PAVING BEGINS

More Work Awaits Residents' Approval

Street paving is underway now in Colorado City and City Manager Rollin K. Snethen says that more streets will be paved as soon as home-owners sign up for the paving program.

Paving will be done only in complete blocks and all residents in a block must be signed up for the program before paving can be done.

Paving done thus far includes curbing and gutters around an island at 15th and Austin Streets and the 1500 block of Watson St. Snethen said.

Charge for the paving is $2.75 per front foot. This price, includes curbs, gutters and a 30-foot pavement.

Other city streets which have been mentioned as possible future paving sites include 15th, 16th and 17th Streets between Austin and Waco, 15th from Watson to Eastover and several blocks near Wolf Stadium.

Snethen emphasized that the city wanted to pave more streets but cannot do so until property owners make deposits at city hall.

Paving will be composed of a six-inch base of compact caliche rock with a triple asphalt surface.

Six-inch concrete curbs and 183 inch concrete gutters will also be installed when paving is done, Snethen said.

No "leave-outs" will be allowed in blocks to be paved.

Snethen had previously pointed out that maintenance costs run high on unpaved streets and that streets without paving also create a traffic hazard.

Paving is done by the C&C Asphalt-Paving Company.

RECREATION FACILITIES

Park Construction Will Begin Monday

More permanent recreation facilities are on the way for Colorado City residents as construction is slated to begin Monday on shuffle board and croquet courts at Ruddick Park.

City Park Director Bill Brown said Saturday that the city street department will begin leveling ground for the courts early next week, probably Monday.

William R. (Bill) Greenfield, street department head, will supervise the leveling work, Brown said.

Site for the courts will be just east of the Ruddick Park swimming pool.

Two shuffle board courts and one croquet court are planned at present, along with a small shelter house in which to keep and check out equipment.

The courts may be used free, Brown pointed out.

Later, the park department hopes to have lights installed around the courts to permit park patrons to play games after dark.

The croquet courts will be built of a clay surface surrounded by a concrete curb. Permanent steel arches will be used on the court.

Croquet courts will measure 30 feet wide and 60 feet long.

Shuffle board courts will be constructed of concrete and will be six feet wide and 52 feet long with an extra three feet of concrete on each side. Thus the total concrete area will be 12 by 52 feet.

In another side project, Brown and his co-workers are trying to decide what to do with an old storage tank at the park.

The tank, originally used for water storage, may be turned into a useful part of the park, Brown said.

He said that the slab could be used as a tennis court or as a utility area for different purposes.

He added that the slab would have to be topped with some sort of covering, since tar had once been used to seal cracks in the bottom of the tank.

TO BOLSTER FORCES

Fireman, Part-Time Officer Hired Here

Virgil Eaton, an employee of the Texaco bulk distributor here for the past several years, has been hired by the city as a third fulltime fireman.

The other two city fire-fighters are Truman Henderson and J. A. Sadler Jr.

Eaton will be in charge of equipment and the fire station, Snethen said. He will also fill in while other firemen are on vacation and during illnesses.

He will be used as a stand-by driver, the city manager said.

A part-time policeman was also hired this week by the city police department. He is being employed temporarily while other officers are on vacation.

The temporary officer, Joe Tom Draper, formerly was a patrolman at Hobbs, N. M., and at Monahans.

Draper has also worked previously for the Howard County sheriff's department. Until recently, he was employed by Gandy Creamery in Big Spring.

Draper will do parking meter and patrol work.

Mrs. Gloria Crowder of Colorado City, a former regular and part-time police department employee, has assumed duties as police dispatcher, according to Police Chief Leon Yeager.

Yeager said that Mrs. Crowder is filling in for Mrs. Juanita Schafer while Mrs. Schafer is on a two-week vacation.

City Ranked Second Among Texas Towns in Traffic Safety Activities

Safety Group Report Made By Officer

Colorado City ranks No. 2 among Texas cities of its size in the National Safety Council's annual inventory of traffic safety activities.

The No. 2 ranking among communities with population between 5,000 and 10,000 was announced here Tuesday by J. Ross Kemp, district safety officer for Abilene District, Texas Department of Public Safety.

Only Texas city of similar size outranking Colorado City in the inventory was Weslaco in South Texas.

To gain the next highest ranking within the state, Colorado City was credited with improved performance in nine out of 15 major categories of traffic safety.

Kemp, who reported on the traffic analysis at the Tuesday luncheon for Kiwanis in Civic House, said 336 cities were included in the inventory here in Texas.

"So Colorado City, indeed, is to be commended," the safety expert emphasized.

Kemp pointed out that the inventory and analysis was carried out here through the cooperation of city officials—Police Chief Leon Yeager, City Manager Rollin K. Snethen and City Council. Colorado City's overall score in the inventory analysis was 64 per cent of recommended performance covering both the total traffic safety program and the traffic safety record.

