THREE POWERS JOIN IN TREATY OVER TURKEY

France, Britain and Italy Agree to Recognize Own "Spheres of Influence."

To Render Diplomatic Aid To Each Other in Maintaining Special Claims.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—France, Great Britain and Italy have signed a tripartite agreement in which they agree to support each other in maintaining their "spheres of influence" in Turkey. The limits of the areas in which the respective special interests of France and Italy are recognized are defined by the same document.

This agreement, it developed today, was signed at Sevres, August 10, the day the public ceremonial of the signing of the peace treaty with Turkey took place. Although the agreement, it is explained, is not considered a secret one, it, nevertheless has never been made public until now, after a lapse of nearly three months since the signing. Under its own terms, the document was to come into force and be published at the time the Turkish peace treaty should go into effect. This date is still an uncertainty.

In connection with examination of the text of the agreement, now available, attention is being called here to the fact that while the treaty recognizes the special interest of France in Cilicia and the western part of Kurdistan, bordering on Syria, and of Italy in southern Anatolia, the British spheres of influence are not only undefined but are not mentioned. This has raised the question if the agreement is susceptible of the interpretation that the British intrests may be held to extend to any or all the remaining parts of the Turkish empire.

Pledge Each Other Support

It is noted also, that while the agreement does not take the form of an alliance, it pledges the contracting powers to "render diplomatic support to each other in maintaining their respective positions in the areas in which their splints are recognized."

Article Ten of the agreement provides that nothing contained in it shall prejudice the rights of nationals of non-signatory states to free access to the various areas for commercial and economic purposes.

The preamble of the document reads:

"Being anxious to help Turkey develop her resources and to avoid the international rivalries which have obstructed these objects in the past * * * considering that the autonomy or eventual independence of Kurdistan has been recognized by them and that it is desirable with a view to facilitating the development of that country * * * the British, Italian and French governments have agreed upon the following:

"Article 1.—There shall be equality in Turkey between the contracting powers in the composition of all international commissions, whether existing or to be established, charged with the organization and supervision of the religious and linguistic minorities.

Not To Interfere

However, in the event the Turkish government or Kurdistan is desirous of obtaining external assistance in the local administration of policing of areas in which the special interests of France and Italy are respectfully recognized, the contracting powers undertake not to dispute the preferred claim of the power whose special interests which are such, are recognized to supply such assistance. This assistance shall be specially directed to enhancing the protection afforded to the racial and linquistic minorities in said areas."

Article II provides that the products and manufactured articles coming from or going to the territory, dominions, colonies or protectorate of the contracting powers shall enjoy in the areas defined perfect equality to all matters relating to commerce and navigation.

"Article III—The contracting powers undertake to render diplomatic support to each other in maintaining

End of Chicago Night Life Seen In "Dry" Dictum

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The doom of Chicago's night life was forecast today, when Charles A. Clyne, district attorney, notified every well known cabaret in the city not only to cease selling liquor, but to prohibit guests bringing their own. Mr. Clyne threatened to close every place where guests were allowed to use hip pocket flasks and to arrest the proprietors and waiters for violation of the Volstead act.

AD CLUB ELECTS W. J. DAUGHERTY

Permanent Organization Is Formed; Officers and Directors Chosen.

Perfecting its permanent organization Friday night, the Wichita Falls Ad Club promptly claimed for itself the distinction of being the first organization to use the diningroom in the Kemp Hotel, and the membership will gather there at noon Monday for the first of the regular weekly luncheons.

Walter Daugherty of the Overland Sales company was elected president of the club, Jack Barnard, first vice-president, T. R. T. Bohart, second vice-president; these three and John Gould, C. S. Dulin, Norris Ewing, H. A. Dodson, R. R. Rubottom, S. Y. Gaines, James L. Duffy and T. A. Bradley, constitute the board of directors. Miss Gertrude Deppen, publicity director of the Chamber of Commerce, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The membership of the club now numbers about 50, a good percentage of whom attended Friday night's meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. It is hoped to enroll at least 100 members by Monday and three teams were organized to obtain members today. Any user of advertising space is eligible for membership, and is invited to attend Monday's luncheon; the cost will be $1.00 per head, and any who expect to attend are asked to telephone J. L. Duffy, No. 3066, before 9 a. m. Monday morning, and make reservation.

Members of the club felt gratified at the distinction accorded them by Manager Allen, of having the first luncheon in the Kemp Hotel, and it was decided to take complete advantage of it, as auguring well for the success of the new organization.

The membership teams are the No. 1 team, captained by Charleston A. Kleinman; the "Truth" team, captained by George Wilson and the "Headliners" team, captained by J. E. Sharpe. These started last night making active plans for the membership drive, which will end with the luncheon on Monday, November 15.

"Wichita Falls Livest Club" was elected as the club's slogan, upon suggestion of T. A. Bradley.

Representatives of Dallas and Fort Worth Ad Clubs are expected to attend Monday's luncheon and give the membership the benefits of the experiences of those cities. The club will probably become affiliated, at an early date, with both the state and national organizations of advertising clubs.

COLLEGE PROBE ENDS.

GALVESTON, Nov. 5.—The committee investigating the state medical college concluded its hearings here today and left tonight for Austin.

Twelfth Marriage In Actor Troupe Celebrated Here

The Hawaiian Butterfly company hung up a record for marriages within its company Friday night when the twelfth marriage among members of the troupe was celebrated at the Plaza Airdome. Justice of Peace J. C. Arrington officiated before a large crowd of good natured movie fans. Ralph Miller and Gladys O'Neal were married.

As the nuptial knot was tied a volley of rice and old shoes was heaved on stage by members of the audience. The groom is from Homestead, Pa. His wife is a southern beauty from Memphis, Tenn.

Incidentally this is the second public wedding that members of the Butterfly company have staged here this year.

HARDING OPENS MOVE TO LEARN NATION'S VIEW

Prepares List of League Supporters and Enemies For Early Conference.

Senator Plans to Be Prepared for Immediate Effort Upon Inauguration.

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 5.—President-elect Harding already has begun fulfillment of his campaign promise to consult the nation's leading minds with regard to a new association of nations, and he hopes that by the time of his inauguration next March he will have laid the groundwork of a plan behind which the sentiment of the nation can unite.

A list of those to be consulted first has been drawn up, and invitations are going forward to several to come to Marion at the conclusion of the month's vacation trip, which is to be started by the president-elect tomorrow morning. Both republicans and democrats are to present their views in individual and personal talks with Mr. Harding during the winter months, but he does not contemplate, for the present at least, any general assemblage of his advisers for round-table discussion.

The names of those already invited have not been made public, but it was said in an announcement from the president-elect's office tonight that "men and women who have been eminent in the discussion of our foreign relations" made up the list. Additions will be made during Mr. Harding's vacation trip, it was added, although no consideration will be given by him during that period to the choice of a cabinet.

Decision Made With Hays.

The announcement followed a long conference between Senator Harding and Will H. Hays, who, as republican national chairman, led the campaign for Harding and Coolidge. Neither revealed what subjects they had discussed, but it was understood the chairman's visit here was made at Mr. Harding's request and had to do with the campaign just closed and with the policies to be shaped for the coming administration.

The object of the senator's vacation trip to Point Isabel, Texas, and although he plans to occupy most of his time there hunting and fishing, another of his close campaign advisers, Harry M. Daugherty, will accompany him. It is taken for granted there will be some discussion of policies and administration programs between them.

Today Mr. Harding declined an offer of President Wilson to provide him with a battleship for the voyage to the Panama canal zone, which is to follow a 12-day stay at Point Isabel. In response to a telegram from Secretary Daniels, conveying the president's proposal, the president-elect wired that he was thankful, but already had closed an agreement to make the trip on a passenger steamer.

By Rail to Point Isabel.

It was said at Harding headquarters tonight that a hitch over the sailing schedule had been adjusted and that a proposal to have the liner go out of its regular route to pick up the party at Galveston had been abandoned. Under the present plan the departure will be made from New Orleans, to which point the senator and Mrs. Harding and their guests will go from Point

'THE CITY THAT FAITH BUILT'

Negro Taken In Death of Girl; Initials Clew

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—Police late today, arrested a negro in connection with the slaying of Miss Edna Ellis, pretty 18-year-old stenographer, whose beaten and mutilated body was found today in a clump of weeds in a vacant lot. The negro's initials correspond with initials on a slip of paper found near the scene of the crime. The girl's lacerated hands gave mute testimony of the desperate but vain fight she made for her life.

Mrs. Marie Ellis, her mother, told police Edna usually arrived home about 6 p. m. but worked overtime last night to earn extra money to purchase Christmas presents.

UNITED NATION URGED BY COX

"Nation's Every Resource Should Co-ordinate for Things Helpful.

By Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Governor James M. Cox in his first statement since the election tonight said that in spirit he was "as proud as when the fight started," and that he "would not retrace a step nor yield a single jot in principle."

Governor Cox's statement follows:

"For the first time in ten years the republican party is in complete control of the legislative and executive branches of the national government. Therefore, policy as to statute and administration is with it. Its task is no longer that of the critic but the constructor. It is my hope and firm belief that the democracy of the nation will not attempt political sabotage. The country has seen quite enough of that.

"We are in the midst of an emergency and the nation's every resource should co-ordinate in behalf of the things that are helpful. So long as government exists, the principles of Thomas Jefferson will be the center about which human hopes will gather. Talk of a new party is absurd. One might as well discuss the destruction of human emotions.

"As essential as it has been to the welfare of the country in the past, the creed of democracy is more needed now than ever, because recent events have made it distinctly the American party.

"In spirit I am as proud as when the fight started. I would not retrace a step, nor yield a single jot in principle. It was a privilege to make the contest in the face of overwhelming odds. There is a distinct difference between defeat and surrender. The flag of democracy still flies as the symbol of things more enduring than the passions and resentment that come with the aftermath of war."

ALVARADO NO BOLSHEVIK

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 5.—General Salvador Alvarado, minister of finance of Mexico, in a telegram to Mexican Consul T. R. Beltran received here today said he recently was misquoted by Mexican and United States newspapers when it was reported he had declared himself a bolshevist in a statement made in the Mexican chamber of deputies.

GRAIN PIT WINS DEFENSE FROM WAR DIRECTOR

Barnes Tells Farm Committee System Provides Growers "Cushion."

Objects to Price Fixing Plan As Means to Monoply—World Deflation.

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Julius H. Barnes, former director general of the United States grain corporation, today appeared before the marketing committee of seventeen of the American Farm Bureau federation, offering opinions and suggestions on the subject of grain marketing, and outlining major influences on price fluctuations on trading exchanges.

Mr. Barnes said that it was his firm conviction that the present system of grain marketing through open exchanges, by maintaining a highly competitive market at all times, worked to the advantage of both producer and consumer, and that future trading was beneficial in that it furnished insurance for traders against destructive losses on commitments which would of necessity be taken in wider margins or profits without exchange hendging.

Touching upon recent declines in wheat prices, which some agricultural interests of the country have claimed are unwarranted by the existing supply and demand, Mr. Barnes said that the wheat producer had "escaped the full effect of deflation," because of the "cushion" found in future trading. He cited figures tending to show that the decline in wheat from the peak of post-war prices to the current level has been only 18 per cent, as against a decline of 68 per cent in potatoes, for which there is no exchange market. Similar comparison reveal declines of 55 per cent in cotton, 47 per cent in beans and 46 per cent in barley, the statement said.

Deflation Covers World.

Indication that the deflation is world-wide in character and not confined to American farm products alone, Mr. Barnes said, was found in the fact that imported farm commodities, such as sugar and coffee, fell off from 61 to 66 per cent during the same period.

In answer to a question from a member of the committee as to whether it would be feasible for producers to market their own crops, Mr. Barnes said the present system maintained a lower trade toll between producer and consumer than would be possible in any system which eliminated hedging and that, in his opinion, any organization of farmers for price fixing would not be decreed just by the American public.

Particular emphasis was given the statement that co-operative efforts of producers in local territories to eliminate unfair practices where monopolies existed were not to be confused with a nation-wide marketing system, which would itself constitute a monopoly.

Monopoly Not Sound.

The former, Mr. Barnes declared, is to be encouraged, is sound in economic principle and will succeed, while the latter is not sound in that it seeks to establish market influences other than the fundamental laws of supply and demand.

Questioned by the committee as to why co-operative selling organizations were not permitted to hold membership in grain exchanges, Mr. Barnes said that, while he was not familiar with the rules of all exchanges, his personal opinion was that to permit co-operative agencies to hold membership would be unfair to commission houses and other interests which have established and main-

HARDING TO REST, NOT SPEAK, HERE

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Nov. 4.—Senator Harding will not accept invitations to any cities in south Texas while he is vacationing in this section, according to E. P. Scott, chairman of the Nueces county republican committee. It had been intended to invite the president-elect to visit Corpus Christi.

"I took this matter up with Senator Harding personally as soon as I learned of his intention to visit Point Isabel," Mr. Scott said today. "I received a reply stating that the campaign had left the senator completely tired out and, therefore, he wishes to retire from the public eye for a time.

"During his stay he intends to do nothing except rest and enjoy himself in a quiet way, away from all noise and excitement of crowds. For that reason he will refuse to accept any invitations."

A Series of Officially Chosen Beauties

MISS EVELYN CATOE, WEBB, MISSISSIPPI, "PRINCESS."

This is another of the series of American "princesses," charming U. S. girls chosen to represent their states at the cotton ball and celebration at the Texas Cotton Palace, Waco, Texas. Governors of the various states were asked to appoint a maiden as their official representatives at the celebration.

TWO MOVES FOR IRISH PEACE ON

Members of Parliament To Propose Withdrawal of Troops

By Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Two interesting, although unofficial, attempts are being made to solve the Irish question, it developed today. The first of these is an effort by influential political quarters to induce the government to communicate with the Sinn Fein members of parliament in order to try to reach an agreement and prevent the ruin of Ireland.

The second is that the three coalition members of parliament will formally propose a plan for withdrawing the military in Ireland to strategic centers and allowing the local authorities to take the responsibility for the preservation of law and order with the eventual view of negotiating a political settlement of the problem.

CHAMP CLARK LOST BY 3,912 BALLOTS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—Complete, unofficial figures for the Ninth Missouri congressional district show that Champ Clark, member of every congress except one since 1893, lost his seat in the house of representatives to T. W. Hukriede of Warrenton, by 3,912 votes. Each carried five counties, but the ones favoring Kukriede were more heavily populated than the others.

Republicans tonight were confident that Representative Bland of the Fifth district had been defeated by Ellis, republican, but so few votes separated the two that the result probably will not be known until the official count.

CHILEANS WATCHED ELECTION CLOSELY

By Associated Press.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Nov. 5.—The returns from the presidential election in the United States were received with much interest here. The newspapers displayed the results with large headlines, and accompanied the accounts with biographies of President-elect Harding and photographs of the successful candidate and his wife and of Vice President-elect Coolidge, besides commenting editorially on the republican triumph.

WRANGEL ARMY IN GRAVE STATE

Red Forces Make Further Advances—Allied Help "Too Late" Now

By Associated Press

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Further dispatches confirming the extreme gravity of the situation of General Wrangel, head of the anti-bolsheviki forces in South Russia, have been received by the French foreign office, but are being withheld temporarily.

With the capture by the bolsheviki of Perekop and the surrounding territory, regarded as the key to the isthmus, fears now are expressed in French official circles that General Wrangel has sent an urgent appeal to France and the other allied powers, telling of the critical situation confronting him and requesting more aid.

From an authoritative source it was learned today that France feels it now is "too late" to give him further assistance. It was explained that France had rendered him all the assistance in her power, and any further support would have to come from the other allied powers, among whom, the French say, there seems to be no disposition to act.

Even though he establishes himself in the Crimea, the problem of feeding his army is a serious one, and probably will fall upon France. The resources of the Crimea are inadequate for his army and the many thousands of refugees who are following his forces.

COTTON EMBARGO CLAMPED ON HERE

The Northwestern compress will not accept any cotton billed into Wichita Falls by the railroads later than 11 o'clock Friday morning, when an embargo against all incoming cotton was declared.

Congestion within the compress, where between 11,000 and 12,000 bales of cotton have accumulated, made the embargo necessary until the excess supply can be shipped out.

The restrictions are expected to be in effect for several days.

CANADIAN MARINE READY

AMERICAN HEAD IN SAMOA DIES AS BOARD NEARS

Charges of Cruelty and Theft Been Filed With President for Reforms.

Natives Had Stoned Residence of Commander—Unrest Drew Protest.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Commander J. Terhune, naval governor of Samoa, ended his life November 3, three days before the battleship Kansas with a board of inquiry on board to investigate the administration of the island arrived, according to word received today at the navy department.

Commander Terhune recently was ordered relieved from duty as commandant at Samoa, and Captain Waldo B. Evans appointed to succeed him.

SHOT THROUGH HEART.

HONOLULU, Nov. 5.—Advices from Samoa today indicate that Commander Terhune, naval governor of American Samoa, ended his life November 3, three days before the battleship Kansas was due to arrive with a naval board of inquiry from Washington, D. C., to investigate charges against his administration.

The governor's body was found in the bathroom of the executive mansion with a bullet wound through the heart, according to the dispatches from Samoa.

CRUELTY, THEFT CHARGED.

Rear Admiral Charles F. Hughes, aboard the United States ship Kansas, due at Samoa November 6, was sent from Washington as the head of a court of inquiry when charges were made to President Wilson and the navy department by Samoan natives and by Lieutenant Commander Creed H. Boucher, who served four months as captain of the yard under Governor Terhune. The charges allege mistreatment of natives and misappropriation of government funds collected by the Terhune administration.

First reports of discontent in Samoa came in August, when, cable dispatches said, the natives stoned the governor's residence in protest against his administration. Later more than 400 native kings and chiefs sent an appeal to President Wilson, asking that a board of inquiry be sent. Mormon missionaries also urged Senator Reed Smoot of Utah to exert his influence toward an investigation of conditions.

