OCTOBER INDUCTION OF 29,000 WILL BE SPACED

Nixon Cancels Two Draft Calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today canceled all November and December draft calls and ordered that the 29,000 men scheduled for induction in October be called over a three-month period at a monthly average of less than 10,000 men.

CREDIT PULLOUTS

Reading a statement to newsmen at the White House, Nixon said lessened military manpower requirements—due in part to Vietnam troop withdrawals—made it possible to cancel programmed draft calls for 32,000 men in November and 18,000 in December.

The action came very close to an outright two-month suspension of the draft. However, Nixon said that the 29,000 men originally slated for induction in October would be called over a three-month period ending Dec.

The President also announced that if Congress fails to act on the draft reform legislation he proposed on May 13, he would issue an executive order aimed at sharply reducing the number of years during which young men face the uncertainty of possible induction. He said, however, that no executive order could accomplish his objectives "as clearly and effectively" as the proposed legislation.

19-YEAR-OLDS

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said at the White House one plan being considered would make 19-year-olds the most vulnerable to induction. Another alternative that could be accomplished through executive action, he said, would make prime draft targets of 19-year-olds and men in the 20 to 25 year age bracket with expired student deferments.

Asked how the October draft call of 29,000 would be spaced, in terms of inductions, Laird said the matter was not finally decided but Selective Service officials had indicated to him that they favored calling up 10,000 in

Youth Saves His Beard, Long Hair

DALLAS (AP) — A Cleburne youth saved his hair Thursday but he still was in jail facing a revocation of probation hearing.

The hair case came before a federal judge in Dallas who enjoined Johnson County officials from cutting the long hair and beard of Jimmy Neal Kingston, 21.

U. S. Dist. Judge W. M. Taylor Jr. ordered the permanent injunction after Kingston was sentenced to three days in jail for failure to cut his hair and shave by a district Judge on a contempt charge.

U. S. Dist. Judge W. M. Taylor Jr. ordered the permanent injunction after Jimmy Neal Kingston, 21, of Cleburne, was sentenced to three days in jail for failure to cut his hair and shave.

Kingston, a Vietnam war veteran, was brought into court by his probation officer in Cleburne Monday, fined $100 and given the jail sentence after he refused to comply with the judge's order to visit the barber. Kingston has shoulder - length hair and a beard.

In Thursday's hearing, Taylor entered the order after Johnson County authorities said they had no objection to it and they did not plan to give Kingston a shave and a haircut.

Kingston's attorney, Gilbert Wright of Fort Worth, said his client now faces a revocation of his probation and is still being held in jail without bond.

Wright said Kingston was arrested in January of 1968 and pleaded guilty to having a switchblade knife in his car. Wright said the knife was a war souvenir.

"He appeared in court without counsel, pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge and was fined $500, probated for two years on the condition that he pay $100 of the fine and live up to the terms of the probation, Wright said.

Wright charged that his client was jailed for no other reason than he refused to shave and cut his hair. "He was ordered by the court at the request of his probation office to shave and get a haircut."

"It's (Cleburne) a small town and I'm afraid the judge and the police and many of the people who live there believe freedom is freedom to conform," Wright said.

Wright said his client would face a probation revocation hearing Sept. 26 and if the probation was revoked "we'll just go ahead and pay the fine."

No Reference To President Nixon's Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told the United States today the only way to end the Vietnam war is through "renunciation of military and all other interference" in Vietnamese internal affairs.

Addressing the U.N. General Assembly, Gromyko made no direct reference to President Nixon's appeal to all members to use their influence to soften Hanoi's position.

In a far-ranging policy speech, Gromyko made it clear that the Kremlin was standing firm in its support of North Vietnam and the Viet Cong. He defended the peace proposals of Hanoi as constructive.

"To think that the United States can obtain at the conference table what it has failed to achieve with a half-million-strong army on the battlefield . . . would mean to be obviously at variance with reality," he said.

Gromyko added that the Paris peace talks will move toward agreement when the "common sense and a realistic assessment of the situation will prevail in American policies."

The Soviet foreign minister also dashed hopes of any early advance toward U.S.-Soviet agreement on the Middle East. He noted that the Soviet Union, together with many other countries, is working resolutely for a political settlement. He reiterated Soviet support for the Arab position.

He flatly rejected U.S. proposals for a Middle East arms embargo.

"As the Soviet government has already stated to the government of the United States," he said, "a discussion of that question cannot serve any useful purpose so long as the Israeli troops occupy the territory of Arab countries."

All 126 delegations were on hand to hear him.

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost was the top man at the U.S. desk. Shirley Temple Black, a member of the American Assembly delegation, sat by him in a black dress.

Gromyko gave no direct reply to U.S. proposals for an early start on the limitations of nuclear offensive and defensive weapons systems. He reiterated, however, that the Soviet Union continues to favor such talks. He mentioned no date or place.

Gromyko proposed that two new items be added to the agenda of the current assembly session. These were:

—A draft convention banning the development, production and stockpiling of chemical and bacteriological weapons. Such a convention is now under discussion at the Geneva disarmament conference.

—A proposed appeal by the assembly for the strengthening of world security together with a declaration under which member countries would comply with decisions of the Security Council on the withdrawal of occupation troops from foreign territories.

Gromyko declared that the Soviet Union is ready to improve relations with West Germany "if it recognizes the reality of the existing European situation."

14 Trainees Mistreated At Lackland?

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Air Force officials today reviewed results of an investigation into charges by 14 basic trainees that they were abused by sergeants at Lackland Military Training Center.

Four staff sergeants and one sergeant have been relieved of their duties pending the outcome of the review, said a spokesman for the center—the Air Force's only basic training facility.

Military investigators, who took 41 statements from principals and witnesses, completed their seven-week investigation Thursday, the spokesman said.

Public Information Officer James L. Stewart said details of the recruits' allegations were unavailable but said they involved claims of mistreatment.

Three of the accused sergeants have declined to take polygraph examinations, but six of the recruits took the lie detector tests voluntarily, Stewart said.

Results of the tests were unknown, he said.

The unidentified trainees were assigned at the time of the alleged mistreatment to Lackland's Basic Military School Correctinal Custody Unit, Stewart said.

None of the trainees was in confinement and all continued basic training while assigned there, he said. "No one was hospitalized as a result of the injuries alleged," he said.

Investigators questioned witnesses both at Lackland, known as the "Gateway to the Air Force," and other Air Force bases, Stewart said.

Apparently the witnesses already had finished training and had been assigned to the other bases when the investigation began Aug. 4, Stewart said. He said he did not know the names of the other bases.

Maj. Gen. G. B. Greene Jr., training center commander, and his legal staff are reviewing results of the investigation "to determine what action, if any, is warranted," Stewart said.

The probe was launched by the Office of Special Investigations "immediately upon learning of the alleged incidents," Stewart said.

He said there were no indications when the general would complete his review of the case.

GOOD FIGHT

Defense Spending Awareness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of defense costs say a new era has opened in public awareness of Pentagon spending despite their crushing defeat on attempt after attempt to trim a $20-billion bill for military hardware.

"We have made a good fight," said Democrat William Proxmire of Wisconsin, a leader in the two-month battle that ended Thursday night with passage of the bill.

"But," he added, "this is merely the opening shot in a larger effort. The critical review will go on."

"A defense system which for years has operated without sufficient public and private checks has now been exposed to the sunlight," said Republican Edward Brooke of Massachusetts. "A good foundation has been laid for future inquiry."

The Proxmire and Brooke comments came as the huge appropriations measure finally passed on an 81-5 vote, climaxing the most heated debate over defense spending in two decades.

Although it passed virtually intact—only $70 million was chopped out — it took 39 full days of debate over the two-month period. Pentagon backers had to throw back more than a dozen attempts to delay such major programs as the Safeguard missile defense system, a new nuclear carrier, mammoth new battle tanks, squadrons of superjet fighters and a new manned bomber.

The bill that finances all the United States' military hardware for fiscal 1970 now goes to the House where far easier going is expected.

WIVES OF AIRMEN BOUND FOR TEXAS

PARIS (AP) — The wives of four U.S. pilots missing over North Vietnam left today for their homes in Texas.

"We're gong home with a feeling of disappointment for not having gotten the list we had hoped for," said Bonnie Singleton, the spokesman for the group.

She was asked if they had expected to get a full list of U.S. men held by North Vietnam. She hestiated and then said, "Yes."

A North Vietnamese official received the women Wednesday and told them his government would investigate and write them individually whether their husbands are alive in North Vietnamese prison camps.

"In the immediate future we'll just wait for the letters," Mrs. Singleton said. "We will not cease hoping to attain some information."

Smith Signs Courts Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith signed two bills today that create 28 new district courts.

He said some judges might be named later today, others might not be appointed until next week, and still others might be withheld until after Jan. 1.

Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio got more than half the new courts.

Several courts are earmarked for criminal cases only.

Labor Lawyer Says Haynsworth Honest

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Greenville, S.C., labor lawyer, John Bolt Culbertson, told senators Friday he wouldn't have picked Judge Clement Haynsworth Jr. for the Supreme Court, but that Haynsworth is "absolutely honest."

Culbertson, a colorful, white haired lawyer, and president of the Greenville County Bar Association, described himself as a member of Americans for Democratic Action, a sympathizer with the NAACP, and "a real genuine double dip Democrat."

He said that he doesn't agree with Haynsworth's philosophy and if the Democrats had won the last election as he had hoped, he would have recommended that former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg be reappointed to the Supreme Court.

But Culbertson said that Haynsworth, whose home is in Greenville, is "absolutely honest—a man of impeccable integrity."

He also said that Judge Haynsworth has one of the best legal minds, one of the most incisive minds, I've ever run into."

Culbertson brought some humor into Senate Judiciary Committee hearings that have been marked by controversy over whether Haynsworth, nominated by President Nixon for the Supreme Court, had a conflict of interest in a controversial labor case in which he participated in 1963 as a judge on the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

At Thursday's hearing AFL-CIO President George Meany accused Haynsworth of a disregard for ethical standards because of his participation in the case and also charged him with an antilabor and an anticivil rights bias.

A spokesman for the American Bar Association, former Deputy Atty. Gen. Lawrence E. Walsh, testified on the other hand that Haynsworth had a duty to sit in the labor case and called him a man of impeccable integrity and of the highest legal qualifications.

Walsh said Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals, is "a man of impeccable integrity" and that his professional qualifications are "at the top."

Meany accused Haynsworth of a disregard of ethical standards because of his participation in a 1963 decision. The appeals court ruled the Deering-Milliken could shut down a plant in Darlington, S.C., rather than deal with the textile workers union.

VAGRANCY, LEWDNESS

22 Arrested At Texas Tech

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech University security officials reported today that 22 persons have been arrested on vagrancy and lewdness charges in the last eight days.

Tech Security Chief Bill C. Daniels said that of the 22, only 13 were students at the school. None of those arrested are members of the school's faculty or school employes.

Tech officers said the majority of the arrests came Thursday in a raid-type operation in several university buildings.

Spokesmen said an undercover agent was approached by a person who had been under surveillance for several weeks.

The agent followed the person to a restroom and there made the arrest.

Daniels said most of the arrests have been in restrooms of the Amdinistration Building.

"This has been going on for some time now," Daniels said. "We've finally had so many complaints that we've had to do something about it."

One of the men arrested is Dr. James Franklin Malone, 44, Pampa school superintendent. Malone pleaded no contest and was fined $100 plus court costs.

Sources in Lubbock said today that Malone's attorney instructed him to reopen his plea and change it to innocent.

Texas Tech Coed Raped, Beaten

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Police reported today that an 18-year-old Texas Tech coed was raped and beaten early today on the campus.

Officers said the young woman rom Sweeney in far South Texas told them she left her dormitory at about 6 a.m. and a man accosted her.

Authorities said the coed apparently was strangled with wire.

A construction worker on the second floor of the school's new law building saw the young woman lying on the muddy ground and called police.

She is in a Lubbock hospital in undetermined condition.

He Saw No Blood On Mary Jo's Body

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Police Chief Dominick J. Arena says he saw no blood on Mary Jo Kopechne's body when it was removed from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's submerged car last July 19.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis declared Thursday he had information that there was blood in her mouth and nostrils and on her clothing. He raised the question whether this was "consistent with death by drowning."

Arena, who was present when a skin diver recovered the body, said: "When she was in my arms, waiting to put her on the boat, I saw no indication of blood."

Dr. Donald R. Mills, medical examiner for the district, who certified the cause of death as drowning, declined to comment on the Dinis statement.

The district attorney made his assertion in an amendment to a petition in the Common Pleas Court of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where he is seeking exhumation of Miss Kopechne's body for an autopsy.

