Wild rumors circulated this morning to the effect that the Supreme court decision regarding general laws with local application would invalidate acts which resulted in the moving of the county seat to Pampa, and the creation of the 114th district court, were thought to be groundless by local attorneys and Rep. Dewey Young.

In an Associated Press dispatch, Representative Young stated, "I think that Gray county will not be affected by the ruling." The only local law in effect in Gray county is one introduced by Sen. Clint C. Small last year which provides for an increase in the salary of the county superintendent of public instruction. Mr. Young's statement might be taken to mean that this special law would not be affected by the ruling, although he was referring specifically to the moving of the county seat and the creation of the 114th district court.

Fear that the bill now before the senate, which would allow Gray county to pay her debts out of the general fund, would have to be changed was expressed by District Attorney Raymond Allred.

W. M. Lewright, Pampa attorney, said he believed Gray county would not be affected by the ruling, except possibly in a previously special law.

Chas. C. Cook expressed the belief that Gray county would not be affected by the decision. Judge J. D. Stern had a similar opinion. John Sturmon said that the bill providing for more Gray county deputies was not part of the general fund and therefore probably would not come under the new decision.

Many Such Bills
AUSTIN, March 19. (AP)—The legislature today continued to study the Supreme court decision believed to invalidate hundreds of local laws, wondering what action might be taken to relieve the situation.

The decision was given yesterday on a general law with local application affecting Fort Worth. Hundreds of similar bills had been passed and several others were awaiting consideration.

Both houses were deferring action on local bills pending determination of a course of action. The senate ordered the Supreme court decision printed in the Senate Journal.

Bruce Bryant, first assistant attorney general, stated there was no way local measures could be passed to substitute for some of the laws invalidated. In other instances substitutes may be enacted through 30 days advertising in the counties involved.

Proration Without Cut In Importing Opposed

GLADEWATER, March 19. (AP)—Several hundred persons of this community voiced protest last night against proration of the east Texas oil field, but adopted resolutions expressing a willingness to submit to proration when foreign imports are cut down.

The meeting promised to send a delegation to Austin to attend the railroad commission hearing March 24 when proration of the field will be discussed.

The East Texas Lease, Royalty, and Producers' association, organized to oppose proration until the field's extent can be determined, will hold a meeting at Longview tonight, at Henderson tomorrow night, and Tyler Saturday night.

The meeting criticized recent oil conferences at Fort Worth and Texas for excluding newspapermen.

R. R. Connor presided at the meeting.

AUSTIN, March 19. (AP)—A resolution by Senators Pollard and Tyler and Parrish of Lubbock proposing committee investigation of oil conservation today encountered opposition before being adopted.

The resolution was amended on the floor to limit the committee composed of the governor, the chairman of the railroad commission, attorney general, five representatives and four senators from spending more than $2,500 in the investigation. Senator Purl asked if it were not true that the committee could go as far as they desired and stay at length at much expense. He asked that the resolution be amended to limit the expenditures of the committee to $5,000. A substitute amendment by Senator Loy of Sherman fixing the amount at $2,500 was adopted by the senate.

The Texas committee would work with similar committees from Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, California, Kansas, and Wyoming.

As amended by the state affairs committee yesterday afternoon the groups would be asked to meet with the Texas committee in Austin as soon as possible.

Letters Puzzling
In Murder Probe

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 19. (AP)—Investigators tried today to determine whether the person who had written notes confessing the brutal slaying of Virginia Brooks was a clever criminal or a crank.

A note signed "The Doctor" was found Tuesday under the door of a gasoline service station near the place where the 10-year-old girl disappeared on her way to school Feb. 11. Detective Lieutenant George Sears said then he placed little credence in the note but after a second note was received yesterday, containing a threat to kidnap another girl to prove the criminal's "superiority," he said the messages would be closely investigated.

The first note boasted the writer had "committed the perfect crime." Juan Talamantes, 24, formerly of San Diego, was arrested in Los Angeles yesterday as a suspect in the slaying of the girl whose body was found 10 days ago in a gunnysack north of this city.

Gov. James Rolph Jr. announced the state would pay $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayer.

Abilene Men Are Charged In Looting Of Jean Bank

ABILENE, March 19. (AP)—Robbery March 11 of the Jean State bank in Volcan county has brought charges against two Abilene men, Hunter Russell and L. B. Weathered. Russell was arrested Tuesday in Cleburne, and Weathered was taken into custody here late yesterday.

National Guardsmen Ready

Are Calm Today

JOLIET, Ill., March 19. (AP)—The spirit of rebellion burned low at the twin Illinois penitentiaries today after yesterday's outbreak, chilled by the cold steel of national guardsmen and unrelaxed discipline of the prison staff.

At the new Stateville prison, 210 militiamen commanded by 16 officers patrolled the yard while the habeas writs by yesterday's devastating fire and riot waited the survey of a committee of legislators.

At the 75-year-old companion prison at the edge of Joliet, scene of the first uprising Saturday, 400 convicts who had not participated in the disorders marched to breakfast under double guards, determined to prevent a rumored renewal of the outbreak.

There were no troops in sight at the 600 as they filed into the dining hall, but the troops were ready.

Men "Shaken Down"

At both institutions a thorough "shakedown" was in process during the day. A hundred at a time, the prisoners were marched into the open, clothes searched for contraband, cells, bedding, pictures, every nook in the cell block swept clean of hidden articles.

