Hospital Disaster Program Studied

A complete review of St. Joseph's Hospital Disaster program, including individual assignments, was made when volunteer personnel were called in on a simulated emergency Thursday, June 3.

"We were pleased with the response, as about 35 volunteers reported," said Sister Perpetua.

This was a simulated disaster run to the point that those called reported to their hospital stations. "Victims" were not used.

St. Joseph's disaster program ties in directly with the Collingsworth County Disaster program, with Billy Hatch as chairman.

To increase the effectiveness of the disaster program, Sister Perpetua said that with in the near future work will begin with small groups of volunteers in each department, training them in what will be expected if disaster strikes Wellington.

After everyone has been through at least one practice there will be a general disaster drill which will come without previous announcement. The Thursday night review began when volunteer telephone operators notified the staff members: Mrs. John Rainey the law enforcement officers; Mrs. Kenyard Potet, the ministers who are to serve as messengers; Miss Bonnie Willis, the volunteer personnel; and Mrs. Keith Smith, the Fire Department.

Mrs. Ernest Harwell, who is in charge of the Triage (assignment of locations of various units) notified all hospital personnel, doctors, nurses, maintenance personnel, and dietary staff members.

Mrs. Paul Starr serves at the admission desk; Mrs. Beatrice Thomas, R.N., and Dr. and Mrs. Carter Holcomb at the entrance where the injured in a disaster would be brought. Alvin Horton and Mrs. Weldon Cleveland serve as messengers to this group, with Mrs. Smith as the stenographer.

Giving first aid will be Mrs. Cal Suggs, R.N.; Mrs. Ike Paschall, Mrs. Robert Sherwood, with Mrs. Jennie Holcomb and Mrs. Leola Hartman as clerks and Tom Wilkins and Doyle Brown as messengers.

Assigned to the emergency room are Dr. C.B. Jones, Mrs. Doyle Brown, R.N., Mrs. June Jones, Mrs. J.K. Porter, and Mrs. Cliff Hartman, L.V.N. Mrs. Russell Yates will be the clerk and Mrs. Truman Estes and Mrs. Rufus Sweat messengers. Working in the x-ray department are Mrs. Gracie White, Mrs. Alton Wilkins, and Mrs. Melvin Seale, technicians; E.H. Harwell, helper; Mrs. H.L. Jenkins and Mrs. Sam McGill, clerks.

Peewees, Broncos, Ponies

Three Youth Baseball Teams Shape Up for Summer Play

The Peewees, youngest baseball players of them all, got a running start on all other teams this season, and approximately 40 boys are participating in the regular sessions.

Peewee summer baseball program includes youngsters 6 through 9 years of age.

Getting organized for the summer program are the Broncos, those 12 to 13 years old, and the Pony leaguers, 13 to 15.

Charles Darter is coaching the Peewees, assisted by Tommy Thomas and Huston Anderson. Team members will be announced later this week. The youngsters practice each Tuesday and Thursday at 5:15 p.m. in the south east corner of Ellison Park, and Mr. Darter emphasized that any boy in the 6-9 year age bracket is invited to come and play.

Coaching the Broncos are Truitt Holton and Billy McAlister, graduates of Wellington's summer baseball program. Holton attends Baylor University and McAlister goes to the University of Texas.

The Broncos will play at Marian Airpark Baseball Diamond, and the dates will be announced.

Coaching the Pony Leaguers is Barry Farris of Dodson, who at 18 is a veteran of several summers at the Chandler, Oklahoma baseball camp where he also served as a counselor.

This summer he is playing American Legion Baseball with the Gould, Oklahoma, team.

The Ponies will play at Marian Airpark Diamond, tentatively scheduled for Wednesday nights. This team will play out-of-town teams.

All boys interested in playing in any of the three groups are urged to come out to the practice sessions or contact the coaches.

Mrs. John Coleman again heads the overall program.

This week she issued a call to mothers of last year's players to check their closets for baseball suits which are not being used. "We have need of additional suits," she pointed out.

Wellington Schools will open Monday, August 23, Sup. Thayne Amonett has announced.

"We are announcing the opening date at this time so that those with children in school can arrange their vacations and summer work," he pointed out.

Additional information will be announced later.

Horace Moore Heads American Legion Post

Members of the Frank King Post of the American Legion elected Horace Moore commander in the annual election meeting Thursday evening, June 3.

He will succeed Jimmy Cochran at the installation, to be held July 1.

Elected to serve with him were Joe Beard, vice-commander; John Coleman, adjutant; Riley Dunson, finance officer; Raymond Mitchell, chaplain, and Doyle Stallings, sergeant at arms.

