Wilson Quits As Associate Court Justice

AUSTIN (AP) — Will Wilson announced his resignation as associate justice of the State Supreme Court today, effective Friday, to devote full time to his campaign for attorney general.

"I cannot remain on the Supreme Court while I campaign for attorney general," said Wilson, who was elected to the high court in 1950 after establishing a reputation as a racket busting district attorney in Dallas County.

Wilson, 44, said he was leaving the court "with reluctance" but felt that "Texas' greatest need today is vigorous enforcement of Texas laws."

"I believe I can serve Texas best in filling that need," he said in a statement which he handed to reporters.

Wilson's resignation will make it possible for Gov. Alan Shivers to appoint a sucessor to the court for the remaining seven months of the judge's term.

Wilson said he has been asked why he is willing to leave the Supreme Court.

"Like the old cavalry general, I've always believed in riding straight for the sound of the guns,' commnted Wilson, a veteran of World War II combat in the South Pacific.

"Certainly I know that I am deliberately turning my back on the security of a quiet harbor and certainly the course we will steer lies through troubled waters. But that's where the need is greatest.' '

Wilson, who has three opponents in his bid for attorney general, said Texas needs "a mature and experi nced trial lawyer" for that post.

"It is of supreme importance that the vast property interests of the state of Texas, its schools and colleges, have efficient and highly organized professional advice and representation," said Wilson. "I shall organize and staff the attorney general's department to accomplish this purpose.'

Other candidates for attorney general are Tom Moore of Waco, Ross Carlton and Curtis E. Hill, both of Dallas.

Reds Report Execution Of Azerbaijan Officials

4 Charged On Treason

MOSCOW (AP)—The former Prime Minister of Azerbaijan and three other top officials of that Caucasian Republic have been executed for treason and counterrevolutionary activity, it was disclosed today.

The four officials were accused of being accomplices of former Soviet police boss Lavrenty Beria.

The newspaper Baku Worker, which reached Moscow today, said they had been charged with "terroristic acts."

The chief defendant in the trial which the newspaper said was held publicly in Baku between April 12 and April 26, was identified as M. D. Bagirov, former secretary of the Azerbaijan Communist party, the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Azerbaijan Republic.

Bagirov was made an alternate member of the Presidium of the Communist party of the Soviet Union in March, 1953, immediately after Stalin's death.

But Bagirov, long considered in the Soviet Union to be a close collaborator of Beria, fell a few weeks after Beria himself was arrested.

On July 18, 1953 Moscow radio announced that he had been dismissed as premier of Azerbaijan. The public announcement of his removal at that time did not connect him with Beria—but simply said he had been guilty of gross bureaucracy.

Before he became Azerbaijan premier, Bagirov had been for many years the Communist party chieftain in the Soviet Republic on the Caspian Sea which has as its capital the oil metropolis of Baku, where Beria attended school in his youth before the revolution.

The indictment as published in the Baku newspaper said Bagirov and his accomplices were guilty of treason, of using improper methods of police investigation, of setting the state security organs against the government and the Communist party, and of counterrevolutionary activity.

There has been no word of the trial or execution in the Moscow press or over the radio.

The brief report in the newspaper was in the form of an announcement from the Military Collegium of the Supreme Court of the U.S.S.R.

It added that two other defendants have been sentenced to terms of 25 years imprisonment.

Plans Made For Weather Data Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau said yesterday it still plans to equip a ship in the Gulf of Mexico to improve its weather reporting network in that area.

Funds totaling $96,000 were voted by Congress last year to provide meteorological equipment for shipboard use but no provision was made for a ship.

F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the bureau, said "Informal discussions carried on earlier this month brought out new suggestions that we are endeavoring to develop but at the moment no definite promises have been obtained for the two or three ships necessary to maintain a continuous weather station in the Gulf. We shall continue our efforts."

Reichelderfer said the bureau meanwhile has sought to increase the number of weather reports from the Gulf and to obtain upper air soundings.

Under contract with Texas A&M, he said, upper air soundings will be provided part of the time by the research vessel the A. A. Jakkula.

He said that under the hurricane research project eight additional upper air stations are to be set up in the Caribbean region in cooperation with other government agencies and all are to be in operation about June 1.

Weather Bureau radar stations on the Gulf Coast, he said, will be modernized.

Other steps he outlined include:

The land-based radar network is to give advance detection of storms as far distant as 200 miles at sea. Radar equipment will be located at Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Fort Worth, Midland, San Angelo, Waco, Austin harbor, San Antonio, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Brownsville and Port Arthur, Texas; Shreveport, Lake Charles, Baton Rouge, New Orleans and Burrwood, La., and Tampa and Miami, Fla.

Marine weather staffs at New Orleans and Houston have been increased to obtain more frequent and reliable weather reports.

Vote Heavy In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A heavier turnout than usual of voters chose their U. S. senatorial and congressional nomines today in Kentucky primary elections marked by a factional fight in the Democratic party.

Scattered early reports indicated a heavier vote, possibly because of the warm, fairly clear weather and the fact that 18-year-olds are voting for the first time in Kentucky.

Interest also was whetted by the Democratic party fight between Sen. Earle C. Clements and the forces of Gov. A. B. Chandler who are supporting former U. S. Rep. Joe B. Bates in the race for Clements' Senate seat.

The Democrats, the dominant party in Kentucky, expected a turnout of up to 400,000. The Republicans estimated 60,000 or more would vote in their senatorial race.

White Speaks Here Monday

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, challenged Snyder High School's 1956 Graduating class Monday night to face the future with confidence.

Although a person might be concerned about it, there is no reason to "fear the future" 'if he knows Him who controls it, Dr. White declared.

He urged members of the graduating class live fruitful lives because productivity is an integral part of the American heritage. Production in this country has enabled us to serve as the "balance" in two great wars, he pointed out, and this record gives other countries a right to look to America to set the pace for the world in production.

Most important, however, he emphasized is faith. He described faith as "the radar of the soul." Moreover, he said that, despite disappointing experiences that come to light every day, a person must be able to have faith in his fellow men.

"Faith in your associates builds their confidence and enables them to respond by meeting their responsibilities," he declared.

Faith in God is the basic essential, Dr. White concluded, declaring that each person must be able to look to One with more wisdom than all men collectively.

Dr. White stopped here en route to Kansas City where he was to speak today at the Southern Baptist Convention which is now in session in that city.

He was introduced by Dr. C. L. Yarborough, superintendent of Snyder Schools.

Previously, Jane Rogers, salutatorian, had told her fellow classmates that the high school commencement was merely a "passport" to service, while Charlotte Chauncy, valedictorian, charged the class to make certain that the investment in their public education pays dividends to society.

T. D. Wiman, Jr., high school principal, presided at the commencement, and diplomas were presented by E. H. Williamson, president of the board of education.

Special music was a duet by Douglas Smith and Harilyn Ward. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bob Womack at the organ, who also played the procesional. Douglas Smith, president of the student council, gave the invocation, and Alan Snead pronounced the benediction.

Additional scholarships were announced by Wiman during the commencement program. Pauline Tate received a $250 scholarship presented by the Altrurian Daughters Study Club to be used at any accredited school of nursing she may choose. The three-year scholarship from the Medical Arts Nursing Scholarship Fund went to Johnnie Wilknson. It may be used at any accredited school of nursing.

Douglas Smith was winner of the Choral Arion award, while the Band Arion award went to Royce Scrivner who also had the highest scholastic record of the boys in the graduating class.

Over 2,000 persons attended the commencement program, which was held in the Tiger Football Stadium.

Hospital Board Backs Management

The Cogdell Memorial Hospital Board, in a signed written statement to the commissioners court, has announced that the county hospital operated in the "black" for the first time during the period of February through April of this year.

