and you probably never heard of one either. "What is a water-boy monkey?" Daddy Ringtail asked.

Sammy said: "A water-boy monkey is a real live monkey. But it lives and breathes and talks from under the water."

Now Daddy Ringtail sat up in bed, when he heard this. He opened the eye that wasn't already open. "A water-boy monkey!" he said.

"Well, what do you know about that!" And he jumped out of bed and put Sammy on his back, and then he slid down to the ground. "Where is the water-boy monkey—the one that talks from under the water?" the monkey daddy asked.

So Sammy said: "He's right over there—by the river."

And they ran through some bushes and between the trees until they came to the river. And there was the water-boy monkey, sitting down on the ground.

"Happy day, Daddy Ringtail!" the little fellow said, because it was only Bobby, Sammy's little brother.

"Happy day to you, Bobby," Daddy Ringtail said, "but you aren't a water-boy monkey. You can't talk from under the water."

The boy smiled, and then they showed Daddy Ringtail Bobby was a water-boy monkey after all. He was sitting under a tree. A string was tied to the tree. And the other end of the string was tied to a bottle of water. The bottle was hanging over Bobby's head, so Bobby was under the water. And Bobby was talking from under the water, too, because he said again: "Happy day, Daddy Ringtail!"

And everyone laughed, because Daddy Ringtail had thought that a water-boy monkey was someone who lived in the water—like a fish. But it was a lot of fun to play tricks that didn't hurt anyone—like fooling Daddy Ringtail about the water-boy monkey. Happy playing tricks at your house, as long as you don't hurt anyone. Happy day!

THERE IS NO GREATER LEGAL PENALTY FOR STRIKING A PERSON WEARING GLASSES

There are no laws specifically providing any greater penalty; however, as a person wearing glasses would be more likely to be injured from a blow in the face, the court might take the fact into consideration in an assault and battery case. 1. "Uncommon Knowledge"—Geo. W. Stimpson.

Hoover Tells Seven Ways To Assist FBI

WASHINGTON —(AP)— J. Edgar Hoover Friday told Americans how, in seven ways, they can help the FBI curb saboteurs and other domestic enemies in the present military emergency.

The first and most important step: Call the FBI quickly with any information you may have.

Hoover emphasized that his FBI is not interested in malicious gossip or idle rumors, nor in "what a person thinks." But, he said, it most specifically wants facts on actions "which undermine internal security."

The FBI long has had special agents in each of its 51 field offices assigned to the specific task of sifting and relating such evidence, with the Washington headquarters serving as a clearing house.

The Hoover statement noted that a close system of cooperation between the federal bureau and law enforcement agencies throughout the nation already is functioning in this field.

As Near As Your Telephone

"The internal security of the United States can be assured," the director asserted, "with the cooperation, aid and assistance of every law-abiding person in our nation."

For the general public, he made these suggestions:

"1. The FBI is as near to you as your telephone. The first page of every telephone book in the country lists the nearest office of the FBI. You can communicate with the FBI by telephone, letter or call at your nearest office.

"2. Feel free to furnish all facts in your possession. Many times a small bit of information might furnish the data we are seeking. If you have any information of sabotage, espionage, or subversive activities, contact the FBI.

"3. The FBI is interested in receiving facts; we are not interested in what a person thinks, but what he does which undermines our internal security. Avoid reporting malicious gossip or idle rumors.

"4. Do not circulate rumors about subversive activities, or draw conclusions from information you furnish the FBI. The data you possess might be incomplete or only partially accurate. By drawing conclusions based on insufficient evidence grave injustices might result to innocent persons.

"5. Once you have reported your information to the FBI, do not endeavor to make private investigations. This best can be done by trained investigators who have access to data acquired over the years on individuals engaged in subversive activities.

"Hysteria, witch-hunts and vigilantes weaken internal security. Investigations involving internal security require care and pains-taking effort. We all can contribute to our internal security by protecting the innocent as well as by identifying the enemies within our midst.

Sentinels Of Defense

"In cases involving espionage it is more important to identify spies, their contacts, sources of information and methods of communications than to make immediate arrests.

"6. Be alert. The greatest defenders against sabotage are the loyal American workmen who are producing the materials and weapons for our defense. They can be the sentinels of defense in every walk of life.

"7. The forces which are most anxious to weaken our internal security are not always easy to identify. Communists have been trained in deceit and secretly work toward the day when they hope to replace our American way of life with a Communist dictatorship. They utilize cleverly camouflaged movements, such as some peace groups and civil rights organizations to achieve their sinister purposes.

"While they as individuals are difficult to identify—the Communist Party line is clear. Its first concern is the advancement of Soviet Russia and the Godless Communist cause. It is important to learn to know the enemies of the American way of life."

Strikers Go Back To Texaco Plants In 60-Day Truce

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS —(AP)— Striking CIO oil workers are going back to work at Texas Company plants here and at Port Neches under a 60-day truce.

Two locals of the Oil Workers International Union approved the truce Thursday night. Some 5,000 union workers have been affected since the strike started April 4.

The plants were reopened about five weeks ago. The company said operations resumed with supervisory help doing the work. The union charged non-union labor was being used.

Negotiations between the company and union will continue during the truce. Being disputed are wage adjustments, health benefits, and changes in the pension plan.

Congress Creates Medal Of Honor For Teen-Age Civilians

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman has before him a bill creating a medal of honor for heroic youngsters under 18.

Representative Chelf (D-Ky), the author, said two awards will be made annually for bravery in saving life and two for outstanding public service.

Chelf said it is the first time Congress has authorized medals to civilians of any age in peacetime.

The Chelf bill, sent to the White House after House approval Thursday, authorizes the governors of each state to nominate at least two candidates each year. The U. S. attorney general will then submit names of the outstanding four to Congress. The medals will be awarded by the President.

Dallas Minister To Conduct Services At Trinity Church

The Rev. A. P. Harrison of Dallas will conduct the regular 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. communion services at the Trinity Episcopal Church here Sunday. The Rev. Robert J. Snell, pastor, is on vacation.

Mr. Harrison is a graduate of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., and Philadelphia Divinity School, from which he graduated with cum laude honors. He served as senior assistant at Calvary Church, Germantown, Philadelphia, which is one of the largest churches in that city. While in that diocese he also served the Department of Missions and the Department of Finance.

Former Pastorates

The Dallas minister also served as rector of the Memorial Church of the Good Shepherd at Parkersburg, W. Va., and as rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Wethersfield, Conn., before coming to Texas.

He also is the author of two books, "The Social and Ethical Teachings of Jesus in Relation to the World," and "A Survey of Federal, State, Municipal and Private Institutions in the State of Connecticut."