Judge Bernard C. Brominski set a hearing on the petition for Sept. 29.

An attorney for the 28-year-old secretary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne, who oppose exhumation, said Dinis would have to "present evidence to show that his averments are true."

In his amended petition Dinis also told the Pennsylvania court that Kennedy had given differing versions of the accident in his police report and a subsequent television broadcast.

Dinis said that each version omitted "many important details of the accident and the events immediately preceding and following it."

Three Newsmen Accosted By Whites Outside School

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Three newsmen, including two members of a National Broadcasting Co., television crew, were accosted by whites Thursday outside Forrest City High School and Sam Smith Junior High.

The Forrest City School Board closed both schools Wednesday night after several white students walked out.

Bob Gilmartin, a reporter for Little Rock television station KATV, said he went to the school complex to shoot some color film of the schools being closed. He said he was cursed and threatened with a beating for coming to Forrest City.

Gilmartin said a crowd of whites confronted him at Sam Smith Junior High School and accused him—as a member of the news media—of distorting the facts in the Forrest City racial situation. He said the crowd of about 25 to 30 grabbed his camera and exposed the film.

He said he was allowed to leave the city unharmed after two Forrest City policemen arrived.

The two members of the NBC crew were hit on the head with footballs thrown by the crowd. All the tires on the two cars they were using were slashed.

Democrats Continue Feuds That Rocked Party In 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite appeals from national party leaders for unity, rival Democratic factions are continuing the feuding that rocked the party in 1968.

This was evident Thursday as the Democratic National Committee held its first meeting since the party surrendered control of the national administration to the Republicans in January.

The session was marked by the latest in a series of credentials disputes and a slashing attack on party reformers by Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina.

But National Chairman Fred R. Harris said he was pleased with the meeting and that "we have made a very great start to victories" in 1969 and 1970 elections.

The committee voted 58 to 39 against a move by the predominantly black National Democratic Party of Alabama to win the state's spot on the national committee which was vacated when the previous member refused to support the Humphrey-Muskie ticket in 1968.

Many of those who supported the unsuccessful NDPA candidate, the Rev. McKinley Branch, did so with expressions of admiration for the candidate of the white regulars, former Rep. Albert Rains, author of many of the nation's housing laws during a 20-year career in the House.

In the end, it was votes from such states as Connecticut, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Ohio and Pennsylvania that combined with Southern and border areas to carry the day for Rains.

Challengers had tried to link Rains with former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, but Rains denied any such tie.

The attack by McNair was aimed squarely at the reform commission headed by Sen. George S. McGovern and the appointment by Harris of a "frankly liberal" Democratic Policy Council.

"They shouldn't have let him speak. It seems like you can't take two steps forward without taking one step backwards around here," one said, asking that he not be identified.

At a closed committee session, national committeeman Robert Strauss of Texas echoed McNair's statement that the policy council members all represent one viewpoint, and that it should be broadened.

But Harris said he had no plans to do so.

McNair complained Harris and other leaders are giving the party a liberal national image and said "I would consider it a highly questionable act if we now chose to tamper with the very workings of this coalition from which the Democratic Party has evolved its basic strength."

'This Must Be A Joke,' Says Israeli Spokesman

By The Associated Press

Al Fatah claimed its guerrillas made their heaviest attacks ever on Israel Thursday night, but Israel reported only one skirmish in which it said four Arab saboteurs and no Israelis were killed.

A spokesman for Al Fatah, the largest Palestinian guerrilla organization, said in Amman that hundreds of commandos attacked 14 positions along a 30-mile front in the Jordan Valley. A later communique said the raiders wiped out two Israeli observation posts and three advance posts in the central valley.

NIGHT STRIKES

The spokesman said the raiders used a variety of weapons, including heavy mortars, and that the Israeli air force was forced to send in jets for night strikes against them.

"This must be a joke," said the Israeli army spokesman, Lt. Col. Srubavel Shalev. "Maybe the Fatah can run air sorties at night when they can't even see the targets but we certainly cannot."

Shalev said there had been only four reports of light arms and mortar fire in the area, with one Israeli soldier slightly wounded.

Later the Israeli command reported a skirmish after midnight 25 miles north of the Dead Sea. It said an Israeli patrol killed four Arabs near the Damiya Bridge across the Jordan, and "more bodies might be found later at the scene of the encounter." There were no Israeli casualties, he added.

MACHINE GUNS

A Jordanian army spokesman reported Israeli mortars and machine guns fired on some Jordanian positions in the southern Jordan Valley, but he said there were no Jordanian casualties.

In Cairo, President Gamal Abdel Nasser replaced the Egyptian army's chief of staff and the navy's commander without explanation. Nasser is in bed with what has been described as a case of acute influenza, but informants said he has set up an office in his sickroom and is running the country from there.

The Middle East News Agency said Nasser had appointed Lt. Gen. Mohammed Sadek, chief of military intelligence since 1966, as his new army chief of staff, while Navy Col. Mahmoud Fahmi Abdul Rahman was made commander of the navy.

MISSING

Sadek replaces Lt. Gen. Ahmed Ismail, last heard of when he addressed graduates of the Egyptian War Academy Sept. 9. Rahman succeeds Capt. Faud Zikrey.

The Israeli government announced tough new commerce and travel regulations for the city of Hebron, on the occupied West Bank. A spokesman said the new rules forbid residents to work in Israel, to travel either in Jordan or Israel and to trade in either of the two states.

He said the restrictions were ordered because of a growing number of sabotage incidents in the city, including the attempted assassination of the military governor three weeks ago and an attack on a police patrol four days ago in which five Israelis were wounded.

Duffy was arrested. Police said Baldwin is probably in California.

Turnkey III Project Draws More Fire

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Turnkey III, a proposed plan to place low income families in new homes worth up to $23,000, drew more opposition from taxpayers Thursday.

A citizens group announced plans to circulate petitions calling for the abolition of the sponsoring agency, the San Antonio Housing Authority.

At about the same time Thursday, city councilmen voted to hold a public meeting with housing authority trustees for a "first-hand briefing" on the federally subsidized project. Date of the meeting was not immediately set.

City Council approved public housing plans that included the proposed Turnkey III project last April. No sites were designated at the time.

Jerry Jordan, co-chairman of a citizens group in Northeast San Antonio, said the petition attack against the housing authority would be a "united effort for all San Antonians who feel there must be a better way to spend $10 million."

He was referring to the estimated cost of Turnkey III. The petitions request a city-wide referendum calling for abolition of the housing authority.

Others protesting the plan include Rep. O. C. Fisher, D-Tex., and L. E. Sheppard, Bexar County Republican Chairman.

Residents of two areas in North San Antonio have aired opposition to the project. Trustees of the South San Antonio School District went on record against it, saying the expected influx of children would be too great a tax burden.

Administration Extends Health Program Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has extended its controversial health program cutbacks to five projects that apply research gains to patient treatment for chronic diseases, including cancer.

Budget authorities in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare have ordered drastic cuts this year, and termination next year, of the chronic disease programs involving cancer, respiratory ailments, diabetes, arthritis, heart and stroke and neurological and sensory disorders.

CONFIRMED

Dr. Stanley W. Olson, director of HEW's regional medical programs service, confirmed that five of eight units in his chronic disease division will lose more than half of their funds this year. Current plans are to drop them next year at a savings of $9.7 million, he said.

The latest cuts follows announcement of plans by the National Institute of Health to pare 5 to 10 per cent from medical research outlays and to eliminate up to 19 small clinical research centers across the country.

The new budget restrictions are expected to increase already vocal protests from the medical community and some congressional leaders.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Senate's No. 2 Democrat, spoke out against medical program cutbacks Thursday night in a speech in Boston. "The impact of the cuts will be felt in medical schools, universities and research centers throughout the nation," Kennedy said.

TESTS FOR TUMORS

The retrenchment in government health programs results from President Nixon's order to chop $3.5 billion from the federal budget in the fight against inflation.

The latest five affected units are the major source of federal funding for the transfer of research breakthroughs in chronic diseases to everyday medical practice, Olson said.

Th cancer control program, for example, has arranged for more than 1.3 million women in the past 3½ years to receive the latest in diagnostic tests for tumors.

Government sources say the American Academy of General Practice probably will have to end the cancer-test program if federal support is withdrawn.

Three units in the division of chronic disease programs will remain.

They are the kidney disease control program, the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, and the nutrition program.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you for some practical words of advice to pass on to my 16-year-old daughter. She is a fine, pretty, intelligent girl with high ideals. Popular, too, and respected by her classmates. I have instilled the "old fashioned" virtues in her and we have had some frank discussions about sex. She's always believed that it paid off to be "nice," and went with one of the most popular boys in high school. They enjoyed a decent fun relationship and considered themselves "in love" as most kids do. She wore his "friendship" ring and he wore hers.

She told me that lately he was trying to get her to go a little bit further than she wanted to go, but she managed to keep him in line.

Last week he gave her an ultimatum, and when she refused to cross the limit line, he dropped her and went back to his old girl. (He had told my daughter that he'd been intimate with that girl, and I have reason to believe he had. I am not knocking her, but she has had no supervision, having lived with a divorced mother who has a poor reputation and is never home herself.)

Now my daughter feels that being "good" did not pay off. In her disappointment and jealousy and through her 16-year-old eyes she's played life's game honorably and lost, while the other girl did all the "wrong" things and won. What can I say to her? HER MOM

DEAR MOM: You can tell her that "life's game" is hardly over at age 16, and a boy who would give her such an ultimatum is no bargain. Tell her, too, that before the game is over, she'll realize that though she may have lost one boyfriend, she WON much more.

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with me? I was crazy about this man who was wonderful company and a great guy. The only thing wrong with him was that sometimes he drank too much. Then he got quarrelsome and moody. He wanted to marry me, but I was afraid of his drinking and kept putting him off. He got tired of my stalling and married somebody else.

I hear his wife sold him on A.A. and he hasn't had a drink in a year. I can't get this guy off my mind and now I'm eating my heart out. Can you help me?

LONELY IN A CROWD

DEAR LONELY: Quit eating your heart out with thoughts of what might have been. The one who got away always looks best. And should you ever meet another "wonderful guy" whose only weakness is joy juice, try to sell him on A.A. And if you succeed, THEN marry him.

A Devotion For Today . . .

The Spirit helps us in our weakness; for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with sighs too deep for words. (Romans 8:26, RSV)

PRAYER: Father, it is a real privilege that we can talk to Thee. Help us this day to keep close contact with the Holy Spirit as He speaks to us. May our intimacy be real as we devote time to prayer and communion with Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Constitution Week

After one try at a loose confederation, the new United States of America came together to shape a new charter of government, agreeing on a final form Sept. 17, 1789. This, in turn, was ratified by states up to May 29, 1890, but a sufficient number had given approval so that it became effective March 4, 1789.

This charter, regarded in most quarters as one of the most remarkable documents produced by man in an effort to shape his own destinies with due regards to the rights of others, is known popularly as the Constitution.

A great many people sound clarion calls to rally around the Constitution without knowing what it contains, what it permits, what it safeguards. Some stoutly praise the rights spelled out for their individual freedom, but they fail to realize that these rights are also reserved to all citizens of the land.

The Constitution is not an inflexible code, as witness its more than a score of amendments (including the first 10 known as the Bill of Rights). Indeed, its flexibility has been one of its sustaining graces, for like a mighty oak it has felt the breeze of change in its branches, but it has remained rooted in the great basic principles of freedom and justice.

You could do yourself no greater service during this observance of Constitution Week than to re-read again this sublime effort of mankind in the great adventure of democracy.

Long Way To Go

Along toward the end of his long and brilliant literary career, Somerset Maugham turned out a book which he entitled "The Mixture as Before." That would be an apt description of the supposedly different and much improved weekend television diet intended for children.

Lately there has been much network talk of reform in a programming area badly in need of reform. Despite this, the fare for children remains long on the hackneyed cartoon-adventure format and short on imaginative entertainment — not to mention enlightenment.

There does appear to be somewhat less emphasis on physical violence. Genuine elevation in quality, however, is hard to discern. There is a depressing general air of cheapness and expediency. A too generous infusion of commercials, which pound away at getting children to badger their parents for toys and cereals, does nothing to improve the tone of what is offered. The networks have a long way to go if they are sincere about their claimed intention to provide better children's viewing.

Around The Rim

Back To The Old Salt Mine

I have never been quite so unready to return from vacation. I didn't do a lot or go much of any place — just fishin' at Lake Texoma, sleepin' and eatin' mom's cooking. Yet, I wanted it to go on.

