Loboes Having Troubles As Pitching Bogs Down

Still Maintain Fourth Place In Torrid Contest

Five Bottom Clubs Remain Only Two Games Apart As Teams Battle Each Other

The Lamesa Loboes are having trouble—trouble in the pitching—as a result, this home stand has been a disappointment to fans and management alike.

Lamesa has lost two out of three games at home, by a one run margin, after being ahead in each contest, only to see the opposition put on a rally in the later frames to wipe out that lead and go on to win.

On Monday night the Pampa Oilers, took the honors, by getting to Cecil Hart in the eighth inning to overcome an earlier Lobo lead and win from the locals 9 to 8.

This was Sam Scaling night, and the fans brought the Skipper and his bride an abundance of lovely gifts. These were wheeled out to home plate, between the sixth and seventh innings, and Bill White, director of the club, made the presentation on behalf of the fans and the ball players. Sam responded with a short talk, thanking the people for their gifts, and stating that he had never had the opportunity of working with a cleaner group of boys than those who make up the Lobo roster.

Mr. and Mrs. Scaling issued the following Card of Thanks Tuesday:

"To the Baseball Fans and our friends of Lamesa:
"Since it is impossible to thank each of you personally, we are taking this opportunity to try to express our most sincere gratitude and appreciation for the kindness and goodwill shown us Monday night. With the warmest thanks for the lovely gifts, we are,
Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Scaling, Jr."

On Tuesday night the Loboes won from the Oilers in a seessaw affair, that finally saw three pitchers on the mound in the ninth for the visitors, and the third one walking in the winning run, after two were

Lamesa Scouts Attending Camp At We-hin-ah-pay

After enjoying a refreshing swim in the famous Artesian waters, an over-night camp along the beautiful Penasco River, a thrilling thunder storm experience, and a winding ride through the chilly mountain air of the Sacramento Mountains, nearly twenty Boy Scouts of Troop 22 pulled into beautiful Camp We-hin-ah-pay early Sunday afternoon. The large truck left these Lamesa lads with other scouts to enjoy a pleasant week of camping, hiking, Indian lore, handicraft, archery, and other crafts at this beautiful resort located in the thick forest of Southern New Mexico.

Scout Joe Lee Kelley immediately distinguished himself by being appointed Camp Bugler, while Scouts Oatut Roberts, Jimmy Smith, and Jack Harris were elected cabin-leaders of their respective cabins. Young Robert Kirk quickly reached fame as the camp's best softball pitcher, and Owen Taylor Jr., member of the famous "Lagging Three" of past years kept up the tradition of his partners by remaining a mile behind the troop on their hikes. In this, each popular Lamesa Scout has distinguished himself with some outstanding characteristic at the camp.

Several older boys are potential candidates for election to the Order of the Arrow, the highest honorary camp organization. Troop 22 has more members in this honorary organization than any other troop in the South Plains Council, and so Scoutmaster Spikes with his fellows will be leaders in conducting the ordeal. Soon after the completion of this ceremony, which will take place on Friday and Saturday, the Scouts will return to Lamesa.

Molly O'Daniel And Fiance

Vivacious, 19-year-old Molly O'Daniel and Jack D. Wrather, Jr., smiled happily at Tyler, Texas, after the announcement of their engagement. Molly is the daughter of Gov. Lee O'Daniel of Texas; Wrather the son of a Tyler oil man. Mrs. O'Daniel said the romance started at the University of Texas where Molly is a junior, and where Wrather graduated.

U.S.O. Drive For Funds Is Disappointingly Slow In County Says Chairman

People Are Urged To Get Their Contributions In Now By County Chairman Rupert R. Townsend

"The response from the people of Dawson County for funds for the United Service Organizations, has been disappointingly slow," Rupert Townsend, county chairman, stated this morning. "Although there have been some who have contributed, these are comparatively few in number, and we appeal to the people of the county to get behind this most worthy movement."

Funds obtained in this drive, which is being conducted throughout the entire nation, will be used for the purpose of providing recreation for the men in the armed services of this country.

In previous emergencies of this nature, organizations such as the Salvation Army, YMCA, Knights of Columbus, and others, have had to bear the burden of providing this recreation for soldiers, sailors and marines, and the U. S. O. is not organized to supplant the work of these organizations, but rather to augment them, for the common good of the service men.

The government will furnish all the necessary buildings for such projects in every town where camps are located, but it is up to the donations from private citizens to pay for the actual work. It has been pointed out.

Workers in Dawson County, as well as the entire country, are giving their services to this campaign, and the general citizenry is urged to respond with donations of whatever amount they feel they are able to give.

Provide Softball Diamond For Kids Of This City

Through cooperation of school officials and the Lamesa WPA Recreation Council, a softball diamond has recently been established on the northwest section of the school grounds.

Hours of operation are from 3:30 to 7:30 p. m. daily, Monday through Friday.

Games are under the capable supervision of three trained leaders. Children interested in softball are cordially invited to participate.

Regular Saturday Services Will Be Held At 3

Rev. Ernest Phillips is to be presented by the Dawson County Ministerial Alliance on the court house lawn at 3:00 o'clock this Saturday afternoon. At that time, Misses Iona and Iola Richards will provide special music. This is the second time that these young ladies have assisted in the Saturday preaching program this summer.

The preachers who are working in this series are greatly pleased with the splendid attendance upon services thus far this season. They are determined to provide something of value to the entire county, and will strive to meet the needs of all who hear them.

Kid's Night To See Big Crowd At Ball Park

You kids don't forget that Friday night is your night at the ball game, and you are to be the guests of the baseball officials for this one game, when the Berger Gassers will play the Loboes.

You don't even have to pay any tax, just come on down to the ball park and if you are fifteen years, or under, you will be admitted. All that the officials are asking is that you all sit in a special section of the grandstand which will be reserved for you, and that you yell to beat the band, for the Loboes.

Your old favorite who played first base for the Loboes last year, Harry Riordan, will be here as well as Gordon Nell, who is the leading home run slugger of the league.

So set everything aside for this big night and be at the ball park. And say, mother and dad will enjoy this special treat, so insist that they come with you. They will see a ball game which should be highly exciting, and just seeing you kids enjoy yourselves, will be worth the price of admission to every parent.

Officials hope that at least one thousand youngsters will be on hand for this first Kids Night in the history of the local Club. Don't fail them, your friends will likely be there.

Drive For Baseball Fund Continues

The officials of the Lamesa Baseball Club state this week end, that the need for monthly donations to help defray the expenses of the Lamesa Ball Club, have been going along fairly well, but it is still necessary that more money be contributed.

"We have contacted only a comparatively small number of fans," it was said. "And from these we have received the heartiest co-operation. What we would like to see, is for the fans to fill in the form which ran in the Monday's Courier and which is being repeated in this issue, and either mail or bring it to the newspaper, along with their contribution, or hand it to one of the directors. This way we would not have to contact every fan and yet everyone will have an opportunity to help. If you can't give but a dollar a month, by all means give it, for enough of these will insure the proposition."

Larger contributors have been most liberal, it was announced, and if those who are able to give one or two dollars per month, will come through equally as well, it is felt

Special Bargain Rate On Courier Subscriptions

"I don't see how you can sell your paper during these Bargain Days at only One Dollar per year," a subscriber remarked last week. "The little town I came from has a little four-page weekly newspaper and they get one dollar and fifty cents per year for that paper. It comes only once each week and is not nearly as large as your first of the week paper. Yet you can give us a dandy paper on Monday and a big paper on Thursday, for less than we pay for that paper. How do you do it?"