Commander Waldo Evans, who was named to succeed Governor Terhune, is aboard the Kansas. Terhune, who had requested that he be relieved for medical examination, was to have been sent to the navy yard at Mare Island, Calif., for examination.

GOMPERS PLEDGES HARDING SUPPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Samuel Gompers, labor leader, on arriving in New York from Washington late today said:

"Senator Harding has been elected president of the United States. He will be just as much my president as that of any other citizen of our country. In any way that the American labor movement, including myself, can be of service to him, of course it will be our duty and pleasure."

THREE INDICTED IN BUILDING PROBE

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Forces of the law scored their first point today in the fight against the alleged "building trust" when bench warrants were issued for the arrest of three persons indicted by the grand jury investigating the scandal. Officers immediately searched the city and the initial arrests were looked for soon.

Wife Says Insane Husband, Suicide, Gave Away Stock

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Florence Sharp, widow of J. R. Sharp, who recently killed himself in Dallas, has filed petitions alleging that her husband was insane at the time of the suicide, and further that on the same day he gave away $160,000 worth of valuable oil stock.

She has filed suit to recover the stock, which, she says, was in the Texas and Magnolia Petroleum companies. In her suit she names George Lay, the Texas Security National bank and the oil companies.

"Article IV—Provides that the Anatolian railway, the Mersina-Tarsus-Adana railway and that part of the Bagdad railway lying in Turkish territory as defined by the treaty with Turkey shall be worked by a company with its capital furnished equally by British, French and Italian financial groups.

To Unify Railroads

The signatories agree to support the unification in the near future of the entire railway system in the territory remaining Turkish, by the establishment of a joint company to work these lines.

"Article V—Fixes the boundaries of the areas in which the special interests are recognized.

"Article VI—The mandatory powers for territories detached from the former Turkish empire will enjoy vis-a-vis with the contracting powers the same rights and privileges as the powers whose special interests are recognized in the areas defined in Article V."

"Article VII—Reserves to Italy the right of exploitation of the Heclera coal basin.

"By Article VIII—The French and Italian governments agree to withdraw their troops from the respective areas when the signatories are agreed in considering the treaty of peace with Turkey is being executed.

"By Article IX—The signatories with special interests accept responsibility for supervising the execution of the terms of the treaty with Turkey for the protection of minorities within their respective areas.

The agreement is to be ratified, it is provided in Article XI and "be communicated to the Turkish government, and to be published and come into force at the same time the Turkish peace treaty goes into effect."

GENE DIEHL, AGED SIX YEARS, DIES

Gene Diehl, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Diehl, died at the home in the factory district late Thursday night. Death was caused by diphtheria.

Funeral services were held from the home at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Burial was in Rosemont cemetery.

E. L. CUMMING IS FACING CHARGES

Following his arrest by special agents of the Wichita Valley railroad at Dundee several days ago, E. L. Cumming was brought to Wichita Falls early Friday and turned over to federal authorities on a charge of theft from an interstate shipment. He was to have been arraigned before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz late Friday evening for examining trial.

It was charged that Cumming was in possession of a chest of tools which had been taken from a warehouse of the railroad company at Dundee. The tools were consigned from Dundee to a point in Arizona and were stored in the warehouse pending shipment.

Plan Would Make Holland Republic

By Associated Press.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 5.—The possibility of becoming a republic is in prospect for Holland under recommendations submitted today by the commission appointed to revise the constitution.

If these recommendations are adopted, Holland will have the chance to decide upon doing away with royalty, unless the little Princess Juliana, only child of Queen Wilhelmina and Prince Consort Henry, some day gives birth to a son by a husband whom the Dutch parliament approves as her consort. The princess now is 11 years old.

The commission proposes that hereafter, unless there is a direct male lescendant of a male ruler, the throne shall go to some male of the second generation of the last king. In the event of there being no direct male successor, however, the people shall have the opportunity to change the country's form of government, under the commission's scheme.

RAISE OWN NEEDS IS CREED OF FARMERS

TEXARKANA, Texas, Nov. 5.—"More food and feed, more milk and butter, more beat and lard on every farm," and incidentally less cotton, is the program of the farmers, bankers and merchants organization of Bowie county, Texas, and Miller county, Ark., in convention here today.

Resolutions were adopted urging the farmers to solve their labor problems by growing less cotton and their financial problem by making their own living on the farm instead of buying high priced northern food and feed with money obtained through the sale of cotton at a price below the cost of production.

tained the marketing system thus far.

Huge investments in the marketing business by private firms would be jeopardized by the swing of business to the co-operative concerns, from which profits would revert to farmers, he said.

First among constructive suggestions submitted by Mr. Barnes was that "exact and accurate information on all phases that affect marketing and price, both nation and world-wide, verified and endorsed by an organization in whose judgment the producer has confidence," be given to farmers to aid them in determining values.

Wants Better Transportation.

Efforts to improve transportation facilities and increase domestic consumption were also mentioned as means by which market conditions might be made more favorable for the producer.

The disorganization of European finances to some degree is responsible for the present light export demand, and this, in turn, is due to the "impossible atmosphere created for private business by the world political situation," Mr. Barnes declared, adding that he believed that had the United States contributed its efforts to the readjustment of world affairs "long ago," American business would not be undergoing the "strain which it is now experiencing."

Reports that Mr. Barnes is to head a $60,000,000 corporation for exporting grain were flatly denied before the committee.

Kentucky Jailer Wins Over Judge

By Associated Press.

WHITESBURG, Ky., Nov. 5.—An unsual feature of the election in Kentucky was the victory of Pess Whitaker, Whitesburg jailer, over Stephen Combs Jr. for county judge. Whitaker was sentenced to his own jail for a term of six months by Judge Combs on a charge of attacking county officers.

Whitaker escaped from jail, was recaptured and again sentenced for jail breaking. Following one of the most exciting campaigns in the mountains of Kentucky, Whitaker won over Judge Combs by more than a thousand votes. Governor Morrow three times refused to pardon Whitaker.

GIRL TESTIFIES TO PART IN ROBBERY

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Miss Marie Phillip, 19-year-old girl on trial here for highway robbery, today told her story to the jury.

She described how she needed money and with Jack Haney and Mrs. Billie Garver went to Ennis in an automobile for money, which a friend had promised to give her. It was on the way back from Ennis that the robbery took place. She denied any connection with it except having driven the car back to the garage.

She stated that when she was 17 she had started out to earn an honest living for her brother at Kauffman.

The others, Haney and Mrs. Garver, will be tried later.

ALABAMA PEANUT RAISERS WARNED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 5.—Peanut growers of the wiregrass section of Alabama, according to reports received by Governor Kilby today, are being warned by "unknown night riding parties" against harvesting their peanut crop this year. Slips of paper left at two or three farms in that section of the state read: "Do not take any peanuts out of the ground until the price goes to $85 per ton."

ONLY SKELETON REMAINS OF AMERICA'S CAMEL EXPERIMENT

WASHINGTON—The skeleton of a camel which stands in a case at the National museum here constitutes the sole relic of two shiploads of camels brought from the far east in the fifties while Jefferson Davis was secretary of war in an effort to solve the problem of transporting military supplies between the Mississippi river and the posts scattered across the western deserts.

Hostility of native mule drivers to the ships of the desert and the beginning of the Civil war are assigned by government authorities as the reasons for the failure of the effort to utilize camels as burden carriers over the western plains.

Dr. Charles C. Carrol of the department of agriculture, has written an official history of the importation of camels. He says the idea of transplanting the beasts to America originated with the Spanish after the conquest of South America and toward the end of the sixteenth century they were introduced into Peru. The camels were not looked upon with favor by the ruling officials, however, and they dwindled away. Some camels also were transported to Virginia from Guinea in 1701 but there is no authentice record of the enterprise except that it failed.

Transportation troubles during the stubborn Indian war in Florida caused Major George H. Crossman to advocate the use of the desert beasts for military purposes, but nothing came of the plan.

Some years later Major Henry C. Wayne suggested to the war department and to members of congress a plan for government importation. His ideas were endorsed by Jefferson Davis, then chairman of the senate military committee, and after Mr. Davis became secretary of war under President Pierce he pressed the project. Finally in December 1854 congress approved an amendment by Senator Shields, of Illinois, to the annual army appropriation bill providing $30,000 "to be expended under the direction of the war department in the purchase and importation of camels and dromedaries to be employed for military purposes."

Sends Wayne to Levant.

Secretary Davis at once sent Major Wayne to the Levant to round up the camels, the secretary of the navy placing at the disposal of Mr. Davis the storeship Supply, with her crew, under the command of Lieutenant David H. Porter (afterward Admiral Porter). It was ordered that the ship land at a Texas port as it was supposed the climate there would more resemble that of the far east.

Major Wayne and Lieutenant Porter brought their first animal in Tunis in August and upon applying for a permit to bring the camel away the Bey of Tunis presented to the United States two other animals, one of which finally became the veteran of the American herd.

The ship then went to Constantinople, where the officers declined an offer of the Sultan of Turkey to present four camels to the United States because it was found the animals would have to be brought from Asia and the officers did not want to wait for them. The Supply went from Constantinople to Alexandria, Egypt, where it was proposed to purchase ten dromedaries and 30 camels but "red tape" so disgusted the Americans that they loaded three dromedaries and made ready to sail. Before leaving, however, they secured six fairly good beasts. The ship sailed with nine dromedaries and the camel presented by the Bey of Tunis, the two others obtained in Tunis having been sold to a Turkish butcher for $44 after they were found to have signs of itch.

Gwyn H. Heap was sent on ahead to Smyrna and when the Supply arrived at that point the remaining camels were found assembled. Mr. Heap had purchased them at prices ranging from $100 to $400.

Brought Back 33

The voyage home was begun February 15, 1856, with 33 animals, nine dromedaries, or runners, 23 camels of burden, and one calf. Six Arabs were engaged to go along with the animals as it was thought they would prove useful in their management. A Turk was employed as a "camel M. D." but his medical services were dispensed with after it was found that his cure for a cold was a piece of cheese, for swelled legs, tea mixed with gun powder, and for trifling complaints, tickling the animal's nose with a chameleon's tail.

The cargo was landed at Indianola, Texas, May 14, 1856, and the beasts were taken by easy stages to San Antonio, 120 miles away, where Major Wayne planned to establish a camel ranch and to attempt the breeding of the animals but Secretary Davis instructed him to find out whether the animals were adapted to military uses.

Major Wayne found the animals highly satisfactory for the purposes for which they were secured and as something over $20,000 of the original appropriation remained, Lieutenant Porter was sent for another ship load. The Sultan of Turkey gave six dromedaries which were included in the lot of 41 animals landed at Indianaola February 10, 1857. The camels were taken to Camp Verde which had been established as the camel station. Five of the first herd had died, one it was said from blows received from a mule driver.

The senate in February, 1857, directed the secretary of war to make a report on the camel experiment which was done and John B. Floyd, who became secretary of war under President Buchanan continued to urge buying of more camels, saying in his annual report of 1858:

"The experiments thus far made and they are pretty full, demonstrate that camels constitute a most useful and economic means of transportation for men and supplies through the great deserts and barren portions of our interior."

Authorize 1,000 More

Secretary Floyd recommended that congress authorize an appropriation for the purchase of 1,000 camel, but the lawmakers did not agree with him and no further expenditures were authorized.

During the summer of 1857 the camels were used in carrying water and for scout duty. That fall Lieutenant Edward Fitzgerald Beale opened a wagon road from Fort Defiance, New Mexico, to the eastern frontier of California, using part of a herd of camels. The journey took 48 days through unexplored wilderness, plains and desert. The camels carried water for the mules on the desert, traversed stretches of country covered with the sharpest of volcanic rocks and swam rivers without hesitation.

When Lincoln's administration began in 1861 the war department had 28 camels in California. These with several others brought on from Texas were held in various fort and military reservations in California without being put to any use. In 1862 Lieutenant Beale wrote Secretary Stanton of their idle condition and proposed to use them for further exploration and in packing supplies across the Great Basin, but his proposal was rejected as was one a year later to use the camels in carrying mail between Fort Mohave, New Mexico, and New San Pedro, Cal.

The herd finally was sold by the government to Samueal McLaughlin, in whose care the herds had been for some time. Some of the camels found their way into circuses and hands of other persons.

At the beginning of the Civil War the camels at the Camp Verde station in Texas passed into the hands of the Confederate government which paid little heed to them and some wandered away. Of these there is an official account of three captured in Arkansas by the Union forces and "sent to Mr. Peden, near Des Moines river in Iowa, for the benefit of his care and economy in their support."

Some of the herd is thought to have wandered into the Texas panhandle, Arizona and New Mexico where they lived free and half wild, the prey of white and red hunters.

When the federal government came again into control of Camp Verde at the close of the Civil war they found 44 camels which were finally ordered sold at public auction. Bids were opened in New Orleans, three persons being willing to buy. Horace Bell offered $5 each, Joseph Hallam $10 each and Colonel Bethel Coopwood's bid was $3 each.

HARDING OPENS MOVE TO LEARN NATION'S VIEW

Isabel by rail. The sailing date, however, has not been announced.

That the plan for conferences on an association of nations already was taking form, was revealed in this announcement from Mr. Harding's office:

"Senator Harding let it be known today that he is sending out a number of requests for personal and very informal conferences with men and women who have been eminent in the discussion of our foreign relations. These conferences will take place upon his return to Marion in December, and will be individual and personal, with the main purpose of learning what policy may enlist united support.

"Senator Harding means to avoid unseemly anticipation, but he feels it wholly becoming to get an expression entirely free from campaign bias and to get it at the earliest possible day. It is the first step toward the meeting of minds in which Senator Harding so frequently spoke during the campaign.

"Senator Harding further announced that no consideration would be given to a cabinet during his recreation period."

Promises Conference Often

Officials close to the president-elect called attention that in his campaign speeches, he promised repeatedly that the "meeting of minds" would begin as soon as possible after his election and that he also frequently declared that the purpose of his consultations would be, not to suggest any plan of his own, but to ascertain how divergent views might be brought so into harmony as to put [illegible] nation behind him in his [illegible] with other powers.

He also has indicated in campaign speeches that irreconcilable opponents of the League of Versailles as well as its ardent supporters would be numbered among those to whose advice he would listen. To the senate he promised to give a share of attention proportionate to its powers in perfecting treaties.

Although the president-elect has never named publicly any of those he will include in his consultations, speculation of a wholly unauthoritative character has revolved persistently about a number of conspicuous figures who might answer to the description, Mr. Harding has laid down. So far as the senate itself is concerned, this undercurrent of gossip has carried frequently the names of such republican senators as Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee; Knox of Pennsylvania, a former secretary of state and a treaty irreconcilable; Johnson of California, another irreconcilable leader, and Lenroot of Wisconsin, a leader of the reservationists.

Democrats Mentioned

On the democratic side there has been mentioned, among others, Senators Underwood of Alabama, the party leader; Hitchcock of Nebraska, who led the fight for unreserved ratification; Simmons of North Carolina, and Robinson of Arkansas.

Among those outside the senate, frequent speculative mention has been made of Former President Taft, a leader for international peace and a supporter of the Versailles league; Herbert Hoover, another league advocate; Elihu Root, former secretary of state and a particip in the recent international court negotiations, and Charles Evans Hughes, republican presidential nominee four years ago.

There is a much smaller list of democrats outside the senate whose names gossip has associated with the "meeting of minds." Among them is Robert Lansing, former secretary of state and a member of the peace commission, often quoted by Mr. Harding in the campaign as disagreeing with Mr. Wilson on some features of the Versailles covenant; Frank L. Polk, the state department's former under secretary; Chief Justice White and George Harvey, the New York editor.

To See Women Also

There has been even less of speculation with regard to what men will be asked for advice in the making of the new plan for an international association.

It is expected, however, that the senator will choose those women who have been closely associated with public activities throughout the treaty fight so as to be familiar with the sentiments of their sisters regarding American membership in the league or any substitute for it.

Whether the tentative list of names was one of the subjects reviewed in the talk between Mr. Harding and Mr. Hays was not revealed. It was understood that many topics came up for discussion, however, in the first meeting of the successful candidate and his manager since the election.

They greeted each other warmly when Mr. Hays arrived and as soon as there had been an exchange of congratulations, the president-elect put his arm about the shoulders of the chairman and, deeply engrossed in conversation, they walked slowly over to Mr. Harding's office.

PLANS STRINGENT IMMIGRATION ACT

ABERDEEN, Wn., Nov. 5.—Legislation restricting immigration from Europe to blood relatives of foreign born American citizens is to be asked of congress by Representative Albert Johnson, Washington, chairman of the house of representatives committee on immigration. Johnston today before leaving here for Washington, D. C., said the country can not absorb the thousands of immigrants now coming and that restrictions are needed.

RED CROSS BAR TO STARVATION OVER RUSSIA

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON—In furnishing relief to the needy of Russia through its commissions to Siberia, western Russia, the Baltic States and southern Russia, American Red Cross service was extended to millions, according to figures taken from the forthcoming annual report of the organization.

Sanitary trains, or hospitals on wheels, totalled 75 cars, equipped with 830 beds, with a capacity of 1,550 patients. There were also typhus trains, the work of which was chiefly preventative. These latter traveled 1,000 miles, bathed 105,000 persons, disinfected 1,000,000 and issued 500,000 clean garments.

In Siberia alone thirty-three trains distributed the cargoes of thirty ships from America and portions of the cargoes from 92 ships from other countries. In this work American Red Cross trains covered 332,000 miles and ambulances, trucks and service cars covered 333,000 miles. The supplies distributed by these transportation activities amounted to 8,000 tons and were hauled over 5,000 miles of railroad. In the way of civilian relief in Siberia an average of seven articles of clothing was given to each of 587,500 men, 387,500 women and 775,000 children.

