

SNOOTER KNOWS

LITTLE ABOUT EVERY-THING NOT MUCH ABOUT ANY-THING

SATURDAY, comes a day of great anxiety. That is, from a political standpoint. It's the day when the sovereign voters of Texas go to the polls and decide who, among twenty-nine candidates, will serve as United States Senator to fill the position made vacant by the death of Morris Sheppard. Out of the 29 candidates there are four lead candidates: Gerald C. Mann, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, Lyndon Johnson, and Martin Dies. I have named these candidates in the order they will come when the votes in Saturday's election have been counted. I have some good staunch friends, I hope, who will widely differ with my prognostication. I have friends who tell me that O'Daniel will be elected, that Johnson will be the top man, that Dies is certain of heing off with the gonfalon, whatever that is.

But I'm going to tell you boys, right here and now, that should an accident occur, and my man be defeated, any candidate who is elected is my United States Senator, the same as he is the one of the voter who opposed my candidate. I can take it if I lose, and I know my friends well enough they can take it too, if they lose.

For the benefit of Martin County voters, I pick this place to print a copy of the ballot that is to be voted Saturday:

Gerald Mann Spoke Here

CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATE

Making his 262nd speech of his intensive campaign for the United States Senate, Gerald C. Mann, attorney general of Texas, addressed the voters here Saturday afternoon.

Mann, patterning his present drive after the campaign of three years ago when his smashing victory for the attorney generalship wrote political history in Texas, has spoken in 188 counties in every section of the state.

Speaking before a crowd gathered here Saturday afternoon Mann pledged to "devote all my energy and all of my ability first to the task of national defense."

"The most compelling problem facing our nation today is total national preparedness," he declared. "I view this problem very realistically. We want guns and more guns and we want them now! We want ships and more ships, and we want them now! We want airplanes and tanks and submarines. We want them in great numbers and we want them now!"

"I want to arm so strongly that all the powers on earth combined, could never, under any possible circumstances, produce an American Dunkerque."

The fiery speaker condemned strikes in defense industries and stated "we must have action in stopping them." He outlined a bill he said he would introduce immediately in the Senate to eliminate labor strife in such industries but which would guarantee fair wages to labor and fair profits to industry.

There can be no total national preparedness unless the needy aged are cared for and the farmer is taken into consideration, Mann contended.

"Old age assistance by a system of federal matching has become a federal question. When elected your United States Senator, I shall favor legislation providing equal, uniform assistance to all the needy aged and let the federal government see to it that such a law is efficiently administered and fairly applied."

"Too long has the farmer been forced to buy on a protected market and sell on an unprotected market," Mann added. "So long as our 'infant industries' which have grown into giants are protected, so must the farmer be protected. I shall favor continued federal aid to the farmer and ranchman."

Declaring that private business of a public official is public business, Mann pledged that each year as United States Senator he would file a copy of his income tax report with the Secretary of State so that the people may "know who is paying Gerald C. Mann." He contended that no man could serve two masters, and promised that he would not work for any person, group or corporation at Washington, but would "represent the people of Texas."

"In all candor, this race has narrowed down to one between Gerald C. Mann and the governor of Texas," he said. "If I more typify those things that you desire in your United States Senator, I hope that you will join hands with the thousands of other friends of Gerald C. Mann in every community and county of Texas in this campaign."

STRAW VOTE POLLED IN STANTON GIVES MANN CONSIDERABLE PER CENT MARGIN

| Candidate | Vote | Percentage |
|-----------------|------|------------|
| Mann | 20 | 34.45 |
| W. Lee O'Daniel | 11 | 19.43 |
| Martin Dies | 11 | 19.43 |
| Lyndon Johnson | 14 | 24.14 |
| Sam Morris | 2 | 02.45 |

All last week a ballot box was stationed on a prominent corner in Stanton, for the purpose of taking a straw vote on candidates running for the office of United States Senator. The ballots were counted Monday, with the following results:

According to the count Mann leads with a very healthy percentage, with Johnson in fourth position. The poll of votes was very light, only 58 being accounted for. That, indeed, is a very short end of the voting strength of Martin county this year which is 934 with 160 exemptions. And that vote is considerably less than the vote at the last election which was 1542. That shows 611 votes is shy this year of the real voting strength of the county.

