Saturday's Harvest Festival To Offer Fun, Food, Prizes

A wide variety of entertainment is expected to lure county residents to the 18th annual Lynn County Harvest Festival Saturday, an event which offers games, contests, prize giveaways and other activities all day long on the Courthouse square in downtown Tahoka.

Drawings will be held on the hour for prizes donated by county merchants, and food, games and crafts booths will draw much interest.

Also, several businesses in town are offering special bargains and sidewalk sales during the weekend. See their advertisements on pages 4-7 of this edition.

Cow Patty Bingo, sponsored by the Tahoka Junior Class, will have prize giveaways of $300 and $100 cash for first and second place. Tickets are being sold for $5 each, and the sponsors will draw for the numbered squares the day of the festival.

The cow will determine the winner "at its discretion" at some point during the day.

Activities will kick off at 9:30 a.m. Saturday with a variety of children's games on the street just north of the courthouse. Booths open at 10 a.m. and the popular merchants drawings will begin at 11 a.m.

The Harvest Festival Princess Contest will be held on the stage at 1:15 p.m. There are several candidates, all Tahoka girls ranging in age from kindergarten through sixth grade, and the one who sells the most tickets will be named 1993 Princess and receive a $100 savings bond. Runnersup will also receive $50 and $25 savings bonds.

The girls are selling tickets to win two bicycles and a Texas Tech weekend. The Tech weekend includes two tickets for the Tech vs. A&M game and accommodations for two at a hotel in Lubbock.

The Queen Contest will be held at 2 p.m., and there are several Tahoka High School girls vying for this year's crown. They are selling tickets for a trip for two to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico and must sell at least 100 tickets each to qualify as finalists. Winner of the trip may set the departure date for the trip, and will receive accommodations for three days and four nights, and roundtrip air fare from Lubbock.

The girls are also judged on personal interviews conducted before the Harvest Festival, and on poise and presentation during the contest on stage. Judges from Robert Spence School of Modeling in Lubbock will determine the winner. Upon the Queen's graduation from high school, she will be presented a $100 scholarship from Tahoka Chamberettes and $100 scholarship from the Harvest Festival Committee.

Drawings for both Princess and Queen contest tickets will be held late Saturday afternoon. Funds raised from ticket sales support the Harvest Festival.

The Blue Denim Band from Crosbyton will entertain on stage during the day and for the Street Dance on the courthouse square from 8 p.m. until midnight. Tahoka Rotary Club, who sponsors the festival band each year, will sell sausage on a stick all day at the festival and during the Street Dance.

Several prize drawings, other than the hourly merchants drawings, will be held this year, including some for children. The festival emcee will announce a time for children, ages newborn through high school, to sign up for four $100 savings bond drawings in four different age categories.

A $50 cash drawing will be held from those names registered from the bubblegum toss at the homecoming football game Friday night. Student Council members will toss bubblegum to the crowd in the stadium, and those who receive a wrapper with a number in it should bring that number to the stage at the Harvest Festival and register before noon Saturday. Only one number per person is allowed, and entrants must be over 18 to be eligible.

Other drawing giveaways include a quilt raffle sponsored by the Senior Citizens Pioneer Club, and a 13" color TV raffle sponsored by the Lynn County Child Welfare Board. Both of these raffles have $1 ticket chances, and drawings will be held during the afternoon.

A complete list of booths, children's games, and the day's schedule is printed on pages 4-7.

THESE ITEMS UP FOR BID – Librarian Shirley Draper and Billie Parker are shown with three of the items which will be displayed for bids at the City-County Library's Silent Auction to be held during the Lynn County Harvest Festival this Saturday. Mrs. Parker created the mop-doll Santa Claus with his bag of goodies, and Becky Henley donated the Christmas sweatshirt displayed by Mrs. Draper. The cowboy boot flower arrangement was made and donated by Vondell Elliott. Anyone wanting to bid may come by the library booth at the festival and write down their bid on the paper next to the item. Bidding will close at a designated time that afternoon, and the highest bidder may purchase the item.

Bulldogs Await Crosbyton For Homecoming

The Tahoka Bulldogs, now 0-3 for the season, will try to do better this week as Crosbyton comes to town for the first district game of the year. Special homecoming activities are planned before the game and at halftime, with classes of former THS students also planning reunions over the weekend.

Last Friday night the Bulldogs were overmatched at home against Coahoma, which took a 36-0 halftime lead and coasted to a 55-2 victory.

Tahoka's only points were in the third period after Coahoma went up 42-0 and attempted an extra point kick which was blocked and grabbed by Bulldog running back Ramiro Rodriguez, who ran the ball 88 yards for the two points allowed on that kind of situation.