"That is an increase of almost 20 points over the 44.5 mark registered for Colorado City in 1955."

"I doubt if any town could ever obtain 100 per cent in the analysis," Kemp commented. "For if we obtain 100 per cent we would be perfect."

Commendation for adding in the high record for Colorado City was given to Kiwanis, Lions, Jaycees, Parent-Teacher Association and women's clubs for traffic safety programs and activities.

He suggested, however, that "we all work together" for a Traffic Safety Council, a citizens spearhead group in traffic safety and education, to cooperate with city officials in an even finer safety program for the city.

The annual traffic inventory by National Safety Council follows the recommendations of the White House Conference on Highway Safety. It is a service to cities and states that enables these governmental units to appraise their street and highway traffic management and accident prevention programs.

This is done by comparing those programs with other states and cities and with the accepted performance standards established by the National Safety Council and specialized groups.

The inventory analysis shows Colorado City making definite gains in the following categories: Nonpedestrian deaths, one in 1956 compared to three in 1957.

Death and injury record, up from zero in 1955 to 60 per cent of recommended performance in 1956.

Accident records, up from 36.4 per cent in 1955 to 68 per cent of recommended performance in 1956.

Traffic engineering, up from 44.7 per cent in 1955 to 60 per cent of recommended performance in 1956.

Police traffic supervision, up from 51.1 per cent in 1955 to 70 per cent of recommended performance in 1956.

Traffic signals, up from 29.5 per cent of recommended performance in 1955 to 38 per cent in 1956.

Safety organization, up from 37 per cent in 1955 to 90 per cent of recommended performance in 1956.

Total program (included all performance records and education), up from 50.8 per cent of recommended performance in 1955 to 64 per cent in 1956.

Only categories in which the inventory reflected a lower record for Colorado City were:

Total number of traffic injuries.

She wore a coronet crown which held a scalloped veil. Her bouquet included pink gladioli, carnations and Sweetheart roses.

Martha Ann Putman, sister of the bridegroom, and two nieces of the bride served as flower girls.

First Baptist Church Saturday evening was setting for the marriage of Miss Dancella Beth Porter and Clyde Eugene Parnell of Lorraine.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Evan C. Campbell of 1021 Hickory Street.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil H. Parnell of Lorraine.

Rev. Jack Selcraig, church pastor, read the double ring ceremony as the wedding party stood before an arch covered with lemon leaves. Centering the arch was an arrangement of emerald foliage and blue carnations, tied with a white satin bow. Candela-bia and emerald foliage on each side of the arch completed the altar dress.

Church pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over nylon taffeta. Bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and sleeves. Empire waistline was cinched by four rows of satin ribbon. A full gathered skirt fell from the moulded bodice.

She wore matching mitts that tapered to points over her hands. Her finger tip veil of illusion was caught to a Chantilly lace hat, accented by seed pearls.

The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations and pearlized stephanotis, showered with satin streamers and love knots, with a white Bible.

A penny in the bride's shoe served as the traditional something old. Her wedding attire was new. Something borrowed was a string of pearls, which belonged to the bride's mother. She wore a blue bridal garter.

Benton Cain, soloist, sang "Because of You", "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer". He was accompanied by Mrs. James E. Payne, organist, who also played "Claire de Lune" during the ceremony.

Miss Delores Jones of Silver was maid of honor.

She wore a dress of pastel blue nylon chiffon, net and lace. Skirt and cummerbund was styled from the chiffon and net. Bodice featuring a bateau neckline, was of nylon lace.

She carried a nosegay of blue carnations.

Candles were lighted by David Little of Lorraine, and Mary Smith, who wore a pastel blue taffeta dress overlaid with matching blue nylon. Blue carnations formed her head band.

Gary Parnell of Lorraine served as his brother's best man. Wendell Banks and Billy Cornutt of Lorraine were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Campbell wore a pastel blue cotton and silk sheath dress, complimented by white accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue and white cotton and dacron sheath dress with white accessories.

During hall of the church was scene for a reception honoring the couple after the wedding.

Bridal table was decorated with the bride's bouquet and the maid of honor's nosegay. Punch bowl was surrounded by blue carnations. Wedding cake was decorated with pastel blue flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Miss Jones, the maid of honor, registered guests. Miss Charlene Franklin and Miss Mary Ann Fisher presided at the serving table.

Members of the houseparty wore blue cotton sheath dresses, styled with bows at the back of the rounded necklines. A pleated flounce accented the bottom of each skirt.

For travel, the bride changed to a lilac sheath dress topped with a matching jacket. Completing her costume were matching pastel accessories and a corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

The couple is living at 405 E. 15th Street.

The bridegroom, a 1957 graduate of Lorraine High School, is now employed by the Texas State Highway Department. The bride was graduated from Colorado High School this spring.

