Voting Turnout Is Heavy

The SDN Column

What a difference one vote can make!

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, in urging all Texans to vote in today's general election, reminded that back in 1845 Texas was annexed to the United States by a single vote in the Senate.

Some other famous one-vote decisions:

One vote cost King Charles I of England his head in 1649.

Elizabeth II is Queen of England today because the House of Commons voted 96-95 over 250 years ago in favor of the House of Hanover.

In 1824, John Quincy Adams was elected President of the United States over Andrew Jackson because a single representative from New York changed his vote.

In 1876, Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President of the United States over Samuel J. Tilden by a vote of 185 to 184 in the electoral college.

One of the more famous one-vote decisions in modern times possibly was cast in Congress just a few weeks before the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor and pulled the United States into World War II. The draft law was up for an extension and there was a tie. Sam Rayburn, the Speaker of the House from Texas, came down off the rostrum and cast his vote for the Selective Service Law, which meant that the country had a draft law in effect on Pearl Harbor Day. Otherwise, our armed forces would have been required to start all over again after Pearl Harbor, which could have been devastating.

So, if you haven't been to the polls today and figure your vote won't mean much, don't take anything fo granted. You could cast an important ballot.

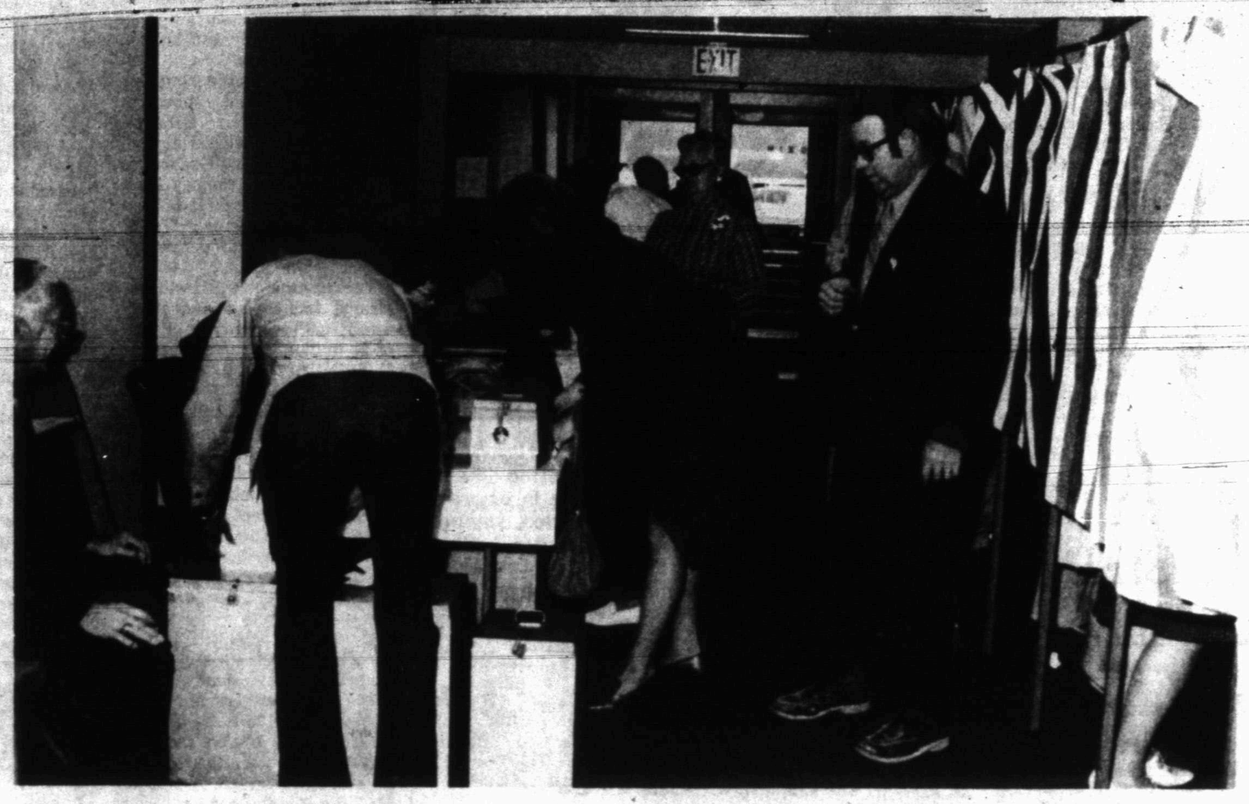
Did you know that political oratory led to organization of the University Interscholastic League in Texas? Well, it did, at least indirectly. The UIL grew out of a request by a group of school administrators in 1910 for a sponsoring agent for debates by public school pupils. The popularity of forsensics had zoomed because of the famous Bryan-Douglas oratory.

Now, the UIL sponsors competitive events in 17 literary, or academic events and in 15 athletic events. Track and field events were added in 1911 and from there, the organization has grown to its present proportions. WACIL McNAIR



SCURRY COUNTIANS VOTE — There was a brisk demand for ballots this morning as Scurry County voters went to the polls to make their choices in the general election. This is an early-morning scene at the Precinct No. 1 polling place in the Scurry County Courthouse as the election judge for that box, Del Hirst, standing with his back to the voting booths, keep an eye on operations while voters deposit ballots in the box as others are marking them in the booths and still others are being issued ballots at the table.

Record Is Anticipated

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

Generally poor weather over most of the nation failed to stem an anticipated record turnout today as voters chose between "four more years" of Richard M. Nixon and Democrat George S. McGovern, "the come home America" candidate.

Heavy rains or thunderstorms troubled many sections except the West and Northeast. And still, Americans were up early and in large numbers everywhere.

By day's end, more than 80 million Americans were expected to cast their ballots. Besides the race between the Republican President and his uphill-fighting rival from the Senate, voters will pick 18 governors, 33 senators and an entire House.

Nixon voted at San Clemente, Calif., near the Western White House. McGovern returned to his hometown, Mitchell, S.D. Nixon's running mate, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, balloted in Towson, Md., a suburb of Baltimore, while McGovern's stablemate, Sargent Shriver, cast his vote in Rockville, Md., a Washington suburb.

John Schmitz, presidential nominee of the American Party, planned to vote at midday in Tustin, Calif., his home city.

Two former presidents, Harry S. Truman and Lyndon B. Johnson, were using absentee ballots. Another onetime White House resident, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, voted in a Catholic school in Manhattan.

Republicans were hoping that Nixon would win in a landslide and that it would produce a net GOP gain of 5 Senate seats and 41 House seats—enough for Republican control of Congress.

The final Gallup Poll found Nixon leading McGovern by 61 to 35 per cent.

The first voting results came from the hamlet of Dixville Notch, N.H. It went for Nixon 16 to 3. But for Republican enthusiasts there is this dampening fact: Dixville Notch hasn't picked a presidential winner since it started midnight voting in 1960.

Despite polls showing him headed for a massive defeat, a hoarse and weary McGovern campaigned to the wire Monday. He insisted "we are going to prevail" and denounced alleged "deceit and deception on Vietnam" by Nixon as he spanned the continent from Philadelphia to Long Beach, Calif., before going to Sioux Falls.

Nixon, meanwhile, predicted "we will soon reach an agreement which will end the war in Vietnam." He made the statement in a 13-paragraph election-eve television speech from the Western White House at the end of the least active election effort by any major-party presidential candidate since Franklin D. Roosevelt in the wartime campaign of 1944.

East, West Germany OK Reconciliation Treaty

BONN (AP) — The West German Cabinet and the government of East Germany today approved a reconciliation treaty designed to normalize relations between the two German states.

East German approval, reported by the official news agency from Berlin, came shortly after Chancellor Willy Brandt's ministers in Bonn had given a go-ahead for signing the treaty Wednesday.

A draft of the treaty was agreed on Monday night following two years of negotiations. The Bonn cabinet authorized Egon Bahr, the state secretary who negotiated for Brandt, to initial it "shortly" with the East German negotiator, Michael Kohl.

In the wake of the conclusion of the treaty, Danish Foreign Minister Knud B. Andersen announced that his government as well as those of Sweden and Norway expected to complete arrangements for diplomatic recognition of East Germany in two or three weeks. Denmark and Norway as well as West Germany are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Besides setting up some type of diplomatic recognition, the pact clears the way for the two German states to apply for United Nations membership.

Bonn's main concern has been to avoid anything that might worsen chances for eventual German reunification. Details of the treaty were kept secret while both sides studied it. But one West Berlin newspaper gave this outline of the treaty's main points:

—East Germany will send an ambassador to Bonn and Bonn will send a minister to East Berlin, each to be called a "plenipotentiary."

—West Germany will add a letter stating that it will represent West Berlin in all matters except those of status and security, which are reserved to the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union as the occupation powers. East Germany will accept this letter.

—East Germany will maintain the same trade privileges as before, treated as a favored partner on the basis of a national whole as proclaimed by West Germany.

Equipment Airlifted To Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — At least 30 U.S. military cargo planes and chartered commercial air freighters poured into Saigon today, bringing more than 700 tons of military equipment to beat an expected cease-fire.

At least as many more aircraft were expected Wednesday.

