LABOR DAY TALKS ASK GOVERNMENTAL CHANGE

Texas Lawmakers Draft Cotton Cut Bills On Eve Of Special Session Today

LONG'S PLAN IN DISFAVOR WITH MAJORITY

Three Other States to Follow State's Lead In Legislation

MEASURES WEIGHED

Cunningham and Woodward Sponsor Schemes For Curtailment

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Gov. Huey P. Long said late today he had assurances from at least five other southern states that cotton prohibition legislation would be enacted by their legislatures in the event that Texas votes total abolition of the 1932 crop.

He named Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina, North Carolina and Arkansas as the states that would fall in line with the "no cotton in 1932" ordered recently by the Louisiana assembly.

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—Texas, whose 10,000 gins already have started baling one-third of the nation's cotton crop, made ready tonight for the opening of a special legislative session tomorrow, which other southern states expected to set the pace in cotton curtailment.

Pressure from all sections amounted to a chorus of demands for action until Gov. Ross Shaw Sterling issued the legislative call Saturday night from his home near Houston.

Texas lawmakers tonight were busy drafting bills proposing cotton acreage reduction, to have them in readiness for introduction as soon as the session begins.

Mass Meeting Slated

Expressions of opinion from Texas lawmakers and farmers thus far have shown little inclination to follow the plan of Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana to prohibit cotton planting altogether in 1932.

Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald and other reduction leaders were planning a huge mass meeting of farmers in Austin Wednesday night, as a demonstration to impress legislators with the strong sentiment backing a cotton curtailment program. McDonald predicted not less than 25,000 farmers would attend. Several special trains were expected to bring the visitors.

Governor Long of Louisiana was invited to speak. The Louisiana executive, breaking his rule of self-imprisonment in the state to pre-

Baby Left in Home By Fort Worth Parents

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7. (INS)—Sidney Williams, 21, and Mrs. Jean Williams, 18, who are said to have come here a month ago from Fort Worth, Texas, today were being sought by local police. The couple, parents of two weeks old Jean Williams, left the child in the care of Mrs. Sarah Womack, a boarding house keeper, Saturday night, and then disappeared.

According to roomers at the boarding house where the couple stayed, the pair told them they could not return to Fort Worth with their child, because the father of the baby stated he would be disinherited by his mother, who objected to the marriage.

Bride's Fatal Plunge Hints Murder After Naval Officers' Hotel Party

By W. A. WELLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (AP)—The crash of glass, a woman's scream at 2 o'clock in the morning, then a navy officer's pretty bride, clad in silk pajamas, lay dying upon the pavement of a hotel air shaft.

Before she died Daisy Beury Price, married only seven weeks to Lieut. Comm. George D. Price of the aircraft carrier Lexington, made two statements which have thrown about the tragedy a mystery stirring naval and social circles.

Her Statements Give Clues

"I was thrown," she whispered to a civilian who had helped to pick her up.

"It was all my fault," she said to Assistant District Attorney Walt Schiller in her dying statement, but she declined to mention names or to explain.

Police investigators passed up to a navy court of inquiry the task of finding a solution to what Inspectors Allan McGinn and George Engler believe is a murder mystery.

The tragedy probably would have been dismissed as another accident or suicide but for the conflicting statements Mrs. Price made.

Party at Apartment

From this start an investigation disclosed that earlier in the night Mrs. Price's apartment had been the scene of a gay party held while her husband, flight commander of the Lexington, had been on duty.

Coroner's witnesses testified that another officer, Lieut. Comm. E. W. Spencer of the U. S. S. Saratoga, had been present with his wife, and some witnesses affirmed, while others denied, that there had been words between Mrs. Price and Mrs. Spencer because Spencer had gone into another room with Mrs. Price.

Others present included three navy lieutenants, the wife of one and a Miss Virginia Warwick.

The last guest had departed by 12:30 a. m., witnesses agreed, and all, apparently, were able to account for their whereabouts from that time on.

Was There Late Caller?

But police believe that one might have returned secretly to Mrs. Price's room, and that, in any event, she backed through a window to escape some intruder's advances.

Commander Price testified to his unwavering faith in the bride he married at Colorado July 7.

He said she was "perfectly capable of backing out that window to prevent a man from laying his hands upon her."

Admittedly there were rounds and rounds of highballs at the party.

Did the actions of the officers present constitute "unbecoming conduct?"

Did Mrs. Price choose death as the escape from the advances of a navy officer?

Board Considers Case

These were the problems the navy board of inquiry ordered by Rear Admiral H. E. Yarnell considered.

On recommendations made to the judge advocate general hinges the determination of whether a court martial is to follow.

Under the California law a woman's death in an effort to escape an assailant is classified as first degree murder.

They Figure in Naval Riddle

Scores Dumped Into Water at Boat Race

DETROIT, Sept. 7. (AP)—More than 100 persons watching the Harmsworth trophy race from a loading dock along the Detroit river were thrown into water eight to 10 feet deep today when the structure collapsed.

Momentarily, it was feared several children had been drowned. Officials said they were confident all had been rescued.

Nevertheless, officers of the harbor master's crew dragged the river and three divers were sent down to determine whether any persons had been caught in the wreckage.

Reports that 3-year-old Nelson Patterson was missing later were denied.

Money Trouble Drives Attorney to Suicide

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7. (US)—Jasper Sprouse, 63, retired attorney, shot himself through the head today, dying instantly. Financial worries caused the act, police were told.

He left this note: "Dear wife and kiddies: I have reached the end of my cable's tow. My life insurance will help you for awhile."

Bayles Takes Thompson Air Trophy With 236.24 Mile Average Speed

Springfield Pilot Wins Premier Aerial Classic; Doolittle Flying Second, Forced Down

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7. (US)—Lowell Bayles of Springfield, Mass., today won the premier classic of the national air races, the 100-mile Thompson trophy event, at an average speed of 236.24 miles an hour.

J. R. Wedell of Patterson, La., was second and Dale Jackson of St. Louis was third.

Major Jimmy Doolittle, who had been expected to give the winner the stiffest battle, if he did not win, was forced down in the seventh lap. He was in second place at the time and landed safely.

75,000 Watch

A great crowd of more than 75,000 keyed to the highest pitch of excitement, watched with thrills of apprehension as the fabric on the plane of Dale "Red" Jackson began to tear off.

The fabric was ripping off worse at every lap, but Jackson evidently intended to stay in the race until his ship tore to pieces. He continued on to win third place and landed without trouble at the finish.

Doolittle had been in second place for two laps when he was forced out of the contest. No sooner was Doolittle down that it began to look as if Jackson would be forced to follow suit as the fabric began ripping from the lower panel.

Keeps Lead

Bayles went into the lead before he had reached the first pylon of the dash. He overtook Bennie Howard of Chicago who was first off the ground 10 seconds before Bayles began his fast dash.

Bayles kept in the lead although Jimmy Doolittle forced him to the limit up to the time he was forced out.

Bayles was flying a Gee Bee Wasp junior while Wedell made the dash in his own special plane. Dale Jackson was behind the stick in the Laird Solution of Lee Schoenhair.

The speed of the race sets a new record for competition at the national air races breaking the mark that was set late yesterday. This is the third time of the season that the mark was shattered.

Others who finished the 100-mile event were Robert Hall of Springfield, Mass., fourth; Capt. Ira Eaker of Washington, fifth; Bennie Howard of Chicago, sixth, and William Ong of Kansas City, seventh.

Captain Eaker had a narrow escape from serious accident when he was forced to land without his landing gear down. For half an hour before he finally came to earth he made desperate but ineffectual efforts to get the gear extended.

At last, he took a chance, dropped down carefully and slid his Lockheed Orion plane along the ground to a stop. He was unhurt but the ship was considerably damaged.

TROOPS CLOSE 13 OIL WELLS

Operators Accused of Over-Producing

HENDERSON, Texas, Sept. 7. (UP)—Thirteen East Texas oil wells were closed down by state troops today for overrunning their daily allowable flow of 225 barrels, A. B. Capers, proration chief, announced tonight.

Capers said two of the violators had produced as high as 1,000 barrels daily since Saturday, when the railroad commission's new proration order became effective.

Capers is in charge of 29 railroad commission employes making daily checks of the field's production. Operators are required to make daily reports of the amount produced to military headquarters at Kilgore.

There are not over a half dozen wells in the field, according to Capers, that do not have pipe line connections and arrangements have been made whereby these wells will have an outlet soon. Pipe line runs are being checked very closely to prevent production above the legal allowable.

After tomorrow, the army of occupation will consist of 32 officers and 120 men, the remainder of the present force of 709 officers and men leaving by train and bus.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (US)—More than 31,000,000 pupils will return to American schools this month, the department of interior estimated today.

