Stranded woman, daughter abducted

An El Paso woman remained in stable condition Friday and her daughter in critical condition after the pair was abducted from their stalled car between Colorado City and Loraine Thursday and taken to Penwell in Ector County where they were shot in the head and left for dead.

A passerby found Mrs. Gayle Amos of El Paso, 35, lying beside Interstate 20 about 4 a.m. Thursday. Her 9-year-old daughter, Angela Averico, was found a short time later in a nearby pasture.

Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant said his department received a call about 12:05 a.m. Thursday that a woman and a child were stranded at the 224 mile marker on Interstate 20, just west of Loraine.

Deputy O. D. Majors arrived at the scene at 12:13 a.m., but found no one around the disabled 1980 Audi.

Bryant said officials believe an unidentified trucker kidnapped and shot the pair. Bryant said officials are looking for a dark colored tractor trailer rig driven by a white male, about 35 years old, with dark hair and a moustache and full beard. He is about 6 feet tall and weighs between 220 and 230 pounds.

Ector County Chief Deputy Bob Eaton said both victims were shot once in the back of the head. He said there was no immediate indication of sexual assault.

Eaton said the mother was able to crawl to the side of the highway where she flagged down a passing motorist. The motorist drove her to a nearby truck stop.

A helicopter was dispatched to search for the child who was found about 100 yards from the highway. The helicopter took her to the truck stop, where an ambulance was waiting.

The mother and daughter were taken to Odessa Medical Center where the girl underwent surgery Thursday afternoon.

Investigators quoted Mrs. Amos as saying she and her daughter were kidnapped by a trucker who pulled up behind her stalled car.

Mrs. Amos said the driver was armed with a pistol and ordered them into his truck.

The trucker drove west through Big Spring, Midland and Odessa before stopping at a remote area about five miles west of Penwell. The man took them across some railroad tracks, through a fence and into a pasture where they were tied up and shot in the back of the head. The exact time of the shootings is unknown.

Ector County Sheriff Bob Brookshire said he believes the gunman left the pair for dead after shooting them.

Mrs. Amos was able to tell officers that her daughter was missing.

Mrs. Amos was en route from Mississippi to El Paso when her car stalled. She said one trucker stopped and attempted to help, but left after he determined the car couldn't be started. He promised to send help when he got to the next truck stop, Eaton said.

Bryant said the woman's car has been impounded in Colorado City and Ector County officials processed the vehicle for possible fingerprints.

Local cancer workers attend kick-off meeting

Five volunteers from Colorado City attended the annual crusade kick-off for District 16 of the American Cancer Society Thursday in Abilene.

Attending from Colorado City were Mary Posey, Walt and Anna Staats, Virginia Dearen and Eddie Barclay.

They were among 50 volunteers representing ACS units in 15 counties surrounding Abilene to attend the kick off, theme of which is "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure".

Teresa Rutherford of Brownwood, crusade chairman for district 16, was mistress of ceremonies. She announced a district goal of $200,000 to reach in business and residential crusade campaigns this spring. The Mitchell County unit goal of $6,800 will make up part of that total.

Gordon Wood of Brownwood, the winningest football coach in America, was keynote speaker. Also speaking were Dr. Dale Brannom of Abilene on the importance of mammography and Dottie Farris of Brownwood, giving a personal perspective on breast cancer.

For more information on the American Cancer Society or to become a volunteer for the local crusade, contact Mary Posey at 728-8097, Anna Staats at 728-5976 or Virginia Dearen at 728-3704.

City council OKs request

The Colorado City Council, meeting Thursday night after having recessed Monday night, gave approval to Joe Weaver to place a 14x80 modular building in the 1700 block of Hickory Street for a classic used car lot.

Brenda Tarter, city manager, said the lot is next to C. C. Athletics and Weaver will sell used, but classic, cars from the location. The building will be underpinned.

In other business, the council gave permission to advertise for bids for street improvements. Mrs. Tarter said the two projects are estimated to cost about $13,500. One project will be at 18th and Eastover streets where there is a problem with water drainage. The other project will be to pave one block of Waco Street between Ninth and 10th streets. The paving project will be a cost recovery program with property owners helping pay part of the expense.

No action was taken on raising the peddler's permit. The city currently charges $30 for a permit plus $5 per person selling door-to-door. Mrs. Tarter said other towns charge as much as $200 to $250 for the permits. The council will study the proposal further at the April 6 meeting.

The council will meet again Monday at 6 p.m. for a budget workshop session.

A FOUR-WAY stop sign has been placed at the intersection of Chestnut and 12th streets as part of an effort on part of the city to upgrade traffic control throughout the city. Previously, motorists on 12th Street had to stop while Chestnut was a through street.

Goss hurt in wreck

Tom J. Goss II of Colorado City was in serious condition in the intensive care unit of Humana Hospital in Abilene Friday following a one-car rollover Thursday afternoon on Interstate 20 between Roscoe and Sweetwater.

The mishap occurred at 4:30 p.m. near Gage's Truck Stop, just west of Sweetwater.

Goss suffered from a broken leg as well as head and internal injuries. He was first taken to Rolling Plains Hospital in Sweetwater before being transferred to the Abilene hospital.