It appeared to be the biggest airlift of the Indochina war, with the United States using commercial planes as well as military C141 Starlifters and C5 Galaxy transports. The C141s each carry about 20 tons of equipment, the C5s 70 tons.

Sources said the latest deliveries included munitions, maintenance equipment, crated ammunition and propeller blades for helicopters.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said the delivery of aircraft and military equipment to Saigon is designed to "enhance negotiations" with the Vietnamese Communists.

Jobs Ruled For Strike Victims

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that workers fired solely for refusing to cross fellow strikers' picket lines have an absolute right to get their jobs back.

In a dispute growing out of a California movers' strike, the high court said employes who are victims of unfair labor practices may not be arbitrarily replaced on the job during a strike.

An opinion written by Justice Potter Stewart said: "Unconditional reinstatement of the discharged employes was proper for the simple reason that they were the victims of a plain unfair labor practice by their employer."

The case came to the high court from Santa Maria, Calif., where the Teamsters Union mounted an organizing campaign among moving companies in August 1967.

When the organizing effort bogged down, the Teamsters called a strike against all the companies including the local outlets of International Van Lines.

Four of the International employes declined to cross the picket lines, and were fired.

Although the company said they were being replaced, no new workers were actually taken on during the walkout, according to testimony before the National Labor Relations Board and the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

The four men—Robert and Manuel Vasquez, Richard Dicus and Salvador Casillas—appealed to the NLRB and the company was ordered to reinstate the men with back pay.

The company turned to the appeals court which agreed the men were victims of unfair labor practices, but held they were economic strikers not necessarily entitled to reinstatement.

Trapped Lansky Arrested In Miami

MIAMI (AP) — Denied refuge by six Latin American governments and trapped aboard an airliner which brought him here, reputed underworld financial wizard Meyer Lansky arrived at Miami International Airport today and was immediately arrested by the FBI.

Lansky, 71, who faces trial on charges of evading taxes on gambling rakeoffs, was ending a two-day aerial odyssey which began Sunday when he left Israel in advance of expulsion orders and flew to Switzerland. From Zurich he flew to Latin American and in succession tried Rio De Janeiro; Buenos Aires; Asuncion, Paraguay; La paz, Bolivia; Lima, Peru and Panama.

Each Latin American government refused him asylum, and most did not even allow him off the Braniff airliner he had boarded in Asuncion.

Lansky reportedly offered $1 million to any country that would take him in.

Kenneth W. Whittaker, head of the Miami FBI, was waiting with three other agents as Lansky, wearing a blue check sports jacket, black alligator shoes and an open collar white shirt, walked from the plane.

Looking tired but smiling, Lansky, a short gray-haired man, chatted casually with Whittaker as they walked down an enclosed aisle into the Custom's hall.

He was taken to the FBI office here in advance of a bond hearing, scheduled for later in the day before a U.S. magistrate.

U.S. Atty. Robert Rust, asked about the question of bond, said, "With a man of Lansky's wealth, a very very high bond would have to be set to insure his appearance ... This isn't going to be a case where he just flashes a roll of money and walks out.

Lansky faces five federal indictments. He was indicted in Miami in March 1971 when he failed to answer a grand jury subpoena to testify. Later he was indicted by grand juries in Miami, New York and Las Vegas for income tax evasion and interstate transportation in aid of racketeering.

Lansky went to Israel in 1970 and was ordered to leave the country after losing a Supreme Court bid for citizenship under the Law of Return, which promises Israeli citizenship to all Jews. The Israeli high court rejected his appeal Sept. 10 on grounds his presence in the country "might endanger public welfare."

The Israelis provided Lansky with an international travel document. His U.S. passport was picked up by American authorities last year.

CBS Steps Up Security

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System stepped up security measures today as plans proceeded for full election night coverage despite a strike by 1,200 cameramen, technicians and engineers.

There was no reported progress Monday toward ending the four-day-old walkout by members of Local 1212, Radio and Television Broadcast Engineers; International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 7, the 312th day of 1972. There are 54 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, the Bolsheviks over threw the short-lived Russian government of Alexander Kerensky and Nicolai Lenin became the new head of government.

On this date:

In 1650, the Pyrenees were fixed as the boundary between France and Spain, ending a 24-year war.

In 1811, the Shawnee Indians were defeated in the Battle of Tippecanoe in Indiana.

In 1885, the Canadian Pacific railroad was completed.

In 1918, a false report that Germany accepted World War I peace terms set off great excitement.

In 1942, the Allied invasion of North Africa began in World War II.

In 1944, Franklin Roosevelt was elected to a fourth term as president.

Ten years ago: Richard M. Nixon conceded defeat in the governship election in California. He told newsmen: "You won't have Nixon to kick around anymore." Eleanor Roosevelt died at 78.

Five years ago: Cleveland Democrat Carl Stokes became the first Negro to be elected as mayor of a major American city.

One year ago: Troops, tanks, red-tipped missles and thousands of Soviet citizens paraded in a snowstorm in Moscow to mark the 1917 revolution.

Services Set For Hick Majors

DALLAS (AP) — Funeral services will be held at Highland Park Methodist Church Wednesday for Hick B. Majors, the real estate agent who was credited with helping bring big business to Dallas. Majors, 82, died Monday. Burial will be at Restland Memorial Park.

A native of Mount Vernon in East Texas, he came to Dallas 50 years ago and founded the firm of Majors & Majors, to which he remained a consultant at the time of his death.

He was held largely responsible for luring Chance Vought and Texas Instruments here.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Wesley Harris of Dallas; two sisters, Lottie Templeton of Colton, Calif., and Mrs. Jay Dickerson of Mount Vernon; and a brother, Boone Majors of Mexico City.

Takes pill overdose, then calls for help

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My beautiful 27-year-old daughter [I'll call her Mary] tried to take her life. This is the third time she took an overdose of sleeping pills.

Mary is married and has two small children, but she has been separated from her husband for four months. Mary got involved with a married man, and her husband found out about it and left her.

When Mary takes these pills she calls up her husband and tells him what she has done, and he comes over and rushes her to the hospital to have her stomach washed out.

I am so afraid if she tries it again he won't get there in time to save her, and that will be the end of my beautiful daughter. Please tell me what I can do to help her.

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Tell your daughter that the next time she feels like reaching for those pills, to reach for the telephone instead and call the Suicide Prevention Center. [Call the Operator, or information for the number.] Nearly every large city has one. Trained personnel will listen to her problem and provide some professional counseling by telephone. They also send ambulances to those who have already attempted suicide but have had a change of heart. Some suicide prevention centers invite callers to come in for personal counseling, and those centers which are unable to provide such service tell callers where such help is available.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 16-year-old boy who has always wanted to be a ladies' hairdresser? Well, I'm that boy, and it has given me quite a few problems.

Whenever I see a girl, I think of how I can improve her hair. I would like to cut long hair and style it, and even change the color of it, altho I like the looks of girls with long, straight hair. If I see a girl with hair that looks dull or neglected, I want to offer to give her a shampoo and a color rinse or a conditioner.

I buy magazines on hair care and hair styling and I've even bought coloring kits and cheap wigs to work on. My mother found all this stuff and said she thought I was "sick." Maybe she's right.

I once asked the manager of a beauty salon to save the hair he swept off the floor, and I go to pick it up. I keep it in a box in my closet. I just handle it or look at it and that is all.

Abby, do you think it is "sick" for a boy to want to be a really great hairdresser? LOVES HAIR

DEAR LOVES: No, but you seem excessively preoccupied with women's hair. Talk to your school psychologist about it, and get to the root of the matter. You sound as tho you'd make a first-class hairdresser. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I married a fine widower a few years ago. He had four married children. Thruout the years all of his children have helped themselves to those possessions of their mother's that they have wanted. Not one considered that they were their father's possessions, too, and perhaps they might have held some special meaning or sentimental value for him.

One daughter would say, "Dad, I'd like Mother's needlepoint pictures." Another would say, "I have a place for Mother's silver tea service now. I'll pick it up tomorrow." One son even carried off the family albums.

The children have slowly picked the place clean. Their father never questioned their requests; he simply handed everything over. [I saw him quietly part with several things I knew he'd rather have kept.]

The damage is done, so I'm not writing for a solution, but I feel much better for having gotten this off my chest. After all, to whom else could I have told this without causing hard feelings? SECOND WIFE

Kissinger Declines Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger declined the City Council of Churches Family of Man award for "excellence in the field of peace," a spokesman for the organization of Protestant churches has confirmed.

The spokesman said Monday that Kissinger was selected for the bronze medallion last September but he turned it down for the present time "because of his negotiations and the things he was involved in."

Copies of letters exchanged by Kissinger and the Rev. Dan M. Potter, executive director of the council, were given to The Associated Press by the Rev. A. Kendall Smith, who said he removed them from file cabinets during a sit-in protest at the council's offices.

In a Sept. 9 letter to Potter, Kissinger wrote:

"This is a great honor that I would like in principle to accept. Because of this year's particular circumstances, however, I believe I must regretfully decline to receive the award at this time."

Potter replied that his organization did not want to "jeopardize your effectiveness in the international arena" and said he was certain Kissinger would be considered for the award again next year.

Flu Strain Appears In Hawaii

DENVER (AP) — A major flu epidemic could strike Colorado in January or February, a state health department official reported Monday.