Racing Turtle's Waddle Nets $3,500

But Peak Auto Winner Gets Only $1,000

PONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 7. (AP)—Pebblestone joined the roll of hard-shelled immortals here today, conquering 49 other turtles in the eighth annual waddle of the 101 Ranch terrapin derby and winning $3,500 for his owner, T. F. Boettcher, Hollis, Okla., merchant.

Pebblestone scrambled over the 75 feet to the edge of the circular arena in around a minute and a quarter.

Boettcher's sister, Katherine, of Ponca City, was present to receive the winner's check. She said her brother had no idea of winning and had not made plans for spending the money.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 7. (AP)—A new speed ruled Pikes Peak tonight, C. A. Myers assuming the throne long occupied by Glen Shults, after he piloted his racing car to the summit in the record breaking time of 17 minutes and 10.3 seconds.

For five years Shults has marked up the best time in the annual Labor day classic over the twisting, precipitous highway on a course slightly less than 12½ miles long to reach the summit at 14,109 feet.

Myers won $1,000. Shults, second, received $250.

PLAN OUTLINED FOR GOODNIGHT GAME RESERVE

General Hulen and Fred L. Haskett to Head State Committee

BARBECUE AT RANCH

Hundreds Hear Talks On Need of Saving Last Buffalo Herd

GOODNIGHT, Texas, Sept. 7. (AP)—Gen. John A. Hulen, of Fort Worth, vice president of the Denver railway, today was named chairman of a state-wide committee that will direct the raising of funds to buy the famous Goodnight ranch as a game preserve.

Fred L. Haskett of Wichita Falls was elected secretary of the committee. Both elections were by acclamation of a large group of West Texans, and a smattering of downstate representatives, who met on the ranch at a barbecue arranged by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. Those who attended came by special invitation. General Hulen was absent because of illness.

Campaign for Funds

Hulen and Haskett were authorized by a vote of those attending the meeting today to appoint as many members to the committee as they deem advisable, and to select from the general committee an executive group to direct the campaign for funds. It was agreed that any plan of finance they worked out would we acceptable to those sponsoring the movement to save the Goodnight buffalo herd, and the historic ranch.

If funds are raised to buy part of the ranch as a preserve, the state game, fish and oyster commission has been authorized by the legislature to condemn the 243 head of buffaloes now grazing thereon. It is proposed to buy 11,000 acres of the ranch, and the estimated cost is more than $100,000.

Murrell Buckner of Dallas, and Gene A. Howe of Amarillo were the only members of the game commission present.

Buckner promised that "the greatest game preserve in the United States" would be provided if the ranch is purchased. He outlined plans of the game commission to fence the preserve and then stock it with deer, antelope, wild turkeys, pheasants, prairie chickens, quail and other wild life. Numerous streams, fed by springs, would be dammed and enough fish hatcheries established to stock the lakes and streams of the state, he said.

He said the entire state was interested in the project, and expressed the belief that plans would meet with success.

History Reviewed

The history back of the Goodnight buffalo herd was reviewed by President J. A. Hill of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon; Sam M. Braswell, veteran newspaperman of Clarendon; Mrs. Prebe K. Warner of Claude, and others prominent in the Panhandle. The herd was started 53 years ago when the late Col. and Mrs. Charles C. Goodnight put four calves under fence. The speakers urged that the buffaloes be kept in their natural surroundings.

The barbecue was held in the canyons, three miles south of the Goodnight headquarters near this city. Visitors were impressed with the scenic beauty of the proposed preserve as they followed a narrow road around the rim of the canyons and then down to the barbecue grounds, held in check by cowboys. Howe, in addressing the group pointed to the herd and said: "This is the only place in the world that you can see a sight like that."

WICHITANS USE PLANE

Pressed for time in which to accept invitations to the barbecue on the Goodnight ranch Monday, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Staley and F. T. Avis, chartered the four-place Stinson at the Municipal airport, hopped to the ranch, enjoyed the barbecue and landed again at the field here late Monday afternoon. Jack Overstreet, pilot at the field, handled the ship. The guests returned with an enthusiastic report of the gathering.

Postal Employes Warned Against New Demands

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 7. (US)—Postmaster General Brown today warned postal employees against seeking shorter hours or the five-day week unless they are prepared to take proportionate wage cuts.

The views expressed by Brown were believed to reflect the attitude of the Hoover administration and to constitute a warning that all efforts at this time by federal employes to obtain salary increases will be vigorously opposed. Brown spoke at the convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

Mercury Stays at 105 In Greer County Area

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Sept. 7.—Mangum and vicinity continued to swelter today in one of the most intense heat waves that has ever been recorded here in September with no immediate relief in sight. The scorching sun sent the mercury up to 105 again today with same high recording Saturday and Sunday. This maximum mark comes within one degree of the year's highest temperature recorded here July 4.

White House Locked As Hoover Stays at Camp

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (US)—With President Hoover at his Rapidan camp, Labor day found the White House locked and barred for the first time since world war days.

The doors were locked by Lieut. Earnest Seaman, only policeman on duty, who found it too much to answer frequent telephone calls and at the same time watch the swarm of tourists who wanted to visit the executive office.

MAY QUIT VIENNA

VIENNA, Sept. 7. (US)—It was reported here today that the famous Rothschild banking interests would withdraw from Vienna because of heavy losses, estimated at more than $1,125,000, in the failure of large Austrian banks.

The Rothschild directors are known to be resentful of charges that Baron Rothschild was responsible for the recent collapse of the Austrian credit bank.

Adversity Drives Wives Away, Expert Reveals

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 7.(UP)—More marital confidence—not a good five-cent cigar—is America's greatest need, in the opinion of Mrs. Rose M. Chaus, assistant commissioner of social service, in the city's welfare department.

Time was, she says, and not so long ago, when an emaciated wife with a scrawny child clinging to her coattails came to her seeking an errant husband.

But now, the husbands are seeking their post-war wives who haven't the moral fiber to stand by in adversity. Mrs. Chaus pointed to the case of a laboring man, leading a 10-year-old girl and 5-year-old boy. He was a "depression widower," she said—adding that his case was by no means unique.

Fifteen Killed When Church Collapses

BERLIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—A dispatch to the Volks Zietung from Warsaw tonight said 15 persons were killed and 10 seriously injured when a church collapsed in the village of Kalety, near Vilna, Poland, today.

Spectacular Blaze Levels Bath House At Swimming Pool

The bath house of the Westmoreland swimming pool, west of the city, was completely destroyed by a spectacular fire early Monday night. John W. Thomas, president of the Westmoreland Park company, owner of the pool, estimated the damage at $30,000.

The bath house and office, a wooden frame building more than 125 feet long, contained two tiers of locker rooms running the length of the building. Above the office was a glassed-in pavilion, forming a tower in the center of the structure. The fire, of undetermined origin, started in this room, J. L. McClure, fire chief, was told.

Pool Closed

The flames were discovered in the early stage when smoke was seen to emerge through cracks of the door in the fore part of the building. The pool had been closed since Sept. 1. Fred A. Stevenson, superintendent, said that none of the attendants or employes connected with the business was at the place at the time the fire broke out.

Although fire equipment was dispatched to the scene, nothing could be done to check the flames, which quickly spread through the length of the building. Due to the elevation upon which the buildings rested, water could not be successfully pumped from the pool. Call Field, about a mile to the south and east, was the nearest point where water mains were available.

In addition to the loss of the building, plumbing fixtures, lighting equipment and stored paraphernalia of the pool were destroyed.

New Plant Planned

Mr. Thomas said that the structure probably would be rebuilt before the opening of the swimming season next year. About $12,000 or $15,000 in insurance was carried on the building, he said.

Attracted by the glare from the burning building, people by the hundreds witnessed the fire. Before flames had razed the structure, automobiles were lined along the roadway for more than a half mile. A few people were in the pool when the fire broke out. Swimmers were permitted to use the pool although it had been closed for the season.

MacMillan Back From Air Survey Of Arctic Coast

ROCKLAND, Me., Sept. 7. (AP)—A three months' aerial expedition to the bleak Labrador coast and inland territory today was completed with the arrival of Commander Donald B. MacMillan in his plane Viking.

McMillan's eighth trip into the arctic, but the first by air, recorded among its accomplishments the mapping of 1,500 square miles of northern terrain and the establishment of dental clinics in a number of Eskimo communities.

Charles Rocheville, pilot, Edward Hoffman and J. A. Newcomb, photographer, accompanied MacMillan on the last leg of the return flight from Chance Harbor, N. B., after having previously flown from Battle Harbor, Labrador.

FLIERS OFF ON PACIFIC HOP

Moyle, Allen Head for Seattle From Tokyo

SABISHIBO BEACH, Japan, Sept. 8. (Tuesday) (UP)—Don Moyle, Los Angeles "Jail or Glory" flier, and C. A. Allen, his youthful navigator, were believed far out over the Pacific tonight, winging their way northward in a non-stop flight to Seattle, Wash., and a prize of $75,000.