Up to Tuesday that had been eight absentee votes cast in Martin county for Saturday's election. Midnight Wednesday, the time for absentee voting ceased. The polls will open at 7:00 a. m., and close at 7:00 p. m. The sheriff's department will distribute the voting boxes to all the voting points in the county Friday.

Following are the voting boxes in Martin county, and president of election board:

1. Baptist Annex—H. C. Houston.
2. Methodist Church—S. C. Houston.
3. South Plains—I. E. Welch.
4. Patricia—J. C. Burk.
5. Lenorah, North—S. J. Foreman.
6. Brown—James Shortes.
7. Loyola—J. B. McNew.
8. Flower Grove—F. W. Beckmeyer.
9. Courtney—J. D. McCreless.
10. Valley View—S. F. Weathers.
11. Earl Bryant Residence—Earl Bryant.
12. Lenorah, South—H. W. Deavenport.

THE RACE OF THE TORTOISE AND HARE

Of course you've heard of the race of the hare and the tortoise and how the latter won. Well, in the instance of publishing local news that should have appeared in the paper last week, we are the tortoise—slow but wins. Some of these locals were written and hung on the copy hook, but overlooked by the linotype operator who must have been suffering from "imaginitis"—for instances picturing himself sitting in a shady nook with his bare feet in the cool waters of a rippling brook fishing. At any rate here are the locals that got left out of the paper, and if any one of your family has died and been buried a week, and should have been reported her last week, apologies are all on us:

Miss Ethel Kaderli is home from her school at Longview with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Kaderli. Another visitor in the Kaderli home and returned home last week, was Chester Kaderli of Kibmell, Neb., who has been the station agent there many years. Deavenport had written they plan to remain the rest of the summer in Temple, as Mr. Deavenport is improving, hence the visit of the grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bristow, Jr., of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rix and little daughter, Carol Dean, of Odessa, were here Sunday to visit their respective fathers. Dr. P. M. Bristow and J. K. Barfield. REPORTING ACTIVITIES OF MARTIN COUNTY LIBRARY FOR SPRING OF 1941 MARCH 29, INCLUDING JUNE 7, 1941

We feel that the 1941 year's work is progressing in a most satisfactory way. If the two remaining quarters can accomplish anything like as much, we will easily finish all of our 1941 plans mapped out for the year.

We are still working on our collection of Zane Grey books, and have now received the entire list of the ones the Library has never owned with the exception of one book, "Drift Fence." We feel sure this will be collected for before June passes.

"The Sheppard of Guadalupe" received early in April, was bought by Glynn and Marilyn Bunch, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Daniells, and Mrs. J. B. Collier.

"The Thundering Herd," another April book bought by Jessie Mae Clinton, Mr. Jim Miller, Mrs. A. E. Dauley, Miss Margie Richards, Glynn Bunch, Mrs. Rosa McNeese, Buddie Henderson, and Mrs. J. B. Collier.

"Trail Driver," bought by Miss Corinne Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Denman, Mrs. Annie Herzog, Mrs. Rosa McNeese, and Bunch.

"Wild Horse Nest," also a June book, was paid for by Corene Cook, Boo Davenport, Glynn Bunch, Mrs. Annie Herzog, Mrs. Boots Brown, Mrs. J. B. Collier, and others.

Just here, we wish to pause in the report and explain that several people placed gifts of money in the little bank, who didn't mention the fact to the librarian, so we have no way of knowing to whom credit should be given. Unless you wish to avoid giving your name and the amount of your gift, please hand the money to the librarian, who makes a note of the gift and places them on a list, on file, kept for that purpose.

The Stanton Study club, who own and maintain this library, wish, always, to express their pleasure and appreciation, to all who give gifts, either of money or books, and it is for this reason we keep lists of all gifts.

