Approval Given on $43,000 Road Job In Precinct Three

Work Is Started Cutting Down Cap On Road To Flomot

157 Men Will Get Work For Period Of Several Months

$43,159.75 is the estimated amount to be spent by the Works Progress administration and the county of Floyd on the road project from the west boundary line of Precinct No. 3 in Floyd county to a point near Flomot and on the connecting road north to Quitaque, recently approved by the Works Progress administration.

With this expenditure it is expected to have a widened road improvement of more than 25 miles in length and a much better caprock hill grade on the Flomot road.

Approval was given and the sign given to go to work several days ago but the formal approval notice was issued the first of this week. Commissioner B. E. Cypert, who is the county's representative on the project, said the caprock work would have attention first and work has begun there. The route down the hill will be straightened and the grade reduced.

The road improvement program includes moving fences back for wider right-of-way on top of the hill and for widening and straightening under the hill. About 5 miles of road extending north from a point near Fairmount toward Quitaque is included in the improvement program.

Work for several months for 157 men is estimated to be provided by the project, on which the county will expend an estimated $12,374.45 and the federal government $30,785.30 for a grand total of $43,159.75. District WPA officials and county officials of Floyd county have been several weeks working out the details of the program of the road construction job.

The project is the first major road building program in the county to reach the eastern confines of Precinct 3 since the inception of the road betterment program under WPA.

Commissioner Cypert has made plans to carry on the work of the hill construction while arrangements are completed for the road widening on top of the hill.

The road to be improved intersects the Silverton-Floydada highway approximately 2 miles south of South Plains and will give people served by it a good road to Floydada, Lockney, South Plains, Silverton and Plainview.

Pre-Hallowe'en Dance Tonight Under Sponsor Of Floydada Fire Boys

"Swing it boys, swing it" will be the cry at the Pre-Hallowe'en Dance tonight at the Surginer Building being sponsored by the Floydada Fire Department.

"Hot music" will be supplied by the Brunk's Comedian orchestra, who the fire boys claim can hold a fair middling jam session with their assorted blow and suck pipes and various and sundry "beat boxes". All lovers of swing are invited to be on hand for the session, but if you haven't learned the "art of swing" the boys say "come on anyway" because there will be fun for everyone.

According to Verne Elliott, fire chief and ram-rod of the dance arrangements, said the admission would be "one buck" ($1) tax included.

The event will begin at 10:15 o'clock tonight and last until everyone is completely danced out, Chief Elliott said.

Subsidy Payments in County Todate at $100,000 Mark

Subsidy payments on the 1937 cotton crop in Floyd county which began 30 days ago have reached the $100,000 mark or thereabouts, a hurried check at the office of the county agent, D. F. Bredthauer, this week indicated.

These checks have been distributed to about 800 farmers, and yesterday it was indicated an additional $60,000 is expected during the next 3 weeks, possibly by November 10. These last payments will represent the payments due those farmers who were not regular cooperators in the 1937 agricultural conservation program, it was said.

Achievement Day Tours of Home Dem Clubs Announced

Report Of 4-H Club Work Given By Sallie Ruth Patterson, Lockney

One of the high spots of the meeting of the county council of the home demonstration clubs in their meeting Saturday afternoon at the county court room was a report of the trip to the State fair at Dallas, given by Miss Sallie Ruth Patterson, 4H club delegate.

Miss Ruth Grimes, home demonstration agent, submitted plans to show the progress made in the home food supply and bedroom improvement by taking a tour of the county to visit the demonstrator's homes. Although the clubs have been organized only six months they have made rapid progress in their work and are anxious to show the results of their work, Miss Grimes said.

Miss Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Patterson, of Lockney, and Miss Mona McDaniels, of Sterley were delegates to the State fair selected to represent the county in 4H club work and spent a week there. In her report, Miss Patterson said there were 300 girls representing 136 counties. They were entertained by singing tours over the city, and were guests of Neiman-Marcus style show, Farm and Ranch, Brown Cracker company and Sears Roebuck company. She told of visits to the zoo and reported a very interesting trip.

Achievement Day Tours

The main business of the meeting was the completion of plans for the county achievement tours on November 1, 8 and 15, each trip covering a different part of the county. Mrs. Charles Smith, chairman of the education committee, worked out a schedule stating the exact time to be at each demonstrator's

Floydada Breezers; Matador Picadors To Play This Afternoon

The Floydada "Breezers" will play their second game of the season against Matador's Junior Bull Fighters this afternoon at 3 p. m. on Wester Field. The Breezers lost to the Matador Juniors last week in a tight game by a 9 to 7 score. Joe Dick Moore scored the Breezers touchdown.

The staring line-up for the Breezers will be Harold Sparks, le, Cubert Lewis Cardinal, rt, Gene Redd, re, gil Boteler, c, Billy McClung, rg, Joe Dick Moore, qb, Roger Stallings fb, Kenneth Johnson, lh, and George Goodjoin, rh.

No decisions had been made late Wednesday concerning the "gate" but there is a possbility that 5c or 10c admission might be charged, Coach Brady Thomas said. The Breezers play a wide open brand of ball that is likely to result in any sort of game and is certain to thrill and entertain the fans.

Guthrie and Pitts Officially Open New Hospital Here

Public Invited To Inspect Modernized Building And Fine Equipment

Floydada Hospital and Clinic officially opened Monday morning under the direction of Dr. A. E. Guthrie, M. D., and Dr. Donald H. Pitts, M. D. in the completely modernized and fireproof building at the corner of South Main and Mississippi streets.

Dr. Pitts only recently moved here from Elk City, Oklahoma where he had been located for the past six years. Moving here with Dr. Pitts are his wife and a son, Douglas, who has enrolled as a freshman in Floydada High school. A daughter, Sally, is attending Oklahoma university.

Assisting Dr. Guthrie and Dr. Pitts will be Ann H. Bradley, registered nurse and superintendent of nurses ,and Mrs. Maude Merrick, secretary and business manager.

New Equipment

Each room has been equipped with Simmons metal beds, dresser and chairs with the beds equipped with Beauty-rest mattresses. Several individually endowed rooms will be furnished with metal plaques over the door indicating name of individual or organization giving endowment.

The hospital will be fully equipped for proper scientific care of surgical, medical and obstetrical patients, Dr. Guthrie said. There will be complete x-ray and laboratory equipment as well.

Arrangements are being made to have a doctor available at all times, day and night.

Dr. Pitts served as surgeon in the United States army for seven years and later as chief-surgeon in charge of a 220-bed hospital in South America. In 1937 he spent six months in Europe studying surgery in one of the larger European cities.

Dr. Guthrie has been practicing surgery and medicine in Floydada for the past five years.

Tonsilectomies in the Floydada Hospital and Clinic this week were performed on Don Kirk, Mrs. W. A. Kirk, Betty Jo McLeod, and Roy Nabors. Other patients were Mrs. W. C. Jones; D. B. Williams of Lockney, auto accident; R. A. Bundett of Barwise, auto accident; and Roxy Owens (colored) of Floydada, operation.

Lions And Ladies Hear Hooten Ladies Night

Floydada Lions club with several visitors Tuesday night heard Rev. C. E. Hooten of Plainview, in an address in which he extolled the golden rule creed which dominates the club's program of activity, and urged his hearers that they follow through in their efforts. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hooten.

Other program highlights included a modeling contest with C. E. Fyffe, Tucker Teutsch and Brady Thomas as principals, with N. B. Frogge as director, and three little daughters of Lions club members in songs and readings. These were Joan Daily who sang, Phyllis Jean Simon and Norma Jean Moore who gave readings.

More than sixty were present for ladies night including Henry Pipkin and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harris of Matador club, and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Crowell and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teague of Plainview.

Fall flowers were used as table decorations by the ladies of the Christian church who served a turkey dinner at the church annex.

Whirlwinds To Revenge 1937 Loss

Paducah Dragons Loom As Serious Threat To A Crippled Team

Tomorrow night the crippled Whirlwinds meet their yearly nemisis, the Paducah Dragons, on the Dragon's home field in the hopes of avenging a last year's 6 to 0 defeat dished out here by the Fire Breathers.

The Dragons have little or no hopes of winning the District 4-B title so they can concentrate upon smashing any hopes the Floydada team may yet entertain. It has been said by veteran fans here that Paducah could have only a waterboy and ten cripples and then give the Floydada representation one of their hardest games.

Certainly for a long period of time the Dragons have held a jinx over the Winds and have scrambled more than one season for the Green and White. Nothing would please the Whirlwinds more than to blow the Dragons completely off the field buried under a landslide of touchdowns....but is it possible?

Injuries Present

The Whirlwinds are yet pretty badly bunged up from the Flomot game and other wounds suffered in scrimmage. Mal Jarboe, regular tackle, is about without crutches but can scarcely hope to play again before Lockney gets here, if then. James Gibbs is still swinging along on crutches as the result of a bad sprain received in practice last week. George Fry Lider is expected to be able to start if no further complications arrive. He suffered a minor sprain this week but seemed to be able to play.

Starters this week will probably be Tyler, D. Patterson, Martin, Montgomery, Henson, Willson, and Conway. In the backfield there will probably be Daniels, Golightly, Lider and Beard.

It is probable that Fickes, Foster, and Turner will bet in their whack before the game is very old if the Whirlwinds show the spark that the fans hope for. Burgett and McClure are available for a turn at the end positions.

The Dragons rate a touchdown favorite over the Whirlwinds if the dope bucket is consulted, and this year the dope is running almost true to form in District 4-B. Spur seems a cinch for district champion unless Fate, in the form of Flomot's Amonett, overtake them.

The Dragons have had a spotted season so far with a majority of defeats on their record. According to information the Paducah team started with a large number of green men but each game has found them stronger than before therefore it is possible that the Dragons will reach their peak against the Whirlwinds.

The probable starting lineup against the Whirlwinds will be

Brunk's Comedians, Tent Show Here Thru Remainder Of The Week

Brunk's comedians, heated tent theatre organization, which opened here Monday night for a week's play, will feature a merchants' matinee program Saturday immediately following a free-act at the location oposite Commercial hotel.

H. L. Brunk, manager of the show, said yesterday their organization had been given a good reception todate. The Brunks are longtime residents of West Texas, the seven brothers having lived for four years at Hereford from 1910.

Announcement of their plays for the remainder of the week is given in another column of this issue of The Hesperian.

South Side Singers Re-elected Officers For The Coming Year

The South Side Singing convention in an all day meeting at Rushing Chapel Sunday re-elected the same officers to serve for another year. Singers from Hale, Motley and Dickens counties were present for the day.

The officers are President, Faye Hart; Vice President, T. J. Heard and Secretary, Miss Abbye Lee Woolsey.

Final Stages In Checking Crop Compliances of 1938 Reached by Agent's Office

Bredthauer Says Now Good Time For Producers To Make Crop Plans

Final stages of checking compliance for 1938 in the crop program have been reached by the county agent's office. All wheat allotments for 1938 have been mailed to producers. 1939 cotton allotments will be mailed out by December 15 and all tabulations have been mailed to the state office.

At the present time it would be well for producers to call at the county agricultural agent's office at their convenience to go over their final compliance papers with the county committee," said Mr. Bredthauer yesterday. "At this time the producers should sign the forms necessary before payments can be received for 1938."

The office is not rushed at this time, Mr. Bredthauer pointed out and is an excellent time for these matters to have attention and be ready when the state office calls for signatures for the applications for payment.

Court Returns Heavy List Of Judgments On Delinquent Tax Suits

Although there was no district court this week due to the absence of Judge Alton B. Chapman who is in Haskell county court in the absence of a fellow judge from the bench owing to serious illness several judgments were entered last week-end.

Cases tried before the court were case No. 3015, Elwauna Austin vs. John Austin, court granted divorce; case No. 2708, First National bank of Lockney vs. Ben McGhee et al, judgment rendered against defendant for $1303.40 plus court costs.

Case No. 1844, State of Texas vs. Ernest Carter alias M. H. Brown, charged with passing a forged instrument to defraud, pled guilty to charge and was sentenced to five years in penitentiary.

Case No. 1846, State of Texas vs. Ben Roddam, charged with driving while intoxicated, pled guilty to charge and was sentenced to five days in jail plus a fine of $50 and court costs.

