LONE STAR FARMERS

These four Future Farmers, three from Quail and one from Samnorwood, were named Lone Star Farmers at the annual Texas FFA convention in Houston earlier in July. The honor came from outstanding vocational agricultural work. The boys, from left to right, are Ray Bradshaw, Gene Peggram and Howard McGill of Quail, and Billy Ray Alexander of Samnorwood. The boys received their certificates and pins at a Future Farmer banquet held at Hereford Monday night, July 30.

Red Cross Asks Flood Relief Funds in County

Collingsworth County is asked to contribute $297 as its part of the American Red Cross $5,000,000 Disaster fund to aid in the flood-stricken areas of Kansas and Missouri, R. D. Wiley, county chairman, announced Friday, July 27.

"We will not make a community or house to house canvass on this drive, but we are simply appealing to the people to give what they feel they can to help meet this disaster. Mail your contributions to American Red Cross Wellington, Texas, or bring them to Miss Katherine Boverie at the county library or to the First National Bank," Mr. Wiley said.

"Up to date a survey of the disaster area indicates the flood is the most devastating in the history of the area affected, and the complete destruction of homes is far greater than earlier reports indicated," Walker L. Millner of the Midwestern Headquarters of the Red Cross wired Mr. Wiley.

"Everyone in Collingsworth County is familiar with the work of the Red Cross during disaster. While we have been fortunate enough to escape any major disaster, we have seen how promptly and completely the Red Cross responds where the need is greatest, and some of our people, when living in other places, have had first hand experience with this. The Red Cross needs your help and needs it now," Miss Boverie pointed out.

A dinner will be served the members of the Wellington Alumni Association returning for the reunion, August 18, and their families, by the Business and Professional Women's Club if there is sufficient demand, Mrs. Pink Sullivan and Mrs. Heber Brantley, who are working on the project, said Wednesday morning.

During the coming week, they would like for all ex-students of Wellington high school living in the area to contact some member of a committee and let them know if they would like to have this dinner, if they can attend and how many members of their family will be present.

Free chest X-rays are scheduled for Collingsworth County residents Tuesday, August 21 through Saturday, August 25, when the State Health Department's mobile X-ray unit visits Wellington, it was announced following a conference here of Department representatives, doctors and civic leaders.

The program will be carried out along the same lines as the three previously held here, according to Dr. E. K. Jones.

Jack Gibson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is acting as general chairman.

Charles H. Hoover of the State Health Department, outlined the X-ray program. This is part of a statewide campaign for the eradication of tuberculosis, he explained.

These chest X-rays are free, but they are not charity. They are paid for by the tax-payers money, and indirectly, every person who has paid taxes is helping finance them, he explained.

The aim this year is to have every person in the county 15 years of age and above X-rayed during the four days of work. Last year, the percentage of the eligible county population X-rayed was 31.4; in 1949 it was 25 percent and in 1948, the first year the X-rays were given here, it was 21 percent.

McClure Hurt in Oil Field Accident

Dick McClure of Whiteface, formerly of Wellington, was critically injured in an oil field accident Tuesday, July 24, when a drilling cable broke and struck him in the side.

He is in the Levelland hospital, where doctors say he is suffering from a liver injury. Mrs. McClure is also ill and under treatment in the same hospital.

Mr. McClure's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Pat Dickey and Mrs. Paul Brewer, returned Monday night after four days at Levelland.

The injured man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McClure of Clarendon. His wife is the former Wilma Brewer of Wellington. They had made their home in California for several years, returning to Texas about four months ago.

Holcomb Tells of Navy Service in Desert Port

Sam Holcomb, one of 15 men who formed the United States Navy unit at Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, for the past thirteen and one-half months, reached Wellington Saturday afternoon on a 30 day leave. He is visiting his mother, Mrs. R. Martin Williams, and his brother, Carter Holcomb.

Holcomb is an electronics technician third class, and was assigned to maintenance and repair of communications equipment.

Dhahran, a desolate Arabian town made famous by the Aramco Oil Company, is that company's loading port. There is also a refinery unit, and it is at one end of the oil pipe line extending from the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean Sea.

Navy Communications Unit 5, official name for the group Holcomb served with, was stationed on the U. S. Air Force base, and was the last link in a communications network the Navy maintains through the Middle East.

Summer is a good time to get away from Dhahran Holcomb, concludes.

"The temperature gets up around 113 degrees. That's the air temperature. The sand goes up to 150 to 160 degrees. But the whole base is air conditioned and we were comfortable all the time. In fact, the entire Aramco community of between two and three thousand workers was air conditioned.

One thing these Americans in Saudi Arabia missed that they took for granted at home is fresh vegetables. Dhahran is in desert country, and there is only a small amount of farming along the coast. Food for the American colony came in cans, or in the occasional fresh vegetables came hundreds of miles from Asmara, Eritrea, in East Africa.

