Health, Safety Measures Aim Of P.T.A. Body

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Nov. 20. (AP)—Resolutions seeking adequate measures for health and safety of school children, thrift instruction as a regular course of study, and child welfare bureau were passed in the concluding business session of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations this morning.

The assembly endorsed the measure of S. M. N. Marks, state superintendent, which provides for the distribution of the state per capita apportionment based upon school attendance, and reaffirmed the measure providing for the appointment of the county superintendents by the county board of education and the establishment of the foundation of child welfare and parent education at the University of Texas.

Dallas and San Antonio extended invitations for the 1931 convention. The Austin delegation with drawing because of the extensive preparations that were made by the other cities. Mrs. Clarence Echols of Dallas and Mrs. J. E. Crews of San Antonio read the resolutions.

The resolutions were read by Mrs. A. F. Wood of Athens, chairman of that committee, and following a discussion, they were accepted as a whole. The board of managers will meet this afternoon to consider the city which will get the next convention and to appoint the nominating committee for the next year when state officers will be elected.

Final business of the state organization was completed before the adjournment at noon, the announcements for the budget committee being made. The birthday cake, won by the Eleventh District for having contributed the largest sum to the state birthday gift, was presented. Mrs. Ella Carruthers Porter of Dallas read the amounts from all the districts at a meeting last night.

$125,000,000 For Highways Will Be Asked of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—Congress will be asked to make the $125,000,000 allotted for federal aid in road construction in 1932 available immediately on enactment of the agriculture department's supply bill.

Chairman of state drought relief committee, meeting with the national committee, were so advised today by C. W. Warburton, secretary of the national committee. Secretary Hyde and the budget bureau will join in the recommendation.

If agreed to, Warburton explained, the road funds for the fiscal year 1932 would be available probably before March 1, rather than on July 1, the beginning of the 1932 fiscal year.

Warburton pointed out that during September and October, $10,000,000 in federal funds for highway construction were used as compared with $8,826,000 in the same two months last year. This acceleration was to stimulate employment to help farmers suffering from the drought.

Contracts made against the 1932 allotment for road construction are expected to represent aggregate expenditures by state and federal governments of $30,000,000 prior to the first of January.

Man Assessed Death He Sought for 'Pal'

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—A fate he once espoused—death in the electric chair with Frank H. Bell—a jury today had decreed for Richard Sullivan.

The jury required but forty-five minutes late yesterday to reach its verdict of guilty in the trial of the pair, confessed robbers, for slaying Christ Patras, a cafe proprietor last June 16.

When Sullivan and Bell were arraigned for the slaying, Sullivan told Judge Joseph Sabath he'd "be glad to burn in the chair" if Bell died with him. His hatred for his erstwhile pal developed when Bell told a coroner's jury that Sullivan had killed Patras while trying to collect his share of "the payoff" for the slaying of Alfred (Juke) Lingie, Tribune reporter, a week before.

Bell's story was discredited by the prosecution as a desperate attempt to escape the penalty for the slaying.

Big Lake Order Again Delayed

AUSTIN, Nov. 20. (AP)—Pending return of Chairman Pat M. Neff from San Antonio, the railroad commission will not act on a proposed extension to Big Lake oil operators in which to tube their wells as a preventative of waste.

This statement was made today by C. V. Terrell, senior member of the commission whose agreement with the attorneys for the oil companies on a 30-day extension from November 15 was met with a heated protest from Chairman Neff.

Terrell said no penalties had been placed against the company, although their probation period expired November 15. All indications were, however, that an order granting the extension would be issued by the commission, with commissioners Terrell and Lon A. Smith overriding Neff's proposition.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Pilot And Two Passengers Die In Storm Crash

BURBANK, Cal., Nov. 20. (AP)—Three bodies and a pile of wreckage, found yesterday in the Tehachapi foothills, north of here, revealed the fate of a northbound Pacific Coast air mail plane, caught in storm and fog early Tuesday.

Flavius A. Donaldson, veteran pilot who served in the Army Air Corps during the World War, was at the controls Monday night when the Pacific Air Transport plane left here for Oakland. With him were George Rogers, mechanic, and Miss Jean Markow, who was celebrating her 18th birthday with a flight to Portland, Ore., to visit friends. The ship carried 319 pounds of mail.

Radio messages sent by Donaldson to the transport base here chronicled the flight until 2:07 a. m. Tuesday. At that time, after a fight with winds, snow and fog, he reported he could gain no more than 9,000 feet altitude, barely 1,000 feet above the highest peaks there, and was circling helplessly over Tejon, where a small emergency landing field lay hidden by snow or fog.

For 43 hours the fate of the craft was unknown. Then Eddie M. Newson, cowboy, stumbled upon the broken machine, and the mechanic were found near the spot where the plane first struck. Donaldson's body was encased in the twisted metal of the plane which had plowed to a halt 500 feet away on the gently sloping plateau.

Aviators found indications that ice possibly had formed on the wings of the plane, forcing it to crash.

Donaldson was born at Milford, Iowa. All the victims lived in Los Angeles.

Officers Probe Gun Fight With Booze Smugglers

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 20. (AP)—Customs officials today conducted a further investigation at the scene of last night's gun fight between four border guards and 11 alleged rum smugglers, in belief there were other casualties than the two men killed, and one wounded.

Officers said the fight was the biggest in months, more than 300 shots having been fired. A large quantity of liquor and an automobile were seized after the fight.

Frank Barncastle of Las Cruces, N. M., and Jesus Paz of El Paso, were killed, and Jesus Jasso, residence unknown, was wounded in a hand.

Customs guards said occupants of the automobile opened fire when commanded to halt. They said the fight was participated in by others who were across the border in Mexico.

Jasso denied to hospital attendants he had been smuggling liquor. Customs officials said there was renewed activity of rum smugglers in this district in anticipation of the Christmas trade and said extraordinary efforts would be made to prevent smuggling of contraband liquor into the United States.

'Public Enemy' Loses In Encounter With Law

CHICAGO, Nov. 20. (AP)—Another "public enemy" has clashed with the law and, temporarily, at least, has lost.

