Tiring Khrushchev Looks At Tall Corn

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev, beginning to show signs of heavy fatigue, started another rugged round of activities today with a 75-mile automobile trip for a close look at Iowa's tall corn.

The Soviet Premier, though obviously happy at the friendly reception he received in America's corn belt, showed definite signs Tuesday night of being dog-tired after more than a week of strenuous touring, speaking and arguing.

Khrushchev travelled to the farm of Roswell (Bob) Garst near Coon Rapids for a look at American methods of raising corn and producing animal fodder, subjects close to Khrushchev's heart. Garst has been Khrushchev's guest in the Soviet Union several times.

The Soviet Premier had fortified himself with a substantial breakfast of fruit juice, poached trout, blintzes—a sort of pancake—with melba sauce, roast loin of veal, vegetables, sliced cucumbers, whole petite tomatoes, and bread.

The route to the farm took the Soviet Premier over rolling, green Iowa countryside, rich with fields of tall, waving corn and dotted with trim, prosperious-looking farm buildings. In some of the fields, the corn still was too green for harvesting.

The route was heavily guarded by state troopers, Iowa national guardsmen and air national guardsmen, most carrying rifles. The men were stationed at short intervals along both sides of the highway. State Police sat in parked cars at almost every country road crossing.

Some corn is ready for harvesting in the Coon Rapids area, and farmers there intended to put on a harvesting show for the Soviet leader.

On Khrushchev's schedule was a stop at a prize field called by farmer Garst the "mile of maize." The grain there has been so carefully cultivated that the field has the look of a garden.

Khrushchev's demeanor Tuesday night at a civic dinner in his honor and his facial expression reflected happiness at his Iowa reception, almost to the point of being benign.

But for the first time, Khrushchev did no off-the-cuff speaking. And for the first time, he did not even read his own speech. The interpreter did it for him, in English. As Khrushchev stood by listening, his eyes closed occasionally as if from deep fatigue. He seemed pale.

As plans went forward to receive the Soviet leader at the Roswell Garst farm near Coon Rapids today, Khrushchev's aides were understood to be trying to dissuade him from trying to pack in too much activity.

A change in schedule had been suggested so that he could get out early and see more details of Iowa farm life before leaving later in the day for Iowa State University at Ames.

For Khrushchev, the speech delivered to the civic dinner was the most mild of pronouncements in comparison with his other blasts along the route of his American tour.

New Motion For Saunders Turned Back

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Judge Mace Thurman turned back today the latest move by lawyers to get the precedent-setting J. Byron Saunders case tossed out of court.

The criminal district judge overruled a defense objection against the full transcript taken of a March 15, 1957, session of a special House Investigation Committee with Saunders as a witness.

This is the third day of the perjury trial of the former State Insurance Commission chairman. It may require two weeks.

Thurman advised attorney John Cofer he could object to any particular section of the transcript during the trial. Cofer indicated he would have strong objections to two of the six points in the indictment charging Saunders with lying before the committee.

Cofer raised his objection to the admission of the transcript late Tuesday after Mrs. Agnes Miller, Austin court reporter, took the stand. She returned to the stand following Thurman's overnight ruling.

Previous defense attempts to get the indictment dismissed or reduced to false swearing have failed.

A request for a suspended sentence in case of conviction was announced shortly before Saunders pleaded innocent Tuesday.

Both sides agree this is the first court test of charges that a person committed perjury before a legislative body in Texas.

The punishment for perjury is 2 to 10 years and false swearing sentence may be suspended but a perjury conviction can not.

Rep. Scott McDonald, Fort Worth, chairman of the 1957 investigation into the collapse of ICT Insurance Co., was the first state witness. He admitted neither he nor Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, who did much of the questioning, fully explained the committee's investigation to Saunders.

"There never appeared any doubt in his mind that he didn't know what it was about," McDonald said.

He said the committee ordered Saunders to appear because it had heard that Saunders had received checks from ICT Discount Corp., a companion organization ICT Insurance Co. "We wanted to know if any favors were granted ICT as a result of his receiving these checks," he said.

At the 1957 public hearing Saunders denied any wrong-doing. He said the evidence of $7,000 in checks paid him represented $6,000 in payment for oil leases he sold ICT Discount, plus "an overpayment." He said $1,000 was returned.

Saunders was indicted by an Austin grand jury that also indicted BenJack Cage, founder of ICT; Garland A. Smith, another former state insurance chairman, and Smith's son-in-law, Max Wayne Rychlich. Cage is accused of bribing Saunders and Smith. The other three face perjury charges.

COMPETITION TOUGH IN FIRST GRID CONTEST

Tough competition developed on the kickoff of the Snyder Daily News football contest.

No less than six individuals wound up in a deadlock for first place, each of them missing six of the 28 games on the initial contest blank. The six will share the prize money of $12.50 for the week.

Actually, the six winners had only three outright misses, since three of the games in the contest ended in tied games. The ties were Borger-Ysleta, Breckenridge-Wichita Falls and Dumas-Odessa Ector.

Cincinnati's victory over Oklahoma State was a surprise to many of the contestants, although two of the winners, Joel E. Tankersley, 3104 Thirty-ninth Street, and Wayne Berry, 601 Twenty-ninth Street, called the turn on that one.

The other winners include Gary Greif, 3733 Avondale Ave.; H. C. Lowry, 2208 Forty-second Street; Tom Bennett, 3790 Highland Drive, and G. I. Jones, 2901 Avenue X.

Texas Tech's victory over Texas A&M was a shocker to all of the winners, except Tankersley, but Tankersley was the lone winner to miss Brigham Young's triumph over Arizona. Most other selections followed the "dope" sheet and ran true to form.

A new contest opens today, and the contest games may be found in advertisements on the Football Contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

Living Costs Dip Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged down one-tenth of 1 per cent last month from July's record high, the Labor Department reported today.

A big seasonal drop in food prices, nine-tenths of 1 per cent, was solely responsible for halting the summer spurt of consumer prices.

Price tags were higher on virtually everything else making up the average city family's costs.

This was nine-tenths of 1 per cent higher than a year earlier. The figures mean it now takes nearly $1.25 to buy what cost a dollar in the years immediately after World War II.

In spite of the slight drop in costs, at least 125,000 workers will receive wage increases under cost-of-living escalator contracts which are adjusted quarterly.

Almost all food prices declined in August. Fresh fruits and vegetables, beef, pork and poultry showed the largest reduction.

Pork prices dropped 3 per cent and over-all prices of meat, poultry and fish went down almost 2 per cent.

Prices of all other items averaged two-tenths of 1 per cent higher, with housing costs a major gainer. Increases in rents and in interest rates on mortgages were coupled with rising gas and electric bills.

House furnishings were four-tenth of 1 per cent lower, however, reflecting usual August sales of textiles and furniture. Prices of refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and washing machines also were down, but coal and general household operation costs rose.

New car prices continued to decline as dealers sought to move their 1959 models, but used car prices continued their rise.

The impact of the steel strike was felt in a decline in the average earnings and buying power of factory workers. Spendable earnings, meaning average pay after deductions, dropped by about 90 cents a week in August. The average earnings were $79.75 for a worker with three dependents and $72.23 for a single worker.

One Injury, 3 Mishaps Are Recorded

One person was slightly injured in one of three accidents involving motor vehicles here yesterday, city police said.

He is George Richard Holder, a Snyder High School student and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Holder, 3765 Dalton Drive.

Young Holder received a leg injury, but was released from Cogdell Memorial Hospital after a check disclosed no serious injuries.

He was riding a Cushman motor scooter which was involved in an accident at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a car at Forty-second Street near Avenue V. Driver of the 1947 Cadillac involved was William T. Roberts, Route 1.

Just before noon yesterday morning a truck driven by Shirley Lee Williams, 1111 East Twenty-fifth Street, Big Spring, was damaged when the top of the truck-tractor van struck the bottom of the Santa Fe underpass on Thirteenth Street. The top of the van was torn off. Owner of the truck is R. O. Fielder of Big Spring.

The third accident caused no personal injuries. It involved a 1947 Chevrolet pickup driven by Howard Edward Rigg, Route 2, box 15; and a 1952 Chevrolet driven by Alton Dennis Hogan and owned by Mary Williams. The accident occurred at Twenty-fourth Street and Avenue R, about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Benson Off For Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson takes off today for a trade and good will trip that will take him into the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and Poland.

He was to be accompanied by three members of his family, Mrs. Benson and daughters Beverly and Bonnie; four Agriculture Department officials and 10 members of the agricultural press.

Benson will be the first U.S. official to go to the U.S.S.R. since Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev came to this country.

The first scheduled stop on the air flight was to be Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Other countries on the schedule included Western Germany, Finland, Sweden and Norway.

The principal purpose of the 16-day trip was to weigh possibilities of selling more U.S. farm products in Europe, although no sales were envisioned within the Soviet Union. The visit there was set mainly to give Benson a view of Soviet agriculture and any progress it is making toward the Soviet goal of matching — and eventually surpassing — U.S. farm production on a per capita basis.

Ike Calls For Steel Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed to both sides in the steel strike today to "get down to hard intensive bargaining" and settle the dispute.