A considerable amount of Arab labor is used by Aramco, and some on the Air Force Base. Difference of languages, one religion that observes Sunday as the Sabbath and the other that observes Saturday, and an entirely different outlook on life keep the Arabs and the Westerners from ever understanding each other. But there is no trouble.

"There can't be. Aramco is there simply because King Ibn Saud lets them stay, and they have to make

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Now Is Time to Appeal for Votes

Just before election time, from school district to general election, the appeal goes out for everyone to vote. By then, it's a little late to arouse much interest in those who aren't already concerned. The Amarillo News, in a recent editorial has this to say about it:

Plans by both the Republican and Democratic national committees for "getting out the vote," announced Saturday, are meaningless unless party men on local levels do the actual work. In fact, we know of no more fertile field anywhere than Amarillo and the Plains region for some old-fashioned political missionary work.

Political leaders of the region, as well as other parts of the state, will long remember that one county of the North Plains refused to hold a run-off election in which a United States Senator was nominated by a majority so slender that the county's votes might have reversed the outcome.

At the same time, individuals refraining from voting have probably decided many another election, some of them to the distinct disadvantage of their home communities and the state.

While the nation's political leaders are taking the viewpoint that larger turnouts will favor their own separate parties, the hoped-for total falls far short of the potential vote.

The Census Bureau reports that as of April 1, 1950, the nation had just a few thousand short of 97 million persons 21 or older. National committees of the two major parties "hoped that 60 million of them would vote in next year's national elections. From these figures it is obvious that the next President can be elected with little more than a third of the total potential vote.

Bad as this picture is, we hazard the opinion that there isn't a city administration, a school board, or a county official in the Plains region who holds office at the expressed will of even one-third of his constituents.

Non-voting voters give many reasons for staying away from the polls, but few if any of the excuses are valid. Perhaps the most common one, that "one vote doesn't make any difference" is the least sensible of all.

The 52nd Legislature passed a comprehensive election law which greatly liberalizes the state's political and voting set-up mainly for the purpose of inducing larger numbers of citizens to take part in political affairs. While the law is but one step in the right direction, it is one step, and if it accomplishes its purpose the future will bring more and more people in active participation in governmental affairs.

While there might be some objection to efforts to arouse interest in elections nearly a year in the future, the party chiefs have an answer for that, too. They remind us that processes under our form of government are slow and deliberate as they must be to give all people and interests due consideration.

In this view of political organization and activity, national, state, regional, local and individual issues are one, and only an out-pouring of votes, representative of the whole people, can serve the best interests of all.

There Is Need—Now

The most damaging flood in the nation's history has washed its way through the Midwest, leaving death and devastation in its wake. At a time when the country can ill afford disruption of an industrial area, plants and community facilities have been leveled. Property damage has pushed beyond the $1,000,000,000 mark. Human suffering cannot be estimated.

The financial resources of private and governmental agencies will be thrown into the rebuilding of disrupted communities. Help must be given to those people whose lives have been dislocated by the flood. The limited resources of the small farmer, the baker, the barber, the storekeeper, and thousands of other who are part of a normal community will call for a long and costly rehabilitation task. It is a job which cannot wait. For these modest and helpless people each of us must feel deep concern.

The Congress in 1905 officially charged the American Red Cross with responsibility for the welfare of disaster stricken individuals and families. The Red Cross record of emergency help and rehabilitation for the victims of disaster is a long and a proud one.

With its financial resources already stretched to the limit, the Red Cross is, for the first time since 1938, launching a special Disaster Relief Fund Campaign. President Truman has urged the American people to respond to this appeal to at least $5,000,000. The Presidential Appeal will be fortified by hundreds of thousands who in the real American Tradition are ever prompt to give compassionate response to human need and suffering.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek this week has his two-bits worth, an inflationary amount, on the high cost of living. Dear editor:

I notice the government is still trying to reduce the price of meat, on the theory I think that farmers and ranchers are getting rich anyway and lowering the price on just one item they raise won't hurt no more'n lowering the price say on radiator caps would hurt General Motors, but I stumbled on a newspaper the other mornin while I was out here studyin my crops, don't know that reflectin on your crops helps em any but it sure sounds important and makes a man look busy, and after I got through decidin the crops were fair but wouldn't make as much as I'd figured on as there ain't a piece of land invented yet a farmer couldn't out-figure its production on, I took the paper home and stretched out on the front porch and read where an expert had been doin some figurin himself on what's causin high prices.

Blamin the farmer for high prices is a popular pastime, he said, but there ain't a thing to it.