The daring young Americans, staking their lives against the worthiness of their old, remodelled monoplane, The City of Tacoma II, hopped off from Sabishiro Beach at 5:24 a. m. (2:24 p. m. C. S. T.) after receipt of favorable weather reports over the great circle route they planned to follow.

Impulsive Start

The start was made with typical American impulsiveness. The pair had been straining at the leash since arriving here Friday from Tokyo. Fierce winds and blending fog banks held them back.

This morning, when weather reports from the Kurile and Aleutian islands indicated conditions were improved, they wrapped up a roasted chicken and a tankard of coffee, climbed into their plane and were off.

Only a cluster of curious Japanese and a few American friends saw the big ship speed 2,000 meters down the hard-packed, sandy beach, soar gracefully into the hazy atmosphere and head north, her fate in the arms of the gods.

Joy, grief and a fortune await the intrepid young Americans if their flight is successful.

Jail Waits Moyle

They will win $75,000 posted by the Asahi newspapers and the Imperial Aviation society for the first non-stop flight from Japan to the United States, but Moyle must go to jail. He is under sentence to serve 30 days in Los Angeles for driving while intoxicated.

Allen, who is quoted as saying he doesn't "care what happens to me," returns to the scene where last March his aviatrix sweetheart, Eileen Miller, 22, was killed in an airplane crash. Allen and Eileen were engaged when the girl was killed, and Allen, his American friends say, decided to join Moyle in his hazardous adventure because "I haven't much left."

Moyle and Allen entered the cockpit of The City of Tacoma II at 5:22 a. m. Two minutes later they were in the air. The take-off was perfect and they headed south for Achinoe, circled east, then disappeared in a thick haze in the northwest.

TOILERS HEAR DEMAND FOR NEW ACTION

Murray Says 'Good Times' Impossible Without New Conditions

REED ASSAILS G. O. P.

William Green and Other Orators Voice Need For Relief

A ringing chorus of oratory went forth over the country Labor day, demanding change in American governmental affairs.

Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray at Chicago, James A. Reed at Columbus, Ohio, Senator Wagner of New York at Syracuse, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi at Tampa, Fla., were among the nationally known politicians advocating new lines of action for bolstering the nation's business.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and William Morrison, secretary of the A. F. L., were other important speakers of the day.

An optimistic picture of the country enjoying prosperity again before long was painted by Secretary of Labor Doak at Johnson City, Tenn.

CHANGE NECESSARY MURRAY DECLARES

SOLDIERS FIELD, CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma declared at a Labor day mass meeting today that "good times" would never return until the present economic system was changed. He added that the opportunity to make that change "will come in 1932."

"Conditions will be worse 12 months from now," the governor told thousands gathered in Soldier field, "and we will never have good times around the corner as long as the present economic errors are continued in government.

"We must correct the things that brought on this difficulty. We may have to break some of our relations, political or otherwise, but we must make the changes, even if both political parties are destroyed in the process."

Beyond the statement that the opportunity for change would come in 1932, Mr. Murray, frequently mentioned in his home state as a presidential possibility, made no reference to the next campaign.

"Alfalfa Bill" was accorded unusual hospitality. He was driven on the field of the big stadium in a large open car, preceded by two white motorcycles.

Cameramen kept so busy snapping the Oklahoman that he finally stopped his speech to ask them "for God's sake, haven't you had enough yet?"

"I'm trying to think," he told them. "I have no notes, no manuscript. You distract me."

The photographers were chased off the flag-draped speakers stand, and "Alfalfa Bill" went on.

REED BLAMES ALL ILLS ON G. O. P.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 7. (UP)—James A. Reed, former United States senator from Missouri, entered the political arena again tonight to dump all current economic ills on the doorstep of the Republican party.

Reviewing in detail the political and economic history of the last decade, Reed was uncompromising in his condemnation of the Republican party in a Labor day address here.

"It is hardly too much to say

Graf at Home After Ninth Atlantic Hop

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Sept. 7. (US)—The Graf Zeppelin, Germanys' busiest airship, today completed her ninth successful transatlantic crossing when she landed at the home hangar at 3:45 p. m.

The Graf left Pernambuco, Brazil, Friday morning and made the homeward trip in a little over 81 hours. The return trip was without incident.

Commander Dr. Hugo Eckener has announced that the Graf will make another trip to Brazil in October and still another early next spring.

Pot of Beans Remains for Children When Mother Is Jailed in Beer Raid

Wichita Falls, like other places, supplies little details which the Wickersham crime commission couldn't report. The afternoon of Labor day supplied such an instance, over on the north side, near Scotland park.

Four rooms in the house, almost destitute of furniture. No coverings of any sort on the floors. No pictures; a few pieces of wearing apparel hung on nails. In the kitchen, a begrimed coffee pot, more than half filled with much-used grounds; a huge kettle of beans, still warm—food for a mother and four children during the next few days. A gas range, showing evidence of much heavy use.

But the closet was well stocked, filled to overflowing—it counted 276 pints of beer, newly bottled. There were more than 50 empties, and two large clay jars. They all were confiscated. The two deputy-sheriffs brought the bottled stuff to the jail. The drive received another foaming bath as three negro trusties spent half an hour "popping" the goods.

The woman is in jail, although the officers are sure she had nothing to do with the liquor. The little boys, already skilled in parrying the officers' questions, remained alone at the house. The father, it was said, spends his time at another address on the north side, having practically deserted the family. But the house where the closet was filled with bottled beer proves a convenient place through which to carry on a business, it seems. He was not there, but his wife was; a kettle of beans was the food supply, and four children to feed. But his beer was there; and the wife is in jail.

vent his political enemy, Lieut. Gov. Paul N. Cyr, from becoming acting governor, was expected to make a hasty airplane trip to Austin to keep the engagement. Governor Sterling was on the program to introduce Governor Long, with whom he exchanged sharp public comment only last Friday night implying he thought the Louisiana governor might take less interest in Texas affairs.

Long Insists

Governor Long continued to insist that "if Texas will pass a law prohibiting cotton growing altogether, it will mean $250,000,000 more to farmers this year than they will get otherwise." In the course of a lengthy statement he asserted "a farmer can sit in the shade of a tree, if he is too lazy to do anything else, and make more money by planting no cotton next year than he can if he worked 365 days of the year to raise another cotton crop."

Governor Blackwood of South Carolina would not announce today the date of the special session of his general assembly but admitted such a session was a "certainty." Governor Russell of Georgia said he would issue a call for a special session "as soon as Texas acts" and Governor Parnell of Arkansas indicated he would act similarly.

Senator Oliver Cunningham of Abilene, who was co-author of an acreage reduction bill which failed during the last special session of the Texas legislature, discussed possible legislation today with Commissioner McDonald.

Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, one of the administration leaders, had drafted a bill understood to apply to crops next year and in 1933, prohibiting any man from planting more than half of his tillable land in cotton. It was believed such a step would reduce acreage 25 or 30 per cent.

Labor Day Talks Demand Change in Capitol

that the economic disasters of the world are largely chargeable to governmental blunders or crimes," Reed said.

President Hoover and the federal farm board drew particular fire in Reed's barrage of denunciation.

Operations of the farm board he characterized as "the most chimerical scheme ever born in the brain of man, not rising to the dignity of Bolshevism."

"Efforts of the agricultural department have been directed toward driving out of business the independent dealers in livestock, wheat and cotton, and to compel handling of these products through organizations and associations amalgamated with and operating through the agencies of the agricultural department—that is to say, the free and open market of the farmer is to be destroyed," Reed said. "He is to be compelled to sell in a market at a price fixed by governmental agencies.

"If that be not Bolshevism, then it is something worse than Bolshevism."

All attempts to regulate prices have failed, Reed declared.

"I charge that the operations of the farm board—the accumulation of a vast amount of wheat, liable at any time to be dumped upon the market, coupled with the breaking up or disruption of ordinary market values, is primarily responsible for the great depression in the prices of wheat, and that it has detrimentally affected the price of all farm products," he said.

"The first measure of relief is to dissolve the farm board, and recognize the fact that the farmer, through his individual exertions and local organization, can do better for himself than nine or 10 salaried gentlemen at Washington who have not a dollar invested in their ventures."

INCREASE IN PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (US)—Running through the Labor day addresses of prominent citizens throughout the nation today was an appeal for a great increase in federal, state and municipal appropriations for public construction to relieve the unemployment situation.

The one day on which the United States focuses upon the condition of the toilers, these speeches at widely-separated points indicated that when congress resumes in session there will be a concerted drive for a gigantic federal building program.

