Water Use Is Soaring In CRMWD

Daily water production is nearing the 50 million gallon mark for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Sustained 100-degree plus weather in the district territory has pushed the daily demands up steadily and Tuesday CRMWD porduced 48,552,000 gallons from its facilities.

Odessa required 23,440,000 gallons Tuesday as storage held steady. All 58 city wells there are on production to meet peaking demands, and the balance came through the district's pipelines. This included 11,400,000 gallons directly from Lake J. B. Thomas and 8,600,000 gallons from the Martin County well field. Actually, 26,600,000 gallons of the well field yeild was in lake water stored there during the winter months.

Big Spring, together with the Cosden - Cabot complex, drew 12,133,000 gallons Tuesday , and the district reservoir north of the city lost a foot of storage. Continued peak demand will mean that the city wells and Moss Creek supplies will be utilized to meet needs.

Snyder took 3,279,000 gallons Tuesday as high temperatures kept water use at a peak. Storage is holding steady here.

The combined oil companies took 8,500,000 gallons from Lake Thomas and 1,200,000 from Moss Creek Lake for repressuring purposes. These contracts, said E. V. Spence, general manager, helped finance the district facilities and also represent sale of water which normally would be lost through evaporation.

Like the Martin County well field, part of the Moss Creek supply is water which came originally from Lake Thomas during periods of slack demand in winter months.

All demands are being met without difficulty, said Spence, because of the planned steps in using peaking facilities.

Double-Jeopardy Change Passes

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate refused today to broaden the exemption for small boarding houses from the public accommodations section of its civil rights bill.

As the measure stands, it would exempt owner-operated establishments having no more than five rooms for rent from the provisions against racial discrimination.

Sen. John S. Cooper, R-Ky., offered an amendment to raise this to 10 rooms, but the Senate rejected it by a vote of 51-35.

A vote of 79-17 approved a Southern sponsored "double jeopardy" amendment after it was modified so it woutd not apply to state laws.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., bars a person from being tried twice when the same act constitutes both a crime under federal law and criminal contempt of court.

A similar amendment was approved Wednesday by a 49-48 vote, but it was wiped out because of the parliamentary situation existing at the time of the cloture vote.

Overnight it was modified by Ervin to make clear that a person could be prosecuted for criminal contempt for violating an anti-discrimination injunction obtained under the bill even if he had been acquitted in a state court for acts involving the same circumstances.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, said that with this change he was willing to accept the amendment.

He had expressed concern that Ervin's amendment as originally offered would "destroy the effective enforcement" of the section of the bill banning discrimination in restaurants, hotels and other places of public accommodation.

Earlier the Senate got in such a tangle over an amendment offered by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., that it put it aside for the time being.

Long's amendment was the first called up today as the Senate proceeded under the strict limit on debate that went into effect Wednesday after cloture was adopted by a history making 71-29 vote.

Leaders estimated the battle over the bill now could be concluded, and the measure passed, by the end of next week.

Long's amendment was offered to the section of the bill authorizing the withholding of federal funds from programs in which discrimination is practiced.

An amendment to strike out this part of the bill, offered by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., was rejected Wednesday, 69-25.

Long said his amendment was designed "to make sure the bill doesn't do what its sponsors say it doesn't."

Plans Change In Tactics For Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's new chief counsel says he plans to withdraw a request for a sanity hearing in order to concentrate on appeals for a new trial.

Clayton Fowler, who took over as Ruby's fifth head lawyer this week, said Wednesday he decided on the change in strategy because a sanity hearing now would be premature.

Judge Joe B. Brown has scheduled a June 19 hearing with defense and state attorneys to receive testimony and arguments about Ruby's mental condition. He said he then would rule on the defense's requested sanity hearing

The defense, until this week, contended that Ruby has been deteriorating mentally since his March 14 conviction and death sentence for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Fowler said if doctors say Ruby's condition will not worsen by being treated in county jail rather than in a hospital, he will "withdraw the request for a sanity hearing and ask Judge Brown to cancel the June 19 hearing."

Turks' Chief Is Hopeful

By HAL MCCLURE

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball discussed the Cyprus crisis today with Premier Ismet Inonu, who later declared: "We are on the way to find a solution."

The foreign minister, Feridun Cemal Erkin, told reporters: "The United States has actively intervened in the Cyprus matter and America wants this question to be settled in a peaceful way and according to legitimate interests of Greece and Turkey."

Ball was dispatched to Athens and Ankara by President Johnson as the Cyprus crisis appeared to worsen in the wake of reports last weekend that Turkey planned military intervention in the troubled Mediterranean island.

The American diplomat talked with Inonu for two hours then took off for Washington. He had met Wednesday with Greek leaders in Athens.

A Turkish communique described the talk as open and sincere.

Ball told newsmen on his arrival in Ankara Wednesday night he had brought no solution to the Cyprus dispute, which threatens to touch off a war between Greece and Turkey, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He said Johnson had sent him to learn the views of the Turkish government, accused by the Greek and Cypriot governments of preparing to invade the Mediterranean island off Turkey's south coast.

Informed sources said earlier that Ball brought a warning to both Greece and Turkey that the United States is prepared to take sharp measures to prevent a war over Cyprus that would be disastrous for NATO.

The sources did not specify what measures the United States would take.

Greek Premier George Papandreou said after his talk with Ball that he had warned of the consequences of any Turkish invasion.

"Our target is a peaceful solution and we endeavor to maintain peace," Papandreou said he told Ball.

American sources said the Greeks, alarmed at the prospect of war with the more powerfully armed Turks, had asked the United States to send over a high official.

Berserk Man Kills Two

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—A 43-year-old man, apparently going berserk, killed two woman teachers today with a lance-like weapon and badly burned 12 young pupils with a homemade flamethrower, police reported.

Police declined to identify the man.

He was shot in the leg as he tried to run away from police.

Police said the man early this morning approached a ground-floor classroom of an elementary school.

He smashed a window and sprayed the pupils with his flamethrower. A teacher, who tried to beat him off, was pierced by the assailant with the lance-like weapon and died later in hospital. Panic erupted among the pupils as the clothing of several of them began to burn.

Then, said police, the man ran to another classroom. The man killed a teacher there with the lance. The man turned his flamethrower on the children.

LIBEL SUIT

Gen. Walker Takes Stand

FORT WORTH (AP) —Edwin A. Walker testified today he was booed by University of Mississippi students when he told them he had not come to Mississippi to support violence against the federal government.

The former general took the stand for the second day in the trial of his $2 million libel suit against The Associated Press.

He described his activities on the Ole Miss campus the night of Sept. 30, 1962, when rioting broke out over the admission of Negro student James H. Meredith.