THE GUYS in the office tell me I do so little to earn my money I ought to push my luck a little and see if they would pay me for staying home.

But that's negative thinking. Besides my relatives and neighbors wouldn't stand for it.

A vacation is very frustrating to a "Paste-Pot" man. He is accustomed to reacting to developments and when they keep developing and he has no way to speak out, he feels unfulfilled.

I'VE GOT a couple of notebooks filled with comments, and I know once I get to them many of them will have to be junked out-of-date. That is even more frustrating.

I celebrated my third anniversary with The Herald Monday by reporting back to work a little late.

You'll recognize vacation type items for awhile.

REMEMBER when "galloping inflation" was our No. 1 national problem? Now it's going faster than a speeding bullet.

From talks with friends, acquaintances and others, I gather the concern is general.

To me, the movement of the entire administration to California for a month was the next-to-the-last-straw.

I DON'T OBJECT to our leaders going first class, but special delivery is ridiculous.

Not that the Republicans invented big spending. I'd have to give the Democrats credit for that, if it weren't dangerous to give a Democrat credit.

And Lyndon B. Johnson must have been the champion, until now.

In fact, I read he's still going strong on spending in retirement in Texas, some of it at government expense.

But recently the two families got together for Lady Bird's birthday.

They flew all around and dedicated a redwood to Mrs. J., and I doubt if either man reached for the check.

Don't get me wrong — I'm all in favor of birthdays. But couldn't Mrs. Nixon just have sent Lady Bird a card?

Will Arms Talks Ever Begin?

WASHINGTON — The September song — these few precious days — is a fitting theme for the long wait that may now be nearing an end. Each day that passed some 400 days, waiting for the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks to start has meant a steady advance in new weapons development and consequently a harder task for those who must try to apply the brakes to the nuclear arms race.

After a wait of six months to line up a negotiating position, the Nixon Administration informed Moscow and the world that SALT could begin any time after Aug. 1. From Moscow came a great silence.

BUT NOW with the arrival of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in New York for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly there is a new expectation. Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin is returning with Gromyko. They will meet in New York with Secretary of State William P. Rogers. Presumably they will tell him that at last they are prepared to enter into SALT.

Again this is an assumption. What form their response will take is unpredictable. They may say: What do you want to talk about? That could mean further delay for preliminary discussion prior to the opening of a formal conference.

IN THE WAITING period Director Gerard C. Smith of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency has worked long and hard to shape up a negotiating posture that can open the way to eventual agreement. In the face of the to-ing and fro-ing between the Pentagon, the State Department and the White House he has achieved at least one tentative breakthrough. It is in the area that promises to be toughest and most resistant.

AS THE JOHNSON Administration in July, 1968, shaped up a negotiating position, resolving conflicts between the barons of Pentagon and State, a highly significant decision was taken. The Pentagon got a go-ahead to test the multiple independently targeted re-entry vehicle, MIRV. With MIRV — three to 10 additional warheads on a single missile — the ratio of destructiveness is vastly increased.

The rationalization in the Johnson White House was as follows. Since SALT was soon to begin and since there was uncertainty as to how far the Soviets might have gone with MIRV or with MRV (multiple warheads not independently targeted), the start of the talks could bring at the outset a showdown. You tell us how far you've gone with MIRV and we'll tell you how far we've gone. Then we can discuss a moratorium.

IN THE YEAR that has passed the Pentagon conducted more than 14 tests of MIRV on the Pacific and Atlantic ranges. It works. As a result, of course, the military planners have dug in their heels against any mutual agreement to hold up MIRV.

But Smith has won a concession from the President. As chief delegate he will offer to discuss MIRV. He is not authorized to propose a moratorium, which the Pentagon so strongly resists.

IN A DISCUSSION, however, Smith will learn presumably what are the Soviet conditions for a downhold. They may say that they have already gone so far with MRV on the block-busting SS-9s that there can be no stop in this department. They may agree to consider a moratorium, in which event Smith would have to come back for further instructions and what would surely be a fierce struggle with the military.

All this — the jargon of the incredibly complex nuclear race — has at times the sound of medieval theology. It has an abstruse quality divorced from the terrible realities of the nuclear cloud that hangs over every human being on this earth.

Samples Of Double Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Flattery may get you nowhere, but double talk can often get you anywhere in the social game.

Double talk, of course, is the art of saying one thing while thinking another. It enables one to go on for years, if necessary, without saying a thing he means or meaning a thing he says.

For the uninitiated, here are a few samples of double talk, followed in each case by what the person who spoke was actually thinking:

"Gee, Joe, I never saw you looking better. Why don't you get out of that bed and give it to someone who's really sick?"—Boy, he sure looks like a goner. He'll never walk out of this hospital.

"I'm in a tough spot, and as you're one of my oldest friends, I've come to you for advice."—After you lend me the $500 I really need, then I'll listen to your advice.

"You mean you wallpapered this entire room all by yourself?"—It looks like you'd been helped by a herd of thumb-fumbling elephants.

"After all, it isn't the value of a present that counts, it's the sentiment behind it."—After all, it's the value of a present that counts.

"Let me congratulate you, Harry, it certainly was a well-deserved promotion."—But I was the one who deserved it, you bum.

"Why Myrtle, after all these years we've been together, you certainly must know the reason I married you."—I was slow on my feet.

"Yeah, it's a real thrill to come back to these college reunions and remember all the fun we had here during those times that still seem like they were only yesterday.—What the hell is this guy's name anyway?

"Young man, you wouldn't try to take a taxicab from a tired old woman on a rainy day, would you?"—If you even reach for that door handle, Buster, I'll put the point of this umbrella right through your ribs.

"My wife insisted that I come to this exhibition of your modern paintings, and I must say they show real depth and feeling."—Did you spread the paint on with a butter knife, or shoot it at the canvas with a shotgun?

"Anytime I can do anything for you, just call on me."—And call . . . and call . . . and call . . . until you're hoarse.

John Cunniff

Weather Forecasts

NEW YORK (AP) — A trend in recent years to cool weather in the Southeast will be broken this winter. In fact, the entire Middle and South Atlantic region will have a mild and open winter.

"Coastal stations will receive substantially below normal precipitation totals with little, if any, snow . . . Marked dryness and warmth in the Florida peninsula suggests an ideal winter tourist season . . ."

Could businessmen benefit from such long range forecasts, scientifically made four to six months ahead of time? Could a manufacturer of tires, for example feel confident in September that fewer snow tires will be needed in Richmond, Va., next February?

Through the years businessmen have lost billions of dollars by failing to understand how weather changes their markets. Like others, they do a lot of talking but little else.

The attitude is a curious one, for healthy businesses seldom overlook chances for reducing losses by employing the skills and machines of science to reduce variables and lessen risks.

Highway contractors, for example, use seismometers to estimate the cubic yards of cuts and fills needed before making bids. They measure distances exactly. They check prices of equipment. And then they flip a coin about the weather.

Often it is this very factor that forces them to take losses. Heavy rains can bog down trucks. Early frost can make earthmoving difficult. Snow can immobilize every fan and machine.

Retailers, farmers, air conditioner manufacturers and others have from time to time made efforts greater than flipping a coin. A pharmaceutical company sends copies of long range forecasts by Weather Trends Inc. to 60,000 doctors. And many businesses consult Dr. Irving Krick of Palm Springs, Calif.

Often, however, the attitude of business is one of despair and ignorance.

"Businessmen don't know how or to what extent their businesses are operationally weather sensitive," says Dr. Hurd C. Willett, professor emeritus of meteorology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

It is Willet who signed his name to the forecast for the lower East Coast states, now being distributed to clients of a newly formed, Boston-based company called Statistical Weather Information.

"Even those who subscribe to long range forecasts misuse them, perhaps turning them over to the comptroller," said John Prohaska, a meteorologist. Willet, Prohaska and Dr. Donald DeVorkin, all with M.I.T. backgrounds, are founders of SWI.

After years of research the three scientists have assembled 400,000 bits of weather information. The mass is fed into electronic computers for statistical relationships that become the basis for forecasts up to six months ahead.

The Troop Withdrawals

WASHINGTON — Some members of Congress have expressed dismay that Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam, rather than President Nixon, was the first to announce the withdrawal of approximately 40,000 American troops from Vietnam by the end of November.

But memories seem to be short. The United States sent its forces to Vietnam at the request of the Saigon government. Under international law and the United Nations charter, one government may ask another to come to its aid. When the military strength of a defending nation has reached the point where the allied forces can be replaced, it is logical for the defending country to make public its readiness to take over the task.

THIS IS, moreover, a way to emphasize to the American people and to the world that the South Vietnamese are capable of getting along with fewer troops from their allies.

The announcement, it will be noted, came as a result of a conference between President Thieu and America's military commander in Vietnam, General Creighton W. Abrams, who had been in Washington a few days ago conferring with President Nixon and Pentagon officials. It was most natural for President Thieu, after consulting with General Abrams, to convey the results of the conference to his security council and then to his own people. Also, a decision which did not appear at least to be approved by the Saigon government might have had an ill effect on public opinion in South Vietnam.

THE ACTUAL figures may vary somewhat from the Saigon statement, but the important news is that after the withdrawal of approximately 25,000 American troops at the end of August, the second phase of the troop replacement now has been decided upon. The Vietnam vice president has told reporters in Saigon that an additional 200,000 American troops might be withdrawn by 1971.

DOUBTLESS THERE will be further conferences with military commanders before decisions are made about subsequent withdrawals. But it would not be surprising if in each case the word comes first from the government of South Vietnam.

There will, of course, continue to be B-52 bombing raids by the Americans. This is one way to notify the enemy that its attacks on South Vietnamese and allied troops will be resisted.

Meanwhile, American troop withdrawals could affect the Paris peace talks. For world opinion certainly now would favor some concessions from the North Vietnamese so that the military operations may be reduced still more.

IT IS POSSIBLE, of course, that the negotiations at Paris will never bring any peace agreement. This is what happened in the Korean war. Even today United Nations forces — consisting largely of American troops — are stationed at the truce line. History could repeat in South Vietnam, and some American forces may remain there for several years to help guard the South Vietnamese Republic against aggression. But with the aid of military technicians and weapons from the United States, it is conceivable that the South Vietnamese government may be able with its own big army to protect is position.

Billy Graham

My boy friend is stationed in an Army camp about 400 miles away. He asked me to spend a weekend near the camp, staying at a motel nearby, because he won't get any leave for at least a month. Is this proper? — A.F.

If you want a short cut to break up this romance, this is the best way I know. Boys, (though they may appear to be devoted) quickly lose respect for girls who quickly and easily compromise themselves. For you to take a motel room, without your mother, or a chaperone with you, would be laying both you and your boy friend open to almost irresistible temptation. We are in a war, and wars do strange things to young people. The separations they experience could be final, and the temptation is to drain every bit of pleasure from the last few moments together. If you had no conscience, if there was no such thing as unwed mothers, and if there were no God in heaven, to which we must give account, such experiences would be permissable and justified. Many young people do behave as if none of these things exist. But they find out later, to their sorrow, that sex outside of holy matrimony has a spiritual whiplash that can bring great pain, remorse, and deep sadness.

If you want to keep your boy friend, a good conscience, your relationship to the Lord, and your reputation, tell your boy friend that you are very fond of him, but you can wait until he gets a leave.

Cuban Style

HAVANA (AP) — Men's hair styles in Cuba this year call for longer sideburns and the elimination of the square cut across the neck, says the Bureau of Fashion Orientation. The bureau gave this guideline in a new newspaper series and said it would have more fashion advice in the future.

Robber-Proof

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Customers at a new robber-proof bank that recently opened here, never see the teller, just a picture of him on a closed-circuit television screen.

If a robber tries to get past the TV screen, an electronic beam automatically locks the door behind him.

To Your Good Health

Not A Sickness, But A Sign Of It

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had an attack of hematuria. Can you tell me something about this sickness? — E.A.H.

It is not a sickness, but a sign of an illness. Hematuria means presence of blood in the urine. The amount may be so slight as to be distinguished only by microscopic examination or there may be enough to give the urine a brownish, cloudy or smoky look.

For a general understanding of the urinary system, you would do well to get and read my booklet, "Your Kidneys: Facts You Need to Know." For a copy of it, send 25 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Herald.

In general, discovery of hematuria demands a thorough search for the cause, which may be benign or may be serious — there are many causes.

Probably the commonest is a bacterial infection, among the offending germs being the TB organism. Location of the infection varies. It may be cystitis (that is, inflammation in the bladder), or the infection may be in the kidney proper; or prostate infection can cause hematuria in males. Or the basic cause of the bleeding may be remote from the urinary tract. One example is bacterial endocarditis, or a form of infection that primarily is in the heart lining. This can lead to clot or embolus formation which in turn can cause bleeding in the kidneys.