For example, he found, a can of pork and beans, mostly beans, used to cost a nickel, but now it costs 16 cents, and most housewives mutter and blame it on the farmer. Yet if the farmer just hauled off and gave his beans to the canner, the can of pork and beans would still cost 14 cents. In other words, no use blamin the high cost of a can of pork and beans on me and the other farmer. There's something in the woodpile maybe, but it ain't a farmer.

Also, this expert found if a farmer gave away the wheat in a 16-cent loaf of bread, the bread would still cost the housewife 14.4 cents. If the tobacco farmer gave away the tobacco in a 20-cent pack of cigarettes, the pack would still cost you 17 cents. If a sheep rancher gave away the wool in a $50 suit of clothes, the suit would still cost $40.50. In a $3 cotton shirt, there's about 35 cents worth of cotton, all told.

You get the point. I ain't about to start givin away cotton or beans or anything else to prove us farmers ain't to blame for inflation, but Washington is barkin up the wrong tree when it thinks we are. It's somebody else's turn. How about the Indians? There ain't many of them and not one out of four can vote anyway. Down with the Indians and the high cost of livin.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FOR AUGUST 5

Jesus Found Hatred Begins at Home

Jesus was a hometown boy who made good in spite of His hometown.

Home was the natural and proper place for the Master to begin His ministry, but also the most difficult.

The minute Jesus announced His mission and ministry, the town's affection and fondness for Him turned to prejudice and hatred. Has the Master's saying, "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country," been more tragically fulfilled?

In John 7:1-5, we find that His own brothers, who were later to become zealous Christians and leaders of the church, did not believe in Him or His teachings.

Incredible as it may seem, the Master who was to light the way for the world was looked upon with such disfavor that the townspeople sought to throw Him from the brow of a nearby hill and kill Him.

But Jesus sensed these dangers. "He knew what was in man." Yet His escapes from dangers later led Him to profess, "A man's foes shall be those of his own household."

That the number and fanaticism of His enemies did not even momentarily stay Him from His appointed mission shall forever be an inspiration to all who would go forth and do the work of God.

Even in the face of stones, vile abuse and violent threats, the gentle Son of God resolutely declared, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

GOVERNMENT PLANNING COMES HIGH

When the Economic Planners of England's Labor-Socialist government blithely wasted $100,000,000 of hard-pressed Britain's money on a scheme for growing peanuts in British East Africa, and were obliged last January to publicly admit utter failure, the limit seemed to have been reached on the high cost of bureaucratic bungling. But the facts regarding our own Interior Department's plan for irrigating a small section of Arizona desert land, would suggest that the English Socialists are, after all, only small-time spenders.

The construction cost of our own Economic Planners' Arizona irrigation project, together with its so-called "multi-purpose" trimmings, is to be $708,780,000. But that's just the beginning of what the American taxpayers would have to pay. The Interior Department itself admits that actual cost to the taxpayers, counting interest on the borrowed money necessary to build it, would be $2,784,509,000. That's almost 10 times the total value of all farm lands and buildings in the whole State of Arizona as recorded by the U. S. Census Bureau.

A FANTASTIC PROPOSAL The astonishing facts about the Interior Department's "Central Arizona Project" are disclosed in an article by Townner Phelan, distinguished economist, in the July 16 issue of the FREEMAN Magazine. "From the standpoint of costs in relation to expected benefits," he writes, "possibly nothing more fantastic than the Central

Traffic Figures

An average of 33 American soldiers was killed daily in Korea during the first year of the war, while at home automobile deaths averaged 99 a day, a comparative study of war and traffic fatalities made by the Association of Casualty and Surety companies disclosed recently.

Close to 12,000 combat deaths have occurred among United forces in Korea since hostilities started June 25, 1950, according to Defense Department reports. The Association's accident prevention department estimated that the nation's traffic dead during the same 12-month period total about 36,050, three times the U. S. death toll in Korea. American military deaths in all of the nation's wars, including the year in the Korean conflict, have reached a total of 998,000 in 176 years and two months since the Battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775. In the 51 years and six months since the first U. S. automobile death occurred at the turn of the century, nearly 980,000 men, women and children have lost their lives in traffic accidents.

In a strange historic parallel, both "GI-X" and "Victim X", the millionth victims to be killed by U. S. wars and automobiles, may die only a few weeks apart if the war continues.