The accident was investigated by Trooper Greg Arnwine of the Texas Department of Public Safety. An accident report was not available at press time.

Goss, retired from the Postal Service, is a correspondent for the Abilene Reporter News and is a candidate for election to the Colorado City Council.

Five file for hospital

Voters in the Mitchell County Hospital District will elect four board members from a field of five candidates on election day, April 4.

The candidates include Preston Morris, Gus Armstrong, Jay Craddock and Marion Craddock, incumbents, and Billie Forbes. Filing deadline was Tuesday.

CLAY LLOYD of Colorado City, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lloyd, showed the reserve champion Santa Gertrudis steer at the recent Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo. The steer took first place in the middle weight class. Clay is a freshman at Colorado High School and is a member of the Mitchell County 4-H. Clay's steer, "Hershey," a Maine-Anjou-Santa Gertrudis cross, was bred and raised by the Lloyd family. He showed the 1985 champion Santa Gertrudis steer and the 1986 reserve champion Brahman steer.

POUND PUPPY - B. J., a friendly six-month old mixed breed dog, is available for adoption from the city pound located at the Colorado City Veterinary Hospital, 226 S. Austin, 728-3461. B. J. is a male and will be a large dog when grown.

Former resident honored for work

Leeann Moore Reeves, a fourth grade teacher at Browne Elementary, Spokane, Wash., recently received special recognition and was honored as a Distinguished Teacher in Spokane Public Schools. This honor was given along with another teacher, a life science teacher from Salk Junior High.

She was presented with a recognition plaque and a dozen long-stemmed yellow roses at a dinner given in their honor.

Mrs. Reeves, a 1965 graduate of Colorado High School, has taught for 17 years. Her first teaching experience was third grade at Ralls, Tex. for 1½ years. She then taught in the home economics department at Texas Tech for one semester before moving to Salt Lake City, Utah, where she taught in the University of Utah home economics department and kindergarten in Salt Lake City Public Schools while obtaining her master's degree.

Upon her husband's transfer to Spokane, Wash., she began teaching courses in Spokane's Whitworth College in home economics education in child development field. She began teaching in Spokane Public Schools as an elementary teacher. During the summers and at night, she still teaches workshops in Whitworth College occasionally.

Her extended duties include the supervision of student teachers. She also advises a "Young Writers" group, is a building math leader and for three years has been "Principal Designee" in Browne Elementary. For two years, she has served as president of Spokane's 350 membership in the American Association of University Women. She is a member of Browne's Instructional Team, the math adoption committee, the Tessa study committee and the Elementary School Task Force.

LEEANN MOORE REEVES, formerly of Colorado City, is shown receiving a plaque naming her a Distinguished Teacher in the Spokane (Wash.) Public Schools. Mrs. Reeves is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore of Colorado City and is a 1965 graduate of Colorado High School.

She helps organize the school's book fairs and is a presenter of learning-style workshops. In 1981, she was selected as one of the America's Outstanding Young Women.

Mrs. Reeves is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore of Colorado City. She is married to James R. Reeves, son of Mrs. Iola Reeves. He is a 1960 graduate of Colorado High School and is a mineral geologist for Placer Company. They have a 15-year-old son, Brian, and an 11-year-old daughter, Shannon.

Art Lawler

Buster came running through his mom's skirt and the screen door and into my conscious.

If anything happened in my life before Buster, I can't remember it.

Somebody - probably my big sister - is saying, "Yea, Buster is here!"

I'm echoing the same greeting - not because I like Buster. I don't even know Buster, but he sounds important for a three-year-old.

Everybody is running toward Buster. Buster is running toward everybody. He is now running over me and I am falling to the hardwood floor. Buster doesn't break stride.

My second earliest memory is listening to myself cry on the hardwood floor. I am being ignored, too, while Mom greets Buster's mom, then Buster himself.

"My my, look at Buster. I didn't realize he was here!" she is saying as my first conscious, independent thought emerges.

"I hate Buster."

You wonder, how different might a person turn out to be if his first experience in life is a positive, instead of a Buster?

My third earliest memory is sitting in a high chair. Mom is feeding me tomato soup with mashed potatoes. Finally, a positive.

My fourth earliest memory comes after I've been promoted from the high chair to the big white wooden chair and the white wooden kitchen table. In the middle of the big white table is a large white bowl filled with piping hot white mashed potatoes.

"Pass taters."

"Pass the what???"

"Taters."

"The what?"

"Taters, I said."

"You mean poe-tay-toes, don't you?"

"Pass 'em."

"Not 'til you say poe-tay-toes."

"Taters, I said."

"Ok, you'll have to leave the table until you can say poe-tay-toes," my dad is saying.

This is a Buster.

It isn't that I can't say "poe-tay-toe." Any three-year-old can handle the word. It's just that they - mom and dad - are over-pronouncing it, rendering it pretentious. I can say the word "potato" if they'll request it. But "poe-tay-toe" sounds nerdy, and a three-year-old has his pride.

It sounds peculiar to some people, but I used to lie in bed at night and dream about positive potato parties.

A large group of adults are standing around fires made of sticks, sort of like they pile up for wicker roasts. You can hear the crickets, and there's a lake about 50 yards away. Suddenly I'm grown and anyone who is anyone is at my potato party eating mashed potatoes.

