RR gates, lights are on order

Santa Fe officials have placed the order for an estimated $26,250 in materials needed to erect protective flasher lights and gates at a crossing in east Hereford where one person died in May and another person suffered serious injuries a month earlier.

"We are going to make every effort to get it in at the earliest possible date," a Santa Fe official said Monday. The city and county will each pay $6,562.50 of the cost, with Santa Fe bearing half the burden—or $13,125. Santa Fe officials said it is difficult to set a completion date, because of the uncertainty about when the ordered material will arrive. It apparently will be late fall or early winter. "It is going to take probably 60 days at the best to get the material, and after we get the material it will take about two weeks to get it in," an official in the Santa Fe signal department at Amarillo said.

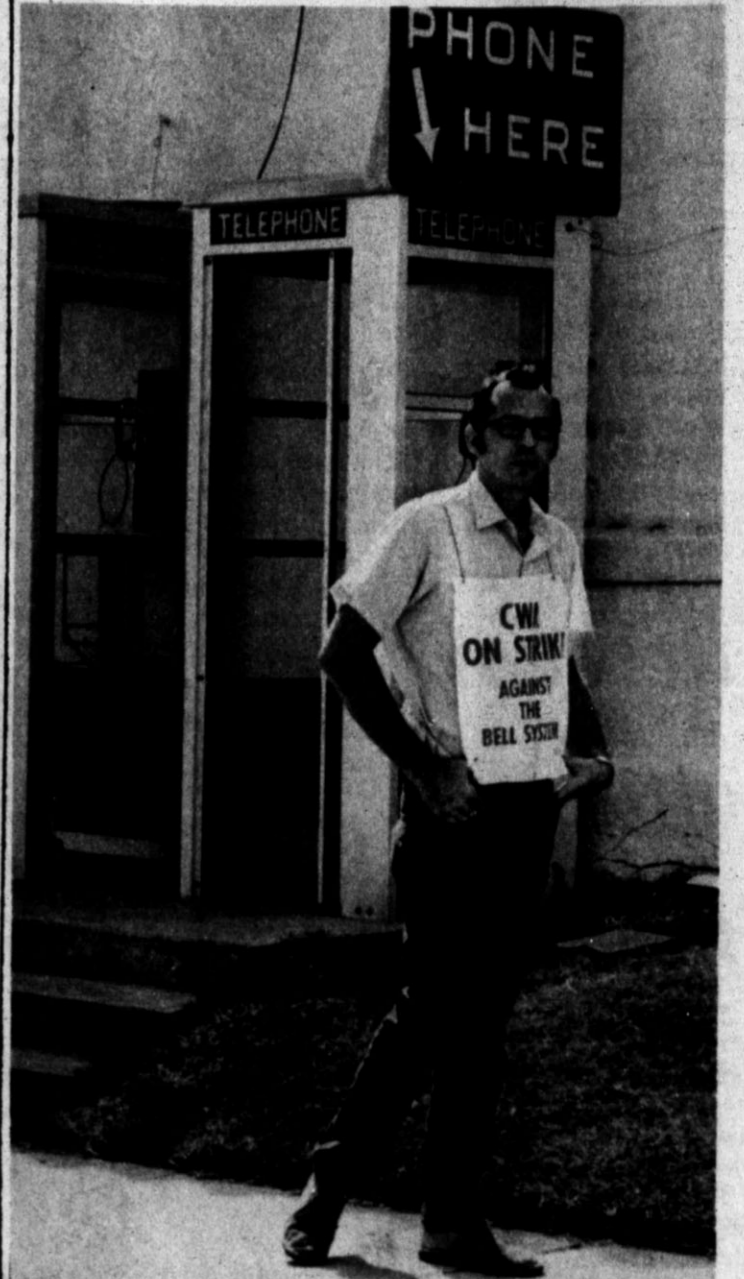

The order was placed through the railroad's purchasing and materials department at Topeka, Kan., after top echelon Santa Fe officials last Thursday authorized the 50-50 cost sharing arrangements. City and county officials told a Santa Fe official in a June 2 meeting in Hereford that they would be willing to join in such a deal. County commissioners formally committed themselves Monday to paying the one-fourth share "contingent upon the approval of the city also."

The crossing is on Progressive Road, which has seen increased traffic in recent months with the location of several industries south of U. S. 60 on that road. Employees of firms located on Progressive Road played the prime role in putting together a petition with about 300 names imploping Santa Fe to make the crossing safer. Until the June 2 meeting, the traditional white crossed signs provided the only warning at the crossing. The city and county put up stop signs while Santa Fe pondered the possibility of flasher lights and gates. No accidents have occurred there since, although spot checks have shown motorists have paid little heed to the stop signs either. Santa Fe officials used the verbal commitment of the city and county last month as the basis to send in the order for the materials. The county, in its effort to formally agree to such a cost sharing, found itself in agreement Monday that it do pay the one-fourth share.

It was suggested at one point, however, that the county delay its motion until the city gave its approval, because of criticism that often comes with large appropriations. "It's just inconvenient that we always be the first one to make the motion, because we're always the one to get all the you-know-what," County Commissioner Donald Hicks said Monday, but he went along with a motion that made the county's approval conditional upon the city's acceptance.

In other business Monday, the county commissioners: —approved the plat and field notes for Yucca Hills North, a new residential development five miles north of Hereford on U. S. 385; —issued a memorandum to county officials asking their cooperation in holding the cost down on replacement personnel during vacation; —formally set the tax rate for the county at $1.11, the same as last year. Earlier the county had cut the percentage on fire

A half-day off? Holman feels he's in Paradise

BY MARKIE McBRIDE
Staff Writer

"Just listen to this. Can you imagine? Roy Hartman is actually going to let me off for a half a day so I can go to the mountains with my family," the No. 2 man on the local school system said with mock amazement the other day. "Why," continued assistant superintendent Robert Holman, "I haven't had a summer vacation in four years." Holman laughed before, after and while he made the comments. And if you looked at his red, white and blue wided-striped bell-bottom slacks, it might strengthen your impression that when school ends each May, all the administrators take off on a three-month holiday from school, just like the students. "People are always saying to us, 'Oh, aren't you glad school is out?' What they don't know is that our job is only beginning."

said Holman, sitting amid stack after stack of papers. He and Hartman, the superintendent, say they have a busier work schedule in the summer than at any other time of the year. Hartman, Holman and six other administrators work all

12 months of the year, which is just a month longer than the principals work. For custodians, secretaries and teachers in the summer school program, work also continues on. In the administrative ranks, for example, there are Naomi Hopson, evaluator and director for all federal programs; Bill Phillips, administrator for financial and business services; Richard Robinson, vocational director; Larry Wartes, coordinator of special services; Jim Holmes, director of pupil services; and Ruby Smith, cafeteria director. In each case, if the administrator goes at less than full pace in the summer, the school is unprepared in some area when classes for the next school year resume in August. All the way down the line, reports must be made and submitted on various aspects of the previous year. The principals interview teachers, inventory their textbooks and supplies and work up student schedules for the coming year. Trustees okay bank's purchase of scoreboard for local stadium Fans at Hereford football games this fall will be seeing a new scoreboard. Harlan VanderZee, president of the Hereford State Bank, approached school officials recently with the desire to provide a new one, and the School Board voted Tuesday night to take the bank up on its offer. The scoreboard now in use was provided by the Lions Club about 15 years ago.

Larry Wartes, athletic director for the past four years and now the coordinator for special services with the schools, said the present scoreboard is not worn out but that it has given some trouble. Last year, the scoreboard malfunctioned during the first game, against Pampa, in a game where the time left was a vital factor. Pampa won on a 45-yard field goal. See TRUSTEES Page Six

Nation-wide strike hits Bell system

Supervisors from Hereford and San Antonio responded Wednesday to manning switchboards here when non-management employes of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company left their jobs at 5 a. m. to honor picket lines established by striking Western Electric employes.

The strike by WE involves only Southwestern Bell employes who chose to observe the picket lines, but the telephone company itself faces a possible strike Saturday when the contract with its own employes expires. Only a small band of workers picketed the local office Wednesday. Mike Patrick, manager of the local Bell Telephone office, said Wednesday he feels the chances of other employes going on strike Saturday were slim in Hereford although other cities may lose workers. The WE strike was called on a national scale at 5 a. m. Wednesday when its representatives failed to reach a new contract agreement with the Communications Workers of America. "This strike does not involve either Southwestern Bell or its employes," Patrick said. "Contract negotiations for Southwestern Bell employes represented by the CWA are scheduled for mid-year. Meanwhile the contract between Southwestern Bell and CWA, which will not expire until July 17, (Saturday), remains in effect." The WE strike forced some five local supervisors to take over the controls of the switchboards early Wednesday and Patrick said at least five more supervisors from San Antonio were called to assist during the strike. "We don't know how many we lost and we probably won't until sometime Thursday," he said. "Right now we are down 50 per cent in office personnel and the Western Electric people in the plant department have all gone on strike. "Right now we are not able to install telephones as we usually do, but we will try to keep everything as normal as we can and try to keep the service as good as possible." The supervisors who took over the switchboards did so, Patrick said, in order to help with credit card calls, person-to-person calls, collect calls, mobile phone calls and long distance calls placed from the rural areas where direct distance dialing is impossible. "All of these types of calls require operator assistance but we want to stress DDD whenever a person can," he said. Southwestern Bell employes now off the job are union-represented employes who are reluctant to cross the picket lines, the manager said. Western Electric is a supply arm of the Bell Telephone system and furnishes the bulk of supplies and installs equipment in the telephone office. The strike affected only the employes of the Southwestern Bell office building and not those at the Bradley Street station. Those at the Bradley Street office, if they strike at all, will do so Saturday after their contract with Southwestern Bell expires. "What the effects of this strike will be, I cannot tell you because we don't know," Patrick said. "As a public utility, the telephone company has an obligation to provide service. This obligation is shared by our employes and we will do all possible to assure the continuance of service." The last strike involving Southwestern Bell Telephone occurred three years ago and lasted three weeks.

Thomas Neese, M.D.

City gets another doctor

Dr. Thomas Neese, specialist in internal medicine and cardiology, assumed an office in the Hereford Medical and Surgical Clinic this morning.