Out of town wedding guests were from Lorraine, Fort Worth and Silver.

ing table was covered with a Madeira cloth. Garden cut flowers were arranged to decorate entertaining rooms.

IN CANDLELIGHT CEREMONY

Shirley Cannon Becomes Bride Of Billy Davis in Church Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dale Davis are residing at 516 East 16th Street following their recent marriage in Oak Street Baptist Church.

Mrs. Davis is the former Shirley Jean Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cannon of Route Three.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Davis of 1001 Oak Street.

Rev. Neil Rogers, pastor of the Plainview Baptist Church, read the double ring vows in a late afternoon ceremony July 24. Altar was centered with a large basket of majestic daisies. Twin candelabra and greenery banked each side of the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net over satin, complimented by a lace duster. The strapless bodice tapered to a point at the front waistline.

Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a half hat. She carried cymbidium orchids with a white Bible, borrowed from Mrs. Virgil Morgan. She wore pearl earrings and necklace, which belonged to her mother and served as the traditional something old.

Her wedding attire was new and she wore a blue rhinestone bracelet.

Mrs. Neil Rogers, pianist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. J. C. Garrett as she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Martha Davis, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a formal dress of light blue net over blue satin. Miss Mary Frances Mitchell, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her formal gown was fashioned from blue satin, overlaid with blue and silver tulle.

Both attendants carried colonial bouquets of gladiolus.

Cathy Cannon, sister of the bride, and Judy Mitchell, the "Welcome home" to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Taylor who have just returned from two years in Ethiopia.

The Taylors, who formerly resided at 907 East 13th Street, lived near Addis Ababa where Mr. Taylor was an instructor for drilling water wells.

He was employed by Oklahoma A&M College Agriculture Extension Service.

One might wonder why the couple returned to West Texas when he hears that the temperature there was never above 75 or below 38 degrees.

But home is "home" regardless of the temperature.

An amusing sidelight arose in the recent wedding of Miss Judith May Siegel and Dr. Stanley Berman in St. Paul, Minn., because of the identical likeness of the bridegroom and his twin brother, Dr. Irwin Berman.

Irwin, who was best man, was asked to stand farther away from the bride couple than is usual in a wedding ceremony. Rabbi W. Gunther Plaut wanted to make sure he was marrying the right twin.

It was noting new to the twins, who are sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Berman of 140 East 10th Street.

Both are surgeons in Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., where, because no one there can tell them apart, one is assigned to days while the other assumes evening duties.

One of the two big events of the year for Mitchell County Home Demonstration Club Women is scheduled for Friday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock.

It is the annual book review, which will be sponsored this year in Civic House.

Mrs. H. Jene Steakley, president of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs, will review the book, "The Bride of Fortune," a story of Mrs. Jefferson Davis' life as written by Harriett T. Kane.

Angelo, the bride changed to a dress of pink lace over matching satin.

The bride attended Colorado High School where she will be a senior student. Her husband was graduated from local schools in 1955.

Mrs. Mann Is Hostess for Bridge Club

Advertisers Choose Newspapers 2 to 1 OVER ANY OTHER MEDIUM!

It takes a lot of confidence and all kinds of people to spend $14 billion dollars on advertising.

It takes everybody from big VP's to housewives with rooms to rent. It takes chain-store executives and neighborhood merchants.

It takes local business people—those who spend only their own money for ads, and those who also spend the important money contributed by manufacturers.

But most of all it takes an advertising medium that can do the job: NEWSPAPERS.

If you're a retailer or wholesaler, demand newspaper advertising before you place an order.

If you're a salesman or district manager, ask your management for newspaper advertising to move out the products you sell.

And if you're a manufacturer, remember this: In 1951 ONE-THIRD OF ALL U.S. ADVERTISING DOLLARS WENT INTO NEWSPAPERS.

SAFETY—

ies, increasing from 14 in 1955 to 47 in 1956.

School traffic safety, dropping from 62 per cent in 1955 to 39 per cent of recommended performance in 1956.

Public safety education, declining in 1956 to 86 per cent of recommended performance after being 95 per cent in 1955.

Kemp, in commenting on the inventory, urged improvements especially in those categories where performance was lower in 1956.

He pointed to a Citizens Safety Council as a valuable organization recommending and assisting in the planning and carrying out of traffic safety measures.

He expressed disappointment at the lower rating in the community's school traffic safety education program, emphasizing that all pedestrians are a part of traffic just as much as a motor vehicle, and that "too many of our youngsters" are killed as pedestrians.

He praised the Colorado City Record and other information media for their efforts in public safety education.

"There still is a basic need for you as citizens," Kemp stated, "to get behind your city officials in a campaign for traffic safety."

"If you demand improvements, then your city officials will see that you get it."

"And that is the only way we can lick the traffic accident problem."