The publishers of the Courier are in a way like Houdini, the great magician who made an elephant disappear from a stage in front of his audience's eyes. One fellow saw the performance several times, until his curiosity became so aroused that he went back stage one night and said, "I've been watching this performance several night, and I have got to know just where that elephant goes." To which the magician replied, "Why even the elephant doesn't know."

It does seem impossible to sell a twice a week newspaper by mail a full year for only one dollar per year, and yet that is exactly what the Courier is doing during these Bargain Days. If you live in Dawson or adjoining counties, you can get the paper at this price for this limited time.

Twice every week the Courier brings you the news of the city, county, and your own community, as well as church news, announcements of importance from the different government agencies, Associated Press news and features, and hundreds of bargains from the merchants of Lamesa.

This last feature alone has proven a most popular one with subscribers, many of whom report that they are enabled to save enough by shopping through Courier ads in one week to pay a year's subscription to the paper.

This offer is for a limited time only and you are warned to take advantage of it today, lest you be too late. If you are already a subscriber, your expiration date will be set ahead a full year for the dollar. If you are not now taking the paper, you will get it one full year, either by mail or carrier boy. And remember the price is not for just one paper per week, but is for both the Monday and the Thursday Courier.

Gov. Lee O'Daniel To Speak Here Next Saturday

An announcement was received by the Courier this week that Gov. Lee O'Daniel and party will stop in Lamesa Saturday afternoon for a short speech.

The Governor will address the voters at 5:30 from the east side of the Court House lawn, in behalf of his candidacy for the United States Senate, for the place made vacant by the recent death of Morris Sheppard.

Another call has been received by the local board for eight men for induction July 8th. These men have not as yet been selected, according to L. E. Eager, Thursday morning. Announcement as to their names will be made possible next week, he said.

He also announced that questionnaires up to and including 1,300 had been mailed to registrants in this county.

An address will be given by Dr. Carlos Castaneda, librarian of the Latin American Collection and associate professor of history of the University of Texas.

Sure, I'll Help Baseball

Here's my pledge and my first month's pay to the Lamesa Baseball Club to help take care of the deficit.

NAME

AMOUNT $

(My pledge is for June, July, August and September)

Fill in the above, attach your first month's payment, bring or mail it to Baseball Editor, Courier, or hand it to any director of the Lamesa baseball club. Any amount you want to give will help and will be appreciated. Don't put it off, figure out how much you can stand and get it today.

This situation in Lamesa is not an isolated one, but every club in organized baseball is having its financial difficulties this season. It is pointed out. And the fact that Lamesa is the smallest town in organized baseball, makes the task of keeping the club out of the red, even more difficult here.

It has also been suggested that attendance at the games might be increased by the inauguration of a "Bring a Friend Night". In other words, asking the fans who are regular attenders at the games, to select some friend who does not attend baseball games, but who may be made into a regular fan, and bringing him out to the game on these nights. After he sees one or two games, he might develop into a full fledged fan, sponsors of the plan suggest. They further suggest that the selection of these special guests should be from those who do not attend regularly.

Suggestions as to ways and means of pepping up the attendance, will be acceptable and appreciated by members of the official family.

NOT QUITE LETTER OF THE LAW

Jefferson City, Mo. (AP) — Upon enactment of a law protecting homing pigeons from marksmen, 3 dozen of the birds were released here bearing news that the Governor had signed the bill. Back came this telegram a short time later from Cleveland: "Two pigeons landed here. Please send the potatoes for stew."

Governments In Exile Doing Good Work In War

WILLIAM W WHITE
Feature Service Writer

LONDON — "Through long years of practice, we establish certain routines of conspiracy that are standing us in good stead now."
An official of the Polish government in exile was recalling how he and his countrymen were profiting by the lessons they learned 25 years ago when they were planning to reclaim their land from Germany and Russia, who now have occupied it again.

Today's exiled government is in almost the same hands as that of World War times. It is one of seven homeless regimes beset by problems of finance, communication and language which attempt remote control of their nations from London. The others are the governments of Norway, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Yugoslavia and the Netherlands.

Struggling beside them are five "free" movements—French, Rumanian, Austrian, Danish and Italian. All are keeping in touch with their peoples through underground channels in the hope that when the "great day" comes they can return.

Most striking examples of carrying on through difficulties are furnished by the Poles, Dutch and Norwegians.

The Polish National Unity government under President Raczkiewicz, represents Poland's four largest parties. It's nine-man cabinet meets every two weeks and its "little parliament"—20 members of the National Council—sits almost every day. The army high command meets separately.

"We have only major offices," a spokesman said. "None of the second-grade departments is here, and so we eliminate much red tape." The nutshell governing body has a secretariat of only about 200 and a foreign staff of ten.

Three times a day the BBC broadcasts to Poland and there are 12 secret newspapers with a circulation of about two million to counteract German propaganda. Leaflets and "many devious methods," the spokesman said, help keep the people informed on what their government is doing here.

Poland has given England the strongest army and airforce of any exile country. The army is entrusted with a vital part of England's defenses and part of it is in the Middle East. Stories of the heroic Polish airforce are legion.

"Our navy," the spokesman said, "is actually stronger than when the war began." A new submarine was launched for it only recently at a northern English shipyard.

The Netherlands government, housed in the same West End building as the Polish is streamlined to the point of informality. The 11-man cabinet meets once a week under Prime Minister Gerbrandy and 60-year-old Queen Wilhelmina, who a spokesman said, "wears a more pronounced military than ever before" receives her ministers often than she did at home. She frequently speaks to Holland by radio.

The queen has 68 million subjects in the colonies and eight million under German domination. The Netherlands government therefore has the biggest secretarial staff of all—about 700.

One of the Hollander's biggest jobs is directing about three million tons of shipping. In addition to merchant ships, the Dutch succeeded in bringing most of their navy across the channel and even towed some unfinished vessels. One, the cruiser Heemsperk, has been completed here. Dutch seamen are manning one of the 50 destroyers from the United States.

The government broadcasts twice a day to the homeland by BBC and leaders say they are "well informed" on conditions there. At present they are planning strategy to "further undermine the German soldier's morale."

Norway is one of the richest exiles. Its government meets all its own expenses and even pays interest on foreign loans out of the income from four million tons of merchant shipping and reserves of gold it was able to bring out of the country.

King Haakon comes to London periodically to preside over cabinet meetings.

"A considerable staff is needed," an official said, "although the running of the government has been simplified by concentrating on the one major problem and eliminating the manifold petty internal problems which otherwise plague governments."

The Norwegians keep in "close and continuous" contact with their people by radio but employ other means as well. Such expeditions as the recent Lofoten raid are one method.

The Czech government, headed by President Benes, has the biggest cabinet—13 men, who do not represent political parties as such but "essential political social tendencies." Five seats are occupied by Slovaks. The provisional parliament of 22 members, appointed by Benes, is an advisory body.

The success of the Belgium, Yugoslav and Greek governments in exile is difficult to evaluate. The Belgians are handicapped because their king is a prisoner and the others because parts of their cabinets and staffs still are in flight.