He is Jack Guzik, gambler and one of the original 28 gangsters named by the Chicago crime commission as "public enemies." He faced a possible prison term of fifteen years and a fine of $30,000 following his conviction on three counts of an income tax evasion charge. The maximum penalty for each of the counts is five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Guzik, described by police as a collector in the beer business for Alphonse Capone, gang leader, was found guilty by a federal court jury last night. He was the second of the "public enemies" to be convicted of a criminal charge within the past few days. The other was James (Fur) Sammons, found guilty of vagrancy by a municipal court jury.

Fire Breaks Out In Well Near Kerrville

KERRVILLE, Nov. 20. (AP)—Gas in a well being drilled in search of oil on the Jeff Love ranch, 45 miles north of here, caught fire today and was burning furiously. The blaze could be seen for miles. A portion of the derrick had been destroyed and workmen were trying to save the engine and other equipment.

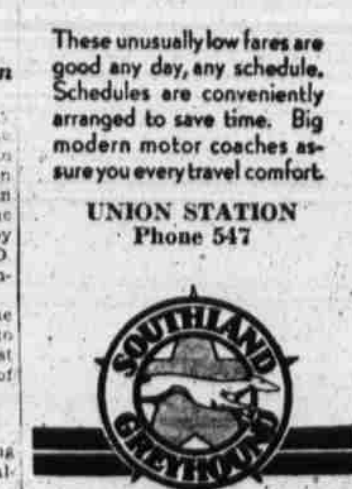

The fire started after the drill bit punctured an unexpected pocket of gas at a depth of 3,350 feet. Evans and Gant of Oklahoma owned the well. A showing of oil was encountered about two weeks ago at a depth of 2,550 feet, but after being shot the well failed to come in and drilling was resumed.

Dead Husband Comes Back Over Radio To Haunt Woman and Mate

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—A "dead" husband has come back over the radio to haunt Mrs. Mary Mulholland and Mate No. 2.

John T. Mulholland told the court yesterday, in his suit to have the marriage annulled that he wed Mrs. Mulholland in 1917 with the understanding that her first husband, Frederick (Spider) Tillman Jr., had departed.

But when a radio speaker from the Dover Street Mission was announced as "Spider" Tillman, Mulholland said, "I noticed my wife's facial expression undergo a complete change." Subsequent interviews with Tillman revealed him as the missing spouse, he said.

"Well, I don't know," Mrs. Mulholland was reported to have said when confronted with this, "I didn't think he had nerve enough to talk over the radio."

$11,000,000 Waiting

The Federal Government is going to help Texas. It has announced that an appropriation of eleven million dollars has been made available for the Lone Star state and will be state place come and get it. There are, however, some strings to this magnificent gift. The authorities at Washington admit there is a depression and are willing to help Texas to the extent of the amount named, provided—

Proviso number one is that the money must be used to build roads. Furthermore, these roads must be built where the Federal authorities designate and according to certain specifications laid down by them.
 Proviso number two is to the effect that the said eleven million dollars must be matched dollar for dollar by state funds. Or in other words instead of building around 500 miles of roads, there must be constructed in Texas approximately 100 miles of roads in order to make the federal appropriation available in this state.
 Inasmuch as the voters of the state did not seem to be unanimous about a state road bond issue, the State Highway Department does not have the sums available to its credit to use up the federal allotment unless the various counties use their own credit in the time honored manner, by voting their own bond issue.
 It all reverts back to the proposition that if West Texas wants some roads it must devote its own energies to the matter. If West Texas wants some work going on out here that will provide jobs for those overcome by the crippling paralysis of depression, why West Texans have just got to beggar themselves in their own behalf.
 If everybody whose goings and comings have been inconvenient to put in mildly by the lack of traversable roads in recent weeks get busy in their own counties, the 11-million-dollar federal road appropriation will soon be doing some good in West Texas.
 There is no question about Texas using the federal money. All that enters the mind of this state will see to it that they get their share. But what the Mountain States is interested in is how much of it is going to be used out here in West Texas. How much of this money is going to be devoted to the construction of smooth ribbons of brick concrete or asphalt that will defy the elements, tolerate bridges that will render these roads impatient and in the provision of work for a lot of people who need it.
 It is up to each county to take stock of its needs, draw up a comprehensive road program that will set as nearly as possible every body's requirements, and then crack down, at once on building roads. And by so doing, give a typical West Texas answer to the challenge of depression.

But haste is necessary. At least this is a whole lot of red tape and unavoidable delay in the preliminary to road building. Public bodies do not move in a hurry. Perhaps it is best that they do not. But the need for roads in West Texas is urgent. So is the need for jobs. One thousand miles of road won't go as far after all in Texas. The early bird, etc.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
Aviation's Jeremiad
 From Abilene Reporter:
 A WRITER in a popular magazine takes a fall out of aviation as at present constituted.
 A wartime flier in his own right, and more or less actively connected with aviation since then, this writer declares that all is not well with aviation. He skins the engineers for their failure to improve the design of the original Wright machine, although admitting that engine performance has been greatly improved. He takes a rap at the high cost of owning and operating a machine, ranging from the cost of storage and upkeep to the first cost of the plane.

 The country has only 1700 landing fields, whereas it needs 17,000 in order to make flying safe and convenient.
 The "bottom has dropped out of the aviation boom," this pessimistic writer asserts, pointing to the alleged collapse of many aerial bubbles in the last few months, following an intensive cultivation of the bond market among aviation enthusiasts and extraordinary efforts on the part of investment bankers.
 His conclusion is that most people are still afraid to fly—not without good reason: that aviation is still the plaything of the storm, the fox of the darkness; that Lindbergh's epochal flight was "lucky" and "valueless" and that aerial transportation has not measured up to the standards set by railroads either in punctuality or cost; and that it will be some time before aviation will take its proper place in the scheme of our national existence.
 Pessimistic and overdrawn, perhaps, but there is some element of truth in this jeremiad.

How Is Your HEALTH?

THE NATION'S GOOD WISHES
 The nation's sympathy and good wishes go out to Herbert Hoover, Jr., who, according to a recent announcement in the public press made by Dr. Joel T. Boone, White House physician, is said to be suffering from tuberculosis in an early stage.