Senator Wagner of New York, delivering the chief Labor day address at the New York state fair opening at Syracuse, N. Y., said a $2,000,000,000 federal construction program should be the very minimum. As other aids to greater employment he urged modification of the Volstead act and establishment of a nation-wide system of employment offices.

Harrison Speaks

In Tampa, Fla., Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, told celebrators of the American Federation of Labor's golden anniversary that not only the federal government should "go its full length in cooperation with the states in accelerating every character of public work," but private industrial organizations should take advantage of these times to make improvements and extensions to plants.

If these policies are wholeheartedly inaugurated and carried forth, the unemployment problem can be largely met, he said.

Harrison said he hoped the states and municipalities would be able to meet next winter's distress problem, but if they fail he would brush precedent aside and appropriate funds for that purpose from the federal treasury.

A. F. L. Head Talks

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, speaking over the radio from Ottumwa, Iowa, said that many thousands of men could be put to work through greater public building, federal, state and municipal.

Work or the dole in some form is the major issue before the nation and it was up to employers to join in a national movement for the five-day week, shorter work day and distribution of available work to all non-workers, he said.

At the Chicago Federation of Labor's Soldier field exercises, William Morrison, secretary of the A. F. of L., challenged the United States Chamber of Commerce and National Association of Manufacturers to offer a constructive program for unemployment relief. He said they had failed so far to do so, when organized labor had presented such a plan.

Out in Cottonwood, Idaho, Senator Borah of Idaho, speaking at dedication of a monument to 17 volunteers in the Indian war, said the rich must feed the unemployed next winter, but "if they do not do it voluntarily, they will nevertheless do it."

Surtaxes will be jacked up by congress to provide relief funds, if the wealthy do not come forward voluntarily, he warned.

Secretary of Labor Doak in an address at the Appalachian Tri-State fair, Johnson City, Tenn., predicted that the United States "before long" again will stand upon "the substantial plane of prosperity."

The federal government's public building program, drastic reduction in immigration, Hawley-Smoot tariff act and steps taken by President Hoover were hastening better days, he said.

HOPE HELD FOR GUN VICTIM

Vernon Student Shot At Chillicothe Station

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Sept. 7.—Hope for the recovery of Shaw Lockard, 17, Vernon high school athlete wounded by a shotgun discharge at a Chillicothe filling station late Sunday night, brightened late Monday after the boy had rallied during the day at a Vernon hospital.

Oscar Truett, proprietor of a Chillicothe tourist camp is under an assault to murder charge growing out of the shooting.

Young Lockard was shot when he and J. H. Cobb, 16, and Aubrey Adams, 19, stopped at the fill station to put water in the radiator of the automobile in which they were driving toward their homes in Tolbert.

According to the story told investigators, Cobb and Lockard were out of the machine preparing to get the water at the closed filling station when Cobb glanced up to face a leveled shotgun in the hands of a man standing at the corner of the station. As he shouted a warning to his companions, the man started shooting, Cobb said. Lockard fell, wounded through the chest and arms. His companions lifted him into the car and sped away, followed by a hail of bullets, the boys said.

Truett was arrested and charged after the wounded youth had been taken first to his home and then to a Vernon hospital. The camp proprietor said he shot because he thought the boys were attempting to rob the station.

Farmers to Pay Hospital Bill With Vegetables

DALLAS, Sept. 7. (UP)—Tomatoes, sweet potatoes and home canned fruits and vegetables in large numbers will be brought to Baylor university hospital tomorrow by Van Zandt county farmers paying for medical treatment for their neighbors.

The hospital management today decided to accept this kind of payment for professional services after a conference between Bryce Twitty, business manager, and a group of farmers.

The emergency arose when it became necessary for Bart Cooper, Edgewood, to undergo an operation.

Girl Found Slain In Apartment of Chauffeur

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (INS)—Miss Catherine Cronin, pretty 20-year-old stenographer, whose body was found early this morning in the Greenwich Village apartment of Jack Hartegan, a chauffeur, was strangled to death, the medical examiner declared this afternoon after an autopsy. She had been criminally attacked, he reported.

Police were searching for Hartegan, who has disappeared, and said they expected to arrest him for questioning shortly.

The girl's unclad body was found by the chauffeur's mother, Mrs. John Hartegan, in the bedroom of her son's apartment.

WHEAT DEAL TO HELP MARKET

Trade Expects Prices To Start Climbing

By FRANK I. WELLER
Associated Press Farm Editor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—If previously expressed trade opinions hold good, the government's sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China on long time credit might be expected to pull the futures market out of the new low ground reached last week.

The amount is described as "only a drop in the bucket" but sufficient to relieve the farm board of part of its heavy storage costs, give work to the unemployed in grinding some of it into flour and start the machinery rolling toward reduction of stabilization stocks to around 100,000,000 bushels. That amount, the trade says, might be abandoned by the market in view of the reduced acreage for next season.

Higher Prices Forecast

Private forecasts, prior to the deal, were for higher domestic prices as a result of it.

The sag in futures was ascribed to slow export demand for the large stocks in surplus areas and continued heavy offering from Russia. Soviet shipments during August have been estimated at 22,500,000 bushels against less than 8,000,000 bushels for the same month last year. It is indicated the cargoes have been destined principally for the United Kingdom of Italy.

Heavy offerings in the face of continental trade restrictions carried October futures at Liverpool to within ¼ cent of the record low established in August. Prices of native wheats declined in Germany and France.

Europe's Acreage Up

European countries with high tariffs have done everything possible to increase the acreage of wheat to make themselves self-supporting and independent of exporting countries. The latter show evidence of reducing their acreage. The movement is slow because farmers are reluctant to change from wheat to other grains.

Excluding Russia and China, the trade estimates the world's wheat supply this year to be 160,000,000 bushels less than last year. That figure, it says, would indicate a normal reserve at the end of the season if acreage reduction continues. Much the same condition obtained in 1894 and a few years later there was much agitation about a possible world shortage of wheat.

The government estimates a reduction of 5,000,000 acres in winter wheat alone. There undoubtedly will be a reduction in the spring wheat area, and reduction in the Canadian acreage is forecast at 4,000,000 acres.

Private Estimates

There is a private estimate that 175,000,000 bushels of wheat, or about 20 per cent of the current domestic crop, will be fed to livestock compared with 120,000,000 to 140,000,000 bushels last year. The same source expects Canada to feed about 25,000,000 bushels compared with 14,000,000 last year and 6,000,000 bushels normally.

Corn markets made a further advance of 2 to 3 cents a bushel influenced by private estimates of a crop 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels smaller than the government's Aug. 1 forecast of 2,775,000,000 bushels. Some improvements in shipping demand was a strengthening influence.

Marked deterioration is said to have occurred in western and northwestern parts of the corn belt including Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and from Kansas northward. The crop has made generally favorable progress in Missouri, the Ohio valley and the more eastern districts.

Marketings showed a further reduction last week with primary receipts totaling only 1,616,000 bushels compared with 4,199,000 during the corresponding week last year.

Hall County Plans School Fountains

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Sept. 7.—A meeting was held Saturday afternoon in the office of the county superintendent for the purpose of considering propositions to place sanitary drinking fountains in the rural and independent schools of Hall county that do not have access to city water systems, Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, county superintendent, stated.

Representatives from all rural schools that need drinking fountains were present at the meeting. Bids were received from several companies as well as Hall county merchants relative to the installing of the fountains in the various schools. Since bids of the Hall county merchants proved satisfactory, it was decided to place the orders with them, Mrs. Guthrie stated. The county has been divided into trade units and the merchants in each unit will be asked to secure the fountains for the schools in their own territory.

Gammage and Deep Lake schools have already ordered the fountain for the respective schools and it is expected that 15 others will do so in the near future.

In Paris, a school has been established to teach the various branches of the motion picture industry, from production to distribution, by radio.

Last Survivor of Dalton Gang Finds Real Estate Beats Holdup

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Emmett Dalton, last survivor of the Dalton gang, notorious outlaws of the old Indian territory days, came to town on a little business trip Saturday, but he came without his pistols and departed without a posse on his heels as of old.

The one-time bank robber, train robber and all around desperado is now operating peaceably and profitably as a real estate dealer at Hollywood, Calif. He said there is more money in real estate than there ever was in bank robbing, and it is safer.

Dalton came back to look after his interests as a stockholder in the Warsaw Land company, an Ozark development concern of Warsaw, Mo. He said if things looked promising he would move back to Missouri, his native state, and spend his remaining days. He left Missouri 52 years ago at the age of 8.

Tall, straight and rugged, Dalton belies his 60 years. He is accompanied on his Missouri trip by his wife, who was Julian Johnson, his childhood sweetheart. She waited and married him upon his release from serving 14 years in prison for attempted simultaneous holdup of two banks in Coffeyville, Kan., Oct. 5, 1892, in which two other Dalton boys, Bob and Grant, two other outlaws and four citizens were killed.

