Panhandle Digging Out As Thermometer Rises

By The Associated Press

The Texas Panhandle started digging out today from a record breaking snow that isolated scores of towns and cities and paralyzed traffic.

The snow, which dumped 26 inches on Borger, started tapering off this morning and for the first time in several days the temperature started creepnig above the freezing mark.

Snowplows were attempting to reopen highways closed by drifts as high as nine feet.

Snowplows, assisted by two helicopters from Reece Air Force Base at Lubbock, rescued two man who had been marooned near an oil lease since Monday night. Both men, Jack Wood and Kenneth Losure, were reported in good condition.

A Santa Fe freight engine was derailed 17 miles east of Dumas while on a mercy mission to find two unidentified Dumas city workers. The workmen were found later and taken to safety.

Fritch, near Sanford Dam, recorded 24.5 inches of snow. Panhandle 21.5, Perrytown 18, Amarillo 17.2, Pampa 15, Claude 14, and Dalhart 12.

The snow stopped during the morning in the western but continued in the eastern section.

Most highways through the Panhandle area were closed, and the Texas Department of Public Safety advised motorists to detour around the snow-laden country.

Public facilities in the area were jammed with stranded travelers.

Activity within cities in the affected areas was sharply curtailed. Authorities asked that children, in particular, be kept inside and that only emergency trips to stores and businesses be made.

The Weather Bureau said winds were decreasing but drifts up to nine feet were still reported.

As the storm moved eastward today, it was expected to leave rain in the Gulf region.

Gov. John Connally mobilized the National Guard Tuesday for emergency duty in Amarillo, which was isolated by the raging, blinding storm.

The DPS said only U.S. Highway 87 south to Lubbock and U.S. 60 to Clovis are open in the Panhandle. U.S. 60 was closed at Clovis on southwest through New Mexico to that state's central range of mountains.

Highway U.S. 66 was closed at Shamrock west to near Albuquerque. Other highways north of Shamrock, Amarillo, and Clovis were closed north through the Oklahoma Panhandle and into southwest Kansas, as well as through eastern New Mexico.

The DPS said travelers should avoid these routes and should detour either south toward El Paso or north toward Denver.

Major highways were expected to be opened later today, the DPS said.

Elsewhere in Texas, rain fell along the eastern border with light rain or drizzle along the Red River.

A dense fog covered the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

Temperatures were unusually mild, even in the areas where snow was still falling.

Coldest points reported by the Weather Bureau were Dalhart and Amarillo, with 29 degrees.

Other temperatures included El Paso 32, Lubbock 32, Childress 33, Wink 35, Marfa 35, San Angelo 38, Waco 37, Abilene 39, Mineral Wells 39, Junction 40, Wichita Falls 41, College Station 41, Corpus Christi 41, Cotulla 41, San Antonio 42, Austin 43, Tyler 43, Alice 43, Longview 45, Palacios 46, Houston 47, Lufkin 47, Galveston 50, Beaumont 50.

Skies were generally clear over South Texas and expected to stay that way through Thursday. Partly cloudy skies were forecast for tonight in North Texas.

Far from the snow, the weather was blamed for three deaths in Texas Tuesday. A car-truck collision during a storm near Winnie in Southeast Texas killed three persons. A railroad worker was injured Tuesday when a tornado struck his trailer house near Eagle Lake, in the Houston area. At nearby Chesterville five inches of hail fell.

Heart Research Progress Told

Nearly 100 persons attended the third annual Heart Research Day program at noon Tuesday at the Snyder Country Club.

Dr. Richard W. Ernst, thoracic and cardiovascular surgeon from Fort Worth, spoke to the group and presented a film dealing with the replacement of faulty heart valves.

Dr. Ernst noted that heart disease was still the number one killer in this country behind what he called "the game of American Roulette which we all play on the highway."

"Actually," said Dr. Ernst, "it is only in the past 10 years that we have been able to offer the heart patient more than pills and bed rest." The replacement of valves is now practical, the doctor said, and someday he felt sure, complete heart transplants will be accomplished.

Dr. Ernst spoke to an assembly of students at Snyder High School Tuesday morning and to a meeting of area doctors Tuesday evening.

Dr. Ernst's visit here was sponsored by the Scurry County Heart council as a part of its continuing program of professional and public education.

The annual Heart Fund drive will be conducted in Snyder and Scurry County this month and will culminate in a door-to-door drive over Heart Sunday week-end, Feb. 21-23. The money collected from the Heart Fund drive, and from memorial gifts received throughout the year, will be used to finance programs for research, education and community service in Scurry County, Texas and the nation, said Pat Falls, president of the local Heart Council.

Won't Join Cyprus Force

PARIS (AP)—France refused today to join an international peace - keeping force on Cyprus as proposed by Britain.

The French Cabinet spokesman announced this following a Cabinet session with President De Gaulle.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville reported on developments on the eastern Mediterranean island, and on the British proposal for a North Atlantic Alliance force of about 10,000 men to maintain peace between Cyprus' Greek and Turkish populations.

Information minister Alain Peyrefitte, the Cabinet spokesman, said the legal basis for a peace-keeping force would be the 1959 Statute of Zurich concerning Cyprus.

Peyrefitte was referring to the conference at Zurich in 1959 between the Greek and Turkish premiers which ended fighting between the two Cypriot communities.

The minister said France has not participated in drafting the Zurich agreement, and hence did not feel herself involved.

Dozers Find Men Lost In Blizzard

BORGER, Tex (AP) — Two men lost in a blizzard Monday were found in good shape today in a compressor station used to pump natural gas.

Heat from engines in the station kept the men warm but they had nothing to eat.

A radio on one of two bulldozers sent to search for the men said, "Both all right." The men are Jack Wood and Kenneth Losure, both 29.

Losure and Wood had started for an oil lease six miles southeast of here but never reached their destination. They abandoned their pickup truck.

Snow as deep as 26 inches with drifts of six feet hampered the search.

One of the bulldozer operators stopped his vehicle and walked through deep snow on the chance the men might be at the small station.

The bulldozer operators reached the oil lease early today, and one turned back to Borger while another plowed on along an alternate route. It was the returning bulldozer operator who found the men.

Hoffa Tried To 'Get To' Jurors

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) A Teamsters official testified today that James R. Hoffa told him of plans to "try to get to a few scattered jurors" in the Teamsters president's conspiracy trial.

Edward Grady Partin, Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters officer, testified over heated defense objections at the jury-tampering trial of Hoffa and five other men. His was the first testimony linking Hoffa with any alleged jury-fixing efforts so far in the trial, now in its third week.

"He called me to his room," said Partin, business manager of Baton Rouge Local No. 5. "He told me he'd like for me to stick around a few days. He might want me to talk to a few people.

"He said they were going to get to one juror and try to get to a few scattered jurors and take a chance."

Hoffa and the others are accused of trying to influence jurors in the 1962 Nashville trial.

The government won a major victory when U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson this morning permitted Partin to testify.

The defense, stunned by Partin's surprise appearance Tuesday had sought to block his testimony on grounds he had been planted illegally in their midst by the Justice Department.

"I find the government did not place him in the midst of the defense," Judge Wilson said "He was knowingly and voluntarily placed there by one of the defendants."

Partin had testified Tuesday that Hoffa had invited him to Nashville on the day his 1962 trial began to discuss union business.

Defense lawyers flew in overnight from Washington a lawyer who defended Hoffa in the 1962 trial.

"I knew there was a serious security leak among the defense counsel," testified Daniel Maher, the lawyer. The government, he said, had "seemingly uncanny ability to predict our moves."

He said he once inquired about Partin — who said he was in constant contact with defense lawyers and Justice Department officials during the 1962 trial. But, Maher said, he was assured by Hoffa and one of his lawyers, "He's one of us; he's all right."

When Partin — under indictment in Baton Rouge for stealing union funds — took the stand Tuesday the defense objected bitterly asserting use of his testimony would be a violation of privacy.

Fred Turner Dies Tuesday In Br'nwood

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Fred Turner Jr., 67, multi-millionaire independent oil man and nationally known horse fancier, died Tuesday night in a Brownwood hospital.

Turner had undergone surgery after suffering a heart seizure at his farm near Brownwood earlier in the evening.

Turner was the owner of Tomy Lee, which won the Kentucky Derby in 1959. His Sir Ribot placed fourth in the 1962 Kentucky Derby.

Turner's death followed only by a few months that of his wife.

Mrs. Turner was found slain at the couple's palatial Midland home Oct. 29. James Marion, 22-year-old Midland Negro cook, was charged with murder and is due to be tried March 16 in Lubbock.

Funeral services for Turner are scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday from the First Presbyterian Church in Midland. Burial will be here.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Fred Turner Sr., of Santa Anna, Tex., two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Scarbauer and Mrs. Lynn Durham, both of Midland; seven sisters and four brothers.