The appeal was relayed to reporters by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell following a long conference with Eisenhower.

"We all feel that free collective bargaining may be on trial here," Mitchell said.

"Both management and labor should recognize this fact."

Mitchell declined to predict what government action, if any, would be taken if labor and management failed to reach a settlement in the strike, now 71 days old.

He likewise declined to predict the timing of government action, should action be taken.

The most probable government action would be invoking the Taft-Hartley law's injunction provision. An injunction, if issued, would send striking steelworkers back to the mills for at least 80 days, but they would be free to strike again if no settlement was reached in the meantime.

Mitchell said Eisenhower feels both parties to the dispute should recognize their responsibility not only to the steelworkers, but to others thrown out of work as a result of the strike and to the general public as well.

Steel Talks In Stalemate

NEW YORK (AP) — United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said today there has been "absolutely no progress" made during almost two weeks of subcommittee bargaining on local issues in the nationwide steel strike.

McDonald said members of the 12 union subcommittees meeting with subcommittees of the nation's largest steel firms accused the industry negotiators of "arrogant adamancy."

McDonald spoke to newsmen as he was going into another joint top level bargaining session with industry negotiators seeking a solution to the 71-day-old steel shutdown.

The union president said:

"I am now going to tell the industry top team about the lack of progress but I'm sure they already know since they have reports from their subcommittees."

Almost two weeks ago, the subcommittees were set up to discuss local work practices and noneconomic issues in the individual contracts with the 12 major steel producers.

McDonald said today's report on the subcommittee activities "puts us back where we started."

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, Tuesday expressed hope that subcommittee reports would be made today and allow the top negotiators to review the findings of the smaller groups.

Storm Holds Same Course In Atlantic

MIAMI (AP)—Hurricane Gracie continued on a north northwest course today on a path that would keep it well off the Florida coast.

At 11 a.m. the season's seventh tropical storm was centered 230 miles east of Nassau, Bahamas, and 420 miles almost due east of Miami.

Highest winds were estimated at 100 miles per hour in squalls near the center and hurricane force winds (75 m.p.h.) extend 40 miles to the northeast. Winds of 30 to 40 miles per hour extend 200 miles to the north and east and 75 miles southwest of the center.

The hurricane was expected to continue on a north northwest course at about 7 miles per hour during the next 12 to 24 hours, with some increase in size but no increase in intensity.

The Weather Bureau said the present direction and rate of movement would not bring any dangerous weather to the southeast coast of the U.S. but all interest from central Florida northward to the Carolinas were told to keep in touch with later advisories.

If Gracie continues on its present path, it will pass 300 to 400 miles off Florida.

From the upper air picture, forecaster Walter Davis said, the storm should continue on a north northwest course and probably turn more northerly as it moves up the Atlantic.

Patrolmen Recover Radioactive Capsule

STERLING CITY, Tex. (AP)—A radioactive capsule lost Saturday was found Tuesday by two Highway Department employes.

The capsule fell off a truck transporting it to Odessa.

Lewis Bernal and Dorman Gierisch found the box containing the capsule in a ditch alongside State 158 north of here.

Clouds Push Northward Over State

By The Associated Press

Moisture-filled air swept north over Texas Tuesday night and early Wednesday. It slapped Pampa with hail and 5½ inches of rain and left the rest of the state cloudy and humid.

Showers fell over South Texas Wednesday and forecasts called for scattered thundershowers in all sections of the state through Thursday.

The area just north of Uvalde got more than 4 inches of rain. The heaviest fall reported was 4.65 inches 12 miles north of Uvalde. The Dry Frio River, which feeds into the Frio River, rose rapidly but caused no damage.

Long range forecasts said showers will continue for the next five days, with temperatures about normal.

Water ran bumper-deep in Pampa streets and underpasses in the southwest section of town were flooded, forcing police to rescue one woman from a marooned auto in the Panhandle oil and cattle center.

Other cars were reported stalled in deep water.

Pea-sized hail and winds of 25 miles per hour were other facets of the rough weather.

A 2½-inch rain was reported at Levelland. The down pour, which came in an hour, was accompanied by hail a half inch in diameter.

The mercury dropped from 88 to 61 in 13 minutes at Pampa and from 80 to 59 in a half hour at Levelland.

School Case Is Appealed

DALLAS (AP) — A decision backing up the Garland School District's action in taking away non-classroom activity privileges of married or formerly married students has been appealed to the Texas 5th Court of Civil Appeals.

Bert Bader said today he has filed his appeal of the decision of Dist. Judge Claude Williams in the case of Garland married student Jerry Kissick Jr. The judge ruled the Garland board had a right to deprive married students of non-classroom school activities.

Jerry, 17, asked the court to allow him to play football. A letterman last year at fullback, Jerry still has two years of eligibility. Judge Williams denied the request for an injunction to keep the Garland District from barring Jerry from football.

Measure Drafted To Control Explosives

HOUSTON (AP) — State Sen. Robert Baker has drafted a bill to control the sale and possession of explosives such as dynamite.

He said today he expects the bill to be introduced at the next Legislature. The aim is to prevent the recurrence of a tragedy such as that at Poe Elementary School on Sept. 15.

A man exploded a suitcase of dynamite on that day, killing himself and five other persons.

Bewildered Father Describes Boat Tragedy Fatal To Dozen

MUNISING, Mich. (AP)—"They wanted to get in the same boat because it would be more fun."

A bewildered father — the only survivor of a boating accident that took the lives of his wife, 10 children and his brother — was too grief-stricken for tears as he described the tragedy to state police.

"I was very confused — it all happened so suddenly," said Leonard Larson, 42, as the bodies were brought ashore from Lake McKeever in Upper Michigan's Hiawatha National Forest Tuesday.

The family, on a day's outing to pick wild cranberries, had piled into a 12-foot outboard motorboat. It capsized 40 feet from shore. None could swim. The father saved himself by climbing atop the overturned boat.

Helpless, he saw his wife, children and his brother, Harry, 64, go down in water so clear the bodies could be seen 15 feet down.

All the Larsons' children but the oldest daughter, Doris May, 16, were along. She was attending high school in Marquette.

"I didn't cry when I heard the news," Doris May said. "I just wanted to see my father."

Leonard Larson is a sawmill worker in the little lumbering town of Scandia, 30 miles from the scene of the tragedy.

A short thin man with wispy brown hair, Larson asked: "What is there that anybody can do for me now?"

Like most big families, the Larsons were happy but "poor as church mice," fellow villagers said.

"We've been coming to this lake for several years to pick wild cranberries," Larson said. "We preserved them.

"All the family wanted to come along. They wanted to go in the same boat because it would be more fun."

The children were out of classes because the village school was closed for the day for repairs.

The boat belonged to the uncle, a bachelor, who helped care for some of the children at his home and was always included in the family circle. The uncle also worked at the sawmill.

"The boat was about 40 feet out in the water when I started the motor," Larson said. "The bow suddenly went down and the boat flopped over, throwing all of us in the water.

"Although I couldn't swim, I was close enough to grab the boat and climb up on the overturned bottom.

"I had a hand on one of the girls once but I lost hold and she slipped away."

Larson reached shore by using one hand and one leg to row the overturned craft.

"Every few minutes, I'd look around, but I didn't see anyone."

The victims were the mother, Dora Larson, 41; the uncle, and the children — Arthur, 15; Shirley, 13; Harry, 10; Marlene, 9; Freddie, 8; Carol, 7; Robert, 6; Mary Ann, 5; Melody, 4, and Terry Lee, 5 months.

The bodies were taken to a funeral home in Marquette, 15 miles northwest of Skandia.

Cotton Ginnings Ahead Of '58 Pace

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau said today 2,202,423 bales of cotton had been ginned prior to Sept. 16.

This number compared with 1,644,449 last year.

Ginnings by states this year and last included: Arkansas 143,585 and 9,624; Louisiana 68,629 and 51,657; New Mexico 2,930 and 1,116; Oklahoma 11,588 and 12,509; and Texas 1,031,966 and 970,412.

State Builds Case Against Negro Youth

HOUSTON (AP)—The state began building its murder case today against Adrian Johnson, 17.

Johnson is one of two Negroes charged in the sex slaying of William Bodenheimer III, 12.

One piece of evidence will be the refrigerator that became the boy's coffin July 20.

Bodenheimer was riding his bicycle that afternoon when he was set upon by a gang of Negro teenagers. He was sexually attacked and stuffed into the refrigerator which was in a shack on a vacant lot.

Negro Is Voted Into Bridge Club

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Alvin Arnold, center of a recent controversy over whether to let Negroes into the Albuquerque Bridge Club, was voted into the organization Tuesday night.

Club President Bill Wolffarth said 23 persons, including Arnold, were approved for membership in balloting by 117 members.

The club voted recently to let Negroes join after Arnold made a formal application.

Bold Plot To Rob Bank Is Thwarted

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A fantastic bank robbery plot was thwarted today by a police siege at the bank branch where the manager was being held. The holdup man died, apparently by his own hand.