Case No. 1842, State of Texas vs. E. Ray Smith, charged with swindling by worthless check, jury found defendant guilty and assessed a sentence of two years in the state penitentiary.

Twenty-three judgements were rendered by the court on delinquent tax suits brought by the City of Floydada and Floydada Independent School district, in which Floyd county and State of Texas were impleaded.

Judgements were rendered upon

Case No. 2930, City of Floydada vs. O. E. Murray et al for $160.40;

Case No. 2932, City of Floydada vs. S. J. Handley et al for $178.72;

Q. A. & P. Re-Elects Officers, Directors

Stockholders of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway company Thursday of last week re-elected their board of directors in a meeting held at the Quanah general office. J. B. Jenkins, of Floydada, was among the number re-chosen.

Chas. E. Sommer, St. Louis, president, A. F. Sommer, vice-president and general manager were in the party which traveled to Floydada late the same day in an inspection of the lines.

Four-County Singers Gather At Whiteflat Fifth October Sunday

The Four-County convention of singers will be held at Whiteflat next Sunday, the fifth Sunday in October, it has been announced.

Floyd, Hall, Motley and Briscoe counties are included in the convention area with O. R. Browning of Turkey presently serving as president. Red Devinne of Silverton is secretary of the association.

Christian Church Laying Foundation For New Building

Congregation Here Raises Funds, Starts Job, In Hurry-Up Campaign

Foundation work for a new church edifice at the corner of Missouri and Fourth streets was started yesterday and material orders were being placed for the structure by the First Christian church.

Beginning their campaign ten days ago at a church conference the congregation swung into action at a fast pace, completed the raising of funds and had let a contract on Monday of this week. Actual work was delayed a day or two awaiting final approval of architect's plans made.

Workmen under the direction of S. F. Conner are expected to begin digging foundation ditches and pouring concrete early next week. Conner has the contract for the carpentry on the building. Brick laying bids were in hand but had not been awarded as late as Tuesday.

The pastor, Gordon G. Voight, and a representative of the Texas Christian Missionary society from Fort Worth, Rev. A. K. Scott, were aided in the campaign for funds by laymen of the church.

A brick veneer building of the European cathedral type planned to seat 350, is to be constructed. Its dimensions will be 30x70. The church will continue to utilize their present buildings on the lots in their church program.

The building and equipment are estimated to cost $10,000. J. C. Wester is present acting chairman of the committee.

WILLIAMS RESIGNS SCHOOL PLACE TO GO INTO CIVIL SERVICE WITH AG. BUREAU

L. B. Williams resigned this week from Floydada high school faculty to take a place he has been offered in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics civil service. He has been released by the board effective Friday and said this morning he would report in Amarillo for duty November 1.

He does not know where he will be assigned work Mr. Williams said, but expects to be stationed first either at Lubbock or Littlefield.

Williams has been in the Floydada school system the past four years, and this year his assignment has been in the commercial geography, junior business training and arithmetic.

MRS MEDLEN HOME

Mrs. Robert Medlen came home Sunday from Snyder where she had been the past week recuperating from an operation in a hospital there the previous Monday. She stood the trip home nicely and is feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ely accompanied her home, returning to Snyder Monday morning. Mrs. Ely is a sister of Mr. Medlen.

Pre-Harvest Sugar Beet Tests Good

'May Have Something There', Agent Reports As Harvest Begins

Pre-harvest samples of sugar beets collected by County Agricultural Agent, D. F. Bredthauer; H. E. Knapp, field agricultural agent for the American Crystal Sugar company, at Rocky Ford, Colorado, and H. M. Bainer, agricultural agent for the Santa Fe Railway company, Amarillo, Texas, from thirteen Floyd county sugar beet demonstrations have again shown excellent prospects of becoming a new money crop for this area.

Tests have been received from six of those demonstrations which run as follows in sugar content: Charlie Buth, 16.8 percent; T. L. Griffith, 18.2 percent; H. B. Handley, 16.3 percent; Buck Sams, 19.3 percent; C. J. Taylor, 17.4 percent; W. D. Colson 12.1 percent. All of these tests ran exceptionally high for a pre-harvest test with the exception of W. D. Colson, who has unusually large beets, and who had the misfortune of getting a hail on his beets some three weeks ago. These beets were watered late and are still in the growing stage. It is estimated that by the middle of November these beets will be in their mature stage and that the sugar content will be considerably higher.

Harvest for the 1938 crop has started. Groce Applewhite of the Lone Star community, is the first Floyd county farmer starting to harvesting sugar beets for market and if weather permits the first car of sugar beets ever to be produced for market in the state will leave Lockney by November 1 for Rocky Ford, Colorado.

County agricultural agent states that he is much enthused over the sugar beet development to date and that this year's demonstrations can be weighed in dollars and cents. Considerable information has been obtained throughout the year in the culture of beets in this area which can be of great value to the future development of the industry.

WEATHER AND CROPS

Ideal weather for the continued harvest of cotton has been the rule for the past week in Floyd county, with the result that the crop is being gathered with unprecedented speed all over the area. A light drizzle Sunday morning had cleared and the harvest continued practically unabated Monday morning.

A light skim of ice was found on water in exposed tubs and troughs Thursday when temperature dropped to 35 and again on Monday when the temperature reached 34.

Wheat planting has been going on unabated, with reports of about 95 per cent completion from all parts of the county.

TWO ALARMS

Two fire alarms have been sounded the past week. The first came at 10:40 Friday morning when a garage at 310 West Kentucky caught fire. The building was badly damaged before the fire was extinguished. It was on the property of J. W. Reasoner.

An alarm was turned in Tuesday morning when a gas stove began to flame. The fire had been put under control when the engine arrived however.

NEW OLDSMOBILE READY

The 1939 model Oldsmobile will be on display in Floydada this weekend, it was announced yesterday by Geo. M. Finkner of the Triangle Garage, who expects a new car to be on the floor tonight ready for showing Friday and Saturday.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

It pays to advertise in the Hesperian. Last week a notice was printed in this column to Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Day to bring their new grandson over and we would have a baby show. Yesterday evening, Sunday, Grandfather Harlan, Grandmother Maud, Aunt Flora and Aunt Mary Helen, brought the baby to see me. I was honored, I felt in getting the first visit from this fine boy. All dressed up, he was in soft, fleecy, blue and white sweater, cap and shoes, wrapped in a beautiful silk embroidered robe and carried in his grandfather's arms. He was a young prince adored by his attendants.

We looked at the two babies, admired them, told what each weighed, his heights; how he could hold up his head and look around. If there had been prizes offered we would have given one to each baby boy.

The Days brought me a rock as a souvenir of their summer trip, from the "Arkansas river, near the Royal Gorge." They told me what lovely friends this farm woman has?

Mrs. Robert Day and little girl, and grandmother Day, she is the great grandmother came to see us also. Mrs. Day told of her young grandson—wish she had brought him. It seems only yesterday that R. C. and my twins and Wilson were riding horseback to school at McCoy. Now they are all married and we are the older ones. These friends, the Days grow closer as the years go by. And it is always nice to meet and talk over old times together.

Mrs. Powell brought congratulations to Wilma and her baby from the sewing room at Crosbyton where Wilma was once superintendent. It was so kind and so thoughtful of her to drive so far to see little Joe Ellis, and express again their love for Wilma.

"This is a rock of gold from the Cripple Creek Mines, to add to your collection. I saw it fall from a loaded truck of ore and picked it up," Bill Norman told me as he gave me the heavy rock. "The ore assayed $40 to the ton." Better than the gold contained in the rock, is the thought that Mr. Norman expressed in the friendliness to me by giving me something he valued.

My brother Jim and his wife Velma sent me a little clock. A picture on the face is of an old man sitting by the fireplace dreaming and smoking a pipe. The old lady is spinning thread on an old spinning wheel. A real wheel goes round and round. So now, "There's an Old Spinning Wheel in the Kitchen," keeping time and reminding me of the dear ones who sent it.

The first cold norther hits Floydada. I was in town. These are some of the things I saw. Two well dressed men running with several joints of new, black stovepipe in each hand. Their dignity was thrown to the cold north wind, as it were, for the time being. Two dozen or so pigeons sitting on the south side of a barn, hovering downy feathers over their cold feet. Women snipping off red roses, dahlias to save beautiful bouquets from the frost. A grown negro boy school-hopping across the street to keep himself warm, (where ever have I seen anyone school-hop?) Cars with oil barrels on the front bumpers. Cars with trailers holding barrels of oil. Sacks of coal on the running boards.

A negro putting joints of rusty stovepipe together. The town smelled of apples, of moth balls, burning cotton bolls, smoke from gins, flakes of cotton settling down, making one think of snow.

My clothing was half and half. Winter coat, white shoes, light hose, a summer hat. Been thinking I would get some new winter things but just kept putting it off getting them.

Old men buying long handled underwear. Young men wishing it were still stylish. Little boys bareheaded but wearing heavy Mackinaws. Chili, in Spanish display on the counters. Bolts of outing and stacks of blankets, where organdie and thin sheets have lain so long. Trees wearing suits of gold and pale yellow. White petunias looking like ghost flowers in the cold.

I like to go to Floydada.

ENGLISH PROPAGANDA

The rank and file of American citizens had best brace themselves for an intensive propaganda from English sources, which has for its final aim picking chestnuts out of the fire for the Britons. Evidence is that the campaign is already under way.

While the German and Italian governments are calling the United States names, the English are planning the kinfolks racket on our unsophisticated people. It seems in all probability our country will have all it can do to attend to its own affairs during the next few years.

IT NEARLY DID

Our broomweed forecaster almost delivered the goods last week and again this in re the first frost or freeze. Temperature Thursday 35, temperature Monday morning 34. On Monday there was a little frost around on exposed surfaces.

Gardeners who didn't take our advice and get the last of the tomato crop under shelter must have had an uneasy night Sunday wondering what they'd do for chow chow this winter. Folks who go by the signs have a lot more fun than those who don't.

MARKED COTTON BETTERMENT

Grade and staple, and particularly staple, do count for something in the new regime of agriculture in Texas, what with the lending agencies insisting on these. The former practice of hog around buying made the half and half growers laugh at their neighbors who fell for the "quality" cotton talk.

But since Uncle Sam is putting up the money he makes a lot of difference in loan values. With the backing of the semi-official classers the gins also are in position to buy on grade and staple where the customer wants to sell.

To a certain extent the credit for the increase in staple length may be attributed to one-variety cotton associations, but it is generally agreed that most Texas farmers are making a pointed effort to better their quality of staple and its length.

COTTON ROPE FOR TIES

An experiment is being tried this year in Texas whereby metal ties, used from time immemorial, are being replaced for cotton bale ties. If successful the change promises to make an annual market for many thousand bales of cotton and also please the foreign spinner better as well. This is especially true where cotton bagging also is being used.

The USDA's Daily Digest quotes an English master spinner "I may say that we hope the movement to cover cotton bales with cotton will increase in your country, as the elimination of jute and sisal fibres will be much appreciated by the cotton spinners of the world."

Efforts of the past to use cotton for bagging have failed because the first cost of the sisal usually was smaller. However, when the customer begins to report that he "appreciates" an improvement in the package he gets it, as a rule.

BUYING DOVES GETS HEADLINES

Buying doves and other game seems to be an unprofitable sideline of late. In Dallas such an action brought a lot of publicity for more than one prominent business man and for the men who sold the wild game. Whether it was because the doves were killed out of season that they could not be sold legally, or that it is against the law to sell wild game at any time, the reports did not indicate and we do not know.

In our ruggedly individual way of doing things it has been a man's privilege to sell anything from skunk's pelts to whatnots in the United States these many years—leastwise in Texas somewhat to cut the territory covered by the statement. One way of thinking it ought to continue to be fair and right for a man to do such. On the other hand, it can't be kept up, and the other practices that go with it, if we hope to have wild game restored on our prairies and fish in our lakes and streams.

SERIOUS ABOUT SPIES

Uncle Sam is beginning to get serious about spies. The trial of the small fry in New York the past several days, after the big ones had been allowed to escape, is an instance.

Now, another set of spies has been found operating in the Panama Canal zone, and are to be tried. Uncle Sam is getting sorty touchy about such things. Perhaps it is as well he might, since not only our armament but industrial secrets as well are being stolen.

SAVING FEED INDEFINITELY

If, as seems to be true, it is possible to put feed into the ground and preserve it in its own juices for years, another hazard is eliminated for the plains livestock farmer.