Instead of roasting wickers, people are carrying huge blue pots with the white specs all over them. Inside are mashed potatoes. There is a huge bucket of gravy to one side, and people are lined up, waiting to get hold of the ladle.

My next earliest memory is lying on the floor and watching people walk over me. Sometimes they stand close and I look up their dresses and see huge garters holding up their hose and cutting off the circulation.

Another Buster.

My next early experience is going to the country with my parents and taking in a house fire. I don't know why we're doing this, but there we are - in the middle of the country - parked next to several other cars as if we've all gone to a drive in theatre.

This is neither a positive or a negative, but my sister starts squirming in the seat and gets in trouble. Later my dad gives her a spanking but not me. This is a positive.

Such is life, I guess - a little good, a little bad, and a whole lot of poe-tay-toes.

Issues to be studied

During the regular meeting of the Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday night, March 10 at the Civic Center, president Anna Staats appointed a committee to study issues of concern to local working women and to present these issues for action at the next board of directors meeting.

The committee, consisting of Glenna Garrett, Joy Culwell, Molly Bruce and Shirley Delaney, agreed to meet within the week to discuss the points brought up during the brainstorming session prior to the business meeting and to formulate plans of action.

Some of the areas covered were child care, exceptions to the minimum wage law and the local job market.

Also during the business session, plans for the upcoming spring conference to be held here were discussed.

Scheduled for Saturday, April 11, the conference will be attended by representatives from BPW organizations throughout the district, said District Seven Director Virginia Dearen.

Christine Cooley is chairman for the event and her committee appointments were: program, Mrs. Cooley; door prizes, Shirley Delaney; publicity, Margaret Ann Conaway; treasurer, Molly Bruce; credentials and registration, Earline Sellar and Darlene Hamrick; hospitality, Louise Logsdon, Faye Spivey and Velma Moseley.

The conference will be held at the C. C. Thompson Room, with registration for the all day session beginning at 9 a.m.

The hospital chapel committee, Dorothy Starr and Glenna Garrett, reported that $50.05 had been collected at the garage sale table during the Wallace Center flea market last Saturday.

An opportunity for members to make individual donations was presented and Joy Culwell challenged all the non-smokers to follow her example and donate the cost of a carton of cigarettes to the fund. The cost of a carton was not determined, but individual donations totaling $53.50 were collected.

Shirley Delaney announced that a tentative date for the annual style show had been set and members would be contacted before the next monthly meeting to help with the event.

Present for the meeting were Eddie Barclay, Molly Bruce, Joy Culwell, Virginia Dearen, Shirley Delaney, Mildred Free, Glenna Garrett, Louise Logsdon and Erdine Morgan.

Also attending were Velma Moseley, Margaret Oyler, Sally Rogers, Gene Rowe, Faye Spivey, Anna Staats, Dorothy Starr, Ernestine Stubblefield and Wilma Womack.

McMillan hosts Fairview Club

The Agape Circle of United Methodist Women met March 9 in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Carrying out the St. Patrick's Day theme, the hostesses, Polly Early and Peggy Ratliff served a salad supper before the business meeting and program.

Nelda Garrett, chairman, conducted the business meeting. Minutes were approved and the treasurer's report received.

A report was made on the Sunday afternoon, March 8, observance of "the call to prayer and self denial" held in the chapel.

Mrs. Ethel Hardegree had been selected for the 1986 "In Honor" pin and the presentation was made recently at her home.

The program, "Hear us when we pray" was led by Nancy Womack. Others taking part in the program were Peggy Ratliff, Ann Nimmo, Mary Moudy, Erna Lou Burt and Elizabeth Elliott. Sue Bolon shared some of her experiences and thoughts on prayer.

The program concluded with "prayer circle."

Others attending were Lonie Pruitt, Ann Brown, Frances Godwin and Marie Harkins. The next meeting will be April 13 in the fellowship hall with Erna Lou Burt as program leader and Lonie Pruitt and Ann Brown as hostesses.

Womack leads club program

The Fairview Extension Homemakers Club met Feb. 26 in the home of Versie McMillan.

Nine members and one guest answered roll call with "As a Child I Liked..." The club members then discussed working at the Kiwanis Farm Equipment Auction on March 21. The members will furnish pies and brownies. The educational tour set March 26 was discussed. Several members plan to attend. Also, members were urged to attend the upcoming district meeting in Abilene April 7.

Peggy Faulkenberry and Velma Hester gave a program on self discovery through family history. Each member had been asked to bring something pertaining to their family history. The members paired off and discussed the items each brought.

Then they presented their discussion to the whole group. Some of the items dated to the early 1900s.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and tea were served to Velma Hester, Peggy Faulkenberry, Muriel Thurman, Sherry Autry, Sonja Lawson, Edna Pace, Versie McMillan, Ginnie Moore, D'Dee Morris and guest Robin Morris.

Wildflower program heard

Mrs. Fannie Beeman hosted the Self Culture Club, March 6 at 3 p.m. Pearl Watson presided over the business. The spring convention was discussed. The meeting will be at Snyder March 20-21.

