

Sultry 103

Big Spring Sizzles

It wasn't official on Monday but it was very much so on Tuesday. Tuesday was the hottest day on record for May 10.

Temperature at the U.S. Experiment Station soared to a sultry 103 degrees at mid-afternoon yesterday for the hottest day of the year and for the first official over-the-century mark of 1967.

On Monday afternoon, the thermometer at the First National Bank touched the hundred spot at 4:44 p.m. The Experiment Station on that date showed only 97.

Last night's low was a most uncomfortable 73 degrees and Wednesday set out as though determined to shatter the high mark of yesterday.

The 103 degree reading yesterday topped the 102 high mark for the date which had held since 1916. Today's all time high also goes back to that same sultry year. The high for May 10, 1916 stood at 104.

The sizzling heat was general over West Texas Tuesday. Presidio on the Rio Grande was top with 110.

Folk with long memories were remembering May 10, 1954. It rained 2.7 inches that date.

Beauty Is Family Affair

MARBLEHEAD, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. John H. Procter, Miss Massachusetts in 1940, carefully raised two daughters to be good wives and quite accidentally they became beauty queens like their mom.

"I never encouraged them to enter pageants," Mrs. Procter said in a family interview. "But I think it's wonderful that they have. A girl who can do something with her life before her marriage can give much more to her husband."

No Competition

Daughter Pamela, 21, is a Miss Massachusetts for 1967, the one who will be in Miami Beach this summer to compete for the Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe titles.

Daughter Kathryn, 19, is Miss North Shore and Miss Danvers for 1967 and competes for the Miss Massachusetts title in July which is a preliminary to the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City.

"We're in entirely different pageants," Pamela said, "so there's no competition between us. As a matter of fact, I entered Kathy in the Miss North Shore contest."

Had To Get Even

"And I," said Kathryn, "entered Pam in the Miss Massachusetts pageant because I had to get even."

Mrs. Procter, as Polly L. Connors of Bedford, was third runnerup for Miss America 27 years ago. She has used this experience as a guide for raising her girls.

She has taught them the beauty queen's graceful way of walking and sitting. She has sharpened their minds with questions similar to those asked finalists at beauty pageants.

"The idea," said Mrs. Procter, "is to train them to be ladies. The questions are to train them to think, to express themselves to be individuals."

"I make up questions like the ones I was asked as a finalist and I started them early. The development of a girl does not happen overnight."

No City Taxes?

SMITHVILLE, Tex. (AP) — This Central Texas town of about 3,500 persons is planning to do away with all city taxes.

Mayor George Woodress said the city council Tuesday abolished the personal property tax on automobiles.

The next step, Woodress said, was to do away with all municipal property taxes within the next six to eight years.

Earnings from city-owned utilities and a planned city sales tax combined with "management that is right," are the reasons for tax decreases, Woodress said.

"We are out of debt and have had our surplus drawing interest so we felt that we could reduce our over-all tax picture," the mayor said.

Stowaway To Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Australian miss who tried to stow away aboard a U.S. nuclear cruiser while it was docked in Sydney said Tuesday she will appear in a movie with her Coast Guard boy friend.

Sandra Hilder, 20, who hid in an admiral's cabin overnight April 19, and Seaman Bernard (Bud) Brewer, 23, will portray a pair of lovers in "Did You Hear the One About the Traveling Saleslady?" which stars Phyllis Diller.

Millionaire Art Victim?

NEW YORK (AP)—A millionaire Texas oil man says he is not buying the judgment alone of an art dealer's association that has told him he is the victim of one of the art world's greatest swindles in recent years.

The American Art Dealers Association contends that Algur H. Meadows of Dallas, chairman of the General American Oil Co. of Texas, was stuck with 44 fake paintings in a collection of 58 worth $1,362,750, according to a dealer's appraisal.

"I don't know if the paintings are fake or not," Meadows told the Dallas Morning News from New York Tuesday. "I'm going to find out. But I don't buy the judgment of this group alone. They may be right in some instances, they may be wrong in some. At this point, no one can be certain."

FBI agents and the office of District Attorney Frank Hogan began an immediate investigation. Meadows said an FBI agent told him he was "doing the correct thing, conducting a quiet investigation," the newspaper reported.

Meadows was quoted as saying, "I didn't even pay half a million for the paintings"—works passed off as by Modigliani, Picasso, Dufy, Degas, Chagall, Bonnard, Derain and Vlaminck.

He told the News he had requested an affidavit from the association stating that they were fakes, but was turned down.

Texas Crash Kills Eight

GOLDTHWAITE, Tex. (AP)—Eight persons were killed, including a trucker and an Alabama couple, and five of their children, in a Central Texas highway crash Tuesday night.

Three other children of the Alabama couple and a second person in the truck suffered injuries.

Earl T. Waller, 36; his wife Pauline, 31; and their eight children were hurled from their 1954 car when the collision occurred as the car turned onto US 84 fifteen miles east of here.

Sheriff H. G. Brooks said they found several empty wallets but no money in the pockets of the Athens, Ala., family.

Killed outright in the crash, along with the parents, were Eugene, 11; Linda, 5; Frank, 3; and Michael, 2; and a truck passenger, Robert Anderson, 40, of Hickory, N.C.

A fifth child of the Wallers, Brenda, 9, died today at Scott and White Hospital in Temple. Her brother, Robert, 4, was in serious condition there.

Two other Waller children, Eddie, 8, and Roy, 7, were in fair condition at Goldthwaite Hospital. The driver of the tractor-trailer, Paul L. Justice, 32, of Connelly Springs, N.C., was in good condition.

Reserve Streamlining Gains Generals' Okay

Planes Plaster 2 Power Plants

SAIGON (AP) — A powerful strike force from three U.S. aircraft carriers bombed a MIG airfield just outside the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong today and two of the city's thermal power plants, including one inside the city limits.

The raid just after noon cost one Skyhawk jet shot down by Red gunners — the 536th U.S. combat plane reported lost over North Vietnam. The pilot was missing.

The two power plants had been hit before on April 29, but the raid on the Kien An airfield 5½ miles southwest of Haiphong was the first against that MIG base. It was the third MIG base bombed by American warplanes.

HOTTEST FRONT

In the ground war the north-west corner of South Vietnam continued to be the hottest front as U.S. Marines fought another battle with North Vietnamese troops and Air Force B52s made two attacks in support of the Leathernecks. The Marines claimed 31 North Vietnamese dead in a five-hour fight Tuesday but reported 24 Marines killed and 19 wounded.

The jets that raided the Haiphong area streaked off the flight decks of the carriers Enterprise, Hancock and Kitty Hawk.

A U.S. spokesman said the nighttime raids had good weather and the pilots reported their bombs on target. However, there was no immediate assessment of bomb damage.

LIGHTS OUT

Following the previous raids on the power stations, pilots reported the lights of North Vietnam's major port went out for one night.

The power plant inside Haiphong, in a northwest sector of the city, is part of an industrial complex which includes a cement plant that also has been bombed. The other power plant is just east of the Haiphong city limits.

The coordinated strikes from the three carriers were among the heaviest raids ever made on the Haiphong area.

NO WORD

The Kien An airfield is evidently one of the secondary bases for the North Vietnamese air force's jets. A spokesman said MIGs had been seen operating from the field in the past few days but he did not know if there were any on the field when it was hit.

He also had no word on whether MIG opposition was encountered in the air.

American warplanes have previously blasted the MIG bases at Kep, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, and Hoa Lac 20 miles west of the capital.

A spokesman said Tuesday that Hoa Lac field, hit five times, could no longer be used.

Although three MIG bases have now been hit, the North Vietnamese air force has at least three other jet fields which have not been bombed. These are at Phu Yen, Gia Lam and Cat Be, all in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Army Physician Trial Under Way

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A court-martial panel agreed today it would not be prejudiced against an Army physician because he is Jewish, is a civil rights advocate and opposed to the Vietnam conflict.

The questions were asked of the panel of career officers at the opening of a general court-martial for Capt. Howard B. Levy, 30, accused of refusing to obey officers and train men for Vietnam duty.

Charles Morgan Jr., an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, put the questions to each of the four majors and four lieutenant colonels who make up the trial panel.