Big surpluses of one year may be stored away for the needs of another year not so good. Ordinarily bundle feed does not take care of itself in a stack past one year. By the second or third year its value is largely lost. Meanwhile, if a bad year has come along the feeding plans are disrupted and the program must be abandoned until another good year comes along.

Several farmers are attempting the experiment, which will be watched with general interest.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Issue of October 23, 1924)

Floyd county won second place at the Texas State Fair, the nation's greatest agricultural show, at Dallas, in the competition, judging for which was completed Thursday night of last week at 8 o'clock. This is the second consecutive year Floyd county has taken second place at the State fair, last year's effort being classed as second only to Hale.

A large crowd attended the fall session of the South Side Singing convention which was held at the new auditorium at Starkey, with Price Scott, president of the convention presiding. It is estimated that some thousand attended during the day.

The Bessie Banks Trio Tuesday evening presented a program at the high school auditorium, under the auspices of the senior class of the school the first of a series to be presented during the season.

Both the towns of Floydada and Lockney each had a new addition added to their growing residential section respectively last week, when each had platted and recorded in the deed of records of Floyd county a two-block addition. At Floydada the new addition will be known as the Barker Addition, named by the dedicator, W. M. Massie for B. K. Barker. At Lockney Judge J. N. Stalbird is the dedicating grantor and has named his addition Depot Addition to the city of Lockney. This addition is located between the business section of Lockney and the Santa Fe station.

Reports from the ginners of Floydada last night gave figures which exceeded 2,000 bales as a total for the season to date, the exact figures were 2,087 bales.

Colonel Thomas Montgomery, who returned Tuesday of last week from a business trip down state where he spent several days at Fort Worth and Dallas and incidentally saw the agricultural exhibits at Dallas, in charge of Maury Hopkins, was riding the T. P. train that wrecked east of Sweetwater on Monday night, killing the engineer and fireman.

Mrs. H. D. Bloodworth, of Newland was in town shopping last week.

Floydada High school won hands down over the Matador High school eleven last Friday afternoon excelling the visiting boys in all departments of the game, although it was never necessary to extend themselves in defensive tactics. The score was 70 to 0, the last quarter being reduced to 7½ minutes in time, during which Coach Wester sent in four raw recruits for linemen.

During the stay of Judge O. R. Kelso, of St. Louis, in this section visiting properties of the Texas Utilities company, he has made pumping and lighting contracts with four cities, one of which, Ralls, is reported last week.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. — The proposed two-price system of Secretary Henry Wallace is meant to increase the farmer's income by getting his surpluses to low income consumers at low prices. But various problems are presented. In the first place if there is to be one price for the poor and one price for others, how will it be decided which poor people shall be allowed to buy at lower prices, and how can unfair competion with merchants and distributors be avoided?

It has been suggested that distribution might be facilitated if poor families were given identification cards and required to present them at local distribution centers to buy "second price" goods.

Farm programs which curtail food production, raise prices and work a hardship on those families least able to afford adequate diet. Farmers will get more money if some of their produce is sold to the poor than they would if it were destroyed.

A two-price system would be much more easily applied to milk, fruits, butter, eggs and vegetables than to manufactured goods, such as cotton.

Both farmer groups and business men now sell the same products at different prices. Sometimes the same product is sold at varying prices with different brand names. And the theory of a "two-price" system is an old one, long familiar to economists.

But if it were adopted by this administration, the system would probably arouse fierce protests from those who dislike subsidies. It is possible that some low cost distribution plan without subsidies could be worked out on a national scale, as it has been worked out in New York City for local distribution of milk. Or it might involve a subsidy to farmers and a subsidy to consumers, at the expense of the treasury.

Wallace's idea is not original with him. A Frenchman named Dupuis figured out the possibilities of a two-price system in 1800.

He set up a theoretical man who built a toll bridge on borrowed money. The bride-owner found that he couldn't fix a single rate that would make his investment pay and he went broke.

Dupuis then imagined a smarter man who bought the bridge. This second owner noticed there was a factory on one side of the bridge that needed labor and that there were workers on the other side who couldn't afford to pay the bridge toll. So he decided to let workmen cross at certain times in the day for half price. The bridge paid out.

Horse race gambling was outlawed in Texas, but has not a worse type of gambling taken its place? Scores and scores of games of chance are found at the fairs. They run wide open, arranged especially to entice the boys and girls to spend their money in this fashion. — Canyon News.

While the six leading cotton countries exported 1.5 million bales less during the first 9 months of the current season than during the corresponding period last year, exports from the United States rose about 400,000 bales or 8 per cent. The combined exports from the other five countries declined about 35 per cent.—Foreign Crops and Markets.

Germany has become the dominant power of Europe in less than five years. When Hitler took charge in 1933 Germany was in a hopeless condition, politically as well as economically, and most Germans had to live on boiled wheat. Now there is barely any unemployment and that country has become the fastest growing colossus of our age. Evidently there is something to Hitler besides being a demagogue. The question now is: "Will he last?"—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

One reason we say so much about the old age pension is because it is of interest to over three-fourths of our people. All who are over 65 years of age are very much interested in what we say. Men and women, boys and girls, who have parents over 65 years of age, whom they have to support and take care of, are very much interested, as well. If their parents receive $60 a month between them, a great load is removed from their shoulders, and they are left to try and get a start in this world. Just why many editors are "scared" to advocate such a humane and just cause as this, is beyond us. Besides helping 90 per cent of the people of Texas, it would be of benefit to all weekly newspapers. Why not advocate a just cause and at the same time help yourself?—Claud News.

Here's How Two-Price Milk System Works in New York

This picture shows how New York distributes milk to low-income consumers. Customers line up at the depot while a distributor's truck backs up to unload the milk.

NEW YORK.—This city's system of selling milk to the poor at much less than the regular retail price is based on recognition of the same fact that is the basis of Agriculture Secretary Henry Wallace's two-price proposal to take care of farm surpluses, to wit:

That families far down in the income brackets cannot buy the minimum amount of milk needed for good health, plus inability of farmers to dispose of milk surpluses without suffering heavy losses.

Although it cannot be said that the Department of Agriculture will use the New York plan as a model for any two-price system it might apply to any farm product, the system usually is referred to in department discussions of the idea.

The New York plan—distinct from the city's free distribution of milk to the needy—has no municipal subsidy except the city's contribution of supervision. Formal delivered price for milk in New York is 13¾ cents a quart and the store prices vary between 11 and 13 cents. But if the consumer has a little blue identification card, he can go to one of the 110 city milk depots and buy virtually the same quart—a shade less butterfat—for 8 cents. This is Class 1 fluid milk. Farmers get 5.3 cents a quart for it, which means 6.25 or 6.5 cents delivered in the city. Milk distributing corporations buy it and deliver it to the depots for sale at 8 cents to blue card holders.

Depots open at 6:30 a. m., remain open until 8:30 a. m. A truck drives up, unloads trays of milk bottles. People standing in line receive their bottles of milk from an attendant. Another worker checks and punches the milk cards. Depots usually are vacant stores or baby health centers. Thus the city incurs no extra cost for handling, refrigerating, rent, etc. Presumably the milk companies lose no money on the deal. Then send one truck only to a depot, sell the milk in a very short period and suffer no bottle losses because customers must present empties.

Inconvenience to the customer is regarded as a partial guarantee against chiseling by persons who can afford higher priced milk. An average of more than 45,000 quarts a day is sold to about 15,000 families — perhaps 75,000 persons. The biggest day saw a sale of 82,000 quarts.

McCoy Church Badly Damaged By Fire Sun

The McCoy Baptist church building was badly damaged Sunday morning at 11:45 o'clock when fire originated around the flu causing a damaged estimated at around $100. The quick work of the men at the John Gray Gin are responsible for saving the building.

The gin men noticed the smoke and flames of the fire and made a run with their fire extinguishers and were fighting the fire before the congregation realized the building was burning. There being very little wind and with plenty of help the fire was soon put out.

TUNNELS ADD TO VALUE OF MODERN HIGHWAYS

Highway tunnels were once rare because of their cost. But within recent years the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has constructed in Federal areas, or aided the states in the construction of, 24 major highway tunnels in the Western states. Speed and volume of traffic have increased and the steep and winding roads once built in the mountains often can be avoided only by boring a tunnel.

In general, construction of an open cut is more economical than tunneling if the length is less than 80 feet or if the cut can be made by excavating not more than 80 feet deep.

Most of the important tunnels range from 200 to 1,000 feet in length, but there is one in Zion National park over a mile in length. The Wawona tunnel in Yosemite National park is nearly a mile long.

Tunnels vary greatly in difficulty of construction and in cost. A short tunnel through solid rock may be built for $75 to $100 per lineal foot. If the rock is broken so that it falls, or the tunnel is through earth, lining is required. A reinforced concrete lining may more than double the cost. Nineteen of the twenty-four tunnels referred to had to be lined.

The longer tunnels must be ventilated, sometimes by side openings or by shafts that act like chimneys and sometimes by forced drafts from large fans. Lighting of tunnels is becoming a frequent practice.

Famed Umbrellas

Jonas Hanway was the man who popularized the rainshield in London. He took his life in his hands when he did it, too, asserts a writer in the Washington Post. Not that umbrellas were unknown. Far from it. They had been used as sun shades in the East for centuries. They were well-known in France. In fact, English women occasionally carried them. But Hanway was the first Englishman to date appear on the streets with an umbrella. He saw in it a way to prevent sickness caused by getting wet in rain. So, he carried his umbrella, though he was hooted, pelted with mud, sticks and stones. But Jonas Hanway lived to have the last laugh. Before he died in 1786 most men carried umbrellas and shortly after his death, even the hard-boiled men of the army took to them.

Approximately 105,000 baseballs are used during one season by the major leagues.

Jones Says Give Farm Act Chance

Chairman House Committee On Agriculture Urges Need Of Provisions

(By Marvin Jones, chairman House committee on Agriculture, and Congressman of the 18th District)

In the current discussion of the farm bill many of the most desirable features have been overlooked. Some people have thoughtlessly urged that the measure be repealed. They overlook some very worthwhile features of the bill which I do not believe any thinking person would want repealed. Among these are the following:

1. The freight rate provision, which authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to file applications to correct the rank discriminations against agricultural products in the freight rate structure of the country. This has been one of the greatest burdens agriculture has suffered. I do not believe any thinking person actually interested in the success of the American farm would want this provision repealed.

2. The research provision, which provides for the establishment of laboratories in the different sections of the country and for the search for new markets, new outlets, and new forms of distribution for the various farm products that are produced. Surely no one wants this desirable feature repealed.

3. The export provision, which provides for 30% of the tariff collections to be devoted to exporting farm commodities and to distributing these commodities and their products among the needy people in America. Surely no wise person would want this provision repealed.

4. The soil conservation provisions. Every man, woman, and child in America is interested in the conservation and rebuilding of the soils. Some of the finest work that has been done in this generation has been in connection with the soil conservation provisions of the act. I do not see how anyone can object to this provision.

5. The loan provision, which is intended to prevent complete price collapse. Last year we produced the greatest cotton crop in history. We produced the greatest wheat crop since 1915. In 1932, with a smaller cotton crop than in 1937, cotton sold at 4c and 5c per pound. In 1932 with a smaller wheat crop than in 1937, wheat sold at 20c per bushel.

Low and unsatisfactory as prices are now, they are infinitely better than they were in 1932. In addition, the cotton and wheat farmers are receiving soil conservation payments. The cotton farmer is receiving a price adjustment payment, and the cotton and wheat farmers are to receive some additional parity payments.

If any cotton or wheat farmer will take his pencil and figure these payments and prices along side the 1932 tragedy, he will find how much better off he is with the present program than he would be with no program at all.

At the beginning of the 1938 cotton picking period there was a carryover of 13,000,000 bales—more than twice the annual consumption of cotton in the United States. Any program, any plan that may be offered must deal with this tremendous carryover.

Everyone familiar with the facts knew that the new farm act of 1938 was going into effect during the most difficult period that could be conceived. The tremendous surpluses that had been produced in our crops complicated the problem to an extreme degree.

It seems to me that anyone sincerely interested in the success of the farm program should be willing to wait until there is a thorough try-out of the new measure or at least until one season has passed before beginning to sow the seeds of discord and to stir up dissatisfaction.