A native of Santa Anna in Central West Texas, Turner left high school before graduation to help his father on a farm and work on oil well rigs. He came to Midland in the middle 1920s as a scout and land man for Marland Oil Co., but later became an independent oil operator.

In 1933, in a case that attracted statewide interest, he won a multi-million dollar lawsuit involving oil royalties on a strip of land in the rich Yates oil field in Pecos County.

Thompson Rites Set

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday for Mr. L. T. (Blackie) Thompson, 50, of 1202 Twenty-first Street.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Sue Thompson, one brother, J. D. Thompson of Lubbock; and his grandfather, John Morris of Lubbock.

Mayor Defies Court Order To Integrate

By REX THOMAS

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—The mayor of a small Alabama town shouldered aside a federal court order today and barred six Negro pupils from a white school. A crowd of angry white men watched and cursed as the Negroes arrived.

Mayor James Rea of Notasulga, a town of 1200, was flanked by police as he invoked a new city ordinance empowering him to limit enrollment at Notasulga High to exactly its current figure.

At nearby Shorter, six Negroes entered the only other white public school in Macon County, where Negroes outnumber white persons by about five to one.

A small crowd of angry white men, some carrying walking canes, gathered across the street in front of the Notasulga school, shouted at the Negro pupils when they arrived in a bus, and scuffled with newsmen.

State troopers ringed the school grounds. The Alabama and Confederate flags flew over the school. The U.S. flag was not there.

In Washington, Justice Department officials were studying the Notasulga situation. It seemed likely they would return to federal court for an order including the Notasulga city government among those forbidden to bar the entrance of the Negroes into the school.

Mayor Rea declined to comment on what he would do in such a case.

When the bus started to turn into the driveway leading to the Notasulga school, Sheriff James Clark and another police officer boarded the bus and hauled out a white youth, Vernon Merritt III.

Merritt is a commercial photographer who had hidden himself on the bus.

His camera was battered by a man identified by Col. Albert J. Lingo, state public safety director, and a city policeman.

As the bus halted and the white youth was ejected, about 40 white men yelled curses at the Negroes.

One white man banged on a newsreel camera with a walking stick.

Merritt, blood in the corner of his mouth, was allowed by state troopers to leave the school grounds.

'Non-Paid' Poll Receipts Being Issued

The Scurry County Tax office today began issuing "non - paid" poll tax receipts to local voters who wish to vote only in elections involving federal offices.

Geral Greene, county tax assessor - collector, said he received instructions this morning from Robert S. Calvert, state comptroller, to begin issuing the receipts immediately. The period from now through March 6 has been set aside for issuing the non-paid poll tax receipts.

The new system became necessary when a constitutional amendment was ratified prohibiting payment of a poll tax fee as a qualification for voting in federal elections.

Persons who paid their poll taxes during the regular period which ended Jan. 31 are qualified to vote in all elections. Those who did not pay their poll taxes but apply for non-paid receipts will be qualified to vote for federal offices only and they will be issued ballots at the polls with all local and state candidates marked out.

Greene said the issuing of non-paid receipts does not affect exemptions. Persons over 60 who live inside the city limits of Snyder were required to get exemption certificates by Jan. 31. Over - age voters outside the city are automatically qualified to vote in all elections without any certificate or receipt.

Fireman's Effort Fails To Save Lad

PAMPA, Tex. (AP) — A fire truck from Miami, in the Texas Panhandle, battled nearly impassable roads for 23 miles Tuesday in a fruitless attempt to save a youngster's life.

Four - year - old Charles Martinez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Martinez, swallowed a bottle of aspirin tablets.

A fire truck was called to take the youngster to a Pampa hospital, because of ice and snow clogged roads, but the boy died just before the truck reached the hospital.

Airlift Rescues Americans In Cyprus Trouble-Spot

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—An emergency airlift began removing hundreds of American women and children from this Mediterranean trouble spot today as anti-American violence continued on Cyprus.

Terrorists bombed the American Embassy in Nicosia Tuesday night, slightly injuring a Marine guard, then set ablaze two cars owned by U.S. government employes.

U.S. Ambassador Fraser Wilkins ordered a "voluntary" evacuation of American dependents to Beirut, Lebanon, explaining he no longer had confidence in the ability of Greek Cypriot police to keep order.

Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president, inspcted damage to the embassy and denounced the bombing as the work of "heinous criminals."

The terrorism appeared designed to demonstrate Greek Cypriot opposition to an American-British plan to assign a North Atlantic Treaty Organization peace force to enforce the truce between the island's warring Greek and Turkish communities.

Makarios, in effect, rejected such a force Tuesday by demanding that it be answerable to the U.N. Security Council. The United States and Britain say such a condition is unacceptable because it would give the Soviet Union a chance to interfere.

In Washington, the State Department expressed shock at the "irresponsible" attack on the U.S. Embassy and urged Makarios to restore order and catch the culprits.

The United States took up its peacemaking role on Cyprus at the request of Britain, which has been unable to work out a solution to prevent revival of the communal violence in its former colony.

Wilkins said the burning of the cars appeared to be part of a "hit - and - run campaign." There were no reports of any further injuries.

Cpl. Henry Theriaque, 26, of North Windham, Conn., an embassy Marine guard, was cut slightly in the leg by one of the embassy blasts Tuesday night.

Two bombs exploded just under the windows of Wilkins' apartment in the modern, six-story embassy. The blasts knocked out part of the wall and disrupted the embassy's telephone system.

U.S. Consul George McFarland said he saw a man get out of a car, drop a package near the embassy wall and then speed off in the vehicle. The embassy was evacuated after McFarland's alert.

Dear Abby..

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our only child, who lives 2,000 miles away, is expecting her first child this summer. Today we received a letter from our daughter telling us that she had lined up a nurse for the first three months, and that her mother should not plan on flying out for the birth of the baby, but to wait until three or four months after. We were shocked and hurt as we have always had a perfect relationship with our daughter, and we love her husband as we would a son. My wife is ashamed to tell our friends that she was asked to stay away for three or four months. Can you explain the psychological reason behind our daughter's rejection of her mother at this time?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Why assume that there is a "psychological reason" behind your daughter's decision, and that it is a "rejection" of her mother? Perhaps your daughter does not want to burden her mother with the hard work of caring for a newborn baby, but prefers that she come after the baby has grown a little so that she can fully enjoy her visit.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I went with a man for five months before he admitted that he was married and had a family. I saw him only once after that to say my final goodbye. His wife found out about us and now I am afraid she is going to sue me for alienation of affections. I have some money, but I can't afford a suit of that nature. I even suspect collusion on the part of the man and his wife. They have evidence which could win for them if such is the case. I need help.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You need a heap of help. The kind that only a good lawyer can provide. What are you waiting for?

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were both born in France, but are now American citizens. We have a three-year-old daughter, and we are teaching her to speak French by speaking it in our home. Thus far she is speaking French as well as she does English. We felt this would be an advantage to her later on, but many of our friends have planted some doubts in our minds. They say that when she starts to learn English in school she will have a difficult time because she will confuse it with French. Could you please advise us of the validity of this viewpoint?

MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Children learn languages very easily. It is an advantage for youngsters to learn a second language while growing up, so don't be concerned about "confusing" your daughter by speaking French at home. But speak English, too, for obvious reasons.

Mrs. Oswald Is Expected To Admit To Evidence

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sometime today Mrs. Marina Oswald will be confronted with the rifle found in a Dallas sniper's nest Nov. 22. She will be asked if it was her husband's.

With the Italian-made carbine before her, the 22-year-old widow of Lee Harvey Oswald is expected to say yes, as she already has done under police questioning.

The rifle, bought by mail in March by the ex-Marine sharpshooter and equipped with telescopic sights, will then enter the file of exhibits of the presidential commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, presiding over the third consecutive day's interrogation of the Russian-born wife of the man charged with killing Kennedy, said the rifle is among "a great number of items of physical evidence" to be identified by her today.

The list, Warren told reporters, includes items from the Oswald home in Dallas, together with notebooks and diaries whose entries presumably trace the mysterious movements of Oswald in the months preceding the slaying of Kennedy and the wounding of Tex. Gov. John B. Connally in a presidential motorcade.

Warren gave a strong hint that the commission also believes the 6.5 mm Carcano carbine may have been the rifle whose bullet narrowly missed the Texas conservative leader, former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, on the night of April 10.

Warren said the newspaper accounts indicate that Mrs. Oswald has recognized the rifle, now in the hands of the FBI, as her husband's mail - order carbine.

It was found in the Dallas building where Oswald worked, the building from which the assassin fired. The rifle was missing from its hiding place at their Dallas home when she led police to the spot, after Oswald's capture.

Officials have disclosed that Oswald's palm print has been found on the bolt-action carbine, and that shreds of the brown shirt he wore that day were caught in its mechanism.

Warren Tuesday amplified his remark of Monday that some of the testimony taken in the commission's closed hearings "may not be released in your lifetime."

