Herter Warns Reds West Plan Popular

Propaganda Victory Seen

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today people all over the world have praised the Western plan for a German peace settlement and have been disappointed by Soviet rejection of it.

In a new round of debate in the Big Four conference, Herter argued in effect that the West is winning and the Soviet Union losing the propaganda battle over their rival German programs.

Herter rebuffed a contention by Gromyko that Western insistence of German unification prior to a peace treaty is a barrier to achievement of European security.

The fact is, Herter said, that it is difficult to see how peace and security can be attained in Europe without reunification.

He urged Gromyko to "give further and I hope serious, consideration" to the Western plan which provides for successive, parallel steps toward unification, European security and disarmament.

He welcomed one declaration by Gromyko at an earlier stage of the debate, a statement that Germany should have the right to decide for itself the right to retain alliance ties with other countries. West Germany is a member of NATO. East Germany, less than half its size, is a member of the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact.

After meeting an hour and 14 minutes the ministers recessed for the weekend. They met again Monday afternoon.

Before the opening of today's session, West Germany pressed the Big Three western powers to get a permanent hands-off pledge from the Soviet Union on Berlin before agreeing to a summit conference.

Foreign Minister Heinrich von Bretano told a news conference he believes the United States, Britain and France must obtain Soviet "confirmation of the existing rights of the West in Berlin as a precondition for a summit meeting."

If that commitment could be secured informally from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko here, he said, it could be made the basis for a formal agreement at the summit. It would bind the Soviet Union to accept the right of the Western powers to keep troops in Berlin and to supply them across East Germany.

After nearly two weeks of formal sessions, the Big Four ministers are now moving into a new phase in which they expect shortly to get down to hard-boiled bargaining in secret over the Berlin and summit issues.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and Von Brentano decided today the bargaining will have to go on in small secret gatherings over lunch and dinner tables. These will parallel the big meetings at the Palace of Nations—making this a split-level conference developing partly open and partly secret.

Informants also said the Western ministers adopted a strategy of patience for dealing with Gromyko. They decided they can outwait him and need not make the first overtures to get the talk about Berlin started.

Soviet sources are passing out word that Gromyko is not in any hurry either. They say he is prepared to carry on the deadlock indefinitely.

For today's debate at the Palace of Nations the Western ministers deployed their forces as for a military campaign.

The session began at 3:32 p.m. 9:32 a.m. EST.

Herter was assigned to discuss European security, and Couve de Murville was given the problem of Berlin to talk about. Lloyd was named cleanup man with the task of replying instantly to Gromyko if he launched into a new attack on the West.

Sound Economy Is Vital, Ike Warns

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that without a sound economy at home, the United States could soon become powerless abroad.

In this time of armed international uneasiness an unstable home front economy could jeopardize "our prosperity, our security, our freedom," he said.

Eisenhower sounded a new call for prudence in federal spending in a speech prepared for ceremonies dedicating a new auditorium at historic St. John's College.

The auditorium, part of a $2,100,000 complex of new buildings on the campus, is named for Francis Scott Key, composer of "The Star Spangled Banner" and who was a graduate of St. John's.

Eisenhower flew here from Washington by helicopter for the ceremony, taking off from the White House grounds. He landed on the campus, a few yards from the auditorium, after a 22-minute flight.

Twenty-five descendants of Key were on hand for the ceremonies.

Fitting his remarks to the site on the campus of the third oldest college in the United States, Eisenhower spoke of the importance of education for an understanding of world affairs.

He made a point of saying the proper term today is "world affairs"—that "there are no longer foreign affairs and 'foreign policy.'"

We have discovered that we cannot separate what we do abroad from what we do at home. We have found that our efforts to promote a freer flow of world trade are hurt wherever there exists an unreasonable demand for protectionism among our own people," he said.

Then Eisenhower indirectly prodded Congress anew to revise the farm program.

"We have learned that our interest in stable world markets is compromised by an outdated farm program which stimulates and subsidizes a tremendous farm surplus which overhangs the exchanges of the world," Eisenhower said.

"We have learned that unnecessary spending at home may foreclose our essential spending abroad. We have learned that the fate of our own nation is bound up with the fate of others.

"Our whole position in world affairs is determined by the health of our economy and the soundness of our money.

"The concerns of 'foreign' policy are not something remote and apart from the rest of our activities; they are deeply rooted in the very center of our local personal pursuits day by day."

Castro Raps Labor Move

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today denounced extremist labor agitation for wage raises and hinted that the Communists are behind it.

The revolutionary leader threatened to slap on price and wage controls if pay increases granted by his government result in rises, without government approval, in the cost of essential goods.

He suggested that some labor leaders were conspiring with businessmen to set off a wage-price spiral.

It was the first time Castro has suggested a link between Cuban Reds and acts he called counter-revolutionary. He made the statements during another in a series of marathon TV panel programs on which he is appearing.

Castro acknowledged that his criticism of labor probably would brand him a reactionary. But he said his government has "not sold itself to any imperialism."

Clouds Bring Little Rain

Scattered, rainy clouds passed over the Snyder area late yesterday but dropped only a sprinkle in the area.

Reports indicate that only one small portion of the Snyder area got any measurable moisture, that being Fluvanna with .25 of an inch.

J. D. Patterson, operator of the Patterson Store at Fluvanna, said the rain apparently covered a very small area and was lighter west of Fluvanna.

In Snyder there were only bursts of high wind through parts of the day.

RACIAL OVERTONE FEARED

Rabbit Romance Book Withdrawn

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A book for young children about a white rabbit marrying a black rabbit has drawn protests in Alabama.

It was withdrawn from general public library circulation because segregationists complained that it reflected pro-integration views.

The book is "The Rabbits' Wedding," published by Harper Bros. last year for children between the ages of three and seven. It was written and illustrated in color by Garth Williams.

The story tells of the marriage of the black and white rabbits at a moonlight wedding attended by all the other animals of the forest.

After criticisms of the book appeared, Miss Emily Wheelock Reed, director of the Alabama Public Library Service Division which lends books to local libraries throughout the state, ordered the book placed on the agency's reserve shelves.

Miss Reed said the rabbit book had not been banned, but merely withdrawn from general circulation. Librarians seeking the volume for their local libraries may obtain it now only by specific request.

Some still carry it on their open shelves, Miss Reed said.

She said she and members of her staff had received complaints about the book and that a member of the Legislature, Sen. E. O. Eddins, questioned it.

She said it isn't unusual to take books out of general circulation in public libraries, and that it isn't always for racial reasons.

Meanwhile, the publishers issued a statement from the author saying the book had "no political significance."