Kidney stones in the kidney, a ureter, or in the bladder can cause bleeding.

For quite another possibility, so can the use of anticoagulant (anti-clotting) drugs. Likewise so can blood disorders which cause a person to bleed easily. Vitamin C deficiency sometimes is involved.

At times a tumor of one type or another results in bleeding. Sometimes, and I have seen such cases, it is impossible to discover the source of the bleeding. Doubtless at times it is a small ulcer or small injury which heals and puts an end to the condition.

So I cannot give you any specific cause of hematuria but can only give you a sampling of the more frequent causes. But I trust also that I have made clear why hematuria calls for study of the patient's condition.

• • •

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a discharge and think it is from having sexual relations. Do you know what can be done about it? — S.G.

Yes — don't you? See a doctor and find out whether you have acquired an infection.

• • •

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Thosteson will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Symington's Version Of Defense

WASHINGTON — You could say that Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) turned word-smith, and turned the tide.

The date is worth noting, Sept. 9, because Everett Dirksen, for many years the Senate's most gifted phrase-maker, lay in his coffin under the dome. On the floor that afternoon Symington, by sheer force of semantics, made sure that the country got a much-needed weapons system, the C5-A military transport plane.

PERHAPS the vote would have gone that way anyhow, but not by the margin it did, 23 to 64, on the key vote. Symington's speech clinched it. He may also have created, and named, a new foreign policy which has been wandering around for some time, not quite born, not formally baptized.

Symington called it "Remote Presence," and if he didn't originate the term, he gave it definition and made it stick. He and others lately opposed to our armament spending have been taunted as neo-isolationists, unilateral disarmers and the like. Symington, though often associated with this group in the ABM debate and elsewhere, has never been one of them.

REMOTE PRESENCE has a dash of Fortress America. It means bring-the-boys-home. It has elements of isolationism. But it is not static, not irreversible, not "to hell with our allies." The Senate was debating the Proxmire amendment which would have cut $533 million and a fourth squadron of C5-A transport planes from the Defense Department authorization. These huge planes can airlift whole divisions of troops, with their equipment, carry them over long distances at high speeds, and land them in open fields, where necessary.

SYMINTON'S SPEECH, circulated in advance and delayed because of Dirksen's death, had been read by many Senators and correspondents before he delivered it. He began by admitting that our forces are "spread all over the world, and it's terribly expensive." He said we had 1.45 million troops abroad, 500,000 dependents, 250,000 foreign employes on more than 3,000 large and small bases. He said that American manpower in Asia and Europe accounted for 60 per cent of the projected $77 billion military budget. He said that we couldn't go on this way and remain solvent and strong. And yet, he said, we could not abandon Britain and Japan, Europe, Asia and the Middle East.

SYMINGTON'S SOLUTION was to make use of the new technology in airlift. With enough of the big, versatile transport planes we could bring home hundreds of thousands of troops, save many millions of dollars, and use the American continent as a gigantic complex of military airbases.

It is not a new argument, but it was logically and knowledgeably put. It updated Fortress America, but made it mobile. It promised to bring-the-boys-home, but to keep them at readiness. It preserved Atlantic, Pacific and Mediterranean alliances, but made them less entangling.

A LOVELIER YOU

Good Manners Show In Homelife First

By MARY SUE MILLER

Everybody wants to be liked. Even boys!

But, in an effort to win attention, some characters put up a big front. You probably know a girl who is all "sugar and spice" at a dance. Yet, when she gets home, she's so surly she makes everyone miserable.

Of course, you see through her performance. Double-dealers never acquire enough assurance to make a convincing show of winsomeness in public. You sense the trickery and label it phoney.

Poised manners and a confident manner are grown on home grounds. Attractive actions at home go with you every time you step out the front door.

Just how does that work? Well, first we'll tick off some high spots of winning behavior at home. Without second thought, a girl extends the small courtesies of the "please" and "thank you" variety.

More vital, she applies herself to the house rules. She is generous with her help. She respects the rights, property and privacy of all family members. She keeps her room, clothes and self in acceptable condition. She settles differences of opinion by reasoning, never by storming or, much less, petty quibbling.

Now, you can see if you live by a civilized code of behavior on home territory, you are prepared to be a mannerly poised Lovely in any school or social situation. You know the winning thing to do and say.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

This is especially for people who are foster parents to children in other lands:

I ask our friends at the market to save boxes that are cut around three sides at the top so they open like a small chest.

Then I cover all but the bottom with colorful adhesive-backed plastic covering and use these boxes to send clothing, toys, kitchen supplies, pencils, paper, etc.

In this way, they not only receive the parcel, but an attractive storage box as well . . . Mrs. Milton Bernhart

• • •

And I'll bet those pretty boxes are stuffed plumb full of little treasures only a child could appreciate, as well as a heart full of love from you, my dear . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I remember your idea for anyone with poor eyesight — the one about carrying only one dollar bills — and thought I'd add another one.

When crossing a paved street, you can tell you are approaching a step for the sidewalk because there is a dip in the pavement just before you reach the step. That's so water will run off in bad weather . . . Mrs. R. Loomis

• • •

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

Preparing for a night out, I was anticipating a manicure, leisurely oil bath, a mint facial and a nap. When I discovered my teenager had used up all of the mint mask, my married daughter asked, "Have you ever used toothpaste?"

Well, after cleansing my face, I generously applied the tooth paste at hand which was mint-flavored. It was oh, so cool and refreshing.

After a thirty minute nap, I rinsed it off with warm water (being careful of my eyes), splashed with cold water, and to my amazement, I had a soft, glowing complexion . . . Avid Fan

• • •

. . . and no cavities I hope! . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Anybody need an idea for pepping up everyday vegetables? If so, try my Chinese sauce.

Just thicken chicken broth with cornstarch, add a little sugar or molasses and a teaspoonful of soy sauce and some onion salt or chopped green onions.

This may be used on any vegetable . . . and you can also add a can of bean sprouts and/or sliced water chestnuts. Just use your imagination . . . Mrs. G. M.

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I read the hint about ironing oxford cloth shirts after first dampening, folding and placing in the refrig overnight.

This is good, but its such hard work!

I have long-sleeved oxford cloth shirts to do — 14 of 'em! Not exactly being "excited" about ironing, I've gotten rather lazy.

I simply take a DRY shirt, spray it completely with fabric finish and use my DRY iron!

My husband loves it because his shirts have enough body and look positively beautiful! . . . Judy Durbin

• • •

Dear Heloise:

The next time your cigarette lighter needs fluid, put in three or four drops of your favorite cologne or perfume (not toilet water). Then fill with the usual lighter fluid.

Then each time you use your lighter, the air will smell delicious.

I have also used the liquid incense, but since it is stronger, one drop is enough . . . Mrs. T. J. Warren

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feather-stitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at Hemphill-Wells Co., in the Foundation Department 214 Main, Phone 267-8284

Task Force Gets First Priority Lists

The Chamber of Commerce President's Task Force on Priorities heard its first recommendations for a 1970 Program of Work today at a 10 a.m. meeting with representatives of chamber committees.

The Task Force, headed by Adolph Swartz and consisting of John Currie, Larson Lloyd, George McAlister, Clyde McMahon Sr., Paul Meek, Marvin Miller, Lester Morton, and R. W. Whipkey, briefly discussed recommendations, but took no action.

The task force will hear reports from other committees Monday and Tuesday and probably hold a public meeting sometime before finally setting up a priority schedule.

Presenting recommendations at the meeting were Jack Cook, aviation committee; Don Womack, economic development committee; E. L. Hamby, governmental affairs committee; R. H. Weaver, education committee; Norman Krisle, retail committee; Joe Pickle, roads and highways committee; and Delnor Poss, sports and recreation committee.

Water District In The Mill

GARDEN CITY — The idea of a five-county water district for this area is still in the mill. The Texas Water Rights Commission held a hearing Thursday morning in the Reagan County Courthouse to examine the proposals for a district.

Danny Muller, San Angelo, an employe of the Texas Water Development Board, presented several geological maps of the proposed district taking in areas of Glasscock, Reagan, Midland, Upton and Irion counties. These outlined the aquifiers in the district territory.

The proposal was taken under advisement by Chairman Joe Carter, O. F. Dent, and Leslie R. Neal, members of the water rights commission. If the commission decides a water district is feasible, then an election will be called. An affirmative vote would result in creation of a board to set up rules and regulations for wells producing more than 100,000 gallons per day. Subject to voter approval, the district would have powers to tax, require permits, specify spacing, etc.

Bandsmen Plan Game Marching

The Big Spring Steer marching band has prepared another performance for half-time at tonight's contest against Midland Lee.

The Steer marchers will go through a series of circle drills to "Those Were the Days," besides doing formations to "Barnum and Bailey's Favorite" and "Fever." Circle drills are most difficult to do because there is no precise way to execute them; they have to be formed completely by vision.

Directors of the band are Bill Bradley and Don Turner, assisted by Leon Long and R. E. McKiski.

Eastland Arrest

Maurice Blackwell, Hamilton, was arrested Thursday in Eastland on a charge from Howard County filed Sept. 5 of defrauding an innkeeper. A $500 bond has been set in Eastland, but Blackwell has not been released.

Attends Seminar

Keith Jones, local juvenile officer, attended a seminar Thursday for juvenile officers at Girls' Town in White Face. Jones explained the purpose of the seminar is to keep abreast of changes in juvenile laws. He said about 52 judges and state juvenile officers attended.

About 40 At AFA Meet Hear Noted Designer

Approximately 40 heard the designer of the world's first fully automatic landing system at the quarterly meeting of the Big Spring Chapter of the Air Force Association, held in the Fireplace Room of the Webb Officer's Open Mess Thursday.

Retired Air Force Col. Carl J. Crane, winner of the Mackay Trophy in 1937 for his design, used a number of visual aids in the presentation of his talk on "The History and Challenge of the All-Weather Landing." Col. Crane presented the history and development of flight instruments, the problems introduced into instrument flight by human physiology and outlined the probable future of instrument flight.

A consulting engineer specializing in applied research, Col. Crane won the Mackay Trophy and Distinguished Flying Cross for designing and engineering the first fully automatic landing system while he was director of the Instrument and Navigation Laboratory at Wright Field, Ohio. He holds the Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering and Master of Science Degrees from the University of Dayton, Ohio.

During the meeting, Dick Ream announced plans are being consolidated for the AFA State Convention to be held in Big Spring July 17-19, 1970.

Seven Referred For Counseling

Seven boys have been referred to Juvenile Officer Keith Jones by the police department since Tuesday, six on charges of public affray. Jones counseled with four 14-year-olds involved in the same incident, and two other teenagers then released them to their parents.

A 16-year-old runaway boy was counseled by Jones this morning and will be returned to his parents in California.

Stock Sought For Roundup Sale

ABILENE — In trucks, trailers and pickups loaned by others, ranchers are driving all over the state picking up stock donated to the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

The round-up, the fund-raising event which annually provides a bulk of the operational funds for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center is set for Sept. 29, at Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Auction here.

One of the top donations already in the WTRC' holding pens is a four-year-old, 2,600-pound tested Charolais bull given by Mrs. L. O. Tarrant of the L. T. Ranches at Richmond.

Bidding for the spot on the auction block also will be a registered Santa Gertrudis bull from the 9-Bar Ranch at Cypress; two registered Santa Gertrudis from R. W. Briggs, San Antonio; and a registered Hereford bull from J. Fike Godfrey, Spur, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The King Ranch at Kingsville has also sent one of its top steers to the sale.

Conspicuous in its absence this year is the support of Conda Wylie, Fort Chadbourne rancher who earned the title "Father of the Cattlemen's Round-Up" before his death last spring. He annually kicked off each year's round-up with the donation of as many as 100 head of his top cross-bred stock.

Persons wishing to donate stock to the sale can contact the area chairman, or the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, 4601 Hartford St., Abilene, 79605, according to Charlie Morris, general chairman.

Nixon—Draft

October, 10,000 in November and 9,000 in December.

He said the January draft call, now programmed for 35,000 men, would be reviewed in December with a view toward a possible cutback.

DRAFT REFORM

The December decision presumably would hinge in great part on a possible third-phase withdrawal of troops from Vietnam. The administration has set no timetable for making its next decision on potential withdrawals.

Laird said that, barring legislative action, Nixon would try to achieve draft reform through an executive order that would become effective next Jan. 1 or as soon thereafter as practical.