JOLIET, Ill., March 19. (AP)—Officials ruled Illinois' two state prisons with a hand of iron today to prevent a repetition of yesterday's riot in which five buildings at Stateville penitentiary were burned, some of 1,500 milling prisoners, three of whom were wounded, one fatally before the insurrection could be put down.

Line to Pampa.

Surveying of the proposed route of the Fort Worth and Denver from Childress to Pampa, and inspection of other possible right-of-ways, started here this morning.

A. P. Briggs, chief engineer of the Fort Worth and Denver, and seven engineers arrived here last night. This morning, J. P. McDowell and six engineers left their hotel at 7 o'clock with surveying equipment. They are working on the originally proposed route of the line today.

Engineers in the party include Lee Robinson, William Martin, L. L. Van Noy, H. C. Van Noy, O. E. McCord, R. E. Moore, and Mr. McDowell, foreman.

Actual construction of the road is in progress near Childress; it is understood, Mr. Briggs stayed only a few hours in the city. He did not say whether work would be started on the Pampa end of the line, but stated that some announcement would be made in the near future.

An engineering party of the Fort Worth and Denver spent about six weeks here last spring surveying a proposed route.

WASHINGTON, March 19. (AP)—Federal officials today prepared to meet with oil states' spokesmen April 9, armed with a "blueprint" to help in guiding the industry to higher levels.

Such, in effect, was the tentative and incomplete agenda for their meeting with the federal oil conservation board, arranged before Secretary William C. Clegg left Washington last night, to accompany President Hoover to the Caribbean.

Wilbur asked Clegg to Murray of Oklahoma City, chairman of the oil states' advisory committee, who had appealed to him for a hearing before the oil board, to delay until April 9 a meeting of producers' representatives scheduled here for March 30.

By that date, Wilbur said, a survey of America's oil needs for the next six months, being prepared by a special committee of the federal board, would be available for discussion.

The survey report was considered by officials as a "blueprint" to help chart the industry's course toward good business.

The report will estimate gasoline requirements and how much crude oil will be needed to supply it.

Along with this report will be a review of oil legislation passed or pending in the various state legislatures.

Prison Rebellion Subsides

National Guardsmen Ready
For Trouble, But Men
Are Calm Today

JOLIET, Ill., March 19. (AP)—The spirit of rebellion burned low at the twin Illinois penitentiaries today after yesterday's outbreak, chilled by the cold steel of national guardsmen and unrelaxed discipline of the prison staff.

At the new Stateville prison, 210 militiamen commanded by 16 officers patrolled the yard while the habeas writs by yesterday's devastating fire and riot waited the survey of a committee of legislators.

At the 75-year-old companion prison at the edge of Joliet, scene of the first uprising Saturday, 400 convicts who had not participated in the disorders marched to breakfast under double guards, determined to prevent a rumored renewal of the outbreak.

There were no troops in sight at the 600 as they filed into the dining hall, but the troops were ready.

Men "Shaken Down"

At both institutions a thorough "shakedown" was in process during the day. A hundred at a time, the prisoners were marched into the open, clothes searched for contraband, cells, bedding, pictures, every nook in the cell block swept clean of hidden articles.

fuge materials, or other conditions which may be dangerous in character or liable to cause or promote fire or create conditions dangerous to the fireman or occupants, he shall order the same to be removed or remedied, and such order shall be forthwith complied with by the owner or occupant of said building fires; or which shall create conditions dangerous to firemen or occupants of such building, structure or premises other than the maintain-er thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00).

CLINGMAN TO HAVE BRILLIANT OPPONENT HERE TONIGHT

BURLY FINN LOVES SPORT FOR ITSELF

Local Man Returning From Road Trip to Grapple Northwest Fisherman at The Majestic.

Otis Clingman will be forced to the limit to win his match at the Majestic here tonight, and there is no assurance that he will have better than an even break to do so.

After a long ride from Santa Fe, the local man will limber up, rest a short time, and then go into action against Wildcat Pete of Eugene, Ore. Pete is a Finnish athlete of great natural ability. He is an all-around sportsman who is in the game for the love of it. Owing to his active life outdoors, he is tough, clear-eyed, and gifted with great stamina.

Clingman, of course, will not be over-awed by the reputation of his opponent. Otis can put down just as many facts and figures as his rival, and then some.

Basanta Singh and Rob Roy will have a fireworks exhibition for the semi-final. The opener will be between Andy Gump and "Three Story" Parker.

New Outfielders of Spudders Slowly Return to Form

WICHITA FALLS, March 19. (AP)—The spotlight in the Spudder training camp for the last few days has centered on Morris Badger and Herbert Kelly, outfielders who are to replace Jack Kloss and Howard Fitzgerald, two of Wichita Falls' star players, who were injured last season.

Neither has been in camp long enough to hit his stride but each turned in impressive performances in all departments in yesterday's intra-squad scrimmage. These two along with Robert Foss, a catcher from the New York-Pennsylvania league at present make up the Spudders' first string outfield.

Rickey To Select His Farm Hands

BRADENTON, Fla., March 19. (AP)—Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals organization, is paying his annual visit to the Redbirds' training camp here, which means several rookies soon will be on their way to various farms.

Rickey today started meditating on who will go where and why. He will interview himself tomorrow, however, long enough to hold a salary conference with Outfielder Chief Hickey, who wants $15,000 for 1931, about $4,000 more than the Cardinals are offering.

FRIEBERG NAMED CAPTAIN OF PHILLIES' OUTFIELD

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 19. (AP)—Barney Friberg, man of all work and now the oldest player on the Phillies' roster in point of service, has been named captain. He succeeds Freeco Thompson, traded to Brooklyn.