Hospitals in Siberia

In caring for the sick in Siberia the American Red Cross operated 18 hospitals of its own with a total of 6,596 beds. There were in these hospitals 56 American doctors and 34 non-American; 182 American Red Cross nurses, 25 Russian, 15 Japanese and 13 Chinese nurses.

Besides aiding and disinfecting all these Russians, the American Red Cross rendered its regular war-time service to 13,330 officers and men of the American forces in Siberia alone. The cost of supplies issued to these troops amounted to $450,340.

To handle the work of the Siberian commission a total of 2,667 people was required; 563 of whom were Americans. Ten thousand different articles were distributed, ranging all the way from auto-ambulances to safety pins. The total disbursement was $14,000,000.

In western Russia and the Baltic states the work done by the American Red Cross was of a somewhat different character and necessitated less transportation. In this section the number of civilian poor relieved was 297,101 and the number of refugees cared for was 21,309. Prisoners aided numbered 2,523.

Feed Prisoners of War

Much of the relief in western Russia was hospital service. The work developed out of the commission for relief of allied prisoners of war in Germany, which closed in August, 1919. During the seven months that commission operated it had charge of the feeding, health and general welfare of more than 250,000 allied soldiers in German prison camps.

In the course of its operations the American Red Cross in the Baltic states, up to June 30, 1920, expended over $300,000 in hospital aid. Red Cross physicians treated nearly 20,000typhus patients. Nineteen frontier and interior disinfecting stations were established with a daily capacity of 3,900 persons. Sixty-two dispensaries were aided at a cost of nearly $40,000 and treated 43,920 persons. A toal of 217 hospitals and 110 orphanages and similar institutions were aided with money and supplies. Thirty ambulances were operated during the fighting in various parts of the country and carried 10,467 patients over an aggregate distance of 10,360 miles.

Ten food kitchens and 45 dry food distributing stations were operated with a daily feeding capacity of over 26,000 persons at a total cost of $405,235. The gift of clothing distributed in general civilian relief was more than $452,500.

The work in south Russia consisted largely of caring for refugees and in fighting typhus and cholera in the Crimea.

One of the most difficult tasks of the American Red Cross was that accomplished in helping the people in Esthonia, where there was absolutely no ambulance service and very little in the way of hospitals when the Americans arrived. The army was in retreat, the military was disorganized and the combined forces of soldiers and civilians to the number of 20,000 was a hungry, suffering, panic-stricken mob.

In December typhus broke out and for months the Red Cross workers fought the dread disease. In the beginning the need was for cleanliness and hospital care. The dead were piled in the corners of the rooms with the sick and no effort at a decent burial was made. In one hospital in Revan, consisting of a single barrack with 460 beds in one room, there were 600 deaths in one week. In spite of all this, the American Red Cross stopped the epidemic almost single-handed and in Narva alone, with the untrained assistance of the people, treated 9,000 cases. Two American Red Cross officers, Lieutenant George W. Winfield and Lieutenant Clifford Blanton, gave up their lives in the work.

WRAP FOR AFTER THE DINNER HOUR

This velvet wrap for evening wear, is rather unusual in effect. The lining is of peach satin and the pretty collar and large kimona-like sleeves have an exquisite flower design embroidered in silver. A band of the silver embroidery edges the front opening of the wrap also. It is simple but elegant.

APPROVE TEST EXPECT TO USE HELIUM PLANT

Technical experts at the United States helium station No. 3, the Petrolia station, expect to be able to begin commercial production of helium by January 1, Harrison E. Meyer, chief clerk of the United States bureau of mines, Washington, D. C., said here Friday. Mr. Meyer passed through Wichita Falls on his return from an inspection of the administrative end of the big Petrolia station.

Mr. Meyer will visit the government research station at Fort Worth today. He is one of the real executives of the bureau of mines, oil and gas operators here told The Record News. They say that Mr. Meyer is the "actual works" behind the administrative detail of all the work of the bureau.

The Petrolia station has enough machinery to handle production of helium on a commercial scale. Though it has been producing the gas, the work has been practically of an experimental nature so far. During the war the station was camouflaged under the name of the "Arson station." The navy and army use helium for filling balloons.

The gas is chilled down by refrigerating processes until it liquifies. Then it is sealed into iron drums for shipment. The Petrolia station employs 105 men. It represents a large investment. The war and navy departments appropriate funds which the bureau of mines uses in conducting its experiments there.

BRUINS GIVE UP CLAIM ON WENDELL

GREENVILLE, S. C., Nov. 5.—The Greenville South Atlantic league baseball club today announced that the San Antonio, Texas, league club had agreed to cancel its draft upon Lewis Wendell of New York, who was secured from Columbia to manage the Greenville team next season.

15 Students Quit College On Order To Desert Frats

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Nov. 5.—Following the passage of a resolution by the board of trustees of the University, giving every student who is a member of any fraternity until next Wednesday night to renounce his allegiance to the fraternity, 15 students today voluntarily withdrew from the university.

The action of the board of trustees was taken under the terms of a law passed in 1912 by the Mississippi legislature forbidding any student at any university supported in whole or in part by state funds to belong to any great lefter society.

Students of the university recently burned the governor in effigy as a protest against a resolution curtailing the number of dances given by the students.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
The State of Texas

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County,Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon W. K. Miller and W. E. Reynolds by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 30th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the 3rd Monday in December, A. D. 1920, the same being the 20th day of December, A. D. 1920, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 9th day of August, 1920, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 9730-A, wherein, E. M. Simmons is plaintiff and W. K. Miller, E. H. Cunningham and W. E. Reynolds are defendants and said petition alleging, in substance:

That on Sept. 16, 1915, W. K. Miller executed and delivered to plaintiff, two promissory notes; note No. 1 for $1,250.00 payable in 24 monthly installments of $50 each beginning October 16, 1915, not note No. 2 for $1,150.00 due on or before Sept. 1, 1921, bearing interest at 8 per cent, note No. 1 interest payable monthly, and note No. 2 annually at the First National bank of Wichita Falls, Texas, with usual 10 per cent attorney's fee clause, said notes being set out in substance in said petition. That defendant W. K. Miller has paid following installments: Oct. 16, 1915, $54. Nov. 24, 1915, $57.67; Dec. 19, 1919, $57.34; Jan. 19, 1920, $57.67; Feb. 19, 1920, $56.67; April 2, 1920, $56.84, but defendant has failed to make any other payments, either of principal or interest, although often requested to do so. Said notes were given as part payment of following property, to-wit: 50x150 feet off west end of lot "E", R. G. Schurer subdivision of N. W. Cor. of Blk. 2, Bellevue Add. to City of Wichita Falls, Wichita Co. Tex. That plaintiff on said Sept. 18, 1919, conveyed said property to W. K. Miller, and said notes above described were given on notes on said property given by said Miller to plaintiff. That plaintiff has placed same in hands of Weeks, Morrow, Transou & King, attorneys for collection and agreed to pay them the 10 per cent attorneys' fees set forth in said notes, which is reasonable. That W. E. Reynolds and E. M. Cunningham claim some right to said property, unknown to plaintiff, but their right, if any, is inferior to that of plaintiff. Asks judgment for principal, interest, attorneys' fees, costs of suit and foreclosure of lien, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 14th day of October, A. D. 1920.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

SETTING THE DATE

We are at home again—just as if nothing had ever happened. I have been receiving telephone messages of joy from all my friends for several days now, and I am once more a sensible young person (according to mother.)

I have made a round of all the studios and seen that all the newly married couples are still happy and dearer to each other than ever, which is encouraging, and I have seen my Jack.

He was at the pier to meet us, when, after a week spent in the gloomy depths of my stateroom, our boat finally landed. Yes, in spite of all anonymouse letters and so forth there he was, standing bareheaded, and very excited, as our boat swung into its dock. I felt quite faint all over pust to see his beloved face again, I must acknowledge, and the late count faded fast into the dim distance, which is quite as it should be, after all, for one so close to matrimony as yours truly.

In the words of the poets, I have set my face to the sun, and I am ready to do or die, settle down and marry and be happy, and be a perfect wife and even mother, some day. Truth to be told, I am just as anxious for the happy wedding day (two weeks from tomorrow)—we set it last night—as Jack is.

Such a meeting as we had! Positively, that dear old boy held me to his heart and lips for a whole minute. And, believe me, mother forgot to be shocked in her joy and relief at seeing me in proprietary arms once more. And then we whizzed through the customs and home.

Jack and I spent the rest of the day together, swapping confidences and confessions. Oh, yes, he had some to make as well as I. But then, as we agreed at the end, we have been the victims of circumstances. It's rather rough on my noble Ettore to call him that as well as on that sly little Barbara. Seems she has been most attentive to Jack—sympathy racket and all that stuff—which he saw through, but, as he was lonely, of course he went about with her a good bit. I should worry.

I tell you it seemed wonderful to hear his soft voice telling me the things I have been aching to hear from him for so long. Not to mention his strong arms around me again. Yes, I love my Jack beyond all else and any flirtations were only flirtations. My heart is wholly his.

We dreamed the evening away and then with a start we both realized that the old separation was over and that there was really nothing to keep us from getting married right away. We also realized, both of us, that it was the very best time to get married and whisk away to the glory of our new bungalow while the golden autumn was still with us. And so, after many kisses and flatering breaths, we agreed to the day and then we went to mother and told her of our decision.

She looked up so gladly and said, "Bless your baby hearts"—and actually cried, dear, little soul, for very joy.

I seem to be making the whole world happy by my marriage, as well as myself. And just to think that in two weeks we shall be man and wife. It's too glorious to be true. I am the very happiest girl in all the world. I intend to be the very happiest wife in all the world—and to make Jack feel the same way about it as I do. Guess that's what the Lord made me for, after all, to live and make my husband happy.

Miss Dalton Is Charming Bride Of J. H. Williams

Miss Catheryn Dalton of Memphis, Texas, and John H. Williams were married Thursday evening at the William-Mary hotel. The impressive ring ceremony was read by the Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist church, South, in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Miss Dalton was formerly a resident of this city, having been connected with the advertising department of The Record News. For the past several months she has been with the Post in Denver. Mr. Williams is salesman for the Locomobile-Cole company of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home at the William-Mary.

LEAGUE GAINS MEMBERS.

Between 375 and 400 new members were reported Friday evening as the result of the Civic league membership drive, which was launched Friday morning and continued throughout the day.

The league president, Mrs. T. B. Smock, chairmen and workers were all highly pleased with the result of the drive and request that any woman who has not been seen personally, and who wishes to become a member of the league, phone the secretary, Mrs. J. E. Sharpe.

In the house-to-house canvass the workers report that most of the women solicited were anxious to join the league and willing to work, but that a few whom they met said that they had never heard of the Civic league and asked questions about the nature of the work done by the organization.

An entertainment committee, of which Mrs. J. W. Stone is chairman, will plan some clever benefit entertainments to be given during the winter, the first of which will be a tea November 23 at the home of Mrs. J. W. Culbertson, on the corner of Eleventh and Harrison. The tea will be held from 2:30 until 6 o'clock, and will be given for the benefit of the day nursery. Several hundred cards will be issued and a free will offering will be taken.

"The doctor says father must be kept quiet and avoid all excitement."

"Oh! Then I guess I better not tell him about pussy having six kittens."

Every household should have a jar of Resinol to heal skin troubles

Minor skin troubles—itching patches, bits of rash or redness—so easily develop into serious, stubborn affections, that every home-maker should have Resinol Ointment on hand to check them before they get the upper hand. We recommend Resinol for this with the utmost confidence because of its harmless ingredients and its success in healing eczema and similar serious skin diseases.

Resinol Ointment is an excellent healing dressing, for chafings, burns and stubborn little sores. Doctors prescribe it. Sold by all druggists.

DIPHTHERIA CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

Two new cases of diphtheria and one death were reported from the county health department Friday.

Although Dr. M. M. Walker, county health officer, believes the epidemic to be checked, he is still advising parents to observe every precaution, declaring that the slightest irritation in the throat should be immediately brought to the attention of a physician.

"HUERTA" IN ENGLISH IS PLAIN "GARDEN"

(By International News Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Nov. 4.—Many of the musical Spanish names which hint of long ancestry and high degree have prosaic meanings, like Baker, Butcher, Fisher, Smith, Shoemaker and the like in the United States.

President Adolfo de la Huerta's name is mellifious, yet Huerta means garden, and if the president lived in the United States he would be Mr. Garden.

VEGETABLE DISHES

Creamed Corn in Carrot Cups—Scraps the carrots and cook in slightly salted water until about half done; then lift out of the water, and cut off about two inches from the stem end and form into little cups by scooping out part of the carrot. Sprinkle the inside with salt and pepper, add a little butter, fill with creamed corn. Place in a moderate oven, add a little water to the pan and cook until tender.

Escalloped Carrots—Three carrots, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon butter, one cup bread crumbs, two tablespoons cream and one-third cup cheese. Grate carrots and cook in double boiler, add salt and cream and place in banking dish. Sprinkle with grated cheese and cover with buttered crumbs. Brown in oven.

Escalloped Corn—One egg may be saved in making corn pudding, or escalloped of cornmeal. Use a can of corn, placing it in the casserole with alternate layers of cracker crumbs and seasoning with salt, pepper and butter freely. Over this pour two cups of hot milk into which a scant tablespoon of yellow corn meal has been stirred. Bake in a rather hot oven until cracker crumbs on top are golden brown. If the gas pressure is poor, place casserole below the flame to brown for a few minutes.

THREE GOOD CAKES

Angel Cake—Whites of eight egg, one cup sugar, one teaspoon cream tarter, three-fourths cup flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, three-quarters teaspoon vanilla.

Beat egg whites until they are frothy, then add cream tartar and beat until they are stiff. Add sugar gradually, continuing the beating. Mix flour and salt and sift four times; then fold it into the eggs and sugar and add vanilla. Bake in an unbuttered angel cake pan forty to fifty minutes. Start with medium flame and lower it after cake rises—sooner if cake seems to rise too fast.

Genuine Sponge Cake—Four eggs, two-thirds cup sugar, two-thirds cup flour, two-thirds tablespoon lemon juice, grated rind of one-third lemon, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Beat yolks of eggs until thick and creamy and add sugar a little at a time, beating with an egg-beater. Add lemon juice and grated rind, then the white of the eggs beaten until stiff. When the whites are partly mixed with the yolks and sugar, add flour mixed and sifted with salt, cutting and folding it into the mixture. Bake one hour in a slow oven, using a deep, narrow pan.

Currant Cake—One-half cup butter, one cup sugar, two eggs, yolk of one egg, one-half cup milk, two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one cup currants mixed with one tablespoon flour.

Cream butter, add sugar, eggs and egg yolk well beaten, milk, flour mixed and sifted with baking powder, and currants. Bake forty minutes.

DOCTORS USE CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other serious complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose Calotabs, the perfected, nauseless calomel tablets are the surest, best and most agreeable laxative.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all, no salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.—(Adv.)

ET TU, TENNESSEE!

Republican victories in Missouri and Oklahoma were not wholly unexpected, but the idea of Tennessee giving a comfortable majority to Harding was one of the outstanding surprises in the national election.

With less than fifty scattered precincts missing out of the entire state Harding is given a majority over Cox in the state of nearly 10,000. The republican victory for the presidential ticket in Tennessee is the first since 1868. It marks the breaking of "the Solid South."

The majority of Alf Taylor, republican candidate for governor, over A. H. Roberts, his democratic opponent, with but two counties missing, is nearly 40,000. It is not to be doubted that anti-suffragist leaders in the state contributed largely to Governor Roberts' defeat.

Late returns indicate that the republicans have gained one and probably two congressmen from the state.

Life-long democrats of the Old South well may shudder as they sigh:

"Et tu, Tennessee."

AMERICA THROUGH ENGLISH EYES

Americans are no longer sensitive to the things which English visitors may say of us on their return, being convinced of a disposition overseas to think well of us and having learned that the misapprehension of haste will be counterbalanced by the judgment of men and women of longer experience.

Some of the observations of Sir John Foster Fraser, in a recent talk on his return to London, may well serve for guidance here as well as for the enlightenment of his countrymen. He puts at the forefront of his observation the superior physique of the average American to that of Englishmen of the same sort, and added that it might prove an important element in the commercial competition between the two countries, as England would not hold its own "unless the physique of the general population here becomes better." That difference is the fruit of "the American standard of living" which we hear so much about from the champion of high wages. The living standard has been greatly advanced in both countries by the war, but that change is too recent to affect the physique of adult workers.

Furthermore, Sir John said that we are in a state of flux, a land of paradox and contradictions, instancing the existence side by side of high standards of culture and rampant crime. He added that there were more freedom of speech in England, and that the speeches made in Hyde Park would throw the speaker into prison in this country. Not unnaturally he believed the political system of his own country the better, and said that the opinion of today controls the British government, while ours is controlled by the opinions of men 140 years ago. It is perhaps too much to expect an understanding of the safeguards afforded by a written constitution from men who have not lived under one, but it is odd that at this time he should have failed to note the readiness with which we amend that constitution to suit the opinion of the day. But as an evidence of a desire to find the best among us and to judge us by that best the speech was interesting.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A VOICE FROM THE SOUTH

A New York man who went south recently sends back the following:

"The southern farmer gets up at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, buttons his Chicago suspenders to Detroit overalls, washes has face with Cincinnati soap in a Pennsylvania pan, sits down to a Grand Rapids table, eats Chicago meat and Indiana hominy fried in Kansas lard on a St. Louis stove, puts a New York bridle on a Kentucky mule fed on Iowa corn, plows a farm covered by an Ohio mortgage; when bedtime comes he reads a chapter from a Bible printed in Boston and says a prayer written in Jerusalem, crawls under a blanket made in New Jersey, to keep awake by a Texas dog—the only home product on the place. Then he wonders why he can't make money in Texas."

Editorial Digest

PROFITEERING IN MONEY.

