Nazis Report New Air, Sea Landings On French Coast

By WES GALLAGHER

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE—(AP)—Allied invasion troops constantly reinforced by air and sea struck south of fallen Bayeux in fierce fighting Thursday, striving to chop off the Cherbourg peninsula, and Berlin reported a pincers threat to seize the tip of the jutting coast and its strategic port of Cherbourg.

Capture of Bayeux snipped the railway between Paris and Cherbourg, 45 miles to the northwest and opened the way for a thrust deeper inland.

Parade Thursday Afternoon Opens Annual Rodeo

The stage is set, and the curtain is ready to be rung up on the opening of Midland's 1944 rodeo season, with first performance set for 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Rodeo contestants, rodeo fans and visitors are crowding hotel lobbies renewing acquaintances and discussing chances of various contestants in the approaching rodeo.

When the entry list closed Wednesday night it was learned that more entries had been received for the saddle bronc riding contest than in years. Sixteen contestants entered this feature of the program. 91 Entries Listed

There were 15 entries in the bareback bronc riding, 35 in the calf roping contest, 16 in the steer wrestling contest and 11 in the Brahma bull riding contest. A total of 91 cowboys and cowgirls entered various events of the rodeo.

The big, downtown street parade will get started at 5 p.m. Thursday and T. Paul Barron, parade chairman, reported Thursday morning that parade riders were getting busy getting costumes and mounts ready for the introductory event of the rodeo season.

The parade will be assembled at the high school at 4:30 p.m. At 5 p.m. it will proceed east on Texas to Loraine. Then it will move south on Loraine to Missouri; east on Missouri to Main; then north on Main to Texas. At Texas it will turn east and disband at the Catholic Church.

RELEASES DELEGATES

LINCOLN, NEBR.—(AP)—Gov. Dwight Griswold Thursday released his six Republican national convention delegates.

But farther west the Germans pictured Allied forces already within 20 miles of a junction that would choke off Cherbourg itself. Berlin declared house-to-house fighting raged in Ste. Mere-Eglise, 20 miles southeast of the port, and said parachutists had landed on the west coast only a score of miles southwest of Ste. Mere-Eglise.

There was no Allied confirmation of west coast landings or fighting at Ste. Mere-Eglise, on one of the two main roads to Cherbourg.

Heavy battles, with tanks and reserves sped up by both sides, flared over the peninsula. Allied beachhead troops are linking up with airborne forces dropped deeper inland, headquarters said, and improvement in adverse weather aided reinforcements from glider sky trains.

Field reports declared British-Canadian troops had captured a number of French towns and villages, advancing on open roads to points some miles from the coast. Infantrymen rode up to battle on bicycles to speed the advance.

Canadian and British troops have captured several hundred prisoners and shot up numerous Nazi 88-millimeter guns, field reports said. Canadian Press Correspondent Ross Munro, with Canadians in an unidentified sector, said the Germans were reported falling back in one area under persistent attacks, and "strength is being built up rapidly" (Continued on Page 8)

DNB Reports Red Drive

1,000 American Heavy Bombers Support Troops

By W. W. HERCHER

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE—(AP)—A powerful force of 750 to 1,000 American heavy bombers swept a wide arc of South Normandy early Thursday, smashing bridges, airdromes and railroad yards and junctions in a vigorous effort to clamp an air seal on the beachhead battleground.

While Fortresses and Liberators, in the biggest aerial operation of the third day of the invasion, hit hard at installations from 100 to 150 miles behind the front, Mustangs began the day of battle with a dawn attack on Caen.

Leave Caen Burning

The twin-engined mediums left the city on the main railway between Cherbourg to Paris burning with at least 20 fires from an attack at 4:50 feet.

These blows followed RAF strikes Wednesday night in which a series of rail targets near Paris and German transport 12 miles behind the invasion coast, were riddled with heavy cargoes of bombs. The transport target was a concentration in the forest of Cerisy where the road runs from Bayeux to St. Lo.

Allied planes of all descriptions had flown 22,000 sorties in the last 48 hours and air operations were mounting Thursday as weather improved.

Chinese Troops Take Part Of Lungling

CHUNGKING—(AP)—Chinese troops have occupied part of the Burma Road town of Lungling, second most important Japanese base in the southwestern province of Yunnan west of the Salween River, the Chinese high command announced Thursday night.

ITALY—Fifth Army thrusts up west coast after capturing Civitavecchia, 38 miles north of Rome.

RUSSIA—Berlin says Reds launch offensive in Romania.

SOUTH PACIFIC—Allies capture Mokmer airport off New Guinea.

CHINA—Japanese continue gains around Changsha.

LONDON—(AP)—DNB in a Berlin broadcast Thursday announced that the Russians had launched an offensive on a broad front in the sector north of Iasi, Romania.

A broadcast Romanian communiqué said "heavy fighting is in progress."

There was no confirmation immediately from Moscow, but a new offensive on the Russian front has been expected to put new pressure on Germany's east while American and British forces are attacking France and Italy.

German Blows Halt

Wednesday night's communiqué said German attacks north of Iasi have "diminished considerably," indicating the Germans may have been stopped in a push which they announced earlier.

Red troops counterattacking in the Moldavian Province succeeded in capturing two heights from the Nazis, a broadcast said.

From May 30 to June 6 the Germans lost more than 10,000 dead in the savage fighting near Iasi, and suffered heavily through destruction of equipment, Moscow asserted.

A Berlin broadcast agreed the battle had ended, but asserted at least 10 Soviet divisions had been "wiped out or decisively mauled."

Regular Airline Service To Start

Regular airline service may start here Monday.

Approval has been given by the CAA for Continental Airlines to use the facilities at Midland Airport No. 2 and two planes daily will stop at the field to take on and discharge passengers, Jim Carlson, station manager, said Thursday.

First plane of the day will arrive at 10:05 a. m. from San Antonio and will be Denver bound. The south bound plane will arrive at 3:56 p. m.

Inauguration of airline service in and out of Midland follows extensive preparations by both the airline and the city.

A station has been built at No. 2 airport; furniture has been placed in it, and Carlson said one company official described it as the best furnished station of any on the line.