The Belgians also have found their work complicated because some ministers did not come to London. This difficulty was hinted at in a recent statement which declared: "We are the only legal government and nobody can set up another either in occupied Belgian

NBC President To Honor Texas With Broadcast

NILES TRAMMELL, Dallas—Niles Trammell, president of the National Broadcasting Company, has accepted an invitation to take part in the dedicatory ceremonies of the new WFAA and KGKO penthouse studios in Dallas on June 20 and 21, preliminary to their formal opening to the public on Monday, June 23. Trammell has followed closely the construction of the unique new broadcasting quarters for NBC's Red and Blue Network affiliates in Dallas, and engineers from Radio City in New York are especially interested in the mysterious dispersive treatment used by acoustical experts in the WFAA-KGKO studios.

DUAL-TEMP CONVENIENCE FEATURES... MAKE IT A MARVEL OF EFFICIENCY...

In addition to its radically different principles of operation... the Dual-Temp has every important mechanical feature. Its beauty, its appointments, its time-saving conveniences are in keeping with its distinction as the "Only Refrigerator of Its Kind in the World." Back of this refrigerator stands the reputation which has made the name Stewart-Warner a byword for quality.

MOIST COLD AIR ---Keeps foods juicy fresh!

Most vegetables, fruits and fish contain over 70% water—meats and dairy products over 50% water. In ordinary refrigerators, the evaporator robs foods of their natural moisture—the frost that collects offers proof of this moisture loss. In the Dual-Temp Refrigerator, there is no frost-collecting evaporator. The air inside the storage compartment retains its moisture—approximately 85% relative humidity is maintained. Moisture-laden foods stay fresh—even when uncovered. Natural flavor, appearance, health-giving minerals—all these remain as nature intended.

THIS FREEZING LOCKER AND FROSTED FOOD STORAGE COMPARTMENT HAS BEEN LABORATORY TESTED BY THE FROSTED FOODS SALES CORPORATION AND IS APPROVED BY THEM FOR THE STORAGE OF BIRD'S EYE FOODS AND OTHER QUICK-FROZEN FOODS WHEN USED ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS.

This Seal Appears in Every STEWART-WARNER Dual Temp.

ULTRA-VIOLET RAYS RETARD FOOD SPOILAGE

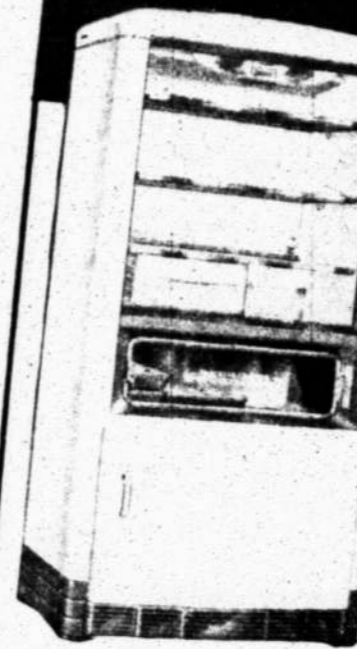

STERILAMP* produces ultra-violet rays to kill bacteria—retard mold. The sterilizing action of ultra-violet rays rendered by the Sterilamp, retards mold growth, reduces spoilage due to bacteria, and combats "ice-box" odors.

REDUCES FOOD WASTE... In addition to guarding your health, the Sterilamp reduces food waste caused by spoilage... an extra economy in food preservation.

Low temperatures alone cannot always prevent food from spoiling. Molds and gradual decay are evidence that tiny bacteria may be present. In the Dual-Temp the scientific protection produced by the Famous Sterilamp destroys bacteria on exposed food surfaces and in the surrounding air. Foods keep fresh and wholesome for a longer period. The ultra-violet rays from the Sterilamp are as safe as sunshine. No other refrigerator on the market gives you the extra health protection of Sterilamp plus high humidity.

Make it a Marvel of Efficiency....

Get an Amazing New Kind of REFRIGERATOR for Your MONEY

Whether you now own an automatic refrigerator or an icebox you have had to be content for the last several years with any number of inconveniences, among them a shortage of ice cubes when you most needed them; the necessity of emptying a pan or defrosting dish with half of the contents usually being spilled in the box, on the floor or on yourself. Then too, you probably have been discouraged more than once at the space limitations of your present refrigerator with the resultant necessity of cramming and crowding foods into dark inaccessible corners to such an extent that a good deal of your food did not even get the benefits of the cold air that was supposed to surround them to keep them fresh. The spoilage and food waste resulting from improper temperature control has probably taken a big slice of your household budget, and if your mechanical refrigerator is several years old, the cost of upkeep, not only in the consumption of power, but in repair bills has been considerable, to say nothing of the noisy operation.

While the conventional type of new refrigerator eliminates several of these inconveniences, only the Stewart-Warner Dual-Temp Refrigerator eliminates all of them. Think of the convenience of full wide shelves—no defrosting—no drying out of foods—no need to keep vegetables and foods in covered containers. Think of the advantages of not having to discard left-overs and roasts one or two days after they have been in the refrigerator.

And there are dozens of ways to save time, effort and money with a new Stewart-Warner Dual-Temp because you can keep foods longer, keep them fresher and you can buy in larger quantities and shop less frequently. You can store fresh fruits, vegetables and meat for months in the Freezing locker and then serve them just as fresh as the day they were purchased. Think of the thrill of serving ice-cold deserts, ice creams, pastries and crisp salads . . . prepared in a jiffy in sub-freezing temperatures of the Freezing Locker.

