POSTAL RATES TAKE EFFECT SOON

Several changes have been made in the postal rates, which will be in effect April 15. One of the new rates is the mailing of third class printed matter, and Postmaster J. C. Cofer, has ordered a supply of one-cent and one-half cent stamps to be used on this mail.

After that date, circulars weighing to 8 ounces will be mailed at the rate of one and a half cents per two. This includes books, magazines, and other printed matter under third class mail. Such printed materials weighing more than eight ounces can be sent at parcel rates.

Private cards will require a two-cent stamp after April 15.

A circular letter under the new rates can be mailed for one and a half cents and advertising cards will require 2 cents postage.

An additional service charge of 2 cents will be added to the present parcel post rates, on all packages except those mailed from the routes of free delivery carriers.

The rates for registered mail will be slightly higher. The old rate for a charge of ten cents mail valued at $10 or less will be raised to fifteen cents, and a fee of twenty cents if the valuation is set at from $50 to $100.

Insurance fees will also be slightly greater. The new rates provide for a fee of five cents for a sum not exceeding $5, eight cents for an amount over $5, and ten cents for a sum more than $50.

The C.O.D. collection fee will be eleven cents for an amount not exceeding $10, fifteen cents for an amount not exceeding $50 and twenty-five cents for an amount not greater than $100.

Where a return receipt on registered or insured mail is required a charge of three cents will be made. A charge is now made for this service.

There is also a slight advance in the money order fee rate.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY PARTY

On Tuesday afternoon, March 30th, a number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gamel, met at the Gamel home, in honor of the thirtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Gamel. One of the outstanding features of the afternoon party was the relating of the different circumstances of the wedding day of the several guests. They told how they traveled in wagons, buggies, surries, automobiles and riding machines, depending entirely on the age and prevailing mode of travel. After a very pleasant afternoon, refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake was served to the following guests: Mesdames W. M. Chrader, Dave Shanks, M. O. Williams, Gunnels, Sam Hergert, W. B. Kelly, A. C. Nies, Clyde Cofer, J. W. Richardson, and L. M. Wade and Miss Evelyn Glaspie and Alwayne Conroy.

PERRYTON SCHOOL NEWS

On Friday, April 10th, the declamation contest for the rural schools will be held here in the Auditorium. The track meet of the rural schools will be held on Friday afternoon and Saturday.

On last Monday morning the chapel exercises were conducted by Rev. Miller of Canadian. Everyone enjoyed the talk.

The operetta, "The Gypsy Rover," presented by the Perryton "Hi" Glee Club and Orchestra on last Friday evening was a success in every way.

The Perryton School Board met last Tuesday afternoon. We look forward every day to the time when we shall be able to learn who our future superintendent will be.

C. A. Wilson, proprietor of the City Meat Market returned the forepart of the week in his car from Muskogee, Oklahoma where he went to visit his daughter, Mrs. A. L. Coulter and children home after a several weeks visit here.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION WAS VERY CLOSE

The election to select three trustees for the Perryton Independent School District on last Saturday was a hotly contested affair. Six candidates were right up in the running, the leader getting only sixty-nine votes more than the lowest one of the six. Three good trustees were elected. They are Mrs. S. D. Johnston, G. R. Wilson and Carl Ellis, who was high man.

The vote over the entire district was as follows:

Carl Ellis	204
G. R. Wilson	179
Mrs. S. D. Johnston	162
L. R. Conner	154
Miss Nellie Perry	143
Mrs. H. C. Coffey	135

There were a number of other candidates that received quite a number of votes, but not enough to be considered in the race.

"GYPSY ROVER" HIT OF THE SEASON

"The Gypsy Rover" the musical comedy by the Perryton "Hi" Glee Club and Orchestra played to the largest house ever in attendance at an entertainment in this city and to say that the performance pleased is putting it mild. It was a huge success from start to finish and we are stating the opinion of all when we say that it was the best entertainment that we have had in Perryton, amateur or professional.

The production showed that much time and forethought had been given to the costuming and stage settings and lighting effects. Each and every member of the cast played and sang their part to perfection. Every number and every line went across without a mistake of any kind. The work of the principals was especially good but the members of the chorus and the gypsy children and the fairies did their parts well also.

