COX CONCEDES HARDING WINS RETURNS INDICATE G. O. P. LANDSLIDE

At the midnight hour returns rapidly flowing in only served to increase Senator Harding's popular vote. The Republicans gained a victory in practically all the doubtful states. Ohio and Kansas were in the Republican column with a big lead for Harding. Nebraska turned out to be a Harding state. Harding was leading in Arizona and Utah, which went for Wilson in 1916. Idaho, another former Democratic state, was conceded to Harding.

These former Democratic states, coupled with the landslide in New York, Indiana, Massachusetts, Illinois, and California, brought the early announcement of a Republican victory.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—At 8:30 p. m. tonight, the Brooklyn Eagle (Democratic newspaper), conceded Senator Harding's election.

DALLAS, Nov. 2.—The first flash from the Texas election tonight stated that 30 precincts out of the total of 4540 gave Harding 1236, and Cox 5340. 15 towns in Texas give Neff for governor 3809, Culbertson 571, Capers 544, McGregor 510, Rhodes 71.

DALLAS, Nov. 2.—Returns received up to ten o'clock indicated that Pat Neff was leading. McGregor and Culbertson for governor by about four to one. Up to this hour Neff had received 22,662 votes out of 72 precincts reporting. McGregor had received 2,468, Culbertson 3,951.

DALLAS, Nov. 3.—13 districts in the city of Dallas give Cox 1385, Harding 553.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 2.—Partial returns from 20 precincts in Marion county gives Harding 8,238, Cox 6,762.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—As early as 7:45 the City News Bureau, tabulating the Cook county returns, predicted that Warren G. Harding had carried the city of Chicago by a plurality of more than 300,000.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 2.—80 districts out of 1766 give Harding 595, Cox 20,675.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 2.—49 districts out of 7219 give Harding 7,081, Cox 1,706.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 2.—529 out of 3208 districts give Harding 70,374, Cox 81,556.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 2.—30 precincts out of 2425 give Harding 6,552, Cox 1,633.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 2.—114 precincts out of 3385 give Harding 48,149, Cox 33,486.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 2.—Harding received 3141 votes, Cox 441, out of 17 districts in the city of Philadelphia.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—210 districts out of 221 in the city of Boston, give Cox 60,848, Harding 86,436. 30 towns out of 168 in Massachusetts give Harding 94,817, Cox 54,026.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 3.—Polls closed in California 7:00 p. m., Nevada and Arizona 6:00 p. m., Washington and Oregon at 8:00 p. m., all Pacific time, and no reports were available when polls closed. The ballot for California is long and the count slow.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 3.—1633 precincts in Ohio, give Harding 267,484, Cox 172,397.

COX CONGRATULATES SENATOR HARDING

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 2.—At eleven-thirty, Gov. Cox wrote a telegram from his office in the Dayton News building, where he received the election returns, wiring Senator Harding his congratulations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—At midnight The New York Times conceded the election of Senator Harding.

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 3.—The Dayton Daily News, owned by Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, at ten-fifteen o'clock tonight, went to press with an extra edition, conceding the election of Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican nominee.

Gov. Cox was in the office of the Daily News and received the election returns as they came in from over the nation. He had issued no statement up to this time, but knew that his paper was conceding the election of Harding.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Chairman White, of the National Democratic Committee, at eleven o'clock, last night conceded the election of Mr. Harding.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—The Globe-Democrat, a Republican paper, issued an extra at eleven o'clock, announcing the election of Harding. The Globe-Democrat says that the returns indicate a big Republican victory in Missouri, and claimed that Harding will carry St. Louis by 50,000 plurality.

POLLS FORCED TO STAY OPEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The use of barrels for ballot boxes was one of the expedients adopted at some of the polling places in New Jersey today as a result of the greatly increased vote due to suffrage. It was indicated that owing to the large number of women registrants throughout the United States the same congestion elsewhere prevailed. In Boston the polls were kept open until 5 p. m. instead of at 4:00 o'clock. In Georgia except in the county seats, the polls were to close at 3:00 p. m. home folks.

m., and in the county seats at 6 o'clock. Voting went on today in more than 100,000 election precincts in the 48 states, in three of which, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia, the polls closed at sunset.

BIG TICKET IN CALIFORNIA

Twelve amendments to the state constitution were submitted to the voters of California in yesterday's election, and five referendums and three initiative propositions were submitted to the voters. And yet some people complain about the Texas ticket being so large.

REMOVE THE BLOCKS

We have passed the embryo stage in automobilism, and it is high time to remove the blocks. The concrete traffic blocks have served their purpose. Everybody has had ample time to learn how to drive and when to turn and how to turn, and the blocks are now an impediment to travel instead of a benefit. The blocks should be removed from the main street, and if the public does not observe the traffic laws apply the other remedy.

A Reliable Remedy for Colds and Croup.