Plenty of all-weather parking space is available at the station.

AP Writer Says Allied Invasion Assault No Larger Than At Sicily

LONDON—(AP)—John A. Moroso, Associated Press war correspondent, reported from an invasion port Thursday that although "the assault was widely hailed as the largest in history, it actually was no larger in its initial phases than the Allied attack on Sicily."

Moroso witnessed both the landings in Sicily and in North Africa. "Weather prophets were the worst flops," he said. Wind and a choppy channel almost caused disaster."

Missing In Action

Lt. Weldon H. Harris, 25, of Midland, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Harris, has been reported missing in action over Romania. He was a bomber pilot.

Midland County Gets General Rain; .38 Recorded In City

The monsoon season has started in Midland with two rains in one week.

A .38-inch rain fell in Midland Wednesday night, which followed .25 of an inch that fell Monday night. Wednesday night's rain was preceded by a sandstorm that limited visibility in Midland to a block. Reports to the AAA office from over the county indicated no damage to plantings by the wind.

Planes Unhindered

Damage to planes at Midland Airport No. 2 was averted due to advance warning which gave ample time for planes to be staked down. Rainfall there measured .45 of an inch.

About half an inch of rain was reported from the Valley View area southeast of Midland.

Rainfall Varies

From one-fourth to one-half an inch was reported by D. W. McDonald in the section about 10 miles south of Midland.

George Glass reported rain of from one-fourth to one-half an inch at his place 12 miles north of Midland.

The section 12 miles northwest received about one-fourth of an inch, Sam Midkiff reported. The area about 20 miles southeast of Midland is still missing out on the rains. Jay H. Floyd reported only a light shower there.

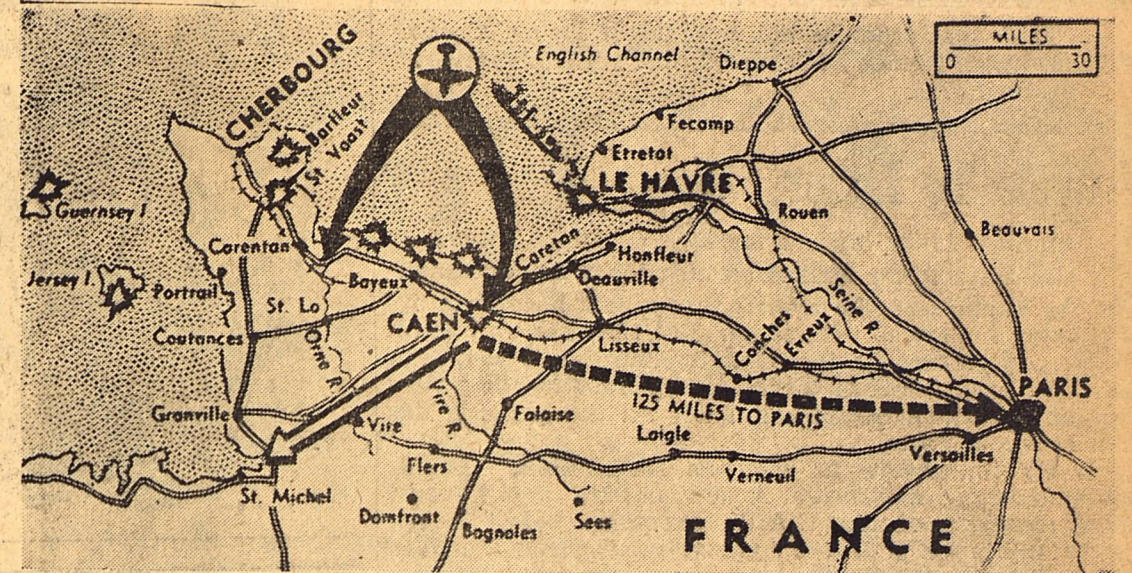

Rainfall to the east of Midland was said to have been comparatively light.

A good rain of about a half inch was reported at Midland Army Air Field. The wind there did not attain the velocity reached in other parts of the county. No damage to planes was reported.

Weather

Partly cloudy, showers.

Allied Invasion Scheme

Allied invasion troops were striking Thursday to cut off the Cherbourg peninsula. Bayeux already had fallen, and the Cherbourg-Paris rail line had been snipped. Berlin reported new landings by Allied parachutists on the west coast of the peninsula and street fighting raged in Ste. Mere-Eglise, 20 miles south-east of Cherbourg. DNB said invasion forces had launched an attack between Bayeux and Caen, which was reported burning by returning fliers. Germans were reported to have placed Rouen in a state of siege.

Fifth Army Takes Rome's Port Drives On In Pursuit Of Nazis

Enemy Retreats Reported In 'Bad State Of Confusion'

By NOLAN NORGAARD

ROME—(AP)—The Fifth Army has captured Civitavecchia, Rome's principal port, 38 miles northwest of the capital, and Thursday was thrusting swiftly up the west coast to maintain contact with the retreating enemy.

Other Fifth Army units, speeding in a more northerly direction, captured the town of Bracciano, 20 miles north of Rome, on the west shore of the large lake of the same name. Still another column was last reported passing the lake on the east side, 15 miles north of Rome.

The Germans still appeared to be withdrawing in a bad state of demoralization, without any indication yet available as to when they might turn and attempt a determined stand.

An official spokesman declared "the battered remnants of the German 14th Army are in a considerable state of disorganization. Upwards of 40 Wehrmacht formations are represented in the collection of prisoners taken in the exodus from Rome and beyond. Apparently even battalions are attaching themselves to whatever higher echelon is available."

Allied forces driving due north of Rome captured Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's former headquarters, about three miles south-east of Civita Castellana. The drive on Civita Castellana, about 25 miles northeast of Rome, made rapid progress up Highway 3 and an official report that reconnaissance elements encountered some opposition west of the town indicated it might be by-passed first.

The Eighth Army, meanwhile, punched into the Tiber Valley above Rome and forged northward along the east bank of the river. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's men captured the important town of Monterotondo, 12 miles northeast of Rome, and the same distance northwest of Tivoli, and the nearby towns of Sant' Angelo, Romano, Guidonia, and Mentana. Guidonia has an air field.