What happened to a woman who helped him kidnap Herbert Fox, manager of the Cleveland Trust Co. branch, was not learned. The couple had taken Fox from his home, leaving behind a device they said was a bomb that would destroy his family if he did not cooperate.

Fox' daughter, Marilyn, 18, freed herself from bonds and called police, who surrounded the bank and posted men on the roofs of nearby buildings.

Police fired tear gas shells into the bank, and the holdup man let Fox and some other bank employes go.

Then police chief Frank Story spoke over a public address system, telling the man to come out or "We will come in shooting and destroy you. You have 10 minutes."

When six policemen rushed into the building they found the man dead on the floor, with a revolver beside him.

Bank employe Joseph Noffziger, 19, was wounded seriously in the shooting when a bullet struck him under the heart.

Police said the man had a New York driver's license in the name of Lee C. Terry and had a rental car slip in the same name.

The man and a woman, described by Marilyn as a "dirty blonde with short, straggly hair," between 30 and 35, came to the Fox home about 7 a.m. and asked to use the telephone. They said they had had trouble with their car, Marilyn said.

Fifteen or 16 bank employes were involved, most of them apparently coming in after Fox was brought to the bank.

The holdup man reportedly made no effort to keep them from leaving after the tear gas started coming in. Two girl tellers were seen leaving through a broken window.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Tuesday, 97 degrees; low, 67 degrees; reading at 7:30 a.m. today, 73 degrees.

West Gulf—Easterly winds 12 to 22 m.p.h. and widely scattered showers through Thursday.

Narcotics Blamed For Teen Crimes

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner told a U. S. Senate subcommittee today that the federal government can help most in the fight against teen-age crime by combatting narcotics traffic.

"I believe it to be the most important role the federal government can play," Wagner told the subcommittee.

Wagner was the first witness as Sen. Thomas C. Hennings' subcommittee on juvenile delinquency opened the first of a series of hearings. The subcommittee later will go on to other cities.

The mayor said everyone working in the field of juvenile delinquency agrees that narcotics traffic is an increasing problem with a definite tie to crime among youngsters.

"It's importation and distribution in the United States is big time crime, well-financed, well-organized, and certainly going beyond the police powers of any city or state," he declared.

Hennings, a Missouri Democrat, emphasized that the two-day hearings here was designed to arouse the interest of Congress to the problem and not to attract undue attention to New York City's summer siege of young gang terror.

Hennings has not yet named the other cities where hearings will be held but he has mentioned Washington, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy and Ralph W. Whelan, city commissioner of youth services, are among eight other witnesses to be heard. Hennings said Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hoped to attend.

"The problem in Congress is arousing interest in projects of this kind," Hennings said.

He called for federal funds to help train state experts on delinquency and to transfer federal properties to states and localities to overcome a shortage of detention institutions.

Hennings noted that he was a co-sponsor of a bill to establish a federal Youth Conservation Corps, which has passed the Senate and will be before the House in January. He said the project, akin to the Civilian Conservation Corps camps of the 1930s, would be a preventive measure.

Other pending bills, he said, would help states develop vocational training, recreation and other programs against delinquency.

The senator called for a law prohibiting the sale of firearms by interstate mail. Interstate transportation of switchblade knives already have been outlawed.

Hospital Is Baptist Issue

DALLAS (AP) — The Baptist General Convention of Texas will consider next month whether Baptists should take over a 150-bed hospital built in Texarkana with the aid of federal funds, the Dallas News said today.

The proposal will be brought up at the Oct. 1-2 meeting here.

The News said: The Texarkana Hospital Board has offered to give the Wadley Hospital to the Baptist General Convention of Texas with no strings attached.

A five-man committee for the convention recommended that the officer be accepted, then met a wave of protest from laymen over the question of separation of church and state, the paper said.

Dr. E. S. James of Dallas, editor of the Baptist Standard, is a leading opponent. He charged a basic Baptist tenent would be violated by such an arrangement.

J. G. Mahaffey, Baptist layman and editor of the Texarkana Gazette, charged "That silly guy on the Standard (Dr. James) is trying to block it on a technicality," the News said.

Mahaffey said if church-state separation is carried to the extreme "Baptists ought to render all property to taxation by the City or Texarkana. They are accepting subsidies because they pay no taxes."

Takes Bomb To Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—A man went to Bellevue Hospital Tuesday night, told a nurse he was sick, then told the doctor who came to look him over that the satchel he brought with him contained a bomb.

A police bomb squad quickly showed up, doused the satchel in water, then gingerly opened it. Inside they found a homemade pipe bomb, filled with gunpowder and with a battery-powered triggering device.

The patient, George Cotunaccio, 34, an unemployed carpenter, was charged with possessing a bomb and was put in the psychiatric division of the hospital.

Testimony Is Resumed

A noon recess folowed testimony of Nolan Watson, former president of the West Texas State Bank in a civil suit in 132nd District Court this morning.

Watson had testified as to his personal connections and the bank's connections with various firms involved in several transactions.

The suit is a consolidation of two cases, one filed by Tri-Service Drilling Co., against the West Texas State Bank on account, and the other filed by the bank against Tri-Service Drilling Co. on account.

Testimony began in the case Monday and continued until a noon recess yesterday, then was resumed this morning.

Local TSTA Officers Go To Workshop

Officers of the Scurry County unit of the Texas State Teachers Assn. attended a district workshop in Big Spring last night.

The workshop was conducted for officers of all county units in District 4.

Featured was an address of Mrs. Mary Alexander of Palestine, vice president of TSTA. Group sessions for all office areas were conducted, and plans were made for the district convention to be held next March 4 in Big Spring.

Those attending were told that the TSTA plans to give particular attention this year to improvement of public schools through the new Hale-Aikin proposals.

Six consultants from the Texas Education Agency were present to confer with the officers of the district, while Omer Douglas of Brownfield, the districts legislative chairman, also served as a consultant.

Floyd McCrury of Odessa, district president, presided at the workshop.

Officers of the Scurry County TSTA unit attending were Mrs. Barbara Bigham, president; Ollie Peek, first vice president; Jimmy Stewart, second vice president and Mrs. Rita Carter, sponsor of the Future Homemakes of America chapter of the Snyder High School. Also attending from Snyder was T. E. McCollum, superintendent of schools.

School Boy Found Hanged

ST. CHARLES, Mo. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy who had been punished by school officials for tardiness and poor school work was found hanged in his back yard Tuesday.

Tomy Lewis was found with a length of clothesline wrapped around his neck, a wooden crate at his feet.

Tomy had been spanked by Principal Paul Maxon for being tardy—Maxon said he often was late for school—and for not having his lesson prepared.

The boy sneaked away from school and went home where, his mother said, she told him not to worry and to go out and clean up the yard.

The boy's father, Oliver, said he believed Tomy's death was an accident. He said Tomy often played hangman with the clothesline, imitating Westerns he saw on television.

Nixon-Rockefeller Ticket Called Best

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The Republican national chairman says a Nixon and Rockefeller ticket would be the best the Republicans could offer in 1960.

Chairman Thruston B. Morton, who is also U.S. senator from Kentucky, told a news conference here Tuesday, "I can't think of coupling two better fellows than those two."

Asked if he thought Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would battle over the presidential nomination, Morton said, "I have no choice except to assume a contest."

He said that Nixon has more support among the party politicians now but "that can swing very rapidly if the people should swing."

The first radio signal was sent, and received aross the Atlantic in 1901.

Full Treatment For Voters Looms In 1960 Campaigns

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American voter apparently is going to get the full treatment on everything from the pocketbook issue to foreign policy in the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the warmup phase of next year's contest for the White House, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) injected international policy into the battle Tuesday. Both are regarded as available for their party's top nomination in 1960.

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) accused an anti-inflation committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of engaging in propaganda instead of trying to find a cure for rising prices.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn), one of President Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, denied this and in turn accused Douglas of bringing politics into a Senate-House committee's inquiry into economic conditions.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) said "so-called economizers" are letting America fall far behind in meeting the needs of the people for public services. In a speech at Danville, Pa., he proposed moves to expand the economy, close tax loopholes, curb tax evasion and to cut wasteful expenditures.

In a report to constituents, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) quoted Lord Macaulay that "a government which attempts more than it ought will perform less." Scott said President Eisenhower's vetoes, "a militant Republican minority" in Congress and "the outrage of the American people" had killed Democratic spending programs.

Johnson and Humphrey called for a positive program in the cold war battle with communism. They made it clear they do not think the Eisenhower administration is providing such a program.

Johnson's remarks were in a speech prepared for a Galveston, Tex., audience. But in addressing the group he chose instead to talk of the U.S. visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He said Khrushchev is an "able and deceitful" leader who is "after us," but added: "Some good will come out of this visit of Mr. Khrushchev. It will help us keep our feet on the ground."

In his prepared remarks, the Senate Democratic leader said "we cannot afford the luxury of a self-assured foreign policy. We cannot meet the problem by going out into the world with a Flit gun in front of us, an electric refrigerator and a bathtub behind us, and a native interpreter between us and the people to whom we would carry the message of freedom."

Johnson said Americans are "going to have to put on our working clothes, roll up our sleeves and walk down the highways of the world alongside the other peoples of this earth who seek their day of fulfillment."