Mr. Harrison was chaplain of the Veterans Administration in Newington, Conn., and was a member of the Advisory Board of Veterans in Wethersfield during World War II.

Illinois Solon Determined To Cut Non-War Spending

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Douglas (D-Ill) said Friday he is "damn discouraged" at results so far in his campaign to cut down on non-defense spending, but will keep trying.

The Senate handed Douglas and some other economy advocates a sharp setback Thursday in refusing to reduce appropriations for river, harbor and flood control projects.

"When you start a fight you have got to finish it," said the World War II Marine officer.

For three weeks Douglas has been waging an unsuccessful—and usually lonely—campaign to get the Senate to cut individual items in its $34,688,000,000 one - package appropriations bill.

Douglas told a reporter he wasn't licked yet. He has prepared an amendment to trim $800,000,000 out of the bill through "selective cuts." And if that fails, he added, then he might try to reduce some of the House-approved items that the Senate Appropriations Committee left untouched.

Wife Of Missing Sergeant Writes Note To Hoarders

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. —(AP) —Mrs. Randall C. Roberts wrote a letter to her newspaper.

"From time to time since this war broke out," she began, "the hoarders have made the headlines.

"I wonder if stuffed stomachs and nylon-clad legs will win this war. Have the people of this nation forgotten World War II so soon? Can you trade a pound of sugar or coffee or a pair of nylons for a life?

"Do you know what it is to have a loved one lost? Do you know what it is not to be able to sleep for a gnawing anxiety as to whether he is even alive? If he has food?

"I know what it is. You see, I am the wife of the boy who was listed as the first Sacramentan missing in action in Korea."

Army Sgt. Randall C. Roberts, 29, a veteran artilleryman who fought from the Normandy beachhead to Berlin in World War II, was reported missing with an artillery battalion in Korea July 14.

Radioactive Atoms Promise New Hope For Cancer Victims

LONDON —(AP)— Bold new attempts to fight cancer with peacetime radioactive atoms from atomic ovens were described Friday to the sixth International Congress in Radiology.

Radioactive gold is injected by needle into the abdomen to combat cancer which has spread through the area.

Radioactive or "hot" atoms of such common things as sodium, bromine, or cobalt are put inside plastic bags which then are placed inside cancer-ridden bladders.

These uses of radioactive atoms—news to most American scientists—were reported by Dr. D. W. Smithers of London and Dr. J. H. Muller of Zurich, Switzerland.

Smithers told of injecting salt solutions of radioactive gold into the abdomens of five persons with advanced cancer. One woman had cancer of her ovaries. The ovaries were removed but the cancer had spread to new spots in her abdomen, which was painfully distended with fluid.

Great Improvement Noted

Injections of gold reduced the pain and swelling. Six months later the woman felt fit and well and returned to work, he said. But he cautioned that it was much too early to classify this recovery as a cure of the cancer.

Muller said radiozinc and radiogold injected in much the same way had benefited other women whose cancers had spread through the abdomen.

Smithers told of introducing plastic bags into human bladders affected by cancer and then filling the bags with a solution of radiosodium and radiobromine. The bags were left in the bladder for several hours and then withdrawn.

Early results of these experiments were "interesting," he said.

Muller also described similar methods of treating advanced cancer of the bladder, of the uterus and of the womb.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Matt. 12:34-35; 15:19-20; Col. 3:8-15.

THE MIRACLE STARTS FROM WITHIN

We pursue the necessity of a creative, outgoing love. It is, in the words of Professor W. E. Hocking, "the most radically creative attitude yet known to men—the determination to do what the Everlasting Mercy does." The Everlasting Mercy is creative and outgoing in love. As someone has said: "If you want to survive, get faith and make it infectious . . . The chances are on the side of that audacity which we call friendliness."

Leslie B. Salter says: "Every normal man or woman longs more keenly for love, for warm friendship, admiration and human responsiveness from his fellows than for anything else in life . . . Wouldst thou love life? Then start giving those about you the feeling they long for. Start passing out good cheer and brotherly love, and you will receive in return a personal friendliness and genuine happiness you never dreamed possible, and which will revolutionize your whole life."

Don't wait for some miracle to be performed on you from without, lifting you above your fears and doubts and self-centeredness. You help God from within by turning in outgoing love to others, and miraculously your fears and doubts and self-centeredness will vanish. The miracle starts from within, not from without. Throw your will on the side of outgoing love, and all the healing resources of the universe will be behind you.

But neither God nor man can help you if you remain bottled up in yourself. You are not made to live that way, and all the medicine you can take, all the advice you can receive, all the praying you can do, will do you no good unless you throw your will on the side of outgoing love. Get out of yourself, or perish!

Allan Hunter says: "We may discover, as a contemporary philosopher suggests, that loving our enemies because we first love God is better treatment for nervous indigestion than an operation or an analysis." It is a better treatment not only for nervous indigestion, but also for almost anything that ails us.

O Thou Who art always reaching out after me in love and awakening me, help me this day to do the same. Help me to quicken and awaken some life by the touch of my friendliness and love. Here is something I need not be afraid of—I cannot be too loving. Help me. Amen.

Oilers Win 11-3 Tilt From Indians

The Midland Indians and the Odessa Oilers are slated to complete their two-game series at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Oiler Park at Odessa.

The Indians return home Saturday night to open a series with the Ballinger Cats.

ODESSA — The Odessa Oilers handed the Midland Indians a third straight licking here Thursday night, coasting to an 11 to 3 decision. The Oilers put on a seven-run splurge in the eighth inning to lay the game in cold storage after they had won it with two runs in the fifth.

The battered Indians, fielding a team riddled with injuries and minus Jim Prince, were no match for the powerful Oilers. Lefty Leon Hayes held the Oilers well until the fifth. He allowed only two runs then after issuing two in the first frame but the eighth-inning avalanche drove him to the showers. Glen Patton put out the fire.

After the Oilers had picked up a pair in the first, the Indians rallied to tie the score in the second. George Firnback singled, Mike Bellone was hit by a pitched ball and Quentin Basco drove them home. It was Basco's first game since getting out of the hospital.

Odessa's two in the fifth sent the Oilers ahead again and this time it was for keeps.

Walks to Tex Stephenson and Scooter Hughes, a single by Kenny Jones and a wild pitch gave the Indians their final run in the eighth but it was a hopeless cause.

Pampa Moves Ahead Of Pack With Win

By The Associated Press

Pampa's Oilers moved away from the pack in the West Texas-New Mexico League Thursday night.

They increased their lead to two full games by beating fourth-place Albuquerque 9-1 as Roy Parker won his twenty-first pitching victory of the season with a five-hitter. Parker also batted in five runs, his three hits including his twentieth homer of the year.