Keymen in the hospital's drive include Priscilla Brown, Mrs. Bee Zinn, Mrs. Dorothy Hodges, Mrs. Juanita Seitzler, Mrs. Ozella Long, Mrs. Sandy Fryar, Mrs. Mattie Andrews, Mrs. Ella Vonne West, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Joyce Kennedy, Mrs. Marie Peay, Mrs. Wanda Bruce, Mrs. Libby Dirks, Gloria Rollison, Sherril Dickeson, Bob Waters, Haskell Spivey, Martin Staggs and Ray Cooper.

Natural Causes Ruled In Death

Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter ruled death by natural causes in the death of Mrs. Ola Pearl Walling earlier this week.

Slaughter based his ruling on reports from Austin chemists and an autopsy performed by Dr. R. B. G. Cowper. Slaughter said in all probability Mrs. Walling had pneumonia.

Mrs. Walling was found Monday in her home after a son called Howard County Sheriff's officers to check on his parents. She had apparently been dead about two days.

More Gifts To The Bible Fund

A few more gifts to the Bible Class fund were received today by The Herald. The formal appeal was ended last Monday, but many who have supported the fund over the years continue to send in their gifts. Among the latest are Mrs. R. O. Weathers of Marietta, Okla., who mailed a gift of $10 with a note saying "I am proud to help keep teaching the Bible to our teenagers." Mrs. Jessie Lee Townsend also gave $10. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lovelace gave $5 and observed "we are grateful to contribute to the Bible Fund . . . . happy to have the Bible taught in our school." In addition to these, East Fourth Baptist Church sent in its budget pledge of $300 to undergird the Bible fund.

BRITISH DEFENSE MINISTER IN BELFAST—British Defense Minister Denis Healey, center in dark suit, pauses to talk to a British soldier during a tour Friday through the troubled areas of Belfast, Northern Ireland. The British soldier was on guard duty in the Falls Road Catholic area of Belfast.

Agree Today To Demolish Barricades

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Roman Catholics of Londonderry, the town where the Catholic-Protestant war erupted last month, agreed today to demolish their barricades Monday.

They will be replaced by thin white painted lines to keep the feuding Protestants and Catholics apart.

Sean Keenan, chairman of the Derry Citizens' Defense Association in the Catholic Bogside district, told newsmen after 24 hours of talks with the British Army that:

—The Northern Ireland government's largely Protestant police force will stay out of Bogside.

—Military police will not try to arrest anyone in Bogside for anything done before the barricades come down.

—Military police will be allowed to enter the area in answer to emergency calls, but other troops will stay out.

—The Bogsiders' vigilante police force will continue to operate in the district.

The army said 39 barriers had been taken down in the past two days in Belfast.

During the night, a gasoline bomb smashed into a Catholic house in Lurgan, 20 miles from Belfast, and set fire to some curtains, but the housewife's teen-age children put out the fire. Two men were arrested.

Tower Fairly Certain Bush Will Challenge Yarborough

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower says he is about 70 per cent certain" that Republican Rep. George Bush will challenge Democratic Sen. Ralph Yarborough in next year's election in Texas.

Bush has delayed deciding until later this fall. He says he wants to evaluate President Nixon's standing in Texas and the nation, among other factors.

Tower, chairman of the Senate Campaign Committee, said he is more certain than ever that the GOP could gain control of the Senate next year. He considers Texas a key race and views Bush as the strongest Republican prospect.

Yarborough, chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, says he won't formally announce his plans until much later. No one expects him to decline to seek another term.

At a luncheon meeting with newsmen, Tower said he didn't think Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes could have been much encouraged by the recent special session of the Texas legislature.

He indicated the GOP may concentrate its efforts on ousting Yarborough rather than trying to field a well-known candidate against Democrat Gov. Preston Smith.

He said he did not think Paul Eggers, now counsel at the Treasury Department, would be interested in another Texas race by next year. Eggers' first political try last year was against Smith.

Tower declined to say in which other states the GOP considers its chances are good to unseat Democrats.

He did say, however, that he thought it would be nearly impossible for any Republican to beat Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy, despite the senator's recent accident.

There are attractive Republicans in Massachusetts, Tower said, but when put against the Kennedy family's strength any prospective GOP candidate seems pale.

Air Force earlier this week advised 4,428 officers of their promotions to the temporary grade of lieutenant colonel. The promotions will be effected in monthly increments base on existing vacancies. The first increment of 554 officers was effective Tuesday.

"Those Crazy Episcopalians"

do they really "go to school" before joining the church?

As much as anything else, Confirmation (or Inquirers') classes are for the "joinee's" own protection . . . so that he knows exactly what he's getting into. This simple, interesting set of instructions from the minister assures complete understanding the church's tenets. It carries no obligation to become a member.

Episcopalians don't discount the sudden revelation of God's presence. (Some call it "seeing the light.") They do, however, believe that a more deliberate initiation into church membership is less likely to "wear thin" in subsequent years.

They have some pretty good reasons for believing theirs is a "thinking-man's religion." Christ, they say, demanded simple faith — but not blind faith.

Periodically, your nearest Episcopal church offers a series of Inquirers' classes. Here's an excellent opportunity to learn, without obligation, if the Episcopal Church offers something you've found missing in your previous religious experience. The minister — if you call him — would be delighted to discuss it with you.

One of a series presented by "Those Crazy Episcopalians" in your area.

Yankees Drop 1,200 Tons Of Bombs On Red Targets

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S Command today reported only light scattered ground fighting in Vietnam, but American B52 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of bombs along the Cambodian border northeast of Saigon.

The new raids came on the heels of a report from U.S. officials in Washington that the Nixon administration is prepared to negotiate an end to the B52 raids in South Vietnam if the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong de-escalate the war.

GROUND WAR

U.S. headquarters said eight waves of the big bombers attacked North Vietnamese base camps in an area three by seven miles located 100 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Part of the target was within a mile of the border.

In the ground war, a Viet Cong force upset a U.S. Marine ambush early today, then attacked the patrol after it retreated, killing two Marines and wounding 11. Headquarters said, "Enemy losses are unknown at this time."

The fight took place 26 miles south of Da Nang. As the Marines waited in hiding, the Viet Cong shelled the patrol, indicating they knew where the Marines were.

NO CASUALTIES

The attack caused no casualties, but the Marines went scurrying back to their base. Half an hour later the Viet Cong attacked them.

North Vietnamese troops attacked a night bivouac position of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 58 miles northwest of Saigon, wounding eight Americans. The enemy soldiers were driven back by artillery and helicopter fire, but their losses were not known.

U.S. headquarters reported 31 enemy rocket and mortar attacks overnight in which eight Americans were wounded.

The American Command said North Vietnamese gunners during the night fired 10 rounds of rockets into the headquarters of the 3rd Marine Division at Dong Ha, 16 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

Spokesmen said a few Marines were wounded, but none was killed. The 3rd Division is being withdrawn from Vietnam under President Nixon's order to reduce U.S. troop strength by 35,000 men before Dec. 15.

GRAB WEAPONS

U.S. infantrymen from the 198th Light Infantry Brigade sweeping through foothills 55 miles south of Da Nang uncovered eight Russian-made 122mm rocket launchers.

"This is the largest number of these weapons ever found in a single location," said a communique.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 30 mortar and rocket rounds were fired into a government outpost south of Da Nang. Casualties were termed light among regional force troops manning the post.

The U.S. Command announced Col. Dale J. Crittenberger, an Army brigade commander and the son of a noted World War II general, was killed in a helicopter collision during a battle in the Mekong Delta Wednesday.

EIGHT CHILDREN

Crittenberger, 42, a 1950 graduate of West Point, was commander of the 9th Infantry Division's 3rd Brigade and had been scheduled to go home in five weeks. He was the son of Lt. Gen. Willis D. Crittenberger, who commanded the 4th Army Corps in its drive from Rome up the Italian peninsula in World War II.

Gen. Crittenberger retired in 1952 after 45 years in the Army, and he and his wife now live in Washington, D.C. They have another son in the Army. A third son was killed at the Remagen bridge in World War II.

Col. Crittenberger's widow and their eight children live in McLean, Va.

Crittenberger and 11 other Americans died when two helicopters collided in the air 18 miles southwest of Saigon. There were no survivors. Among those killed was one of Crittenberger's battalion commanders, Lt. Col. Leo P. Sikorski, 36, a native of Detroit, Mich. His widow and their three children live in Camp Springs, Md.

BUSINESS AS USUAL — These soldiers, members of the U.S. Marines Third Division, are scheduled for withdrawal from Vietnam by mid-December, but in the meantime, it is "business as usual" in the daily toil for combat survival. The men are unloading artillery shells at their combat base, Rockpile, along the DMZ in South Vietnam. Hundreds of shells were fired at enemy positions in the area after the Marines had been hit by ground attacks and enemy artillery.

Rapist Receives 99 Years Term

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)— Billy Wayne Sewell of San Saba was convicted of rape Thursday, and sentenced to 99 years.

Sewell, in his mid-20s, was charged after he forced two girls to a Brownwood lake at gunpoint and attacked one of them.

Couple Perish

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A San Antonio couple apparently suffocated early today when fire swept their living room.

Firemen found John P. Wilson, 56, and his wife, Helen, 52, dead in their home.

Fire from a cigarette probably caused the blaze, the fire department said.

Two To Testify Against Other Six Green Berets

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — Two of the eight Green Beret men charged with murdering a Vietnamese agent are not being brought to trial because the Army is arranging for them to testify against the other six Special Forces men, military sources said today.

The sources said the two men, Chief Warrant Officer Edward M. Boyle of New York City and Sgt. 1.C Alvin L. Smith Jr. of Naples, Fla., will be given immunity from U.S. prosecution, and the Army now is talking with the Saigon government to arrange for immunity at that end.

The Army announced Thursday that Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., commander of the Special Forces in Vietnam when the agent disappeared, and five of his staff officers would stand trial before an Army court on charges of murder and conspiracy.

An Army spokesman also announced that charges against Boyle and Smith were being held in abeyance pending trial of the other cases. No explanation was given.

A U.S. Army spokesman said Boyle and Smith "are no longer under confinement but are in a parole status." However, he said the two men must remain on the Long Binh base 15 miles north of Saigon "so that they will be readily available."

The Army still refuses to make any details of the case public. But other sources have reported that the man killed was a Vietnamese working for the Special Forces in Cambodia who was discovered to be working for North Vietnam. The body reportedly was dumped in the South China Sea and has not been found.

'Preferential Treatment' Charged By Draft Chief

DALLAS (AP) — The head of a Dallas draft board has resigned his post because of what he called "preferential treatment" given one youth.

Dr. James Nicholson, chairman of Dallas Selective Service Board No. 29, said Thursday he was quitting the board.

"I could not in good conscience remain on the board," Nicholson said, "when someone receives two appeal hearings from the Presidential Board . . . The handbook states that a presidential appeal is final."

Nicholson said Robert Sanford, another board member, had resigned for the same reason. Dr. James Martin, vice chairman of the board, was reported planning to resign pending selection of a replacement.

A man's appeal can be considered twice by the presidential board if there has been a change in his circumstances, a spokesman for the National Selective Service Appeals Board said in Washington.

Nicholson said he suspected "political pressure of some type" in the case under question because of "the swiftness and end result of the last decision."

The man will probably never be called into military service, Nicholson said, because he is over 26 and is classified as a conscientious objector. Regulations prohibit publication of the man's name.

"This boy for several years used procedural rights of appeal, which is fine," Nicholson said. "But when he got the second presidential board hearing, I decided I wanted no part of it."

Nicholson said the man began efforts to sidestep the draft about four years ago. He reportedly used several excuses before claiming to be a conscientious objector.

Direct, Popular Election Of President Skips Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment calling for the direct, popular election of the president has been approved by the House in such an overwhelming fashion that even the measure's supporters are surprised—and pleased.

The size of Thursday's vote—339-70—raised backers' hopes that the proposal can win Senate approval, state ratification and become the 26th amendment to the Constitution.

However Senate prospects for the proposal are uncertain. There is strong opposition in the Judiciary Committee, where the question of electoral reform is now stalled.

And several weeks ago Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief supporter of the amendment, said it was 13 votes short of the needed two-thirds majority on the floor.

But Bayh took heart from the House vote, which he called "encouraging, dramatic and historic."

"This is an important step in building the momentum that could assure its passage in the Senate and, hopefully, guarantee acceptance by the state legislatures," he said.

The House vote disclosed solid bipartisan support for the proposal, which would scrap the system used to elect every President since George Washington.

Instead of voting for electors who then cast their ballots for the president, citizens would vote directly for their candidate.