Tahoka made its initial first down just before halftime. Longest play from scrimmage for the Bulldogs was a 30-yard pass play from QB Matt Garcia to End Terry Gwin.

Tahoka fumbled the snap from center several times in the game.

Good defensive work was turned in by Bulldog linebackers Wes Solomon and Jesse Perez and by down lineman Cody Hale.

No statistics or other information was available, as there was no space allotted for press representatives in the new "(Not for the) Press" box erected last week at the football field.

Woodwork...

by Dalton

KNOTHOLES in the Woodwork: A kid in Florida, I think, got a mandatory three-year prison term for stealing several Snickers ice cream bars, and some folks are saying that's too much punishment. Regardless, it would give Snickers a great opportunity for an ad showing some guy behind bars saying, "I got three years for swiping a Snickers ice cream bar–it was darn well worth it.". . . The "Pass It On" section of the Lubbock A-J tells us that house flies can only see three feet away. They must have a good sense of smell, since every fly in 500 yards always comes to help me eat anything outdoors. . . The same column says female birds injected with male hormones start singing. (A couple of choruses of "You Brought a New Kind of Love To Me"?). . . The A-J Sunday also mentioned that on Oct. 5 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. there will be a seminar in Lubbock on "How To Handle Conflict and Manage Anger." I can't go at that time, and this really makes me furious.

READERS who could care less about the design of Tahoka's so-called "press box" or whether newspaper or radio people have a special place to work during football games may stop reading here. I want to comment on the dumb allotment of space in the new "press box" at THS football field.

The purpose of a press box is supposed to be to provide a working space for local and visiting representatives of the media to cover football games, with table space for taking notes, checking lineups, space for binoculars. Press boxes usually are expanded to provide space for someone to run the clock/scoreboard and for a public address announcer. In more recent years a section of each press box usually has been set aside for coaches "upstairs on the phone" to contact the coaches on the field, and sometimes other space for camera persons to film the game for the coaches.

All of those things are important, but in some schools, especially the smaller ones, there has been a growing trend of attitude that "we don't need any of those dumb sports reporters up there anyway, so give them very little room."

Tahoka school took this a step further, leaving no room at all for even one representative of this newspaper to work in the press box, which was built at a cost of about $10,000.

The box seems to be well built, but it is not a press box, and shouldn't be labeled as such. It is a box for a timekeeper, announcer, coaches and film crew, especially the latter.

The new box was built because the old one was falling apart and was too small (there's less space in the north end of the new one than the old one, though), and possibly so the school maintenance people wouldn't have to clean up the old one (a door had fallen off, dirty windows mostly didn't work and there was garbage in one corner–old candy wrappers, cups and half-eaten hot dogs which laid there all last season. And some of that trash in the corner may have been there since the Bulldogs' last winning season in 1981).

The builder of the box told me this week he was given no specifications for dividing the structure, and he's graciously willing to do whatever necessary to make it usuable by the press. He planned to add a shelf in the camera section. This will help, and I appreciate it.

Accident, Vandalism Reports Are Filed

One traffic accident in the city was investigated by Tahoka Police Dept. last Thursday, when a 1978 Chevrolet pickup driven by Rafael Resendez, 27, and a 1986 Chevrolet van driven by Reggie Moore, 38, of Tahoka, were involved in a collision.

No injuries were reported in the accident at the intersection of Ave. J and Lockwood.

A window was broken on the south side of Tahoka Elementary School sometime last weekend.

In jail during the week were two persons for driving while intoxicated, first offense, with one of these also charged with no liability insurance and the other also charged with failure to appear on charges of driving while license suspended. Also one person each was jailed on charges of DWI second offense, DWI subsequent, public intoxication, aggravated theft over $750 and application to revoke probation on charges of forgery.

THS Head Coach Reassigned; Draper Interim Grid Chief

Tahoka High School head football coach Chris Wigington was reassigned this week to "teaching duties only" by Dr. Duane Carter, superintendent, who then named assistant coach Darrell "Tooter" Draper as interim head coach for the Bulldogs, who will play Crosbyton in homecoming here Friday night.