Miss Carmen Brewer, Instructor of Music, was at the head of the entertainment and she deserves much credit for the faithful work and wonderful results which she obtained in directing this production. The total receipts for admissions was over $250.00.

PUZZLED OVER BOOTLEG LIQUOR PROBLEM

AUSTIN, March 31.—The board of control is puzzled over the liquor it expects to have on its hands under the new law permitting judges to dispose of bootleg liquor to state hospitals. Whether the liquor will be sent to Austin or shipped directly from the court to the various state institutions is worrying the board.

If it is shipped here how is it to be kept in the capital, and who is to determine whether it is safe for use of patients, are the question the board is studying over.—Amarillo News.

"HAPPY FOLKS"

Isn't it true that you are reading this because that line "Happy Folks" caught your eye—and you too are searching for HAPPINESS? Happiness comes from within—from right thinking and right living. Your duty at Easter—(the day of all days throughout the year) is to give a few moments to right thinking. Go to church—YOUR CHURCH this Easter Sunday. Good thoughts are freely given there—yours for the taking. Just the thing that will be said to inspire you—no doubt encourage you. Perhaps this little effort on your part will be the turning point in your life—for a bigger—and a better life. Resolve now to go to Church Easter Sunday.

F. P. ROGERS TO BE OUR NEXT MAYOR

At the city election on last Tuesday, a larger number of votes was polled than at any previous election in the history of the town, over three hundred people casting their votes. While there was much interest taken in the different races, everything went off quietly. It was a good clean fight with no hard feelings. Every candidate was worthy of consideration. The closest race was between F. P. Rogers and B. B. Kent for Mayor, Mr. Rogers winning by a majority of eighteen votes. This was a race in which neither man sought the office, only being induced to file after many solicitations on the part of friends. Both of them were well qualified, successful business men and well thought off by their fellow citizens. J. B. Nash will be our next Marshal, Abe Green will serve us as City Clerk for another term and M. R. Coffey was re-elected to the council. Clyde Cofer is the new member of the council. Mr. Cofer led the ticket. The official vote as follows:

For Mayor:
F. P. Rogers	154
B. B. Kent	136
For Marshal:
J. B. Nash	164
Frank Caradine	66
S. W. Castleberry	63
For City Clerk:
Abe Green	178
G. C. Castleman	72
O. O. Allen	41
For Alderman (Two to elect):
Clyde Cofer	191
M. R. Coffey	166
W. B. Lilly	117
Thos. Thompson	94
J. W. Payne was elected City Attorney without any opposition.

SOROSIS CLUB

The Literary Division of Sorosis was entertained last Friday by Mrs. Thomas Thompson and Mrs. Keith Bray at the home of the latter, about thirty members and fortunate guests being present. The following program was given:

The Life of Edgar Allan Poe—Mrs. Henry Cutter.

Characteristics of Poe's Style—Miss Perry.

Reading: Annabel Lee—Mrs. Thompson.

Little Hammond Bray then appeared costumed as Mary Pickford and gave several Mother Goose readings in fascinating baby fashion, gaining the most hearty applause of the afternoon.

At this point numbered slips of paper were passed to the guests who adjourned to another room to search for duplicate numbers, which were eventually found as prize tags pinned to hats and bonnets of by-gone styles. These articles of headgear were promptly donned by the finders, without regard to individual suitability or becomingness, and were worn during the remainder of the day, the source of much hilarity.

Refreshments were daintily arranged suggestive of Easter as to salad and the shaped chicken sandwiches, and with an April Fool joke in the tiny teaspoon, the only implement furnished for manipulating both coffee and salad.

All agreed as they separated that it had been a good time; although some of the guests were heard to complain of suffering from the effects of excessive mirth.

The following were present at a dinner party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. May on Thursday evening of last week: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Thompson, Judge and Mrs. J. M. Grigsby, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thompson. This dinner has come to be an annual affair and is given in honor of the birthday of Mesdames Morgan and Thos. Thompson and Dr. May which come on the same day.