And instead of counting up the electoral votes of the states to determine the president, the winner would be the candidate who got the most individual votes in a nationwide tally.

A candidate would have to get at least 40 per cent of the popular vote to win. If none did, there would be a runoff between the top two.

Opponents charged the 40 per cent provision could lead to a minority president, but Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., manager of the bill, countered by pointing out that 15 presidents have been elected with less than 50 per cent of the popular vote. That includes President Nixon, who got slightly more than 43 per cent.

Puzzle of Thursday, Sept. 18, Solved

200 Years In Prison For Holdup

DALLAS (AP) — A jury assessed Finis Smith Blankenship, a North Texas police character, 200 years in prison Thursday for acting with two men who robbed a Minyard's supermarket Feb. 12.

A witness said he saw Blankenship with the robbers minutes after the holdup and police found a pistol, money and pillow slips—similar to those used in the robbery—in his car.

Blankenship, sentenced to 50 years in prison last year for a similar holdup in Tarrant County, pleaded innocent. His lawyer said the articles found in the car could be found anywhere.

Extra guards were used during the trial because in July, 1968, Blankenship overpowered a Johnson County deputy sheriff and held three hostages before surrendering.

Two months earlier, Blankenship told a jury that he knew who killed Fort Worth lawyer Robert Macklin. His charges were never proven and the 1965 murder case remains unsolved.

Fund Campaign Begins With Meeting Tuesday

A meeting of district Christian Church leaders will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at First Christian Church, 911 Goliad.

"We are expecting six to seven persons from each church in our district," the Rev. John Beard said.

The meeting is one of 20 scheduled throughout Texas during the next few weeks as part of a campaign to raise $400,000 for Reconciliation, the urban emergency program of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

Three executives of the state organization will attend the meetings to explain the project. Harold A. Rea, associate executive minister; Miss Arla Elston, associate minister; and K. David Cole, consultant on special ministries, will speak.

Members of First Christian attending the meeting include C. A. Ross, official board; Capt. John Millhollon and Gene McElroy, World Outreach; Dan Wilkins, Christian Action; Mrs. Sampey Wall, Christian Women's Fellowship; Russell Hoover, Christian Men's Fellowship; and Lana Parks and Robin Hoover, Christian Youth Fellowship.

The meeting is intended to prepare local workers to secure pledges from members of their congregations. Pledges will be sought from individuals in units of $100 over and above their regular giving to the church.

Of the $400,000, at least $100,000 will be used to meet crisis-related needs in Texas. The state campaign is part of a national effort to raise $4 million for Reconciliation, a program began last year in response to the crisis fueled by America's racial and poverty problems.

The campaign plan calls for the educational buildup to begin in congregations early in October and for the climax to come on Reconciliation Sunday, Nov. 9. Thanksgiving Sunday, Nov. 23, will be Victory Sunday.

Meetings include Canyon, El Paso and Pecos, Monday; Big Spring and Wichita Falls, Tuesday; Abilene and Jacksboro, Wednesday; Austin and Fort Worth, Thursday; Mercedes, San Antonio and Waco, Sept. 28; Corpus Christi and Tyler, Sept. 29; Bay City and Sulphur Springs, Sept. 30; Houston and McKinney, Oct. 1; and Beaumont and Dallas, Oct. 2.

Reconciliation projects are in such areas as education, youth recreation, neighborhood improvement, economic development, housing, communication and strengthening of inner-city congregations. Through July, $310,000 had been allocated by the national steering committee for Reconciliation.

RON SELLERS

ACC Grad New Pastor

Ron Sellers graduated from Abilene Christian College in August and immediately moved to Big Spring to assume duties as minister of the Carl Street Church of Christ.

Sellers graduated from Eastern Hills High School in Fort Worth in 1965, and attended Harding College, Searcy, Ark., before transferring to ACC. He received a BA degree in Bible and psychology, graduating magna cum laude.

Sellers spent two years working for Operation Doorbell, a series of campaign for Christ held all over the United States. He also worked with the Downtown Church of Christ in Searcy as personal work director.

"We hope to do some work with college students," Sellers said. "We also plan a personal work campaign for the young people of the church."

Sellers and his wife, Linda Lee, live at 2717 Larry. She is a fourth grade teacher at Marcy Elementary.

First Presbyterian Plans Dedication

Dedication of the new building at First Presbyterian will be held Oct. 5 at 11 a.m., according to Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor.

Matthew Lynn, moderator of the General Assembly, will be the guest speaker, and members of St. Paul and Coahoma Presbyterian churches will join with members of First Presbyterian for the services. The public is invited to attend.

Under-Thirty Evangelists Are 'Vocal Generation'

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — In addressing himself to the youth of the U.S. Congress on Evangelism, Dr. Leighton Ford called them the "vocal generation" and he challenged them to not "be silent here. Listen and learn. But speak. Tell it like it is. Plead. Provoke. Make us mad if you have to. Do it with love and humility. But do it."

Those representing the "vocal generation" accepted Ford's challenge to speak, and responded to the positions which were presented during the Congress. They banded together calling for action and implementation; caucus and small group discussions were formed in order to activate ideas presented and outreach teams were organized for person-to-person evangelism in the downtown area of Minneapolis in an attempt to put challenges to work.

According to the youth delegates, "the papers presented do not express options for evangelism in the seventies but imperatives." In an urgent challenge to the "over thirty generation" to put their works where their words are, a spokesman for the youth stated: "We American Christians tend to flagellate ourselves for past wrongs. We weep with seemng genuine repentance but then comfortably climb back into our secure little ruts."

Keith Miller, well known Episcopal layman, spoke for youth when in dealing with the problem of depersonalization he said, "Young people feel it acutely and are rebelling." His call for people to "be real" was a rallying point for a youth caucus held after Miller's message. Hypocrisy in the church was discussed as a major problem and individual resolution was made for personal honesty.

Many also responded by resolving to work toward an end to the injustices and inequalities in their churches and communities. Although there was generally a favorable response by the youth delegates to the position papers presented, there was a cautious skepticism.

"Until we see those who loudly applaud the ideas presented speak out and make some changes this Congress has accomplished nothing," stated one "under thirty" delegate.

The delegates attempted to relate the words of the speakers to actual situations by attending black caucus groups, listening to demands of the American Indian and supporting the presence of non-delegate students in an evening session.

Local Men In Choir

Two Big Spring men have been selected by audition for membership in the a cappella choir of St. John's College, Winfield, Kan.

Tom Hadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hadley, 1214 E. 18th, and Bill Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Davis Jr., 1003 Wood, are two of the 36 members chosen from more than 100 persons auditioned.

The choir's schedule of performances this year will include concerts at Homecoming in November, the Christmas Festival and the spring home concert. The choir will also make an extended tour of the South in April.

Hadley and Davis are members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, the Rev. W. H. Roth, pastor.

Noted Experts Attend Retreat

BROWNWOOD — An international women's leader and a pastor in the nation's capital will be the principal speakers for the 18th annual Christian Men's Fellowship Retreat of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Texas here this weekend.

Delivering two addresses each will be Miss Helen F. Spaulding of Indianapolis, Indiana, executive secretary of the Christian Women's Fellowship Department of the Disciples' United Christian Missionary Society, and Dr. George R. Davis, minister of National City Christian Church in Washington, D.C.

The retreat will open Friday night and continue through noon Sunday at Lake Brownwood Christian Retreat. Approximately 200 men from Christian Churches throughout the state are expected to attend.

Delbert Downing, Midland, immediate past president, will present the CMF "Area Laymen of the Year" Friday night.

REV. MAXWELL WIGGINS

Bishop Will Speak To Parishioners

The Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Maxwell Wiggins will be guests of St. Mary's Episcopal Church Sept. 26.

There will be a brief Evensong service at 6:30 p.m. followed by an address by the Bishop. Coffee and dessert will be served in the parish hall, and the public is invited to attend the evening's activities.

The speech is being arranged and sponsored by the speaker's program of the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church. Rev. and Mrs. Wiggins will arrive in Big Spring from San Angelo shortly before activities begin.

Bishop Wiggins was born in New Zealand where he was ordained in 1938 and served until 1945. He and Mrs. Wiggins live in Mwanza, Tanzania, in East Africa. His diocese, Victoria Nyanza, lies within the borders of Tanzania, and it is expected his speech will concern some of the efforts of the church in this new country.

More Members

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The number of Lutherans in the world has passed the 75 million mark, climbing 600,000 last year to a total of 75,006,748, the Lutheran World Federation reports. In America, the total rose from 9,170,298 to 9,226,623.

Cocky Cadet Back As Wing Chaplain

A "cocky cadet" who left Big Spring Bombardier School 25 years ago returned here this week as the new wing chaplain at Webb AFB.

Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Frederick J. Kevetter is replacing Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Robert T. Deming who leaves soon for a Southeast Asia assignment.

Chaplain Kevetter's idea of the ministry is "people centered. We hope to provide every possible service to all the people," he said.

He is probably the only chaplain in the Air Force who has aeronautical ratings in four areas. He has earned the wings of a navigator, bombardier, gunner and observer, and has accumulated 26½ years of service, 18½ of them on active duty.

His service career started before World War II as an apprentice seaman in the U.S. Navy. Shortly thereafter he volunteered for the aviation cadet program and came to Webb for bombardier school, then went to Kingman, Ariz., for Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress gunnery school, and then to Hondo, Tex., for navigation training and Omaha, Neb., for crew training.

By the time he had finished his training the war was over and soon afterwards he was discharged. He returned to civilian life, attended William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., and decided to devote his life to Christianity.

Jewell is a Baptist institution and required two hours of Bible study. "This was the first time I had ever really read the Bible and I liked what I read," the chaplain said.

He was graduated from Jewell in 1949 with bachelor of science degrees in history and psychology, and then split his time between New Orleans seminary and summer missionary work with the French in Louisiana. He was graduated from the seminary in 1952 with a bachelor of divinity degree.

All this time he was also serving as a master sergeant in the reserve Army transportation corps.

He was qualified as an Air Force chaplain so he volunteered for Korea in 1953. Instead he was sent to Germany and served as a "site rider," travelling to remote radar and missile sites throughout Germany.

He returned to the states for an assignment at Carswell Air Force Base, Tex., in 1961. While stationed there he earned his master of Theology degree in pastoral care and counseling at Texas Christian University in 1965.

His assignment at Nakhon Phanom Airport, Thailand, in 1968, was termed by the chaplain as "the most rewarding" of his career.

After his Southeast Asia tour of duty and before coming to Webb he was stationed at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, N.C. While at Johnson, he earned his doctor of divinity at William Carter College, N.C.

At Webb, Chaplain Revetter will be in charge of all religious activities of all faiths. He is on the wing commander's staff and is in charge of all other chaplains.

"Returning to this base as a chaplain is quite a challenge to me," he said. "When I was here before, if someone had said that I would return as a chaplain, I wouldn't have believed them."

The chaplain is married and has six children.

ONE IDEA OF GOD

At the entrance to the valley where they buried their kings an ancient and industrious people carved the Sphinx.

This was their idea of God: the body of a lion, suggesting power . . . the face of a man, suggesting personality . . . the whole amazing image suggesting their belief in a MIGHTY deity who could be KNOWN.

Today, in our churches, we worship God as Jesus Christ revealed Him: almighty but merciful . . . knowing and eager to be known . . . loving man and seeking man's love . . . saving all who believe in their Saviour — His Son!

Can the ancient Sphinx have any significance for men and women like ourselves who have before us the Gospel and example of Christ?

Only this: As long as it remains, the awesome Sphinx will remind us of man's search for God. Just as our own church bells remind us of our opportunity to know, love, and serve Him!

THE PAIN IN MAYS IS MOSTLY IN THE KNEE — San Francisco's Willie Mays grimaces as he goes down after swinging and missing a pitch in first inning Thursday against Houston Astros. Mays, shooting for his 600th career homer, left the game in the third inning after complaining he wasn't feeling well. San Francisco whipped the Astros, 9-3.

Seaver Keeps Streak Alive

By The Associated Press

On a cold September night in Canada, Manager Gil Hodges and his New York Mets were thankful they had their Tom Seaver around to keep them warm.

The brilliant young right-hander kept the red-hot Mets pennant drive burning brightly with a five-hit shutout in a 2-0 victory over Montreal Thursday night that helped New York boost its lead back to five games in the National League east.

"I had to work fast in the last couple of innings because I started to feel the cold," said Seaver of the 50-degree weather that was almost as cold as the Mets' only serious challenger, the Chicago Cubs.

CUBS DROP ANOTHER

The Cubs dropped a 5-3 decision to Philadelphia in an afternoon game—their 12th setback in 15 games—in falling six games back of New York in the loss column. The Mets' magic number for clinching the divisional title was reduced to eight.