Scotland Finally Offers Refuge To Ship's Prisoner

GLASGOW, Scotland, Sept. 7. (AP)—Peter Russell, "a man without a country," who has been shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic since last June, seems to have found a haven of rogue at last.

British and American immigration authorities declined to permit him to enter either country while they debated his nationality. When he arrived here today in the steamer Artigas, he learned that he had been proven to be a Scotman and was at liberty to go anywhere in Great Britain. He headed for Fife, where his home is.

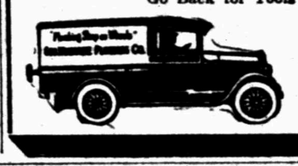

Russell's troubles began when he missed his ship at Cork last April. He stowed away on another bound for Boston, and was refused entry there because of conflicting information about his place of birth. He was deported, but the British ruled that he was not a subject of King George and he was sent back. During all the time that he steamed back and forth across the ocean, a technical prisoner, it cost about $8 a day to guard and feed him.

Another Charming Courtesy Honors Pretty Bride-Elect

Mrs. E. R. White was the charming hostess Monday afternoon at a tea honoring Miss Zaidee McKinney whose marriage to Edd Gowan will be an event of Sept. 9. Gladioli and asters in blue and yellow made the home lovely and emphasized the chosen colors of the bride-elect.

The dining table was a handsome picture in blue organdy over yellow satin with a center of yellow glads and blue asters in a handsome bowl; yellow tapers gleamed in blue holders and large brass candelabra on the buffet held blue candles. Mrs. J. Wilkie Talbert, seated before the handsome silver tea service, poured for the guests and Misses Pauline Jane Art and Betty Hargett, pretty members of the younger set, helped with the serving.

The bride-elect was a lovely picture in an aquamarine blue crepe afternoon gown, a yellow marigold corsage completing her lovely costume. Included in the house party with the hostess and honoree were Mesdames Marvin Smith, T. M. McKinney, Alfred C. Austin, J. M. Palmer of Waco, Texas, Paul G. Putty, J. Wilkie Talbert, Misses Madelyn McCarty, Rose Marion Art, Marjorie Bright, Margaret Bone, and Pauline Jane Art and Betty Hargett.

During the afternoon, approximately 50 friends called.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

There's a lawn on the corner of Tenth and Holliday that is a rest to one's heart—tho' we've no idea to whom it belongs. It is a back lawn of which we speak and even when the weather is most breathless, it gives one a feeling of freshness to pass by. There are trees and shrubs and a smooth turf and clumps of the prettiest pink cannas we have ever looked up. Early in the spring, one sees so many lovely back lawns—spots where a family spends pleasant outdoor hours; but a September garden is quite a different thing.

Clematis is in full bloom now; the vines hang white as if sprinkled with snow. Sycamore leaves are already beginning to turn yellow and drop from their branches. The period when the outside of homes does not need so much attention coincides with the period of club activities. We wonder if there is anything to be drawn from that fact.

For club activities are waxing now. Perusal of the yearbooks of the Woman's Forum and of some 18 other women's clubs leads one to believe that matrons and maids mean to accomplish something in the coming season. Deep in our uncomfortable summer consciousness, we feel that it is a good thing that year books are prepared before the hot weather comes.

We met an old woman once on a visit to Missouri who used the word "ambition" as a synonym for what this modern generation thinks of as "pep." If she happened to be listless, she said she had no "ambition." According to her definition, we are one of those who have no ambition during the hot weather.

If it rains and turns cool, our wavering mind may streighten and travel down pretty lanes. Otherwise it glimmers, dances from one thing to another—things altogether disconnected.

This morning we remarked to a man we met that we were on our way to find who would pour tea at a social function and he asked us quite seriously (seemingly) if we ever told of how they poured tea.

The idea has haunted us. It seems to us that a most interesting woman's column might be made by telling how tea was poured; by telling how luncheon was eaten; how a talk should have been made; how unentertaining a picnic was.

It goes back to the old haunting idea of telling the exact truth for one day, something that has never been done.

We have had vague discussions through the day on fashions and fame, on religion and rioting, on justice and injustice. When we get them sorted out, we are going to write some real columns.

WICHITA RURAL SCHOOLS OPEN

2900 Pupils Begin Term In 19 Communities

Approximately 2,900 pupils will begin scholastic work in a new term Tuesday morning with the advantage of all economies which possibly could be evolved in preparation for the year, according to J. A. Hood, county school superintendent.

In 19 of the more than 20 rural schools in the county, preliminary organization of classes was effected Monday morning in brief sessions, Mr. Hood stated. In discussing the teaching staff for the ensuing term, Mr. Hood said that a considerable number of the 100 teachers have college degrees, and that all but five are holdovers from last year.

Pupils will not be asked to buy extra books this year, it was announced. Teachers were reminded by the superintendent that "there are enough adopted texts in this state to give children plenty of theoretical learning without the necessity of putting parents to additional expense for more books."

Principals of rural schools also have been urged to give pupils the full benefit of the prevailing lower price scale with reference to cafeteria service. It was indicated that material reductions should be made in food prices for the school children.

with a fate blacker than death!

Crazed with blood-flaming rum—those savage Kaffirs attacked! It will challenge your belief to read of the jungle horrors heaped upon this beautiful woman, who actually lived to tell her own true story in words so frank they terrify.

"IF those degenerate Kaffirs had only killed me," this beautiful woman writes, "I would not today be tortured with telling you of that horrible jungle night.

"Now that I have the safety of a home in this greatest of all lands, it haunts me like a hideous nightmare that my husband and I were once driven from Natal, by the ferocious Zulus. From there, we trekked toward the promised peace of Zoutspanberg. Through endless miles of dense, foul-smelling jungle swamps, we waged our fight for life—against lethal snakes, ravenous crocodiles and beasts, and the tsetse fly's death-fever.

"But death at the hands of any natural jungle peril would have been sweet wine compared to the bitter fate awaiting me in the land of the Kaffir savages. They stalked us for days, and every mile I could see fear—fear for me—mounting in my husband's eyes—when finally—the Kaffirs attacked!

"Drunk and crazed, they rent the black night air with guttural shouts. I knew what they meant, and prayed for death, if my husband fell. Yes, rather death a thousand times over!

"My husband cursed, fired, killed one savage after another, but still their closing circle clamped us like a vise—AND THEN—like a charging tiger, a warrior dashed at my husband and crashed at his skull with a deadly Knobkerrie club . . ."

PASTOR DENIES HE SLEW SON

Georgia Preacher Held On Murder Charge

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 7. (INS)—Evidence was sought today by police to support their theory that Rev. J. N. Williams, 45-year-old minister, lured his sailor son from his ship in New York and then shot him to death on a lonely road to collect $2,500 life insurance.

The minister, held on a warrant charging murder, declared he was as "innocent as my little baby" of charges he killed his son, Raford Grady Williams, 22, a United States sailor.

The body of the youth was found Aug. 5 on a lonely road near Augusta.

Sheriff Gray N. Whittle meanwhile assembled clues with which he hoped to form conclusive evidence against the middle-aged minister.

Mexico Annoyed When China Asks U. S. to Interoene in Squabble

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (UP)—China's appeal to the United States to use its good offices in behalf of Chinese allegedly being persecuted in Mexico, has prejudiced the cause of the Chinese residents here more than almost anything the Nanking government could have done. It has also placed American Ambassador J. Reuben Clark Jr., in an exceedingly embarrassing position.

The Mexican foreign secretary, Jenaro Estrada, displayed more indignation at the Chinese action than at anything that had happened for months. And incidents which aroused Secretary Estrada's wrath have not been infrequent recently. But the idea of the United States interceding in Mexico's fuss with China was positively nauseating to him.

The foreign secretary publicly expressed his opinion of the imprudence of the request for mediation which the Chinese legation at Washington conveyed to the state department. It was made equally clear that the United States government will be well advised to attend strictly to its own business—and that the difficulties of the Chinese merchants in northern Mexico are outside this category.

China a few days previously had been on the point of severing diplomatic relations with Mexico but this was because the intercession of the federal government up to that time had failed to suppress the anti-Chinese campaign in the north.

Strictly unofficial anti-Chinese committees, encouraged by a so-called directing committee for anti-Chinese activities composed of seven members of the federal congress, had succeeded in closing 80 per cent of the Chinese business houses in Sonora, had so frightened the Chinese there that hundreds had left their homes and had warned all Chinese in the state to be gone by Sept. 5.

