In Love With A Storm

By GLENN SHELTON

Though I sincerely regret the property damage, I can't help loving the thunder and lightning that accompany the "goose downers" we're having this spring. I've mentioned it before, and I suppose I'm a perverse sort of character for being the way I am. But last Sunday morning when the SHELTON Understorm hit, I opened two windows in our bedroom, pushed my bed up to one of them, then poked my head as far into the window as I could. Then, while the lightning knifed across the sky, and the thunder rolled in mighty, window-rattling crescendo, I drank in the sweet smell of rain and wind, and slept with all the vigor of an Egyptian mummy. Nothing so exhilarates me as does a thunderstorm, and the worse it is, the more I like it. It acts on my blood like a shot of adrenalin.

The spouse is one of those women who get cold at a Fourth of July picnic, so you can imagine how compatible we are in this respect. I like to sleep cold and in a venturi, with the air rushing past my ears. She likes six or eight blankets on a hot summer night.

It's difficult to compromise a situation like this, and how we have managed it to these many years is a mystery. I would guess it isn't strictly a problem of ours alone, but one shared by many couples. I am sure, also, that our having handled it so harmoniously is due to the well-known patience, meekness, unselfishness and give of the mild-mannered Brown Eyed Spouse.

THE STORMS WILL CONTINUE THROUGH MAY, WITH ONE OR TWO IN JUNE, IF HISTORY REPEATS. WHEN ONE BLOWS UP, AND WHILE YOU ARE QUAKING IN YOUR BOOTS, THERE WILL BE ONE GUY WHO DOESN'T MIND WHO LOVES IT, IN FACT.

OFF ON A TANGENT — Upcoming is a busy week end for the old Hired Hand. Tomorrow I will visit Graham to speak to a teachers' banquet in the American Legion Hall. Friday I will be in Seymour, or on Lake Kemp, for the big May 1st fish day program (judging beauties!), and then I will jockey on to Haskell for Saturday and Sunday with Porter Oakes and spouse, and a beag golf tournament in Big H. A fine mixture of business and fun.

Porter, you and Al Hinds get Haskell ready for the big invasion. Probably drop in on you Friday night from Lake Kemp.

Lodge Is Winner In Massachusetts

BOSTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge won a thumping victory Tuesday as a favorite son in the Massachusetts preference primary write-in for the Republican nomination for president.

Lodge, a former senator and head of the U.S. mission to the United Nations, isn't a candidate for the nomination. He is U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam.

Two Farmers Say No Money Given Senator

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Pecos area farmers said Tuesday night they were with Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., throughout his Pecos visit of Nov. 6, 1960, and that no one gave the senator an envelope containing $50,000.

W. J. Worsham and J. B. Kirklind appeared on a statewide telecast in which Yarborough said he wanted to answer the "$50,000 lie" as alleged by his opponent in Saturday's Democratic primary, Gordon McLendon, Dallas radio executive.

Lie Detector Test
Kirklind said during the telecast he would accept McLendon's challenge and take the lie detector test on the events of Nov. 6, 1960.

After the telecast, Worsham told newsmen he too would be willing to submit to a lie detector test.

During a statewide telecast late Saturday, McLendon presented two witnesses, Ernest Keeton, retired Army sergeant from Pecos, and James E. Fonville, a Midland policeman, who said they were present in the home of Billie Sol Estes, bankrupt West Texas financier, when they said Estes presented Yarborough with an envelope which contained $50,000 in cash.

Voluntary Statements
Yarborough said both Worsham and Kirklind had made sworn affidavits voluntarily. The statements were not read verbatim during the telecast, but Yarborough questioned Worsham and Kirklind about the contents of the document.

Both men told Yarborough they did not know Keeton nor Fonville and that neither of the two men was in the room during a conference on agricultural (Continued on Page 4A)

HOUSTON (AP)—Gov. John Connally, principal speaker Tuesday night at the City of Hope testimonial honoring Houston lawyer Leon Jaworski, said Texans cannot content themselves with the record of the past or present.

"Future generations shall judge us by the harvests they reap from those fields in which we of this generation have both the opportunity and the responsibility to sow," Connally said.

Jaworski, a prominent Houston attorney who has spent much of his life in humanitarian pursuits, was awarded the City of Hope 1964 humanitarian award.

In accepting the award, he joined such notables as Jack Benny, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, Bob Hope, former Gov. Goodwin Knight of California, and others.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, president and editor of the Houston Post, made the presentation of the award.

City of Hope is a pilot medical center located in Duarte, Calif. The center is engaged in patient care, research and medical education in the catastrophic diseases such as cancer and the leukemia.

Lodge not only walked away with the write-in on the Republican ballot, but also scored a surprising number of write-in preferences on the Democratic ballot. His Democratic score ran about 10 per cent of that of President Johnson.

Counting Slow
The slate of Republican delegates at large favoring Lodge swamped a rival slate presented by supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. A complicated ballot resulted in slow counting, and there was no early indication of the results in district delegate contests.

Lodge, however, seemed to be in a fair way to duplicate his feat in the New Hampshire primary of last month, when he scored an upset victory in the preference poll and captured all 14 delegates to the national convention.

Under Massachusetts law delegates are not bound by pledges. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, who will lead the Massachusetts GOP delegation, has expressed confidence all 34 will vote for Lodge at San Francisco if Lodge becomes an active candidate.

Popularity Poll
On the Democratic ballot there were no significant contests, but selection of that party's delegates at large developed into somewhat of a popularity poll. Through an error, the state committee filed only 56 names instead of the 58 allowed, thus preventing a single mark from electing a complete slate.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, younger brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, was running ahead of his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The Democratic delegate candidates all support Johnson for the nomination.

The Republican returns from 538 of 1,746 precincts in the preference poll gave Goldwater 1,336; Lodge 8,818; Richard M. Nixon 819; Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller 358; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine 89.

The Democratic write-in figures from the same precincts gave Johnson 8,884; Atty. Gen. Kennedy 2,777; Lodge 1,043.

Canada Ousts Red Newsmen

OTTAWA (AP)—A Russian newsmen was ordered to leave Canada immediately Tuesday night for seeking secret information about a Canadian industrial process, Foreign Secretary Paul Martin told the House of Commons.

Martin said Ivestia correspondent Vasily Tarasov was arrested by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Monday night. After questioning, the police turned him over to the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, Martin said.

The Toronto Telegram said Tarasov, 35, was seized by police with classified documents in his possession.

Martin said Tarasov came to Canada just over a year ago as correspondent for the Soviet government newspaper Ivestia. He said Tarasov sought to obtain the secret industrial information from a Canadian government employee whose friendship Tarasov had cultivated almost from the time of his arrival.

None of the leading Republican presidential hopefuls campaigned in the state and no presidential names were printed on the ballot.

With 2,401 of the state's 9,261 precincts reported, Scranton had 47,857 write-in votes; Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge 8,587; Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, 3,586; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon 3,844; Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York 613; Gov. George Romney of Michigan 51; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith 186; and Harold Stassen 91.

LBJ Says Another Tax Cut Possible In Years Ahead

Depends On Success Of Recent Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said Tuesday night, "I see another tax cut a few years down the road" if the $12 billion tax reduction just enacted succeeds in boosting the economy and balancing the budget.

In remarks for a White House dinner attended by business leaders, Johnson said: "It is too early to make firm promises on further tax cuts. But if this one is a success—as I have every reason to believe it will be—in building production, creating jobs, raising profits, and generating revenues to balance the budget, then I see another tax cut a few years down the road."

Johnson added that "we can move to this second round of tax reduction only if we behave ourselves this year."

The President said leaders of business and labor must make decisions to prevent costs and prices from creeping upward.

Johnson invited more than 50 corporation presidents and board chairmen, and their wives to dine with him at the White House.

It was a private dinner and reporters were not admitted.

Newsmen thus were unable to say whether the President added to his prepared remarks, or subtracted from them, in actual delivery.

Johnson began his prepared text by saying that "for as long as I am President, the leaders of industry and finance are going to be welcome in this house."

He said that "to sit down and exchange views with you from time to time is vital to the health of our free enterprise economy."

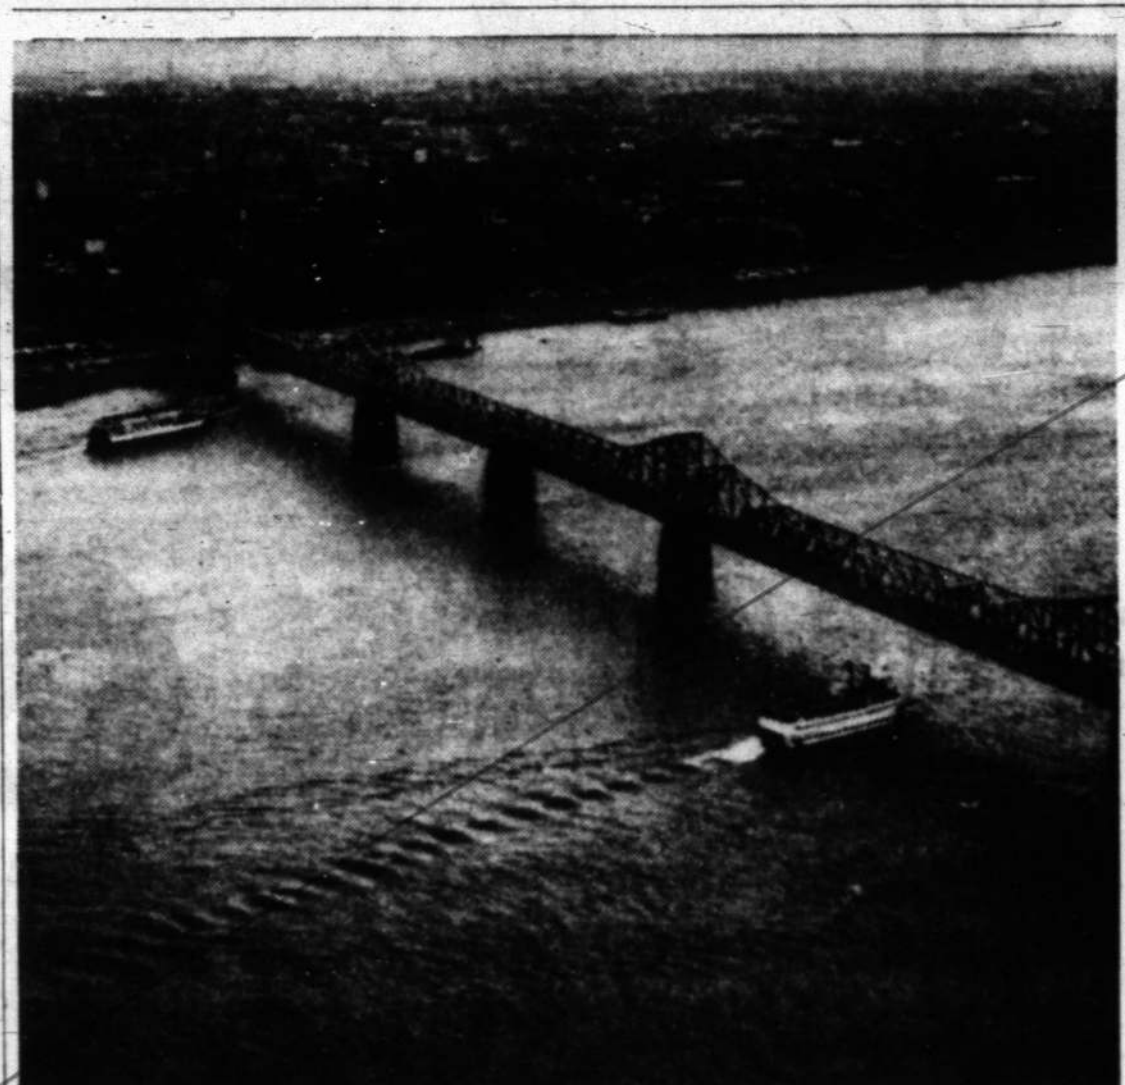

The President, who has held several meetings with leaders of business and organized labor, has announced plans for a similar dinner for union officials early next month.