That was spoken a bit facetiously but also factually, he said, because: "The man (Oswald) was in Russia and in Mexico, and we don't know what that may involve. The trips may have security aspects, and if they do, we could not release the security matters at the time of our report."

So far nothing has been encountered which might have to be withheld, he said.

Beckwith's Defense Calls Witnesses

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The defense calls news witnesses today in a drive to rip up the state's case against Byron De La Beckwith, charged with murder.

Hardy Lott of Greenwood, chief defense lawyer, said he hoped to wind up the 10-day-old trial by Thursday.

The prosecution rested its case Tuesday. In nearly four days of testimony, Dist. Atty. William L. Waller called 35 witnesses in an effort to prove Beckwith, 43, ambushed Medgar Evers.

Evers, 37, was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He was killed by a sniper when he stepped from his car at his home here last June 12.

LBJ Makes Third Trip To New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson makes his third trip to New York as President today to take over for the man he succeeded in a pair of speeches and to make a political talk on his own behalf.

He will be landing at the John F. Kennedy Memorial Airport at 4:30 p.m. after a 45-minute jet flight from Andrews Air Force Base in Washington.

Tonight and Thursday night Johnson speaks at dinners at which Kennedy would have spoken. The first is for the presentation of awards for contributions in the field of combating mental retardation—Awards given by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation.

The Thursday night affair is a dinner which the American Committee for the Weizmann Institute of Science planned in Kennedy's honor. Now the proceeds of the dinner will go into the establishment of John F. Kennedy Memorial Fellowships at the institute's graduate school in Israel. There will be 46 of these—one for each year Kennedy lived.

In the political appearance Thursday afternoon, Johnson speaks to 400 members of the President's Club, an organization of heavy contributors to the Democratic party war chest.

Mrs. Johnson canceled plans to go to New York with her husband.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy is not expected to attend the Kennedy Foundation dinner, either. But other members of the late President's family are expected to be present — the brothers and most of the sisters and possibly the late President's mother.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada also will attend, enter the banquet chamber with Johnson, and speak.

Also performing will be the Valley Quadrille, featuring 16 men and 8 women riders.

Claims People Of Dallas Would Sacrifice Jack Ruby

NEW YORK (AP) — Melvin Belli chief defense counsel for Jack Ruby, says he is seeking a change of venue for the Ruby trial because "the people of Dallas, perhaps unconsciously, have to have a sacrifice in order to cleanse themselves, to prove that Dallas is a law abiding community. They feel if Ruby is executed it would reestablish some sense of law and order."

Ruby is charged with killing assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas Nov. 24.

Belli, in New York to promote a book he has written, described his client to newsmen as "a Damon Runyon character."

"He is a scrounger with a million and one different ventures. He builds up in his own mind all sorts of gradiose ideas," Belli said.

Belli said he plans a court room test of his client's sanity during Ruby's coming murder trial.

Belli seeks a change of venue for the trial, scheduled to begin Feb. 17. He said if a change of venue is granted, the trial might be postponed as long as eight months.

Texans Can Now Get Free-Vote Receipts

By The Associated Press

A 30-day period of voter registration starts today during which Texans who could have paid poll taxes but didn't will be able to get free receipts for voting in federal elections.

Gov. John Connally said the period will end March 6.

The registration follows certification in Washington of the 24th amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which prohibits the poll tax as a requirement to voting in federal elections.

Persons who register will be issued receipts marked "poll tax not paid." The free system is not open to persons who were exempt from poll tax payments but failed to get exemption certificates.

In actual balloting, voters will be divided into two classes on voters lists. The free receipts will be good only for ballots with all but candidates for federal office scratched out.

"Paul's 3rd. Heaven"

Of the world anterior to Adam, to which the Fossil remains belong, we know little, except that sometimes between Gen. 1 — 1-2 God's wrath thundered over the world, and sent this planet, covered above its mountain tops with the black floods of destruction, rolling through space in a horror of great darkness. Of the world, since the creation of Adam, we know more. The Apostle Peter speaks of 3 Heavens and earth in 2-Peter-3. He speaks of the first as the Heavens of old, the earth that "Then Was Perished." He speaks of the second as the "Heaven and earth which are now "The present." The 3rd. Heaven and earth he speaks of are future, the new heaven and earth which Rev. 2-7 calls the paradise of God. To this 3rd. Heaven, even to paradise, the apostle Paul was caught up or away. 2 Cor. 12-2-4: With a double revolution of the new heavens and earth, the whole earth then being a paradise. We are a few of the countless millions of actors concerned with the magnitude of events both past and future by which time is bounded. If our time is correct and this is the year 1964 then we near the end of the "Six prophetic days," when more of this stupendous drama will unfold.

Valentine's And Leap Year Girls!

Ah! Lovely spring, with its soft breezes, blossoming buds and thoughts of romance will be lurking, as usual and most appropriately, "just around the corner" from February 14, Saint Valentine's Day!

That most romantic day of the year has special significance in 1964, for this is Leap Year, girls — and open season on males.

The actual history of the origin of the Valentine is veiled in antiquity, but research indicates that the festivities probably date to the pre-Christian days of the Roman Empire.

The Romans celebrated with the Feast of Lupercalia each February 14, the date the birds were supposed to begin their spring mating. As part of the celebration, maidens fashioned love missives and deposited them in a large urn. Young men then drew names from an urn and during the ensuing year, each courted the maid whose name he drew.

Modern lovers have a more direct approach, however, and will choose the recipients to receive their love missives.

Valentines this year cover the widest range ever in style and sentiment. There are old - fashioned, three - dimensional cards with their fancy lace and filigree, that open out to reveal that little "old trouble-maker," Cupid blowing his trumpet, with white doves and bouquets of roses. There are sophisticated, stylized designs, and a wide variety of light - hearted approaches to the celebration of Saint Valentine's Day. Among the cards in a humorous vein are such messages as "You'll do in a Squeeze. . . Very Nicely;" "Love can be trying. . . Try me?" and "If it's necessary I am going to wait forever for you to be my Valentine. . . Everyone says I have no time but sense."

The small fry are not forgotten, either. There are several do-it-yourself card kits with push-outs, and the traditional penny Valentine.

Valentines aren't just for sweethearts and married couples. There are missives of affection for aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, fathers and daughters.

The old-fashioned cards are the special favorite of those who are selecting cards for their mothers, although sweethearts and wives get a good share, too. And mothers receive many more valentines of all designs and styles than wives and sweethearts combined.

An extra fillip can be added with colorful valentine seals to create a special touch to envelopes.

Whatever the inclination, romantic, fun - loving or sophisticated, be somebody's valentine on February 14.

Fish Potato Flakes Next Instant Food

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — A process for turning out instant fish-potato flakes is being tested and improved by the Federal Department of Fisheries at its experimental plant at Valleyfield, Nfld.

The department says this instant product could become an important ration or emergency food due to its lightness and high protein content. In an emergency the fish-potato flakes could be eaten dry without the addition of water or milk.

The flakes have already been used in a variety of dishes in the department's test kitchens and their versatility suggests they could become a boon to the housewife as they absorb moisture quickly making them suitable for instant fishcakes. By adding water or milk and seasoning, the flakes can be shaped into cakes and browned.

Deep - fried fish croquettes, fish soup or chowder and fish casseroles have also been prepared from the flakes.

The process currently being tested involved dehydration of a mixture of cooked fish and cooked potatoes on a drum dryer. The final product consists of white flakes containing fish and potato, so well blended that their individual characteristics cannot be detected.

The department says the program is not limited to fish-potato products. Other ingredients such as meat-potato products and cheese are also being examined.

The pastry top of a two-crust pie will improve its appearance if it is brushed, before baking, with cream, melted butter or slightly beaten egg.

To keep your plants growing straight and to encourage them to branch out evenly all around, give the clay pot a quarter turn in the same direction every day. Since plants lean toward the greatest source of light, they'll look like the leaning tower of Pisa unless turned.

Many GOP Hopefuls Shy About Admitting Candidacy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are at sixes and se ens, or eights.

Four have announced they want their party's presidential nomination although why two of them think they have a chance is a mystery.

Four others, more reticent, deny they seek the nomination but don't deny they'd accept a draft. In fact, three say they would.

Some of the eight are jibing at one another and most are jibing at President Johnson and his programs.

The harshest criticism so far is from Sen. Barry Goldwater, of Arizona. He called Johncon a "highwayman of the bureaucratic spoils system."

Goldwater, 55, and these three are the active candidates, all campaigning in the New Hampshire primary:

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 55; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, oldest of the candidates at 66; and Harold E. Stassen, 56, now a Philadelphia lawyer, who made a big pitch for the nomination in 1948 but lost.

Goldwater, far to the right of the others, like the others claims he could run things better.

Rockefeller, whose prospects dipped after his divorce and remarriage, is on the liberal side. He is critical not only of Johnson but of Goldwater, too, and for good measure he has taken a swipe at former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is one of the reticent four.