Dr. Thomas Vernon, the state's chief epidemiologist, said a new influenza strain called A2 England has appeared in Hawaii.

There is not specific vaccine for the strain, which has also spread in epidemic form in Australia, Korea, India and Malaysia, Vernon said. But he added that doses of A2 antigen in the vaccine developed to fight the Hong Long flu might provide some protection.

Vernon said that "it probably won't be long" before the flu hits the U.S. mainland.

The health department has set up a network of doctors across the state to report flu-like diseases. These diseases could cause serious complications in some victims, including the elderly and persons with diabetes or heart ailments, Vernon said.

He said the department will make flu vaccine available free to doctors for high-risk patients who cannot afford the shots.

Joey Bishop Credited In Rescue

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Joey Bishop has been credited by the Coast Guard with his second rescue at sea in three weeks.

The comedian was at the helm of his 42-foot cruiser Sonuvagun II Monday when he saw a partly submerged sailboat through heavy fog.

Bishop and his party hauled the occupant of the boat aboard unharmed and towed the sailboat back to Marina del Rey.

Three weeks ago Bishop rescued five persons whose motorboat was disabled.

Suit Filed On Ideal Cement

HOUSTON (AP) — A suit claiming that Ideal Cement Co. is illegally dumping lead into the Houston Ship Channel was filed Monday by County Attorney Joe Resweber.

County commissioners authorized the suit Oct. 10 when Dr. Walter Quebedeaux, county pollution control director, accused the cement company of foot-dragging in installing pollution abatement equipment.

'Bonanza' Is Canceled

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ben Cartwright is closing down the Ponderosa Ranch. Little Joe, the last of the Cartwright sons, is leaving home. "Bonanza" has been canceled.

"Bonanza," at one time the most popular show on television, winds up 14 years on the NBC Television Network next Jan. 23.

The filming of the last episode of the Western drama — the 431st — will be completed tomorrow night.

The long-running show was canceled Monday by NBC, along with "The Bold Ones," "Banyon" and "Night Gallery."

"Bonanza" was switched from Sunday to Tuesday nights at the beginning of this season, but the Cartwrights were no match for CBS' "Maude." It slipped badly in the ratings and in the latest report was in 52nd place.

Executive Producer David Dortort, who had learned the news only two hours earlier, said, "We've had a very long and beautiful run."

But it will not be the last seen of "Bonanza," the first television show ever filmed from the beginning in 1959 in color. The early years of the show are now in syndication to stations under the title of "Ponderosa." The show's worldwide audience is estimated at 400 million.

Dortort said the cancellation came as a surprise. He was told personally by Lawrence White, NBC vice president of programming.

"White said that 'Bonanza' had always meant so much to NBC that they didn't want to see it peter out," he said.

Dortort said the show was still trying to overcome "the tremendous gap" left by the death last May 13 of Dan Blocker, who played Hoss Cartwright.

"I don't think we really quite got over his death," Dortort said. "We were confident that by the end of the season we would be back in the mainstream. Apparently the network didn't want to invest the time."

Lorne Greene as Ben and Michael Landon as Joe were the two remaining Cartwrights. A third son, Adam, was written out of the series when Pernell Roberts quit in 1965.

Mitch Vogel joined the cast several years ago as Jaime, and last year was adopted by the Cartwrights.

Students Remain In Building

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dissident students remain in the administration building at Southern University today, but state officials could force a confrontation.

The state Board of Education, which has jurisdiction over the predominantly black college, will reportedly meet today in Baton Rouge with Gov. Edwin Edwards after being summoned into emergency session.

Earlier, board president Enoch Nix had refused to confirm that the session would be held.

Classes for the approximately 2,750 students were suspended last Wednesday after about 150 students seized the administration building to enforce their demands for reform, including a voice in running the school.

Dr. Emmett W. Bashful, a vice president in the Southern University system and chief administrator at SUNO, hinted that removal of the demonstrators might have to be undertaken by "civil authorities" because "the university does not have the security forces to remove the students."

He issued a statement calling on all students, faculty and staff not taking part in the demonstration to stay away from the campus until it "is secured."

Indict Four In Skyjacking

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury Monday returned indictments against four persons in the Oct. 28 skyjacking to Cuba of an Eastern Airlines jet in which a ticket agent was shot to death and a maintenance man wounded.

Charles A. Tuller, 49, a former Department of Commerce official, his sons, Bryce, 19, and Jonathan Ross, 18, and William White Graham, 18, all of Alexandira, Va., were named in the three-count indictment.

The elder Tuller and his son Bryce had already been charged in a double homicide and attempted bank robbery in Arlington, Va., on Oct. 25. Charges had been filed against the two Tuller's and Graham in the skyjacking. Monday's indictment was the first official word that the younger Tuller son was the fourth person involved in the crime.

The four are charged with air piracy, kidnapping and interfering with commerce. Bonds of $1 million each were set by U. S. District Court Judge John V. Singleton.

FBI agents were seeking the Tullers and Graham here on the day the skyjacking occurred in connection with the attempted the robbery in which the bank president and a guard were killed. The robbers escaped but without any money.

An Eastern Airlines ticket agent, Stanley Earl Hubbard, was shot to death as he apparently tried to stop the Tullers from boarding the plane in the early morning skyjacking.

The 35 passengers and crew of seven went to Cuba after a refueling stop in New Orleans, and the plane with its crew and passengers returned to Miami, Fla., the same afternoon.

Also Monday a State Department spokesman said Cuban officials had identified the four in Cuba as the Tullers and Graham.

A department spokesman said the information was relayed through the Swiss embassy in Havana and received Monday. It was the first positive information about the four from Cuban authorities since the United States requested their extradition.

The Swiss said the four are under arrest by Cuban authorities.

Woman Killed In Freak Accident

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Bonnie Parfait, 29, of Lewisville, was killed Monday by a piece of metal which flew off a delivery truck and crashed through the windshield of her automobile as she was driving on Stemmons Freeway, police reported.

Her five-year-old son, John, was slightly injured in the accident. Rebeccas Justice, 26, also of Lewisville, eacaped injury.

Mrs. Parfait's car left the pavement and came to a halt 580 feet down the freeway on the median strip. The metal apparently struck the side of her head, killing her instantly.

Right whales acquired their name because their rich store of blubber and whalebone made them the "right" whales to harpoon. Now an endangered species, the few surviving right whales are protected under a convenant signed by 14 countries. Outlaw whalers and nations that haven't signed the pact continue to hunt them.

Record Number Voted Absentee

All of today's voters won't be going to the polls. Record numbers of them have already cast their ballots.

Among them is former President Lyndon B. Johnson, who told Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver by telephone Monday that he had voted for the McGovern-Shriver ticket by absentee ballot.

Johnson took advantage of a Texas law that allows persons unsure if they will be home on election day to vote early. He and his wife voted a week ago Monday in Johnson City, Tex.

Election officials say collegians able to vote for the first time because of the 1971 constitutional amendment that lowered the voting age to 18 account for most of the increase in demand for absentee ballots, but they're not alone.

Thousands of older voters have taken advantage of laws, many of them recently liberalized, that allow them to vote by mail before election day or to visit a courthouse and cast their ballots in advance.

In Albany County, N.Y., a spokesman said 8,000 absentee ballots have been cast this year, compared to 2,148 in 1968 due to "vacationing, hunting, fishing and people who won't bother to cross the street to vote. This election won't be over for a week."

In Minnesota, elections coordinator Larry Anderson said the number of requests to the secretary of state's office for absentee ballots is "the highest we've ever had." He said the demand was particularly heavy in rural counties such as Faribault, where officials estimated that seven per cent of the vote had been cast by Monday.

In Michigan, officials said an increase of one-third and more in requests for absentee ballots seemed due to collegians, a campaign by the secretary of state to encourage absentee ballots and a new law reducing from 70 to 65 the age at which an individual may vote without going to the polls. One voting clerk speculated that the secretary's campaign may have led some people to choose the absentee route instead of standing in line.

In California, primary mix-ups that forced many voters to wait for hours in long lines were credited with helping to spur increased absentee voting.

Many voting officials noted that the increased demand for absentee ballots was in keeping with generally increased registrations. But in Memphis, Tenn., Jack Perry, elections commissioner for Shelby County, said the increase had outstripped the percentage and "personally I think this is a good indication that people are interested, on both a national and a local level.

Jury Selection Starts Today

HOUSTON (AP) — Jury selection starts today in the second trial of Aureliana Silva, 22, charged with the murder of a real estate saleswoman in 1970. A first trial ended when the jury could not agree.

District Court Judge Dan E. Walton Monday granted a defense request to appoint Mike Ramsey as Silva's lawyer, to be paid by the state.

Ramsey said Silva's defense in the first trial, which lasted 13 weeks, was paid by the Roman Catholic Church. No such funds are available for the second trial, he said.

Silva is accused of beating to death June Grover Gleason at a model home in a subdivision where she was employed.

Fantastic Candy Idea Features Sesame Seeds

SESAME SEED BRITTLE--An interesting candy you can make at home.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Sesame (benne) seeds, once used primarily by cooks in the south, are now in good repute in kitchens all over the United States. This change started in 1954 when a bake-off contestant won a grand prize with her Open Sesame Pie and cooks throughout the country became aware of the seeds. These days Sesame Seed Brittle seems to be growing in popularity and here's the recipe.