Johnson said the 1964 tax cut has reduced corporation levies by one-fifth.

"And," he said, "we have done this in an administration some people have called 'anti-business.'"

The President said he does not consider his administration "anti anything."

U.N. Troops Facing Test In Latest Cyprus Fighting

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Greek-Turkish Cypriot fighting at the mountain battlements of northern Cyprus worked up Tuesday night toward a stormy test of the U.N. forces' ability to restore peace on this troubled Mediterranean island.

The U.N.'s Canadian troops were fired on for the second straight day.

A Greek Cypriot drive on the Turkish-held Crusader castle of St. Hilarion brought expressions of alarm and dismay from the U.N. commander, Indian Lt.

Gen. Prem Singh Gyani.

He said the Greek offensive to sweep the Turks from the Kyrenia Mountain range and open the main road to northern Cyprus had serious implications on the role of the month-old U.N. force. But he deferred to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant on what decisions may be taken to end the fighting.

Canadian troops came under fire as they patrolled the mountain under besieged St. Hilarion Castle. A Canadian sergeant said a squadron of six armored cars was "shot up again by Turks this morning both when we were coming up the mountain and when we were going down."

The squadron of the Royal Canadian Dragoons — bearing U.N. markings and flags—travels back and forth several times a day along the twisting mountain road from Turkish Cypriot positions in the Kyrenia Pass, past the contested castle, to Greek Cypriot positions higher up the mountain.

The dragoons' task is to observe developments in the battle, report back to U.N. headquarters and intervene to protect the civilian population wherever necessary.

The shots missed the Canadian armored cars both times, the sergeant said, "though they came close enough."

In a similar incident Monday, one bullet struck a spare tire on one of the same squadron's armored cars.

"The Turks are mad at us because they feel we are helping the Greeks," the sergeant said.

Scranton Far Ahead In Pennsylvania Vote

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton appeared in runaway winner Tuesday night in Republican presidential preference write-in balloting but hopes of GOP leaders for a vast groundswell of votes for him seemed likely to fall far short of their expectations.

Scranton had tried to play down the importance of the balloting, but Republicans who want him to make a bid for president were counting on such an out-pouring of write-ins that he would feel compelled to change his stand and seek the nomination.

None of the leading Republican presidential hopefuls campaigned in the state and no presidential names were printed on the ballot.

With 2,401 of the state's 9,261 precincts reported, Scranton had 47,857 write-in votes; Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge 8,587; Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, 3,586; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon 3,844; Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York 613; Gov. George Romney of Michigan 51; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith 186; and Harold Stassen 91.

In Philadelphia, William J. Green III, 25-year-old law student, was elected to fill the unexpired term of his late father, former Philadelphia Democratic boss William J. Green Jr., who had held the seat for 15 years until his death last December.

Green defeated Republican Edward H. Rovner, a union leader, by a substantial margin in Philadelphia's 5th Congressional District. The election makes the Pennsylvania House delegation lineup 13 Democrats and 14 Republicans.

Flash Fire Kills Five

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A flash fire in the hold of the aircraft ferry vessel Croatan killed five shipyard workers Tuesday.

The 496-foot vessel was in drydock for routine repairs at Alabama Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Co. A shipyard official said it sustained comparatively minor damage.

The vessel is operated by the Military Sea Transport Service to take military supplies and aircraft to overseas bases. None of its crew of 74 civilians was hurt.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Samuel Bronston may have gone broke making "The Fall of the Roman Empire," but every penny of the $16 million he poured into the picture is right up there on the screen, which is more than you can say of "Cleopatra."

There have been better battle scenes. The beauty, pageantry, costumes and settings are superb, and the chariot race tops "Ben Hur's". Performances are brilliant — all of them.

It is the best thing Sophia Loren has done to date. She projects more emotion just standing still than most actresses with pages of dialogue. And surrounding her are the brilliant performances of Alec Guinness, Stephen Christopher Plummer, James Mason, Mel Ferrer, and John Ireland.

Bronston has engaged Louis Nizer to help straighten out his financial affairs. "Roman Empire" will not be the fall of Producer Bronston.

Shattering Closing Line
This beautiful, honest, superbly done film will make millions. It sends you out of the theatre with a shattering closing line: "This was the beginning of the fall of the Roman Empire. A great civilization is not conquered from without until it has destroyed itself within."

Elke Sommer is the first of eight feminine stars set for "Chinese Finale" which John Ford will direct for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios this fall.

It is about a group of women of different nationalities trapped on the Chinese-Mongolian border. Bernard Smith, who turned out "How The West Was Won," will produce.

George Peppard is down in the dumps. He lost his mother, broke up with his girl, Elizabeth Ashley, is suing Metro-Goldwyn Mayer Studios for his release, and caught the flu. His quarrel with his studio is over their refusal to let him take some lucrative outside offers. George was willing to turn over his salary and percentage to the studio, but they said no.

He will sweat out the legal battle doing a play on Broadway.

He wouldn't discuss his fight with Elizabeth Ashley except to say it's finished—end of paragraph and chapter.

Don't make any plans for July 4. The Beatles' first feature picture will be rushed into release by then. But the big news is that the Beatles will join the kings and queens in Mme. Tussaud's wax museum in London.

Peter Ustinov couldn't resist the offer to play in the film, "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home." He suits the part of King Fawz to a "T" — a very funny man. Also signed is Richard Crenna, who was with Eve Arden on television so long, to play Goldfarb, a man who never does anything right.

King Crosby's annual golf tournament has passed the million and a half mark in donations to benefit youth. A $100,000 student tuition loan fund has been created for 15 colleges of all faiths. The event has improved dozens of playgrounds and youth centers from Hollywood to Vancouver, B.C. It also aided the fight against polio and helped spastic children. Now the golf pros are itching to take over and collect the television money for the tourney.

Peter Glenville, here for the premiere of "Becket" which he directed on stage and screen, wants a six-week breather before deciding on his next. He would like to find something as interesting and absorbing as "Becket," and also work with Peter O'Toole again.

Glenville says that Laurence Olivier's National Theatre has Walter Matthau is here doing a "Profiles of Courage" segment for television about a sensational murder trial and lynching in the state of Georgia and the courage exhibited by Gov. John M. Slaton. It is such a horrifying tale that the television producers chickened out and changed it.

The subject may be courage but their object is to get the show on the air.

Leaders Named

Symphony Fund Drive Begun

Division leaders in the Wichita Falls Symphony's $35,000 Maintenance Fund Drive, which begins Friday, have been announced by Ralph W. Milburn, fund chairman.

They are Mrs. Jerry Wolens, Donald G. Williamson and Bruce Steward.

Solicitation for tax deductible contributions from citizens and business firms of the city for the 1964-65 operation of the symphony will be divided among 12 teams. Sixty volunteer workers, 12 team captains and several workers-at-large will make direct contacts with approximately 1,000 business firms and individuals.

Mrs. Wolens has served as a team captain during last season and has been secretary of the Executive Committee of the symphony organization.

Williamson, a trust officer of the City National Bank, served as a division chairman for the past season and is also treasurer for the organization.

Steward, an insurance man, was a member of the public relations committee of the symphony this past season and serves on its board of directors. Contributors to the drive will be recognized in concert programs in the following categories: Founder, $1,000 or more; Patron, $500 to $999; Benefactor, $250 to $499; Sponsor, $100 to $249; Guarantor, $25 to $99; Contributor, under $25.

Captains in the drive are Mrs. Al Horwitz, Mrs. Blair Coleman, Mrs. Bill Morgan, Bill Burford, Richard Newton, John Mark Hirsch, Dr. Frank Browne, George Dwyer, Mrs. Madge Francis, Ray Farabee and William Donnell. Five volunteer workers serve on each of the 12 teams.

Nature Park Is Discussed

Plans for development of Lucy Park, a tract of 140 acres off the expressway near the tourist bureau, were explained to the Wichita Falls Board of Realtors Tuesday noon at Wyatt's in Parker Square.

Jim Thornton, director of parks and recreation, listed plans for development of the park, most of which was donated to the city by the daughter of Lucy O'Neill Sanders, and which will be known as Lucy Park.

Thornton said plans for development of the park will take five years. The park will have landscaped lighting throughout, park patrolmen and a 50-acre lake with a constant level of six feet of clear water which will be stocked with fish by the state game department.

Thornton said paddle boats and canoes have been proposed, with public fishing rights. Other features will include a formal botanic garden consisting of about one acre, a family picnicking area, amphitheatre surrounded by water with bridges, and a small greenhouse.

NAMED CHAIRMAN — J. W. Martin, left, and Marvin Pierce pause before a campaign poster for the upcoming Share-in-America U.S. Savings Bond drive in Wichita Falls.

Payroll Savings Push

Savings Bond Drive Slated

J. W. Martin of the Jess Campbell Insurance Agency in Wichita Falls was named general campaign chairman Tuesday of the Wichita Falls Share-in-America Operation Security Savings Bond drive June 8-14.

Martin promptly invited all Wichitans to take part "in the biggest U.S. Savings Bond drive since the war."

The prominent insurance man will head eight volunteer committees carrying the opportunity to buy U.S. Savings Bonds to every Wichita Falls citizen.

He was named by Marvin Pierce, Wichita Falls attorney and County U.S. Savings Bond chairman.

Volunteer committees will be charged with payroll savings, advertising and publicity, banking, community activities, retail merchants and labor. Women's groups and schools will be asked to participate.

"This year the committees will be asked to sign up their associates on the payroll savings plan," Martin said.

"Who could best sell retail merchants employees, for instance, on taking part in payroll savings than the merchants themselves who know the merits of the Savings Bond program and what it can do for the individual. We believe that our committee chairman and members will welcome this opportunity to enlist their associates in this fine program," he continued.

The Wichita Falls campaign will be part of a nation-wide effort to reach 13,000 firms with 22 million employees in 50 states. Goal of the Share-in-America drive is one million additional employees of business and industry as regular bond savers through payroll deductions.

Achievement would boost U.S. Savings Bond sales by about $390 million.

"We already have a good start," Martin said Tuesday. "In 1963 sales of E and H series bonds rose nationally 11 per cent, or $482 million over the previous year to $4.76 billion — the largest sales since 1956." A major reason the chairman said was the renewed emphasis on payroll savings plans in companies employing 25 persons and up. Martin said the quota for Wichita Falls will be announced soon.

Congress-At-Large Candidate Visits

Taking a slash at his opponent and stating his views on a number of vital issues, Dan Sullivan, an Andrews attorney, campaigned for the Democratic nomination for congressman-at-large in Wichita Falls Tuesday night.

Sullivan, making his first race for Congress, predicted that "I will definitely be in the runoff with Joe Pool (the incumbent) of Dallas."

"I expect to carry my native West Texas by a whopping margin and to carry Harris and Tarrant counties, the Gulf Coast and South Texas."

"Political experts around the state are predicting a Sullivan-Pool runoff," he said.

The 34-year-old native Texan, who earned his law degree from the University of Texas in 1956, said "when I am elected I will be a member of President Johnson's Texas Team."

Sullivan pointed out that Pool "voted against the Kennedy-Johnson administration 78 per cent of the time, according to the Congressional Quarterly, and he has the worst record for supporting the Democratic administration of any Democratic congressman in the entire U.S.A."

Votes Against
The hard-traveling candidate, who has covered more than 35,000 miles in political jaunts throughout the state — said Pool voted "against the medical school construction act."

Sullivan said that his opponent voted "against the college aid bill which will bring 11 million dollars to Texas colleges and universities."

"He voted against the library construction act... he voted against equal pay for equal work for women."

"Even Republican Ed Foreman voted for this bill," Sullivan said.

He added "that his opponent also voted 'against' the air pollution control act."

Stressing that he is for progress, Sullivan said "I favor medical care for the aged under social security."

"It is the only realistic program whereby a person can contribute during his working years and be able to go to the doctor or hospital of his choice during his years of retirement."