"I told them this was not the place for violence," Walker said. "Nobody came to Mississippi for violence. No violence was intended.

"A mass boo broke out when that statement was made. There were yells: 'If he's not going to do anything, what is he here for?' There was mass opposition.

"I said if there is any bloodshed at Oxford or Mississippi it will be on the hands of the federal government."

Walker testified that he never led any charge or massed group of students against the federal marshals.

He said that several hours before the rioting began he went to the sheriff in Oxford.

"I said we had not come up for any violence," Walker testified. "We just intended to see what was going on and I would be happy to assist him in any way I could."

Walker said the brief speech he made to the students, which he estimated at five to seven minutes, was the only action he took during the rioting.

"I just walked around and tried to see what was going on," he said.

Walker claims that some Associated Press reports from Oxford falsely represented him as leading a charge of students against marshals enforcing federal court orders for admission of Meredith. Two persons were killed, and many others injured in nightlong rioting.

Red Activity In Viet Nam Is Slower

By ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist activity in South Viet Nam dropped to its lowest point in three months last week but Red casualties nearly doubled over the previous week, an American military spokesman announced today.

American and Vietnamese military casualties increased also, but not as much as the Communist Viet Cong, he said.

Vietnamese patrols reached a peak of 7,530 last week, he said, but only 100 made contact with the Viet Cong.

The weekly summary covered the military situation through last Saturday. Since then, Viet Cong attacks on government outposts have increased, but no major clashes have been reported.

American military casualties totalled one killed and 11 wounded, compared with seven wounded the previous week.

The United States today offered a reward for return of two U.S. Marines presumed captured by the Communist Viet Cong.

Solons Reconsider Hike In Salary

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House takes a second look at a pay raise for itself today as it acts on a bill proposing $533.2 million in salary increases for 1.7 million federal workers.

Three months ago it rejected a $10,000-a-year pay boost for members of Congress in a vote widely interpreted as reflecting election year jitters.

This time around the proposed increase is $7,500 and House leaders expect approval.

Although once again the pressure is on the members voting to raise their own pay, the bill would provide salary increases ranging up to 22.5 per cent for one million federal career employes and 585,000 postal workers and would boost the pay of Supreme Court justices, Cabinet officers and top department heads by $7,500 a year.

Montana Begins Search For Dead

By JACK ZYGMOND

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Flood-torn Montana took on aspects of a zone of war today as government and business leaders directed multimillion-dollar rebuilding projects and authorities searched for dead and missing.

As floodwaters receded, officials in various search centers reported at least 30 persons dead.

Many of the more than 35 persons listed as missing were believed to be dead. Authorities said some bodies may be buried under tons of silt and rock.

Gov. Tim Babcock, who made an aerial inspection of the stricken area, called it the worst thing that has ever happened to the state.

"We can't begin to estimate the damage," he said. "It will run into tens of millions of dollars. Sections of highway as long as 20 miles have been destroyed by floodwaters."

Highway crews already have created temporary roads of mud and rock and set up makeshift bridges.

Many small towns were cut off from food and medical supplies. Supply-laden U.S. Air Force planes, including C123 transports, landed on grass and gravel runways and even open stretches of highway.

In the tiny reservation community of Heart Butte, where a number of persons were reported injured, a nurse was in charge of medical treatments. She received instructions by short-wave radio from a physician.

Thousands of pounds of food and medical supplies were airlifted into flood-battered communities. The largest of these was Choteau, a town of 2,000 made an island by the flood.

Communications to Choteau were out until Wednesday when The Associated Press was able to reach Mrs. D. P. Fabrick by telephone.

"So far everyone is safe but there is still plenty of trouble here," she said.

Mrs. Fabrick said the town was supposed to have been evacuated by helicopter due to sewer and water system failure. However, she said the Air Force later decided it would be unable to bring out all of the town's residents. A group of tourists stranded in Choteau were taken out Wednesday.

The massive floods started Monday on both sides of the Continental Divide after days of heavy rains and the sudden melting of a huge mountain snowpack.

Federal aid began pouring into the nine hardest-hit counties in northwestern and west-central Montana, declared a disaster area by President Johnson.

The Red Cross operated 11 shelters around the flood area, housing and feeding more than 4,000 refugees.

Concert Assn. Slate Told

The Scurry Concert Association announced today the programs and dates for its 1964-65 concert series.

The first program will present the Rondoliers Trio, a male vocal group featuring bass-baritone Edmund Karlsrud on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27. King Plans Sit-In In St. Augustine

By F. T. MACFEELY

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) —After a second straight night march punctuated by violence, the integration drive in the nation's oldest city shifted focus today to Dr. Martin Luther King's vow to court arrest by civil disobedience.

King, who heads the sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, indicated he would attempt a sit-in at a segregated restaurant.

This type of demonstration has brought nearly 400 arrests here since Easter.

The last of the demonstrators got out of jail, with the help of a federal court order reducing bonds to $100 a charge, just in time Wednesday night to join 400 integrationists in the march to the old Slave Market downtown.

Despite a police force of 200 or more, augmented by the state highway patrol and enforcement personnel from other agencies, an unruly white mob of about 100 broke through police lines.

The marchers, predominantly Negro, did not fight back as they had the night before, and nine or 10 were injured.

One white youth was pulled from the marching group by a gang of white youths and pummeled before a Florida highway patrolman rescued him.

Four whites were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct, a deputy sheriff at the jail reported. These were the first arrests at the night marches although violence marked two earlier ones.

Ill-Fated Ship Towed To Port

HONOLULU (AP) — The jinx ship Pomona, its former captain hacked to death with an ax on the high seas, was heading back to Honolulu today after a fire forced the freighter's new crew to abandon ship.

With the Liberian-registered ship only 100 miles southwest of Honolulu, en route to Formosa, fire broke out Wednesday in the engine room and 30 crew members were ordered over the side into aircraft-dropped liferafts.

There were no injuries. The crew, less three men who remained aboard the Pomona, were picked up by the freighter Rio Manamo and transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Kukui.

Four hours later, with the fire under control but the engines apparently disabled, the men were placed back aboard the Pomona to await the arrival of a tug boat from Hawaii.

The new crew was composed of former first mate Alf Olsen, the captain; six Norwegian officers, a Brazilian radio operator and 25 Chinese seamen. The old crew refused to sail again after the slaying of Capt. Jacob Natvig in May. Natvig was slain with a fire ax in the vessel's first attempt to get to Formosa with 9,500 tons of scrap.

The captain's body was discovered by Olsen May 15 in his bunk and the ship diverted to Honolulu from 1,000 miles east of the islands. An extensive investigation failed to turn up the killer.