Rev. E. G. Pennington, Rev. E. T. Miller, Rev. Dunsworth, J. O. Wooten and French Lawrence were at Canadian on Tuesday of this week to attend the monthly workers conference for this district of the Baptist Church

RAISING COTTON IN HANSFORD COUNTY

Cotton raising in the Spearman country is still in its infancy, but it has passed the experimental stage. Enough attention has been given cotton-raising to make it plain to all that the crop can be successfully and profitably grown in the extreme northern part of Texas. The absence of the boll weevil and other annoying insects; crab grass, etc., so common to the old cotton raising sections make the labor lighter and the profits correspondingly better. The experience of W. E. Thomson and his three sons, O. C., Courtney and John, who farm on an extensive scale eleven miles southwest of Spearman, is worth recounting. The Thomson family located at their present home the latter part of February, 1924, hence have raised only one crop here and did not have sufficient time to farm it as they would have liked. But they made a very good record for the first year. They had about 750 acres under cultivation, and planted it to cotton, barley, broom corn, darso, feterita, and other field crops, besides a good garden. They have 56 bales of broom corn in their barn which they are holding for a more attractive price; raised 2,000 bushels of oats, bundle feed world without end, and in fact everything they planted brought them a fair yield. But they were particularly well pleased with the returns from their cotton. They began getting ready to plant cotton about May 26th, but found the weather was too cold, so waited until June 8th. They succeeded in getting about half stand to on 90 acres and from this 90 acres gathered 28 bales. They have sold $2,219.50 worth of cotton and have seven bales in Galveston from which they have not received the returns. The seed, hulls, etc., from this cotton is worth from $350 to $450. Mr. Thomson is a native of Missouri and came from the Miami country to his present home. He says cotton raising is as safe here as it is anywhere, and that the labor is much lighter here. Besides his field crops Mr. Thomson also handles a few hogs. He has sold $300 worth of hogs since locating here. On one bunch of extra good ones which he bought from N. L. Beck, he made a profit of $90, keeping them from September until March. The profit from butter, cream and eggs from this farm average about $2.00 per day the year around. Mrs. Thomson sold $200 worth of turkeys last year. Mr. Thomson says his idea of farming is to make the cotton follow the wheat and vice versa. Put wheat on old cotton land, break the stubble land as early as possible and plant it to cotton the following year. By following this method he believes that crop failures will be reduced to the minimum. Mr. Thomson and his three sons have bought three sections of land, six miles south of Spearman and will farm their own land after this year. They are now farming the Jim Edwards land, and also about 325 acres of the De Armond land in Hutchinson county.—Spearman Reporter.

Responsibility of Parents To Their Children
(By J. Maginn.)

"I presume that all readers of this column are agreed as to the responsibility devolving on parents to give some sort of training to their children. There is not a Parent here who would think it right to leave their child to grow up without discipline or training of some kind. Then the question for us to decide is, what sort of training does God, and our duty to our children, require from us? In order to get at the answer to this question the first important matter for a parent to settle in their mind is this: To whom does this child belong? IS IT MINE OR IS IT THE LORD'S? Surely this question would not need any discussion, at least by the Christian parents. For do we not recognize even before they are born that they are exclusively a heritage from the Lord; and in their Christening we acknowledge that they belong to him, and promise to train them for His glory. Now the keeping of this fact before the mind of the parent will be the best guiding principle in training and it is because Christian parents so often forget whose children they are, that they make such mistakes in training them. I say then to you mothers here, settle it in your minds that your child belongs absolutely to God, and not to you, that you are only stewards for God, holding your children to nurse them and train them for Him.

This responsibility arises, first, out of the command and ordination of God. Both laid the obligation on parents to train their children for Him; He commands it, to whom both parents and children exclusively belong.

Secondly, this responsibility arises out of the nature of the relationship between parent and child. The parent is, in the most complete sense, the owner, the guardian, the director, and controller of the child; its utter helplessness and ignorance when it first comes into the world throws it completely under the power of, and at the discretion of its parents. The poor little thing has no choice but to be led as its parents lead it, no option but to be directed, trained and developed physically, mentally and spiritually as its parents develop it; and it is during these early stages of a helplessness and ignorance that the impetus is generally given to its future life. There is an old adage that "They who rock the cradle rule the world", and they certainly do, but I am afraid the world has been very badly ruled, just because those who rock the cradle have not known how to train the child. Napoleon once said, that "the great want of France was Mothers!" And I am afraid that the want of the world is mothers, right minded, able competent, Christian Mothers, who realize their responsibility and to their children, who are resolved at all costs and sacrifices to discharge it.