American Casualties Now Total 217,131

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said Thursday at his press conference that from the start of the war, Army and Navy casualties total 217,131, an increase of 10,904 since a report on May 25. He said Army casualties up to May 21 totaled 171,358. This was an increase of 10,245 since his previous report.

Of the new Army casualty total, 28,952 were killed, 68,779 wounded, 40,084 missing and 33,543 prisoners of war.

Navy casualties reported up to Thursday amount to 45,773 of which 19,803 were killed, 12,253 wounded, 9,256 missing and 4,462 prisoners of war.

Yanks Capture Biak Airdrome As Japs Close On Changsha

By WILLIAM PHIPPS
Associated Press War Editor

Gen. Douglas MacArthur owned an airbase Thursday within bomber range of the Philippines—the Allies' first since Japan's steamroller crushed them back against Australia early in the Pacific war.

Toughened American invaders of Biak, largest island of the Schouten group off Dutch New Guinea, outsmarted the Japanese defenders to grab Mokmer airdrome after 12 days of savage fighting. Mokmer is only 880 miles southeast of the Philippines.

Announcement of the Yanks' Mokmer triumph highlighted Japanese setbacks in every Pacific theater except Central China where fierce Chinese resistance was being overcome around Changsha.

This key Hankow-Canton railway ceded in Hunan Province was being strangled slowly by six Japanese spearheads in a drive to split China from north to south.

But the Chinese pressed ahead of the Salween River front in their thrust through Yunnan Province toward Burma where other Allied forces are fighting to link the Burma and Ledo roads. In India, Allied troops pursued Japanese fleeing from the Kohima area.

American fliers, striking from Central Pacific bases, carried new attacks to Guam, creww U. S. naval base 1,559 miles east of Manila, to Nauru and Ponape.

Senate Investigation Of 'General Who Talked' Proposed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Chandler (D-Ky) Thursday proposed a senatorial investigation into the demotion of Major Gen. Henry J. F. Miller to his permanent rank of lieutenant colonel and his subsequent dismissal from the European theater to the United States for talking in advance about D-Day.

"That is one of the most serious things an officer could do," said Chandler. "Thousands of lives depended on keeping that date secret. I think the military committee should know all of the circumstances."

The Army quoted Miller as having said, at a cocktail party, "On my honor, the invasion will take place before June 15."

Allied Invasion Chiefs Meet Off Invasion Coast

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE—(AP)—General Eisenhower and Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsey, commander of Allied naval forces, made a four-and-a-half-hour cruise off the French invasion beaches Wednesday for a conference with high officers, including Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of the invasion ground forces, and Rear Admiral Alan Goodrich Kirk, commander of the U. S. naval task forces in the invasion operation.

SHELL TO WILDCAT IN EDWARDS COUNTY

Shell Oil Company No. 1 Elsie J. Honeycutt and others, slated 7,500-foot wildcat in Central Edwards County, is due to start drilling shortly.

Location is 330 feet from the south and 2,669 feet from the west lines of section 7, certificate 155, GC&SF survey, and 13 miles southwest of Rock Springs.

Shell has a large block in that area, taken in 1942. Texas Company also has extensive protection in the area.

Union Oil Company of California No. 1 Scarborough, southeast extension effort for the Union field in Northwest Andrews, drilled through thin streaks of pay in lime from 7,345 feet to 7,404 feet, and was drilling ahead. Top of the main lower pay was expected around 7,415 feet.

To Plug Off Water

Honolulu Oil Corporation and Devonian Oil Company No. 1 Payton, Northwest Garza County exploration, failed to develop anything other than sulphur water in continued swabbing to the bottom at 3,768 feet in lime.

Preparations were being made to plug back to about 3,580 feet, and run casing to about that level.

When those operations are complete the operators plan to test the formation above that level, since that horizon yielded practically all the oil that has been shown by the test.

It is reported that the lower zones were rather free of any show of petroleum. No water was reported from the section which carried the oil.

Advice To Labor

American labor leaders must certainly be aware by now that as wartime strikes become increasingly numerous the public and the armed forces are becoming increasingly impatient with them. But thus far only R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers, seems to have foreseen the inevitable reaction of public indignation which might cost labor all the gains it has won in recent years.

Being courageous as well as foresighted, Thomas adopted strong measures. A few months ago he and other members of the U.A.W. executive board issued severe disciplinary orders against unauthorized strikes which carried penalties for strikers and for local officials who condoned their actions.

These penalties have been carried out. And though they have not stopped U.A.W. strikes, they served notice that Thomas meant business.

Now the U.A.W. president has issued an appeal to the patriotism and reason of the union's million members. In words stronger than most diehard industrialists would dare use in public, he warns the union that it faces destruction unless "our hot-headed brothers" are restrained from striking.

He minces no words. He charges that "any person who sets up a picket line is acting like an anarchist."

Thomas calls attention to the slowness of government agencies and the efforts of many managements to take advantage of the no-strike pledge to weaken the unions. He does not mention the "soft drink" disputes and other trivial causes of costly strikes.

But he makes the telling point that if labor can endure grievances and keep a record of its forbearance, it will have a great selling point after the war. "But," he continues, "there will be no gain in keeping and publishing our wartime record if that record is marred by wildcat strikes in war plants."

Apparently Thomas understands the public temper better than most of his colleagues at the head of unions. He knows that it does no good to reiterate the no-strike pledge and to dismiss the growing number of strikes as "unauthorized," while doing nothing about them. He knows that it does no good to quote a low percentage of man-hours lost through strikes under the no-strike pledge.

The public is concerned today less with percentages than with the fact that one strike cost 250 fighter planes on the eve of invasion, while another stopped processing of plasma and penicillin which just won't be there some day when it is needed to save a life. The public doesn't think that the grievances behind those strikes were worth this price, and Thomas knows it.

Thomas' union would do well to heed him, and other labor leaders would do well to emulate him for the good of their own future.

Vienna Lawyer Has Job Of Writing OPA's Regulations Into 'English'

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six years ago Rudolf Flesch was a lawyer in Vienna. His knowledge of English was the kind you'd pick up in a European capital.