Humphrey told a Nassau County, N.Y., Democratic county convention his party can win in 1960 if it identifies itself with peace, economic progress and civil rights.

As part of this, he said Democrats should come up with a long-range foreign program that shapes events instead of waiting for them. He said under Eisenhower "too many of our actions are improvised and disconnected, instead of being purposeful and long-ranged."

Tourists To Mexico Study Language

MEXICO CITY (AP)—More and more American tourists visiting Mexico are taking the trouble to learn a little Spanish in advance. It's appreciated.

The majority, of course, study booklets emphasizing such important words and phrases as "my mother-in-law has a green pencil."

The following is for bachelors, a neglected group.

"Tres Piedras." Literally "three rocks", and used to describe a well-proportioned female. Usually accompanied by a two-handed gesture outlining a figure eight. It makes girls blush happily.

"Ole, viva la madre que te pario." A bit complicated, but the ultimate in flattery. It means "Long live the mother who bore you" and is a superlative compliment because it goes beyond the person involved and praises the person involved and praises the being responsible for her creation. Latins like it.

"El cayo de mi pie." The corn on my foot. Means your sweetheart. Apparently for advanced stages.

Rapid Transit Seen As Only Solution

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Rapid transit is the only solution to steadily mounting traffic congestion in major cities, says the new president of the American Public Works Assn.

"People must adapt themselves to mass transportation," Jean L. Vincenz, director of public works for San Diego County, Calif., said Tuesday night.

"There is no other way out. We can't keep spending tremendous sums to provide greater capacity on freeways and for parking."

Vincenz suggested in an interview during the association's annual convention that "bus trains" of at least a bus and trailer may encourage commuters to leave their cars at home.

Actress Takes Too Many Sedatives

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Vicki Cummings, 39, rushed to Bellevue Hospital after apparently taking an accidental overdose of sedatives, was reported in fair condition today.

The actress was semiconscious when taken to Bellevue Tuesday night. Later she was removed to a private East Side sanitarium.

Her husband, William Gibberson, said she had been taking the sedatives since she suffered a broken leg in June. Despite the injury, she had made a number of appearances in summer stock.

Governor Brown Is Given Advice

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"If it falls on you, get up and walk with it."

It refers to the presidential—or vice-presidential nomination in '60.

The advice is from California's freshman Democratic senator, Clair Engle, to the state's Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Engle said Tuesday he had advised Brown to be just "a bona fide, simon pure, unqualified favorite son candidate" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"He indicated he thought it was good advice," Engle said.

Sinsyuku is the name of the street in Tokyo which corresponds to New York's Broadway as the center of theaters and night clubs.

Society Holds First Session Of Year In Loraine Monday

Beta Epsilon members enjoyed a very delicious picnic supper prepared by the Loraine members in Mrs. Mabel Givens, yard on Monday at 6:30 p.m. to initiate their new year's work in Delta Kappa Gamma Society.

Mrs. Lida Rhoades, president, called the meeting to order and gave the invocation. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Dale Geer, secretary, and were approved by the members. Mrs. Sally O'Rear asked that her status as an active member be changed to that of reserve, since it would not be possible for her to attend at present. This was granted with regret that she is not able to attend the meetings this year.

Mrs. Rhoades reported on the State Convention held in Galveston last spring, which she attended as the delegate from Beta Epsilon Chapter.

After the business session Mrs. Mattie Hines, Chairman of the Intercultural Committee, presented the program of the evening. She showed slides and took the group on an imaginary trip through Mexico. Mrs. Hines was a member of an educational tour group which visited many historical and interesting points in Mexico, and she aptly related these experiences to the group.

Of the 38 members answering roll call the following were from Snyder: Mrs. Ruby Anderson, Miss Vela Bell, Mrs. Mauryse Blacklock, Mrs. Mabel Brock, Miss Zaida Brown, Miss Maydelle Burns, Mrs. Leota Burris, Mrs. Mary Devenport, Mrs. Joyce Gorman, Miss Virginia Grove, Mrs. Laura Holladay, Miss Bess Johnston, Mrs. Lillian Jones, Mrs. Agnes Kunkel, Mrs. Delia McPherson, Miss Vestal Maner, Mrs. Eva Nelson, and Mrs. Lida Rhoades.

Beta Epsilon will join with six other chapters from surroundings towns in Abilene on Saturday, October 31, for the Regional meeting of the years.

Two-County WMU Meeting Set At Union

Rummage Sale Scheduled By Jaycee-ettes

Two rummage sales have been scheduled for next month by the Snyder Jaycee-ettes club.

The first sale will be on Saturday, Oct. 3, and the other on the following Saturday, Oct. 10.

Decision to hold the rummage sales was made in a business session in the meeting of the club Tuesday conducted by Mrs. Jerry Edwards, president.

The club requests that anyone having old clothing, jewelry dishes, or other items that might be sold in the sale to please call HI-5118 or HI 3-5343.

Women at the above telephones will gladly drive by any contributors home to pick up the clothing.

Another decision was that the club would replenish the baby layettes at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

A membership drive has been scheduled for the next meeting, and each Jaycee-ette has been asked to invite another Jaycee wife to be her guest at the meeting.

A program on the club constitution and by-laws has been planned for that meeting to be presented by Mrs. R. T. Roberts, a charter member.

Mrs. Sonny Greenfield, hostess, served coffee, Cokes and cake to the eight members present.

Talk Given On Braceros For Opti-Mrs.

The problems of handling Braceros for this area was discussed by Mrs. Sybel K. Barber of Colorado City on the program of the Opti-Mrs. Club last Friday night.

Mrs. Barber is manager of the Mitchell County Farm Bureau that handles braceros for that area.

The meeting was held in the Community Room of the Snyder National Bank.

The speaker discussed some of their problems and some of the problems of the braceros here.

She told the club members that she loved her work and the people she works with. She urged better understanding of these men who come from Mexico to work.

The next meeting will be a luncheon on Oct. 9.

OUR VIEW

Friends In Africa

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE:

The growing importance of Africa in international affairs was recognized by the United States last year with the establishments of the Bureau of African Affairs headed by Joseph C. Shatterthwaite, assistant secretary of state. This move was matched in the Soviet with establishment of a department in the foreign ministry to handle African affairs. The race is on, therefore, for capture of the African mind and the erstwhile "darkest continent" becomes the newest continent whose future is slowly beginning to take shape with the emergence of first one, then another free state.

It is inevitable that the trend toward liberation of the African colonies will spread somewhat along the lines blueprinted at the recent anticolonial all-African conference held at Monrovia in Liberia. And as this move expands, the position of the United States remains somewhat enigmatic. At present we are not certain of our prestige in this arena and especially with Africa's two dominant spokesmen, Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser and Ghana's Kwame Nkrumah.

Though he is more actively identified with the United Arab League, the mercurial Nasser has not lost sight of his colored brethern to the south of Egypt and despite his difficulties with the Sudan he has carefully established himself diplomatically with the free African nations. He is, however, no outspoken friend of the United States. On the other hand, Nkrumah, despite his American education, has shown indication he aspires to be the messiah of the Free African movement. His past is spotted with Communist association and his future may reveal dictatorial ambition. Both are grave question marks for the United States.

The prospect is not completely lugubrious, however, for come what may we have one staunch friend in Africa and one who does not hesitate to speak his mind. This is the 64-year-old president of Liberia, William V. S. Tubman, a descendant of the original colonists brought to the west Coast of Africa by the American colonization society which set up the world's first Negro republic.

This republic, which observed its 112th anniversary in July, twice sought to become a colony of the United States, the second time as recently as the administration of President Theodore Roosevelt. Twice it was refused. Those are fortuitous events out of our past which will serve us well in the future in Africa. Nor does it hurt our standing that Liberia, a nation approximately the size of Pennsylvania, has the second largest merchant fleet in the world thanks to United States investment.

Proper Incentive Takes Off Pounds

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Can you lose up to 40 pounds in 90 days without using drugs.

Can you do it without feeling starved, without losing your strength or sense of humor, without feeling sorry for yourself.

You can indeed. You're listening to an ex-fatty who just did it.

All you need is the right incentive. A fat man with the right incentive can do anything. I had a real good incentive.

The truth was I weighed a record 217 pounds.

One of my bosses remarked scornfully:

"Fat men have no willpower. Fifty bucks says you can't take off 30 pounds in 90 days."

That did it! I had my incentive, an incentive greater than personal vanity.

"You've got a bet," I told the boss.

There is no secret about losing weight. I went to a good old-fashioned doctor.

Handing me a standard diet, he said: "Follow this. Exercise sensibly. Take a couple of vitamin pills a day. Cut your liquor intake to two highballs a day, but don't take any medicines. You don't need them."

"Well, Doc," I said, "two drinks a day is taking medicine—for it sure ain't drinking."

So I went on the wagon altogether, and within three days was enjoying the taste of water—straight.

The diet was simplicity itself. I cut out all sweet desserts.

I all but cut out butter, corn, beans—except string beans—and had potatoes just once a week. I limited myself to a piece of rye or whole wheat bread a day. If I ate a sandwich for lunch, the next day I did without bread.

