

Treaty Said Completed For Nuclear Test Ban

Signing May Be Thursday

BLIND FATHER SAVES DAUGHTER—School teacher William Schmidt, who is blind, holds his daughter Peggy Marie, 3, as he fishes for his wife's shoes in the pool at their Temple City, Calif., home. The shoes were left in the water when Schmidt and his wife dove in to save Peggy when she almost drowned. MOSCOW (AP)—After nearly a whole day of negotiations, the nuclear test ban treaty was reportedly completed today and probably will be initiated Thursday.

Efforts to get the agreement today apparently were held up by prolonged discussions over the nonaggression pact wanted by the Russians but which cannot be negotiated by the British and American delegations here.

Earlier, Premier Khrushchev said a "racial turn toward a better international climate" could result from signing the agreement.

But Khrushchev, as quoted by Tass, again tied the test ban closely to a nonaggression pact between NATO and the Communist bloc. He did not, however, specifically say the world could not have one without the other.

The premier's views were in a letter to the heads of state of the 30 African countries which took part in the Addis Ababa conference May 2.

Tass distributed it around the world just as American, British and Soviet delegates were holding a hard working session at Spiridonovka Palace.

Western representatives had an urgent telephone call from the Soviet Foreign Ministry just before they went to the session.

Western diplomats were still hopeful the agreement could be signed today, but they cautioned newsmen there could be a slip.

It could not be learned what last minute problems the Russians had raised but the treaty draft was reported not yet complete for signing.

An air of happy triumph among the Western delegations Tuesday was modified this morning. But confidence continued that a test ban treaty would be concluded.

U. S. sources in Washington said it appeared Soviet Premier Khrushchev would not insist that a nonaggression pact unacceptable to the West accompany the test ban treaty.

It had been feared Khrushchev might demand a package deal but U. S. diplomats now expect the nonaggression pact proposal to be deferred.

Caution still prevailed, however.

Chief American negotiator W. Averell Harriman, a veteran of negotiations with Stalin as well as with Khrushchev, stressed to newsmen that treaties are finished only when they are signed.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told newsmen in Washington: "We think there is a possibility we can get an agreement."

"Negotiations will continue for a day or two, he said."

Rusk also brushed aside reports that he might go to Moscow, perhaps with a congressional delegation, to rally Senate support for the test ban agreement. The Senate must approve the treaty by at least a two-thirds majority if it is to bind the United States.

"There are no plans to go anywhere now," Rusk said after a closed-door meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Western diplomats in Moscow still feared Khrushchev might bring up something that would delay conclusion of the test agreement.

Last week he filled the negotiations with a flood of supplementary demands for a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Alliance and the Communist Warsaw Pact group, for a freeze on military spending and for a system of inspection teams at airports, railway terminals, ports and highway junctions on both sides of the Iron Curtain to guard against preparations for surprise attack.

U. S. sources believed the Russians were willing to defer all these proposals, perhaps to a summit meeting. But they were not sure.

The test ban treaty reportedly follows the lines proposed by the United States and Britain last August at the Geneva disarmament conference. Khrushchev opposed it then, saying it would tend to legalize underground tests.

Effort Made To Prevent Project

By RALEIGH ALLSBOOK

NEW YORK (AP)—Negro and white pickets lay in a muddy street with locked arms today in an effort to prevent a Brooklyn construction project.

They were seeking more building trade jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Police arrested 12 pickets five days after the start of the demonstration at the Downtown Medical Center and placed them in jail.

Eight demonstrators stayed overnight in Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office in a campaign to increase job opportunities for Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

The Brooklyn site is one of two at which police arrested 140 pickets July 10. Until today, there had been 440 arrests of pickets there and at other construction sites in the city.

Despite the new locked-arm tactics trucks were not delayed in entering the site.

Picketing also resumed at the new construction site on the lower east side of Manhattan.

Police also had a reduced force at the scene—210 officers compared with some 300 Tuesday when they blocked the entrance of construction supplies.

The Rev. Miles Calverton, one of the Negro demonstration leaders, said he did not expect too many pickets at the medical center today.

"We now block truck entrances if we see too many people on hand," he said.

Group Head Quits Post

CAMBRIDGE, MA. (AP)—The president of this racially divided community's leading business group resigned today after its directors announced their opposition to an equal accommodations amendment to the town charter.

The split threatened to offset the effects of the new agreement signed in Washington Tuesday by Negro and white leaders in an attempt to solve the town's explosive racial problems.

Levi R. Phillips Jr., head of the Dorchester Business and Citizens Association, said he was quitting because the association's directors had voted to bring the amendment to a public vote, then to work for its defeat on the referendum.

He thereby joined Mayor Calvin M. Mowbray and other town officials who had expressed hope that the amendment would be permitted to take effect next month.

Phillips' announcement came after directors of the association disclosed that nearly 700 members voted unanimously at a Monday meeting to support a drive to petition the amendment to a referendum.

These developments followed a general easing of Cambridge racial tension as a result of a 24-hour-old agreement.

The agreement was signed Tuesday in the Washington office of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy after nearly 10 hours of negotiations between Negro leaders and Maryland and Cambridge officials. The pact says it "is considered as imposing a moral obligation . . . to abide by and fully support the spirit and intention of this agreement."

Negroes have agreed to halt demonstrations indefinitely because "further progress can best be obtained in an atmosphere of calm and security."

The agreement points out that racial progress in this city of 12,600 has been made and there are prospects for more tangible accomplishments.

It lists appointment of a biracial committee, hiring of a Negro interviewer at the State Department of Employment Security's Cambridge office, complete school desegregation by September, and the Negro center housing project.

The agreement also calls for a general easing of Cambridge racial tension as a result of a 24-hour-old agreement.

Chamber To Seek State School Here

R. C. Patton, President of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, announced today the Snyder Chamber last month took action to place before the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools the proposal that Snyder be considered as a possible site for a proposed school for mentally retarded children to be located in West Texas.

Patton stated the announcement was delayed because of the work being done on the proposed junior college and the element of time involved in each.

Patton further stated that, in his opinion, Snyder will have to put forth an effort on the proposed school for mentally retarded children similar to that being done for the junior college if the community is going to have any measure of success. Some 25 communities, including metropolitan cities of West Texas, are vying for the proposed state school according to reports.

In a letter from Raymond W. Yowell, executive director of the board, Yowell said, "Based on past experience the Board will establish a criteria for the requirements of the site. Each of the several communities who have expressed an interest in providing a site will be furnished a copy of this criteria. In the past the Board has appointed a Site Selection Committee and they have inspected each site offered. Presently, it is planned that this procedure will occur early in 1964."

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday for Mrs. Sarah Willis Yoakum, 86, of 2301 Avenue L.

Mrs. Yoakum died at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. F. E. Fikes, Sr., 811 Twenty-third Street.

Born Oct. 7, 1876 in Mississippi, Mrs. Yoakum came to Texas at the age of six weeks. Her family settled in Rockdale.

Mrs. Yoakum was the widow of W. M. Yoakum. They were married in Caldwell, Tex., in 1892. She had been a resident of Snyder for the past 25 years, coming here from Longview.

The services will be held at the Northside Baptist Church with Jack Dean, pastor of the church officiating. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mrs. Yoakum is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ely Rogers, Mrs. Gih Tatam, and Mrs. Fikes, all of Snyder, one son, E. Sutton of Houston, two brothers, Robert Young of San Antonio and J. A. Young of Gause, Tex., 19 grandchildren; 27 great-grandchildren and eight great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Yoakum's grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Cotton Pricing To Be Considered By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee today cleared for House consideration a long-delayed bill designed to eliminate the existing two-price system for cotton.

There was no indication when the bill will come before the House.

The bill was approved by the House Agriculture Committee June 6 after extended hearings and industry conferences but has since been stymied in the Rules Committee.

30-Day Delay Asked In Railroad Dispute

LATE BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System reported today that the nation's railroads have decided to delay posting new work rules for 30 days, thus averting a threatened strike Tuesday.

On the CBS Radio network, news correspondent Robert Pierpoint said White House sources had disclosed that the railroads had agreed to hold the new rules in abeyance for another month.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., of the House Commerce Committee, asked the nation's railroads today to hold up for another 30 days the new work rules they propose to put into effect at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday.

He said Congress could not enact legislation to avert a strike by that time.

Harris asked for an answer within 24 hours.

He addressed his request to Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, as Harris committee opened hearings on President Kennedy's plan to have the Interstate Commerce Commission consider work rules for train crewmen.

Loomis said he couldn't give a yes or no answer but that the railroads would consider the appeal.

Railroad management has endorsed the Kennedy proposal to put the controversy before the ICC but there is union opposition.

H. E. Gilbert, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, told a news conference in St. Louis this morning that the five unions involved are all opposed.

Three Killed Near El Paso

SIERRA BLANCA, Tex. (AP)—A crash of two automobiles killed three persons and injured three today near this far West Texas town about 75 miles southeast of El Paso.

Hours after the dawn crash, the dead had not been identified definitely.

State Highway Patrolman Dennis Palmer said two persons died in the crash and another en route to a hospital.

An intercity bus plowed into the wreckage but no one on the bus suffered injury.

One of the cars had a Florida license plate. The other, car's plate indicated it was from Houston.