The American nation has always been sympathetically interested in the well-being of its chief executives and their families. One needs but to recall the public sympathy aroused by the illness of Grant, McKinley, Wilson, Harding and of Coolidge's young son.
 Dr. Boone's announcement of Mr. Hoover's illness, its history and proposed method of treatment is interesting and instructive. The history is typical of early tuberculosis.
 As is so very common, the patient complained of intestinal disturbances, lost weight and suffered unaccountable fatigue. A careful examination revealed that, though the complaint was about the gastrointestinal tract, the source of the trouble was in the lung—a small area of which was affected. The discovery of this condition having been made at the time when the disease is still in its early stages, the outcome, or prognosis, is looked upon as good.
 Dr. Boone quite correctly states that the modern conception of tuberculosis when diagnosed early and when properly treated is not viewed with alarm. It is believed that in a case of this sort complete cure results when such course is pursued. This is strictly in harmony with the contentions of tuberculosis workers to the effect that early discovery facilitates early recovery.

The cure which Mr. Hoover Jr. is taking conforms to the type generally applied to tuberculous individuals. In this cure rest and living in the open air are prominent features. Under this regimen the patient should make a permanent and rapid recovery. This, we are sure, all of us sincerely and cordially wish for him.

THE ROSE IN THE DARK

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS: Hallie Elfenmore, nurse, who blinded Saxeby Grannock by deserting him at a crucial moment, and Rose Conalidine, the girl he loves, are the same person, but Grannock is kept in ignorance of the fact. Lester Broom, Grannock's half-brother, threatens to tell Grannock Hallie's secret unless she marries him. Hallie, learns from Mrs. Bartholomew, eccentric old woman, that her father was Clem Conalidine, wanted for murder. Grannock goes with her to Baltimore for further eye treatment. In New York another Rose Conalidine is told by her guardian, an unscrupulous lawyer named Perle, that she is daughter of Clem Conalidine by a woman other than his wife. But can use Clem's fortune, of which Perle is trustee, if she splits with him. Lester presses his threat and Hallie marries him on condition he allow her to return at once to be with Grannock during another crucial operation. She visits Perle, who craftily tells her the other Rose is the rightful heirress.

HALLIE KEEPS FAITH
 "I am here, Saxeby." He had come out of the shadows and was lying, very long and motionless on a hospital bed. His head was swathed in bandages. Dr. Downing and Dr. Lytton were there also and Lytton was preparing a sleep draught.
 "I am here. I shall be here all night."
 "Ah," laughed the eye-specialist. "Mr. Grannock does not trust my word, Nurse Riley." He snapped his finger and thumb under the starched cap of the elderly nurse who was taking up her position on the other side of Grannock's bed. She smiled indulgently.
 "It isn't that exactly," began Grannock weakly.
 "Don't worry, old man," Lytton raised the bandaged head and administered the draught. "It's all been fully explained."
 "Is he—pleased about the operation?"
 "I believe he is. So far. But all you need think about is that you will have a good night's sleep, knowing—"

He paused. Hallie had come to his side.
 "Knowing," he repeated, "that Miss Conalidine has taken your safety into her hands."
 "Let me send for a cushion or something," Lytton whispered, but Hallie shook her head. "I shall not grow tired," she said, "and I shall sit down on the uninviting chair. Saxeby stirred and put out a groping hand.
 "I am here, Saxeby."
 His hand closed upon something that she had placed in his palm. "I shall be in the next room," said Lytton with great gentleness. Hallie was dazed with fatigue. While she had been in New York it had been decided that Dr. Downing would operate immediately on her return.
 "Rose—"

Grannock muttered it in his sleep. She answered him immediately and he was quiet once more. The ivory rose, token of their love, had slipped from his grasp and she put her own hand in its place. His fingers closed over it. He sighed deeply and his body relaxed.
 The clock had just struck half-past three when the doctor, sitting in a haze of smoke at the window of the room next door, was aware that his door was being quietly opened.

"Doctor!" It was Hallie, very cool. "Will you just have another look? The restlessness is considerably increased since you came in at three."
 Lytton reached for what he needed.
 "Right! Get back to the patient, nurse! I'll inject—"

Five minutes later Grannock was quiet again. Fingers on the steady pulse, Lytton looked from Hallie to Nurse Riley, a stout white bundle on the hard little chair. She was asleep.
 A day later Hallie was back in Southcliff with Mrs. Bartholomew. "You'll stay awhile," asked the old woman.
 "If I only could! But I've got to keep my bargain, Saxeby. I got what I wanted—all these days in Baltimore while we were waiting and hoping. Mr. Broom left me in peace. Now—"

"And you say Mr. Grannock will get his sight back?"
 "There's nothing to prevent it. The operation was successful, as far as it went. And the days of rest and treatment were successful as far as they went. Then the specialist made a final examination and told us that it only remained for the nerves to function. They are sound and well again, he says, and one day, probably when Mr. Grannock intensely wants to see, he will see."
 "And as soon as you know that, you came away?"
 "Yes."
 "Won't Mr. Grannock come here after you?" Mrs. Bartholomew's rough voice was louder than usual.
 "No, I left a letter. . . . Oh, not telling him the truth! There is a chance, so long as Lester isn't malicious, that he will never know the truth. . . . No, I told him that I could not marry him because I was married already; to a man I did not love, who would not let me be free. And that nothing I had hoped about our life together—Saxeby's and mine—could come true except that we should love each other always. Always."
 Mrs. Bartholomew poked the fire. She left the room, then presently returned.
 "How wonderfully good you are to me!" murmured Hallie. "The day set before her held a delicate savoury preparation of eggs and there was thinly toasted bread and coffee."
 "You'll have just a sip of this wine before you take your supper," ordered Mrs. Bartholomew, with a strange authority in her tone.
 "Such extravagance, Saxeby." "Drink it up, my girl."
 The wine did her good. She was able to eat nearly all the savoury, and some color came back to her cheeks.
 "You are a wonderful cook, Saxeby."
 "I used to be a cook, once."
 "I may get a telegram presently," said Hallie. "I thought there might be a letter from Saxeby to me."
 Mrs. Bartholomew sat down in the opposite chair and stretched her legs manfully out towards the fire.
 "Do you want Mr. Broom to be let in?" she asked. "If you don't, you've only to say so and he stays out. He's had one taste of my tongue already. He won't give you any trouble. What's your wish, my dear?"
 Hallie's face twitched.
 "It's not any more a question of what I wish, Saxeby. I'm his wife. I must pay my debt to him because he gave me those extra two weeks I bargained for."
 "And you and he are to share your lives together?"
 "Until he tires," said Hallie dully. "Or until I—"