Wednesday's fire broke out 15 hours out of Honolulu. Coast Guard planes radioed that smoke was billowing up from behind the wheelhouse, above the engine room.

Olsen's SOS brought the Rio Manamo to her side within three hours. The Pomona remained on even keel throughout the crisis, the captain messaged. Cause of the fire is under investigation.

The ship is owned by the Namdal Shipping Co. of Brazil.

Scranton People Plan Big Battle

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said today that far from giving up hope they are planning to expand their campaign to make him the Republican presidential nominee.

In the face of the snowballing total of Republican convention delegate votes committed to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Richard Peet, chairman of the National Draft Scranton headquarters, indicated his organization still may have an ace in the hole.

'We have half a dozen projects in the works," Peet said in an interview. "We'll make them known when the time comes—and that will be soon."

And one of the earliest congressional backers of Scranton for president, a fellow Pennsylvanian, Republican Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, said that despite developments at the Governor's Conference at Cleveland in the past few days, everyone in the Scranton cause still is hard at work.

"An awful lot can happen before convention time at San Francisco," Schweiker told a newsman. "I think time can be in our favor."

At the Governors Conference, Scranton was reported ready to expand his position, making himself more available for a drive for the nomination, following last Saturday's meeting at Gettysburg, Pa., with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. However, reports from Cleveland indicated Eisenhower asked Scranton Sunday morning not to step into any stop-Goldwater movement.

Later that day on CBS' interview program "Face the Nation," Scranton indicated he was available for the nomination but would not work for it. This was little different than the position he had taken months before that he would accept only an honest and sincere draft for the nomination.

Schweiker intimated that this sequence of events "did not help" the Scranton cause.

"We were hopeful that something would come out of the Governors Conference," said Schweiker. "But we believe we still have a chance inasmuch as we have some five weeks to work before the convention."

2 Mishaps Reported

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated a mishap at about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday 12 miles east of Snyder on the Roby Highway.

The car was a total wreck and the truck suffered heavy damage in the near head - on collision. The truck driver was not injured.

Snyder city police investigated a mishap at 8:03 a.m. today at Avenue S and Huffman Avenue. Involved were a 1957 Ford driven by Glenn Dale Proctor of Las Vegas, Nev., and a 1960 Chevrolet driven by Neva Foy Mitchell, Rt. 3.

Baptists Chided For Boycott

DALLAS (AP) — The editor of the Baptist Standard has chided messengers to the recent Southern Baptist convention in Atlantic City, N. J., for failing to attend a North American Baptist jubilee celebration.

Dr. E. J. James of Dallas wrote in the June 10 issue of the statewide paper that the action was "a black mark against Southern Baptists and one that can never be erased."

James said the reasons for the delegates' boycott were that many "were afraid they would have to sit by Negroes" and "others must have feared they would be accused of touching hands with Baptists who affiliate with the National Council of Churches."

The jubilee marked 150 years of organized Baptist work in North America. Seven Baptist conventions participated in the three-day celebration.

"Our guess is that not one of five of our (Southern Baptist) messengers attended a single session of the joint meeting," Dr. James said.

He also criticized the defeat of a proposed "fellowship committee" to work with other Baptist groups in promoting good will and understanding. "The fellowship committee is needed for the good of all Baptists and it could not hurt any of them," He said.

Sen. Aikin Honored By Schoolmen

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Texas schoolmen honored State Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris Wednesday for what they called his "unmatched record" in public school education.

"Senator Aikin has sponsored every major education bill enacted into law during the past 20 years," President Joe Airola of the Texas Association of Instructional Supervisors said in presenting Aikin a bound volume of 228 letters of appreciation from schoolmen and professional organizations.

Aikin was a freshman in the State House of Representatives in 1932 when he co-sponsored a teacher retirement bill. He is co-author of the Gilmer-Aikin school laws and the Hale-Aikin law which updated the state educational program.

The volume of letters presented Aikin, called "Golden Deeds for Education Award," was compiled under the sponsorship of the Texas Association of County Superintendents, the Texas School Administrators Association and the Texas Association of Instructional Supervisors.

Petitions Allege Vote Irregularities

LUFKIN (AP) — County Atty. Dan Brazil and Dist. Atty. Hulon Brown had under consideration today five affidavits alleging voting irregularities in Saturday's run - off Democratic primary.

The affidavits were filed Wednesday. The county Democratic executive committee canvass on Tuesday had confirmed unofficial totals in which incumbent Sheriff Leon Jones was defeated by a candidate new to politics, Burl McBride, by one vote, 6,038 to 6,037.

The affidavits charged such irregularities as differences in votes tabulated from some boxes and those registered in poll lists and two boxes reporting no returns on public record.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if your husband came home and told you who he would marry if you were out of the way? That's all he talks about lately. He makes me feel like I should do him a favor and just lay down and die. I am sure that is what he is hoping for because we don't believe in divorce. I don't know the lady he would like me out of the way for, but I asked him once how he knew she would have him and he didn't answer me. I told him I had as much right as anyone, but he is sure making my life miserable. What should I do?

TIRED

DEAR TIRED: Eithr your husband is off his rocker or he has a peculiar sense of humor. If he's "kidding," tell him he's not funny. And if he is serious, make a serious report to his doctor. He could be sick.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: You said the lady should precede the man when walking up the stairs in case she trips so he can catch her. I was taught in my youth that the gentleman should go up the stairs ahead of the lady so that she would not feel self-conscious. If he is behind her, she may get the idea tha he is ogling her 'derriere." And she would probably be correct. So in my opinion, the gentleman should precede the lady.

F. F. IN DAYTON

DEAR F. F.: A gentleman doesn't ogle anything. He follows the lady up the stairs and keeps his eyes on her heel. If he's no gentleman, the lady should keep her eyes on HIM—the heel.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Since when is it a sin to check on what your kids are doing? If people was more concerned about what their offpsing are up to there would be a lot less unwed mothers. When I was a girl I wasn't turned loose with every Tom, Dick and Charlie. My mother died when I was 14 and my brothers went along to chaperone me. Don't think it spoiled my fun because it didn't. I never had to chase a fellow to get him, either. When my girls came along I checked to see what they were doing. I didn't read any diary for they never kept one, but if they had I would likely have read it. And I wouldn't have felt I did wrong. I believe in having trust in your children after you find out you can trust them. Girls today ask for what they get. They can't say, "I didn't know." They know more at nine than I did when I got married. I don't suppose you'll print this, but it's time mothers woke up. When your daughter says, "Mother, John and I done wrong and I am expecting a baby," it's too late to go read her diary."

Texas Gets Heavy Rain, Some Hail

By The Associated Press

Up to 4 inches rain drenched parts of West Texas and hail battered crops into the ground at some points today.