Meanwhile, the West Division race remained as scrambled as ever as Los Angeles knocked Atlanta out of first place with a 5-2 victory and San Francisco took over the top spot by beating Houston 9-3.

The Giants, however, hold only a half-game lead over the Dodgers and the Braves, while fourth-place Cincinnati is just two games off the pace despite a 7-1 loss at San Diego.

St. Louis nipped Pittsburgh 8-7 in the other NL game.

Seaver struck out nine in increasing his season total to 200 and kept the five hits well spaced in adding another chapter to the Mets' fantastic pitching during their pennant drive.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A thousand more paying customers saw the Dallas Cowboy-NY Jet game in Dallas than did the Pokes in a home effort against Green Bay, yet both turnouts were announced as capacity in the Cotton Bowl.

The paid crowd in the Dallas-New York game was reported at 74,771 and that against Green Bay at 73,764.

Johnny Hedges of Big Spring nailed down a first string berth from the start at Angelo State College, an amazing feat for a freshman.

Other boys of this immediate area playing with the Rams include Bobby Pherigo, 180-pound junior rover from Coahoma; Johnny Matthews, defensive end from Colorado City; Randy Parker, wingback from Colorado City; and Terry Kinard, quarterback from Lamesa.

Matthews, Parker and Kinard are also first-year students.

Everyone of the 20 writers who took part in the 1969 Southwest Conference press tour picked Rice to finish dead last in the football race.

Perhaps the scribes were trying to tell the Owls something: That the race could becoming too swift for the league's smallest school.

No schools but Arkansas and Texas got first place votes in the balloting.

* * * *

In its annual pre-season collegiate football poll, Football News places Texas second (immediately behind Ohio State), Arkansas third and relegates Houston to tenth.

Several forecasters had had Houston higher than that.

Texas and Arkansas may finish that well in the final ratings but also-rans in a league rarely fare as well, and one team or the other is apt to strike its colors when the Longhorns and Hogs clash.

Attendance in the Continental League, of which the West Texas Rufneks are a part, reportedly is up 10 per cent over last year.

Fan support, however, remains a problem with the Rufneks.

When Ron Skosnik was acquired by the Rufneks from the Ohio Valley club, he brought a 40.6-yard punting average with him.

Colorado City's Don Maynard, star receiver for the New York Jets, is part owner of Bales Transmission, an automotive service business.

The concern is named for Kent Bales. Joe Namath is the other part of the controlling triumvirate.

The Atlanta Braves' Hank Aaron threatened to quit baseball the other day because of a feud with radio announcer Milo Hamilton, knowing full well that Hamilton will be the one muzzled if the problem comes to a showdown.

Aaron has been stewing for two years about Hamilton, or ever since the announcer pointed to Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente and said he was the premier outfielder in the game.

Clemente probably was king of the hill two years ago. Aaron likely is No. One now.

Feuds come and go in baseball and other sports. In his fit of pique, Aaron did reveal, however, that he is dead serious about zeroing in on Babe Ruth's major league home run record of 714, which means he expects to slip past Willie Mays for the runner-up spot perhaps by 1970 and certainly no later than 1971.

If you think the Houston Astros feel badly about trading Mike Cuellar to Baltimore, think how the Atlanta Braves must feel about sending Dennis Menke of Houston. Menke is class, despite the fact that he doesn't have the biggest range afield.

They say that the straw which broke the camel's back in the Lou Rymkus-Nash Dowdle feud in Midland, where Lou checked out as coach of the West Texas Rufneks, was when Lou refused to give Dowdle his unlisted telephone number.

Lou had accused Dowdle of too much interference. Rymkus is still in Midland, by the way, and apparently being paid. His contract extends through 1970.

Cards Likely To Nip Pokes, Scribe Says

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Let's see. Allie Sherman is out. Vince Lombardi is in Washington. Joe Namath has sold out Bachelors III. And John Unitas and Gale Sayers are back.

The new National Football league season opens Sunday with a sizzler—Los Angeles at Baltimore—and the American Football League already is heading into a second week.

Everybody seems to be moving but the same old Hand picker is back again for another stab. All games are Sunday afternoon, unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Baltimore 24, Los Angeles 17—Unitas is back and the Colts have won six straight in the exhibition season. A couple of tough defensive clubs. Rams have Les Josephson and Larry Smith to run but miss Bernie Casey as a target for Roman Gabriel. Terry Colen, filling in for Jerry Hill, has a knee problem so Unitas had better be hot.

Green Bay 17, Chicago 13—Packers' offense started to click when Travis Williams took over. Bart Starr healthy and rebuilt offensive line improving. Gale Sayers could break it open. Packers better than in 19-9 loss in exhibition.

Cleveland 24, Philadelphia 14—New Astroturf won't help Jerry Williams' Eagles, although Browns are hurting in defensive backfield. Loss of Gary Pettigrew blow to Eagles. Leroy Kelly primed for fast start with rookie Ron Johnson to help.

Minnesota 24, New York 21—Could be an upset if Giants are keyed up to "show Allie". Vikings won exhibition, using reserves in second half. Fran Tarkenton would like to do a job on his old mates but the Giants have lost 14 straight to the West.

St. Louis 27, Dallas 21—The Cards to upend the Cowboys, especially if Craig Morton can't go. Charley Johnson's tosses to Jackie Smith should do the job. Loss of Bob Hayes cripples Dallas but rookie Calvin Hill looks like an exciting runner.

Detroit 21, Pittsburgh 10—Mel Farr probable despite virus and now fully recovered from knee surgery; Lem Barney in the secondary and the Lions' rush line will give Dick Shiner a rough afternoon.

Washington 17, New Orleans 14—Sonny Jurgensen should be enough to give Vince Lombardi his first win as Redskins' coach. Lions bombed Saints in final exhibition. However, New Orleans holds 2-1 edge over Washington in series.

San Francisco 28, Atlanta 17—Winless 49ers who lost all exhibition games must go all out against Norm Van Brocklin's charged-up Falcons, who have been getting strong efforts from Jim Butler and Junior Coffey.

Indiana Starts Promising Year

By The Associated Press

Indiana has the potential, Penn State has a puzzle, and Southern California has a problem as most of the nation's major college football teams open the 1969 season Saturday.

Indiana's power-packed Hoosiers, most everyone's choice to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl this year since Ohio State cannot repeat for the trip, plays at Kentucky in their curtain-raiser.

Penn State, ranked No. 2 in the nation last year, faces "an unknown quantity" in Navy, according to Coach Joe Paterno.

And Southern California, which lost to top-ranked Ohio State in the Rose Bowl last year, meets Nebraska with the possibility that No. 1 quarterback Jimmy Jones will be on the shelf.

Kentucky will be eager for a successful start under new coach John Ray, formerly with Notre Dame. But it appears that the hot shot Hoosiers have too much power with the passing of Harry Gonso and running of John Isenbarger and Jade Butcher.

Paterno says Penn State's game with Navy is the most difficult opener he's faced.

"We know so little about Navy," said Paterno. "They have a new coach, new system and new staff. They're an unknown quantity."

The Middies, who meet Penn State at Annapolis, Md., are under the guidance of Rick Forzano, former coach of Connecticut and an assistant with the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League.

Coach John McKay of Southern California says that Jones, a highly touted sophomore has been troubled the past several days with muscle spasms in his back and may not play at all.

Other top games Saturday find Northwestern at Notre Dame; Purdue at TCU; Washington State at Illinois; Oregon State at Iowa; Vanderbilt at Michigan; Washington at Michigan State; Oklahoma at Wisconsin; Texas at California and Iowa State at Syracuse.

Also Oklahoma State at Arkansas; Houston at Florida; SMU, at Georgia Tech; North Carolina at North Carolina State; Alabama at Virginia Tech and these night games, Texas A&M at LSU; Pitt at UCLA; Kansas State at Baylor and Kansas at Texas Tech.

Coahoma Set For Winters

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs play their first game for the home folks at 8 o'clock tonight, meeting Class AA Winters.

Although the Blizzards were cooled off by Sonora, 21-0, last week, coach Bernie Hagins of Coahoma said Winters is dangerous and explosive.

Jerry Gibson is coach of the Blizzards.

In fullback Arlon Barnes, the Blizzards have a fine running back. He was a regular in the Winters alignment last year.

Quarterback Ronnie Wilson of the Blizzards is an able operative, too, and is adept at carrying the ball.

Coahoma ran up a big score in the first half against well-regarded Rankin last week, after which Hagins was content to look at his reserves. Final score was 32-13.

Johnny Ted Fowler counted 24 points for Coahoma while Dean Richters had four and Gaylon Harrison and Kenny Clanton two each.

Coahoma officials expect one of the biggest opening night crowds, although not many Winters people are likely to accompany their team.

Probable starters:

COAHOMA

E—Gaylon Harrison 155 and Toby Green 140; T—Bruce Allen 185 and Don Richters 190; G—Dickie Lepard 170 and Bill Bailey 150; C—Joe Best 180; QB—Kenny Clanton 160; HB—Dean Richters 170 and James Dunn 145; FB—Johnny Ted Fowler 165.

Sands Mustangs Seeking First Win At Loraine

SANDS — Coach James Blake takes his Sands Mustangs to Loraine tonight to face that city's high-scoring Bulldogs. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Although the Ponies have lost guard Randy Clemens and end Robert Herren to injuries, Blake says his team is ready for the Bulldogs.

Felix Robles, Paul Hopper and Marcy Robles will all see more action on defense for the Mustangs tonight.

Loraine builds its attack around quarterback Tim Hamilton and tailback Ronald Jones. The two scored 40 points in Loraine's 48-22 conquest of Hermleigh last week.

John Clark, formerly of Flower Grove, is coach of the Loraine team.

Probable Sands starters:

E—Ronnie Ooks 151 and Perry Gillespie 135; T—Edward Barraza 175 and Gavino Rodriquez 180 or Ricky Ooks 125; G—Steve Herren 126 and Kelly Gaskins 155; C—Larry Shaw 180; QB—Steve Herm 140; HB—Johnny Peugh 136 and Eddie Newcomer 134; FB—Reggie Hambrick 145.

Gra-Y Conclave Set Saturday

The YMCA Gra-Y league will formally be organized at the Y at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The league still needs several helpers, according to Eddie Trice, Y physical training director. Those who would like to work with the program have an open invitation to attend Saturday's meeting, Trice said.

Coaches named are:

Airport-Cedar Crest — Brian Minturn and Jerry Prather; Boydstun — Jim Fryar; College Heights — Bill Marlin; Lakeview-Bauer — Sam Dawson in charge; Moss — Harry McKinney; Park Hill-Marcy — Delnor Poss; Kentwood — Bill Henry and Russy Rutledge; Washington — Paul Jenkins.

Steers Hold 5-3 Edge In Series

Big Spring holds a 5-3 edge in its all-time football series with Midland Lee but hasn't beaten the Rebels since 1966.

Lee captured the 1967 collision between the clubs, 19-7, and won again last year, 24-8.

Scores of past games:

1961—BS 14 Lee 0.
1962—BS 19 Lee 7.

Steers, Rebels Seek First Wins Tonight

Two teams trying to bounce back from frustrating defeats suffered in inaugural games last week, Big Spring and Midland Lee, tangle in Midland's Memorial Stadium at 8 o'clock this evening.

The winner will bask in the spotlight of the conference lead at least for one week. No clear cut favorite has been established.

Both teams are still of unknown quality. Big Spring left much to be desired offensively in a 6-0 loss to Lubbock Monterey. Lee found it could score but couldn't score enough and dropped a one-point decision to Lubbock High.

Unless the Longhorns pick up their feet and move the ball better than they did against Monterey, the best they can hope for this year is a tie. They gained only 47 yards rushing the ball against the Plainsmen and not much more than that through the air.

One of their big problems was an inability to hold onto the ball. Passer Gary Hinds usually was on target but the receivers caught only eight of 22 aerials.

Lee was lauded by its coach Willie Brooks, for its battle movements. Brooks particularly had words of praise for quarterback Robb Graham and fullback Keith Shaw. Shaw wasn't even sure he'd start the game against the Westerners but he scored two touchdowns, rushed for 50 yards and excelled in blocking.

Brooks says a questionable pass interference call against the Rebels probably cost Lee the win last weekend. The final score was 27-26 and Lubbock went on in for the deciding score after retaining possession of the ball deep in Lee territory after pass interference was signaled.

Neither team will be at full strength. Herman Evans, Big Spring's fastest back, is still out with a bruised foot. Lee lost nose guard Bill Schriber, who dislocated an elbow against Lubbock. His place will probably be taken by 220-pound Billy Hendrix, who was the regular at the position until he was hurt two weeks ago.