No one claims the new law is perfect. On the other hand, no fair man can deny that it has many desirable features. No man is wise enough to predict in advance just how it will work out. This much is certain: anyone who is attacking it when the new season has just started is not making a contribution to the welfare of the farmer.

No doubt in the light of the experience, some changes will be found necessary. These changes can and should be made. Congress does not meet until January. By that time I am sure any needed changes will be much clearer. In the meantime I hope that all farmers and every sincere friend of agriculture will refrain from interfering to the end that the best possible results may be obtained.

Any act, for its success, depends upon three things:

1. The form of the law.
2. The character of administration.
3. The cooperation of those in whose interest it is enacted.

No law however perfect can be successful unless it is well administered. No law however perfect, even if well administered, can succeed unless the people who are affected are willing to cooperate. He does the farmer no service who lights the torch of intolerance and who undertakes to create dissatisfaction at the very time during which the most critical part of the work is being done.

The agricultural program today is not a bill. It is a movement, and the bills are but various steps in that movement.

It involves credits. We have the lowest farm interest rates that have ever prevailed in the history of this country.

It involves markets. We have a specific provision for widening the markets both at home and abroad.

It involves freight rates. We have provision for correcting the inequities in the freight rate structure.

It involves research and new uses. Provision has been made for work along these lines.

It involves the preservation of the soil. This is the heart of the present program.

It involves the handling of our vast surpluses which are some times produced within the borders of America. Provision is made in the act by which the farmers, under a 2/3 vote, can provide for regulating the disposal of excessive surpluses. At the same time it provides for widening of the markets and increasing the sale and distribution of these surpluses.

There are more than 200 commodities produced in America, involving some $9,000,000,000 in annual values. Any man who feels that he has a simple panacea that will fit the vast, intricate and complicated problems of the various farm commodities produced in this broad, big country, I believe has not thought the matter through.

I am sure that every true friend of the farmer is anxious to see the law improved as we go along. I am sure that by intelligent and cooperative effort great improvement can be made. This is the history of all great movements in America. I do not believe that the solution of this age-old problem can be achieved or even materially contributed to by extreme attacks and bitter personalities. I am sure that if all those who have a simple heart interest in the success of the greatest of all American businesses—American agriculture—will calmly analyze and show a disposition to cooperate in working out the final program, great progress can be made.

Out of America's small towns marches as living and breathing a story of real people as Hollywood has ever produced. Bob Burns in his first starring role for Paramount studios has thrown away his bazooka and revealed himself as one of the country's great humorists in "The Arkansas Traveler." Cast as an itinerant printer, Bob Burns takes the protector's role with capable Fay Bainter as the widow of the newspaper editor. Together these two favorites make "The Arkansas Traveler" a simple, homely, kindly picture. It will be shown at the Palace November 3-4.

Here Is Why QUALLA PEDIGREED SEED Are Cheapest

Any time you go out to buy "the best of anything at the cheapest price" you're apt to come home disappointed. It isn't in the nature of things that "the best" could possibly be "the cheapest"—that is, considered from the angle of first costs.

It's results that count—not first costs—results obtained in the field. Considering the varietal purity, yield, lint turn-out, and staple of Qualla Pedigreed Cotton my seed are not only the best, but also, in the long run, the cheapest.

OVER 30 YEARS EXPERIENCE

Practical, down-to-the-ground work and experience, over a period of over 30 years, in the development and production of pure bred planting cottonseed stand back of Qualla Cotton—and guarantee satisfaction. This long-time experienced effort behind my production controls my price—and makes it practically impossible for me to supply my seed on a competitive price basis. It's this experience, the "know-how," and the long record of success behind Qualla Seed that makes these seed the best—and quite naturally, they are worth and command an above-average price.

Paying Crops Grow Only from Good Seed . . . Buy QUALLA Pedigreed Seed and Avoid Being Disappointed.

Chevrolets For '39 Are On Display

Many New Distinctive Features Are Added To New Models This Year

Sleek new aero-stream bodies suggesting fleetness and luxury combine with numerous mechanical advancements, at least two of which are major in character, to assure keen public interest in the new 1939 Chevrolet, which made its formal bow Saturday in 10,000 dealers' showrooms from coast to coast.

The two new Chevrolet series, designated as the master deluxe and the master 85, are offered as embodying not only distinctive style but an even finer aggregate of performance, safety and comfort characteristics than that which made their predecessors sales leaders in 1938. Two new models....a master deluxe four passenger coupe with many distinctive features, and a master 85 business coupe available on both chassis....are added for 1939, the sport coupe and cabriolet being discontinued.

The major mechanical improvements for 1939 are the new vacuum gearshift with streering column control, optional on both series at nominal extra cost, and the new perfected knee-action riding system on the master deluxe. This improvement includes an entirely new knee-action mechanism, triple-tested, precision-built, and tailored as a unit to the car, to assure maximum riding comfort over all roads.

The power plant in both series is the time-proven Chevrolet 85-horsepower high-compression six-cylinder valve-in-head engine, in which refinements introduced in 1938 are continued, and additional refinements resulting in greater economy, durability, and ease of servicing, incorporated for 1939. Improvements have been made in the ignition and oiling systems, the carburetor, the intake manifold thermostatic control, the harmonic balancer, which is now floated in rubber, and the cooling system, which now has a self-adjusting permanently-lubricated ball-bearing water pump. The diaphragm-type tiptoe-matic clutch introduced for 1938 is continued with improvements, chief of which is new provision for ventilation.

Outwardly, the new Chevrolet is longer and lower in appearance. This is accomplished by the new design of fenders, wheels, running boards, and hood, as well as by a new window treatment. The lower corners of the latter appear practically square, thus effecting a continuous straight-line appearance at the bottom of the side windows.

The hood extends forward from the cowl in a smooth, unbroken surface, curving down gracefully at the front to meet the new radiator grille. The new construction of the top and side panels, from a single piece of sheet steel without hinged or riveted joint, accentuates its clean-cut sleekness.

New and larger headlamps are cradled in the valleys between fender crowns and hood, being mounted directly to low pads embossed in the fenders themselves. The lamps are longer, larger in diameter, farther apart and closer to the ground than in 1938, and their new lenses light more of the road. The new mounting makes them less vulnerable to damage, and reduces service costs in the event of excessive damage to fenders. Horizontal and vertical adjustment of the beam is simple and positive, being accomplished from outside, above the fender.

The 1939 wheels are new. They have four wide spokes instead of eight narrower ones, as in 1938, and their design is flatter. There is 5/8 inch less distance between the tire wall and the hub cap crown, a feature which not only accentuates the flatness of the wheel but protects the hub caps from flying gravel and from marring against high curbs. The cap is easier to remove, too, its lock springs being more flexible.

Quitaque Panthers Put Up A Battle; Lose to Floydada

Crippled Floydada Team Manages To Outlast Fourth Quarter Flurry

Quitaque's Panthers approached nearer to victory here Friday night against the Whirlwinds than they have any other time this season. The Panthers were helpless the first quarter but found their strength and began clawing before the game was over.

The Whirlwinds were badly crippled with Mal J rboe, James Gibbs, and George Fry Lider collecting splinters on the bench but the boys who played in their spots filled in much better than was at first expected.

"Big Foot" Turner, huge 170-pound tackle, played a bang up ball game from the opening whistle, filling in for Jimmie Willson who opened his first game as a back this year. Before he was taken from the game "Big Foot" had bounced on a Panther fumble on their 20-yard stripe that was eventually manufactured into a touchdown.

Dillon Patterson, understudy of Mal Jarboe, played steady ball at the other tackle spot. Burgett and Tyler managed their end positions in a dependable manner.

McClure, sub-end, who is playing his first year of football accounted for the third touchdown, and the winning one, when he snagged a 40 yard pass from Beard and then raced 30 more to score. He had to stop and reach back for the ball but once he had his hands on it he was under way toward the Panther goal. Martin and Fickes opened at guard for the Whirlwinds and both worked steadily.

Jimmy Willson and Gordon Patterson worked in the slots left open by Gibbs and Lider, teaming with Clifford Daniels and R. E. Golightly.

Open With Touchdown

The Whirlwinds wasted no time in getting their double-barreled offensive underway after the kickoff. Daniels took the snapback on the Floydada 35 sprinted toward the west sidelines behind good blocking and then headed south, he cut back in the Panther secondary, stiffarming and out stepping several would-be-tacklers and ran across paydirt ....but the referees called it back to the Quitaque 45 due to a clipping penalty.

The teams sawed back and forth several times but the Whirlwind offensive got under way again behind the stepping of Beard, Daniels and Golightly. Daniels drove over from the 2-yard line for the first score and Golightly kicked score after an attempted pass for extra point had been called back because of an offside.

Later in the initial quarter Quitaque opened an offensive on their 20 after taking the kickoff but fumbled with Turner recovering for Floydada. Floydada was held for downs and Quitaque took over again on their own 21. Golightly intercepted a pass and returned to Quitaque's 22. Daniels fast stepped his way across the goal from that point.

The remainder of that half Floydada and Quitaque fought on even terms with most of the Whirlwind substitutes seeing service. Phil Steen intercepted a Panther pass to kill one scoring threat in the second quarter.

Half Time

Floydada scored right after the half was over when Beard whipped a long 40-yard pass to McClure on the Quitaque 30 and raced for a touchdown.

Floydada substitutes came in and fought the Panthers on even terms again until the fourth quarter began. Quitaque's offensive began to steam up and they began a march down field on passes and running plays that chalked up a score when Roderick smashed off his left tackle to score. Goal was kicked.

Floydada's offensive again bogged up and the Panthers began another march downfield. Passes and hard driving running plays carried the ball to the Floydada 12-yard line. Roderick passed to Gowin for the final tally.

Extra point failed as the game ended 19 to 13.

Due to the absence of so many Floydada regulars most of the subs had a chance to strut their stuff as Coach Winter tried his scoring combinations on the Panthers.

The Deadline

(By Bill Hams)

Quitaque's Panthers have come and gone with a 19 to 13 loss to better the Floydada record so kicked around by Slaton and Flomot. Next comes the Paducah Dragons over at Blatzburg (Paducah to a few) in another conference squabble.

Don't discount the Dragons either just because Flomot scalped them because we also collected a few knocks from the same outfit. Flomot 25, Paducah 7 and Flomot 33, Floydada 6. Estelline 0, Paducah 26; Estelline 0, Floydada 26. If you take some of that dope and add six and subtract a touchdown you can see that Paducah is at least one touchdown and one wuxtra point better than the Winds. All of which Floydada hopes isn't correct dope.

If you haven't yet heard, Lockney flogged the Tulia Hornets 26 to 0 without any trouble to amount to anything last Friday p. m. in the Hornets home hive, which isn't any mean achievement. Floydada nosed out the Hornets here 18 to 0 with two touchdowns called back due to infractions. Lockney treated the Hornets rougher and in their own backyard which makes the dope lean even further toward Lockney.

The Longhorns have a whizz of an aerial attack, the ball generally being tossed by Hill to Brotherton, that set Tulia on their ears time after time. The Steers have a good defense too, Tulia drove to the Steer's 2-yard line once with a first down and then used up their downs without gaining an inch. Lockney's aerial defense seemed strong too, since they intercepted several Tulia heaves and broke up others. Tulia failed to complete a pass against the Steers.

Brotherton took the opening kickoff through the whole Hornet swarm for at least 95 yards and a touchdown, from that point on the Steers pulled reverses, spinners, and passes, plunges from wingback, double wing-back, and etc. formations. Lockney scored on a screen pass that netted 65 yards and a touchdown.

Lockney has a balanced team this year that is much, very much, better than last year's bunch and they should take the Whirlwinds by two touchdowns on November 4. Anyway don't sell the Longhorns short when you place your "coke" wagers.

Plans are being formulated to sponsor six-man football in Floyd county next year, according to street talk among fans. It is hoped by encouraging this new sport that more and better football players may be developed. Whether a single six-man football player ever becomes a player on a regular 11 is beside the point....the encouragement of the sport would help the rural schools by giving them some sport other than basketball, softball or baseball.

Some of the six-man football coaches say that any school that can muster 10 or 12 men could have a good six-man football team. Chance of injuries are small because football shoes with their hard cleats may be banned if a league wishes and tennis shoes substituted also cutting down on the expense of the game.