"Friberg gets the office," Manager Shotton said, "because he just naturally seems to be captain. He will look after our rights and can demand justice from an umpire without losing his head and exploding." Friberg has been with the Phillies five seasons.

DETROIT'S AILING HURLERS LOOK GOOD FOR 1931

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 19. (AP)—Two Detroit Tiger pitchers who were prevented by assorted ailments from figuring largely in the games last season, last year will be back on the firing line this year. Manager Bucky Harris believes, Elton Hossett's southpaw effectiveness was seriously hampered by a recurrent illness last year. That illness, which disappeared, Whitlow Wyatt's right arm went lame early last summer, but apparently is as good as ever now.

PLAYER BADLY SPIKED

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 19. (AP)—Trainer Tommy Brammell of the St. Louis Browns reported today that Centerfielder Fred Schulte, who was spiked yesterday, would be out of action for at least a week. Frank Wadley, late of Memphis, will sub. Wadley has been fielding and hitting well lately and appears to be assured of a utility job with the Browns.

MCGRAW EXPLAINS IT

SAN ANTONIO, March 19. (AP)—John McGraw, New York Giants manager, at last has explained why he likes to direct every move his pitchers make during a game.

"I do not regret," McGraw says, "that I did not start out as a pitcher. I always wanted to be a pitcher but they made me play in the infield. But pitchers still fascinate me more than any other department in baseball."

"GABBY" GOING STRONG

LOS ANGELES, March 19. (AP)—Leo "Gabby" Hartnett of the Cubs, who broke all records for catchers last season by catching out 37 home runs, looks fit for another big year. He has slammed out a homer in each of the past five games either as a pinch hitter or as a regular in the lineup. His throwing arm, which went limp in 1929 and came back strong last year, is in excellent shape.

Little Joe's Return

It won't come as any great surprise to me if, when the Yankees make their first invasion of Cleveland in May, one Joseph Wheeler Sewell puts on a sensational baseball show, including home runs and unassisted triple plays.

This same Sewell was out adrift by the Indians a few weeks ago only to tie himself away to New York to register under the Yankee colors. He will be the regular third baseman on the team of Ruppert.

Should Joey find the stage set for him to execute a triple-killing at the expense of — say, Johnny Hodapp, who is a terrific third-baseman hitter — or to pole a home run off Wesley (Ace) Ferrell to bring in the winning runs, I'm inclined to believe the Cleveland fans would lend boisterous applause. To those fans Joey was an idol worshiped as fervently as Nip Lajoie and Tris Speaker. They still speak reverently of Nap and Tris; so it is unlikely that they could bring themselves to turn coldly from Sewell.

A Sure-Thing Hitter

As I view it, the Yankees will be benefited by having in that batting order of pure sluggers a man whom they know can be depended upon to hit the ball practically every time. The element of chance that accompanies B. J. Ruth and Lou Gehrig to the plate will be almost entirely removed when little Joey waddles into the batter's box, gives his characteristic hitch of the shoulders and faces through squinted eyes down the pitching lane.

Plenty of Cleveland voices protested when the club announced Sewell's release. Those voices contended that his unflinching service, through 10 seasons and 1102 consecutive games, his steady influence on young pitchers and infielders and his ability to give the ball a ride whenever he stepped to the plate should have balanced the scales in favor of his retention. He was sick last year, they pointed out, but regaining his health in another year he would return to the form that was his over that consecutive game stretch.

Justifiable? Perhaps!

But leaving sentiment in the background, the Indian bosses apparently were justified in releasing Sewell. The fire of his youth had cooled considerably — although he was by far the chattering-est Indian of the lot — his salary was heavy and there were two underestimates. Burdett and Detroit, who seemed ready to play major league ball.

I do not know just what stand the Indians would have taken had they known Sewell would sign with the Yankees. They might have had their minds made up to lighten the payroll and at the same time make room for a pair of promising youngsters. But knowing how much the Bradley brothers would like to win a pennant, I'm sure they would much rather have seen Joey sign with the Red Sox instead of one of the teams they are trying to shove aside in their climb to the top.

Ehmke Is Looking Like Comeback In Current Season

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 19. (AP)—Howard Ehmke, Athletics' winning pitcher in the opening world series game against the Chicago Cubs in 1929, looked today as a possible comeback. Asked to confirm reports that the veteran would rejoin the A's Manager Connie Mack said:

"If Ehmke says his arm is sound and that he is ready to pitch again he can have a job with us. His word that he is in shape to work is sufficient. We need pitchers and if he says the word we certainly can use him."

LIKES YOUNG HURLER

TAMPA, Fla., March 19. (AP)—Dan Howley, who is trying to make a winning ball club out of the Cincinnati Reds, plans to spend a lot of time with St. Johnson, young hurler. He likes the courage, the rook displays, likes his speed and curves, but is not encouraged over the youngster's lack of control. Howley believes a little more work with Johnson will make a dependable starting pitcher.

WEATHER HINDERS STEERS

CORSICANA, March 19. (AP)—Threatening skies today indicated the Dallas Steers training program might be curtailed. Manager Morse ordered his squad through an early workout today, to be followed in the afternoon by an intra-club game. Morse will accompany one club to Greenville Friday for an exhibition game. Another, in charge of Lee Meadows, veteran pitcher, will remain here to play a local amateur nine.