Profiteering in nearly everything money will buy is an old story. It has remained for the comptroller of the currency, John Skelton Williams, to find what he considers a new form, that of profiteering in money itself. Editorial opinion generally commends Mr. Williams' expose of the practices of a "coterie of New York stock exchange brokers." His statement that "national banks in New York city have made more than 4,000 loans at rates of 15 per cent, 20 per cent, 25 per cent and 30 per cent," is looked upon by many writers as the explanation for present financial conditions. Accepting his formal statement of "sworn reports" as official information, several papers regard the practices he discloses as a serious abuse of the federal reserve system.

"In the light of Mr. Williams' statement revealing methods of the New York stock exchange," the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch (democrat) find it "easy to trace present unsettled conditions which have brought this country to the very verge of a crisis. Call money in New York at usurious rates means tight money wherever money is needed. It means a flow of money to New York, attracted by the high rates, which otherwise would be available for urgent requirements elsewhere."

The average American citizen, says the Port Huron (Mich.) Times-Herald (independent), "reading in his newspaper that 'call money is 16 per cent today' smiles to himself and lets it go at that. He looks upon this New York money market as something apart from anything in which he is personally concerned. He doesn't have to pay the 16 per cent, so 'he should worry.'" But the Times-Herald goes on to show that the lending of immense sums of money "at such high interest rates would have a potent influence in depressing legitimate investments," and quotes the comptroller further as saying that "the same cause that cripples a great railroad system or a municipal government also deprives and injures or ruins a country storekeeper, a small farmer, or the owner of a large or little manufacturing enterprise."

It is obvious to the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch (independent democrat) that "money that can earn 30 per cent from a stock gambler on a call loan will not be invested in loans to farmers that will bear only 6 per cent. Unless Mr. Williams' statement is purely fanciful, it explains one of the chief reasons why, for example, growers of staples are threatened with bankruptcy."

The question that interests the Atlanta Constitution (democrat) is "how do they do it and get away with it? Elsewhere the man who makes a loan on the basis of '15, 20 or 30 per cent' is popularly branded a 'loan shark' and the law takes him in hand for practicing usury! * * * If there is such a law in New York—and no doubt there is—how do the 15, 20 and 30 per centers get around it?" To this the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot (independent democat) replies that "30 per cent money, when bought and sold as a commodity, is beyond the reach of the present New York law and outrages no Wall street ethics." An interest rate of 15 per cent the paper brands as "immoral" and "a rate of 30 per cent is commercial crime." But it continues:

"By far the most reprehensible circumstance connected with the comptroller's expose is the fact that cheap money made available by the federal reserve system is used by the millions of dollars to enrich member banks that re-lend it at fantastic call rates. This is a misuse of a national facility that the federal reserve board should find some means to curb."

The New York World (democrat) also protests against the abuse of the federal reserve system, as "it was no part of the purpose of the act creating it that its loanable funds should be available for manipulation of the stock market." Pointing out that such manipulation "is shown to be in the power of a group of six or eight brokers * * * responsible to nobody at all," the World holds that:

"It is too great a power to be left unrestrained and unaccountable in the hands of any particular group of men, however large or small. There is only one way to get at it for the imposition of public accountability. The New York stock exchange must be incorporated."

This practice of the brokers operates, as the Topeka Capital (republican) sees it, to defeat the efforts of the federal reserve banks "to discourage inflation," because the "financing of stock speculation is exactly as inconsistent with the object they have in view as financing speculation in commodities."

Commenting on "the hope of the comptroller that public sentiment will prove strong enough to bring about reforms," the Brooklyn Eagle (independent democrat) fears that "the 'money committee' will call money a commodity, quote the law of supply and demand and let it go at that." The Los Angeles Express (independent) makes light of the extent of public interest in the matter. "It is really impossible," it thinks, "to keep the public long interested in the fate of the gamblers. * * * Folks who pay for what they buy and sell only what they own have very little at stake in that particular game of grab."

Y. W. C. A. OPENS OFFICES IN RIO DE JANEIRO

From the Associated Press comes the word that the first Young Womens Christian association to be organized in Rio de Janeiro opened its offices the last of September in commodious quarters in the downtown section. United States Ambassador Morgan and other prominent American and British residents attended the opening. The association, which organized its first membership drive in July, starts off with 937 members, including 100 Americans and as many British. Seventeen religious faiths and 20 nationalities are represented among the membership.

A picture made entirely of small tufts of fur is being shown in Baltimore, Md., at an exhibit in one of the local art galleries of works of art from European nations. The articles on display are the handiwork or possession of the foreign-born people in Balitmore, most of whom are Polish, Lithuanian and Czecho-Slovak. Foreign-born architects in the city have helped arrange their country's display and artists of the various nationalities are assisting. In connection with the exhibition, which is to last several weeks, "nationality evenings" of popular entertainment are given by the foreign-born people. The "homelands exhibitions" has been planned and directed by the international institute of the Y. W. C. A. in Baltimore, Md.

BODY OF MAN KILLED AT BURK SENT HOME

BURKBURNETT, Nov. 5.—The body of Louis Campbell, age 26, who was accidentally killed Tuesday on block 88 by falling into the fly wheel of a gasoline engine while operating, was sent by the Collier Undertaking company to his former home in Shamokin, Pa. Instructions from the young man's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell of that city were received. Interment will take place in the family burying ground.

The machinery for the pressroom of the new Burkburnett paper to be launched here in the immediate future has arrived and is being installed by H. Wyatt and other promoters of the enterprise.

Miss Catherine Henrickle and Miss Holagaarde of Wichita Falls, directors of the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society in Wichita county, are here perfecting plans for a Tag Day drive, to be known as "Children's Tag Day" in Burkburnett Saturday.

GEORGIA SQUAD CLASHES TODAY WITH VIRGINIA

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 5.—Interest in tomorrow's football program centers in the annual battle between the Universities of Georgia and Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.

The Alabama-Vanderbilt annual meeting at Birmingham had the edge taken off by the weak showing of the Commodores against Georgia Tech and Auburn.

Washington and Lee plays University of West Virginia at Charleston, W. Va., and Virginial Military Institure takes on the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C.

The Georgia-Virginia battle is expected to prove a hard contest, but the Georgians record is far more formidable than that of the Virginians who have placed a light eleven in the field.

Auburn plays Birmingham Southern at Montgomery, Georgia Tech plays Clemson in Atlanta and Tulane takes on University of Florida at Tampa. Centre College plays Depauw and Mississippi A. and M. meets Mississippi University at Greenwood, Miss.

MEXICANS FEAR STRIFE COMING OVER RELIGION

By L. P. Kirby, Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—Religious turmoil has taken the place of revolutionary unrest in Mexico. Fear is expressed that this turmoil may assume alarming proportions.

The cause of the trouble is reports from the United States that Protestan organizations are preparing to spend millions in an effort to make Mexico a Protestant country. These reports have caused uneasiness and excitement among the Catholic clergly and laiety. Some of the bishops have sent word to the priests in their dioceses telling them to warn all Catholics to have nothing to do with Protestants—not even buy at stores conducted by Protestant merchants.

Big Protestant Campaign

Some of the Protestant ministers here have added to the excitement by admitting that they are about to embark upon a great campaign to wean Mexico from Catholicism. A Seventh Day Adventist representative announced that the Adventists have raised a fund of 2,000,000 pesos, or $1,000,000 for a vigorous campaign in Mexico.

The Young Men's Christian Association has become one of the targets of the Catholics, who fear an attack upon the church. The Y. M. C. A. up to the present has been popular in Mexico, particularly in Mexico City, where it has a large building and has among its members and visitors some of the best of the young Mexicans. It has become a social and athletic center.

Now the Knights of Columbus are preparing to build centers for young men, not only here, but in many other part sof Mexico.

Some of the archbishops and bishops of Mexico have joined in this campaign against the Y. M. C. A. known in Mexico as the Association Christiana de Jovenes, and have warned all young Catholics not to join the organization.

As Mexico is still a strongly Catholic country despite the government's action in taking title to all church property, it is feared that the religious controversy may take a violent turn in some sections of Mexico.

A prominent Mexican holding a high office, in discussing the situation, said: "When Protestant organizations quietly went about the work of opening chapels and churches in Mexico, nothing was thought of it, but these reports of spending millions in proselyting here have caused a bad impression. It is a serious mistake. This is shown by the storm already raised.

"Mexico has been Catholic for four centuries and a change is not to be worked by sending here an army ot missionaries with millions at their command. It may be all right to send missionaries to China, India and the benighted parts of Africa, but Mexico is a Christian country and those who wish to work changes here should go about it with greater consideration of the feelings of the people and finer diplomacy."

Some of the Protestant ministers who have been here for years express uneasiness concerning the effect of the reported great Protestant campaign in Mexico.

Business men in some parts of Mexico already feel the effect of the counter-campaign launched here by Catholic organizations.

BLACK AND WHITE TURBAN FROM PARIS

Paris designers, it seems, can do more with the black and white combination than any other artists. Here is a stunning black and white turban which is undeniably Parisian. It is the shape of a coolie hat. The oriental tendency is modernized by the addition of white coque feathers. The drooping trend of the feathers is a bit of coquetry which many of the fashionable new hats show.

PROMISES CITY WILL SUPPLY PUBLIC TENNIS COURTS; CLUB BEGUN; 2 TOURNEYS ARRANGED

BY BOB.

Assurances from City Commissioner McDowell, who has jurisdiction over parks in the city, that municipal authorities would allow public tennis courts to be formed on Bellevue park, and the formation of a permanent city tennis association were the outstanding features of a banquet of tennis enthusiasts at the William-Mary hotel Friday night.

Ted Reichert, who recently won the tennis singles crown of Wichita Falls in the city-wide tennis tournament, conducted under the auspices of The Record News, was presented with a loving cup donated by the Southern Electric company. Frank MacDowell, chairman of the meeting, introduced H. S. Rogers, who, with M. A. Ellis, were the pioneers in the movement for the tournament. Mr. Ellis presented the cup to Champ Reichert.

Reichert, responding, said that he regretted that he probably would not be able to return next year and compete for the cup again. He is moving to California in a few days to live. Under the rules governing the loving cup contest, the winner of a city tournament must win it three years in a row in order to retain permanent possession of the cup. He holds it for one year because of his victory here.

Officers of the permanent tennis club are Frank McDowell, president; H. C. Easley, vice president; M. A. Ellis, secretary-treasurer. Mr. MacDowell appoints committees to draw up a set of by-laws and a constitution for the club.

The dues will be very small. As it is expected that the city will furnish the courts, the expense of the club will be limited to upkeep and will be low. The object of the association, as Vice President Easley put it, is not to make the good players better so much as it is to build a wide love of the game here and to teach the younger and more inexperienced men the finer points of play.

Primarily the object of the men backing the club, and The Record News in fostering it, was to build interest in a good, wholesome sport that is easily accessible to business men as well as the younger set. Tennis has the advantage of being well fitted for small parties. Often a few business men who want to get some exercise can go out and play tennis when they could not arrange a baseball or football game because the other forms of sport take too many men.

The club's first move was to decide to put on two more tournaments here at once. A woman's tournament will be arranged. H. S. Rogers and Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr. were appointed a committee to arrange this one. A consolation or class C tournament, to be played among the losers in the first round of the recent city singles contests among men, also will be staged.

Resolutions of thanks were passed by the club to Overton McDowell and to Mr. Spencer for the use of their tennis courts during the recent tournament; to the Southern Electric company for donating the loving cup and giving other assistance, and to The Record News for its support of the successful tournament.

Charter members of the club attending the banquet Friday night were A. C. Easley, J. E. Hall, H. D. Lewis, R. E. Prothro, Overton McDowell, Mrs. Overton McDowell, Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., J. W. Akin, T. A. Reichert, William L. Powers, R. Ferguson, Clifton Hughes, L. L. Gardner, T. M. Dubose, M. A. Ellis, M. B. Hughes, H. Sellers Rogers, Frank MacDowell and Joe L. Hill.

MANY GERMANS LIVE PAST CENTURY MARK

BERLIN.—Despite the privations of the hunger blockade, which is reported to have caused the premature deaths of more than 1,000,000 Germans, Germany's Methuselah class is still going strong. Official statistics show that there are 55 women and 42 men who have passed the century mark. Of the 90-year-old and over class there are 3,600 men and 7,300 women. Five men and one woman past the 100-year milestone are still married.

The Taegliche Rundschau considers the above figures material for reflection. "Especially interesting are the war and revolutionary marriages. The number of married persons between 16 and 25 years is considerably larger than in pre-war times. Significant also is the large number of widows under 20 years of age who have been married for a second and a third time. Of the divorces in the last year 60 per cent are of couples married during the war, while 20 per cent of the divorces are directly traceable to the war; that is, infidelity during the war, etc."

MRS. HARING WIRES LITTLE ROCK MOGUL

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 5.—"In early baseball days you put Marion on the map and we have been making an effort to keep up your good work," read a telegram received today by R. G. Allen, president of the Little Rock club of the Southern Association from Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

Mr. Allen, a boyhood friend of Senator Harding, had invited him to stop in Little Rock on his way to Texas. Both Senator and Mrs. Harding telegraphed regrets that their train schedule would make this impossible.

WEALTHY BROKER FOUND DEAD; ROBBED

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—The body of Ambrose E. Roberts, head of the stock brokerage firm of A. E. Roberts & Co., was found in an alley in the Back Bay district today.

The cause of death was not apparent, and removal of the organs for analysis was ordered. Roberts was said to have had $1,500 in cash and a valuable diamond ring last evening. When the body was found the pockets contained only a fountain pen and $1.

NON-PARTISANS ARE BUMPED IN IDAHO

BOISE, Ida., Nov. 5.—The non-partisan league suffered a severe reverse in Idaho in Tuesday's election. The league's candidate for governor, S. D. Fairchild, carried only two counties, and his majorities in these were not so large as those obtained in many other counties by the republican candidate, Governor D. W. Davis, who sought re-election.

Two years ago the non-partisans captured the entire democratic political machinery, and, students of politics aver, the democrats, in retaliation, flocked to the republican standard in such throngs that Governor Davis was given a majority of nearly 20,000 over his opponent, H. F. Samuels, in an election where the total vote cast was only about 95,000.

U. S. RICE PROBE IS POSTPONED

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 5.—A conference of rice millers and growers of Arkansas with June P. Wooten, United States district attorney, called by the latter this afternoon was postponed until tomorrow morning to allow E. A. Elgnus of Beaumont, Texas president of the Southern Rice Growers' association, to be present. Mr. Wooten stated that he wanted to determine whether reports of agreements between persons connected with rice industry to hold the product from the market to control price were true.

BACK HURT ALL THE TIME

Mrs. Hill Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed The Cause.

Knoxville Tenn.—"My back hurt me all the time, I was all run down, could not eat and my head bothered me, all caused by female trouble. I was three years with these troubles and doctors did me no good. Your medicine helped my sister so she advised me to take it. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and now I am well, can eat heartily and work. I give you my thanks for your great medicines. You may publish my letter and I will tell everyone what your medicines did for me."—Mrs. Pearl Hill, 418 Jackaboro St., Knoxville, Tennessee.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

WHITE BLISTERS ON BABY'S FACE

And Body. Skin Swollen And Red. Cuticura Heals.

"When baby was two weeks old he had something like heat on his face and little white blisters broke out. The eruption spread over his body and limbs. The skin became swollen and red and his clothing seemed to irritate. He became very cross, could not sleep.

"He went on until he was three months old. Then I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I used one cake of Soap and one box of Ointment when he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. J. Neafus, Guston, Ky.

ET TU, TENNESSEE!

Republican victories in Missouri and Oklahoma were not wholly unexpected, but the idea of Tennessee giving a comfortable majority to Harding was one of the outstanding surprises in the national election.

With less than fifty scattered precincts missing out of the entire state Harding is given a majority over Cox in the state of nearly 10,000. The republican victory for the presidential ticket in Tennessee is the first since 1868. It marks the breaking of "the Solid South."

The majority of Alf Taylor, republican candidate for governor, over A. H. Roberts, his democratic opponent, with but two counties missing, is nearly 40,000. It is not to be doubted that anti-suffragist leaders in the state contributed largely to Governor Roberts' defeat.

Late returns indicate that the republicans have gained one and probably two congressmen from the state.

Life-long democrats of the Old South well may shudder as they sigh:

"Et tu, Tennessee."

AMERICA THROUGH ENGLISH EYES

Americans are no longer sensitive to the things which English visitors may say of us on their return, being convinced of a disposition overseas to think well of us and having learned that the misapprehension of haste will be counterbalanced by the judgment of men and women of longer experience.

Some of the observations of Sir John Foster Fraser, in a recent talk on his return to London, may well serve for guidance here as well as for the enlightenment of his countrymen. He puts at the forefront of his observation the superior physique of the average American to that of Englishmen of the same sort, and added that it might prove an important element in the commercial competition between the two countries, as England would not hold its own "unless the physique of the general population here becomes better." That difference is the fruit of "the American standard of living" which we hear so much about from the champion of high wages. The living standard has been greatly advanced in both countries by the war, but that change is too recent to affect the physique of adult workers.

Furthermore, Sir John said that we are in a state of flux, a land of paradox and contradictions, instancing the existence side by side of high standards of culture and rampant crime. He added that there were more freedom of speech in England, and that the speeches made in Hyde Park would throw the speaker into prison in this country. Not unnaturally he believed the political system of his own country the better, and said that the opinion of today controls the British government, while ours is controlled by the opinions of men 140 years ago. It is perhaps too much to expect an understanding of the safeguards afforded by a written constitution from men who have not lived under one, but it is odd that at this time he should have failed to note the readiness with which we amend that constitution to suit the opinion of the day. But as an evidence of a desire to find the best among us and to judge us by that best the speech was interesting. —Brooklyn Eagle.