Records reveal an 11 per cent increase in car insurance premiums this year because of $80,000,000 increase in Texas traffic accident damage, according to Kemp. Statistics point to two per cent increase in traffic fatalities within the state.

"So I say to you," he added, "continue the efforts you already have started."

"And put forth just a little more effort and you will get your improvements."

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee has approved a pay rise that would give most postal workers an additional $546 a year.

PLAY IN SNYDER FOR DISTRICT TITLE

C-City Little League Wins Area Crown With Homers

A couple of grand-slam home runs produced an Area Championship for Colorado City's Little League Wednesday.

And the local Leaguers were scheduled to play Thursday, 7:30 p. m. in Snyder in the first round of the District Two Tournament. Opponent for the game was to be Big Spring National League, winners of Area Three.

If the C-City Little Leaguers get past Big Spring, they play the winner of the Area 1 vs. Area 2 game, Friday night in Snyder.

Heavy rain at Sweetwater Tuesday night forced the local team to play both games in Rotan Wednesday.

The first game Wednesday morning saw the Colorado City team take a 5-4 win over the Sweetwater American League.

And in the final Wednesday night, Colorado City blasted the Rotan Little League, 6-3, for the Area Four Crown.

Charles Houston went the full pitching route for the C-City team in the first win, the 5-4 affair over Sweetwater.

Houston allowed eight hits, while striking out seven batters. A big first inning by Colorado City proved to be the difference in the tilt.

Barney Barnett opened the initial frame with a walk. Martin Christian followed with a walk and Houston got on base via a fielders choice.

Then came the telling blow. With the bases loaded, big Willie Joe Smith, Colorado City's first sacker, socked a home run over the fence for a 4-0 lead.

Sweetwater managed one run in the bottom of the first with Curry, the second baseman, scoring the tally.

Colorado City scored its fifth run in the second inning. Roger Richards, left fielder, walked and scored on a single by Christian.

Sweetwater rallied in the third frame for three runs on three hits.

Colorado City settled down to play a tight ball remainder of the game to advance into the finals against Rotan.

In the Rotan game Wednesday night, Colorado City waded until the second inning to break open the game.

With two outs on the books, Richards walked. Luis Franco got on base on an error. Barnett singled and then Dale Walker socked a single to score Richards.

Then came another telling lick. Christian, the stocky 2-bull catcher, boomed a home run over the fence with the bases loaded to give Colorado City a total of five runs.

Rotan scored one run in the bottom of the second to cut the lead to 5-1.

Smith scored an insurance run for C-City in the third when he doubled and scored on Robert Cadé's double.

Rotan used the home run route to score two runs in the third inning. Linsky socked the four-bagger with a man on base.

Both teams play good defensive ball remainder of the game.

Smith went the entire game for C-City, allowing only three hits. Colorado City got eight hits off Rotan pitcher Herron.

Snyder Bops C-City In Pony Playoff

Colorado City's Pony League All-Stars lost their second game in a row to Snyder All-Stars Wednesday night, 21-5.

The defeat knocked the local players out of the Area crown. Score of the first game played Monday night was Snyder 5, Colorado City 0.

Lack of effective pitching and errors spelled defeat for the Colorado City squad Wednesday night.

Snyder got 19 hits and committed only one error while Colorado City got 6 hits and committed 6 errors.

Jerry McKay opened on the mound for C-City and in two innings of play gave up nine runs.

Melvin Williams handled the next inning and gave up three runs.

Archie Joe Higgins hurled the remainder of the game and gave up four runs. McKay failed to strike out a man. Williams whiffed two and batters three.

It was Snyder's nine runs in the second inning that did the big damage.

Three Snyder hitters got three apiece with Jesse Crawford and Tommy Minton each hitting two doubles and a single. Franklin Moore got three singles.

Charles Gladson, the winning pitcher, hit a two-run homer in the second frame.

Charles Lindsey led Colorado batters with two bingles.

Colorado City got two runs in the third inning and three tallies in the fifth.

By winning the Area playoffs, Snyder gains a berth in the district tournament at Abilene Monday.

City Officials Start A Good Study

One of the most practical, beneficial programs which the federal government sponsors is being studied by city officials here.

It is the Federal Urban Renewal program, administered under the Housing & Home Finance Agency. City officials are studying to determine if the program can be applied in feasible manner to eradicate blighted or slum housing areas within the community.

Main target, if the program is undertaken here, will be sub-standard housing areas in Negro and Latin American residential sections where some houses are little more than shacks and where modern sanitary facilities are lacking.

Federal Urban Renewal has accomplished fine jobs in numerous communities across the country and Texas cities are turning to the program to solve one of their most serious problems—eradication of slums, improvement of housing conditions for the residents of those blighted areas, plus the redevelopment of the eradicated areas.

The program is based upon a plan that draws together city and federal governments with private business in a common project of better living conditions and improved communities. Purpose and mechanics of the program is practical and attractive enough that other towns in this West Texas area are requesting participation in the program.