In addition, the statement quoted a report attributed to the Federal Bureau of Narcotics in which that agency said it had no knowledge of any violation in the handling of narcotics at the hospital.

The statement was prepared following a grand jury report last week which charged that management of the hospital was inefficient and that narcotics were not properly controlled at the hospital.

The hospital board's statement was signed by James Davidson, Nolan Watson, O. M. Martin, Lester Moore, O. B. Brown and Pat Falls.

Text of the statement, which was addressed to the commissioners court, was as follows:

We would recall to you the report of the grand jury as published in the local newspaper on Thursday last, wherein the grand jury stated that the Cogdell Hospital had consistently lost several thousand dollars each month since it was opened for business in February, 1954, and in which report the grand jury, without any specific instance of inefficiency being named or alleged, charged the hospital, the administrator of the hospital, and consequently the hospital board with gross inefficiency. The grand jury further stated that they had not received the audit as requested by them on a previous date. As you know the grand jury further charged (without return

Income Tax Ruling Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government ruled today that idle workers must pay federal income tax on new supplementary unemployment benefits.

Russell C. Harrington, internal revenue commissioner, ruled however that the benefits, due to be started June 1 by major auto producers, are not to be treated as wages subject either to withholding or social security taxes.

The ruling means that unemployed workers will receive their privately financed "SUB" payments, supplementing their state unemployment compensation benefits, in full without being reduced by various withholding taxes. But the employe will have to report them as nonwage income on his annual return.

"SUB" plans negotiated by the United Auto Workeers Union with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler motor companies are to go into effect Friday. The SUB plans are designed to supplement the state UC system to provide employes with up to 65 per cent of take home pay for their first four weeks of unemployment, 60 per cent for the next 22 weeks of possible joblessness.

Well over a million employes are covered by such SUB plans in the auto and other industries.

State Man Admits Robbery-Slaying

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Police said a 25-year-old crane operator told them today he stabbed a man 14 times on a lonely Texas road in March, robbed him, then dumped the body into a small ravine.

Capt. James H. Reeves, chief of detectives, said he had an oral statement on the slaying from Clarence Edward Young, arrested early today after an all-night police stakeout.

Reeves said Young identified the victim as Robert Boyd Chapman, about 30. Chapman's car was recovered, the detective said.

The officer said Young, who is 6-feet 7-inches tall and weighs 275 pounds, told this story:

He had been hitchhiking from Lewiston, Idaho when Chapman picked him up near Phoenix, Ariz. Near the outskirts of Canyon, Texas, Chapman made improper advances. Young picked up a bayonet in the car and stabbed Chapman, took $19 and some change from his pockets and covered the body with weeds after dumping it into the ditch.

Reeves quoted Young as saying he had been in Wichita for about three months, working as a laborer and crane operator.

Sheriff L. S. Johnston of Randall County, Tex., was in Wichita to return Young to Texas where he is named in a first degree murder warrant.

Chapman's body was found March 17 by two boys playing in a roadside park, two miles south of Canyon on U.S. 87. He apparently had put up a heavy struggle.

Chapman's wife in Lansing, Mich., said he left Phoenix March 12 and was believed to have been carrying $300-$500 in cash. Chapman had been in Phoenix, where the couple had lived for 1½ years to dispose of his interest in a service station and other property.

Wichita police began checking on Young after he attempted to register a car without a title," Reeves said.

Tallahasse Is Struck By Negro Boycott

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A second Southern capital has been hit by a boycott of Negro bus riders stemming from a dispute over segregated seating arrangements.

Some students at Florida A&M University for Negroes began walking yesterday in protest against the arrest of two Negro girl students for refusing to move to the rear of a Cities Transit Co. bus.

The Rev. C. K. Steele, president of the Tallahassee chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said without elaborating that the boycott "will be continued beyond the university campus."

Charles L. Carter, manager of the transit firm, said last night, however, his company had experienced no general effects from any boycott.

Montgomery, Ala., has felt the effects of a bus boycott by Negro riders for several months. Most of its 50,000 Negroes have been boycotting buses since Dec. 5, 1955, in a protest against city and state segregation laws.

Florida has an old law requiring bus and railroad companies to provide separate accomodations for white and Negro passengers traveling within the state.

Florida, however, has no anti-boycott law like Alabama.

The two girl students here, Wilhelmina Jakes, 26, and Carrie F. Patterson, 20, were arrested Saturday. They were charged with placing themselves in a position to cause a riot and were released in $25 bond each pending a hearing in Police Court Friday.

Steele said the NAACP was looking into the legal angles of the arrests and into a cross burning in front of the students' home.

Six Salesmen Fined $25 In Court Here

All six members of a crew of door-to-door magazine sales people were fined $25 each in city court yesterday following their arrests here on complaints from Snyder citizens.

Police said the crew of magazine sales people were subject of several complaints by local citizens.

A city ordinance prohibits door-to-door selling in residential areas of Snyder.

DAMAGE LIGHT

Twisters Rip Across State

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes boiled up over a wide area of West Texas Monday as turbulent, unstable weather continued in the state.

One large twister, described by H. C. Winburn, head of the Amarillo Weather Bureau as "a real one . . . capable of doing a lot of damage" skipped across the South Plains and Panhandle, prompting alerts at a number of cities in the area.

The tornado was first sighted near Whiteface, about 40 miles west of Lubbock late Monday. It swept along slightly above the ground near Littlefield and was sighted at Anton moving northeast.

The twister struck just east of Ki , 13 miles north of Plainview, shortly after midnight. It ripped out phone lines, cutting off communications, but did no other damage. It then blew into the rugged Caprock area to the northeast where it was dissipated. Several other smaller twisters were also sighted.

A few hours before the tornado roared by, rain and hail up to 3½ inches fell at Kress. Amarillo had a light rain and some hail. Tulia had a rainstorm. Greenville Austin and Beaumont also had rains Monday.

With the exception of far West Texas, skies were partly cloudy to cloudy over the state early Tuesday with rains reported at San Antonio and in the vicinity of Beaumont and Corpus Christi. The forecast called for possible afternoon and evening thundershowers over most of the state Tuesday and Wednesday.

Temperatures Monday afternoon ranged from 84 degrees at Corpus Christi and Midland to 109 degrees at Presidio.

HOSPITAL

ing a true bill of indictment against any person) improper use and control of narcotics at Cogdell Hospital.

We would point out to you in response to the accusations made by the above-mentioned grand jury the following:

1. The audit as requested by the grand jury has not been recommended to the court for reasons previously furnished to the honorable court under date of May 1, 1956.

2. The hospital did lose money during the first year of operation, as shown by audit published and approved by a previous grand jury, had in October, 1955, which report of the October 1955 grand jury has been made public by publication. The hospital has operated by six-month intervals as follows (these figures have been made known to the honorable court at the end of each month):

February through July 1954, loss $20,747.34, occupancy 29 per cent; August through January, 1954-55, loss $13,363.10, occupancy 28 per cent; February through July 1955, loss $5,860.25, occupancy 35 per cent; August through January 1955-56, loss $2,504.41, occupancy 47 per cent; February through April, 1956, gain $3,846.27, occupancy 60 per cent.

You are aware of the fact that the loss incurred in 1954 was due to the opening of the hospital, and the figures above quoted are based on assets of the hospital.

3. Relative to inefficiency we are unable to see inefficiency in the above figures. Collections of accounts due the hospital are currently averaging for the last six months period 88.8 per cent.