Neese, a native of Oklahoma, graduated from Seminole, Okla., High School, received his BS degree from the University of Oklahoma and got his M.D. from the University of Oklahoma Medical School. He interned at Maricopa County Hospital in Phoenix from 1965 to 1966. From 1966 to 1968 he was in the Navy, serving his first year with the 3rd Marine Division in Vietnam. He and his wife have three children, ages 5, 3, and 1. His wife is a native of Minnesota and has a B.S. in medical technology from Mankato, Minn., State College.

Too much of a good thing?

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Research scientists this week pointed an accusing finger at an over-abundance of nitrogen in the lower levels of the soil as one of the key reasons for the steady decrease in the sugar content of area sugar beet crops.

Dr. Don Dickenson, in a meeting Monday of the Holly research team and the sugar beet growers association, said tests in this area during the past few months indicated a very high concentration of nitrogen that is doing more harm than good. "Even the best sugars still had more than enough nitrogen, we found out," Dickenson said, "and we know sugar and nitrogen just don't go together. "But we need to find out why we have low sugar and high nitrate. "We know this is not the only reason for the drop in sugar in our crops, but it is one of the reasons."

Dickenson said the nitrogen in the soil is a beneficial factor in the growth of sugar beets, but too much nitrogen also can be harmful to the plant. As long as ample nitrogen, moisture and suitable temperatures exist, he said, the beet simply keeps growing in size. The sugar content in such beets remains at a rather low maintenance level and under such conditions most of the sugars that are produced are used by the beet for growth and very little is stored. "Granted," Dickenson said, "nitrogen may not be our only problem, but it certainly is a problem." Studies, he said, have shown that a beet crop needs 10 pounds of nitrogen for every ton of root yield. There are three sources of nitrogen to the crop — nitrate nitrogen in the soil that is unused by previous crops, nitrogen in the form of crop residues and organic matter, and nitrogen in fertilizer form applied to the currently growing crop. Dickenson explained the conclusions of the research board by the use of daily tare and sugar report sheets from the Tracy, Calif. where sugar content was reported high in crops

Phone books to be mailed this Friday

Delivery of the new telephone directories for Hereford is scheduled to begin Friday. Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell, said approximately 3470 directories will be mailed out. The directory includes 38 pages of alphabetical listings, an increase of two pages over the 1970 book. There also will be 144 pages of classified advertising, 12 more than last year.

Union Goof

When Mike was fired from his job as a mechanic, the company cited "incompetence" as the reason. But Mike thought the real reason was prejudice. At his request, the union started the grievance machinery in motion.

Eventually, the arbitrator ruled against him. But Mike, still not satisfied, decided to file a damage suit against the union itself.

"They just didn't try hard enough," he argued in court. "At the arbitration hearing, the union representatives didn't even know the facts of my case. Furthermore, they forgot to tell me the date of the hearing, so I wasn't even there. They also forgot to keep record of proceedings."

The court decided that the union had indeed fallen down on its job and would have to pay damages to Mike. The judge said a union must show reasonable diligence in standing up for the rights of its members.

Most courts agree. However, that does not mean a union is liable every time a member's grievance is turned down. As a practical matter, the law gives a union considerable leeway in deciding how to handle a particular grievance.

In another case, involving a discharged welder, the union flatly refused to ask for arbitration at all. When the man took the matter to court, the union pointed out that he had repeatedly failed to show up for work.

Thereupon, the court held that the union was exercising a legitimate discretion in not putting up a fight. A union that pushes weak grievances, said the court, would soon lose its effectiveness in pushing strong grievances.

Furthermore, a union may even be justified in favoring one group of members at the expense of another. Thus:

Two companies merged, raising questions of job seniority among their respective employees. Negotiating with management, the union worked out a compromise that left some men out of work. Could these men hold the union liable for "failing to represent" their interests?

No, said a court, so long as the union had acted in good faith. The judge said:

"The complete satisfaction of all who are represented is hardly to be expected."

Stoerner captures RR lights, junior golf title

Curtis Stoerner, a 13-year-old Hereford golfer, shot a 78 on the local course Monday to win his division of the West Texas Chapter Junior Tournament.

He defeated Robin Travis of Levelland by five strokes in the 12-13 age group.

Joe Ziegler of Canyon shot a 70 to win the 14-17 age group, followed by Mike Sturdivant of Amarillo with a 73. David Pender of McLean had a 76 to win the 14-15 age group and he was followed by Guy Conine of Lubbock with an 82.

By virtue of the win Stoerner qualified for the Tournament of Champions match Aug. 19 and 20 at the Odessa Country Club.

Stoerner received a WTJG Association trophy for winning the match. All first and second place winners received trophies.

The tournament here was one of more than 50 scheduled throughout the state. The winner of each of the tournaments qualifies for the Tournament of Champions by winning at least one of the tournaments.

Funeral rites Wednesday for John Ferguson

John Vance Ferguson, 49, former pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, was found dead in his apartment at 301 Jowell Monday. Death was estimated to have occurred about 1 p. m. Saturday.

Ferguson was born May 13, 1922 in Abilene and married Clara Joyce Cox May 31, 1942 in Merkle, Tex. He came to Deaf Smith County in 1969 from Plainview.

He was a maintenance man for Hereford Schools.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday in North Funeral Home Chapel in Abilene. Roland Moore of Vigo Park and T. C. Melton, pastor of the Elmcrest Baptist Church in Abilene, conducted the services.

Burial was in Caps Cemetery at Abilene.

Survivors include his wife of Abilene; two daughters, Renee Davis, 133 Avenue K, and Debbie Bowen of Plainview; one son Jack of Abilene; a brother Robert Lindsey Ferguson of Abilene; and two grandchildren.

Cora Wimberley funeral services conducted Wed.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon in Rose Chapel for Cora Alice Wimberley, 93, who died Monday in Whitney Home at Whitney, following an illness of one year.

Charles Davenport of the First Baptist Church in Claude, and Gene Meacham, Dawn Baptist, conducted the services. Burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Wimberley was born Oct. 27, 1877 in Ploiate Grove. She married W. W. Wimberley Feb. 15, 1902 at Commanche. He preceded her in death in 1956.

She came to Deaf Smith County in 1925 from Randall County and was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include two sons, Carl Wimberley of Dawn and Charles Aubrey of Ft. Scott, Ks; a daughter, Ruby Baker, of Blum; eight grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. L.E. Stoy, Corpus Christi, and Mrs. G.L. Morris of Colorado City; and a brother Nathan Thackery of Dumas.

The family requests memorials be made to the Cancer Fund.

Cheerleaders attend clinic

Hereford High School cheerleaders received a superior rating in competition at the Texas Tech Cheerleading School June 26 to July 1.

Kerri Hall, Caye Clearman, Nelda Norton, Becky Dziuk, Sally Bayne, and Joni Charest participated in four days of competition with approximately 24 teams of six cheerleaders.

Rojean Block, the Whiteface mascot, Scat, also attended the school.

Two contests were held each day and the teams were judged daily. The first three days, the HHS cheerleaders received two excellent ratings and one superior rating.

They were judged by the National Cheerleaders Association directors on timing, spirit and motions. In each competition they performed a yell which was learned at the school and one which the girls made up themselves.

The mornings were spent learning four new yells, followed by a session of tumbling. The afternoons consisted of lectures concerning crowd psychology, plans for pep rallies and other subjects that would help the girls in their cheerleading.

"We had a really great time and we learned so very much," Bicky Dziuk, senior cheerleader said.

As a highlight of the week, the girls attending the school participated in the half-time activities at the annual Coaches' All-America football game June 26.

Graveside rites held for baby

Graveside rites for John Anthony Boreal, 10-month-old son of Elias Diaz and Nora Borela, were conducted Tuesday morning in St. Anthony's Catholic Cemetery by the Rev. Aedean Davis.

GETS A BOOST — Reuben Munser, driver of the truck at far left, got a big boost Tuesday when a second semi-trailer truck, driven by William Fluely of Atlanta, Ga., ran into him about eight miles east of Hereford. The cab of the truck driven by Fluely became entangled in the rear of the other truck and lost its cargo, which can be seen back down the road. Fluely suffered only slight injuries when he jumped from the cab and Munser was not injured.

School repairs underway

Among the new employees hired Tuesday night are Dempsey Alexander, former head coach at Happy, Sunray, Farwell and Petersburg, to an assistant coach's job. He will work with the football and track programs.

Alexander took his football teams into the state playoffs several times. His teams at Farwell twice advanced into the playoffs only to lose to the team that eventually won the state championship. He was twice named as South Plains Coach of the Year in his class. His track teams went to the state meet several times.

Paul Abalos, who worked last year with the regional education service center in Canyon, with the area bilingual programs, was hired as parental involvement director for the Hereford schools.

David McCormick, who was widely considered to be the top vocational agriculture teacher in the state of Oklahoma, was persuaded to leave his job there and come to Hereford. He replaces Richard Robinson, who recently moved up to the job of vocational director.

Among the resignations were those of Mike King and Ronnie Wright. King, president of the local chapter of Texas State Teachers Association and head of the social studies department, is taking a fellowship at North Texas State to pursue his doctorate. Wright, a trumpet-playing assistant the past year to Ben Gollehon, was hired at Anajac as music director.

The renovation work at the high school auditorium should be easily evident when it is finished, Supt. Roy Hartman said. A new coat of paint is being put on the walls and ceiling, and new lights are being put in for the 135 that have burned out. Since there are just about 300 lights in the auditorium, the burned-out ones represented almost half to all the lights, he pointed out.

Just the cleaning of the curtains will cost an estimated $2,000, Hartman said. The new lights and the painting will cost $3,500 or more, he added.

Much of the summer maintenance work has been made possible by the high rate of collection of delinquent taxes, Hartman said, praising Tax Collector Orpha Click and his staff for their work this year.

Some $59,700 in delinquent taxes has come in this year, compared with $35,000 the same time a year ago. If the same rate continues, the total will reach $73,000 by Sept. 1, which would be more than double the collections of a year ago, Click said.

The high rate of collections can be attributed to the work of two Amarillo men the School Board hired to press for payment of late taxes, Click said.

The School Board accepted low bids from Hereford Bakery on bread, Gulf Oil on gasoline and Borden Company on milk for the school system the coming year. All three were the low bids.