The bodies were taken to Draper Funeral Home at Van Horn. The injured were taken to a hospital at Fabens.

"Such action would set the interstate commerce commission up as a labor court," he said.

"This would be only the first step. We would wind up with labor courts throughout the country. I've seen labor courts in action. They are not a good thing."

A spokesman here for the five brotherhoods told newsmen he doubted there would be any formal group statement on the Kennedy proposal until union representatives testify before senate and house committees.

Loomis went on to say another postponement would drain off more of the "life blood of an anemic industry."

"We've already been delayed and this has continued for some four years," Loomis said.

The railroads contend that forced employment of unnecessary workers is costing them millions of dollars a year.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, leadoff witness for the administration plan, sat puffing on his pipe as the chairman and the railroad official had their exchange.

Harris said he asked the railroads to postpone for 30 days their new, manpower-trimming work rules to avert a national walkout. Rail unions have said they will strike the minute the rules are imposed.

Harris said he did not consider the request unreasonable and hoped the railroad would go along.

Loomis said the railroads have been trying to negotiate a work rules settlement for years and charged they are still being forced to make unnecessary payments for work not performed.

Loomis said that has "become intolerable under present conditions."

Harris said that "after four years of discussions the work rules battle was brought to the floor of the House today. It is a bill to out-law segregation in public accommodations. It is the most important issue facing this Congress."

Griswold said widespread demonstrations stemming from the denial to Negroes of access to restaurants, hotels and other places of public accommodations "has challenged our ability to govern ourselves through the peaceful and orderly processes of law."

The three religious leaders will testify before two other committees Thursday.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and its Civil Rights subcommittee, is finding it hard to bring the hearings to a close.

They began May 8 and Celler had announced his hopes of ending them this week. But the hopes have gone glimmering. He disclosed Tuesday that he has been forced to extend them at least until Aug. 2 to accommodate prospective witnesses.

Cells, who has insisted he will not put up with any delaying tactics by opponents of the legislation, indicated this will be the final extension. He has predicted his committee will have a bill ready for the House floor by Labor Day.

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, spokesman for the trio, told a House Judiciary subcommittee in prepared testimony that "we are in the midst of a social revolution. Please God, it remain a social revolution and not degenerate into civil chaos."

He urged Congress to act now to pass President Kennedy's civil rights program.

Dr. Blake, chief executive officer of the United Presbyterian Church, was arrested earlier this month in a Maryland anti-segregation demonstration appeared with the Rev. John F. Kennedy, an official of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, and Rabbi Irwin M. Blank of the Synagogue Council of America.

The subcommittee was one of the congressional groups hearing testimony today favoring the President's broad program to outlaw segregation in all major areas of public life.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in his fourth trip to Congress in behalf of the legislation, went before the Senate Judiciary Committee where he faced a hostile audience of Southern senators headed by Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

attention of Congress only day before yesterday.

Harris said it will take time for Congress to consider properly the "intriguing and unique proposal" President Kennedy has made.

Harris' plea was part of mounting congressional pressure for the railroads to delay putting in the new work rules.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen drafted a resolution aimed at keeping the trains running until Congress has time to act.

And various legislators of both parties agreed to speak that the railroad men will not work rules which a carrier spokesman said Tuesday would go into effect at one minute after midnight next Tuesday as planned.

The five on-going unions have stage a massive walkout the moment the new rules—which would eliminate thousands of jobs—are posted.

Two congressional committees worked at full throttle on President Kennedy's recommendations for settling the dispute. But there were many doubts the measure could reach the White House for Kennedy's signature in time to beat the deadline.

One hope was, however, that the railroads' announcement of their intention to go ahead with the work rules was aimed at keeping Congress hard at work on the bill and that they would postpone the action before time ran out.

Railroad officials go before the Senate Commerce Committee today to voice their support for Kennedy's formula for handling the dispute.

Many committee members who indirectly called on the carriers Tuesday to give Congress more time to act thus will get a chance to make their appeal directly.

The House Commerce Committee begins its consideration of the administration proposal by hearing Secretary of Labor W. W. Wirtz who testified Tuesday before the Senate group.

One Senate source said the railroad brotherhoods have already launched a campaign against the bill, which calls for putting the dispute into the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In Cleveland Roy E. Davidson, grand chief engineer of the independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said Tuesday he couldn't think of a "worse place than the ICC to refer the dispute to."

Henry Ford II registered such a dissent as a member of the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy in a report on automation Jan. 11, 1962.

This time Kennedy emphasized he considers automation desirable, that he does not consider it frighteningly new, that it is merely one factor in unemployment.

These disclaimers are in keeping with the new climate in which automation is being discussed. While some still speak of millions being displaced by machines, many others have drawn encouragement from recent developments.

Chief among them are the Kaiser Steel Co.'s long-range shipping plant at Fontana, Calif., and a maritime union agreement with Pacific shippers.

Both of these plans are financed by savings resulting from automation. Employers are encouraged to automate, both to ease the strain on human backs and to enrich the funds from which work draws benefits.

Kaiser also has a provision for retaining employees who are displaced by machines. But with the rising demand for steel this spring the system hasn't been used very much.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Why do people think that because you have a large family your yard is a public playground? Right now twelve kids are playing ball in my back yard and only seven of them are mine. The children aren't allowed to play in my yard because they ruin the grass. I really don't mind, but it wouldn't hurt some of the other parents to share the noise with me. At night they ask me to turn on my yard lights so they can play after supper. When oh, when will I have peace and quiet again?

JUST WONDERING DEAR JUST: Too soon. And you can take my word for it. Count your blessings. Your children are occupied in healthy, wholesome play, and you don't have to worry about where they are — or with whom. Anybody can raise grass. It takes special qualities to raise children.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and my mother and I have been fussing over something very silly. We were all at the ball game and I was with a very nice boy. He took my hand. My mother then leaned over and told me to quit holding hands with him. Abby, couldn't she have waited until I got home? She had to make a big scene in front of everybody. I don't see anything wrong with a boy and girl holding hands at a ball game, do you?

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: Your mother could have told you quietly. In quiet holding hands. You think she was right to tell you. A display—even a minor one—of affection is out of place in public.

DEAR ABBY: Someone suggested to "Ma" (who was upset at seeing "Pa's" choppers grinning at her from the dresser top while Pa was outside moving the lawn) that she "steal" Pa's choppers and leave in their place $2.00 from the "Good Fairy." Well, a set of dentures contains only 28 teeth. So at the rate of 10 cents per tooth, Pa should be left only $2.80. Sincerely, DENTAL ASSISTANT

Warren began teaching school at Chandler at the age of 17. He was a school superintendent at Murchison, Chandler and Euless, all in Henderson County. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Yarborough and Ray Warren of Kansas City.

Warren entered the general offices of the Cotton Belt Railroad at Tyler in 1917, and remained with the Cotton Belt until his retirement in 1950.

I'll Hit You With These Eggs

HALLSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—There is such a thing as a story being too dangerous to handle fully.

Cal Long, news editor and advertising manager of the weekly Hallsville Review, said he recently witnessed a woman, a stranger, crossing against a red light. She carried a paper sack.

A motorist waiting for the light to turn green saw the woman. "Hey, lady, you shouldn't cross the street on a red light," he shouted.

Whereupon the woman walked to the motorist and socked him hard through the car window with the sack.

The motorist said that moment discovered that the sack contained eggs, fortunately fresh. The sack broke.

Long reported that after careful consideration and in view of the fact that the woman still retained a portion of the sack that he had no particular desire to interview her about the incident, and walked on.

Attack Continues On Civil Rights

By JACK BELL
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Admonished by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson that partisanship is no answer, the nation's governors continued a staccato political fire today in the civil rights controversy.

Johnson told the 55th annual Governor's Conference at the final state dinner Tuesday night that public leaders could not keep their trust "by exploiting the issue for partisan ends or discouraging its resolution for personal advantage."

"American politics must not be less responsible than the electorate," he said. "Johnson said: 'There can be no Democratic answer or Republican answer, no White House or state house answer, no 1964 answer, but only a responsible American answer achieved by all of us, at all levels, working together all of the time for and with the people.'"

Only a few hours earlier, the Democrats had blitzed Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other Republican state executives at the climax of a three-day fight to put the Democratic-dominated Governor's Conference on record as favoring strong civil rights action.

Taking advantage of their 3-1 margin, the Democrats rolled over the Republicans who were threatening to steal their publicity thunder on the civil rights question.

A motion by Democratic Gov. John Dempsey of Connecticut to instruct the conference executive committee to give priority to civil rights in its operations in the next year won by a 3-1 vote.

Democratic Govs. George C. Wallace of Alabama, Ross Barnett of Mississippi and Donald S. Russell of South Carolina voted "no."

There was a little political sugar for everybody in this method of settling the civil rights matter. Kennedy administration Democrats got credit for authoring the motion by which the conference directed its new nine-member executive committee to cooperate with the President and various agencies in the field of improving racial relations.

Under the rule that gives the party that does not hold the chairmanship a majority on this particular committee, Democrats would outnumber Republicans 5-4 and thus control the policies to be pursued.

Republicans could claim that by the verbal pounding they gave the issue, they forced the Democrats to act. Democrats wiped out the

New Attack Made On Automation

EDITOR'S NOTE — President Kennedy says he intends to appoint a commission to study the effect of automation as a cause of unemployment. The following article analyzes the general problem.