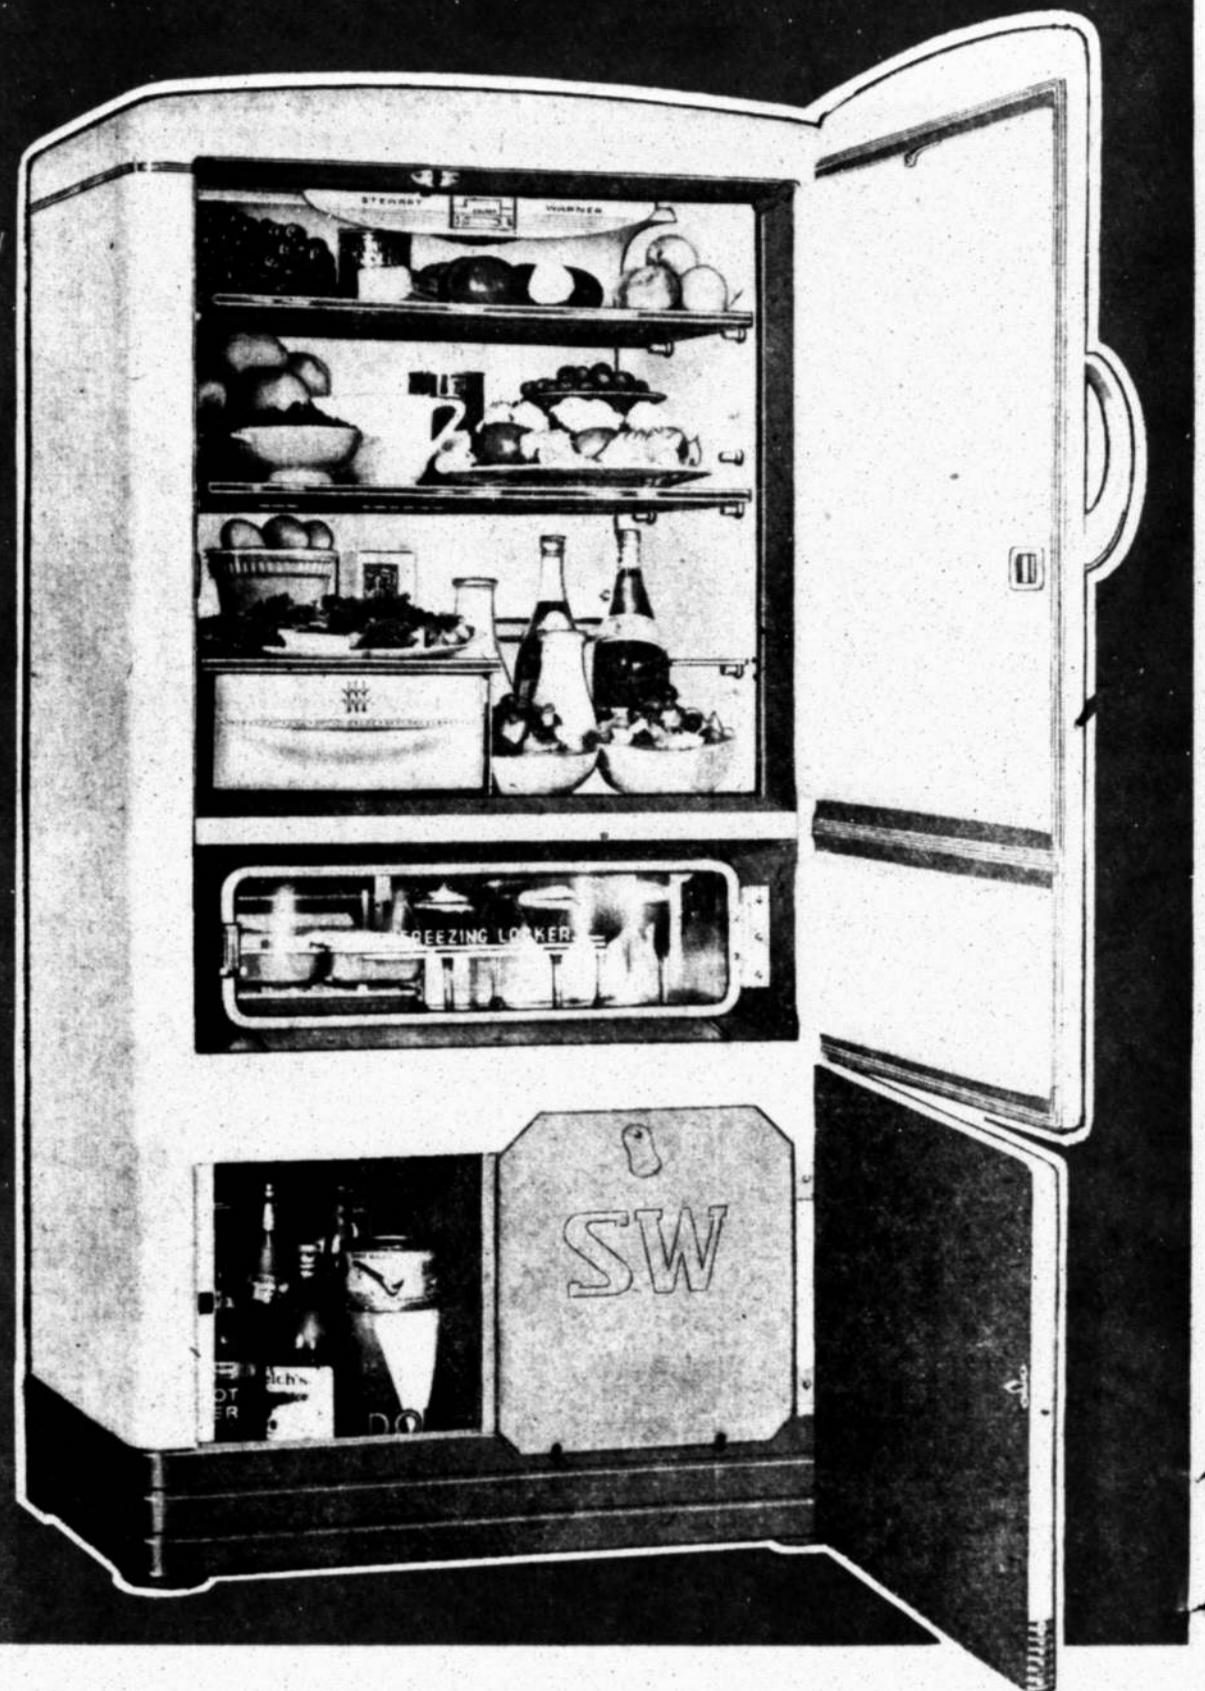

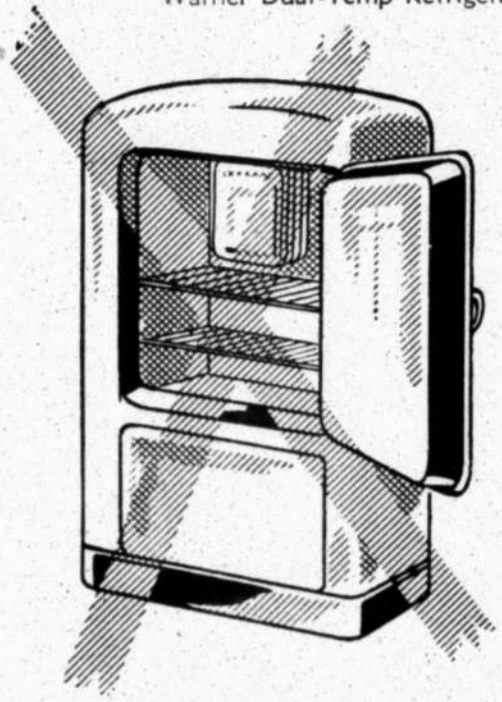

Keep in mind these five outstanding new advantages which the Stewart-Warner Dual-Temp Refrigerator offers to you in bringing a completely new principle of food preservation and health protection to your family:

- FREEZING LOCKER
- STERILAMP
- ROOMINESS
- HIGH HUMIDITY
- NO DEFROSTING IN THE UPPER COMPARTMENT

What Is Meant By The Drive Into Syria

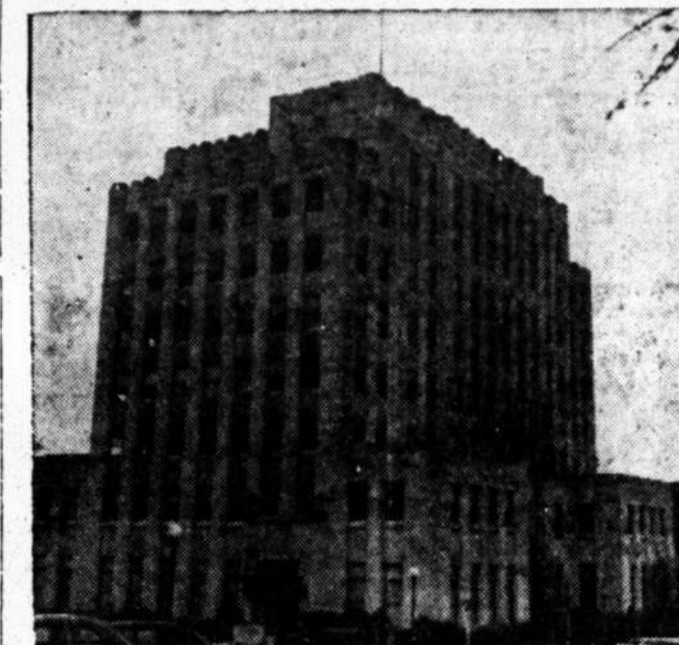

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Competent observers of the battle of the Mediterranean are watching the British invasion of Syria because the fate of the Churchill government might well rest on success or failure in the desert sands of the Near East.