All other first division clubs lost.

Lamesa was licked by Amarillo 6-4 behind Bob Zolliecoffer's nine-hit pitching.

Lubbock was trimmed by Clovis 7-6 as Jess Jacinto drove in the winning run with a scratch single in the ninth.

Borger nosed Abilene 10-9 with each club getting 13 hits. Borger scored in bunches with five runs in the fifth and three in the eighth.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Simmons Wins One More Before Leaving For NG

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Temporary loss of Curt Simmons, top National League pitcher with 14 wins, puts the Phillie Whiz Kids to the real test. Eddie Sawyer's staff must take up the slack for two weeks until the $65,000 bonus baby returns from a National Guard camp.

This is the third mid-Summer camp trip for Simmons. In other years it didn't matter. He was just another wild youngster with a slingshot arm. Now he's high man in the league. When he leaves Saturday, there will be a gaping hole in the Phil defense.

Simmons protected the Phils' one and one-half-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals with a 13-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs Thursday. Curt allowed seven hits, including a homer by Andy Pafko, fanned five and walked five.

Del Ennis Hot

Del Ennis ruined the Cubs, driving in seven runs with a double in the seventh and a homer in the eighth, each with the bases loaded.

St. Louis stuck close to the Phils with a rousing 13-3 romp over Brooklyn. The Cards broke the game wide open after it had gone 1-1 through the first six innings. Enos Slaughter and Chuck Diering each hit two homers and Del Rice hit one but Stan Musial's 30-game batting streak was ended. Musial went hitless in five trips.

The loss cost the Dodgers third place when Boston grabbed a 5-3 night victory over Pittsburgh behind Warren Spahn. The Braves' left-hander had a shutout until the ninth when the Pirates bunched three of their eight hits for all their runs.

Cincinnati and New York were idle.

As happens so often in baseball, an old teammate came back to haunt the New York Yankees. George Stirnweiss, traded to St. Louis in June, came through with a ninth-inning single to break a tie with a 3-2 Brownie win.

Tigers Move Ahead

The loss dropped the Yanks a game and a half back of Detroit, which knocked over Boston 5-1 in an afternoon game. As Cleveland also lost to Philadelphia 7-2 the Tigers gained on all other first division clubs.

Stirnweiss' hit followed a single by Sherm Lollar and a walk to Roy Sievers in the ninth. There was only one out when he singled to left to hand Tommy Byrne his fifth loss. Al Widmar, nicked for two runs in the fifth, was helped to his fifth wir by five double plays.

Dizzy Trout, who figured as second-string bullpen pitcher last Spring, whipped Boston for the third time, to help the Detroit cause.

Four double plays helped Trout out of deep holes as he salvaged the lone Tiger victory of the three-game set with the Red Sox. A three-run fifth inning in which Vic Wertz hit his sixteenth homer with a man on ruined Boston.

Lou Brissie, the "losingest" pitcher in the majors with 13 defeats, calmed the Indians with four hits for the first Philadelphia win over the Indians in their last 10 starts.

Washington split a pair with Chicago, winning the first 3-2 and losing the second 6-3.

Justin Funkhouser, West Virginia breeder, will race Noble Impulse and other horses in his string during the 45-day Atlantic City racing season opening August 10.

Louis-Charles Go Is Almost Certain

NEW YORK—(AP)—Joe Louis was expected to agree Friday to a comeback bout with Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium, September 27.

Louis won't make the announcement himself. It will come from Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, at his New York office.

Bryan Scorer Asks Trautman To Order Morris To Pay Him

BRYAN, TEXAS. —(AP)— Earl Phillips, who was the official scorer for Bryan in the East Texas League, said Friday he had asked George Trautman, president of the minor leagues, to instruct President J. Walter Morris of the league to pay him $37.50 for drawing up the schedule.

Phillips said this was the $37.50 which Morris announced last week in Fort Worth he was "fining" the scorer because of a statement made over the loud speaker regarding the umpires.

Phillips said the incident occurred about three weeks ago. He explained that he made a statement over the loud speaker because the same umpires had been assigned to the Bryan home series 12 or 15 times and "the fans were griping."

"Morris said I made the statement: 'We will have new umpires tomorrow night, these bums won't be back'," Phillips declared. "I did not say that. What I said was: "It is rumored that the umpire schedule has been changed and before long you fans will get a chance to see somebody other than Pete Negri and Ted Chapman'."

Phillips said the league owned him $75.00 for drawing up the playing schedule in February, that he asked Morris several times for it but was informed that the league didn't have the money. Then, he said he wrote Trautman and received $37.50—half the debt—from Morris. He added that he was informed by Morris the other half would be paid when the clubs paid it in to the league.

Phillips, who is sports editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle, said he not only had asked Trautman to instruct Morris to pay the $37.50 but that he have Morris correct the statement attributed to Phillips over the public address system.

Bryan now is not in the East Texas League, having dropped out last week.

Norris talked with the Bomber by phone in Chicago Thursday. The retired heavyweight champ probably gave his answer then. But the IBC wanted to avoid conflict with the announcement of its Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler signing for September 6 at Yankee Stadium.

Mannie Seamon, Louis' trainer, arrived at West Baden, Ind., Thursday to start drilling the Bomber for a late September fight. Louis was supposed to arrive at the training camp Friday. They plan to remain in Indiana until August 22 or 23 and then move to Pompton Lakes, N. J., Louis' old camp, for the last five weeks.

"I know he'll win," said Seamon. "He's in better shape than any title-holder that ever came back."

May Be Savold

There is a possibility Lee Savold, the British recognized heavyweight champ, might be Louis' opponent. But Lee still is in England. Charles, recognized by the NBA as Louis' successor, is the logical foe.

Charles is defending his NBA title in Buffalo, N. Y., August 15 against Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa.

Norris said recently Louis' comeback depended on an income tax deal with the government. The Bomber owes a considerable sum and is trying to settle with the proceeds from a Charles fight.

Truman Gibson, his attorney, has been in Washington for a few days checking Louis' tax affair. He gave out no statement and Internal Revenue Bureau officials won't talk.

Stan's Hit Streak Ends

NEW YORK —(AP)— Stan Musial's lengthy batting streak is at an end Friday but the star St. Louis Cardinal outfielder can be consoled by the knowledge that he is only the eleventh big leaguer to hit safely in 30 or more consecutive games.

Musial entered Thursday's game against the Brooklyn Dodgers with a run of 30 straight games in which he'd hit safely. He had five chances in which to keep his skein alive but failed each time although his mates clubbed five Brooklyn hurlers for 13 assorted hits.