The downpours occurred before early morning thunderstorms finished a sweep from the Panhandle and South Plains into West Central Texas.

Hail stones the size of golf balls pounded Pringle, near Borger in Hutchinson County, as 2 inches of rain fell. Extensive damage to crops was reported in that vicinity.

Further south, 1.5 to 4 inches of rain soaked ranch country in Stonewall County. Measurements at various points over several counties in that vicinity included Peacock 3 inches, Girard 2 and Jayton 1.4.

Among moisture totals elsewhere were Spearman 1.87 inches, Stinnett 1.70, Paducah 1.53, Borger 1.50, Haskell and Washburn 1.40, Friona 1.27, Lubbock 1.26, Farwell 1.20, Tuila 1.06, Crowell 1.05, Fritch 1, Lipscomb .99, Childress .96, Shamrock .93, Clarendon .90, Follett .88 and Crosbyton .84.

Scattered rain also dotted the Gulf Coast, but most places were not cooled by any moisture.

The only rain measurement Wednesday was .02 of an inch at San Antonio, although some thundershowers were spotted in the upper Texas Panhandle and over central regions.

This morning more scattered thundershowers fell over Northwest Texas, with clear to partly cloudy skies elsewhere.

Temperatures varied from Dalhart's 63 degrees to 81 at Laredo and Wichita Falls.

Child Loses Arm In Stanton Mishap

STANTON, Tex. (AP)—Tammy Leonard, 3, walked into the whirling propeller of her father's wingless plane and lost an arm today.

The accident happened at a gas station where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Leonard of Hatfield, Ga., stopped en route to California with their four children.

Leonard was towing the light plane behind their car with wings removed for highway clearance. He started the plane's engine after adding oil.

The child's condition was critical.

Students Praised At White House

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson heaped praise, lavished the hospitality of the White House and gathered an array of famous Americans to honor 121 high school graduates picked for intellectual attainment as the nation's first "presidential scholars."

No money went with the award. But the five hours these youngsters spent in the White House last evening was historic and unforgettable.

They met the President and his family in formal and informal mood. They wandered through the stately rooms of the White House and got a look at the Johnsons' pet beagles.

And, they mingled with such famous personalities as actress Helen Hayes, poet Ogden Nash, choreographer George Balanchine, physicist J. Robert Oppenheimer, astronaut Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., and novelist Harper Lee.

Before the party was over, Johnson and his wife came down from seats on the Truman balcony to stretch out on the cool grass of the south lawn to watch the Kingston Trio in the final act of an evening outdoor show put on for the scholars.

Not many of the students saw the President as he relaxed because it was dark and they were watching the show. But, they crowded around him later when he came forward to tell them "I'm going to bed tonight knowing that the country is stronger and in safe hands as long as we have people like you students."

The President's older daughter, Lynda, 20, presided at an outdoor hamburger dinner, served on paper plates under the trees where Caroline Kennedy's play school used to be. And, while they ate, the scholars gathered to chat with composer-pianist Leonard Bernstein actors Sidney Poitier and Jose Ferrer, the Gerry Mulligan Quartet, Metropolitan Opera tenor Nicholas di Virgilio and the Kingston Trio, who had come to entertain them.

The government spent $40,000 to bring the students and their parents to Washington for presentation of a bronze medallion, specially designed by sculptor Jacques Lipchitz.

Derwent Awards Are Presented

NEW YORK (AP) — The Clarence Derwent Awards given annually for outstanding work in nonfeatured roles on the New York stage have been voted this season to Joyce Ebeet and Richard McMurray.

Miss Ebeet appears in the off-Broadway revival of "The Trojan Women," and McMurray was in the Broadway drama, "A Casr of Libel."

The $500 cash award was set up in 1945 by Derwent, a leader in Actors Equity and other theatrical enterprises.

Materials Good For Many Areas

More and more homeowners are discovering, when it comes to surfacing materials, that what's best for one area is frequently best for other areas as well — and for much the same reasons.

For instance, ceramic tile has long been considered the best material for walls and floors in real tile's resistance to water, long life, beauty and ease of cleaning. It takes only some simple deductions to see why tile is becoming more and more popular for other areas where these qualities are important — such as kitchens, entranceways, laundries and so forth.

Gold Bond Plans New Warehouse

MINNEAPOLIS — Gold Bond Stamp Co. has begun construction in Dallas of a 2.4-million-cubic-foot warehouse that will service 134 Southwest gift centers including the company's outlet in Snyder.

The warehouse, scheduled for completion Oct. 1, will enable Gold Bond "to give even faster service and have supplies of gifts more readily available for stamp savers throughout the area," said Curtis L. Carlson, president here.

The warehouse will be adjacent to a new gift center. The warehouse will service company gift centers in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana and parts of New Mexico, Missouri and Mississippi. These areas are presently served by warehouses in Denver, Minneapolis and Atlanta.

"To housewives in the seven states, this means simply that they'll be able to find and get the gifts they want quicker and easier than they could before," he said.

Carlson said Dallas warehouse and gift center inventory data, like those in other company operations, would be calculated daily by electronic computer. The computer takes into account each day's gift redemptions, stock levels and anticipated future demands, then automatically prints orders for necessary additional supplies.

Shock Jolts Lives

ACCIDENT. By Elizabeth Janeway.

If there had been no accident, who knows what might have been the outcome of many entangled and heartful problems?

But there was an accident, an utterly foolish one. Young Steve Benedict drove at an idiotic speed to get his friend back to college before a deadline. In the smashup, Steve received only moderate injuries, but his friend Saxe was turned into a paraplegic.

It was a shock that changed a good many lives. It affected Steve's parents — Charles Benedict, the big wheel in the ferro-manganese market, who was impatient at the foolishness of his son; Maude, the frustrated wife and mother, and even Maude's father, the old professor whom Charles had always hated.

It cut into the lives of Charles' mistress - secretary, Allison Timms, and Saxe's girl friend Elizabeth Jowett, too. And Saxe's globe - trotting mother, among others.

But more than anything else, it changed the life of young Steve, who hated his father, admired his grandfather, felt a guilty pity about Saxe and grew to find a magnetic attraction in Elizabeth.

The story is told in a shifting series of first person narratives. First one character and then another picks up the story and pushes it along, the overlapping chronology offering many contrasts.

It is an emotional story. Perhaps because it is so emotional, the women in the cast seem the most natural. The father is reasonably well portrayed as a tough, hard-driving business man, but the old professor seems a little bit too ethereal.

This could be another way of saying that a male author might have given a different slant to the whole story, but not necessarily a better one.

Mrs. Janeway has a story that communicates and enhances life. It is on a high level.