It's this way: After the Greek failure, the Prime Minister took to the radio, and made promises for the future, as any government leader must in such circumstances. He also announced a shakeup of his cabinet, putting Beaverbrook in charge of all wartime industrial production.

His promise was that the British Empire would fight to the death for Crete. Those were his exact words.

Texas Highway Building

The Texas highway system, with thousands of miles of roadbed to maintain, is one of the busiest businesses in the state. To carry on its many details, a modern office building was constructed in Austin. Pictured above, it is known as the Texas Highway Building.

The army and navy did fight to the death. The army lost more than 18,000 men, dead, wounded and prisoners. The navy lost 10 ships.

But the air force preferred other tactics. Air Chief Marshal Lonmore decided to play hit and run war, preferred to lose Crete and hold the biggest part of his Near East air force for another battle later on. He may have been right, but the fact remains, the air force pulled out, and Crete was lost.

In the opinion of the best observers here, Syria is another story. If the British should lose Syria, after their swift beginning, the Prime Minister himself might survive the attacks of his enemies, but the whole fabric of his government would be shaken to the core.

Washington observers also classify the present phase of the battle of the Mediterranean as critical for Britain for other reasons.

One of these is this: Air power is the balance of power in the Mediterranean. The British can still beat the Axis on the water. They may be able to put just as strong an army into the Mediterranean battle now as the Germans, since Hitler, too, is a long way from home base.

But there's a huge question mark in the air. The most important reason for this lies in the fact air power is specially suited to this phase of the battle of the Mediterranean. Cyprus is the target for the Germans. It is close to nearby land. It is small. That affords air power good hop-off points, and a concentrated target. Under such circumstances, air power so far in this war has demonstrated its superiority to any other military weapons.

It can strike the blow that paralyzes. This fact largely explains British tactics in Syria. There are three neat hop-off points for air attack against Cyprus—the Dodecanese islands, the southern bulge of Turkey and the coast of French Syria. The Turks, so far are neutral. The British are even now closing off the Syrian coast to the Germans as fast as they can. That leaves the Nazis one hop-off point for the attack on Cyprus, presumably the next important German objective in the western states.

Not only does this state of affairs leave the British with two trumps to the Germans' one, but it also spots the Germans on the Dodecanese islands, a concentrated target for a British air offensive.

For these reasons, competent observers here say the British should hold Cyprus. And as long as they hold Cyprus, they can hold Suez.

For the stronghold of Cyprus lies athwart the Drang Nach Osten.

If the British hold Cyprus, the Churchill government is safe, unless the Germans suddenly shift their tactics and deliver a blow at England proper. And that doesn't seem to be in the cards for a month or more at least.

Texas Will Rank First In USO Benefactions

Texas will rank first in benefactions to be bestowed by the United Service Organizations for National Defense. This is due to the fact that Texas will train more men in the service than will be trained in any other state. In addition to the training camps, Texas ranks high in the distribution of war defense contracts which are adding thousands upon thousands of workers to industrial payrolls, according to E. B. Germany, Dallas, U. S. O. regional chairman for four southern states.

Actual construction on service club buildings has already begun in the North and it is expected many of them will be built in Texas within the next few months, Germany said. These club buildings will be erected in towns and cities near troop concentration camps and in the districts where large numbers of defense workers are employed.

The first of the USO Service Clubs to be started is at Wrichttown, N. J., which is in the heart of an area of defense and military concentration. All clubs are to be staffed by civilian workers under the direction of service organizations sponsored by the USO.

Texas is now driving to raise its quota of $400,000. Its share of the national fund of nearly $11,000,000, to cover the first year's operations of the clubs. Three congressional districts have reported complete county organizations, and many counties have already reached their designated quotas.

M. C. Lindsey left this week for Dallas where he will transact business and visit with friends.

Wright Grant Boyd, of Hamlin, spent the week end here visiting with friends and relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Nix and son left Sunday for Kentucky, where they will visit with relatives and friends.

M. and Mrs. R. R. House of Pampa spent Wednesday in Lamesa visiting in the home of Mrs. R. E. Simpson.

OLDSMOBILE'S HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE PUTS CLUTCH PEDAL ON THE BENCH!

A CLUTCH pedal plays no part in the game, when you drive a Hydra-Matic Oldsmobile. Hydra-Matic Drive eliminates the clutch pedal completely—and it's the only drive in the world that does. Hydra-Matic eliminates manual gear shifting in the forward speeds, too—and that, again, is an exclusive Hydra-Matic feature.

Other devices have names that imply automatic driving—make claims to "no-clutch, no-shift" operation, under certain conditions. Yet, no matter what the others say, these facts remain undisputed: Only Hydra-Matic is completely automatic! Hydra-Matic steps up get-away, saves gasoline and enlivens all-round performance.

Try Hydra-Matic and you'll quickly conclude it's the only drive for you!

"National Defense is Part of Our Job, too"

"Fellows, we may not be in the army, but our job of supplying plenty of dependable electric service to industries engaged in defense production is mighty important to our peace and security. We've got a big job to do and a reputation to live up to. Good electric service doesn't 'just happen'."

The entire Texas Electric Service Company system was designed and built with an eye to the needs of a rapidly growing West Texas. Experience gained during the World War period and the period of phenomenal growth in many areas of West Texas is proving to be of great value in meeting the demands for electric service growing out of the National Defense Program.

Today, our organization is far better prepared to cope with the demands for electricity than during the World War. Larger power plants and hundreds of miles of high voltage power lines have been constructed since that time, providing this section of Texas with an integrated electric power system.

Texas Electric Service Company employees realize the importance of dependable electric service in peace time and also in time of national emergency. They are working hard and planning ahead to provide electric power for every need—for use in your home or in turning out national defense equipment.

Employees of the Texas Electric Service Company take pride in supplying you with the very best electric service possible. Nearly half of these employees have been with the Company 10 years or more. They are well trained and experienced.

Trained, experienced employees mean better, cheaper electric service for you, and mean dependable and adequate power for national defense needs.

History Of Movies Is Compiled

Associated Press Arts Editor NEW YORK — Forty-five years ago the first American movie to be shown commercially jiggered on the screen at Koster and Bial's music hall on West 34th street. A number of Thomas A. Edison's one- and two-minute films were shown at No. 8 on the evening's vaudeville program.

Millions of feet of celluloid have been produced since then, and thousands of gallons of ink have been used up writing about countless movies. Only nobody knew where to look for the writing, once it was printed. Now it can be found.

The New York Writer's Project, the Museum of Modern Art, and the H. W. Wilson Co., publishers have fixed it up. They have issued a 780-page bibliography, first of several volumes to be called "The Film Index," Edited by Harold Leonard, this volume is "The Film As Art." It's full of things you don't know.

D. W. Griffith, for example, is still the most discussed film director, and "The Birth of a Nation" the most discussed film.

Charles Chaplin is the most written about film personality, Griffith second, and Mary Pickford third. America's sweetheart is the only woman to rank in the first 15. Disney is eighth.

W. K. L. Dickson is the author of the first book on the movies, published in 1895, and the poet Vachel Lindsay was among the first to write serious film criticism, in 1915.

First of the fan magazines was "The Motion Picture," founded in 1911—it still lives, "The" having been dropped from the title.