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new attack is being mounted against a problem that has persistently resisted conquest. The problem is unemployment caused by automation.

This time, with more to go on than ever before, the effort may be more successful.

The new assault will be made by a commission announced by President Kennedy in connection with his discussion of the railroad dispute.

Kennedy made it clear, however, that he is not merely thinking of the switch from coal-burning locomotives to diesel-powered engines, which planted the seeds of the rail dispute by making obsolete the work of firemen.

The President said he wants the most comprehensive review ever made of this complex subject. In stressing broadly, he seemed intent upon neutralizing a difficulty of some previous studies.

Many businessmen have attacked other studies as making a bogeyman out of automation, of treating it as an unprecedented force that has wrecked jobs singlehandedly.

Henry Ford II registered such a dissent as a member of the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy in a report on automation Jan. 11, 1962.

This time Kennedy emphasized he considers automation desirable, that he does not consider it frighteningly new, that it is merely one factor in unemployment.

These disclaimers are in keeping with the new climate in which automation is being discussed. While some still speak of millions being displaced by machines, many others have drawn encouragement from recent developments.

Chief among them are the Kaiser Steel Co.'s long-range shipping plant at Fontana, Calif., and a maritime union agreement with Pacific shippers.

Both of these plans are financed by savings resulting from automation. Employers are encouraged to automate, both to ease the strain on human backs and to enrich the funds from which work draws benefits.

Kaiser also has a provision for retaining employees who are displaced by machines. But with the rising demand for steel this spring the system hasn't been used very much.

Her veil of net was attached to a jeweled coronet. She carried an all-white bouquet of carnations centered on a fan given by her great grandmother and used as something old.

Tides Of Revolution

NANTUCKET REBEL. By Edward A. Stackpole

There is a little known bit of history in this novel set on Nantucket Island, 30 miles off the Massachusetts shore, at the time of the American Revolution.

The stirrings of colonial revolt were slow to reach Nantucket. It had become the center of the American whaling trade, and most of its seamen were more interested in preserving that trade than in twisting the tail of the British lion. Furthermore, many of them were Quakers, a peace-loving group.

Stephen Starbuck was both a Quaker and a whaling master. His best friend, David Rand, had become a rebel. His lady love, Lucretia Gardner, was the daughter of a prominent Tory.

The narrative is about Starbuck's conversion to the rebel cause, his privateering raids with Rand in a fast schooner called the "Hound"—they ranged as far as the West Indies—his capture and escape, and the growing warfare that disrupted the old loyalties of the Nantucket sailors.

There is plenty of action on both land and sea, plus a good deal of the political arguments of the era. Stackpole is no great shakes as a narrator, and he has had to struggle with the quaint, archaic dialogue of early Nantucket. But he manages to keep his story moving, and in the guise of fiction he has set forth some interesting aspects of a special segment of American history.

Big Plans For ABWA Meeting

The American Business Women's Association of Snyder, Scurry County Chapter, will meet for their regular monthly dinner meeting at Martha Ann Woman's Club Thursday evening at 7 p.m.

This meeting will be one of the big events of the year for the organization, as this is the time when they select the "Woman of the Year." Mrs. Kathleen Glover was named in August, 1962, and will relinquish her crown to her successor at the October meeting.

This honor is bestowed on a chapter member and when elected this year the name will be submitted to the National headquarters with the possibility of a Scurry Chapter Woman of the Year being judged one of the ten highest by the committee at the National Convention to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, October, 1963.

Elizabeth Herring was the chapter member to hold this honor for 1962.

The "Boss of the Year" banquet was held in May and Mr. Bill Wilson was named. He also held the title in 1962.

The members will be entertained Thursday evening by local dancing students. The vocational talk will be given by Marge Brown. This is always one of the highlights which is enjoyed at each meeting, and is always given by a member of the chapter concerning her job or her business.

The local chapter is making plans for the enlistment party to be held in September. Mrs. Gay Fellers is chairman, and a number of members will be bringing ladies of Snyder who might be interested in learning more about ABWA.

Several new members will be installed into the chapter by Lucy Demme, president, at the meeting Thursday evening.

Diverse Uses Of Asphalt

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Asphalt is more than just a road and driveway building material. It also has such diverse uses as garden mulch and meat preservation.

L. E. Ed Riffe, Tulsa oilman who heads a company which handles about $7.5 million worth of asphalt annually, says highways still provide the largest single application for asphalt.

"The roofing industry is the second biggest customer, followed by the laminating business in such things as waterproofing of cartons and wall insulation and then by roofing of underground pipelines and insulation for piping."

But asphalt also is used to coat fresh, frozen meat for overseas shipment, keeping it airtight against possible contamination, and for mulching truck gardens or grassy embankments to keep out the weeds.

Asphalt, he says, also goes into such things as rubber and tire manufacture, making of plastics, printers ink; paints, undercoating of automobiles, electric wire coating and sound insulation.

WHO'D EVER HAVE THOUGHT IT

Americans May Turn Out To Be 'Death Of Culture'

BY INEZ ROBB

We Americans who have been thinking that the so-called culture explosion or cultural boom was just great and that the whole nation is benefiting by it are in for a nasty shock.

The truth is that if you and I are not careful we are going to be the death of culture. Our eager interest in art, music, theatre, books and corollary subjects is suddenly a threat to the whole cultural kit and kaboodle.

Somewhat, the fact that there are now 1,000 symphony orchestras, as many opera groups and 100,000 little theatre organizations in the United States is not vivid testimony of a national hunger for the better things of life. It only confirms our eternal American commitment to the boobies.

During the past six or eight months this has been the general tenor of critics of American life and times, as expressed in magazines, newspapers and on television.

The critical jabs that greeted the cultural boom after World War II is evaporating these days in critical suspicion not that culture is good for us but that we're not good for culture.

As far as this member of the boobies can figure out, after study of the charge, we Americans have committed the unforgivable artistic or cultural sin of ENJOYING more good books, art, music and drama than has ever been available to us before.

This, apparently, is where we Americans have erred, at least from the critical viewpoint. Our enthusiasm for art in all its forms is a black mark against us. Again, I deduce that our enthusiasm like our enjoyment, is uninformal, unsuitable and wholly unbearable.

Only a week or so ago a critic of the New York Times worried in print over a display of four pictures by a living French artist of considerable reputation. The Times critic seemed most apprehensive that Americans exposed to these pictures, hung in the TWA terminal at Idlewild International Airport, wouldn't realize that they were terrible. They might, God forbid, even enjoy them.

That's the risk — enjoyment — a nation, in the midst of a cultural boom (if you will pardon the expression), runs. And it is a very grave risk, indeed, as pointed out on television recently by William Saroyan, the author, and Walt Kelly, creator of "Pogo".

As members of a teevee panel on the cultural explosion, the Messrs. Saroyan and Kelly came up with a blanket "no confidence" vote in their fellow citizens. They could explain away the 1,000 symphony orchestras across the land, but they had a ready raspberry for the little theatres and all that — laughable ilk.

The other members of the panel, Jean Dabrymple, director of the New York City Center; David Merrick, the Broadway producer, and Dave Brubeck, the jazz maestro who has just completed a new symphony, felt there was a lot to be said for the cultural explosion and that it was both splendid and real.

But the withering interruptions of Saroyan and Kelly took care of them and any preposterous idea that a culture boom was visible in the U. S. A.

Merrick finally got in one short comment: "People want to be entertained. Is that bad?"

The answer, if you read the new criticism is "yes". That's the reason the cultural boom is a bust. We Americans have been enjoying ourselves and have been entertained by the arts. And culture won't be a success in this country till we're all bored stiff.

You've Been On Vacation?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing quite like a vacation to teach a fellow his place in the office.

It was Smythe's first day back after three weeks spent listening to his wife and building sand castles for the kiddies at good old Quagmire Cottages by the Sea, "family meals a specialty."

Smythe was the first man into the office. He went to the washroom, combed his hair, straightened his necktie, practiced in the mirror his gee but it's great to be back again grin.

Then he went to his desk, methodically tore off the pages necessary to bring his calendar up-to-date—and collapsed on his swivel chair, completely exhausted.

"I didn't think it would be quite this bad," he murmured to himself.

In the next hour 37 fellow workers passed Smythe's paper-bar desk.

"Glad to see you back—been sick?" asked 23.

The other 12 made such remarks as:

"If I'd known you'd be out of this long, I'd of sent you a get-well card."

"What a hospital were you in?"

"They must have kept you under a sun lamp a lot. You gotta nice tan there."

"How'd the nurses treat you?"

After each remark—nobody asked him about his vacation. Smythe made a lonely round trip to the water cooler.

At 10 o'clock he went over to report to the chief accountant.

"I guess I better start catching up with the situation," said Smythe. "Who handled my work while I was gone?"

"What work?" inquired the chief accountant.

Smythe trudged back to his desk and busied himself neatly arranging the paper clips in the top drawer.

At noon he went to lunch with three old cronies. He pulled out some snapshots taken during his vacation, but nobody seemed interested in them. One of his pals had just got back from a vacation, too, and the others were leaving next week, and wanted to talk about their plans.