Emphasizing the tie-in of private business is the fact that R. O. Woodson, president of Texas Home Builders Association, is one of the most ardent boosters for Urban Renewal. Woodson, who owns lumber yards in Corpus Christi and who last year was chairman of the business-management of National Association of Home Builders, is a pioneer in urban renewal now doing his best to awake communities to the possibilities they have in the program.

Urban renewal is nothing more than a federal service to assist communities in planning and developing urban-renewal program that will eliminate and redevelop sub-standard housing and commercial areas. Grants in federal funds are made available in providing planning assistance to communities under 25,000 population.

Additional provisions of the program provide for financial advances, temporary loans and capital grants—depending upon the project—in carrying out the renewal project.

In the renewal project a community can select several avenues for redeveloping the eradicated area. Long term loans are available if the land is leased, rather than sold for redevelopment. Special FHA mortgage insurance provides easier financing for building or rehabilitation of low-priced residential housing by private business to house families displaced in the clearance work. And federal loans are available, too, for the building of public housing low-cost rental units are local public works facilities.

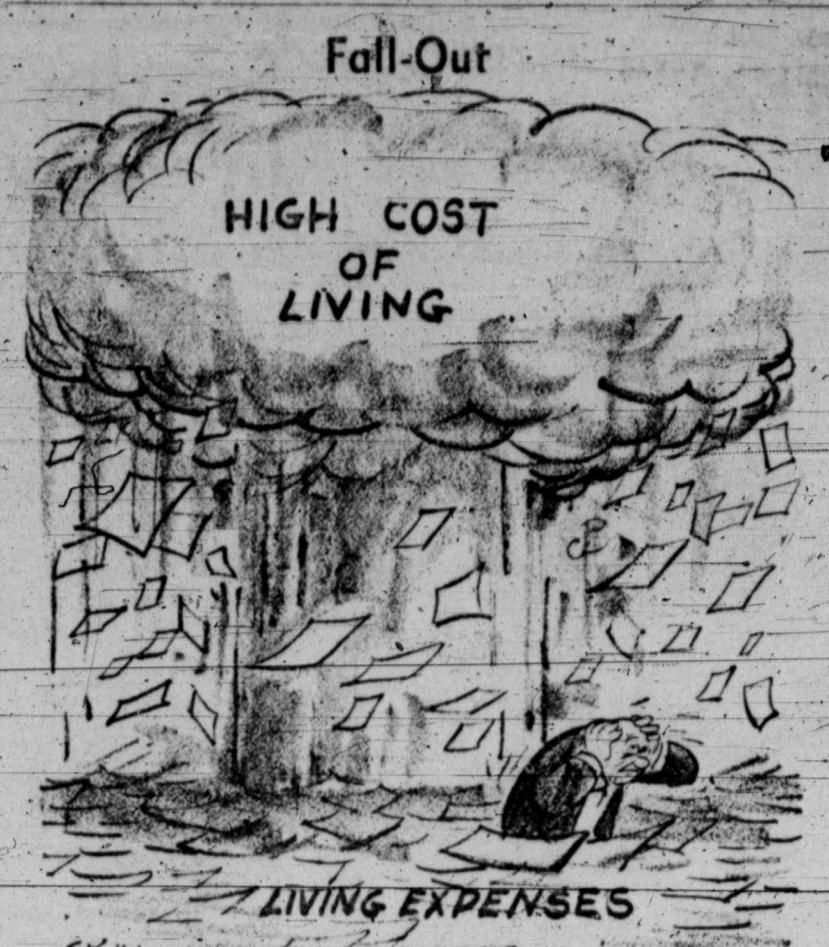

It is a program for a community with an opportunity to solve slum problems with private business. And it is practical enough, also, to offer additional avenues when the project cannot be handled by private business.

Colorado City officials are on the right track with their study. They should make certain the study doesn't bog down.

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp

Representative government is more of a bunion derby than the folks-back-home realize. If there is one catastrophe threatening the Nation more than others, it is that of fallen arches. And if you don't like the laws your Congressmen voted for, or the speeches he made (or didn't make), it's an even bet his feet hurt him.

An informal canvass of the gentlemen of our lower house reveals that they will answer from seven to twelve calls to the House chamber per day. From their desks in the old House Office Building, or the new one, the more able-bodied can make the trip to the chamber via shank's mare in five to six minutes. Thus, on an average, this entails an hour-and-three-quarters of walking back and forth daily. For many who are less vigorous than they used to be, others suffering from arthritis and some who are crippled, the journeys are more toilsome.

RESERVATIONS ARE literally pouring in here for the Tri-Regional Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce Convention scheduled for Colorado City August 17-18.

A forecast of things to come was received by local Jaycee convention planners when 41 couples applied for reservation from Midland alone.