Complete sound effect "sets" were being sold as early as 1909.

J. Stuart Blackton's "Humorous Phases of Funny Faces," a so-called "cartoon primitive" came out in 1906.

Two years later a Frenchman named Emile Cohl did "Fantasmagorie," credited with being the first animated cartoon.

Feature length films came about partly through the desire of early-day movie men to film all of a prize fight. Interior lighting for motion picture purposes was first used to film fights. Contestants sometimes fainted from the heat, and made a sensation in Britain and America.

Edison first conceived the movie as an adjunct to his phonograph, and as early as 1895 he offered his Kinetophonograph, a peep-show affair in which sound was piped to the customer through ear tubes. So the films really never were silent.

Sale Of Defense Stamps Good In Texas

AUSTIN, June 9 — When asked about the sales volume of Defense Bonds and Stamps in Texas in May, State Administrator, Frank Scofield, said: "While no complete figures are available at this time covering the part sold in Texas of the Nation's total of $441,000,000, I am sure that our volume is well in excess of the national average. The reports being received daily from our County Chairmen indicate that a great many individual Texans are buying bonds and stamps. This is exactly what the Treasury Department desires in that it gives the greatest number of people an individual investment in the future of America."

This savings program has been designed especially to fit the pocketbook of everyone. The E bonds have been designed for the smaller investors, while the G series is more adapted to those institutions and investors who can invest up to $50,000 a year, and wait a regular cash income from their investment.

The Defense Savings Staff would like to emphasize in this connection the importance of buying stamps. Certainly this type of investment appeals to even the small wage earner who wants to have a part in helping his country defend itself. Thousands of Texans are now buying stamps regularly, and thousands in addition are starting this practice daily. Why cannot every man, woman and child in Texas participate in this program, even though your part might seem to be comparatively small? The total investment of many buyers of stamps can make planes and ships available to our armed forces, and each purchaser will be doing his or her part.

Mrs. J. R. Farley returned this week after a two week visit with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Hudson, at Houston and other relatives in Galveston and Austin.

HOMEMAKING CLASS PREPARES DEFENSE EXHIBIT

Good nutrition for their families has been the aim of many of the girls enrolled in Homemaking Project classes, this summer. Prompted by a statement made by Miss Ruth Huey, State Director of Homemaking Education, in a recent interview over Station KWOW Austin, the girls have prepared an exhibit in Townsend's Gift Shop window, showing the things necessary for a balanced daily diet.

Miss Huey said, "We are having from one-half to one-third of our young men rejected from military service because of physical deficiency. As illogical as this may seem in a country with the most adequate food production in the world, many of these deficiencies can be traced directly to malnutrition. Malnutrition is, of course, a problem of two-fold implication. The first is that too many people are not able to buy food and the second is that through ignorance or carelessness or prejudice, they are not eating the proper food."

The food standard used in the display is one prepared by State and National Nutrition committees. Everyone is urged to go by Townsend's and see this display.

Famed Character Of Old West Dies At Stanton; Father Of Local Woman

STANTON, June 16 (AP) — William (Windy Bill) Wilkinson, 79-year-old famed square dance caller of the Old West, was buried here Monday.

Wilkinson was widely known as the caller of whom Larry Christendon wrote in his "Cowboy's Christmas Ball" at Anson:

"They called him 'Windy Billy' from Little Deadman's Branch." Survivors are the widow; five sons, A. C. of Ponca City, Okla., J. A. of Dallas, Bart of Big Spring, Sam and Eddie of Stanton; three daughters, Mrs. Lorena Lynch of Big Spring, Mrs. C. J. Cox of Garden City, Mrs. Kenneth Cox of Lamesa, and a sister, Mrs. Lula Johnson of Galveston.

Wilkinson was the caller for the first cowboy's Christmas ball at Anson in 1885. Crittendon, who had been sent from Boston to Jones County to look after an uncle's ranching interest, was present and it inspired him to write his famous poem:

"The leader was a feller that came from Swenson's Ranch,
They called him 'Windy Billy' from 'Little Deadman's Branch;
The rig was (kinder keerness) 'big spurs and high-heeled boots;
He had the reputation that comes when 'fellers shoot,'
His voice was like a bugle upon the mountain's height;
His feet were 'rimmed' an' a 'mighty movin' sight."

On that night Mrs. Wilkinson spoke of the old-fashioned square dance like this:

"The floor space was so small that only one set, or eight persons, could dance at one time. This necessitated a roll call on which all the men's names were written, and as 'Windy Bill' would finish a figure he would announce the next four men and their 'pards' appearing on 'the list.'"

The few women that came to the dance got to participate in every figure. When the roll call was completed "Windy Bill" would start again at the top of the list and proceed on down until daylight appeared in the eastern horizon and all were ready to go home.

"Fiddlers at such dances would come from Stamford, Haskell, and Southwest Oklahoma points. Every male dancer paid the fiddler the same amount each dance, which was usually 50 cents a figure. Bill would call all night and seemed to be as fresh in tone and physical strength with the last call as the first."

Wilkinson acquired the name of "Windy Bill" one day at an old West Texas cattle roundup for his excellence in roping cattle.

On the same ranch was a "larger cowboy" called "Windy Bill." When the time for roping and tying cattle arrived Big Bill failed and the ranch foreman decided to put Little Bill on the roping end of the work. Mrs. Wilkinson said. So excellent was his roping that the cowboys said, "Why, he's better than Big Windy," so he became "Windy Bill."

Wilkinson recalled the time while living on his claim where Lubbock now stands, seeing a herd of 500 antelope drifting along his property. There was a fence and when the animals became excited, their horns became ensnared. It was an easy matter for Bill to catch what he wanted for meat.

Other exciting moments in those early days Mr. Wilkinson recounted was catching the wild horses that roamed the West Texas plains. To catch them meant to run them down which would require a chase of miles and miles. Also wild cows and buffalo roamed the ranges in full view of this pioneer western range cowboy.

He moved into West Texas and began punching cattle including the Goodnight at Clarendon, the Swensons at Stamford, and other equally prominent ranches. In 1879 he drove a herd of longhorns to Fort Dodge, Kansas, and in 1880 drove another herd from 100 miles below Ft. Worth for W. T. Hutson and W. T. Carpenter, pioneer ranchers of that section.

Finest Wheat Since 1922

In a few days the hum of combines will be heard harvesting one of the best Texas wheat crops in years. The crop in the Abilene section is described as the best since 1922. Banker W. C. Russell (left) and Austin Fox (right) inspected a field near Hamlin, and said production of 40 bushels to the acre was in prospect.

Dr. Cox Says:-

Vacation time is once again at hand, and among preparations for your summer vacation, Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges that you include vaccination against typhoid.

"If you haven't been vaccinated against typhoid fever recently — within the last year or two — go at once to your family physician for the three shots of typhoid vaccine that will protect you against that disease. Don't wait until just before your vacation to be vaccinated against typhoid," Dr. Cox urged. "Do it now, because the three shots are given at weekly intervals, and it takes several weeks for the protective treatment to establish itself throughout your system.

"Typhoid fever is a germ disease. Water, milk, or other foods that have been contaminated by typhoid germs are the main sources of the disease.

"A great deal has been accomplished by public health measures to prevent the spread of typhoid from such sources. The protection of public and private water supplies from contamination, the extension of community sanitation, the sanitary supervision of food, pasteurization of milk, and other public health measures have all helped to safeguard the public against the disease. Typhoid is much less prevalent than formerly, but it is still a source of much unnecessary and avoidable illness.