"Until you what?"
 "It is wicked to make an end to everything," pleaded Hallie sobbing suddenly. "If one has nobody to look after and nobody to care about, do you believe one must go on suffering?"
 "Till he be as bad as that for you, will it?"
 "As bad as that?"
 "You loved him once—Mr. Lester Broom. Won't you, maybe, come to that way of thinking again?"
 "When I love Saxeby as I do?"
 "I don't love him because my selfish slackness blinded him and I had to do all I could to make up. I loved him before, when we first talked on the cliff. Perhaps I didn't know it then, but I knew it when I was told I was to help nurse him through that first treatment. I forgot all about Lester, at once. There was suddenly nothing of him to remember. Except—"

National Guardsmen To Aid In Manhunt

WINSLOW, Ariz., Nov. 19. (AP)—Twenty national guardsmen prepared to leave Winslow today for the mountains 45 miles south of here and to aid in the search for D. J. Bird, 25, railroad brakeman, lost since Friday.

Yesterday an airplane flew over a part of the mountainous country where Bird is believed to be wandering, but was forced to return to the Winslow airport when snow began to fall. No sign of the missing man was detected.

Bird moved to Winslow three months ago from Temple, Texas, with his wife and four-year-old daughter. Mrs. Bird received word yesterday her husband's father had left Temple to aid in the search.

Don't Let Finances
Keep You From A
County Girls Club

Dear girls: Since my last letter I have seen many of you. As you know, I did not get to Elbow and Center Point because of the mud. I visited the girls of club age at the following schools: Lomax had two mothers present, and all of the girls seemed to want a club. There were a lot of girls at Moore, but they were not so sure about the work. There were no parents present, and I think if there had been, and they learned what the work really means, there would be a good organization there. Highway has a lot of new girls of club age, as it has been lowered from 12 to 10. These younger girls are anxious to start the work. Midway, also, has a lot of new girls. Highway and Midway, like Moore, had no parents present, for did South. Girls of other communities, however of South, I think they are going to give you a run for your money. The main reason for their interest, as I see it, is all mothers of girls present with the exception of two belong to the women's club. Their mothers understand something about the work, therefore want them to have the advantage of it. Girls that in the season will want you to insist on your mothers being present the next time I visit your school. For a successful club we must have co-operation of girls, parents, and agent. For parents to co-operate, they must understand what the girls are expected to do. That is what I want to tell you at the next meeting. I will give you my program for next week. And do not forget you must have your records and histories complete before you come to the club supper. It is being given as an achievement program for girls who completed their work this year. You new girls will have this, or perhaps something better, to look forward to next year after you have completed your work.

Monday, 24th, at 3 p. m., Elbow girls.
Tuesday, 25th, 9 a. m., Highway girls.
Tuesday, 25th, 3 p. m., Moore girls.

Wednesday, 26th, 9 a. m., Center Point.
Wednesday, 26th, 3 p. m., Midway.

Friday, 28th, 7:30 p. m., Club Supper at Settles hotel. Girls meet in my office at 6:30.

Mr. Bush will visit Elbow, Highway, Moore, and Midway at the same time, so parents who have both boys and girls can learn about both clubs.

Poultry girls will raise and keep records on pure bred chickens, the number depending on the club year. First year girls starting with at least 50 baby chicks they have hatched under hens, or in an incubator, or that they have bought. The aim is to raise ten good pullets. Second year girls will take charge of a flock of at least ten hens, and raise at least 20 pullets. That will mean that the girl should start off with at least 100 baby chicks. Third year girls will take charge of at least 25 hens. To keep records on hens will require the girls to have the entire flock as Wilma Ford at Elbow does, or keep her own hens penned.

Garden club girls will raise foods to can. A girl who has water will raise a greater variety than the one who does not. Girls who do not have an irrigated garden will raise corn, peas and beans in the summer, turnips and greens in the fall, and can at least 20 containers of fruit and vegetables. Corn matures so rapidly, that it is a good idea to plant it at three or four different plantings. Girls who can irrigate a garden will raise tomatoes, carrots, beets and collards, in addition to any other vegetables.

BASKETS of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, crisp boughs of autumn leaves, proud and puffy turkeys and jolly Puritans hurrying home to Thanksgiving dinner—these bits of autumn color have been eagerly snatched up by every hostess for her party during the months of October and November. The Settles
Hotel

Two of the most charming parties ever given in Big Spring were held yesterday morning and afternoon on the mezzanine floor of the Settles Hotel.

Mrs. George Barham entertained at ten o'clock honoring her sister, Mrs. Frank O'Neil of Casper, Wyoming.

Mrs. Frank L. Hamblin entertained at two-thirty o'clock honoring Mrs. C. G. Steele of Waterville, Kansas, house guest of Mrs. Ben L. LeFevre, and Mrs. Frank O'Neil.

Both parties were under the direction of Ted Leonard, manager of the Coffee Shop and social director of the hotel.

The group gathered for the morning party at tables arranged and placed ready for bridge. The tulle and other accessories carried out the Thanksgiving motif. Large baskets of chrysanthemums were used in decoration.

In the games Mrs. Fred Winger of Midland won high score and was presented with a novelty smoking set. Mrs. O'Neil was awarded guest prize, a compact.

Mrs. Frank L. Hamblin won cut prize, a bon-bon dish. Mrs. Barham then placed a number of loose sticks of gum on one of the tables. Every guest dashed for one but Mrs. H. R. Sindorf of Midland came out lacking. To her Mrs. Barham gave a silver mounted bud vase as a consolation.

A five course luncheon was served to the group. The luncheon table was beautifully appointed with a large centerpiece of scarlet, cream and bronze chrysanthemums and tall yellow tapers.

Individual plate favors were small turkeys filled with mints. The guests were: Mesdames H. C. Timmons, E. O. Ellington, V. Van Gieson, J. B. Young, Ben LeFevre, I. F. Petty, Victor Martin, J. Bedford, E. L. Hamblin, F. O'Neil, H. S. Faw, Ellen Gould, H. W. Leeper, Vern McGrew, William Simpson of Midland, Fred Winger of Midland, H. R. Sindorf of Midland.

Mrs. Hamblin carried out a yellow, white and lavender color scheme in the decorations, flowers and bridge accessories. Two large baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums with large bows of lavender and white tulle were placed in the center.