Stan's teammates tried valiantly to give him a last chance in the ninth inning. Six men were due to bat before him. All reached base. But the slugger, who had hit the ball out of the infield only once in four previous times at bat, grounded into a double play.

Musial thus failed in his efforts to equal or tie four marks. His immediate goal was the team high of 33 straight hitting games set by Rogers Hornsby in 1922. The second was the modern National League mark of 37 games established by Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves in 1945.

After that would have come the all-time National League standard of 44 games set by Baltimore's Willie Keeler in 1897, then Joe DiMaggio's brilliant 56-game hitting streak in 1941 which stands as the major league record.

Before the turn of the century, the major leagues had five shortstops who threw left handed.

Longhorn League—

Odessa, Roswell Cop Only Games Played In Loop

By The Associated Press

The leaders made hay while the rains came for the others in the Longhorn League Thursday night.

Front-running Odessa beat Midland 11-3 and second-place Roswell downed San Angelo 8-7.

Third-place Vernon and fourth-place Big Spring didn't play and lost a half-game each.

Odessa put on a seven-run blast in the eighth to beat Midland. Four hits, including Al Monchak's homer, along with three bases on balls and three errors did the job. Ray Knoblauch won his sixteenth pitching victory.

Gus Jackson doubled in the seventh to drive in the run that won for Roswell over San Angelo. Jackson also got a homer in the fifth with one on.

Big Spring at Sweetwater was postponed because of wet grounds.

The scores:

				R	H	E
Midland	020	000	010—	3	5	5
Odessa	200	020	07x—11	11	1

Hayes, Patton and Jones; Knoblauch and Escobedo.

JayCee Swimmers Cop Meet Crown

The Midland JayCee Swimming Team put the finishing touches on a decisive team victory Thursday night in a qualifying meet for the U. S. Junior Olympics in Odessa. After piling up a lead of more than 40 points in Wednesday night's round, the Midland team added to it Thursday night to finish with a total of 178 points and a 75-point margin over second-place Fort Stockton.

Odessa's team garnered 62 points and Big Spring trailed with 53. Fort Stockton had 103 points.

First, second and third place winners in each event of the Odessa meet will be eligible to enter the U. S. Junior Olympics August 16 and 17 in Houston.

Coach Wade Whiteley is expected to send a strong team to the Houston meet.

THAT OLD FEELING

NORTH FORT HOOD, TEXAS—(AP)—That "once-a-month" feeling you get in the Army came Thursday to troops of the 49th Armored Division of the National Guard training here. It was pay day.

A total of $5,077,068 was bid for 1,791 yearling thoroughbreds last year.

Texas League—

Beaumont Passes First Big Test; Whips Cats 3 To 2

By The Associated Press

Beaumont's hustling Roughnecks have withstood the first big test of the Texas League campaign—they have beaten the leading Fort Worth Cats in their own ballwick.

The Roughs, who a month ago looked like they would be doing well if they finished a notch out of the cellar, now are bearding the high and mighty Cats in their den.

Beaumort advanced within four and one-half games of the top Thursday night by licking Fort Worth 3-2. There'll be more of the same — Roughneck followers hope—Friday night.

Some rapid changes were made through the middle Thursday night. Tulsa's sullen Oilers crashed all the way from a tie for fifth up to a tie for third with San Antonio by whamming San Antonio in a doubleheader. Oklahoma City fell into sixth place by losing to Houston 6-2 and Dallas moved within a half-game of third by beating Shreveport 2-1 in 11 innings.

Melignano Stops Rally

Carmine Melignano was the fireman as Beaumont eased by Fort Worth. He came in in the eighth with two runs home, one out and the tying tally perched on second. He got it over with by forcing Dick Williams to hit into a double play. It preserved the victory for Clarence Beers and left him unbeaten in four starts for Beaumont.

Tulsa beat San Antonio 5-4 in the first game over the 12-inning route with Bob Curley allowing the Missions just four hits. Jack Baumer batted in the winning run with a single. The Oilers captured the nightcap 14-5 as Walker Cress pitched a seven-hitter and Tulsa pounded 15 blows behind him.

Houston won the game early from Oklahoma City, shoving over three runs in the second. Elroy Joyce gave the Indians seven hits.

Grant Dunlap singled through the middle to drive in Hal Wagner with the winning tally as Dallas edged Shreveport. The Sports outhit Dallas 13-10.

Midland Cats Drop Decision To Jal

The Midland Cats, managed by Ray Williams, dropped a 10 to 3 decision to the tough Jal Gassers in an exhibition baseball game Thursday night at Jal, N. M.

The Gassers capitalized on six errors by the Cats to take a five-run lead in the first frame. It was different from there on as Gus Magnuson and Don Smith shared mound duty for the Cats.

Magnuson struck out eight in a five-inning stint and Smith whiffed six in the last three frames.

The Cats take on the Grandfalls Eagles Sunday afternoon in Grandfalls.

Sports Slants

by SHORTY SHELBURNE

The draft and the calling up of reserves in all branches of the service are due to take a heavy toll of players in both baseball and football before the year is over.

It may take a heavy toll of sports writers, too, but that's not important to anyone—except the sports writers.

The axe already has been dropped at several places where coaches are reservists.

—SS—

Don Ezell, the former Wink High School and Texas Christian University great, got his call Friday.

Don is head football coach at Childress this year. He goes to active duty with the Marine Corps.

—SS—

It may not be long until Audrey Gill, an Air Force reserve, will get his orders to report.

That would leave a gaping hole in Coach Tugboat Jones' fine staff because Gill would be hard to replace. He is slated to become head line coach this season for the Bulldogs.

—SS—

Gilbert Bartosh, the husky lad Dutch Meyer had hoped to use as a replacement for Lindy Berry in the TCU backfield, has departed for service with the Navy.

Bartosh was working in Midland this Summer. He got a special delivery letter from the Navy Department one night and caught a fast moving train next morning.

—SS—

George Firnback, the Midland Indians' infielder, is a Marine reserve and it could be that he will be absent from the lineup any day now.

With the Indians in the shape they are, that also would leave a big hole to be filled.

—SS—

If the war mobilization takes too big a toll of baseball players, the Longhorn League may find itself suspending play for the "duration."

Most of the boys in the league are single and strictly eligible for the draft.

The drafting of just a few from such clubs as Ballinger, Sweetwater, Midland and San Angelo might cause them to withdraw from play.

—SS—

It appears Cy Fawcett may have beat the services to the punch down at Sweetwater.

Friday he announced the Sweetwater franchise is up for sale to any interested person or persons.

He indicated it will be moved to another city right away if someone doesn't buy it and hold it at Sweetwater.