CLUB EXHIBIT SET SEPT. 11

Hardeman Farm Women To Display Goods

QUANAH, Texas, Sept. 7.—Sixteen Hardeman county home demonstration clubs will hold a two-day exhibit in Quanah, Sept. 11-12, building their own booths in a downtown store building and competing for first and second place on exhibit and accomplishments of their club. These exhibits are held annually under the general title of achievement day by each county's clubs.

The winner of first place will send the exhibit to the Tri-State fair in Amarillo, and after showing there it will be sent to the Dallas fair.

At two Quanah trades days this year these clubs have held exhibits, one a general exhibit while the other was a cheese display. Hundreds of visitors to these trades days displays were astounded at the variety of products and accomplishments of the various clubs. Substantial prizes were awarded from the merchants of Quanah in both events.

It is expected the display Sept. 11-12 will draw several thousand people to Quanah. Business men of Quanah and the county are cooperating.

Miss Elsie Phillips, county home demonstration agent, will be in charge of the exhibit. Competent out of town judges will preside.

Hardeman's Test Farm Raises 445 Different Crops

QUANAH, Texas, Sept. 7.—Farmers in this section of Texas should not have to worry about "what to plant instead of cotton" if they will follow in even small degree the example set by one Hardeman county farmer who certainly does not farm under the "one-crop" plan.

A recent count on this farm shows a total of 445 different varieties of field crops being grown and in addition a great collection of flowers and shrubbery, trees and evergreens.

J. Roy Quinby is superintendent of this farm, which is known as the Chillicothe Experiment farm, and which is maintained by state and federal departments of agriculture for developing and testing out various farm products which are best adapted to this particular section of Texas.

At the present time this station is growing 250 different varieties of sorghums, 48 varieties of cotton, 25 varieties of field peas, 20 varieties of grasses, 20 varieties of clovers, 12 varieties of alfalfa, 10 varieties of wheat, 10 varieties of barley and 50 varieties of hybrid grains and sorghums yet unnamed.

County Agent Luther T. Hunter and about 50 farmers, farm women and 4-H club boys spent a day at the station last week, when Mr. Quinby explained in minute detail many of the different problems and technicalities of experiment work.

Following a picnic lunch and a watermelon feast cards were signed by all men and boys and announcement was made by Mr. Quinby that each will be given sufficient seed for a start of several different varieties of the new grain sorghums.

All farmers in this section are at all times welcome at the station, Mr. Quinby advises, and he is glad to cooperate with them in their problems regarding farming in this section. County Agent Hunter also insists that farmers not only of Hardeman county, but outside, get the benefit of this public experiment farm by visiting and studying methods on this farm.

Rain Halts Takeoff On Pacific Flight

SAMUSHIRO, Japan, Sept. 7. (AP)—A soggy beach and a troublesome cross wind kept the California fliers, Don Moyle and C. A. Allen, from taking off today on their long-planned non-stop flight across the North Pacific ocean.

The fliers, enthusiastic and confident, announced themselves satisfied with tests of their ship and ready to take the air as soon as the weather permits—possibly tomorrow.

Rain last night robbed the natural beach runway of its firmness, and since the plane will weigh more than 5½ tons at the takeoff the pilots decided they could not chance a spill. Fully loaded the plane will carry 1,020 gallons of gasoline.

They took off on a test flight yesterday with 800 gallons in the tanks and had no difficulty getting into the air after a run of less than 150 yards, but that was before the rain spoiled the beach.

The plane is heavier than it was when Thomas Ash Jr., tried to get it off the beach here earlier this year for a flight to Seattle, but Moyle explained last night that added lifting power had been given the motor by trimming an inch from either end of the propellor. He said this let the motor turn over faster.

Double Slaying Revealed to Police

DENVER, Sept. 7. (INS)—Denver police and state officers were puzzled today over an apparent double murder disclosed with the discovery of the body of an unidentified youth who was thrown from a blood stained automobile near Holyoke, Colo. The automobile was later found abandoned in Denver. Local police learned, they said, that the car had been stolen in Kansas City, and that a man was killed and tossed from the car in that city sometime Sunday.

The body that was thrown from the machine near Holyoke was of a youth about 20 years old. He had college fraternity pins that indicated he belonged to a chapter of Pi Altha in some Michigan college. He wore a necktie that had been purchased in a haberdashery in Charlevoix, Mich.

DIZZY HEADACHE RELIEVED

A DIZZY, sickening headache often is a warning sign of constipation. Poisons which constipation dams up in the intestines are beginning to get in their dangerous work.

There's refreshing relief in a dose or two of Thedford's Black-Draught.

"I first began taking Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation," writes Mrs. Alonzo Rothrock, of Illmo, Mo. "I would have sick headache and dizziness so I could not stoop over. I did not get any better until I began taking Black-Draught. After using it for some time, I quit having sick headache."

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has underlying it enough bituminous coal to supply 10,000,000 tons a year for 800 years, not to mention 20,000,000,000 tons of lignite, according to Texas university bureau of economic geology. And its other fuels—coal, lignite, wood—are being conserved by the use of natural gas, of which it has numerous fields, the largest of which is estimated by geologists to have 8,000 billion cubic feet as yet untouched.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Several Texas cities and counties are taking advantage of cheaper money to refund outstanding bonds at lower interest rates. Fort Worth, for instance, figures it will save $800,000 during the life of some of its bonds by issuing $1,792,000 worth of refunding bonds at lower rates. . . . Municipal improvements are numerous throughout the state. Dallas is ready to start 42 sewer extension jobs at a cost of $500,000. Fort Worth, just completing the important Jennings avenue viaduct, plans to widen both Jennings and Throckmorton street with favorable response from interested property owners. . . . Dallas, completing the widening of South Akard and North Ervay, is about ready to start on its most ambitious recent street widening project, that of Ross avenue from downtown into the residential area at a total cost of $750,000, two-thirds of which will be borne by property holders on the street and the remainder by the city. . . . When an emergency arose in the Texarkana airport situation, Texarkana business men raised $20,000 with which to meet it. Now come Texarkana citizens and vote —461 for to 87 against—for a $20,000 airport bond issue with which to reimburse its liberal business men. . . . Dallas sold this week $800,000 airport improvement bonds and $500,000 street improvement bonds—the first to improve and enlarge Love field and the latter principally for street-widening projects. Tentative contracts have been let for $93,000 worth of new runways, $25,000 additions to present runways, $14,000 for additional lighting facilities, $20,000 for administration building, $25,000 for additional drainage at the Love field airport. . . . Luling lets contract for a new city hall. Underpass costing $75,000 is to be built for Seventh street, Waco, by the Katy, while at Fort Worth the International-Great Northern is to spend $30,000 on an underpass for East Ragsdale. . . . Wichita County Drainage District No. 2 lets contract for $44,406 worth of improvements. . . . Gregg county votes $200,000 court house bonds by a majority of 11, rejects, by the same vote, a $650,000 road bond issue (which requires a two-thirds majority) . . . Houston lets $426,627 contract for dredging the ship channel. . . . Foard county is to have a county park through the generosity of J. T. Gribble, pioneer citizen, who gave 40 acres to the American Legion post for that purpose.

Hambone's Mediations

Record News Program for Wichita Falls

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

Henry Ford wants his employes to have their own gardens for vegetables. Probably he wants the boys to know their onions.

The new Empress Eugenie hats may help to revive the corset and bustle industries, say fashion experts. That ought to pull us out of the depression in pretty good shape, anyway.

Governmental Economy

AS ONE of its planks in a program for Wichita Falls, under the heading of "Governmental Economy," the Record News in each issue declares in favor of "the adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others."

In their budgets for the coming year Wichita county and the city of Wichita Falls have made deep cuts and the operating costs of these two units of local government will be several hundred thousand dollars less than in the preceding year. With such reductions already provided it might be suggested that this plank be dropped from the program as a thing already accomplished.

It is through no lack of appreciation of the reductions that have been accomplished by our city and county officials that this plank will continue in the program that appears daily. They have faced a situation squarely and have taken necessary action. They have done so without any radical changes in administration of our local governments.

But this newspaper believes that further and more permanent reductions can be made and efficiency increased through the elimination and consolidation of offices, and especially as applied to the county through radical changes in the whole system of administration.

In the Sunday Times is appearing a series of articles by Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York, on outworn, wasteful and inefficient county government. The examples he gives are drawn from other states and especially from his own state of New York where a system of county government established 200 years ago to meet the conditions then existing is still in effect today. Texas is a newer commonwealth and our examples are, perhaps, not so glaring, but if the fathers who established our government had the making of the system today they would certainly take modern conditions and modern methods into account.

Charles Evans Hughes, now chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, once said that Governor Smith was the best exponent of practical statesmanship, or words to that effect. In his present series of articles calling attention to the waste and inefficiency in local government, which are being published by newspapers throughout the country, he is performing a public service which ought not to be reckoned among the lesser of his services.