Books given this quarter from individuals are

Early in March, Mrs. Guy Everett Horn, made the first gift of books, a collection of nine, "Oliver Twist," by Charles "Phillip" by Mary C. Cutler; Dickens; "Kept for the Master's Use," by Hymes; "The Throne of David," by Ingraham; "Opening of the Chestnut Burr," by E. P. Poe; "In His Steps" by John Sheldon; "A Noble Life" by the author of "John Halifax Gentleman"; "Life of Jesus" by Rev. O. C. S. Wallace.

Roger Southall gave: "The Deerslayer" by James Fenimore Cooper; "Heritage" (a collection of famous authors) by Barns, Bessey, Gaulbl, and others; "Ferdinand and the Bull" by Murno Leaf, and a little Big Book, "Gang Busters Step In."

Mrs. Rosa McNeese gave: "Ivanhoe" by Sir Walter Scott. Mrs. Oneta Hopper gave a little Big Book, Buck Jones in "Ride 'Em Cowboy."

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cooper gave "The Lovely Ship," our first and only Storm Jameson book.

On April 26, Robert White, who was soon to leave for training camp, brought in ten splendid books as gifts to the library: "God's Country and the Woman" by James Oliver Curwood; "The Good Earth" by Pearl S. Buck; "Pirates of Venus" by Edgar Rice Burroughs; "Daughters of the Sun" by Jackson Gregory; "Lost Horizons" by James Hilton; "Westward Ho" by Charles Kingsley; "Empire for a Lady" by Allen Le May; "The Circular Staircase" by Mary Robert Rhinehart; "Beau Geste" by Percy C. Wren and "Ellery Queen" by Ellery Queen.

The W. P. Hildreth family gave the next collection of ten books. Some very desirable books, among these: "Story and Poems From Kipling"; "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" by Samuel Clemens; Great Stories of the Bible" by Josephine Pollard; "The Story of Joseph and Other Heroes" by various authors. Other books were "Preparation," two copies of "Riches," "Preservation," and "Light," two copies.

Eunice Schell made the last gift for this quarter, giving two fine books, "Love's A Puzzle" by Faith Baldwin, and "The Corpse in the Green Pajamas" by R. A. J. Walling, a thrilling detective story.

Gifts of magazines came in from Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Daniell, Mr. and Mrs. Loyace Hazlewood, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collier, Miss Irma Kelly, gave The Star-Telegram containing the entire story of "Bread Into Roses" by Kathleen Norris. Mrs. Rosa McNeese gave the magazine numbers containing the story of Zane Grey's "The Twin Sombreros."

Mrs. G. L. Thompson gave a number of "The Gospel Tidings" and the W. Hildreth family gave several copies of "Stories for Boys and Girls."

Assuredly "The Tribe of Abou Ben Adams" still lives!"

'Old Hickory' Would Do This To Hitler

By Marquis James (Celebrated Biographer of Andrew Jackson and Pulitzer Prize Winner)

I HAVE frequently been asked what I thought Andrew Jackson would do if he were here today—in the White House, presumably.

He would lick the living tar out of Hitler, that's what he would do.

Who can doubt that Jackson's foreign policy would be? Witness his settlement of the Spoils Claims against France, totalling 25,000,000 francs, owing since the Napoleonic Wars.

More than any other chieftain of our Republic, Andrew Jackson exemplified the power of will—the ascendancy of spirit to lead men to deeds beyond their strength and to triumph over odds so great that ordinary folk stood in terror of them.

Jackson's Louisiana campaign is a feat which almost challenges belief. Neither in France nor in the Balkans has Hitler land forces. With most of Maine seized and annexed, Eastport burned, Nantucket captured, the Cape Cod towns sacked or laid under tribute, the British went on down the coast scaring the daylight out of New York and Philadelphia and filling the East with appeasers.