A VOICE FROM THE SOUTH

A New York man who went south recently sends back the following:

"The southern farmer gets up at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, buttons his Chicago suspenders to Detroit overalls, washes his face with Cincinnati soap in a Pennsylvania pan, sits down to a Grand Rapids table, eats Chicago meat and Indiana hominy fried in Kansas lard on a St. Louis stove, puts a New York bridle on a Kentucky mule fed on Iowa corn, plows a farm covered by an Ohio mortgage; when bedtime comes he reads a chapter from a Bible printed in Boston and says a prayer written in Jerusalem, crawls under a blanket made in New Jersey, to keep awake by a Texas dog—the only home product on the place. Then he wonders why he can't make money in Texas."

Editorial Digest

PROFITEERING IN MONEY.

Profiteering in nearly everything money will buy is an old story. It has remained for the comptroller of the currency, John Skelton Williams, to find what he considers a new form, that of profiteering in money itself. Editorial opinion generally commends Mr. Williams' expose of the practices of a "coterie of New York stock exchange brokers." His statement that "national banks in New York city have made more than 4,000 loans at rates of 15 per cent, 20 per cent, 25 per cent and 30 per cent," is looked upon by many writers as the explanation for present financial conditions. Accepting his formal statement of "sworn reports" as official information, several papers regard the practices he discloses as a serious abuse of the federal reserve system.

"In the light of Mr. Williams' statement revealing methods of the New York stock exchange," the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch (democrat) find it "easy to trace present unsettled conditions which have brought this country to the very verge of a crisis. Call money in New York at usurious rates means tight money wherever money is needed. It means a flow of money to New York, attracted by the high rates, which otherwise would be available for urgent requirements elsewhere."

The average American citizen, says the Port Huron (Mich.) Times-Herald (independent), "reading in his newspaper that 'call money is 16 per cent today' smiles to himself and lets it go at that. He looks upon this New York money market as something apart from anything in which he is personally concerned. He doesn't have to pay the 16 per cent, so 'he should worry.'" But the Times-Herald goes on to show that the lending of immense sums of money "at such high interest rates would have a potent influence in depressing legitimate investments," and quotes the comptroller further as saying that "the same cause that cripples a great railroad system or a municipal government also deprives and injures or ruins a country storekeeper, a small farmer, or the owner of a large or little manufacturing enterprise."

It is obvious to the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch (independent democrat) that "money that can earn 30 per cent from a stock gambler on a call loan will not be invested in loans to farmers that will bear only 6 per cent. Unless Mr. Williams' statement is purely fanciful, it explains one of the chief reasons why, for example, growers of staples are threatened with bankruptcy."

The question that interests the Atlanta Constitution (democrat) is "how do they do it and get away with it? Elsewhere the man who makes a loan on the basis of '15, 20 or 30 per cent' is popularly branded a 'loan shark' and the law takes him in hand for practicing usury! * * * If there is such a law in New York—and no doubt there is—how do the 15, 20 and 30 per centers get around it?" To this the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot (independent democrat) replies that "30 per cent money, when bought and sold as a commodity, is beyond the reach of the present New York law and outrages no Wall street ethics." An interest rate of 15 per cent the paper brands as "immoral" and "a rate of 30 per cent is commercial crime." But it continues:

"By far the most reprehensible circumstance connected with the comptroller's expose is the fact that cheap money made available by the federal reserve system is used by the millions of dollars to enrich member banks that re-lend it at fantastic call rates. This is a misuse of a national facility that the federal reserve board should find some means to curb."

The New York World (democrat) also protests against the abuse of the federal reserve system, as "it was no part of the purpose of the act creating it that its loanable funds should be available for manipulation of the stock market." Pointing out that such manipulation "is shown to be in the power of a group of six or eight brokers * * * responsible to nobody at all," the World holds that:

"It is too great a power to be left unrestrained and unaccountable in the hands of any particular group of men, however large or small. There is only one way to get at it for the imposition of public accountability. The New York stock exchange must be incorporated."

This practice of the brokers operates, as the Topeka Capital (republican) sees it, to defeat the efforts of the federal reserve banks "to discourage inflation," because the "financing of stock speculation is exactly as inconsistent with the object they have in view as financing speculation in commodities."

Commenting on "the hope of the comptroller that public sentiment will prove strong enough to bring about reforms," the Brooklyn Eagle (independent democrat) fears that "the 'money committee' will call money a commodity, quote the law of supply and demand and let it go at that." The Los Angeles Express (independent) makes light of the extent of public interest in the matter. "It is really impossible," it thinks, "to keep the public long interested in the fate of the gamblers. * * * Folks who pay for what they buy and sell only what they own have very little at stake in that particular game of grab."

Y. W. C. A. OPENS OFFICES IN RIO DE JANEIRO

From the Associated Press comes the word that the first Young Womens Christian association to be organized in Rio de Janeiro opened its offices the last of September in commodious quarters in the downtown section. United States Ambassador Morgan and other prominent American and British residents attended the opening. The association, which organized its first membership drive in July, starts off with 937 members, including 100 Americans and as many British. Seventeen religious faiths and 20 nationalities are represented among the membership.

PICTURE MADE OF FUR IS PLACED ON EXHIBIT

A picture made entirely of small tufts of fur is being shown in Baltimore, Md., at an exhibit in one of the local art galleries of works of art from European nations. The articles on display are the handiwork or possession of the foreign-born people in Balitmore, most of whom are Polish, Lithuanian and Czecho-Slovak. Foreign-born architects in the city have helped arrange their country's display and artists of the various nationalities are assisting. In connection with the exhibition, which is to last several weeks, "nationality evenings" of popular entertainment are given by the foreign-born people. The "homelands exhibitions" has been planned and directed by the international institute of the Y. W. C. A. in Baltimore, Md.

GEORGIA SQUAD CLASHES TODAY WITH VIRGINIA

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 5.—Interest in tomorrow's football program centers in the annual battle between the Universities of Georgia and Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.

The Alabama-Vanderbilt annual meeting at Birmingham had the edge taken off by the weak showing of the Commodores against Georgia Tech and Auburn.

Washington and Lee plays University of West Virginia at Charleston, W. Va., and Virginial Military Institure takes on the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C.

The Georgia-Virginia battle is expected to prove a hard contest, but the Georgians record is far more formidable than that of the Virginians who have placed a light eleven in the field.

Auburn plays Birmingham Southern at Montgomery, Georgia Tech plays Clemson in Atlanta and Tulane takes on University of Florida at Tampa. Centre College plays Depauw and Mississippi A. and M. meets Mississippi University at Greenwood, Miss.

MEXICANS FEAR STRIFE COMING OVER RELIGION

By L. P. Kirby, Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—Religious turmoil has taken the place of revolutionary unrest in Mexico. Fear is expressed that this turmoil may assume alarming proportions.

The cause of the trouble is reports from the United States that Protestan organizations are preparing to spend millions in an effort to make Mexico a Protestant country. These reports have caused uneasiness and excitement among the Catholic clergly and laiety. Some of the bishops have sent word to the priests in their dioceses telling them to warn all Catholics to have nothing to do with Protestants—not even buy at stores conducted by Protestant merchants.

Big Protestant Campaign

Some of the Protestant ministers here have added to the excitement by admitting that they are about to embark upon a great campaign to wean Mexico from Catholicism. A Seventh Day Adventist representative announced that the Adventists have raised a fund of 2,000,000 pesos, or $1,000,000 for a vigorous campaign in Mexico.

The Young Men's Christian Association has become one of the targets of the Catholics, who fear an attack upon the church. The Y. M. C. A. up to the present has been popular in Mexico, particularly in Mexico City, where it has a large building and has among its members and visitors some of the best of the young Mexicans. It has become a social and athletic center.

Now the Knights of Columbus are preparing to build centers for young men, not only here, but in many other part sof Mexico.

Some of the archbishops and bishops of Mexico have joined in this campaign against the Y. M. C. A. known in Mexico as the Association Christiana de Jovenes, and have warned all young Catholics not to join the organization.

As Mexico is still a strongly Catholic country despite the government's action in taking title to all church property, it is feared that the religious controversy may take a violent turn in some sections of Mexico.

A prominent Mexican holding a high office, in discussing the situtation, said: "When Protestant organizations quietly went about the work of opening chapels and churches in Mexico, nothing was thought of it, but these reports of spending millions in proselyting here have caused a bad impression. It is a serious mistake. This is shown by the storm already raised.

"Mexico has been Catholic for four centuries and a change is not to be worked by sending here an army of missionaries with millions at their command. It may be all right to send missionaries to China, India and the benighted parts of Africa, but Mexico is a Christian country and those who wish to work changes here should go about it with greater consideration of the feelings of the people and finer diplomacy."

Some of the Protestant ministers who have been here for years express uneasiness concerning the effect of the reported great Protestant campaign in Mexico.

Business men in some parts of Mexico already feel the effect of the counter-campaign launched here by Catholic organizations.

BLACK AND WHITE TURBAN FROM PARIS

Paris designers, it seems, can do more with the black and white combination than any other artists. Here is a stunning black and white turban which is undeniably Parisian. It is the shape of a coolie hat. The oriental tendency is modernized by the addition of white coque feathers. The drooping trend of the feathers is a bit of coquetry which many of the fashionable new hats show.

PROMISES CITY WILL SUPPLY PUBLIC TENNIS COURTS; CLUB BEGUN; 2 TOURNEYS ARRANGED

BY BOB.

Assurances from City Commissioner McDowell, who has jurisdiction over parks in the city, that municipal authorities would allow public tennis courts to be formed on Bellevue park, and the formation of a permanent city tennis association were the outstanding features of a banquet of tennis enthusiasts at the William-Mary hotel Friday night.

Ted Reichert, who recently won the tennis singles crown of Wichita Falls in the city-wide tennis tournament, conducted under the auspices of The Record News, was presented with a loving cup donated by the Southern Electric company. Frank MacDowell, chairman of the meeting, introduced H. S. Rogers, who, with M. A. Ellis, were the pioneers in the movement for the tournament. Mr. Ellis presented the cup to Champ Reichert.

Reichert, responding, said that he regretted that he probably would not be able to return next year and compete for the cup again. He is moving to California in a few days to live. Under the rules governing the loving cup contest, the winner of a city tournament must win it three years in a row in order to retain permanent possession of the cup. He holds it for one year because of his victory here.

Officers of the permanent tennis club are Frank McDowell, president; H. C. Easley, vice president; M. A. Ellis, secretary-treasurer. Mr. MacDowell appoints committees to draw up a set of by-laws and a constitution for the club.

The dues will be very small. As it is expected that the city will furnish the courts, the expense of the club will be limited to upkeep and will be low. The object of the association, as Vice President Easley put it, is not to make the good players better so much as it is to build a wide love of the game here and to teach the younger and more inexperienced men the finer points of play.

Primarily the object of the men backing the club, and The Record News in fostering it, was to build interest in a good, wholesome sport that is easily accessible to business men as well as the younger set. Tennis has the advantage of being well fitted for small parties. Often a few business men who want to get some exercise can go out and play tennis when they could not arrange a baseball or football game because the other forms of sport take too many men.

The club's first move was to decide to put on two more tournaments here at once. A woman's tournament will be arranged. H. S. Rogers and Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr. were appointed a committee to arrange this one. A consolation or class C tournament, to be played among the losers in the first round of the recent city singles contests among men, also will be staged.

Resolutions of thanks were passed by the club to Overton McDowell and to Mr. Spencer for the use of their tennis courts during the recent tournament; to the Southern Electric company for donating the loving cup and giving other assistance, and to The Record News for its support of the successful tournament.

Charter members of the club attending the banquet Friday night were A. C. Easley, J. E. Hall, H. D. Lewis, R. E. Prothro, Overton McDowell, Mrs. Overton McDowell, Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., J. W. Akin, T. A. Reichert, William L. Powers, R. Ferguson, Clifton Hughes, L. L. Gardner, T. M. Dubose, M. A. Ellis, M. B. Hughes, H. Sellers Rogers, Frank MacDowell and Joe L. Hill.

MANY GERMANS LIVE PAST CENTURY MARK

BERLIN.—Despite the privations of the hunger blockade, which is reported to have caused the premature deaths of more than 1,000,000 Germans, Germany's Methuselah class is still going strong. Official statistics show that there are 55 women and 42 men who have passed the century mark. Of the 90-year-old and over class there are 3,600 men and 7,300 women. Five men and one woman past the 100-year milestone are still married.

The Taegliche Rundschau considers the above figures material for reflection. "Especially interesting are the war and revolutionary marriages. The number of married persons between 16 and 25 years is considerably larger than in pre-war times. Significant also is the large number of widows under 20 years of age who have been married for a second and a third time. Of the divorces in the last year 60 per cent are of couples married during the war, while 20 per cent of the divorces are directly traceable to the war; that is, infidelity during the war, etc."

MRS. HARING WIRES LITTLE ROCK MOGUL

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 5.—"In early baseball days you put Marion on the map and we have been making an effort to keep up your good work," read a telegram received today by R. G. Allen, president of the Little Rock club of the Southern Association from Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

Mr. Allen, a boyhood friend of Senator Harding, had invited him to stop in Little Rock on his way to Texas. Both Senator and Mrs. Harding telegraphed regrets that their train schedule would make this impossible.

WEALTHY BROKER FOUND DEAD; ROBBED

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—The body of Ambrose E. Roberts, head of the stock brokerage firm of A. E. Roberts & Co., was found in an alley in the Back Bay district today.

The cause of death was not apparent, and removal of the organs for analysis was ordered. Roberts was said to have had $1,500 in cash and a valuable diamond ring last evening. When the body was found the pockets contained only a fountain pen and $1.

NON-PARTISANS ARE BUMPED IN IDAHO

BOISE, Ida., Nov. 5.—The non-partisan league suffered a severe reverse in Idaho in Tuesday's election. The league's candidate for governor, S. D. Fairchild, carried only two counties, and his majorities in these were not so large as those obtained in many other counties by the republican candidate, Governor D. W. Davis, who sought re-election.

Two years ago the non-partisans captured the entire democratic political machinery, and, students of politics aver, the democrats, in retaliation, flocked to the republican standard in such throngs that Governor Davis was given a majority of nearly 20,000 over his opponent, H. F. Samuels, in an election where the total vote cast was only about 95,000.

U. S. RICE PROBE IS POSTPONED

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 5.—A conference of rice millers and growers of Arkansas with June P. Wooten, United States district attorney, called by the latter this afternoon was postponed until tomorrow morning to allow E. A. Bignus of Beaumont, Texas president of the Southern Rice Growers' association, to be present. Mr. Wooten stated that he wanted to determine whether reports of agreements between persons connected with rice industry to hold the product from the market to control price were true.

BACK HURT ALL THE TIME

Mrs. Hill Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed The Cause.

Knoxville Tenn.—"My back hurt me all the time, I was all run down, could not eat and my head bothered me, all caused by female trouble. I was three years with these troubles and doctors did me no good. Your medicine helped my sister so she advised me to take it. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and now I am well, can eat heartily and work. I give you my thanks for your great medicines. You may publish my letter and I will tell everyone what your medicines did for me."—Mrs. Pearl Hill, 418 Jacksboro St., Knoxville, Tennessee.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

WHITE BLISTERS ON BABY'S FACE

And Body. Skin Swollen And Red. Cuticura Heals.

"When baby was two weeks old he had something like heat on his face and little white blisters broke out. The eruption spread over his body and limbs. The skin became swollen and red and his clothing seemed to irritate. He became very cross, could not sleep.

"He went on until he was three months old. Then I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I used one cake of Soap and one box of Ointment when he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. J. Neafus, Guston, Ky.

HIGH SQUAD, IN GOOD FORM, TO INVADE VERNON

The Wichita high eleven will journey to Vernon today to take on the Vernon High gridders. Coach Cantwell has been putting the squad through some stiff workouts during the last week and expects his charges to give the up-country boys a hard battle for the hours.

The local boys have had two weeks of rest since their victory over the Henrietta team and are in fine shape for the struggle. The Vernon team has a clear record so far this season and has been piling up some large scores on teams such as Henrietta, Quanah and others.

A "pep meeting" was held at the local school Friday morning and about a hundred students will take the trip with the team. The squad together with the rooters will leave here on the early afternoon train for Vernon.

Jack and Georges Sign to Battle For Half Million

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier signed a contract here today to fight for the world's heavyweight championship for a half million dollar purse. The date and place of the contest is not specifically stated in the agreement, in other respects the contract is complete and definite.

Dempsey is to receive $300,000 for defending the title. Carpentier, who holds the European heavyweight championship, will receive $200,000 as his share of the purse. Each fighter ,in addition, is to hold 25 per cent of the moving picture corporation stock, while the other 50 per cent goes to the three joint promoters, Tex Rickard, Charles Cochran and William A. Brady.

The $500,000 purse is to be deposited with a bank or trust company located near the scene of the battle, at least 24 hours previous to the contest, and will be divided between the principals immediately after the termination of the fight.

Must Post Forfeit.

Each pugilist, through his manager, must post a $50,000 forfeit on or before November 20, to be divided equally between his prospective opponent and the promoters, if he fails to keep his part of the contract. The promoters also agreed to deposit $100,000 on or before the same date, to be divided equally between the pugilists should the promoters fail to carry out their part of the contract.

There was little formality or ostentation in the signing of the contract, the terms of which have been generally known and agreed upon some days. All the contracting parties gathered at an uptown hotel, and, in the presence of a large number of newspaper men, quickly signed the contract with which all were apparently thoroughly familiar.

While there is an apparent air of mystery and uncertainty surrounding the time and place of the battle, it is generally accepted that unless there is stern opposition from the New York state boxing commission the bout will be held in a special open air arena to be erected within or very close to the city limits of New York.

To Fight in Mid-Summer

The date for such a contest will be between the middle of June and the Fourth of July. In case the bout can not be held in New York state, it probably will be shifted to New Jersey. Cuba, Mexico and Canada are not being considered.

The amount of the purse is so large that it is impossible to hold the bout during the winter or spring months in a permanent building or enclosure, except at prohibitve prices. The motion picture operators also prefer daylight to artificial light.