Mrs. Hamblin gave five prizes for the first five stams. Mesdames O'Neil, E. O. Ellington, V. Van Gieson, Ben LeFevre and George Barham were presented with a petted begonia and fern for stams.

Mrs. H. W. Leeper made the sixth slam and Mrs. O'Neil, who is traveling by car across the country, presented her with her plant.

Mrs. Fred Winger of Midland won high score and was presented with a string of beads. Mrs. Frank Johnson won consolation prize, which was lingerie. Mrs. Hamblin presented Mrs. Steele with a guest prize, a hand painted chiffon handkerchief.

Refreshments of strawberry parfait, cakes and dent these were served to the following: Mesdames C. G. Steele, Waterville, Kansas; Frank O'Neil, Casper, Wyoming; William Simpson; Fred Winger; Gordon Gimbal; H. R. Sindorf; all of Midland; E. O. Ellington; H. S. Faw; Ellen Gould; Ed Bonham; H. W. Steers Leave Today For Final Class A Clash With Ranger

This writer would consider it a day well spent if it passed with-out a "Blondy Cross" San Angelo making some sort of a twisted thrust at this department. However, that is never to be. Always, ever and eternally, the "Concho" terror is on his guard, taking the offense, seeking out a mean message in the general direction of this desk. His latest has to do with a rumor, regarding the prowess of Scrap Iron Grimes, the 1929 All-District tackle. It deals with our 1930 opinion. However, we find that we are not supposed to have an opinion regarding any San Angelo football.

The Case Goes to the Jury. Grimes cannot help what Campbell thinks about his ability. It might be in order to mention that only once did the Big Spring team get more than a yard past the line of scrimmage against Grimes. It might be further in order to mention that San Angelo's most consistent offensive thrust in the Big Spring game, were made behind Grimes, the "overrated" tackle. Still, Grimes cannot bother about what Campbell thinks. It is doubtful Campbell knows any more about football than does Tracy Cowell at Del Rio. Grimes' first big test since recovering from his illness came in the game with Cisco. We do not express the opinion of any San Angelo fan on that game, but let leave it up to Wilson, Chap-man, the Cisco coach, as to whether or not Grimes is the greatest tackle this game has met this year. We will not express any San Angelo opinion on Grimes in his next game with Eastland but will leave it up to Joe Gibson, the Eastland coach, as to whether or not Grimes is the greatest tackle this team has come in contact with this year.

The statistics already have spoken for Grimes in the Abilene game. The statistics, Coach Shotwell of Breckenridge and Wesley Hodges, Breckenridge sports writer, will speak for Grimes in the next game.

In other words, in case the above has not been clear, Scrap Iron Grimes is a great tackle.

The Steers took off today. They are Ranger bound. When the final whistle of the 1930 season is blown, it will be the funeral dirge so far as the Steers are concerned with the 1930 season. It will be the final Class A contest of the year for the Bovines. They will play their last game of the year Thanksgiving day against the Colorado Wolves. Some way will be worked out to keep the wolf from the dog, it is presumed. In their game Friday, the Steers slip back on the underdog robe and try to make the best of matters. If they fight as they are capable of fighting, as they should be able to, they will stop the battle determined to do something in the way of a jammed up defense and a late 350, fifty of fence, the Steers may crash through to hold the Bulldogs down. It is not there is little telling where the Bulldogs will go to and when they will stop.

For various reasons this department will stay home by the fire, instead of following the Bovines. It will mark the first time this year we have not seen the Steers play. We have looked across the count, and seen every game in which they have participated. Incidentally, two of the best games were played away from the village. We refer to Mineral Wells and San Angelo.

Instead, accompanied by Johnny C. Moore, the big gas and oil man of the Richardson refinery, we plan to see the battle royal at Midland, Moore, being a brave young man, will officiate at the game. We shall merely watch. Watch is all.

Talked with Stevens just as he was fixing to depart for Ranger. "I don't have any idea how it will come out," he declared regarding the Ranger game. "It all depends on the frame of mind the boys happen to be in." A truer thing was never said by a football coach. It was true 30 years ago, and it probably will be true 30 years hence. The football players have the greatest of bearing on what is going to happen in a football game. What they think always is more important than what they do.

Bovines Go Into Fray Rated Far Below Standard Carried By Powerful Bulldog Outfit

Final Appearance of Steers Before Public In a Class-A Contest Scheduled for Friday Afternoon At 3 O'Clock

Coaches Bill Stevens and George Brown will send their black and gold charges against a Class A aggregation for the final time this season, Friday afternoon at 3 p. m. when they clash with the strong and veteran Ranger Bulldogs on Lillard Field.

HERE'S MURRAY

Dick Murray, Ranger's pride and joy tackle, who is said to be sailing safely and on a serene sea to an all-district assignment. He will be just another football player to the Steers Saturday afternoon.

Tommy Loughran, King Levinsky Meet Friday

CHICAGO, Nov. 20. (AP)—Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion of the world, is confident he will beat King Levinsky decisively in their ten round engagement in the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

The Philadelphia boxer finished hard training yesterday, boxing three sparring rounds. He probably will enter the ring weighing around 182 pounds, with Levinsky scaling 185.

JACOBS WINS

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 20. (AP)—David Jess Jacobs of St. Louis defeated Bud Westhus, also of St. Louis, 3-0 in the first black belt title fight in the south-eastern section of the United States.

COCHRAN LEADS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—Half-way through their title match, Welker Cochran of Hollywood, Calif., had a margin of nearly 1000 points over Willie Hoppe today in their contest for the world's 151 ballroom championship.

As is usual in these matters, the Steers will go into the fray the underdogs by overwhelming odds, doped to lose by a margin of from six to eight touchdowns, and given a fractional chance to win over the maroon and white aggregation that is rated up high in this loop of contending contingents.

The Steers left Big Spring at 12:10 a. m. today on the train and will arrive at Ranger late this afternoon. They will take a short workout Friday morning on the Ranger gridiron, preparatory to battling the Bulldogs Friday afternoon. Only a handful of fans was expected to go to Ranger Friday to see the game.