I cut my usual portions in half, and concentrated on lean meat, eggs, cottage cheese and filled up on plenty of raw and cooked green and yellow vegetables.

Mild exercise is the best way to cure your restlessness when you're on a diet—or any other time. I bowled and swam some, but walking is the ideal exercise in the city.

The first week I walked a mile a day, then gradually stepped it up. On weekends I got up to seven or eight miles. Solitary walking can be a great joy. You learn the trees; the store window sights and the people in your town as you can in no other way. One tip: In the city be sure to wear rubber-heeled shoes.

Strangely, I felt exhilarated rather than depressed most of the time. Only once did I break my diet to eat a chocolate sundae. I felt as guilty as if I'd robbed the church poor box, and never was tempted again.

The pounds came off in fits and spurts—six the first week, none the next, some weeks 2 to 5. On the 90th day I had a surgeon friend ready to amputate a leg if necessary—anything to keep from losing to the boss!

But the scales said 177 pounds. I had taken off not 30 pounds, but about 40. The boss forked over a $50 bill.

There's one other reward. They told me that if I slimmed down I'd have the girls in the office standing in line. I do, too. But all they whisper in my ears is: "What's your secret, skinny I'd like to lose a little myself."

The incentive is the secret. Bet the boss!

Tight Money Now A Fact Of Life

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Tight money is moving off the debating platform. It's getting to be an everyday fact of life.

If you want to buy a new home, you know about it. If you're looking for a new car on time payments, you're likely to find carrying charges a bit higher. If you want an instalment loan from your bank to buy a new appliance or redecorate your house, it costs more—and your credit standing is examined more closely.

If you're a businessman needing a bank loan to carry inventories for the Christmas trade, you'll run into higher interest charges—and maybe find the banker more choosy about to whom he lends, as he has only so much money to parcel out.

Banks and other lenders say too many persons—including Uncle Sam—are wanting to borrow more money just now. Americans aren't saving as much of their incomes as before. So the lenders don't have enough funds to meet the increased demand. Thus money is tight and interest rates rising.

About the only things now going for less than 5 per cent interest are the shortest-term Treasury securities. They are commanding about 4 per cent, higher than any time since the bank holiday in 1933.

Tightening of money comes at this time of the year because banks are called upon to finance movement of crops from farms and through processing plants, and because manufacturers borrow to produce fall and winter goods, and merchants borrow to buy and carry these goods until the Christmas trade—they hope empties their shelves again.

The Federal Reserve Board has eased up on credit just enough to give banks lendable funds for what it considers necessary for these legitimate seasonal needs, but no more, holding that more than that would only set off a speculative boom, breeding place for higher prices.

The board's fear of another round of inflation is based on several things: The general belief that the end of the steel strike will see a quick spurt in business activity; continuing wage hikes in other industries than steel; steadily rising instalment debt; slow but steady increases in consumer prices; and the increased demand for bank loans.

After Christmas, the demand for funds usually drops, both from business and from individuals busy paying off incurred debts.

Khrushchev Has 3 Personalities

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are three Nikita Khrushchevs. Two are actors and the third is a publicity man with such good timing and change of pace he makes the Madison avenue boys look as lively as Spanish-American War veterans.

There is Khrushchev, the Soviet Premier, with his eye on the main chance. There is Khrushchev, the top economist, playing on the American stage to one audience in the West and to another in the rest of the world.

And there is Khrushchev the publicity man, working to advertise the other two. Although his every movement and word would get headlines anyway, he has managed to do at least one thing every day to get added attention.

As leader of the Soviet Union, which represents itself as the friend of all people, he talks peace, peace, peace and trade, trade, trade, although saying it doesn't matter whether the United States wants to trade with the U.S.S.R.

But if he can make any yardage here—if he can get any concessions—he will consider his trip a big success.

The irony of all his talk of peace is that out of a cloudless sky months ago he created crisis by threatening to shut off West Berlin unless the West gets its troops out of there. He hasn't budged an inch. Because he hasn't, he has been invited here to talk things over.

As he moves around, talking peace, he holds over the West the same threat of a shut-off Berlin. He wants concessions. There is no sign he came to make any. So he got this trip and world attention at a cost of nothing more than a threat.

Then there is Khrushchev, the Communist actor. He gave a possible insight into his conduct here when he spoke of this country in a heated moment Sunday night while talking to labor leaders: "You have been spoiled by everyone bowing down, by everyone cringing and crawling."

He apparently set out to do just the opposite. He brags of Soviet progress, has very little flattering to say about American achievement, and even gets personally insulting, although so far he has picked targets who can't hurt him.

He told labor leaders they were management stooges; he questioned whether the mayor of Los Angeles could read; and when a frankfurter man happily told him hot dogs need "good meat," Khrushchev hit him with: "Any fool knows that."

This performance—by the master of communism riding roughshod through the citadel of capitalism—cannot help but be impressive to the Communist, neutral and backward peoples of the world.

It was like hearing him tell them: "I got those big shots told off, didn't I?"

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

BABE RUTH was probably the greatest of them all. He could look better striking out than most of his contemporaries did getting hits, and his brash, boastful manner of doing things added immensely to his popularity, rather than detracting from it.

His name became synoymous with baseball itself. Yankee Stadium came to be dubbed "The Houth that Ruth Built". A candy bar was named after him. And both the Stadium and Baby Ruths to this day continue to house New York's only remaining major league team and sweeten the sweet teeth of Americans everywhere, respectively.

During his heyday he was constantly at odds and squabbling with the powers-what-was in the Yankee front office when it came to contractural agreements. And there was the same existing situation evident during one of the depression-ridden seasons, when for once Mr. Ruth got the last word in.

Having haggled right and left at some length, the moneyed magnate finally said, "But, Babe, do you realize that you drew a bigger salary this past year than Mr. Hoover, the President of the United States?" To which Babe replied "And why not?? After all, I had a better year than he did! !"

Spikes Superb In TCU Curtain Raiser

REPORTS filtering in from both the TCU Sports Service and the Cowtown Star-Telegram are flowery and flamboyant in praise of ex-Tiger Jack Spikes. Tabbed "The Big Panther", he reportedly played the best game of his career Saturday as the Frogs downed Kansas by 14-7.

He contributed the most spectacular play of the game when, with TCU on its own 28-yard line and 11 needed for a first down, he crashed through a hole at left guard and hotfooted it 64 yards before being hauled down from behind on the Jayhawk eight. This fourth quarter play set up the winning touchdown, as Quarterback Larry Dawson decoyed Spikes through the middle and passed to End Jim Gilmore for the tally.

Spikes was the leading ground gainer in the game with 130 big yards in 15 luggings for an 8.7 yard average. Not only did he receive laurels from Abe Martin, his own coach, ("Jack played a great game. He's an all-American fullback in my books."), but also from opposing coach Jack Mitchell, who must have seen the handwriting on the wall. Following the game he stated, "We had worked against the TCU fullback plays all fall, but I had the feeling Spikes would break sooner or later."

It looks like a great season ahead for the tiger turned panther.

Ingo-Floyd To Meet In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The return heavyweight fight between champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson will be staged in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium next June 7, providing two conditions are met, The Associated Press learned today.

A reliable source close to the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission said that "according to Vincent Vellela we'll get the fight." Vellela is a director of Rosensohn Enterprises Inc., which was associated in the promotion of last June's match when Johansson dethroned Patterson.

But the source, who did not want to be identified, made it quite clear that Philadelphia would take the fight only if "Vellela and his group come out clean in the current investigation by the New York State Athletic Commission on the promotional angles of last June's fight.

"And a subsequent investigation by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commissions turns out okay."

The source said Vellela has applied for a license in Pennsylvania to promote the return match in Philadelphia.

According to the source the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission has been "hard at work negotiating" with Vellela and his group to formulate final plans.

Johansson signed last Aug. 25 to defend his title in a return bout with patterson. But at the time it was only specified that the bout would be held in the United States between next March 1 and June 15.

Giants See Long Winter

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—A stolen sign by a veteran and a two-out ninth inning homer by a rookie. That's the story that will haunt the San Francisco Giants this winter.

The Giants were all but eliminated from the National League pennant race Tuesday when George Altman crashed a two-run homer to give the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 triumph over the once hopeful Giants.

Altman was at the plate with an 0-1 count on him when Alvin Dark, who had led off with a double, intercepted the Giant catcher's signal and flashed the fast ball sign to Altman. Sam Jones delivered. It was fast, and Altman swung. The ball traveled high and far into the center field bleachers and with it went San Francisco's pennant hopes.

Jones made a gesture of throwing his glove at Altman as the Cub outfielder rounded first but the Giant pitcher thought better, walked off the field slowly and gave first base a swift kick.

The Giants retain a mathematical chance for the flag but they not only have to win their remaining four games, they also must hope for the complete collapse of both Milwaukee and Los Angeles.

Manager Bill Rigney, a talkative optimist, had little to say. "There's no doubt about it, we'll have to win the rest," he said. None of the players had anything to say.

Book On Giants Is Marked Down Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A book about "The San Francisco Giants" came out last season at $2.50 per copy.