Import Curbs
Sullivan, who said he has the endorsement of practically every large Democratic group in the state, pointed out that the nation "needs restrictions on the import of foreign oil and beef."

Turning to the President's war on poverty — which began Tuesday by Johnson when he asked for $10 million for aid to the Appalachian areas — Sullivan said it is "one of the greatest programs introduced by any President in the last 50 years."

There are parts of Texas where the people desperately need help, he said. "It is shameful we should allow these things to exist in our country."

"We can never be prosperous as long as these things do exist," Sullivan said.

While in Wichita Falls, Sullivan visited briefly with election judges and precinct officials who attended an instruction course Tuesday night at the courthouse. He was introduced by W. T. (Dub) Zimmerman, county Democratic chairman.

Due to an automobile accident near Plainview Monday, Sullivan was unable to arrive in Wichita Falls as scheduled and had to spend only a brief time here visiting with friends and supporters. He went on to Sherman Tuesday night and planned to be in Fort Worth Wednesday, Austin Thursday and San Antonio Friday. He will return to Andrews to await election results.

Law Partner
Born in Bellville, Tex., Sullivan began practicing law in partnership with his father, P. Z. Sullivan in Odessa upon graduation from law school in 1956. When he was married in 1957, he moved to Andrews where he established a law office.

Sullivan's only previous political race was in 1960 when he was elected district attorney for Andrews, Crane and Winkler counties.

While serving in this office he was the prosecuting attorney for the famous "Kiss and Kill" trial two years ago in which a teenage boy was accused of slaying his girl friend.

Sullivan resigned to become

Sen. Ralph Yarborough's executive secretary in Austin and then gave up that job to make the race for congressman-at-large.

Of the attacks on his former employer, Sullivan said, "I believe the recent attacks on Sen. Yarborough are unfounded and completely groundless."

"They are infamous lies and are the product of a convicted felon and a cheap political huckster. I have known Ralph Yarborough for 12 years and regard him as a man of complete integrity. He has absolutely no interest in money and gave up a law practice which would have grossed him hundreds of times more money than his salary in the Senate."

Haskell Postal Restrictions Eyed

HASKELL, Tex. (Special) — A cutback in service at the Haskell Post Office will go into effect May 5, Postmaster Harold Spain said Tuesday.

The cutback calls for restricting parcel post delivery one day a week and a curtailment of Saturday window service.

Spain said only stamps and parcel post will be handled from 8 a.m. until noon on Saturdays after the cutback goes into effect. Parcel post delivery will be restricted on Tuesdays.

Effect of the new policy will be to reduce the number of persons working on Saturdays and Tuesdays in support of economy measures dictated by the Postmaster General.

problems in the study at Estes home.

Fonville and Keeton, in the Saturday telecast, challenged Yarborough to appear with them at the Texas Department of Public Safety in Austin to take lie detector tests on the subject.

Yarborough said Tuesday night that in early November 1960 he was stumping the state on behalf of the Democratic ticket of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. He said Worsham persuaded him to make a side trip on Nov. 6 for a barbecue at the Pecos home while en route from El Paso to Austin and San Antonio.

Accompanied Senator Worsham, the owner of cotton dusting operations in Pecos and Taft, Tex., and Pine Bluff, Ark., said he flew to El Paso the morning of Nov. 6 and returned in bad weather to Pecos about 11 a.m. In answer to a question from Yarborough, Worsham said he was with the senator during the entire four hours Yarborough was in Pecos.

Worsham said he and several other men went into Estes' study to discuss farm problems of the Pecos area.

"Was any package handed to me by Mr. Estes, Mr. Fonville or Mr. Keeton?" Yarborough asked.

"No, sir," Worsham replied. "Do you know Fonville?"

"No."

"Do you know Mr. Keeton?"

"No."

"Do you know Mr. Billie Sol Estes?"

"Yes, very well."

Also Present

Kirklin, president of the Trans-Pecos Cotton Association the past 16 years, said he too attended the conference on agricultural problems in Estes' study.

"Were you with me at all times in Pecos?" Yarborough asked.

"Yes."

"Were Fonville and Keeton in that room?"

"They were not."

"Do you know Mr. Fonville?"

"I have never seen that man and he was not in that room. I'll accept that challenge to take the lie detector test. He was not there."

prolabor—and pro-the national interest," he said.

Any animosity that exists between business and government, he said, probably can be traced to either side.

"I suspect, ladies and gentlemen," he said, "that we haven't given you any more trouble than you've given us—and vice versa."

Johnson said one reason he invited the business group to dinner was "to ask you to cooperate in creating a new climate between us—because this is one country, one society, and one people."

In warning against inflation, Johnson urged businessmen to keep a tight rein on prices.

He said that when he dines with labor leaders, "I will tell them that I know they don't want to push so hard for wage increases this year that they would hurt a lot of people and start a spiral going from their side."

Johnson said he hopes business and labor can "emulate the railroad people" who last week settled a five-year-old controversy and erased the threat of a national strike.

The President said a break on prices would help American business compete with foreign industry and aid on solving the gold-dollar problem.

"I'll use any sound technique and any appropriate government policy to protect the dollar," he said.

The list of 131 guests at the dinner included such names as Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp.; Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co.; and David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City.

There were a limited number of government officials.

MU Undergoes Sixth Bomb Scare

A female telephone caller told city police "a bomb has been placed on the Midwestern University Campus," and as a result dormitories at the school were evacuated from 1:20 until 2:15 a.m. Tuesday.

No bomb was found for the sixth time since September. The parking lot east of the dormitory area was checked and students were sent there to wait until each housing unit was checked by police, firemen and sheriff's deputies.

Students who stood in the parking lot area for 55 minutes were clad only in pajamas or robes as the evacuation, though now monotonous, was carried out with haste.

This was the fourth "bomb scare" in recent months in which the caller was female.

Yarborough Bid For Equal Time Backed By FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has upheld a proposal by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., to gain equal air time on five Texas radio stations owned by his political opponent.

The commission staff told Gordon McLendon that his stations are obliged to provide equal time to Yarborough. And Yarborough's proposal for using the time, the staff said in a telegram to the McLendon Corp., does not seem unreasonable.

The telegram, sent Monday, was made public Tuesday.

Yarborough and McLendon are vying for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Saturday's Texas primary. Yarborough had complained to the FCC that the McLendon stations have refused him the time to counter the political broadcasts made by McLendon over his own stations.

According to McLendon, Yarborough is entitled to 47 hours of equal time among the five stations. But it would be unreasonable, the broadcaster said, for Yarborough to be permitted to clog the McLendon airwaves in the waning weeks of the campaign.

The FCC last week urged the rivals to get together to work something out. Yarborough subsequently offered to accept his accumulated time in programs ranging from five to 30 minutes long, and one-minute spot announcements. McLendon balked, and Yarborough once again complained to the FCC.

"We do not see how you can claim that it is not feasible to afford Senator Yarborough the time requested when the stations continue to afford time for political broadcasts to Mr. McLendon," the FCC staff told McLendon. "Such time is clearly available for political broadcasts."

The staff told McLendon his stations are "under an obligation to afford Yarborough equal opportunities from Feb. 20, provided such opportunities can be reasonably afforded at this stage of the campaign."

Parsons surveyed 131 sites in 18 states. The firm will investigate at the New Mexico location the quality and quantity of water available, examine the soil and topography and prepare a preliminary layout of test installations and supporting facilities.

Gray Ladies Were First Volunteers For Hospital

(The Wichita Falls State Hospital will have open house all this week. Those who would like to take tours are invited to call Volunteer Services at the Hospital for arrangements.)

By MARTHA B. STEIMEL

In a way, the Red Cross Gray Lady volunteers are responsible for the growth of all volunteer services at the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Here's why.

First of all, the dozen or so Gray Ladies who began working at the hospital 15 years ago were the first volunteers to do so. They also were the first who had had any sort of training at all and anyone who has passed a Gray Lady course knows exactly how thorough the course is.

Mrs. Linton H. Estes was Gray Lady chairman then and she remembers how their first efforts were concentrated in the recreation area and at parties. Later, the Gray Ladies began teaching occupational therapy and their work was extended into the wards.

Mrs. Estes believes it was the handful of women who first started state hospital work, who came back to their clubs, church groups and families with facts about the hospital and the people in it, who helped break down barriers of prejudice against working in a mental institution.

"As much as anything, the Gray Ladies improved the attitude of the public towards the hospital," Mrs. Estes said.

She was among the first group of women who worked there. She can remember people like the late Mrs. C. H. Hartsock, Mrs. Ben Yeager, who now is in a hospital in San Pedro, Calif., Mrs. Jason Walker and Mrs. Charlie Norris who still work frequently; women like Mrs. C. E. Basham, and Cy C. Jeffrey who were among the pioneering group.

New Spring Clothes Described For Club Senior-Junior Tradition Is Continued At Luncheon

The sparkle in spring clothes this year is in the colors and textures of the fabrics, Miss Theima Wirges, home demonstration agent told the Cooper HD Club at a meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Gill on the Burk Burnett-Thornberry Highway.

Miss Wirges also stressed the importance of line and accessories in choosing clothes to flatter the figure. Miss Amelia Spencer and Mrs. Gill displayed dresses they had made in a clothing workshop. Both were versatile, two-piece outfits.

Mrs. D. E. Beck gave a short report on home safety and the 4-H Poultry Show May 9 was announced.

Mrs. J. D. Van Huss directed the recreational period during which prizes were awarded Mr. P. S. Swinford and Miss Spencer.

Refreshments were served to 15 members and Miss Wirges. Mrs. Bill Jenne will be hostess for the May 11 meeting.

An annual tradition, the past presidents' luncheon of the Senior-Junior Forum, was continued Monday. Seventeen past presidents of the organization attended the luncheon and business meeting in the Senior-Junior room of the Forum.

An elaborate Founders Day celebration for the Northside Girls Club will be held sometime in May. It was announced during the business session. The club will be 30 years old this year and the Senior-Juniors will be involved in the celebration.

Mrs. D. A. Cannon Sr., first president, made the announcement.

Mrs. Stanley Williamson reported on the National Girls Clubs of America convention in New York City which she attended.

Mrs. Carl T. Anderson was general chairman of the luncheon. The silver goblets, many of which were memorial gifts to the Woman's Forum, were

ANN LANDERS SAYS

Mothers Sometimes Get Hurt, But They Get Over It Quickly

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 13-year-old boy who is writing this letter for myself and my two little brothers. We are all very sad and we need your advice.

Today was our mother's birthday. None of us kids remembered the day and daddy forgot it, too. It all started during supper when mom got a singing telegram from grandma. We tried to say "Happy Birthday" then but it was too late. She was real upset and hollered, "I'm just the cook and maid around here. Why should anybody remember MY birthday?"

My youngest brother tried to hug her and give her a birthday kiss but she threw him off her lap. Now she is not talking to anybody and daddy is hiding his head behind the newspaper. It is very gloomy around here. Please help us cheer up mom. — ASHAMED KIDS

Dear Kids: Some mothers do not care very much about birthdays. Now that you know YOUR mother does care, track down a 1965 calendar and put a big circle around that special day. It also might be a good idea to remind your daddy a few days ahead, so he can bring flowers or maybe take her out to dinner.

If you kids try to be especially considerate of mom and help her in the house she will sweeten up in a day or so. Mothers get hurt just like everybody else, but they heal quicker.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband retired at 59 because of a back injury. The injury does not prevent Warren from living a normal life, but it does prevent him from doing the work for which he was trained.

When he retired, I thought, "Hooray now we can travel and see the country." Our first little trip was to see the dam.

What happened? The minute we got on the road Warren gunned the car up to 85 miles an hour. When the speedometer dropped to 75 he said, "Something must be wrong with the spark plugs." When we stopped to eat he swallowed his lunch in one gulp and bellowed, "Quit poking, we gotta get going."

Of course we were home in two days instead of four. No sooner had I put the luggage away than he began complaining about boredom and "nothing to do."