LOST EYE

Maj. James E. Davis, who served in Vietnam, said he would not be prejudiced in the case even though he is a Negro. Maj. Masami N. Nisimoto, who is of Asiatic extraction and also a veteran of the Vietnam fighting, and two others with service in Southeast Asia—Lt. Col. Charles W. Hanlon and Maj. Boyd D. Parsons—agreed with Davis.

Parsons lost an eye in a mine explosion in Vietnam.

FREE SPEECH

All members of the board said they would uphold the 1st Amendment to the Constitution which guarantees free speech. Each said he would not be biased against Levy because the physician worked in a South Carolina Negro voter registration drive during his off hours.

"Would your military experience—all of you are career officers and Capt. Levy is essentially a civilian and a healer—not allow you to understand a complicated and complex person?" Morgan asked.

DISSENT RIGHT

Each member of the panel said it would not, and all agreed they recognize the right of dissent in the United States in time of peace.

CAMPAIGN MONEY RIDER ATTACHED

Business Tax Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate finally has passed the embattled bill restoring major business tax incentives—after rebuking President Johnson by tying to it a rider which would eliminate key sections of the presidential election campaign financing plan.

Foes of the financing plan, with its $1 income tax checkoff, at once claimed it is dead. They said the House is certain to accept the rider in negotiations on the legislation.

The rider, adopted after a confused afternoon of voting Tuesday, leaves the financing plan technically on the books but states it can be reactivated only if Congress fixes guidelines for spending the government subsidy money.

BARRIER LOOMS

Opponents of the plan said they would block any such law unless it meets their specifications. Russell B. Long, D-La., author of the plan, conceded its foes are in the driver's seat.

The final action on the tax bill came after almost seven weeks of bitter floor debate. Most of it centered on the Long financing plan, a subject having nothing to do with tax incentives but attached to the tax bill by procedural maneuver.

Also to be settled in a Senate-House conference on the bill are major differences on the business tax incentive provisions.

CREDIT

The Senate version follows President Johnson's recommendations and offers considerably less advantages to business firms than the House measure, principally through differences in timing.

The incentives restored are

Philadelphia's National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is involved in a fight for leadership in which Cecil Moore, left, local branch president, says the national group, in splitting Philadelphia into five sections, is "trying to rip me into pieces." U. S., Kremlin Ships Collide

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. Navy destroyer and a Soviet destroyer scraped together in the Sea of Japan today, the Pentagon said.

From the Pentagon statement it appeared that the Soviet ship was harassing the American vessel.

WARNING

The Navy destroyer was the USS Walker, assigned to an anti-submarine task group. The Pentagon said the collision, a minor one, occurred when the Soviet destroyer attempted to overtake and pass the U.S. destroyer.

For an hour and a half before the accident, the Pentagon said, "the Soviet destroyer had been operating in close proximity" and was repeatedly warned "to avoid such dangerous maneuvers."

MINOR DAMAGE

The Soviet vessel "made several close approaches to the ships of the task group including at least two which came within 50 feet, despite repeated warnings," the Pentagon said.

According to reports, no one was injured and there was only minor damage to the ships.

The Pentagon said the Soviet destroyer apparently was trying to observe training maneuvers of the American anti-submarine task group.

NO COMMENT

No further details on the incident were given. The Walker is commanded by Cmdr. S. W. McClaran of Santa Barbara, Calif.

While the Pentagon made no comment on the incident, it seemed likely that the United States would view with seriousness the potential repercussions of such an American-Soviet confrontation.

'Women's Rights' Bill Skips Hurdle

AUSTIN (AP)—The so-called "women's rights" constitutional amendment was approved by a House committee today for floor debate.

The Constitutional Amendments Committee sent the measure to the floor, 8-6.

As revised in the Senate, the measure prohibits denial of equality under the law because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

Judge Appointed

AUSTIN (AP) — Dist. Judge E. E. Jordan of Amarillo has been appointed judge of the 9th Administrative District, Gov. John Connally said Tuesday.

Jordan is judge of the 47th Judicial District. He will succeed the late Judge Victor Lindsey.

Plan To Drop 15 Divisions To Spur Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—A committee of regular Army, National Guard and Reserve generals has secretly voted 11 to 10 for a controversial plan to drop 15 National Guard divisions and four Reserve brigades, it was learned today.

Narrow as it was, the vote is regarded as a boost for the plan, which is believed to have at least the general blessing of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The proposal, latest step in a year-long Pentagon drive to streamline the Reserve forces, is expected to encounter stiff opposition from powerful members of Congress.

SECRET

The 21-member Reserve Forces Policy Committee voted last week. The regular Army, the Guard and the Reserves have seven representatives each on the panel.

Pentagon officials have classified details as secret. The Army said details include information on force structure, manning and equipment levels, and mobilization and contingency planning which could assist a potential enemy.

It is known that the effect of the latest reorganization proposal would be to place virtually all the combat units of the Army backup forces in the National Guard, and service support units in the Reserve.

CUTTING EDGE

The cutting edge of the Guard would be reduced to eight divisions and 18 independent brigades—a total of 42 brigades—manned at nearly full combat strength.

This would mean abolition of 15 Guard divisions which now form a reinforcing reserve at about 50 per cent of full strength. There are about 1,000 units in each of the 15 divisions.

Officials said most of the men now in these low-priority divisions probably would be absorbed into first-line outfits.

REVAMPING

The officers and enlisted men in the four Army Reserve brigades tabbed for elimination also are expected to wind up in high-priority units. These brigades are manned at between 75 and 90 per cent of maximum strength.

Under the plan as now drawn, even the eight high-strength Guard divisions would be revamped geographically.

The effort is being made to give as many states as possible at least one brigade of about 4,500 men each. Several of the large states would get as many as three brigades.

42 NEEDED

Guard officials have said about 42 brigades are needed to permit the states to handle internal problems such as civil rights disturbances and natural disasters.

The package will be considered by Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, and Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor before being sent to McNamara for final approval.

In successive stages dating back more than five years, McNamara has sought to cut away those Guard and Reserve units which he considered surplus to war plan requirements and too lightly manned and equipped to be of any quick-use in a mobilization.

FIRE FAILS

Despite counterfire from Capitol Hill, governors and Guard and Reserve backers, McNamara has eliminated 10 Reserve divisions, four National Guard divisions and thousands of miscellaneous units.

County Airport Bill Moves Ahead

Rep. Temple Dickson sponsored the bill, which would allow residents to establish an airport authority to finance and operate the county airport.

Fina Names Wes Shouse Refining Vice President

Election of C. W. Shouse as vice president, refining, and as a director of American Petrofina Company of Texas, was announced in Dallas Wednesday by R. I. Galland, president. Shouse will continue to reside in Big Spring, and to serve as a vice president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, an affiliated company.

American Petrofina Company of Texas, a wholly owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, Incorporated, has operating responsibility for oil and gas production and for the marketing in the United States of Fina branded and other refined products except petrochemicals. Shouse's responsibilities include supervision of the company's refineries at Mt. Pleasant, and in El Dorado, Kan., and the refineries at Big Spring and Colorado City, of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, also a wholly owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, Inc.

Shouse joined Cosden Petroleum Corp. on Jan. 1, 1957, as a process engineer. He transferred to the coordination and economics section and became department manager in 1959. Named manager of the technical department in 1961, Shouse was appointed executive assistant to the president in 1962. When American Petrofina acquired the assets of Cosden Petroleum Corporation in April, 1963, Shouse was elected a vice president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company.

A native of Picher, Okla., he received a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from the University of Oklahoma. Following three years with Union Carbide at Texas City, Shouse served two years in the Army in 1955-56 at Fitzsimons Hospital in Denver, Colo., in research and development in bacteriology.

Shouse is married to the former Marcia Ingram of Baxter Springs, Kan. They have three children, Clint, 10, Mary Ellen, 8, and Kenneth, 3.

Shouse is a member of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, board of directors of the National Petroleum Refiners Association, and American Petroleum Institute's Refining General Committee. Also he is a member of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, director of the Big Spring YMCA, and a director of the Howard County TB Association. In college, he was elected to Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau, honorary engineering societies.

Dear Abby

Anti-Religion Sign Of Illness

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who appears for all the world to be an ideal husband and father, is beginning to worry me. I don't know what's got into him lately, but he has become so anti-religious. He was brought up in the Catholic church. I became a convert for his sake. Now he has turned against religion like a madman. When I say grace at the table he shouts, "Thank me for the food — not God!" (And right in front of the children, too.) He refuses to go to church, and makes fun of me and the children when we go. I asked our priest to come over and speak to him, but he wouldn't let the priest in the house. What am I to do, Abby? He seems all right otherwise, he's just got this thing about religion. Do you think he'll get over it?