They will be installed at the July meeting, and delegates will be named later to the state convention, which will be in Dallas in late July.

The new post commander is a veteran of World War II. He is owner and operator of Moore and Sons Texaco on US 83 South, and has been active in the American Legion only since moving to Wellington, nearly a year ago.

Norwood Annual Ceremony Held

This year's Samnorwood School annual was in memory of a community leader, the late Cortez Barnett, and dedicated to the senior sponsor, Kenneth Martindale.

The presentation ceremony was held shortly before the close of school.

Present were Mrs. Barnett and her daughter, Mrs. Lynn Wright of Wellington, a former Norwood faculty member. Each was presented an annual, as was Mr. Martindale.

Those who are honored by the annual each year are not announced prior to the presentation of the yearbooks.

Youth Activity Program Start Set for Monday

Enrollment will be Monday, June 14, for the Collingsworth County Youth Activity Program, the first time ever that a supervised recreation program for boys and girls has been held.

Registration will be in the Bura Handley Community Center from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m.

This program is open to all boys and girls in the county, but it is absolutely necessary that each one have a minor's release, signed by a parent or legal guardian before that child can participate, the City Council emphasized in its meeting Monday night, June 7.

It applies to children visiting in the county as well as those living here. This will be a simple matter for children visiting with their parents, but those who come to visit without parents or guardians should be notified ahead of time to bring a properly executed minor's release if they wish to participate.

Final plans were worked out Monday in a meeting of three mothers representing the group seeking the program. Mrs. Mack Saied, Jr., Mrs. J.B. Oney, and Mrs. Dick Pendleton, with Jake Leach, outside administrator for the city, who will be in overall charge.

Meeting with them were the two who will direct the Activity Program Miss Linda Orr, who was graduated from Wellington High School this spring, and Harry Patterson, who will be a senior in Bethany Nazarene College this fall.

Approximately 80 children have already asked to participate in the program.

There is a $1.00 registration fee, but no charge for participation in the activities, except for the use of the swimming pool. The charge is to pay for such things as basketball.

Activities were outlined. The Wellington High School Gym and the Quail High School gym will be open at specified hours for basketball, with this schedule to be worked out, Mrs. Saied said.

Mrs. Pendleton, teacher's aid, will be at the Wellington gym any time it is open, she said.

Ellison Park will be the center of most activities, which will include baseball, volleyball, softball, tennis, track, table tennis, swimming, and others.

This will not conflict in any way with the summer baseball program, since the summer program is for daytime only.

Miss Orr and Mr. Patterson will instruct the youngsters in fundamentals of these activities, and present plans

Unofficial "Go" Funds Sought for Rolling Plains RC&D

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Bob Price has advised the Department of Agriculture of his support of the North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development Project and has asked for funding at the earliest possible date.

Briscoe, Collingsworth, Conley, Hall, Hemphill and Wheeler Counties are in the project area. It is one of the 50 applications on hand from local sponsors seeking RC&D assistance. A department official wrote Price.

"Can be assured that the North Rolling Plains application will receive careful consideration along with others on hand when new planning starts may be authorized," the official said.

The Panhandle Congressman has been told unofficially that the project will be funded sometime during the 1972 fiscal year which begins this July 1.

The primary project objectives are: to develop a plan that will develop, conserve and properly use all of the resources of the area, to improve its overall economic condition, and to provide a safer, healthier place for its people to live, work, and enjoy recreation.

Primary project emphasis will be on soil and water conservation, including construction of reservoirs. Job opportunities and training and expansion of water and sewer systems are also high on the list of project goals.

"This is the type of Federal projects that gives a hand-up rather than a hand-out," Price said. "For this reason, I will be making every effort to see that it is funded as soon as possible. My congratulations to President Harry Frye of Shamrock and to the other public-spirited citizens of the area who are spending so much time and effort to bring a better life to the people of the North Rolling Plains area."

Three County Youths Now at Boys State

AUSTIN, JUNE 5—The thirty-first annual American Legion Boys State sponsored by the Department of Texas and held on the Campus of the University of Texas, got under way today as 840 high school boys from all parts of Texas, and two from Mexico, began registration, B. B. Hester, Department Commander announced.

Among those registering Denny A. Carter, Wellington, Laron Lynn Peters, Quail; John William Stages, Shamrock, who were sponsored by the local American Legion Posts.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

The program takes an added significance this year as the vote is extended to 18 year olds. Most Boys Staters are in the 16 to 17 age category.

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol on Friday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day, followed by the Governor's Ball Friday evening.

Mrs. Jess Cook was hostess and Mrs. G. L. Jones, co-hostess.