Nixon, who shows plenty of signs of hoping for the nomination while steadfastly insisting he won't seek it, only recently said he would accept a draft.

It's hard to figure out why Stassen is in the race. He was the "boy wonder" governor of Minnesota—from 1938 to 1943—but has never been elected to anything since.

Why is he trying for the nomination now? "To enlarge the debate," he says, and to try for the nomination. This week he promised New Hampshire an international airport if he gets elected.

But then it's hard to say why Sen. Smith—a charming woman and excellent senator and politician who has been in Congress since 1940 and has never lost an election—thinks she has a fiddler's chance for the presidential spot.

She herself is extremely vague on why she's even trying.

It's from the four reticent Republicans that the party may actually pick its candidate. Besides Nixon, now 51, the others are: Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, 47; Michigan's Gov. George Romney, 56; and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., American ambassador to South Viet Nam.

After losing the presidency to John F. Kennedy in 1960, Nixon tried his luck again, this time for the governorship of California in 1962, and lost again. Immediately afterwards, in bitter criticism of the treatment he got from the press, he told reporters that was his last news conference.

He even said that "under no circumstances would he accept a draft." This seemed final enough.

As 1963 wore o both Rockefeller and Goldwater said they thought Nixon was acting like a candidate. And 12 days ago he said he would accept a draft.

Scranton frankly says that while he won't seek the nomination he'd accept it but would enter no primaries. He has one big handicap: He and his qualifications are hardly known outside Pennsylvania. He served one term in Congress.

Lodge, appointed ambassador to South Viet Nam late last year by President Kennedy, has not held elective office since Kennedy took his Senate seat away from him in 1952. When he ran for the vice presidency in 1960 on the ticket with Nixon, he lost again.

But he is a respected figure among Republicans, helped persuade Dwight D. Eisenhower to run in 1952, and now in his critical Viet Nam post denies he's a candidate this year.

It's Time To Practice Double-Talk

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you brushed up on your double-talk lately?

Winter is a good time to practice this most necessary of social skills, which makes civilized conversation possible.

Double-talk, it will be recalled, is the art of saying one thing while thinking another.

Here are a few examples of double-talk with their literal translations.

"I don't know what I'd do without you." But I'd sure like to give it a try.

"Yes, sir, I recommend the corned beef highly. As a matter of fact, I had it myself before coming on duty." That explains why I've got these gas pains right now.

"Receiving this company 25-year pin, boss, makes me feel more humbly grateful than words can say. I'll always treasure it." This always has been a cheap outfit. I know a lot of firms that give a guy a gold watch after 25 years.

"As his teacher, Mrs. Smythe, I can assure you that your little boy is not backward — despite his low marks." He's just downright dumb like his mother.

"It sounds like a great idea, chief. You're a real genius." But how come you didn't like it last year, when I suggested it to you myself?

"Oh, pardon me, is this your umbrella? I thought it was mine." And it would have been—if you hadn't caught me.

"No, Henry, I'm not really a cold career girl at heart. All I want is a little home I can make cozy for someone I love." And some chump like you, buddy boy, to pay the bills.

"He's in an important conference right now. May I take the message?" Then I can fly it out to him on the golf course by messenger pigeon.

"I decided I'd rather play football for this university because of its educational benefits and the fact that I admire the coach." How can you beat a school where the alumni guarantee you $500 for every touchdown you make?

"Anytime I can be of further service to you, don't hesitate to call on me." Somehow I'll figure a way to be out of hearing.

Last year, Norman Meyers, a 27-year-old Kenya schoolteacher dressed in shorts and field hockey boots, hiked to the summit of Mt. Kilimanjaro in record - breaking time — 13 hours and 40 minutes.

CAMERA

QUESTION: How is camera film developed?

ANSWER: When a camera's shutter clicks, light falls on a sensitive coating of silver salts covering the film. These salts retain a "memory" of the pattern of lights and darks. Developing with chemicals changes the silver salts which have been affected by the light to various densities of metallic silver; then, when the film is passed through a "fixing" bath, silver salts not reached by the light are washed away, leaving clear film. Paper used in making the final prints has also received a light-sensitive coating. When the developed film—called a negative—is placed over the print paper, light will come through the clear negative areas and turn these dark on the paper. But the dark, dense parts on the negative will print lighter.

Developing is best done in total darkness, but a faint red light can be used. Jerry is using the kitchen with red cellophane around a lamp. Holding the film with clip clothespins, he is passing it through the developer. Then he will use the rinse and the fixing bath. Finally he will wash the film in running water and hang it up to dry. He is following the directions given on the packages of developing and fixing materials.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get your parents consent and advice if you want to try developing film at home. Cover kitchen sink and table with newspapers. Be sure there's no light except the faint red one.

Tigers Absorb First Loop Defeat, 54-47

LAMESA — Snyder's Tigers, all but one as cold as the weather outside, held the upper hand for more than a half Tuesday night, but finally dropped their first District 3-AAA basketball game, 54-47, to the Lamesa Tornadoes.

Although the Bengals were playing "under their heads" in most departments, the loss probably stemmed from inability to hit the basket more than anything else. The Snyder lads could hardly "buy a basket," that is, except for Jimmy Wilson, who meshed 21 points. Wilson's baskets from the corner gave Snyder an early lead and kept the Tigers in the game until late in the fourth period.

Still, as cold as they were from the field, the Bengals could have won it easily on free throws. They managed to connect on just 9 of 25 chances from the charity line, and several of those missed were on one-and-one situations where bonus shots would have been permitted had the first shot been made.

Moreover, the Tornadoes grabbed off 32 rebounds, compared to 23 for the Tigers. Wilson led the Snyder team in that department also with 6. Jerry Vestal, Leslie Brown and Leslie Anderson each got 5 rebounds.

Adding to the Tigers misery was a seige of erractic passing which cost them possession of the ball probably more than in any other game this season.

In shooting from the field, the Tigers hit 46 per cent in the first half, but sagged to 35 per cent in the second half. Lamesa hit 41 per cent in the first half and 55 per cent in the second.

The Tigers leaped out to an 11-3 lead early in the game and held an advantage of 13-9 at the end of the first period and still led, 25-23, at half-time. The third period proved decisive as the Tornadoes racked up 20 points while holding the Tigers to 10. The Tigers then got 12 in the fourth, compared to 11 for Lamesa.

Lamesa also won the B game, pulling away in the fourth quarter for a 52-42 decision after a close game for the first three quarters.

Glen Patterson roped 24 points for Snyder B to take scoring honors Steve Crowell also was in double figures with 10 points.

Next outing for the Tigers will be Friday night when Colorado City pays a visit to Tiger Gym.

Maloney And Thomas Find Their Situations Reversed

NEW YORK (AP) — A year ago today Lee Thomas seemed on the threshold of stardom with the Los Angeles Angels and Jim Maloney was on a treadmill to oblivion with the Cincinnati Reds. Today, it's quite another story.

Thomas came to the Angels from the New York Yankees in 1961 and batted .285 with 24 homers and 70 RBI. The following season he hit .290, slammed 26 homers and knocked in 104 runs. He tied a major league record with nine hits in a doubleheader against Kansas City in his rookie year.

Maloney, a right-hander, had signed a $100,000 bonus contract with the Reds in 1959, and had compiled a 17-20 mark in three undistinguished seasons. He was also burdened with a 27.00 World Series earned run average achieved against the Yankees in one disastrous inning during the 1961 classic.

Then came 1963 and today Maloney is a star and Thomas must prove he can come back from a nightmarish season.

The Cincy pitcher had a 23-7 record and his 265 strikeouts was second only to Sandy Koufax' 306. He tied a modern record fanning eight Milwaukee Braves in a row in an early season game and had a 2.77 ERA.

Thomas was a main factor in the collapse of the Angels from 1962 pennant contenders to ninth place in '63. The rangy first baseman-outfielder hit a meager .220 with only nine home runs and 55 RBI.

Both players signed their 1964 contracts Tuesday, Maloney accepting a handsome raise and Thomas reportedly escaping the expected slice.

Tuesday's other major signee was Johnny Podres whose 14-12 record was almost a carbon copy of the 15-13 he logged in 1962.

In the four-game World Series sweep, Podres shut out the Yankees for eight innings and won the second game, 4-1.

The New York Mets led the signing derby with four signatures Tuesday. Pitchers Grover Powell and Steve Dillon, outfielder Dick Smith and catcher Lloyd Flodin inked Met pacts.

In addition to Maloney, Cincinnati signed infielder Charlie Neal. Pitcher Phil Ortega and infielder Nate Oliver also agreed to Dodger terms.

Kansas City enrolled outfielders Jose Tartabull and Nelson Matthews and Washington added Fred Valentine, another outfielder. The Yankees signed three pitchers picked up in the draft, Gil Downs, Rich Marcy and Jimmy Marrujo.