After lunch Smythe re-sharpened his pencils until 3 o'clock when he received a surprise summons from the big boss.

Handing him a cigar, the big boss said:

"Smythe, you've been doing a splendid job for the firm the last few weeks and I just want to let you know first-hand there'll be an extra $20 on your next paycheck."

"No, sir, I've been on vacation for the last three weeks."

"Aren't you Ed Smythe in sales?"

"No, sir, I'm Jim Smythe in accounting."

The big boss reached out, plucked back his cigar, and said, "My mistake, Smythe. But remember, no matter what department you're in—keep up the good work."

As he left, he heard the big boss bawling out his secretary: "Can't you even find me the right Smythe when I want him?" Do I have to do everything around here?"

Back at his desk, Smythe rearranged his paper clips again and sharpened his pencils until quitting time.

Upon leaving the office Smythe walked alone to his favorite tavern.

"Well, well, well—welcome back, Mr. Smythe," said the bartender. "Sure did miss you. Did you have a nice vacation?"

Smythe leaned his forehead on the shiny mahogany bar and broke into tears. He was very, very late getting home that night.

Junior Editors Quiz on PARACHUTES

QUESTION: How can a parachute prevent a person from falling too fast?

ANSWER: The principle of the parachute has been known for a long time; Leonardo da Vinci drew a sketch of a man using one in 1495. But it was a long time before people got up enough nerve to try them, for the first successful jump using a parachute was not made until 1783.

When a man jumps from a plane, the force of gravity starts to pull him down, and he begins to move so fast that he would almost certainly be killed if he hit the ground. But if he has a parachute strapped to his back and pulls the ring attached to the "rip-cord," the rolled up parachute will pop out and begin to open. Then, as in the big picture, he will drift slowly down and can land on the ground without injury. What has happened is that the very large, wide surface of the open parachute has offered resistance to the air. This resistance is not enough to prevent the airman from moving down, but it slows his fall just enough so he can land safely.

FOR YOU TO DO: You can see these principles, gravity and the resistance of the air, really at work if you make a parachute of your own as shown. If you haven't a silk handkerchief, a handkerchief-sized square of some other very light material will do. After it's made, roll it up carefully and wrap the threads neatly around it. Then toss it as high as you can into the air. The wind will carry it a good long way when opened.

(Roberta Jones of Peshigo, Wis., wins today's grand prize of a 20 volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper and you may win a set too.)

Witness Says Police Forced Testimony

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (AP)—A prosecution witness in the vice trial of Dr. Stephen Ward testified today police threatened to take her young sister and her baby from her unless she provided evidence against Ward.

Margaret Ricardo, 22, an admitted prostitute, repeated her assertion—first made at the close of Tuesday's session—that she lied on the stand at Ward's preliminary hearing, and in a statement to the police because of police pressure.

Under questioning from prosecutor Maryn Griffith-Jones she admitted that she voluntarily gave an additional true statement to the police on April 10 about her sister, Dorothy Richardson, 13, another girl named Diane and Ward.

The substance of this statement—which Miss Ricardo insisted was true—was not immediately disclosed.

Griffith-Jones asked her why, if the police previously had forced her into signing false statements, she had volunteered fresh information on April 10.

"I did not want my sister to go to a remand home," Miss Ricardo replied. Remand homes are places where underage defendants in criminal or delinquency cases are kept.

Miss Ricardo added she was afraid her brother would be arrested as well. She said the brother was in fact jailed soon after on pimping charges.

Miss Ricardo again "discovered her statement to the police and at the preliminary hearing that she used Ward's apartment on three occasions for sexual relations with men who paid her."

She testified that the only time she ever had intercourse at Ward's apartment with a boy friend named "Silly" Hawkins and that she did not charge him Tuesday she testified that Ward and a girl were similarly occupied in the room at the time.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. denied the testimony Tuesday by call girl Marilyn "Mandy" Rice-Davies that he had sexual relations with her.

The baby-faced little 16-year-old admitted to the packed courtroom she brought the name of the former actor and television producer into the case "because I didn't like him."

She testified that Fairbanks was one of several men she had sexual relations with during three months in 1961 when she shared an apartment with Christine Keeler, leading lady in the Profumo scandal, who the prosecution charged was a co-star with Mandy in a call girl stable operated by Ward. Mandy said Fairbanks didn't pay her.

Fairbanks, now 53, a resident of London since the war and a friend of Britain's royal family, issued his denial through a spokesman in New York. British law bars him from commenting on the case in London while it is still in the courts.

Peter Jr. Not Wanted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Although friends say Eugene Weingand, 29, looks and talks a bit like Peter Lorre, the actor isn't sympathetic.

Lorre, 59, acting through attorney Robert H. Shulan, opposed a petition by the real estate salesman to change his name to Peter Lorre.

Shulan said Tuesday his client didn't want Weingand or anyone else to trade upon the actor's name.

Shulan told Superior Court Judge Philbrick McCoy that Weingand, advised by his friends to enter show business, originally expressed a desire to be called Peter Lorre, Jr. The case was set for a hearing Oct. 3.

Alley Named For General

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The City Commission has honored the flight of a half-dressed Union general before Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest's Confederate raiders.

An ordinance to make a downtown alley "General Washburn's Escape Alley" was approved Tuesday.

One night in 1864 Maj. Gen. Cadwallader Golden Washburn fled his quarters clad only in his nightgown. His dress uniform was taken by one of Forrest's detachments.

CALLED AS WITNESSES IN VICE TRIAL—Three of the girls who have been called as prosecution witnesses in the vice trial of Dr. Stephen Ward arrive at London's Old Bailey Court. From left, Sally Joan Norie, first witness of the day who said she had been seduced by Dr. Ward; Margaret Ricardo; and Mandy Rice-Davies, who testified that Viscount Astor and actor Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., have been among her lovers. Hearing Held In Midland

MIDLAND (AP)—Midland County commissioners, facing a suit filed by Mayor H. C. Avery, held the first in a series of reappointment hearings Tuesday.

Avery laid a proposal before the commissioners that would divide the county into four precincts on the basis of population, land area, tax value and county roads.

The mayor filed suit in district court last September demanding reappointment. He contends that 97 per cent of the county's voters live in one precinct.

There has been no reapportionment of the county since 1885, Avery said. Three of the precincts consist mainly of sparsely populated rural areas.

At a pre-trial hearing last month, Dist. Judge Joe Bihrell Jr. of Coleman agreed to postpone hearing the suit until Oct. 22 to give the commissioners time to formulate a plan.

Tuesday's session was for premonitions. Opponents will be heard Aug. 13.

The three rural precinct commissioners boycotted the forenoon meeting over a rules procedure dispute. County Judge Barbara Culver and one commissioner continued despite their absence.

Differences were resolved by lunch time and all commissioners attended in the afternoon.

Along with seven other destroyers TAYLOR will be part of an anti-submarine hunter-killer group operating with the aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge.

The TAYLOR is slated to return to Pearl Harbor in November.

It'll Be A Slow Day

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—August 5 is official turtle watching day on Fort Lauderdale beaches. Prizes go to those in organized turtle watching parties that sight first arrivals from the sea.

Purpose of the looking, besides spotting the turtles, is to watch the females—ranging from 250 to 2,000 pounds—lay their eggs in the sand. Four thousand persons turned out for turtle watching last July, the Chamber of Commerce said.

City Water Department Is Cited

The Water Department of the City of Snyder has received an Award of Merit from the South West Section of the American Water Works Association.

Receipt of the award was announced Wednesday afternoon by George Patterson, city manager, and by George Lee, superintendent of the city's water department.

The Southwest Section comprises the four states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. By qualifying for the sectional award Snyder becomes eligible to receive a national award.

Presentation of the awards is based largely on freedom from time-lost accidents in the operation of the entire water department. The program is designed to promote safe methods in the operation of water systems throughout the country.

The Snyder award was for the department's operations during the year of 1962.

Two Killed In Train Collision

HARRISON, N.J. (AP)—A man and woman were killed and 28 other passengers injured early today when a Port Authority Trans Hudson line train collided with a parked diesel engine east of the Harrison station.

The four-car train was approaching its last stop before Newark on a run from New York City when the collision occurred about 1 a.m.

Police said the passenger train sideswiped the diesel, tearing out the sides of three of its cars as it ran by.

The diesel, with 16 cars coupled behind, was stopped on a spur but stuck into the path of the main line, police said.

Anna Misiak, in her 30s, of Jersey City, died at Beth Israel Hospital in Newark of internal injuries.

The dead man was Quinton Villanueva, 63, of Irvington, N.J. He died at a Newark hospital. Another passenger, Louis Guilino of Newark, was reported in critical condition.

The accident occurred within a half mile of Harrison station, two miles from Pennsylvania Station in downtown Newark.

There were 28 passengers on the train. The parked diesel had a four-man crew, but police said none of them was injured.

"The impact knocked the engine back into the second car," said a passenger.

About 15 of the injured were taken by train to the Newark station.

"There was a terrible impact," said one. "I don't know what happened. I'm still shocked."

The accident stopped temporarily service between Journal Square in Jersey City and Newark. Harrison is the only stop between these two points. The Port Authority Trans Hudson tracks are operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Tornadoes Strike On Texas Coast

By The Associated Press
A couple of tornadoes menaced the upper Texas coast late Tuesday, but there was no such diversion elsewhere from the state's midsummer heat wave tentatively blamed for three deaths in Dallas.

