B. R. Moon, 89 Seriously Burned in Gas Explosion

B. R. Moon, 89-year-old widower, was seriously burned in a gas explosion and fire about 8:30 Wednesday night in his apartment over the garage at the J. T. Elliott home on west Ninth street. Cause of the blast was undetermined, although investigators believed it occurred when gas accumulated from a stove that had gone out or a leaky connection became ignited when Mr. Moon lit his pipe.

He was rescued by E. T. Thomas, who broke down the door to his room and carried him out of the flaming apartment.

Repeated calls to the aged man to come out of the room brought no response because of his excitement. He was taken to Graham sanitarium where his condition at noon today was reported critical from serious burns.

The fire department responded quickly, but was greatly hindered by the usual crowd of curiosity seekers and idlers, who rushed to the location and got in the way of the trucks and the firemen as they worked to get water to the blaze.

Mr. Moon had lived alone in the apartment for about two years, and has made his home in and around Cisco for about twenty years. He has a number of children, one of whom, a son, is expected here from Paris, Texas, today.

He had been in the apartment only about 15 minutes when the explosion occurred. Prior to retiring to his room he had been sitting outside enjoying the evening air. Immediately after the blast flames spread throughout the building, but were extinguished by the fire boys before they had done much damage to the structure other than the interior.

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE VOTED TO ELIMINATE THAT MANY IN LOW-PAID BRACKET

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. — The senate finance committee voted today to let 12,000,000 low-paid persons off the income tax rolls next year, but gave other individuals smaller reductions than the house had proposed.

The senate committee, engaged in re-writing the house-approved $5,350,000,000 tax reduction bill, approved cuts for both business and individuals.

Corporations would receive the greatest benefit from the senate committee's version.

The house bill gave the most relief to individuals.

The senate committee work on the bill was not complete, however. Committee Chairman Walter F. George, D. Ga., said further individual benefits might be approved before the bill reaches the senate floor.

Cabinet Meeting Tomorrow to Discuss Wage-Price

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (U.P.) — President Truman disclosed today that he has called special cabinet meeting for tomorrow to discuss new machinery for handling wage-price problems which are plaguing the country's reconversion economy.

He said he expects to make an announcement shortly after the cabinet meeting. The president's disclosure came as evidence accumulated that the administration may be working on a wage-price policy under which labor would receive basic pay rate increases of about 23 percent.

Japs Furnished 90 Pct. World's Narcotic Supply

TOKYO, Oct. 18 (U.P.) — The Allied occupation command today froze Japan's narcotics industry — source of 90 percent of the world's illegal drugs — and seized $30,000,000 worth of diamonds owned by the Japanese government.

At the same time, Imperial Household Minister Sotaro Ishiwata told the United Press in an exclusive interview that Emperor Hirohito had no intention of abdicating despite demands for his disposal by newly-emerging Communist and Socialist groups.

MacArthur's headquarterers doomed Japan's narcotics industry with a directive prohibiting all future planting and cultivation of narcotics weeds and ordering the destruction of crops already planted.

The Japanese government also was directed to report within 30 days the location, ownership and amount destroyed of poppy and coca plants. All exportation of hashish, cocaine, opium and opium derivatives such as morphine was banned.

Seized records revealed that Japan's two main narcotics producers turned out 120,000 pounds during 1944 — equivalent to one pound for every 665 residents of Japan or about 30 years' legitimate supply.

Lasting Peace Depends on Merging of Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (U.P.) — Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, warned congress today that unless the armed forces are merged "there can be little hope . . . for a lasting peace."

Marshall testified before the senate military affairs committee. He said modern weapons make it imperative that the United States be "able to do in weeks, certainly months, what we previously took years to accomplish."

YES!

the war is over, BUT . . .

We can't look at the world through rose colored glasses! We must open our eyes to the fact that millions of people are still suffering loss and privation. We who have been so unscathed by this war cannot help but feel it our duty to lift them out of despair --- toward a happy future.

• There are people right in our own community who are temporarily stricken by war's aftermath. Children have been orphaned, many mothers are suffering the strain of overwork during wartime. Many have grown old and with sons lost in combat, are completely dependent. THE COMMUNITY CHEST FUND GIVES TO THEM:

• Illness strikes unmercifully sometimes, making children helpless with paralysis; racking thin chests with coughing in tuberculosis; threatening life with dread cancer. But there are institutions to help treat these diseases: institutions conducting research to wipe them out. THE COMMUNITY CHEST FUND GIVES TO THEM.

• Every once in a while --- without any warning --- various areas of the country are the victims of nature's wrath in the form of fire or flood. Every community must be prepared against such emergencies. This community has organization ready to help at all times. THE COMMUNITY CHEST FUND GIVES TO THEM.

• In Europe, millions of homeless people need aid from more fortunate lands until they can again be self sufficient in the matters of food, shelter and clothing. The National War Fund gives of its monies to aid the suffering people of Europe. THE COMMUNITY CHEST FUND GIVES TO IT.

The local Community Chest drive which will start soon, enlists your generous support. Plan now to make your contribution.