Since representatives from 27 clubs across West Texas are expected for the convales, members of the local housing committee are beginning to wonder if living quarters for delegates is going to be a problem.

Privately, they are a trifle worried. It seems that construction workers, etc., have been streaming into town in droves for such jobs as building projects around the area. The motels here are already enjoying a shortage of rooms and the shortage promises to get even more enjoyable for the motel men, but not for the Jaycees.

Headlines To Watch For PAY-AS-YOU-SEE TV is coming up for its third reading at city council August 12. If it passes this time, it's in.

MORE DISCUSSION is also coming up for a proposed new police station for Colorado City. Preliminary sketches should be ready by the time the council meets.

SLUM CLEARANCE for our town is also under study by the council and more may be heard about it at the August meeting.

Miscellaneous and El Cetera R. E. (BOB) POST, a vocational agriculture instructor here up until a few years ago, had a lot of success selling bulls in El Paso in connection with that city's Livestock Show for the first time this year.

Post sold 250 bulls during the show, averaging $305 per animal. They were in range condition and sold in lots of three and four.

Post is now planning construction of a $90,000 building in which to do his bull-selling for the Livestock Show.

COLTEX REFINERY IS now issuing red, white and blue plastic credit cards to its customers. The cards feature a built-in stamp, similar to the ones in use by several major companies.

Although the Texas Department of Agriculture does not have official jurisdiction in unregulated counties, farmers are urged to use extreme caution in applying weed and brush killing chemicals. Department inspectors or county agents should be contacted for further information on proper safeguards during spraying operations.

Copies of the Herbicide Law, listing regulated counties and material relating to proper use, may be obtained by writing: John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

Some 125 counties are regulated by the Texas Herbicide Law. Permits must be obtained for applying herbicide chemicals in these counties and a Department of Agriculture inspector must supervise spraying operations.

The remaining 129 counties are exempt from the law and it is in these counties where crop damage has occurred.

Inspectors make certain that spraying is not practiced within certain distances of susceptible crops in relation to wind velocity. It is also important that clean equipment is maintained. Much damage has been done by poisoning cotton with equipment which has been used in making applications of herbicides.

Daniel Insists Legislature Can Afford Special Session in Fall

State Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association. Despite the state about treasury troubles, Gov. Price Daniel insists that the Texas Legislature can hold a special session and still have money left over.

Recently, House Speaker Waggoner Carr and others suggested that the state might not be able to pay session costs without a new tax. But the governor said his budget department estimates that a brief session, limited to two or three subjects could be held for as little as $250,000. He reported that some $618,416 is available. This is considerably more than any previous estimate had indicated.

Governor Daniel made it clear that none of the objections have lessened his determination to issue a special call for passage of lobby control, water conservation and possibly other important measures.

Help On Oil Asked As the state moved into another month of low oil production, Governor Daniel wired Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower that "a real emergency exists."

"He asked the President's help in obtaining a limit on foreign oil imports. 'More drilling rigs are being stacked,' the governor's wire noted, with an 'app' verse effect on state revenues."

Because of lowered demand for Texas oil, the Railroad Commission set the August allowable at 13 producing days, same as for July. It is the lowest producing pattern ever used in the state.

Individual Incomes Up Texans are getting richer, according to Uncle Sam's tax reports for fiscal 1957.

For the five-state Southwest area federal tax collections hit the all-time record total of $4,346,149,816. More than half of this—$2,560,867,402—came from Texas. This is a 7 per cent increase for this state over last year's collections.

Of this total, 75 per cent comes from income taxes, the remainder from employment taxes, excises, etc. Revenue officials attributed the big jump to higher salaries in the Southwest.

It's An Ill Wind Cricket season came early this year in the Capital City. The pesky, black jumpers which pay Central Texas an annual visit in great numbers, are here.

But Marlon Toole, aquatic biologist for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, says "it's a lucky season for fishermen."

Crickets, it seems, are considered a real delicacy by all game fish. But sunfish and bass bite them best, he says. "It's too good an opportunity for any fisherman to pass up."

So, while merchants fight them in downtown areas and home owners spray and dust around porches and patios, both fish and fishermen can have a fine day. "And they'll be with us until early September," Toole added.

Traffic Toll Up Texas traffic deaths and injuries were playing in "My Man Godfrey" at the Ritz Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Taylor and family were visiting in Fort Worth and Dallas, where they were to see the Frontier Fiesta and the Pan-American Exposition.

Taps was sounded Friday for R. E. Grantland, 90, one of Mitchell County's two remaining Civil War veterans.

His death left T. Y. Pool of Colorado City as the only living Civil War veteran in the county.

Grantland had run away from home and joined the Confederate Army at the age of 13, and had been severely wounded at the Battle of Chickamauga.

Citizens were scheduled to vote on bonds for a proposed $30,000 county hospital.

A citizens' group was pushing for an extension of State Highway 101 from Colorado to Sterling City.