Sharp, who is vice president of the School Board, resigned because he is moving to Oregon soon. He made his resignation effective July 31.

The board accepted his resignation "with regret" and set Aug. 10 as the date it would name a trustee to fill the period left in his term, which ends next March.

The board hired these new teachers: Betty Van Zandt, Teresa McMennamy, Frankie Patterson, Nancy Templeton, James Self, Kenneth Livingston, Eveline Kennedy, Larry Kennedy, Dempsey Alexander, Doris Richards, William Gentzel, Thelma Alexander, Robert Priest, Barbara Woody, Karen Chapman, David McCormick, Paul Abalos and Wanda Jonhson.

Resignations were accepted from Charlotte Smith, Jean Veach, Dianne Wood, Rosemary Shackelford, Joyous Gans, Dianne Moseley, Mike King, Georgia King, Jane Defee and Ronnie Wright. The board granted Maarki Hutto a year's leave of absence to work on her master's degree at West Texas State.

A half-day off? Holman feels he's in Paradise

(Continued From Page One) past year, he must help fashion a new budget, he must work with principals on the hiring of teachers.

With the help of his personal secretary, Dorothy Mercer, he prepares personnel contracts, implements needed changes in the maintenance and custodial areas, applies for federal funded projects and acts as a continuous public relations.

Holman has a number of duties. He sighs everytime he tries to count them off.

He and Mrs. Hopson wrote consolidated applications this summer for each school program needing the approval of the Texas Education Agency (TEA). They had to write a detailed narrative and budget describing each program. With the aid of Nancy Russell, curriculum secretary, they prepared all the programs to be used here in the coming year.

TEA requires precise descriptions of these programs, such as the migrant, vocational, special education and kindergarten programs.

"We must tell what is taught, where it will take place, whom it will involve and what materials will be used in the teaching, plus a detailed financial record of each program," Holman said. Then in addition to that, the crew must give the TEA an extensive evaluation of similar programs operated the previous year and whether they were successful.

When teachers show up Aug. 16 for their week of in-service training prior to the beginning of school, they each will receive an orientation packet. Somebody had to work it up, and Holman, again, is among the culprits.

"We teach 40 different things in this in-service program for teachers," Holman said. "We want to prepare them for the upcoming year so they will be ready to do a good job."

The packet includes the school's policies, information for health insurance, in-service outline, philosophy of school district, and superintendent's message. Phillips, who controls the finances for all the local schools, always has had to work in the summer on financial reports of the past year. The school went to computers recently, which gives him new responsibility. He must change the accounting system to a vastly different one suggested by the state.

"This new system was tried out in a few schools in the state and proved successful. Now 150 Texas schools have been asked to go on the accounting system next year on a voluntary basis," Phillips said.

"It's a big job, but it gives a better breakdown on what money is being spent and we will have a much better idea of where we stand financially."

Too, Phillips pays the bills, handles the payroll, balances the budget and makes purchase orders.

Wartes supervises transportation for the six bus routes in the Tierra Blanca summer school program and also for their field trip transportation. He buys and distributes all school supplies, including paper, pens, scotch tape and other needed items.

"The maintenance is the biggest job in the summer. The schools must be ready to go for the year and we must repair where it is needed and keep the lawns in good shape," Wartes said.

Holmes supervises the eight units of special education being conducted in summer school, coordinates the school counselors and nursing program, orders medical and special education supplies, and sends off and issues thousands of textbooks.

D. C. Martin, principal at Aikman, tells it from a principal's view.

"Right now the halls are full of supplies and books that we must inventory. We have so much to do in the summer, I have endless things that I must get done in order to have a well-organized school year."

Over in his office, Holman leaned back in his chair, rolled his eyes upward and smiled, dreamily again.

"Just think," he said, "a whole half-day off."

CHANGES SCHOOLS
DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Joe A. Howell, vice president for student affairs at Southern Methodist University, has transferred to the University of South Florida as vice president and dean of student affairs.

Howell had been at SMU since 1965. Relative calm prevailed among SMU's 9,600 students during Howell's period.

TIPS ON PUTTING
NEW YORK — Golf pro Art Wall suggests this ethod to keep your head still while putting:

"There's a number on the ball. Place it with the number visible at the rear and watch the number all through the stroke."

This idea also helps the putter blade follow through toward the direction in which you are putting.

Too much of a good thing?

"All these figures indicate beyond a doubt that the best sugar comes where the nitrate content is lower," he said, "and our figures on the net dollar returns per acre with different fertilizer levels tells us what you've been telling us — you haven't been getting any money out of your beets and we're not getting any sugar out of the beets."

Returns per acre with the different fertilizer levels showed that with increased amounts of nitrogen fertilizer, the net dollar return per acre decreases. When as much as 22 5pounds per acre was applied the return was only $243.33 and when no fertilizer was applied, the return amounted to $287.18 per acre.

The best returns were seen where 75 pounds of nitrogen was applied and $271.16 was returned per acre.

"The first thing for every grower," he said, "is to figure what tonnage he can expect to grow."

"Establishing a tonnage goal and multiplying it by 10 pounds of nitrogen will give you the total amount needed."

A grower then will need to know how much available nitrate nitrogen remains from previous fertilization and how much nitrogen will become available during the growing season from crop residues and organic matter. Once these two amounts are known, their total then is subtracted from the total amount needed for the expected crop. This figure would be the amount needed to be added by fertilization to the beet crop.

Bob Ginn, Holly agriculture manager, said because the sugar beet is a deep-rooted plant, the nitrogens not reached by a shallow-rooted plant are absorbed by the beet when it is planted on the same field. The extra supply of nitrogen forces the beet to continue to grow when it should be storing up the sugar.

Trustees okay bank's purchase of scoreboard for local stadium

Wartes said he approached a key Lions Club official after VanderZee made his offer, to see if the Lions had any objection, since they had put the first one up. He heard nothing more about it, so assumed the Lions have no objection, Wartes said.

The school will look into the possibility of selling the scoreboard to a Class A or B school.

Wartes said he will try to have the new scoreboard in by Hereford's first home game, Sept. 17. The grass at the football stadium is in good shape, Wartes said.

"We're in excellent shape in the middle of the field. It's a little skippy on the sides, but if we can keep it watered, I think we can get it growing good," he added.

SENATOR BAYH AIMS AT STATE DELEGATES MAKES GENUINE RUN AT THE PRESIDENCY

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Correspondent

A WOMAN who had been a county chairman for Robert Kennedy in the 1968 Nebraska primary and later a delegate to the 1968 national convention came to Washington a few weeks ago to attend a Chamber of Commerce meeting with her husband. She had planned to visit some of the campaign headquarters of Democratic presidential hopefuls, but had told no one here of her plans.

Nonetheless, when she checked into a Washington hotel, a desk clerk handed her a message: "I'm delighted to know you're here," the note read, "and I hope you can stop by the office tomorrow for a visit. Meanwhile, we've arranged for a car to be at your disposal while you and your husband are in town... Your friend, Birch."

Incidents like this one have been the rule, rather than the exception in the presidential campaign of Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh.

In his public appearances around the country Bayh has been one of the least impressive of Democratic contenders. Nationally, he is one of the least known Democratic candidates.

Yet backed by an almost unlimited amount of campaign funds, Bayh is making a genuine run at the presidency through a campaign organization which is superior even to the one supporting early favorite Edmund Muskie.

The goal of the Bayh strategy is to reach those Democrats who will most likely be delegates to the national convention in 1972.

Thus whenever large numbers of Democrats gather around the country, Bayh and his money are there. At the California Democratic convention, Bayh upstaged other contenders by giving a champagne breakfast for every delegate. At an Illinois convention he gave a black-tie dinner with entertainment provided by Lily Tomlin and George Shearing.

VETERAN REP. WAYNE HAYS, D-Ohio, says that mail service between his Washington office and his Flushing, Ohio, home is so bad that he saves his mail and carries it home in his car on weekends, depositing it there for local delivery.

What does he propose to do about it? Send 15 House members plus staff aides to Great Britain, Germany and Italy with other side European stops to "study the delivery of mail abroad." The group also will visit Japan, Taiwan and Australia.

Hays' defense of the needless congressional trip abroad came after conservative critics of tax-paid vacations for congressmen sought to block this trip abroad.

Unfortunately, the House agreed with Hays and funded the trip by a 201 to 88 vote.

CONTROLLER GENERAL ELMER STAATS says that after spending $5 billion to clean up our rivers and streams since 1957, they are in little better shape than before.

Staats urges federal standards for discharges into streams "before pollution becomes a problem."

NOT ALL NORTHERN DEMOCRATS are Vietnam doves.

Rep. Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., asserts, "I'll be damned if I can let the Communists take over."

"I'm for the war to end, but I can't say 'pull out' by December 31. We can be sure they (the Communists) want us to get the hell out of there now."

by MELVIN YOUNG
When you make it too easy for folks to get on welfare, you're apt to get more takers than you know what to do with.

The State of New York has found out the hard way. New York has always been more liberal in its welfare benefits than most states, but have for the most part, been able to keep the roles down within reason. But when the Supreme Court ruled against the one-year residence requirement, welfare recipients from all over the country flocked into the state to take advantage of the additional benefits. Naturally, the budget couldn't stand the pressure.

So now, alarmed by an influx of welfare seekers from all over the country — including Puerto Rico — the Governor of New York pushed through the legislature a reform bill including, again, the one-year residence rule. Whether this legislation will stand the test in court or not remains to be seen, but Governor Rockefeller thinks he has found "a loophole" in the Supreme Court's directive. The Court said in its ruling against the residency requirement that such a law could be imposed "only for compelling reasons." Mr. Rockefeller thinks that a severe housing shortage, school crowding, threats to health and an annual welfare cost to the State topping $4 billion is "compelling" enough.

And certainly, we agree.

If a person on welfare is required to reside in a particular state for one-year before being able to draw the benefits, they'll think twice before moving from one state to another. They'll stay at home where they should be — and where they can be seen after by the folks who know them. Or else, as the case may be, they can go back to work. Certainly, the old, the indigent, and the infirm must be cared for, but it rankles us to hear of the healthy (but lazy) who seem to be able to draw welfare benefits. There is no excuse for such.