Aggies Continue At Top Of Loop

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M rolled on undefeated at the head of the Southwest Conference basketball parade Tuesday night while defending champion Texas took the blow that killed its chances —a 76-74 overtime defeat at the hands of Southern Methodist.

The Aggies were winning their fifth straight as they swirled from a 34-28 half-time deficit to knock down Baylor 83-58.

Texas was losing its fourth conference game in five tries. It was the first time since 1959 for Texas to drop four games in a single season. It eliminated the Longhorns from contention.

Southern Methodist and Texas Tech, which slammed Texas Christian 90-74, moved into a tie for second place, one game back of Texas A&M.

Arkansas fell out of a deadlock for second when it was beaten 76-63 by Rice.

Southern Methodist and Texas Tech will settle things in a clash at Dallas Saturday afternoon in a televised game.

Texas A&M has Arkansas at College Station while Rice and Baylor tangle at Waco and Texas and Texas Christian clash at Fort Worth in another daytime affair.

Bennie Lenox again was the big gun as the Aggies held onto their lead in the title race. Lenox came to life for 20 of his 24 points in the last half as the Aggies went ahead 38-37 with 15:32 left in the game and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Jim Brockman sank two free throws with one second left to give Southern Methodist its overtime victory over Texas. Gene Elmore's field goal had tied it up at 72-72 in regulation time.

John Malaise hit for 28 points and Harold Denney 25 as Texas Tech walloped Texas Christian. Tech led 40-34 at the half and rolled in 50 points in the second half.

Arkansas led Rice 39-29 at intermission then ran into a cold streak while the Owls were poking in 47 points in the last half. Kendall Rhine scored 22 points and had 13 rebounds to lead the Rice onslaught.

Wichita's Record For '64 Perfect

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is anybody going to beat the Wichita Wheatshockers in college basketball in 1964? Right now the answer seems to be "no."

The Shockers scored their 11th straight and 15th in their last 16 games by defeating Chicago Loyola 65-60 Tuesday night.

True, the Shockers have lost three games, but all three were in December. Since their Dec. 21 setback by Ohio State, all their games have been on the right side of the ledger to make their over-all record 17-3 with six regular season games left.

In defeating the defending national collegiate champions for the second time this season, the Shockers delighted a home town turnout of 10,723.

Pairing the fourth - ranked Shockers and the ninth-ranked Ramblers in this week's Associated Press poll the game topped Tuesday's national collegiate program.

Once-beaten Davidson, No. 5, was the only other team in The AP Top Ten to see action. The Wildcats crushed William and Mary 111-84 for their 17th triumph in 18 starts.

Providence, the NIT champs, walloped Boston College 102-78 for its 10th in a row. Texas A&M tightened its hold on the Southwest Conference lead by whipping Baylor 83-58, Missouri edged Kansas 59-58 in the Big Eight and Lehigh upset Columbia 56-53.

Dave Stallworth upped his Wichita career total to 1,297 points with 16 against the Loyola Ramblers. Little Ernie Moore was the Whichita high scorer with 24. Less Hunter, with 23, and Vic Rouse, with 17, led the Ramblers.

Virginia Tech broke a two-game losing streak by beating Richmond 103-85 behind Howard Pardue's 31 points. In other games Wake Forest downed South Carolina 92-79, Bradley defeated Marquette 81-73, Temple overcame Delaware 68-63 and Morehead edged Eastern Kentucky 77-73.

Ruben Mijares scored 30 points for Hobbs boys and Bobby Hall got 22 for Fluvanna boys. Fluvanna boys made a strong bid in the second half, coming back from a half - time deficit of 10 points to take the lead, 49-48, at the end of the third period. Hobbs then rebounded to pull the game out in the fourth quarter.

New Angelo College Sets Grid Slate

SAN ANGELO (AP) — He had to do it ahead of time but Max Bumgardner, athletic director and coach of San Angelo Junior College, has worked out a football schedule including senior colleges for next fall.

He also has recruited 12 players, all except two of them from the larger high schools of the state. Others will be added shortly. The material looks quite good.

San Angelo decided to resume football after a three-year layoff and planned to play a junior college schedule in 1964, add some senior college junior varsities in 1965 and then take on a full four-year slate in 1966.

But Bumgardner found that most junior colleges had completed their 1964 schedules so he had to take on the senior colleges the first year. McMurry, Sul Ross, Howard Payne and Corpus Christi were signed and there also will be games against Abilene Christian and Stephen F. Austin junior varsities. Wharton, Navarro and New Mexico Military are the junior colleges on the schedule.

San Angelo College becomes Angelo State College in 1965 when it adds a junior class. The first graduating class will be in 1967 when it will have become a senior college.

Bumgardner says he isn't kidding himself—his team will have its ears pinned back by the senior colleges this fall—but he doesn't want to wait around. Three years out of it has made him anxious.

Bryant To Take Rest

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Alabama football Coach Paul Bryant, with a smile on his face and a $300,000 tax-free settlement, plans to get some rest.

"I'm not much of a golfer, but I might be about 30 days from now. I have been ordered by Dr. Rose (Frank Rose, president of the university) to take a rest," Bryant told friends Tuesday night.

Midland To Host Bowling Tournament

MIDLAND (AP) — Midland will host the 29th annual Texas women's bowling tournament starting Feb. 28 and there will be 1,472 teams.

It will be the second largest tournament in the Texas Women's Bowling Association's history, only falling short of the record-setting 1,620 teams that competed at Waco last year.

The tournament will be conducted on weekends through April 12.

Toboggan Team Has Close Call

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The Soviet Union, Sweden and Norway grabbed gold medals in skiing and speed skating today as fears of new tragedies gripped tobaggan and bobsled racers at the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

An American two-man tobaggan leaped off the track at Igls, its occupants miraculously escaping serious injury, and protests were raised over the condition of the bobsled run, made dangerous by melting and cracking ice.

A Canadian four-man crew, piloted by Victory Emery, took a surprising lead over Italy's eight-time world champion, Eugenio Monti, in the first two of four runs.

Organizers said if the track is too dangerous Thursday the final two runs may be canceled and medals awarded on the basis of today's two runs.

One United States sled, piloted by Bill Hickey of Keene, N.Y., was fifth and the other, with Larry McKillip of Saranac Lake, N.Y., at the controls, was seventh.

Sixten Jernberg, Swedish veteran of three Olympics who will be 35 Thursday, won the 50-kilometer ski race at Seefeld, covering the 31 miles and 120 yards in 2 hours, 43 minutes, 52.6 seconds.

Knut Johannesen of Norway captured the 5,000-meter men's speed skating race in the Olympic record time of 7 minutes, 38.4 seconds, leading a 1-2-3 Norwegian sweep.

Claudia Boyarskikh, a 23-year old Russian schoolteacher, added the 5,000-meter women's cross-county ski title to the 10,000-meter crown she won previously and the Soviet Union also picked up a bronze medal in the event.

In the two-man tobogganing finals at Igls, one U.S. sled leaped off the track but the occupants escaped injury.

Stram Pact Is Extended

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Hank Stram, who shares with San Diego's Sid Gilman the status of dean of American Football League coaches, signed a five-year contract with the Kansas City Chiefs Tuesday at an estimated $30,000 a year.

Stram and Gilman are the only AFL coaches who have held the same jobs all four years of the league's existence.

Lamar Hunt, owner of the Chiefs, stood by Stram after a 6-8 season in 1961 and was rewarded with an AFL crown in 1962 before the franchise was moved here from Dallas.

When the Chiefs floundered unexpectedly in mid-season last fall, there again was no hint of any change in Stram's status and the club finished with three lopsided victories for a 5-7-2 record.

Stram, 40, is a Purdue graduate and was an assistant at Purdue, SMU, Notre Dame and Miami before joining the Chiefs.

His record as Chiefs' coach is 30 won, 24 lost and two tied in regular season play. Including playoff and pre-season games, it is 46-30-2, a .603 percentage.

"As long as Hank wants to be our coach, he will be," Hunt said.

Max Macon, former pitcher who recommended that the Phillies draft hurler Jack Baldschun two years ago, now scouts for the Detroit Tigers. Baldschun is the star relief hurler for the Phils.

Ira Cagers Win Pair

IRA — Ira basketball teams won two games from Hermleigh last night, with Ira girls scoring a 62-40 triumph and Ira boys winning, 80-42.

Pat Jones had 25 points for Ira girls, while Carolyn Clark had 18, Wanda Payne 9, Muffett Kimbrell 7 and Janice Bishop 3. For Hermleigh girls, Carolyn Roemisch and Jolene Roberson each had 12, Marilyn Darden 10 and Sandra Fritz 6.

Bob Hart and Don Kimbrell paced Ira boys to their victory with 27 and 22 points, respectively. Danny Crowder had 14, Norman Turner 6, Jack Payne 5, Aaron Crawford, Dennis Grizzle and Melvin Crawford 2 each.

