Students to begin spring break

When Iowa Park classes are dismissed tomorrow afternoon, students will begin their spring break, in observation of the Easter holiday.

Classes are not scheduled to resume until April 19, and there are only 29 more days of school remaining on the calendar. May 28 is the final day of the school's calendar, which includes final exams.

Weather spotters school Tuesday

A weather spotters school will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Holiday High School auditorium.

All area fire department personnel and interested citizens are encouraged to attend, according to a spokesman.

Library board making plans

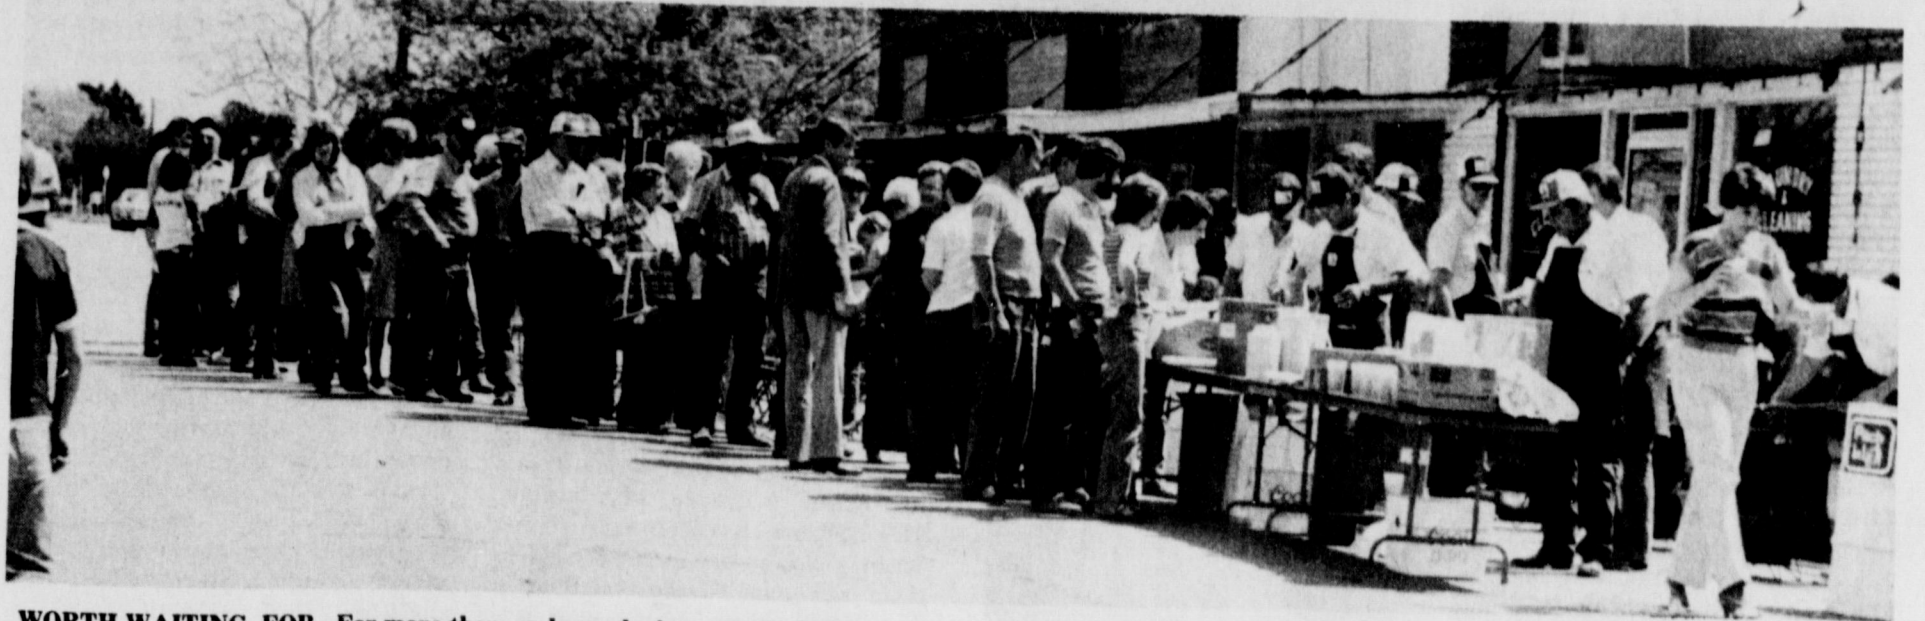

Plans to help finance renovation of the Tom Burnett Library were made at a meeting of the library board Thursday, and another meeting to receive additional financing information is slated for this evening at the city council chambers.

A spring festival has been set May 15. Similar to the annual Whoop-Do held in the fall, all local organizations are being asked to participate in a carnival-type activity in the 100 block of East Cash.