4. Relative to mishandling of narcotics at the hospital we would point out to you that all narcotics are accountable to the U. S. Federal Narcotics Bureau, and are under their supervision and control. That bureau has never made any charge of misuse or misconduct of narcotics to this hospital board or to the hospital administrator, and on May 24, 1956, made the following statement to Mr. Fulcher, your hospital administrator:

"No complaint has been filed. We have no knowledge of any violation that warrants investigation. We find no reason to make any statement on the handling of narcotics at Cogdell Hospital."

The above statement was made to Mr. Fulcher after the narcotics bureau was contacted by the district attorney, Mr. Renal B. Rosson, on May 19, 1956.

Flooded Areas Get Dry Warm Weather

By The Associated Press

Dry, warm weather today hastened the recovery of flooded areas of Indiana and Illinois.

A hot sun began to dry out the speedway at Indianapolis — and thus assured the running of the 500-mile automobile race there tomorrow.

Indianapolis was placed under a state of flood emergency yesterday by Mayor Phillip L. Bayt. Officials called out more than 2,100 Civil Defense workers and ordered policemen to remain on duty.

The flood troubles of Illinois and Indiana were caused by torrential rains during the weekend, and in some areas again on Monday.

Taken To Cogdell

Mrs. W. V. Walls of Baird, mother of George Walls of Snyder, was brought yesterday from Baird to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bolger ambulance.

Colorado Hits New High In Drilling

DENVER (AP)—Colorado, which usually leads other states of the Rocky Mountain-High Plains area in oil and gas well drilling from month to month, reached a new weekly high for the year with 36 locations last week.

Twenty-six were wildcat, Petroleum Information reported today. The weekly summary touched on these other western developments:

New Mexico: The Bisti - Black Rock area of western San Juan County is becoming increasingly important for oil in an area known primarily for natural gas production. The area now had 32 wells with Sunray Mid-Continent the most active operator. The Bisti discovery well, No. 1 Kelly-State drilled by El Paso Natural Gas last year, recently was completed for 646 barrels of oil per day.

Fisher County Grand Jury Is Recessed

ROBY (Spl) — The Fisher County grand jury, after hearing some evidence on various pending criminal cases, recessed here yesterday.

No indictments were returned by the jury, which passed all cases until its next session June 11, according to Bus Rollans, Fisher County sheriff.

Members of the grand jury are J. M. Lanning, Othel B. Barnhill, H. J. Keagon, J. A. Barnes, W. A. Clements, Floyd Clifton, James Lay, J. A. Nettleton, C. M. Hodges, A. G. Smith, J. C. Sills, and Frank L. Crowder.

Cotton Allotment Is Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The granting of a 1,697 acreage allotment to a Texas farmer to begin cotton production for the first time has prompted an investigation by the Agriculture Department.

Rep. Poage (D-Tex) said yesterday the allotment had been granted by an agriculture review board to J. Meredith Tatton of Salt Creek Ranch in Refugio County.

Poage said he took the matter up with department officials here "at the request of Edwin O. Lungren of Elgin, Tex., president of the Old Cotton Belt Assn.

"Department officials tell me they are disturbed about the allocation of so much acreage to a new grower," Poage told a reporter, "and have asked the department's lawyers in Dallas to check into the case."

The Texas congressman said the total acreage allotment for Refugio County was only 12,000 acres. The State Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee had turned down Tatton's request for an allocation, but he appealed it to the review committee which granted him the 1,697 acres, the congressman added.

Armored Cars Are Mystery

GALVESTON (AP)—The mystery surrounndng hte distinction of armored patrol cars awaiting shipment on the docks here apparently was solved today.

Indications were the shipment would be sent to France in the event the U.S. State Department grants a license to the French government for the cargo.

Joseph Reap, chief of the State Department's public relations office, told the Galveston Tribune the French government has applied for a license to export a number of MA de-militarized cars which he said apparently fits the description of the cars being assembled here.

Reap said the State Department has not yet granted the licenses and the cars wil not be shipped until and unless the licenses are approved.

The Galveston Daily News, which estimated the cars at about 100, said State's Marine steamship line agent Hugh Jones declined to say where they were being sent. He told the News it is the first time in several years that military equipment has been sent through the Galveston port. But he said other shipments had been made recently from New Orleans, Port Arthur and Beaumont.

George Belk of Galveston radio station KGBC said he counted 33 of the 6-wheel armored cars on a Galveston pier and was told they were to be sent to a foreign country.

Belk quoted a Galveston pier official, who declined the use of his name, as saying the cars will be sent abroad after "a certain amount of red tape is cut." The official said he didn't know what country wil get them but that a colonel from Washington was in Galveston several days ago to confer on the details of the shipment.

Alaska Tries Guile

Two United States senators and a member of the House of Representatives will appear before Congress next January from the Territory of Alaska. They will have been "elected" by the people of Alaska in a special election set for October 9.

These gentlemen will present their credentials, duly signed and attested, and will be promptly turned down. The people who "elected" them will know that when they cast their ballots. The men chosen will be perfectly well aware that they haven't the ghost of a chance to be seated—that is, unless Alaska should be admitted as a state of the Union before the new Congress convenes. And even if admitted before then, it would probably be necessary to go through the election process again.

This is Alaska's way of dramatizing its statelessness. The Alaskans have adopted a plan that originated 160 years ago in Tennessee. The Volunteer Staters went through the motions of proposing and ratifying a state constitution and sent two U.S. senators to Washington.

This camping on the doorstep of congress might have hastened Tennessee's admission to the Union, for four months later—on June 1, 1796—the territory became a state.

Five other states—California, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan and Oregon—elected senators or representatives or both while still territories. But they had more trouble getting statehood than Tennessee experienced; there were long squabbles and a lot of politicking before they made it.

Alaska's "senators" and representative" will stay on in Washington, after being rejected as members of Congress, as lobbyists. They will dingdong that body for statehood.

Both Alaska and Hawaii are victims of interparty politicking. Both major parties want to admit one or the other, but they haven't been able to get together on admitting both at once. Someday both will undoubtedly make it.

When that day comes nobody can kid Texas about being the biggest state any more.

It's Up To Congress

The U.S. Supreme Court's latest blow at the theory and practice of states' rights was to knock down, 9 to 0, the Nebraska "right to work" law as it applies to railroad unions.

The high court held that an amendment to the National Railway Labor Act passed by Congress in 1951 specifically authorized railroads and labor union shop agreements. Nebraska contended that state's "right to work" law superseded the Railway Labor Act's union shop amendment. The decision of last Monday, written by Mr. Justice Douglas, held that "the choice by Congress of the union shop as a stabilizing force seems to us to be an allowable one." The case, he said, involves a question of policy "with which the judiciary has no concern."

The laws of 18 states, including Texas, say in effect that no man may be denied employment because of membership or nonmembership in a labor union. The only issue at stake here involved railroad unions, a field in which Congress had specifically authorized the roads and the unions to set up union shop agreements. This decision does not immediately affect "right to work" laws of the several states respecting other industries. However, it does mean that if labor unions can persuade Congress to authorize similar employe-management set-ups in any and all other industries, the last vestige of state's rights in the field of labor relations will be knocked out.

Various attorneys general of right-to-work states had regarded the Nabraska case as a weak one, and felt that had a similar case from Texas reached the high court directly from the Texas Supreme Court, the cause of right-to-work laws affecting railroad unions would have had a better chance. But the Texas court dawdled and Texas was represented only in "friend of the court" briefs.

Net effect of the Nebraska decision probably will be a labor union demand on Congress to extend the special privilege granted railway unions to unions throughout industries of all kinds.

As of the moment it seems the life of all right-to-work statutes is in Congress' hands.

Doe Kidnaps Calf

MONEY CREEK, Minn. (AP) — Kermit Hanson, searching his pasture for a newborn calf which had failed to come to the farmyard with its mother, found the calf had been kidnaped — or adopted — by a doe.