Thirdly, this responsibility arises out of our ability for the task. We are able to train our children in the way they should go, or God would not enjoin it upon us. He required ever father and mother in Israel to train their children for Him. He admitted of no exceptions, no excuse; and in the New Testament it is assumed as a first duty with believers to train up their children "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." The training God requires is a moral training—THE INSPIRING OF THE CHILD WITH THE LOVE OF GOODNESS, TRUTH AND RIGHTEOUSNESS, and leading him to its practice and exercise in all the duties and emergencies of life."

Extract from Time: The President wrote to President Hoover of the American Child Hygiene Association, "I am confident that the people will be glad to make May Day the occasion of rededicating themselves to the happy task of safeguarding our most precious asset—OUR 35,000,000 CHILDREN."

Smooth seas favor the Prince of Wales on his trip, so there is little danger of him falling off the ship. President Coolidge has not had a single throw from his mechanical horse. They're getting to be accomplished sportsmen in high places these days.

EVERYWHERE you go every body is figuring out a Cross Word Puzzle. Nobody is working or even exercising. America will lose the next War but win the next Puzzle Contest. It's the greatest craze that hit this country since Prohibition. People say to me, "Why Will, you don't understand, it is an Education, it learns you more ways to say one word." If you know one way to say a word, what do you need to know any more for? Nobody is going to give you anything for nothing, I don't care how many ways you ask for it. Our nation has never been short on words. We might lack ideas sometime but never words. This puzzle has done one thing, it has learned us which is Horizontal and which is Vertical. But a Cross Word Puzzle is not new. Railroad Time Tables have been out for years. Smoke 'Bull' Durham while working one, that is, if you want to, if you don't, why smoke wherever you want to.

There were forty grand-children and eighteen great-grand-children left behind.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sealy, who recently came here from California to look after business interests, were called to Pratt, Kansas, last Friday to attend the funeral of Mr. Sealy's brother, who was killed in Boston in a train accident. The body was shipped to Pratt for burial and the funeral services were held on Monday of this week.

Poem by Uncle John

If our folks moved to Paradise with nothin' much to do, they'd wiggle, waggle, fuss an' squirm to start up somethin' new; it seems that satisfaction has about forsook our race, — we try to act new-fangled, every time we wash our face. We've got to have "progressiveness" in church as well as state — I know a fool that's tryin' to fetch the Bible up to date!

Bill Jiggers bought himself a watch, in town the other day, she must-a been a good one for the price he had to pay—but Bill kept foolin' with it — he was sure she needed grease — her carburetor flooded,—at last she rests in peace! There's many a good thing ruined by an over-zealous botch, and put clean out of business, same as Billy Jiggers watch. The shortest route to misery, experience proves to me—is to monkey with conditions that's as good as they can be.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

NO WATER—THEN NO EGGS

Nelle Portrey

When we consider the fact that per cent of a hen's weight is water, and that a dozen medium-size eggs contain about a pint of water, we realize the necessity of keeping clean water before the fowls, and encouraging them to drink often by having the water the right temperature, both winter and summer. Fowl does not enjoy warm water, dirty vessels, and does not drink much as though the fountains were not sanitary and were re-filled with fresh water each day. The importance of a well-balanced ration for the layers cannot be overestimated, but if the birds eat large quantities of feed there is only one way to prevent the food from becoming congested, resulting in a "crop-bound" bird, and that is to allow them to have plenty of water, so that water will be kept in the crop and the seed will not be dry. Remember that the more eggs a hen is laying, the more water she requires. And remember, too, that the more water a hen drinks, the more dry feed she will consume; and the more feed she consumes, the more eggs she will lay, providing the ration is properly balanced. It takes just a certain amount of feed of various sorts to form an egg, and if the ration is what it should be, all the feed the bird eats more than is required for the upkeep of her body, will form eggs. In this respect a hen is like a machine.

Fountain Efficient

It has frequently been proved that the sound of running water will create thirst in humans, and the same thing holds true of hens. For that reason, a fountain from which the water slowly trickles down into a drinking vessel will cause the hens to drink a sixth more water and, consequently, the egg production is increased. The sound of the trickling water reminds them of drinking, it seems.

While milk is a wonderful poultry food, and is excellent to keep before the birds at all times, it should never be substituted for water. And do not make a practice of changing from sweet to sour milk, or vice versa. If you do, bowel trouble will be the result. I would rather feed the milk sour, as it is safer and easier, but never make the mistake of feeding sour milk in tin vessels, as the acid in the sour milk is likely to react if placed in tin or galvanized vessels.