Huge Slice. Outclassed, outtrained, outnumbered when it comes to reserve strength, the Bovines indeed cut off a big slice for the final meal. The Bulldogs are rated just a notch below Breckenridge in this year's race, and Breckenridge doesn't rate very low, it will be recalled. In fact, Ranger, Cisco and Abilene are placed in the same basket, and Big Spring is not found anywhere near this receptacle, much less tucked inside it.

Dopesters are predicting the score will depend altogether on the frame of mind the Bulldogs happen to be in Friday afternoon. With their final clash with the Breckenridge Buckaroos, only a week away, the Bulldogs may set the matters in the early frames, and then turn things over to an offensive Steer attack, meeting it halfway with a stiff defensive battle. Should this happen, the tally should not be as top heavy as it might otherwise.

It is generally accepted by these high school coaches, that when the next game is with Breckenridge, Silent Shotwell is just as sure to be up in the stands with his notebook as the gatekeeper is sure of keeping the gate. For this reason, the Buc's opponents uncovered as little as possible, demonstrate nothing for the Breckenridge mentor to make merry of, and leave a lot to his imagination. Such being the case, it may be that a stubborn battle will result, the Bulldogs giving the Steers the ball and asking them to go places with it if they can.

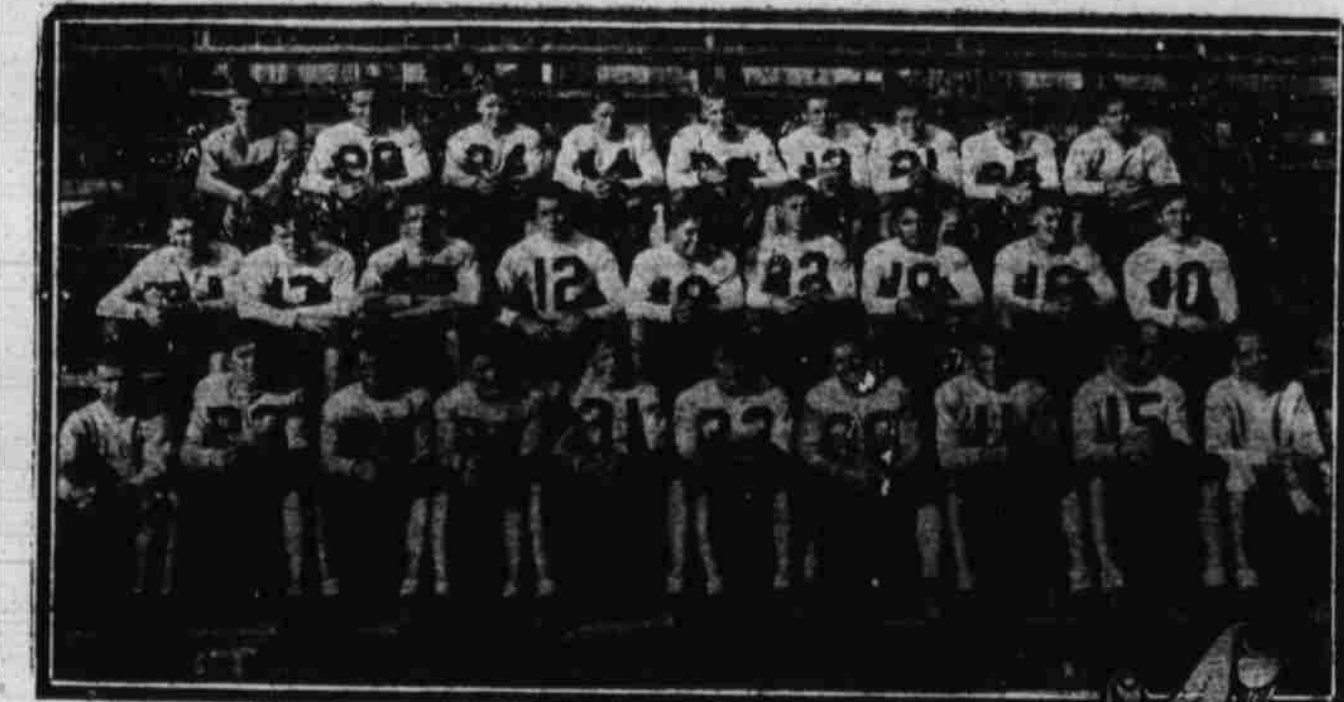

On the other hand it is just as possible that a huge tally would please the Buc's mentors, they thinking, perhaps that after the licking given the Bulldogs by the Leboes, a top-heavy margin would tend to bolster the spirits of the clan and get them into a proper frame of mental attitude for the clash with the Green Wave of Stephens County.

So, as a matter of fact, the score

Winding Up A Career

Some Of The Doggies That Live In The Ranger Kennel

This group of football players may look like a collection of Knute Rockne's choicest, but it isn't. In fact, for the sake of keeping the record straight, these boys don the maroon and white gowns once a week, grab the swine's raiment, and carry it for dear old Ranger High school.

These hefty looking creatures are marking time until the Big Spring Steers amble into Ranger sometime late this afternoon or tonight, maybe. Friday afternoon they will furnish the entertainment for the Bovines in their last appearance in the Class A ring this season. The season's schedule gave the Steers a nice break when Ranger was given them as opposition in their final contest instead of Abilene, Cisco or Breckenridge.

Reading from left to right in the above reproduction of a fair photograph, would be rather difficult for this writer, inasmuch as we fail to recognize more than two or three of the Ranger aspirants. However, reading from left to right, or right to left, as it pleases the customer, it is not hard to see that Eck Curtis and Tricky Ward have on hand not only a hard looking bunch of boys, but quite a few tons of flesh, muscle and bone, most of the latter two. In the group will be found, if one is diligent enough, such notables as Dick Murray, Dangerous Daniel McCarty and Chucky Bird, not to even mention thirty or forty more young stalwarts whose sole aim and desire is to play havoc with as many teams as possible in as short a length of time.

Although a close study of this work of art reveals that the Doggies can in no way compare with the local aggregation when it comes to beauty in complexion and physique, expression and personality, it doesn't require a smart man to deduce that the Bulldogs would think nothing at all of slaying the Big Spring aggregation, in the meantime crowning that trite old tabernacle hymn, "What's a Sweet Young Breeze."

The game, so they say, starts at 3 o'clock Friday.

Three Outstanding Gridsters In Saturday's Baylor-Frog Contest

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—The Southwest's three outstanding gridsters will be seen in the same show case Saturday at Fort Worth, when the Texas Christian Horned Frogs meet the Baylor Bears in the week's premier attraction.