I've suggested all sorts of hobbies but they are too tame. Shall I tie an anchor on his rear bumper? Help—DONNA

Dear Donna: Your hyper-thyroid husband operates on overdrive and you can't change him. He needs a hobby that will give him a physical outlet for his energies as well as emotional satisfaction. Maybe your doctor can guide you.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 70-year-old grandparent who is truly worried about my grandchildren. Some of my friends are worried about their grandchildren, too.

Use Good Taste In Placing Family Pictures

By AMY VANDERBILT
"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: We live quite informally in a small home. In our living room I do not have decorations on the walls — because the room is small and because my husband and I prefer simplicity. Recently we had made 8 x 10 full-length color photographs of each of our two daughters — one wearing riding clothes and the other in her cheer-leading outfit (their respective consuming interests of the moment). "Decoratively speaking, they look very nice on our mantelpiece and we would like to have them there. I have a feeling, however, that it is not in good taste to display family photographs in such a prominent spot. On second thought, I wonder if this would apply to today's informal homes. "And now that my curiosity is aroused in the matter, I wonder how the family portraits of older, grander homes are explained — what is the shade of difference between painted portraits and color photographs?—A.J., St. Mary's, Ohio."

Good portrait photographs are treated the same way as are oil paintings. They may certainly be placed as you suggest. There is no reason to explain family portraits showing quite different backgrounds than the one you choose for yourselves now. Just let your friends enjoy them, your local professional photographer's studio has a free booklet on the use of portrait photography in the home. I am sure he would be glad to give you one.

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: We are writing for advice concerning receiving lines at a boys' prep school. We have receiving lines on two formal occasions annually. We are anxious to prepare our students for their experience with receiving lines after they graduate as well as during their years at this Academy. We note that at boys' schools it is proper for young men to precede their ladies through the line.

"In the interest of equipping them to do the proper thing when they attend wedding receptions and must pass through such lines at colleges, would it not be wise to have our boys follow their ladies through the line while at prep school?—D.W., San Francisco."

In prep school the boys are the girls' hosts, as it were, introducing them to the heads of the schools. It is better to leave the custom as it is, although it does differ, of course, from that followed at wedding receptions and other receiving lines. The same system, by the way, is used at Trinity School in New York and at Collegiate Institute, both of whom I called for you.

All is not beer and skittles for the players in the Intercollegiate Tournament.

North and South must reach three no-trump to obtain their par. The contract is a good one, but perfect defense will beat it. South is supposed to be the declarer and West is directed to open the five of clubs. From that point on, it is up to the players.

East wins that first trick with the king of clubs and should return the eight spot. Declarer will play either the queen or nine, and, at this point, it will be up to West to duck.

East's return of the eight spot has marked him with two or three clubs only. If he started with two, there will be no way to beat the contract. If he started with three and holds the king of diamonds, the hand will be set.

How does West know that his partner did not start with four clubs? Because he would have returned his original four best if he had.

West ducks the club and South is in. He tries the diamond finesse but East wins the trick and leads a club to give his partner three club tricks.

In rubber bridge, North and South would complain about bad luck. South would point out that the hand needed a club opening, a 5-3 break with just the right clubs in the West hand, a losing diamond finesse and good defense to beat him.

In the tournament there is no complaint. He gets his par anyway.

Cameo Oil Corp. potentiated No. 1 R. L. Owens, four miles northeast of Joy, G.W.S. Tipps survey A-499, Clay County Regular Field, for a daily pumping potential of 43.20 barrels of 39 gravity crude, plus 30 per cent water from 18 perforations at 3829-34 feet. The 4 1/2-inch casing was cemented one foot above bottom at 3874 feet. Pay was fractured.

A Clay County wildcat failure was reported when Bandera Inc., Dallas, abandoned at 6821 feet No. 1 C. Elmore, 2 1/2 miles northeast of Newport, block 86, Freestone CSL survey A-144.

Oklahoma Oil Report

Oklahoma's oil production allowable for May has been reduced to its lowest rate since adoption of present rules three years ago, and the Corporation Commission members hope the flow can be held at around 540,000 barrels daily.

The percentage factor was reduced four points to 26 per cent of the formula, which will reduce the minimum per-well rate to 7 barrels a day, off 1 barrel from April. This also should reduce the actual flow some 20,000 to 25,000 barrels daily, since present production is running 565,000 barrels daily.

Since first of the year, with the allowable unchanged and an estimated production of 545,000 barrels daily, actual runs have soared as high as 576,000 barrels daily. In the past 15 months, production has exceeded state allowables by some 24,000 barrels daily.

The increasing production, plus piling up of crude stocks of Oklahoma crude, brought strong protests from purchasers at the recent market demand hearing. Stocks gained 3,796,000 barrels since mid-February, while national stocks have increased 9,917,000 barrels.

Production for the period April-June also will include some 100,000 barrels of accrued under-production, which was permitted by the April order. This accumulation was caused by extreme bad weather in February in western Oklahoma and the Panhandle sectors.

WICHITA COMPLETED
THREE MORE WELLS

LAWTON, Okla. — H. A. Hackathorn, Wichita Falls, has filed completion reports on three new oilers in the Lawton District and is starting a pair of tests there. Hackathorn opened the area earlier this year with a flowing well.

His No. 2 School Land-Odegar, in SW SW SE of 16-2N-10W, flowed 98 barrels of 34 gravity oil a day on a 3-3/2 inch choke from the conglomerate zone at 777 to 1006 feet. Total depth was 1066 feet.

His No. 8 School Land-Ruth Irene, in SW SW SW of 16, did 10 barrels of 28 gravity oil a day on a 1/2-inch choke from sand at 453-474 feet. Total depth was 528 feet. The No. 8 School Land-Ruth Irene, in NW SW SW of 16, flowed 12 barrels a day on a 1/2-inch choke from sand at 438-467 feet. Total depth was 506 feet.

Hackathorn staked the No. 1 School Land-Ruth Irene, in NW SW SW of 16, and the No. 5 School Land-Odegar, in SE SW SW of 16-2N-10W, both with contract depth of 1100 feet.

THREE SOUTHWESTERN TESTS ARE PLUGGED
HOLLIS, Okla. — The dry hole jinx hit southwestern Oklahoma

during the past weekend leaving three more exploration failures, all on lease blocks which were assembled in the past two years.

In Beckham County, Bolin Oil Co. plugged at 2146 feet at the No. 1 Smith, in NW SE NW of 18-3N-25W, about six miles west of the Moravia area. It topped the granite at 2116 feet.

In Harmon County, Continental Oil Co. No. 1 Scott, in C SE NW of 8-3N-25W, six miles northeast of Hollis, was dry at 7500 feet.

In Tillman County, Cities Service Oil Co. No. A-1 Hutcheson-2, in C SE NW of 18-3N-16W, two miles northeast of the North Victory Field, was dry at 6065 feet in Arbuckle dolomite, where it had salt water on drill stem tests.

JEFFERSON COUNTY TESTS ARE STAKED

Drilling in southern Jefferson County has gained momentum with one wildcat and six development tests being started. L. H. Foster, Ardmore, staked the No. 1 Linton, in NE SE NW of 18-7N-6W, six miles west of the Seaf Field, for 2750-foot Hoxbar zone test.

The development tests are in the Oscar and Spring pools where Dorfs Drilling and Fitzgerald Brothers have campaigns under way.

Commerce Officials Due Here Monday

Representatives from the U.S. Department of Commerce will visit Wichita Falls Monday in connection with the chamber of commerce's "Salute to Local Industry Day." Lee Nelson, manager of Industrial Development Inc., said Tuesday.

The officials will be in the board room of the First-Wichita National Bank at 11 a.m. Monday. All Wichita Falls businessmen are invited.

To be in Wichita Falls will be Harry Meyers of Dallas; John Sheaf, a specialist in business analysis and international trade and Don Chapelle, manager of the Texas Pan American Airline operations.

Chapelle will show a 22-minute film entitled "We'll talk about it tomorrow," which points up the fact that no firm is too small to begin to consider overseas markets.

Following the film will be a question and answer period to be presided over by James Barnett. The officials also will be guests at the downtown stew feed Monday noon to be served by Chamber of Commerce directors.

The stew feed will mark the beginning of Chamber of Commerce Week in Wichita Falls. Beef for the feed was provided by Will Burnett, a Wichita County rancher, of Iowa Park.

The delegation also will be in the chamber offices Monday afternoon.

Johnson Votes By Absentee Ballot

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has voted an absentee ballot in Texas' May 2 Democratic primary election, the Blanco County clerk said Tuesday.

The clerk, Mrs. Jeff D. Furber, said she received Johnson's ballot Monday.

Johnson's LBJ Ranch is in Gillespie County and about 15 miles from Johnson City, which is in Blanco County. The President, however, has maintained legal residence in Johnson City, site of his childhood home.

"The day your child enters school brings the start of a new life for him, but it can also mean the end of a time in which childhood eye defects can still be corrected", according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry," advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

The present Tax Assessor-Collector claims to have complied with all state and county statutes.

WHAT DOES HE MEAN?

Could he be referring to his retaining his wife on the county payroll at more than $5,000 per year?

Oil Completions Show Gain Of 125

TULSA, Okla. — United States oil and gas companies completed 877 wells last week, a gain of 125 over the previous week, The Oil and Gas Journal says.

The survey for the week ended April 25 shows 297 completions in Texas, up 60; 75 in Kansas, up 18; 40 in New Mexico, up 12; 49 in California, up 11; 114 in Louisiana, up 10; and 87 in Oklahoma, up 9.

The new completions resulted in 371 crude producers, 108 gas producers, and 364 dry holes, as well as 34 service wells. The total included 178 wildcats, of which 20 were productive and 158 dry.

In Western Canada, operators completed 67 wells of all types, up 5 from the previous week.

Demonstration Injures 23 In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — At least 23 persons were reported injured Tuesday as hundreds of civil rights demonstrators marched to the heart of Nashville's business section and refused to budge until threatened with fire hoses.

Many of them sat down at a street intersection and blocked efforts of police, who were trying to move out with loaded patrol wagons. The officers swung billy clubs to clear a path.

Most of the demonstrators were Negro teen-agers but several white women and girls also were in the crowd.

Spokesmen for the demonstrators said 16 of their number were injured, including a Negro girl who was taken unconscious to a hospital.

Police said seven officers suffered minor scratches, cuts and bruises. At least 10 persons were taken into custody, including one charged with urging a minor to leave school classes.

It was the second consecutive demonstration. Spokesmen said they were protesting against segregated policies at two or three eating places which refused to go along with an earlier agreement by most Nashville restaurants to admit Negro customers.

LBJ Criticized By Dog Lovers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dog lovers set up a howl Tuesday because President Johnson picked up his beagles by the ears to make them yelp.

"If somebody picked you up by the ears, you'd yelp too," barked a spokesman for the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

In Charleston, W. Va., Humane Officer Kenneth Pauley growled:

"The President did that? You're kidding. If he were in Charleston, I'd run him in."

"Any vet will tell you you're not even supposed to pick up a rabbit by the ears. I've been handling animals for 32 years and I never heard of that."

Johnson was photographed on the White House lawn Monday picking up his two beagle pups, Him and Her, by the ears. He had just released Him when he was asked:

"Why do you do that?" "To make him bark," Johnson replied. "It's good for him. And if you've ever followed dogs, you like to hear them yelp."

John Neff, executive vice president of the American Kennel Club, declared: "I've never heard it said that this is good for beagles."

However, Melvin Schlesinger, president of a Kansas City, Mo., kennel club, said all the baying against the President was just "Republican propaganda."

"He's just playing with the dog," Schlesinger said. "The dog in the picture is still standing on its hind legs. You often pick up a beagle that way by its ears to see how it looks. That can't hurt it."

Johnson Asks $228 Million For Appalachia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress Tuesday for $228 million for economic development of the 10-state Appalachian region.

Johnson said the visible lag in Appalachia justifies the program.

"The visible economic progress of the nation has passed Appalachia by," the President said in identical letters to House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and the president pro tem of the Senate, Carl Hayden, D-Ariz.