Williams, now in California, added in the statement:

"I was completely unaware that animals with white fur, such as white polar bears and white dogs and white rabbits, were considered blood relations of white beings. I was only aware that a white horse next to a black horse looks very picturesque."

Williams said his story was not written for adults. He said they "will not understand it, because it is only about a soft furry love and has no hidden message of hate."

Thunderstorm Activity Due In Area Today

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A severe weather forecast was issued today for portions of the South Plains country east of the Pecos River and North Central Texas.

"Thunderstorm activity now occurring in northern portions of Texas is expected to become locally severe this afternoon and early this evening. Scattered large hail, isolated damaging winds and the possibility of a tornado is expected in portions of the South Plains country east of the Pecos and North Central Texas from noon until 7 p.m. CST, today, Friday. The approximate area is along and 60 miles either side of a line from Big Spring to 60 miles south of Mineral Wells."

By The Associated Press

A tornado was sighted early Friday in the Lubbock area while much of West Texas was under a severe weather alert.

The Weather Bureau confirmed a report that a tornado touched ground near Southland, 22 miles southeast of Lubbock.

The area is grassland country. There were no reports of injuries or property damage.

The funnel was sighted at 7:15 a.m.

It appeared after a night of scattered thunderstorms. The most severe were at Paducah, Cottle County, and Quanah, Hardeman County.

A torrential downpour at Paducah measured 4.86 inches. Some hail fell at both places.

Early Friday a line of thunderstorms extended from Bowie to Gainesville, in North Texas.

The Weather Bureau issued a severe weather alert for a big slice of West Texas. It was in effect from 4 a.m. to 10 a.m.

The bureau said severe thunderstorms could be expected during this period in an area along and 30 miles either side of a line from 40 miles north of Lubbock to 70 miles south of Midland. The bureau said some hail also could be expected.

West Texas Division Due

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Weather Bureau is going to do away with "West Texas."

Starting June 1, separate weather forecasts will be issued for Southwest Texas" and "Northwest Texas."

The change was asked by The Associated Press. Some members of the news cooperative felt the West Texas zone is too big for accurate forecasting.

This has a familiar ring to the Weather Bureau. Intil 1951, the bureau issued forecasts for only two zones—West Texas and East Texas.

The East Texas of those forecast days extended from Texarkana to Brownsville. Writing a single forecast for half of Texas was next to impossible.

In 1951 the bureau broke its old East Texas zone into North Central Texas, South Central Texas and a much smaller East Texas.

The line dividing the new Southwest and Northwest zones will be the southern edge of these counties: Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan and Eastland.

Battle Of Bulges Starts In Taverns

HOUSTON (AP)—The battle of the bulges will start in Houston taverns before June 1, Mayor Lewis Cutrer said yesterday.

Cutrer said patrols of pocket-patting policemen will prowl the night spots looking for suspicious bulges in patrons' pockets.

If the bulges look like guns or other prohibited weapons, the mayor said, the patrons will be subject to a police search—even though their deportment otherwise is angelic.

Sentence Of Odessa Woman Suspended

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A 30th District Court jury today convicted Miss Betty Jo Marcella, 26, of murder without malice. The Odessa woman was given a five-year suspended sentence in the slaying of Bill Pelley.

The verdict was returned at 10:10 a.m. The jury had deliberated about two hours last night before retiring. One member of the jury was Highway Patrol Lt. William White.

Miss Marcella's attorneys professed themselves to be pleased with the verdict.

The all-male panel retired last night at 11:20 p.m. after considering the case for two hours.

Miss Marcella testified yesterday she shot Pelley because she feared for her own life.

"I shot him. I shot him to keep him from killing me," she said yesterday. She said Pelley also threatened to disfigure her.

The brunette, 26, was the final witness in her trial.

Earlier, Ector County Sheriff A. M. Gabriel of Odessa testified that Miss Marcella helped drive underworld characters from Odessa.

Hospital Receipts Hit Record Mark

Cogdell Memorial Hospital had its biggest month in gross receipts last month since its opening in February, 1954.

Bill Newsom, hospital superintendent, reported to the county hospital board in its regular monthly meeting last night that the hospital grossed $43,765 during April.

Average occupancy during April was 85 per cent, the eighth straight month that the hospital has had that much occupancy or more. One of the months saw an average of 91 per cent occupancy. May is running lighter, however, with an average of 36 patients daily through yesterday.

April had a high of 52 patients on one day and a low of 37. The hospital admitted 296 adults during the month and had 35 newborns. Average occupancy per day was 44.

Dawson Moreland was welcomed by the board as a new member. Moreland will fill the unexpired term of M. L. "Woodrow" Wilson, who died recently. Postmaster here, Moreland has previously served as a member of the county airport board and in other civic activities.

Other members of the board are Pat Falls, president, Hugh Taylor, Sam Chorn, Lester Moore, Weldon Key, and J. Ray Martin, county judge.

Plans on the two-story addition to the hospital are expected to be completed by late this month by Leonard Crockett & Associates of Odessa, architects. Crockett's mechanical and electrical engineers made final reviews a few days ago of the existing facility and methods of tying in new mechanical and electrical work.

The hospital board expects to hold a special meeting with the county commissioners court by early June to consider the finished plans and specifications.

Chickens Killed As Truck Overturns

WAXAHACHIE (AP)—A large trailer truck, stacked high with crated chickens headed for market, overturned just east of Waxahachie today, killing hundreds of the fowls and freeing hundreds of others over the countryside.

Highway Patrolman Joe Parker said the accident occurred at 5:15 a.m. when a left rear wheel popped off, causing the truck to plunge into a ditch and overturn.

The driver of the vehicle, Thomas Maxie of Nacogdoches, escaped unhurt.

Living Costs Rise Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose in April, climbing back to the record high reached in July and November of last year.

The government index went up two-tenths of one per cent from March to 123.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This matched the peak recorded in two months last year.

Announcing the figure today, the Labor Department said that rising state and local taxes helped shove up the living-cost level. Costs of transportation, medical care, recreation and personal care items all were up also.

Food, however, declined one-tenth of one per cent continuing a nine-months drop interrupted only in January.

The new living cost rise was accompanied by a Labor Department report showing the purchasing power of factory worker earnings also rose to a record level in April. The previous record was in December 1956.

Spendable earnings of factory workers—their pay less federal tax deductions—also set a record in April.

Factory worker take-home pay average $80.68 per week for the worker with three dependents and $73.14 for the single worker. This reflected both increased wages and premium overtime rates for extra work hours.

Spendable earnings of factory workers are now up about 10 per cent over the level last year.