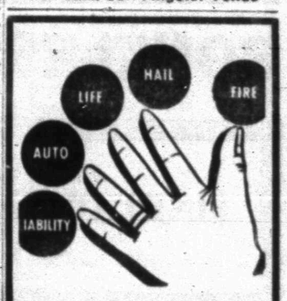

Laurence Harvey Is Keeping Busy

NEW YORK (AP) — Laurance Harvey has a crowded stage schedule for the coming season.

The British actor is due to start rehearsals in midsummer for the London production of "Camelot." Another announcement has him pledged to Broadway appearances in a comedy, "Alfie". Dates for the latter, however, depend "entirely on the availability of a suitable theater."

New Cardinal Hobbie Wins Over Giants

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"His fast ball goes like this—" and a pair of hands made a quick, darting movement.

"His curve ball goes like this—" and the pair of hands made a sharp dip and slant.

It's been a long time since the description fit Glen Hobbie, who put the darting, dipping and slanting together Wednesday for his new St. Louis teammates and pitched his finest game this season—a two-hit, 2-1 triumph over National League-leading San Francisco.

Both hits off Hobbie came in the first inning. The 28-year-old right-hander allowed only one walk the rest of the way, gaining the Cardinals a doubleheader split after the Giants had taken the first game 3-0.

Hobbie now has made two appearances since being acquired from Chicago last week in an even swap for Lew Burdette. He had an 8.00 earned run average in 27 1-3 innings with the Cubs, but has a 1.13 mark after permitting only eight hits in 16 1-3 innings for the Cardinals.

Hobbie has been trying for four years to regain the dart, dips and slants described by the hands of former Cubs Manager Bob Scheffing. Originally purchased for $50,000, Hobbie brought a quick dividend when he posted 16-victory seasons in 1959 and 1960.

Then he ran into back trouble and was able to win only 19 games over the last three seasons. At the tail end of 1963, Hobbie pitched two shutouts and seemed to be back in form, but he got off to an 0-3 start this year—and got on a plane to St. Louis.

His second-game victory against the Giants trimmed San Francisco's edge over second-place Philadelphia to four percentage points. The Phillies closed in with a 4-1 triumph over Pittsburgh behind Chris Short's four-hit pitching.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 on Leo Cardenas' run-producing single in the 11th inning and the New York Mets walloped the Cubs 8-3 as Charlie Smith and Ed Kranepool accounted for six runs. Houston and Milwaukee were not scheduled.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 2-1, Detroit defeated Minnesota 5-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1 in single games. The Los Angeles Angels swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 7-4 in 11 innings and 5-3 while Boston defeated the New York Yankees 7-6 in 10 innings before losing 10-6.

Hobbie, now 1-3, allowed a run in the first when Harvey Kuenn singled, moved up on a grounder and scored on a single by Willie Mays.

Curt Flood and Bill White then produced the runs Hobbie needed. Flood singled in the fifth, stole second and scored on White's single. In the seventh, Flood walked, stole second and scored the clincher on another White single off Ron Herbel.

Willie McCovey provided the key hit for the Giants in the opener, a two-run homer off Bob Gibson, 5-3. It was McCovey's first homer since May 22.

Bob Hendley and Gaylord Perry combined for the four-hit shutout, Perry lowering his earned-run average in relief work to 0.88 with two innings of hitless ball. He hasn't been scored on in his last 22 2-3 innings.

Clay Dalrymple slapped a two-run single in the second inning and John Herrnstein slammed a two-run homer in the fourth and that was more than enough for the Phillies. Short, now 4-3, was touched for the Pirates run in the second on a double by Bob Bailey and Bill Mazeroski's single.

The Reds pushed across the winning run in the 11th on a single by Johnny Edwards, a wild pitch by Ron Perranoski and Cardenas' single. The Dodgers had tied it in the fifth when Wally Moon capped a three-run uprising with a two-run homer. Vada Pinson hit a three-run homer for Cincinnati.

Smith hit a three-run homer for the Mets and Kranepool drove in three runs with a pair of singles. Jack Fisher allowed 11 hits as he brought his record to 4-4, but got Billy Williams to ground out four times and trimmed his league-leading batting average to .387.

Leaders Begin To Emerge In Local Baseball

Clear - cut leaders are beginning to emerge in some of the local baseball leagues after about a third of the season has passed, while the races are extremely close in others.

It is still too early to predict the winners in any of the divisions, and there are still enough games left for the standings to change drastically.

Only two teams remain undefeated in the Colt, Pony, Farm, and American and National Little Leagues. The West Texas State Bank Athletics of the Little League American and the Scurry Butane Dodgers of the Pony League have identical 5-0 records to lead their respective leagues.

Closest to the Athletics are the American Legion Yankees, who are even at 3 wins and 3 losses, followed by the Von Roeder Indians (2-4) and Line & Line White Sox (1-4). The Dodgers are two and a half games in front of their nearest pursuers, the Snyder Savings & Loan Buffs, who have a 2-2 record. Other Pony League teams are the Musslewhite Trucking Sports (2-3) Snyder National Bank Rebels (2-4), and Optimist Club Braves (1-3).

The Colt League has developed into a tight battle between the Von Roeder Red Sox and the Scurry County Tractor Phillies. The Red Sox have won 3 and lost 1, while the Phillies are 3-2 for the year. The Red Sox also have a tie game on their record with the Wilson Motors Yankees. That game will possibly be completed later on in the season if it could affect the standings.

The rotary Club Cardinals lead the National Little League with a 4-2 record, but the situation could change in a hurry. In second place are the Kiwanis Club Braves and the Lions' Club Cubs with 3-2 records. The Quarterback Club Giants have won 1 and lost 5.

The American Farm League Athletics lead their league with a 4-1 record, followed by the White Sox, who have won 3 and lost 2. The other two teams in the league are the Yankees (3-3) and Indians (1-5.)

The National Farm League is led by the Cardinals, who have won 5 and lost 1. They are followed by the Giants (3-2), Braves (2-3) and Cubs (1-4).

Texas A&M Eliminated

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — "We're too good a club to stay in a slump and this shows we can stay in there with anybody," said Seton Hall coach Owen Carroll, jubilant after his team's 11-run eighth inning explosion that kept the Pirates in the NCAA baseball tournament Wednesday.

The rain which washed out the other three first round games also will help Southern California, defending champion in the college world series, by giving 16-game winner Walt Peterson an extra day of rest for tonight's game with Missouri. His earned run average is 1.62 and two of his three defeats were to professional teams.

Seton Hall's late-inning erruption eliminated Texas A&M, the Southwest Conference champion, 1-5. The Pirates entered the tournament with a .392 team batting average and a 24-3 won-lost record.