Johnson said the reasons for the economic lag in the area are "cheerlessly clear":

1. Difficulty, and in some instances, impossible access.
2. Inadequate control of water which breeds both floods and scarcity of water for industrial and recreational purposes.
3. A mineral base of coal, timber and agriculture sorely in need of creative attention.

Ohio was added to the area covered by the program at the last minute.

Johnson said Gov. John A. Rhodes has advised him that his state has decided to take part in the program.

"It is both appropriate and desirable that those portions of Ohio lying with Appalachia join with the remainder of the region and accordingly the bill I am sending to the Congress reflects this," Johnson wrote.

The Appalachia area extends from Pennsylvania on the north to Georgia and Alabama on the south. In addition to Ohio, it includes Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee.

In addition to adding Ohio to the program, Johnson added $10 million for special needs of coal mining areas.

348 Firemen To Lose Jobs

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two railroads that operate in Texas announced Tuesday they will discharge 348 firemen effective May 7.

The Supreme Court has cleared the way for railroads to reduce their crews.

The Frisco said it would eliminate 148 firemen's jobs throughout the system.

The Missouri Pacific lines will eliminate 200 jobs.

All discharged workers will receive severance pay, estimated to range from $25 to $4,400.

A Frisco spokesman said all its men affected have less than two years service.

In addition to the 200 men to be released by MoPac about 250 other firemen could be transferred or eventually let go. These are men with two to 10 years seniority.

French Naval Participation In NATO Ended

PARIS (AP)—France ended all naval participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on Tuesday, withdrawing its officers from the alliance's naval headquarters units.

While the move was deplored in Washington, French official sources declared the order ends France's withdrawal from the alliance, begun in 1959. At that time, French warships in the Mediterranean were pulled out from under NATO command.

Nevertheless, the French decision was further concrete evidence of President Charles de Gaulle's determination to make France independent of the Allies.

A State Department spokesman in Washington deplored the action, which was seen as further deterioration in the NATO organization.

A U.S. official in Paris said there had been no consultation with NATO on the new French order. Official French sources insisted the Allies were advised well in advance and that it could have come as a surprise to none of them.

Only about 10 French officers are affected by the order. Official French sources said 75,000 ground troops and three air wings in Germany assigned to NATO would remain.

"We regard this as a logical extension of earlier steps, in which naval vessels earmarked for NATO command were withdrawn," one source said. "It would be preposterous to participate in naval councils when we have no ships directly concerned with NATO."

Dropout Prevention

All of us worry about the increasing number of dropouts in our schools, and numerous serious studies are being made on the problem here and across the nation.

One effort well underway deserves our attention. In New York, under the direction of Paul Driscoll, a novel method is being tried to prevent dropouts before they occur.

The pilot plan consists of an "earn and learn" program. With a group of 600 to 700, among whom the normal dropout rate is 60 per cent, the plan was applied and the group went on to graduation with only a 3 per cent loss.

This is a tremendous gain, and it is being expanded to 2,000 students during the next year.

Briefly the program works this way. The students go to school one week, and the next week they hold down paying jobs. An alternate group takes over their job while they are in class.

It was emphasized these were real jobs, with pay and working conditions under strict legally defined limits. The students must perform the work, not only to the satisfaction of a teacher, but they must earn the money from their employer — or be discharged. In other words the jobs are not artificially created work paid for by the government or some foundation.

The students attend school and work the year around with the exception of normally earned vacation and holiday rights — just as they would in normal employment.

The first gain noticed by the sponsors of the plan was that absenteeism practically disappeared. Students who averaged 80 to 90 days of truancy per year attended almost every day. Previously they failed all subjects. Under the program they passed at least three out of four courses.

Driscoll said the "money in the pocket" motivation was one of the strongest the youths could have. Since the jobs were real and not simulated, the youths added pride in their work.

The New York plan deserves our attention.

Finding The Way

The Unshakable Facts

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It must have been a dramatic moment for one knowledgeable scientist who had gone to church on Good Friday. The city was Seattle. Observing the traditional rites of a sacred day, this worshiper looked up from his prayers and noted that the chandelier in the great cathedral was shaking violently. He left the church, hurried to his instruments, and verified the fact that is now known to the world — Alaska was suffering a devastating earthquake.

But what of the others who saw the chandelier shake? Some might have wondered what was happening. Some said, "That's odd." Some thought, "There must be a loose connection which should be repaired."

When the chandelier shook, some never noticed at all.

The ancient prophets were certain that God was shaking the earth. Jeremiah described the horror of the earthquake and insisted "I look out . . . and lo, the sown land lies a desert; And the towns are razed by the Lord's rage."

Isaiah was as certain that there was more to the earthquake than the shifting of the deeps. He felt the shaking and wrote, "The foundations of the earth do shake. Earth splits to pieces, Earth shakes to pieces, Earth reels like a drunken man, Earth rocks like a hammock." But he added to this vivid description of the earthquake: his insistence that all of this was happening because of the weight of earth's own transgression. Everything you could touch was shaken. Yet he saw a Fact unshaken.

It is at this point that modern man senses his dilemma. He can measure the earthquakes. He knows what is happening. Yet he has not been able to develop the kind of moral seismograph which can measure the tremors in his personal conduct, the moral shifting in the earth, the rumblings which might be the prelude to a terrible devastation. After the wars or after the knowledge of the murder of millions, he understands that this was a devastation. But in the midst of his present situation, he understands only that some chandeliers are shaking and he doesn't know what to do about it. Some times he manages not to notice.

What are the facts that are not to be shaken? If we have an illiteracy about the depths of our own selves, no wonder there is a silence before the injustices and the loss of reverence and lack of courage.

It is not a time to shake one's head and wonder what's happening. It is the time to act with the certainty that there is a Lord who still says, "The world itself shall crumble, but my salvation knows no end!"

Congressional Quarterly

Profit Rule Debated

WASHINGTON, April — (CQ) — Regulation of defense profits is provoking controversy as Congress considers extension of the Renegotiation Act.

Republican Congressmen have said they will seek to amend the Act, whose extension is scheduled for debate on Wednesday, to begin "the orderly termination" of the current renegotiation procedure.

As reported April 15 by the House Ways and Means Committee, the bill (HR 10669) would extend the Renegotiation Act of 1951, currently scheduled to expire on June 30, for an additional two years. This is the law which enables the Government to regain "excessive profits" earned by private firms in fulfillment of defense and space contracts and subcontracts with certain Government departments.

Renegotiation is necessary, its supporters say, because the United States in the foreseeable future will continue to spend vast sums of money for military and related materials. Much of the expenditure is for highly specialized items of an ever-changing nature because of rapid technological changes and developments in the aircraft, missile and space fields. Previous pricing and contracting experience often is an inadequate guide for gauging costs and profits.

The 10-man Republican minority on the Committee filed dissenting views when HR 10669 was reported. They pointed out that the bill called for the seventh extension since enactment of the Renegotiation Act in 1951. They said there was no justification for extending the Act again "without requiring the procurement agencies to adopt procedures which will ultimately make renegotiation unnecessary."

Indications that trouble might be brewing for the policy of continuous extensions of the Renegotiation Act appeared at the time of the latest extension, in 1962. Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee expressed dissatisfaction with the renegotiation procedure, and said they were supporting the two-year extension reluctantly.

Renegotiation Procedure

The Renegotiation Act established an independent five-member board appointed by the President. While the Board must follow certain methods and standards, there are no pre-established rates or guidelines by which to judge individual cases.

In arriving at a decision, the Board must give "favorable recognition" to the "efficiency of the contractor or subcontractor."

The Board also must consider six factors; the reasonableness of cost and profits in terms of production volume, normal earnings and comparison of peace-and-war-time products; the amount and source of public and private capital employed; the extent of risk assumed; the nature and extent of contribution to the national defense effort; the character of the business; and any other factors "in consideration of the public interest and fair and equitable dealing."

The determination of excessive profits reflects the Board's judgment. A contractor may appeal an adverse ruling to the U.S. Tax Court, but the burden is on him to prove the error of the Board's decision.

Not all Government business is subject to renegotiation. The procedure applies only to contracts and subcontracts with the Departments of Defense, Army, Navy or Air Force, the Maritime Administration, the General Services Administration, the Atomic Energy Commission or the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. HR 10669 would add the Federal Aviation Agency to this list.

Excess Profits Recovery

There is little argument that the Renegotiation Board has been effective. From its inception in 1951 through June 30, 1963, the Board made 3,608 determinations of excessive profits, resulting in a gross profit recovery to the Government of $871.6 million. In addition, contractors voluntarily returned approximately $1.19 billion in the form of refunds or price reductions in advance of a formal Board determination.

Republicans on the House Ways and Means Committee want a Congressional study to learn why "the Government cannot be protected against excessive profits in the contracting process — and not after the fact." In their minority report to HR 10669, they said they would offer a motion on the House floor to recommit the bill to Committee.

They hope to increase from $1 million to $5 million the minimum amount which a contractor must receive in renegotiable payments during a fiscal year before he is subject to the Renegotiation Act. This, they say, would be "a first step toward the orderly termination of the renegotiation process."

Congressional Junkets Go Unreported

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — Details of what happens when a congressman junkets abroad seldom are reported to the American people, even though it is their money that is spent. This is because no newsmen are permitted on these trips, and members of Congress always take the Fifth Amendment when it comes to talking about their colleagues.

However, this column can report some illuminating incidents regarding last October's immigration junket to Geneva at which Rep. Michael Feighan, the Cleveland Democrat, got so vituperative against the late John F. Kennedy that two other congressmen had to stage an impromptu vaudeville show to divert attention of dinner guests.

Feighan called Kennedy soft on communism, also castigated Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, said he would not vote for Kennedy again.

The congressional trip was to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration of which 29 governments are members. Usually a representative of State Department's Bureau of Consular Affairs heads the delegation, but last fall Mike Feighan, new chairman of the House Immigration Subcommittee, insisted on going. Three other congressmen went with him.

The executive committee of the conference began meeting Oct. 7 and plenary sessions began Oct. 14. Feighan was in Geneva both weeks, but attended the sessions sporadically. He did not turn up at the session honoring the late Rep. Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, his predecessor as Immigration Committee chairman. Representatives of 29 nations met to pay their respects to Walter's work on immigration, but his successor from Cleveland did not bother.

Feighan also failed to attend the last two executive meetings because he went on a sight-seeing tour to Mount Blanc in a limousine supplied by the Commissioner of Immigration—the same commissioner, incidentally, Ray Farrell, who first confirmed, then denied under pressure from Feighan that he had started the immigration service on a wild goose chase for an alleged Canadian gangster whom Feighan reported but never materialized.

Feighan called one closed door meeting of the U.S. delegation to which he invited his son, though his son was not a member. At that meeting Feighan thundered and roared against the State Department and threatened to air his complaint before a public session of the committee.

What he was sore about was the admission of two to three hundred old Russian Orthodox into the United States. These were part of about 1,000 so-called "Old Believers," or Russian Orthodox refugees in Turkey. Most of them had been persuaded by Moscow to return to Russia. But Attorney General Bob Kennedy and the late Congressman Walter had enticed the remainder to the United States — considered a propaganda blow to Moscow.

However, Feighan teed off in the closed door session as if Russian spies had been admitted.

On the evening of Oct. 16, Joseph McFadden, an American, and deputy director of the European Migration Committee, held a dinner for U.S. delegates, including Congressmen Peter Rodino, N.J., Frank Chell, Ky., Democrats; and Arch Moore, W. Va., a Republican. Also present were Abba Schwartz, a state department consular administrator; Elmer Falk, Office of Refugee Affairs; George L. Warren, special assistant for Refugee Affairs; Alvin Pilliod, European representative of the Immigration Service; Julian Singman, American legal counsel for the committee; Sidney Shore, and various others.

At the dinner the congressman from Cleveland began letting off steam against Kennedy's Civil Rights Bill, said he could not possibly vote for it. Furthermore, he said he could not support President Kennedy for reelection because of his left wing attitudes and his softness on communism.