The deer refused to leave the calf, and drove off Hanson's dog. The farmer chased the deer away and took the calf to the barnyard for safe keeping.

Boy Who Felt He Was 100 When Born Is Finally Recognized In Home Town

By HAL BOYLE

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Once upon a time there was a boy born here 100 years old at his birth—or so he always felt.

He was the youngest of eight children, the "baby" in the family. He was a strange child, thin and pale-faced, and given to long brooding silences. He wore dresses until he was at least three. His mother didn't let him cut his shoulder length curls until he was nearly nine.

His father, who carved and sold tombstones, could quote Shakespeare and the Bible endlessly. These things may have helped give the boy his early preoccupation with death and time and literature.

The boy, Tom Wolfe, grew into a raw-boned giant 6 feet 5½. His mind matched his stature. In a lonely room in London he wrote a classic first novel, "Look Homeward, Angel," which told of his lost youth—and every man's heart hunger for a previous time gone by.

He was just 29, and the world acclaimed him as a new literary titan. But many folks here thought Tom had been too brutally frank in portraying both his family and his townspeople.

For years Tom felt himself an outcast, more lost and lonely than ever. But before his death in 1938 time softened the anger of citizens here, and today he is recognized as Ashville's most famous son.

The town has made a museum of the old rambling 22-room white clapboard house in which he dreamed as a boy, the "Old Kentucky Home" in which his mother, Julia, sometimes cooked for as many as 35 to 40 summer boarders.

Thousands of visitors make a pilgrimage here each year. They are people who loved Tom through his books, which still sell widely. They range from garage mechanics to college presidents, but many are young students.

"The younger generation thinks he's wonderful," said Wolfe's sister, Mrs. Mabel Wheaton, who showed me through the old home.

Mrs. Wheaton, who is 10 years older than Tom and was the closest member of the family to him in life, resembles him physically. She is tall and shares his tremendous energy, his gusto for living. She was a singer in her youth.

"Tom always said he was 100 years old when he was born," she said, "and I think he really was."

She guided me into the parlor past two fading hallway mottoes that said, "Do Right and Fear not" and "Peace be unto this House."

Upstairs Mabel showed me the bed on which her father had died lingeringly of cancer, another bed in which all eight Wolfe children had been born.

Then she led me to the room in which had been put Tom's furniture from his New York apartment and his two typewriters. His worn leather briefcase leaned against a table leg on the floor, as if he had left it there only a moment before and would soon be back. The furniture was old and worn.

"Tom really never had anything fine in his life," said his sister, and I felt sad.

Back downstairs, we went into the kitchen. A strange memorial to Mrs. Wolfe stood on one shelf—more than 20 jars of preserves she had put up before death stilled her busy hands 11 years ago.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

IN SEARCH OF HERESY: American Literature in an Age of Conformity. By John W. Aldridge. McGraw-Hill.

Ameria is less rich and various than it used to be, when also it was less rich and various than it should have been—thus Aldridge opens this provocative book. Along with this thinner national texture there is, he argues, a parallel thinning in our culture, particularly in fiction.

This foreword introduces some penetrating lectures and essays on "The Situation" — if not indeed the impasse — of the American Writer," "The Writer in the University," "The Heresy of Literary Manners;" 'and a long list of novels, novelists and critics is considered.

Perhaps his most controversial article in his attack on the growing dependence of writer on university. But he should be read and pondered on other matters, too: the authors sometimes vast audience but his sometimes tragic distance from it, the disappearing book critic, the narrow personal tensions that may substitute for the body of novels, the novels written as he says excellently by the yard instead of the pound.

You may quarrel with his advese judgment on Flannery O'Connor, his complaint about Malcolm Cowley. But he gives our best criticism staunch support when he notes that Hemingway has not been up to par for 15 years, that the patriotic plea for "responsible" writers in the early 1940's was nonsense, and on the positive side, that Gaddis "The Recognitions" is a novel of first importance.

Aldridge is not startingly acid, nor revolutionary. But he is what is even rarer: absolutely uncompromising.

Some Retail Merchants Look For Spring Tonic

NEW YORK (AP) — Retail trade has turned a little sluggish. And in many places merchants are looking for a spring tonic. Otherwise, the pleasant boost to profits they won earlier — largely by learning how to squeeze more out of a sales dollar — may be lost.

Some retail lines got a good lift out of the generous purchases for Mother's Day. Others hope to benefit the same way out of Father's Day next month (he won't get the bill until July). But without these special events the picture isn't as bright.

The U.S. Department of Commerce puts it primly this way: "Retail sales declined somewhat more than is usual in April.' If you remember that auto dealers are retail merchants too, you can guess that the department may find somewhat the same condition in May, in spite of Mother's Day.

Retail trade failures in the first three months of the year rose to 1,618, an incease of 17 per cent over the previous year.

Department store sales, even counting in the big Mother's Day splurge, are only moderately ahead for the year so far. Chain stores and mail order firms, as a group, report sales this April down 2.8 per cent from last year.

In more detail the picture becomes mixed. Grocery chain sales in the first four months of the year are 11.6 per cent ahead of last year. Sales of women's wear chain stores in the first four months were 3.5 per cent lower than a year ago. Men's wear chain store sales were off by 3.4 per cent.

Many appliance dealers report sales slow and fret about rising stocks of big ticket items. This has led to some drops in factory output and has worked back to some decline in orders for the steel mills.

The profit picture still retains a somewhat more pleasant glow—partly perhaps because you learn about sales before you do about profits. Almost all of the big retail trade chains were able to pile up increased profits last year and about half of them continue to do so this year. Their profits increased more percentagewise than did their sales.

Military Thinking Will Be In Turmoil Until Firm Policy On Strategy Emerges

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Secretary Wilson, with the President's support, is insisting that the dispute among the services must not be argued out in public. He said that the Administration will not toperate the kind of propaganda launched by the Air Force and by the Army.

Whether the policy of surpresing the dispute is sound depends, it seems to me, on what the dispute is about. It is reasonably plain from what Secretary Wilson said at the big Pentagon press exhibition that he believes the issue to be "the roles and mission business," — that is to say, which of the services is to have which of the new expensive weapons. He must have been hearing more than he likes to hear about these rivalries, and he is very much annoyed at finding that the services have gone over his head, hoping to work up public opinion and Congressional support.

There is not much real doubt, it seems to me, that if only "the roles and mission business" are at issue, then these issues should be settled within the Pentagon and the National Security Council. The relative value of one guided missile over another, the military capabilities of the aircraft carriers, the role of the Army in aerial defense—these are questions which neither the general public nor the Congress are competent to decide. They are by their very nature questions which have to be answered by the services the selves under the guidance of the President and the Secretary of Defense.

* * *

But is there not more to this dispute than the roles and mission business of the three services? We know that there is at bottom a much bigger question, which was raised some time ago by Gen. Ridgeway, of high strategy in the age of nuclear weapons. There is no use pretending that this question has as yet been settled, that a clear policy has been arrived at by which the services can be guided.

It would clear the air a good deal if the Administration was to admit that policy is in the making but is not made, and that the military art is developing faster than our strategical understanding of its consequences. Here there is not only room for public discusion but an urgent need of it.

The need of it is manifest not only within the Pentagon in the dispute over the strategic roles of the Army and Navy but in such matters as the differences between Mr. Dulles and Mr. Stassen. There being as yet no firm decision about the role of the Army in future wars, Mr. Dulles aind Mr. Stasson do not have an agreed view of what to say about the reduction of the Red Army.