TRICK KNEE HURT

NEW ORLEANS, March 19. (AP)—The season's first grief was upon the Cleveland Indians today. Johnny Hodapp's temperamental knee slid out of joint for the first time in two years yesterday as he made a spectacular play on a grounder. The second baseman will have to stay off his feet several days and out of the exhibition games for a couple of weeks.

PITCHER CAN FIELD

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 19. (AP)—It's hard to picture slight, bespectacled Danny MacFayden, pride of the Red Sox pitching staff, as one of those bruising converted outfield sluggers. Nevertheless Danny has shown Manager Shano Collins he can roam right field effectively and hit when a bit counts most so maybe they'll use him in the outfield once and a while this season when he is not on the pitcher's mound.

Boy Hero Under Murder Charge

EDINBURGH, March 19. (AP)—Ross King, 19, who helped recover bodies of men lost in the S-4 submarine disaster, was under a charge of murder today for the shooting of his stepfather, J. W. Stafford.
The shooting occurred Tuesday night. King and a brother had been in the brush, the former navy diver returning to a girlfriend yesterday. He was released from a government hospital a month ago after treatment for mental disorder caused by the strain of rescue work on the S-4.

OUTSTANDING TRACK SQUAD WILL ENTER COUNTY MEET

Coach Mitchell Has Capable Men for Every Event of League Program.

Pampa high school will send to McLean Saturday perhaps her greatest track and field team. There are good men for every event and outstanding performers for many of them.

With Albert Lard, great sprinter, having his best year and Jim Ayres, Durwood Martindale and Lloyd Moore, last year's state men, improving daily the Pampa entrants are doped to win the county meet. Joe Kahl, sprinter, has shown a clean pair of heels to everyone but Lard this season to be the best new prospect.

Coach Mitchell had not definitely picked his long distance men last night. He will finish his choice of field men following a hard practice this afternoon. The track men will lumber up and get the starting art down at the last practice.

The coach is sure he will use the following Saturday:

E. V. Evans, 508 South Cuyler, suffered severe bruises and a fractured shoulder bone in an auto collision about 8 o'clock this morning at the corner of Wilks and Nelson streets, in the Finley-Banks addition. Evans was taken to Pampa hospital for treatment in a Stephenson mortuary ambulance.
Evans was riding in a car with Chas. Yentis, who was driving west. The other car was being driven north by W. A. Jones. Both cars were badly damaged.

Brothers—But What a Difference!

These two brothers—neither of whom can speak the other's language—are spending a lot of time getting acquainted with each other down at New Orleans just now. They never met until the other day after Klaus Kueck, 11, left, had made the trip from Germany alone as he came to live with his father and his younger brother, Alfred Kueck, 18, right. Klaus' reply to Alfred means: "Thanks, I'm glad we are together at last."

SHIELDS AND BOROTRA ARE DUE TO MEET

New York Boy to Battle Pierre Landry Today—Berkeley Bell Is Still in Journey.

NEW YORK, March 19. (AP)—Although two of the leading players of the national indoor tennis championships have fallen by the wayside in the singles play, the outstanding stars, Jean Borotra of France and Frank Shields of New York, still appear to be headed for a final clash and all the seeded doubles teams are safely into the semi-finals.

Borotra swept into the singles semi-final yesterday with his fourth straight set victory, a 28-minute triumph over Frank Bowden of New York. He is due today to face Pierre Landry, a New York player who added to his fame as an indoor player by eliminating Cliff Rutter of New Orleans, second seeded American player, in straight sets.

Shields had a day off in the singles before his quarter-final match today with Pierre Landry of France, his first strong opponent of the tournament. The other quarter-final match in the lower half of the draw brings together Berkeley Bell of Dallas, Texas, third of the seeded American players, and Bill Aydelotte, chunky New Yorker who won the title in 1928.

Babe Is Rounding Into Form Fast

PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19. (AP)—The players who believe the saying "as Ruth goes, so go the Yankees" believe New York's chances of winning the American league pennant are getting better daily. The Babe coming back is getting in shape too fast, but instead of leading through exhibition games as in past years he is working hard in the field running out every hit and keeping his tongue busy in the odd moments encouraging his mates. So far Ruth has failed to satisfy the home run demand of the fans, but he has hit at a .500 clip through eight exhibition games.

Status of Infant Is Inquiry Topic

KANSAS CITY, March 19. (AP)—Judge E. E. Porterfield today ordered an investigation into the case of Lottie, the infant Mrs. F. A. Bartlett brought into her home secretly and represented to her husband as their own.

Andrew B. Steele, chief probation officer, and Miss Elizabeth Woodson, adoption officer, were requested to make full report of the case. "I am opposed to women deceiving their husbands," Judge Porterfield said, "but in this case both husband and wife desire to keep the child and if circumstances are all satisfactory, I see the reason why they shouldn't."

Open Gambling In Nevada Provided

CARSON CITY, Nev., March 19. (AP)—Nevada today awaited a touch of the governor's pen that would officially revive wide open gambling in the state.

A licensed gambling bill, approved to both houses and sent to legislative clerk, was ready to go to Governor E. B. Evans, who said he would sign it.

WINN state approval placed upon virtually all forms of gambling by the legislature, old time members of that pursuit were preparing to open gambling houses in many towns. Preparations in Reno and Las Vegas were elaborate.

HICKMAN PAYS FINE; HIT FORMER COOKE SHERIFF

CAPITOL, March 19. (AP)—Capt. Tom R. Hickman of the Texas Rangers paid a fine of $1 and costs amounting to $14.65, in justice of the peace court here last night for simple assault.