He compared Kennedy to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman in their tendencies to open American doors to communists and troublemakers. All three, he said, were communist sympathizers. He was especially critical of Mrs. Roosevelt for her "Nigger-Loving" activities. He deplored the direction in which the Democratic party was drifting.

Feighan became so intemperate and so full of vulgarisms that Frank Chell, D-Ky., and Arch Moore, R-W.Va., started distracting the guests' attention by staging an impromptu vaudeville show and telling stories in voices that drowned out Feighan's diatribe. They succeeded in keeping him in the background, but those present were shocked and outraged at the Cleveland congressman's behavior.

Note — While in Europe, Feighan drew maximum counterpart funds permitted under the law—$28 per day in Germany and $24 per day in Switzerland. Returning home on the Queen Mary he drew $30 a day for living expenses, even though all meals, state-room, etc., were included in the price of his first class steamship ticket — paid for by Uncle Sam. It was a pleasant vacation at a time when Congress was sweating it out in Washington with most of the appropriation bills still unpassed.

Whirligig Civil Rights' Top Test

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — As Bill Shakespeare would put it, the Senate civil rights debate is merely "sound and fury, signifying nothing." In the end, the issue will be decided by a Republican member of the House whose name is virtually unknown to most Americans.

This, of course, would be Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, who steered the pending bill through the House, and who has warned he will not tolerate any attempt by the Senate to water it down. It can be said with almost complete certainty that there will be no bill without McCulloch's okay.

Test In Conference

Whatever version eventually is passed by the Senate, the ball game will be merely in the ninth inning. The legislation then must go to a House-Senate conference to negotiate any changes the Senate makes in the House-passed bill. That is where both sides will run into McCulloch's conscience.

So far, McCulloch has insisted he wants the House bill enacted practically without alteration. He has repeatedly declared he will not be a party to any deal to emasculate it. "My head is still bloody from 1957," the Ohioan is fond of saying. That was when he fought to pass a civil rights bill which later was weakened in the Senate when the Eisenhower Administration dropped Title Three, the provision which would have given the Attorney General power to initiate court suits to protect civil rights.

Middle-Of-Roader

McCulloch is not a far-out liberal by any yardstick. He calls himself a "conservative Scot," which is not quite accurate. He is, instead, a leader of the moderate, middle-of-the-road Republicans of which Everett Dirksen of Illinois is a Senate counterpart. But he was co-author of the present bill, the most sweeping anti-discrimination measure ever considered by Congress, and as he says, "my conscience went into that one."

McCulloch got some powerful help in maneuvering this bill through the House, notably from Rep. James Corman, D-Calif., and the handsome, aristocratic Rep. John Lindsay, Republican representative from New York City's genteel East Side. Corman and Lindsay went to work on wavering Northerners almost daily to keep them in line, and their arguments won the grudging respect of the bruised Southern members. The House Republican leader, Charles Halleck of Indiana, didn't go all-out for the bill until McCulloch had spent many hours twisting his arm.

No Compromiser

President Johnson has pronounced that there will be a civil rights bill and that it will be a strong one. McCulloch seems unimpressed by this pledge, possibly because he recalls that Johnson was majority leader of the Senate in 1957 when McCulloch charges the House civil rights co-horters were sold down the river to avoid a filibuster.

When the House was debating the current bill, McCulloch warned that "I would not ask my friends to walk the plank" and vote for a strong bill and then be a party to a deal that weakened the bill. In the Senate, those toying with the always attractive idea of compromise had better keep McCulloch in mind.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q — What country is the home of Panama hats?

A — The so-called Panama or Jipijapa hats, made of Toquilla straw, are manufactured in Ecuador. They are called "Panama" because gold rush pioneers first found them on sale there.

A — Draft is the term used to describe the depth to which a ship is submerged and is the distance from the keel line to the load limit (Plimsoll) line.

Q — Does defoliating by insects hurt a tree?

A — It reduces the food-making powers which weakens the tree for a season. It does not kill the tree unless defoliation occurs for several years running.

Barry's Choice

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — As matters stand today, Sen. Barry Goldwater's first choice for a Vice-Presidential running mate is Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

There's no doubt about Goldwater's feelings. He has gone so far as to feel out Scranton for his attitude toward the Vice-Presidency. The big question: What would Scranton say if Goldwater does win the Presidential nomination and does ask him to go on the ticket?

At first glance, a Goldwater-Scranton ticket seems ludicrous. Goldwater, Mr. Conservative, and Scranton, the shining hope of liberal Republicans, hardly agree on anything. Not since the ill-starred union of Thomas E. Dewey and John Bricker in 1944 have two more divergent Republicans been coupled.

Yet, Goldwater as Presidential nominee would badly need an Eastern liberal to balance the ticket. True, a liberal might not appreciably strengthen a Goldwater ticket in the Northeast. But a liberal running mate would be essential as a concession to the Republican Left.

Eastern Republicans Nelson Rockefeller and Henry Cabot Lodge are out of the question as Goldwater running mates. Goldwater wants no part of them (and they want no part of him). Scranton is another matter. He is the only liberal Eastern Republican who never has been the target of Goldwater's gibes.

A friendship of sorts has built up between the two men. During Scranton's one term in Congress (1961-62), he served as an Air Force Reserve officer in the 999th Squadron under the command of Maj.-Gen. Barry M. Goldwater.

Scranton and Goldwater had a long, harmonious chat about politics back in January at the Westchester Apartments in Washington. To avoid all the publicity of a meeting at the Senator's office on Capitol Hill, Scranton went to Goldwater's apartment.

Much of their political discussion concerned Scranton's determination to keep control of Pennsylvania's delegation to the National Convention. Goldwater tacitly agreed to stay out of Pennsylvania.

It was during this meeting that Goldwater broached the question of Scranton for Vice-President. The Governor was non-committal. But Goldwater was by no means entirely discouraged. It is safe to say that the matter will be pursued again at much greater length.

On a lower level, Craig Truax, Pennsylvania Republican chairman and a key Scranton adviser, has developed a warm working relationship with top Goldwater staff men.

However, one discordant note was sounded last week by Richard Kleindienst, national co-director of the Goldwater campaign. He declared that less than 800,000 Scranton votes — in votes for President in Pennsylvania's primary election would constitute rejection of Scranton by his own state. Considering the fact that John F. Kennedy set a Pennsylvania write-in record in 1960 with 183,000 votes, the Kleindienst test is absurd. Actually, it was a feeble attempt at humor inspired by those claims that Goldwater "lost" the Illinois primary by winning "only" two-thirds of the vote.

However, Scranton and state chairman Truax were not amused. Truax accused Kleindienst of trying "to discredit Gov. Scranton."

Of course, this little spat will hardly determine Scranton's final decision about joining a Goldwater ticket. Deeper influences are at work.

Consider Scranton's own career. Teaming with Goldwater (even in a losing effort) would give him national identification for the first time. He then might well become the leading candidate for the 1968 nomination should Goldwater lose to President Johnson.

But old friends of Scranton's say ideological disagreements might prevent him from running with Goldwater. The one argument that could change his mind, they add, is the possibility that his presence on the ticket would deflect Goldwater toward the middle of the road.

What complicates all this is the fact that Scranton still remains a good possibility for the Presidential nomination should Goldwater be stopped. That's one reason why Scranton-for-President enthusiasts today label a Goldwater-Scranton ticket as absurd. Their tone could change in July.

ALMOST OUT — Olney's Randy Barr, right, dives back toward first base as Hirsch's first sacker Fred Berry takes a throw from pitcher Pete Padron in an attempted pickoff play. Berry appeared to have caught the Cub runner napping, but he was safe. Hirsch won the game, 10-0, to secure at least a tie for the west zone championship in 3-AA. (Staff Photo)

Huskies Earn Title Tie On One-Hitter

By TED LEACH
Sophomore Pete Padron and junior Ronnie Faulkner combined to hurl a one-hit shutout as Hirsch rolled to its sixth straight victory here Tuesday, beating Olney 10-0.

The victory gave the Huskies at least a share of the west zone 3-AA title. They play Seymour here Thursday and could wrap up an outright crown with another win.

The Huskies scored four in the first, one in the second and five in the fourth to knock Olney out of the title picture in a shortened four and half inning contest. The 10-run rule was invoked with Padron taking credit for the victory, his second of the season.

David Brasier led a 10-hit Hirsch assault with a 3-for-3 at the plate. He scored three times and drove in two more with a triple and two singles. Only two in the starting lineup failed to connect for a hit as Olney tried to stem the tide with three pitchers, none of which were too effective.

The Cubs threatened to score only once, in the top of the first with two outs. Dan Hamrick drilled a triple just over the outstretched glove of Brasier in right-center, but Hirsch shortstop David Barker made a fine catch of an apparent hit in short left to end the inning.

Olney had only one other base runner. He walked and took second on an error on a pickoff play, but was stopped at that point as Padron bore down to get the next two hitters.

David Waggoner started the first Hirsch rally with a leadoff bunt single in the first. Brasier tripled behind him and scored on an infield out. Padron reached first on an error, stole second and scored with two out on a single by Danny Daugherty. Billy Tanner and Wayne Rogers singled back-to-back and Daugherty tallied on the smash by Rogers to make it 4-0 before the sides were retired.

In the second, Brasier bunted for a single with one out, stole second and went to third on catcher Larry Thompson's throwing error. Fred Berry singled him home to make it 5-0.

A two-base error allowed Waggoner to take second in the start of the wild fourth. Brasier singled him home, then stole second and Padron singled to drive in two more runs. The pitcher took second on a play at the plate, went to third on an error and then yielded to runner John McKinley who scored on Barker's sacrifice fly.

There was one out when the 10th run was produced. Daugherty swung wildly at a third strike, but was safe on an error when Thompson allowed the ball to get past him. Daugherty stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on an infield out.

Olney had one chance to run the contest to a full seven innings but Faulkner, on the hill replacing Padron, struck out the first batter, got the second on a grounder to the mound and struck out the third to retire the sides.

Hirsch has a 6-0 record, including a 12-inning, 5-3 win over Seymour. The Huskies have four non-conference games remaining after the duel with Seymour Thursday, including games with Rider, Vurnburnett and a pair with Vernon. If all goes well against Seymour, they'll face a playoff against the east zone champion after regular season play has ended.

Stuart Slam Helps Settle Orioles, 6-4

BOSTON (AP) — Dick Stuart's grand slam home run into the left field screen in the 11th inning gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday before 2,065 shivering fans.

Baltimore had taken a 4-2 lead in the top of the 11th with the help of Jerry Adair's single and Carl Yastrzemski's error with the bases loaded.

Stu Miller, who had been rolling toward his third straight win, suddenly lost his control. Chuck Schilling walked and Eddie Bressoud singled and, after Yastrzemski forced Bressoud, Frank Malone walked. Dick Hall, who replaced Miller, was the victim of Stuart's grand slammer.

Robin Loose Shutout
Robin Roberts had a 2-0, four-hit shutout going to the last of the ninth before Boston rallied to tie the score.

The big blow was Stuart's double off the center field wall on which Bressoud scored the tying run. However, Yastrzemski was thrown out on a close play at the plate by Luis Aparicio's relay of Jackie Brandt's throw.

Singles by pinch hitter Dalton Jones, Bressoud and Yastrzemski had produced the first run.

Baltimore picked up a run in the first on singles by Jackie Brandt and Aparicio and a sacrifice fly by Norm Siebern and added another in the ninth on a walk to Orsino and singles by Sam Bowens and Adair.

Hill Rise(s) To Occasion

Rain Or Shine: Luro Likes Northern Dancer's Chances

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rain can pour on Churchill Downs the remainder of the week. Or the sun can turn the flower-bordered track into a Sahara Desert. It makes no difference to Horatio Luro.

Luro is the Argentine senior who trains the small but mighty Northern Dancer for E.P. Taylor of Toronto, Canada.

And Northern Dancer, winner of Hialeah's Flamingo, the Florida Derby and Keeneland's Blue Grass Stakes in compiling a record of 12 victories in 15 career starts, is the 2-1 second choice to take Saturday's running of the 1 1/4 miles of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

The genial 61-year-old-South American said Tuesday.