Some leagues require that the man receiving the ball from the center must lateral at least once to some player before the ball crosses the line of scrimmage. There are three linesmen, two ends and a center, and three backs; Everyone, excepting the center, is eligible for a forward pass but anyone can take a lateral. The playing field in six-man is generally 1/3 smaller than a regulation football field and the quarters are generally played at eight minutes each, with four quarters.

This new style football places heavy emphasis on open field blocking and tackling, ball handling and broken field running. Little, if any, straight power plays are used, especially in the leagues that require at least one lateral before the ball crosses the line of scrimmage, deception, speed, and skill are the high points of six-man.

Here are a few that will lower a good batting average.

Spur 35, Silverton 0.

Floydada 7, Paducah 6 (Once a sucker etc.)

Flomot 40, Matador 6.

Lockney 45, Estelline 0.

ALL YOUR CURIOSITY satisfied by Your Mileage Merchant...Ask him exactly how you're sure of fast winter starting and extreme oil economy by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

IS OIL-PLATING just a different name? ...No. OIL-PLATING is what Conoco Germ Processed oil does! The out-and-out difference is this: OIL-PLATING will stay firmly attached—plated—clear to the topmost point in your engine, while any plain mineral oil drains clear down the crankcase at every stop.

Exactly where is your gain? Well, in starting up again—next day or next month—the coldest OIL-PLATED engine is always oiled in advance...prelubricated before any oil down in the crankcase could ever stir. OIL-PLATING thus keeps every engine part constantly slippy. The starter speeds...the battery lives and so does the engine, free of fierce starting friction.

But is there any oil saving? Why?... Because less engine wear puts more miles between quarts. And OIL-PLATING itself never passes out during the use of Germ Processed oil. Only the Germ Process, patented, creates OIL-PLATING, the sensible reason for you to switch to Your Mileage Merchant today.

Miss Alice Mae Fyffe Becomes Bride Of J. D. Moore Oct. 21

In an impressive ceremony solomnized in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fyffe, Friday evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Alice Mae Fyffe became the bride of J. D. Moore.

Rev. Vernon Shaw, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the marriage rites for the double ring ceremony as the couple and their attendants stood before an improvised altar of four large baskets of white gladioli against a back ground of fern and palm leaves arranged in front of the fire place. Three candle stands with tall white candles cast a soft light over the beautiful alter. White and green was the chosen color scheme.

Miss Lola Mae Grundy was brides maid and Mrs. O. B. Haught, both of Lubbock, was matron of honor. They wore black gowns with bouquets of pale pink gladoli. Claude Hammonds served as best man.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, D. W. Fyffe, was attractive wearing a black chiffon velvet and carried a white prayer book. Her corsage was of white gardenias. She wore a black tailored suit for going away.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Claude Hammonds and Mrs. Berl Holt sang, "Sweetheart of All My Dreams", accompanied at the piano by Nelda Fagan, who played the bridal music.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The table was covered with a lace cloth centered with the three tiered wedding cake, on which was placed a miniature bride and groom, surrounded with a wreath of fern and white asters. Silver coffee urns were placed at each end with triple candles near the urns.

Mrs. A. V. Stewart, sister of the bride, and Mrs. C. E. Fyffe, sister-in-law, served the coffee while Miss Bonnie Dale Fyffe, served the cake.

Mrs. Moore, graduated from the local high school with the class of 1932, attended Tech college at Lubbock three years and completed a business course at Draughon's Business college at Wichita Falls last year. She is now employed with the county agent's office where she will continue work.

The bride-groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Moore. He completed his education in the public schools here and attended Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. He is employed with the First National Bank.

The couple made a short trip to Wichita Falls and are now at home at 211 East Crockett street.

Only relatives and a few close friends attended the wedding. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Billie Grundy of Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Boomer of Amarillo, Mrs. Chesley Sullivan of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Haught of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Elgar Winn, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hale and E. E. Winn all of Plainview and Cecil Bronson of Spur.

Demonstration Club Meetings At Antelope

Election Of Officers Held Last Week By Club; Mrs. J. T. Poole Is President

The Antelope H. D. club met for the first meeting in the new club room with Mrs. W. S. Poole as hostess. Baskets and bouquets of blue and gold flowers were attractively arranged in the sunny comfortable club room.

Miss Ruth Grimes gave a most instructive demonstration on "Warm Bedding, Its Storage and Care."

Light weight wool covering is warm, comfortable and healthful; warm because of the air spaces within the coverlet, comfortable because it is light weight, and healthful because it does not stop the circulation as heavier covers are prone to do. Miss Grimes' demonstration also included a lesson on shopping for both wool and cotton blankets.

During the recreational hour Miss Grimes and Mrs. S. W. Crawford were winners in the games.

Mrs. J. A. Jones, bedroom demonstrator, invited Miss Grimes and party to meet with her on achievement day, November 15.

Mrs. Poole served a dainty refreshment plate carrying out the Indian Summer motif.

The next meeting will be October 20 with Mrs. R. S. Moore and Mrs. R. J. Hinsley as hostesses.

Mrs. R. S. Moore and Mrs. R. J. Hinsley were joint hostesses to the members of the Antelope H. D. club last Thursday. The club room was decorated in the Hallowe'en motif.

Mrs. W. S. Poole gave an interesting demonstration on "Cotton, Wool, and Feather Comforts." She gave the processes of washing and carding wool; then exhibited a fluffy warm feather comfort, completed for the demonstration, showing the steps in making down comforts. She also exhibited a light weight cotton comfort.

During the business meeting the following officers were elected for 1939; Mrs. J. T. Poole, president; Mrs. W. S. Poole, vice-president; Mrs. R. J. Hinsley, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. S. M. Crawford, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. S. Moore, reporter; and Mrs. T. J. Boyd, Council representative.

During the social hour Mrs. Boyd, winner of the Hallowe'en contest, was presented with a lovely hand made gift.

The hostess, Mesdames Moore and Hinsley, passed attractive Hallowe'en refreshment plates to the club members and to Mrs. Henry Wright, little Miss Genelle Wright and James Alvy Wise and to Mrs. James Wise, a new member.

The next meeting of the club will be in the home of Mrs. W. S. Poole where Miss Grimes will give a demonstration on "Bed Linen and Bed-making" with Mrs. W. W. Palmer Mrs. C. W. Nickles, and Mrs. J. A. Jones assisting as hostesses.

The Dougherty and Pleasant Hill club members are especially invited to attend the next meeting, Nov. 3.

DOUGHERTY H. D. CLUB HOLDS BUSINESS MEET

A business meeting was the main point of interest at the meeting of the Dougherty Home Demonstration club when they met last Wednesday with Mrs. T. J. Campbell as hostess.

The club voted to assist with a banquet which the council plans to have soon. New officers were then elected for the coming year.

Mrs. C. A. Caffee was elected as president with Mrs. Bill Norman, vice-president; Mrs. R. T. Jones, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. A. H. Kreis, council representative; Mrs. C. E. Bartlett, reporter. Other committees will be appointed later.

Mrs. W. S. Poole invited the Dougherty club to meet with the Antelope club on November 3. The club accepted the invitation. Miss Grimes will give a demonstration on, "Bed Linens and Bed Making."

The club will entertain their families with a Hallowe'en party October 31, at the home of Mrs. O. G. Glassmoyer, each one is asked to come masked.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Bartlett conducted several games with Mrs. Jim Morrison and Mrs. Caffee as winners.

Mrs. Kreis gave a demonstration on how to wash wool and making of feather and down comforts.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Caffee, J. E. Newton, Bill Norman, C. S. Ray, A. H. Fowler, C. E. Bartlett, A. H. Kreis, E. Caldwell, R. W. Lotspeich, Jim Morrison Glassmoyer, W. S. Poole, Bozell and Orland Howard.

CENTER CLUB SPONSORS PARTY FRIDAY EVENING

"The school house is shining bright,
To celebrate a festive night
So come and join us—'tis Hallowe'en
And see some sights you've never seen."

This is the invitation extended to the public by the Center Home Demonstration club to attend a party to be sponsored by them at the school house Friday night at 7:30. This is to be a Hallowe'en party and all who care may come in costumes.

Miss Maurine Mathis is a guest this week in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Shaw while she recuperates from a tonsil operation.

MRS. ALLEN HOME FROM BROTHER-IN-LAW'S FUNERAL

Mrs. Oliver Allen returned home Saturday night from Elsinore, California where she attended the funeral services and burial of her brother-in-law, Claude L. Callison, which was held Thursday afternoon.

Deceased was drowned the Saturday previous while on a hunting and fishing trip with two companions at Big Bear lake. The accident happened when a storm over turned the boat. The other party out with him was rescued but before they were able to return to Callison the strong waves and heavy clothing he had on caused him to lose hold of the boat. His body was not located for 26 hours after the accident. Mrs. C. W. Thagard, mother of Mrs. Callison, remained at Elsinore with her daughter, who was seriously ill from the shock. Mr. and Mrs. Flynn Thagard of Oklahoma, City, returned with Mrs. Allen going on to their home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thompson of Lubbock, former resident of Floydada, and old friends of the Callison and Thagard families also attended the funeral.

Writing fluids, Hesperian.

Mrs. Clifford Gorley returned home this week from a weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guss Gifford, of Narcisso, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Caruthers, of Houston, are visiting in the home of W. G. Caruthers.

COMMISSIONER HARRIS LOSES BARN AND FEED IN FIRE EARLY WEDNESDAY

Commissioner E. R. Harris early yesterday morning lost a large barn and all the feed stored in it in a fire at his Pleasant Valley farm.

A car and tractor in the barn were saved and no livestock was lost.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hollums and Mrs. A. B. Duncan returned home Sunday from Amarillo where they spent several days attending the Florist convention. Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Pitts accompanied them home going on to Lubbock from here.

Mrs. Weaver Howard and daughter, Bernice, and Billy Fairchild of Pueblo, Colorado, visited from Friday until Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Howard's father, J. J. Day and other relatives.

Candidate Woos. — Seeking the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Essex county, N. J., James J. Farley is shown above, as he told stories to children he met in Newark. He wears a cowboy hat and sings hillbilly songs to attract attention to his candidacy.

Earn a Shave.—Veteran hunter Frank Cummings, above, of Bowerbank, Me., can have a well-earned shave now. The black bear hanging beside him is the reason. He killed it with a bow and arrow, after vowing he wouldn't have until he had turned the trick.

Lost Cargo of Slaves

The fluctuations in the fortunes of slave traders is revealed in the biography of the famous Theodore Canot who transported Negroes from Africa to America between 1827 and 1847. On one early voyage, notes a writer in Collier's Weekly, he lost his entire cargo of 300 slaves in a smallpox epidemic, while on another trip he safely landed 217 and sold them for $77,469.

Wild Hare, Squirrels Pests

In the Eighteenth century wild hare and squirrels were so plentiful they became pests, with bounties on their heads, says the American Wildlife Institute. In one year —1749—800 pounds were paid out for the heads of gray and black squirrels at three pence a head in Pennsylvania alone. This means that more than 600,000 were killed for the price on their heads.

Mrs. Roy Swain is expected home tomorrow or Saturday from Wichita Falls, where she was called last week by the serious illness of a sister, who is believed to be recovering satisfactorily at this time.

Mrs. O. E. Murry and brother Joe M. Day of Long Beach, California who is here on a visit, went to Amarillo Wednesday to visit with their sister, Mrs. Charlie Jones, who underwent an operation in a hospital there Tuesday. She was resting well at the latest report.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Slaughter of Lubbock were week-end guests of his mother, Mrs. Lula Slaughter, and other relatives.

Arctic Spinach.— Arctic Photographer Murray Wiener, above is headed for a barber shop after a year and three months with the MacGregor Arctic Meteorological expedition which was within 750 miles of the North Pole. On his lap is his 3-year-old cousin Joan Kozak of Brooklyn, admiring the spinach on Wiener's chin at Newark, N. J.

Protector and Playmates.—Wurka, Los Angeles police dog, is both playmate and protector for Treggs, a baby jack rabbit, and Trigger, a cat. The three are pictured in a characteristic domestic scene.