The complaint was prepared by County Attorney William C. Culp and charged that Hickman "unlawfully committed an assault upon" Attorney E. B. By then and then striking the said Att. Reece with his fist.

County officers said the fight occurred on the courthouse lawn yesterday afternoon. Immediately afterward, Hickman went to the office of Sheriff Bert Browning and paid $10 for simple assault.

Retired as sheriff of Cooke county last Jan. 1, having been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Jake Wright.

THE CRIME IN THE DUTCH GARDEN

SYNOPSIS: Superintendent Richmond regards the confession of her husband, the chemist, as the murder of Annabelle Green. Previous to this, the chemist, who he believed planned marriage to his niece, Marjorie Blake, Jimmie Maxwell was this morning discovered by Netherland's engagement to Audrey Winford and by the murder of Marjorie and Captain Stirling. Marjorie's sister, Evelyn, engaged to Lionel Duckworth, reports her aunt's will found in the room of the chemist. He is now in the Albert Marjorie and Netherland in the event of marriage invalid, because unsigned. As Audrey tells Jimmie the car seen near the murder was Stirling's, Green is found, poisoned Jimmie receives a letter from Marjorie, disclosing her marriage to Stirling. He accuses Richmond of declaring Green a victim of attempted murder.

Chapter 25, "SEEDS OF PARADISE"
 Had a bomb burst in the room, Superintendent Richmond would have been much more startled than he was at Jimmie's quiet but definite pronouncement. That Green had killed Miss Querdling was a revelation that fitted in with all the known facts. The suggestion that it was incorrect was not only surprising; it was also unwelcome, for it meant not only that Richmond was wrong, but also that if Green was the victim of an attempted murder, there would be a new problem to solve.

"I suppose you have reasons for what you are saying, Mr. Haswell?" His tone was cold.
 "Quite so," said Jimmie coolly. "Let us deal first with Green's supposed attempted suicide. You have now had the chemist's analysis of the poison that was used. Rather a rare and unusual poison, is it not?"

"It is, but I don't see how you can tell me, as we had been careful to keep it in strict confidence." "I will not only tell you what it is," answered Jimmie, "but I will tell you things about it you perhaps have not heard. The name given to you is perhaps Picric acid, an extract from the berry Coccus tinctorius, which yields a deadly crystalline poison."

Richmond's open-mouthed silence admitted the truth of the statement. "A more poetic and perhaps more sinister name for the crystals was 'Seeds of Paradise.' At one time, but not now, they had a limited medical use, and a less legitimate use was discovered by corrupt brewers. In minute quantities they sharpen the flavor of beer. In slightly larger quantities they add to its intoxicating properties."

"The symptoms, too, are unusual. There is vertigo, perspiration and great abdominal pain, leading to convulsions. Consciousness follows, but it is said that death has been delayed as long as 19 days, sometimes with intervals of confused consciousness."

"You have heard from our doctors," said Richmond, shortly. "I do not know your doctors, and I did not know they had completed their analysis. The explanation is supremely important. When Captain's Roscoe found Green in a dying condition he took away what he regarded as his confession, and the glass which still contained some of the stuff he had been drinking. Among the things he left behind was the bottle from which the drink had been poured. I took that bottle. It was practically empty, but not quite."

"I do not think you should have taken that, Mr. Haswell," Richmond's tone was a little offended. "I want to place the next day myself, and it was gone."

"If I had left it, do you suppose it would have remained till you came?" There was poison in the small residue in the bottle. I sent it to a chemist and got his report this morning."

"How do you suggest it could have been done?" asked Richmond. "That seems fairly obvious. Green had an occasional drink in his own quarters. Nothing could be easier than for some one to get a bottle of the same brand as the envelopes on the shelf. It is a fair surmise that any one else writing a confession for him would have chosen paper peculiarly his—a sheet from the book that was always lying in his room."

"The ink on the nib of the pen was wet, while the writing was dry. I suggest that the person who placed the confession there dipped the pen in the ink to give realism, not supposing the discovery would be made until morning. You might also say that Green had started to add something to the note and changed his mind."

"So we fall of actual proof. But if we take all these things together, the poison in the bottle, the dry writing, the wet ink, the choice of paper—do we fall then?"

Richmond was not yet convinced, and Jimmie asked to see the confession. Richmond opened the safe and handed the paper to him. It was pinned in an uneducated hand, and if not the work of Green, was a fair imitation of his style.

While Richmond, at Jimmie's suggestion, was scrutinizing the confession, Jimmie unwrapped paper enclosing an ordinary pen. "This is Green's Roscoe forgot to take it. Examining that nib carefully, Green always used a fine-pointed one, as all the entries in his book, even to the last day, show. The writing is like his, but try yourself to see how the upstrokes in that confession could be produced by a pen like this."

Richmond started copying a few of the fateful words. He compared the letters with the original and saw beyond question the thing was impossible. The upstrokes had been made with a cumulative proof that he could not deny.

"Why did you not bring me this before?" he asked in a low tone. "My case was not complete. It was only this morning that I got my chemist's report. Had there been no poison in the bottle, it would have been impossible to show how it could have been swallowed by Green, except intentionally. I concluded there must be poison in the bottle."

While he was speaking, the buzzer on the superintendent's desk sounded. He took off the receiver and listened. "It's the hospital," he told Jimmie anxiously, as he waited for the connection. Doubtless it was about Green. If on'y he could speak. That would clear things!

Jimmie sets a strange stage in tomorrow's installment. Will his play relieve Richmond's dismay?