Today at 33 he works for OPA, but not as a lawyer. He writes back into everyday English the English written by OPA lawyers.

The lawyers write regulations. Flesch re-writes those regulations when, in the form of bulletins, they have to be sent out to tradesmen.

"Simple" Explanation
Here is an OPA lawyer's explanation of an "ultimate consumer" of eggs:

"Ultimate consumer means a person or group of persons, generally constituting a domestic household, who purchase eggs generally at the individual stores of retailers or purchase and receive deliveries of eggs at the place of abode of the individual or domestic household from producers or retail route sellers and who use such eggs for their consumption as food."

Flesch re-writes that to read: "Ultimate consumers are people who buy eggs to eat them."

When Hitler went into Vienna in 1938, Flesch came to this country. He got a job as a stock clerk in a book bindery to be near books in English. After a year, he went to the Columbia University library school on a scholarship.

Writes For Average
Flesch has worked out what he says is a scientific test of sentences for their readability. Using census figures, he says the average adult reader has had about 8 1/2 years of schooling. His tests are applied with that average reader in mind.

To reach that average reader with the written word, Flesch says:

Sentences should not average more than 17 words in length. They should be simple, not long or involved. They should not have many prepositional phrases or dependent clauses.

To create human interest and therefore hold the reader's interest, sentences should have a generous sprinkling of personal references, like the names of people, or words like mother and father or words like I, me, you, your, he, she, it, they, them.

Don't write: "The seller can determine the price." Write it: "You can figure your price."

Sentences aimed at that average reader should contain simple words. Don't use: "Prices are established."

Use: "Prices are fixed." Don't use sentences like the famous dim-out phrase: "Illumination is required to be extinguished before these premises are closed to business."

Use: "Put out the lights before you go home."

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The great (and undoubtedly bloody) battle which is boiling up from the Allied invasion of the Cherbourg peninsula shows increasing signs of becoming an exceptional game of wits between those old rivals of the North African desert, Field Marshal Rommel and General Montgomery—two fastest thinking and quickest acting commanders the war has produced.

One is prone to regard all battles as chess games—but the rule doesn't hold. Many are won by overwhelming strength without any finesse, as witness Hitler's early victories when he rode roughshod over a helpless Europe. But the battle of the peninsula will turn in no small degree on the acumen of those great soldiers, Montgomery and Rommel.

Moves Cautiously
Already the German local counterattacks are under way and there's fierce fighting. However, Rommel seems to be moving cautiously. Of course, before he rushes a big army to the peninsula he must be sure that this is one of the major Allied thrusts and not merely a feint to draw his fire while the main attack is made elsewhere. Still, one feels that he's holding his hand pending the moment when he can do the most damage.

That may account in part for the lack of German air power on D-Day. The greatly depleted Luftwaffe is being held in reserve for crucial battles.

Rommel undoubtedly would like to get a big Allied force further inland before his major counterattack. He's an exponent of tank action, and favors conditions under which he can make quick maneuvers. He may try to force an open battle. That will suit Montgomery—providing the Allies have been able to put ashore sufficient men and equipment. It's a race against time.

Russians Throw Swank Dinner For Visiting Yank Airmen — Bill Figures Almost $840 Per Guest

By HAL BOYLE
LONDON —(P)—The American airmen who visited Moscow and completed arrangements for the shuttle bombing of Germany from Allied and Russian bases were royally entertained by their Soviet hosts.

Lend-Lease No Doubt

The lavish Russians put on so much food, in fact that it was slightly embarrassing to the Yank fliers, who were totally unprepared to be received with such expensive enthusiasm. This entertainment reached its height at a swank dinner for 20 at the Hotel Moscow. The bill is reported to have come to $840 per guest, and the Russians picked up the check.

The new room set aside in the Ministry of Information for war press conferences would delight Hollywood. Already known as "The Blue Room," it is about 300 feet long and 30 feet wide and has walls of delicate azure. Tube lights overhead shed a purplish "daylight" luster on 130 hard-seated chairs on which war correspondents wait in rows like a chemistry high school class for the reading of battle communiqués and background information.

These are given by British and American public relations officers, standing on a platform at the front of the room. A small microphone makes their remarks audible to all. Army and Navy officers just back from operations also tell their experiences, which gives a fresh personal note to otherwise dry and too often cryptic official handouts.

Giant maps line the walls and paper bombs pinned on targets tell the story of air operations for the previous week and day. On one wall are hung sections of the day's best combat pictures, photos of German and Allied military leaders, and of official news releases. The room also has a reference library on European zones, and is by far the best war room yet fitted out for correspondents in any theater.

Enid Ann Christian Becomes Bride Of Lt. E. P. Sandquist

Miss Enid Ann Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Christian of Wausau, Wis., and Lt. Earl P. Sandquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Sandquist of Aniva, Wis., were united in marriage Saturday in the Midland Army Air Field Post Chapel. Chaplain Patrick J. Toomey read the vows for the single ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white calla lilies standing before a background of palms and lighted with tall white candles. The bride was dressed in a white silk jersey afternoon dress with orchid accessories and carried a white iris bouquet. Her maid of honor, Miss Florence Sandquist, of Chicago, wore an orchid afternoon dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow iris. Lt. Raymond M. LaJeunesse acted as best man, and Cpl. B. H. Schoonover played traditional wedding music and Schubert's "Ave Maria." The bride attended Wausau High School and the bridegroom Antigo High School. He has just recently returned from the Mediterranean theater of war, where he was decorated with the Air Medal and seven oak leaf clusters. Lieutenant and Mrs. Sandquist will reside in Midland.

FOUR DIE IN CRASHES

GREENVILLE, TEXAS —(P)—Two officers and two aviation cadets at the Majors Field basic pilot training school were killed in two airplane crashes which occurred within 35 minutes of each other. Col. Herbert M. Newstrom, commanding officer, announced.