—SS—

That seems a little odd right at the moment. Just Wednesday night it was announced that a crowd of 1,500 and more was on hand to see the Sweetwater-Ballinger game.

Considering that Sweetwater is seventh and Ballinger is eighth, that's a pretty fair turnout.

Yet, Fawcett says lack of attendance is his reason for offering the club for sale.

Sergeant Morse Woods Cops Flight In Army Golf Meet

Sergeant Morse Woods, engineer section of the Coast Artillery Corps, and son of Mrs. John Woods, 800 North Weatherford Street, Midland, Texas, won the consolation first flight over John E. Murray of Schnectady, N. Y., in the First Army's annual golf tournament, at Fort Monmouth, N. J., recently.

Sergeant Woods was presented a trophy by Major General Francis H. Lanahan, commandant at Fort Monmouth.

The 27 year old sergeant, who enlisted in the Army in 1942, and who served in the European Theater during World War II, won similar prizes in golf tournaments before entering the service.

Sweetwater Club Is On Sale Block

SWEETWATER—The Sweetwater Swatters of the Longhorn League Friday were placed on the sale block to anyone interested in purchasing the franchise, according to announcement issued here.

Cy Fawcett, Albuquerque, N. M., baseball club owner, is operator of the Sweetwater franchise. Poor attendance was given as the reason for the club being offered for sale.

Fawcett said Sweetwater interests will be given a chance to buy the ball club before it is moved to another city.

Standard-Plastic Battle Scheduled

Second-Place Standard of Texas challenges the loop-leading Western Plastic nine and The Reporter-Telegram continues to seek its first victory against the Rotary Engineers in softball games scheduled Friday night in the JayCee-sponsored City Major League.

There will be no Optimist League tilt.

Thursday night's action in the City Church loop was postponed because of wet grounds.

Claude Wright Rolls On In Broadmoor

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—(AP)—Defending Champion Claude Wright of Denver tackled Wilbur Bartels of Kansas City, Mo., Friday in the feature match of the quarterfinals of the Broadmoor Invitational Golf Tournament.

Thursday Wright cracked out even par over the lush Broadmoor Country Club course to eliminate Bob Goldwater of Phoenix, Ariz., 2-1.

Billy Maxwell Sets Pace In Glen Garden

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Billy Maxwell's five-under-par, 6 and 5 victory over Dr. Houston Small of Fort Worth Thursday paced play in the Glen Garden Country Club's twenty-first annual golf tournament through second-round play.

He meets his North Texas teammate Don January Friday. January beat Norris Russell of Denton 2 and 1.

Sammy Reynolds of Wichita Falls ousted Don Addington of Dallas 1-up in 21 holes, and Bernard Rivliere, Houston, beat Bill Sterling, Dallas, 3 and 2.

Big Les Cowan To Pass Up Pro Ball

ABILENE — (AP) — Les Cowan, three times All-Texas Conference end for McMurry College, has decided against a professional football career and is seeking a coaching job.

On the Los Angeles Rams' draft list, Cowan returned a contract unsigned. "There are too many uncertainties connected with pro ball, and, since I am 25, I'd like to get started now on a coaching career," he explained.

Cowan, a Navy veteran, is married. He is not a reservist.

San Marcos Is Site Of Six-Man School

SAN MARCOS —(AP)— The fifth annual six-man coaching school dealing with football, basketball and track, will be held here August 10-12.

J. H. England of College Spring, Iowa, will be head instructor in football; Milton H. Jowers, basketball coach of Southwest Texas State, will instruct in basketball, and O. W. Strahan, track coach of Southwest Texas State, will lecture on track and field.

DON EZELL CALLED

CHILDRESS, TEXAS—(AP)—Don Ezell, head football coach at Childress High School, Friday was called to active duty in the Marine Corps.

Greeks Volunteer For Duty In Korea

CAIRO, EGYPT —(AP)— Battle-tested members of a Greek infantry company which fought at El Alamein and Tobruk volunteered Friday to fight as a unit with U. S. forces in Korea.

Their wartime captain, Serghois Calfopoulos, told the U. S. Embassy he was authorized by between 60 and 70 infantry veterans to make the offer.

TEC Lists Several Job Openings Here

DR. DIXON PERFORMS SURGERY IN ABILENE

Dr. J. Leonard Dixon, chief of surgical services at the new Midland Memorial Hospital, returned late Thursday from Abilene, where he was called earlier in the week to perform a major operation in Abilene's Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

DON DEVORE RELEASED

Don (Speck) Devore, a Reporter-Telegram newspaperboy who was stricken with polio several months ago, was discharged Friday from Midland Memorial Hospital. He underwent major surgery Tuesday after being returned to Midland from Gonsales Warm Springs Foundation, where he was under treatment.

Idaho produced $22,119,000 worth of lead, $18,450 of zinc, and $8,995,708 of silver during 1947.

Crane Masons Plan Hill Top Meeting

CRANE — The Hill Top meeting of the Masonic lodges in this area will be held August 26, with all Master Masons invited. W. O. Murray, worshipful master of the Crane lodge, has appointed A. B. Bayle of Kermit as the master-of-ceremonies, and an entirely different type program is promised.

An old-fashioned barbecue dinner will be served the Masons on the site of the Hill Top meeting and arrangements will be made for serving and entertaining the women who attend.

Invitations have been sent by Murray to all district deputy grand masters in the state and a number of them are expected to attend the session.

Lodges at Imperial, Wink, Kermit, Monahans, Grandfalls, Rankin, Iraan, McCamey, Fort Stockton, Seminole, Pecos, Goldsmith, Andrews, Odessa and Midland are expected to participate in the Hill Top meeting.

Fred Wemple Says Bridges Inadequate For Military Traffic

AUSTIN —(AP)— State Highway Commission Chairman Fred Wemple is concerned over inadequacy of many Texas bridges to serve heavy military traffic.

Wemple said Thursday that a commission survey shows 38 per cent of the state's 11,200 highway bridges are too narrow and 11 per cent of the state's 266 bridge miles are too weak to support the present legal axle load of 18,000 pounds.

Pilot Found Dead In Plane Wreckage

WICHITA, KAN. —(AP)— Wreckage of a light plane containing the body of James Schanbacher, Lavina, Mont., rancher, formerly of Abilene, Texas, was found late Thursday 20 miles northwest of Hays, Kan., Lt. Col. O. A. Morard, commander of the Kansas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, reported.

Schanbacher disappeared Tuesday morning after leaving Newton, Kan., with Julesburg, Colo., as his announced destination.

EL PASO POLICE NEED CHINESE INTERPRETER

EL PASO —(AP)— El Paso police had a million lottery tickets on their hands Friday—all printed in Chinese.