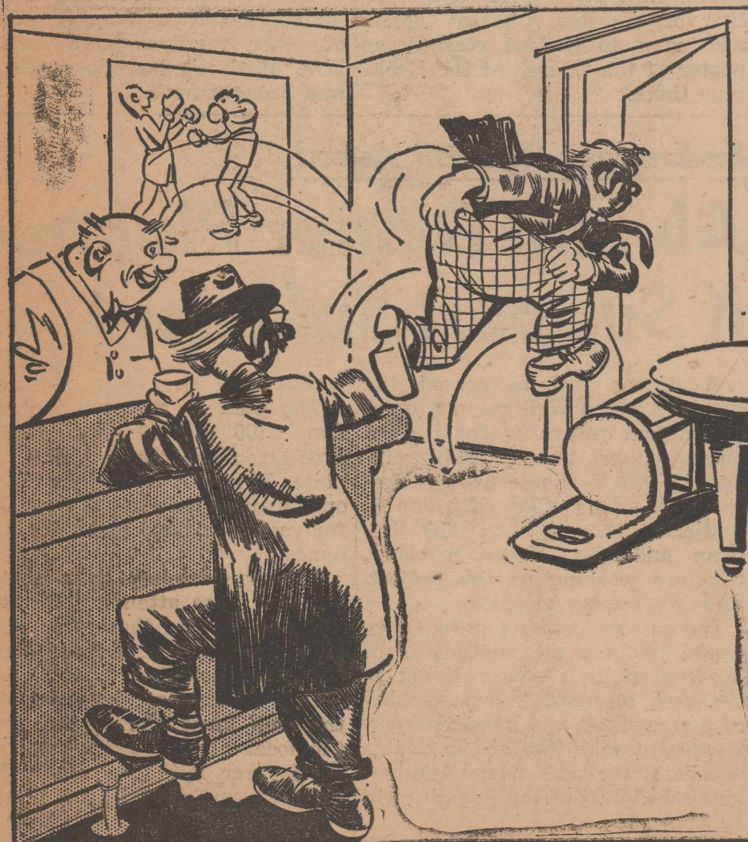

The unknown soldier who will become "GI-X" if the Korean war continues apparently has been given a respite of several months more life as a result of far lighter casualties recently in light of the peace conferences.

Accident X in which the millionth automobile fatality will occur is expected next December, based on present accident trends, although an intensive traffic safety campaign may delay the death of "Victim X" until early in 1952.

Since the war started nearly 1,300,000 men, women and children have been killed or injured on the home front by automobiles, the Casualty Company estimated. The total of traffic-injured, nearly 1,262,000 is more than 25 times the number of U. S. soldiers wounded in Korea and nine times greater than all American battle and non-battle casualties, with deaths excluded, in the same period—Memphis Democrat.

Southwest Cowboys Get Ready for Top O' Texas Rodeo

Cowboys and Cowgirls from all over the Southwest are already registering for the 7th annual Top o' Texas Rodeo, which is being held August 7th through 11th, at Pampa, Texas. This year's Rodeo is expected to be the biggest of all time and the program is spiced with many special attractions. The Top o' Texas Rodeo is one of the largest amateur rodeos in the world, and is known throughout the country as one of the fastest moving Shows in the Rodeo world.

Heading the special feature list this year will be Monte Hale, one of Hollywood's most popular western singing stars, who will be here for all four Rodeo performances, which begin at 8:00 p.m. each evening, August 8th through 11th. Hale was featured in the 1948 Top o' Texas Rodeo, and is returning by popular request. He was especially popular with the young visitors to the Rodeo because of his friendliness and cordial reception of these "future cowboys and cowgirls."

The Show will open, as in the past, with the Kid Pony Show on August 7th. Junior Cowboys and Cowgirls from 5 to 16 will have an opportunity to display the ability of rider and horse in the many events listed for the Kid Pony Show. These events include the Barrel Race, Bull Fight, Bull Riding, Flag Race, Doughnut Race, Cutting Horse Contest, Calf Roping, and Girl's Clover Leaf Reining Contest. There will also be a colorful downtown street parade on Tuesday afternoon, August 7th, at 4:00 p.m. for participants in the Kid Pony Show.

On Wednesday, August 8th, the big Rodeo will be officially opened with a downtown street parade beginning at 4:00 p.m. The parade will be for mat Foster and Hobart Streets, headed by Paul Crouch, Parade Marshal, and president of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association. Prizes will be given for the Most Typical Ranch Entry, Best Civic Club Entry, Most Typical Cowboy and Cowgirl over 16, Most Typical Cowboy and Cowgirl under 16, Best Decorated Bicycle, Oldest Cowboy or Cowgirl, Youngest Cowboy or Cowgirl, Most Comical Entry, and the Most Attractive Commercial Entry.

The Cowgirl Sponsor Contest is always a main attraction of the Rodeo. A special hand-made saddle, which is now on display in the Chamber of Commerce office, will be given as first prize; a beautiful tailor-made cowgirl riding costume as second prize; and a pair of ladies boots as third prize.