* * *

Anyone who thinks he knows the answer to the undecided questions of high strategy is merely exhibiting his on inability to realize the complexity of the problem. The undecided questions are enormously difficult to answer because the answer requires a correct forecast of what the wars of the future will be like, and how the United States could or should be involved in them.

I have the impression, which may well be mistaken, that American strategic thinking is deeply affected not only by the new weapons but by the undigested consequences of the Korean war. That war was a searing experience, and the brunt of it fell upon the Army. Putting aside the question of whether it was wise to commit a ground army to land war in Korea, the fact is that this involved a sudden reversal of what had been settled American strategic policy. The policy was not to commit ground forces to a war on the Asian continent.

* * *

The unresolved question, which haunts and perturbs American military thinking, is whether the Korean war was a precedent which established a new policy, or whether it was a unique affair marking the exception to a settled policy. If Korea was a precedent, as many seem to think it was, if we need to be ready to fight a series of wars of the Korean type, then General Ridgeway and the Army are obviously right. But if Korea was an exception to the general rule that in regard to Asia we are not a land power but a sea and air power, then the responsibility of the ground army has been greatly reduced.

It would do much to clarify the deper issues in hte Pentagonq if it were known whether Korea was the precedent of a new strategy of intervention on the ground, or hether it was the exception to the older policy of not intervening on the ground.

These are matters which the President himself is peculiarly competent to speak about. For, as I understand it, he played a leading part in formulating the policy of not comitting ground forces in Asia, the policy which was overthrown when North Korea attacked South Korea. It would not be surprising if he believes exception it may be, but not one to be reated as a precedent.

In any event, our military thinking will be in a turmoil until this question is clarified.

This Era Could Easily Be Called 'Age Of Whitewash'

By INEZ ROBB

This is frequently called the Age of Anxiety, but it is one woman's opinion that it could, with just as much justice, be christened the Age of Whitewash.

The rewriting of history closer to the heart's desire is by no means an exclusively Russian preoccupation. The facts, m'am, just the facts fade into the mists of time before the furious partisan onslaughts by those who believe, for example, that Richard III is just a great, big misunderstood boy with a heart of gold.

Worldwide committes now working to rehabilitate Richard say that this last of England's Plantagenet kings is the victim of slanderous propaganda experts employed by Tudor kings, who succeeded the Plantagenets, to make themselves look good.

"Look who's talking" say Richard's partisans, scornfully looking down their literary noses at Henry VIII who was, truth to tell, death on wives.

Far from murdering his way to the throne and smothering the little princes in the tower, Richard III, to hear his 20th century followers tell it, wouldn't have hurt a fly. Just a great big, lovable guy, that Richard, and cruelly libeled by one W. Shakespeare, a Tudor flack.

Scarcely a fortnight passes but there comes to my desk a message from the Aaron Burr Association, dedicated to the proposition that Burr is a great, big misunderstood patriot, ruined — as poor Richard III — by jealous politicians in the other camp.

And scarcely a day passes that there fails to reach my wastepaper basket a dark screed from some little group dedicated to the "martyrdom" 'of Alger Hiss, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and, particularly, Morton Sobell.

If all the propaganda dedicated to the so-called false imprisonment of Sobell by a cruel and malicious government, animated by vengence and not justice, and addressed to me in the past three years were laid end to end, it would cover the entire U.S.A. to a depth of 33 feet.

God knows, justice can go awry, but I am not yet ready to believe that the United States government employed the vilest treachery, gross libel and false evidence, all carefuly premeditated, to obtain Sobell's conviction with atomic - traitors Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

And finally, I present in evidence a new book about Mary Magdalene, which presents her as a misunderstood dancer, pure as the driven snow, whose beauty drove men mad, mad, MAD!

If she tossed her torso around in a few bumps and grinds, it was for a lofty, patriotic purpose, the book points out. "Evil to him who thinks evil," the author cries.

The fact that the beautiful Biblical story of Mary Magdalene is lost in the whitewash is, obviously neither her nor there.

The only way I can figure out this new age of whitewash is on the comforting modern psychological theory that there aren't any really had people — they're just misunderstood.

Tourist Children Get New Treat At Capital

BY JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Tourist youngsters are getting an additional treat on their visits to the capital this spring. Besides sightseing junkets about the city, visits to Capitol Hill and talks with government heads, they are being given the oportunity to hear special concerts of the National Symphony Orchestra.

The concert series, "Music for Young America," is being presented at the beautiful Pan American Union building under the sponsorship of wealthy hostess Mrs. Merriweather Post. Presentation of these concerts for young people has long been a dream of the symphony's youthful conductor, Dr. Howard Mitchel. It's been estimated that more than 53,000 will hear the series this year. Mr. Mitchell says that the orchestra has received some 24,312 requests from 354 groups planning trips to the capital.

Glamorous Constance Bennett, stage and film actress, is going to give Washington audiences a chance to see her in a role much more familiar to her than that of resident housewife, which she's been since her marriage a few ears ago to Air Force Col. John Theron Coulter.

After a brief stint in a New York nightclub, she will sing for diners at a Washington hotel. Mis Bennett's new repertoire ranges from a very colonel's lady type of song to a rolicking rock and roll pace.

The Herbert Hoover Jr. house here has a striking entrance hall papered in black and white block pattern featuring old royal crests —a horse, Tudor rose, three kings fish. Hoover and his handsome wife are popular hosts in the capital.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The routine comedian's threat about firing his writers isn't a quip at all to those who preside over TV laughter.

For a variety of reasons—most of which are right in your living room—laughter is getting in short supply in television. The National Broadcasting Co., alert to a problem which is getting worse instead of better, is moving even now to install a producution line to be filled with bright new comedy writing talent.

In the past six or seven years television has run through material which took years to develop. We become accustomed—and then bored—with comedians and the routines which in other days would have lasted them lifetimes as they moved about the vaudeville theaters of the country. The old pros who turned out top comedy material on order have been overworked by weekly shows until many of them have dried up. Some have attempted to needle their talents by moving from one show to another, from one type of performer to another.

Most of the veteran comedians have decided that the ence-a-week routine is the pace that kills them with the TV audience. So they are rationing themselves on appearances.

Others, beset by sagging ratings and hard-to-find sponsors, have quietly disappeared back into the nightclubs and theatres.

The man and material-eating tendencies of television have resulted in NBC's "classes" for young comedians and comedy writers.

Leonard Hole, who is director of NBC's new program development, oversees the whole young talent project. He solicited manuscripts from college students, little theatre groups and writers for smaller radio and television stations. The result was 12,000 manuscripts.

"Most of them were lousy," said Hole, but the project led to finding 15 promising writers. These were then assigned to various comedy shows, permitted to sit in on conferences — and worked independently on projects assigned to the regular writers. Nine have had material accepted for the top shows—Hope, Carson and Gobel.

"It put them in a professional atmosphere," he continued. 'Let them learn how the professionals worked together building jokes and sharpening lines by moving words around."

And the search for new talent and new faces goes on, rather desperately.

'This comedy situation is no joke," says the sober-faced Hole. "It's the most serious shortage in television."

Designers Planning Plans Made Of Glass

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)— Plane designers are counting heavily on fibrous glass to enable planes to break through the heat barrier, the speed range in which plane surfaces are subject to temperatures exceeding 500 degrees, a glass company engineer says.

I. N. Smith, development engineer for a glass company, told a metals conference that the military is experimenting with a porous - skinned fibrous glass fighter plane as a means of air-cooling the skin of the plane at very high temperatures.

Already, he says, milifary planes are using glass for wing sections and tail pieces.

Animals Are Banned

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The City Council has proposed an ordinance making the city off limits to cows, horses, mules, goats, sheep, hogs, chickens, geese, turkeys and pigeons. Too many farm animals in the city, the council says.