Lady Bird's Legacy was given by Lil Brown. The bluebonnets are the envy of every state this side of Mexico. Texas plants of the roadside are mostly wild-Indian Paint Brush and yellow daisies. Lady Bird Johnson wants all Texans and Americans to learn about our wildflowers. She gave more than 60 acres of prime land on the outskirts of Austin for wildflower research.

Road beautification was engineered by the Texas Highway Commissioner Ely in 1930. The department wishes to preserve the right of way of state highways with as many trees and wildflowers as possible. The state highway commission authorized spending for 20 major highway rights-of-way.

John R. Thomas harvests and sells 888 varieties of wildflower seeds from his company and he also plants them on the roadside, Mrs. Brown stated.

Dona Reed gave the Federation Report, "Endangered Songbirds." Twenty-six U.S. songbirds have been put on the federal endangered species list. Of these, 21 are found in Hawaii.

Members present were Lil Brown, Linnie Williams, Elizabeth Elliott, Eddie Barclay, Dona Reed, Pearl Watson, and hostess Fannie Beeman.

Buford Club meets

The Buford Home Demonstration Club met Monday in the home of Teresa Loving.

The group opened with the club prayer led by Irene Ritchey.

hey. The roll call was answered by "One Way I Can Save Money." Members attending were Bess Cooper, Irene Ritchey, Teresa Loving, Fern Thompson and Nelma Ritchey and visitor Misty Raschke.

Following the business meeting, plans were completed for working the Kiwanis Farm Equipment Auction March 21. The home demonstration clubs will have food for the auction in the ag barn kitchen. Plans also were made for the district TEHA meeting in Abilene April 7.

The program, "When You Don't Have a Dime To Spare", was presented by Teresa Loving. Today's spending influences tomorrow's financial security, she said.

The next meeting will be March 23 in the home of Nelma Ritchey.

Golden Agers meet

The Westbrook Golden Age Club met Tuesday, March 3 with 32 members and guests present.

A short business meeting included the question "What is to be done about the floor of the building?" J. D. and Mary Iglehart were requested to investigate the possibilities.

Chips, pie and coffee was served by the hostesses.

Country and western music was furnished by Jake Leach, Lula Leach, Gib Harmon and Kenneth Smith.

The next meeting will be April 7. The public is invited to enjoy the games and fellowship.

Club discusses extension trip

The Looney Extension Homemakers Club met Wednesday, March 11 at 2:30 p.m. in the Lone Wolf Electric Medallion Room with Lonie Pruitt as hostess.

Bea McGuire led the club prayer and recreation was led by Mrs. Pruitt. Games were played and Alma Rene Claxton won the hostess gift.

Plans were discussed for the county-wide extension trip to the Diamond M Museum in Snyder. Fourteen members plan on going on March 28. Nine club members said they will attend the district convention in Abilene on April 7.

Etta Lee Gibson presented the program on "How to Save Dollars When You Don't Have a Dime to Spend". She stressed the need to learn good spending habits and noted that today's spending influences tomorrow's financial security.

Members attending were Etta Lee Gibson, Gwen Claxton,

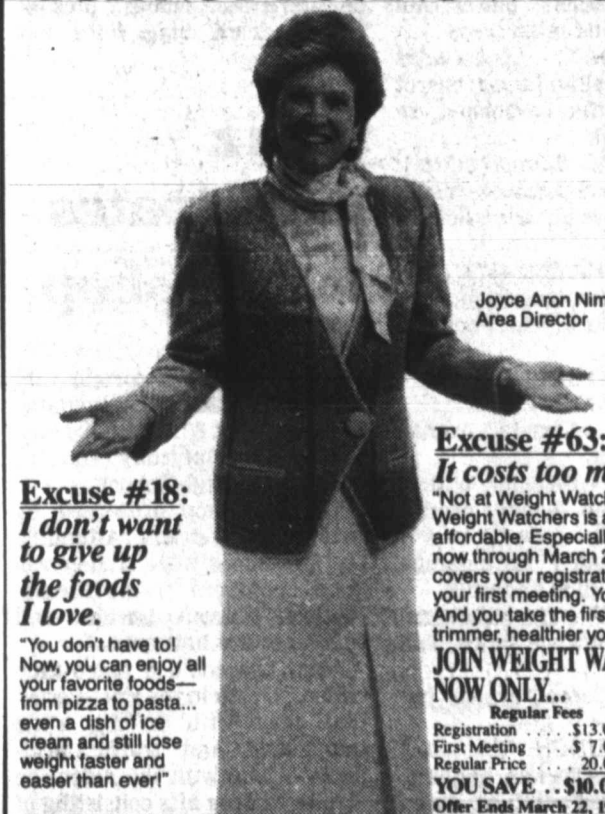

Alma Rene Claxton, Lonie Pruitt, Fanny Northcutt, Linnie Williams, Madge Shephard, Dolie Jarmon, Lena Bullard, Corine Barnett, Bea McGuire, Iva Prescott, Eddie Barclay and Lovella Hall.

The next meeting will be March 25 at the Medallion Room.