SESAME SEED BRITTLE
1 cup sesame seed
1 cup sugar
1 cup dark brown syrup
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon baking soda

Sprinkle the sesame seed over a large cookie sheet and toast in a preheated 350-degree oven for about 15 minutes.

In a 2-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup, water and butter. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Reduce heat and cook without stirring until mixture reaches 300 degrees on a candy thermometer or until mixture forms a brittle ball when dropped in very cold water.

Remove from heat, stir in toasted sesame seed and then baking soda.

Pour onto a greased surface and spread evenly to about ⅛-inch thickness. (You can use a marble slab or a cookie sheet for the greased surface.)

Cool candy and break into irregular pieces.

Makes about 1½ pounds.

Shirley Urges All Women To See A Doctor

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Former child star Shirley Temple Black, who has had a cancerous breast removed, is urging all women to "go to their doctors for diagnosis when they have unusual symptoms."

"I am grateful to God, my family and my doctors for the successful outcome of this operation because I have much to accomplish," Mrs. Black, 44, said Monday.

Stanford Hospital announced that the mastectomy was performed last week by Dr. Fred Shidler, who said the operation succeeded in removing all traces of malignancy. Mrs. Black, he said, will remain in the hospital indefinitely.

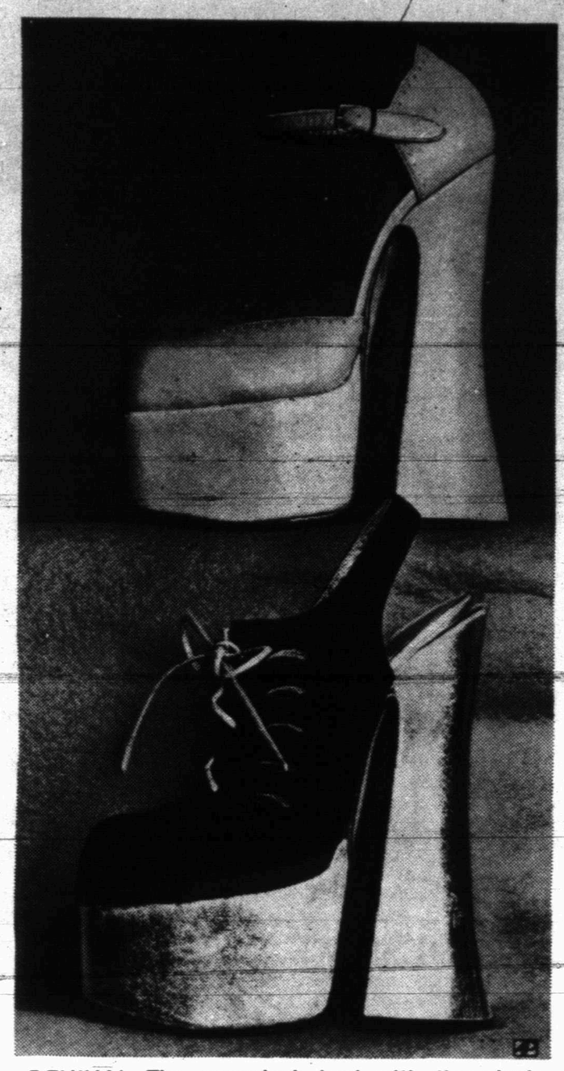
"It is my fervent hope," she said, "that women will not be afraid to go to their doctors for diagnosis when they have unusual symptoms. There is almost certain recovery from this form of cancer if it is caught early enough."

Mrs. Black lives with her businessman husband Charles Black and their three children in suburban Woodside.

A Republican, Mrs. Black lost a race for Congress in 1967 to Rep. Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey. President Nixon appointed her U.S. representative to the United Nations in 1969, and she recently spoke on tour as special assistant to the chairman of the President's Council on Environmental Quality.

In the past few years, Mrs. Black became more and more ambitious to serve in government. She had made a million dollars by the time she was 12, and she was determined to prove her ability on a different kind of stage.

As a juvenile star, Shirley Temple performed in some 35 films that made her the most beloved child actress in the country. She starred in such movies as "Heidi," "Little Miss Marker" and "Good Ship Lollypop."



REVIVAL--The seven-inch heel with three-inch platform sole may be a wild style to some, but people are buying them in droves for a "look" to complement today's new costumes. A tan leather semi-bubbled toe shown with a hand-carved heel and squared off platform is ankle-strapped and has handstitching around heel and instep. The black-suede laceup sling-back shoe also has a seven-inch heel and a three-inch platform both on silver kid. A cutout design with silver laces is featured on face of the shoe. Both are from J. Arrowsmith, Inc.

Grant Awarded

NEW YORK (AP) — Kathleen Hegierski, an American mezzo-soprano now appearing with the Grand Theater in Geneva, has been awarded a grant of $1,500 from the Kirsten Flagstad Memorial Fund.

At 15, Miss Hegierski won a scholarship to the Community Music School in Buffalo. She also won a music scholarship to Rosary Hill College there and received her bachelor's degree in 1969. That autumn she entered the Manhattan School of Music on a scholarship. She received her masters degree in 1971.

Girl Scouts Revise 'Promise And Laws'

One of the first orders of business for delegates at the 39th Convention of the Girl Scout National Council, Oct. 22-25, in Dallas was action on proposed changes on proposed changes in a basic part of the Girl Scout ethical code--the Promise and Laws.

Delegates debated and voted on proposed rewording of the Promise and Laws, at Session III, Tuesday, Oct. 24. The current version, in use since 1920, was adopted with a few changes from the original wording copyrighted in 1913 by Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

The new proposed version is the result of a three-year study by a 10-member Girl Scout volunteer and staff task group, designated to ascertain the contemporary relevance of the traditional wording.

Questionnaires were sent to a balanced scientific sample of 9,800 Junior, Cadette and Senior troops nationwide, to obtain the reaction of girls (ages 9-17) to the tentative rewording. They were asked to indicate their consensus preferences for the traditional wording--the proposed rewording--or an alternative wording of their own.

Based on the troop sampling findings, representing more than 80,000 girls, an amended rewording was prepared by the task group. It was approved by the National Board for presentation to the 1972 National Council meeting.

The 3,268 voting National Council delegates present decided to adopt the proposed rewording of the Promise and Laws. They are as follows:

THE PROMISE
On my honor, I will try:
To serve God,
My country and mankind,
And to live by the Girl Scout Law.

THE LAW
I will do my best:
-to be honest
-to be fair
-to help where I am needed
-to be cheerful
-to be friendly and considerate
-to be a sister to every Girl Scout
-to respect authority
-to use resources wisely
-to protect and improve the world around me
-to show respect for myself and others through my words and actions.

Records Have Hall Of Fame

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — A Hall of Fame for recordings was planned for at the three-day meeting of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences board of trustees meeting here.

The NARAS Hall of Fame is intended to bring recognition to significant recordings, many of which may have been released before the advent of the Grammy Awards. Paul Weston and Frank Jones were appointed to form a committee to work on creation of the Hall of Fame.

The trustees also placed $20,000 at the disposal of the NARAS Institute, to be used for educational and cultural activities. It will be used for creation of curricula for basic music courses, a basic commercial music library, complete catalogs of recording courses and materials and assistance to local NARAS chapters for their own educational programs.

DESPITE OUTCOME OF ELECTION

Jobs And Inflation Still Challenge Nation

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Regardless of how today's election turns out, the nation will remain challenged by the most persistent economic bogeymen of modern times: jobs and inflation.

Some headway has been made in both categories during the past year.

The jobless rate is now 5.5 per cent of the civilian work force, compared with about 6 per cent last year. Consumer prices will total less than 4 per cent for the year, compared with an average of nearly 6 per cent in 1970.

But headway doesn't mean a solution has been reached.

The rate of consumer price increases in the July-August-September quarter was actually higher than in the two previous quarters. And the jobless rate means that close to 4.8 million potential workers are idle.

This situation prevails at a time when economists of both major parties proclaim that they now understand how to manage the economy and make it responsive to the people.

Before they became as knowledgeable as they claim to be today, economists held to a fatalistic attitude: inflation was cured by recession and joblessness.

While claiming to have renounced that approach, they have substituted nothing that an ordinary American can recognize as very much different or very much better.

And, in an apparent admission that theories might be beautiful but ineffective, economists of various persuasions have approved the imposition of controls on what is claimed to be a free economy.

If the diabolical relationship between jobs and prices is really understood, it isn't evident and, so long as controls remain, it cannot be demonstrated either.

In fact, current thinking by many economists identified with the Democratic or Republican parties is that controls will have to be continued beyond April 30, when they are scheduled to expire.

The most persuasive evidence for their continuation is to review the extent of price increases in the uncontrolled sectors of the economy, notably food prices.

Prices of some meats, poultry and fish are 10 per cent higher now than they were a year ago. And with wholesale food prices rising even more sharply, food budgets are going to be strained badly in coming months.

Why should the country have to live with rising prices, insufficient jobs and price and wage controls?

The Republicans generally blame the existing situation on the Democrats, especially the administration of President Lyndon Johnson, who ran up huge budget deficits to finance the Vietnam war.