GRIND YOUR OWN GRAIN

A durable grinder on the stock farm effects economy. The extent of value depends on the price of grain. Further worth of the process is in combining two or more kinds of feed stuff, including the various proven grains—giving a tempting mixed ration known as "chopped feed." Corn, oats, barley, rye, Kafir, milo, maize and other grains go farther by a third or more when ground with the right proportion of the various kinds of hay, and fodder. The farmer saves the miller's charge by grinding at home and the time of hauling to and from. The quality of all the "make-up" is better and understood, also. Springtime, as well as the autumn season, calls for the grinder. The brood sows and pigs require it. Dairy cows and the fattening cattle, as well as the work teams, all need the prepared rations. The work may be done in odd spells of rainy weather. One should get a good grinder at once in the interest of better feed conditions on the farm if not well supplied in this respect.

Putting the Hog on a Normal Basis

Many years of study and experiment have ended uncertainty as to what is best for the hog, says a recent report. In pork raising, as in building up any other source of profit on the farm, much can be learned through the experience of others.

The U. S. Government and Agricultural Colleges spend big sums each year at their experimental stations. Both the Government and the Agricultural Colleges issue literature which tells about these experiments in detail. Anyone interested can secure the literature without cost by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture or such Agricultural Experimental Stations. The great value in Government bulletins lies in the fact that they are based on the results of observation and study by trained, experienced men and at an expense which makes it prohibitive for the farmer to make these experiments himself.

Generally speaking, hogs have a normal period of growth and development. Many raisers ship before the hogs are finished—others hold their hogs and feed them beyond the period that the herd would be most profitable for them. It is natural, with high feed prices, that the raiser is reluctant to hold his hogs any longer than absolutely necessary, even though the hog market is good; but it is a mistake to start raising a market herd and quit before the job is really finished.

Judging from prices of the past few months, a fat hog is the one that is commanding a premium and, experts say, will continue to do so for some time. That is because of the large numbers of unfinished hogs that have been and are still being sent to market. Using the Chicago hog market for a day in mid-December, 1924, a 170 lb. hog brought $14.10, while a 265 lb. hog brought $26.55, or a difference of $12.45.

The average hog raiser knows that it takes about 400 lbs. of corn and 40 lbs. of tankage to bring in that last 100 lbs. of weight, or in dollars and cents, approximately $10.00 for the last 100 lbs. in feed expense, leaving more than $2.25 per pig for the additional trouble.

Shipping weights of hogs are reflected in the feed crop. Last year the corn crop in many sections was small and therefore most of the hogs sent to market ranged around the 175 lb. class. Unless relative market prices on either hogs or feed are extremely abnormal, it pays the raiser to go through with his feeding program up to that stage where he can secure the greatest benefit from his efforts and the best market price for his pork.

CARE AND FEEDING OF YOUNG CHICKS

Raising strong vigorous baby chicks is one of the primary essentials to a poultryman's success. This is not difficult when undertaken in the right manner. There are a number of fundamental principles which must be understood and practiced such as: regular attention, proper feeding, an abundance of fresh air and sunlight, cleanliness and sanitation and warm dry comfortable quarters.

A simple well constructed brood coop is necessary when raising the chicks with a mother hen. Also the chicks should have access to an open yard where they may receive the benefit of the sunlight and green grass. The hen should be kept confined until the chicks are a month old. Feed her whole corn and give her all the water she can drink.

Build the brood coop so that it will be easy to clean. Give careful attention to the cleaning and disinfecting. The drinking fountains and feeding troughs should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected at least twice each week. Give the chicks all the fresh water they will drink.

When the chicks are from 48 to 60 hours old they may be given their first meal. Nature takes care of them up to this time.

The following ration and plan of feeding is giving excellent results at the A. and M. College Poultry Farm:

Eight pounds yellow corn meal

Two pounds grey wheat shorts or wheat bran (preferably wheat shorts)

One pound dried buttermilk or all the sour or buttermilk the chicks can drink

One-half pound of bone meal or meat scraps.

One-half pound fine oyster shell

A tablespoon of fine salt.

For the first week or ten days feed this ration five times daily. Give them all they will eat for about thirty minutes, and then remove the mash hopper. Should digestive disorder develop at this time add about four pounds of wheat bran to this ration. This adds bulk to the feed, aids digestion and lessens the cost of feed.