Venire Drawn For Murder Case

Fern Cox, district court clerk, and his deputies are preparing the list of 200 special veniremen drawn from the jury wheel Tuesday afternoon.

Notices will go in the mail soon for the 200 to report to the 118th District Court May 22 at 10 a.m. They are to serve in the murder trial of Narciso Santiago, charged with murder with malice, in the gun death a year ago of Sgt. M. T. Gore. The state has notified Santiago it will ask the death penalty in his case.

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, supervised the drawing of the 200 veniremen. The Santiago case is on special setting for the week of May 22.

Faculty Offers Special Readings

The Odessa College chapter of Phi Theta Kappa will present members of the English faculty in "An Evening With Two Southern Women Writers" at 8 p.m., Friday in the recital hall of the Fine Arts Building.

Rudolph Brewster will read from Flannery O'Connor's "Revelation," and Mrs. Elizabeth K. Martin will do Eudora Welty's "Petrified Man." Both are former faculty members at HJC, as is Ina Mae McCollom, another member of the OJC English staff.

WES SHOUSE

DEAR ABBY: A new couple moved to town. They didn't know a soul, so my husband and I took them under our wing and introduced them to all our friends.

Now that they are no longer lonely, they have been entertaining all the people we introduced them to, and they haven't been including us. I think this is a lot of nerve. What do you think?

DEAR USED: Good manners would dictate that they show their appreciation to you in some way. But they are under no obligation to "include" you when they entertain those whom they have met through you. Don't feel "used." Everyone has the privilege of choosing his own friends.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone else airs his gripe in your column, so I want to add mine. It's this blackmail business of "tipping." I'm a salesman, and nobody has ever tipped me for doing a good job. And why should he? I am just doing the job I'm getting paid to do. When I take a woman out to dinner if I don't hand out tips to doormen, waiters, captains, hatcheck girls, and the man who parks my car, I look like a cheap skate.

We could sure take a lesson from our European cousins. There they add 15 per cent to the bill and there is no tipping.

SICK OF TIPPING? DEAR SICK: For good or ill (and I dislike tipping, too) many persons serving the public have been forced to rely on tips for a substantial part of their income. Their base pay is low and tips are supposed to provide a living wage. Adding a percentage to the bill is not always practical. So, annoying though the system is, a lot of people are trapped in it — including both the tippers and the tipped.

Burglary Filed

Robert Villareal, arrested in connection with the Friday break-in at the Joe Wright's Liquor store, has been formally charged with that offense. Sheriff A. N. Standard said today. He said bond for Villareal has been set at $1,500, and the man has not been able to post bond and is still in the county jail.

Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love. (1 Corinthians 13:13, ASV)

Is Support Being Stepped Up?

Have the doctrinal differences between Moscow and Peking been set aside at least temporarily by an agreement to cooperate in supplying North Vietnam with all the weapons of war it can use short of nuclear weapons?

Opinion in Washington and South Vietnam is apparently divided on the answer to that question. It certainly poses one of the most momentous questions arising from the war.

Some time ago Russia clearly warned the United States that it favored a diplomatic solution of the problem. But if that solution was impossible, and if the United States continued to escalate the conflict, then Russia would strain every effort to supply Hanoi with the weapons it needs to continue the war. There is a disposition in some quarters to consider this as a bluff. Yet the appearance of the latest MIG21 fighter planes and sophisticated tactical 140 millimeter rockets may be portents of that Russian resolve.

The arrangement between Russia and China, some have suggested, is for the uninterrupted flow of Russian supplies across China, with North Vietnam perhaps taking custody at the Russian-Chinese border. Supplies by rail would not be subject to interdiction, under present strategy. As for Hanoi, observers say that the port is operating at full capacity and cannot handle any more ships.

For a time during the past winter Hanoi seemed disposed to welcome negotiations. At the same time the turmoil in Red China was at its height and no one was prepared to venture a prediction as to the outcome. This uncertainty may have persuaded Ho Chi Minh to moderate his attitude somewhat and look for a compromise in the event that essential supplies of food from China were cut off because of chaos there.

The new and apparently more belligerent attitude adopted in recent weeks by Ho could be explained by an agreement between Russia and China to guarantee him the food and sinews of war he needs. If such an agreement has in fact been consummated, then a dangerous new phase of the war may lie ahead.

The Expressive Language

Music Week means much to Big Spring and this area, for music is one of the most effective binding forces, the best understood media of communication, the common ground of appreciation for talent and for feeling.

Of all the spectacular gains that we might boast about, none has been more pronounced than our strides in music during the past three decades. To be sure we have a long way to go in many areas of achievement, but we should not lose sight of the distance which we have travelled in greater public appreciation of good music, the increased number of instrumentalists and vocalists, and the demand for and support given to quality programs of music.

Our community is richer culturally because of these gains, but it is richer in so many other ways because of the deeper and greater popularity of music that says something, that expresses the great emotional tides, that captures the spirit of the times.

Perhaps this is why much of the music of the past decade or so has been so restless, so seemingly frustrated, so uninhibited, or why it has brought back the ballad of the folk. This is important; it is the link with the past through the great melodies and classical compositions; the stirring marches and overtures; the quiet nocturnes and the capricious dances.

Today, as in the past, music will find its own bridges to the future. Perhaps we may yet travail in the birth of some mighty work of hope to match the undying oratorios and anthems, the great masses and movements of the past. If our searching can coagulate into solid beliefs, then our music can somehow express it.

Holmes Alexander No-Win Aspect Of The Moon Race

WASHINGTON — There never was such a paradoxical contest as the Moon Race. We are not trying to "win it" in the ordinary sense. We are trying to make the Russians stop behaving like Russians.

Only if we fall in this primary objective, do we turn to the second objective, which is the popularly accepted, and intensely advertised one called "getting there first."

IT HAS TAKEN a newcomer to the Senate, Edward Brooke (R., Mass.) to straighten these priorities out.

It was Brooke's skill as a cross-examiner of NASA Administrator James Webb which brought out the astonishing fact that we would rather de-Russify the Russians than defeat them in the Moon Dash. Brooke asked Webb to explain the "danger" of failure in the lunar program, and Webb contrasted the USA and USSR as Moon Racers.

THE USA: "The image we are giving to the world is that we will use this technology together with them (the world's peoples) to have power together."

The USSR: "The Russians are giving the image that they want the power over them (the world's people) to require others to do what they (the Russians) want."

When Brooke asked if Webb would be willing to "join the Russians," Webb said that he would—but only if the Russians would surrender "the power to withhold some area of development which would, in fact, then destroy the ability to move forward with the whole (world)." In different words, we would consider ourselves satisfied if only the Russians would stop behaving the way they do.

THIS INTERPRETATION of the meaning of the Moon Race, it seems to me, puts the contest into the category of diplomacy. The huge endeavor to land our astronauts on the moon becomes essentially the same as our endeavors to talk the Russians into disarmament, into being peace-brokers in Vietnam, into being peace partners at the United Nations, into being friendly traders and earnest partners for the advancement of universal health and happiness.

TO REPEAT, only if we fail to form a co-op in lunar activities, do we care whether or not we reach the moon ahead of the Communist Cosmonauts. There is, of course, almost no hope by administrator Webb or anybody else in authority that the U.S.S.R. will do what we wish. But every now and then, we do something which is intended to trap them into brotherly relations. One almost-unknown example of this is shown in Article X of the Space Treaty, lately ratified by the Senate. Article X promises a "basic of equality" in obtaining worldwide tracking stations which the U.S.S.R. very much desires for its space programs. In the fuzzy language of the treaty, "equality" could mean that Russia can demand tracking stations in Australia, South Africa and wherever else that we have them. Or the "equality" clause could also mean (and this is what NASA says it means) that Russians would have to give up secrecy (stop behaving like Russians) if they want any overseas tracking stations.

IT IS A strange sort of competition on our part, and yet a familiar one, too. For like so many of our policies toward communism, this one contains a furtive factor of "no-win," a preference for negotiation, a substitute for victory, a yen to accommodate. Unfortunately, these sentiments are not shared by our Communist rival, which put us at considerable disadvantage.