THIRTY WAYS GIVEN TO KILL ANY ORGANIZATION

1. Don't come to the meetings.
2. If you do come, come late.
3. If the weather doesn't suit you don't think of coming.
4. If you do attend a meeting, find fault with the work of the officers.
5. Never accept an office, as it is easier to criticise than to do things.
6. Nevertheless, get sore if you are not appointed on a committee; but if you are, do not attend committee meetings.
7. If asked by the chairman to give your opion regarding some important matter, tell him you have nothing to say; after the meeting tell everyone how things ought to be done.
8. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary; but when other members roll up their sleeves and willingly and unselfishly use their ability to help matters along ,howl that the Association is run by a clique.
9. Hold back you subscription as long as possible or don't pay at all.
10. When a banquet is given, tell everybody money is being wasted on blow-outs which make a big noise and accomplish nothing.
11. When no banquets are given, say the Association is dead and needs a can tied to it.
12. Don't ask for a banquet ticket until all are sold.
13. Then swear you've been cheated out of yours.
14. If you do get a ticket, don't pay for it.
15. If asked to sit at the speakers' table, modestly refuse.
16. If you are not asked, resign from the Association.
17. If you don't receive a bill for your subscription, don't pay.
18. If you receive a bill after you've paid, resign from the Association.
19. Don't tell the Association how it can help you; but if it doesn't help you, resign.
20. If you receive service without joining, don't think of joining.
21. If the association doesn't correct abuses in your neighbor's business, howl that nothing is done.
22. If it calls attention to abuses in your own, resign from the association.
23 Keep your eyes open for something wrong and, when you find it, resign.
24. At every opportunity threaten to resign and then get your friends to resign.
25. When you attend a meeting, vote to do something and then go home and do the opposite.
26. Agree to everything said at the meeting and disagree with it outside.
27. When asked for information, don't give it.
28. Cuss the Association for the incompleteness of its information.
29. Get all the Association gives you, but don't give it anything but H——.
30 When everything else fails, cuss the Secretary and the President.

FIBERS MADE OF CASEIN WILL "TAKE" WOOL DYES

Different dyes are required in coloring animal fibers and plant fibers because of different chemical compositions. To the textile trade dyes used in coloring animal fibers are known as "wool" dyes and those for plant fibers as "cotton" dyes, as they are the most common animal and plant fibers.

Blending a plant fiber with wool has been a problem to manufacturers because of the different dyes required. While some rayons—synthetic plant fibers— will take wool dyes, the color is always a different shade.

Synthetic wool fiber made from casein, a milk byproduct, under a process recently devised by scientists of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, is of animal origin and therefore takes wool dyes. In fact the chemical composition of casein fiber and natural wool is almost identical. The synthetic fiber contains somewhat less sulphur which does not affect the wool dyes in any way.

The casein fiber also has the characteristic fine kink of natural wool and may be blended with it to make a product that has the resilience of pure wool. Manufacturers have been able to make rayon fibers with this same kinky structure, but because they do not toke wool dyes they are not as desirable for blending with wool as fibers from animal products.

TEST SHOWS HOW SIRES AFFECT MILK PRODUCTION

Seventeen Jersey sires loaned by the Jeanerette Experiemnt station of the Bureau of Dairy Industry to cooperating farmers show how good sires in farm herds transmit to their daughters the ability to produce more milk and butterfat.

The 17 sires were bred to 297 cows with an average annual production of 6,246 pounds of milk and 296 pounds of butterfat calculated to a mature basis. The daughters produced an average of 6,845 pounds of milk and 328 pounds of butterfat. This is a net average of 599 pounds of milk and 32 pounds of butterfat in favor of the daughters.

As in all proved sire work, some of the bulls failed to transmit production ability. Only 4 of the 17, however, points out S. L. Cathcart, in charge of breeding work at the station, failed to raise the average production.

One bull, placed with the State Normal college, Natchitoches, La., sired 14 daughters that produced 1,549 pounds more milk and 109 pounds more butterfat than the dams.

Salmon Climb Fishways. — Two Columbia river salmon are seen above as they cross a flashboard in one of the levels of the fishways at Bonneville dam. Government experts count and classify the fish as they pass around the dam, through the fishways, to spawn upstream.

MEAT INSPECTION COSTS LOW, U. S. RECORDS SHOW

Inspectors of the United States meat inspection service often are asked, "Who pays for meat inspection?"

Federal meat inspection is paid for by the Government—not by the packers nor by the meat trade. Official records show that the total cost of all operations, including administration, is about 7 cents an animal. This is about one-fiftieth of a cent a pound for all meat products inspected or between 3 and 4 cents a person a year.

There are other benefits besides protection to human health. The Bureau of Animal Industry, which conducts the meat inspection service, generally is able to trace shipments of diseased cattle to their source. Farmers, ranchmen, and officials engaged in disease-eradication projects appreciate this service. It helps to locate and remove causes of infection, improve farm conditions, and in turn cut production costs.

Another question often asked regarding Federal meat inspection is "What is done with condemned meat and meat products?" All condemned meat is constantly in charge of inspectors until destroyed for food purposes, as by reduction to fertilizer and inedible grease.

SULFANILAMIDE LABELED FOR PUBLIC USE VIOLATES NEW FOOD AND DRUG ACT

Sulfanilamide and related drugs, when distributed in interstate commerce for use by the general public, violate the new Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic act, the Food and Drug administration says in a warning to distributiors.

One section of the newly enacted law holds a drug to be illegal if it is dangerous to health when used in the dosage, or with the frequency or duration, suggested in its labeling.

Although the Administration's ruling limits the distribution of the drug under labeling addressed to the general public, it does not restrict its use under physicians' prescriptions.

"Sulfanilimide is a two-edged sword," says the Food and Drug administration. "It is at once a valuable and a dangerous remedy. In the hands of physicians who maintain close supervision over their patients to detect the first symptoms of adverse effect it has proven a remarkable therapeutic agent, but corelessly or ignorantly employed it is capable of producing serious injury and even death.

"In this respect it may be compared with X-ray, which is invaluable for both the diagnosis and treatment of disease when expertly used, but which may be injurious in untrained hands."

Swordfish Can Defeat Shark

Since swordfish have no teeth they swallow everything whole. In case they make a mistake and eat something that disagrees, nature has provided a neat arrangement for getting rid of it. As a matter of fact swordfish are noted for being able to empty their stomachs at will. Consequently, swordfish are naturally among the cleanest fishes known. Curiously enough, a swordfish sword is not a sword at all, but simply a bony extension of his upper jaw. With his great strength, terrific speed and mighty sword (which is fully one-third the length of his body), the swordfish is the only one that can defeat a shark in a fair fight. Groups of them have occasionally attacked and killed the largest living mammal of all time—the whale.

Nationality and Citizenship

The dictionary definition of one's nationality is: "The state, quality or fact of belonging to or being connected with a nation or state as by nativity or allegiance." Nationality acquired by birth may be lost by naturalization in another country. Citizenship is defined as the status of a citizen, with its rights and privileges. A person may be made an honorary citizen of another country, as in the case of George Washington, made an honorary citizen of France. There have been examples of Americans who have been elected to high positions in this country who were technically not citizens. Even the American Indians on reservations, though native born Americans, were not granted citizenship until 1924.

PROVED SIRES BOOST DAIRY HERD OUTPUT

Production records are kept on only a little more than 2 percent of the milk cows on American farms, reports Dr. J. F. Kendrick, in charge of dairy herd-improvement work for the Bureau of Dairy Industry. Of the more than 25 million milk cows in the country, only about 560,000 are on test in the 1,100 dairy testing associations that have been organized by State dairy extension agencies in their respective States.

This small proportion, however, exerts a tremendous influencs on milk production, not only within the herds on test but also on herds that have never been tested and possibly never will.

From this 2 percent, Dr. Kendrick points out, dairy sires are now being proved at the rate of about 1,000 head per year. When production records are more complete— the Nation-wide sire proving work has been under way for only 2 years—from 2,000 to 3,000 sires are expected to be proven annually.

The sires that show up well are the "blue bloods" of the dairy cattle world. Although the large majority of dairy farmers do not keep records on their own cows, they do know the value of a good proved sire. By bull associations, artificial insemination, and other improved practices farmers use to advantage work that is being done by the few dairymen who keep records.

EROSION REMEDIES MUST FIT LOCAL CONDITIONS

Rule-of-thumb solutions do not apply to soil erosion problems. A successful soil and water conservation program for any farming section must always be based on local conditions—on existing soil types and topography, on probable climate and on economic conditions, says H. H. Bennett, Chief of the Soil Conservation Service.

Bennett cites the program developed for the wheatlands of the southern Great Plains. In this region where soil blowing is a serious hazard, many erosion control methods successful in humid areas are impracticable. Because of climatic irregularities, systematic crop rotations are undesirable. Soils and seasonal conditions are unfavorable to the growth of legumes. Low rainfall rules out the type of terrace system used in the more humid regions, because the primary problem is one of holding water on the land rather than draining it off safely.

But Soil Conservation Service technicians have worked out a program that does apply. Water is conserved through contour tillage and terracing to promote vegetative cover. Variable crop rotations are guided by seasonal, climatic, and soil conditions—with wheat the major crop and sorghum feed grains the minor crop. Crop residue such as stalks and stubble prevent wind erosion. Small grains are marketed and the feed grains utilized by permanent or transient livestock—depending on the availability of grazing land in the neighborhood. Feed storage facilities, at least a 2-year feed reserve, are recommended to relieve grazing pressure on stalk fields, permanent pastures, and young crops.

COURTESY

When the qualities which make for good character are enumerated, courtesy is not the least of great characters.

Youth, in a flurry of activities and ever changing panorama is prone to slight small courtesies which are significant in character building.

Frederick K. Stamm, editorialist for the Good Housekeeping magazine says: "There are ways of training the youth to be upright, pleasing and useful citizens. It can be done by parents being courteous immensely but the civics classes to observe conventions but instinctively from a spirit of genuine sympathy, thoughtfulness and profound respect for the other members of the family as personalities.

Since courtesy begins in the home, suppose we students become aware of the virtue that will increase our quota of friends and give us a more cheerful aspect of life.

English Teachers Meet Thursday

The four English teachers of Floydada High school Miss Cade, Miss Miller, Mrs. Piper, and Mrs. Jones met Thursday for an hour to discuss English teaching plans for the remainder of the year.

Miss Cade said that the purpose of the meeting was to work the different courses of English into a continuous course and to arrange schedule so that each teacher will stress the same things, spelling especially.

Since the teachers have so patiently gone over the outline for the rest of the year, the students should enjoy their English courses more because of the interest shown by the instructors.

Congressman Mahon Visits Floydada High School

It is seldom that Floydada High school can boast of so prominent and interesting guest as George Mahon, who is a United States congressman from the nineteenth district of Texas.

After visiting the Rotary club and various other organizations in Floydada, he was kind enough to interrupt his schedule in order to give the students of Floydada High school the privilege of a splendid talk.

At 1:45 o'clock chapel was called and the guest was introduced by A. D. Cummings. The congressman talked on the present day problems of economics and the address was spiced with interesting personal references to his work in Washington.

The entire group enjoyed the talk immenesly but the civics classes were especially benefitted by the information about the subjects that they have only recently covered in their study.

It is hoped that George Mahon will find occasion again very soon to repeat his visit which was so appreciated.

West Texas Press Clinic Date Set

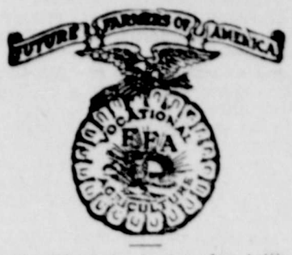
Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5, are the dates that have been set for the second annual meeting of the West Texas Scholastic Press clinic to be held on the campus of Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Registration will be held at 1 o'clock Friday. Lectures, discussions, exhibits and an entertainment program are planned.

Editors and representatives of newspapers of the South Plains area will speak. Group meetings for printed papers, pages in down town newspapers, mimeographed papers, annuals and business staffs will be held.

Last year the editors and reporters along with Miss Rees attended the meeting and received a number of valuable tips for the paper. Plans are now underway for the staff and sponsor to attend the meeting this year.

Seniors! Juniors, Sophomores! Freshmen! Grab a gun and come a runnin cause the spooks are comin' . . . . to the Junior Spook Carnival.



The Floydada Aggies plan initiation of Ralls Greenhands Tuesday night, October 25.