Donald Kubena scored 14 points for Hermleigh boys, while Curtis Brown had 8, Don Taylor 7, Walter Taylor , Kubala 3, Chitsey, Peterson, and Hess, 2 each.

Traders Highly Praised For Behavior In Crisis

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Floor traders and stock specialists—subject to criticism by some federal regulators — got warm support Tuesday from the president of the New York Stock Exchange.

G. Keith Funston told the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee that they behaved admirably, on the whole, in the frenzied 27-minute span between the news of President John F. Kennedy's assassination and the closing of the market.

He said much of the buying support came from specialists and floor traders, while individual customers of brokerage houses provided most of the selling pressure that tumbled prices.

What are the roles of these men and the meaning of other terms peculiar to stock trading?

Floor trader — member of a stock exchange who trades on the floor in securities for his own account.

Floor broker—member of an exchange who executes on the floor orders to buy or sell any listed stock as received by phone from his brokerage firm.

$2 broker—exchange member who executes orders on the floor for other brokers busy with other orders or for firms whose member broker isn't on hand. Formerly the fee was $2 per 100 shares; now varies with price of stock.

Specialist—exchange member charged with maintaining a reasonably orderly market in one or more stocks in one industry. To do so he must be ready to buy or sell for his own account. He also acts as a broker for other members who leave orders and then go on to other trading posts.

Special offering — block of stock so large as to require special handling. Ticker tape announces offer for sale at fixed price, usually based on last transaction in regular auction market. Other member firms may buy from the seller's broker during trading hours.

Secondary distribution — redistribution of a block, usually large, some time after stock has been sold by issuing company. Handled off the floor of exchange by securities firm or group of firms, and offered at fixed price. Often a block is involved in settlement of an estate.

Treasury stock—shares issued by company but later reacquired; may be held in company's treasury indefinitely, reissued to public, used for employe stock option or retired; while held by company receives no dividends and has no vote.

In-and-outer—trader who buys and sells same stock within short period; more interested in day-to-day price changes than dividends or long-term growth. Brokers usually cut commissions for quick round-trip transaction. Example: stock sold on news of shooting of President Kennedy might have been rebought soon afterwards to take advantage of steep price drop.

Arbitrage—buying and selling the same or equivalent securities at the same time in different markets. Example: buying a share for $90 in New York and selling for $95 in San Francisco or London, if such a price differential exists at time; or buying a convertible bond and selling the stock into which it is convertible.

Investor—buys stock for regular dividend income, safety of investment, and capital appreciation over a long term.

Speculator—accepts large risk in hope of quick gain on rising stock price, with little interest in dividend income; or may buy into unknown company which he doesn't expect to be profitable for years.

Professional—one who makes a living buying and selling securities; or a student of the market.

Boiler room — high-pressure peddling over the phone of stocks of dubious value, often from a room with little in it but phones.

Bucket shop—illegal operation in which operator accepted client's money without ever actually buying or selling stock but gambling that the customer was wrong. If too many customers were right, the bucket shop closed to reopen in new location.

Corner—buying stock or commodity in such volume as to gain control over price, forcing would-be buyer, such as one who has sold short, to pay arbitrarily high price.

Both Chinas Are Eyeing UN Seat

By ROY ESSOYAN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Two Chinas as dissimilar as David and Goliath are contending for world recognition.

They will be fighting it out for a United Nations seat late this year.

The prospects for Red China, a hungry and aggressive giant among nations, will be somewhat improved if its current embarrassing diplomatic muddle over relations with France is cleared up.

But Nationalist China, trim and spry on its tiny island stronghold of Formosa, still has a slingshot full of pellets.

The slingshot is made in the U.S.A., Formosa's main support. The United States will be in Formosa's corner helping round up additional support for Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

Paris and Peking got off to a poor start when they announced establishment of diplomatic relations Jan. 27 without clarifying how it would affect the thorny "two-Chinas" concept, according to which both Chinas have adamantly refused to maintain relations with any government recognizing the other.

There's an Alice in Wonderland quality about the whole situation.

Two Chinas have been an operating fact of life on the world stage since the Chinese Communists drove Nationalist China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his battered armies off the mainland 14 years ago, and Chiang established himself on Formosa, 100 miles off the China coast.

Since then Chiang and Communist China's party chief Mao Tze-tung each have claimed to be the only true and legal representative of China. Red China and Nationalist China operate in a vacuum as far as relations between them are concerned.

Red China dwarfs Formosa in size, population and military strength. Formosa's 14,000 square miles cover less than half of one per cent of China's vast area. Its population is 12 million compared to Red China's 700 million. Though Formosa has proportionately more men under arms — 600,000— than any other country, it cannot compare with Peking's 2.6 million-man army.

Economically, Formosa is healthy, though much of its health has been pumped in by the United States. Experts say it could be a lot healthier if some of the oriental Red tape were swept away.

Red China, 14 years after it was founded, is still economically sick and frequently hungry, mainly because its leaders have kept it isolated and because the incentive and initiative of its hundreds of millions of peasants have been stifled by rigid Communist dogma.

Life in both Chinas is strictly controlled. The control in Formosa is not as total, rigid and effective as on the mainland. But freedom of the press, speech and assembly are limited within what the government describes as the bounds of national security.

Johnson Asks Ban On Phony Packages

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for new laws to protect consumers against phony packaging and disguised interest charges. And he suggested possible use of federal experts to help low-income families prepare household budgets.

Johnson, in a special message on consumer interests, endorsed nine specific pieces of legislation including pending bills to ban deceptive packaging and to require full disclosure of interest rates on installment purchases.

"For far too long," Johnson said, "the consumer has had too little voice and too little weight in government." The President said that while labor, business, farmers and professional groups have been well represented, the consumer "has had to take a back seat."

The most novel idea in the message — the use of trained government workers to help low-income families learn more about budgeting and how to "get the most for their money—was not put forward in the form of legislation.

Instead, Johnson said he was asking all federal agencies interested in consumer education to explore fully the possibility of adapting the Agricultural Extension Service concept, "so successful in rural areas," to cities and towns.

The President also said the government would try to promote consumer education in the schools and encourage more young people "to seek instruction in the fundamentals of budgeting, buying and borrowing."

He said his committee on consumer interests soon will begin a series of regional conferences to explore "the problems of adequate consumer information."

Johnson devoted most attention to truth-in-packaging proposals.

"I recommend legislation to insure that the consumer has access to the information necessary to make a rational choice among competing package products," he said.

As for truth-in-lending, he called for a new law that would require lenders to disclose in advance the total amount of interest to be paid and the annual rate of interest.

Other legislative recommendations were:

A requirement that cosmetics be proved safe before marketing and that federal inspection of foods, drugs and cosmetics be expanded.

Require inspection of all meat and poultry sold in the country, whether or not it crossed state lines. Johnson noted that present federal law requires inspection only of these items when they cross state lines.

Grant subpoena authority in administrative hearings under the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.

Require warnings of accident hazards on labels for drugs, cosmetics, and pressurized containers.

End the practice of allowing pesticide manufacturers to market their products before they have been certified as safe by the Agriculture Department.

Grant the Federal Trade Commission authority to issue temporary cease-and-desist orders, subject to court review, when the FTC believes continuation of alleged false advertising or other unfair practices would irreparably injure the public.

Extend to over-the-counter stocks and bonds the same full disclosure requirements that now insure public release of financial data about securities traded on the stock exchanges.

Miss America Now Accepted As Student

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Students at Northwestern University no longer stop and stare when they see a book - laden brunette hurrying across campus in tennis shoes, slacks and a full-length mink coat.

The girl is Jacqueline Mayer, 21, of Sandusky, Ohio, last year's Miss America who turned in her crown five months ago to return as a sophomore to Northwestern.

The mink—worn only in subzero weather—a new convertible and a $10,000 scholarship are among the rewards from her year-long reign, which ended September 1963.

Now just a part-time beauty queen, Miss Mayer spends most weekends away from campus. She still is in demand for appearances at banquets, parades and conventions, and also has a contract to do television commercials in Ohio.

"I came to school simply to be a student," said the coed in an interview, "but it's not so easy."

"She was in an awful tough position," said Pat Rusk, 22, South Bend, Ind., a graduate student who is a counselor at Northwestern Apartments, where Miss Mayer shares quarters with three roommates.

"A lot of men used to come in just to look at her," Miss Rusk said. "The problems really didn't come from her, but from the outside.

"Now the novelty's worn off and she's just another popular and well-liked girl," she said.

Miss Mayer, whose award - winning statistics are 36-22-36, agreed: "I didn't have much trouble with the kids on campus. Most of the problems came from bachelors in Chicago," she said.

The problems with suitors dissolved over the Christmas vacation when Miss Mayer announced her engagement to John Townsend, 25, of Bridgeville, Pa., near Pittsburgh. He is a junior at the University of Pittsburgh Law School.

After her marriage, Miss Mayer said, she may go into commercial television work, "but Hollywood is definitely out."