"My horse cares not whether it is muddy, sloppy or fast. He runs on any kind of a track. This morning I had him out in that sloppy going and he just flowed through it. He doesn't take long stides like Hill Rise and so is able to control himself better. You note he doesn't get mud all over him. He knows how to run in it. Not all horses do."

Luro expressed the opinion that Hill Rise would have a difficult time handling an off track. The West Coast champion from George Pope's El Peco Ranch never had raced or worked on an off track.

"But that Roman Brother, he is different," said Luro. "He is a small horse like mine and I look for him to move up if the going is muddy Saturday."

Luro also said he was doubtful if The Scoundrel, the 6-1 third choice, would be able to run well in the mud because of his size. And in that he was concurred by Mesh Tenney, trainer of Rex Ellsworth's awkward striding but power-running colt. Wood Memorial winner Quadrangle, who is in the between class in size, should run well on any kind of a track in the opinion of Luro. Trainer Elliott Burch said, "I hope he is right."

'Shoe' Boots Home Vital Trial Victory

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Hill Rise, favored for Saturday's running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby, came storming down the stretch at Churchill Downs Tuesday and won the $16,050 Derby Trial in the fast time of 1:35 1-5 for one mile.

The West Coast champion from George A. Pope Jr.'s El Peco Ranch trailed during the first part of the blistering early pace but when Willie Shoemaker gave him the word with one-quarter mile remaining he quickly picked up the leaders and won by 2 1/4 lengths.

Roman Brother, from Louis Wolfson's Harbor View Farm, was second by 2 1/4 lengths.

'Rough' Gem
He's a Gem finished third three lengths in front of Mr. Moonlight, but after a long delay the judges ruled that He's a Gem had interfered with Clem Pac and took down his number.

The change moved Mr. Moonlight into third place and dropped He's a Gem to fifth with fourth going to Clem Pac.

Hill Rise paid $2.00, $2.20 and $2.20. Roman Brother returned $2.60 and $2.20 and Mr. Moonlight paid $2.20 to show.

Hill Rise, now winner of eight straight races after finishing third in his first two starts as a 2-year-old, earned $10,432.50 to boost his career earnings to $196,919.50.

Clem Pac set a burning early pace as he reeled off the first quarter in 23, the one-half mile in 45 2-5, and he had enough as Hill Rise came rushing up to battle Roman Brother for the lead.

Duel Ends Quick
The duel between Hill Rise and Roman Brother lasted for only one-eighth mile. From there on, Shoemaker hand rode the son of Hillary-Red Curtain to victory.

He's a Gem and Roman Brother never were far off the lead but the former found the pace too swift in the final drive for the wire.

The Canadian-owned Grand Garcon and Robair trailed in the field of seven.

The track, soaked by rain for two days, had dried out and it was rated "good" for the final prep for Saturday's classic for 3-year-olds.

Of the seven starters, only the first two horses showed enough to rate a place in Saturday's starting field. However, trainers of the others may decide otherwise after seeing how their horses cool out.

HOLLIDAY CREW COPS SIXTH IN 500-MILE WATER SAFARI

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (Special) — Fourteen boat crews finished the 500-mile Texas Water Safari over Corpus Christi Bay Tuesday with Kenneth Gulley and James Stevens of Holliday placing sixth.

The Michigan crew of Albert C. Widling and Robert E. Gilling won the race in 80 hours and 27 minutes. They landed at Corpus at 8:02 Tuesday morning after resting at Ingleisle Monday night. For their efforts they won a $3,000 money and bear hunting trip to Alaska.

Gulley and Stevens, piloting a canoe with a lateen sail took 118 hours and 53 minutes to cross the bay. They landed 20 minutes behind the winners.

There were 40 crews which originally started the journey.

Twenty-Eight Pose Problems For Nicklaus

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus, who practically strolled in to win the 1963 Tournament of Champions, shoots for a repeat victory when the $65,000 event gets rolling Thursday.

Nicklaus, viewing the prospects Tuesday, conceded his task is formidable.

His opposition will come from such golfing greats as the four-time Masters winner, Arnold Palmer; National Open champion Julius Boros, South Africa's Gary Player and 25 other professionals in a small and select field.

A year ago Nicklaus cracked out a record-opening round 64, eight strokes under par for the 7,000-yard Desert Inn Country Club course, and was never headed.

He won the $13,000 top money with 273, five strokes in front of Palmer and Tony Lema.

Lema is back and so is Bill Casper Jr., the hard-knock son of the tournament. In 1963 Casper had a big chance, if not to catch Nicklaus, at least to finish second as he had done the year before behind Palmer.

But Casper had to withdraw midway during the final round because of a bad hand.

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jimmie Hall's 10th-inning single with the bases loaded gave the Minnesota Twins a 9-8 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a rain-delayed slugfest Tuesday.

Gary Bell, Cleveland's fourth pitcher, had loaded the bases on three walks, two of them intentional, before Hall connected.

Lenny Green, batting for Bill Dailey, walked to open the 10th. After a sacrifice moved him to second, Bell passed Tony Oliva before uncorking a wild pitch. Bob Allison was purposely walked to load them up and set the stage for Hall's single.

Hall had tied the game in the bottom of the ninth with a home run after Johnny Romano's second homer of the game had given Cleveland an 8-7 lead in the top of the ninth.

Romano's blow came after two were out with Leon Wagner aboard.

Wagner, Al Smith and Romano produced all of Cleveland's runs with homers after the Twins charged off to an early lead against Indian starter Dick Donovan, who surrendered five runs in less than five innings.

Rich Rollins' two-run homer in the sixth staked Minnesota to a 7-2 lead, but Wagner whacked a three-run shot off Jim Roland and Romano greeted reliever Jim Perry with a solo blast.

The Twins bunched four singles before Donovan retired a batter in the first and grabbed a quick 3-0 lead. Smith's two-run homer narrowed it in the fourth, but three hits and a wild pitch produced two more Minnesota runs in the fifth.

'Little State' Meet Slated

GAINESVILLE — Gainesville will host its own "little state meet" here Saturday with the annual running of the Relay of Champions.

Only boys who are eligible for the state track meet in Austin are included in the field. First and second place regional finishers from over North Texas have been invited.

Competition begins at 5 p.m. Saturday at Gainesville's Leeper Stadium. Discus, high jump, pole vault and broad jump events start the meet, with the shot put due to begin at 6:15 p.m. Running events start at 6 p.m. and will be completed under the lights.

State finalists of all classifications (AAAA, AAA, AA, A and B) have been invited to participate. Invitations have been sent as far as Texarkana on the east, Wichita Falls on the north and Brownwood on the south.

The entry list is expected to be completed Wednesday and those wanting to join the Roster should contact Jim Pirtle at Gainesville High School.

Raiders Open 4-AAA Today

Rider and Vernon open the north zone baseball race in 4-AAA at Spudder Park Wednesday. The game starts at 4 p.m.

Rider is 2-2 for the season after an 8-4 loss at Duncan in its last outing. The Raiders have beaten Duncan and Lawton Eisenhower and lost their opener to the Coyotes. A game with Mineral Wells was rained out and cancelled.

Vernon is 2-1 for the season, rated a darkhorse in the three-team chase. The Lions will start Cliff Holliday, whose only decision was a 3-2 loss to Graham.

Rider mentor Newman Young will start Ricky Teakell on the hill. He has one decision this year, an 8-1 victory over Duncan.

Patton Hums; 3-Time N-S Champ Ousted

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Billy Joe Patton mixed an occasional par with a batch of birdies and double bogies Tuesday to sweep past Peter Zaccagnino of Hartford, Conn., 4 and 3 to lead the way to the third round of the North and South amateur golf tournament.

Patton's Walker Cup teammate, Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N. C.; Charlie's brother Dave and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., three-time North and South champion, were eliminated in an eventful day that also produced a hole-in-one.

Pat Foy Brady of Reidsville, N. C. shot the ace. He holed out his No. 3 iron tee-shot on the 206-yard 15th hole. Then he had to win the 17th and 18th to get even with Bob Johnson of Charleston, W. Va. before beating him with a par four on the 20th.

The day's major surprise was furnished by a 53-year-old Memphis, Tenn. automobile dealer, Curtis Person. He defeated Charlie Smith one-up with a par four on the final hole.

Bill Davidson of Nashville, Tenn. was one over par in a 2 and 1 victory over Dave Smith in a match that was even through 14. Davidson moved ahead with a birdie two on 15, hitting a No. 2 iron a couple of feet inside Smith, some eight feet from the pin. After Smith missed his birdie try, Davidson made his.

John Hughes of Greensboro, N.C. eliminated Campbell with

N-S Grid Game Sold To ABC

MIAMI (AP) — Television rights to the 1964 and 1965 North-South college all-star football games have been sold to the American Broadcasting Co. for $100,000, it was announced Tuesday.

William C. Brown, game chairman for the sponsoring Mahi Shrine, said the contract calls for payments of $50,000 each year, with an additional three-year option.

"That's about double what we've been getting," Brown said. ABC has held television rights to the charity game the past two years.

Brown also announced this year's game will be played in the Orange Bowl on Christmas Day, a departure from the past few years when it was played several days before Christmas.

Longhorns Remain In Second Place

DALLAS (AP) — The University of Texas Longhorns scored three runs in the first inning and then went on to halp Southern Methodist University 7-2 Monday in a Southwest Conference baseball game.

The victory gives Texas an 8-3 league mark, close behind Baylor and Texas A&M, now tied for first place with 8-2 records. Southern Methodist is 2-8 in loop play for seventh place in the conference.

Braves Rally To Hand Bucs 9-5 Setback

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves spotted Pittsburgh a four-run lead and rebounded to defeat the Pirates 9-5 Tuesday night.

The Pirates chased Milwaukee starter Denny Lemaster with a three-run uprising in the first inning and added another run off reliever Phil Nierco in the second.

The Braves struck back in their half of the second as Joe Torre led off with his third homer, a high drive to deep left, for the first Milwaukee hit off Pirates starter Bob Friend.

Milwaukee added two more runs en route to their biggest scoring output of the season.

Milwaukee tied the count 4-4 with a run in the fifth before Willie Stargel lined his third homer of the year off winner Jack Smith in the sixth.

The Braves bounced back as Eddie Mathews, who had only three RBIs in 11 previous games, drilled a two-out single to right center to put the Braves ahead 6-5. Dennis Menke then gave the Braves two more runs on a bases-loaded single in the seventh.

But the Dodgers came back in the eighth. Dick Tracewski led off with a triple and one out later, Wills' double drove him in. Wally Moon singled to score Wills and knock out Johnson.

Bob Miller, who replaced Moeller, stopped the Colts in the last two innings to preserve the victory for the young southpaw.

Charles' Bat Projects A's Past Detroit

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ed Charles drove in three runs with a homer, a double and a single Tuesday night as the Kansas City Athletics belted the Detroit Tigers 5-1.

Diego Segui survived early control trouble and stopped the Tigers on five hits for his first victory of the season. He walked four batters, all of them in the first two innings.

Frank Lary, trying for a comeback, started for the Tigers and suffered his second loss, although he was more effective than he was in his first two starts.

Charles homered against Lary in the first, driving the ball into the new bleacher area in right field, called by A's owner Charles O. Finley his half-pennant porch.

Instruction In Holding Primary Election Held

By JACK COATS
Representatives of all 57 Wichita County voting precincts attended a training session for election judges and helpers held Tuesday night in the 30th District Courtroom at the Wichita County Courthouse.

Although County Judge Calvin Ashley had announced earlier that the meeting was open to anyone wishing to know how elections are conducted, Democrats constituted a majority of those attending.

W. T. (Dub) Zimmerman, Wichita County Democratic chairman, and A. F. (Prof) Edwards, executive secretary of the county Democratic party, explained rules and regulations governing election judges and their helpers in conducting Saturday's primary.

It was pointed out that signs will be placed outside buildings where Democratic and Republican primaries both will be held, directing members of each party to their own voting place.