It would surprise you to know the number of people who use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. J. N. Rose, Verona, Pa., writes "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used by myself and husband for a number of years for coughs and colds. I also gave it to my little granddaughter three and a half years of age when she had croup last winter. It broke up the attack at once. I have recommended this remedy to many of my friends and neighbors who have also used it with good results."

THE STORY OF A HALLOWE'EN.

Hallowe'en hoodlums did their worst Saturday night, and the streets on Sunday morning presented mute evidence of their operations. The people are accustomed to Hallowe'en pranks and do not complain when the spooks confine themselves to harmless mischief. But the "ghosts" who were abroad Saturday night overstepped the bounds of reason and engaged in absolute lawlessness that was inexcusable. Deliberate destruction of property, whether municipal or private, is never excusable, even when cloaked in a spirit of fun.—Brownwood Bulletin.

It is the same old story so often repeated after each Hallowe'en. Hereafter a little action before action and warning might keep the damage of the "spooks" down to a minimum. Or if the officers would set up in and call on the parents and those responsible for the "spooks" to pay for some of the damage, the "spooks" might be held down a little when the next Hallowe'en rolls around. Ballinger boys were good boys this year, and while no one deserves credit for doing right, The Ledger wishes to commend them for their good behavior.

WOMAN VOTE IS PERFECT

While many men who participated in the primary elections, declined to vote in Tuesday's election, the women, the newly enfranchised voters, turned out in larger number than expected and prevented what was predicted to be a low vote.

The rural boxes in this county, at the last hour, mustered a sufficient number of clerks to help hold the election and the polls were opened on scheduled time, and the largest vote ever cast in a general election in the county resulted.

At this hour complete returns can not be had, but boxes which have reported indicate that a much better vote was polled than was at first expected.

The two Ballinger boxes exceeded the expectations of the local politicians, and rolled up a good vote. It is estimated that the qualified women voters came up with almost one hundred per cent vote, and lived up to the primary pledge.

FASHION CREATIONS WORN BY YOUNG IN PRODUCTION

"The Forbidden Woman," which will be shown at the Maero Theatre Friday night of this week, is said to have an unusually elaborate background for the display of Clara Kimball Young's justly celebrated gowns, the value of which wardrobe is said to exceed twenty-six thousand dollars, and includes priceless creations in the way of evening gowns, afternoon frocks, dinner gowns, armloads of furs, hats and jewelry sufficient to satisfy the hearts of all her feminine admirers.

These exquisite creations are the result of hours of study and labor by French designers, Miss Young, and her technical director, all of whom have made a deep study of the harmony of colors and the value of color combinations for screen purposes, or in other words, they have discovered the exact value of color under the glaring lights of the Cooper Hewitts.

"The average outsider knows nothing whatever of the distinctions to be obtained by certain colors under the minute photographic lens," Miss Young declares, "or that red photographs black, pale blue and indistinct white, while other colors change their identity in a most confusing manner. Nor that the color scheme of gowns worn must harmonize with the various interiors, drapes, and hangings used in the different sets, so that all strong primary colors, shadings and gradations of tone are arranged for composition effects."

"If one were to judge my gowns from the standpoint of street wear and availability, some of the color combinations would seem hideously out of place and clash outrageously. For this reason, many of the gowns worn by me in 'The Forbidden Woman' have been created and designed solely for use in this one picture."

As previously announced a per cent of the proceeds of this performance Friday, (and for one Friday every month), will go to the Shakespeare Club in its library maintenance fund.

FARMER SAVES DAMAGED COTTON

Max Zieschang was in the city Tuesday and told a Ledger man how he had saved his bad grade cotton and made good grade out of it, and he is doing the same thing this year.

Mr. Zieschang's statement is verified by others who have tried the plan and vouch for its value, and those who have tested the plan say that all farmers should profit by adopting this method of picking their storm damaged cotton.

"I discovered this thirty-one years ago," said Mr. Zieschang, "and it has saved me a great deal in the past years. Thirty-one years ago we had just about such a storm as visited this country last Saturday night a week ago. I picked my cotton, which was badly damaged by the storm, and stored it away in a house. To my surprise when the cotton was ginned, it made a good sample, and classed out what our buyers now call a No. 2 grade."

Mr. Zieschang says that he picked the cotton from the stalks, picked it off the ground at the same time and piled all the cotton in a dry room. It went through a sweating process and turned out a pretty grade, while neighbors who picked their cotton and carried it direct from the field to the gin got a low grade, and lost about $20 per bale.

Mr. Zieschang says that he will vouch for a saving of at least enough to pay for the picking, if the farmers will store their cotton and wait or some time before taking it to the gin.

The Bank Behind the Farmer

The farmer who is without the backing and support of a strong bank, is treading up on dangerous ground.

The business of farming is, at times, precarious; and no farmer can afford to be without the protection that is afforded by a friendly connection with a helpful bank.

Open an account with us; handle your business through this bank, and establish the credit you may later need.