They found them in a raid Thursday afternoon in a downtown basement storeroom. They were in 36 boxes addressed to two El Paso Chinese.

No arrests have been made.

THE
HOUSE

It's here. Everybody that has seen it, wants one. One housewife bought four just to have them sitting around because they will bring her $100 each rent. Two building contractors say they don't know how we can do it. A plumber bought one for his home. An interior decorator said it was a dream. Yes it's the MIRACLE House. This home has ample closet space with two bedrooms, bath with all plumbing fixtures, living room and kitchen. Ample cabinet space, sub and hardwood floors, double-hung weatherstrip windows, full screens. The new slab doors, composition roof, paint proof asbestos siding. Seeing is believing. lost.

U. S. and Australian fighters hit enemy concentrations along the entire battle zone from Yongdok and Yonghae on the east coast to key railway yards behind the central front.

Tanks Camouflaged

Yongdong, jumpoff place for the Communist drive on the supply port corridor to Pusan, was assaulted.

Associated Press Correspondent Hal Boyle flew over the battle zone and reported an artillery duel in the vicinity of Yongdong.

He said it was difficult to locate North Korean tanks and guns from the air because of their clever camouflage. Some were hidden under straw thatched shelters that looked like homes.

Yongdong no longer exists as a city, Boyle said. It looks like Nagasaki after the atom bomb. The city has been hit repeatedly by Allied planes.

self is especially appealing to residents of the area. The Reporter-Telegram has volunteered to act as custodian of the fund, and will turn the collection over to the Polson family.

Weeks in a hospital, with his legs hung up from a framework over the bed, is a long time, and an expensive one.

Dennis Polson, the child who asked Santa Claus for a favor for a little friend, now needs help himself. With aid from sympathetic people of this area, Dennis will be a happy child again after treatment from the skilled doctors at the hospital.

Wage Gains—

Board reported that department store sales last week ran 46 per cent higher than in the same week last year. Never before has such a large increase been recorded. Week before last the increase over 1949's corresponding week was 25 per cent.

Also, the Agriculture Department said sugar sales by primary distributors jumped 37 per cent in the first three weeks of July as compared with the same 1949 period.

The department announced that, while there already is plenty of sugar, the government will buy remaining Cuban stocks.

Hoof, Mouth Disease Campaign Nears End

MEXICO CITY —(AP)— One of the biggest health campaigns in the cattle world will terminate this weekend when the official "last cow" gets her shot of foot and mouth vaccine.

If the joint U. S.-Mexican campaign is successful, a large-scale outbreak of the disease will have been wiped out for the first time. The three-year campaign cost a quarter of a billion dollars. It entailed vaccinating 15,000,000 cattle and keeping watch on them over an area as big as Texas.

But officials of the joint commission directing the fight say its work is not over. Continuing inspections will be made to insure the disease does not appear again. This part of the campaign will go on for two years even if there are no more outbreaks. If there are more, vaccinations will be given all cattle in the area.

Frank Miller, Wayne Lanham, Charles Gibbs and Leon York were among Midlanders leaving Friday for Grand Prairie to attend a national model airplane convention sponsored by the U. S. Navy.

ARE MEDICAL PATIENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin McKinsey of North Cowden were admitted Thursday to Western Clinic-Hospital as medical patients.

Billy Direct paced a mile in 1:55 when four years old. The record is in the books since 1938.

PICKETS PICKET—Clyde E. Palmer, left, publisher of newspapers at Texarkana, Ark.-Tex., and El Dorado, Ark., with his granddaughter, Virginia Lee Palmer, parades in front of the Texarkana Gazette and News. They're picketing the International Typographical Union picket at right. Palmer's printers went out on strike, but called it a lockout. Palmer claims printers reluctantly struck under pressure from the ITU's national leaders.

West Texas Oil And Gas Log—

the tool was open four hours. Gas surfaced in one hour and 55 minutes, which blew strongly at first, but weakened gradually.

Recovery was 155 feet of gas and distillate cut mud. Flowing pressure varied between zero and 50 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 800 pounds.

Drilling Ahead

The venture was reported drilling ahead below 6,080 feet in shale.

No official top of the Wolfcamp has been called, but it was topped at approximately 6,000 feet.

Previously, a core from 5,997 to 6,015 feet revealed sand from 6,000 to 6,002 feet, and below that depth were lime streaks and shale.

On a drillstem test at 5,955-75 feet, this venture indicated for flowing gas-distillate production. The flow was gauged at 200,000 cubic feet of gas daily, and 10 gallons of distillate per 1,000 cubic feet of gas.

The upper drillstem test was taken in a sand, believed to be the Fry.

The No. 1 Brooks is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 21, block 3, H&TC survey, and five miles southwest of Tankersley.

East Vealmoor Adds First Dual Producer

Sunray Oil Corporation's No. 3 W. L. Wilson, in extreme Central-North Howard County and in the East Vealmoor pool has been dually completed.

The new producer is the first well completed on the Howard County side of the East Vealmoor pool, and one of its production horizons is a new pay for the area. It is the Wolfcamp lime topped at 6,911 feet.

The No. 3 W. L. Wilson was completed from the Wolfcamp for 745 barrels of 39.7-gravity oil and no water daily through an 18/64-inch choke. This production is through perforations at 6,910-60 feet. Pay was topped at 6,905 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was reported as 804-1. The area was treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

From Regular Pay

The dual producer was completed from a lower zone through perforations at 7,450-7,462 feet. The lower pay is the Canyon reef, which is the regular pay of the East Vealmoor field.

It potentialed for 192 barrels of 43.7-gravity oil plus 20 per cent water per day through a 16/64-inch choke. Flow was natural. Tubing pressure was 425. Gas-oil ratio was 804-1.

Exact location of the No. 3 Wilson is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the lease in section 16, block 27, H&TC survey. That makes it 10 miles northwest of Vincent.

The new producer is a south offset to the Canyon reef lime discovery in the southeast Borden County portion of the pool.

Central Dawson Test Gets Spraberry Water

Fred M. Manning, Inc., and Bay Petroleum Corporation No. 1 D. Huddle, Central Dawson County wildcat, one and one-half miles southwest of Lamesa, developed salt water in the top of the Spraberry sand in a drillstem test at 7,585-7,676 feet.

The test was at 7,585-7,676 feet. The tool was open two hours. There was a blow of air for a part of the period.

Recovery was 300 feet of drilling mud and 270 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil or gas. The project is to drill deeper into the Spraberry horizon.

Top of the Spraberry was picked at 7,538 feet. Elevation is 2,974 feet. Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 11, block 36, T&P survey, T-5-N.