Both Dempsey and Carpentier are tentatively scheduled to box during the month of March. Carpentier, who sails for France tomorrow, is expected to engage in a contest in Monte Carlo while Dempsey has personally announced that he will box Jess Willard again on March 17. This accounts for the provision in the contract that, in case either principal shall be defeated prior to their meeting, losing his title by knockout or referee's decision, the promoters shall have the right to terminate the contract within two days after such defeat, without, however, the loss of forfeit by any of the parties concerned.

Ragged little Tom Brown had been committed to juvenile hall, where he was immediately given a bath, clean clothes, had his hair washed and cut short. His old clothes were burned. As his adenoids interfered seriously with his breathing, they were removed. When he had recovered from the operation the matron noticed that there was an unusually big and disfiguring wart at the end of his thumb.

"Tom" she said, "I'll see that this wart is removed today."

A look of absolute disgust spread over Tom's face. "Gosh!" he exclaimed. "Don't you let a fellow keep anything here?"

FROM THE JUDGES' STAND

Assorting the News From the Sport Realm

Jimmie Burke who has been the manager of the St. Louis Browns for the last two years has been released, according to announcement made by business manager Quinn of that club. Jimmie's successor is to be named after the major meeting next week.

The National League will hold a meeting in Chicago Sunday and on Monday the club owners of both associations will gather to determine what is to be done toward the reconstruction of the game. Ban Johnson's faction will offer a counter proposition to the Lasker plan at this meeting. The present plans of the opposite faction are, to elect two members of a board to control the game and then ask the minor leagues to name the third member of the board. The minors are scheduled to meet in Kansas City next Tuesday.

Johnosn ,et al., will probably offer a plan which will consist of both of the major leagues appointing a committee of three men each. The minors to appoint a like committee at their meeting in Kansas City. The three committees to work together to decide a plan of reorganization which in turn will be submitted to the majors for ratification.

George Whiteman, formerly of the Boston Braves during the Stallings regime, is to manage the Houston outfit of the Texas circuit next year. It will not be the first time that the Bayon City fans have seen George in action as he was a member of the Buffs in 1911, 1912 and 1913, and was largely responsible for the two pennants won by them in the two latter years. He will probably play center field as well as guide the team.

The yearly convention of the A. A. U., to be held at New Orleans, promises to be as full of wrangle as the meeting of the league managers at Chicago. A battle royal is expected between the cliques of officials that managed the trip to the Olympic games in Belgium, and the friends of the swimming champion Norman Ross who is the instigator of protest of the treatment handed the American athletes at the games. The officials are endeavoring to bar Ross from further competition in the A. A. U. for his leadership in the protest.

Jack Dempsey himself, announced early this week, that he would fight fight Jess Willard again on the 17th of next March. He announced that he had agreed to a 15-round bout with the former champion on that date, and that the location was to be decided later. Jack spent the week in Montreal, Canada, where he put on a couple of exhibition bouts for the Canadians.

President Charles H. Ebbetts of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has submitted a list of names to the Major league club owners to be considered when the meeting is held to decide upon the proposed board of control for the game. They are Governor Alfred E. Smith, Senator William Calder, William H. Edwards, ex-president of the National League, John K. Tener, Walter S. Carter, M. H. Sexton and John C. Toole.

Chicago fans are planning a big welcome and banquet for Johnny Evers when he returns to the Windy City to take the reins of the Cubs in hand. The Elks Club and all the Cub boosters are behind the deal and from all indications the little fighter will be greeted in royal style.

The Chicago-Illinois game today is creating quite a little excitement, regardless of the fact that Chicago was put out of the Big Ten running by the Ohio State aggregation last week, 27-000 tickets were sold for the game by the middle of the week. Illinois has a crippled backfield from last Saturday's game and will have a hard fight on it's hands to keep the slate clean of a Maroon defeat.

The biggest struggle in the east will be the Harvard-Princeton game. The Crimson boys, by reason of their great driving power are the ruling favorites. The Tigers have two wonderful backs in Lourie and Murrey and the Tiger rooters will pin their hope on these men, provided of course, that the Princeton line is able to stand the pounding of the heavy Crimsonites.

OLYMPIAD STAR IS HERO IN N. Y. FIRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—J. B. Pearman, of the New York Athletic Club, who was second in the 10,000 metre walk at the Antwerp Olympic games, today saved the lives of Henry Suydam a broker; his wife and their ten-year-old daughter, Katrinka, who were cut off by fire in their home near Gramery Park.

Pearman was taking an early morning walk when he heard the broker and his wife cry for help. He obtained a ladder and placed it under their window, first assisting the woman and child and then Mr. Suydam to the street.

TEXANS EASILY BEAT INVADERS BY 27-0 SCORE

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 5—Texas Unisity after being held scoreless for the first quarter, defeated Phillips Academy 27 to 0 here today.

The Texas goal line was never endangered and the Oklahoma eleven was on the defensive virtually the entire game.

Watson, the Texas quarterback, got away for several long runs, one for thirty-five yards carrying the ball to Phillips' five-yard line.

Chicago-State Contest Today To Draw Thousands

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Keen interest in the Illinois-Chicago gridiron contest scheduled for tomorrow at Stagg field is manifest here as a result of which the entire lot of 27,000 advance sale tickets has been taken up for two days.

The Maroons have a total poundage of 2,009 in the probable line-up, against 1,990 for the Illinois squad. Chicago has a hospital list which may keep proven men out of the game.

The Maroons have clashed with the Illinois team 24 times since 1892, with a game score of 17 to 7 in favor of Chicago and two tied.

MUST HAVE BEEN REAL BLOCKHEAD

(By International News Service.)

PARIS, Nov. 5.—At a recent meeting of the French Academy of Medicine Professor Reynes of Marseilles recounted how he was once called in to attend to a madman, who, during a few hours' liberty, had driven three two-inch nails into his head, piercing the brain.

The fellow did not appear to be in pain and did not show the slightest interest when M. Reynes removed the nails. The man was haunted with thoughts of suicide and he was even more depressed when he realized the nails did not kill him. Kept under close observation, he was cured of his self-inflicted injuries and died many years later of a natural feverish disease.

FORTUNE LEFT ON TABLE RETURNED TO OWNER

(By International News Service.)

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 5.—A pile of envelopes, which on investigation proved to contain $1,500,000 worth of securities, were found lying on a table in the booth of a local bank by Clinton T. Sweet, a Portland business man. On investigation, it was learned that the securities were the property of Ammi Whitney, a wealthy resident of this city, and that he had left them in the booth after examining the contents of his safety deposit vault. They were returned to the owner.

JUDGES CAN KISS THEIR STENOGRAPHERS

(By International News Service.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 5.—Shades of Blackstone! And Romeo!

The Oklahoma state supreme court has decided it is quite legal for jurists to kiss their stenographers. This decision was handed down in the ouster proceedings brought against Judge R. E. Davenport, of Chickasha, in the Grady county circuit court, on charges of moral turpitude. The "moral turpitude" was a grand jury's indictment term for the judge's act in kissing his stenographer.

A district court found that the grand jury had no jurisdiction in the case and dismissed the indictment, its verdict being upheld by the supreme court. The judge can now go on kissing his stenographer without fear of legal entanglements from the grand jury.

MANY STEEL ORDERS FOR MEXICAN PLANTS

(By International News Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Nov. 5.—Active work in rebuilding sugar mills and industrial plants which were destroyed during the revolutions, re-equipping damaged mines and restoring railroads has sent the price of iron high in Mexico.

The big iron and steel plants here and at Monterey are swamped with orders. Large orders also are being sent to the United States.

STATE OFFICIAL HELD

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 5.—B. J. Reaves, a member of the state board of control, which directs the affairs of all state institutions, was arrested here this afternoon on an indictment charging perjury, based on his alleged violation of his oath of office. He furnished $5,000 bond for his release.

FALL IN PRICES HITS MEXICAN MERCHANTS

(By International News Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Nov. 5.—The sudden fall of prices in many lines of goods has hit some of the Mexico City business men hard. These ordered heavy stocks when prices were high. They now face the prospect of large losses because it is impossible for them to sell at the prices existing when they made their purchases.

Business has fallen off since the announcement of the drop in prices. Shoppers are waiting for the expected marking down of goods.

MEXICAN TRAIN ROBBERY.

(By International News Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Nov. 5.—Thieves, watching for victims on a train from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, robbed Roberto F. Ancar of 7,000 pesos, or $3,500.

Becoming unmanageable from some unknown cause, a small car turned the corner, ran westward onto a viaduct some distance, then swerved suddenly and plunged over into the street below. As the vehicle took the leap its driver jumped or was flung out, but managed to catch on the broken railing. He clung for a horrid moment on the brink of death and then scrambled back to safety.

"Merciful powers!" ejactuated a pedestrian below, "What a narrow escape!"

"Shucks!" returned the gent from Jimpson Junction who was on hand. "That wasn't no escape; it was just a trick of some kind. They can't fool me!"

NO VERDICT YET IN CRABB CASE; JURY LONG OUT

Until a late hour Friday night the jury in Seventy-Eighth district court in the case of Tom Crabb, former deputy sheriff, whose trial on a charge of accepting a bribe began Friday morning before Judge Edgar Scurry, had not reached an agreement on a verdict.

Examination of witnesses was begun shortly afternoon and arguments of counsel for the prosecution and defense were concluded at about 6:30 o'clock. Judge Scurry ordered the jury to report should they reach a verdict within a reasonable time, otherwise to wait until the opening of court Saturday morning.

Crabb was indicted at the recent session of the special grand jury as the result of investigation of conditions in the surrounding oil districts. Indictments were also returned at this time against Abe Willey and John Canada, deputy sheriffs.

It is charged that Crabb accepted $200 from Aubrey Little, proprietor of a rooming house and "49" dance hall at Bridgetown, to release him from the jail there where he had been confined after the discovery of a "choc" beer still in his house.

Little, on the stand as prosecuting witness, stated that he asked Crabb to release him and that Crabb stated that it "might be accomplished!" He then offered $50 which Crabb was said to have disdained, saying that $200 was the least that could do it. He said that Crabb then took the $200 and released him.

The defendant, when called to the stand denied having received money from Little. He said that he released Little after Willey ordered him to do so and no money was passed between them.

He declared that Willey arrested Little and called him over to take him to the jail until investigations were made in an effort to find the owner of the still.

An hour later, he said, Willey came up to him and said that his investigation had "flivvered out," that he couldn't get the evidence against Little to "stick" him, and ordered his release.

Several witnesses who said they accompanied Crabb to the jail and saw Little released declared that no money was passed.

Little stated that no one was present at the time he paid the money and was turned loose.

Throughout the examination, Crabb stuck to the statements that he had nothing to do with the arrest, that he was acting under Willey's orders when he took Little to the jail, and that he released him only upon an order from Willey.

Attorneys for the defendant showed that Crabb was employed by the Business Men's Association of Bridgetown as a watchman and to protect property of members of the association from fire and theft. An effort was also made to prove that Crabb received a commission as deputy sheriff only to allow him to carry a gun. He was paid by the association, it was said, and not by the county.

The prosecution obtained admissions from Crabb that he had continually made arrests there and on numerous occasions brought prisoners to the jail here.

The trend of Crabb's testimony was to the effect that he was acting independently in his duties but that when cases arose, he aided Willey, taking orders from him and turning over to him what prisoners he managed to take.

The case was prosecuted for the state by County Attorney John Davenport and C. C. McDonald. Attorneys Heyser and Hicks acted as counsel for the defendant.

DISAGREEABLE TASTE IN MOUTH

Stomach Was Out of Order and Head Ached, So Kentucky Man Took Black Draught.—"It Cured Me," He Says

Nancy, Ky.—Mr. Marion Holcomb of this place, says: "For quite a long while, I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, also a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache.

"I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble.

"I heard Thedford's Black-Draught recommended very highly, so I began to use it. It cured me. I keep it in the house all the time. It is the best liver medicine made. I do not have sick headache or stomach trouble any more."

When suffering from headache, constipation, stomach or liver trouble, try the old and well-recommended, purely vegetable, Thedford's Black-Draught.

Just as Black-Draught brought relief to Mr. Holcomb, so it also has to thousands of others, and should help you, too.

Insist on having the genuine.

TO HELP ITALY'S IMMIGRANTS TO GET JOBS QUICK

(By International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—An international information exchange system between America and Italy has been initiated by the Italian Chamber of Commerce, 76 Bible House, New York City, which organization will act as a clearing house for this service, it was announced yesterday. Facts concerning industrial expansion and depression, news of laboring conditions in various sectios of this country, are transmitted to Italy to enable those who wish to emigrate to America to find more quickly suitable occupations when they arrive here, instead of having them come uninformed of these conditions.

This, officers of the chamber point out, is the first attempt by the Italians now in America to take over the helpful functions which certain American organizations have been performing hitherto. The Chamber of Labor it is stated, was organized to help Italians in this country pass through the period of adjustment in America, and to promote among them higher standards of living, wages, health and education.

The chamber also receives news from Italy, and disseminates it among Italian resident here. Locality and nationally, educational activities, through lectures, pamphlets and similar means, are being carried on.

An undertaking which, it is asserted by officials, is speedily emerging from the stage of a shadow project to the concreteness of reality is an Italian People's University, which is to be established to teach what American schools do not include in their curriculum, such as courses in the history of the trades union movement, economic, organization and kindred topics.

Already approximately 25,000 Italians now resident in America are affiliated through their respective organzations with this chamber. Girolamo Valenti, one of the best known Italian journalists, is general organizer of the body.

"What the chamber will seek to accomplish" he said, "is to educate the Italian to provide a central information bureau which will direct Italian labor to sections of the country where work is to be had, and keep it from industries where unemployment or seasonal fluctuations shut out opportunities."

Already the chamber has numerous crafts represented, such as the tailors, some of the longshoremen, unskilled workers to a small extent, and barbers. It will seek to do for the Italian worker what the Chamber of Commerce does for the merchant and trader and banker—work in his interests, promote knowledge that will be useful to him in his American experience, and represent him when he is in difficulties.

WORLD LEAGUE OF VETERANS PLANNED

(By International News Service.)

NEW YORK.—A federation of the societies of veterans of all the allied countries to promulgate a better international feeling will be discussed next month, when a committee of three representing the American legion will visit France and England. F. W. Galbraith, national commander of the legion, said today that the personnel of the committee would be announced within a few days.

Ex-service men of England already have taken steps toward this end. Four of the five British war societies have amalgamated and expect to unite shortly with French, Belgian, Canadian, Australian and South African associations of veterans. The Rev. Ronald H. Boyle, head of the National Federation of Discharged Soldiers and Sailors of Great Britain, is in this country now conferring with Galbraith on the participation of the legion.

The legion committee that will go to Europe will be empowered to discuss ways and means looking toward an alliance of ex-service men of all the allied nations. What the functions and powers of such an association would be will be determined later. In England the legion men will meet representatives of the four amalgamated societies. In France they will confer on November 28 with the heads of the two great French associations of veterans.

CULBERTSON MAKES FLIGHT TO DALLAS

Jack Culbertson, president and general manager of the Wichita Motors company, and former candidate for governor, flew to Dallas between 8 and 10:30 o'clock Friday morning. He was piloted by a member of the Wichita Autocraft association. Mr. Culbertson was answering an urgent business call in making the trip by airplane. He will return by the same route Saturday or Sunday.

Warm Welcome Is Being Prepared By Knickerbocker

"Opening up the new Conference year we are certainly preparing a warm welcome, for the winter congregation," said Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker to a Record News reporter Friday. "We are now installing an oil burning apparatus in our furnace so that no matter what the gas situation is we will be able to keep warm. If the oil burner won't do it alone, we have gas stoves, oil stoves, coal stoves and a thousand warm hearts to complete the tropical welcome.

"We made a great record last year, but we expect to beat it in many respects this year. Either this winter, or at the latest in the early spring we expect to put on an active campaign for the building of a $350,000.00 church, as we have outgrown our present plant."

The program for Sunday is as follows: At 9:45 a. m., at the Olympic theater the subject of lecture to men, "The Bank That Is Bound to Bust." At 11 a. m. at the church the subject of sermon is "Love's Last Word." At 7:30 p. m. at the church the prelude concert for fifteen minutes. The subject of the sermon, "What's the Lost Dog's Opinion of You." Special music by men's chorus, soloist, organist, etc.

WALTERS' SCREEN DEBUT AT MAJESTIC

Announcement that "Love, Honor and Obey" an S-L production released by Metro, is playing at the Majestic today, arouses exceptional interest, due to the fact that Eugene Walter, foremost American dramatic has herein turned his hand to the screen. He has founded the photoplay upon Charles Neville Buck's uecesful novel "The Tyranny of Weakness," whose story, in the hands of the expert craftsman of the theater, ought to make a notable photoplay.

An all-star cast, including Claire Whitney, Wilda Bennett, Kenneth Harlan, Henry Harmon, George Cowl and E. J. Ratcliff, is announced for the production. The story deals with a girl who is tricked into marriage and who discovers the deception on her bridal night. She bolts the door of the room against the bridegroom. The power of the situation is heightened by the conflict between the girl's New England conscience and the liberal views of the New York writer, whom she really loves.

MNNESOTA LOST TO NON-PARTISANS

By Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Niv. 5.—Every candidate for state office endorsed by the non-partisan league was defeated in Tuesday's election in Minnesota.

One congressman, Oscar Keller, republican, St. Paul, was elected with the endorsement of the league.

The state legislature, with contests only in the house of representatives, will have but few members endorsed by the league, although they had endorsed candidates in nearly half the districts.

ITALIAN SOIL RICH IN MINERAL OILS

BY EDWARD C. STRUTT,
International News Staff Correspondent.