Most of 1½ million workers whose pay rates are geared for a quarterly living cost adjustment based on the government index will receive no change in pay because the change for the three-month period was too small. This includes nearly a million workers in the auto and auto parts industry.

Bees Leave Crash Scene

DECATUR (AP) —About four million honey bees, which figured in an exciting highway accident two miles south of here yesterday, were somewhere in the wild blue yonder today.

Nothing remained of the 500 hives spilled onto U.S. 287 when a truck-trailer rig from Roseau, Minn., collided with a Highway Department road roller, except scattered ashes.

The driver of the truck, Dewey Robson, 30, was treated for bee stings and a broken wrist.

At least 15 motorists, who were warned to roll up or keep their windows rolled up as they approached the wreck scene, let their curiosity govern them and were treated for bee stings and released.

Under the supervision of a Decatur fire truck, gasoline was sprayed on the hives and ignited. A road maintainer cleaned up the last of the mess by scattering the ashes on the highway shoulder.

The bees eventually left the scene and their whereabouts Friday was unknown.

400 Due For VFW Parley

Some 400 out-of-town guests will be welcomed to Snyder tomorrow and Sunday for the district eight convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Milton M. Mapes, district commander, said that registration of guests will begin at the Veteran's Club here at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

A busy schedule of convention activities is planned for both days.

Main speaker here for the convention will be Doyle Willis, state department commander of the VFW. He will address the delegates Sunday morning.

Guests are to be welcomed to Snyder by Harold Bennett, mayor, J. Ray Martin, county judge, and George R. Killam, county attorney.

Starkweather Is Granted 2 Weeks Stay Of Execution

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Charles Starkweather, 20, slayer of 11, won a two weeks stay of execution today a little more than an hour before he was to go to the electric chair.

Chief U.S. Dist. Judge Richard Robinson of Omaha stayed the execution until June 4. He said that would give Starkweather time to appeal a District Court denial of a writ of habeas corpus.

Starkweather was scheduled for execution about 6 a.m. for one of the slayings during a murder rampage 16 months ago. The stubby red-haired youth admitted 11 gun and knife killings.

Official witnesses and newsmen were already gathering in a predawn thunderstorm when the acting state penitentiary warden, John Greenholtz, notified them the execution had been stayed.

Protestant Chaplain Robert Klein had relayed the word of a possible stay to Starkweather. Half an hour later Starkweather learned the reprieve actually had been granted.

"He was pretty shaky," said Greenholtz. "He was all prepared to go."

Before the execution was called off, Starkweather had spent a nervous night drinking a good bit of coffee, the warden said.

At the Women's State Reformatory in York, where Caril Fugate, Starkweather's murder tour companion, is serving a life sentence, Supt. Hattie Bowley said the girl had not been told of the stay of execution, and probably won't learn of it from reformatory officials.

What Caril has learned of the case in the past has come from her attorneys, Mrs. Bowley said.

The 11th hour effort to save Starkweather from death was conducted by his father, Guy.

The elder Starkweather first phoned Judge Archibald K. Gardner of the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in Huron, S.D.

Judge Gardner referred Starkweather to Judge Robinson who was routed from bed at 1:45 a.m.

Robinson called U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Van Pelt in Lincoln. Van Pelt was the judge who rejected the habeas corpus application.

Judge Robinson observed that Starkweather had been without help of an attorney in seeking the habeas corpus writ and that he contends his constitutional rights are being violated.

At 4:22 a.m. Robinson signed the order staying the execution.

Word was phoned to Greenholtz and a U.S. marshal arrived at the prison with the signed order at 6:10 a.m.

House Panel Begins Rewrite Of Daniel Package Tax Plan

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

AUSTIN (AP)—A House Revenue and Taxation Subcommittee starts today rewriting Gov. Price Daniel's 161 million dollar package tax proposal to pay the state's 1960-61 operations.

Committee members said the revised version will include Daniel's proposals for the most part.

Major changes: not so much tax on natural gas, more on cigarettes, a trading stamp tax and other selective sales taxes. They may add more than 50 million dollars in new taxes.

Each House adjourned until Monday.

The governor applauded the special session's first week. He said he has "great hopes" increased work will be completed within the remaining 25 days.

The 5-day financial-battle scoreboard:

1. Each house passed its version of the $2,400,000,000 general spending bill. Conference committees start work Monday to narrow the 20 million dollar gap between the higher House bill and the Senate proposal. The House increased appropriations 47 million dollars over present spending.

2. Representatives approved two measures Daniel says will cut $41,300,000 off the 66 million dollar deficit. Sent to the Senate were bills to increase corporation franchise taxes for one year and allow the state to revise its bookkeeping procedures.

Tax bill opponents' testimony was repetitious from the regular session's hearings. The measure taxes natural gas, public utilities, corporations, tobacco, liquor and motor vehicles.

The proposed corporation franchise tax increase on interstate companies "will deter industrial development in Texas," said George Carr, Dallas, of Dresser Industries Inc.

The proposed natural gas increases caught committee attention the most.

"How can the Legislature appropriate funds on one hand to advertise Texas and then at the same time penalize industries for coming here?" asked James T. Cox, Houston, of Schlumberger Well Servicing Corp.

"This is a 43 per cent tax increase," F.L. Kuykendall, Austin, representing Lone Star Gas Co., said.

"In effect this is a 10 per cent production tax," said Lee Hill, Houston, of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas.

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley said he felt the gas tax is constitutional. The increase is just, he added.

Doctor Put On Probation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A medical doctor has been placed on probation in which a burglary charge stemming from a complaint a seamstress for antiques that led him to visit the homes of patients.

Dr. Earl Boyd Smith, said to Ralph Yarborough, 62, after the pleas was imposed Thursday. A native of Annapolis, N.C., Dr. Smith practices at Vale, a village of 60 persons in east central Washington. As the result of visits to the homes and patients, Mrs. reported to an understanding between Mrs. He said his problem was never mentioned by the villagers and said there had been no decline in the practice since the charges were made public.

Mrs. said he had moved the antiques when he was to be tried on charges and returned them to their owners. She said when he knew he was going to plead guilty he asked to see the judge privately. He said he wanted to make a statement.

The physician was ordered by District Judge Herbert J. Buddy to undergo psychiatric help and make restitution.

EASY LEMON COOKIES

Ingredients: 2 ½ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ pound butter or margarine, ¾ cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 egg white, ½ cup finely grated walnuts.