WHY PEOPLE GO TO CHURCH

Fred Johnson - Pastor First Assembly of God

Some go to church to take a walk;
Some go there to laugh and talk.
Some go there to meet a friend;
Some go there their time to spend.
Some go there to please their mother;
Some go there a fault to cover.
Some go there for speculation;
Some go there for observation;
Some go there an doze and nod;
But the wise go there to worship God.

Ariaz participates in workshop

Crime Prevention Officer Vincent Ariaz of the Colorado City Police Department participated in the District 8 Student Council Workshop on Saturday, March 7 at Colorado High School.

The workshop presented by Ariaz was on drugs. Attending the workshops were student council members from Odessa, Midland, Kermit, Lorraine and Colorado City high schools.

Ariaz presented a video tape called "Death in the Fast Lane" that deals with driving while intoxicated and traffic accidents. Along with the video, he displayed drug kits consisting of drug and alcohol items and drug paraphernalia.

Students asked questions about sniffing drug dogs, driver's license suspensions, intoxilizer testing and drug addiction.

Col-Tex becomes Boy Scout ranch

By Tom Jay Goss II

One of the top Boy Scout Ranches in West Texas is being put together at Lake Colorado City, at the Col-Tex Club site.

About a quarter of a million dollars has been spent on this thirteen acres. The land has been acquired through gifts and purchases.

American Petrofina and Cosden kicked it off with a gift of four lots four years ago, four lots were purchased and Bit Terry gave about an acre of unused right-of-way.

The long Col-Tex building is, of course, a major part of the operation, with its large kitchen, a small kitchen, and a big club room or dining hall.

Old members of the Col-Tex Club can continue to use the facility as long as it doesn't interfere with scouting operations, but the needs of the scouts will come first.

The caretakers are Mr. and Mrs. Reed Burchett, a retired couple from Odessa.