Will U.S. Risk Its Existence To Save Formosa?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The public mind is so occupied by Vietnam that it is hardly any talk of what lies beyond it even though what lies beyond it will haunt this country for years to come.

Red China, for instance. A bit of the future was mentioned Tuesday by President Johnson—but without dwelling on it, as if it could be taken for granted forever.

HE WAS at a luncheon honoring Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's right-hand man on Formosa, C. K. Yen, vice president and premier of Nationalist China, with which this country has a mutual defense agreement.

Johnson said this country is committed to the defense of Formosa, which was just stating the obvious since this has been the case ever since the United States, after first wanting nothing to do with it, took Formosa under its wing during the Korean War.

IT IS AN alliance tested in time of war, tempered by our struggle against forces that would have destroyed us both, said Johnson, without mentioning Red China or communism.

As a nation the Red Chinese are still in their infancy. They didn't take over mainland China until 1949, which is when Chiang and such forces as he had left, fled to Formosa.

But the revolutionary fanatics, like Mao Tse-tung, are still alive.

And the American war against their next-door neighbors, the North Vietnamese Communists, is something like the barrier President Harry S. Truman set up in Europe with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to stop the spread of Soviet communism.

NATO SERVED another purpose in holding communism back: It gave that revolutionary fanatic, Joseph Stalin, time to die. The American war in Vietnam, a similar holding action, is giving the early Red Chinese fanatics time to die.

In the Soviet Union more moderate men took over after Stalin, although that was almost 40 years after their revolution, a period long enough for the Soviets to come out of primitiveness by industrializing and modernizing.

IT WAS ALSO long enough for new generations of Soviets to develop different motivations. Scientists, managers, party workers found security and well-paying jobs.

This is enough to take the revolutionary zeal out of most people for now they had selfish, personal reasons for wanting to preserve what they had obtained and valued the good life more than revolution, war and chaos.

This is probably the basic reason why the Soviets are easier to get along with now. But Red China, trying to modernize in a hurry, is still pretty much in its original primitive condition.

IN TIME some of the conservatism which overtook the Soviets may do the same to the Chinese, when the zealots like Mao are gone, and life and jobs are better.

But by that time they should be a heavily armed nation, with enough nuclear power to lay this country to waste. By then the Vietnamese war should be settled with, perhaps, the Americans gone from Asia.

Psychiatrists Pampered

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The most pampered husbands in America are psychiatrists. Their wives are usually quiet women who rarely nag them, perhaps because they realize it is unfair to pick on a man who has spent his entire day listening to the torments and complaints of other women.

YOUTH is the time for reading long books. The only books more than 350 pages long that are worth reading after the age of 50 are the dictionary, the Bible, the collected works of William Shakespeare, and perhaps the telephone directory.

Girls who walk with their toes turned outward are usually better-tempered than those who walk with their toes turned in—but I don't know why.

A MAN can fool either his wife or his secretary, but no man is smart enough to keep them both fooled.

However else one may rate the 20th century, it is certainly the noisiest one in the history of the world. The big question is whether the next century will be the most silent — after a big bang.

OLD AGE is that time of life when a woman can't make up her mind which she enjoys more — going to a nice wedding or a good funeral.

Four out of five people who drink tea prefer it with milk, but 10 out of 10 restaurant waitresses go right on bringing you tea with a slice of lemon alongside. Why? Lemon is good only in iced tea.

THE GREAT majority of old maids don't have freckles. A girl with freckles rarely has trouble getting married. Men find them more irresistible than dimpled elbows.

An old-fashioned fellow is one who still stubbornly insists on using a handkerchief to blow his nose.

It isn't against the law for a public speaker to talk more than 20 minutes, but it should be. And anyone who tortures an audience for more than half an hour should be arrested and flung into jail without bail.

MOST millionaires have a phobia against old and wrinkled paper money. They like to carry crisp new bills.

What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar that doesn't cost more than two for a quarter.

Around The Rim Vanished Sentinel Of The Prairie

When I was in knee pants and had more freckles than a guinea egg, nearly every kid at some time or another had a prairie dog for a pet.

YOU COULD either trade off a broken knife, a Bull Durham sack full of marbles or some other valuable treasure for one, or you could do as most of us did — trap one. This usually meant trapping several, for only the young were considered fit pets on the theory that they were tameable and teachable.

This wasn't too difficult a chore. You built a long rectangular box, small enough in girth to be stuffed in a prairie dog hole. Over the top end you tacked a piece of screen, preferably half wire. The bottom end contained a door on leather hinges which swung inward. As a prairie dog came out of his hole, he pushed the door up, and then seeing light ahead through the screen, proceeded up the inside of the trap. The door dropped behind him and he had it.

I NEVER HAD much luck taming, much less training, one of the critters. I lost heart after sticking my hand under the lexbox to fish out my retreating pet. All he did was plant his front teeth through my forefinger.

But they are interesting creatures, and highly social. There weren't any loners among the prairie dogs, for invariably they gathered in towns. In the early days, some of these achieved fantastic size. Sometime they would be half a mile wide and maybe extend for miles. In some instances they were so spaced that for practical purposes a town might go for a hundred miles. Prairie dogs got so thick on the upper high plains between the Arkansas and Platte rivers that the land was not fit for anything else.

RANCHERS HATED them with a passion. Prairie dog holes were a menace for horses, and many a good mount had to be shot because of a broken leg from stepping into a dog hole. Moreover, cynomys ludovicianus had a yen for the same forage that cattle depended upon. Researchers steadfastly maintained that eight of them could eat as much forage as a cow. Cattlemen carried more weight than naturalists, and in 1903 the Texas legislature passed a local option law permitting counties to poison prairie dogs. In counties which adopted the plan, every landowner was held responsible for poisoning on his place. Dud Singleton said he spent $4,000 at a dime a hole on his Slash L ranch in Lynn County.

SOME FED poisoned grain. Later, the harder way was to soak a ball of cotton in bisulfide of carbon and roll it down the hole. This heavy gas suffocated the dogs in their burrows.

These mammals were reddish brown on top with whiter hair on the lower side and sometime reached a length of a foot. They put a mound around the top of the hole to keep water from washing down. They dug down a dozen feet or more (some so deep that natives swore a prairie dog town was a sign the rodents had dug to water). Then the dogs dug lateral burrows up at a slight angle (which kept any water from getting to them).

SNAKES FREQUENTED the holes as did badgers. Predatory birds hung around to pick off the young. As man pushed back these and other natural enemies, the prairie dogs really flourished.

Ultimately, man-ridden the pastures of them. It is rare now to spot the little sentinel with his beady eyes peering over his hillock to spy on man, or to hear him puncture the silence of the range with his shrill bark.

The Power To Destroy A Business

WASHINGTON—Maybe the death of the World Journal Tribune in New York City will focus national attention now on some little-known facts about American business. For in many other kinds of enterprises, too, people are thrown out of work and heavy financial losses are incurred due to the same reasons that have just caused 2,600 persons to lose their jobs on a daily newspaper which — though it had 700,000 circulation on weekdays and 900,000 on Sundays — found itself compelled to end operations.

TWO BASIC CONCEPTS—collective bargaining and fair competition—are not being applied effectively by federal and state laws. The power to destroy a business today is in the hands of relatively small groups of individuals. Monopoly and combinations of trusts in "restraint of trade" are punishable — but not when instigated by labor-union leaders.

THE UNREALISTIC levels of wages forced upon weaker competitors by labor-union strategy have cut down the total number of newspapers in the United States by nearly 50 per cent over the last few decades, notwithstanding a large increase in population. The labor unions have insisted on uniform wage scales in each city no matter what damage may be done to marginal producers, whether of newspapers or of many other products of a business cannot inflict direct damage on competitors and then force either a merger or the termination of an enterprise. But labor unions can do all this and escape punishment.

IN MANY PARTS of the country, afternoon newspapers have thrived, while a newspaper from another city in the area covers the morning field. It was assumed that the World Journal Tribune, which achieved a 700,000 circulation as an afternoon newspaper, would have a good chance to prosper. But labor costs were prohibitive. The management now reveals that the losses exceeded five million dollars in the last several months and says that almost the same amount of deficiency per month in the next three years was in prospect due to the heavy wage rates imposed by new contracts with labor unions.

THERE MIGHT have been success in New York City for a newspaper of specialized appeal in the afternoon field if labor expenses could have been held down for a few years while the publishers concentrated on attracting a market of middle or high-income readers. Union policies, however, prevented such an experiment.