Method: Sift together the flour and baking powder. Cream butter and sugar; beat in the egg yolks, 1 teaspoon of the lemon rind and the lemon juice. Stir in sifted dry ingredients until combined. On waxed paper make into 3 rolls, each 2 inches in diameter and about 4 inches high; wrap rolls tightly and refrigerate overnight. Slice ¼ inch thick. Beat egg white until frothy; mix remaining 1 teaspoon lemon rind with walnuts. Brush egg white over cookies; sprinkle with nut mixture. Bake about 1 inch apart, on ungreased cookie sheets in moderate (350 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

105 Weddings Are Clouded

BELVIDERE, Ill. (AP)—Are we married or not?

That's the question many of 105 couples could be asking themselves today after it was disclosed that the man who performed their marriage ceremony was not, as they believed, a justice of the peace.

The former JP is William Freek, elected to the job here April 2, 1957. Twenty-nine days later, Freek also accepted the post of township corporation counsel. He's held both positions since.

The attorney general handed down a ruling two weeks ago saying the jobs were incompatible and that Freek ceased being a magistrate when he took the counsel post.

In Chicago, Ben Schwartz, first assistant attorney general, said he believed a court test on the marriages' validity would bring a ruling they were legal.

"That's a common sense opinion," he said.

Twentieth Century Holds Its Last Meeting Of Social Year

The last meeting of this social season was held by the the Twentieth Century Club in the home of Mrs. Elton Wyatt Tuesday.

Mrs. C. O. Holder gave the thought for the day on "Wasted Opportunity," by Ruskin.

Mrs. B. J. Bartels was leader of the Talent Day program. She discussed literature in the home.

Mrs. Bartels said, "There are many types of literature which comes into our homes: newspapers, magazines, pamphlets and books.

Not everyone likes to read books, but all of us read some type of literature.

Some persons do not like to go to the expense or trouble to secure good reading material. Often we are fooled by a book cover or title.

Mrs. Bartels asked the question, 'What do you read in the newspaper?'

She answered the query with editorials, news, comics and articles all affect our homes in one way or another. Our articles articles cover a wide range of subjects: dress, cooking, child behavior, bridge, vocations, people and gardening.

Mrs. S. M. Pfiler discussed experiments in color, saying, "The language of art gives us, as individuals, an opportunity for expression.

"Color and movement are two things we recognize early in life. To use color directively is to learn the language of arts in its liveliest, most vivid and most natural forms," she said.

Mrs. John Hamblen discussed flower arranging in the home saying, "when you enter a house and are greeted by the sight of fresh flowers attractively arranged, you know at once you're in a home where beauty and hospitality are important."

Mrs. Hamblen made [illegible] arrangements and used pictures to illustrate her discussion.

The Unsigned Letter

A letter to the editor published Thursday in the Snyder Daily News alerted the language—if not the purpose—of an unsigned letter concerning the city-county health unit which was received by the county commissioners court a few days ago.

There may be those who have wondered in the past why newspapers do not publish unsigned letters. The one received by the commissioners is an excellent example.

Apparently the authors of the letter felt that it had been misinterpreted, or else distorted. A newspaper reporter read the letter and his interpretation concurred with that of the commissioners court. Apparently there were some points which were not understood fully, but since the letter was unsigned there was no one to turn to for clarification.

The letter, of course, would have landed in the waste basket of a newspaper office. County commissioners, although they had no way of knowing whether it actually came from Scurry County citizens or from someone in Lower Siberia, did discuss it at their meeting.

As for the purpose of the letter, as we understand it, the question of over-abundant space in the health unit building has been raised as an issue. Only a portion of the building has been put to use since its construction seven years ago.

Perhaps the elaborate facilities are not needed for health unit operations, but we doubt that a provision for expansion of services is wholly bad judgment.

There may be, of course, a question of whether the building could be put to better use, but we have heard no specific proposals. And in view of our understanding of the purpose of a health unit, we definitely would be opposed to shifting its operations to the vicinity of the county hospital. If its functions are needed at all, they should be near the center of town.

So far, the only conclusion we can reach is that unsigned letters lead to confusion.

Courage Desired To Speak Frankly

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Some day I'd like to have the courage to:

Tell a plumber, or a painter or a carpenter, "If you're not here in an hour, I'll get someone else."

Under-tip a lousy waiter and tell him why.

Tell the boss, "If you'll see my secretary, I'm sure she can arrange an appointment for you."

Tell a cab driver, "When I want any of your philosophy, I'll ask for it."

Ask my wife, "What happens to all our money?"

Walk up to the big loud mouth at the bar and belt him with no prior introduction.

Out-race a state trooper, trying to give me a ticket, to the state line.

Ask Queen Elizabeth II, during an audience at Buckingham Palace, "What's a beautiful dame like you doing in a joint like this?"

Electrify my fence against my neighbor's predatory children.

Tell the old lady who always manages to stand near me when I get a seat on a crowded bus, "Madam, the doctors give me three days. How many have you got?"

Stand on my head in a modern art gallery and shout: "It does, too, look better this way."

Ask the doctor, "Be frank, Doc. Haven't you paid for your college education and equipment 100 times over?"

Ask President Eisenhower, "Are you sure you counted all your strokes, including those two in the rough?"

Say to Tallulah Bankhead at a cocktail party, "Tallulah? Tallulah who?"

Say to a real estate agent, "Yes, but how much will it cost to repair all that picturesque charm?"

Tell the Internal Revenue Service, "I'm tired of this partnership. Why don't you buy me out?"

Strip the gears of the elevator operator, who, at 3 p.m., sings out, "Half a day today!"

Investigate personally the thing called "brand x" and see if it's as bad as all those TV announcers claim.

Ask Gen. Douglas MacArthur, "Did you remember to send a birthday card to Harry Truman?"

Point-blank ask the captain of the Queen Mary, "Now quick, which is the port side?"

Snore out loud at the philharmonic.

Pull up a chair at the summit conference and say, "All right, men, how about a little seven-card stud, one-eyed jacks wild?"

Rush up to Elizabeth Taylor at a crowded airport, kiss her fondly and then back off, saying, "Sorry, I thought you were my mother-in-law."

Eviction Protest Is Back In Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Arechiga family is back in court—this time Superior Court—to protest condemnation proceedings which resulted in their eviction from Chavez Ravine.

A similar suit was dismissed in federal court because no federal question was involved.

The family charges the City Housing Authority's condemnation of their property was a fraud because the agency had no intention of using the property for public housing. After a housing project plan was shelved, the acreage was sold to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Chavez Ravine is being cleared now for a new Dodger ballpark.

Dulles Is Assured Place In History

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles from the moment he resigned as secretary of state because of his spreading cancer belonged to history. What will history say of him?