The Record News is hopeful that the publication of his articles in several papers in Texas of large circulation will cause study of our own system of local government in which there is certainly room for reform.

Sentiment Still Lives

MRS. EMMA MARTIN, 80, of Chicago, and Norville Williams, 86, of Niles, Ill., were married the other day, after having been divorced for 34 years. They had been married for 29 years and reared five children before they separated.

The reunion of this couple seems proof that sentiment is still a powerful factor in society, in spite of the scientific trend of modern philosophy which sometimes insists that steel and iron and the five-year plan are much more potent. Memories apparently last just as long as they did when a song-at-twilight set the tempo of the age.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were in partnership during the best years of their lives. They probably sacrificed now and then in order to buy rose-sprigged cups for the dining room, and wondered why boys' shoes wear out so much faster than girls'. They may have congratulated each other because their sweet peas grew higher than their neighbors'. All of their dreams and longings and aspirations grew up, side by side.

But when their children were grown, and their days weren't quite so busy, and they didn't have the sense of being needed so much, they reached a crossroads. They separated.

But they couldn't forget. Maybe the scent of lilacs, rain-sweet in early spring, did funny things to their hearts. Maybe the sight of a father and mother and five small children walking down the street together called up a picture that had a lot in common with the younger family.

Anyway, they kept remembering. When their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren started to suggest that they ought to get married again, they listened and took the advice. Not so much, it is fairly safe to wager, because the others wanted them to do so, but because they themselves were lonesome for each other. Besides, their second marriage has a sense of novelty. The intervening years have wrought changes in both of them.

Middle age may change people. But the last years of life are rather pathetically dependent on the first years. They seem to tie up together. People don't talk so much of what they did when they were 50. But they reminisce about the teens and the twenties.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams needn't worry about a community of interests. They have it, and they took a very wise step.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE 90-YEAR-OLD TWINS—Though Henry Brinker and Mrs. Louise Brinker Barron, both of Easton, Pa., are twins they were born on different days, in different months, and in different years. Henry Brinker was born on the evening of Dec. 31, 1840, and his sister was born on the morning of Jan. 1, 1841, at Forks Township, Pa.

At present they are one of the oldest pairs of twins in America, and they have always made their home in Easton or vicinity.

DEAD MAN WINS A FIGHT—Young Bruno of Moundsville, W. Va., in a boxing match held at Wheeling, W. Va., June 23, 1930, was struck a wild blow by Earl Bridges of Warwood, W. Va. Bruno fell to the floor very violently, just a few seconds before the bell ended the fight, saving him from a knockout. Although dead, Young Bruno was declared victor because he had easily won every round up to that time.

As a result of Bruno's death Bridges and his promoter were arraigned before an Ohio county grand jury, but were found not guilty.

Week End

Crush this to your heart and force the last
Ecstatic drop of joy from its short span;
Today's a silver curtain on the past,
Tomorrow flies with boredom in its van . . .

Take my kiss and wear it on your mouth,
Frame my ardent glance within your mind;
The one a spring against the coming drouth,
The other light and warmth with this behind.

The memories you fashion now may well
Serve you when the days grow dull and bleak,
So gather up these sweets that you may dwell
Secure against the blankness of next week.

For, Monday you type bills for cloaks and suits,
While I sell Broadway cowboys marked down boots!

Just for the Records

The Herald Trib stumbled on Saturday. One of its editorials, titled "Battle in Boston," dealt with that city's scholary critics. It said in part: "Now, too, is a time to test the critical capacities of those most scholarly reviewers, Mr. Hale and Mr. Parker. . . . Bravely let Mr. Hale gird on his opera cloak and sally forth from the elegance of his new editorial rooms armed with amazing Latinity and erudition. A battle of the muses impends."

If a corporation, dividends are paid on the stock in accordance with the amounts earned on the securities held. The purpose is to spread investments over a wide field so that if one investment goes bad it will be balanced by another which will pay. The owner of stock in the investment trust thus gets the benefit of the wide spread over a great many risks.

Q.—Why do crackers get soft while bread gets hard when stale?—H. S.

A.—It is a difference in composition. In bread there is a great deal of water in the starch which is an important ingredient of bread. As the bread stands the water gradually leaves the starch and the bread becomes hard and dry. In crackers, on the other hand, there is a special drying process used in the baking which takes the water out of the starch, hence there takes place in the cells of crackers an absorption of the moisture from the air.

Q.—For whom was the Prince Albert coat named?—R. N. W.

A.—The long double-breasted frock coat for men is named after Prince Albert, the Prince Consort of Queen Victoria.

PASTOR FACES CHURCH TRIAL

Woman's Charges Veiled In Secrecy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (INS)—Mystery veiled today the charges preferred by a woman against Rev. Dr. William A. Shelton, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist church, South, here.

A committee of five preachers appointed by Bishop E. D. Mouzon, of Charlott, N. C., has investigated the charges and decided Shelton must face a trial before a church board. The woman who made the charges was Miss Carrie A. Williams, formerly Shelton's secretary.

The Mount Vernon Place church was the scene of the trial of Bishop James Cannon last winter.

Shelton served in May, 1930, on a committee of the episcopacy at the Dallas quadrennial conference of the Southern Methodist church, South which voted to "pass on the character of Bishop Cannon." Cannon was acquitted after he had expressed regret over his stock market transactions.

Neither Shelton nor the other churchmen concerned in Miss Williams' charges would discuss the case today.

Dr. J. H. Balthis, presiding elder of the Washington district issued this statement:

"Because of persistent rumors concerning the character of the Rev. William A. Shelton, pastor of the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal church, South, Bishop E. D. Mouzon appointed an investigating committee of five preachers. This committee on Sept. 4, 1931, decided that in fairness to all parties concerned it would be wise to have a church trial."

Mrs. Bassett To Continue Battle

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 7. (UP)—Mrs. Mabel Bassett, commissioner of charities and corrections, is prepared to continue her prosecution preceedings against employes at the institute for feeble minded at Enid, she announced today.

She will go to Enid tomorrow to confer with Dave Bucher, Garfield county attorney, Mrs. Bassett said, preparatory to filing charges of maltreatment of inmates against hospital executives and attendants.

Mrs. Bassett will go over testimony taken in her investigation of the institution, with Bucher. Filing of charges and the nature of the charges depended upon Bucher's decision, she said.

Delayed by illness in her family, Mrs. Bassett said she now was ready to carry the fight to a finish.

Windstorm Destroys Oklahoma Ball Stand

ATOKA, Okla., Sept. 7. (AP)—One man was killed and one seriously injured when a windstorm razed the grandstand at a baseball game here yesterday.

Arch Stone, 35, Atoka, was killed. Dudley Goad, Stringtown, received a crushed leg. It was amputated. Several other persons were slightly hurt.

Spectators were fleeing from the grand stand to a nearby railroad depot when the roof was lifted from the stand and blown to the railroad tracks, passing over most of the fleeting persons and striking those who were in front.

The roof of the old opera house in which the Atoka agreement was made 35 years ago between the government and the Choctaws and Chickasaws was blown away, big oak trees were uprooted and other damage caused.

The Causes of Varicose Veins

Varicose veins usually begin in middle life as the elasticity of the tissues becomes gradually lessened. The veins which are the farthest away from the heart, and without the support of other tissues, are the ones usually affected. For this reason we most frequently find varicose veins just under the skin of the legs and thighs, and next in frequency those of the rectum and spermatic cord.

The affected veins become larger than normal not only in diameter but in length as well, giving the veins a tortuous appearance. The enlarged part of the vein wall becomes very thin and appears a purplish blue color through the skin. In the beginning there is a feeling of weight due to the valves, which should support the weight of the blood, becoming atrophied. The pain becomes severe as the walls of the vein are stretched. There is a danger that the taut walls of the vein become inflamed and form clots of blood. The clots prove dangerous if violent exercise or massage dislodge them into the blood stream, which may carry them to the brain or lung and cause death. The enlargement may also become ulcerated or abscessed, or serum may seep through the thin walls and form edema.

It is interesting to note that man is about the only animal who suffers from varicose veins, probably because he stands upright, and there is such a great pressure of blood in the thin walled leg veins which have not yet become adapted by evolution to withstand the additional strain. Those who staand at their work are the most frequent victims of this disorder. The wearing of tight girdles or garters is often a predisposing cause of varicose veins, but the pressure may also come from other causes, such as obstruction of the veins because of disease of the liver or the pressure of prolapsed abdominal organs. Hemorrhoids, which are really varicose veins of the rectum, may be produced by enlarged ovaries or the pressure of constipation. Varicose veins in the temples are sometimes induced by wearing tight collars. Varicose veins may also be the result of injuries or blows, which cause an inflammation of the vein. When a varicosed vein is broken open through injury, it usually bleeds profusely and may sometimes cause death unless ligatures are applied.