Hard, brief rains accompanied the economy size twisters. One hit the north side of Port Arthur and the other near Bridge City.

At Port Arthur the other tornado damaged a small trailer house, hurled 10 big drums of diesel fuel at the Marine Fueling Service Co. plant into a canal and broke power lines. Neighboring Beaumont measured 73 inch of rain.

Health authorities in Dallas said, meanwhile that the city's unbroken week of 100-plus temperatures may have caused the deaths of a 50-year-old man and two Negro infants the past two days. All three died after developing body temperatures up to 105 degrees, diagnosed as evidence of heat strokes.

Weak and scattered thunderstorms fell across the Texas Panhandle early Wednesday. The Weather Bureau looked for isolated thunderstorms by evening in Southeast Texas. Forecasts nevertheless called for continued hot weather.

Long range advisories, covering the period through the weekend, promised temperatures several degrees above normal in all sections of the state and little or no moisture.

Wink in far West Texas recorded 105 degrees for the top official mark reported Tuesday. Other highs ranged from 90 at Galveston.

El Paso registered 104. San Angelo 104. Childress, Fort Worth and Midland 103. Abilene, Dallas and Wichita Falls 102. Austin, Dalhart, Lubbock, Mineral Wells and Waco 101, and Amarillo, Beaumont, College Station, Junction, Laredo and Wichita Falls 100.

Readings early Wednesday included Midland 71, Tyler 72, Dalhart 73, Longview 75, Amarillo 76, Junction, San Antonio and Wichita Falls 77, Childress, Lubbock and Mineral Wells 78, Brownsville 79, Abilene, Corpus Christi, Laredo and San Antonio 80, Galveston and Waco 81, Fort Worth 82, El Paso 83 and Dallas 84.

R. C. Patton, President of the Chamber of Commerce, announced today the Snyder Chamber last month took action to place before the Board for Texas State Hospital a proposal that Snyder be considered as a possible site for a proposed school for mentally retarded children to be located in Westmoreland. Patton stated the announcement was delayed because of the work being done on the proposed junior college and the element of time involved in establishing the school. Patton stated that, in his opinion, Snyder will have to pull forth an effort on the proposed school for mentally retarded children. Patton stated the Board for the junior college if the community is going to have any measure of success. Some 25 communities, including metropolitan cities, are competing for the proposed school according to reports.

The bodies were taken to Draper Funeral Home at Van Horn. The injured were taken to a hospital at Fabens.

New Attack Made On Automation

EDITOR'S NOTE — President Kennedy says he intends to appoint a commission to study the effect of automation as a cause of unemployment. The following article analyzes the general problem.

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A new attack is being mounted against a problem that has persistently resisted conquest. The problem is unemployment caused by automation.

This time, with more to go on than ever before, the effort may be more successful.

The new assault will be made by a commission announced by President Kennedy in connection with his discussion of the railroad dispute.

Kennedy made it clear, however, that he is not merely thinking of the switch from coal-burning in-

Colts Win In 15 Innings

HOUSTON (AP)—Rookie Johnny Bateman tripled in the 15th inning and scored on Al Spangler's one-out single to give the Houston Colts a 5-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night.

Dick Farrell, fifth pitcher used by Manager Harry Craft, was credited with the victory, his seventh against right-handed batters. The hard-throwing right-hander struck out five of the eight batters he faced, including the side on in the top of the 15th.

The victory snapped a six-game losing streak. It was Philadelphia's first loss in the last eight games.

The defeat was charged to Johnny Klippstein's fifth in eight decisions. It was a tough loss for the veteran right-hander who allowed only three hits in seven innings.

Klippstein had taken over in the eighth inning after the club had scored twice to tie the score at 3-3. It was a single by Bateman that drove in the tying run.

After Bateman slammed his three-bagger, Klippstein disposed of Bob Lillis on a grounder. Dennis Bennett, a left-hander, came out of the bullpen to give Johnny Temple an intentional pass to set up a possible double-play. Spangler used the strategy by smacking a single to right that scored Bateman with the winning run.

30-DAY

attention of Congress only day before yesterday.

Harris said it will take time for Congress to consider proper legislation. The "intriguing and unique proposal" President Kennedy has made.

Harris' plea was part of mounting congressional pressure for the railroad delay putting in the new work rules.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen drafted a resolution aimed at keeping the train running until Congress has time to act.

And various legislators of both parties voiced appeals that the railroad hold off on new work rules until a carrier's spokesman said, Tuesday would go into effect at one minute, after midnight next Tuesday as planned.

The five out-union unions have stage a massive walkout the moment the new rules—which would eliminate thousands of jobs—are passed.

Two congressional committees worked at full throttle on President Kennedy's recommendations for settling the dispute. But there were many small details that could reach the White House. Kennedy's signature in time to beat the deadline.

One hope was, however, that the railroad's stance of their intention to go ahead with the work rules was aimed at keeping Congress hard at work on the bill and that they would postpone the action before time ran out.

Railroad officials go before the Senate Commerce Committee today to voice their support for Kennedy's formula for handling the dispute.

Many committee members who indirectly called on the carriers Tuesday to give Congress more time to act this will get a chance to make their appeal directly.

The House Commerce Committee begins its consideration of the administration proposal by hearing Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz who testified Tuesday before the Senate group.

One Senate source said the railroad's stance of "already launched a campaign against the bill, which calls for putting the dispute into the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission."

In Cleveland Roy E. Davidson, grand chief engineer of the independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said Tuesday he couldn't think of a worse place for the ICC to refer the dispute to.

He charged that the ICC is "management-oriented and has no grasp of labor-management relationships and principles."

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY, Why do people think that because you have anything wrong with a boy and large family your yard is a public playground? Right now twelve kids are playing ball in my back yard, and only seven of them are mine. The children aren't allowed to play in other yards because they ruin the grass. I really don't mind, but it wouldn't hurt some of the other parents to share the noise with me. At night they ask me to turn on my yard lights so they can play after supper. When oh, when will I have peace and quiet again?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST, Too soon, and you can take my word for it. Count your blessings. Your children are occupied in healthy, wholesome play, and you don't have to worry about where they are or with whom. Anybody can raise kids. It takes special qualities to raise children.

DEAR ABBY, I am 14 and my mother and I have been fussing over something very silly. We were all at the ball game and I was with a very nice boy. He took my hand. My mother then leaned over and told me to quit holding hands with him. Abby, couldn't she have waited until I got home? She had to make a big scene in the middle of the game.

Yarborough's Relative Dies In Arkansas

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Frank C. Warren, former Tyler, Tex., resident and father-in-law of Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough of Texas, died at Pine Bluff Tuesday at the age of 83.

Warren was born at Decatur, Ill. The Warren family moved to Texas and he was reared at Tyler and Chandler.

Warren began teaching school at Chandler at the age of 17. He was school superintendent at Murfreesboro, Chandler, and El Estado, all in Henderson County. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Yarborough and Ray Warren of Kansas City.

Warren entered the general offices of the Cotton Belt Railroad at Tyler in 1917, and remained with the Cotton Belt until his retirement in 1950.

Funeral services will be held at the First Christian Church at Pine Bluff at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. Graveside services and burial will be at the Warren family plot in the Chandler, Tex., cemetery at 10 a.m. Friday.

Fill Him With These Eggs

HALLSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—There is such a thing as a story being too dangerous to handle fully.

Cal Long, news editor and advertising manager of the weekly Hallsville Review, said he recently witnessed a woman, a stranger, crossing against a red light. She carried a paper sack. A motorist waiting for the light shouted, "Hey, lady, you shouldn't cross the street on a red light."

Whereupon the woman walked to the motorist and socked him hard through the car window with the sack.

The motorist at that moment discovered that the sack contained eggs, fortunately fresh. The sack broke.

Long reported that after careful consideration and in view of the fact that the woman still retained a portion of the sack that he had no particular desire to interview her about the incident, and walked on.

MRS. BILLY J. TOLLESON

Nunley, Tolleson Wedding Held In Odessa Church

Miss Sue Carol Nunley and Billy J. Tolleson, exchanged marriage vows Saturday June 22 at 6 o'clock at the Northside Church of Christ, Odessa.

Lanny Hennings performed the double ring ceremony before an arch of candles and greenery. Baskets of greenery, white daisies and gladiolus flanked the nuptial scene.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Nunley of 905 Green Drive, Odessa, formerly of Big Spring, and Mrs. O. N. Malone of Snyder.

Wedding music was furnished by a group of church members as they sang "Faithful and True," "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white lace bodice and nylon skirt. The lace bodice was styled with long tapered sleeves and rounded neck. Her veil of net was attached to a jeweled crown. She carried an all-white bouquet of carnations centered on a fan given by her great grandmother and used as something old.

Miss Joyce Thomas of Big Spring was maid of honor. She wore a mint green full skirted dress of nylon with puffed sleeves. Her veil was of green net dotted with pearls.

Best man was Gus Tolleson of Midland, brother of the bridegroom.

For her wedding trip to the Davis Mountains the bride chose a three-piece cotton suit of red and white check with red accessories.