LAUGHING AT CARDS

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla., March 18. (AP)—There was much self-congratulation and not a few laughs directed at the St. Louis Cards in the Braves camp today over a certain red-headed outfielder by the name of Werthington. The Braves bought Werthington from the Rochester International league club, a Card's farm, and that young man smashed out a terrific home run to far left center in the third inning of yesterday's game with the Cincinnati Reds besides making a single, and scoring two runs.

Talks To Parents

"SH! BABY'S ASLEEP"

By Alice Judson Peale

Who has not been in homes where, when his majesty, the baby, has finally dropped off to sleep, every sound was hushed, people walked on tiptoes, and no one dared talk above a whisper?

This is all nonsense. A healthy baby, properly trained, should sleep peacefully through all the ordinary household noises. To be sure, he should have a room of his own, the door of which is closed.

Although the hour of his nap may not be the time in which to use a hammer or play the phonograph in the adjoining room, the sound of conversation, of comings and goings, closing doors and running water should not waken him.

In the city, it is of course impossible to keep out all noises, even if one tries. There will always be the sounds of trucks, the horns of motor cars, the ringing of bells and shouts on the streets. The child inevitably learns to sleep through these noises, and he can quite comfortably learn to "p" through those inside the house as well.

It is furthermore no kindness to brain the child so that he can only sleep when there is perfect silence. He will not always sleep in his nursery or in his own bed. It is possible that many an adult who has had difficulty in getting enough rest because he is such a "light sleeper" that every sound wakens him, owes his difficulty to the fact that when he was a baby the whole household was hushed for his beho-

If the child, from the very beginning, is trained to sleep to the accompaniment of common noises, he will have no trouble later on when it will be necessary for him to sleep in other people's houses, in hotels and on trains.

Master Criminal Killed Young Girl

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 18. (AP)

Admitting they were dealing with a criminal so clever he was able to leave a confession under the very noses of investigators, police, deputy sheriffs and criminal experts to-night continued their investigation into the mystery murder of Virginia Brooks, 10-year-old school girl.

Detective Lieutenant George Sears admitted a letter confessing the crime received yesterday and signed "the Doctor" undoubtedly was written by the slayer.

The cleverness with which the man operated, Sears said, easily was seen through the type of letter written plus the fact it was left

FEMININE FANCIES

By HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE

"How many corners has a square?" asked the Rev. C. E. Laid-caster as he held up a square piece of paper at the chapel period at San Houston school yesterday morning.

"Four!" said the pupils in unison.

"If I tear off one corner how many will I have left?" asked the speaker.

"Three," was the answer.

But no. When Mr. Laid-caster tore off one corner there were five left.

All of which illustrates the minister said, that we do not lose anything by what we give to others.

Besides, the things which are most valuable actually cost least.

Note the following poem:

Let us be kind.
This road is dark and lonely.
And human hearts are asking
For this blessing only—
That we be kind.

Believes Second Coming of Christ Is Near at Hand

By LORENA HICKOK
NEW YORK, March 19. (AP)—Miss Christabel Pankhurst, daughter of Emmeline Pankhurst, noted British militant suffragist of the last generation, believes the second coming of Christ is at hand.

She is confident it will occur in her lifetime—that she will actually see Him.

Her faith, she said today, is based on the fulfillment of prophecies first uttered by Moses and reiterated through the Bible to the end of Revelations.

Miss Pankhurst does not hold with those who believe the reappearance will mean the end of the world but she expects it to be dramatic enough so that there can be no doubt of its identity.

"Two thousand years ago," she said, "He came in poverty and weakness and humility. But this time He will descend to the earth in all His majesty, with demonstrations of divine power more miraculous than any of the miracles of modern science."

Rather than violence and destruction, Miss Pankhurst believes, the return of Christ will mark the beginning of a millennium of peace, a thousand years in which He will rule the world—an age of such peace and progress and splendor on the earth as never seen.

But this coming may occur, she thinks, during another world war in which, because of the advance of modern warfare, the destruction of the human race will appear imminent. This, she said today, is foretold repeatedly in the Bible.

Chiefly in the unrest which she sees in the present age—crime, wars, rumors of wars, economic depression, political upheavals, rebellion against authority, fear in the hearts of men—does Miss Pankhurst recognize fulfillment of prophecies uttered many centuries ago.

"It's all there in the Bible, foretold in the Old Testament and the New," she asserted.

With her mother, Miss Pankhurst went through many hard-fought campaigns in her childhood.

"But when we got the vote," she said, "I had to face the realization that we had not yet found the millennium. Then I began to study the Bible and the prophecies."

Colquitt Davis Is Granted Stay by Governor Murray

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 19. (AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray today granted a stay of execution to a boy who killed the son of one of his best friends.

The stay was granted Colquitt Davis, 20, sentenced to die April 3 for the death of Col. E. B. Carter, county deputy sheriff, in a gun battle at Wirt last Dec. 10.

It was the first such reprieve granted by Murray.

No time limit is fixed. The governor said the youth was entitled to a review.

Davis' brother, D. I. Davis, was shot to death by officers who needed the pair at Wichita, Kan. Three days later Davis, suffering from cold and hunger, surrendered to officers near Amarillo, Tex.

District Judge A. Walden sentenced Davis to death after an 11-minute jury declined to assess the penalty.

Judge James F. Davenport, presiding judge of the criminal court of appeals, said Davis had filed no appeal because of lack of funds.