By the end of the team's first year here, when they finished third in the National League, the book was selling for $1.

When the 1959 Giants were riding the crest of the National League some stores marked the book back up to $2.50.

Tuesday the Chicago Cubs clipped the Giants 5-4—third place again.

Today the book is marked down to 69 cents.

Keglers To Form Three New Leagues

Being formed at the present are several bowling leagues, including men's doubles, a women's morning league for housewives, and a junior league for bowlers up to age 18.

All men interested in the doubles handicap league are requested to be present at a meeting Thursday evening at six o'clock at the Town and Country Lanes.

Free instruction will be offered Thursday morning to all women who desire it. Instructor will be Lowell Guy, resident certified instructor, and a housewive's league will be formed immediately after the instruction period at approximately 11 a.m. All women interested in participating in such a league are urged to be present at the meeting or to contact Town and Country Lanes.

The junior league will commence this Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, at which time teams will be formed and play will begin. Anyone up to 18 years of age is invited to take part.

Dial And Grosscup Are Cut By Giants

The New York Giants have given up on quarterback Lee Grosscup, their No. 1 draft choice. They also cut Buddy Dial the former Rice All America end yesterday to climax a day of fevered activity by the National Football League clubs to trim their rosters to the prescribed 36 player limit by the weekend.

Grosscup was felt to have great potential by the Giants coaching staff but lacked the immediate experience to seriously challenge Charley Conerly, George Shaw or Don Heinrich for a signal-calling slot on the Eastern division champions.

Tigers Given Nod Over TCU's Frogs

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Those scientists Nikita Khrushchev always is talking about did hit the moon with one of their rockets. But could they score a touchdown? The Soviet visitor should take an hour or two off this weekend and see how its done.

The scoring will be done in about this fashion:

Louisiana State over Texas Christian: The Louisiana Tigers have been voted the nation's best and their ace is Billy Cannon. He'll have to live up to his name to pierce that tough Texas line.

Oklahoma over Northwestern: This could be Oklahoma's best team in recent years. It will have to be to get past Northwestern. This will be on your TV screen.

Southern California over Pittsburgh: This is a Friday night affair.

Princeton over Rutgers: These two teams started this football business almost a century ago and this is their 50th encounter. Rutgers has won only five and never two in a row. Princeton lost 28-0 a year ago.

Iowa over California: The Rose Bowl rivals of last January meet earlier this season but the result will be about the same.

Syracuse over Kansas: The Easterners are powerful and need only a quarterback to be great.

Wisconsin over Stanford: Dale Hackbart, Badger quarterback, can run, pass and kick.

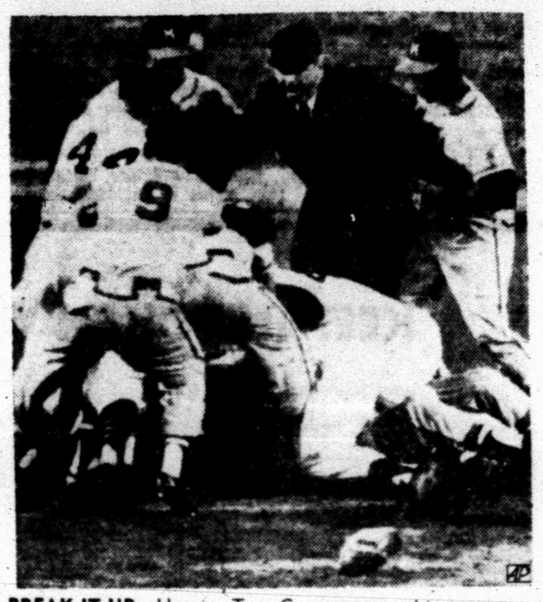

Auburn over Tennessee: The Auburn line will shackle famed Billy Majors, the Vols' wheelhorse.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: The George Izo to Monty Stickles battery should add to the North Carolina woes. But it will be close with Jack Cummings in the hero's role.

Indiana over Illinois: A rare Big Ten victory for the Hoosiers.

Texas over Maryland: The middle of the Texas line is solid with Rene Ramirez the star of the backfield.

Wyoming over Air Force: The graduation losses of the Falcons were heavy. Wyoming on the way back to the top of the Skyline loop.

BREAK IT UP—Umpire Tom Gorman moved in to restore order as Pittsburgh's Dick Stuart and Milwaukee's Felix Mantilla scuffle during a game at Forbes Field. Stuart is on top of Mantilla. On top of both is Pirate coach Sam Narron. Others are Braves' Joe Adcock (9); Pirate coach Frank Oceak (44); Braves' Bobby Avilla, next to Oceak; and Lee Maye, at far right. The fight broke out in the fourth inning after Stuart brushed Mantilla as he rounded second base. Milwaukee won 8-6. (AP Wirephoto)

Braves Roll On At Buc Expense

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sorts Writer

Remember the last time the National League had a three-team fight for the flag. It was 1956 and in the final week fourth-place St. Louis crashed Milwaukee out of it while the Dodgers stepped over seventh-place Pittsburgh to the pennant.

Cincinnati was the third club in on that down-to-the-wire race, finally given the gate by the Chicago Cubs to finish third, two games shy.

The Braves have breezed to two flags since then, and now, driving for a rare third in a row, they've surged into a one-game lead, beating fourth-place Pittsburgh 5-3 Tuesday night while seventh-place St. Louis jarred the Dodgers out of a first-place tie by battering Los Angeles 11-10.

In keeping with that pennant pattern of three years ago, third-place San Francisco plunged two games behind with a 5-4 loss to the Cubs.

Each of the contenders has four games left. All finish the current series today. Then the Braves go home for a three-game weekend series with last-place Philadelphia while the Dodgers shift to Chicago and the Giants switch to St. Louis in the final run to decide who pays the Chicago White Sox in the World Series a week from today.

The White Sox put away their first American League pennant in 40 years Tuesday night, beating Cleveland, the only club that could snatch it from them, 4-2.

Milwaukee's late surge to become the first three-in-a-row NL winner since the Cardinals of 1942-43-44 now has given the Braves a four-game streak and 13 victories in their last 15 games.

To do it, they had to stand off a ninth-inning Pirate rally for the second night in a row. Lefty Juan Pizarro (6-2) beat the Bucs a third time after building a 4-1 cushion with a two-out, two-run double as the Braves scored three in the seventh off Harvey Haddix (12-12).

Reliever Don McMahon finally nailed it, giving up a pair of scoring singles by Smoky Burgess and Don Hoak before striking out pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson for the final out.

Andy Pafko doubled and John Demerit, replacing injured Bill Bruton in center field, beat out a bunt single for the Braves in the clinching seventh. Then, after Del Crandall, who had hit his 21st homer in the fifth, hit into a doubleplay and Felix Mantilla got an intentional pass, Pizarro sliced his double just inside the left field line. Bobby Avila, who tripled in the first and scored on Hank Aaron's fly, then singled in the final run off Haddix.

Milwaukee took more than a percentage-point lead for the first time since June 30 as the Cardinals went to work on the Dodgers. Los Angles, making it close on rookie Frank Howard's pinch-hit, three-run homer in the ninth, chased nemesis Larry Jackson in the first inning, but blew 3-0 and 6-4 leads.

Hal Smith bombed starting Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax with his first grand-slam homer in the first inning. After Gil Hodges' two-run, 24th homer gave the Dodgers the 6-4 edge in the third, the Cards came back with five runs in their half of the third. Curt Flood's three-run homer set it off against losing reliever Chuck Churn (3-2). Joe Cunningham singled in the tying run in the frame and a double by ex-Dodger Gino Cimoli scored the lead run.

The Cardinals won it with two runs in the fifth, getting the clincher on an error by Carl Furillo on Cimoli's RBI single.

The Dodgers used 24 players, six of 'em pitchers, and set a major league record with nine pinch-hitters — four of whom reached base. Southpaw Marshall-Bridges (6)3) was the winner.

The Giants dropped their fourth in a row on a two-run, two-out homer by rookie George Altman in the ninth. It came off Sad Sarp Jones, working in relief and tagged with his 15th defeat, third in a row since winning his 20th. Don Elston (9-8) was the winner in relief, coming on in a two-run eighth when the Giants, who left nnine men on base, scored twice for their only lead, 4-3.

The Cubs took fifth place with the victory as Cincinnati fell to sixth with a twi-night doubleheader loss at Philadelphia, 3-1 amd 3-2.

In the other AL games, New York beat Washington 8-4. Detroit defeated Kansas City 6-4 and Boston beat Baltimore 4-3.

Art Talley, colorful Carolina League umpire of a few years ago still has the last word. He's a North Carolina prison guard.

The Wilson, N. C. Pirates lost their Cigar Outfielder Morria Cigar of San Pedro, Calif., was optioned to Grand Forks, Neb.

'B' Team, Junior Hi's On The Road

Three local teams will hit the road for out-of-town encounters Thursday, led by the Snyder "B" Team which will test San Angelo in a 7:30 o'clock clash. This team, coached by V. V. Shearburn and Jim Stehley, will be trying to ease over onto the "plus" side of the ledger, having been beaten by Midland and posted a win over Lamesa to date.