Brownfield Wins Way To State

The Brownfield Cubs, baseball champions of District 3-AAA sewed up a birth in the state tournament Wednesday by bombarding Hereford 12-6. It was the second straight win for the Cubs over Heredord in the best-two-of-three series. They had won the first game 16-8 Monday.

The other three teams in the Class AAA division are Mt. Pleasant, Deer Park and South San Antonio, defending state champion. The state tournament is scheduled next week in Austin.

Big Names May Be Left Off Of All-Star Teams

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It is election time in baseball. In the next few weeks, the big leaguers will pick the players for the All-Star game to be played July 7 at Shea Stadium. Unless they ignore the batting averages, some big names will be left off the ticket.

If you take the top average man from each position, the only repeaters of last year's regulars will be Ken Boyer of St. Louis, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

Actually, Mantle didn't start last year in Cleveland because he was out of action due to a broken foot. However, Mickey had been picked for the team. Albie Pearson of Los Angeles, hitting .220 this year through Tuesday's games, was his replacement.

Boyer is the only member of the Cardinals' All-Star infield in a position to repeat on the basis of average. Bill White, the first baseman, is hitting only .228. Julian Javier, at second base, is batting only .224 and Dick Groat, at short, with .284 is close but not quite up to Maury Wills of Los Angeles with his .288 mark.

Javier got in on a rain check last July when Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh suffered a pulled leg muscle. Maz is way down there at .229 this season. Boyer, of course, has been among the leaders all season with a .328 average.

Mays is in there solid although his .400-plus average has dropped down to .359. But Tommy Davis of the Dodgers, 1962 and 1963 batting champion, is way off at .254 and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, the right-field starter last year, is hitting .293.

Ed Bailey, then with San Francisco, was the starting catcher in '63 but he is hitting only .184 for Milwaukee this year.

Through Tuesday's averages, the top men in the National at each position are Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco, first base, .309; Ron Hunt of New York, second base, .306; Wills, shortstop, .288; Boyer, third base, .328; Billy Williams of Chicago, .395, Mike White of Houston, .352 and Mays, .359, outfielders, and Joe Torre, of Milwaukee, catcher, .339.

In the American League, Joe Pepitone of New York, Nellie Fox of Chicago (now Houston), Voilo Versalles of Minnesota, Frank Malzone of Boston, Earl Battey of Minnesota, Al Kaline of Detroit and Leon Wagner of Cleveland are not leading their respective positions. Wagner, of course, leads the league with 46 runs batted in but his average of .290 isn't among the leaders.

American League leaders at each position are Fred Whitfield of Cleveland, first base, .317; Bobby Richardson of New York, second base, .302; Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles, shortstop, .347; Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, third base, .306; Chuck Hinton of Washington, .350, Tony Oliva of Minnesota, .369; and Mantle, .306, outfielders, and Elston Howard of New York, catcher, .323.

Grambling College In Driver's Seat

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Grambling, La., College, the only unbeaten team left, is in the driver's seat of the NAIA baseball tournament, and will sit out tonight's games.

Grambling went into Friday night's tournament championship showdown on a 4-0 shutout of Georgia Southern by southpaw Alex Pero Wednesday night.

Tonight, Mayville, N.D., State and West Liberty, W.Va., State will play in a sudden death losers bracket game for another shot at the title. The winner will take on Georgia Southern afterward, and the victor of that game will meet Grambling.

Mayville eliminated Wartburg, Iowa, College 19-5, and West Liberty ousted defending champion Sam Houston State 2-1 in 10 innings Wednesday.

Pirates Sign Star Schoolboy Player

MT. SAVAGE, Md. (AP)— A spokesman for the Pittsburgh Pirates announced Wednesday the signing of Bobby Robertson, a 17-year-old Mt. Savage High School outfielder and third baseman.

Robertson, who batted .568 in scholastic competition this season, was signed for an undisclosed bonus.

Intact Foreign Aid Money Another Score For Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost from the time foreign aid began 17 years ago there has been a kind of game every year between the President, any president, and Congress over money.

Wednesday, suddenly, the game stopped.

But until then this was the yearly routine: Whatever the President asked for, Congress cut down. Then he got along with the money Congress voted. The same thing the next year, and the same result. The big exception was that first time in 1947.

Because Greece and Turkey were threatened by communism President Truman asked $400 million in a hurry, and Congress gave it to him. Later that year he proposed a much bigger aid program for Western Europe, the Marshall Plan.

It got going the next year when Congress gave him $6 billion instead of the $6.8 billion he asked. The game was on. As the years passed the critical mood in Congress and the country toward foreign aid hardened.

The criticism went in a number of directions, of which these are only a few: The prospering Allies weren't doing their share of aiding backward countries; too much waste; some of the receiving countries weren't showing enough self-discipline and cooperation. On it went.

Last year the game between President and Congress came to a boil when President John F. Kennedy pulled a tactical boner.

On Jan. 17, 1963 he asked $4.9 billion in foreign aid but this was just about a month after he had set up a special 10-man committee, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, to study the whole aid problem.

By the end of March, which was before the dawdling Congress ever really got down to work on Kennedy's request, the Clay committee came in with its report. It was a contradictory and often foggy document.

But it had a lot of critical things to say about the aid program, which gave support to some of the congressional critics who had practically made a career of being foreign aid economizers.

The Clay committee seemed to suggest — "seemed" is the necessary word here because of the fog—that Kennedy could get along with $4.4 billion instead of the $4.9 billion he said he needed.

Kennedy promptly and obligingly cut his original request down to $4.5 billion, which just bolstered the argument of those who had always claimed any President's foreign aid request was full of fat and unnecessary padding.

To make a long story short—and it was a very long story—Congress finally authorized spending only $3.6 billion. Nothing shows better the dawdling condition of the Congress last year.

It didn't do the authorizing on President Kennedy's request until Dec. 9, and by then he was dead. And the $3.6 billion it approved was $1.3 billion less than he had originally asked.

But when Congress authorizes spending, it's just saying what the ceiling must be. After that it must vote the appropriations, the actual amount of money it will let the President have to spend.

It wasn't until Dec. 30 that it finished the appropriations bill originally asked. This year President Johnson did a complete switch in the routine.