"My biggest problem right now is finding time to study," she said. "Since I'm gone on weekends, I generally stay home every week night to study."

Talk Buzzes As Princess Tells Plans

By HARRY UYTENHAAK

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Hollanders, already roused by Princess Irene's conversion to Catholicism, were buzzing today about Queen Juliana's announcement that plans for her daughter's engagement had fallen through.

In a broadcast Tuesday night, the queen said there had been "the happy possibility of an engagement" for Irene, 24, but "unfortunately we now must tell you that our daughter Irene has informed us this afternoon that this engagement will not take place."

"Our daughter is passing now an extremely difficult time," Juliana said, asking her people to give the princess "the rest which she is needing so much in these circumstances."

Irene's whereabouts were a mystery.

The romance of the princess and a mystery suitor, said to be Spanish, apparently caused deep government concern.

Shortly after the queen spoke a government spokesman announced that the breakoff in engagement plans was Irene's decision. Then Premier Victor van Marijnen summoned newsmen and insisted government pressure had not been exerted on the princess, who has been in Spain for the past month.

Irene's name has been linked romantically with several young Spanish aristocrats.

As the second of Queen Juliana's four daughters, Irene is second in line for the throne. Her conversion from Protestantism does not necessarily bar her from succession to the crown. The Netherlands has about as many Catholics as Protestants but the royal family is traditionally Protestant.

United States farmers spend $3.2 billion yearly for fuel, lubricants and maintenance of machinery and equipment.

Farmers Get Millions In Insurance

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Farmers who suffered crop losses in Texas and seven other states received nearly $7.5 million in 1963 from the Federal Crop Insurance Corp.

D. W. Bernitz of Manhattan, Kan., Southwest area director, said one-sixth of the insured farmers in Texas, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado and California received claims.

Most losses were caused by drought and winter-kill.

"Participation in these eight states has increased for several years and now stands at about 60,000 farmers carrying $100 million in FCIF protection — most of it in wheat in all states, cotton in Texas and New Mexico and raisins in California, with the remainder including grain sorghum, corn, oranges, soybeans, beans, barley and peanuts, in that order," Bernitz said.

Nationally, John Luft of Washington, FCIC manager, expects a 25 per cent increase in coverage for a half million farmers to a record high of $625 million in 1964.

Farm costs are so high the farmers must have insurance for protection of their farming future, he said.

Bernitz said Kansas leads the Southwest area with 20,000 FCI insured farmers. Texas has the most money protection, nearly $32 million.

OSWALD'S WIDOW ARRIVES—Mrs. Marina Oswald is seated in the rear of an automobile before being whisked away by Secret Service men from Washington National Airport. Mrs. Oswald, widow of Lee Harvey Oswald who was accused of killing John F. Kennedy, flew to Washington from Dallas. She appeared before the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of Kennedy. The man with Mrs. Oswald is not identified. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Oswald Pictured As Frightened And Confused

Editor's note: Since Monday, Russian-born Marina Oswald has been making her way daily through a crowd of reporters to testify behind closed doors for a presidential commission which is investigating the assassination of John F. Kennedy. Her husband was charged with the killing. How has she reacted to the Washington press corps and the spotlight of publicity? What about her demeanor under questioning? Here is a closeup by a newsman who has covered the story this week.

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — She walks erect and alone, this widow of 22 who believes her husband was the assassin of John F. Kennedy.

When an overly solicitous escort takes her arm, she shakes his hand off.

If you smile a greeting, she is likely to return a level, blue-eyed, questioning stare, as if wondering why you are trying to be friendly.

When the cameramen run and stumble backwards in front of her, she is a little amused, a bit frightened.

"Silly, silly people," she murmured gently in English on Monday. Only one photographer heard it, or thought he did.

That's the Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald you see when her guard is up, the rare moments when she is on public display. Walking in a knot of Secret Service men, for instance, toward the hearing room where she answers for hours on end, through an interpreter, the questions of the Presidential Investigating Commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The curious gape, the reporters trail and the Secret Service men are all around her. But Russian-born Marina Oswald is alone.

She is apparently alertly conscious she is exhibit No. 1 in the search for the truth in the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22.

But when the elevator doors close, shutting off the flashbulbs' glare, Marina Oswald turns to the elevator operator, smiles a real smile, and says in accented English, "Good morning, how are you today?" Then until the day-long ordeal of questions begins she chats with those around her.

Her demeanor under interrogation is apparently faultless. After each session Warren in describing her appearance has used words like "calm . . . composed . . . very cooperative." There was no emotional upset even when Oswald's letters to her, written in Russian, were presented for identification.

On leaving, the slender young mother—she weighs no more than 100 pounds, if that much—poses for photographers in the lobby, and back comes the faint, taut smile that masks what is said to be a broken front tooth.

She is quickly self-conscious. The smile freezes, fades, and won't come back. She ducks her head and walks swiftly to the waiting quartet of Secret Service men.

They close around her, and all stride to an unmarked government car. It moves away to the seclusion of an undisclosed dwelling where Junie is waiting.

Junie is a yellow - haired daughter of 2. Home in Texas, in another Secret Service-protected hideaway, is the baby, Rachel. Rachel was born not many days before her father, the ex-Marine sharpshooter and confused Marxist, was shot down by Jack Ruby two days after the President fell.

Once, fleeing the cameras, Mrs. Oswald showed a pixie side. Half a block away from the disappointed photographers, and well out of camera range, she turned and waved through the rear window.

Tuesday, as the Secret Service men swept her through a crowded corridor, surprised newsmen heard Marina chirp, "bye, bye."

Much has changed since the assassin's rifle spoke three times in Dallas, and some of the change has happened to Marina Oswald.

For one thing, she has become more attractive. Not quite beautiful, but definitely pretty.

Pictures made in Dallas in the days following the assassination showed the face of a woman at least half again Marina's true age, with stringy hair, blank eyes and heavy, irregular eyebrows.

Now her medium-dark brown hair is short and feathery.

A trace of eye-shadow, it appears, has deepened the color of the bright blue eyes. The brows are arched and regular.

High heels and erect carriage make today's Mrs. Oswald look taller than she is. Her modish cloth coat of midnight blue is always buttoned in public. Newsmen have seen only the high neckline of her dresses, aquamarine on Monday, rust-colored on Tuesday. No earrings, necklace or jewelry.

Newsmen can't see whether she still wears the wedding ring of Lee Harvey Oswald for her hands are almost always gloved in black kid.

The voice is soft and pleasant. Her English is good enough for small conversation, not good enough for the witness chair.

She has refused interviews here, though she recently said in a Dallas television interview that "I have too much facts, and facts tell me Lee shot Kennedy."

Warren says she is a free agent, could talk to newsmen if she wanted to. The decision was hers and her lawyer's.

"There are some things we wouldn't like her to talk about," Warren conceded, "but I don't think we could prevent her."

And it is incorrect, Warren said, to describe her wellguarded seclusion as "protective custody." She is under no restraint whatsoever; the careful watch on her and her daughters is her own wish.

"She is alone in the world," explained the chief justice of the United States.

"She has two little babies. And she doesn't speak the language very well."

New York Outlaws Smoking In Bed

NEW YORK (AP)—The City Council passed an ordinance Tuesday that would make it illegal to smoke in bed in any motel or hotel.

Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson told the council that 589 fire deaths in the city last year resulted from smoking in bed.

Councilman Theodore R. Kupferman said the measure "would make us the laughing stock of the nation," adding that to enforce it "would require breaking into rooms to get evidence."

Viet Nam has been divided politically since Vietnamese of all persuasions succeeded in ousting the French, who maintained a protectorate from the end of the 19th Century to the middle of the 20th.

Demo Leaders Face Battle On Repeal Of Excise Tax

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders face another stiff battle today on the tax cut bill—a Republican effort to repeal the 10 per cent excise tax on jewelry, watches, luggage, cosmetics and furs.

The vote was expected to be just as close as Tuesday when the administration forces beat back—by only three votes each time — major drives to retain the credit on stock dividends and to give a tax break to parents putting children through college.

There seemed to be a good chance the $11.6-billion tax-cut bill would be passed by Thursday night, well ahead of the time expected earlier.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., planned to offer the amendment to repeal the excise tax in the absence of Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who is hospitalized.

Republicans contend the levies, mostly dating from World War II, a nuisance and should be cut out. The estimated gross revenue from wiping out the excises in the four categories is $450 million a year.

Administration supporters contend that the subject of excises should not be brought in on the pending bill.

Democratic senators supplied 47 votes Tuesday night to defeated a Morton amendment which would have stripped from the bill the repeal of the 4 per cent credit allowed on stock dividend income.

All of the 31 Republicans present plus 13 Democrats supported the proposal. It would have eliminated from the bill its biggest revenue-producing section. Repeal of the dividend credit would yield an estimated $300 million a year for the Treasury.

The defeat of the amendment indicated that the repealer, put into the bill in the House, would be retained in the final version of the legislation.