ROME.—Great interest has been aroused in industrial and commercial circles by the announcement that Italy's subsoil, according to recent experiments, is extremely rich in mineral oil, which she was hitherto forced to import from other countries, chiefly the United States. Engineer Mario Grossi, who has made a special study of the subject, says that large deposits of oil exist at Ripi, in the province of Caserta, only two hours by rail from Rome, and that oil in practically inexhaustible quantities is to be found in Basilicata, in Apulia and almost everywhere in southern Italy. The difficulty consists in the fact that the oil lies very deep, necessitating heavy expenses for boring. At Ripi, where two Canadian boring machines have been installed, the production already amounts to about 1,000 liters of oil a day. Italy consumes over 200,000 tons of mineral oil a year and hitherto only produced 6,000 tons, utterly inadequate for her needs. In order to develop the oil industry at home, thus emancipating Italy from the heavy tolls she has to pay, especially to America, and which amount to about 500,000,000 lire a year, the government has decided to spend 5,000,000 lire (nominally $1,000,000) in buying machinery and in founding a school for specialists.

PORTRAIT PAINTER OPENS STUDIO HERE

Emil Hermann, portrait painter and mural decorator, has established a studio at 1101 Tenth street. Mr. Hermann is known locally through his studies of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kemp, now hanging at the Kemp public library.

Mr. Hermann has been engaged for further work at the library. He plans also to open an art school in his studio here.

ARGONNE HOTEL ADDS NEW FLOOR

A complete upper story, the third floor of the Argonne building, has been taken over by the Argonne hotel and recently made into 22 rooms and private baths. Improvements over the whole hotel also have been completed.

All rooms are equipped with telephones, connecting with a private exchange, and have been furnished with all modern conveniences. Especial stress has been laid upon the installation of perfect ventilating, lighting and heating systems.

H. E. Bachman, manager of the hotel, announced that all rates have been revised, and that the Argonne cafe, which recently was under separate management, has been bought out by the hotel and will not make a specialty of service to guests.

"GO AND GET IT" REACHES EMPRESS

"Go and Get It" is here. It arrived finally after being delayed by a wreck for more than eight hours and now is being shown at the Empress theater. Manager Harwell had to do a lot of explaining and a lot of smooth talking to convince the impatient mob of enthusiasts that packed the theater that "Go and Get It" was positively going to be shown —some time.

When it finally was flashed on the screen at 3:30 o'clock it was greeted with a round of applause, all of which goes to prove that it is some picture.

Those who waited to see it, and every single person to the last freckle-faced youngster waited, felt fully repaid for their trouble, and filed out after a sojourn of several hours, declaring it to be the greatest picture of the season.

Today closes the engagement and is positively the last time the picture will be shown in this city.

DAILY FINANCIAL, OIL AND MARKET NEWS

GRAIN COTTON

COTTON SLUMPS HEAVILY FROM GLOOMY WIRES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—Lower prices again prevailed in cotton today from the opening to the close and at the lowest the trading months were at losses of 90 to 108 points while the close showed losses of 93 to 105 points.

Early selling was due to bearish private bureau returns while the selling of the late session was caused by small mill takings. A private bureau estimated ginning to the first of November at 7,280,000 bales against 6,305,000 bales to the same date last year and 7,777,159 to the same date two years ago, indicating an output for the period of 1,568,000 bales against 1,376,000 the same period last year and 966,000 two years ago.

Early declines were made more pronounced by the slump in Liverpool. Private cablegrams claimed that Welsh coal miners were not satisfied with the coal strike settlement and one message said the Manchester market was again reporting cancellations of cloth contracts.

NEW YORK DOWN CENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—There was a decline of very nearly one cent a pound on some deliveries in the market for cotton futures here today owing to reports of increased southern offerings, continued goods trade depression and bearish private ginning returns.

Features most discussed around the ring were the increased southern selling and the failure of trade demand to improve following the British strike settlement and the ending of the presidential campaign.

Liverpool cables reported increased hedge selling with a disappointing spot demand.

RAW SUGAR WEAK

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The raw sugar market was weak and prices one-half cent lower under more liberal offerings, closing at 6.c for Cubas cost and freight, equal to 7.52 for centrifugal. There were sales of 50,000 bags of Cubas at 6½c cost and freight, and about 10,000 bags, of Peruvs and Brazil centrifugals.

Refined prices were unchanged at 10.50 to 11c for fine granulated.

A sharp break in sugar futures under scattered selling by trade and commission houses, was prompted by the weakness in raw with prices at one time 48 to 60 points net lower. Final prices 40 to 50 points net lower.

KANSAS CITY LIVE STOCK.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5.—Cattle—Receipts, 3,500. Market on calves steady; all other classes dull; undertone weak; quality plain; steers, $7.50@10.85; bulk she stock, $6.00@7.50; most canners, $4.00.

COTTON LOSES WEEKS GAINS OVER ELECTION

NE WYORK, Nov. 5.—A good part of pre-election rallies in the cotton market were lost before the close of business tonight. Neither the settlement of the British coal strike nor the ending of the presidential campaign seemed to inspire any broadening of demand. Reports of increased southern hedge selling suggested that it also had made an unfavorable impression amog holders of spot cotton in the south.

Aside from these feautres the late weak market was also influenced by reports of increasing mill curtailment by southern yarn spinners, weakness in foreign exchange, good weather in the south and bearsh private ginning returns. The latter were said to point an indicated crap of 12,760,000, compared with 12,130,000 the official end-September indication. The attention of traders was almost completely centered on the news from the goods trade and immediate marketing conditions for spot cotton.

End-October clearances were large, bringing the total reports for the season up to over last year's receipts. According to local spot brokers there are good sized commitments for November and December shipment but very little fresh buying for either domestic or foreign account.

The question raised by local bears is whether the south particularly the eastern belt, has sold enough of its crop to justify confidence in the holding movement for sustaining advances should trade demand fail to improve. Some of the spot men here are predicting increased use of low grades owing to an easier labor situation and improvement in machinery for cleaning cotton.

KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COURT HAS CHANCE

By Associated Press

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5.—Although the interstate commerce commission has denied the petition of the Kansas court of industrial relations for a hearing on intra-state railroad rates, the case has not been permanently disposed of, Presiding Judge W. L. Huggins of the Kansas court said today.

The court will be able to present its data regarding an alleged error in the calculations at the hearing on the petition of the railroads to set aside the Kansas decision on the ground of discrimination against interstate commerce, according to Huggins.

U. S. SHIPS TO GET BRITISH COAL NOW

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—American ships will no longer have to take aboard at home ports sufficient coal to make the round trip to England. It was learned today at the British embassy that as a result of the settlement of the coal strike in England the restrictions imposed on the supply of bunker coal had been removed.

EXCHANGE DROP PUTS GRAIN IN NERVOUS STATE

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Acute depression of foreign exchange had a bearish influence today on the wheat market. Prices closed unsettled, 1 1-4 to 2 3-4c net lower, with December 1.98 to 1.98 1-4 and March 1.93 to 1.93 1-2. Corn finished at 1-8c decline to 7-8c advance and oats lost 3-8c to 3-4c. In provisions the outcome varied from a setback of 15 cents to a rise of 25c.

General selling on the part of commision houses took place in the wheat pit and no doubt was expressed, but that the principal immediate reason was the tumble of francs to the lowest point since last Many and severe breaks which had occurred in other European exchange.

Corn was relatively strong owing to meagerness of stocks available for delivery on December contracts here. Oats traders took their cut from the downturn of wheat.

BUSINESS QUIET.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Business in the local market during the week has been quiet and prices have been rather irregular and weak, although the trade is feeling better over the outlook as a result of the republican landslide, with its guarantee of a tariff revision in favor of more production.

"The goods market is still chaotic and the manufacturers are flounderning around trying to find a working basis. Retailers are held to be the chief stumbling block to a resumption of normal business, since they will not make cuts in prices, apparently waiting for the holiday trade to help them liquidate high cost inventories."

SPECIALTIES GO TO RECORD LOW LEVEL OF YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Movements of market leaders of the stock exchange today were again very conflicting, many high grade or investment rails responding to further accumulation, while industrials and specialties sagged, some of the latter recording lowest prices of the year.

Dealings were large and diversified, t otalling one million shares but a considerable proportion represented an extension of the short account and liquidation by discouraged holders of long stocks.

The usual restraints were imposed by the money market, call loans opening at nine percent that figure also applying to renewals over the week but the usual ten percent was demanded at the close. Time funds were unchanged but scarce.

Bonds, including Liberty and International issues were irregular on reduced dealings.

Total sales, par value, $14,250,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEGRO GETS YEAR FOR CORSET THEFT

James Lewis, charged with the theft of ties and a corset from the Perkins-Timberlake department store, was sentenced to one year in prison by a jury Friday in Eighty-ninth district court.

The negro was charged by indictment with theft over $50, but entered a plea of guilty to a charge of misdemeanor theft when it was proven by his counsel that the value of the goods stolen was less than $50. He was convicted upon this plea.

District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones prosecuted the case for the state, and the law firm of Mathis & Caldwell acted as counsel for the defendant.

"MID-CHANNEL" IS OLYMPIC FEATURE

Every new effort of that superb screen actress, Clara Kimball Young, brings new laurels to her mounting fame. Another revelation of the many-sided talent of this brilliant star is disclosed in what must be conceded to be the greatest photo-dramatic achievement in her long and successful career. The picture is "Mid-Channel," the famous masterpiece of England's great playwright, and deals with the most critical period of married life, which is fittingly compared to the stormy center of the English Channel—Mid-Channel—which all voyagers must pass, and which is beset with treacheous currents that are as fatal as they are unsuspected and unseen.

K. M. A. TEST IN BLOCK NO. 30 AWAITS PACKER

A further test at the No. 6 hole of the Kemp-Munger-Allen company in block 30 of the K-M-A field is awaiting a packer, according to information from the local office of the company. This test is drilled three feet into a sand struck at 1,801 feet approximately 50 feet deeper than the regular K-M-A sand depth.

The well has shown considerable oil and is estimated as a 50-barrel producer in its present status. No attempts were made in the initial test to shut off the water which it is believed comes from above the regular K-M-A sand depth.

A liner will be set with a wall packer and it is not believed that any difficulty will be experienced in shutting off the water. The packer will arrive here from Tulsa so that a further test probably can be made the first of the week.

SAGG CO. LEASES TRACT NEAR TILLICUM

Announcement was made Friday of the sale of 22½ acres on the north side of block 19 on the Mattie Parker ranch in the vicinity of the Tillicum well to the Sagg Oil and Gas company. The lease was sold by the Schow Oil corporation. The consideration involved was about $20,000, according to reports. The Sagg company will start drilling on the lease at once.

100 lbs. of Purina Cow Chow contains 24 lbs. of protein, 85% of which is digestible and convertible into blood, tissue and milk. It is pure feed that perfectly

Balances home-grown roughage and silage.

It save you the trouble of mixing and balancing your own ration. It is more uniform than any home-mixed feed because the ingredients are laboratory tested to a fixed standard of quality, and measured and mixed by machinery. The high percentage of protein insures maximum milk flow. It will make the average cow on the average ration produce

3 lbs. more milk per day, at an additional feed cost of about 3c

Give Cow Chow a trial. Sold only in checkerboard bags. Let us put your herd on a test.

ARE YOU EMPLOYED in a position that brings you a salary of $200 a month or more. If not, one of three things is lacking in your make-up: Either your mind is not normal, you have no preparation in the technique or business, or you have no ambition to succeed. We believe you have a normal intelligence and a desire to succeed, but you lack the preparation. This preparation can be made in any business college that has good teachers and a good equipment. They will give you individual instruction in such a way that you will become efficient. We have the right kind of teachers and the right equipment, and we desire to see you succeed. Come in and see or write us about a good position or the preparation for one.

44 LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 213.
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING A CERTAIN ORDINANCE ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE TO LICENSE, TAX AND REGULATE CARRIAGES, OMNIBUSES, SERVICE CARS, ETC.," WHICH WAS PASSED AND APPROVED 23RD DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1920, BEING ORDINANCE 200, SO AS TO HEREINAFTER READ AS FOLLOWS AND REGULATING AN EMERGENCY.
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS:
SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to operate for hire, within the City Limits, any carriage, hack, omnibus, motor bus, automobile, or motor vehicle without first obtaining a license from the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, the cost of which shall be $75.00 per year.
SECTION 2. No license shall be issued to any person who is not a bona-fide resident of Wichita Falls, Texas, and all applications for licenses, shall show recommendations of at least three disinterested citizens before license is issued. The license issued shall be non-transferable and shall be signed by the City Clerk under the seal of the city, and shall designate the exact location where such vehicle shall park, and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to operate for hire carriage, hack, omnibus, automobile, motor bus, or motor vehicle at any stand within the city limits, except the one specifically designated in the license.
SECTION 3. The following places are designated as stands:
Space for 5 vehicles on west side of Ohio avenue between 7th and 8th streets, approximately 100 feet from the corner of 7th street, in front of what is now the Senate cafe.
Space of 5 vehicles on east side of Ohio avenue, between 7th and 8th approximately 100 feet from the corner of 8th street, in front of what is now Kruger's jewelry store.
Space of 5 vehicles at the new Kemp hotel, to vehicles to be parked on Scott avenue, but no vehicle must be parked nearer than ten feet of the space directly in front of door of hotel, unless said vehicle is loading or unloading passengers.
Space of 3 vehicles on 7th street, between the N. E. corner of 7th and Ohio and the west line of the Westland hotel.
Space for 3 vehicles on 7th street, between the N. E. corner of 7th and Ohio and the west line of the St. James hotel.
Space of 10 vehicles seventy-five feet on 8th street, from the corner of Ohio avenue, toward the depot, said vehicles to be parked on either side of the street with positions interchangeable but not more than five vehicles shall be parked or ranked on one side of street at one time.
Any person or persons may apply for license to operate a vehicle at any stand not covered by the foregoing and license shall be issued provided the application is approved by the Board of Aldermen.
SECTION 4. The charge for service of a carriage, hack, omnibus, automobile, motor bus, or other motor vehicle within the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the transportation of passengers shall not exceed the following schedule, to-wit:
One mile or less for one or two passengers, $1.00.
For each additional ½ mile or fraction thereof 50 cents.
For each additional passenger, above two, 50 cents.
(A mile herein used is defined to be 16 ordinary city blocks.)
Provided that for children under five (5) years of age, accompanied by an adult no charge shall be made and for children to twelve (12) years old, accompanied by an adult, one-half fare may be charged, and provided for each passenger a reasonable amount of baggage of such character as valises, grips, etc., shall be carried free of charge, provided that where in answering a call for service the distance necessary to be traveled by the vehicle to come from the stand of the vehicle to the house or location of the patron exceeds the distance necessary to travel to convey such patron to his destination the charge for fare may be based on the longer distance.
Where vehicles are hired by the hour the following schedule may be charged, to-wit:
For 5-passenger vehicles, $2.00 per hour.
For 7-passenger vehicles, $4.00 per hour.
SECTION 5. A card which will be furnished by the City Clerk and which shows the schedule of prices to be charged for service must be placed inside all licensed vehicles in a conspicuous place.
SECTION 7. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to use any fraudulent trick, scheme or device to obtain transportation or service from any public licensed vehicle within the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, and in the consummation of such fraudulent trick scheme, refuse to pay the lawful rates prescribed by this ordinance for such service or transportation, or rates agreed upon, same being less than the maximum rates herein prescribed.
SECTION 8. In the event of unusual crowding at any stand designated in any license or in the event of any emergency the person or persons holding such licenses shall remove their vehicle or vehicles to some other stand (which shall be designated) on the request of the mayor for such time as the mayor may require.
SECTION 9. Any driver of any licensed vehicle within the limits of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, shall be a bona fide resident of Wichita Falls, Texas, and he shall before entering on duties of driver file his name, address, and a complete description of the vehicle he intends to drive and if requested by the City Clerk shall furnish affidavits from two responsible residents of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, as to his residence in the city. All registrations now in force for drivers and owners shall be cancelled and new registration shall be made when the owner takes out license for car.
Any driver or owner of any licensed vehicle in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, who shall be convicted in any court of driving his car while in an intoxicated condition shall have his license or registration of both cancelled and no other license or registration shall be issued to him.
SECTION 10. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions for the above ordinance upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than $25.00 nor more than $200 dollars and his license shall be thereby forfeited.
SECTION 11. All ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed.
ORDINANCE 12. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure on the grounds that there is no adequate ordinance regulating and controlling service cars and carriages and this ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.
Passed and approved this 22nd day of October, 1920.
ATTEST:
GEORGE W. THORBURN,
City Clerk.
WALTER D. CLINE,
Mayor.

DAILY FINANCIAL, OIL AND MARKET NEWS

GRAIN COTTON

COTTON SLUMPS HEAVILY FROM GLOOMY WIRES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—Lower prices again prevailed in cotton today from the opening to the close and at the lowest the trading months were at losses of 90 to 108 points while the close showed losses of 93 to 105 points.

Early selling was due to bearish private bureau returns while the selling of the late session was caused by small mill takings. A private bureau estimated ginning to the first of November at 7,280,000 bales against 6,305,000 bales to the same date last year and 7,777,159 to the same date two years ago, indicating an output for the period of 1,568,000 bales against 1,376,000 the same period last year and 966,000 two years ago.

Early declines were made more pronounced by the slump in Liverpool. Private cablegrams claimed that Welsh coal miners were not satisfied with the coal strike settlement and one message said the Manchester market was again reporting cancellations of cloth contracts.

NEW YORK DOWN CENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—There was a decline of very nearly one cent a pound on some deliveries in the market for cotton futures here today owing to reports of increased southern offerings, continued goods trade depression and bearish private ginning returns.

Features most discussed around the ring were the increased southern selling and the failure of trade demand to improve following the British strike settlement and the ending of the presidential campaign.

Liverpool cables reported increased hedge selling with a disappointing spot demand.

RAW SUGAR WEAK

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The raw sugar market was weak and prices one-half cent lower under more liberal offerings, closing at 6.c for Cubag cost and freight, equal to 7.52 for centrifugal. There were sales of 50,000 bags of Cubas at 6½c cost and freight, and about 10,000 bags, of Perus and Brazil centrifugals.