The Cutting Horse Contest this year will be one of the high points of the Rodeo, with a purse of $250.00 plus all entry fees. Judges for this Contest will be Ed Heller of Dundee, Texas, and Ramon Wood of Wichita Falls, Texas. The Contest will be conducted under National Cutting Horse Association rules. Entries for the Cutting Horse Contest will close at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, August 7th, while entries in all other regular rodeo events will close at 11:00 a.m., Wednesday, August 8th.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—This little mascot of a Seventh Division artillery unit in Korea seems out to prove there's plenty in a name. The pup, who feels at home sitting on a pile of 105-millimeter howitzer shells, answers to the moniker "Ammo."

The Bud Lucas Troup of Wichita Falls, Texas, will be another added attraction. This Troup is famous for its unusual comedy acts, and is known as "The Finest in Teeterboard Acrobatics." The group consists of six people — Sherry Lucas, age eleven, Gary Lucas, age seven, Bud Lucas, Lee Rudley, Al Pio and Don Gallion. Louis Blair of Dundee, Texas, will clown the show, and is expected to come up with his usual good humor and fun.

Tex Gouddy and his Texo Hired Hands of Radio Station WBAP, Fort Worth, will furnish music for the entire Show and play for the western dances held each night after the Rodeo at the Junior High School Gymnasium.

Goat Mayo of Petrolia, Texas, will be Arena Director, and will furnish all stock for the Rodeo. There will be no Quarter Horse Show this year.

According to advance reservations, this will be the biggest and best show yet staged by the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association. Reserved seats and any further information may be obtained by writing the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association, Box 1942, Telephone 383, Pampa, Texas.

Mrs. T. J. Stewart, Early Settler, Dies at Hot Springs

Mrs. T. J. Stewart, who came to this county in 1890 and lived in what was to become the Dodson area years later, died at her home in Hot Springs, Ark., Sunday, July 22. She had been in ill health two years and confined to her bed three months. She was 83 years of age.

Mrs. Stewart was the mother of Mrs. Fletcher White of the Kelley community and Verl Lee Stewart of Dodson.

Funeral services were held at the First Nazarene Church, Hot Springs, Tuesday morning at 10:00 a.m., with the Rev. Marion Kemper, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Park, Hot Springs.

Mrs. Stewart was born in Southern Arkansas and before her marriage she was Miss Mary Olivia Jarnagin. She and Mr. Stewart would have been married 64 years in November. They moved to this county in 1890 and settled on what is known as the old Elmore Dodson farm west of Dodson.

In 1892, they moved just across the line into Oklahoma and lived there until 1921, when they moved to Hot Springs. They still owned their farms in Collingsworth County.

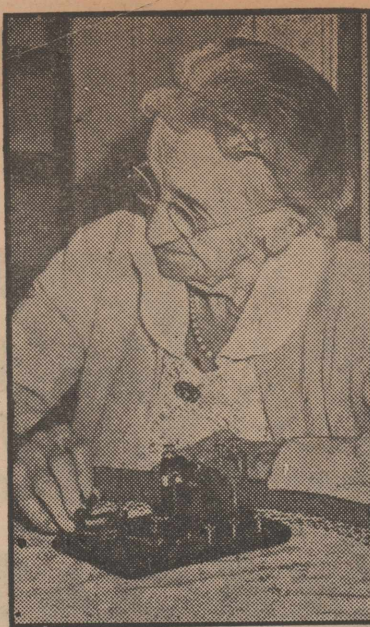

During recent years, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart had returned here numerous times for extended visits in the homes of their children.

Mrs. Stewart was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene in Hot Springs.

She is survived by her husband, T. J. Other survivors are two brothers and two sisters: Henry Jarnagin of Mississippi; Monroe Jarnagin of Louisiana; Mrs. Lennie Russell of Pittsburg; and Mrs. Sallie Stevenson of Houston.

Going from here to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. Lee White and children, Sondra and James Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and Don.

T. E. Whitworth of Nashville, Tenn., visited recently with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Johnson.

MORSE, NOT REMORSE—
An old skill has given 90-year-old Mrs. Emma Read of Pueblo, Colo., a new life. When her hearing failed years ago, Mrs. Read, once a frontier town telegrapher, became an expert lip reader. Recently her sight began to fail. Undaunted, Mrs. Read taught Morse code to her daughter and now has an electrical contact with the world.

Post Office Exams Planned

The Civil Service Commission announces an examination for filling vacancies in the Wellington Post Office in the position of Substitute Clerk-Carrier at the salary rate of $1.31 1-2 per hour. To be eligible to take the examination applicants must actually reside within the delivery of the Wellington Post Office or be bona fide patrons thereof. Application forms and additional information may be secured from Jim Cook at the post office, or from the Regional Director, Fourteenth U. S. Lord Jim Says--

By Bill Hughes

What a screwy world you unfortunate pot-bellied Americans are master minding.