Dogs, cats and song birds won't be affected.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

..THERE'S NOT MUCH that can be done about it now for this summer but to make our summer baseball program complete there should be a Teen Age League in operation here.

This league would take in boys too old for Pony League ball and who still have eligibility remaininng in high school.

There surely are enough boys here between the ages of 15-17 to form a four-team league.

Teen Age League ball in Texas is rapidly growing into a big thing and we believe Snyder should be a part of this program.

Now that the Little League and Pony League programs here are on sound footing, it shouldn't take too much effort to add Teen Age League to this group.

State Teen Age League Well Organized

The Texas Teen Age League has district, regional and state tournaments, the same as Little League and Pony League.

Abilene, a year or two ago, won the state Teen Age League title. Several of the boys playing on that team were members of the Abilene Eagles the past season.

By having Teen Age League, our boys could begin playing baseball as 8-year olds and continue right on uninterrupted through high school.

It's true that some of the high school boys are playing in the City League here. But most all of the boys who graduated from the Pony League last year aren't ready to compete in the City League.

Consequently there's no league for these boys to turn to.

Teen Age League ball would reach a lot of boys who can't make the high school team. There perhaps are some boys in this category that night develop into a baseballer if given the chance ot play.

Would Help High School Baseball Program

Experience is a major factor in baseball or any other sport. High school baseball coaches, thus, have to go along with boys with experience for the most part because of the short seasons. There just isn't enough time to develop a baseball player, who hasn't had any previous experience, in two months time that is allotted for high school baseball.

Besides maybe making a baseball player out of a boy, the Teen Age League would give him some clean recreation for the summer.

We hope there'll be some who'll keep the Teen Age League in mind between now and next summer and introduce this league to Snyder's already big summer baseball program.

Via the grape vine we hear that Neal Wilcox, star Hermleigh end a coupla years ago, is headed for Hardin-Simmons University.

Wilcox played freshman ball at Texas Tech last fall and was promoted to the varsity squad for the Sun Bowl game in El Paso. But Wilcox left Tech at midterm.

Wilcox won't be eligible at Hardin-Simmons next fall because of the transfer rule. But he'll have two years to play for the Cowboys.

No-Hitter Hurled In Pony League

The season's first no - hitter in the Snyder kid baseball ranks was turned in last night.

Two Courthouse Tiger moundsmen combined to hold the Line and Line Yankees of Ira hitless in a Pony League game last night as the Bengals won, 17-0. The game was called after four innings because of the 10-run rule.

Richard Samuelson and Charles Popnoe hurled two innings each in blanking the Yanks on no hits. Each walked two while Popnoe got all of his team's four strikeouts. Samuelson was the starter.

The Tigers sewed up the decision in the first inning when they poured 13 runs across.

Another season's first was recorded in the Tiger - Yank game. Norman Gladson of the Tigers was the first player this season to hit two homeruns in one game.

In the second game of last night's Pony League card, the Lions Club Phillies outlasted the Hermleigh Cardinals, 13-9.

The Phillies scored in every inning but one while the Cards got their runs in threes — scoring three runs each in the third, fifth and sixth frames.

The Phils were never headed after scoring four runs each in the first and third innings.

Tim Roberts, the Phil starter, was credited with the win. Roberts pitched hitless ball during his tenure on the mound.

Tommy Minton, with a homer, double and single, led the Phil attack. Larry Denson also had three hits for the Cards, a triple and two singles.

IN TEXAS LEAGUE

Guettler Writing Slugging History

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Ken Guettler, who has a crooked arm and can't play baseball without his glasses, is writing slugging history in the Texas League.

Mighty Ken, a rock-like man who uses a 36-inch bat so he can reach the ball with his short right arm, hit three home runs and batted in six runs last night as Shreveport lashed Tulsa 11-5.

It wasn't anything new. In the second game of the season against Houston, Guettler Clouted three balls over the fence. That should have been a warning.

Guettler, 28 years old and a veteran of 11 seasons in professional baseball, is just now breaking into the limelight with his prodigious blasting. He ran his home-run string to 24 last night, putting him almost a month ahead of the pace set by Clarence Kraft at Fort Worth in 1924 when Kraft established the Texas League record of 55. If Guettler continues his current gait he will hit about 80 for the season.

Guettler is batting .321, leads the league in homers, runs batted in with 55 and runs with 45. He has played in only 43 games. His club has played 44 but Ken had to miss one of them. That was the day his glasses were swiped from the locker room at Buff Stadium in Houston. Manager Mel McGaha of Shreveport hinted that the Houston players had something to do with it because they wanted him out of the lineup.

They had to telephone his physician in Portsmouth, Va., and get the prescription for his glasses. The spectacles were replaced at San Antonio and Guettler missed only one game.

Shreveport got Guettler for nothing. He was managing Portsmouth when the Piedmont League folded. The manager can't be sold in baseball so Guettler was a free agent. He signed with Shreveport.

Guettler had trials in higher company twice—once with Toledo and hten with Houston. He couldn't make the grade. Then he discovered just before the 1954 season he needed glasses. He got them and started hitting the ball all over the lot.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleaningest" home rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is now available after years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical to use as ½ gallon of consentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

RECORD IN DANGER

4 Ex-Winners In Speedway Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Four former winners of the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race predicted today that Wednesday's 40th running of the event will produce a record several miles an hour over the late Bill Vukovich's 1954 mark of 130.84.

The prediction looked sound, in view of the fact that 15 drivers in the 33-car field qualified their cars at speeds above the previous Indianapolis Speedway record for the 10-mile trials.

Bob Sweikert of Indianapolis, last year's winner after Vukovich was killed in a four-car crash while leading the race, said it might take 136 m.p.h. to win.

Bill Holland of Indianapolis, the 1949 winner, also figured it would take a 135 or 136 m.p.h. pace.

Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., 1950 winer, said he was counting on a 135-plus pace and Troy Ruttman, 1952 winnner, said it would take over 134.5 to win.

These experts represent all the winners since 1949 except Vukovich, the 1953 and 1954 champion. Ruttman, Parsons and Sweikert are in Wednesday's field and all are rated as strong contenders. Ruttman has the Kurtis-Kraft in which Sweikert won last year.

Parsons, who qualified at 144.144 m.p.h. has a new Muzma racer owned by Promoter J. C. Agajanian of San Pedro, Calif.

Sweikert will drive another new Kuzma entered by an Indianapolis racing group.

The former winners had to yield qualifying honors to three veteran drivers who pushed the 10-mile speed above 145 m.p.h. for the first time. Pat Flaherty of Chicago set the record at 145.596, Johnny Thompson of Springfield, Mass., did 145.549 and Jim Rathman of Miami, 145.120.

The field averaged 142.507 in the trials, compared with last year's 138.796, a record up to that time.

Snead Arrives In Big D For Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Headed by Sam Snead, one of golf's biggest names, the field that will play in the $70,000 Texas International Open Tournament participated in a pro-amateur at Preston Hollow Country Club today.

Snead and Lawson Little, former National Open champion, were additions to the field that played in last weekend's $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open. Ed Furgol, another former National Open champion, also is expected to compete in the Texas International.

Snead played a practice round yesterday but didn't keep score. He was just looking over the 6,216-yard Preston Hollow course where the Texas International starts Thursday.

Most of the other professionals were over at Oak Cliff Country Club yesterday playing in a $5,000 pro-amateur. Tommy Bolt of Houston won $500 as low pro when he shot a 7-under-par 63. It was a new course record. Walker Inman Jr. of Augusta, Ga., won $200 as the pro member of the victorious team. Playing with him were amateurs Dan Gruber, W. H. Inlow and Jackie Brannon. They had a best ball 53.