The British moved South for the crowning blow—the subjugation of the Mississippi Valley. With the Government in flight, the Treasury empty, and the cry of disunion raised in New England, Andrew Jackson, in Alabama with some 500 regular and 2,000 militia, was given the job of beating off the invasion.

Jackson reached New Orleans on December 1, 1814. The British were on their way with 7,500 men, the most powerful and best equipped military force to set foot in the New World up to that time.

Against such might, what could Jackson do? That was heard on every side. New Orleans was a rich commercial town. New Orleans merchants argued that if they had to do business with the British they could, much as they might prefer otherwise. At any rate, that would be preferable to defeat and the loss of all they had.

But Jackson said he had come to fight. He would fight below New Orleans and, if beaten there he would fight in New Orleans; if beaten there, fight above New Orleans—fight until no living thing could stand in his path. He proclaimed martial law, and instituted a lease-lend program with himself as beneficiary. Of materials and men, he took what he required. He filled jails with traitors and appeasers.

Twenty-three days after his arrival Jackson fought his first battle, halting the British advance. Thirty-nine days after his arrival, he fought his last battle, obliterating the British army. Our situation now is serious. The war will probably be long. But contrast our position with Jackson's in 1814. Then ask yourself what you think Jackson would do if he were with us today, and what would be the ultimate result.

For myself, I think that enough of Andrew Jackson survives in enough of us to bring about the same result.

THE TEXAS ALMANAC
A VALUABLE BOOK

A book of 576 pages, The Texas Almanac for 1941-2, just off the press, is the largest volume in the long history of this biennial publication of The Dallas Morning News. A number of new features are included in addition to the usual chapters and statistical tables on such topics as agriculture, industry, population, history, soil and water resources, weather, minerals manufacturing, transportation, wholesaling and retailing, government, education and civic affairs.

Has Texas really had more than six flags? How has the relationship of rural and urban population changed since 1930? When were the tapir, sabretoothed tiger and camel found in Texas? Who was Governor in 1893? What facilities has MacKenzie State Park at Lubbock? Who won the Dixie Series in 1931? What are the total retail sales of Brady, Texas? These are typical of the wide variety of questions that can be answered from the pages of the new almanac.

New census figures on population, manufacturing, agriculture, wholesale and retail trade and service businesses included. The historical chapter has been supplemented by a number of supplementary topics including a long list of Texas historical landmarks. There are especially complete chapters on highways and parks in anticipation of increased tourist trade in Texas during the next two years. The usual large folded maps, showing railroads and highways respectively, have been brought up to-date, and there is an individual map of each of the 254 counties of Texas accompanying the county articles. New developments in Texas, including defense industries, conservation programs, in farm and farm tenancy, new army camps and posts, and activities are covered. More than 50,000 separate facts about this "Encyclopedia of Miss Fannie Luckie, home onstration agent of Martin county has handed in her resignation to the commissioners' court, to take effect July 1. The Extension Service of A&M, is sending an applicant for the position, who is expected to arrive in a few days.

LEADING THE FIELD
LYNDON JOHNSON
FOR U. S. SENATOR

Lyndon Johnson now leads the field in the Senate race as shown by a well known widely quoted poll. Other candidates admit his lead by their vicious and underhanded attack on his stand for Roosevelt and Unity. But their attack has failed and Lyndon Johnson is still the man they are all trying to beat.

What has caused this tremendous swing to Lyndon Johnson? The explanation is now clear.

Texans want a Senator trained for the job, a Senator who has the friendship and confidence of our great President, Administration Leaders and Members of Congress. Texans now know that Lyndon Johnson is that man and that he can get the job done for Texas.

Texans want Unity of action and Unity of purpose in this hour of peril. They know that Lyndon Johnson stands for Roosevelt and Unity and action now! They know that his record of achievement for the Nation and for his District proves that his stand is sincere and can be fulfilled.

Join with Lyndon Johnson in a State-wide pledge of Unity and Loyalty to President Roosevelt. Let the world know that Texans stand united with all Americans in our fight to preserve our Democracy.

Reporter one year in county $1.

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.