It can never deny that this 71-year-old man gave to the service and welfare of his country tremendous and tireless dedication. He quit only because of the illness which incapacitated him.

But only unfolding events—history itself—can ever give a final answer to the central question of his stewardship. Was he a good secretary of state in the sense that he policy he pursued was wise?

His great task was dealing with communism. If his whole policy toward the world of the Soviets and Red Chinese were to be summed up in a single sentence, this could be it: "Hold tight and don't let them budge an inch."

This was exactly the "containment" policy of his predecessor former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. It called for military alliances all around the Communist perimeter and economic help to friends and neutrals.

The purpose was direct, obvious and simple: to keep communism from gaining any more ground, militarily, economically or politically. It was essentially a defensive policy, not an aggressive one.

Dulles disagreed with it thoroughly in the 1952 presidential campaign before he became secretary. He called it "negative, futile and immoral." He said it was limited to reacting to Soviet actions. In short, he said the United States should create crises for the Soviet Union instead of letting the Soviet Union create crises for us.

But when he became secretary he took over the Acheson policy, made it his own, even expanded on it with new military alliances.

Yet Dulles had hardly taken office before Soviet policy changed, at least outwardly. Forty-four days after Dulles was sworn in, the old dictator, Joseph Stalin, died, and with him went the needlessly savage Soviet foreign policy.

His successors took a softer line although their purpose and they made no bones about it was the same—Communist expansion. They managed to increase their influence beyond their borders but American military alliances and power remained firm and the Soviets didn't gain an extra foot of real estate.

Yet the Soviets and Red Chinese went ahead by leaps in their own internal development, particularly the Soviet Union in the field of weapons which put added pressure on the West to stand back. The cold war between East and West was just as intense when Dulles went to the hospital as when he took office six years ago.

This is why many years must pass before history can give a final verdict on the policy and wisdom of Dulles, for it will take many years and many events as they unfold to show:

1. Whether his policy led or helped lead to the ultimate ruination or triumph of communism or to a peaceful understanding between East and West.

2. Whether, by the time he took office and Stalin died, the Acheson policy was outmoded and Dulles should have sought and pursued a different one of his own making, with more aggressiveness and less defensiveness, or with more friendliness and less hostility.

3. Whether the forces already let loose before he became secretary in 1953—ultimately favorable or unfavorable to the West—were already too powerful to be affected in their direction or destination by him or any one man.

4. Whether he was wise in depending so much on his own thinking or whether he should have made far greater use of the minds of the men around him in the State Department.

No one now—and certainly not Dulles, whose sense of history was too sharp for that—can claim to know positively the answers to the questions just raised. But no one can challenge this about him: he did his best as he saw it.

Oil Industry Asks Pills And Powder

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's oil industry is calling on the pill and powder business today to help it find new fuels and new wonder products.

Already many millions of dollars worth of pills and powders are concocted each year for the industry. They are the catalysts which help bring about marked chemical reactions or changes in crude oil or its products.

The push to find new and better catalysts is being stepped up. The goal is to come up with a higher octane gasoline, even more stretchable socks, more heat-defiant cones for missiles.

But the big drive always is to find something entirely new, something as yet undreamed of.

There are some 50,000 varieties of catalysts already in use or under study. Some are as big as marbles and some as fine as pepper.

They can take the form of gases, liquids, solids, be large or small, hard or soft. Some are coated with platinum. Others look like capsules or tablets colored in a dozen pastel shades.

Nearly 400 tons of just one type—the catalyst used in the oil-refining method known as fluid catalytic cracking — is produced each day in the United States. Total annual value of the output is around 40 million dollars. Producers include American Cyanamid, National Aluminate, Filtrol and Davison Chemical Co., a division of W. R. Grace & Co.

Since World War II this refining method has been the main one used in cracking oil into gasoline, heating fuel, chemical components and other products. And more than 100 fluid cracking plants around the world now have a combined capacity for handling about three million barrels of oil a day.

Chemists of the Esso Research and Engineering Co. say nearly 1,500 types of catalysts were tested in developing the fluid cat-cracking process. In improving it over the years they've tried another 3,000.

Although principally a purchaser of catalysts, the petroleum industry spends millions of dollars studying and experimenting with these chemical agents.

Tigers Square Series On Lee's Two-Hitter

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

Terry Lee, making his first mound appearance of the season, pitched the Tigers back into contention in the bi-district series with the Mineral Wells Mountaineers here yesterday by blanking the Rams on just two hits, 3-0.

Lee's performance enabled the Tigers to even the series at one game apiece. The "rubber" game of the series will be played today at Mineral Wells, starting at 4.

Coach Speedy Moffett of the Tigers elected Tim Roberts, with an 8-4 record for the year, to hurl the championship tilt.

Mineral Wells was expected to counter with either Jackie Ingle or David Visentine.

Lee was pushed into service yesterday because the Tigers' top two hurlers, Norman Gladson and Tim Roberts, were nursing injuries. Gladson wasn't even suited out as he watched the game from the sidelines with his right arm in a sling. He is suffering from a pulled muscle in his elbow.

Roberts was standing by yesterday in case he was needed although the blister on his pitching hand hadn't fully recovered.

Lee, who did some pitching last year, had devoted all of his playing time this year in the outfield until yesterday. The senior right hander responded with one of the finest mound performances of the year by a Tiger chunker in yesterday's series-squaring win.

Mineral Wells didn't get a base runner beyond second base and only twice did a Ram get as far as the keystone sack. Lee got superb backing afield by his teammates, the Bengal defensivemen handling everything that came their way. It was only the second errorless game the Tigers turned in this season.

The Tiger infield handled 12 ground balls without a bobble. Shortstop Jerry Fleming turned four grounders into putouts with Lee, himself, handling three grounders as did third baseman Keith Moffett. Second baseman Steve Free took care of the only two ground balls hit his way.

The Tigers, after being blanked the first three innings, broke the ice with two in the fourth and then added an insurance marker in the fifth.

In the fourth, the Drake twins, Johnny and Kenny, drew back-to-back walks to lead off and then they executed a double steal. With Ronnie Wylie at bat the Tigers attempted a squeeze play but the pitch was too high for Wylie to bunt and J. Drake was a "dead duck" as he had already broken for the plate.

Johnny, however, lowered his shoulder and plowed into catcher Mike Teichman causing the stocky Ram backstopper to drop the ball and the Tigers had their first run.

K. Drake, who had moved to third on the play, then scored easily on a perfect squeeze bunt by K. Moffett.

Aggie 9 Has Good Balance

By The Associated Press

Consistent team hitting and the pitching of Percy Sanderson were the main ingredients of Texas A&M Southwest Conference baseball championship.