The Floydada officers will have charge of the program through the initiation ceremony. Ralls will then take charge of the program as they have been planning one.

The Greenhand and Future Farmer buttons have arrived and most all of the Aggies have one on their coat and are strutting around to show it.

LeRoy Chowning who is a sophomore in Floydada High school and is taking second year agriculture had for his project last year, one pig for pork production, five acres of milo for grain production, five acres of cotton for lint production. He plans to have for his project this year one pig for pork production, one guilt for pig production, eight acres of milo for grain production and eight acres of cotton for lint production.

JUNIORS PLAN SPOOK

The Juniors are here again bigger and better and with more plans than ever. They are planning a wierd spooky and entertaining carnival to be held Hallowe'en night in the Andrews Ward gym.

Booths of all kinds are to be scattered around the dimly lighted gymnasium. The carnival is to open at 7 o'clock sharp and the program is to begin at 8 o'clock. An unusual program is planned.

Everyone is urged to wear their best costumes and populate the gym. For the most clever costume, a prize is to be awarded. The prizes are such that would tempt everyone to come and try to win. The admission will be 10 cents.

Slander Session

Tresmon Glover is wearing a senior bracelet. Wonder whose it is?

Maudene Moore is wearing a senior ring. It is said that it is Bailey Switzer's. Well, Cagerlene, who is it? Elmer Biggs, Herschell Hinson? or T. W. Salisbury?

How is it that Mary Lynn Stanley makes such good grades, when she writes poetry during class?

It seems as if quite a few sophomore girls have also been asked to the "so called" Boy Scout party Wednesday night.

I hear that some sophomore boys were given quite a rush for the Press club party by the freshmen girls.

Why is it that Martha likes the west part of town better than any other part? It looks like a certain little Lockney boy is seeing "Aces" these days. Why did Maxine seem so happy Monday (could it have something to do with Sunday afternoon?) we wonder.

Who is Mary Ann forever looking at in the sixth period study hall? What kind of walk or act were Edith and Arline putting on Monday at noon?

Who says it's a waste of time for the Steen twins to go out for football? If you didn't see them Friday night, well, you should have, if they keep that up, they will make brilliant stars of themselves. Here's to you, Phil and Maurice.

Scotty has it all figured out. If you are bothered with your use of profanity, why not say "hoy, hoy, hoy, and if any questions are asked just say you are doing the Lambeth Walk.

Homemakers to Have Orchestra If Plans Work

The Future Homemakers club met Tuesday night in an industrial meeting, in the home economics department. Each member brought along some work to occupy her time. Some crotched rugs were almost finished and some more material for rugs were dyed. Handcraft and needle work furnished the entertainment for the evening.

A short business meeting was held and plans were made to learn the club songs. It was decided that the club members would practice singing the songs at the noon hour, on the cold days instead of idling their time away in the halls.

Plans are under way to organize an orchestra composed of club members. There are about 20 girls who will form the musical organization for the club. Mr. Camp is going to help Miss Rees and Miss Fouts to get the girls started.

To raise money for the club, the members are making plans to sell Christmas cards. The cards will soon be here and each girl in the department is to sell at least one pack. Ten cards are in one pack and they sell for a quarter.

The committee reported on voting on the work for the Future Homemakers chapters of the state. The club accepted their report, which was as following: 100 percent membership and every student a participating member. 100 percent attendance at each day meeting of the chapter. The building of a chapter library, affiliation with the state and national organization.

Close cooperation with community organization in promoting civic improvement or participating in some social service project; a well planned yearbook for each member, with parts assigned; well kept records, financial plans and records, correspondence file, and active committees.

A scrap book of activities. Interpretation of Future Homemakers program, at least one newspaper article each month, one good display in the community at least once each semester, chapel program each semester.

One contribution to the Future Homemaker News letter each year, and one radio program each year. Active participation in one state and two area club meetings. Submit an annual report to the state sponsor by April 1. Each club be responsible for two or more socials during the year. Have regular schedule club meetings.

Each chapter make some definite improvement in the homemaking department during the year, each meeting conducted by parliamentary procedure. And every chapter have and use a good book on parliamentary procedure.

Miss Verda Frances Turner, president of the club, stated that the club this year had already qualified for almost all the points sent to the club from the state department. The ones lacking, will soon be met.

At the close of the meeting, light refreshments were served by the foods girls to about forty girls and their sponsors, Misses Fouts and Rees.

Green Peppers

The energetic green peppers were prominent at the contest between the Quitaque Panthers and the Floydada Whirlwinds which took place Friday night.

Their yelling was inspired and the entire atmosphere teemed with the rallying spirits which spurred the Whirlwinds at Flomot. In victory as well as defeat the peppers were resplendent.

Again this week, in downtown Floydada, the peppers staged another rally. The lively, luscious, lovely colors of green and white were rampant and swift drum beats mingled with the war yells which resounded through the entire town in staccatico rhythm. With the combination of the pep squad, band, and drum corps the pep rallies take on a more intense tone, and are infinitely more interesting.

A pep report would not be adequate if the ways and means report were omitted so it is well to say that the Green Peppers are still selling Saturday popcorn in town. This week, the stand was located in front of the Bishop Drug.

Every effort is being employed to raise money so that, at the end of this season, the Green Peppers may give the Whirlwinds the best banquet that any squad has given their team in many years.

That is why the girls are willing to sell popcorn in the cold weather and peddle candy in the rain. The squad appreciates the cooperation that the mechants and fans have shown.

DRUM CORPS

The newly-organized drum corp made its initial appearance, Friday night. The flags for the color-bearers have been completed and will add to the color of the organization. It is hoped that the drums will be used at the Paducah football game.

If present plans materialize, the band and drum corps will be guests of Texas Tech, Saturday week and besides attending the football game, they will take part in the parade.

SOCIETY.

Second Year Clothing Class Entertained Friday

The second year clothing class entertained with a tea at 10:30 Friday morning honoring the children, for whom they have been making garments, and their mothers.

The children, wearing the garments which had been carefully made for them by the girls in the Clothing II class, were presented in a style show in which Aileen McIntyre made the introduction.

The rest of the program consisted of a reading by LaVerne Russell, and an accordion solo by Lou Nelson. The guests were then served tea which was presided over by the acting hostess, Lavelle Ginn. Appropriate colors of Hallowe'en were stressed throughout the entertainment.

All the girls in the class acted on committees arranging the decorations and the refreshments. Those registering in the guest book which was presided over by Dovie Donathan were Mrs. W. D. Johnson, Flora Jane Johnson, Mrs. Clifton Rhodes and daughter Teddy Jackson Rhodes of Lockney, Mrs. J. B. Turner, Mrs. Jack Broxson, Ouida Sue Broxon, Mrs. James C. Ginn, Mrs. Ottie Ginn, Marwelle Ginn, Bernita Patterson, Mary Patterson, Nellie Jo Patterson, Dovie Donathan, Mary Lois Head, Ellie Maye Biggs, Mary Denison, Mattie Pearl Turner, Aileen McIntyre, Lavelle Ginn, Marjory Duncan, Nellie Day, Ireta Jones, Bennie Ruth Jackson, Artie Moreland, Fannie Mae Rees, and Lois Fouts.

Senior Class

The senior class is well under way with plans for raising project funds and for other activities during the year. A committee of Robert Montgomery, Harold Cothern, Ruth Kreis, Dorothy Dell Stovall, Gloria Hammonds, and Olin Watson, met October 21, and discussed ways for raising money. Plans for a rummage sale and a cake sale were made. The seniors will also have charge of a chapel program soon which will be arranged by Robert Scott, Josephine Troutman, and Robertyne McIntyre. The year is already promising to be a huge success and with the cooperation of the entire class, it will continue to be.

What Do You Think About Our Drum Corps?

Nell Patton: It is grand. I think we should have had one a long time ago.

Mr. Russell: I think it is a very good thing; they are already doing good work; I am carried away with it.

Mr. Williams: It is very good. Did you notice how the crowd quieted down when they started marching?

Juanice Cothern: I really like it. It adds to the appearance of both the band and pep squad.

Dot Stovall: It is certainly an asset to our school.

Leilafaye Hicks: I think it is swell.

Mary Louise Medlen: It's swell but I will sure be glad when they learn a different march.

Mr. King: I think it is a step forward in our school activities. I really like it.

Frances Marie Williams: I think it is a grand addition to our pep squad. It is pretty loud though.

Hit Of The Week

Is It At Long Last Love

Is it an earthquake,
Or only a shock?
Is it the good turtle soup,
Or merely the mock?
Is it a cocktail,
This feeling of joy;
Or is what I feel
The real McCoy?
Is it for all time,
Or only a lark?
Is it Granada I see,
Or only Ashbury park?
Is it a fancy
Not worth thinking of,
Or is it at long last love?

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children.

Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Fifteen Stitches Taken In Negro's Throat After Razor Battle Here Late Sunday

"Sho Did Make Me Mad," Victim Tells Officers; Wife Is Placed In Jail

Fifteen stitches isn't much when they are taken in a ripped pair of overalls but when they are taken in a person's body they amount to a whole lot, and when they are taken in a person's neck that is something!

But that is what happened to Gilbert Ward, colored resident of Floydada, who had the misfortune to get his throat cut from "ear to ear" Sunday night about 10 o'clock in a family misunderstanding that took place in the Floydada flats.

Ward was rushed to Guthrie and Pitts new sanitarium and there had 15 stitches taken in his throat and a couple in his arm where a keen sharp razor had left its mark in a long deep gash that could easily have proven fatal had not Ward been rushed to the sanitarium. Even though he was given the best aid possible under the circumstances he lost a great deal of blood and Tuesday was in a serious condition although his chances of recovery were good.

Ward's wife was being held by officers here upon a charge of aggravated assault, upon infliction of serious bodily injuries.

According to the story told by Ward to Sheriff Fred Clark and Deputy Sheriff Walter Hollums, he (Ward) and his wife had been having some trouble and had been arguing but there had been no blows. Finally she went over near the dresser and fumbled around for a time and then again approached him, holding her hands behind her back.

According to Ward's story he expected her to swing on him with her fist but instead she whipped the razor around and across his throat also cutting a gash in his arm as he threw it up to defend himself.

"Cuttin' my throat sho did make me mad," said Ward and he said he knocked his wife down twice after she has gashed his throat. He then discovered how seriously he was hurt and was rushed to the sanitarium for treatment. Both are being held by officers for further investigation.

Producing more than her own weight in butterfat in 10 months, an Oregon purebred Jersey cow, Sybil Tessie Lorna 996685, has established a new world's record for dairy cattle under 305-day test rules. Under official test supervised by The American Jersey Cattle club, from December 1, 1937, to October 1, 1938, she produced 1020.52 pounds of butterfat. Her 305-day yield of 17,121 pounds of milk tested 5.96% fat. Still milking at the rate of 48 pounds a day, the 6-year-old Jersey, bred and owned by L. A. Hulburt, Independence, Oregon, is traveling across the continent to Columbus, Ohio, where she will be displayed at the National Dairy show as "The Cow that Jumped Over the Moon."

HALL COUNTY CAR WRECKED

A Hall county light sedan was wrecked Thursday night on north Blanco hill south of Floydada on Highway 207, and for two days represented a mystery to local officials, when no injured persons were found at the scene of the smash-up and no claimant for the car.

Sunday the car was claimed by Jesse M. Reid, of Memphis. The car, he told officials, was being driven by his brother when the wreck occurred. The car turned over several times.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School lesson for October 30, 1938.

PERSONAL RIGHTS AND WHERE THEY END

Golden Text:—What then? shall we sin because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid. Romans 6:15.

Lesson Text:—Ecclesiastes 2:1-3, 10, 11; Romans 6:17-23; 14, 21.

I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and, behold this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it?

3 I sought in mine heart to give myself unto wine, yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom; and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven all the days of their life.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them. I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

Rom. 6:17-23; 14:21—

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.

18 Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness.

20 For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22 But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

21 It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

Time and Place: The book of Esslesiastes was written by Solomon, in the latter years of his life, probably between B. C. 985 and 995. The Epistle of Paul to the Romans was written from Corinth, in Greece in A. D. 60.

Personal rights have been an important question through the ages. The Bible reveals how important these rights were in ancient times.

What are the limits of personal liberty? To what extent should an individual restrain himself because of the possible effect on others?