By the way, we've been particularly pleased with the way such things have been handled in our own county, since all applicants for assistance in this county are screened and deemed "needy" or else they don't get help. Large cities cannot screen welfare applicants as well, which is one of the reasons these people want to flock to the large cities. They can get benefits they really don't need, or deserve.

Residents spend more for food than national average

Deaf Smith County residents spent more than $100 for food per family last year than the national average, according to a report by the Standard Rate and Data Service on consumer markets.

Residents spent $1,364 per family for food during 1970 compared to the national average of $1,245. The local figure showed a larger increase over the state figure of $1,222.

The relatively good financial shape of county residents, aided by rising incomes, contributed to the sharp increase in food buying in this county, the report indicated.

Figures for the local area show that more money was spent in grocery stores, meat markets, supermarkets, delicatessens, bakeries and other food emporia than in any other direction.

The sales volume in these stores came to a grand total of $7,514,000 as compared with the previous year's $6,755,000.

In addition to this outlay, a sizeable amount of local money reached lunch rooms, restaurants and other places where food and drink are consumed on the premises.

Approximately 18 cents out of every dollar spent in local retail stores was for take-home food.

The report gives figures, also, on the amount of business done by other types of retail stores in the local area. Those selling cars and other automotive equipment had sales totaling $6,528,000.

General merchandise and department stores reported a volume of $2,121,000, as against $2,002,000 in 1969.

Those specializing in wearing apparel accounted for $1,602,000. The previous year's total was $1,589,000.

Sales of furniture and other home furnishings added up to $1,210,000. Last year they amounted to $1,383,000.

OLD FIRE HORSE

DALLAS (AP)—Like the old fire horses that couldn't stand still in the pasture when the fire bells rang, Chief Ocie C. Martin is going to carry his profession into retirement.

Fellow firemen presented him with a radio capable of picking up fire calls.

Texas State Tech has new courses

New technology programs in printing, interior design, automotive and avionics will be offered at the Mid-Continent Campus of Texas State Technical Institute at Amarillo beginning Sept. 1.

Also being offered at TSTI for the first time will be a one-year program in Meat Processing and Marketing, says Dr. J. N. Baker, General Manager of the Mid-Continent Campus of State Tech. The five new classes will bring to 12 the number of programs to be taught at State Tech when school begins Sept. 1.

Other programs being taught at State Tech include: Agricultural and Industrial Equipment Mechanics; Aircraft and Powerplant Mechanics; Construction Technology; Commercial Art and Advertising; Drafting and Design; Livestock and Ranch Operations and Technical Office Training.

Tuition at State Tech is $50 per trimester (a trimester is 15 weeks in length) with a school year consisting of three trimesters. Dormitory housing is available for single students and two-bedroom brick homes are available for married students. Meals are served in the student cafeteria three times each day—6 days each week.

Persons interested in enrolling in any of the 12 programs being offered at TSTI should write to the Registrar's Office at Box 4288 in Amarillo for complete information.

Financial assistance in the form of grants, loans, work-study programs and part-time employment is also available at TSTI. Students wanting to take advantage of the financial assistance programs at State Tech should make application for entrance as early as possible, says J. W. Sollis, Manager of Student Activities at TSTI.

A BUSY SMITHY

CHESNUT, Ill. (AP)—Long-fellow's village blacksmith worked under the spreading chesnut tree, but smithy Tom McKinney works throughout the countryside shoeing with a scientific touch.

McKinney measures hoof angle, hoof length, shoe weight and other data, somewhat difficult for a layman to understand.

He serves 31 stables in a 90-mile radius area to care for an estimated 1,500 horses and ponies.

We're sorry, but...

Everything possible is being done to assure dependable telephone service during the telephone work stoppage. Telephone switchboards are being manned and local and Long Distance dial equipment is being maintained.

Here are two ways you can help yourself have the best possible phone service:

1. Dial your own Long Distance calls. They will go through at low station-to-station rates. And they are not delayed by the work stoppage. (Check the front of your directory for complete dialing instructions on how to dial your own Long Distance calls.)
2. Look in the directory first when you're not sure of the local phone number. It's faster and will save you time.

We appreciate your patience and understanding.

Paul Abalos Show tomorrow night. Miss Gonzales is here for a few weeks visit and tap dancing lessons. She returns home to Corpus Christi next week.

Industry group sets rural talk

AUSTIN—The Texas Industrial Commission will hold its regular quarterly meeting in San Antonio July 22, discussing items ranging from opening a foreign office to development of rural areas.

The meeting will be held at La Mansion Motor Hotel beginning at 9 a.m.

Chester Wine of Corpus Christi, chairman of the nine-member commission, said the panel will hear from James Havey, director of international trade, on plans to open an office in Mexico City to help Texas manufacturers in creating export agreements.

The foreign office came out of a recent trade mission seminar to Mexico City which opened doors to many Texas goods previously purchased throughout other sections of the United States.

Jim Harwell, executive director of the TIC, will give a special report on the declining rural growth and unveil a special rural development project planned by the TIC.

Also included on the agenda will be a report on the new movie commission created by Gov. Preston Smith and on a joint project between the Industrial Commission and Texas Tourist Development Agency on an arts and crafts industrial project.

Reports are also planned on the recent furniture tour of the Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas areas to be most affected by any cutback in munitions manufacturing, a Japan-Texas council, the TIC 1972 advertising program and legislation affecting the Commission.

Members of the Commission, besides Chairman Wine, include Vice Chairman Warren G. Woodward of Dallas, Secretary-Treasurer C. Truett Smith of Wylie, John B. Turner Jr. of Houston, A. B. (Stormy) Shelton of Abilene, C. L. Cooke of Fort Worth, Lloyd L. Davis of Lubbock, Gerald R. Brown of Austin, and Homer Lee Bryce of Henderson.

Legion team faces possible play-off

The American Legion Redbirds played the Amarillo High Dusters in the second game of a doubleheader Wednesday in Amarillo with the hopes of a play-off berth riding on the outcome.

Amarillo Tascosa, Amarillo Palo Duro and the Hereford team were tied with 7-3 records going into the game. Tascosa and Palo Duro met in the first game of the doubleheader.

In American Legion baseball, the first and second place teams in each league qualify for the district play-offs. If the Redbirds defeated Amarillo High they would automatically qualify for the district tournament along with the winner of the Palo Duro-Tascosa game.

If the Redbirds lost to Amarillo High, they would have met the loser of the first game to determine the second representative.

The Redbirds, winners of their last six games, made their way to the top of the heap by defeating Palo Duro in a 9-8 game here Sunday. Palo Duro, up to that game, was the district leader with a 7-1 mark.

The locals have defeated Tascosa and Caprock twice this year and Amarillo High, Palo Duro and Canyon once. The only losses have been to Palo Duro and Canyon. The district play-offs this year will be held at Borger sometime before July 25.

There is no law requiring justices of the Supreme Court to be lawyers.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Dancers to make second tv appearances Friday

Grace Gonzales of Corpus Christi, houseguest of her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gonzales, 205 Beach, has been providing entertainment for numerous occasions in this area since her arrival early last week.

The 11-year-old Miss Gonzales has presented Mexican-Spanish-and-Flamenco dancing for the Paul Abalos Show, at Easter Lions Club and Tierra Blanca summer school assembly.

She will make her second appearance on the Abalos Show Friday on Channel 4 at midnight. She will do dance routines with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gus Gonzales, and her temporary tap dance teacher, "Lope" of Larrymore Dance Studios.

For the performances Mrs. Gonzales has sewn five costumes, including one for "Lope." Miss Gonzales came with her mother, Mrs. Jesus Gonzales, and will return home next week.

WORST FIELD

LOUISVILLE — Many racing experts called the 1971 Kentucky Derby the worst field in the history of the classic.

Only eight of the 20 horses in the race had won stakes.

Five had failed to win an allowance race, including a maiden who had earned only $2,030 in four races.

Faust Collier's condition critical

F. G. Collier, former ASCS office manager here, remained in critical condition at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Tuesday, suffering from injuries received last week in an accident at his home here.

Collier, 63, was injured Friday morning at his home south of town when a large well pipe fell on him. He was watching some men working on the well when the pipe they were pulling slipped and fell.

He was taken to the hospital in Canyon but was transferred immediately to Northwest Texas Hospital where he underwent surgery.

Louisiana is the only state whose laws are not based on English common law.

Adrian news

By ANN BEAVERS

Three members of the Adrian Future Farmers of America Chapter are attending the State FFA Convention in Houston this week. The three-day meeting of representatives of over 800 FFA Chapters from throughout the state will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships, and awards to outstanding members of the organization. The convention begins Wednesday and runs through Friday. Those going from Adrian are Kirk Garrison, Chris Burns and Joe Perrin. Ag teacher Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Perrin accompanied the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. John Horton spent 9 days at South Fork, Colorado along with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Horton of Carrizo Springs, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. John Rickard of Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. John Rickard Jr. and family of Robstown.

all had several friends with them. Well, after sleeping on the hardest bed in the world we got up around 5:30 to ice on the windshield and it had rained and the wood was wet. We like to freeze to death, before Brub family finally got a fire going. Dewey shivered for 2 hours, until the sun was way up there. The next night we spent in a Motel in Durango, before driving nearly 600 miles to get home to sleep in our own beds. I guess we are just the stay at home people.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stone of Seminole and Jan Cozart of Pampa is visiting this week with Mrs. Doris Pinnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pinnell and boys of Glenrio and Mrs. Doris Pinnell visited in Hereford, Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Chick Burney and children.

Mrs. Mary Jobe and Shelby, Mrs. Geraldine Kilgore and Tina of Ft. Stockton, California visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Alford Jobe and family.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Derrall Roberts of Bentonville, Ark. are here Saturday thru Friday with Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Webb and family attended the Show "Big Jake" and went to the Zoo, Sunday.

Mrs. Bobby Speed is in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo this week.

Pat Moore was entered in the Rodeo, three days last week at Earth.

Mrs. Earl Kromer returned home Tuesday from her daughters Mrs. C. B. Harrison and family in Ft. Worth. Mrs. Kromer had returned last week from a tour of Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Haley Shaw and Johnny of Weed, California spent Thursday overnight with Mrs. Emma Bales.