"The typhoid-producing germs are passed in the discharges from persons ill with typhoid or who have had it at some time. Some persons continue to pass the germs long after recovery from the illness and become what are known as 'carriers.' If these carriers of the disease germs are careless in their personal habits before handling or preparing food for other people, the food may become contaminated and be a source of danger. Some of the most serious outbreaks of typhoid within recent years have been traced to foods handled by careless carriers.

"Another source of danger in the rural areas is the unprotected water supplies. You cannot tell whether water is safe for drinking purposes even if it looks clean. It is to boil water used for drinking purposes in non-urban areas. For the same reason, unless you are certain of the source of your milk supply while on camping trips, you had better boil that also.

"State and city health departments can and do protect the public against many of the dangers of typhoid from public sources, but the best protection against unknown sources of infection is through vaccination against the disease.

"You will have no trouble in arranging for typhoid vaccination

Two Million Trees Planted By Government

More than two million trees and shrubs were furnished this spring to farmers and ranchers in the Southern Great Plains by the Soil Conservation Service for erosion control plantings according to an announcement by H. H. Fennell, Regional Director of the Service at Amarillo.

The tree and shrub planting stock were supplied to farmers and ranchers who are cooperating with the service or with soil conservation districts. The trees are planted largely in gullies and waste areas that are being retired from cultivation to stop soil washing, and as windbreaks around farmsteads and field boundaries to help check wind erosion.

Most of the trees furnished by the Federal Service were given to soil conservation districts, as agreed under a memorandum of understanding that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has with the districts. The supervisors of the districts, in turn, allocated the trees to farmers and ranchers that are cooperating with the districts in establishing a complete erosion control and water conservation program on their farms.

Among the varieties of trees most commonly used were: Black locust, Honey locust, Chinese Elm, Hackberry, Osage Orange, Green Ash, Russian Olive, Western Yellow Pine and Red Cedar.

Tree plantings were made as a part of the conservation program in all sections of the region, but the heaviest plantings were made in Eastern Kansas and along the foothills area of central Colorado. Fennell stated that the trees were divided approximately as follows: Kansas 300,000; eastern Colorado, 500,000; eastern New Mexico, 200,000; the High Plains of Texas 300,000; and the Oklahoma Panhandle 50,000.

Gauged by past records, the Conservation Service estimated that an 85 per cent survival of all the trees planted might be expected. "The better than average moisture that has been received over a part of the region should give most of the young trees a good start," he stated, "and the farmers with whom the service is cooperating in tree and shrub planting have learned more and more about how to care for trees on the Plains."

All of the trees planted were of species particularly adapted to the region. In the foothills section of eastern Colorado, many conifers were used, but throughout most of the Plains area only those species that had proven themselves adapted to Plains conditions were furnished the farmers and ranchers in most instances.

STARTS OUT WITH A BANG
Statesville, N. C., (AP) — The young lady, seeking to edge her automobile into a parking space blocked by a ten-ton truck, asked a youthful by-stander to move it for her. He obliged with alacrity, driving it over the sidewalk with complete loss of control.

Then, he confessed his inexperience and his age — 10.

Texas Youth Leads College Brain Gang

Six American youths, led by a Texan, have just finished their first lap of a unique educational experiment—qualifying for a four-year bachelor of arts degree in less than 20 months.

They face four more years of study which Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University, believes will make them "the best educated college men ever to graduate from an American institution."

Marshall Asher, Athens, Texas, led the brain team with an average of 95. The other five and their scholastic averages are: Edgar Vallette, Shreveport, La., 94; John Goldthwait, Pittsburgh, Pa., 93; Frederick Goss, Proctor, Vt., 90; John Meacham, Jr., Scooba, Miss., 89; Keith Lane, Mountair, N. M., 88.

Here is what the Texan, scholastic leader of the group, tells of his experience:

By MARSHALL ASHER, Jr.
(Written for the Associated Press)
ATLANTA, June 18. — A little less than two years ago I graduated from high school in Athens, Texas, and now I have just been told that I have completed the work necessary for a bachelor's degree with an average of approximately 95 for the entire work.

Technically that is the benefit that I have received from my work as part of the exceptional educational experiment of Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University. However, as I will attempt to explain, I consider this only part of my gain from my experience of the past two years and NOT the most important part.

In the summer following my graduation from high school, I entered a state-wide contest for a six-year scholarship to Oglethorpe and won second place as the result of a comprehensive set of examinations covering all subjects taught in high school. About the middle of September I was notified to report to Oglethorpe to replace a member of the experiment who had not remained there.

I got to school a week late and met ten other boys who were there

Texan Leads

Studios Marshall Asher, Jr., of Athens, Texas, has finished the first lap of an educational experiment at Oglethorpe University, qualifying for a four-year Bachelor of Arts degree in less than 20 months. He led five other students, survivors of an 11-man brain team, with an average of 95. The youth faces four more years of study which Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe, believes will make them the best college trained men ever to graduate from an American institution.

for the experiment. First, I was notified of the conditions governing my scholarship. I was guaranteed my room, board and regular school fees if I would follow a set of instructions necessary to the fulfillment and success of the experiment. The most important of these were that I buy all my books and keep them, that I attend each Sunday a different church to be designated by Dr. Jacobs, that I not smoke, drink liquor, gamble or swear, that I remain in my room every evening except Saturday for the purpose of preparing my next day's lessons, and that I follow a daily schedule of living with time allotted for classes, meals, exercise, reading in the library, study and sleep.

Then I was told that the education that I was to receive would include every subject taught in the University and would take six years of study at eleven months a year. And probably the most important thing I was told was that I would take twice the load of the average student and be expected to make an average of 90 or better.

These conditions were necessary to make possible the experiment which was designed to prove that the college student today is wasting half his time, and that if he was removed from the country club activities of the modern college he could do twice the work he is now doing.

And so, we eleven boys went to work to try the experiment. We were all far from home, strangers to each other, and facing a rather difficult and bewildering task. However, under the leadership of our "Don," Frederick Goss, of Proctor, Vt., we soon got acquainted and down to our work.

That first semester we carried 26 hours, including astronomy, Latin, Greek, geology, mathematics, ancient history, history and appreciation of music, old Testament, mythology and etymology, and cosmic history. These courses came in our first year, according to Dr. Jacobs' plan that we take the subjects from year to year in their natural chronological order. In order that we might to a certain extent, unify these subjects, we also took cosmic history, a subject usually limited to juniors and seniors.

At the present time we have narrowed down to six as the result of boys dropping out for different reasons. But we six are going strong, and have proven the first step of the experiment. Now remains to be seen what our extensive education will mean to us.

In order to make it more practical and concrete, each year from now on each of us will teach some class in the University for the experience and mastery of the subject. The idea is that we master each course so well that we be able to teach it. At the end of our six years, and NOT until then, we will be given the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, the Master of Arts, and a special degree for this extensive, the Doctor of Arts and Sciences.

As I said, we are going strong and the reasons for this are more than just the view of a very good education. The attendant advantages and gains are just as powerful and maybe more attractive. By that I mean first the fellowship that has grown between us which, as a result of almost constant association, is very close and very strong. Also we have enjoyed and profited from our association with other members of our classes which though limited by our schedule, has been most pleasant.

We have been able to enter into the intramural activities of the school and take part in a good share of the social activities. And in my opinion there are some more or less intangible gains that I have acquired as a result of my participation in the experiment which the college student does not usually get and which I value on par with my education.