"New plants are the most exciting news in gardening, often culminating years of creative efforts through continued refinement in plant breeding," Mrs. Thompson continued.

"The world of plant possibilities is ever expanding. One of the outstanding developments is the group of new peonies Louis Smernow has announced, resulting from a Japanese cross of a tree peony on a white herbaceous variety."

"All in the series, four at present, are yellow and fragrant, but their forms vary. Foliage resembles tree peonies, but dies back in the winter, then comes again in the spring."

Two others are Yellow Crown and Yellow Emperor. Smernow says this is the first time in 100 years a tree peony has been successfully crossed with a herbaceous variety. Patents are pending, the plants are scarce and expensive, but they are expected to stir excitement among peony fanatics, Mrs. Thompson told her fellow

ORIGIN OF MONEY

It is common knowledge that people used a system of barter or direct trade before money came into use. The obvious supposition is that money evolved directly from these barter transactions after people finally realized that a better system was needed for determining values and exchanging wealth.

This is not entirely correct since monetary systems were already in use while barter was going on. The earliest money really originated in religious and social customs. It was used for ransom, purchasing brides, ceremonial offerings and showing-off with

MIRRORS ARE NEWS

Mirrors are creating exciting new illusions in home decorating.

The new trend, showing itself especially in West Coast home, reflects the 30's tradition when fireplace walls, ceilings, and even whole rooms were mirrored in lavishness and splendor.

But the 70's way with mirrors has a different look. Mirrors are being used in more unique ways, decorative in both design and purpose.

As an example, the use of mirrors as columns or ribbons of brightness on patterned wood or painted walls. Not only will they add a pattern of their own, but they will also give bright visual relief.

Or, if you need a focal point, use a large structural mirror.

Try putting mirrors on the ceiling, they can add double interest or even change the perspective in a room. For instance, consider the added sparkles from crystal, china and silver reflected by a mirror placed above the center of a dining area.

And if you really are innovative, cover an end wall with mirrors, topped by lattice framing, to bring the garden indoors.

STRAWBERRY FREEZING TIPS

Who doesn't like strawberries?

And with increased supplies of the red "treasures", prices will be lower over the next few weeks.

Homemakers should take advantage of the increased supply stocking the family freezer for all-year enjoyment of the berries.

Choose high quality strawberries for freezing, free from blemishes and bruises and with a good red color. Green berries lack flavor, while over-ripe badly bruised, moldy strawberries develop off flavors.

To prepare for freezing, sort and wash strawberries in cold water. Handle carefully to protect from bruising. Then drain well and remove caps. Be sure to freeze the berries quickly after washing.

Freeze strawberries whole, sliced or mashed, according to the way you plan to use them. For best results, freezer temperature should be at 0.

We Can Begin Work Now on Our Future Museum

There is serious interest in a museum to preserve Collingsworth County's heritage, both its physical artifacts and its history and folk tales.

Much ground work has to be laid before the point of collecting money or acquiring a building is reached. That preliminary work can be done now. If we ask for it, help is available from such small museum authorities as Mrs. Ralph Randel of Panhandle and from workshops, the State Historical Survey Committee, and the American Small Museum Association.

A museum here should preserve accurately many incidents of county history, as well as of its early families, those working with the museum project believe. That, too, can be done now and there are available local people with knowledge of interviewing and geneological work.

A small museum of fine quality—and we should have no other—will preserve our heritage, it will add color to our town, and because interest in our past is growing nation wide, local museums are growing in importance as tourist attractions.

Other Editors Say ...

Year-Round School

It was exciting recently to get a telescope view of what may indeed be tomorrow's school system, as previewed at a district meeting of the Virginia School Boards Association. The topic of the meeting, presided over by district chairman W.C. Boshor of Mechanicsville, was "A Look at the Year-Round School."

Educators are coming to the conclusion that the 180-day school year which we taxpayers have been funding for a couple of generations, is becoming an outdated concept. Year-round schools with instruction geared more toward individual levels of ability will raise the over-all standards of achievement for the bright child, the slow child and the average child.

All this means more subjects offered, more time available, a different type of instruction, and a new attitude toward education on the part of all of us.

Perhaps the best way to sell such a program would be to point out that year-round schools would be a more efficient use of the school system, and therefore more economical in the long run. Teachers out looking for summer jobs, and vacant school buildings point to the obvious fact that there is certainly some waste and lost motion in the educational process. And this is particularly noticeable at a time when more learning must be crammed into the child's school years, than ever before in the history of civilized man.

We look forward to hearing more about this new approach in the coming years.

--Herald-Progress, Ashland, Va.

Smaller Families

A recent Gallup Poll found Americans turning away from large families at a rapid pace.