In addition to the mash, after about ten days feed a scratch ration such as some of the commercial scratch feed or finely cracked yellow corn. Scatter enough grain in the litter to last about fifteen minutes in the morning and at noon. At night give them all they will eat. After the chicks are three weeks old keep mash before them all the time and let them eat all they want. Reduce the number of grain feedings to night and morning only. Continue this ration until the chicks reach the broiler stage at which time you may change to the following:

Mash

Five parts yellow corn meal or feed meal

Two parts grey wheat shorts

Two parts wheat bran

One part dried buttermilk, or all the milk they can drink.

One part meat scraps.

One pound fine salt to one hundred pounds of mash.

Scratch

Cracked corn two parts

Whole wheat or milo one part.

After the chicks are about six weeks old they should be furnished a suitable roosting place.

During the summer, if you do not have an abundance of natural shade, provide the chicks with a small brush arbor, located near the poultry yard. Give them plenty of open range.

Separate the cockerels and pullets when they are about two months old. Dispose of the cockerels as broilers, or continue feeding them until they reach the fryer stage and then put them on the market.

Continue feeding the pullets the growing ration until they are ready to begin laying in the fall and then change to a laying mash.

HEAVY CHICKEN PRODUCTION LAST YEAR

Some 678,300,000 chickens were produced in the United States last year, which was 29,400,000 more than in 1923, according to estimates just released by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Despite this increased production there were on farms January 1, 1925 approximately 427,000,000 chickens as compared with 470,300,000 on January 1, 1924.

The decrease in stocks on hand January 1 is attributed to increased consumption, and to larger stocks going to market.

Total stocks of frozen poultry in storage February 1 were reported at 138,253,000 pounds compared with 99,486,000 pounds February 1 a year ago.

FOUR AGES IN BUSINESS

THE THIRD AGE in the business life of the successful man is from the time he is well established in business to the time he retires. During this time he is building his wealth larger and he is trying to give his family the comforts they desire.

His problem now is to protect that which he has already gained while he earns more. His credit often plays an important part in his affairs because it helps him to meet special opportunities as they come.

The business man at this time finds the service of the bank more helpful than ever before. His banker is always ready to talk with him about his plans and to help solve his problems when possible. This age continues while he is vigorously pushing his affairs.

The fourth age will appear next week.

EUGENISTS MEAN WELL, BUT-- EARTH--BIG ALMA MATER WHY THE TEN COMMANDMENTS BUT CAN YOU ENFORCE IT?

The eugenists in the birth control convention plan for a better race by "artificial selection," which could mean picking the right husband for the right wife.

You can do that with cows, horses, etc. But with them you only breed a body. Among human beings you produce that very mysterious thing called a soul, and that's different.

You might marry a John L. Sullivan to Hypatia, or a Michael Angelo Moses to the Venus of Milo, and be bitterly disappointed in results.

On the other hand, a tall, fierce country girl, Nancy Hanks, probably unable to read or write, married a local ne'er do well, and the result is Abraham Lincoln. The Lord seems to reserve for himself certain problems.

Harvard will spend $12,000,000 to improve the study of agriculture. That's sensible.

English-speaking nations study Latin and Greek. The Romans studied Greek. The Greek philosophers studied the Egyptian language and hieroglyphics. Millions are spent teaching many kinds of knowledge little used after the student leaves school.

It is about time to begin studying seriously old Mother Earth, the original Alma Mater from which we Spring, upon which we depend absolutely during life, and to which we all return.

In Paris a young girl, fifteen years old, Irene Laurent, evidently of the Madame Curie type, has produced a new fuel for automobile engines. It is made from sugar, and is cheaper and more efficient than any substitute for gasoline thus far discovered.

Miss Lola Zimmerman who is teaching at the Blue Mound school was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Nelson, last Saturday and Sunday.

G. B. Mears is hauling out lumber for the erection of a new residence on his farm southwest of town. Gould is one of our most prosperous and influential farmers and he is making a success of his business.

M. H. Crum of east of town was trading here last Monday.

If events justify the prediction of Professor Haldane that chemistry will soon make sugar as cheap as sawdust, the gasoline problem may temporarily be solved by "sugar power."