French missionaries visited French Indo-China as early as the eighteenth century.

tells an interesting story on General Montgomery, indicating the effervescent commander of the Allied invasion forces in the field had a hard-headed attitude toward the Germans even in his youth. As a young lieutenant he was sports officer of his unit in India. When the German warship Gneissau came to port on a courtesy call, a football match with the Teutonic visitors was arranged. And for diplomacy's sake Monty's commanding officer suggested he pick only a "fairish team." Monty listened, then selected his men. The British team trotted out and beat the Germans, 35-0. The angry regimental commander took Monty to task and asked sternly why he had put the best possible British into the field against orders to the contrary. "I didn't feel like taking a chance with the Germans, sir," Monty replied. He still has the same philosophy.

Mississippi Follows Texas' Lead, Takes 'White Supremacy' Stand

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer
The South hoisted new Democratic storm signals Thursday with Mississippi joining the ranks of states determined to commit the party to a stand for "white supremacy" and Georgia Democrats barring negroes from their July 4 primary.

Following almost exactly a pattern set previously by Texas Democrats, the anti-administration controlled Mississippi convention voted Wednesday to instruct the party's 12 electors in the state to reject the Democratic presidential nominee unless the national convention meets certain demands.

These demands, as outlined in resolutions adopted by the convention, were strongly reminiscent of those previously approved by Texas and South Carolina Democrats. They included opposition to anti-poll tax and racial equality planks in the platform. The resolutions also urged "a return of state's rights" and the restoration of the two-thirds nominating rule for national conventions.

The regular Texas Democratic convention previously had instructed that state's electors not to support the party nominee unless similar demands were fulfilled by the convention. South Carolina Democrats took the same course, except that they delayed choosing electors until after the national convention acts on the platform.

Because it seems obviously unlikely that the convention will restore the two-thirds rule, the action by the three states threatened to shift from the regular Democratic nominee a bloc of electoral votes in areas where he virtually was assured of a large popular majority.

In another offshoot of the "white supremacy" issue, the Democratic state executive subcommittee directed that Georgia party officials deny negroes the right to participation in that state's July 4 primary, in which interest will center on the bid of Senator Walter George for renomination.

The Georgia group held that the Supreme Court's opinion opening Texas Democratic primary to negroes does not affect Georgia because the latter's election rules are party-made and not set by statute.

New York Captain First Paratrooper To Land On D-Day

By HOWARD COWAN

A U. S. PARACHUTE CARRIER BASE—(P)—Capt. Frank Lillyman, the first Allied soldier to touch France in the assault from the West, didn't know when the invasion would come but he had been informed days in advance that whenever it came he would draw the No. 1 spot.

The cigar-smoking 29-year old parachute troop officer from Syracuse, N. Y., was told of his trail blazing assignment along with Lt. Col. J. L. Crouch of Riverside, Calif., and their hand-picked crews. Crouch was the pilot of the big Douglas C-47 which was the lead plane of the parachute troop carriers.

They all trained together with secret equipment which permitted pinpoint precision landings so they could direct other parachute troops and gliders to the "DZ"—dropping zone. The parachute troop carriers went in by the light of the moon before the assault on the French coast from the sea.

(A dispatch from the combat transport USS Barnett said that Capt. Leonard T. Schroeder, 25, of Baltimore, Md., may have been the first man to reach the French beach from the sea.

(Schroeder was the commander of the infantry company in the first assault boat which arrived on the beach within fewer than 60 seconds of H-Hour Tuesday morning. This boat was commanded by Lt. (jg) Abe Condiotti of Brooklyn, N. Y.)

Lean-faced Lillyman, who weighs 140 pounds, was accompanied by 10 soldiers, all of them specialists in scouting, demolition, first aid and gunnery. The first man to follow Lillyman from the plane was Private McFarlane of Abilene, Texas.

Continental Airlines Files Applications For Two New Routes

DENVER, COLO. — Continental Air Lines has filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board an application to institute commercial air service between San Angelo and Dallas-Fort Worth via Brownwood, Texas.

Terrell C. Drinkwater, Continental's executive vice president, said the proposed new service would provide Midland with a new outlet to central and northern Texas, as well as providing additional connections with present transcontinental and international airlines.

Continental inaugurated service between El Paso and San Antonio last May 1, and Drinkwater explained that the current application represented a further expansion of this service. There is no air transportation in the San Angelo-Dallas-Fort Worth area at present.

Continental also filed with the CAB an application to provide air service between Dallas-Fort Worth and Tulsa, Okla., with Sherman and Denison as a joint intermediate stop. A centrally located airport would serve the latter two cities.

GRATITUDE

D-Day was the most critical day of our generation. We are deeply indebted to the press, radio and newsreels which, since the beginning of the invasion, have kept us fully informed as to the movements of the Allied forces.

This, the greatest achievement in the gathering and dissemination of information ever recorded, makes us realize what our men faced when they landed. And more fully understand the depth of our obligation as individuals and organizations in backing up our armed forces.

Our prayers are with all who are participating in the liberation of Europe, and our sympathy goes out to the families of those who have made the supreme sacrifice.

Buff Brady Known As Top Trick Roper And Rider

Buff Brady, Jr. has this year risen to the top of the rodeo and show world as the outstanding trick roper and trick rider. This combination of abilities and the ease and showmanship with which he exhibits his skill has won him this high acclaim.

He started his career as a rodeo entertainer at the age of eight when he first began trick roping. He followed the rodeo field with his father who was a well known steer wrestler. He has been in the business all of his life. That, however, hasn't been many years because Buff is a young man, even though he has arrived at a successful stage of his career. He is a handsome lad with dark hair and eyes, a wonderful physique, and wears beautiful clothes in the arena. He is still single.

In order to be a trick rider one must be an athlete, but Buff is an extraordinarily good one. He combines his athletic prowess with his trick roping as well which makes it very unusual and interesting.

Brady has been featured both as trick rider and trick roper for the past two years at Madison Square Garden Rodeo as well as many other big rodeos. Visitors at the Midland Rodeo will enjoy watching him in both events and will thrill to his skill and ability as thousands of others have done.

Midland Legion Post To Push Free Cigarette Campaign During Rodeo

Invasion-minded residents will have an opportunity during the rodeo season here to help make sure invasion troops are provided with free cigarettes. N. B. Winter, chairman of the Midland American Legion Post Free Cigarette Committee, announced Thursday.