OIL SKIES CLOUDED BY TEXAS POOL; INDUSTRY TRIES TO STEADY MARKET

By E. K. BUTLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Just when skies were beginning to brighten, a new dark cloud looms for the American oil industry.

The cloud is the new Texas pool in northeast Texas. It may shower a load of grief on the already troubled petroleum market, or it may pass in the night. The damage wrought will depend on production.

A potential market-breaker is what oil men call this new field in Rusk and Gregg counties. Production started only with the new year, but development has been rapid and already the pool gives promise of being a most important one.

That production in the new field is increasing rapidly is shown in weekly output reports. For the week ending Jan. 17 the field's daily average production was 2,750 barrels.

For the week ending Feb. 21 it was 33,300 barrels, and the last week in February the daily average was 33,000 barrels.

The field, estimated at 35 miles long and five miles wide is situated so connections could easily be made with pipelines to gulf coast refineries.

Prior to its opening indications pointed to brighter days ahead for the oil industry. Total petroleum production in the United States in 1930 was 111,000,000 barrels.

For 1931, the production being 170,000,000 barrels in 1930 against 186,000,000 barrels last year.

Storage Stocks Reduced
One major problem facing the oil industry is disposal of tremendous stocks of petroleum and refined products in storage above ground.

The amount of crude oil and refined products in storage reached a peak in 1929, when oil production rose to its highest point with hardly any restrictions on the output. Production in 1929 far exceeded demand, and prices dropped.

In 1930 oil producers sought to solve the problem of over-production and increasing amounts of oil in storage. Production agreements in Texas and Oklahoma, and the new conservation law in California helped.

As a result less oil was produced during 1930 than the demand called for, and 20,000,000 barrels were taken out of the stock of crude in storage and used. This left 600,000,000 barrels of crude and refined oil in above-ground storage Jan. 1 this year.

With production still being held down in 1931, prospects pointed to a large decrease in oil held in storage.

It is the output of the pool brings the nation's production above the demand, oil men fear the market will suffer another setback.

Mills Is Freed Of Canyon Charge

Hoover Sails on Trip to Islands On "The Arizona"

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., March 19. (AP)—As batteries boomed from ship and shore, the battleship Arizona steamed out toward the Virginia Capes and the sea this morning carrying President Hoover to America's island possessions in the Caribbean.

The recently remodeled dreadnaught, the navy's most modern fighting craft, will carry the president and his party through 3,000 miles of the Caribbean to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Arriving by train this morning from Washington, members of the presidential party breakfasted aboard their cars and were motored to the dock in army automobiles.

As they reached the embarkment point, the warship was but dimly visible through the early morning mists although less than a mile off shore. The president boarded an admiral's barge and as the craft shoved off, the president's flag was run up the main truck of the Arizona.

High overhead, an army blimp and two fast pursuit planes circled the boarding party and as the president strode up the gangway, 21 huge bombers from Langley field droned out of the distant sky to join in the navy's welcome to the chief executive.

The planes continued flying in formation until four bells—8 o'clock—when the signal for the departure was given.

The presidential salute, 21 guns, boomed forth and was answered by the belching batteries of Fortress Monroe.

With the president were Secretaries Hurley and Wilbur, whose departments have supervision of the islands to be visited; Lawrence Richey, one of his secretaries; Capt. Joel Boone, White House physician; Capt. Russell Train, naval aide; Col. Campbell Hodges, military aide; and Mark Sullivan, political writer. There were also 18 newspaper writers and six photographers.

Man's life was saved by a Long Distance call that went through fast

"Emergency!" a voice shouted. "Get Raymond Dittmars, quick. . . New York, Fordham 5560!"

Molly Malone, long distance operator, did not know the speaker was George Vierheller, Director of the St. Louis Zoo. She did not know that nine minutes earlier, in Perkins, curator of reptiles, had been bitten by a deadly Gaboon viper.

She did not know that Dittmars, curator of reptiles at the New York Zoo, is one of the few authorities on the treatment of American snake bites.

All she knew was that it was an emergency! "I'll do my best," said Molly. "Hold the line."

In New York, three or four minutes later, Dittmars lifted his telephone receiver.

"Perkins has been bitten by a Gaboon viper," he heard Vierheller say. "We have injected serum. We want to know how far we can go—what kinds of serum to use, how much, and at what intervals."

Concisely, Dittmars gave directions—the sure, definite directions of the expert.

"It's serious," he concluded, "but you must pull him through."

Perkins did pull through. . . Today he is back at work in his laboratory. Scars, marking the incisions in his left arm, are the only evidence of his ordeal.

On ordinary calls, long distance is just as speedy, just as dependable. If you give the number of the telephone you are calling, in most cases you will be connected while you hold the line. It's like telephoning across the street.

And you can talk 100 miles for 60 cents.

*Dr. Forest H. Staley, St. Louis authority on snake bites, took charge after emergency treatment was given, confirmed news by telephone with Dittmars—pulled Perkins through.

Income Tax Is Near Last Year

WASHINGTON, March 19. (AP)—Income tax collections for last Tuesday were $48,129,417 as compared with $48,129,417 on the same day last year.

The collections for last Tuesday brought the month's total to $1,084,354,321 as compared with $1,084,354,321 in the same period a year ago, and the total since last July 1 to $1,277,685,744 as compared with $1,277,685,744.

The treasury's security sales Monday were reflected in the Tuesday statement. It showed $1,081,742,150 had been received from public debt transactions. Expenditures totaled $1,007,000,000, leaving the treasury on that day with a net balance in the general fund of $74,685,744.