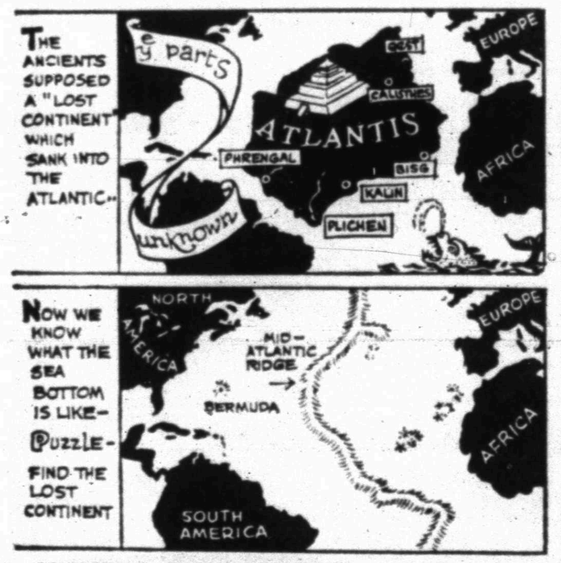

He asked for only $3.5 billion and said that was rock bottom. And meanwhile, a real pro in dealing with Congress, he went to work.

Wednesday, the result was almost a miracle. The House authorized practically every penny of the $3.5 billion Johnson said he needed. The Senate still has to act. And after that both houses must decide on the appropriation.

Maybe before it's over Johnson will get less than he asked. In its own way this is as big an achievement for Johnson as getting the railroad dispute settled earlier this year without a strike.

It was the first time anything like this has happened since 1947.

Junior Editors Quiz on ATLANTIS

QUESTION: Does the lost continent of Atlantis exist under the ocean?

• • •

ANSWER: As civilization grew around the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, people began to wonder what lay beyond the great ocean which lapped the Western shores of Europe and Africa. Legends and rumors grew of strange lands to the westward. The great Greek philosopher and writer Plato, who lived between 427 and 347 B.C., took the legend of a large imaginary island or continent to the west, Atlantis, and described it in great detail, writing that once an empire existed there, and that its armies had invaded Europe successfully, with only Athens resisting their attacks. Then, went on Plato, great earthquakes split Atlantis to pieces and the continent sank beneath the sea. This story became famous and was believed by many persons. Maps such as we show were drawn with rivers and cities. However, in recent years oceanographic expeditions probed the ocean bottom and made maps, and found no trace of Atlantis under the area it was supposed to occupy. Only the narrow submerged mountain range, the Mid Atlantic Ridge, raises itself above the ocean floor. It was clear that Atlantis was a mythical continent only.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: The ancients dreamed of imaginary western continents, nowadays we are thinking about what the moon will look like when some explorer steps out from his space ship. Make a collection of pictures showing the imaginary lunar landscape.

Memories Will Reveal Your Age

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Memories date people just as surely as growth rings tell the age of a tree.

So, if you're trying to pass for under 50, never admit out loud that you can remember when—

It cost a dime to go to the movies, and you could get a fair seat at a Broadway play for $1.10.

Butchers wore straw cuffs.

Motor cars had isinglass curtains to protect the occupants from rain or cold weather.

All babies were born at home. Hospitals were for sick persons.

Dieting was practically unheard of. A fat man could spill more calories on his necktie at lunch than a modern doctor would now allow him to eat all day.

When you wanted to go out for an evening of fun on the town, you said, "let's make whoopee!"

A strong dose of epsom salts usually cured anything that ailed you.

No girl who valued her reputation would be seen entering a bowling alley or a billiard parlor.

One of the nuisances of railroad travel in summer was having to get cinders out of your eyes from the steam engine's exhaust.

The nation's No. 1 ideal marriage was that between Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford.

Calvin Coolidge was being hailed as the perfect president.

There was no canned beer in the refrigerator, then known as an icebox. If father wanted an evening drink of beer, he'd send one of the kids with a pail to the nearest saloon. The trick was to grease the sides of the pail with butter. That was supposed to keep down the suds.

The only people in college who were married were members of the faculty.

Small towns had hitching posts, no parking meters.

Your congressmen was measured not so much by how he voted on international issues but by whether he remembered to send you a packet of free seeds.

Solons Defeat Rights Bill Change

WASHINGTON (AP)— Forty-two Democrats and 27 Republicans joined Wednesday to defeat an amendment by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to remove from the civil rights bill a section which cuts off federal aid and funds where discrimination is found.

Texas' senior senator, Democrat Ralph Yarborough voted with Republican John Tower against the measure. It was defeated 69-25.

No One Will Be Surprised By Mexico Election Results

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico elects a new president July 5 and you don't need a computer to tell you the winner by a one-sided vote will be government candidate Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Despite the certainty of the outcome, the former interior minister has been campaigning for six months against his lone opponent as if the race were close and hot.

In turn his opponent, PAN candidate Jose Gonzalez Torres, has been almost as busy although everyone knows this is just Mexico's unique form of democracy and he will get but a fraction of the vote.

Diaz Ordaz is expected to follow the PRI, or government Party of Revolutionary Institutions, which has never lost a presidential election in over 30 years, and probably will win this one with about 90 per cent of the total.

Gonzalez Torres' PAN is the Party of National Action. It is conservative, backed by most Roman Catholics, is the second most powerful party in the country.

Daz Ordaz is expected to follow the policies of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, although he may be a bit more middle-of-the-road, a possibility which caused Communists and leftists to buck him at first.

Mexico also is electing a full new Congress of 60 senators and 178 deputies. However, the new Congress will have more opposition deputies than in the past, because of a new law designed to give them more voice.

Under a constitutional amendment, opposition parties which poll 2½ per cent of the total national vote will automatically be entitled to at least five congressmen. They also get one more for each additional ½ per cent, up to a maximum of 20 seats, which PAN may well win.

PRI will continue to dominate Congress, a rubber-stamp deal anyway.

The election is expected to be quiet, with a turnout of around 13 million of Mexico's 38 million population. This is the predicted total, and would be a new record.

Diaz Ordaz is a wiry, lean, dark-haired lawyer considered by many to be more middle-of-the-road than Lopez Mateos, although any Mexican president must conform to Mexico's revolutionary constitution and thus be left by American standards.

As interior minister, the highest cabinet position, he has done a good job. His nomination was discreetly hailed by conservatives, although Americans have kept silent, feeling an expression of favoritism would be a "kiss of death."

Communists and far leftists were openly against his nomination, later fought him although one group finally endorsed him.

Diaz Ordaz was not widely known prior to his nomination and preferred a background role. But during his six-month campaign, much of it by bus, he visited every Mexican state and blossomed into a popular politician.

An American newspaper, the Wall Street Journal, once compared him with a Volkswagen—"unattractive, but on the whole he's a practical, efficient machine and a good buy."

He was born in the state of Puebla. His father was a school teacher. He is married, has two sons and a daughter.

In speeches and interviews he has promised to push the goals of the Mexican revolution: more education, economic well-being and social justice for all.

He makes it clear his government will continue the current policy of stepping in wherever private enterprise leaves a gap. But he pledges fairness to private enterprise and foreign investments. He promises to live up to all foreign commitments.

Diaz Ordaz says he believes Mexico's number one problem is its campesinos or farmhands. He promises them help, with agrarian reforms.