What, then, is the answer to the dilemma? It lies in the use of the profits provided they were willing to keep wage levels down when losses developed.

A BIG OPPORTUNITY for an increase in the number of jobs in America could arise if unions would agree to abandon the uniformity idea in wage rates and let each contract be negotiated separately on the basis of a profit-sharing plan.

Why shouldn't employees share profits if they, too, take risks? The answer is that, where they agree to do so, the profits average over a period of time a compensation far above any wage scales set by the unions.

THERE WOULD be fewer mergers today in America and more businesses and more employees if collective bargaining were strictly regulated so that employees in companies with high expenses and low margins of gross profit could make their products better and at less expense. They could at times even sell at lower prices than their competitors. This is the essence of fair competition—and freedom of private enterprise.

Guideposts Slowly Fade Away

NEW YORK (AP) — The administration is now suggesting that wage-price guideposts, which some economists, editors, businessmen and government officials had consigned to the past, will be present in the future.

The guideposts have never been dead, Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, told a business writers' meeting. If they were dead, well, they'll be disinterred. The point is unimportant.

WHAT IS important is that some of those to whom the guideposts apply believe the posts might as well be buried for all the guidance they give. The main feature still calls for voluntary restraint. It is hardly more specific.

This puts a great responsibility on business and labor. Is it too much for them? Do they need more guidance? Business, at least, is urged by law to compete. And it is asked by guideposts to restrain itself.

TWO VERY powerful, and in some way contradictory, forces are involved: Restraint for the common good of wage and price stability, and competition for the private goal of the greatest profit.

In the past the guideposts have had some success in warding off inflation. But things were different then. The economy was expanding rapidly, and so workers had their high wages and business had its profits.

THE ECONOMY has slowed some. And now also the guideposts are as indistinct as a curbstone in a blizzard.

In general, guideposts work on the belief that price levels will not rise in an inflationary way if labor's wage gains do not exceed productivity gains, and if business keeps its level of profits constant.

IN BOTH 1965 and 1966 this gain in productivity was pegged at 3.2 per cent. This was the average annual increase in output per man-hour for private industry for a five-year period.

Workers were expected not to exceed this in their wage demands. An industry which achieved this average was deemed capable of paying such a raise. And if the industry had ever larger gains it should consider a price cut.

NOW, HOWEVER, the formula has been violated time and time again. And the specific guide of 3.2 per cent has been dropped, either as outdated or because it was so abused. What is left is a formula but not a guide.

The administration now says the next step in revitalizing the guideposts must be taken soon, but it does not say what this step will be or when it will be taken or even who should take the initiative in devising it.

Fashionable Look Is Not Perfect

Perfection is often a bore so don't try for it in fashion. What you want is interest, appeal and pizzazz. First, decide how you want to look and then work to look that way. If you're unhappy about your hair or make-up, learn what's wrong and correct it.

Shop for the dress you're going to wear to that special party with a definite idea of what you want. Worry about details. Be sure that all your accessories are right for the cut and color of your dress. Also, make certain that your lingerie creates a smooth top line.

Need For Teachers Cited At P-TA Meet

"Texas' need for teachers is critical," said Keith Swin, guest speaker, at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Kentwood Parent - Teacher Association at the school.

"The pay scale in Texas ranks very low with other states," continued Swin, "and we can expect 15,000 teachers to leave the profession during the year."

Swin went on to say that beginning teacher's salaries in many states are higher than those holding a masters' degree in Texas.

Swin further said that the Head Start program has been most successful and that it is done with federal aid. He cited the purpose of Head Start to be the enrichment of the children's lives, and their preparation for school. The hope of the program is that the children will graduate from high school and become self-supporting citizens.

Wider Parking Spaces, Expanded Program OK'd

Unanimous approval was given a plan to widen the parking spaces in the 200 block of Main by City Commissioners Tuesday evening, and a proposal to extend the program into the 300 and 400 blocks squeaked by on a 2-1 vote.

A large delegation of downtown businessmen, led by Adolph Swartz, president of Downtown Big Spring Inc., urged the commission to continue the improvement and beautification project downtown, including "straight-in" parking in the 300 and 400 blocks of Main, and installing clover-leaf walkways at the intersection of Fourth and Main — the same as at Third and Main.

OVER $8,500
Ernest Lillard, public works director, said the entire intersection would have to be rebuilt in order to provide adequate drainage, and estimated the cost at $8,513.50, not including new sidewalks at the intersection. He said the cost of changing the parking angle would be negligible.

Lillard's recommendation on parking for the 300 block would include 56 spaces, each 10 feet wide, where there are now 46 spaces. In the 400 block, he recommends the same with for 31 spaces, where there are now 24.

Swartz recalled the back-round of the downtown improvement program, which began with a study made by City Planner Marvin Springer in 1962. He discussed the importance of the downtown area, and pointed out it is primarily an "upgrading," not a beautification project.

PARTICIPATION
He said downtown businessmen have put over $100,000 into the work that has been done thus far, which has included the new parking lot at Second and Main, and the rebuilding of the 200 block of Main. The sidewalk in the 300 and 400 blocks are considered adequate as they are, he said, and no additional expense is needed for these.

"All of us benefit," he reminded the commissioners, "and our original plans did not call for a one-block deal. It would be a shame to stop now."

Dr. Lee Rogers, former mayor or city commissioner, agreed that the program should be continued. All of the downtown area should be improved in an orderly manner, he said, and the merchants have already made a big contribution.

"This is only the start," said Robert W. Whiskey, "the big part of the program is still ahead. It can't be done overnight, but we don't want the project to die." He agreed assessments should be made when the time comes and if they are necessary.

Mayor Arnold Marshall said the project appeared to fit into the over-all program for downtown, expressing his approval. Carroll Davidson, chamber of

Mannequins Get Haircuts

A vandalism report and a theft were listed by police Tuesday.

Mrs. Valta Reeves, 2214 Lynn, advised police that someone had forced the back door to her beauty shop at 611 Main and had cut the hair of four mannequins used in training. Each mannequin was valued at $58, for a total loss of $232.

Molra Henry, 3308 US 80 west, reported she parked her vehicle behind the I'll Do Lounge, and when she checked on the car Tuesday, both license plates were gone.

Minor Accidents Are Reported

Four minor accidents were reported to police Tuesday.

A three car smash-up at FM 700 and US 87 south caused no injuries. Joseph T. Holten, 2204 Carl; Nancy Green Ingram, 1307 Mt. Vernon; and George Wallace Kelley, 101 Carey, were drivers of the cars.

Jim Bill Parker, 1608 Stadium, and Evelyn H. Willford, 1606 Main, collided at 1607 Main. Betty Dalton, 1501 Johnson, and John Lee Bevis, 1006 Goliad, were in collision at the Greyhound Depot. Mrs. Sam Mellinger, 423 Hillside, was involved in a crash with the parked car of James W. Edward, 809 E. 16th, at the Gibson's parking lot.

Water District Directors Meet

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will convene here at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in a session that is expected to result in approval of a water contract with Stanton. The board previously gave tentative approval to the pact, which was unchanged when Stanton city councilmen approved it.

Trustees Meet

The board of trustees for Howard County Junior College was to convene at 5 p.m. today in the Dora Roberts Student Union building in a routine session.

Commerce manager; John Currie and Robert Currie, with the State National Bank, indicated their support.

SUPPORT
Swartz told the commission that all of the city's banking institutions and all the utility companies were among the 86 firms and individuals backing the project.

Commissioner Jimmy Morehead, who voted against it, said the previous work in the 200 block was done under an assessment program, but the proposed project will have the city paying for all the construction. Also, he added, there was a bad situation of high curbs in the 200 block which was remedied by the program. He also expressed opposition to the clover-leaf walkways at the intersections.

He agreed that a downtown improvement program is needed and should be expanded, expressing only his disapproval of the particular plan at hand and the method of financing.

NOT POPULAR

Commissioner Walter Stroup added that the new parking angle is not popular with many housewives.

City Manager Larry Crow told the commissioners that $6,000 has been budgeted for the program, but that he could find the additional money to pay for it if approved by the commission.