They will make their home at 1112 1/2 North Golden, Odessa.

WHAT'S GOING ON

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Elbin and children spent the weekend in Fort Worth. Their grandchildren, Galvin and Mike Cook returned home with them for a two or three weeks visit.

In Colorado they saw such sights and places as the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, and Denver, Bear Lake, and Trail Ridge Drive near Estes Park in the Rocky Mountain National Park.

In New Mexico they camped near Red River Pass and enjoyed a stop at Santa Fe and a weekend at Ruidoso.

Tides Of Revolution

NANTUCKET REBEL. By Edward A. Slackpole. It had become the center of the American whaling trade, and most of its seamen were more interested in preserving that trade than in twisting the tail of the British lion. Furthermore, many of them were Quakers, a peace-loving group.

The stirrings of colonial revolt were slow to reach Nantucket. It had become the center of the American whaling trade, and most of its seamen were more interested in preserving that trade than in twisting the tail of the British lion. Furthermore, many of them were Quakers, a peace-loving group.

Stephen Starbuck was both a Quaker and a whaling master. His best friend, David Rand, had become a rebel. His lady love, Lucretia Gardner, was the daughter of a prominent Tory.

The narrative is about Starbuck's conversion to the rebel cause, his privateering raids with Rand in a fast schooner called the "Hound" - they ranged as far as the West Indies - his capture and escape, and the growing warfare that disrupted the old loyalties of the Nantucket sailors. There is plenty of action on both land and sea, plus a good deal of the political arguments of the era.

Slackpole is no great shakes as a narrator, and he has had to struggle with the quaint, archaic dialogue of early Nantucket. But he manages to keep his story moving, and in the guise of fiction he has set forth some interesting aspects of a special segment of American history.

Big Plans For ABWA Meeting

The American Business Women's Association of Snyder, Scurry County Chapter, will meet for their regular monthly dinner meeting at Martha Ann Woman's Club Thursday evening at 7 p.m. This meeting will be one of the big events of the year for the organization, as this is the time when they select the "Woman of the Year". Mrs. Kathleen Glover, Mrs. and Mrs. Leon Sharp and will relinquish her crown to her successor at the July meeting.

This honor is bestowed on a chapter member and when elected this year the name will be submitted to the National headquarters with the possibility of a Scurry Chapter Woman of the Year being judged one of the ten at the National Convention to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, October, 1963. Elizabeth Herring was the chapter member to hold this honor for 1962.

The "Boss of the Year" banquet was held in May and Mr. Bill Wilson was named. He also held the title for 1962.

The members will be entertained Thursday evening by local dancing students. The vocational talk will be given by Muege Brown. This is always one of the highlights which is enjoyed at each meeting, and is always given by a member of the chapter concerning her job or her business.

The local chapter is making plans for the enlistment party to be held in September. Mrs. Gay Fellers is chairman and encourages each member to bring ladies of Snyder who might be interested in learning more about ABWA.

Several new members will be installed into the chapter by Lucy Dennis, president, at the meeting Thursday evening.

Diverse Uses Of Asphalt

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Asphalt is more than just a road and driveway building material. It also has such diverse uses as garden mulch and insect preservation.

L. E. Ed Riffe, Tulsa oilman who heads a company which handles about $7.5 million worth of asphalt annually, says highways still provide the largest single application for asphalt.

The roofing industry is the second biggest customer, followed by the laminating business in such things as waterproofing of cartons and wall insulation, and then by coating of underground pipelines and insulation for piping.

But asphalt also is used to coat fresh, frozen meat for overseas shipment, keeping it airtight against possible contamination, and for mulching truck gardens or grassy embankments to keep out the weeds.

Asphalt, he says, also goes into such things as rubber and tire manufacture, making of plastics, printers ink, paints, undercoating of automobiles, electric wire coating and sound insulation.

boobies can figure out, after study of the charge, we Americans have committed the unforgivable artistic or cultural sin of ENJOYING more good books, art, music, and films than we have ever been able to live up to before.

This, apparently, is where we Americans have erred, at least from the critical viewpoint. Our enthusiasm for art in all its forms has been a constant agony.

I deduce that our enthusiasm like out enjoyment, is uninformed, unsuitable and wholly unbearable.

Only a week or so ago a critic of the New York Times worried about our taste in displaying pictures of a living French artist of considerable reputation. The Times critic seemed most apprehensive that Americans exposed to these pictures, hang on the walls of the New York World's National Airport, wouldn't realize that they are terrible. They might. God forbid, even enjoy them.

That's the risk - enjoyment - and the risk of the world's natural beauty (if you will pardon the expression), runs. And it is a very grave risk, indeed, as pointed out on television recently by William Sarcany, the author, and we hope, the performer.

As members of a twelve panel on the cultural explosion, the Messrs. Saroyan and Kelly came up with a blanket "no confidence" vote in their fellow citizens. They could explain away the 1,000 symphony orchestras across the land, the 100,000 jazz bands, the 100,000 for the little theatres and all the laughable ilk.

The other members of the panel, Jean Dailymple, director of the New York City Center, David Merrick, the Broadway producer, and Wade Brubeck, the jazz maestro who has just completed a new symphony, felt there was a lot to be said for the American scene. They felt that it was both splendid and real.

But the withering interruption of Saroyan and Kelly took care of them and any preposterous notion of a new Americanism was visible in the U. S. A.

Merrick finally got in one short comment: "People want to be entertained. Is that bad?"

The answer, if you read the book, is yes. That's the reason the cultural boom is so robust. We Americans have been enjoying ourselves and have entertained by the arts. And in the process, we have enriched our country till we're all forced to suffer.

arranging the paper clips in the top drawer.

At noon he went to lunch with three old cronies. He pulled out some snapshots taken during his vacation in the States. They seemed to interest him in them. One of his had just got back from a vacation, too, and the others were leaving next week, and wanted to take about a dozen snapshots.

After lunch Smythe re-sharpened his pencils until 3 o'clock when he received a surprise summons from the big boss.

Handing him a cigar, the big boss said:

"Smythe, you've been doing splendid job for the firm the last few weeks, and I just want to let you know first hand there'll be an extra $20 on your next pay check."

"But, Sir, I've been on vacation for the last three weeks."

"Aren't you Ed Smythe in sales?"

"No, Sir, I'm Jim Smythe in accounting."

The big boss reached out plucked back his cigar, and said:

"My mistake. Smythe. But remember, no matter what department you're in—keep up the good work."

As he left, he heard the big

Launching Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Spacecraft technical problems to date forced an indefinite postponement in the scheduled attempt to launch the Syncom 2 communications satellite into a 23,200-mile-high orbit where it would appear to hang over one area of the earth.

The trouble cropped up only a few hours before launching while the countdown was under way.

"Can't you even find him? Smythe when I want him here? To do everything here?"

Back at his desk, Smythe arranged his paper clips and sharpened his pencils, quitting time.

Upon leaving the office he walked alone to his favorite fern.

"Well, well, well—w—back Mr. Smythe," said the tender. "Did miss you, you have a nice vacation?"

Smythe leaned his forehead on the shiny mahogany bar broke into tears. He was very late getting home that

You Can't Beat Dodgers' Formula

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
You can't beat the Los Angeles Dodgers' formula for winning. Just keep the opposition from scoring.

The Dodgers turned in their 17th season shutout Tuesday night as left-hander Johnny Podres' protected their six-game National League lead with a 6-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Already ahead of their previous Los Angeles shutout record of 14 set in 1959, the Dodgers need only five more runless victories to equal their all-time Brooklyn high of 22 in 1906 and 1916.

Six of their shutouts have been by 1-0 scores. Only once since 1880 have the Dodgers won more by the lowest of shutout margins.

Local Golfers Invited To Tournament

CISCO — The golfers of Snyder have been invited to play in the annual Cisco Country Club Invitation tournament August 2-4, according to Chairman, Bob Elliott. Qualifying rounds for all except the championship flight may be played anytime after July 25. All championship flight qualifying must be on Friday August 2. Telephone scores will be accepted from others.

A pro-am and barbecue will be highlights of the opening day. Non-golfers may buy barbecue tickets. Tournament entry fee will be $15, including the barbecue.

Prizes will consist of top quality (Wilson Staff) matched irons and woods for the winners and runners-up of all flights, Elliott said. He emphasized that the same top grade equipment would be given in all flights. There also will be prizes for the medalist and consolation winners and runners-up.

Don Johnson of Cisco is the defending champion, and he plans to be on hand for this year's tournament. Elliott expected some of the region's top players to turn out for the meet.

Says Aided Game And Fish

VERNON (AP)—State Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah accused recently of trying to get Game and Fish Commissioner director Howard Dodgen fired, said Tuesday he has aided Texas' game and fish progress.

Speaking to a Vernon civic club, Healy answered charges made July 12 at the commission's last meeting by Frank Wood of Wichita Falls, outgoing member.

"Apparently Mr. Wood was disappointed over passage of the bill merging the Game and Fish Commission with the Parks Board, probably because it meant he would retire from a position of which he was very proud," Healy said.

"But I didn't sponsor the legislation. It was recommended by the governor. I voted for it, along with more than 100 other House members, because it appeared to be a logical move."