William Powell and Carole Lombard were playing in "My Man Godfrey" at the Ritz Theatre.

Chemical Herbicides Can Destroy Crops

By JOHN C. WHITE, State Agriculture Commissioner.

Hormone-type herbicides such as 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T are among the most effective weed and brush killers available—but their very effectiveness calls for extreme caution.

These powerful and useful chemicals can damage crops through careless handling just as easily as they can destroy plant pests. This fact is especially evident this year.

Damage to cotton by herbicides has increased alarmingly in unregulated areas of Texas this season. As many as 9,000 acres in four West Texas counties suffered slight to severe effects from herbicides sprayed in adjacent areas during periods when wind drift was excessive.

In contrast, not a single report of damage has been received from counties where the Texas Department of Agriculture regulates the sale and use of herbicides.

Some 125 counties are regulated by the Texas Herbicide Law. Permits must be obtained for applying herbicide chemicals in these counties and a Department of Agriculture inspector must supervise spraying operations.

Copies of the Herbicide Law, listing regulated counties and material relating to proper use, may be obtained by writing: John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

Department inspectors or county agents should be contacted for further information on proper safeguards during spraying operations.

Copies of the Herbicide Law, listing regulated counties and material relating to proper use, may be obtained by writing: John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

Some 125 counties are regulated by the Texas Herbicide Law. Permits must be obtained for applying herbicide chemicals in these counties and a Department of Agriculture inspector must supervise spraying operations.

The remaining 129 counties are exempt from the law and it is in these counties where crop damage has occurred.

Inspectors make certain that spraying is not practiced within certain distances of susceptible crops in relation to wind velocity. It is also important that clean equipment is maintained. Much damage has been done by poisoning cotton with equipment which has been used in making applications of herbicides.

Although the Texas Department of Agriculture does not have official jurisdiction in unregulated counties, farmers are urged to use extreme caution in applying weed and brush killing chemicals. Department inspectors or county agents should be contacted for further information on proper safeguards during spraying operations.

Copies of the Herbicide Law, listing regulated counties and material relating to proper use, may be obtained by writing: John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

Modern Home Wiring for FULL HOUSEPOWER

It takes more than modern appliances to get full benefit from your dependable electric service. It takes modern home wiring, too...with a large enough service entrance and enough electrical outlets and circuits to operate your appliances with maximum efficiency, convenience and economy. A 100 ampere service entrance is the minimum recommended for most homes.

If your lights dim when your refrigerator comes on, if heating appliances operate sluggishly, if fuses blow repeatedly due to overloaded circuits, it's a sign of low HOUSEPOWER. You may need larger wire, an additional circuit or more outlets to get best performance from your work-saving appliances.

Your electrical contractor will gladly make a check of the wiring in your home and tell you what you need for full HOUSEPOWER. See him about it soon. Live Better Electrically!

Missionary Couple Speaks to Church 'Family Day' Audience

By MRS. C. C. HAMILTON,
Record Correspondent.

LORAINÉ—Missionaries from Nigeria were principal speakers Sunday at a "family day" event for Lorraine's First Baptist Church.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, who are on a year's leave from their missionary duties in Africa, spoke to large audiences at the all-day program.

The minister preached at the regular morning worship service of the church. Both he and his wife spoke and showed films at the evening service.

A covered dish luncheon was served to the congregation and guests in Fellowship Hall during the noon hour.

A special program was a feature of the afternoon.

Group singing in the afternoon was led by Moody Richardson and devotion was by Rev. Bobby Rine, church pastor. Also on the afternoon program were special selections by the Sunday School Intermediate, accompanied by Golden Car, vocal numbers by Byron Mote and Janet Sue Hall, accordion and piano selections by Joretta Hall and Peggy Phillips, songs by a men's quartet—Richardson, Clifton Henderson, Cline and Everett Henderson; vocal solos by Rev. Kennedy in African dialects.

Missionary duties and problems of the Rev. and Mrs. Kennedy were related by the couple during the evening service. Films shown by the pair were made in foreign countries they visited.