The treasury deficit however, dipped to $73,138,522 as compared with $47,515,713 the previous day, because of the allocation of $26,689,000 to the war debt retirement sinking fund.

This brought the total in that fund to $391,690,000, compared with $291,690,000 in the fund on the same day last year.

Banner Year for Bond Issues Seen

NEW YORK, March 19. (AP)—The prediction of Americans collectively to borrow on the future to finance improvements promises to make 1931 the banner year in the volume of bond issues authorized for such purposes.

Voters set a new high record last year in saying "yes" to bond issues. The prediction here says the prospect that they may be even more liberal in approving public expenditures this year is suggested by proposals already under consideration.

The electorate of states, counties, cities and other governmental units approved bond issues last year aggregating $629,000,000. With less than a quarter of 1931 past, consideration is being given to authorizing bond issues aggregating more than half a billion dollars. And this provides only a part of the picture. Here are some of the proposals for bond issues authorized annually are submitted to referendums. Through powers vested in them legislative bodies account for the other two-thirds.

What has caused this accelerated activity? Municipal bond authorities ascribe it principally to highway improvement programs of states, particularly in the middle-west and south, and plans for expanding water systems of cities. The drought last year is said to have shown present water facilities inadequate. Texas and Iowa are considering the largest highway bond issues. The Lone Star state's legislature is debating a $200,000,000 bond issue. According to the bankers here no opposition is anticipated on the proposal to submit the proposition to a referendum, probably in the fall. Iowa will vote June 16 on bonding the state for $100,000,000. A referendum will be held in Montana May 6 on a $4,000,000 good roads issue.

MR. AND MRS. DARROW ROSE

Clarence Darrow has broken another precedent, and finally posed for a picture with his wife. Here you see the noted Chicago attorney and his wife, Mrs. Darrow, as they appeared in New Orleans recently. I am only the boy who stands on the burning deck for Mr. Darrow, she smilingly explained when asked about her famous husband.

Doctor and Medical Supplies Are Now at Site of Marine Disaster

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 19. (AP)—Food, medical supplies and a doctor, reached the survivors of the Viking on Horsa island today.

Doctor Forsey and members of the crew of the sealer Imogene made their way to the island over close packed and hummocky ice. They began immediately to take survivors to the Imogene to be fed and sent onto the sealer Sagona nearby.

The Sagona was to bring them to St. John's for hospital care.

The men of the Viking sought refuge on the island after their ship was blown up Sunday night.

Consul General Edward A. Dow sent a plea to Washington for an American ice cutter and was prepared to radio full instructions on how the ice field surrounding the island might be navigated.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 19. (AP)—The body of one of the victims of the Viking disaster was washed ashore today. It is believed to be that of Robert Bartlett, of Mayaville. This makes two bodies recovered to date.

BOSTON, March 19. (AP)—Bernt Balchen who arrived early this morning at an ice-frying plant, expedition to Horsa island, N. F., where the Viking survivors are marooned, after looking over the plane said that he could not leave before midnight tonight.

The flight will be made in from one to three hops, the last stop to be made at either Harbor Grace or St. John's. Four men will make the trip—Balchen, Merion Cooper, moving picture photographer who organized the expedition for Dr. Lewis Frissell, father of Varick Frissell, one of the Americans missing from the Viking, Roy Gates, who made the sealing trip on the Viking last year, and either Ralph Inoslow or Barney Barbin, New York pilots.

They will carry packages of medical supplies and food rations and pick up additional supplies at one of their stopping places en route.

During the past 10 years enrollment in the University of Oklahoma has increased more than 50 per cent. The enrollment total in 1921 was 2,965.

New Citizen

John Reynolds, manager of the new Meyer & Meyer store which opened up here last Saturday, has lived in the Panhandle six years.

He came to Pampa from Amarillo, where he was connected with the Meyer & Meyer store at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and their son are living at the Strickland apartments.

Mr. Reynolds has been in the clothing business for 20 years in Kansas, Texas, and Oklahoma. The new store here handles men's made-to-measure and ready-made clothes in exclusive patterns. "We have the kind of clothes men don't have to go out of town to get," he explained.

The manager said that the two predominant colors this season are extreme lights and extreme dark. The most fashionable coat for young men, he said, has a belted back and bellows box-pleated pockets. The new store also handles imported clothing in exclusive patterns.

PRISON

vane and Michael Farrare when they and hundreds of other convicts refused to obey immediate orders from the warden to start at their cells after the rioting had begun.

Overcrowding of men in both prisons, which are separated by five miles, and resentment against parole board procedure, were blamed by Warden C. Hill for yesterday's outbreak in Stateville. Other troubles were the killing Feb. 22 of three prisoners as they tried to escape from the old building, the rioting there last Saturday in which two prisoners were killed and two wounded and the death of a prisoner in solitary confinement.

The rioting of the 1,200 convicts in the chair factory by a pre-arranged signal. All morning the prisoners were holding up two fingers of their hands which prison authorities learned afterward was their method of telling each other that the uprising was to start at 2 p. m. At that hour 100 convicts in the chair factory attacked three guards, lit torches of inflammable material and ran into the prison yard.

Warden is Seered
A check of the morning Warden Hill when he walked, unarmed into the yard and ordered the convicts back into their cells. As he spoke armed guards from the prison walls were gathering, but the prisoners stood their ground. At the warden's direction two shots were fired by them over the tops of their heads, but still they refused to move. There was another order for the men to disperse. This likewise was refused and the guards fired.