The imbalances that exist now are directly related to the $25-billion deficit the Johnson administration incurred while trying to follow a guns and butter philosophy.

In order to counter the inflation that was begun in 1968, the Republicans say, it was necessary for them to put a holdown on the economy in 1970. We are now emerging from that period, they say.

Nonsense, claim the Democrats. Justifiably, they point to the enormous budget deficits of the Nixon administration and ask: If deficits produce inflation, how can we ignore an estimated $73 billion in deficits for fiscal 1971, 1972 and 1973?

What obviously is missing from the theories of economists who claim to know how to manage the economy — and prevent inflation and idle workers — is that political priorities preclude their use.

And so the unholy alliance of rising prices, followed by lost jobs, is still with us.

Junior Editors' Quiz on WORMWOOD

QUESTION: What is wormwood?

* * *

ANSWER: Wormwood is the common name for Artemesia, a genus of hardy, aromatic herbs or shrubs of the Composite family. There are 50 or more species of this plant. Originally, wormwood was grown in middle and western Europe, but is now popular in the United States. Grown chiefly for their aromatic and medicinal qualities, these plants are used as garden subjects. Many varieties are valued as ornamentals. They thrive in average soil and vary in size from 6 inches to 12 feet. The foliage is usually hairy and appears white with small yellow compact flowers.

The best known of the wormwood varieties is Artemesia Absinthium. It is a shrubby plant with silky segmented leaves. It is the source of a green spirituous liquor which is pleasant to the taste but highly intoxicating. For this reason, this liquor is banned in many countries. Another well-known variety of wormwood is tarragon. The long narrow green leaves are used as a seasoning. Its somewhat bitter, aromatic foliage is used to season vinegar, pickles, fish, salads and sauces. It is frequently used in lobster thermidor and chicken a la king.

Boyle Tells Santa To Wait Turn

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hark, hark, what is that I hear?

"Tis the sound of sleigh bells drawing near."

Oh, no, say it isn't so. Christmas on the way here already yet? Why, it seems but yesterday that Santa Claus was making echoes throughout the land with his vast "Ho, ho, ho!"

Don't tell me the fat old rascal is back trying to steal the stage again so soon. He is? Well, that's hardly a thing to be thankful for before Thanksgiving Day.

I guess we should be grateful he didn't get here in time to spook Halloween. The way things are going, in another decade we'll be hanging up the holly and mistletoe the day before the Fourth of July, and in 10 years after that Santa Claus will start pretending he's the Easter bunny, and he'll lay eggs all over the back yard.

Santa Claus, you presumptive old fraud, you're getting worse than the guest who came to dinner and then began to act like a steady lodger.

The heart and the house of man aren't ready for you yet. You're wearing out the welcome mat even before it has been brushed and put out before the front door.

Yes, it's getting so we hear you coming again before you've quite gone. I'll tell you what I think of you, Santa Claus. I think you are getting delusions of grandeur. You are acting like a spoiled child that has to be the center of every scene.

What this country needs, besides a good 25-cent cigar, is an active Society to Keep Christmas in Its Proper Place on the Calendar.

If you or your reindeer show up before the First of December, sir, you should be put in a straitjacket, your beard tweaked, and shipped back in your sleigh to the North Pole, where you came from.

Yes, indeedy, there are still too many shopping days left before Christmas to have to buy you so soon. Go away, Santa, and wait your turn.

Air Pollution Is Hazaradous

HOUSTON (AP) — A radiation specialist suggests air pollution from conventional electric power plants is probably a greater health hazard than radiation from nuclear power plants.

Dr. Roger E. Linnemann calculates that radiation from nuclear power plants causes less than one extra cancer death and less than one added birth defect case in the United States a year.

He said air pollution from all sources has been estimated to cause from 20,000 to one million additional deaths annually.

Linnemann, a radiation expert with the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, said fossil-fuel power plants account for one-seventh of all United States air pollution.

Putting his findings another way, Linnemann told a seminar on nuclear power that there is one chance in 10,000 that an individual American will be killed by air pollution but only one chance in a billion that he will get cancer from radiation from nuclear power plants.

Other radiation specialists have suggested the cancer risk from nuclear power radiation is considerably higher.

Linnemann qualified his conclusions by noting there is little hard data on deaths from either low-level radiation or air pollution.

He said his conclusions were based on routine radiation during normal operations of a nuclear power plant.

Protect Plants

AUSTIN (AP) — If you want plants that will attract wildlife, the best thing to do is protect the ones you already have, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department recommends.

The department reports that planting trees and shrubs that deer enjoy is "slow and expensive" at best. Six of the 19 species tested by the department showed a complete absence of fruit after more than nine years of growth.

Japanese honeysuckle performed best among the plants tested, producing two tons of forage per acre five years after planting. Both deer and cattle can graze on the honeysuckle, reports Daniel Lay, the parks and wildlife biologist who directed the study.

Southern Cal Is No. 1 Rated Team

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The top 13 teams in The Associated Press college football ratings, headed by Southern California, remained unchanged today but the defending national champion Nebraska Cornhuskers closed in on second-ranked Alabama.

Southern Cal, a 44-3 victor over Washington State for its ninth consecutive triumph, received 40 first-place votes and 978 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Alabama trounced Mississippi State 58-14 and picked up three first-place ballots and 821 points while Nebraska trimmed Colorado, rated 15th last week, 33-10 and received five votes for No. 1 and 797 points.

Fourth-ranked Michigan got one first-place vote and 708 points after beating Indiana 21-7 while the other top vote went to No. 5 Ohio State, which downed Minnesota 27-19 and earned 600 points.

Louisiana State's last-second 17-16 squeaker over Mississippi enabled the Tigers to hold onto sixth place, followed by Oklahoma, UCLA, Texas and Penn State. Oklahoma turned back Iowa State 20-6, UCLA overtook Stanford 28-23, Texas defeated Southern Methodist 17-9 and Penn State drubbed Maryland 46-16.

Auburn remained atop the Second Ten, followed by Notre Dame, Tennessee, Missouri, Texas Tech, Colorado, Iowa State, North Carolina and Arizona State, with Stanford and Yale tied for 20th.

Last week, the Second Ten consisted of Auburn, Notre Dame, Tennessee, Iowa State, Colorado, Missouri, Louisville, Texas Tech, Air Force and Arkansas.

Louisville, Air Force and Arkansas dropped out of the Top Twenty by losing, respectively, to Tulsa 28-26, Army 17-14 and Texas A&M 10-7.

They were replaced by North Carolina, which beat Clemson 26-10; Arizona State, a 55-14 winner over Texas-El Paso; Stanford, which led eighth-ranked UCLA until the final four minutes, and Yale, an impressive 45-14 winner over favored Dartmouth.

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1.	USC (40)	9-0	978
2.	Alabama (3)	8-0	821
3.	Nebraska (5)	7-1	797
4.	Michigan (1)	8-0	708

19.	Arizona St.	6-2	5
20.	Stanford	5-3	3
20.	(tie) Yale	5-1	3

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Air Force, Arkansas, Baylor, Mississippi, North Carolina State, Washington.

Lamar 9th Wins 22-8

Lamar 9th grade whipped San Angelo Lee 22-8 here Saturday afternoon in Tiger Stadium.

Lamar recovered a fumble at the Lee 45 in the first quarter and drove in from there with Larry Gee, Phil Robinson and Tim Flynn all lugging the leather. Gee scored from seven yards out. Flynn ran over for the two bonus points.

Coach Tommy Echols said Lamar played its best defensive game of the year. Several lads were outstanding on defense, including Tim Flynn, Mike Freeman, Joel McCommon, Bill Jennings, Larry Gee and Doan Witherspoon. The half ended with Lamar in command, 8-0.

Doan Witherspoon intercepted a pass and returned it 17 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter. Kelly Ragland passed to Randy Gressett for the two extra points.

The last Lamar touchdown covered 55 yards. Gee went 40 yards up the middle, Robinson added seven yards and Flynn carried to the one. Robinson went up the middle for the touchdown. A run for bonus points was unsuccessful.

Lee blocked a punt at the Lamar 30 in the fourth quarter and ran the ball all the way to the end zone for its only touchdown. A run netted two bonus points.

The Lamar 2nd, 3rd and 4th teams saw action in the second half. Kenneth Hartsell and Kenny Crow made a good defensive play

Stars Beat Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Utah Stars have emerged the winners of an American Basketball Association battle of division leaders, overcoming the Carolina Cougars 124-112.

Their game at Raleigh Monday night was the league's only scheduled contest and it found the Stars, Western Division leaders, improving their record to 10-5 while dropping East-leading Carolina to a 9-5 mark.

Billy Cunningham, who stormed the nets for 41 points against the New York Nets Saturday night, had a game high 29 points against Utah, while getting 25-point help from Mack Calvin.

Utah had six players in double figures, led by Glenn Combs' 24. Willie Wise and Ron Boone each had 23 and Jimmy Jones added 22 for the Stars.

Utah was ahead by as many as 15 points in the second period and led 64-53 at halftime.

Two Tilts Set Here

There will be just two football games involving local teams here this week.

Travis 8th grade hosts Andrews at 6 p.m. Thursday, and the varsity Tigers entertain Hereford at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Tiger Stadium.