Jake Wilson, quarterback, and Bochey Koch, guard, will be playing next to their last game for Baylor. Noble Atkins, brilliant Frog center, likewise will approach the end of his career. All three were named on the 1929 mythical eleven and prospects are they will be returned by a virtual unanimous vote. The individual play of the trio will lend an aura to the big engagement.

Wilson may confidently be expected to prove the outstanding backfield man on the field. Baylor's hopes of victory are wrapped up in the dynamic little Jake. He constitutes about half of the Bruins' running threat, and his punting is a dangerous offensive weapon. Wilson is the one conference backfield star who never disappoints his audience.

Last year Jake was the conference's leading scorer, with 14 touchdowns. He is, if anything, an even more brilliant ball-carrier this year, yet he has crossed the enemy's goal line but once in eight contests. He has permitted his two backfield mates, Lewter and Coleath, to pile up the points.

MIDWAY

Rev. D. R. Lindley, pastor of the First Christian church, gave an interesting talk Armistice Day at general assembly. It was enjoyed by everyone, and we hope to have him with us frequently in our assembly meetings. All patrons are invited to attend these meetings every Friday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock.

Among the things of interest we report from Midway this week, our enrollment now totals 135. Two new teachers have been added to our faculty. Mrs. W. H. Taylor was elected to fill the primary vacancy made by Miss Arvie Bishop's resignation, and Miss Carolyn Earley was elected as fifth teacher due to the crowded condition.

The school was the first in the county to purchase a new model merry-go-round on which 40 children can ride at once. There are also new ball-bearing swings, boys' and girls' new basketball courts, new saws, and a flag-pole on the school grounds. A hectograph, modeling clay, numeral chart, colored sticks, and various kinds of seat work have been added in the primary room. The school is a subscriber for the "Grade Teacher," "Normal Instructor," "Geographical Magazine," "Current Events" and several other papers.

The remains of the old building has been torn away. The ground is being leveled, trees are going to be set out and a fence will be built across the front of the ground. Teachers as well as parents appreciate the interest taken

Robbers' Victim

Patrick Gorman, 50, D. killed at Boscomb, Wis., by robbers seeking "buried treasure" in the home where Gorman was visiting his son, Paul, also killed.

Miss Maryann Hutto, second and third grade teacher, was ill Monday and Miss Donna Carter substituted for her.

Mrs. Lucille Allgood met with the 4-H Club girls Friday afternoon for the purpose of discussing their work for the coming year. Each year since the county has had a representative to the state 4-H Club convention which is held at the Dallas fair every year. These girls were awarded the free trip through the club work. Miss Pickle, principal, is equally anxious to continue this high record this year. To this end she has personally purchased a new Singer sewing machine for the use in the club work.

Mr. Town, the fourth and fifth grade teacher and school bus driver was a business visitor in Coahoma Tuesday afternoon.

Power Shovel Hits Wire; Man Killed By Electric Shock

Signature At Issue In Will Of Cobb

Brundage Now Olympic Head

Chicago Man Also Is President Of A.A.U.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—For the first time in history the presidencies of both the Amateur Athletic Union and the American Olympic Association rested today upon the shoulders of one man.

Avery Brundage, Chicago contractor, carried the load lightly as befits a former American all-around track and field champion who now, in his early forties, can hold his own with the best in the country at handball.

Although a man of strength and vigor, Brundage owed his position of acknowledged leadership of amateur athletics in this country largely to his genius as a peace-maker.

For several years keen rivalry, if not open and bitter enmity, prevailed between America's two principal amateur sport governing bodies, the A.A.U. and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Election of Brundage to the presidency of the A.A.U. in 1928 signaled the beginning of a serious attempt to heal the breach and yesterday the quiet but hard-working Chicagoan gained his reward in complete and apparently lasting peace.

The burial of the hatchet was indicated when the highest officials of the N.C.A.A. lent their enthusiastic support to Brundage for the American Olympic Association presidency, to which office he was elected by an unanimous vote.

Capitalist And Woman Charged In Wife's Death

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 20. (AP)—Nelson C. Bowles, 34, retired capitalist, and Mrs. Irma Loucks Paris, 25, his former secretary, were arrested here today charged with the murder of Bowles' wife, Mrs. Leone Bowles, 33, society empress.

Mrs. Bowles died November 12 in Mrs. Paris' apartment. A knife had been plunged into her breast. Mrs. Paris and Bowles told police they were in the apartment at the time but asserted Mrs. Bowles had stabbed herself.

Mrs. Paris and Bowles were arrested on orders of District Attorney Stanley Myers, who said all officers connected with the investigation agreed the evidence warranted the action.

Myers said an admission by Dr. Paul D. Cooper, who was called to attend Mrs. Bowles, that he "was false in a highly material matter in his original statement," was the culminating cause for the murder charges against Mrs. Paris and Bowles.

Unusual Offer Is Made By Southland

Proving that he believes in the propaganda he spread during the recent political campaign, Col. W. E. Talbot, agency manager of the Southland Life Insurance company, has announced that prizes in the production contest to be held by the Southland Life this month will be Texas-produced turkeys. Col. Talbot based his entire campaign on the "Buy-made-in-Texas" idea.

Under the terms of the contest, each agent will be given a turkey for each 10,000 accepted business received between November 16 and December 20. The turkeys will be purchased on an order authorizing the agent to buy a 20-pound turkey from his local merchant or farmer, billing the Southland Life direct for the cost.

Usually the difference between a profit and a loss to the Texas farmer on his products is caused by a surplus. Where this surplus is consumed, higher prices are bound to result. If other firms would follow this example and this surplus is eliminated, there is no question but that our farmer would get an excellent profit on their turkeys this fall.

Local charities or churches in Texas will have an opportunity to profit from this contest since each eligible agent may receive the maximum number of turkeys allowed, "five."

Men Plead Guilty To Murder Charge

FLORESVILLE, Texas, Nov. 20. (AP)—Victor MacLure, 65, and his son, Carlos MacLure, 24, charged with the murder of Nestor Basso, 65, Calaveras storekeeper who was called from his store last summer and killed, both pleaded guilty before Judge W. O. Murray in district court here yesterday and were sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary.