The Legion has been sponsoring the free cigarette campaign since last October. Under terms of a special arrangement free cigarettes are sent soldiers overseas for five cents a package. The Legion post can designate to what area they want the cigarettes sent, and the army itself receives and distributes the cigarettes to the soldiers in zones where cigarettes are not available for sale. The Legion will designate that its next shipment be distributed among invasion troops.

Booths will be placed on downtown streets Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons where citizens can make their donations to the free cigarette fund.

A booth will be placed at the rodeo stadium, Johnny Jordan, announcer for the rodeo, will call the audience's attention to need for donations to the fund.

The Legion has announced as its goal raising enough funds during the rodeo for the purchase of 1,350 cartons of cigarettes, enough to represent each man in the service from this county with a carton.

Members of the Legion's cigarette committee are: Winter, chairman; Lee Hamm, Marion Funk, H. B. Glenn, Joe V. Grammar, A. C. Heffner, Ben Dansby, C. V. Lyman, DeLo Douglas and Ernest Jones.

Mrs. Nettie Romer and Mrs. Bob Preston are in charge of decorating the booths that will be placed on downtown streets and at the rodeo.

Glenn will be in charge of the booth at the rodeo Thursday night; Hamm, Friday night; H. C. Hannerford and Grammar, Saturday night; Corporal Steele from the Midland Army Air Field, Sunday afternoon and Douglas, Sunday night.

A new creamy-solid cologne is fitted into a flat, handy plastic compact.

Navy Transport Plane Carries Sick Boy To St. Louis Hospital

ST. LOUIS—(P)—Casper Gerdis III, partially paralyzed in the right arm and left leg as the result of a tetanus infection, was a patient Thursday at Children's Hospital here after a mercy flight from Corpus Christi, Texas, in a Navy transport plane.

Accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Gerdis Jr., Sinton, Texas, the 9-year old boy arrived at the St. Louis airport Wednesday night after a five-hour flight. He was taken immediately to the hospital in a waiting ambulance.

Use of the Navy plane was arranged by Representative Kleberg, Texas, when informed the boy's condition was such that the use of a commercial airliner was impractical.

Behind The Chutes

By MRS. JOHNNY JORDAN

Three more entries were received Tuesday in the cowgirl's sponsor contest bringing the total to 25. They are Blanche Altizer, of Del Rio, Jessie Myers of Hays, and Leemore Faus of Stamford.

It is rumored that Everett Colborn will ask the winner of the sponsor contest to be one of the "ranch glamour girls" and attend the New York Rodeo.

Entries are beginning to pour in for the rodeo events and they include some of the top hands of the rodeo game.

Visiting Mrs. Blondie Hall is Mrs. Perner, mother-in-law of Homer Pettigrew.

Ray Parks, president of Midland Fairs, Inc., sponsors of the rodeo, has returned to the city and is a busy man. There is a lot of work to putting on a rodeo that is never seen or realized by the people who see the show.

From the number of inquiries at the rodeo office concerning the parade which starts at 5 p. m. Thursday, this year's parade will be a very good one. Corn plans to use all his fine parade horses which will be something to see in itself.

Howard Brown, livestock manager for the Gene Autry World's Championship Rodeo, made an extra trip to Dublin to bring back more flags and equipment to be used in the grand finale. This is a new event for the Midland Rodeo.

Whitey Stuart, one of the cowboys who arrived Wednesday to enter the bronc riding, tells quite a story of his luck at the recent Tulsa rodeo. He broke his rein while riding a bronc and since he hadn't had any luck up till that time, decided to leave and go home. The other boys talked him in to staying, and he took a re-ride on the horse which broke his rein. He won the day money on that ride, and placed on the rest of the brons he rode. His markings were high enough so he won the finals! That is a good demonstration of how luck runs.

Iced Coffee Heralds Summer

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Hot days seem to call for tall glasses of iced coffee. To get the best results pour fresh, hot, double-strength coffee right over ice cubes. Make the hot coffee by your favorite method, taking all your usual precautions of measuring coffee and water accurately into a very clean pot. Use 4 level tablespoons of coffee for each cup of water. Pour the hot, freshly-made coffee into tall glasses filled with ice. The double-strength coffee will make up for the dilution caused by the melting ice.

Sometimes it's not convenient to make iced coffee by the above method. In some cases it may be necessary for you to pour pre-cooled coffee over the ice cubes. In that case, make regular-strength coffee, using 2 level tablespoons for every cup of water. When coffee is made, pour it into a tightly-covered glass jar, cool and place it in the refrigerator. To serve, pour the coffee into tall glasses half filled with ice.

If you like coffee flavor, here's a treat.

Coffee Parfait
Two-thirds cup evaporated milk, 1 1/2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin, 1 cup strong coffee, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 egg whites, well beaten.

Chill evaporated milk several hours in the refrigerator. Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup cold coffee. Heat remainder of coffee, and stir in gelatin. Add sugar and salt, stir until dissolved, and chill in refrigerator until syrupy. Fold into beaten egg whites, and beat well. Whip evaporated milk and fold into mixture. Pour into quart refrigerator tray, and freeze until set. Remove from tray to bowl, beat well, and return to tray to finish freezing. Yield: 1 quart. If ice cream is not to be served as soon as frozen, remove tray to upper shelf in freezing compartment where temperature is not so low. This prevents ice crystals.

Check over refrigerator leftovers daily to save good, storage space and meal preparation time.

Coffee parfait is good summer drink.

South Of Fullerton
Frankel Bros. No. 1-B University, 660 feet from the north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 17, block 13, University survey, and one-half mile south of the nearest oil well on the south side of the Fullerton field, was digging past 2,266 feet in anhydrite and potash.

Top of the anhydrite was at 1,730 feet. Elevation was 3,290 feet.

Frankel 1-D University, wildcat test southwest of the Fullerton, had progressed to 5,693 feet in lime and was drilling ahead. Top of the San Andres was at 4,430 feet. Elevation is 3,290 feet—same as on the Frankel 1-B University.

Standard of Texas No. 1-23 University, in South Reagan County, cored in sections from 2,487 feet to 2,525 feet. Last cutting, from 2,517 feet to the bottom, was gray, hard, dense dolomite, slightly sand, with a little bleeding oil.