Mrs. Emma Bales spent Thursday and Friday in Amarillo with her daughter Mrs. O-pal Pond in honor of her birthday on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Webb of Amarillo came Sunday for their children Craig and Chris and were supper guests of the E.E. Allens. Craig and Chris has spent the past 12 days with their grandparents the Allens.

Mrs. Sidney Blankenship was honored with a Wedding Shower, Thursday in the home of Mrs. Harvey Bronniman. Hostesses include Mrs. Clint Homfield, Mrs. Bill James, Mrs. Jake Fortenberry, Mrs. Joe Lomax of Amarillo, Mrs. Oscar Bronniman of Amarillo, Mrs. Connie Baker of Hereford and Mrs. Nancy Kirby of Hereford.

Patty Fortenberry is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Speck Cox in Abernathy and attending summer school.

Mrs. Grady Skaggs honored Mrs. Lola Perry with a going away party in her home Saturday evening. There were several attending. Mrs. Perry was honored with gifts and all enjoyed Ice Cream, cookies, and drinks.

Church plans special program

A special program will be held today at the Mormon Church here in Hereford. A special guest speaker, Norman White, will be speaking.

White, a major in the Air Force and a jet pilot, has just recently returned from Vietnam where he also served as an LDS group leader on the Tan Son Nhut air base.

In 1953, White received his B. A. from Brigham Young University and his commission in the Air Force. He expects to finish his M. A. at Texas Tech this year in speech.

Even though he is married and has seven children, White still finds time to devote to the Church.

In the Mormon Church he has served as Bishop, Branch President, District President, Quorum President and is presently serving as a member of the Stake High Council of the Texas North Stake of the LDS Church.

The program will begin at 8 p. m. at the Mormon chapel at 900 Country Club Dr.

for Carl Yastrzemski,

Power Is

FAITH. That simple faith of our fathers is still the strongest force on the face of the earth. "It has the highest batting average for good," says outfielder Carl Yastrzemski, Boston Red Sox triple crown winner in 1967 and American League Batting champion in 1968. "I believe that God goes to bat for and with a fellow when the going gets rough. He adds power and purpose to everything I undertake.

This knowledge, coupled with my faith in all people, especially my team mates, has helped me field some of the toughest problems of my life."

To Yastrzemski, the 1967 Red Sox were the epitome of power. They won the pennant. "In a sea of doubt, we believed we could and we were. The enthusiastic support from our Winter Haven training center and our loyal New England fans spelled the difference in many close games." With all men God spells the difference between victory and defeat in the closest game of all, the game of life.

"Yes, I believe in an Omnipresent Power, the greatness of America, and the goodness of people. My personal family and my Red Sox family all find comfort, strength and happiness when we worship together.

Her first-time mother experiences rewarding

By JANIE BANNER
Staff Writer

"It's quite an experience being a mother for the first time," says Mrs. Larry Knowles who gave birth to a 6-pound 4-ounce baby girl little more than a month ago.

"But it's all worth it," she quickly added. "We're really enjoying her now that we're used to the crying." They named their daughter Rachael Christine.

Larry and Linda Knowles are relatively new in Hereford and are very pleased with the community.

"We love it here; the people are just so nice. They made us feel right at home from the very beginning," said Linda. "We lived in Lubbock two years and when you say hi to someone on the street they just look at you kind of funny."

"It's not that way here. Lubbock was a madhouse. Larry is just as pleased as I am about everything," she said.

They moved here in January after Knowles completed his studies at Texas Tech University. He is accountant with Kernaghan Harvey and Company.

When the opportunity arises Larry and Linda like to travel, so much in fact that they were on the road only one week before the baby arrived.

"While I was growing up, my parents took me to see 11 states and I really enjoyed it," said Mrs. Knowles. "Larry hardly got out of Texas. We hope to be able to take Rachael traveling often."

To pass idle time away at home, Linda likes to oil paint, decoupage and bake. She recently finished painting some cartoon characters for the baby's room. All the gifts they gave for Christmas last year were items she decoupage.

Linda would rather bake than cook any day. "You can be more decorative in baking," she said. And it helps to have a husband who likes sweets. They had to give them up for awhile before the baby came because of her diet.

An extremely rich cake that Linda says "is just delicious!" is:

CINNAMON CHOCOLATE CAKE

- 2 c. flour
- 2 c. sugar
- 1 stick butter or margarine
- one-half c. shortening
- 1 c. water
- one-fourth c. cocoa
- one-half c. buttermilk
- 2 eggs
- 1 t. soda
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1 t. cinnamon

Bring to rapid boil: shortening, water and cocoa. Sift together flour and sugar. Mix all together. Bake at 400 degrees for 35-40 minutes.

Mrs. Knowles' mother looked long and hard for a fried pie recipe that tasted just right and couldn't find one.

So she took the package from a fried pie and worked with the listed ingredients, adding and subtracting, for about a year until she got it just the way she wanted it.

Linda passes it on:

FRIED PIES

- 1 1/2 c. flour
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1 T. sugar
- one-eighth t. soda
- 2 T. shortening
- About 1 T. buttermilk

Mrs. Larry Knowles and daughter Rachael

Combine all ingredients together and roll out dough as desired. Makes about one dozen shells.

Larry and Linda like Blueberry Filling best in their fried pies. However, any filling desired may be used.

BLUEBERRY FILLING

- 3/4 c. blueberries
- 1 c. sugar
- one-fourth c. flour
- dash salt
- 1 T. lemon juice (if desired)
- 2 T. butter or margarine

Combine and heat until thickened. Let cool before filling shells or the shells will fall apart.

The Knowles, avid football fans, haven't missed a single game at Tech. Linda said "I think I enjoyed going to watch the people more than the players. They get so excited over the game!"

They love all outdoor sports but waterskiing heads the list.

Knowles can be found evenings and on weekends in the yard, says his wife. "He's a yard nutt. Most women are golf widows, but I'm a yard widow," she smiled.

Linda is director of ways and means for the Jaycee-Ettes. She plans to become a member of the Hereford Chapter Order of Eastern Star sometime in the future.

Her husband is secretary of Jaycees and has membership in Rotary. They attend the Church of Christ.

Workshop continues

Children ages first through sixth grades who are taking part in the 4th annual summer music workshop sponsored by the First United Methodist Church, will present their final performance of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" Sunday at 7 p. m. in the church sanctuary.

Other performances are being presented each morning this week from 9:30 to 11:30. The program began Monday morning. Bob Wert, music director, is in charge.

1968 summer music workshop theme was "worship." 1969's performance was "Noah and the Ark" and last year was

There are many activities at the federal level which directly affect agricultural interests in Texas, and I would like to devote this week's report to some of those which are vitally important to Texas farmers and ranchers.

Agriculture and associated industries play a large and significant role in our statewide economy and matters concerning farmers and ranchers either directly or indirectly affect us all.

I noted that the Agriculture Department's July 1 report on farm and ranch activity showed Texas has some 1.6 million head of livestock in feeder lots. The Texas figure was the second largest in the nation and represents a 30 per cent increase compared with one year ago. I am hopeful that most of this increase is due to real agricultural growth in our state. Yet, some of this growth must be attributed to persistent drought conditions in Texas which are forcing ranchers to sell livestock at an accelerated rate.

The federal government must continue to render the drought assistance which is necessary to maintain the viability of the Texas agriculture industry. Much has been done. Yet, I still feel that more assistance is needed.

During the first two days of this month, Agriculture Undersecretary J. Phil Campbell made a tour of the Texas drought area, talking with farmers, ranchers, bankers, agriculture editors and others in 10 cities and small towns from Amarillo to San Antonio. Although less publicized, I view this tour as equal in importance to the April 21st tour of Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin. It was Mr. Campbell's assignment to gauge the effectiveness of the federal assistance which has already been made available, and to discover additional specific assistance which might still be necessary.

As a result of federal interest in the drought, Texas farmers and ranchers are now eligible for Farmers Home Administration emergency loans in 235 counties, hay transportation and emergency livestock feed in 168

Miss Kathy Roberts presented Mrs. Noland with a gift in behalf of the girls.

Preceding the party the group cleaned their meeting place, the Masonic Hall.

Guests present for the party were Mmes. Jack Brown, L. H. Lookingbill Jr., and Msrs., Mmes. and families Paul Scott, L. J. Clark, Charlie Brown, D. R. Roberson and Johnny Brownlow.

Also Judy, Shelly and Barbara Scott, Becky Anderson, Jeannie Carnahan, Barbara Poindexter, Sandy Gore, Scottie Clark, Craig Lookingbill and Jennifer Higgins.

Other Rainbow Girls in attendance were Kay Hagar, Denise Strange, Christy Tatom, Cindy McWhorter, Melissa Johnson, Patsy Brownlow, Teresa Locke, Elaine Brooke, Becky Oglesby, Lyndi Rojek, Leta Nunley, Lana Clark, Cathy Lookingbill, Sue Roberts, Lynnette Cawthon, Janet McWhorter, Beverly Phillips, Karen Scott and Mrs. J.A. ready accepted at a college or university, but who suddenly finds that the drought has taken away educational funding, fully merits an education loan.

Although not directly related to the drought, I was encouraged this week to learn that the Farmers Home Administration is now able to participate with local banks in farm loans to customers who are in need of additional operating funds, Cooperation between the federal government and local banks is required, in my opinion, to provide the financial help necessary to enable a qualified farmer or rancher to deal with today's financial difficulties.

In the Congress, the Agricultural industry is threatened by an effort to further reduce the ceiling on farm payments. The 1970 Agriculture Act carried a $55,000 annual limitation and it constituted a commitment to the farmer that such a ceiling could be depended upon for three full years. Further reduction now would break that commitment and I shall oppose any effort to reduce the ceiling on farm payments on this Congress.

There are several other matters before the Congress of vital interest to Texas farmers and ranchers. Among these are farm credit proposals and additional funding for rural electrification. There is much discussion on these and other Agricultural matters. I am carefully considering these issues in an effort to determine how best to serve Texas interests.