At the same time that you are building your hopes for peace in one place with a relentless enemy, your peace seeking leaders scream about the ever mounting danger from the same enemy at every point in the world, even including that very same place over which you are negotiating.

From a dog's point of view, your leaders are thinking with their bellies.

They talk about not being ready. They say you need more men, more machines, more preparedness. At the same time, they say you are adequately prepared today but at the present rate of progress, tomorrow you will be sunk.

They say your atom bombs and your B-36s are all that is keeping the enemy at bay, but that if you don't keep turning the other cheek and letting the satellites kick you in the breeches on your time and at their asking, these won't be enough even today.

The fact of the matter is as I see it, they are the pied pipers and you are the dancers.

I don't think basically, that your atom bombs and B-36s have much to do with the Russian time table. I don't think they are what holds the Communist Dictators in check.

The thumb that is stopping the hole in the dyke is the power of your economic system and your ability to outproduce any nation on earth — not your bombs and obsolete aircraft.

What good are your bombs and planes? You know extraordinarily little about where to drop them and delivery is no more easy than it was taking the Japs in hand in time to get back for tea.

On the other hand, they have known for years and years where to drop their's on you.

No, their time table hinges on how much and when their own system can produce what it takes to cripple or destroy the only thing you have got that they fear — your production.

If you only knew how badly you need to suck in your guts, think hard and clear, and to stand straight with your hearts and souls bowed only to God — like Americans of 1776 — full of disagreements but united in the determination to be free.

A bombs; H bombs! B-36s! Man-made physical equality! Government given security! Bah! God made us all and God helps those who seek it of Him. But man must seek by deed and not by mouth alone for else his stupid, selfish, greedy ego destroys him, as it has again and again for 25,000 years. Wake up Boss, wake up you Americans!

Safe Braking Margin Varies

Importance of driving in accordance with highway conditions is illustrated by this diagrammatic view prepared by Chevrolet in the interest of traffic safety. Standard braking tables reveal 190 feet is required for a stop at 50 miles an hour, allowing three-quarters of a second for a driver's reaction to an emergency. When the pavement is wet, however, the distance increases to 250 feet. On icy pavement 472 feet will be covered before a car brakes to a complete stop.

Not a Compulsory Insurance Law

DRIVER RESPONSIBILITY LAW NOT IN EFFECT UNTIL JANUARY 1

AUSTIN — Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today announced his intentions of calling upon the State's newspapers and radio stations to assist his Department in putting the "damper" on the false rumors and misinformation that is currently being spread in some circles concerning Texas' new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law.

Garrison emphasized that the State will conduct a thorough educational program in November and December to acquaint the public accurately and adequately with the purposes and requirements of the law which will become effective next January 1st.

At the same time, Director Garrison warned the public not to believe statements that the statute is now in effect or that it is a compulsory insurance law. He emphatically pointed out that the law will have no effect upon motor vehicle owners and operators until January 1st and declared that under no condition or circumstances will it compel motorists to carry automobile liability insurance.

According to Garrison, the new regulations bear no resemblance to a compulsory insurance law. He pointed further to the fact that only one state has such a law but that Texas became the 35th state to enact a security-type Safety Responsibility Law. It is true, according to Garrison that, beginning January 1st a motor vehicle owner or operator who is involved in an accident resulting in death or injury, or property damage exceeding $100, must furnish proof of his ability to meet claims up to $15,000 or have his motoring privileges suspended until he does.

Proper insurance may be accepted as sufficient proof of such financial responsibility but the law also offers several other choices of furnishing such proof. Among these are the posting of a bond with the Texas Department of Public Safety or the depositing of satisfactory security with the Department. Also, under certain conditions, individuals or firms may qualify as self-insurers under the terms of the law.

The alternatives will be clearly set forth by the Safety Department as a part of the education program beginning in November. All such information released by the State will be clearly identified as such, and it will be official, according to Garrison.

In calling upon the press and radio for assistance, Garrison stated: "I am asking the public-spirited newspapers and radio stations of Texas to cooperate with the Department of Public Safety, on behalf of the State, in a plan to give our people all the true facts. I am confident that they will do so. This educational program will begin November 1st, two months before the law becomes effective. In the meantime, I hope the people of Texas will not permit themselves to be misled again about this new law, which was enacted for their greater safety and financial protection."

Mrs. John Walker of the Needwood community and Mrs. Walter Deger of Lutie, accompanied by Mrs. Walker's daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. J. M. Tindall and Miss Kathleen Tindall of Shamrock, returned Friday from a visit in California. Mrs. Deger was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall of Compton, former residents of this county, while Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Tindall and Miss Tindall visited in Glendale. They stopped en route to visit numerous points of interest.