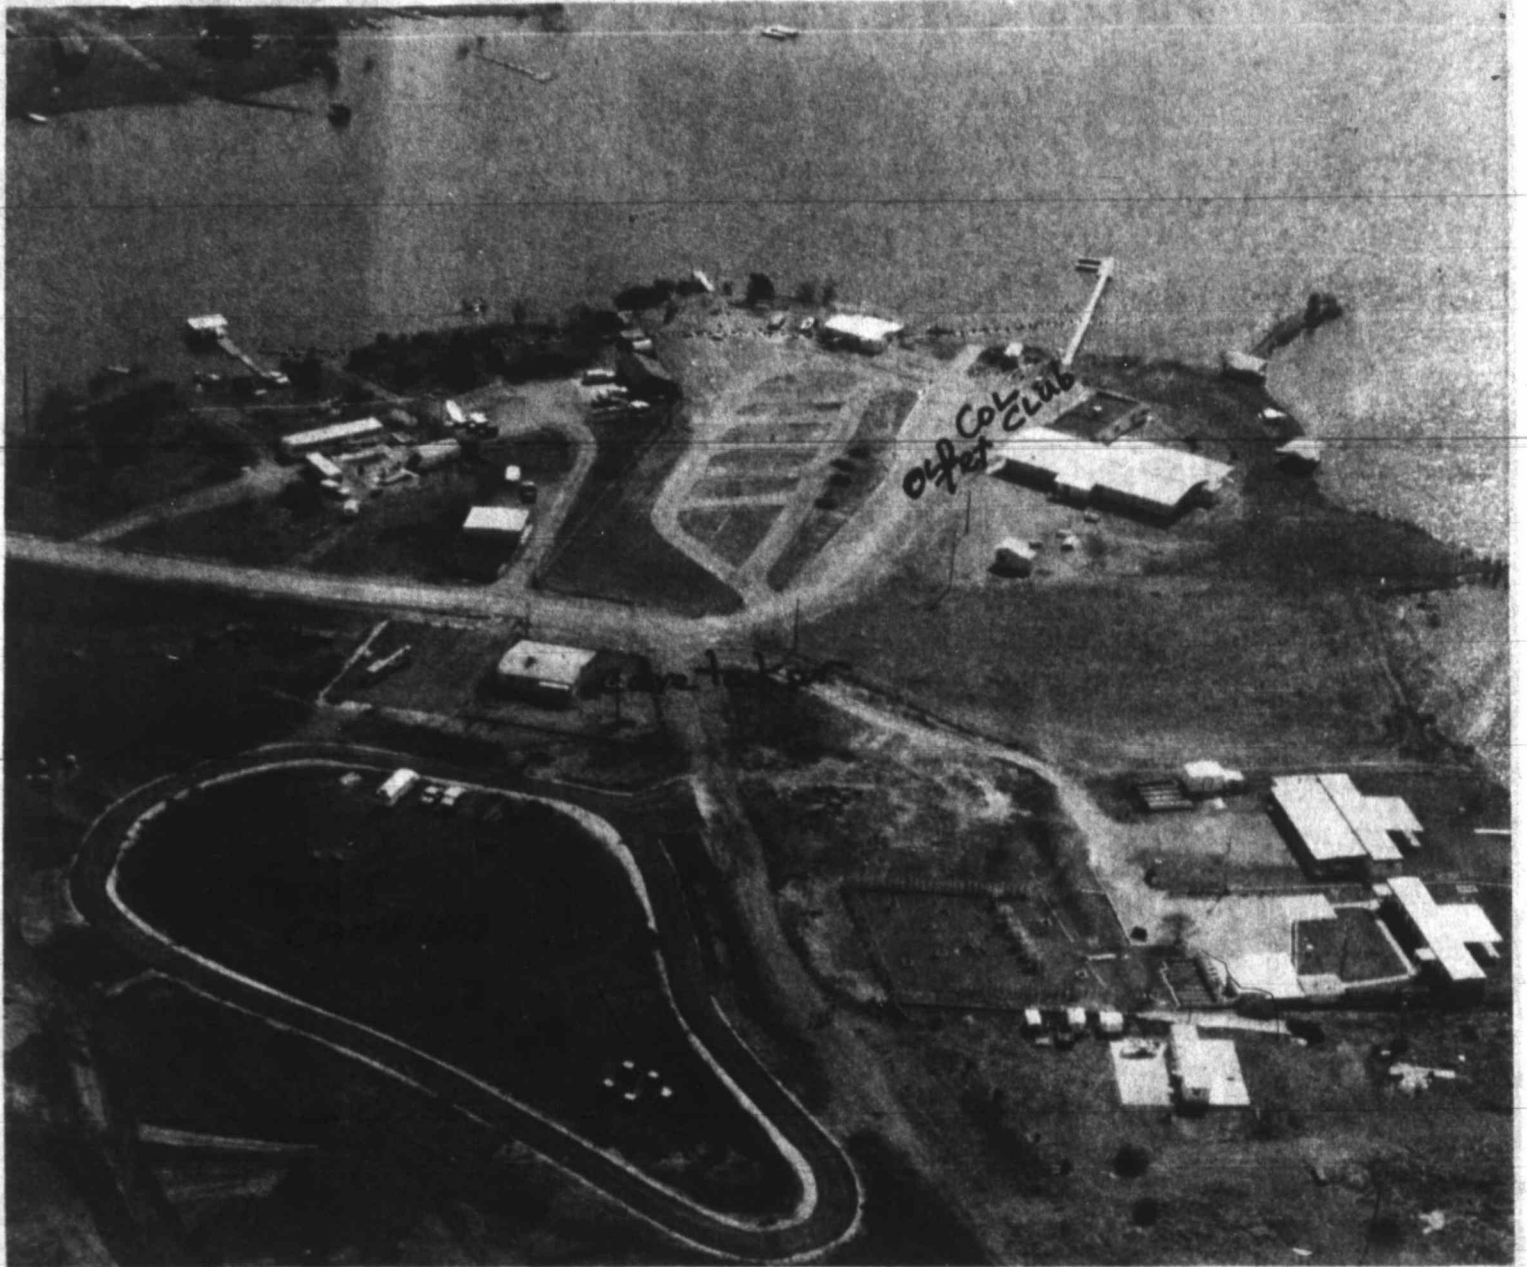

District scout executive Phil Corbin of Big Spring says that Newell Hughes of Midland has been the chief architect of the scouting plant.

The area to the north behind the caretaker's cottage will be a tent camping area, with restrooms.

Several RV parking spots have been put in near the main building. They will be for traveling scouters.

All this, so close to us and Colorado City does not have an active scout troop! Corbin says that "However, there's a very active cub scout group there."

Irene Graham is the cubmaster. "We need scoutleaders in Colorado City—the town could have three or four troops," Corbin says.

Local company changes format

Landmark Cablevision, Colorado City's cable TV company since 1975, will eliminate its SuperCable package beginning May 1, thereby offering all its subscribers a basic package of 22 channels, Rex Thacker, manager, announced.

"This change means that all our customers will now receive such satellite channels as ESPN (the all-sports service), CNN (the all-news channel), USA Network (24-hour family entertainment), and Nickelodeon (the children's channel)," said Thacker. "Previously only about half our subscribers received all these channels."

The monthly price for basic service will be increased to $12.50.

Landmark will offer its customers the use of a free converter box for one TV set, Thacker said, so that all basic channels can be received.

In addition, Landmark will offer a special VCR hookup kit for $14.95 and a video control for $49.95. Both are designed to simplify video equipment hookup and usage.

Thacker said each subscriber will receive a letter detailing the changes as well as a new channel lineup card.

Landmark also operates cable systems in Levelland, Littlefield, Brownfield, Coleman, Slaton, Stanton, Morton and Lorraine.

ARE YOU SICK AND TIRED OF FEELING SICK AND TIRED?

If you are tired of dreary days and restless nights . . . of having no pep . . . of feeling too droopy to enjoy a zestful life . . . maybe it's time you had a chiropractic checkup.

Structural changes that pinch or impinge on nerves can rob your body of its natural energy and you of your zest for living . . . your capacity for enjoying a full and active life.

If you're not too tired to pick up the phone, maybe we can help you change all that. Chiropractic helps thousands of people every year to regain that good-all-over feeling. Nation Salutes America's Farmers

Farmers and their families are consumers
And taxpayers as well as best producers

Like everyone else, the American farmer is a consumer and a taxpayer, as well as a producer.

Farmers pay about $4.4 billion in farm real estate taxes annually, and $500 million in personal property taxes.