Prospector Slated For C-N Runnels

Bouchard & Callihan of Abilene have staked a proposed 4,800-foot wildcat in Central-North Runnels County, five miles southeast of Winters.

The project will be their No. 1 L. Tinkle, located one mile east of the Winters-Strawn field, 350 feet from east and 330 feet from south lines of a 139-acre lease in H&TC survey 333.

SE Sutton Wildcat Spudded, Drilling

Gem Oil Company of Dallas No. 1 Vander Stuken, wildcat in Southeast Sutton County, was reported drilling below 2,000 feet on an Ellenburger contract.

The venture is slated to be drilled to approximately 5,600 feet. Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 60, block 14, TW&NG survey, 22 miles south of Sonora.

It is two miles south of a gas discovery from the Strawn, Shell Oil Company No. 1 Duke Wilson.

Deep DST Partially Fails In NW Upton

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 G. P. Davis, Northwest Upton County wildcat, tried a drillstem test at 13,203-238 feet in the Ellenburger.

The packer failed after 23 minutes. There was no air, gas or fluid at the surface. Operators were pulling the testing tool at last report.

This project showed some signs of possible production in a drillstem test at 13,138-203 feet. Top of the Ellenburger is at 13,105 feet which is on a datum of minus 10,241 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block 41, T&P survey, T-5-S.

Kelley-Snyder Field To Get Six Projects

Six new projects have been scheduled for the Kelley-Snyder and one venture has been slated for the Diamond M-Canyon fields of Scurry County.

Magnolia Petroleum Company has spotted three of the locations in Kelley-Snyder and Standard Oil Company two, while Sunray Oil Corporation has spotted one. Stroube Oil Company will drill the Diamond M-Canyon venture.

Magnolia's projects are the No.'s 5 R. A. Smith, 2-D McDonnell estate and 11 A. J. Logan.

The No. 5 R. A. Smith will be located 1,650 feet from north and 1,300 feet from east lines of section 292, block 97, H&TC survey, four miles northwest of Snyder.

The No. 2-D McDonnell estate will be 660 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 336, block 97, H&TC survey, at the southwest edge of the field, six and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

On Logan Lease

Magnolia's No. 11 A. J. Logan will be 660 feet from south and east lines of section 296, block 97, H&TC survey, at the central-west edge of the field, three miles northwest of Snyder.

Sunray's No. 3-A Charles S. Hardy will be 467 feet from north and 2,024.7 feet from east lines of section 296, block 97, H&TC survey, at the central-west edge of the field, seven miles northwest of Snyder.

Standard's two ventures will be the No. 4 W. R. Bell and the No. 11 Tom C. Davis and others Unit.

No. 4 Bell will be drilled 1,667 feet from east and 1,880 feet from north lines of section 382, block 97, H&TC survey at the northwest edge of Kelley-Snyder field. That makes it six and one-half miles north of Snyder.

On Northern Edge

No. 11 Tom C. Davis and others will be drilled 972 feet from north and 3,107 feet from east lines of section 339, same block and survey, 10 miles northwest of Snyder at the northwest edge of the field.

The Kelley-Snyder proposals will be drilled to estimated depths of 7,000 feet.

The Diamond M-Canyon location, Strouble Oil Company No. 8 H. H. Eiland, will be drilled at the west edge of the field, 660 feet from north and 1,960.7 feet from east lines of section 146, block 25, H&TC survey, 15 miles southwest of Snyder. Operations will begin immediately. It is projected to a 7,000-foot depth.

Sunray To Abandon Outpost In Borden

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 4 W. L. Wilson, one and three-quarter miles northwest outpost to the discovery well of the East Vealmoor field which is located along the Borden-Howard County line is preparing to plug and abandon as a dry hole in the Pennsylvanian lime reef.

This exploration ran a one hour drillstem test at 7,657-7,764 feet. There was a good blow of air throughout the period.

Recovery was 1,720 feet of drilling mud and 1,890 feet of salt water. There was no show of oil or gas.

Top of the reef was picked at 7,630 feet. Elevation is 2,462 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 36, block 31, T&P survey, T-3-N.

Abandonment Slated For Stonewall Tester

Gene Goff of Midland and associates are preparing to plug and abandon their No. 1 Branch, Southwest Stonewall County wildcat, 20 miles southwest of Aspermont and 12 miles north of Rotan.

The prospector ran a drillstem test at 6,988-7,042 feet in the Ellenburger. The tool was open 39 minutes.

Recovery was four-tenths of one barrel of drilling mud, five barrels of mud and sulphur water and four barrels of salty, sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 195 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 2,915 pounds.

None of the upper beds showed any signs of petroleum and plugging orders have been issued.

Ellenburger Top

Location is in the northwest quarter of section 356, block 2, H&TC survey.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 6,990 feet. Elevation is 2,111 feet.

E. C. (Jack) Prince No. 1 Fisher, Northwest Stonewall County wildcat, two miles north of Swenson, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 210, block D, H&TC survey, was bottomed at 5,523 feet in a Canyon sand and was circulating while waiting on orders. So far as has been reported the venture has not found any shows of oil or gas.

C-E Kent Wildcat Fails In Ellenburger

Roeser-Pendleton, Inc., and associates No. 1 Montgomery, Central-Eastk Kent County wildcat, one mile southwest of Jayton is to to be plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 7,105 feet in Ellenburger dolomite. The prospector found no shows of production in any zone penetrated.

Total depth is at 7,105 feet, according to electric log. That was a correct depth from 7,217 feet on the driller's log.

A drillstem test was run at 6,970-7,105 feet. The tool was open 30 minutes. Recovery was 50 feet of muddy, salt water.

Unofficial top of the Ellenburger was at 7,009 feet. That was on a datum of 5,011 feet.

Location was 467 feet from south and east lines of the north half of the west 194 acres in section 78, block 98, H&TC survey.

Reds Launch-

ply problem had reached a point where the invaders were unable to continue a war of attrition. He called the next few days "extremely important" from the Communist point of view.

An American counterattack was made Friday afternoon in an attempt to ease pressure on the central sector, but AP Correspondent O. H. P. King reported it was not on as big a scale as originally ordered. There were no immediate reports on how it fared.

Heavy Artillery Fire

The Red attack was launched and maintained under the heaviest concentration of artillery and mortar fire of the five-weeks-old war.

One veteran of Normandy and the Battle of the Bulge in World War II called it "more artillery than I ever saw before."

American artillery was replying with both high-explosive and antipersonnel fire.

In the far south, where the Reds for several days have been advancing with small feeler tank forces, they gained another ten miles along undefended roads. This carried them within about 60 miles of Pusan, the all-important American supply port at the southeast tip of Korea across from the Japan supply source.