Rehabilitation Started In Area Struck By Storm

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20 (AP)—Rehabilitation today occupied the attention of citizens of Bethany, a Nazarene settlement seven miles west of here, which bore the brunt of a tornado that struck the western part of Oklahoma county yesterday, killing at least 18 persons and doing property damage estimated at $750,000.

More than 100 homes and business houses were demolished by the storm that cut a swath approximately four miles long and a quarter of a mile wide centering in Bethany. Fifty-eight persons were injured seriously. Twelve were in critical condition. More than 50 others received minor injuries.

A committee of twelve men was taking an active part in laying plans to rebuild the eastern part of the town, whose population is approximately 2,000.

Appeals by Governor W. J. Hobart and the American Red Cross for $30,000 to carry on the work of rehabilitation were met by donations which early today totaled more than $11,000, with many other subscriptions to be tabulated.

R. E. Mattison, Jr., member of the relief committee and vice-president of the Oklahoma Contractor's Association, said contractors would volunteer to rebuild the homes as soon as money for the materials alone was forthcoming, without considering profits.

The homeless persons were being cared for by half a dozen relief organizations and friends whose homes escaped the storm. A can of corn was set up in vacant buildings for those who could not find shelter elsewhere.

National guardsmen patrolled the storm swept area to prevent looting and keep the crowds of curious away.

Four persons were killed at the Camel Creek school about four miles south of Bethany, where the tornado struck first. The teacher and ten pupils were injured and the school house demolished. The storm continued northward, leveling farm buildings before it reached the town.

Residents and business houses over an area about two blocks wide were demolished by the tornado as it swept northward through the town. An ice dock, a brick structure, was a total loss, with the frame jutting a few feet from it was not damaged.

Classes at Bethany school were dismissed for the remainder of the week so the students could attend funerals of friends and relatives, and assist in clearing debris and rebuilding homes.

Flashes of Life

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Sinclair Lewis, who will receive a Nobel prize in Stockholm next month, is studying Swedish. "Once I learned enough Latin in two weeks to get across Italy on foot," he explained. "So why shouldn't I learn enough Swedish to get along in Sweden?"

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Gilbert K. Chesterton believes that Edith Wharton and Thornton Wilder were more deserving of the Nobel prize than Sinclair Lewis. He said so when receiving the degree of Doctor of Literature from Canisius college. Also mentioning Ford and Edison, the English author said that one of the most surprising idiosyncrasies of American life is that men and women who have achieved eminence in one field feel themselves fully qualified to give opinions about other unrelated ones.

SAN FRANCISCO—Tommy Watson, Boy Scout who had ambitions to play football for Stanford till he lost a leg in a street car accident, is to recover in Herbert Hoover.

PHILADELPHIA — Bill Roper knows a method whereby young men brought up in ease and luxury may be taught to withstand jolts. It is football. The retiring Princeton coach in a Rotarian speech praised the game as worth all the time, effort and enthusiasm put into it.

ST. LOUIS—A redheaded parrot with a vocabulary too vigorous for the St. Louis zoo has been bought by Jasper Bayne of New York for $140. He bid the highest of 619 applicants.

NEW YORK—Habe Ruth, who lists them on the links like he does on the diamond, is firing of golf. He has heard another call. During a round of golf a flock of ducks went over his head. Then he heard some wild geese honking. "Chuck those clubs," he vowed. "I'm going to get my boots and gun and head for Cheapeake bay. Boy, that's what I call fun."

NEW YORK—Tablet Smith is quitting the sea. Captain R. G. Smith of the Cedric, known to hundreds of trans-Atlantic travelers for his ability to recite many Biblical passages and to tell without hesitation the chapter and verse of almost any Biblical quotation, is retiring.

The Spanish government has authorized a subsidy of $17,370 for 1931 for flying clubs and organizations promoting aviation.

El Paso Youth Given Freedom By Mexicans
EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 20 (AP)—Mexican judicial authorities at Juarez today announced it had been agreed to release W. J. (Jeff) Meers, El Paso youth held in the Chihuahua jail, charged with slaying Antonio Visconti at Juarez last spring, on bond.

Meers said he shot Visconti under the impression he was Manuel Villareal, who killed Meers' father in an attempted pay roll robbery several years ago. Villareal, known as a border country "bad man," was killed a few weeks ago by police in an attempted escape from prison in Chihuahua City.

A total of 8,000 diamond-back terrapins has been released from the government hatchery in North Carolina this year.

Sixty Per Cent Of World's Gold Held In America

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Sixty per cent of the world's gold lies in the coffers of two nations, the United States and France.

Never since the world war have any two countries held such a stupendous share of the world's wealth.

The federal reserve board set the United States holdings of November 1 at $4,530,000,000. They have grown $140,000,000 in ten months this year.

France, said the board, has been the globe's principal taker of gold since 1927 when it stabilized the franc. The Bank of France utilized its foreign balances to increase the gold reserves until the spring of '29. Then it stopped, but commercial banks continued the inflow, adding to the Bank of France reserves a total of $550,000,000. The republic's holdings now is $1,599,000,000.

The American holdings are not at the post-war peak, but $120,000,000 under the mark set in May, 1927. Losses occurred then until June, 1928.

Reapportionment Becomes Political High Explosive

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The qualities of a firecracker, well fitted with political dynamite, inherent in reapportionment of the house of representatives, today were becoming increasingly evident.

The old struggle of city versus country, in all its ramifications, poked up its ugly face as members from the states which are to lose if the recently announced census plan of redistributing the house seats prevails, sounded their fighting intentions.

One group will seek to have aliens excluded from the count upon which reapportionment is based. Retaliating, members from the industrial cities filled with non-naturalized workers, threaten to have the non-voting negro population of southern states cut from the tabulation.

Both plans have been up before and have failed, but not by any handsome margins to guarantee safety for the census plan. In fact, its supporters base their chief hopes on such utter disagreement in congress that the legislative body will be able to do nothing. Then the census distribution would automatically take effect, not for the seventy-second congress, as elected but for the one which will be chosen in 1932.

TWO MEN FINED

Leon Sebastian and Hubert McChlain were assessed fines of $25 each and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, by County Judge H. R. Debenport today on pleas of guilty to charges of petty theft. It is alleged the two youths stole a coat belonging to Carl Lockhard, at a dance north of Big Spring last Saturday night.