Steer scouts speak highly of the talents of the Lee tackles, Gene Petro and Ed Bailey, guard Russell Fox, who pulls and traps very well; and halfback Alan Wilson, the Rebs' fastest back who will carry the ball a lot of time on sweeps.

Lee appears to be deeper in talent than Big Spring and Brooks tries to two-platoon as much as possible.

Snyder Ties '68 Champs

LUBBOCK — Snyder staged an upset of massive proportions by tying Lubbock Estacado, last year's State AAA champions, 7-7, here Thursday night.

The upstart Tigers, edged, 7-6, last week by Lamesa, actually outgained the Matadors, 244 yards to 221, and made 19 first downs to 12 for Estacado.

Eddie McClain gained 118 yards in 22 carries for Snyder. He counted the Snyder touchdown on a one-yard plunge at the end of a 46-yard drive. Larry Wall added the PAT.

Estacado drove 70 yards for its TD, Eddie Wallace powering in from two yards away. Larry Miller tacked on the extra point.

The Matadors had won 15 straight games going into the contest.

Stanton Bees Win, 14 To 0

RANKIN — Stanton's B team blanked Rankin, 14-0, in its first football game of the season here Thursday night.

Freshman Dwayne McMeans and sophomore Frankie Barnhill plunged into the end zones for Stanton.

Rankin advanced to Stanton's one but the Bison forward wall caused a Devil fumble and freshman Willie Wells recovered the ball for Stanton.

Barnhill ran for 158 of Stanton's 200 yards on the ground. Rankin gained only 96 yards rushing.

Stanton made 15 first downs to 10 for Rankin, 56 yards passing to 68 for the Devils and accepted six penalties for 38 yards to four for 40 paces for the foe.

Coach Phillip Stovall took 35 boys on the trip and played 30 of them.

We also sell some superior domestic used cars.

May sound funny coming from a Volkswagen dealer, but it's not.
It's a fact.
Because we get all kinds of cars as trade-ins.
And as they come in, whether they're Chevys, Fords, Caddies, or VWs, our mechanics put them through a rigid 16-point safety and performance test.
The ones that pass get the complete treatment.

They're tuned up, tightened, completely reconditioned. And then we guarantee them 100% for the repair or replacement of all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles.
We simply can't afford to sell an unsatisfactory used car. Because every used car we sell carries the Volkswagen reputation with it. No matter what make it is.

TROY, Maine (AP) — Businessmen in this town with only 500 residents and no police department have their own answer to an outbreak of burglaries.

They set up a committee to patrol the business area at night.

Big Crackdown On U. S. Smut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, responding to public demand for a crackdown, has quietly mounted an extensive campaign against huge mail-order distributors of pornography.

As a result, 20 persons and 22 companies have been indicted or arrested during the past eight months on charges of distributing obscene materials.

A new round of prosecutions is expected in the next two weeks, and Justice Department lawyers are evaluating results from 14 investigations to determine if grand jury action should be sought.

The antipornography activity —a joint effort by the Justice and Post Office departments— followed two years of little action resulting from broad interpretations of Supreme Court decisions on obscenity.

But Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell differed with the previous administration on interpretation of the opinions and he ordered more vigorous prosecution.

In a letter to Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, Mitchell laid down his views on prosecuting smut peddlers, emphasizing the main thrust of enforcement should be against big interstate distributors.

"The prosecutive efforts of the department . . .," he told Blount, "are aimed at bringing to trial at the earliest possible dates the large mail order distributors presently under indictment."

Mitchell presented to Congress earlier this summer two new proposals aimed at protecting minors and stopping questionable material from reaching persons who don't want to get it in the mail.

In deciding to start new test cases, Mitchell particularly emphasized the need for amplification of Supreme Court opinions which banned publications that might be "harmful to children" although not legally obscene for adults.

Department sources said about six new cases are ready for presentation to grand juries possibly within two weeks.

Among those already being prosecuted or under investigation, the department claims, is "the vast majority of the large-scale dealers in pornographic material." The officials list "about 20 to 25 large corporations" that traffic in pornography.

The most recent indictment is against Marvin Miller, 40, who operates a publishing business in Southern California.

A federal grand jury in Los Angeles indicted Miller and Covina Publishing Inc. Tuesday on 27 counts involving violations of federal obscenity statutes.

The first 17 counts accused him of mailing obscene advertisements to individuals as well as churches, schools and a Young Women's Christian Association facility.

Miller and his operations were described in an Associated Press dispatch last June 29.

Landfill Program Is Explained

Gerald A. Miller, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, spoke to members of the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers Thursday night in Midland.

Miller discussed the santary landfill operations here. The project has received great attention state-wide as a guide to other communities beginning a landfill project, he said.

"This is the first such project in the state where agriculture land is reclaimed using sanitary waste," Miller explained.

Miller is a graduate of Texas A&M University, and is an experienced range conservationist. He is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee.

Administrators, Teachers Engage In Area Workshops

The West Texas Education Center, Midland, has been holding meetings, seminars, and workshops this week which include administrators and teachers from Big Spring schools.

Keith Swim, director of federal programs, and Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent, were in Midland Thursday attending a Career Opportunities Study Council with other community action representatives and adult basic education directors from Region 15.

Dr. David A. Sands, executive director of the education center, was to present a prospectus which has been tentatively approved by Career Opportunities in Washington, D.C., for a program in education professions to rural and urban low income populations and to Vietnam war veterans.

A "Helping Hands" workshop for teachers and their aides was held Wednesday at the Bauer Elementary School and the high school auditorium by the West Texas Education Center.

Mrs. Donna Peck, field consultant and teacher aide specialist for the Southwestern Cooperative Educational Laboratory, Albuquerque, N.M., was the main speaker and consultant for the two workshops. The session for elementary teachers was at 3 p.m. and for secondary teachers at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Both sessions were devoted to better understanding of the roles of teachers and aides and how they can work together as a team.

The regular monthly meeting of administrators of District 18 was held Wednesday at Ector Independent School District office in Odessa and four Big Spring representatives attended. S. M. Anderson, superintendent; Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent, Noel Reed, director of special services; and Keith Swim, director of federal programs, went to the meeting which featured a panel discussion on life-time sports.

A special staff meeting for Big Spring teachers was called at the district administration office at 3 p.m. Monday to hear Dr. Uvaldo H. Palomares, director of the Human Development Training Institute, San Diego, Calif., talk on interpersonal relationships of teachers and children. About 20 teachers attended the session.

Candy Barr's Trial Dec. 1

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Candy Barr, the baby-faced strip dancer, will go on trial Dec. 1 on charges of marijuana possession, Judge Joe Dibrell decided Thursday.

Her trial originally was set for Sept. 22. She asked for a pre-trial hearing today, but it appeared that a rape trial would delay the session.

However, Judge Dibrell called the pre-trial hearing for Candy Barr during a pause in the assault trial.

Candy Barr was one of the best-known characters of the stripper clubs in Dallas until she went to prison Dec. 4, 1959, in another marijuana case.

She served a little more than three years of her 15-year sentence and then received a full pardon.

In between her arrest and prison term, she became the toast of night clubs in Las Vegas, the West Coast and New Orleans.

She was arrested March 11 this year when officers awaited her when she returned to her room about 8 a.m. The officers said they earlier searched her room and found fragments of marijuana in shoe boxes.

She was indicted March 14 on charges of marijuana possession under the non-stage name she prefers, Juanita Dale Phillips.

Opening lead: Five of ◇

Declarer had considerably more to fear from one defender than the other in today's hand. Failure on his part to neutralize the dangerous hand led to his downfall.

Against the final contract of four spades, West chose the five of diamonds as his opening lead, and the nine was played from dummy in the hope that East would be induced to cover. East however could not have obliged even had that been his desire, and South overtook the nine with the ace.

A heart was led at trick two and, when West followed with the five, the nine was played from dummy in an attempt to force out a high honor. Unfortunately for the declarer, East won the trick with the ten of hearts and made the killing return of a trump.

South's cause was now irretrievably lost. If he played the ace of spades from his hand, West would rise with the ace on the next heart lead, play the king of spades to draw North's last trump and then lead another heart—enabling his partner to cash the setting trick in that suit. If declarer took a trump finesse when East returned a spade, West would win with the king and play another trump so that South would be obliged to concede two more heart tricks in the end.

Declarer's error arose from his failure to control the lead. Since it is his desire to ruff a heart if possible, he must exert his efforts toward preventing East from getting in to return a trump.

Observe the effect South obtains by crossing over to the ace of clubs at trick two and then leading the nine of hearts from dummy. If East covers with the ten of hearts, declarer plays the jack forcing out West's ace. The latter cannot lead a trump without sacrificing his spade trick, and South is eventually able to ruff out his third heart.

If East puts up the king of hearts when the nine is led, in order to lead a trump, declarer will no longer require the ruff. The queen of hearts will drive out the ace and South's jack becomes a winner in its own right.

Tomato Exports Grab Spotlight

MEXICO CITY (AP) — U.S. and Mexican tomato producers will meet in Mexico City to discuss the future of Mexican tomato exports to the United States.

The meeting, scheduled for Sept. 22-24, will be attended also by U.S. and Mexican government officials.

A spokesman for the organizing committee said the meeting will be informal and will discuss the expected size of the U. S. market and potential Mexican exports.

Last year Mexican exports, despite some restrictions, totalled 39 per cent of the U.S. winter tomato market.

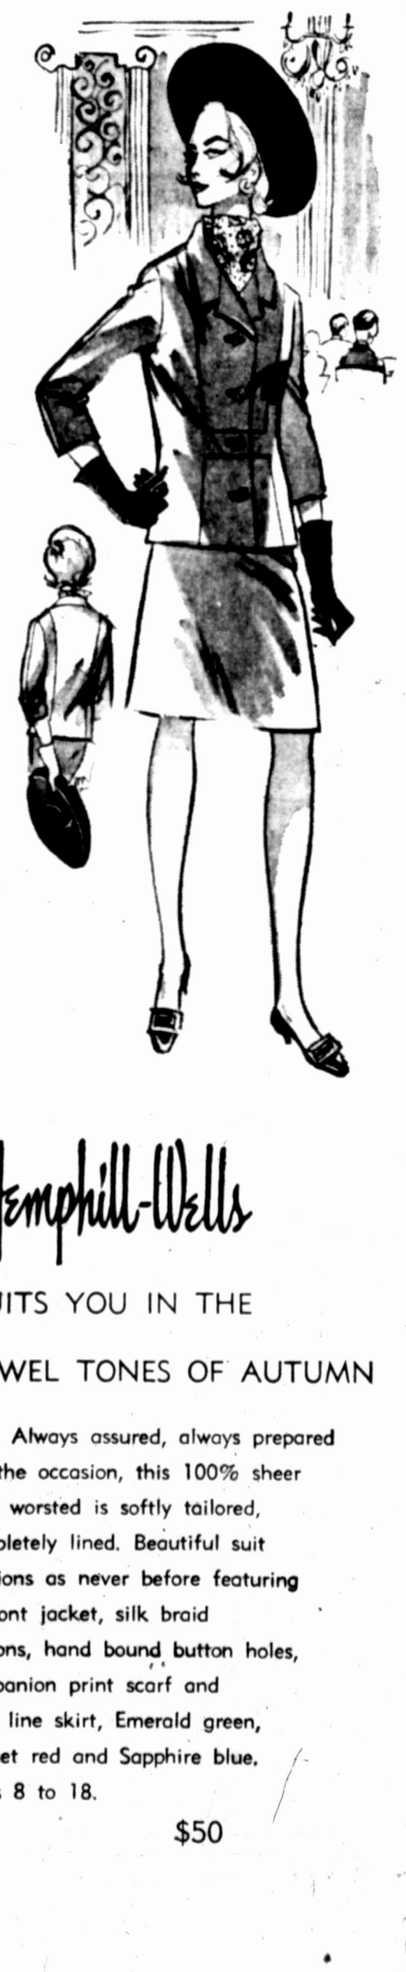

Band Director To Get Haircut

CAMP HILL, Pa. (AP) — Backed up by the school board, Supt. Stanton W. Simkins, has told the 24-year-old high school band director, Reese Llewellyn, he would have to cut his hair as he was setting a bad example for the pupils.

"It was not because his hair was not well kept," Simkins said. "It was not a lack of grooming. It was just long."

Llewellyn, who said he has worn his hair the same length since joining the faculty three years ago, called "this whole thing ridiculous." But, according to Simkins, he agreed to a haircut.