There is no uniform answer to the questions which arise. It is easy to lay down general principales, but it is not so easy to apply these in every case—and there is a wide range of conduct in which the individual must be free to choose his own course; otherwise, his conduct would be one of compulsion rather than of liberty.

It seems clear that the individual has no right to liberties which infringe upon similar liberties of other people. Such liberties, exercised by individuals, become matters of special privilege.

But a difficult problem arises, because undue regulation and regimentation mean the breaking down of initiative and the destruction of personal liberty if they are pushed too far. What is necessary is that men should see the problem of the attainment of liberty from both angles, and should develop a proper balanace between the rights and liberties of the individual and the welfare of society as a whole.

It is of no value to develop large liberty on the part of a few individuals which is used and exercised to make vast numbers of their fellowmen virtual slaves. On the other hand, all individuals become virtual slaves if they live under a society where the individual has no rights and privileges at all.

Religion, as our lesson suggests, ought to have something to do with these issues; in fact, the Christian religion has a great deal to do with them.

Christianity lays profound emphasis upon the love of man to man. The Christian experience brings to the individual a great sense of freedom. Nothing is more evident than that in the history of Christian experience. But this freedom becomes exercised in wise self-restraint, action, and good judgment.

Wheat Farmers Are Busy This Week In Fairview Community

FAIRVIEW, October 25.—Farmers are very busy this week sowing wheat and harvesting cotton. The cold spell of last week makes us realize winter is not far away and we must hurry to take advantage of the pretty weather.

MRS. BURRUS, MRS. FYFFE HOME FROM LESTER SPARKS FUNERAL AT CRYSTAL CITY

Mrs. Maud Burrus and Mrs. C. E. Fyffe, sister and niece of Lester Sparks of Crystal City, reached home last Thursday night after attending his funeral and burial rites on the Wednesday previous.

Sparks, 32, a native of Floyd county, was drowned in 25 feet of water on the river adjacent to Crystal City when a boat over-turned.

Funeral rites were held from the First Baptist church at Crystal City and interment made there.

He left a bereaved wife, a son Rodney Earl, 6, and a son, Donnie Lester, 3, of his immediate family. Three sisters, Mrs. Burrus, Mrs. Sid Parkinson of Crystal City and Mrs. O. L. Olive of Colorado Springs Colorado, and seven nieces and nephews also survive.

Mrs. Jim Hardgrove accompanied by her daughter, Bettie Gene, of Clovis, New Mexico, visited Tuesday and Wednesday morning with her mother, Mrs. Ama Smalley.

---

Miss Bonnie Fyffe spent Saturday night and Sunday in Amarillo as guest of Miss Jane Ward.

HOME FROM RELATIVE'S FUNERAL IN RIO VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Ellis, Lee Pope and T. E. Brock returned home the latter part of last week from Edcouch in the Rio Grande valley where they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Joe Downing, a sister-in-law of Mrs. W. H. Pope, during the mid-week.

Mrs. Downing received injuries in a car wreck which caused her death.

HARMONS HOME FROM DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Harmon returned home Sunday from Dallas where they had been the past week while Mrs. Harmon recuperated from an operation performed in a hospital there a week ago. Mrs. Harmon is improved and stood the trip home very well.

Mrs. S. J. Chenoweth accompanied them to Dallas to be with the patient and returned home with them.

room improvement and home food home. Besides the completed bed-supply demonstrations to be shown, there will be an exhibit on wool covers at the home of Mrs. John Griffin, at Lone Star. The Providence, Lone Star, Dougherty and Sand Hill clubs will set up an exhibit showing the preparation of sweet potatoes. All club women and others interested in the work are invited to attend on these days. Dinner will be furnished by the club visited at the noon hour.

The first tour leaves from the west side of the square in Floydada at 9:45 November 1. The following schedule has been worked out for the trip:

9:45, leave Floydada.

10-10:45—Sand Hill. Mrs. W. Knight, home food demonstrator;

11:15-12 — Harmony. Mrs. Sam Hale, home food demonstrator. Mrs. Charles Watson, bedroom improvement demonstrator;

12-1—Lunch at Harmony school.

1:15-2—McCoy. Home food demonstrator; Mrs. A. L. Sparks, bedroom inmprovement demonstrator;

2:15-3—Starkey. Mrs. J. K. Holmes, bedroom improvement demonstrator. Mrs. Virgil Barton, home food demonstrator;

3:15-4—Homebuilders club. Mrs. J. D. Eaves, home food demonstrator; Mrs. Pete Kendricks, bedroom improvement demonstrator.

The home food supply demonstrators will show good storage of fresh and canned products, featuring the products they have stored to fill the food budget for their families. Mrs. Sam Hale of Harmony has arranged a ventilated pantry in the house, just a few steps from the kitchen. Screened openings for ventilation were placed in the upper and lower part of the pantry. Shelves were built just wide enough for two jars with a one-inch air space between the two rows of jars and between the jars and the wall. Good ventilation helps retain the texture and flavor of canned products.

Mrs. Charles Watson of Harmony is showing a well arranged bedroom. The most important part of her demonstration is a spacious linen closet between the two bedrooms. Mrs. A. L. Sparks of McCoy and Mrs. J. K. Holmes of Starkey have both built large clothes closets with clothes rod, and shelves for bedding and clothes.

Mrs. Herman King, council secretary, will attend a meeting with Miss Ruth Grimes, home demonstration agent, in Lubbock November 1 and 2. The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint leaders with the 1939 Farm program and its operation.

NERVE SPECIFIC TAKEN FROM REPTILES BY SCIENCE

NEW YORK. — The poisonous venoms of bees, lizards, salamanders, and the deadly rattlesnake and cobra were declared to offer new hope to sufferers from palsy, paralysis, spinal cord injuries and other painful nerve disturbances.

The use of insect and reptile poisons to treat the pain which results from cancer and other malignant diseases is not new, Dr. M. B. Greene of New York declared in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science, but the method of using them to "block off" individual nerves or sets of nerves is now being successfully applied for the first time on a large scale.

The poisons so used are much more effective in relieving pain than opium or morphine, but heretofore they have been used primarily in making easier the last days of persons suffering from incurable diseases.

As the result of work which has been going on since the World war it is now possible to actively treat nerve disorders by the proper injection of doses of poison directly into the nerves, Doctor Greene, a former technical adviser on anesthesia to the allied armies, declared.

Doctor Greene described his treatment as "a new fractional method of blocking the nerves on the side and in the front of the spine" with great accuracy in controlling the results by treating individual nerves.

The tides are caused mainly by the moon.

Dark Ages, Middle Ages

The Dark ages extended, roughly speaking, form the fall of the western Roman empire in 475 A. D. to the revival of learning on the discovery of the pandects at Amalfi, Italy, in 1150—altogether about seven centuries. The period extending from the fall of the Roman empire to the capture of Constantinople in 1533 by the Turks is known as the Middle ages. The pandects were a collection of laws sytematically arranged from Roman writings on jurisprudence. They were enacted into law by the Emperor Justinian in 533 A. D. Their discovery at Amalfi stimulated a general study of Roman and Greek literature, which led to what is known as the classic nge. During the Dark ages learning was at its lowest ebb in Europe and civilization seemed to retrograde, owing to the masses of barbarians who emerged from northern Europe and overran the former seats of learning.

The National Resources committee has submitted an interesting report to President Roosevelt showing that the average income of all American families in the fiscal year 1935-36 was $1,622 and the average for all single individuals, $1,151. The average income of the poorest third—that is, the mean income of the poorest 13 million families and single persons was $471. For the middle third of the nation whose incomes ranged from $780 to $1,450, the average was $1,076. For the highest third, with incomes ranging from $1,450 to more than $1,000,000 a year, the average was $3,000.—Claude News.

HAY FEVER

To its victims, hay fever is no laughing matter. Every summer, over 6,000,000 people in the U. S. are racked by its sneezes, blinded by its tears. For half the sufferers, the 15th of August, when ragweed fever begins, is their last sneezeless day until frost. Why the disease always strikes on August 15 is no nasal mystery, but merely another indication of Nature's regularity. As August 15 approaches, the shortening of daylight hours allows the ragweed plant precisely enough sunlight to ripen it on that day. And the number of hours of daylight and darkness for a given date is the same from year to year.

Most hay fever victims understand little about their malady. No mere irritant of nose and throat, the pollen, when inhaled, affects the bloodstream, is repelled by specific "regains" the body produces to fight the irritating grains. Hence neither inhalents nor drops in the eyes bring more than temporary relief. But fairly reliable insurance for a quiet season is hypodermic injections given two months before the expected illness; a doctor scratches a patient's skin, applies various types of pollen extract; the one which produces weals and itching is then administered in subcutaneous injections of refined, sterilized pollen. How the immunization works, nobody knows. Immunity is not permanent, injections must be resumed every year, are sometimes given all year around.

Similar in effect to injections are the pollen pills first introduced by Detroit's Sherman Laboratories last spring. Ten days before he starts sneezing, the patient swallows a few pills, gradually increases the amount until his physician calls a halt. Medical opinion is now divided on the efficacy of the pills, some physicians holding that the pills cause serious upsets in the digestive system.

Sunbird From Old World

The sunbird takes the place in the Old world that is held by the humming birds of the New. There are sunbirds in India and Australia, but the true home of the family is Africa. The beautiful Malachite sunbird has a plumage of rich glossy green. There is, however, a still more gorgeous bird in equatorial Africa, called the metallic sunbird. It loves the hot noon-day sun, which other birds avoid, and is a fierce fighter. In the mating season they all have long lustrous tails, which in India cause the bird to be called the long-tailed sunbird. Instead of the tongue being long like that of the humming bird's it is their beak, which is curved and long, and this acts somewhat like a suction pump to obtain the nectar from flowers. The plumage, of rich golden green, varies on the under parts, with steel blue, purple, bright orange or vivid crimson. They have an agreeable song.

Mrs. J. S. Solomon had as her guests Sunday her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Hutcherson, Mr. Hutcherson and children, her son, E. W. Solomon and children all of Memphis, another son, H. M. Solomon, Mrs. Solomon and son, Dannie, from Matador, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Williams and Mrs. Lula Moore and family, city.

SILAGE NEED NOT BE GREEN TO BE HIGH IN CAROTENE

Carotene, a yellow pigment of plants from which vitamin A is formed in the animal body, occurs in close association with green coloring matter of pasture plants and other green forages. The green color of cured roughages usually is a good indicator of carotene content.

With silage, however, scientists of the Bureau of Dairy Industry have found an exception to the rule. The green color may be greatly reduced in the fermentation process without losing an appreciable amount of carotene so long as the fresh green feed is packed tightly enough in the silo to force out and keep out air.

Vitamin A is one of the "musts" of a dairy ration, say the scientists, because it is a factor in controlling growth of young animals and influences resistance to infection in animals of all sizes. It is one element of the ration, however, that is likely to be deficient, especially in dry years when green feed is scarce.

The war-like states of the world leads many ministers to ask from their pulpits whether the Christian religion has anything to give that the world wants and desires. These clergymen see the nations threatening each other, and depending on armed forces and cruel and brutal warfare. Jesus Christ came to earth to preach a different message, that people should love one another, and to do others as they would be done by. The world does not seem to believe that doctrine.—Happy Herald.

Scarlet Fever Called Menace By Health Dept.

Dr. Cox, State Health Officer, Discusses Prevention And Treatment of Child's Disease

AUSTIN, Texas "Scarlet fever still continues to be a menace to children," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, in discussing diseases common to children. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who may become seriously ill. It is treacherous and undesireable, and the only good thing about it is that if one can avoid it until grown, the chances of never getting it are excellent.

"Scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in the discharges of nose and throat, ears, or abscesses of persons ill with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection. The handling of articles soiled by the patient may cause the disease.

"Children under ten years of age are usually susceptible to scarlet fever. Children becoming suddenly ill with fever, sore throat, vomiting and showing a fine red rash, should have medical attention and be immediately quarantined to prevent the spread of this disease. The appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be immediately followed by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks. The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances—be on the safe side.

"The use of potent scarlet fever antitoxin is of value in shortening the course of the disease. The antitoxin should be administered within three days of the onset. Scarlet fever antitoxin lessens the complications, such as heart and kidney diseases, discharging ears and infected sinuses that often occur after scarlet fever.