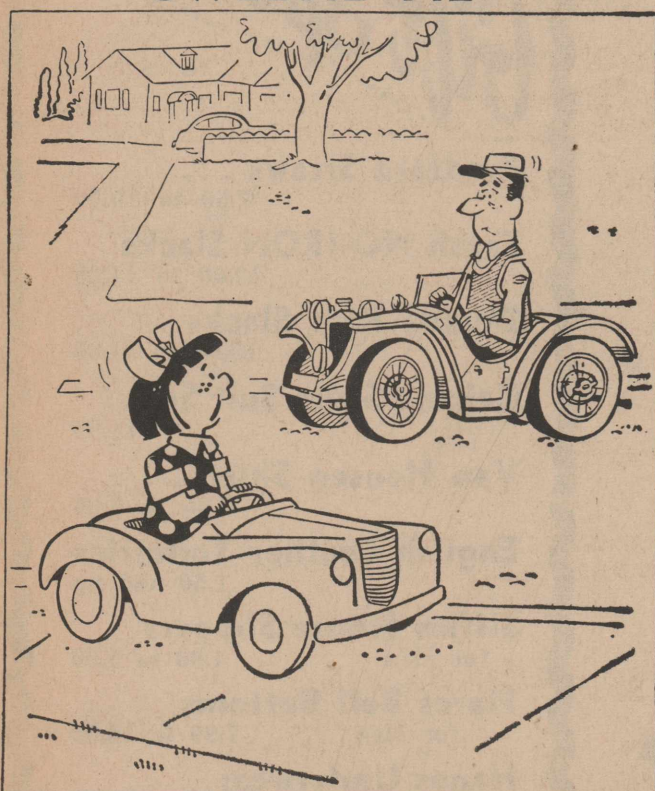

The results indicate only 23 percent of all Americans now favor families with four or more children—compared to 40 percent in 1967.

The latest tabulation produced the greatest percentage favoring small families since polling on the question began in 1938. Reasons cited are the rising cost of living, concern over environmental conditions and overpopulation and uncertainty over the future.

Thus, ironically, in the richest nation in the world, at the peak of its power, the average American is so worried by both the domestic and international situation, growing population, congestion problems etc., that he or she is less enthusiastic about producing a large family than ever before in the country's history.