The club hit .283, fielded .946 and won 11 of 15—conference games.

In 81 1-3 innings Sanderson (7-1) had an earned run average of 2.38.

The best earned run average was 1.98 by Paul Timme, Rice, who worked 54 innings.

Richard Kristinik, Rice, led the hitters with .422, compiled on 19 hits in 45 times at bat.

In pitching Sanderson had the best record but Timme and Wayne Schaper, A&M, each lost only one game while winning four. The strikeout leader was Marvin King, SMU who fanned 49 in 54 innings.

Kristinik led in runs with 15 and tied Charles Franklin, TCU, and Lynwood Stallings, Rice, in runs batted in with 14. Franklin and teammate Marshall Harris tied in hits with 21 each. The home run leader was Byron Barber, A&M, with five. Cliff Davis, A&M, had the most doubles, seven.

Mel Carbo, Baylor, led in stolen bases with six.

The Tigers closed out the scoring with a single marker in the fifth. Spencer Dyer opened with a walk and after Free popped out, Dyer was forced at second by Jerry Fleming. J. Drake kept the rally going with a base on balls and then K. Drake teed off on a 3-0 pitch for a line-drive single to left, Fleming scoring.

Mineral Wells got good pitching yesterday from Glen Lindsey, the winner in the Rams' 8-7 win Tuesday, and David Visentine. The Tigers collected only three hits but drew seven bases on balls.

The most serious scoring threat of the afternoon came in the sixth. With one away, Bill Eubanks walked and raced to second on a scorching single to center by Ingle. Eubanks, however, over ran second and centerfielder Johnny Drake fired quickly to second baseman Free to catch Eubanks scrambling back.

Charles Daves then flew out to retire the side and Lee got the Rams in order in the seventh.

Cubs Win In 8th; W-Sox In 2nd Win

The Trinity Methodist White Sox won a battle of unbeatens and the Lions Club Cubs triumphed in an 8-inning thriller in Little League action last night.

The White Sox registered their second straight win with a 7-5 victory over the West Texas Bank Athletics in the American League, thereby handing the Bankers their first loss in two starts.

In the National League, the Cubs won in the 8th on three wild throws that allowed leadoff batsman Tom Bullard to circle the bases, giving the Cubs a 4-3 victory over the Quarterback Club Giants.

Bullard grounded to the shortstop who overthrew first. Then the first baseman overthrew second as Bullard kept going and the Giant centerfielder scooped up the ball and overthrew third allowing Bullard to score.

The game was nip and tuck all the way with the score tied at 1-1 after five innings and then both picking up two runs in the sixth to send the game into extra innings.

Tom Kincaid led the Cub attack with two singles and a double in five trips. Z. B. Rinehart led the Giants with two-for-four.

The White Sox scoring all their runs in the first four innings stayed off a late Athletic threat to win.

Robert Foree hit a two-run homer for the White Sox in the first inning and Jerry Wilson duplicated it in the fourth to account for four of the seven White Sox runs.

Bobby Kay pounded a homer in the second with one on to tie the score at 2-2 and after the Sox moved ahead 7-2 the Bankers battled back to score three in the fifth to cut the difference to two runs but the Bankers went down in the order in the sixth.

Jimmy Featherston and Phil Moore of the Athletics and Foree of the White Sox led the hitting with two bingles apiece.

Veech Takes Memphis Lead

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tom Veech of Milwaukee, a rookie with a host of old pros breathing down his neck, held a narrow lead today in the $25,000 Memphis Open.

The 29-year-old golfer, playing in the 10th tournament of his professional career, jumped ahead of the pack with a 7-under-par 63 first round that equaled the competitive course record.

Veech toured the 6,501-yard Colonial Country Club course in 31-32. Par is 34-36—70.

Avila To Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Avila, 1954 American League batting champion now sporting a meek .170 average, today is the property of the Boston Red Sox. General Manager Bucky Harris purchased Avila, 32, from Baltimore Thursday for an undisclosed amount to strengthen the infield reserves and the pinch hitting corps.

Texas Gets All-Stater

AUSTIN (AP) — Harry Kroner of Elgin, all-state halfback, heads the latest contingent of athletes announcing they will attend the University of Texas.

Don Mraz, Temple quarterback; George Lewis, Austin halfback and John Allen Cook, Killeen halfback, were the others.

Demands Of Church Cited By Parents

By LEONARD E. PEARSON

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. AP — Many parents belonging to the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. feel that the demands of church and community tend to separate family members too much.

This was brought out in a preliminary report on a survey conducted by the Board of Christian Education of the church, issued Thursday at the 171st General Assembly of United Presbyterians.

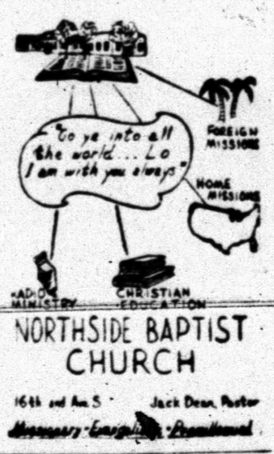

To accomplish this, 845 parents of children under 18, in 63 congregations in cities of various sizes and rural areas, were interviewed. Questionnaires were filled out by another 1,000 parents and a like number of ministers, and the analysis of the data included consultations with theologians, psychologists and sociologists.

The report stressed that further research remains to be done, but some of its preliminary conclusions included:

Families in rural, urban and suburban areas alike complained that community and church activities scatter family members too much. Mentioned were baseball leagues for youngsters, church choirs, school clubs, PTAs, scouts, 4-H clubs and other "youth-serving agencies . . . which contribute to the rush and confusion that aroused our parents."

"Their resentment grows because in the face of these many demands on family time and energy," the report stated, "they find that tensions mount, communication deteriorates, and family freedom is crowded aside in a seemingly relentless schedule."

It added that "awkward scheduling . . . makes Sunday for some families the busiest and tensest day of all the week," and concluded that "the church itself needs to re-examine what it expects of families."

LORD'S SUPPER

(Question) "How often should the Lord's Supper be observed?"