Among these are such things as the order in which I am taking my courses and the fact that they are planned by an experienced person and will avoid the usual errors of the hit-or-miss planning. Also I have been able to learn to evaluate time as a result of my minute schedule and have been able to form habits which otherwise would have possibly been discarded.

I have been required to keep my books and build up a library, a thing which no college student does and which every college graduate wishes he had done. But the thing that I value most as my profit of my experience of the past two years has been the gradual formation of a sound philosophy of life as result of my study of different religions, and as result of the courses I have taken.

I think our experiment has been and will be a success and regardless of its effect on American education, I am looking forward to the seventh year so that I might further prove it when I leave school.

citizens, especially the last wars veterans, are organized into Air Raid Precaution squads. They have divided the city carefully into districts. The doctors and nurses are trained. The people know what to do in an air raid.

But Halifax does not hold a practice blackout more than once every two months. The air raid wardens are not too strict about little strips of light around windows during tests. But all street lights are backed on top. Big electric display signs are taboo. Otherwise the town is as light as the average American city. Tourists get all the thrill, none of the dangers of these blackouts.

Housing is a problem. Hundreds of workers have been imported from other parts of Canada to cope with a shortage. The government froze its rents a year ago to avoid profiteering. When big ships of war turn loose their crews for week-end leave, Halifax is around 1,000 beds short.

Sailors and soldiers jam accommodations, overflow into corridors and parlors. But they aren't stuck for high prices. The women of Halifax see that they get a clean bed and good breakfast for 25 cents.

The Liquor Situation

Another problem is liquor, a tough nut for any town in wartime. It is especially difficult for Halifax, with liquor laws unadapted to war conditions. The law says you must buy your liquor and take it home. You may not drink except in your home or your club. Restaurants and hotels cannot serve alcoholic beverages.

More or less fake clubs, devoted primarily to serving beer to members, have opened. Anybody who knew his way about town could be a member of a club—like that. One—the Order of Interior Decorators—recently burned.

Sailors have their own way of getting around the law. They buy a dozen quarts of beer at a government store. Then they walk down, Wester Street, not exactly the best neighborhood in town, and stop at the first door they

Cotton At Play

Laraine Day, Metro-Goldwyn Mayer featured actress, chooses cottons for playtime wear. In the picture above she wears a red and white polka dot jumper short ensemble. The white tailored skirt of soft cotton has a deep V-style neckline.

"Give you a dollar to let me drink my beer here," they say. And that's headquarters until they get a call back to their ship.

Service men have monopolized the company of the vivacious Halifax girls, pushed the local beau brumms out in the cold. Most desired of all escorts are the officers of the Royal Navy. It has always been so. Next come the air-men.

The favorite spot for an evening stroll is Citadel Hill, an ancient fort. Every auto headlight shows the youngsters pitching woo, as they call it in good Americanese.

Order Is Kept

Unlike in 1918, brawls and riots are almost unheard of. Partly responsible is the speed with which the radio equipped shore patrol of the Royal Navy shows up at the scene of trouble.

Labor trouble is not frequent, neither has it interfered with loading cargoes. Non-union stevedores can work only when union men refuse the jobs. This often happens, for a union stevedore can earn enough in double-time money over a week-end to keep him comfortable the next week.

Along the northwest arm, Halifax's exclusive social district, many new homes are building. But the Halifaxian, with an income of $20,000 isn't exactly in clover.

"Taxes are higher," one of them explained to me. "My income taxes are over $5,000. I'm going to be assessed $25,000 for the next Victory Bond issue. I don't have to subscribe, but I shall."

The Favorite Songs

Haligonians take to their hearts as many refugees from bombed England as they can get. They knit, save tinfoil, put up flags.

In the restaurants, American juke boxes (still called nickelodeons) are a favorite diversion. More Canadian nickels go down the slot for "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" than any other popular song. But Halifax loves "There'll Always Be An England."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey Whitlow left Thursday morning for California, where they will spend several weeks vacationing.

Plans For Inauguration Of Cotton Stamp Program Fully Explained At Meet

Plans for the rapid development of the Cotton Stamp Plan as it will operate in Dawson County are nearing completion, according to B. J. Baskin, County Agent. Up to this week the first portion of the preliminary work had been completed. All the merchants and Land Use Planning Committees had met to discuss the Cotton Stamp Plan; every merchant selling cotton goods had been contacted, and been given the opportunity of stating his desire to cooperate in the plan; the County Committee had been selected, and its organization perfected; supplies are being received, and the County Office is being set up to conduct business.

The Cotton Stamp Plan will attempt to accomplish (1) the placing of more cotton goods in the hands of consumers that have never had a sufficient supply, (2) give the farmer an opportunity to produce food and feed for home use on acres removed from the production of cotton; and (3) through the increased use of cotton goods help to prevent the further piling up of surplus cotton.

The Cotton Stamps—of which a producer may earn from $5.00 to $50.00, depending on the number of farms operated—can be used ONLY for the purchasing of cotton goods made of 100 per cent American cotton and manufactured in the United States. These Cotton Stamps can not be used to purchase any other type of commodities. They can not be used to pay past due indebtedness. The Cotton Stamps must be used to pay for the cotton goods when the goods are actually purchased. No cash change can be rebut none of them have arrived. We realize that we must have some additional pitchers. We are getting hits and runs enough to win most ball games, and we are not kicking the games away, we just simply are allowing our opponents too many runs."

Although the Loboes have been in a slump, Thursday morning they were still clinging precariously to fourth place, four and one-half games behind the third place Pam-pa Oilers, and one game ahead of the fifth place Wichita Falls Spud-ders.

O'Daniel-

(Continued from Page One) Governor O'Daniel is a most colorful character and is serving his second term as Governor of Texas, having been given the office both terms without the necessity of a run-off, an event unprecedented in politics in this state. ceived by the farmer when Stamps are used to pay for Cotton Goods. The Stamps are given to the producer for the purpose of increasing the sale of cotton goods, and will be received by Merchants for such sales only.

The Plan as now set up is for the year 1941 only. The cooperation of producer and merchant in 1941 will determine the future of the Plan. Merchants and producers are urged to use the Stamps for the sale and purchase of Cotton Goods ONLY, and the use of them only when the sale is actually made.

The County Committee of the 1941 Cotton Stamp Plan met in the District Courtroom at 2 p. m., Friday, June 13. Present were: W. B. Collins, chairman; Donald Emory, merchant; J. L. Chiles, Land Use Planning Committee representative; W. H. Seale, District Supervisor; and B. J. Baskin, County Agent.

Organization of the committee was perfected, and discussion regarding the duties of the County Committee was detailed by Mr. Seale. The list of the merchants of Dawson County that have signified their intentions of cooperating in the Cotton Stamp Plan was submitted by the County Agent. Plans for the placing of supplies and the meeting of merchants and clerks were discussed.

WPA Workers Are Available For Any Type Work

WPA District Manager J. O. Jones Wednesday reiterated his reminder to farmers and other private employers that all WPA workers are listed with the Texas State Employment Service and are available for private employment. WPA workers will be released from projects wherever needed to make farm help available Mr. Jones declared. "Prospective employers should consult local representatives of the Texas State Employment Service," he explained, "as this is the duly constituted agency for referring WPA workers and other persons seeking private jobs to employers."

Rolls of the WPA are constantly open to private employers and no worker who refuses a bona fide offer of employment will be retained by WPA.