"But in order to show I was not hostile to the Game Commission, the House Appropriations Committee, of which I was chairman, gave the biggest increase to this service it had received in many years, making possible a merited increase in salaries of wardens and other employees."

Wood had accused Healy and Rep. Terry Townsend, from Brady, of pushing the bill to get rid of Dodgen, the present executive director.

That was in 1907 when the Dodger staff fashioned seven 1-0 victories.

Podres was not particularly overpowering in spinning his fifth shutout of the campaign and 10th victory in 16 decisions. The 30-year-old southpaw permitted seven hits, walked three and allowed a Pirates runner in every inning but one. Three double plays, however, pulled him out of as many jams. John struck out six.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals defeated Milwaukee 5-1 for their fourth straight victory. Jim Maloney pitched a one-hitter for Cincinnati, beating the Chicago Cubs and Larry Jackson 1-0. Willie Mays cracked a pair of homers in the Giants 9-1 rout of the New York Mets and Houston snapped a six-game losing streak beating Philadelphia 6-5 in 15 innings.

The New York Yankees widened their American League lead to nine games, blanking the Los Angeles Angels 7-0. Detroit swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and 6-4. Cleveland defeated Minnesota 3-2 to end a nine-game losing streak. Baltimore blanked Washington 4-0 and Harvey Haddix in the eighth. Tommy Davis drove in the first two runs with a single and rookie Ken McMillen the last two with his third home run.

Dick Groat paced the Cards' attack against five Milwaukee pitchers with four hits, raising his league-leading batting average to .343. He scored after the first of his four singles in the opening inning and drove across the final tally in the eighth. Southpaw Ray Sadecki, with relief from Ron Taylor, squared his season record at 6-6.

Maloney, a 23-year-old Cincinnati right-hander who throws as hard as anybody in the league, fanned 13 Cubs and allowed only three baserunners. All on walks after yielding a first-inning single to Ellis Burdett. It was his 15th victory against only three losses.

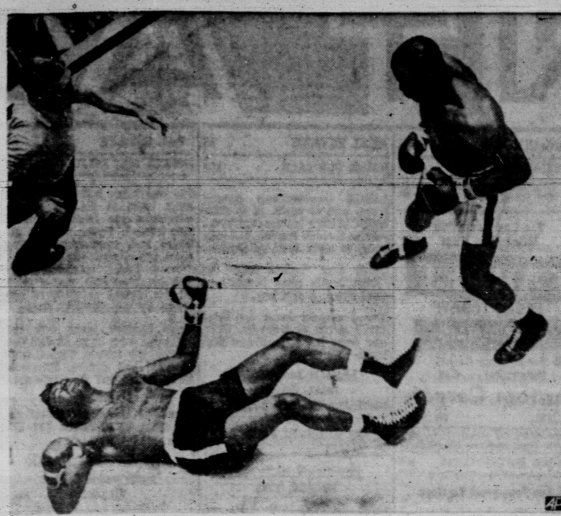

The game's only run and scored in the eighth. Tony Harper singled and was forced by Vada Pinson. Gordy Coleman singled Pinson to third and Frank Robinson scored him with another single. It was Jackson's eighth loss in 19 decisions.

Juan Marchal registered his 15th victory with a four-hitter for the Giants, who inflicted the 192nd straight loss upon Roger Craig. The Giants bombed the Mets' veteran right-hander for seven runs in the first two innings. Mays firing him off with a two-run homer, his 32nd. Willie socked his 21st off southpaw Ken MacKenzie in the sixth.

Craig, who has a 2-17 record, won his last game April 28 when he beat the Dodgers 4-2.

Al Spangler and John Bateman teamed up for Houston to snap the Phillies seven-game winning streak, longest for Philadelphia since 1955. Each had three hits, scored a run and drove in another.

Bateman, whose single had tied the score in the eighth inning, opened the 15th with a triple. One out later, Spangler came through with a single to end the 4-hour and 16-minute marathon. Dick Farrell, who fanned five batters in a two-inning relief stint, was credited with the victory, his seventh against 10 defeats. The win was charged to John Klippstein, who allowed only three hits in seven relief innings.

Future Meets With Russia Will Change

WARSAW (AP)—Never again will the United States track team go to Moscow for the annual dual meet with the Soviet Union without stopping off for a warm-up meet first.

That seemed certain today, after the coaches and officials had finished their analysis of the recent American invasion of Moscow that turned out only slightly better than Napoleon's.

"I am making the very strong recommendation that we have at least one tune-up meet before the Russian meet in the future," coach Payton Jordan said here where the team is preparing for the meet with Poland Friday and Saturday.

"I also think it is a good idea to get into Moscow only a day or two before the meet, and stay a few days afterwards for sight-seeing," Jordan said.

The team spent a week in Moscow this year before the meet, then almost lost it. The girls team suffered one of the worst humiliations in American international sports history.

Actually, the team went to Moscow a week in advance to meet objections that they had been going there in the past without proper time to become accustomed to the food and water. It didn't work.

They went too long without competition," Jordan said.

Matson accepted a place on the U.S. AAU track team now in Europe and will not return until Aug. 7, too late to play in the all-star game.

Close Race In AL For Second Place

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The battle may be over for top spot in the American League—but that's quite a skirmish going on for second place.

There are no less than four teams in a virtual deadlock for the runner-up spot behind New York's surging Yankees, whose latest drive has carried them a whopping nine games ahead of the pack.

Here's how the also-rans in the first division stand — Boston is second one percentage point ahead of Chicago and Minnesota and three in front of Baltimore. All but the Orioles lost ground Tuesday night. Diego Segui posted his first shutout in the majors, pitching Kansas City over the Red Sox 1-0. Detroit took the White Sox twice, 5-1 on Norm Cash's eighth-inning grand slam and 6-4. The Francona's homer in the 13th gave Cleveland and Jim (Mudcat) Grant a 3-2 victory over the Twins ending the Indians' losing string at nine games. The Orioles blanked Washington 4-0 behind left-hander Steve Barber.

The Yankees? They won again, naturally, riding John Blanchard's home run slugging and the shut-out pitching of Stan Williams and Steve Hamilton to a 7-0 romp over the Los Angeles Angels.

The Los Angeles Dodgers maintained their six-game lead in the National League, whipping Pittsburgh 6-0. St. Louis' second-place Cardinals blanked Milwaukee 5-1. San Francisco clouted the New York Mets 9-1. Cincinnati edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0 on Jim Maloney's one-hit pitching, and Houston nipped Philadelphia 6-5 in 15 innings.

Blanchard, the reserve outfielder filling in for the ailing Roger Maris, kept up his heavy hitting with a pair of homers for the Yanks, who clinched it with a six-run cluster in the fifth inning against the Angels.

Hamilton, relieving Williams in the eighth with the bases filled, killed that threat by striking out three men in a row and completed the shutout by getting out of another bases-loaded situation in the ninth. Paul Foytack was the loser.

Segui's breaking pitches and low fastballs checked the Red Sox and brought the right-hander his fifth victory.

Austin Loses Again In TL

By The Associated Press
San Antonio won a head-to-head battle with Austin 8-5 Tuesday night and moved within three games of the Texas League leaders.

It was San Antonio's second straight. The Senators reeled from nine losses in their last 10 games.

Aaron Pointer hit a grand slam home run and Jerry Grote homered with two on base for San Antonio. Randy Cardinal notched his eighth pitching victory although he pitched for 10 hits.

Third place Tulsa was beaten 10-6 by Amarillo as Paul Popovich batted in five runs with a grand slammer and a double. It helped reliever George Gerberman hit his eighth mound decision.

Could Liston Take Dempsey

TORONTO (AP)—Take Jack Dempsey in his prime and match him with Sonny Liston and how would it come out?

Take the word of an expert, there's just no telling.

"It might have gone either way," said Dempsey. "This kind of a fighter is tough to fight. He's liable to lick anybody."

"He's big and strong," the old heavyweight champion said of the latest titleholder. "And with today's crop of fighters, it may be some time before you'll be able to properly size him up."

Dempsey, 68, in Canada to look over some mining property in Quebec, said he had an invitation to watch the Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson rematch on closed-circuit television Monday night, but passed it up.

"I didn't see it, but it figured," he said of Liston's first-round knockout of the former champion. "I had a chance to go, but it's just the same thing all over again."

Dempsey, who lost his title to Gene Tunney, then lost again in a rematch, said he quit the ring because "I didn't want to get hurt."

Patterson, twice the victim of first-round knockouts, should do the same thing, he said.

Floyd is a nice guy and has plenty of dough," Dempsey said. "He doesn't need to fight. He's an amateur, not a fighter. He can't take a punch and personally I don't think he can fight."

Dempsey reflected a moment, then added: "I shouldn't have said that."

How about Cassius Clay, the loud-mouthed, unbeaten challenger who is angling for a title bout with Liston in September?

"Cassius does a lot of talking, but I don't know how well he can fight," Dempsey said. "He smoothes you with punches, but I don't think he's ready for Liston yet."

Ladies Swim Class Will Begin Monday

Registration is still being taken for the Ladies Swim-Glass that will begin Monday, July 29, at the Towle Park pool. The class will last two weeks and will consist of daily lessons of one hour each. There will be a $2.50 charge for each entry.

Those who are interested may sign up at the Towle Park pool, or call HI 3-3192.