Standard of Texas No. 1-39 TXL, another Culberson County operation, is preparing to abandon at total depth of 2,739 feet, after getting an increase in water from 2,550 feet to the bottom.

Humble No. 1 Doss, South Gaines County prospector, had reached the hole to the total depth at 5,605 feet in lime, and was preparing to run a formation test. Slight oil shows had been found just above the bottom.

Only 4,500 Prisoners Of War Available For Farm Work In Texas

COLLEGE STATION —(P)—Only 4,500 prisoners of war will be available to Texas farmers for agricultural work within the next few months, the Eighth Service Command has advised the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

Many prisoners have been moved out to help meet critical labor needs in other areas, the command said, sharply reducing the number of prisoners in the command's five-state area.

C. Hohn, extension state farm labor supervisor, said farmers will be expected to pay the wages, cost of subsistence and transportation of prisoners working on their farms and their work must be limited to food production.

A recent agreement between the commanding officer of the Eighth Service Command and the extension service will permit movement of the prisoners to branch camps for employment in harvesting crops wherever the extension service considers the greatest needs exist.

The cost of 312 feature length motion pictures and some 500 short subjects produced by major Hollywood motion picture companies in 1943 was about $247,000,000.

On Lifts Giants By Bootstraps; Chisox Gaining

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Ott continued to lift the Giants by their bootstraps, and the Chicago White Sox began to cast their shadow across the American League standings Thursday as baseball swung back into normal stride.

Ott clouted two more home runs, lifting his season production to 14, as the Giants pummeled Al Javery and the Boston Braves Wednesday night, 6-2, behind the four-hit chugging of Harry Feldman.

Jimmy Dykes' White Sox stretched their win streak to seven by downing Detroit, 3-1, in another night game. The Sox are only a half game behind the third-place Tigers, and only three and a half behind the leading St. Louis Browns.

Walks Into Loss

Orval Grove captured his fifth victory at the expense of Hal Newhouser, whose bid for win No. 9 resulted in loss No. 4, when he walked Grove with the bases loaded to force in the tie-breaking run. Boston sent the New York Yankees reeling back under another setback, 8-1, as Tex Hughson grabbed his seventh decision and Boss Joe Cronin led the attack with a double and homer. Hank Borowy suffered his second setback of the campaign, fading after the fifth inning.

Rip Sewell ran his victory string to seven by stopping Cincinnati, 4-2 on Vince DiMaggio's single in the eighth, which drove home Johnny Barrett and Jim Russell. The Pittsburgh "blooper ball" tosser lost two of his first three starts, but hasn't been beaten since May 3 while trimming Brooklyn twice, Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and now Cincinnati.

The Phillies came from behind twice to top Brooklyn in the ninth, 6-5, when Jimmy Wasdell, an ex-Dodger, singled home Tony Lupien after Ray Hambrick had scored the tying run on Rube Melton's wild pitch.

St. Louis and Chicago in the National and Washington, Philadelphia, Cleveland and St. Louis in the American were not scheduled.

Rocky Mountain fever is transmitted by the bite of a tick, which must itself be infected with the disease.

Sports ★★ Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK — (AP) — It's a long way from the football season but apparently it's the open season on football teams and players on the Pacific Coast.

Reports trickling East so far indicate that Bill Free-love, who broke into pro football as water boy for the Washington Redskins when they first went West, has distributed at least six franchises in his newly-formed American League and three of the cities already were occupied by the Pacific Coast pro league.

The airborne "mystery" league, figuring on no fewer than four West Coast clubs, will be ready to go after the war, Bill (ex-Phillie) Cox reported on a recent visit to Seattle.

A number of others, especially in the northwest, are ready to go and one of the latest reports is that Dutch Clark may sign to coach the Seattle American League club.

The National League hasn't quit on the West Coast, even though Actor Don Ameche has decided he likes horses better than football (hay, even at $55 a ton, is cheaper than steaks).

Well, it ought to be a merry little scrap. One-Minute Sports Page

Jackie Hayes, former White Sox second baseman forced to retire from baseball in 1940 because of an eye ailment, has become totally blind. He recently obtained a seeing eye dog.

Nobody at West Point will say so, but football folks there give the impression they don't expect to play the 1944 Army-Navy game in the seclusion of either Annapolis or West Point.

The Iowa State High School baseball tournament, shifted from Manson (Pop. 1382) to Fort Dodge (Pop. 21,895) this year because of flood conditions, failed to meet expenses for the first time.

Cefirino Garcia, former middleweight champ, is working for a railroad in Los Angeles—just to pass the time away. He owns property and has some cash in the till.

Service Department

Lt. Glenn Dobbs, ex-Tulsa U. passing ace, is heading for a new post at Colorado Springs, where the Second Air Force will have football headquarters, and won't be joining Kimbrough and Bill Dudley at Randolph Field.

Lt. Col. Francois D'Eliscu, who was awarded a degree of doctor of education "in absentia" at New York University's commencement Wednesday, left his studies and his wrestling coach's job at NYU before he had written his final thesis.

After winning the Silver Star and Purple Heart in the Pacific, D'Eliscu returned to Fort Benning, where he lectured on combat training. The professors decided the lecture would be okay as a thesis.

Soldier Collects 197 Military Patches

A collection of 197 patches worn by members of the armed forces assembled by Cpl. H. V. DeGues of the quartermaster detachment, Midland Army Air Field, is on display at the City Cleaners on North Loraine.

Corporal DeGues spent four months collecting the numerous patches, and the collection does not nearly represent all of the patches worn by the armed forces' different organizations.

Included in the collection are the insignias of 22 different divisions and four armored corps, as well as insignias worn by some foreign service units.

Francois D'Eliscu, who was awarded a degree of doctor of education "in absentia" at New York University's commencement Wednesday, left his studies and his wrestling coach's job at NYU before he had written his final thesis.

After winning the Silver Star and Purple Heart in the Pacific, D'Eliscu returned to Fort Benning, where he lectured on combat training. The professors decided the lecture would be okay as a thesis.