Also, Thursday, the sophomore varsity will be at Coronado for a 4 p.m. tussle. Saturday, Lamar 9th grade will be at Lamesa for a 1 p.m. test.

On the area scene, Hermleigh will host Southland, Ira entertains Bula, Fluvanna is at home against Flower Grove and Gail journeys to Garden City for Friday affrays.

Elsewhere in District 4-AAAA, Lubbock meets Coronado Friday and Plainview takes on Monterey Saturday.

Booster Club Meets Tonight

The Tiger Booster Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria to see films of the Monterey-Tiger game and hear a scouting report on Hereford, this week's opponent.

Dave Harlin, Jr., president, urged everyone to attend.

Teaff Says Texas To Employ Power

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff says he knows Texas' game plan and he would do the same thing if he was playing the Bears in Saturday's Southwest Conference football showdown at Waco.

"It's no secret what they are going to do when you consider we have 200 pound defensive tackles and they have giants in the offensive line," Teaff says. "They are going to come right at us—that's what I'd do."

Teaff adds "The University of Texas is everything they are supposed to be ... they are technically sound, have outstanding speed and tremendous defense.

"And they've got as fine a 1-2 punch as I've ever seen in (fullback) Roosevelt Leaks and (quarterback) Alan Lowry. They are so big I'm not even going to put their size on our scouting report."

However, Teaff would not sell his Bears short emotionally.

"I don't believe in jinxes so count me out," Teaff says when reminded the Bears haven't beaten Texas in 14 years. "As far as being mentally ready, I think we are. We've just got to stand up to all that power. The thing that makes them awesome is that offensive line ... that blow off that ball like something else."

Baylor has offensive guards Harold Rodgers, Tim Mills and David Walters on the injury list along with defensive tackle Joe Johnson.

In Austin, Texas' Coach Darrell Royal said Baylor is in a "fighting mood and will probably have something to confuse us....but I'm not as concerned about that as I am their ability to jump in there and play hard, aggressive, tough football. They're playing with enthusiasm that is unbelievable. They're out of their heads now."

Royal recalls Texas barely escaped 21-14 at Waco two years ago.

"They've got some people (now) to get hot with," Royal says.

He adds Coach Grant Teaff has done a "great job" of getting the student body "fired up and the players enthused."

Royal reported that defensive end Bill Rutherford had a hurt knee and might be slowed for the Baylor game.

In Fort Worth, Texas Christian Coach Billy Tohill announced the Horned Frogs will have a new quarterback when the Horned Frogs meet Texas Tech in Lubbock Saturday in another SWC battle.

Tohill shifted Terry Drennan from safety. Drennan began the season as an understudy to Kent Marshall but moved to safety when regular safety Harold Muckleroy suffered a head injury.

Marshall was lost with a broken collarbone against Tulsa and junior college transfer Perry Senn moved up.

"Terry is one of the most fierce competitors on our team," Tohill said. "We need some new life offensively and we're hoping he can give us the spark. It will be hard at first for him because he has not taken a snap in five weeks, but we have all the faith in the world in him."

Tohill gave his team the day off Monday, saying "I feel it will do us all good to get away from the field a couple of days."

Marty Domres Leads Baltimore To Victory

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Johnny Unitas kicked his famed No. 19 jersey into a corner. Pro football's "Mr. Quarterback" admitted his love affair with the Baltimore Colts was over.

"There's no use in staying around here," he said, "not the way they're treating me. There's nothing I can do about it. It was their decision not to play me anymore."

Baltimore had just cracked a four-game losing streak, handing the New England Patriots a fifth straight defeat, 24-17, in a Monday night television matchup of National Football League cream puffs.

But, Johnny wasn't celebrating.

Standing two cubicles away was handsome, young Marty Domres. The Ivy Leaguer from Columbia was the crown prince given the job Unitas owned for 16 years.

Somebody asked Domres if Johnny U. helps him.

"We talk," said Marty, refusing to glance toward the quick-dressing old pro. "Yeah, we talk."

Domres hit 10 of 19 against New England for only 89 yards. One of his shots was a 17-yarder for a touchdown to tight end Tom Mitchell. He admitted he still has trouble pulling the trigger.

"I feel more at home each game," he said, toweling a head of thinning hair. "It just takes time. I've become a little too cautious, unwilling to cut it loose. But, that'll come."

Joe Thomas, new general manager of the Colts, was the man who made the decision to bench Unitas and look ahead with the 25-year-old Domres.

"You can't keep going with a quarterback who'll be 40 years old next May," said Thomas, builder of NFL powerhouses as personnel chief at Minnesota and Miami.

John Sandusky, the longtime Colt assistant coach who became the field boss when Thomas fired Don McCafferty a month ago, was smiling over his first victory.

"It wasn't pretty, but it was a win," he said. "It's my first and I'm proud of it." Sandusky's players gave him the game ball as a tribute. He is now 1-2 and the Colts are 2-6, tied with the Pats for third in the American conference East.

Sandusky wondered for awhile if he would survive the "beer bottle touchdown."

In the second quarter with Baltimore ahead 7-3, New England fans were booing over an interference call and another penalty for roughing the passer.

Domres flipped back to Don Nottingham and the chunky runner bounced untouched into the end zone. But, by golly, it wasn't a touchdown. Some unhappy Patriot fan had saved a score with his beer bottle.

One official, the back judge, said he had called timeout amid all the noise after spotting the bottle lying in the end zone.

The unhappy Colts tried it again, but failed. They settled for a nine-yard field goal by Jim O'Brien.

Blazers Lose Ninth Straight

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The New York Knicks, keyed by Willis Reed and Walt Frazier, overwhelmed Portland in the second half Monday night for a 111-95 National Basketball Association victory over the Trail Blazers.

The Knicks-Blazers contest was the only game played in the NBA and gave the Knicks an 11-2 record. For the Blazers, it was the ninth straight loss with only one victory.

The Blazers went into the second half with a 52-51 lead before the Knicks got the range of Portland's guards and moved onto the offensive.

Reed, reactivated only about a week ago after spending most of the past year idled by injuries, played 33 minutes as he collected 17 points and six rebounds for the Knicks.

In the only American Basketball Association game scheduled, Utah topped Carolina 124-112.

Economic Stabilization Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

This column of questions and answers on the President's Economic Stabilization Program is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about wages and prices.

★ ★ ★

Q. Is it all right for a landlord to evict a tenant in retaliation for protesting an increase, as long as he waits two or three months after the tenant files his complaint before evicting him?

A. No. Economic Stabilization regulations prohibit retaliatory evictions under any circumstances. It is illegal for a landlord to evict a tenant for complaining of a rent increase, whether the eviction occurs days or months after a tenant's complaint.

Q. The school district I live in has been required by the State to increase the salaries of members of the school board. The board has only 10 employes. May this increase be granted without regard to the 5.5 percent standard?

A. No. Under new Economic Stabilization regulations, the States must prenotify the Pay Board and obtain approval of pay adjustments which it requires local government units to implement.

Q. Do you have a booklet that explains how a business computes allowable pay increases?

A. Yes. IRS Publication S-3038, "Rules for Computing Pay Adjustments," explains the limitations on wage and salary increases and the exclusions from adjustment computations and provides examples and filled - in forms. A copy may be obtained free by writing your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. The water rates in my county were recently increased. Can my landlord pass on this increase to me in the form of higher rent?

A. Yes. An increase in state and local fees, levies and other charges for municipal services, except for gas and electricity, is an allowable cost under Price Commission regulations, justifying a rent increase. For more information, see IRS Publication S-3019, "Rent Guidelines." Its available at no charge by dropping a postcard to your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. In computing their base prices and markup on new cars may dealers use the sticker price as the actual sales price of new models?

A. In a trade-in situation, car dealers may not use the sticker price to arrive at the actual sales price of a new model. Instead, the actual sales price of a new car is the amount of the buyer's cash liability plus the wholesale value of the trade-in shown in used car valuation books in general use by automobile dealers.

Q. My landlord is seeking a ruling that a portion of my highrise is exempt from controls because construction on it was supposedly completed after Aug. 15, 1971. Can I see that ruling when he gets it?

A. Yes. A landlord served with an interpretation or a ruling concerning a rent adjustment must immediately notify affected tenants of the nature of the decision, the date of its service and when and where it can be inspected. This notification must be posted for 30 days on a public entrance or a public bulletin board located in the building in which the tenants reside or the landlord may mail or hand deliver the notification to affected tenants. A landlord must also notify tenants when he appeals a ruling or determination or when he is served with a determination on an exception or exemption.

Sorceress Sees McGovern Win

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent

PHU NHUAN, South Vietnam (AP) — A Vietnamese sorceress has heard it loud and clear from the spirit world that Sen. George McGovern will win the U.S. presidential election.

"This will be bad for peace and bad for Vietnam," said Mme. Sishawath, who spent 50 minutes in deep meditation on the American election after the artillery died down Monday night.

She said she gave her prediction both the Cambodian "burning candle mythology" and the incense burning test but did not use the splashing water mythology "because that is for broken hearts."

Peering over her gold-rimmed spectacles, the Cambodian-trained soothsayer predicted an unhappy future for the McGovern administration and a worry-free retirement for President Nixon.