Religious organizations, convinced that public schools should include religious training in the daily routine, demand that the Ten Commandments be read to the children at least once a week.

Wouldn't "The Sermon on the Mount" be better reading for children than the Ten Commandments? In a general way every child of ten knows of the Ten Commandments, or as many as a child should understand.

Two or three of the Commandments are fortunately not necessary to the child up to fifteen.

Why not leave religion to religious teachers, and public school education to public school teachers, and keep the two separate, which has been the American plan thus far?

A man, just dead, was at one time a clergyman in the Protestant Episcopal Church. Later he belonged to the Greek Orthodox Church, and when he died he was one of the Gray Friars in a Roman Catholic monastery.

You admire such earnest seeking after truth and wonder what this man of three religions learned about religion when he passed over to the other world.

Did he find that only one religion is officially recognized above, or is one better than the others, or does it all depend on how you act toward your fellow man, the Creator of the Universe not being so much interested in what you think about Him? Definite answers would be interesting.

President Coolidge says the States should help the national Government to enforce the dry law. So they should, out of respect for Constitution and law.

But while the necessary seventy-five per cent of the States ratified the Constitutional Amendment, nearly one hundred per cent violate it, and their juries sympathize with the violators.

The question for the President and the nation is this: How can the use of whiskey be stamped out? What is to be done to stop drunkenness and open drinking of bootleg whiskey among school children? Prohibition seems to have put millions in this nation on a whiskey drinking basis. "What can be done about that?"

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Sebastian of the Blue Mound community were shoppers here last Saturday.

Earl Craig of Hutchinson, Kansas visited friends in this city the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Lola Ewing of the Fairview school faculty was shopping here on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Dick Duke and son, Carew Duke, of Lipscomb County were trading here last Tuesday.

The rewards of thrift are measured in terms of security, comfort, influence, prestige, power, character, independence.

There is scarcely an ambition desired of man that cannot find fulfillment through the exercise of Thrift.

Spend a little less than you earn; work diligently; live simply; spend judiciously, borrow wisely, consistently, and the rewards of Thrift will eventually be yours.

Poem by Uncle John
BASE-BALL
We take a right smart interest in the Nation's base-ball game, and, we're ready, on occasion, for to eulogize the game—but, all us old-time fellers that was experts in our day, will harbor strong opinions, how these modern fellers play.
We cherish our suspicions on the way the thing is done—when a team will worry half a day, an' never score a run! They mebbe do their level best to play a winnin' game, — and, under them conditions, it would seem they aint to blame.
The "Williams Crick Spellbinders" was a team of long ago, who weren't afeard to pitch the ball that now-a-days they throw, — And when we played "The Buckeyes" there in Jefferson's medder-lot, we knocked the kiver off the pill, and beat 'em in a trot!
I think the score was forty-six to twenty-eight or less,—in fact, they way we raised the dust would baffle any guess; and while we loved the Nation's game, and twirled a fearful bat, the most of us was partial to the old "three-covered cat."
Uncle John.

REV. J. S. HUCKABEE LEADING MIAMI REVIVAL

The following article is from the Miami Chief. Rev. J. S. Huckabee, the able pastor of the Methodist Church of this city is at Miami conducting a revival meeting for the Miami Methodist Church. Rev. Huckabee's son is pastor of the Miami church.

"The revival meeting which began at the Methodist Church last Sunday is already a success. The church was filled to overflowing Sunday night and during the week most every seat is occupied. The preaching which is being done by the pastor's father is up to his usual excellent way in commanding interest and attention. This is Rev. Huckabee's third time to lead in a revival campaign here, and his former meetings have been pronounced by the membership of that congregation as the most satisfactory meetings ever held in Miami by that denomination. The pastor states that he is gratified with the co-operation the entire community is giving to the meeting.

An important feature of the services is the splendid congregational singing lead by the large chorus and choir. These within themselves are inspirational.

Services are held at 10:00 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. Children's services in the afternoon 4:00 o'clock. The services will continue through next Sunday evening there is announced "Echo Singing" as a special musical feature. Sunday morning a Quartette.

The RED ARROW matinee at the American Theatre on last Saturday afternoon was well attended, the total receipts being over $200.00 in Red Arrow money. The Red Arrow campaign which is being put over by the Peoples Supply Co. is a winner as is shown by the great interest which it has created among the buying public of this trade territory.