In 1984, farm operators spent about $139 billion for goods and services to produce crops and livestock. They had available $34.6 billion in personal income from farm sources and $40.0 billion from nonfarm sources to spend for personal taxes, investments, and for the same things that city people buy.

Farmers' 1984 purchases included:
*9.5 billion for farm tractors and other motor vehicles, machinery and equipment. About 150,000 employees are required to produce this farm equipment.

*$13.6 billion for fuel, lubricants and maintenance for machinery and motor vehicles used in the farm business. Farming uses more petroleum than any other single industry.

*$24.0 billion for feed and seed.

*$8.9 billion for fertilizer and lime.

*Products containing 360 million pounds of rubber — about 5 percent of the total used in the United States; or enough to put tires on nearly 7 million automobiles.

*33 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity

— about 2 percent of the nation's total. That's more than the annual residential use in all New England States plus Maryland, Kentucky and Washington, D.C.

*6½ million tons of steel in the form of farm machinery, trucks, cars, fencing and building materials. Farm use of steel accounts for 40,000 jobs in the steel industry.

Like everyone else, farmers feel the pinch of inflation. In the last 10 years, wage rates for farmworkers have gone up 90 percent, tractors and self-propelled machinery cost 166 percent more, taxes are up 63 percent and feeder livestock prices are up 66 percent.

Overall, the average cost of commodities, services, interest, taxes and farm wage rates has climbed 102 percent in the last 10 years. These sharp increases in the average include the much lower rates of inflation experienced in the past few years.

The 1982 Census of Agriculture reported that of the 2,240,976 farm operators, 1,982,022 owned 603.3 million acres of the 986.8 million acres of land in farms. Of the 383.5 million acres of rented land in farms, 13 percent was owned by farm operators and 87 percent was owned by nonoperator owners. Thus nonfarmers hold about 34 percent of all land in farms.

Marketers Get food to tables

The American Farmer is linked to you by a complex food marketing system.

Last year consumers spent $332 billion for U.S. farm-produced foods. About $243 billion of that was to get the food from the farm to your table.

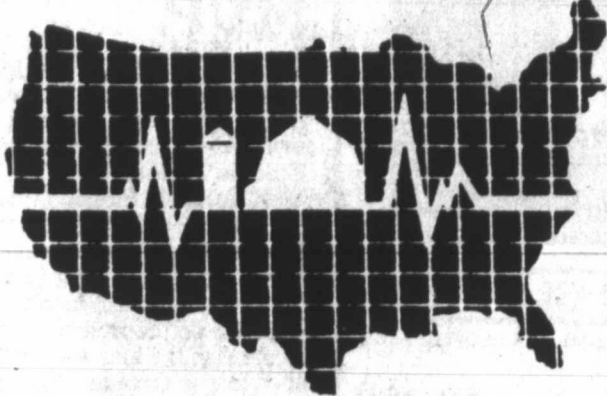

The food was assembled, inspected, graded, stored, processed, packaged, wholesaled and retailed — more than 300 million tons of it. To reach you, this food traveled across 173,800 miles of railroads, 3.4 million miles of highways and 26,000 miles of improved waterways.

The foods that poured into your supermarket came in 10,000 to 15,000 different products — many of which did not even exist 5 years ago and may very well not exist 5 years from now. That's because Americans are attracted to newer foods with more built-in conveniences — as well as food in attractive packages that preserve the quality.

Packaging and transportation cost $43 billion last year — and might well have been considerably more except for vigorous competition among truckers and railroads, and recent innovations in packaging and handling methods.

The food marketing system has developed a computerized check-out, and is working on an inventory and ordering system that might further streamline food retailing and help to simplify shopping.

Agriculture Day • March 20

AGRICULTURE America's Heartbeat Vital to Us All

Americans get more food For their money today

Not only have food prices risen comparatively little in the past few years, family income buys considerably more food today partly because agriculture has become much more efficient and partly because consumer incomes have risen faster than food prices. For example, here's what the average U.S. worker could buy with an hour's pay in 1950 and in 1984.

Food Item	1950	1984
White bread	10.1 lbs.	15.4 lbs.
Frying chickens	2.5 lbs.	10.3 lbs.
Milk	8.0 qts.	14.8 qts.
Potatoes, fresh	32.7 lbs.	34.4 lbs.
Eggs	2.4 doz.	8.3 doz.
Pork	2.7 lbs.	5.1 lbs.

Our diets are more varied. The American consumer is eating 35 percent more poultry but eight percent less beef per person than 10 years ago. And eating more fresh vegetables (18 percent) and more fresh fruits (13 percent).

ON AN ACRE OF LAND. . .

Farmers produce 80 percent more crop

American farmers today produce over 80 percent more crop output on an acre of land than did their fathers. Today, one hour of farm labor produces 16 times as much food and other crops as it did in the 1919-21 period.

One farmworker now supplies enough food and fiber for 79 people. Only 10 years ago, the farmworker was producing enough for 59. Because of the farmer's efficient output, we can enjoy a satisfying quantity and variety of food.

In 1984, for example, Americans consumed an average of 144 pounds

(retail weight) of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton; 68 pounds of chicken and turkey; 88 pounds of fresh fruits; 78 pounds of fresh vegetables; 308 pounds of dairy products and 73 pounds of potatoes.