Garner McAdams made the motion for approval, which was seconded by Stroup. On the vote, McAdams and Stroup favored the motion with Morehead voting against it. George Zachariah was absent from the meeting. Commissioners ordered the parking spaces in the 200 block widened from the present 9.03 feet to 10.37 feet, in an effort to make parking easier. There are now 62 parking spaces in the block and the change will leave 54 spaces.

Architect Gets Green Light For 2 Jobs

The architect has been instructed to proceed at once with final plans and specifications looking toward the immediate advertisement for bids for an annex to the new school administration building and construction of the field house at the old football field north of the high school.

The board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Tuesday night discussed the two projects with Jimmy Fox, who appeared for the architects. The school district will spend $50,000 building the annex to the Barr Building to afford additional space for the administration office. The sketches provided were approved, with some minor suggestions, and the architect will now push ahead with plans for bids.

The field house at the old football field, 102 feet by 40 feet, was approved and, with the addition of a few more shower stalls, will probably be built as suggested by the architect. The cost of this is to run about $31,000.

Plans for a fence around the old field, at a cost of $5,000, completion of dirt work, removal of old foundations, steel and other obstacles, $3,850 and renovation of the old baseball area for $3,000 was approved. Irrigation installation for the practice football field on H.C.J. property at $5,000 also was ordered.

DR. JACK TYSON
Dentist Leaves Hospital Post

Dr. Jack A. Tyson will leave his position of dentist at the Veterans Hospital May 19 when he will assume duties as resident in prosthodontics at the VA Hospital in Perry Point, Md., for 14 months, then to the VA Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

Dr. Tyson attended "Ole Miss" for his undergraduate study, and attended the University of Tennessee for his dental work. He practiced for four years in Holly Springs, Miss., and joined the VA Hospital in Big Spring in 1965.

Dr. Tyson and his wife Helen have three children, Mary Ann (5), Sarah (4), and Helen (3). His wife was employed at Webb AFB, and both are members in the First Methodist Church. Dr. Tyson is a member of the Big Spring Golf Association.

A motion was adopted to send Ivey a letter of appreciation for his services and expressing the board's regret at his departure from the school system.

The board discussed at some length the swimming program in the school. The school has a working deal with the YMCA to make use of the pool there and certain difficulties in the operation exist which have not been satisfactorily worked out.

In Lewis' letter of resignation, he said pool time is inadequate. He also said that if the employment of a girl swimming coach is prohibitive that he regarded it as most important the swimming teacher be provided with a sponsor.

The board pondered the probability that the program be dropped, since there are so

Knott Residents Turn Out To Show Judges Their Town

By SAM BLACKBURN

KNOTT — Everybody in the three Knotts, with the exception of a possible few who were ill and the younger residents who were in school, gathered at the Community Building here Tuesday afternoon for the official judging of the community improvement program for 1966.

How the community came out (it is in competition with Fluvanna for top prize in District 2) will not be known probably for several days, but the Knott residents were highly hopeful victory would be theirs.

OVER 60
More than 60 men and women gathered in the community building for the meeting. Despite the 103 degree weather outside and a dusty wind which whipped sand across some of the plowed fields, Knott residents were on hand to proudly point out and describe all improvements accomplished in the past year.

Judges on hand were Mrs. Aubrey Russell, district extension home demonstration agent; Bill Gunter, district extension farm agent; and Bill Braden, information specialist, all of Lubbock, and Mrs. Juanette Gentry, home demonstration agent for Garza County.

J. E. Peugh presided at the opening session, introducing the guests. He called on several leaders in the community to tell the judges of the community activities which have been accomplished in the past year.

RECREATION
Donald Allred discussed recreational activities. A popular feature of this program has been volleyball, which is carried on two nights each week in the gym of the Knott school. Little League baseball is a big item and the community has suited up two teams. The cooperative gym has rigged up a "club room" for the men of the community. They meet here for discussion of farm problems and play dominoes. A riding club, organized by the community improvement committee, has a wide following.

Robert Brown discussed the successful program of the 4-H Clubs in the Knott area, citing their many victories in all types of competition. He also mentioned the signs which the 4-H Clubbers have erected to guide visitors to Knott. He pointed out that while the basic operation of the Knott area is dry land farming, some experimentation in irrigation is under way.

Jerry Roman told the judges about the community's three churches. All the church buildings, he said, have been repaired and renovated in the past year.

"Since we lost our school to Ackerly through consolidation, we have managed, through this program, to regain our community," he stated.

BLOOD BANK

Larry Shaw told of the Knott walking blood bank. Every resident of the community has been bloodtyped, he said, and all cards indexed at the community center. Mrs. Cecil Allred has charge of the blood bank, and in any emergency can muster blood donors in rapid fashion.

Mrs. Joe-Mac Gaskins, who has been a leader in the program, was presented and thanked those who have helped carry it on.

A tour followed the meeting. The judges, and all of those at the open meeting, visited the feeding operations conducted by Joe Myers. They also took time to visit Mrs. Myers' beautiful flower beds.

Cattle and feed lots at the Lloyd Robinson farm were visited and at the Cecil Allred farm, the tour inspected the first purebred Charolais cattle to be established in the county. A few three Allred cows — the first pure-bred calf of this breed ever to be born in this county.

Irrigation operation at the John H. Jones farm were inspected and at the Jack Hopper farm, where there is a big swimming pool, the visitors saw the focal point for numerous community gatherings in the summer time. Hopper's new barn was also inspected.

YARD, ORCHARD
Donald Nichols' yard and orchard was viewed and Mr. and Mrs. Gaskins took the group on a tour of their new home now under construction.

Back at the community house, refreshments were served. A display of handicraft and record books was inspected by the judges, and the Knott Gym was visited.

Lawlis told the board he had been at Kermit for six years and that his record there was clear of any complaints from parents or officials. He added that the school administration had received no complaints about the cafeteria service.

He is a college graduate with a degree in education. He is a captain in the U.S. Army reserve and prior to operating school cafeterias, had worked in Luby's and other restaurants and cafeterias.

Lawmakers Deal With Bureaucracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes Congress deals directly with the foibles of bureaucracy.

So it was that Wilbur J. Cohen, undersecretary of health, education and welfare, had to turn 24 copies of a HEW publication from a hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee. Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., told Cohen the department mailed to the subcommittee 25 copies of a $1 tract called Research and Education. The committee needs only one copy, Flood said, and had so informed HEW Secretary John W. Gardner several weeks ago. HEW continued to mail 25 copies. "This is a very expensive operation," Flood told Cohen. "We do not need any more. You just cannot get off of this treadmill. We did not ask for them and we do not want them. Do you want to take them home?" Cohen took them and vowed HEW's mailing list would be straightened out. The incident occurred at a closed hearing last month. The transcript was made public Tuesday.

In The Future, What's Up Front Doesn't Count

How the Twiggy is bent, so goes womanhood. right, is out, and the almost shapeless shape of British model Twiggy, left, is the shape of things to come. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Twiggy Represents Shape Of Future?

NEW YORK (AP) — The shape of feminine things — to come looks more like Twiggy than Sophia Loren, says Marshall McLuhan, the Canadian professor whose theories on communications have assumed the status of prophecy on Madison Avenue.

"Forms of womanhood like Sophia Loren have had it," McLuhan said Tuesday at his first recording date.

Of Twiggy, the skeletal British model, he explained, "You see, she's not a picture, she's an X-ray. She's geometrical, abstract."

McLuhan, 55, a professor at Toronto University, is the author of the best-selling book "The Medium is the Message" which contends it is more how you say it than what you say that counts in the electronic age.

Texas Heat Marks Set

By The Associated Press

Hot air billowed northward across Texas today to reinforce assaults on spring heat records.

The mercury hit highs ranging up to a sizzling 110 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend country Tuesday, and no relief was in sight.

Brisk south winds herded warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico inland over East and Central Texas, while hotter and dryer air flowed northward from Mexico across West Texas.

The weather calmed at least temporarily as a front stalled diagonally across the state through areas near Orange, Abilene and Dalhart.

Aside from the scorcher at Presidio, top marks Tuesday included San Angelo 105, Laredo 104, Wink 103 and Junction and Midland 101. The San Angelo and Midland readings set new records for the date.

Forecasts held out a possibility of thunderstorms by evening in Northwest Texas and isolated showers by Thursday in Southwest Texas. No moisture was predicted in other sections.

Long range predictions, covering the next five days, called for temperatures averaging up to eight or 10 degrees above normal in the central and east parts of the state and five above elsewhere. Scattered showers were expected in Central and East Texas.