I have also introduced legislation which would establish a student loan program to insure that rural youth are not denied higher education due simply to family economic hardship as a result of drought or other natural disaster. The plight of students from farm families and rural communities suffering economic hardship due to the drought has thus far been overlooked. A young man or young woman, al-

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Restaurant-on-wheels big spark for aggressive Hereford Rotarians

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

It is not unusual to attend a big community gathering and find yourself catered to from a large mobile van, equipped with all the necessary cooking facilities and operated by a corp of enthusiastic men.

The scene is a frequent occurrence for the Hereford Rotary Club. For the past year, it has catered to "just about every size gathering you can imagine."

The "restaurant on wheels" is only one of the many civic projects carried out by the club, which this year celebrated its 26th anniversary.

Chartered May 16, 1945, the Hereford Rotary Club began with a meager 20 members. It now has grown to some 50 active members who meet each Monday at noon for an hour of fellowship, eating and entertainment.

The large mobile-home-turned-restaurant is the organization's largest money-making project although it has been used only one year. During the past year the Rotarians have catered a filling meal of potato salad, beans and barbecued meat for some five gatherings, the largest of which drew 15,000.

"It all started when we found out we needed another place to store all our barbecue equipment," said newly-elected president Ken Rogers. "Charles Frye donated the trailer, which is about a 27-footer, and we went in and took out all the things that were in it.

"We took out the stove and put our own in and two steam cookers to cook the beans in. It has a sink with running water and plenty of room for the storage supplies."

While the Rotarians' success with their catering service has gone over well, the members have not let the rest of their time go idle. Besides catering to the public, the organization sponsors an American Field Service student, contributes heavily to the Campfire program and contributes to Camp Wigwam, a special camp for the mentally retarded. The Rotary Club was a major force behind the building of the

DISHING IT OUT — Members of the Rotary Club dish out the food during one of their many barbecue catering jobs during the past year. Here the members serve people attending the annual Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op meeting in the Bull Barn. About 1,000 persons attended this year's meeting and the Rotarians fed every one of them.

Just last week, the Rotary Club paid for the picnic lunch for the visiting group of some 40 AFS students who stopped here for the weekend.

Students from Hereford High School are frequent guests of the club during the school year. The students are invited to attend one of the club's meetings to "acquaint them with the Rotary Club and give the club's members a chance to get acquainted with some of the students."

Another "rewarding" project by the Rotarians was the organization of the first, and hopefully annual, Civic Club Golf Tournament which pits each of the city civic organizations against each other on the local golf course. The Rotarians, after originating the idea for the tournament, walked off with the first place trophy this year.

Perhaps the most unusual drawing card of Rotary is its membership selection. Members are selected on a classification basis and only one person of any one profession can be a member.

"Having been selected a member of Rotary," Rogers said, "this will mean the person is the only one in the club in his particular occupation."

"This makes, I feel, it one of the unique things of the club." The classification basis for selection of a member was the original concept of the club when it was established, along with the weekly meeting to meet with the other members to discuss the problems and ways they could help the city and one another.

"There is not supposed to be two men of identical occupations in the club, unless one member who is already in has been there 15 years or more.

"He then can be termed 'senior active' and gives up his classification to a new member of the same occupation. But, he is still a member."

The Rotarians also boast one of the most strict attendance rules of any civic club. In order for a person to receive a perfect attendance pin, he cannot miss a meeting without making it up six days prior to or six days after the missed meeting.

This make-up also must be done at a meeting of another Rotary Club besides the one here.

"If they don't do this, they miss out entirely on perfect attendance," Rogers said.

In many other civic clubs, a member can make-up a meeting by attending a board of directors meeting, working a little harder with special projects, or meeting with another club. Most clubs do not set the 12-day limitation for make-ups.

"It is really remarkable," Rogers said. "Despite this strict rule, we get about 85 per cent attendance."

Rotary was one of the first international civic clubs and now boasts some 14,802 organizations with 701,000 members in 149 different countries. The Hereford Rotary Club is a member of district 573 which runs from the Odessa-Midland area north to the Oklahoma State line. There are 46 clubs in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Benson attended a reunion of Mrs. Benson's relatives at Pampa, 1st Sunday. During this week, several families have visited the Bensons, and on Tuesday evening they and several of the visiting relatives attended the showing of "Texas" at Palo Duro. Those visiting the Benson home during the week included Mrs. C. L. Goforth, Mrs. Junior Eubanks and Steve, all of San Jacinto, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Goforth, of Macon, Ga., Mrs. Cuba Tomahack, of Layton, Utah, Jack Johnson, Rockport, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson, Amarillo.

Gulfport, Miss. They went with their daughter, Mrs. Lynn Fisher and baby, as they were moving to be with Lynn, stationed there with the Navy. They were accompanied by their grandson, Doyle Vogler, son of the Walter Voglers. They also visited another son, Leon, and his family at Houston. The Voglers and Doyle, then flew home from Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrews flew to Jacksonville, Florida on Friday night spent the weekend attending an Andrews family reunion at Lake Butler, near there. On Sunday night, they went to Biloxi Mississippi and visited Mrs. Andrews sister, Mrs. Wallace White, Mr. White and family until catching a plane home from there on Tuesday. The Andrews had planned to attend this family reunion as Clark has done quite a bit of research on the family had visited there two or three years ago and had contacted these people, sharing information from interviewing people and searching old documents. The grandfather Andrews came to Texas around 1875 and contact was lost with his family, so Clark and Sue found it interesting and had a good time with their "kinfolk." Foreign Exchange students visiting the home of Rev. and Mrs. Sam Ogan, during last weekend were Omar Mullahkhal of Jalabad, Afghanistan, and Francis Peart, of Pretoria, South Africa. They were there from Thursday night until Monday morning. Sammy Ogan accompanied the boys on some of the visits around the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baldwin went during the weekend taking Mrs. B. H. Baldwin and Miss Viola Keene to Denton, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Wesley Earp and family and also they went to Dallas to visit another daughter, Mrs. Ben Dean and family. Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Keene remained to visit several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Sage, of Lubbock, Virgil Barber and three guests from Lubbock spent the weekend visiting the James Bullards near Las Vegas. The Bullards are spending the summer on a ranch there, where he is overseeing cattle on ranch land. They also got to visit with the Bullards son, Tommy and family from Hooker, Okla. as they were spending the weekend there also.

Miss Alma Andrews went with her sister, Mrs. Charles King and Mr. King, of Amarillo to Duncan, Okla., last weekend to visit relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Harder visited his mother, Mrs. G.H. Harder in a Meade, Kan. hospital last Sunday. She is improving from a serious illness. On Tuesday, they went to Clinton Okla. to attend funeral services for Harder's brother-in-law, Roland Wallace. He died suddenly on Saturday. The funeral was in the Clinton Church of Christ. J. D. Norman and Gerald Harder also went from here to the funeral.

The Tony Vigil family visited their relatives at Las Vegas, N.M. from Friday until Monday.

Auditions set for new drama

The director for "They Came From Spain," the story of the march of the Conquistadors to the Texas Plains, will hold auditions at 1 p. m. Sunday, July 18. The place will be the ballroom (Room 202) in the Activities Center, West Texas State Campus, on the Spur road in Canyon. This will be for men only. Applicants will be asked to read some material which will be given them at the auditions to study for a few minutes.

"They Came From Spain" will play in September and October, on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Applicants must be available on these dates and for rehearsals from Aug. 15 during late afternoons and evenings.

Applicants also will be asked to participate in a screen test at 4 p. m. the same day.

"They Came From Spain" is the story of the Conquistadors who came here — many groups of Spaniards ranged the world in the 1500s — explored more than any other men from any other nation. They walked farther, rode harder, dared more, and opened up a new continent to the world.

The Indians who had never seen horses thought a rider and a horse were one beast — with one head and four legs, and the Indians described the guns of the Spaniards as "talking sticks which spoke and made animals fall dead." They also described the walking soldiers as "The men with shining dishes on their heads."

After two years of struggle, marching from Compastela, Mexico, Coronado led his group of Spaniards into the Palo Duro Canyon where "They Came From Spain" will play. Their stay here was the turning point of the journey for most of the army, a place of rest and refuge after their wanderings over the plains — the endless sea of grass. These were the Conquistadors.

There also will be performances on Sept. 4, and Oct. 10. The show starts at 8:15 p. m. CDT. Prices are adults $2.50 and children $1. For tickets and further information, persons may write to "They Came From Spain," Box 268, Canyon, 79015 or call 806-655-2182.

STILL MISSING
PEORIA, Ill. — Mrs. Alice J. Stoller was quite upset when someone stole her purse from behind a counter at the paint store where she works.

The purse contained $29 in cash along with credit cards, driver's license, credit cards and other items.

Later Ola Lawrence reported the theft of her purse at a store where she was employed.

But another purse was left in its place.

Police examined the purse left at the store and surmised it was the one stolen earlier from Mrs.

Stoller. It was returned to her with everything intact except the money was gone. The Lawrence purse still is missing.

Schools agree on program

LUBBOCK—Graduate students working toward a masters degree in animal science from Texas Tech University can now complete almost half of their required course work at West Texas State University in Canyon under a new cooperative agreement between the two institutions.

According to a joint announcement this week by Dr. Thomas A. Langford, interim dean of the Texas Tech University Graduate School, and Dr. James B. Roberts, graduate school dean at West Texas State, purpose of this cooperative plan is "to offer a superior program of graduate study in agriculture by bringing together the faculties and facilities of these two universities."

Dr. Langford pointed out that requirements for the master's degree in animal science as set forth in the Graduate College Bulletin of Texas Tech University will apply, "except where modification is necessary to implement the intent of the program."

The degree will be awarded by Texas Tech University.

However, subject to provisions of an agreement between Texas Tech and West Texas State establishing the cooperative arrangement, a student may undertake course work at both institutions. His advisory committee will consist of members of both faculties, with the chairman from Texas Tech.

Provisions of the agreement stipulate that:

The administration of the student's program is to be coordinated by the deans of the respective graduate colleges, and courses must be taught by faculty who are members of the graduate faculty at their respective institutions;

Prior to beginning graduate study under the cooperative program, a student must gain admission to both graduate colleges;

Only those courses acceptable for graduate credit at Texas Tech University may be used in the program, and up to 12 hours of course work at West Texas State University may be presented for credit toward the degree; and Although research may be done at the facilities of either institution, the student must enroll for the thesis at Texas Tech University, and the thesis must be submitted for final approval of the graduate dean at Texas Tech.