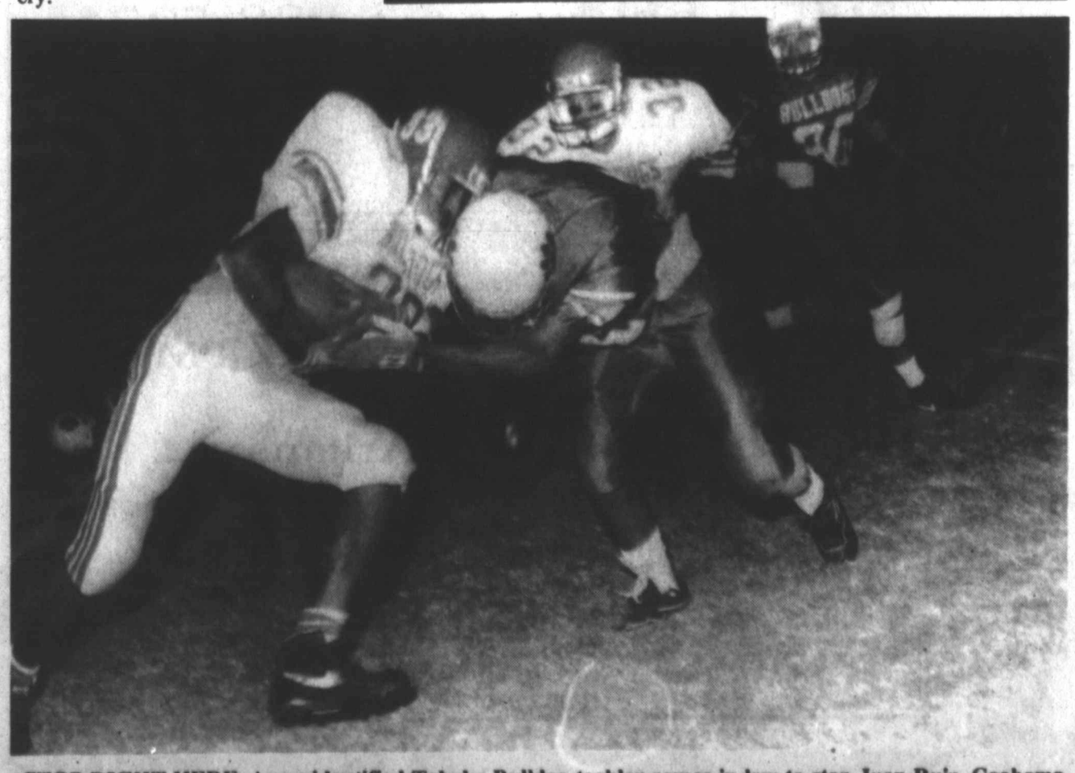

Dr. Carter was out of town Tuesday and could not be reached for comment, but THS Principal Charles Cate said the reassignment of Wigington was made because of problems in the head coach's relationships with players and with other coaches.

"We thought this would be best for our program and our kids," Cate said.

Draper, who joined the staff this year, coming from Van Horn, will handle the head coaching duties for the time being, and also will direct the offense. Hulon Kirkland, head basketball coach and a football assistant, will now be the defensive coordinator, Cate said.

School board president Greg Henley said the coaching staff likely will operate one person short for the rest of this school year, with a head football coach probably to be hired after the spring semester.

JV, Jr. High Teams Lose To Coahoma

By THS GROWL STAFF

Coahoma made a clean sweep against Tahoka last week as they bested Tahoka in football at all levels of play. Junior Varsity lost 0-48, eighth grade 0-20 and seventh grade 0-28.

"The kids played hard," said Coach Tooter Draper, one of the JV coaches. "They always do."

"Coahoma could not run on the Tahoka eighth graders, but they had a good passer. The eighth graders played very well," said Coach Jim Burns. "Their receivers were just taller."

DAYTON PARKER

Cardizem May Prevent Fatty Deposits

A two year study of heart transplant patients showed that daily doses of diltiazem (sold as Cardizem) showed promise in preventing the build-up of fatty deposits. Cardizem was chosen because it is easy to take, has few side effects and is relatively inexpensive. It is usually used to treat angina chest pain. "...it may prevent a reaction to the injury to artery linings" which occurs when fat clings to blood vessel walls.

Homecoming and Harvest Festival Time!

Friday and Saturday

Harvest Festival Children's Activities To Begin At 9:30 Saturday Morning

There are numerous children's activities planned for the 18th Annual Lynn County Harvest Festival on the square in downtown Tahoka this Saturday, Sept. 25. All students K-6 are eligible to participate in the following activities, which will all be held from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

Scavenger Hunt (Miss H (Molly Helmlinger) in charge) 11:45-12:30 p.m.: This was a new event last year. Children may work individually or with a partner and find the items on the list. The list will be a secret until the start of the event. Each person (or pair) will receive a list. Items on the list may be found within the boundaries of the courthouse square. There will be separate divisions for individuals and pairs/partners. Ribbons will be given out to all participants.