In another close finish Tuesday, an amendment of Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., to allow a tax break on college education costs was defeated 48 to 45.

Good Reason To Give Up Smoking

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jess E. Wright, 43, lighted a cigarette and almost drowned.

Driving along Fall Creek Parkway Tuesday, Wright took a deep drag, choked and fainted. His car ran over a curb, rolled down a bank and went into the creek.

"The next thing I knew, my hand was dangling in water," Wright said.

He waded ashore, unhurt and vowed: "I'm giving up smoking."

GOP Amendment Is Final Hurdle For Rights Bill

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — One final challenge remains today to House approval of a strong public accommodations section in the civil rights bill.

A Republican - sponsored amendment that would severely limit its application posed the last threat to a bipartisan coalition that easily turned back Southern attempts to weaken the section Tuesday.

Still ahead are fights over other sections of the 10-part bill, but many Negro leaders regard the public accommodations provision as its heart.

It would prohibit discrimination against Negroes by hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters or other places open to the general public, a type of discrimination that sparked many Negro demonstrations last year and helped generate pressure for a strong bill.

Southern opponents took a shot at cutting down the coverage of the section Tuesday but were badly beaten in an impressive display of strength and cohesion by Democrats and Republicans supporting the bill.

An amendment by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., the Southern floor leader, to cover only hotels and motels serving mostly interstate travelers, was defeated 165 to 93. And one by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., that would have completely nullified the provision, went down 149 to 107.

The amendment to be offered today by Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., poses a more serious problem for the bill's supporters.

Meader, a member of the subcommittee that helped shape the bill and a strong supporter of many of its provisions, favors limiting federal action solely to facilities used by interstate travelers. His amendment would cover only hotels, motels, eating places and service stations on interstate highways.

House leaders hope consideration of the bill will move along faster starting today. After two days, action still has not been completed on two titles and there are eight to go.

Library At Longview Dedicated

LONGVIEW (AP)—The $250,000 library at LeTourneau College was officially named Margaret Estes library and dedicated in a special ceremony Tuesday night on the school's second founder's day.

Richard LeTourneau, president, said the board of trustees, "in appreciation of the great interest and long time support of Mrs. Estes and her husband, publisher Carl Estes, had voted unanimously that this library shall henceforth be named Margaret Estes Library."

LeTourneau told the large audience that publisher Estes has been the largest contributor to the college, other than the LeTourneau Foundation, over a period of years.

The Longview newspaper executive was responsible for the old Harmon General Hospital here being turned over to the LeTourneaus 18 years ago for use as the nation's first earn-learn school.

Until several years ago, LeTourneau College was known as LeTourneau Technical Institute of Texas. It became a four-year co-educational liberal arts school in 1961.

Air Service Stations To Be Automated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency says 42 of 296 flight service stations in the United States will be converted to remote control operation.

The work is expected to be completed, FAA said Tuesday, within the next two years.

The agency said the action, approved by President Johnson, will result in annual savings of $30,000 to $40,000 for each station. It added the work would result in no "encroachment on aviation service or safety standards."

Two stations in Texas, at Galveston and College Station, will be among those converted, FAA said.

On the average, each station is manned by eight persons. The FAA said the personnel will be transferred to the consolidated stations or to other FAA traffic control facilities.

The flight service stations provide pilots with air-ground communications and other services.

Mexico Exports Up

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico's exports increased $21,280,000 during the first 10 months of last year compared to the corresponding period of 1962, figures made public today showed. The export total was $780 million. The leading export product was cotton, followed by sugar, shrimp and coffee.

Illinois Tries Myers First

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — John Edwin Myers, 35, charged with slayings in Texas, Missouri and Illinois, is to go on trial here Feb. 17 for two Illinois deaths.

A circuit court Tuesday ruled Myers mentally competent to stand trial. State's Atty. John Karns Jr. said he would seek the death penalty.

Myers, apprehended in Texas, is charged with murdering an airman in Texas and a Belleville woman in Missouri.

He and a teen-age Chicago girl, Donna Marie Stone, are charged in the Illinois deaths of a man and his daughter killed while fishing at a nearby lake. The Stone girl is serving an indefinite term in an Illinois prison.

Karns said Illinois authorities wanted to try Myers first because he is charged with two murders in their state.

Baptists Seek To End Tobacco, Alcohol Ads

VICTORIA (AP) — Delegates to the District Four convention of the Baptist General Convention of Texas have voted to ask newspapers and radio and television stations to stop advertising tobacco products and alcoholic beverages.

Dr. O. A. Taylor, president of the convention and pastor of the First Baptist Church, Spring Branch, made the motion. It passed unanimously Tuesday after being amended to include alcoholic beverages.

Earlier, Dr. L. D. Morgan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pasadena, Tex., told the delegates they "are just barely holding their own" in getting people in church.

Mistrial In Kidnap Case

PAWHUSKA, Okla. (AP)— A mistrial was declared Tuesday night in the kidnaping trial of Rita Shaw, 19-year-old Barnsdall woman charged with the abduction of a Bartlesville housewife and her two children.

A district court jury deliberated six hours before reporting it was hopelessly deadlocked. Dist. Judge J. Corbett Cornett declared a mistrial.

The jury received the case at 5 p.m. and twice reported it was deadlocked 7-5, but Cornett each time asked for further deliberations.

The second time it reported itself deadlocked, the jury asked to hear a recorded statement of Homer Ottie Shaw, 24-year-old husband of Mrs. Shaw and a convicted killer. The jury foreman also asked if it could assess a sentence of less than 10 years and was told it could.

Mrs. Shaw is charged in the March 14, 1962 abduction of Mrs. Bertha Bartholomew and her two children. The woman was later found shot to death. Shaw was convicted in the death and sentenced to life imprisonment. The children were found unharmed.

Grads Apt To Drink

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The more education an American has, the more likely he is to drink, says Robert W. Jones, assistant director of the Center of Alcohol Studies at Rutgers University.

Well over half of the people with only an elementary education drink, he said Tuesday night. Approximately 70 per cent of the people with high school educations drink and the percentage is greater among college graduates, Jones said.

Teen-agers generally follow the example of the parents, drinking if they do, Jones said, and added that most American drinkers start at the age of 16 or 17.

The proportion of women who drink has increased because of more leisure time, their acceptance in taverns, an increase of drinking with meals and other factors, Jones said.

Texas Solons Split On Student Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)— Texas senators split Tuesday on the 47-45 vote by which the Senate defeated a tax bill amendment to allow working students deduct part of their college expenses on their tax returns.

John Tower, R, favored the amendment, while Ralph Yarborough, D, was opposed.

Cleveland Schools Planning For Immediate Integration

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pressured by civil rights demonstrators, the Cleveland School Board has agreed to integrate immediately 800 Negro pupils with predominantly white enrollments.

The Negro pupils are transported daily to three East Side schools from an overcrowded Negro area. Up to now they have been kept in separate classes.

The board also proposed Tuesday night that as a matter of policy, transportation of classes be stopped as soon as possible.

Officials of the United Freedom Movement, a civil rights confederation, said the group would suspend all demonstrations pending a meeting tonight at which it will consider the board's plan.

If the school board formally adopts the proposal, it would be at its meeting Monday.

The crisis over transported pupils was the cause of demonstrations and violence the past week. Demonstrators who blocked some doorways and corridors in the downtown school board headquarters Tuesday were carried or dragged from the building.

Paddy wagons hauled 20 demonstrators to Central Police station, where three were charged with obstructing an officer and two with assault and battery. All were later released.

Although most demonstrators went limp when hauled off to jail, there was some scuffling, and four policemen were treated for cuts and bruises.

The proposal was fashioned by the board, UFM representatives, Mayor Ralph S. Locher, members of the Community Relations Board, leaders of the Hazeldell Parents' Association and the Collinwood Improvement Association.

Hazeldell is the overcrowded school from which the 800 pupils have been transported to the three East Side schools in primarily white neighborhoods for the last two years.

The Collinwood group is made up of persons from the neighborhoods where the three receiving schools are located. The elementary schools are Brett, Memorial and Murray Hill.

Gliana Gets Protest On Mob Scenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has protested to the government of Ghana concerning anti-American demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy in Accra.

The U.S. protest was issued Tuesday night by G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, to Ambassador Miguel A. Ribeiro of Ghana.

One unofficial report said demonstrators tore down the U.S. flag outside the embassy but that the assistant attache, in what unofficially was termed an act of courage and bravery, ran it back up.

The attache was identified as Adger E. Player, 31, a Negro from Denver, Colo., who is serving in his first State Department post. He was named to it July 13, 1962.

The demonstrators marched around the embassy and carried placards that read "down with Yankee imperialism" and "Ghana yes, Yankee no."

U.S. Ambassador William P. Mahoney Jr. made a strong representation to Foreign Minister Kojo Botsio of Ghana, the State Department had said earlier.