There will be 157 in the field Thursday when the Texas International moves out in its opening round. This tournament runs through Sunday.

NL Doing An 'About Face'

By ED WILKS
The Associated Pres

This, in case you hadn't noticed, is a brand new year in the National League.

A year ago, the NL went into the Memorial Day milepost strung out behind Brooklyn, with the Dodgers enjoying a six-game bulge and St.Louis and Milwaukee 11 games back. Pittsburgh, going through its regular pantomime, was 18 games to the rear and in the cellar.

That was last year. Right now Milwaukee is winning what has been a two-way scrap for the lead with St.Louis, while the Pirates are just a game back.

And where's Brooklyn Three games back in fifth.

Milwaukee blasted the Cardinals 10-3 last night, thus removing a screwy predicament that had them a length short in the "games behind" column but still in first. Pittsburgh made it cozy by nudging the Brooks 3-2 — with Bob Friend winning his eighth on a two-hitter and Dale Long hitting his eighth home run in eight games to better his major league record set Saturday.

Bob Rush's three-hitter tripped Cincinnati as the Chicago Cubs won 4-1. Philadelphia kept the road rocky for New York by deating the Giants 5-2.

In the American League, the race has the look of a romp. The New York Yankees grabbed a 4½-game lead, beating Boston 2-0 as Whitey Ford gained his seventh triumph and second shutout while the runner-up Cleveland Indians lost to Detroit 3-1. Kansas City dumped Chicago's White Sox 6-4, on a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter in the ninth, and Baltimore clipped Washington 6-5 in 10 innings.

The only hits off Friend, who has lost two, were a first-inning homer by Duke Snider and a one-out single by Junior Gilliam in the third. Carl Erskine was the loser.

Bobby Thomson and Del Crandall homered for the Braves, who had a 6-0 lead in two frames to chase Herm Wehmeier. Gene Conley, in relief of Lou Sleater, was the winner.

Harvey Haddix, with ace Robin Roberts relieving in the eighth, won his first for the Phils.

Roy McMillan got two hits off Rush, who fanned seven and walked one, and scored a run that stood up until the fifth. Then the Cubs racked Joe Nuxhall for four runs — two on a bases-loaded double by Ernie Banks.

Steve Gromek eight-hit the Indians while the Tigers got two runs in the fifth on Bob Kennedy's ground-rule double and a force-out to hand Herb Score his fourth defeat.

Game Stopped While Fans Applaud Long

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"I got chills all over. It was bigger than the one in Philadelphia. I am glad it happened in Pittsburgh for the people who deserve it."

Dale Long, who threatens to out-Mantle Mickey Mantle, stood in the Pittsburgh clubhouse after last night's 3-2 victory over Brooklyn He was doing his best to tell how it felt to hit his eighth home run in eight games, breaking the major league record he set Saturday in Philadelphia.

"Have you got any left?" somebody asked.

"Who cares as long as we keep on winning," he replied.

Did you ever see a bunch of kids like this? They just keep bouncing back when they're supposed to be knocked out.

"At first I didn't think it was going in (the ball just did make the right field stands, about 375 feet from the plate.) I just put my head down and ran. When I passed Bobby Bragan (Pirate manager) at third, I just shook my head because it was hard to believe. But the big thing was what happened next."

After Long trundled home with his 14th homer and disappeared into the gloomy confines of the dugout, the roaring crowd of 32,221 stopped the show. They wouldn't let the game continue until Long took a bow. They cheered wildly without a letup while Carl Erskine, Brooklyn pitcher, tried to throw to Frank Thomas.

Finally, Long popped his head out of the dugout, doffed his cap and waved to the frantic customers who are beginning to talk about Long, not Mantle, breaking Babe Ruth's record.

IN BRITISH AM

Conrad To Third Round

TROON, Scotland (AP)—An experienced Walker Cupper and a fast-improving youngster stood out today as America's biggest hopes in the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Defending champion Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., already had a third-round berth, although he had played only 14 holes—the number he required to eliminate I. A. Ewen of New Zealand 5 and 4 in the second round yesterday after drawing a first-round bye.

But while Conrad's advance was anticipated, the play of young Ernest "Pete" Arend of Deal, N. J., lifted an eyebrow or two. Arend, whose major claim to fame was victory in the Tournament of Golf Club Champions at St. Augustine, Fla., last winter, was consistency itself as he won his first-round match from Ian Young of Scotland, 6 and 5. A solid week of practice over the sun-baked Roon Championship course paid off for Arend. For the 13 holes the match lasted, he was one-under-par with a birdie on the 11th his only deviation from a string of pars.

Although highly regarded Doug Sanders of Miami was the victim of an upset, the first day's play generally was a formful one for prime American entries. Long-hitting Hobart Manley of Savanah, Ga., spilled the runner-up to Conrad last year, Slan Slater of Yorkeshire, 2-up; affable Dynamite Goodloe of Valdosta, Ga., defeated Derek Gardner of England, 3 and 2, and veteran Frank Strafaci, of New York, making his seventh attempt at the British title, edged Alan Tate, one of England's top amateurs, 1-up.

Symington Given Missouri Votes

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's 23 votes in the Democratic nominating convention were showered on Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo). He responded yesterday with a drumfire at Eisenhower defense policies.

"It's becoming clear we are not in a position to defend this country properly if attacked," he told the Missouri Democratic convention.

He said the Eisenhower administration's goal is "the second best air force."

He said the defense plan set up by the Joint Chiefs of Staff after Korea is "being chiseled at, gnawed at for just one reason—the great importance of money—at the expense of our national security."

Symington delivered his attack in an impromptu speech after the state convention roared its approval of a resolution pledging Missouri's presidential nominating votes to him at Chicago in August.

He said he isn't a candidate for the nomination, but he said he couldn't see how any man could refuse it if it were given to him.

Party leaders described the convention's action as stronger than a "favorite son" endorsement. They said the wild demonstration makes Symington a powerful dark horse possibility if the national convention falls into a deadlock.

The resolution pledged Missouri's delegates to vote for Symington as long as a majority of them thinks he has a chance or until Symington himself releases them.

They are the first votes committed to Symington.

The convention crowd went wild when the resolution was presented.

"We want Stuart," delegates chanted.

Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee declared in a belated keynote speech that "many Republicans who like Ike will be found in Democratic ranks (in November) because they can't take Nixon."

Clement said Eisenhower made a "clumsy, hesitant, not-exactly-forthright effort" to ditch the vice president.

"A more sensitive figure would have taken the hint," Clement said. "But the vice president is not thin-skinned, and he is not so dumb. He will not willingly drop his hold on Ike's coattails."

Oppponent Of Parking Meters Gets Tickets

GRAHAM, N.C. (AP)—Cecil Moser, a Graham city councilor, evidently believes in practicing what he preaches.

A leading opponent of parking meters on Graham streets Moser was served with a warrant for failing to pay eight parking tickets.

Adlai Gives Hint Of Business Drop

By JACK BELL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says "I hate to think we are on the eve of anything serious" in the form of an economic depression.

But the former Illinois governor left the definite impression in campaigning for California votes in the Democratic presidential nomination contest here last night that he believes the nation may be on the verge of a serious business downturn.

He was supported in this view by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who said at a joint news conference with Stevenson that the Eisenhower administration now is "preparing us for three months of 'slight economic trouble.'"

Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee — meeting head on in Florida's Democratic primary today — resume in California a battle growing more personalized each day in their stretch run for convention delegates.

Kefauver's scheduled afternoon arrival here from Florida will find Stevenson campaigning in San Francisco for support in his bid for California's powerful 68-vote delegation. Stevenson expressed restrained optimism he will win next Tuesday's critical vote test. Kefauver's supporters disputed this vigorously.