Dress as a Storybook Character Contest (Miss H in charge) 10:50-11:10 a.m.: This is only the third time this event has been offered. The child will dress up as any storybook character he or she wants. He should be able to tell the judges (1) Who (or What) character he is, (2) What story book it comes out of, (3) Why he selected this specific character, and (4) Why he is dressed/costumed that way. It is not necessary to bring the book from which the child has taken the character from, but it would be helpful to the judges. Children will compete by grade levels in this event. Ribbons will be given out to all participants.

Stuffed Animals Costume Contest (Miss H in charge) 11:10-11:40 a.m.: A child participating in this event should bring a stuffed animal and dress it up (costume) to fit one of the following categories. Award places will be given for: Coolest, Most Dignified, Ugliest, Scariest, Cutest, Most Glamorous, Skinniest, Fattest, Smallest, Largest, Fuzziest, Most Colorful, Most Loved (Most Used or Worn), Most Realistic or Life-Like, Best Match Pair (Child and Stuffed Animal), and any other appropriate category. Children will compete by grade levels on this event. Ribbons will be given out to all participants.

Live Animal Costume Contest (Miss H in charge) 10:30-10:50: This is the same as the stuffed animal costume, but with live animals. Please make sure that all animals are on leashes or appropriate restraints and can be managed. The categories are similar to the stuffed animals, but there will also be "Most Unusual", "Most Well-Behaved" and "Friendliest." Ribbons are given out based on the categories and not according to grade level. Ribbons will be given out to all participants.

Frog Jumping Contest (4-H in charge) 9:30-10 a.m.: A child brings his frog and a frog-jumping contest is held. Ribbons are given out according to what place the frog finishes. Ribbons will be given out to all participants.

Turtle Race Contest (4-H in charge) 10-10:30 a.m.: A child brings his turtle and a turtle race is held. Ribbons are given out according to how the turtle finishes. Ribbons are given out to all participants.

Essay Contest: Ribbons have been awarded in the essay contest for 1st place through 6th place in each grade level. The first place essays in each grade level will be published in the Lynn County Newspaper as space allows. All essays were written on the topic, "How I Would Make Tahoka Beautiful."

Max Minor Returning For Homecoming

Tahoka's best-known athlete and former football great Max Minor is scheduled to be back in Tahoka this weekend for homecoming activities in the town where he got his start as an outstanding track and football star before becoming a legend at the University of Texas and at West Point.

A story by Suzanne Halliburton, staff writer for the Austin American-Statesman, wrote an article in the Sept. 13 issue of that newspaper as one of a series of articles about "Longhorn Legends." Minor, now 70, and his wife, Jean, now live in Austin.

The article opened with a comment about Minor's running—and winning—a race of 75 yards against a quarter horse as a publicity gimmick 51 years ago. The article also said, in part:

The 1941 Texas football team captured the fancy of the nation, with 14 Longhorns appearing on the front of Life magazine.

Minor, known to some as the "Terror of Tahoka" when he was recruited by Texas, was by far the fastest Longhorn on the 1941 and '42 teams. His touchdown run in the 1943 Cotton Bowl helped the 11th ranked Longhorns upset Georgia Tech 14-7. In the spring, he was a star for the track team, winning the Southwest Conference championships in the 100- and 220-yard dashes in consecutive years and helping the sprint medley relay team set a world's record.

But Minor gained his greatest notoriety after transferring to West Point, where he earned All-America honors in 1944 when Army won a national title and beat defending champion Notre Dame 59-0. He played in the same backfield with two future Heisman trophy winners, Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis.

Minor transferred from UT because he was in a military program and then was appointed to West Point. He later retired from the Air Force as a colonel after 32 years, and flew planes in the Strategic Air Command for 15 years. He still walks with a limp from the torn knee cartilage he suffered jumping from his plane to the runway at Tan Son Nhut in Saigon during the Vietnam conflict.

Minor flew 475 reconnaissance missions the year he was stationed in Vietnam. He later worked at the Pentagon.

Castillo Leads Wilson Romp Over C-Center

Adam Castillo scored four touchdowns for the Wilson Mustangs as Wilson got on the winning side of the ledger by beating Cotton Center 38-21 last weekend in Wilson.

Wilson, now 1-2 for the season, will play at Amherst this Friday night.

The WILSON News

by Buster Abbe
628-6368

The cotton harvest is off and running in the Wilson area with most of the area gins having ginned their first bales, and one or two of them getting well into the season. Wilson Coop ginned its first bale on Monday, Sept. 21 when Carlton Wilke brought in the first trailer load of cotton. Wilke stripped the cotton last Friday from the Krause farm and the resulting bale weighed 562 lbs. and produced 874 lbs. of seed.

Many of the farmers feel that if the weather holds, and they have good luck, that this season will be fast and furious. Some of the producers have indicated that they felt that this crop will be off the stalk and much of it ginned by Thanksgiving.