(Answer) The question might also be asked as to how often should Christian's meet for worship. Is there an example of a certain day of worship? Should Christians recognize the Jewish Sabbath or the Lord's day? The Lord's day of Rev. 1:10 is generally understood to be the first day of the week. The Bible says "Upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them . . ." (Acts 20:7) From this, scholars of all ages have drawn the inference, yea an example, for the church of our Lord to imitate. It shows the importance of the worship on the first day of the week. It shows too the purpose of such worship. "To Bread Bread." Yes, I believe Christians should partake of the Lord's supper each first day of the week. If we recognize the Bible as our guide and choose to be governed by its examples, why not follow it in this memorial devotion. When the Lord gave the command to "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy." (Ex. 20:8) He did not say that it should be every Seventh day, but each Jew so understood. I have heard impious preachers insist that should the Lord's Supper be observed weekly the seriousness of it would be destroyed. Could not the same reasoning be employed with reference to singing, preaching, giving and praying? Contemporary writers with the apostles and those immediately following the apostolic era insist that the Lord's Supper was observed each first day of the week. This I believe, not because they said it, but because the New Testament teaches it too.

Spring Mixes Up Animals

NEW YORK AP — Spring does things to animals as well as people. They get crazy, mixed up ideas.

Witness a few happenings this week:

In Detroit a mother rabbit built a nest for her five babies smack on top of a target mound at the city police firing range. A "cease fire" was called pending removal of the brood from pot shot distance.

At Cranston, R.I., a pair of starlings set up housekeeping in a mail box. The residents tried three times to evict the birds and finally gave up. It's now a case of early birds and late mail.

At Hurmanto, Iowa, a hen took a look at four kittens and decided to evict the mother cat and take over the maternal chores. It did too. The rightful mama has been getting no closer than peeking distance.

At the Bronx Zoo only motherhood calmed down an agitated lady robin with a multiple-dwelling complex. The bird built nine nests before deciding on which one to sit and hatch.

Van Cliburn, noted young pianist and winner of the Moscow International Tchaikovsky Competition, didn't begin as a pianist. He first played the clarinet in the Kilgore, Tex., High School band.

Womble Resigns At Union Baptist Here

The Rev. Roy O. Womble, pastor of the Union Baptist Church, has resigned there to accept a call as pastor of the First Baptist Church at Wickett.

Rev. Womble has pastored the Union church for four years, 11 months having come here in July, 1954, from Lamesa, where he was pastor of the Five Mile Baptist Church five years. He has been in the ministry 20 years.

His resignation here is effective next Wednesday, and he will preach his last message to the Union church at the Wednesday evening service. He will speak at both the 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. services Sunday. During the evening service there will also be a Girls Auxiliary coronation.

During his pastorate at Union, the church has had a total of 196 additions, 67 by baptism and 129 by letter. Total offering received for all purposes was $57,348. Total missions expenditure was $14,861.02. Total designated for foreign missions was $3,638.70, and total given through the Southern Baptist cooperative program was $6,490.25.

Mrs. Womble has for the past two years served as Women's Missionary Union president for the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association.

The Wombles have three children, Larry Dale, Inice, and Nancy.

Efforts Of Baptists Reviewed

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. AP — A bell tolled somberly and a voice sounded through the darkened hall.

crime . . . gambling . . . alcoholism . . . materialism . . . atheistic and Communist philosophies . . . obscene literature . . . indifference to spiritual values . . . disintegration of American home life.

In such terms, Southern Baptists traced the perils of the world Thursday night. But their big convention also saw a bright side.

"This is truly a year of revival," the voice flooded over the massed thousands, and chimes rang. "We thank God for the victories. We thank God for the working of his spirit."

It was a broad-gauged presentation, in stark and dramatic mood, as the denomination's Home Mission Board staged its version of the trials and hopes of America, 1959.

"Southern Baptists . . . This Is Your Life," the graphic report was titled.

It ranged from Cuba to Alaska, and to churches and mission stations across the continent as it portrayed the efforts of Christians and the challenges they face. Missionaries, hospital workers, teachers and others took turns telling of their work.

About 13,000 Baptists, most of them "messengers" from home churches in 45 states, witnessed the presentation staged at the huge Fairgrounds Coliseum with theatrical lighting and sound effects.

They heard a report that Southern Baptists, who now number nine million in 31,000 churches, expect to more than double the number — to 70,000 — by 1975.

Dr. Courts Redford of Atlanta, Ga., executive secretary of the board, prayed: "Let our hearts never be at rest until we have completely claimed our land for Christ." The organ rolled and the lights came on.

On Chignecto Bay in Nova Scotia, fishermen string nets in an incoming tide. When the tide recedes, the fishermen drive horse drawn carts over the dry seafloor to pick up the fish from their nets.

Stand Up!

...it makes the "counting of heads" much easier. But when one stands one should be sure he stands for something. No need waiting for tomorrow. It may be too late to register a vote. It is quite easy to persuade one's pooch to stand, to register his want.

It is quite a different thing when we ask a friend, a neighbor to vote an issue.

Perhaps we should be more anxious to make a choice. God said, "Choose ye this day whom you will serve." It would be a better world if we would bounce to our feet to be counted, when God, the church, friends or family are in jeopardy. Sound footing will help when vital issues are at stake. May we hold fast to right, to God, and when we come to stand up in judgment, before the "book of life" we shall not be afraid.

We shall be standing for something.

Father, 4 Children Die In Home Fire

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — A father and his four young children died Thursday night in a fire which destroyed their home.

Robert Burk, 29, a dairy worker, and his youngest son Bobby, 2, died in the flame-swept home.

Firemen pulled Tony, 7, Barbara, 6, and Terry, 4 from the burning building and attempted to resuscitate them, but failed.

Cause of the fire was not known.

Burk was baby-sitting with the children while his wife Joan, 26, was working as a waitress in a coffee shop. She is two months pregnant.

More than 200 species of birds have been identified recently in the Big Bend National Park which covers 1,107 square miles in South west Texas.

Junior Editors Quiz on LIGHTHOUSES

QUESTION: When was the first lighthouse built?

• • •

ANSWER: Since man first began sailing across the oceans, lighthouses have been necessary to warn him away from dangerous rocks and reefs. The ancient Libyans built tall towers along the northern Egyptian coast to guide sailors across the Mediterranean Sea. At the top of the towers they put metal baskets of burning coal or wood to act as beacons.

About 300 B. C., a large lighthouse was built on the island of Pharos near the city of Alexandria. It was so big that it became one of the Seven Wonders of the World.

The Romans built lighthouses on both sides of the English Channel after their conquest of Britain. Many of these towers survived until the Middle Ages.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: In our picture is a Greek boy of long ago swimming toward a lighthouse. If you go to the seashore or the Great Lakes, visit a lighthouse and see how the beacon works. Go to the library and see a list of where they are located.

• • •

(Joline Roberts of Portsmouth, N. H., receives the $10 award for today's question. Mail your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. In cases where a question is received from more than one reader, Mrs. Higgins will make the final selection.) 5-22

Lindsay Crosby Called 'Phantom'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Here comes the Phantom."