GREEN CHIROPRACTIC OFFICE

PHONE 526 FOR APPOINTMENT

What Is Arthritis?

Arthritis is essentially an inflammation of the surfaces of the joint. This inflammation involves not only the bony surfaces, but the musculature and the ligaments surrounding the joint. In many instances, this joint inflammation results from excessive stresses and strains arising from improper functioning. This is a matter of faulty body mechanism, arising from bad posture, curvature of the spine, bones out of place, and other conditions which would induce body unbalance.

Another factor that is often involved in arthritis is faulty calcium metabolism. This means the body's ability to utilize for its own purpose the natural calcium salts found in certain foods.

Recent research has demonstrated that there is definite relationship between arthritis and an upset nervous system. Disturbances in the nervous system interfere with metabolism.

The chiropractor, in dealing with arthritis, seeks to restore normal body balance, and normal functioning of the nervous system. By removing pressures which clog, re-establish the body's proper calcium metabolism as well as the correct mechanical functioning of its joints. When he does so, symptoms of arthritis disappear.

A memo from the U.S.A.

We Americans don't get mad easy.

But when we do, look out!

We pitch in and turn out guns, tanks, planes and ships faster than anybody on earth.

But nobody boots us into line. No commissars. No bayonets. No slave labor. We just get to work—because we've got something to work for...our liberties and our individual freedoms.

And back of our men and machines is electric power—as much as all the rest of the world has.

It's steady, dependable power—the kind produced only by free men—the kind that helped perform production miracles in World War II. Today, the business-managed electric companies have doubled the supply of electric power available before that war—and they're stepping it up all the time.

Yessir, we have power—with more on the way—and we know how to use it. That's a good thing for everybody to remember right now. And it's a good thing for some people here at home to remember that America's tremendous electric power was developed by the free enterprise system which has made America greater than any other nation.

Swart (left), head of the General Tire and Rubber Company's research staff which developed the company's revolutionary process for the manufacture of vital synthetic rubber, discusses the method with General's president, W. O'Neil, at the Akron laboratory. The widely-publicized method, offered to the United States government through the RFC, greatly increases production and quality of synthetic rubber by mixing cheap petroleum oil with tough synthetic stock, a process long sought by major rubber interests. The secret was revealed at a Canadian chemists' meeting in Kitchener, Ontario. The formula produces rubber for much tougher, longer-wearing tires and is already in production in Canadian rubber plants.

Forbis Home from Church Conf.

Among the 1,500 Methodist pastors and lay leaders who participated in the "National Methodist Town and Country Conference," Sioux City, Iowa, July 21 to 24, was J. T. Forbis, layman of the Methodist Church of Wellington, Texas. The Conference, called by the Council of Bishops and by the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, was planned to discuss the importance and place of the church in the rural and smaller communities of America, and to help the smaller churches better the service they render to men, women and children in their communities. Bishop Charles W. Brashares, of Des Moines, was general chairman and keynote speaker of the Conference.

Mr. Forbis participated in a unique feature of the Conference when on Sunday the delegates visited some 200 churches in 39 countries of four states within a radius of 80 miles of Sioux City. The delegates conducted the worship and preaching services, taught church school classes, and discussed with the churches their problems of leadership, of religious education, etc. It is estimated that 21,481 people were reached in the preaching services, and 17,103 in the church school sessions.

While much of the Conference was in the nature of study groups on specific problems — with findings that will later be transmitted to local churches and pastors for their study and use — there were also on the program a number of nationally-known speakers on problems related to the rural church and the small community. Among these speakers were: President Murray D. Lincoln of CARE, Prof. Charles M. McConnell of Boston University, Dr. Carl C. Taylor of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Portland, Oregon, Dr. Arthur F. Raper of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Columbus, O., and Miss Katherine F. Lenroot of the U. S. Children's Bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wells of Memphis were Wellington visitors Friday.

Mr. Knoll was born at Leipzig, Germany, September 15, 1878, and with a sister and brother, came to the United States at the age of 13, after they had been orphaned. He lived in DeWitt County, where he was married to Miss Louise Sauermilch, on December, 1903, until they came to this county in 1918.

Mr. Knoll was a member of the Lutheran Church, having been confirmed Easter Sunday 1892.

A farm leader, Mr. Knoll had been active in community work. He and Mrs. Knoll had built their comfortable home in the Nicholson community, and this became the gathering place for their many friends throughout Collingsworth and Wheeler counties.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Knoll, and six sons, all of whom live in the home community: Willie Knoll, Alfred Knoll, Frank Knoll Jr., Herbert Knoll, Joe Knoll and Louis Knoll; one brother, Ernest M. Knoll of Houston; 11 grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle, their children and Strickland were riding when it met head on the pickup carrying Mrs. Smith and her son.