Varicose veins, unless carefully treated, tend to become worse as the vein becomes widened, and its valve cups pulled apart, allowing the blood to throw extra weight upon the next valve below. Ulcers may also form when the disease has existed for some time.

Many methods are used for treating varicose veins, such as surgically moving the engorged veins, or rendering them fibrous by the injection treatment. Sometimes also the patient is advised to wear rubber stockings or elastic bandages. I have not seen as satisfactory results from any of these treatments as from a general health building regimen to improve the quality of the blood so that the veins will have proper nourishment for developing stronger walls. It is also necessary to correct any prolapsus or tumors of the abdominal organs which may be pressing upon the veins. The diet must be arranged so that the liver can function freely without obstructing the veinous circulation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Drinking Water When Fasting

Question—A. Q. asks: "In taking an orange juice fast where you prescribe an eight ounce glass of orange juice every two hours should one mix water with the juice or use water between taking the orange juice?"

Answer—I think it is better not to dilute the orange juice, but you may drink as much water as you like in between. A large amount of water assists in eliminating the toxins in the blood stream.

Calcium Oxalate

Question—Fern writes: "I recently had a microscopical urinalysis which showed an amount of calcium oxalate. What is the cause of this?"

Answer—Calcium oxalate crystals are formed in a person with poor metabolism who uses foods containing large amounts of oxalic acid. The foods which contain oxalic acid in sufficient quantity to become noticeable during an urinalysis are cocoa, tea, sorrel, rhubarb, chocolate, pepper and spinach. A fruit fast will usually correct the metabolism and overcome this tendency.

Doesn't Pay to Go Without Sleep

Question—Ted says: "I am 20 years old and apparently in good health. Just recently I began working a night shift from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. My work is very light and there is nothing to do but sit around. Would you attempt taking several college summer school courses and working these hours? Would this job be injurious to good health?"

Answer—At your age you should get at least seven or eight hours sleep, and I would advise you not to take on the college courses unless you can work them in after allowing the alloted number of hours for sleep.

Quanah Band Leader Quits After Budget Cut

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Sept. 7.—The city council of Quanah at a recent meeting reduced the allotment for the support of Quanah Municipal band from $2,100 annually to $180, giving as the reason therefor that this money would be used during the coming winter for relief work and to aid unemployment.

As result of this move E. S. Hamilton, band director for the past several years, will probably move to Oklahoma within a few days. He has several offers from that state, one of them from his former home in Madill, and has not yet definitely decided which one he will accept.

Quanah Municipal band under his direction has recently achieved considerable publicity through radio programs over station KGKO, Wichita Falls, and had to refuse an offer to become part of the regular program from this station.

STEERS WIN BOTH GAMES OF LABOR DAY DOUBLE-HEADER

LOEPP'S HOMER CINCHES FIRST

Fifth Inning Rally Ties Up Second Game

Special to The Record News.

DALLAS, Sept. 7.—Dallas grabbed both games of the Labor day double-header here tonight, taking the first game, 5 to 4, and the second, 8 to 3. Loepp's homer in the seventh inning with two runners aboard enabled Dallas to come from behind to cinch things and in the nightcap the locals counted six times in the fifth to sew up the decision.

After two were out in the second, Scharein singled past the pitcher and galloped home on Euller's long double against the right center field fence. However, the steers came right back to tie the count when Langford singled and Jones walked to start things. James singled to center, scoring Langford, but was trapped between first and second. When Jones attempted to score on the play, he was caught at the plate and James went to second. Kelly was safe on Allday's error and Tesmer walked, filling the bases. The day was saved when Adkins hit into a double play, Euller to Allday to Gerken.

The Steers moved into a one-run lead in their third. Benes rolled to Gerken but when Vincent failed to cover first, he was credited with a hit. Cox sacrificed, Gerken to Allday, who covered first, and Loepp singled to center, counting Benes.

Two unearned runs put the Spudders in front in the seventh. Vincent skied to Loepp to start things and Garms walked. Allday dropped a Texas leaguer in right but Garms was forced at second on the play, James to Benes. Badgro walked and both runners advanced when Kelley dropped Adkins' throw after the latter had picked Allday off second. Gerken singled to center, scoring both runners and took third when Loepp allowed the ball to get away from him. Bradbury lined out to Jones.

After two were out in the Dallas half, Benes drew an infield hit to Gerken and Cox singled to left. Loepp followed with a long home run into the left field stands, scoring Benes and Cox ahead of him. Langford fanned. Neither club threatened seriously in the eighth and Spudders were retired in order in the ninth.

Second Game

Things started off quietly in the second game and no scoring took place in the initial frame. However, in the second inning when James stole second after forcing Langford, the scoring started. Kelly followed with a single to left, giving the Herd the first run of the game. Carl Williams' boys lost little time, however, in taking the lead in their half of the third. Euller opened the fireworks with a single to left and took second as Kelly threw out White. Garms tripled to right, scoring Euller and he, himself, scored as James threw out Allday. Badgro singled to right and was picked off first by Minogue, but was safe when Benes' return throw during the chase hit Cox in the eye. He was replaced at first by Leo Cotter. Gerken fanned.

Dallas tied things again in the third when Benes walked with one out and took second when Gerken dropped White's throw when he attempted to pick him off the initial bag. Loepp doubled over Fuss' head bringing in the runner.

Combining two doubles, a pair of singles, two walks, a hit batsman and a costly error by Scharein, the Steers iced the game with a six-run rally in the fifth.

Two hits and an error enabled the Spuds to score one run in their half of the sixth. Minogue was master of the situation with the bases full and retired the last two batsmen.

BAILEY-MOLINE WINS PAIR

Hardware Nine Sweeps Series With Grocers

O'Dell McDuffy hogged the whole show Monday afternoon at Katy park when he turned back the Sullivans Grocery nine twice to allow Bailey-Moline to sweep the three-game series 2 to 1 and 3 to 0. McDuffy pulled the "iron man" stunt along with Steve "Iron Man" Franklin, with the Bailey-Moline ace getting stronger all the way. McDuffy gave up only four hits in the first game, two of them doubles by Franklin and Flip Hoskins coming together for the only Sullivan run.

In the second game, Jack Cossey's long triple in the first inning was the only hit off McDuffy. Franklin hurled just about as brilliant a brand of baseball for the losers in both games, giving up only four bingles in the first game and seven in the nightcap.

Sullivans made only two errors in the first game, but they came in succession just before Coker's single to score the two runs off Franklin. Buss collected two of the four hits in the first game while Jess Coker, Cy Hills and Cecil Allison collected two each in the second. Sensational fielding by Lots Anderson, Aulcy Thorn and Red Nichols in the outfield featured the game. Scores:

Dizzy Dean suffered his ninth defeat of the season after receiving the Texas league most valuable player award from J. Alvin Gardner, loop president. Dean fanned 10 men to run his total to 296. Yanks Unloose Home Run Attack To Sweep Twin Bill With Champs

World's Series To Open Oct. 1

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—The world's series between the champion Philadelphia Athletics and the National league winner, either St. Louis or New York, will begin Oct. 1, executives of the National and American leagues decided today after a meeting with Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Whether the opening scene will be St. Louis or New York remained to be determined but Philadelphia was designated as the city in which the contending clubs will meet after the first two games on National league grounds.

Should the Cardinals clinch the pennant, the Missouri City will see the teams in action Thursday and Friday, Oct. 1 and 2, and Saturday and Sunday will be open dates for travel to Philadelphia, where three games will be staged Oct. 5, 6 and 7.

In the event more than five games are necessary, the battleground again will shift to St. Louis and play resumed Oct. 9.

GAS BONDS UP IN VOTE TODAY

Memphis and Wellington To Decide Issue

A prolonged gas rate war will reach a climax in two Northwest Texas cities Tuesday when Memphis and Wellington citizens vote on bond issues proposed for the financing of municipal gas plants. In both cities a $65,000 issue is proposed and interest in the elections has been stimulated by a long controversy over rates charged by the Northwest Texas Utilities company which serves both towns.

Municipally owned plants were proposed in each city after negotiations between city officials and the gas company for lower rates failed. The company has recently filed a statement of earnings and of proposed new rates with the council in each city.

Widespread interest in the issue is expected to bring a record number of voters to the polls.

Iowa Park Man Hurt When Ladder Topples

John W. Beasley, 64, of Iowa Park, is at the Wichita General hospital with a broken back as the result of a fall from a ladder while painting at Iowa Park Monday afternoon. Although his condition is deemed serious, it is not believed to be critical, hospital attendants said.

The accident occurred when the ladder on which he was standing slipped as he was painting an agitator. Mr. Beasley has been a resident of Iowa Park for many years and is well known there.