Refined prices were unchanged at 10.50 to 11c for fine granulated.

A sharp break in sugar futures under scattered selling by trade and commission houses, was prompted by the weakness in raw with prices at one time 48 to 60 points net lower. Final prices 40 to 50 points net lower.

COTTON LOSES WEEKS GAINS OVER ELECTION

NE WYORK, Nov. 5.—A good part of pre-election rallies in the cotton market were lost before the close of business tonight. Neither the settlefent of the British coal strike nor the ending of the presidential campaign seemed to inspire any broadening of demand. Reports of increased southern hedge selling suggested that it also had made an unfavorable impression amog holders of spot cotton in the south.

Aside from these feautres the late weak market was also influenced by reports of increasing mill curtailment by southern yarn spinners, weakness in foreign exchange, good weather in the south and bearsh private ginning returns. The latter were said to point an indicated crap of 12,760,000, compared with 12,130,000 the official end-September indication. The attention of traders was almost completely centered on the news from the goods trade and immediate marketing conditions for spot cotton.

End-October clearances were large, bringing the total reports for the season up to over last year's receipts. According to local spot brokers there are good sized commitments for November and December shipment but very little fresh buying for either domestic or foreign account.

The question raised by local bears is whether the south particularly the eastern belt, has sold enough of its crop to justify confidence in the holding movement for sustaining advances should trade demand fail to improve. Some of the spot men here are predicting increased use of low grades owing to an easier labor situation and improvement in machinery for cleaning cotton.

KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COURT HAS CHANCE

By Associated Press

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5.—Although the interstate commerce commission has denied the petition of the Kansas court of industrial relations for a hearing on intra-state railroad rates, the case has not been permanently disposed of, Presiding Judge W. L. Huggins of the Kansas court said today.

The court will be able to present its data regarding an alleged error in the calculations at the hearing on the petition of the railroads to set aside the Kansas decision on the ground of discrimination against interstate commerce, according to Huggins.

U. S. SHIPS TO GET BRITISH COAL NOW

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—American ships will no longer have to take aboard at home ports sufficient coal to make the round trip to England. It was learned today at the British embassy that as a result of the settlement of the coal strike in England the restrictions imposed on the supply of bunker coal had been removed.

EXCHANGE DROP PUTS GRAIN IN NERVOUS STATE

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Acute depression of foreign exchange had a bearish influence today on the wheat market. Prices closed unsettled, 1 1-4 to 2 3-4c net lower, with December 1.98 to 1.98 1-4 and March 1.93 to 1.93 1-2. Corn finished at 1-8c decline to 7-8c advance and oats lost 3-8c to 3-4c. In provisions the outcome varied from a setback of 15 cents to a rise of 25c.

General selling on the part of commision houses took place in the wheat pit and no doubt was expressed, but that the principal immediate reason was the tumble of francs to the lowest point since last Many and severe breaks which had occurred in other European exchange.

Corn was relatively strong owing to meagerness of stocks available for delivery on December contracts here. Oats traders took their cut from the downturn of wheat.

BUSINESS QUIET.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Business in the local market during the week has been quiet and prices have been rather irregular and weak, although the trade is feeling better over the outlook as a result of the republican landslide, with its guarantee of a tariff revision in favor of more production.

"The goods market is still chaotic and the manufacturers are floundering around trying to find a working basis. Retailers are held to be the chief stumbling block to a resumption of normal business, since they will not make cuts in prices, apparently waiting for the holiday trade to help them liquidate high cost inventories."

SPECIALTIES GO TO RECORD LOW LEVEL OF YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Movements of market leaders of the stock exchange today were again very conflicting, many high grade or investment rails responding to further accumulation, while industrials and specialties sagged, some of the latter recording lowest prices of the year.

Dealings were large and diversified, t otalling one million shares but a considerable proportion represented an extension of the short account and liquidation by discouraged holders of long stocks.

The usual restraints were imposed by the money market, call loans opening at nine percent that figure also applying to renewals over the week but the usual ten percent was demanded at the close. Time funds were unchanged but scarce.

Bonds, including Liberty and International issues were irregular on reduced dealings.

Total sales, par value, $14,250,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEGRO GETS YEAR FOR CORSET THEFT

James Lewis, charged with the theft of ties and a corset from the Perkins-Timberlake department store, was sentenced to one year in prison by a jury Friday in Eighty-ninth district court.

The negro was charged by indictment with theft over $50, but entered a plea of guilty to a charge of misdemeanor theft when it was proven by his counsel that the value of the goods stolen was less than $50. He was convicted upon this plea.

District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones prosecuted the case for the state, and the law firm of Mathis & Caldwell acted as counsel for the defendant.

"MID-CHANNEL" IS OLYMPIC FEATURE

Every new effort of that superb screen actress, Clara Kimball Young, brings new laurels to her mounting fame. Another revelation of the many-sided talent of this brilliant star is disclosed in what must be conceded to be the greatest photo-dramatic achievement in her long and successful career. The picture is "Mid-Channel," the famous masterpiece of England's great playwright, and deals with the most critical period of married life, which is fittingly compared to the stormy center of the English Channel—Mid-Channel—which all voyagers must pass, and which is beset with treacheous currents that are as fatal as they are unsuspected and unseen.

K. M. A. TEST IN BLOCK NO. 30 AWAITS PACKER

A further test at the No. 6 hole of the Kemp-Munger-Allen company in block 30 of the K-M-A field is awaiting a packer, according to information from the local office of the company. This test is drilled three feet into a sand struck at 1,801 feet approximately 50 feet deeper than the regular K-M-A sand depth.

The well has shown considerable oil and is estimated as a 50-barrel producer in its present status. No attempts were made in the initial test to shut off the water which it is believed comes from above the regular K-M-A sand depth.

A liner will be set with a wall packer and it is not believed that any difficulty will be experienced in shutting off the water. The packer will arrive here from Tulsa so that a further test probably can be made the first of the week.

SAGG CO. LEASES TRACT NEAR TILLICUM

Announcement was made Friday of the sale of 22½ acres on the north side of block 19 on the Mattie Parker ranch in the vicinity of the Tillicum well to the Sagg Oil and Gas company. The lease was sold by the Schow Oil corporation. The consideration involved was about $20,000, according to reports. The Sagg company will start drilling on the lease at once.

100 lbs. of Purina Cow Chow contains 24 lbs. of protein, 85% of which is digestible and convertible into blood, tissue and milk. It is pure feed that perfectly

Balances home-grown roughage and silage.

It save you the trouble of mixing and balancing your own ration. It is more uniform than any home-mixed feed because the ingredients are laboratory tested to a fixed standard of quality, and measured and mixed by machinery. The high percentage of protein insures maximum milk flow. It will make the average cow on the average ration produce

3 lbs. more milk per day, at an additional feed cost of about 3c

Give Cow Chow a trial. Sold only in checkerboard bags. Let us put your herd on a test.

ARE YOU EMPLOYED in a position that brings you a salary of $200 a month or more. If not, one of three things is lacking in your make-up. Either your mind is not normal, you have no preparation in the technique or business, or you have no ambition to succeed. We believe you have a normal intelligence and a desire to succeed, but you lack the preparation. This preparation can be made in any business college that has good teachers and a good equipment. They will give you individual instruction in such a way that you will become efficient. We have the right kind of teachers and the right equipment, and we desire to see you succeed. Come in and see or write us about a good position or the preparation for one.

44 LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 213.
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING A CERTAIN ORDINANCE ENTITLED, ORDINANCE TO LICENSE, TAX AND REGULATE CARRIAGES, OMNIBUSES, SERVICE CARS, ETC.," WHICH WAS PASSED AND APPROVED 23RD DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1920, BEING ORDINANCE 200, SO AS TO HEREINAFTER READ AS FOLLOWS AND REGULATING AN EMERGENCY.
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS:
SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to operate for hire, within the City Limits, any carriage, hack, omnibus, motor bus, automobile, or motor vehicle without first obtaining a license from the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, the cost of which shall be $75.00 per year.
SECTION 2. No license shall be issued to any person who is not a bona-fide resident of Wichita Falls, Texas, and all applications for licenses shall show recommendations of at least three disinterested citizens before license is issued. The license issued shall be non-transfrable and shall be signed by the City Clerk under the seal of the city, and shall designate the exact location where such vehicle shall park, and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to operate for hire carriage, hack, omnibus, automobile, motor bus, or motor vehicle at any stand within the city limits, except the one specifically designated in the license.
SECTION 3. The following places are designated as stands:
Space for 5 vehicles on west side of Ohio avenue between 7th and 8th streets, approximately 100 feet from the corner of 7th street, in front of what is now the Senate cafe.
Space of 5 vehicles on east side of Ohio avenue, between 7th and 8th approximately 100 feet from the corner of 8th street, in front of what is now Kruger's jewelry store.
Space of 5 vehicles at the new Kemp hotel, vehicles to be parked on Scott avenue, but no vehicle must be parked nearer than ten feet at the space directly in front of door of hotel, unless said vehicle is loading or unloading passengers.
Space of 3 vehicles on 7th street, between the S. E. corner of 7th and Ohio and the west line of the Westland hotel.
Space for 3 vehicles on 7th street, between the S. E. corner of 7th and Ohio and the west line of the St. James hotel.
Space of 10 vehicles seventy-five feet on 8th street, from the corner of Ohio avenue and extending toward the depot, said vehicles to be parked on either side of the street with positions interchangeable but not more than five vehicles shall be parked or ranked on one side of street at one time.
Any person or persons may apply for license to operate a vehicle at any stand not covered by the foregoing and license shall be issued provided the application is approved by the Board of Aldermen.
SECTION 4. The charge for service of a carriage, hack, omnibus, automobile, motor bus, or other motor vehicle within the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the transportation of passengers shall not exceed the following schedule, to-wit:
One mile or less for one or two passengers, $1.00.
For each additional ½ mile or fraction thereof 50 cents.
For each additional passenger, above two, 50 cents.
(A mile herein used is defined to be 16 ordinary city blocks.)
Provided that for children under five (5) years of age, accompanied by an adult no charge shall be made and for children of twelve (12) years old, accompanied by an adult, one-half fare may be charged, and provided for each passenger a reasonable amount of baggage of such character as valises, grips, etc., shall be carried free of charge, provided that where in answering a call for service the distance necessary to be traveled by the most direct route from the stand of the vehicle to the house or location of the patron exceeds the distance necessary to travel to convey such patron to his destination the charge for fare may be based on the longer distance.
Where vehicles are hired by the hour the following schedule may be charged, to-wit:
For 5-passenger vehicles, $2.00 per hour.
For 7-passenger vehicles, $4.00 per hour.
SECTION 5. A card which will be furnished by the City Clerk and which shows the schedule of prices to be charged for service must be placed inside all licensed vehicles in a conspicuous place.
SECTION 7. It shall be unlawful for any persons or persons to use any fraudulent trick, scheme or device to obtain transportation or service from any public licensed vehicle within the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, and in the consummation of such fraudulent trick scheme, refuse to pay the lawful rates prescribed by this ordinance for such service, transportation or amount agreed upon, same being less than the maximum rates herein prescribed.
SECTION 8. In the event of unusual crowding at any stand designated in any license or in the event of any emergency the person or persons holding such licenses shall remove their vehicle or vehicles to some other stand (which shall be designated) on the request of the mayor for such time as the mayor may require.
SECTION 9. Any driver of any licensed vehicle within the limits of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, shall be a bona fide resident of Wichita Falls, Texas, and he shall before entering on duties of driver file his name, address, and a complete description of the vehicle he intends to drive and if requested by the City Clerk shall furnish affidavits from two responsible residents of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, as to his residence in the city. All registrations now in force for drivers and owners shall be cancelled and new registration shall be made when the owner takes out license for car.
Any driver or owner of any licensed vehicle in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, who shall be convicted in any court of driving his car while in an intoxicated condition shall have his license or registration or both cancelled and no other license or registration shall be issued to him.
SECTION 10. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions for the above ordinance upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than $25.00 nor more than $100 dollars and his license shall be thereby forfeited.
SECTION 11. All ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed.
ORDINANCE 12. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure on the grounds that there is no adequate ordinance regulating and controlling service cars and carriages and this ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.
Passed and approved this 22nd day of October, 1920.

BUSINESS MEN MOVE FOR FAIR GROUNDS HERE

J. C. Hunt, I. H. Roberts, A. M. Lewis, H. F. Hanks and J. C. Joplin are members of a committee appointed by the business council of the Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon Friday to investigate the desirability of the purchase by the city of 140 acres near the old ball park to be used as a city fairground.

Organization of a stock company to finance the purchase of the ground and initial expense of a city fair was advocated by J. B. Marlow, who declared the first year's show would bring $25,000 in gate receipts.

Eugene Bullock of Fort Worth and J. E. Hiatt from Indiana were guests of the council. Mr. Bullock, chairman of the national board of fire underwriters, spoke to council members of the work done by the board during the war.

Hubert M. Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, told of the chamber's plans and immediate activities in advertising Wichita Falls, both from within and without.

Volunteers to assist in putting over the Red Cross campaign on Friday of next week were secured as the result of the address of C. E. Rogers, in charge of the business men's part in the work.

The council voted to send flowers to B. D. Donnell, ill with pneumonia.

"THE MIKADO" TO BE BIG FEATURE HERE

The coming of the Ralph Dunbar production of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "The Mikado" to the Wichita for two days starting Monday is expected to prove a noteworthy event in local annals. It will afford the opportunity desired by hundreds of hearing the famous and tuneful opera adequately done, with a cast of real American principals, a chorus that cannot be equaled and a complete equipment of costumes, scenery and lighing effects, together with a symphonic orchestra.

So promised and overwhelming is the assurance of support for "The Mikado" that Mr. Dunbar is willing to asume the risk of sending to the smaller cities, a real metropolitan attraction. However, it should be remembered that the coming of the big opera is somewhat of an experiment. Manager W. C. Crosbie of the Wichita asks that everyone, lovers of American standards in musical art and citizens in general, be boosters for "The Mikado."

"I want to get more productions from the Dunbar offices," says Mr. Crosbie. "The Dunbar folks have a mammoth production of 'Carmen' and other operas" and if ,'The Mikado" is given a rousing reception here, we will get the other attractions before the end of the present season."

BOUND TO JURY IN PROBE OF STILLS

Cleveland Watson and Mrs. Alma Viney, who were arrested Wednesday by Texas Rangers at Bradley's Corners, waived examining trial before United States Commissioner J .A. Lantz Friday morning and were placed under $750 and $500 bonds, respectively, to await action of the federal grand jury, charged with operating a still.

Petty charges have been entered against them in the county court at law.

Men Brush Aged Woman Aside; Hip Is Broken

Mrs. M. A. Fulton, aged mother of Mrs. E. L. Fulton and Miss Mary Colquitt, was resting quietly Friday evening in the Wichita General hospital, where she was taken Wednesday morning for treatment of injuries incurred in a fall Tuesday.

Mrs. Fulton was hurt Tuesday, when she was brushed aside by three men passing in front of her home on Lamar street as she was crossing the sidewalk. She broke her hip when she fell to the sidewalk. Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Fulton of Ladonia, parents of E. L. Fulton, arrived Thursday. Dr. Fulton is in attendance on Mrs. Colquitt. X-ray examinations show broken bones.

Mrs. Colquitt has only within the past two years recovered from previous injuries which deprived her of the ability to walk.

SHERIFF ELECT AND McDONALD SUED FOR $5000

A suit against Fred Smith, sheriff-elect of Wichita county, and Lee McDonald, deputy sheriff, in which damages of $5,000 are sought, has been filed in Thirtieth district court by J. J. Bullard and wife.

The complaint charges that the plaintiffs, while operating the Star hotel on March 9, 1919, were unlawfully placed under arrest by McDonald and another officer as agents for Smith, who was at that time chief of police.

It avers that his wife sustained serious and permanent injuries when she was forced to get up and dress about 3 o'clock in the morning and go to the city hall after being awakened by the officers.

Mrs. Bullard, according to the complaint, had recently recovered from an operation and was under orders from the doctor to refrain from going down the steps.

She said she explained this to the officers, whereupon she was grabbed by McDonald and hurried down the steps of the hotel, the petition avers. This treatement, she said, made a fresh wound at the place where she had been operated upon and ruptured her.

Bullard also was taken to jail, according to the petition. Both allege that they were "unlawfully placed under arrest in the city jail, illegally and without cause."

In a statement Friday McDonald admitted that he had placed the two under arrest, but denied awakening Mrs. Bullard, forcing her to dress, and "jerking her down the hotel steps." He said that Mrs. Bullard was not even in bed, that she was sitting up fully dressed in the office of the hotel and that she made no explanation of her physical condition.

Mr. Bullard, he said, was found asleep, but was later placed under arrest when he came to the police station to inquire about his wife.

OFFICIALS TO CONFER.

Henry Wampler, in charge of the local internal revenue office, left Friday night for Dallas, for conference with the chief field deputy of the district. He expects to return Sunday night.

NAME LEADERS FOR RED CROSS DRIVE IN COUNTY

Nucleus organizations for conducting the 1920 Red Cross campaign in Electra, Burkburnett and Iowa Park were completed Friday with the appointment of Tom Corrigan, chairman of the work in Iowa Park and A. T. Bryce, chairman, in Electra. W. P. Roodhouse, at the head of the chapter in Burkburnett, will confer with B. B. Greever, general manager for the county, in Wichita Falls Saturday.

Electra and Burkburnett have each been allotted a $2,000 quota; Iowa Park, $1,000, out of the $12,000 total asked from the entire county. The drive in the county will be managed on a similar plan to the one adopted for Wichita Falls, the greatest intensity of effort coming on Friday and Saturday of next week.

B. B. Greever, W. W. Gardner and J. R. Hyatt were members of the party visiting the three communities Friday. Every courtesy was extended the general chairman and his associates, and full co-operation promised.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspironal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle o f Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't b e bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—(Adv.)