Two junior teams will be on the road as a trip will be made to Lamesa for games with the Little Tornadoes. In the first game at 3 o'clock, the Seventh Grade Travis charges of Coaches Bill Hartsfield and Ned Underwood will play, looking for win number two as against no losses.

Following that game the Snyder Eighth Graders of Coaches Ace Amos and Charlie Sparks will do battle with the Lamesans, with a kickoff time of 4:30. They will be shooting for their third win of the young season, having won their first two games by top-heavy margins.

Gangsters Accused Of Boxing Fix

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Five men seized in a nation-wide FBI roundup are accused of trying to grab control of world welterweight champion Don Jordan.

A federal grand jury investigating underworld influence in boxing indicted them Tuesday in Los Angeles. They were arrested within a few hours in Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The indictments charged conspiracy to extort money from Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth of Covina, Calif., and Jackie Leonard, former Hollywood Legion Stadium boxing promoter.

Under arrest are:

Paul John Carbo, known as Frankie Carbo, 55, of New York City. He is under indictment in New York for undercover management of fighters.

Frank (Blinky) Palermo, 54, Philadelphia boxing manager.

Truman Gibson Jr., 47, Chicago attorney, president of National Boxing Enterprises, Inc., and formerly a director of the International Boxing Club which operated Madison Square Garden in New York.

Joseph Sica, 48, Los Angeles, who has a record of arrests going back to 1928.

Louis Tom Dragna, 39, West Covina, Calif., manager of a clothing store and described as having been involved in bookmaking.

The indictment alleged that Palermo extorted $1,725 from Leonard through threats of harming him and Nesseth.

Leonard had no interest in Jordan's management but said Palermo and Carbo made him an unwilling go-between in their purported effort to muscle in on Nesseth's contract with Jordan.

Leonard and Nesseth testified before a California Athletic Commission hearing last May and before the grand jury.

Leonard told the commission that Carbo threatened him and Nesseth.

Sox Down Indians, End Pennant Drouth

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The White Sox did it.

They did it like champs, clinching that long-awaited American League pennant in their final meeting with the one club that could snatch it from them.

They did it with a 4-2 victory over the second-place Indians at Cleveland Tuesday night, hauling in Chicago's first AL flag since 1919. They did it not with their magic singles, but with power—a pair of scoring doubles by Luis Aparicio and Billy Goodman, and successive sixth-inning home runs by Al Smith and Jim Rivera.

They did it with pitching and defense. Early Wynn, the old man the Injuns didn't want, won his 21st, getting relief help from young Bob Shaw, the right-hander Detroit didn't want, and Gerry Staley, the reliever nobody wanted.

Staley, like Wynn a 39-year-old right-hander, wrapped it up, making his 65th trip from the bullpen this season in the ninth inning with one out and he bases loaded. With one pitch it was all over.

Vic Power swung at that first pitch of Staley's. Aparicio gobbled it up at short, stepped on second and threw to first for the Sox' a third straight flag, jumped into a one-game lead with a 5-3 victory at Pittsburgh. Los Angeles tumbled out of a first-place tie with an 11-10 loss at St. Louis, third - place San Francisco fell two games behind, losing 5-4 to the Cubs at Chicago. Each of the contenders has four games left.

Braves Being Paced By Unknown Pitcher

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Juan Pizarro, a young man who seems to profit by an annual trip to the minors, has pitched the Milwaukee Braves over the hump in the National League race. From now on it will be Bob Buhl, Lou Burdette and Warren Spahn with a one-game lead and four to play.

Manager Fred Heny has his pitching staff in enviable condition for the final four games that will determine whether the Braves are to win a third straight pennant.

The gamble was Tuesday night's start of Pizarro, a husky 22-year-old Puerto Rican. The left-hander came through, with ninth inning relief help from Don McMahon, to beat Pittsburgh 5-3.

Buhl (14-9) goes tonight in the finale with the Pirates. It will be Burdette (21-14), Spahn (20-15) and Buhl in the final three with the Phillies at home in Milwaukee.

"This fellow has the potential to be one of the greatest," said Haney of Pizarro. "it is all up to him. Sometimes he fires the ball. Sometimes he lobs it up. Sometimes he can't get it over. Tonight he was firing."

Pizarro was farmed out to Wichita in 1957 and again in 1958. This year he spent from June 7 to June 23 with Louisville where he pitched a no-hitter and other low-hit efforts.

Pizarro agreed that the stay in Louisville was a help to him.

Indians Deal Axe To Manager Gordon

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Gordon was out today as Cleveland manager with four games still left on the Indians' schedule. General Manager Frank Lane said he hoped to name the 1960 Cleveland pilot soon, perhaps before the week is over.

The leading candidate appears to be Leo Durocher, who quit a $65,000 job with the National Broadcasting Co. earlier this month to return to baseball where he piloted three National League pennant winners.

So leading, in fact, is Durocher's candidacy that other names — among them Fred Hutchinson of Cincinnati and Charley Dressen of Los Angeles — have come in for scarcely more than a mention.

For the rest of the season Mel Harder, veteran pitching coach, will manage the Indians. The four remaining games with Kansas City here starting Friday will be used to test the club's rookies. Tuesday night's 4-2 loss to Chicago mathematically eliminated the Indians, and the team has had second place sewed up for some time, so this weekend's games mean nothing to the standings.

Top Linksmen Open Golden Gate Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Golf's touring professionals, including the present U. S. Open, Masters and PGA champions, open fire Thursday in the inaugural of the $40,000 Golden Gate Championship.

The scene is a San Francisco public course—Harding Park, and from there one of the pros can look across Lake Merced to the site of his greatest triumph four years ago.

For in 1955, a virtual unknown, Jack Fleck from Des Moines, beat the great Ben Hogan in a playoff for the U.S. Open title over the Olympic Club course. He hadn't won before and he hasn't won since.

When the 72-hole tournament starts, probably no one will consider him among the favorites in the 155-man field.

The entries include such stars as the present U.S. champion Billy Casper and the 1959 leading money winner Art Wall Jr., the Masters' champ.

Also there's PGA champion Bob Rosburg and San Francisco's Ken Venturi.

We Blasted 'Em Out Of The Tub-Conley

In the regular meeting of the Quarterback Club last night, reports were given on team progress by all coaches whose boys played games this past week.

Coach John Conley stated that his Tigers looked much-improved offensively against Andrews, and that a lot of the improvement was due to the fact that the game was entered into with a different outlook than had been the Borger game. He stated that, "We thought that we were stronger than they were, and went into the game with the idea of 'blasting 'em out of the tub', which is exactly what we did." He also commented that the passing game would be used sparingly until a better percentage of the tosses could be completed.

Coach J. P. Ward gave a rundown on what to expect from Big Spring offensively, having scouted the Steer-San Antonio Edison contest and Coach V. V. Shearburn followed with the defensive aspects.

The Club voted unanimously to sponsor a trip to Lubbock for the Tiger varsity team on October 10, at which time they will be afforded a peek at the Texas Tech-TCU game.

It was also voted that the Club meeting time be changed from 8 o'clock to 7:30. A special treat will be in store for members this next Tuesday, when a film on this past season's Southwest Conference Highlights will be shown.

Membership is open to anyone interested in football dues being $5 per year.

Bohlen An Old Hand At Rebuffing Soviets

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) —Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, soon to become a top Washington adviser on the Soviet Union, was talking back to the Soviets long before the era of Khrushchev diplomacy.

Once back in 1946, Alexander Bogomolov, then Soviet ambassador to Paris, stopped Bohlen in the hall during a foreign ministers meeting in the French capital.

"I thought you Americans were traders," said Bogomolov, referring to discussions about the Italian-Yugoslav frontier.

"We are traders," replied Bohlen in his usual calm tone.

"We will trade dollars and we will trade goods. But we will not tradehuman beings."

For Bohlen, this was just one more incident in a lifelong career of dealing with the Soviets. His diplomatic record as a Soviet specialist cannot be matched among U.S. Foreign Service officers except perhaps by George F. Kennan, now retired.

Now 55 and eligible for retirement after 30 years in the Foreign Service, Bohlen is returning from a 2½-year assignment as ambassador to Manila to become a special assistant to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter on Soviet affairs.

President Eisenhower, one of Bohlen's boosters, may take the personable diplomat along on the President's trip to the U.S.S.R. this fall.

Coincidentally, the 6-foot-1 Bohlen shares Eisenhower's passion for golf. Bohlen shoots a low handicap in Manila and practices on a chipping green at the American Embassy overlooking Manila Bay.

Bohlen has spent nearly one-third of his long diplomatic career in the U.S.S.R. He first joined the Moscow Embassy staff in 1934, shortly after this country recognized the Communist regime.

By the time of the World War II summit meetings Bohlen's knowledge of the Russian language and insight into the Soviet mind had so advanced that he was used as top interpreter for the U.S.S delegations.

His attendance at Yalta in 1945 with President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in particular, sparked criticism later from some Republicans opposed to the Democratic-negotiated wartime agreements. But Eisenhower picked Bohlen in 1953 as his first ambassador to Moscow and backed him again this year over complaints from some Senate GOP leaders.