Muzzle-Loaders Set Matches

The Texas Muzzle Loading Rifle Association will hold its 21st annual championship matches June 9-11 at their Kenneth Medlock Range at Brady Lake near Brady.

More than 100 shooters from all over the state are expected to attend as well as several from Oklahoma, Ohio and Colorado. Sixty matches make up the program for the shoot. Medals will be given for the first three places in each match.

Both authentic muzzle loading weapons and custom reproductions will be used. Many of the shooters build their own guns. Some contestants, including women, will dress in period costume.

Registration for the shoot is $2, plus $1, for each match entered. A $20 package deal allows a shooter to enter every match he is eligible to shoot. Additional information may be had from Elvin Brown, 1709 Owens.

Students Visit In Courthouse

Howard County Courthouse was invaded by an army of school kids today. There were 360 boys and girls in the building.

They were being sent through in groups of 60 and their tours covered the county building from basement to rooftop. A. N. Standard, sheriff, said that he doubted if the county jail had ever had as many visitors in one day as it is having today.

Reports To Jail For Six Months

Jimmy Crosson, whose probation six months jail sentence was revoked last week by Judge Lee Porter, in County Court, reported to Sheriff A. N. Standard today and was placed in jail, where he will remain six months. The judge had told Crosson he could report Tuesday to begin his sentence.

Crosson is the second person whose probation sentence has been set aside by the court since probation was made possible in county court cases.

TEXANS AT WAR

Sighted Foe, Killed Same

By The Associated Press

The Vietnam conflict was four months of frustration, four shots fired in anger, one dead "Charlie," a blinding explosion and pain for Texan at War—Pvt. Floyd E. Atkinson, 24, of Houston.

Atkinson was grenadier for a heavy weapons platoon stationed 35 miles northwest of Saigon from April to August last year. He carried his heavy grenade launcher for miles through dense jungle during dozens of field maneuvers.

FRUSTRATING HUNTS

Yet he saw only one of the enemy and Atkinson killed him.

"We set up an ambush in the jungle and he came popping out all by himself," the private said. "I fired four rounds and got him."

The rest of his time in Vietnam, he said, was spent in a frustrating search for an enemy to fight.

"We would go out on a problem planned to last two days," he recalled, "and it would last two to three weeks because Charlie (the Viet Cong) wouldn't move where we wanted him."

HIT EVERYWHERE

After weeks in the jungle, he said, his outfit would come back to its base camp, its weapons unfired, the enemy unsighted.

Then last August the enemy came to them.

"We were out on patrol and were setting up base camp when the First Platoon got hit," Atkinson said.

"The mortars came in on us. I got hit. I was about six to eight feet from where the shell hit. I got hit everywhere."

Nieland Named A&M Commander

COLLEGE STATION — Jeffrey C. Nieland, Big Spring, has been named a unit commander in the corps of cadets at Texas A&M University for the 1967-68 school year.

Fourteen Air Force ROTC squadrons, 16 Army ROTC companies, the Maroon and White Bands comprise basic units of the 3,000-cadet Corps. The 60 to 90-student units will be commanded by cadet majors. Cadet officer ranks is held by seniors.

Nieland, son of Col. C. C. Nieland, 2806 Apache Drive, Big Spring, has been named commander of Squadron 6. The junior pre-medical major was cadet sergeant of Squadron 6 this year. He is a graduate of Oxon Hill High, Oxon Hill, Md.

Four Named In Thefts Of Merchandise

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said today he had filed charges of embezzlement against two men and theft against two others in connection with alleged removal of merchandise from the store and warehouse of Montgomery Ward Co. here.

Burns said that embezzlement charges have been filed against Max Yocum, who is being held in the county jail in lieu of $1,500 bond and Herb Werner, who has not been arrested. Bond is to be set in the theft charge against Stanley Owens, who has been arrested here, and Russell Williamson, who is in jail at Odessa on a local warrant.

Burns said all of the men are former employees of Ward's here. The alleged removal of appliances, sporting goods, clothing and other articles, the district attorney has been informed, spans about five or six months. The amount involved, he estimated, might run to several thousands of dollars in value.

He said that the thefts and embezzlements alleged against the four were developed by investigations made by special agents of the company.

Eagles Rack Steers, 8-3

ABILENE — Abilene High took advantage of seven Big Spring errors in topping the Steers, 8-3, in a District 2-AAAA baseball game here Tuesday.

The win enabled the Eagles to gain a tie for first place in the standings, along with Abilene Cooper and Midland High, and will prevent the Steers from moving out of the cellar—no matter how they fare against San Angelo in their final game of the season in Big Spring Saturday.

The Eagles struck for five runs in the second to ice the decision.

Big Spring was held away from the mound for the sixth, when it picked up all three of its runs.

The Steers outthit the Eagles, 10-8, R. J. Englert getting three blows and Bill Burchett two for the losers.

Johnny McCullough started on the mound for Big Spring but departed in the midst of Abilene's second inning fireworks.

David Richardson picked up the mound win for Abilene, his fourth in five decisions.

Over-all, Big Spring is now 12-12 while Abilene is 16-10.

Burchett, Englert, Dean Gilstrap and Tony Martinez connected safely for Big Spring in the sixth and Big Spring picked up another run on a bobble.

Abilene and Cooper will meet Saturday while Midland High plays cross-town rival Midland Lee.

The pace-setters each boast an 8-5 won-lost record.

Houston To Host Patterson Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — The eight-man heavyweight elimination tournament looks like a tidy little package, but in the wide world of boxing even the angles have angles.

This is the way Mike Malitz, president of the newly-formed Sports Action, Inc., has it lined up in his schedule book:

July 15—Floyd Patterson, New York, vs. Oscar Bonavena, Argentina, at the Houston Astrodome.

Aug 4-5—Ernie Terrell, Chicago, vs. Jimmy Ellis, Louisville, Ky.

Sept. 2-16—Joe Frazier, Philadelphia, vs. George Chuvalo, Toronto.

Sept. 16-Oct. 7—Karl Mildenberger, West Germany, vs. Thad Spencer, San Francisco, in Frankfurt, Germany.

Tentatively the semifinals would be held Oct. 21 and Dec. 2 and the finals in late January, 1968.

But no contracts are signed. So much for the planning board. If things work out, the fights would be held late Saturday afternoon and would be carried on home television with the finals reserved for closed circuit television.

However, and this is a capital letter HOWEVER, Cassius Clay still is on the premises. Although he has been stripped of his title by the New York State Athletic Commission and other groups, he is out on bail after pleading "not guilty" to a federal grand jury indictment on charges of refusing to be drafted into the armed forces. It is extremely doubtful if he can fight in the United States.

Clay, who prefers his Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, wants to fight Chuvalo in Montreal and there is talk of bouts with Leotis Martin in Stockholm and possibly Spencer or Patterson in Tokyo during the summer.

U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Conally in Houston said Clay would have to ask court permission for any trip outside the United States.

Chuvalo's manager, Irv Ungerman, said in Toronto he was "very, very eager" for a Clay bout but added "we'll try to fight Frazier in the elimination tournament."

One of the keys is the unbeaten Frazier, who so far has not agreed to participate in the tournament for which each first-round fighter will get a guarantee of $50,000.

Grice and Rusty Hull dented the plate for the winners.

Being Bilingual Is Helpful To Carew

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The advice Rod Carew gets doesn't go in one ear and out the other. Both ears are too busy listening—one ear to one language and the other ear to another.

Sometimes, however, Carew's bat does the talking, such as Tuesday night when he rapped three hits, giving him eight in two nights, as Minnesota crushed Washington 11-1.

Carew is an American who was born in Panama and learned Spanish fluently before moving to Brooklyn. As a result of his bilingual ability, the 21-year-old second baseman gets advice in Spanish from his Latin teammates and advice in English from his U.S. teammates.

Sometimes the advice comes during a game—even during a pitch.

"Once," the rookie explained, "Cesar Tovar yelled, 'Mira el toque,' from center field while Harmon Killebrew was telling me to be heads up from first base. Tovar was telling me to watch for the bunt. I expect both so I've been able to handle it."

Carew also has been able to handle American League pitching, and it's partly because he's listened so well.

"They told me in spring training to take the bat off my shoulder and swing," the left-handed hitter said. "That's what I've been doing. Tovar and Tony Oliva told me to just go up there and stroke the ball. Don't try to hit it out of the park."