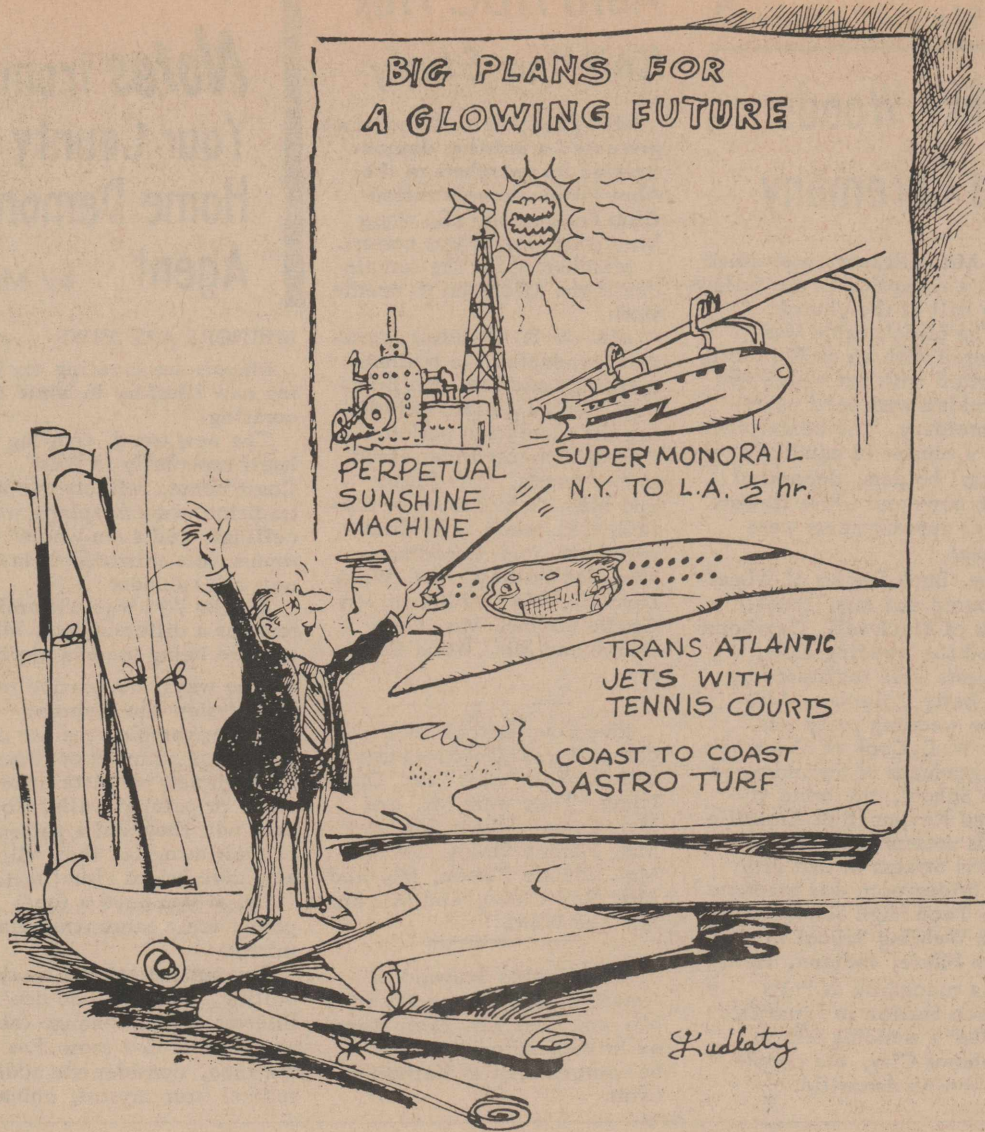

Progress, it's called.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

WHEN THE recent Legislature voted $200,000 to fight the suits that might be caused by their redistricting plan, they admitted that they had been playing politics in a most cynical manner. The state is supposed to have sufficient money for the Attorney General to defend a normal amount of suits brought against the State for reason or another. If the redistricting had been equitable and conformed to the basic requirements for a district, there would be no grounds for the suits.

THE ARROGANT lawmakers at Austin knew that they had created potential monstrosities of representation when they passed the bill. The whole purpose was to defeat members who had opposed the powerful majority and the rights of the people to fair representation could go up in smoke. Governor Smith should veto the appropriation of $200,000 set aside to defend against the expected suits.

AS THE SERVICES of the state government continue to expand and the costs and subsequent taxes continue to rise at a faster rate, the need for competent, honest representation in Austin becomes increasingly important to every citizen. We need to start paying more attention to the character, and ability of the men we elect to office, and we need to start paying more attention to what they do after they are elected.

THE RAINS have dented the drought sufficiently to give some cause for hope even though it would be in correct to say the drought is broken. It is remarkable to see what has happened to some of the pastures in two weeks time. A good part of the row crop land has been planted and the farmers are beginning to feel that they may have a chance in 1971.

THE RAIN that fell June 4 brought relief to the worst troubled part of the county. Reports from farms and ranches north of the river indicated from two to two and one half inches fell over a good part of the area. If the rains continue perhaps the entire Panhandle can get back to normal.

IT IS TIME to get out in the country and see the wild flowers. You can see acres of yellow, red, white, and blue while driving on the pavement; but some of the rarest and most beautiful sights are to be found by steering on to the dirt roads.

IF YOU WANT to sketch and paint outdoors this summer, contact Corky Bowen before next Monday. The nature courses start on June 14.

are to alternate them through the summer on about two weeks intervals.

A new jump pit for broad jumping, high jumping and pole vault will be set up at the park and the youngsters will run track on the grass.

Teen-age volunteers will be needed to help the directors, Mrs. Saied pointed out, and boys and girls who will be junior and senior in high school are especially urged to get involved in this summer program.

Besides the activities specifically discussed, it was brought out that additional ones are a possibility including such things as swimming meets.

Children can enter the program at any time during the summer, and they do not have to attend each day, it was brought out. It was emphasized, however that any time a youngster that does enter the program for the first time, he must have the minor's release.

CHRISTIAN WORSHIP

By Gaylord Cook

Christ taught that men must worship their Heavenly Father "in truth" (John 4:24). And by his own definition, God's word is truth (John 17:17). Thus is emphasized again the principle that we must do only such things as are authorized by the scriptures in our service to God. The mere fact that a worshiper desires to do a certain thing in the course of his worship does not mean that it would be right for him to do so. He must consider, does he have scriptural authority for that act? A study of the New Testament reveals that early Christians engaged in five avenues of worship by the authority of Jesus: (1) They taught the Word of God (Acts 20:7); (2) They offered prayers (Acts 2:42); (3) They sang songs of praise and mutual edification (Eph. 5:19); (4) They gave of their money (1 Cor. 16:2); and (5) They partook of the Lord's Supper (Acts 20:7). Seeking to use only that which the Scripture gives authority to, we worship through these same avenues today.