"Between March and September of next year will be the dark months for Sen. McGovern," Mme. Sishawath warned. "His administration will fall from favor, his dynasty will be in danger."

After studying the birth dates of the two candidates and performing some Buddhist rituals, she began to get vibrations from the spirit world. She saw Nixon and McGovern as "two fiercely contending tigers. McGovern wins but later falls into a tiger trap."

The seeress said she meditates best after curfew, when the noise of the Hondas has died in the back alleys of Saigon's suburbs and only a few barking dogs, aroused by the distant thud of artillery and bombs, disturbs the night's calm.

Mme. Sishawath said her forecast will prove 80 to 90 per cent correct. But it would have been 100 per cent on the button if Nixon and McGovern had turned "at the electric light pole past the triple bell Catholic Cathedral," as her card reads, and come to her shop in person.

There under a Santa Claus clock, amid plastic flowers, Japanese tourist calenders and a Honda parked next to the meditation table, they would have learned for themselves that no matter what else the future holds for them in the next four years, the dark shadow of death will not hover.

Truman Request Absentee Ballots

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman requested absentee ballots for today's election, according to the Jackson County Board of Election Commissioners.

Absentee ballots may be requested because of infirmity, among other reasons. Truman is 88 and Mrs. Truman, 87.

The former president and his wife also requested absentee ballots for the Missouri primary in August. In previous elections, the couple had voted in person.

Pitcher Gary Nolan of the Cincinnati Reds is a native of Herlong, Calif.

Astronaut's Widow Files Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — The widow of astronaut Roger Bruce Chaffee, one of three American astronauts killed in a flash fire aboard an Apollo spacecraft during tests at Cape Kennedy in 1967, filed a $150,000 damage suit Monday.

Martha Chaffee Canfield, now remarried, brought the suit against North American Rockwell, Corp., North American Aviation, Inc., Rockwell Standard Corp. and Rockwell Standard Co., builders of the spaceship.

The suit, in behalf of Chaffee's surviving children, Sheryl Lyn, 13, and Stephen Bruce, 11, claims the fire was caused by negligence on the part of the manufacturers.

Nixon Lead Bigger Than Polls Margin Of Error

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern contends the polls are wrong in reporting him a landslide behind President Nixon—but if history is an accurate gauge, they aren't wrong enough for his political purposes.

Even in 1948, their worst year since representative voter sampling began, the margin of error of three major national surveys was not as great as the lead the polls now accord Nixon.

McGovern has compared the current surveys to those of that great 1948 upset, in which President Harry S Truman confounded the pollsters by defeating Republican Thomas E. Dewey.

"We may see a thorough discrediting of the public-opinion polls in this campaign just as Harry Truman discredited them in 1948," McGovern said.

A Gallup Poll, completed two days before today's balloting, gave Nixon a lead over McGovern of 26 percentage points, 61 to 35. It was based on interviews with 3,550 probable voters.

A Louis Harris Survey made it 59 Nixon, 35 McGovern, a 24-point spread.

A Sidlinger & Co. telephone survey of 1,030 likely voters on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 put Nixon at 58.8 per cent, McGovern at 27.

Report Polio In Connecticut

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A recent outbreak of polio at a Connecticut private school was the first reported in the nation in seven years outside of South Texas, the Center for Disease Control reports.

The nine confirmed cases of paralytic polio out of 11 suspected cases occurred in late September and October at a private Christian Science school at Greenwich, Conn., the center said Tuesday in its weekly report.

"Since 1965, it's the first outbreak of polio outside of South Texas," a CDC spokesman said. "Cases get into South Texas from presumably across the border."

All the Connecticut cases occurred among previously unvaccinated children ranging in age from 7 to 18. The CDC report said all other children in the school, faculty and staff, were vaccinated after the first case was identified as polio.

Only in 1964 did the final Gallup Poll report a margin greater than that in the Nixon-McGovern contest. President Lyndon B. Johnson led Republican Barry Goldwater by 28 points in the poll, while his final popular-vote margin was 22 percentage points.

In 1948, Gallup had reported Dewey ahead by 5 percentage points, Archibald Crossley gave the Republican a 5.1-poiint lead, Elmo Roper put the Dewey margin at 15.3 per cent. The Gallup organization said that was the only time it erred as to the presidential winner.

Truman upset Dewey with a popular-vote margin of 4.4 per cent. That means the biggest margin of error among the three most publicized national polls in that campaign was 19.7 per cent.

Truman called them "sleeping polls," and the opinion analysts said they had been in error because a high percentage of the voters didn't make up their minds until election day.

According to George H. Gallup Jr., the average margin of error for the Gallup Poll since 1948 has been 1.6 percentage points.

But McGovern maintained that a poll "never catches up to the momentum of a campaign. One of the reasons they look so bad in retrospect is that there's always about a 10-day lag and in a fast-moving, volatile situation, that can mean a poll might be right the day they took it, but wrong by the time the election comes around."

"You can never be dead certain," said George Gallup Sr., dean of the pollsters. "That's one good reason why polls will never take the place of elections."

Because Arctic wolves attack only weak members of caribou herds, an Eskimo adage says: "The wolf and the caribou are one; for the caribou feeds the wolf, but it is the wolf who keeps the caribou strong."

Oil Production Allowable Off

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' average calendar day oil production allowable as of Nov. 1 was 3,931,383, the railroad commission reported Monday.

This was a decrease of 29,186 barrels daily from the Oct. 15 average allowable.

Broadway Success On WTC Stage Thursday

The Broadway success "Dear Liar" starring Judy Olson and Cecil Rutherford will be presented Thursday at the Fine Arts Little Theatre of Western Texas College. The Fine Arts Department of WTC has invited the two professional actors, now residing in Abilene, to perform the play in Snyder.

WTC students may receive free admission with their activity cards. Members of the Scurry County Concert Association are entitled to one free ticket for each membership card. However, people entitled to these free tickets must get them before the day of the performance. All other seats are $2. Tickets are available at WTC business office and Roy J. McClosky Insurance Co.

Rutherford is a veteran of national television Broadway, off-Broadway, and stock. His varied background includes major roles in New York Theatre including "What Every Woman Knows" with Helen Hayes, "No Time for Sergeants" with Andy Griffith and Don Knotts, "Porgy and Bess" with Leontyne Price and Cab Calloway. Rutherford recently returned to his native Abilene with his wife Ellen, a professional dancer, and opened the Abilene Ballet Center. He and Mrs. Rutherford have been instrumental in forming the Abilene Civic Ballet, Inc. of which she is the artistic director and he the managing director.

Mrs. Olson, a graduate of Yale University Graduate School of Drama, has a professional career that encompasses America and Europe as well. She was sent by the U.S. Government to perform at Brussels World Fair in the world premier of Archibald MacLeish's "J B." She has worked professionally with such luminaries as E.G. Marshall, Dick Cavett, Suzanne Pleshette, Julie Harris, Harry Belafonte and the like. Mrs. Olson is ideally suited for "Dear Liar." A Shavian actress of note, she has played Eliza in "Pygmalion," Hesione Hushabye in "Heartbreak House," and the title roles in "St. Joan" and "Caesar and Cleopatra." Among her many award winning performances are Annie Sullivan in "The Miracle Worker," Blanche in "A Streetcar Named Desire," Shakespeare's Lady MacBeth, and of course, St. Joan. She is active in the Dyess Playhouse where she just recently directed "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown." In her private life Mrs. Olson is the wife of Maj. Max Olson and mother to their daughter Kirsten.

"Dear Liar" is a "Comedy of Letters" in two parts adapted for the stage by Jerome Kilty from the correspondence of Mrs. Patrick Campbell and George Bernard Shaw.

He called her Dear Liar, among other terms of endearment. She called him Joey, because he reminded her of a clown. In 1899, George Bernard Shaw was 42 years old, a brilliant critic turned tentative playwright; Mrs. Patrick Campbell, at the height of her career, was 34 and one of the most beautiful and exciting stars of the English and American stage. For almost 40 years these two disparate personalities maintained a correspondence that could be called love letters, or belles letters, or both. Jerome Kilty has taken passages from the letters and made them into an evening of highly literate dialogues for Judy Olson and Cecil Rutherford.

Ford Asks Price Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford Motor Co. asked the Price Commission Monday for permission to raise prices on its 1973 models by $91.53 per car to cover the cost of federally mandated safety and antipollution equipment.

Earlier, when the government was trying to talk the company out of its request, Ford agreed to cut it back to $59. However, in its statement of third-quarter earnings, Ford reported it would ask for the $91.53 increase.

General Motors Corp., the nation's largest automobile manufacturer, has refiled its request for a price boost, but held it to $54 per car.

The Price Commission last Aug. 29 rejected Ford and General Motors requests saying the two industry giants were in danger of violating their allowable profit margins in the third quarter. Both companies disagreed and said they would refile as soon as possible.

Earlier in the day, the Price Commission gave the Pillsbury Co. permission to raise the price of its flour by 11.2 per cent, due largely to higher wheat costs.

The price of wheat has gone up because of large U.S.-Soviet wheat deals, which have contributed to a number of price increases in bakery products across the nation.

Relief ace of the Pittsbugh Piraes, Dave Giusti, will be 33 on Nov. 27.