A Tokyo headquarters spokesman said, however, "The southwestern situation is completely under control."

It was on the west-central front, astride the road and railroad leading down to Taegu and Pusan that the decisive engagement was being fought out.

Nine Red divisions, the largest force yet committed to the field, crashed against all main points of the American and South Korean lines.

Outnumbered Four To One

The main weight of their attack was aimed at two American divisions holding a strategic mountain pass about 45 miles northwest of Taeju, key railroad and highway center. MacArthur's Intelligence spokesman said the North Korean attackers outnumbered the Americans four to one on this sector.

He said pressure from attacking Red columns was building up over the whole length of the front. He said this is the Communists' maximum effort.

The attack ran into staunch defense lines and the largest American counterattack yet mounted. The First Cavalry Division counterattacked after the Reds hit their positions near Hwanggan on the central front. The 27th Regimental Combat Team of the 25th Division wheeled into new positions after a Communist column drove through betwen the 25th and the First Cavalry Divisions.

Elsewhere, field reports said, both American and Korean units were holding their positions.

South Koreans Busy

The South Koreans launched local counterattacks at several points on the south coast, where a smaller Communist force had been rolling forward virtually unopposed.

Americans and Koreans were fighting to hold passes through the rugged Soeback Mountains guarding the American supply lines to the northern fronts. The spine of the mountain ridge extends northeast from Sunchon to Yongdok. Right through the center is the Taejon-Taegu highway, winding generally northwest from Taeju. Yongdong and Hwanggan are virtually in the the center of that pass. This is where the battle is reaching its greatest intensity.

MacArthur's spokesman described the Communist offensive at this point as "very heavy." The Reds advanced behind tanks. The First Cavalry met them headon with a counterattack of their own.

The First Cavalry attacked even as MacArthur promised "an impending change from defensive actions to strong counteroffensive operations." MacArthur's statement was made in United Nations Command Communique No. 2. It said his flying visit to the battle zone Thursday confirmed his last week's announcement that the Reds had lost their chance for victory.

Dr. Felix Bentz Of Switzerland Speaks At JayCee Meeting

Dr. Felix Bentz, a native of Switzerland who has been in the United States with Atlantic Refining Company since May, 1949, addressed the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Friday noon in Hotel Scharbauer. He spoke on Switzerland's position during World War II.

Dr. Bentz outlined the plan used by his country to maintain a ready military force even though there is no standing army. He told how each male must go into training when he turns 19 and how that after that time he always is in the army. The entire country stands ready to mobilize at any time.

The speaker told of several points of stress Switzerland had while remaining neutral during the last war.

The speaker was introduced by Burvin Hines.

President Art Joseph presided at the meeting.

MIDLANDER FINED

forces. That figure may well turn out to be higher.

Indicating an upward revision, there is the hike in the number of men the government intends to draft. It started off on July 10 with a modest plan to call 20,000. Now it wants 100,000 inductees called up during September and October—a sudden increase of 80,000.

These draftees won't be of any use for fighting the Korean war—unless it drags on to late 1951 or early 1952. It will take that long to make combat-efficient soldiers of them. So, it is obvious they will become part of the expanded armed forces to fight in any future war.

Asia Is Critical Area

Some Pentagon thinking is that Russia—until she feels her armies, her air force and her arsenals all are ready—will not move where she must commit her own troops.

If that is true, it could mean there might be no early, direct action in some of the "sensitive" spots around the world—in Western Germany, in Iran, in Yugoslavia. At those points, she could not rely on her satellites to do her fighting, as she has in Korea.

Asia is a different picture. In that part of the world there are unlimited millions of Communist-indoctrinated Asiatics to do Russia's fighting. Korea demonstrated that.

Because Russia's land forces already are advanced in preparedness and strength far beyond the combined armies of the United States and her Allies, estimates about the timetable seem to be predicated largely on Soviet aviation build-up efforts.

There is evidence that in some categories of plane production, ours is only a tiny fraction of Russia's. This may be especially true in the case of jet fighters and fighter-bombers designed for support of ground forces.

Plenty Of Bombers

What about her strategic bombers, the planes she would use to wage atomic warfare against free Europe—and possibly against the United States industrial heartland?

For the kind of war she probably would fight, the Soviet Union doesn't need the ultra-long range B-36's we would require to bomb Russian targets.

She is getting bombers in constantly increasing numbers much like our B-29's and B-50's. They fit her need. With them, all of Europe and the British Isles would be within easy range.

By operating from bases in Eastern Siberia, American targets in the Northwest United States would be within range. By seizing airheads in Alaska, the striking range would move eastward to encompass industrial centers of the Midwest and Northeast.

When and if Russia decides the time for an outright showdown with the free world is at hand, it is to be expected she will want to strike by air, heavily, savagely, widely, at the instant her immense ground armies jump off for invasion.

Oswalt Leaves For Dallas Conference

City Manager W. H. Oswalt was to leave Friday for Dallas, where he will consult engineers of the Forest and Cotton firm concerning their studies of the proposed Colorado River Municipal Water Supply District.

The district now is comprised of Big Spring and Odessa. Midland has been invited to participate in the water program.

The firm of Forest and Cotton was employed to give Midland a separate report on the proposal. Engineers previously had made a report to the member cities.

Oswalt will return to Midland Sunday.

Civil Suit Hearing Continues In Court

Trial of a civil suit, Norman F. Hoffman vs. R. H. Murray, et al, moved into its second day Friday in 70th District Court here.

District Judge Paul Moss of Odessa is presiding.

Mrs. Stella Clark, 1026 Cornell Ave., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, thinks a vigorous appetite, fine food and lots of good, sound sleep are the keys to health and happiness. All of these were made possible by the blessings of HADACOL, when HADACOL overcame these deficiencies.

Here is Mrs. Clark's statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL I was troubled with nervous indigestion. My stomach was just tied in knots when I would sit down to eat. You can imagine how I enjoyed my food and how much good it did me. It affected my sleep too—there was many a night I lay awake for hours and hours. I heard about HADACOL and have been taking it ever since. I have no more stomach distress. I enjoy my food and I sleep like a top every night of the week. I started my husband taking HADACOL and he, too, says that now he has never felt better in his life. I just can't thank HADACOL enough—and, of course, I recommend it to all my friends."

HADACOL Works

. . . in helping to build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails. Countless thousands whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin are benefitting from HADACOL . . . even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients.

Give HADACOL a Chance

Yes, give HADACOL a chance to help you. Refuse substitutes. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold only on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel better with the first few bottles you take or your money back. Trial size only $1.25. Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.—(adv.)