Big Stars In Western Open

CHICAGO (AP)—A class-packed field, headed by Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros, Bob Charles and slumping Arnold Palmer, will open competition Thursday in the 60th annual Western Open Golf Tournament at the Beverly Country Club.

Nicklaus, 23-year-old Columbus, Ohio, heavyweight, was due to play his first practice round today since his come-from-behind victory in the Professional Golfers Association championship at Dallas last Sunday. With Boros and Charles, Nicklaus is part of the trio that holds all the world's major championships. Nicklaus earlier won the Masters crown while Boros won the U.S. Open and Charles the British Open.

Jackie Cupit of Longview, Tex., who will Palmer's beaten by Boros in the National Open play-off, is the defending champion in the $20,000 tournament that carries a first prize of $10,000. He's back along with such standouts as Sam Snead and Tony Lema.

Pony League tournament being played this week in Abilene. That winner will be decided Thursday night.

Those who did not make the trip to C-City last night missed one of the better games of the season. It was a mixture of excellent pitching, good fielding and timely hitting. The outcome was in doubt until the final out.

Something that perhaps overshadowed the good play was the fine exhibition of sportsmanship shown by both teams throughout the series.

The turnout of last night's game was a triple by Jerry Boyd, scoring Archie Overby and Robert Golden. Overby had reached first on an error and had stolen second. Then, when Golden bunted, C-City's pitcher, Corbell, hesitated while trying to decide where to make the play, and both runners were safe.

Snyder picked up one more run in the second, and another in the third. C-City scored one each in the first and second innings. Although there was no more scoring after the first two and a half innings, the rest of the game saw a number of fine efforts and near-misses.

Witness Says Police Forced Testimony.

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (AP)—A prosecution witness in the vice trial of Dr. Stephen Ward testified today police threatened to take her young sister and her baby from her unless she provided evidence against Ward.

Margaret Ricardo, 22, an admitted prostitute, repeated her assertion—first made at the close of Tuesday's session—that she lied on the stand at Ward's preliminary hearing and in a statement to the police because of police pressure.

Under questioning from prosecutor Mervyn Griffith-Jones she admitted that she voluntarily gave an additional true statement to

Peter Jr. Not Wanted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Although friends say Eugene Weingand, 29, looks and talks a bit like Peter Lorre, the actor isn't sympathetic.

Lorre, 59, acting through attorney Robert H. Shutan, opposed a petition by the real estate salesman to change his name to Peter Lorre.

Shutan said Tuesday his client didn't want Weingand or anyone else to trade upon the actor's name.

Shutan told Superior Court Judge Philipric McCoy that Weingand, advised by his friends to enter show business, originally expressed a desire to be called Peter Lorre Jr. The case was set for a hearing Oct. 3.

Alley Named For General

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The City Commission has honored the flight of a half-dressed Union general before Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest's Confederate raiders.

An ordinance to make a downtown alley "General Washburn's Escape Alley" was approved Tuesday.

One night in 1864 Maj. Gen. Cadwallader C. Colden Washburn fled his quarters clad only in his nightgown. His dress uniform was taken by one of Forrest's detachments.

the police on April 16 about her sister, Dorothy Richardson, 13, a former girl named Diane and Ward.

The substance of this statement—which Miss Ricardo insisted was true—was not immediately disclosed.

Griffith-Jones asked her why, if the police previously had forced her into signing false statements, she had volunteered fresh information on April 16.

"I did not want my sister to go to a remand home," Miss Ricardo replied. Remand homes are places where underage defendants in criminal or delinquency cases are kept.

Miss Ricardo added she was afraid her brother would be arrested as well. She said the brother was in fact jailed soon after on pimping charges.

Miss Ricardo again disavowed her statement to the police and at the preliminary hearing that she used Ward's apartment on three occasions for sexual relations with men who paid her.

She testified that the only time she ever had intercourse at Ward's apartment with a boy friend named "Silky" Hawkins and that she did not charge him Tuesday she testified that Ward and a girl were similarly occupied in the room at the time.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. denied the testimony Tuesday by call girl Marilyn Mandy Rice-Davies that he had sexual relations with her.

The baby-faced little 18-year-old admitted to the packed courtroom she brought the name of the former actor and television producer into the case "because I didn't like him."

She had testified that Fairbanks was one of several men she had sexual relations with during three months in 1961 when she shared an apartment with Christine Keeler, leading lady in the Profumo scandal who the prosecution charges was a co-star with Mandy in a call girl stable operated by Ward. Mandy said Fairbanks didn't pay her.

Fairbanks, now 53, a resident of London since the war and a friend of Britain's royal family, issued his denial through a spokesman in New York. British law bars him from commenting on the case in London while it is still in the courts.

Hearing Held In Midland

MIDLAND (AP)—Midland County commissioners, facing a suit filed by Mayor H. C. Avery, held the first in a series of re-apportionment hearings Tuesday.

Avery laid a proposal before the commissioners that would divide the county into four precincts on the basis of population, land area, tax value and county roads.

The mayor filed suit in district court last September demanding reapportionment. He contends that 97 per cent of the county's voters live in one precinct.

There has been no reapportionment of the county since 1885. Avery said Three of the precincts consist mainly of sparsely populated rural areas.

At a pre-trial hearing last month, Dist. Judge Joe Dibrell Jr. of Coleman agreed in postponing the hearing on the suit until Oct. 22 to give the commissioners time to formulate a plan.

Tuesday's session was for proponents. Opponents will be heard Aug. 13.

The three rural precinct commissioners boycotted the forenoon meeting over a rules procedure dispute. County Judge Barbara Culver and one commissioner continued despite their absence.

Differences were resolved by lunch time and all commissioners attended in the afternoon.

Tornadoes Strike On Texas Coast

By The Associated Press
A couple of tornadoes menaced the upper Texas coast late Tuesday, but there was no such diversion elsewhere from the state's midsummer heat wave, tentatively blamed for three deaths in Dallas.

Hard, brief rains accompanied the economy size twisters. One hit on the north side of Port Arthur and the other near Bridge City, between Port Arthur and Orange.

Miss Judy Brewer, 24, suffered cuts on her arms as the storm smashed windows in her home at Bridge City. In the same vicinity a driving downpour and winds estimated up to 45 miles per hour halted traffic for a time on the Neches River bridge. It sank a boat in a yacht club basin.

At Port Arthur the other tornado damaged a small visitor motor, but 10 big drums of Diesel fuel at the Marine Fueling Service Co. plant into a canal and broke power lines. Neighboring Beaumont measured 73 inch of rain.

Health authorities in Dallas said, meanwhile that the city's unbroken week of 100-plus temperatures may have caused the deaths of a 50-year-old man and two Negro infants the past two days. All three died after developing body temperatures up to 110 degrees, diagnosed as evidence of heat strokes.

Weak and scattered thunderstorms fell across the Texas Panhandle early Wednesday. The Weather Bureau looked for isolated thunderstorms by evening in Southeast Texas. Forecasts nevertheless called for continued hot weather.

Long range advisories, covering the period through the weekend, promised temperatures several degrees above normal in all sections of the state and little or no moisture.

Wink in far West Texas recorded 105 degrees for the top official mark reported Tuesday. Other highs ranged down to 90 at Galveston.

El Paso registered 94, San Angelo 104, Childress, Fort Worth and Midland 103, Abilene, Dallas and Wichita Falls 102, Austin, Dalhart, Lubbock, Mineral Wells and Waco 101, and Amarillo, Beaumont, College Station, Junction, Laredo and Lubbock 100.

Readings early Wednesday included Midland 71, Tyler 72, Dalhart 71, Longview 73, Amarillo 70, Galveston and Vaco 81, Antonio and Wichita Falls 77, Childress, Lubbock and Mineral Wells 78, Brownsville 79, Abilene, Corpus Christi, Laredo and San Angelo 80, Galveston and Vaco 81, Fort Worth 82, El Paso 83 and Dallas 84.

Two Killed In Train Collision

HARRISON, N.J. (AP)—A man and woman were killed and 28 other passengers injured early today when a Port Authority Trans Hudson line train collided with a parked diesel engine east of the Harrison station.

The four-car train was approaching its last stop before Newark on a run from New York City when the collision occurred about 1 a.m.

Police said the passenger train sideswiped the diesel, tearing out the sides of three of its cars as it ran by.

The diesel, with 10 cars coupled behind, was stopped on a spur but stuck into the path of the main line, police said.

Anna Misak, in her 30s, of Jersey City, died at Beth Israel Hospital in Newark of internal injuries, the hospital reported.

The dead man was Quinton Villanueva, 63, of Irvington, N.J. He died at a Newark hospital. Another passenger, Louis Guillelmo of Newark, was reported in critical condition.

The accident occurred within a half mile of Harrison station, two miles from Pennsylvania Station in downtown Newark.

There were 28 passengers on the train. The parked diesel had a four-man crew, but police said none of them was injured.

"The impact knocked the engine back into the second car," said a passenger.

About 15 of the injured were taken by train to the Newark station.

"There was a terrible impact," said one "I don't know what happened. I'm still shocked."

The accident stopped temporary service between Jersey City and Newark. Harrison is the only stop between those two points. The Port Authority Trans Hudson tracks are operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad.