Pointing out that this agreement is a first in the establishment of such cooperative undertakings between the two universities, Dr. Anson R. Bertrand, dean of the Tech College of Agricultural Sciences, said it offers "perhaps even more exciting potential as the basis for establishing many more similar programs, some of which are already in preliminary planning stages."

In terms of specific benefits, Dean Bertrand cited the fact that the program will not only be educationally sound and desirable but also significantly more convenient for students living in the Canyon area who can now do a major portion of their course work at West Texas State before having to transfer to Tech to complete the master's degree requirements.

"Moreover, the cooperative approach presents both universities with the opportunity to pool their educational resources to serve better the needs of students in the entire West Texas area," he added.

"It will permit Texas Tech and West Texas State to use laboratories and other facilities for teaching and research at both institutions as a means of broadening the instructional base through which can be offered a vastly superior graduate degree program.

Anniversaries observed Sunday

More than 100 persons joined the Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Brink, 211 Sunset, and their son, Jim and his wife Trish, Sunday to observe their wedding anniversaries.

Rev. and Mrs. Brink celebrated their silver wedding anniversary. They were married July 17, 1946 in Houston, Brink met his wife, the former Dorothy McCleary, at church camp during the summer of 1941.

Jim Brink and his wife were married one year ago. They are presently living in Ft. Worth where they are students at Texas Christian University.

Brink is finishing his masters degree and his wife will complete her BA and graduate August 20.

Hosts along with the honored couples were the Brinks' second son David, a junior at TCU, and daughter Nancy, a junior at Hereford High.

In addition to house guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McCleary of Houston and Harriet of Hillsboro, parents and sister of Mrs. Brink, the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Miller and son Kirk and Dr. and Mrs. John Knowles, all of Amarillo were out-of-town guests at the open house.

Rev. and Mrs. Brink came to this city in 1963 when the Rev. Brink became pastor of the First Christian Church. He was born in Tampa, Fla. Mrs. Brink is a native of San Antonio.

The couple did undergraduate work at Rice where Mrs. Brink graduated. Her husband graduated from TCU and in 1950 graduated from Brite Divinity School in Ft. Worth.

The Jim Brinks left Hereford Sunday evening.

Texas laws may change your tax status

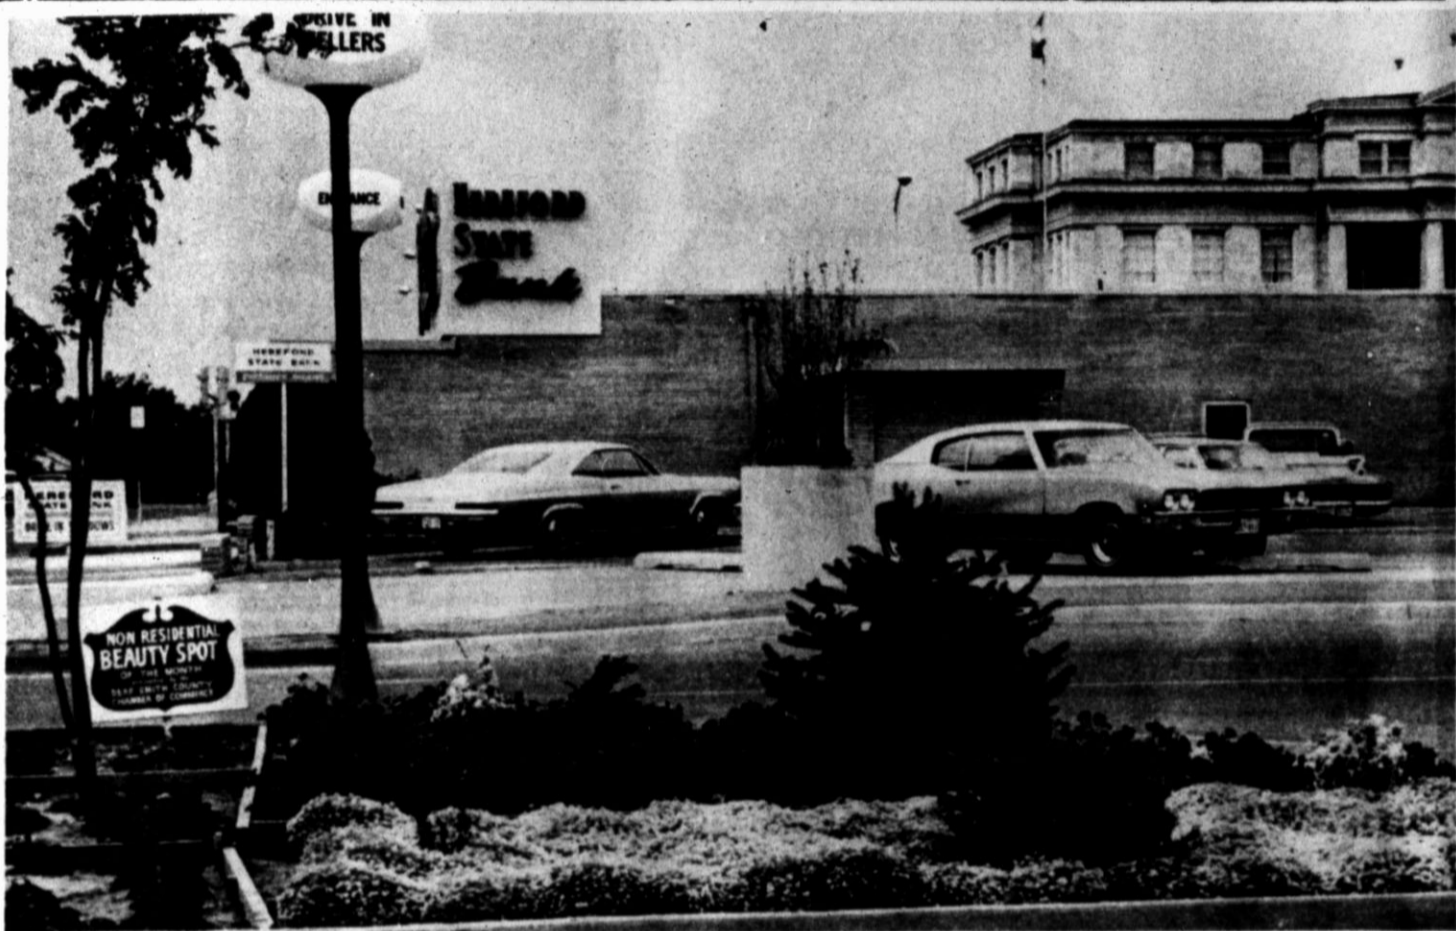

It's not any news to Texans that folks in Texas are different and that the laws may also be different.

There are still a lot of Texans around that don't know about the effect of the Texas Community Property Law on their federal income tax. Retired Texans can often get a substantial tax saving through having a double retirement income credit on their tax return.

On the other hand they may also lose their retirement income credit through the community half of the income earned by their spouse.

You can get Publication 55 from Internal Revenue Service office. This publication tells you how community property affects you.

Texas school children will get immunizations

Texas school children will soon be among the best immunized in the country. The recent session of the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Education Code to require immunizations against certain childhood diseases as a condition for entering school.

"This new state law will have great impact on the immunization level of the school population and, eventually, all the population of Texas," says Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner. "We are delighted with the law."

The Texas State Department of Health now has authority to set the rules and regulations for implementation of the compulsory immunizations. The Board of Health has set January 1, 1972 as the date by which all children's immunization series must have begun. School districts that have required compulsory immunizations in the past will still maintain their usual September deadlines for proving immunizations to enter school.

The immunizations previously required for all school children were set only by the individual school district, but now the state is requiring immunizations for up to six childhood diseases in some cases.

Elementary students will now be required to be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, polio and smallpox. If there is no history of measles, that shot will also be required. All children under 12 years of age must also be immunized against rubella.

The number of required immunizations is fewer for junior high, high school, and college-level students. Junior high and high school requires immunizations against only diphtheria, polio, tetanus, and smallpox. College requires full immunization against polio if the student is under 19 years of age, and immunization against diphtheria, tetanus, and smallpox within the past ten years.

Nearly every student in the state will be covered by this broad new law. Immunizations will be required of students in kindergartens that are associated with elementary schools, all the elementary or secondary public schools, private or parochial schools, academies, colleges, universities, schools for the blind, deaf, mentally ill and mentally retarded. The only children exempted are those with religious conflicts, or medical problems — those that a physician determines would be injurious to health.

Dr. Peavy said he "urged all parents to contact their physician or public health clinic now, and begin their children's immunization program long before they enter school."

Buffalo on the hospital grounds

You'll have to read this story to believe it. After reading the following summary, check the book out at Deaf Smith County Library.

THE BUFFALO DOCTOR

By Jean Cummings
Buffalo and hospitals don't mix but...
Well, you'll find out all about it in this charming account of the life of an osteopath and his family. The doctor's main interest, outside of his family and his patients, is the care and feeding of a herd of buffalo that he keeps right outside his hospital.

The hospital itself is in Stanwood, Michigan, a town so small that it can hardly be said to exist. When the Cummingses first came to Stanwood, right after the doctor began practice, there were no buffalo anywhere near the place.

But the doctor determined he would raise a herd. He thought it would be good for his patients to see them and he knew it would be good for him.

Here, Jean Cummings, wife of the doctor, tells the madcap adventures of her husband and children—the establishment of the herd; naming each animal; Kahtanka crowned head bull; the donkey who thought he was a buffalo; first calves and buffalo baby announcements; a sexy cow named Mable to seduce Kahtanka; a bath for a buffalo; an exotic dancer in a buffalo-fur fashion show.

What's more—623 stitches to sew up a youth; strange patients like the fat lady at the circus; the arrival of the hump-backs; the toothless crippled horse; the baby pig; goats in the basement—and that's just for starters, because there's plenty more.

In addition, there are herds of facts and information about buffalo history, the killing off of buffalo, and anything else you could possibly want to know about this monstrous but lovable animal.

A combination of humor, tension, and tragedy, this delightful account of an osteopath, his family, and their buffalo tells you all about Why They Call Him the Buffalo Doctor.

LONG SNAKE

BEAUMONT — Whiskey drinkers who see snakes should have been around the Bamboo Lounge a few nights ago.