Farmers produce not only enough for us, but also enough to make large quantities of farm products available for international trade.

We export more farm products than anyone else in the world.

In 1984, production from one-third (111 million acres) of America's cropland went overseas. Until recently, farm exports had set successive records, reaching a peak of $43.8 billion in fiscal year 1981. Because of lower prices and reduced foreign demand, however, exports in fiscal year 1984 totaled $38 billion and were declining further in 1985.

Even so, farm exports still contributed a net of $19.1 billion to our balance of trade in 1984, which is another way of saying we got over twice as much for our food and fiber exports as we paid out for food and fiber imports.

U.S. production Up 2½ times Levels of 30's

Total agricultural production is more than 2½ times the levels of 1930, even though the agricultural resource base has not substantially changed.

The growth in farm output has come from the higher productivity of agricultural resources rather than from greater input use.

The aggregate number of breeding animals and the total inputs to agriculture in 1930 differ by less than 5 percent from the amounts used in 1984. Yet, crop production is nearly 2.5 times the 1930 level, livestock production 2.1 times the 1930 level and total farm output about 2.6 times the 1930 level.

This implies that the productivity of land is 2½ times the productivity in 1930, that breeding animals are twice as productive as in 1930 and that overall, the farm sector is 2.5 times as productive as in 1930.

The new technology which made these gains possible changed the mix of other inputs used. Fertilizer consumption is 15 times 1930 levels, feed concentrates 2.3 times 1930 levels, tractor horsepower 12 times 1930 levels and tractor numbers five times the 1930 numbers.

On balance, purchased inputs in 1983 are 2.3 times those of 1930, while the farm labor input is only 18 percent of farm employment in 1930. As a result, farms have expanded in size and become more dependent on capital and purchases from the nonfarm economy.

If the trends of the last 14 or so years continue, total farm output per unit of input should grow at about 2 percent per year. Crop production per acre should increase about 2 percent per year and the production per breeding unit should increase about 1 percent per year.

Significant changes in the prices of farm inputs relative to farm commodity prices, or changes in the mix of commodities produced, will affect the actual trends that occur.

Federal funds reaching nonmetro counties averaged $2,139 per person in 1980, up 68 percent from 1976. Funding to metro counties averaged $2,529, up 63 percent since 1976.

Agriculture nation's biggest Industry, largest employer

Agriculture is the nation's biggest industry — farm assets totaled $956 billion on December 31, 1984.

Agriculture is also the nation's largest employer. Around 21.0 million people work in some phase of agriculture, from growing food and fiber to selling it at the supermarket.

Farming itself uses 2.7 million workers — as many as the combined work forces of transportation, the steel industry, and the automobile industry. The nation's food and fiber system accounted for 18 percent of total GNP in 1984.

Agricultural production is conducted by 2.28 million farms. Recent tabulations show that in 1983:

*1,433,000 (60.5 percent of all farms) sold less than $20,000 worth of farm products per farm.

*272,000 (11.5 percent) sold farm products worth $20,000 to $40,000.

*381,000 (16.1 percent) sold farm products worth $40,000 to $100,000.

*284,000 (12.0 percent) sold farm products worth more than $100,000. Of these farms, 177,000 had sales totaling $100,000 to $200,000; 83,000 had sales of $200,000 to $500,000; and 24,000 had sales of $500,000 and over.

Agriculture requires the services of about 18.3 million people to store, transport, process and merchandise the output of the nation's farms.

Here are a few examples of where these people work:

*Meat and poultry industry, including meatpacking, prepared meats and poultry dressing plants, employs about 367,000 people and has a payroll of $4.5 billion.

*Dairy industry, including manufacturers of such products as fluid milk, concentrated and dried milk, cheese, butter, and ice cream, employs nearly 162,000 people and has a payroll of $1.6 billion.

*Canned, cured, and frozen food plants employ nearly 271,000 people and have payrolls of $2.8 billion.

*Cotton mills and finishing plants employ nearly 143,000 people and have payrolls of $1.6 billion.

THAT ADDS UP TO APPROXIMATELY ONE OUT OF EVERY FIVE JOBS IN PRIVATE ENTERPRISE.

What the farmer receives...

As gross payment from retail food prices the farmer receives (1984 annual average):

*34 cents per $1 spent in grocery stores for U.S. farm-grown food.

*58 cents per $1 spent for choice beef.

*43 cents for eggs selling for 80 cents per dozen at retail.

*4.3 cents for the wheat in a 54-cent loaf of white bread.

FOR THEIR LABOR, CAPITAL AND MANAGEMENT TO THE FARM:

*138.7 billion in gross sales of crops and livestock. Their net return for family resources was $34.6 billion.

Faces of Girl Scouting

Girl Scouting has had many faces since it began in 1912. This year, as we celebrate our 75th anniversary, we also celebrate more than 50 million women who got a head start on their futures through Girl Scouting.

And we celebrate nearly 3 million current members, girls and adults from every walk of life, every corner of the globe. Perhaps one of them is you. If not, one of them should be.

We invite you to join us in celebrating a great American tradition — Girl Scouting — the face of the future.