"It's paying off so far. I never thought I would do this well. But the guys tell me they're going to keep falling in."

The hits have fallen in so well so far that Carew is hitting .342, third best in the league.

Pretty soon he'll be able to start giving advice of his own—in Spanish and in English.

In other AL games, Detroit edged Cleveland 4-3, Chicago nipped Baltimore 5-4, Kansas City topped Boston 4-3 before bowing 5-2 and New York squeaked by California 2-1.

Carew stretched his streak to seven straight hits before he was given credit for a fielder's choice on a run-scoring squeeze bunt. He also drove in a run with a double while Zoilo Versalles knocked in three with two singles and Killebrew delivered two with a double and a single.

Home runs by Al Kaline, with one on, and Bill Freehan, with none on, powered Detroit past Cleveland. Catcher Duke Sims, who let in a Tiger run with a passed ball, homered for the Indians.

Chicago extended its winning streak to five games and Baltimore's losing string to five. Pitcher Gary Peters tripped in the seventh inning and scored the decisive run on Don Buford's single. Tommie Agee and Ron Hansen homered for Chicago while Boog Powell connected for the Orioles.

Kansas City won the opener of its doubleheader when Don McMahon walked Bert Campaneris with two out and the bases loaded in the eighth inning. But Boston struck back in the nightcap, scoring all five of its runs in the ninth—the last three on Carl Yastrzemski's two-out double.

The New York Yankees got just three hits against California, but two of them helped score runs.

Beard Eyeing New Challenge

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Frank Beard, the hottest golfer on the play-for-pay circuit, has both bitter and sweet memories of New Orleans.

It was here, as a struggling young pro in 1964, that he came down with the dreaded disease encephalitis and nearly lost his life.

It was here that he married his wife Pat, a pretty former airline stewardess he had met through the late Tony Lama.

And it was here that he won $20,000 as first-prize money for the 1966 $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

Beard's back to defend the title and because he has won two tournaments in the past month and $50,000 this year, he's tagged as the favorite.

Beard and most of the other pros each teamed up with three amateur partners today for the $5,000 pro-am preliminary — an event which one pro once described as "where you give out $1,000 worth of free advice and both bitter and sweet memories might win $100."

The 72-hole scramble for this year's $20,000 first prize money starts Thursday.

Others in the field include slumping Jack Nicklaus, colorful Doug Sanders, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Jay and Lionel Hebert, former British Open champ Bob Charles, Gardner Dickinson, Johnny Pott, Gene Littler and Ken Venturi.

Beard, who turned 28 just 10 days ago, made a miraculous recovery from encephalitis, which often causes permanent brain damage.

Because Father John Moore, a New Orleans priest, had befriended him, Beard wanted his marriage vows celebrated before Father Moore when he and the former Pat Roberts were married here in October 1965.

Last year, as the bespectacled Louisville shotmaker, younger brother of former Kentucky All-America basketball player Ralph Beard, won the tourney here, Pat, expecting their first child, and Father Moore were in the gallery.

"I'm standing way back here so I can pray for Frank and not disturb the playing," Father Moore confided at one point.

Pat Beard is expecting again but both she and Father Moore plan to be behind Frank when he tees off.

One of today's amateurs will be Ron Widby, Tennessee's star basketball player and punting specialist on the Vol football team. He was drafted by the National Football League's New Orleans Saints, who plan to have a representative at the course today with a contract for Widby.

Bill Lewis Quits As Swim Coach

Bill Lewis, swimming coach of the first Big Spring High School team ever fielded, has resigned, effective at the end of the current school term.

Lewis said he had accepted a position as Director of Curriculum at the Austin State School for Handicapped Children.

In making known his decision, Lewis strongly recommended to the school board that (1) more pool time be made available to the Steer swim team, (2) the school hire either a girls' coach or at least a female sponsor and (3) the teaching assignment for the swim coach be changed from Art and Health to Physical Education and Health.

Local Man Wins Midland Shoot

Bob Hanson of Midland and Harold Broughton of Big Spring each won Class 1 trophies Sunday at the Permian Basin Rifle and Pistol Club rifle tourney in Midland.

Hanson shot a 231x250-5X to win the sporter rifle tourney, while Broughton shot a 224x-250-8x to win the heavy varmint title. Actually, Broughton tied with Bob Maberry, but Maberry scored only six in the center circle to Broughton's eight.

Cooper Cougars Are Upset, 3-1

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo upset Abilene Cooper, 3-1, here Tuesday, dropping the Cougars into a first-place tie with Abilene High and Midland High.

The Cougars led with a second — line pitcher but it might not have made much difference because Harold Wood, the San Angelo hurler, was on the beam. He scattered five hits effectively.

The Cats, in winning their sixth game in 13 starts, picked up all their runs in the fifth.

Lee Vanquishes Permian, 6-4

ODESSA — Midland Lee rocked Odessa Permian, 6-4, in a District 2-AAAA encounter here Tuesday.

The win was the sixth in 13 starts for Lee. Permian has the same record.

Permian built up a 2-0 lead in the third but the Rebels struck for five tallies in the fifth.

Peasants Fight Mao Backers

TOKYO (AP) — Several hundred thousands peasants were reported today to have fought back Mao Tse-tung in Szechwan Province and more than 10,000 persons were said to have been killed or wounded in the past four weeks.

Japanese correspondents in Peking said wall posters there described the atmosphere in the Szechwan capital of Chengtu as one of "ominous uneasiness."

"Critical" and "worsening" were words used to picture the situation in Sinkiang and Honan, two other provinces where Mao's struggle to seize power has run into heavy going.

Other reports said that in Peking members of the unruly "United Action Committee" of Red Guards recently released from confinement have put up posters proclaiming "Down with Chiang Ching," Mao's wife, and "Restore honor to Liu Shao-chi and Teng Hsiao-ping."

Liu, president of China, and Teng, general secretary of the Communist party, have been the chief targets of Maoists attacks.

Well over 50 Howard County women and girls have entered the "Sew It Yourself With Cotton" contest, according to Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county home demonstration agent.

The announcement was made Monday afternoon during a meeting at the courthouse where plans for the event were finalized by committees in charge of arrangements.

Reporting on progress of the

On May 15, garments will be submitted for judging. They must be taken to the Homemaking Department at Big Spring Senior High School no later than 4 p.m. Judging will be on construction, fit and suitability of garment.

On May 16-17, garments will be judged at the school by a panel of judges, and contestants will be asked to pick up their garments between 3 and 4 p.m., May 17.

The following day, May 18, garments will be judged on the contestant, and a style show will be held that evening at 8 o'clock in the Coahoma High School Auditorium. A rehearsal will be held at 5:30 p.m. The show script will be written by Mrs. Knowles, and the narration will be by Mrs. Dean Forrest. Entertainment will be furnished by the Coahoma Border Brass.

The first place winner in each of the categories will be featured in the Friday parade. Garments must be made of 100 per cent cotton fabric, and entries will be received in the following categories:

Div. I: Children's clothing (up to 12 years of age) made by an adult or student.

Div. II: Children's clothing (up to 12 years of age) made by the child modeling the garment.

her husband, Airman I.C. David W. Lasley, who is on duty in Vietnam. He will be on his rest and recreation and will have six days in Hawaii. Mrs. Lasley, the former Cheryl Whittington, is secretary to R. H. Weaver. She and Airman Lasley were married on Sept. 17 and he reported for duty on Dec. 8 on the Vietnam assignment.

MRS. CARROLL SMITH visited here with friends during the week from her home in Roswell, N.M.

With all the delicious food on hand for test tasting at the St. Mary's Episcopal Women's tea Tuesday it would seem housewives would never have a problem of what to cook again. There was such a variety and everything looked like a picture in a book . . . in color.

Talked with MRS. DAN CONLEY at the band concert last night and was pleased to find out that the Conleys' son, James, is now at home although he is encased in a cast following surgery to remake a shattered knee cap. James called his parents from San Francisco, Calif., to tell them he was doing well and had "all the conveniences of home" with his electrically operated hospital bed. He was injured several months ago in a motor scooter automobile accident.

May 21 is the big day for MRS. DAVID W. LASLEY. That's when she departs from Midland for Los Angeles on the first leg of her trip to Honolulu, Hawaii, where she will meet