That's the way the older Crosbys greet their baby brother Lindsay. He has earned the handle by his air of mystery. While the comings and goings of the other three are fairly predictable, Lindsay is always hard to locate. Here's how the brothers describe him:

Gary: "He's like the old man (Bing). He's more quiet than the rest of us, more sly with his humor."

Phillip: "He's the coolest one of us. He has a great disposition."

Dennis: "Lindsay just exists."

Lindsay differs in looks, too. He is the darkest of the four, with curly brown hair and heavy eyebrows, a slim, handsome face with cleft chin. At 21, he seems amazingly mature.

Gary and the twins were only a year apart. Lindsay came three and a half years later, and he recalls being an unwelcome tagalong during his boyhood. After Dixie died, Bing dropped his career to spend most of a year with Lindsay. They toured Europe where Lindsay pursued his interest in art.

The lad attended a semester at Williams College in Massachusetts, then dropped out to serve his Army duty. "I liked Williams but I didn't think I was getting anything out of it," he says.

Most of his Army service was at Ft. Ord, 300 miles north of Hollywood. It was during this time that he decided on a show business career. He emceed an Army show on a Los Angeles TV station and sang for teen-agers at roller rinks and dance halls.

"One night I looked down at all those kids watching me and I discovered I was enjoying myself," he says.

Recently out of the Army, Lindsay shares a two-bedroom hillside home with singer Jimmy Boyd.

He has made some records with fair success — "But they wanted me to sing rock 'n' roll and my voice is too low for that." Jerry Wald feels he has great promise as an actor and wants to cast him in "Hound Dog Man." But Lindsay insists that nothing will interfere with the brother act the Crosbys are preparing for a nationwide tour.

Strikers Riot In Argentin

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) —Some 300 strikers were arrested Thursday night after thousands of rioters and police had turned downtown Buenos Aires into a battlefield.

A visiting dignitary, President Sukarno of Indonesia, was caught in the melee when strikers shouting antigovernment slogans pressed around the open car. Police finally detached the car from the mob.

Two persons were killed when a fourth-story balcony crammed with battle viewers crashed to the street.

Violence erupted when bank clerks striking for higher wages demonstrated one day before a government deadline for a return to work.

Spring Weather Due For Next Five Days

DALLAS (AP) — The Weather Bureau issued today this 5-day forecast for May 22-27:

East and Central Texas: Temperatures around normal extreme North Texas and 2-4 degrees above normal elsewhere. No important daily changes. Generally heavy rain in scattered showers and thundershowers most of the period.

West Texas: Temperatures slightly below normal Panhandle and normal elsewhere. No important daily changes. Moderate rain in widely scattered thunderstorms.

Structural Designer To Open Office

John B. Maschek, structural designer, has announced that he will open offices here Monday of Meschek & Associates.

The firm, which will have its offices located at 1806 Twenty-sixth Street, will deal in structural design, residental, commercial and industrial design, as well as being a construction consulant firm.

Maschek, who lives at 2213 Forty-second Street, has been a Snyder resident since last September, having worked with another engineering firm.

He had moved here from Abilene, where he was associated with Charles Landers & Associates, architects and had been with Texas Steel Products as an estimator. He was also for five years an estimator for Standard Oil Co. in El Paso.

Maschek said he will probably have three employes in his firm. He is married and has one son and one daughter.

Six Future Spacemen See Missile Base

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Their reaction was silence — they watched in awe.

These were the first impressions of six of the seven Mercury astronauts Thursday when they were given their first look at the jumping-off spot for the first manned flight into space.

The future spacemen made a driving tour of the Cape, but planned to follow this up today with a detailed visit to each of the launching pads for the giant U.S. ballistic missiles. The astronauts will wind up their brief trip Saturday.

No interviews were allowed, but the astronauts' escort officer, Lt. Col. John Powers, gave newsmen some of the highlights of their first reactions to the Cape.

Sometime in 1961 one of the seven will be fired into space aboard an Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile.

"We'll see that one again!" one of the group commented as their bus passed a huge tower housing the mighty Atlas.

The astronauts are Air Force Captains Leroy Cooper Jr., 32, Carbondale, Ohio; Donald Slayton, 35, Sparta, Wis., and Virgil Grissom, 33, Mitchell, Ind.; Lt. Cmdr. Alan Shepard Jr., 35, East Gerry, N.H.; Lt. Cmdr. Walter Schirra Jr., 36, Hackensack, N.J., and Lt. Malcolm Carpenter, 33, Garden Grove, Calif., of the Navy; and Marine Corps Lt. Col. John Glenn Jr., 37, New Concord, Ohio.

Runaway Romances Endure

By DENNIS NEELD

LONDON (AP) — One runaway romance was fading from British headlines today with a peaceful reconciliation, but another one was on hand to take its place.

Shipbuilder Harry Dowsett finally caught up with his 20-year-old daughter Katherine and the playboy she eloped to Scotland with. The suitor, Edward Langley, 27, accepted Dowsett's invitation to come for the weekend and talk things out.

Meanwhile, from London a rich silversmith's wife dashed off to Gretna Green in pursuit of her 18-year-old son and the family's pretty Swiss maid.

Dowsett ran his daughter and Langley to earth at a friend's tiny apartment over a stable in Cambridge.

Because the family forbade the under-age girl to marry, she ran off to Scotland with Langley and refused to come home with her father when he followed them.

Dowsett got a high court order prohibiting the marriage. It was doubtful it could be enforced in Scotland, where teen-agers can marry without parental consent. But Langley would have been subject to arrest if he flouted the order and then returned to England.

The couple drove 320 miles from Edinburgh and arrived exhausted and penniless in Cambridge. A posse of newsmen and private detectives hired by Dowsett soon traced them.

The father arrived and hammered on the orange-painted door, shouting: "Katherine, let me in. It's your father."

"Are you going to be nice, Daddy?" Katherine cried tearfully from the other side of the locked door.

"Of course, my dear." Dowsett replied softly. "Let me in and let's sort this thing out."

Katherine opened the door and hugged her father. He slipped inside quickly.

Thirty-five minutes later Dowsett stomped out of his car, reporting: "I agreed to compromise."

Then Katherine and Langley come out hand in hand. "We are going to the Dowsett home to talk things over," he said.

The new pair of romantic headliners were 19-year-old Jeffrey Herscheson and blue-eyed Sylvia Polentarutti, 20, from Zurich. They disappeared from Jeffrey's home 11 days ago and were found in Gretna Green, England's traditional haven for elopers.