Opposition candidate Gonzalez Gorres, a short chunky lawyer who was reluctant to accept the nomination, has been more open in his promises.

For one thing, he says he would immediately break relations with Castro's Cuba. PAN believes, he says, that Mexico's non-intervention policy should not apply to Cuba because that island has been taken over by Communists, who thus violated the policy of non-intervention.

Gonzalez Torres challenged Diaz Ordaz to a public debate, but was not taken up on it.

His campaign has been based on such controversial but popular subjects as immediate solution to the Mexicali salt problem, better prices for Mexican raw materials, better treatment for braceros in the U.S.

When Diaz Ordaz was nominated last fall, the small but noisy leftist parties tried to unite as the Popular Electoral Front (FEB).

Under law, a party must have 75,000 signed members before it can enter a presidential nominee. Even united, they could not raise this total.

The government refused to recognize the FEP.

Later the Popular Socialist Party headed by leftist Vicente Lombardo Toledano came out for Diaz Ordaz. Lombardo Toledano said it was not possible for his PPS "to isolate itself from the ideals of the Mexican revolution" backed by Diaz Ordaz, and that inasmuch as the PRI was following these ideals, PPS would endorse him.

There were half-hearted proposals that the PPS just stay out of the elections, but Lombardo Toledano won his point.

Former President Lazaro Cardenas, enigmatic leader of Mexico's voluble but politically weak leftists, did not play a prominent part in the campaign as many expected. The FEP tried to use him, but failed, and Cardenas stayed in the background.

The new president will take office in December, serve for six years, and will not be eligible for reelection.

And he takes over a solid economy, a quiet country that is booming. Many say the future looks bright.

Boles Home is a community within itself, where 12 grades of public school are conducted on the campus. Services are rendered to boys and girls from pre-school ages through college or vocational training. Gayle Oler is superintendent.

The public is invited to attend all concerts of the Bel Canto Singers.

Salvation Army Adds 2 To Board

R. C. Patton, chairman of the Salvation Army service unit in Scurry County, has announced that Robert L. Smith, principal of Travis Junior High School, and the Rev. Jimmy Tidwell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, have been added to the local unit's board.

The purpose of the unit here it to give emergency relief to people who have problems of food, clothing, shelter, or other problems which demand immediate help.

In addition to Patton and the new members, the board is composed of Herman Trigg, Doyle Gallman, Worth Sayner, Dr. Jack Nesbitt and Mrs. Raymond Williams.

Trigg, chairman of the Salvation Army's camp activities here, has announced that six boys have been selected to attend Camp Hoblitzelle this year. The camp, operated by the Salvation Army, is located near Midlothian. The campers will leave on June 28.

Two Men Charged With Robbery

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Illinois men have been charged with robbery by firearms after police bullets broke up a robbery attempt at a palatial River Oaks home.

Leonard Joseph Foresta, 32, of Chicago, and Joseph Carusiello, 32, of Melrose Park, Ill., were charged in Justice of the Peace Jack Treadway's court late Wednesday night several hours after the home of Mrs. T. J. Bettes was invaded.

Police arrested Foresta near the scene and sought Carusiello.

The man captured at the scene attempted to flee in Mrs. Bettes' late model car. Six police bullets battered it before the driver jumped out and hid in a hedge where officers nabbed him.

Police said the other man vaulted a hedge and escaped in a stolen neighbor's car after emptying his gun at officers.

Robbery Capt. L. C. Colley said two men entered the pink brick, colonial style home about mid afternoon Wednesday, tied up three maids and a gardener and waited for Mrs. Bettes.

Mrs. Bettes is the widow of T. J. Bettes and is chairman of the board of the T. J. Bettes Co., a mortgage company with widespread real estate holdings.

Another maid who lives in a garage apartment behind the Bettes home saw the two men enter the house and telephoned police.

Colley said police arrived as one of the gunmen threatened to kill Mrs. Bettes if she did not open the safe.

Reporter To Testify

HOUSTON (AP)— A Houston Post reporter who wrote about alleged widespread theft of U.S. government property at air bases has been subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury in Austin next Monday.

Mike Clark was served the subpoena Wednesday at the Post building. It was the first indication of a grand jury investigation into the thefts he said he uncovered during a four-month investigation at eight Air Force bases, seven in Texas and one in Oklahoma.

Ernest Morgan, U.S. attorney for the Western District of Texas, declined to comment on how many persons have been called to testify.

Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert said last week the Air Force also has started an investigation into its own supply practices and system. No information on this probe has been announced.

At Ireland's Blarney Castle, the first duty of custodians each morning is to scrub the lipstick of yesterday's women visitors off t. Blarney Stone.

Mrs. Oswald To Be Heard Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald's Soviet-born widow, the first witness questioned by the Warren commission in its investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, testifies again today as the inquiry nears its end.

The commission gave no explanation of why it was recalling the 23-year-old Marina Oswald. Presumably it intends to ask her about details developed in the hearings since her appearance in February.

She was questioned for four days then about Oswald, her life with him and his movements around the time of Kennedy's murder, Nov. 22 in Dallas.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who heads the commission, said then her account was in line with the statements she gave previously to police and federal agents.

In a news conference at the end of her questioning in February Mrs. Oswald said she was convinced her husband had shot Kennedy.

Oswald was shot to death by Jack Ruby in the Dallas jail two days after the assassination.

Before boarding a plane in Dallas Wednesday, Mrs. Oswald said she didn't know why she was being recalled by the commission but added, "I want to help them all I can."

Wednesday the commission questioned Secretary of State Dean Rusk but afterward he declined comment.

Presumably he was asked about the State Department's handling of Oswald who lived for two years in the Soviet Union, where he married Marina, and once sought Soviet citizenship. When he asked to be permitted to return to the United States, the department issued him a passport and loaned him the money for the fare home.

Hobby Will Revealed

HOUSTON (AP) — A will which has been filed for probate names members of the family of former Gov. William P. Hobby as principal beneficiaries of his estate.

Hobby, board chairman of the Houston Post Co., and governor from 1917-21, died last Sunday after a long illness. He was 86.

The will, executed Jan. 3, 1963, named his wife, Oveta Culp Hobby, as independent executrix and sole trustee of the estate.

Mrs. Hobby was given a life interest, in trust, of Hobby's stock in the Houston Post Co., and other stock and bond holdings.

The will directed that the residue of the trust ultimately be administered for the benefit of children of a son and daughter, William P. Hobby Jr., Houston, and Mrs. Henry Catto Jr., San Antonio.

George Washington invariably had bad luck with inns. He once noted in his diary that his "thread Bear blanket had double its Weight of vermin such as Lice Fleas, etc:"