Joe Bowen, owner of the lounge, said he found a snake hiding behind a counter. All Bowen could see was its head.

"I went back out to the car for the shotgun" Bowen recounted. "He started moving out from behind the counter and he was about half way out from behind it by the time I got back."

The owner shot the critter and went over to it.

"I started picking him up — and I just kept picking him up. It kind of shook me how big he was. You just don't see many snakes that big."

The rattlesnake was six feet long.

GOLD GLOVE TO AGEE

NEW YORK — Although he was sidelined with a rib injury, center fielder Tommy Agee of the New York Mets received the Rawlings Gold Glove award this spring for his outstanding fielding in 1970.

Couple married 74 years

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson and great, great grandson...

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson, 131 Avenue E, had their 74th wedding anniversary Sunday. They were married July 11, 1897 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Burk at Royse City. Mrs. Wilson is the former Miss Annie Eliza Burk.

The couple came to Deaf Smith County in 1927 and stayed several years before returning to Borden County at Gail, Texas for a few years.

They returned in 1938 to DSC where Wilson owned a farm near Summerfield. He farmed until his retirement in 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, 94 and 91, respectively, had five children. Still living are Mrs. W.W. Davison, 117 Avenue E, Earl Wilson of Snyder and Byrd Wilson of McKinney. Obe Wilson died two years ago and Roy Lee last year.

The couple has 15 grandchildren, 48 great grandchildren and 11 great great grandchildren.

Mr. Wilson spent Sunday visiting his wife who was hospitalized six days prior to their anniversary date.

Wool's Still Competitive

MELBOURNE — Wool which has had to withstand a challenge by synthetics in recent years is now the fiber of the superjet age.

Many American airlines ordering superjets have or plan to buy wool carpeting and wool blankets, North American director of the International Wool Secretariat, Derek Damerall, told the secretariat board meeting here.

He said United Air Lines has chosen wool carpeting upholstery and blankets for its new superjets, and other airlines were considering it.

Damerall said carpet wool consumption in the United States increased in 1968 by nine percent to 21 million pounds clean, and represented 13 per cent of the total fibers used for carpets.

Political campaigns begin shaping up at state capitol

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — The 1972 political campaigns already are beginning to shape up — 11 months before primary election dates.

William P. Hobby, president and executive editor of the Houston Post, is the first announced candidate for lieutenant governor. State Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall is expected to enter the race soon.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes is seeking advice of supporters on how he should run his race for governor. Barnes announced last month he will be a candidate, and has been busy traveling most of the time since.

Uvalde rancher-banker Dolph Briscoe moved quietly ahead with plans for a gubernatorial campaign in spite of Barnes' early entry. Briscoe reportedly has a preliminary campaign event (a youth rally) scheduled for Uvalde July 23-24.

Gov. Preston Smith keeps hinting he may seek a third term, and a lot of folks are convinced he means it.

Former Sen. Ralph Yarborough says frankly he is considering running either for governor or the U. S. Senate. Republican Sen. John Tower has no hope of possible Democratic opponents for Tower include Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, State Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso and Houston attorney John L. Hill.

Top Democrats cite the need for a strong united party effort, particularly for the November presidential campaign, convention nominations battles and the U. S. Senate race. That's why they are keeping a close eye on naming a successor to State Democratic Chairman Dr. Elmer C. Baum of Austin.

Baum denied a published report he already had resigned but didn't rule out the possibility he may step aside soon. Two aides to the Governor have been working on selection of a replacement chairman.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court overturned a lower court decision that a Tarrant County charitable institution (YMCA) is not liable for damages to a boy who lost an eye in a camp accident, and ordered a new trial.

In other recent actions, the High Court:

*Directed Austin trial court not to issue any more orders to prevent service by the new Southwest Airlines between San Antonio, Houston and Dallas.

*Held Fort Worth and Waco prosecutors must go ahead with pending cases involving Sunday closing laws before they file any more injunction suits.

*Sent back to intermediate court for further consideration a Zavala County widow's suit against a butane gas supplier as the result of the accidental death of her husband in an explosion and fire.

*Set a July 21 hearing in Humble Oil and Refining Company's appeal from lower court findings that it must pay to the state $92,788 in taxes on oil taken from lease on Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, federal property.

*Set a July 21 hearing in a case involving whether corporations can claim exemption from the penalty provision of state security sale laws. Two Lubbock men brought the case.

*Held Exchange Bank and Trust Company of Dallas must pay to a construction concern $25,725 on forged company checks which is cashed by mistake.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Smith named Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. of Lubbock chief justice of the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals in Beaumont. Appointment removed Dies from speculation as a possible candidate for U. S. senator, lieutenant governor or congressman.

Smith appointed former State Rep. Jack Ray McLaughlin of Fort Worth as commissioner of labor statistics, succeeding in g Tommy V. Smith.

Other Smith appointees during the past week include Bowie County Criminal District Attorney Guy E. Jones of Texarkana as criminal district attorney succeeding Jones in Bowie County; Bell County Court-at-Law Judge Donald L. Busby of Belton 146th district judge; Dr. William Kenneth Thurmond of Fort Worth and Dr. Charles Mas Cole of Dallas (re-appointed) to State Board of Health.

Curtis C. Gunn of San Antonio and Jack C. McKenzie of Corpus Christi are chairman and vice-chairman of the new Texas Motor Vehicle Commission to police auto dealers. Other members are H. G. Andrews Jr. of Stamford, Dick McClain of Houston, Fenner Tubbs Sr. of Lubbock and W. O. Bankston of Dallas.

Richard Keahey, native of San Angelo, was appointed executive director of Texas Veterans Land Program succeeding W.W. Glass who held the job eight years.

Jack Barmer of Wichita Falls, Robert L. Templeton of Amarillo and Morgan K. Talbot of McAllen are chairman, vice-chairman and secretary of Texas Bar Foundation.

DEPOSITS VP — A recent statewide survey showed bank deposits steadily increasing — some to record levels at mid-year.

Mid-year records are considered unusual, and the boom is regarded as proof of the basic economic strength in spite of drought, unemployment and other problems.

At the same time, major Texas banks went along with eastern institutions and raised prime interest rates. Increase was from 5.5 per cent to six per cent for prime loans to quality borrowers.

Eastern banks also raised interest rates on time accounts which may attract even more deposits in savings accounts in the next quarter of 1971.

SAFETY PROGRAM — Governor Smith approved three Texas Alcohol Safety Action projects designed to control abusive drinker-drivers, regarded as the number one traffic safety menace in Texas.

Applications went to National Highway Traffic Safety Administration for federal funding approval.

Projects are in Harris County ($311,200) Dallas ($239,300) and Central Texas (Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, Milam, and Mills counties, $300,700).

Aim is to identify problem drinker-drivers, apply a variety of possible solutions and evaluate results as to the overall effectiveness.

RULES CHANGED — Ten county commissioners courts have voted to amend 1971-72 game and fish regulations proposed by Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Legislature this year authorized ed five more counties to reject proclamations passed by PWC. Similar authority had been given 18 counties, subject to vote of commissioners courts.

Ten counties which disapproved portions of proclamations are Edwards, Dimmit, Hays, Kendall, Medina, Real, Robertson, Sutton and Uvalde. Bandera, Coke, Crockett, Frio, Kerr, Kinney, Lampasas, Menard, Reagan, San Saba, Schleicher, Val Verde and Zavala counties approved laws as submitted.

BOARD TO MEET — State Banking Board scheduled a Thursday (July 15) meeting to consider dates for hearings on 56 new state bank charter applications.

Board also will consider new rules and regulations in accord with recent legislation, charter applications which may be ready for vote, and requests by banks for changes in business locations. Meeting will be the first time since Dr. Elmer Baum resigned last May. James Lindsey of College Station was named to the Board to succeed Baum.

SHORT SNORTS

Air Force planes began spraying last week to halt the spread of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis, a mosquito-spread disease.

Texas received one of eight major grants in the nation ($370,122) for an area-wide model project on aging, to be located in Houston.

Texas disabled veterans will receive free 1972 auto license plates under a new program.

Properties of Cooperas Cove Industrial Foundation Inc., non-profit corporation to promote, are not exempt from ad valorem taxes, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

Board of Mental Health-Mental Retardation has approved near Corpus Christi, according to University of Texas Marine Science Institute at Port Aransas.

Strain of bacteria that can "chew up" oil slicks is ready for its first environmental test.

Rebecca Hickman
Miss Hickman to be presented in piano recital

Rebecca Hickman will be featured Saturday in recital by Mrs. Joe Hacker in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, with the event set to begin at 8 p. m.

Miss Hickman will be presented in her Senior Piano Recital. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hickman, 814 Avenue K.

Miss Hickman will play two Bach inventions, the Beethoven Sonata Pathetique, Brahms Waltz in E minor, Prelude by Gershwin and Polichinelle by Rachmaninoff.

She has formerly played with the Hereford High School band and stage band, earned high ratings in the National Federation Festival and the National Guild auditions and plans to attend Oral Roberts University in the fall for continuation in her study of music.

All interested persons are invited to attend the recital.

Sale with a Reason... and Not Just an Excuse... A Sale of Absolute Necessity!

WHY SUCH DRASTIC ACTION? Frankly speaking — we don't like this kind of a sale. Too sensational — too drastic. But there's not much we can do about it for we have a serious inventory problem. WE'RE OVERSTOCKED with far too much merchandise for a store our size. We're NOT having financial difficulties — NOT trying to raise cash — NOR are we in distress. We simply must dump HUGE surplus stocks at any cost to adjust our inventory. We have altogether too much of everything with a serious over-stocked condition that is not healthy for any business. We're an aggressive firm, maintaining an enviable reputation and selling only the top brand name lines. But — like all well-rated firms there comes a time when mistakes occur and adjustments are in order. That's why profit is not the object of this sale. DUMPING STOCKS — REDUCING INVENTORY and stimulating business is OUR ONLY REASON for this sudden and drastic move. We consider it good business to take our losses now — swallow our pride and admit our mistakes. Nothing wrong in that — is there? That's why we have ripped, cut and slashed prices in every department — why you can save 20%, 50% — yes, even 75%. So — come shed a tear with us while we bury our mistakes and take our losses.