At Manila since 1957, the handsome diplomat's toughest task has been carrying on negotiations over the status of U.S. bases in the Philippines. He has made some progress, but touchy issues remain unresolved.

He has been keeping up his lifetime studies on communism. Current books about the Reds adorn his embassy office.

Nearby Communist China has come more closely under his analysis. He sees party chief Mao Tse-tung as the most creative thinker in the Communist world movement since Lenin.

Soviet diplomatic policymakers, he has said, do not use experts to dig up facts on which to base their decisions but rather make their decisions first and then tell the experts to find the facts to support them.

Bohlen had no outside wealth of his own to help out in his expensive diplomatic assignments. As ambassador at Manila he gets $27,500 a year. In Washington his pay is expected to be about $20,000. His Foreign Service retirement income would be about $15,000.

Born in Clayton, N.Y., Aug. 30, 1904, Bohlen married the former Avis Howard Thayer. They have three school-age children.

Uncertainty Top Cuban Trademark

HAVANA (AP)—Uncertainty is the word which best describes Cuba today.

It covers all phases of life in this island nation, especially the political, economic and military.

"What happens next" is a phrase frequently heard from both Cuban and foreign residents.

Critics of the revolutionary program of Prime Minister Fidel Castro say uncertainty, created by his government, is wrecking the Cuban economy and will bring down the rebel regime within six months.

His supporters describe the uncertainty as a counter-revolutionary weapon of Castro's opponents, exploited in an effort to create trouble for the various phases of his admittedly ambitious program.

Investors, both foreign and Cuban, are hesitant to involve funds in building projects. Industrialists are postponing planned expansions or improvements in many cases.

Operators of the nation's 161 sugar mills, heart of Cuba's major industry, are dragging their feet in renovating their machinery. Some labor groups have urged government intervention to force what they call normal repair programs.

Directors of American-owned mills here say frankly they are cutting back.

"Who knows what the agrarian reform program will do to our holdings?" said one such executive. "We would be foolish to spend more than an absolute minimum on renovations when by this time next year we may be out of business."

Despite the uncertainty, economists report some good signs.

Bank clearings are up and still rising.

Retail trade is good in all except luxury items of great expense. Collections on current accounts are generally good.

Gasoline and oil sales are rising.

Oil companies are having trouble, however, collecting old bills carried over from the Batista regime.

Economists claim the unemployment problem is not as severe as was feared, that government public works programs may be less expensive than was expected. Castro himself once said there are 750,000 Cubans without work.

The 1959 carryover of sugar, Cuba's greatest revenue crop, has been estimated at about a million tons, well below the 1½ million tons feared earlier this year.

Financially, supporters of the Castro regime report it is more than holding its own. They say new tax programs are bringing in more money than Batista's government ever had.

Among the greatest sufferers from Cuba's national uncertainty are the luxury hotels which in normal times cater to thousands upon thousands of free-spending tourists, most of them from the United States. Each of Havana's largest tourist hotels is still losing from $85,000 to $150,000 a month.

Wilson Visits Ford Plant

Bill Wilson of Wilson Motors in Snyder is visiting the Ford Motor Co. headquarters in Dearborn, Mich., this week to view the 1960 cars and trucks and discuss with Henry Ford II the outlook for the national economy and the automobile industry during the forthcoming decade.

The special preview marks the first time in a quarter century that all 7,000 Ford dealers have been invited to the company's home offices. During their stay there, they will meet face-to-face with Ford Division management, including engineers and stylists who designed the new Ford line.

The new Fords will be unveiled in a Broadway-type show featuring Ray Bolger, Jane Powell and Blackstone the Magician. The dealers will also be entertained by Tennessee Ernie Ford and Rosemary Clooney.

McAllen Man Heads League

DALLAS (AP)—The Mayor of McAllen, Phillip Boeye, is the new president of the Texas Municipal League. He was elected Tuesday as the group wound up a three-day meeting.

Another mayor, James H. McCrocklin of Kingsville, was named first vice president, and Beaumont city attorney George Murphy second vice president.

Boeye urged that Texas cities be given the same rights to acquire money as municipalities in other states.

"Property taxes won't provide enough money," he said, and some sort of sales tax is inevitable."

Boeye said better relations are needed with the Legislature. "We believe in local self-government—we don't believe our probelms need to be solved in Austin," he said. "We haven't presented our problems successfully, we haven't got across to them (the Legislature)".

During the coming year, the primary function of the league will be work for better relationships with state officials, Boeye said.

Highway Commission Chairman Herb C. Petry of Carrizo Springs predicted Texas' interstate highway construction program will have to be slowed down next year because of a reduction in federal funds.

Texas will get 22 million dollars less in 1960 than in 1959 under the highway budget just approved in Congress, Petry said.

Pickets Are Ruled Illegal

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Building and Construction Trades Council acted illegally in placing pickets at a million dollar warehouse project in Irving, Judge W. L. Jack Thornton ruled Tuesday.

Thornton said he considers the case far-reaching and hopes it eventually will be decided by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The ruling prevents the council from picketing Dallas Plumbing Co., which the council charged with paying sub-standard wages. The firm is the only sub-contractor employing non-union labor on the project.

The council includes 20 construction trade unions.

L. N. D. Wells, attorney for the council, challenged Thornton's jurisdiction. Wells said the case should have gone before the National Labor Relations Board instead of to a district court.

The lawyer for the sub-contractors, Ramsey Clark, said the council was trying to fix wages of 70 workers at Dallas Plumbing without a bargaining contract.

Bombing Is For Revenge

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Revenge, not racial tension, prompted five white youths into bombing an empty Negro church here, police say.

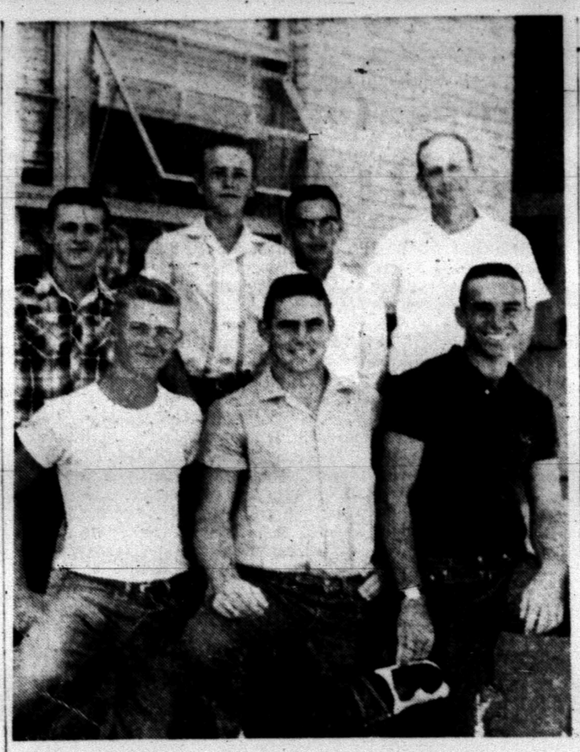

The five, all 18 years old, were charged Tuesday with causing an explosion with intent to injure a person or property of another.

The True Way Church of God in Jesus Christ was bombed Monday night when a homemade gunpowder device was thrown through a window.

Police said the five got angry when a landlord refused to permit them to rent the basement of the church for use as a clubhouse.

Those in custody are Jeffrey Cordova and Joseph M. Dalakina, both Hillside; Daniel Casey, and Howard McAllister, both Newark, and Steve Parr, Bernardsville.

Said Elder Arthur Wilson, pastor: "This is just kids' doings."

Doctor Will Share Fund In Bankruptcy

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Creditors of Dr. Curtis Lee Attaway will share in a $500,000 distribution under a 10-year trusteeship plan approved Tuesday by U. S. bankruptcy referee LeRoy Smallenberger.

Attaway's million dollar investment plan burst earlier this year. In partnership with his sister, he paid investors 120 per cent interest before he went to federal court to rescue his estate.

The estate included debts of $4,363,745, including $4,312,725 owed to investors.

Unsecured claims consisted of outstanding checks of $6,169,450.54; less credit against evidence of indebtedness incurred because of the "usurious interest payments made," according to the summary.

Assets totaled $3,751,337, including real estate $964,875, negotiable notes and securities $295,000, unliquidated claims $834,387 and money in banks $1,023,000.

The first step toward repaying creditors will be distribution of $500,000 to the creditors in proportion to their interest in the estate.

Attaway will continue as director of the Attaway Clinic and Hospital with a salary of $1,500 per month plus 10 per cent of the net profits earned by the clinic and hospital.

His sister wil be kept as an employe at $500 a month.

The Holland Tunnel, beneath the Hudson River connecting Manhatten and New Jersey, was named for its chief engineer, Clifford M. Holland.

HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played in the country this week-end. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only . . . opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie score must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for that place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's prize. Tie for perfect score will split $25.00. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all of the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number—and watch for the story on next Wednesday's front page for the winners. Hurry now, and get your entry blank from one of the merchants on this page. The contest blank must be in your own handwriting. Employes of The Snyder Daily News and their families, not eligible to enter.