Stevenson divided his time in a television broadcast last night between answering charges leveled against him by Kefauver and assailing the Republican "peace and prosperity" compaign slogan.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said that as the result of automation unemployment is growing in the coal mines, textile factories, steel mills and railroad shops. He said farm equipment manufacturing is off sharply.

Asserting that there are now nearly 200,000 men out of work in the automobile industry, he said:

"I hate to think we are on the eve of anything serious in this situation." He said it is "the duty of the government to prevent unemployment."

He said there already is a "farm depression" he contended is hurting small business.

North Korean Rice Harvest Stepped Up

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Korea said today its anual rice harvest will be increased 80,000 tons by "more than 300 irrigation and river projects" completed in recent months.

Pyongyang radio said Premier Kim Il Sung had told a Cabinet meeting 90,630 acres had been brought under irrigation and more than 41,650 acres protected from flood damage.

Youths Create Havoc At Construction Job

REVERE, Mas. (AP)—Two boys, ages 7 and 12, stepped into a 10-ton tractor at a construction job after the workers had gone home.

Seconds after they pressed down the accelerator a garage, a fence, a second garage and a 1955 automobile were demolished.

The boys, whose names police withheld, were not injured.

Father Shoots Son To Death In Argument

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police say a two-day-old quarrel between a father and his son over use of an automobile they owned jointly resulted last night in the fatal shooting of the son.

Officers said Charles Miller Jr., 23, was shot to death as he scuffled with his father Charles Sr., 49, over a gun which the father said he had fired once into the floor. The shooting occurred in the elder Miller's home, next door to a bait and sporting goods shop he and his son operated in suburban Readinng.

Reading police ordered the father held without charge pending a further investigation.

Patrolmen said the father wept as he told them he and his son had quarreled two days about the automobile. He said his son then quit the bait shop yesterday but returned last night to get money due him.

The quarrel started again and police said they were told the elder Miller ordered his son out of the house and then went into the store. He returned a few minutes later with a gun, the officers said.

Police said the father kept repeating, "What made me do it Lord knows I didn't mean to kill him. Why didn't he kill me".

'FATHER OF THE YEAR'—Boston lawyer Joseph N. Welch, who was chief counsel for the Army in the televised hearings between the Army and Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis), accepted the title of "Father of the Year" with "delighted astonishment" in New York. A baseball fan, Welch demonstrates how he'd launch a beef to an umpire. The demonstration was for the benefit of Brooklyn Dodger manager Walter Alston who was sitting at Welch's side.

Island Claim Is Withdrawn

MANILA (AP) — Filipino Tomas Cloma today withdrew his claim to some islands in the South China Sea which Nationalist China says it owns. But he stuck by his claim to several score other uninhabited islands and reefs dotting a vast stretch of the sea west of the Philippines.

"I am sticking to the claim over most of the islands," said the former newspaperman who now heads a maritime school. He led an expedition to the area in March.

Cloma said he would omit Spratly Island, claimed by Nationalist China, and all islands in the area south of 7 Degrees 24 Minutes North Latitude.

He filed a notice of ownership with the Foreign Office last week based on "occupancy because of abandonment." The Nationalist Embasssy bounced back with a protest that Cloma's claim was an "infringement of Chinese territorial rights."

British Rule Over Cyprus Draws Blast

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greece's new foreign minister Evanghelos Averoff says he will work with "unflinching determination," to end British rule of Cyprus and to secure the return of Archbishop Makarios from British exile.

Averoff was named to head the Foreign Ministry after Spyros Theotokis resigned. Opposition politicians accused Theotokis of pro-British sentiments.

"We will use all appropriate means for achieving satisfaction in the Cypriot struggle for freedom and the liberation of Archbishop Makarios," Averoff asserted in a statement of policy. The British have confined Makarios, Greek Orthodox archbishop of Cyprus and leader of the movement to unite the island with Greece, on an island of the Seychelles group in the Indian Ocean.

Averoff said he would continue the government's foreign policy, "which coincides with the viewpoints of most political parties of Greece." He has served as undersecretary for foreign affairs in previous Greek governments and is regarded as anti-British.

On Cyprus, British troops were ordered to build a permanent barbed-wire barricade through the heart of Nicosia in a move to prevent clashes between the Creek and Turkish communities. Temporary barbed-wire barriers between the island capital's Greek and Turkish quarters have been credited with keeping intercommunal disorders from spreading in the past. Plans call for the permanent barrier to include five gates which can be sealed off by security forces in times of emergency.

The Turkish minority on Cyprus is opposed to the drive for union with Greece, maintaining the island should go back to Turkey if Britpsh rule is ended.

Greece, meanwhile, took the Cyprus issue to the European Commission on Human Rights, accusing Britain of "degrading and inhuman treatment" of the Cypriot people.

Democrats Scratch Heads Over Victor

LILLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Harnett County Democrats have a reason for scratching their heads over which Robert B. Morgan is which.

The newly elected county judge is Robert B. Morgan. So is the county's state senator.

The two are not related, but both are Lillington lawyers and both are Wake Forest College graduates. To add to the confusion the wife of each is named Alice and each has a sister named Lucille.

Yesterday the senator still was receiving congratulations on the judge's victory in last Saturday's Democratic primary.

GOP Lauded For Benefits To Laborers

SAN FRANCJSCO (AP) — The working man, in the words of Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell "has a level of well being unequaled in history"—thanks to the Eisenhower administration.

President Eisenhower's "hand-picked executives" have reduced spending, cut taxes and removed "oppressive controls from the economy" the secretary told a $100-a-plate Republican dinner last night.

"The beneficiaries of this sound and and workable policy are America's 65 million wage earners," he asserted.

He said that between 1944 and 1952 when the Democrats were in power, workers were given the impression that they were getting an average wage increase of $21.89 a week. However, Mitchell contends, the real spendable weekly earnings of a single man dropped $1.88 a week because of inflation and taxes. But now, on an average weekly wage of between $78 and $80 a week, "the worker has received a clear gain of about $6" since 1952, he contended.

The labor secretary said the Eisenhower administration has engineered a legislative program which has extended social security to 10 million additional workers and has benefitted another two million by increasing the federal minimum wage to a dollar an hour.

But, Mitchell said, a Democratic Congress has knocked out Eisenhower proposals to improve the status of 40 million workers. He added that such Eisenhower proposals as equal pay for equal work regardless of sex, the first ever made by a president in a State of the Union message, "have disappeared in congressional committees — committees controlled and guided by Democrats."

Man Held For Slaying Is Ruled Insane

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Russel Tongay has been ruled insane and will be transferred from state prison to the Florida State Hospital.

The former Miami swimming instructor, serving 10 years for the death of his 5-year-old Aquatot daughter Kathy, is a maniac-depressive with suicidal tendencies, according to the order committing him to the hospital.

County Judge S. B. Brooks signed the order Wednesday after a sanity hearing suggested by Gov. Leroy Collins. The news did not become known until yesterday.

Warden DeWitt Sinclair said Tongay, now 39, has been a "very troublesome prisoner" since being confined at state prison after his conviction on manslaughter at Miami in 1954.

Collins gave Mrs. Tongay permision to visit her husband Sunday after he had a letter smuggled out of the "maximum security" block saying he was being abused by guards and prisoners.

Mrs. Tongay told newsmen that she found her husband had suffered 'obvious abuse" and needs medical care. She said he has a broken arm and cuts in the neck and forehead.

Tongay, a former Coast Guardsman, was convicted on a charge that he forced Kathy to make a 23-foot dive that fataly injured her. Kathy and her brother Bubba performed at swimming exhibitions over the country under the biling "Aquatots."