'Drop' Ballots On Tiny Island

LITTLE DIOMEDE, Alaska (AP) — It took a special parachute drop to deliver ballots to this tiny Bering Sea island, a rocky outpost of democracy in the shadow of Siberia. Before the island's official returns are in, the next president may be settled in office.

Despite the hardships, Alaska election officials expect a 100 per cent turnout today among the village's 37 registered voters.

Little Diomede Island, so rocky the houses are built on stilts, has no room for an airstrip. And it is virtually cut off from the outside world in late fall and spring when the mushy Bering Sea ice won't support a temporary airfield. There also is too much ice for a boat to cut through.

As is the custom here, election officials chartered a bush plane recently to drop a well-wrapped bundle of ballots, marked by bright red streamers, to the Eskimo village of about 100 persons.

The twin-engine plane straddled the International Dateline, separating today from yesterday, to make the drop after three approaches under the watchful eye of a Soviet garrison on Russian Big Diomede Island, three miles away.

The charter flight from Nome, about 100 miles away on Alaska's west coast, cost $175 — nearly $5 per voter. But Mrs. JoAnn Harhut, election supervisor in Nome, believes the extra effort is worthwhile, pointing with pride to the fact that every single eligible voter had registered as of last month.

But she says retrieving the ballots, as usual, will have to wait until winter sets in, although the unofficial results will be radioed to her office.

"This is always a problem," she said. "We won't be able to get them until December or January when the ice freezes over and a plane can land."

It could be, then, that the votes here won't be counted officially until after the next president is inaugurated next Jan. 20.

This fluke in the back eddy of a technological age that will forecast a presidential victor before Little Diomede's polls are closed apparently hasn't discouraged the villagers. Nearly every man, woman and child turned out to wave and cheer when the ballots were dropped.

BevoRecovered At Aggieland

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Kidnapers made off with Bevo, the longhorn mascot of the University of Texas, but some quick detective work led to his recovery.

Police disclosed that the animal was stolen from the Travis County Sheriff's Posse arena sometime between Sunday night and Monday morning.

Deputy Sheriff Gary Simpson said a rental agency recalled that someone rented a livestock trailer here Sunday with the announced intention of taking it to Hearne, Tex.

A check disclosed that the trailer actually was obtained by four Texas A&M freshmen, officers said, and Texas Ranger Cullen Robinson soon located Bevo at College Station—Aggieland.

Authorities arranged for Bevo's return to home quarters.

US Reports Loss Of Planes

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported the loss today of the third F111 swing-wing fighter-bomber in less than six weeks and also announced the loss of a Navy A7 during raids on the southern panhandle of North Vietnam.

All three crewmen aboard the two planes were listed as missing.

Seven other Americans were rescued today after bad weather forced their helicopter own in enemy territory 90 miles south of Da Nang. The helicopter went down Monday night, but the men were not attacked during the night, the Command said.

Like the two other F111s lost on Sept. 28 and Oct. 17, the plane today was on a night mission, flying alone on a computerized course, when it vanished from command post radar screens shortly before dawn.

North Vietnam claimed that the first two F111s were shot down by its forces, but by noon today Hanoi Radio had not mentioned the third plane.

Meanwhile, U.S. sources reported that North Vietnam is rushing more troops into South Vietnam and rebuilding base camps along the Cambodian border in efforts to strengthen its negotiating hand.

The sources suggested that the North Vietnamese in future negotiations might offer to dismantle the bases and pull out the troops in exchange for concessions from the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments.

The Americans and the South Vietnamese have launched a joint air-ground campaign aimed at blocking the North Vietnamese.

The buildup is reported taking place in South Vietnam's 3rd Military Region, which includes Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces, and in the northern Mekong Delta.

Sources estimated that three North Vietnamese regiments, perhaps 5,000 troops, have moved from Cambodia into these areas in the past few weeks. They said there is no troop movement toward Saigon, however. Instead the North Vietnamese appear to be concentrating on bringing in supplies and stockpiling them on both sides of the border.

The United States also is accelerating its military aid program to supply as much to the South Vietnamese as it can before a cease-fire. Giant C141 and C5 transports poured into Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base today with full loads.

South Vietnamese paratroopers were reported trying to expand their territorial control on the northern front by pushing westward from Quang Tri City, 19 miles below the demilitarized zone.

Elsewhere, field reports said fighting erupted this morning in two hamlets 19 and 22 miles north of Saigon along Highway 13. A South Vietnamese convoy of more than 20 armored vehicles was fired on by North Vietnamese entrenched on both sides of the highway, and fighting continued through the afternoon.

Texas Has Unruly Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Turbulence kicked up at least one tornado and caused severe thunderstorm and flash flood warnings in a sweep from Northeast Texas to the Upper Texas Coast.

Up to 4½ inches of rain by unofficial measurement descended northeast of Houston and heavy showers extended into Central and South Texas as a Pacific cold front surged southward into the Gulf of Mexico.

By the dawn of this election day, however, weather calm returned nearly everywhere in the state. A few showers and thunderstorms lingered offshore, extending northward into the corner of southeast Texas near the Louisiana line.

Clouds covered east and must of north Central Texas. It was clear to only partly cloudy as voters went to the polls in other sections.

Sighting of a tornado funnel was reported at Clarksville, about 85 miles west-northwest of Texarkana, but there was no word of damage. Hail the size of marbles peppered down around Sulphur Springs.

At one time, official warnings against possibly damaging thunderstorms were in effect for near two dozen counties. Forecasters said sudden downpours threatened flooding in low areas, but no serious effects were reported.

The unruly weather broke out at the end of a day which saw temperatures go as high as 90 degrees at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley while the mercury went only to 62 at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle.

Readings near dawn today dropped to 32 degrees at Dalhart and 33 at Amarillo.

Indians Ready To Negotiate

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a deadline for destruction behind them and a court order buying time ahead, Indians who have occupied a federal building here since Thursday readied for Election Day negotiations with the Nixon administration.

Vernon Bellencourt, national director of the American Indian Movement, spoke to newsmen from the steps of the occupied and ransacked Bureau of Indian Affairs building. "Pretty firm demands" would be placed before the government in negotiations today "at the White House," he said.

Bellencourt said no time was set for the meeting. His comments followed Monday's negotiating session with Frank Carlucci, assistant director of the Office of Budget and Management, and Leonard Garment, President Nixon's adviser on minorities.

A government spokesman confirmed the session was held, but declined further comment.

Bellencourt said procedural matters took up Monday's session, adding that substantial issues would come up today.

The AIM leader said formulation of a 12-member commission sought by the Indians to conduct negotiations was started at the session.

The announcement of the apparently productive negotiations followed intensive court activity and a threat by one Indian spokesman that the building would be destroyed if progress were not made.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge John Pratt ordered the arrest of the Indians, at times during the day numbering as many as 400, unless they vacated by 6 p.m., only to have his order stayed until 9 p.m. Wednesday by the U.S. Circuit Court here.

The Justice Department, which had responsibility for the question before White House representatives clouded that picture, announced it plans no appeal of the circuit court order.

A department spokesman said the order bars the government from forcibly evicting the Indians before Wednesday night.

As the Monday negotiations began, AIM field director Dennis Banks had his own ultimatum for the session. "If we receive no commitment by midnight, then the Indian negotiators have no alternative but to remove ourselves from the building and leave nothing."

Asked if that meant the building would be destroyed, Banks replied, "There has been no business conducted in this building for years and I am sure there will be no business conducted here after the Indians leave."

Banks singled out one special target for negotiators, the firing of Asst. Interior Secretary Harrison Loesch, a man the Indians accused of condescension and opposition to their land, water and forest rights.

Reds Mark 55th Anniversary

By FRANK CREPEAU
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet troops, tanks and missiles paraded before the Kremlin's leaders in Red Square today in the military parade marking the 55th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution. Western experts saw no new weapons in the display.

Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko opened the parade with a six-minute speech in which he said the Soviet Union is pursuing a "Leninist foreign policy course which invariably combines a firm rebuff to imperialism with the implementation of the principles of peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems."

The speech was relatively mild, like other such speeches of recent years on the holiday commemorating the 1917 seizure of power by the Bolsheviks.

Grechko spoke from atop Lenin's tomb. His listeners included Communist Party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, President Nikolai V. Podgorny, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and other leaders who were also on the tomb to review the parade.

Grechko said the Soviet Union will continue "rendering all-round aid to the peoples of Vietnam, of progressive Arab states and other countries fighting for freedom, national independence and social progress."

Some relaxation of international tension has been achieved of late, he said, but "aggressive imperialist forces are still active in the world."

Grechko said those forces "wage a shameful war in Indochina, prevent settlement of the Middle East crisis, heat up and unleash armed conflicts."

He did not mention the United States by name.

A military band played the Soviet national anthem when Grechko finished, and the military parade began with a corps of drummers from infantry units marching past at 120 steps a minute.

Rock Musician Loses To Promoter

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Rock musician Buddy Miles has lost a $5,000 judgment to a promoter for whom he failed to appear for a concert date here two years ago.

Superior Court Judge Willard J. Roe signed a default judgment Monday in favor of Marc DeWood, who had sued the black recording star for failure to appear at the concert.