Army Service Station Commanding Officers To Attend Meet Here

A conference of service station commanding officers will be held at the Midland Airport No. 2, 8th Ferrying Service station Friday and Saturday. Besides the commanding officers of service stations, visiting officers from Headquarters, Ferrying Division, Cincinnati, and the Central Sector Command, Kansas City, will attend.

Chairman of the conference will be Lt. Col. Hamilton Smithdeal, executive officer, Headquarters, Ferrying Division, Cincinnati. Colonel Smithdeal is a native of Dallas, attended Georgetown and the University of Florida, and practiced law in Dallas. A reserve officer in the army, he was called to active duty in June, 1941. He was assigned to the Ferrying Command in December, 1941, was sent to Washington. He became executive officer of Headquarters, Ferrying Division, Cincinnati, in March.

Lt. Col. Hamilton Smithdeal

1942. Colonel Smithdeal is a service pilot.

The main purpose of the two-day conference is to discuss problems among service station commanders. To present a clearer picture of the value of service stations in the Ferrying Division and the purpose of the conference the following quotation came from Brig. Gen. William Turner, commanding general, Ferrying Division:

Ferrying service stations were created primarily for the purpose of facilitating the delivery of aircraft across the country. These stations, manned by Ferrying Division trained personnel, have rendered a superior service. An appreciation of the necessity for expediting the service to every ship an understanding of the needs of pilots on ferrying missions have contributed to the success of their missions.

"This conference of service station commanders has been called so they may discuss with each other and with officers of the sector and Headquarters, Ferrying Division, their common problems."

Major Sam H. Lane Jr., commanding officer of the 8th Ferrying Service Station will open each session with a short talk and the remainder of the day's session will be presided over by Colonel Smithdeal.

Entertainment has been planned for the division officers in Midland, and the officers will be guests of the 8th Ferrying Service Station at the Midland Rodeo Saturday night.

Yank Losses In Italy Up To May 30 Total 57,529, Stimson Says

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of War Stimson reported Thursday that a recent three-day period of heavy fighting preceding the fall of Rome cost American forces in Italy 2,379 casualties.

American casualties in the Italian campaign from the landings last September to May 30 amounted to 57,529, Stimson said.

Of these 9,904 were killed, 38,554 wounded and 9,011 missing.

Switching the topic to the Allies' invasion of Europe, Stimson told newsmen at his press conference that "conditions will be changing from day to day, and it will be to our own good to avoid excesses of optimism and pessimism."

in the Allied bridgeheads for the big battles which should come any day, or even any hour."

The German high command declared the Allied had opened an attack from the bridgehead between Caen and Bayeux, and that Nazi forces counterattacked. Heavy fighting continues, it added.

Berlin said Americans who gained a foothold north of Caen, some 27 miles southeast of Cherbourg, had suffered heavy casualties. It also claimed successes near the Orne River mouth, above Caen.

A landing attempt in the bay of St. Martin at the northwest tip of the peninsula, near Cap de la Hague, was frustrated, the enemy high command said.

Engineer troops joined the flood of Allied reinforcements, helping in tearing down Atlantic Wall defenses, and a U. S. Ninth Air Force troop carrier report of flying in jeeps and guns disclosed the Allies had captured or built at least one airfield on the peninsula.

"Everything is going excellently," said Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, ground forces commander. It is now apparent the Allies have several beachheads on a 50-mile coastal stretch between Caen and Carentan, with some of them joined together.

Headquarters was silent on Berlin reports that parachutists in a deep, daring thrust had landed at Falaise and Argentan, 30 miles southeast to Caen, with street fighting flaring in Falaise. The Germans said eight to 13 Allied divisions were fighting on the peninsula.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower used his airborne troops to the fullest, and an observer on a ship in the channel said at one time "the sky overhead became unbelievably crowded with aircraft. Four lanes of tow-plane traffic going each way spanned the channel."

The Germans likewise rushed in new strength, and Prime Minister Churchill warned against over-optimism, declaring "enormous exertions lie before us."

Some of the troops have been fighting continuously since Tuesday morning, and it is likely there may be a short lull in advances as they rest, regroup, and bring up supplies.

Supreme headquarters described the capture of Bayeux, five miles inland from the Central Normandy coast and first French city to fall to the invaders, as "very important news" because it opens up avenues for a new advance deeper into France.

A Berlin broadcast indicated south-bound Allied forces already had left Bayeux behind. This report said "hard fighting" still was in progress against an Allied group "which launched a thrust immediately south of Bayeux." Berlin identified the group as British and Canadian infantry and tank units.

Federal Officials And Cattlemen Discuss Beef Cattle Prices

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Government food officials and representatives of cattle producers conferred Thursday on proposed revisions in beef cattle ceiling prices designed to encourage early marketing from crowded western ranges.

Suggested by the Office of Price Administration, the changes include:

(1) An increase of 50 cents per hundred pounds in the current roll-back subsidy rate on all classes of cattle. Rates now range from 50 cents to $1.45.

(2) A reduction, effective Sept. 4, of 50 cents per hundred pounds in the maximum price for lower grades of beef cattle.

The suggested changes are being opposed by most cattlemen.

Auto Men Hold Service Clinic In Midland

Wartime maintenance problems were the subject at a service clinic conducted for a group of automobile service men Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Midland Studebaker Service Club. The program included actual disassembly and rebuilding of a rear axle assembly, under a factory trained instructor, as well as a general discussion of topics pertinent to the maintenance of automotive transportation under wartime conditions.

Mechanics attending the meeting participated in the second of a series of examinations aimed to qualify them for special service awards to be presented at a later date by the factory.

The clinic, held at the service department of Broadway Garage was attended by Studebaker dealers and service men from the Midland area.

French Town Of Vire Completely Destroyed

NEW YORK — (AP) — The French town of Vire, about 35 miles south of the Normandy coast invasion beaches has been "completely destroyed," said Capt. Kaimar Master, of Portland, Ore., in a broadcast from England.

Master, who flew as an observer in a Marauder bomber over France, was interviewed shortly after he returned. He did not explain how the town had been destroyed.

When war broke out in Europe in September, 1939, there were less than 200,000 men in the U. S. Army, and less than 100,000 in the Navy.

Principal speakers were H. B. O'Neill, Studebaker regional manager; Marc Liess, Factory Service Representative.