Mr. Parsons, reaching his farm just after the accident occurred, was told by the Smith youth that his father and other members were in a car ahead of the pickup. He returned to Wellington and located Mr. Smith, who was unaware that his family had been injured.

Mr. Smith is to teach at Spearman.

Mr. Barnett said the Boyle car was a total loss, while the pickup was so badly damaged he doubted it would be repaired.

No charges have been filed in the case, Mr. Barnett said.

Deputy Barnett said one of the largest crowds he ever saw gathered at the wreck scene, with cars lining both sides of the road for nearly a mile, and others driving up and down the road.

"I hope that one good thing will come out of this — that drivers can see how bad a wreck they can have if they don't drive carefully," he commented.

"The business has grown rapidly since it was established," Mrs. Williams said. "For some time, we have been delivering building materials to customers over the Panhandle and Southwest Oklahoma. The reception over this wide territory is most gratifying to us, but we came to the point that we felt in order to continue our present rate of growth and to serve our customers as we want to serve them, we had to expand our facilities."

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Gregory of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nowlin Sunday.

ence on family and introduced there October 12. Their story will be told in the October 11 issue of The Christian Advocate.

Wellington's Methodist Family includes Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and their three children, John, age 14, Ada Carole, 12, and Jack, three.

They have been members of the church here for approximately 10 years, since Mr. Thomas was transferred to Wellington as county agricultural agent by the Extension Service.

Forty-three-year-old Mr. Thomas is better known to Wellington Methodists and farmers all over the county as Lefty than he is by his own name.

He has been a church member 30 years and a steward for 12. For five years, he taught in the Sunday School and with his wife has worked as adult leader in youth work several years. This impressive record in his church stacks up with his record of achievement in the farm life of the county. He is also a former baseball player and oil field worker.

Mrs. Thomas, whose friends call her Casie, has been a member of the church 31 years. She has taught in the church school 8 years and served in an official capacity in the Women's Society of Christian Service for many years. She is now communion steward on the official board.

Church work has come naturally for the two older children. John, who has been a Methodist 5 years, served as an official in both his Sunday School Class and Intermediate MYF. Ada Carole, a church member three years, is assistant secretary of her class and program chairman in the Intermediate MYF. So far, Jack's church activities have been attending Sunday School and church, which he started when he was only two months old.

"This family lives on a small farm and appreciates God's many gifts to man. They love Christ and his Church, and recognize the importance of family life in the perpetuation of Christian living as set forth by our Master," Rev. Michael said.

They had had no contact since being released from service.

The New York couple, on a vacation trip to California, drove into Texas along Highway 66, when Male remembered that Harper had lived in Wellington. A check on the road map showed they'd be just 25 miles away at Shamrock. It was a quick decision to drive on down.

Mr. Male is with the General Electric Corp. at Schenectady.

A similar incident occurred to Mr. Harper two years ago when a World War I friend and his wife, from Minnesota, traveling in Texas, stopped to see him. These men had not been in contact with each other, either.

Free Chest X-rays-

August 21, Mr. Gibson said it was hoped to work out a plan whereby all school children over 15 years can be brought in by school buses. Ministers of the county are being asked to announce the program from their pulpits.

It is pointed out again, that as in past years, the service is free; there is no obligation upon those X-rayed; the individual is X-rayed fully clothed; and all information given, along with the results of the test when they are returned, are confidential.

"This is a screening program and not a diagnostic program," Mr. Hoover explained.

Location of the mobile equipment will be at Stevenson Implement Co. a place easily accessible and convenient to the public.

"We want to emphasize the need for having a chest X-ray each year," Dr. Jones said. "Tuberculosis is a disease that can develop within a year, and only by following the program faithfully, from year to year, can we hope to stamp out tuberculosis."

The mobile unit will be set up Tuesday, August 21, and X-ray work will begin Wednesday morning. The schedule will include:

Wednesday, Aug. 22: 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Thursday, Aug. 23: 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Friday, Aug. 24: 10:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Saturday, Aug. 25: 1:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Committee chairmen set up to handle the X-ray program this year include: Clerical committee: Mrs. Jimmy Cochran and Mrs. Bob Castleberry, co-chairmen; hostess committee: Mrs. Darvin Nix, chairman; publicity committee: Miss Virginia Robey; unloading committee, H&H Transfer Co.; ministerial committee, the Rev. J. F. Michael, chairman; transportation committee, Howard Oliphint, chairman; telephone committee, Mrs. Bura Handley, chairman; card-sending committee, Mrs. Dick Richards, chairman; house to house canvass committee, John H. Pound, chairman; follow-up committee, Dr. E. K. Jones, county health officer.