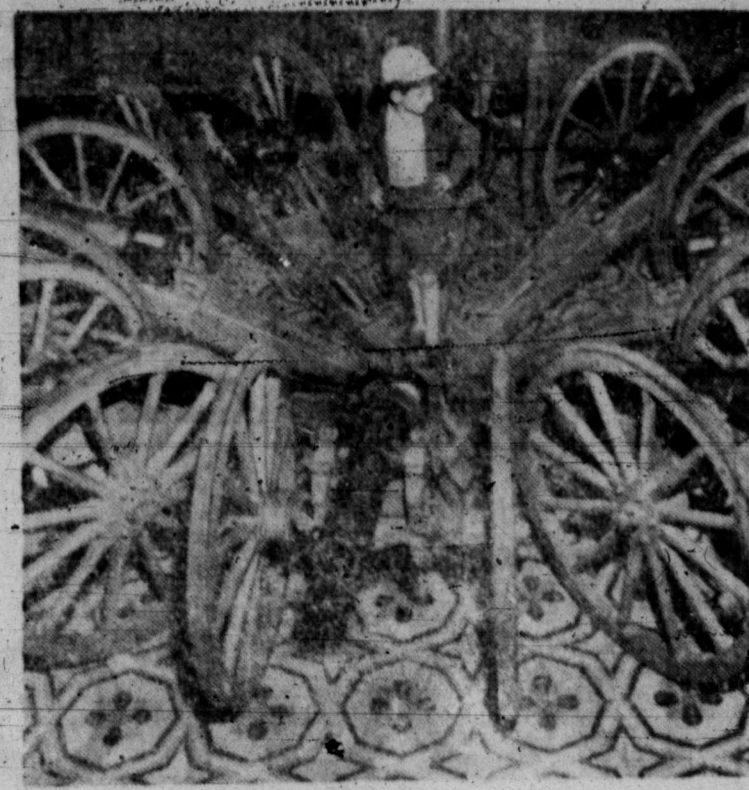

Rev. Kennedy will enter Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary this fall for graduate study prior to his return to the foreign mission field.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marth and children—Stevie, Susan and Laura—left Wednesday for Kansas City, Kan., after visiting at Lorraine for six weeks with Mrs. Marth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hallmark.

They will visit in Kansas City with Mr. Marth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Marth during August.

The family in September will return to Paris, France, where Mr. Marth is employed by Anderson-Clayton Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Neely of Jal, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Neely and sons, Mark and Robin, of Wichita, Falls visited at Lorraine Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thomas and other relatives.

DREAMS OF GLORY—This youngster, surrounded by ancient cannons, assumes a hands-on-hips pose in the African Museum in Rome, Italy, perhaps dreaming of stirring military exploits. The weapons are relics of Italy's 1910 campaign in Libya.

LOCAL REFINERY BOOSTS PROFIT

Greatest Year in Corporation History Recorded by Cosden

Annual stockholder reports, issued last week by Cosden Petroleum Corporation, showed a 31 per cent increase of net income over the previous year to mark 1956-57 as one of the greatest years in the oil corporation's history.

And 53 per cent of the net increase of $16,309,149 came from business transacted by the Col-Tex refinery in Colorado City and by the Onyx refinery at Hawley.

Cosden acquired the refinery here late last year.

Besides acquiring the refineries at Colorado City and Hawley, Cosden also put on stream the first fully integrated Refinery in the world, and completed its ultrafractionation styrene plant, also the first of its kind in existence.

The corporation's pipelines have been extended to include 293 miles of pipe and approximately $100,000 has been spent for new furniture and machines at the corporation's headquarters in Big Spring.

Cosden's gross operating revenue touched $71,922,000 during the year.

Major emphasis continued to be on increasing production. Cosden ended its fiscal year on April 30 with a net increase of 7,099,947 barrels in crude oil reserves. The company produced 1,472,731 barrels of oil on its own.

and 1,666,852 MCF of gas. Production was set at the rate of 5,106 barrels per day for the last quarter of the year. This represents an increase of 2,041 barrels per day over the level of the preceding year.

Cosden now has 324 producing wells, having enjoyed a net increase in producers of 654 wells during the fiscal year.

Dollar volume of product sales from the Col-Tex refinery here was up about 30 per cent for the year.

Petrochemicals accounted for 23 per cent of gallonage and 62 per cent of dollar volume.

Cosden's role in defense was

Sun Lists New Division Chief

Robert E. Rettger has been named assistant division chief geologist-operational for Sun Oil Company's Southwest production division, Sam M. Gladney, division manager said this week.

The division includes the Colorado City-Silver area.

The position was formerly held by Paul W. McFarland, who was recently named manager of the Latin America Division's geology and geophysics department of Sun Oil.

Rettger, a Sun employee for 32 years, has been geophysical coordinator in the geological department since 1940.

underlined by more than $12,000,000 in sales to the U. S. government.

Volume for military aviation gasoline hit 65,000,000 gallons and jet fuel deliveries were projected to 85,000,000 gallons.

R. L. Tollett, Cosden president, said that "Again this year we expect capital expenditures to exceed funds available in the ordinary course of business."

Capital requirements were listed at $3,000,000, including the purchase of more production and $4,287,000 in the refining division.

At the end of the fiscal year, Cosden had 949 employees and during the year an increase of six per cent was granted to all except elected officials.

The stockholders' report was followed by the announcement by the corporation that another major addition would be made to its expanding industrial plant in Big Spring.

Tollett announced Saturday that arrangements had been made for a polystyrene facility to manufacture raw clear plastic material.

The expansion will cost an estimated $1,500,000.