Election judges and election workers were reminded that the state's election laws made it a misdemeanor to attempt to vote in both primaries, and that such an attempt is punishable by a fine not to exceed $500.

Zimmerman told those attending that copies of certain resolutions for the Democratic precinct conventions will be mailed prior to Saturday.

Democratic precinct conventions will be held at 7:15 p.m. at each box, immediately following closing of the polls at 7 p.m.

"I want to urge all judges and voters to attend their precinct conventions," Zimmerman said. "That's where the work of the Democratic Party begins—on the precinct level."

Three candidates in the Democratic primary who were present at the meeting were introduced. They were Dan Sullivan, Andrews, candidate for congressman-at-large; incumbent Sheriff Ham Vance and incumbent District Judge Temple Shell.

A similar training class for election judges and helpers in Saturday's Republican primary will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the YMCA, according to N. A. Steed, Wichita County Republican chairman.

GOP Candidate For Senate Here

Republican George Bush told more than 100 supporters "I believe we need responsible government now, and that's why I am confident I will win the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in the May 2 primary."

The Houston oilman appeared at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Woman's Forum with his wife as a guest of Republican workers in the county.

Mrs. Brad Streeter and Mrs. Ralph Erwin head the Wichita Falls campaign for Bush.

"I believe there are four issues in this senate race," said the youthful candidate, who opposes Democrats Gordon McLendon and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, the incumbent.

"First, there is the issue of fiscal responsibility. I feel the present administration is following outdated policies in regard to keeping our country in good hands, fiscally."

Power Separation
"Second, separation of national and state powers is absolutely necessary. I oppose the Civil Rights Bill, because this sort of thing should be left up to the states to decide. And this 'War on Poverty'... why didn't they declare war on poverty in 1961, or 1962? I think the program has been politically inspired by President Johnson."

"Third, morality in government. After Billie Sol Estes and Bobby Baker, I wonder what the government is coming to. Why, Sen. Ralph Yarborough has yet to explain these so-called complications with Billie Sol. And I also favor Sen. Milward Simpson's amendment to the Constitution permitting prayer in schools."

"Fourth, and finally, foreign affairs are in a mess right now. Just what is our foreign policy? On foreign aid, I think we should take a meaningful figure and use it to shore up alliances around the world. The United Nations is a failure in view of what it started out to be."

Bush said he strongly favored Sen. Barry Goldwater as a candidate for President, "but I still support the party ticket no matter who is nominated."

When Johnson urged members of the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services to cluster around for pictures Tuesday, he remarked that Monday he caught his dogs by the ears and held them up so an Associated Press photographer could take a picture. Then, he said, an Associated Press reporter "wrote a story about my being inhuman."

The President was smiling when he said it.

(The AP photographer who took the picture said he made no request for such a shot, and that he simply photographed what went on. The AP story relating what happened included the reaction of some dog fanciers who were critical of the President for lifting the dogs by the ears.)

White House press secretary George Reedy was asked whether there was any White House reaction to the complaints of dog lovers.

"I haven't heard from them as yet," he said. "I've heard nothing about it other than a few stories I've read in the papers."

"I think more and more people should become interested in politics," he said in conclusion, "and to offer themselves for public service. At this stage of the campaign I am tremendously encouraged by what I find throughout the state."

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Yale University, Bush made his home in Texas after World War II, when he served as one of the youngest naval pilots in history and was thrice decorated for his service.

Now of Houston, he is president of the Zapata Offshore Co., an oil concern. He first became interested in Republican politics in Midland, and was chairman of the party's Harris County organization in 1962. He and Mrs. Bush have five children.

Bush was in Wichita Falls Tuesday after brief appearances at Big Spring, Lubbock and Abilene.

Dog Lovers' Complaints Unanswered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The yelps of dog lovers over the yelps of presidential pups hoisted by their ears were left unanswered but not unnoticed Tuesday at the White House.

President Johnson mentioned the fact that he had lifted his two beagles, Him and Her, by the ears Monday. But whereas he said it was good for the dog, a chorus of dissent arose from veterinarians, a spokesman for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, officials of the American Kennel Club, the National Beagle Club and others.

Ralph Yarborough Talk Rescheduled

Technical difficulties which prematurely ended a 30-minute live television broadcast at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday by Sen. Ralph Yarborough have caused Channel 3 officials to plan a rebroadcast of the speech.

Owner Darrold Cannon Sr. said Tuesday night that, because of video difficulties "that we have been unable to pinpoint" the repeated explanation of Yarborough's alleged dealings with Billie Sol Estes will be aired again in Wichita Falls "as soon as we get the tape from Austin."

Yarborough was interrupted with six minutes left in the broadcast "at a crucial point," and will be given a second, complete broadcast. Other transmission of the live telecast was received fully in other areas of the state.

TWO-EVENING FESTIVAL OF MUSIC PRESENTED

By CHARLENE UNDERWOOD
Sixteen hundred sixth graders, polished to a high gloss discipline to a military front and center on the double, represented festival programs Monday and Tuesday nights in the Wichita Falls High School Fieldhouse.

The two evenings were under the direction of Mrs. Eddie Lake Bunton and her faculty of music teachers. Both nights were stellar productions for the public school music departments and were received with stentorian enthusiasm and even audience participation. So infectious was the display of young high spirits led by capable teachers, everyone wanted to get in on the act.

In all, 24 schools participated, and with Mrs. Bunton on the podium holding the huge groups in tight reign while home school teachers assisted in directing young accompanists, the evening moved at rapid pace. It was a masterful display of organization.

This was a performance of dance and song, of rhythm bands using autoharps, bongo drums and bells with precise artistry while voices varied from unison to parts and even developed one rouser in round form.

While uniforms kept to simple effects, they were colorful and gay. Each school had its own mark of individuality... a lei, cummerbund, flower in the hair, or a typical hat. The overall robing consisted of white shirts and dark skirts or slacks. Pleasing to the eye as it was, the sound of well-schooled children's voices by the hundreds was a joy to hear.

A particularly happy number was "Donkey Cart," a Greek folk song for which accompaniment was intricate rhythm of bongo drums with eerie flute melody impeccably played by Francile James.

Close second in interest was "Pumba," an Arabian song with drum and tambourine accompaniment.

The overall theme of the "Wonderful World of Sound" was spiced by the singing of "It's a Big, Wide Wonderful World" by Rox. The evening was concluded with a thrilling presentation of colors, the singing of "This is My Country," and a dance featuring red, white and blue scarves. The entire audience joined in the "Star Spangled Banner."

Mrs. Bunton praised the cooperation of principals and teachers in the participating elementary schools and noted that many of the teachers came to assist the music teachers during rehearsals. She also thanked L. E. Orrick, in charge of visual education and libraries in the Wichita Falls schools, and Mrs. Carolyn Johnson and Mrs. Margie Jenkins, who provided piano accompaniment during the festival.

In commending the children for their performances, Mrs. Bunton said that only two rehearsals were held for the festival — one for the Monday show and one for the Tuesday performance. The two-night festival was the culmination of many months' work by the children and city music teachers.

Court Orders Six Put Back In Class

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A three-judge federal court late Tuesday ordered school authorities to put six Negro pupils back in class at Natusula, Ala., where the high school was destroyed by fire 10 days ago.

The Macon County School Board was ordered to make facilities available at the Natusula school complex no later than Thursday and "upon the same terms and conditions allowed and extended to the white students heretofore" at the school.

Although the high school wing at Natusula was destroyed by the fire early on the morning of April 13, the auditorium and grammar school wing were undamaged by the flames. Negro attorneys pointed out at a hearing earlier Tuesday that these facilities were still usable.

Market Post Advance With Small Volume

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a rebound Tuesday after two sessions of sharp decline but did so on the small volume since early March. Turnover was 4.82 million shares, the lightest since the same volume was traded March 6.

The market atmosphere was brightened by many reports of higher earnings by corporations, by President Johnson's emphasis on the strength of the economy in his talk to businessmen and by the Supreme Court's giving the railroads the green light to reduce train crews.

The Dow-Jones industrial average rose 4.83 to 816.70.

The AP 60-stock average rose 1.9 to 303.8, with industrials up 2.4, rails up 1.8 and utilities up 7.

Of 1,360 issues traded, 704 rose and 398 fell. New highs for the year totaled 37 and new lows 29.

Substantial gains for many stocks meant merely a recovery of part of the losses taken in recent profit taking. For Texas Gulf Sulphur, however, it was another wide jump to new highs.

Aided by further publicity about its mining strike in Ontario, Texas Gulf rose 5 1/2 to 52 1/2 on 471,200 shares. It has risen this year from a low of 21 1/2.

Pan American, up 1%, and Continental, up 1 1/2%, were the most active of the airlines.

U.S. Steel was up 1 1/2 in advance of a sharp increase in earnings reported after the close. Most top steelmakers gained fractions. Lukens rose 2 1/2.

All Big Three motors advanced, General Motors rising 1 1/4 for the largest gain.

Ex-Con Captured; Hostage Is Safe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An ex-convict, wanted in the kidnap-slaying of a South Carolina youth, was captured by the FBI Tuesday. A Tennessee boy held hostage for four days was released unharmed.

Joseph Francis Bryan Jr., placed on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted fugitives two weeks ago, was spotted by an FBI agent at a suburban shopping center. After a brief scuffle, in which a store manager joined, Bryan was pinned to the pavement.

Panel Ditches Transport Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's national transportation bill was wrecked Tuesday, ditched by the House Rules Committee and some branches of the industry.

The bill, first proposed by President John F. Kennedy and endorsed by President Johnson, was designed to help America's railroads and put them on an equal footing with their competitors.

It was opposed by the coal industry, the water barges, the grain traders and the port interests.

Their opposition intensified in the last few weeks and reached the Rules Committee, which has the power to block legislation from the House floor.

By an 8-7 vote, the committee did just that.

It was a smarting defeat for Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., the chairman of the House Commerce Committee, who had guided the bill through two years of hearings and to final approval by his committee.

The bill's main provisions would have:

- Given railroads the same exemption that trucks now have from regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of their rates for hauling grain and other agricultural commodities.
- Taken away a good part of the exemption from ICC rate regulation now held by water barges for hauling coal, oil, sand and other bulk commodities.

C-C Member Drive Opens

A membership invitation campaign for the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce began at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the chamber offices with more than 80 of the 125 workers present.

The drive is being led by Glen Atkins and five division chairmen: D. C. Bailey, Clarence Chesier, Kenneth Callaway, D. A. Cannan Jr. and Grady Cantrell.

Workers will begin contacting the hundreds of prospects this week to invite them to attend the Monday downtown stew feed which will mark the beginning of Chamber of Commerce Week in Wichita Falls.

The drive will end at a May 7 rally at Rider High School which will feature Attorney General Waggoner Carr as guest speaker and the Sheppard Air Force Base Band and the Misfits as special entertainment features.

Mayor Winston Wallander was on hand for the Tuesday morning kick-off and addressed the group on the vital importance of a good strong chamber of commerce.

"City officials and the chamber of commerce working together, will continue to make Wichita Falls a progressive and prosperous community."

"I cannot think of any other work that citizens could be doing to help their city than working to strengthen their chamber of commerce, as you are doing this morning," the mayor said.

Prospective members will be invited to both the Monday event, which will feature Dr. Travis White, president of Midwestern University, as speaker and the May 7 event.

Three county residents will be honored by the Wichita County Tuberculosis Association in the assembly room of the Wichita General Hospital at 1 p.m. Thursday.

Oral Jones, retired banker, will receive a gold lapel pin for his 36 years of service as a member of the board of directors; Mrs. Abby Cooper of Electra, will receive a pin for 26 years of service on the board; and Mrs. T. M. Black of Iowa Park will receive a pin for 33 years membership on the board.

Dr. Hal Dewlett, assistant director of the Dallas Public Health Department, will discuss the Dallas County tuberculin skin testing program and will discuss phases of the fight against tuberculosis and its relation to the overall health campaigns.

In addition to the service awards, the veteran board members will be made life members of the board of the Dallas County Tuberculosis Association.

The session will be open to the general public, physicians and any other interested persons.