The organizations are being asked to donate all proceeds, after expenses, to the library fund, and Mrs. W.A. George, board president, said response from the groups has been overwhelming.

Two persons from Fort Worth are to meet with the board at 7 this evening. A film will be shown, and the meeting is open to the public as well as the board, Mrs. George said.

WORTH WAITING FOR - For more than an hour, during noon Saturday, the line was long for those taking advantage of the public feed put on by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners. The food was cooked on the curb, in front of their newly renovated MuleBarn at 111 W. Cash. More than 400 persons dined inside or seated in chairs on the sidewalk as the local civic organization served fish, chili, beans, fried potatoes, cole slaw, hush puppies and ice cream.

No new faces chosen by city, school voters

There'll be no new faces on either the city council or school board after Saturday's election, until one appointment is made.

Charlie Lee, the only candidate on the ballot for mayor, won't be new because he has just completed his first year as alderman.

Incumbent Bud Thompson was re-elected. The other alderman elected was George Hammonds, and he won't be new because he was on the council two years ago.

Apparently the only new face on the council will be the person appointed Monday night to fill the remaining term of Lee's. Should council members appoint the next highest vote-getter in the election, that would be newcomer Johnny Coker, who more than doubled the third-highest candidate.

Ray Hicks, who was appointed to the school board to fill an unexpired term, was successful in his first bid for election as trustee. Both trustee incumbents, Roy Boutwell and Martha Dudley, were returned to their seats.

In a relatively light, but normal, turnout of voters, 558 ballots were cast in the city election and 62 more, 620, voted in the school election.

As usual, the most votes were cast at the Kidwell box, 447 in the city election and 459 in the school election. Bradford's box drew 111 city ballots and 143 school ballots. Eighteen voters turned out at Valley View in the school election.

CITY VOTING

Thompson was the leading vote receiver in the city election, attracting 308. Hammonds received 250, but Coker was close behind with 239. Other candidates included: Herman Rains, 114; Ken Thornton, 86; Walter Berbee, 58 and John Knight 14.

Lee received 450 votes for mayor, but there were a number of write-in votes. Jim Sargent received 12, Buck Voyles 10, David Padgett 6, Henry Entrop 2, and one each for Bill Spruiell, Paul Shay and David Ross.

The write-ins for alderman weren't so numerous. Bob Wilson and Lita Watson each received two, and Donald Hill, Earl Denny, Dave Gay and John Orrego polled one each.

TRUSTEE ELECTION

Voting was very close in the school election. Hicks received 467, Boutwell 446 and Dudley 443.

But challenger Virginia Klinkerman received 417.

Most of the difference in the final count were in boxes other than Kidwell, where Klinkerman received 324, Boutwell 326, Dudley 327 and Hicks 328.

Six received write-in votes. Tom Venhaus and China B. Smith got four, Bob Goodknight two and Barbara Padgett, James England and T. Carlson one apiece.

School board meeting tonight; city Monday

School trustees elected Saturday will be administered the oath of office and the board will reorganize in a meeting at 7:30 this evening in the administration building.

The regular monthly meeting will be tonight instead of the second Tuesday, because next week conflicts with the Easter holidays.

Oaths of office will be administered to city officials Monday evening in council chambers, but after all "old business" has been disposed of by the current administration.

Canvassing the votes and the other activities concerning the recent election are first items on the board's agenda, which is lengthy this month.

Trustees will open bids submitted on the purchase of new band instruments, and reconsider bids offered last month on a pickup.

Trustees are to cast ballots for Region 9 board of director members, adopt policies for the VAC program, consider action on a kindergarten survey and supplemental kindergarten textbook materials, and also consider action on a five-year plan.

Also to be considered will be a bid on the building trades house at 710 W. Clara, and appointment of personnel to negotiate contracts for future house sales.

In other business, trustees will elect new personnel, including an elementary counselor, and consider contracts for maintenance, custodial, transportation and cafeteria personnel.

CITY MEETING

The city's meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. with consideration of an ordinance amending the zoning laws of the city, consider a request to advertise for bids to pave a block of Coleman Ave., and appoint a new police officer.

Following those actions, the ballots will be canvassed and oath of office will be administered to those elected Saturday. The new council is to appoint someone to fill Charlie Lee's unexpired term as alderman, since he has been elected mayor, and a mayor pro tem is to be named.

A reception for new and outgoing council members, and their wives, is to follow the meeting. It will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Gilmore faces new indictments

Already facing a trial to begin April 19 in federal court, Iowa Parkan Billy Gilmore has now been indicted on three counts by the county grand jury.

Sealed indictments on three counts of theft were handed down Wednesday of last week by the grand jury, but Gilmore, being informed of the action over the weekend, turned himself in Monday morning before 30th District Judge Calvin Ashley.

He was released on $2,500 bond on each count.

Two of the indictments allege that currency between the amounts of $200 and $10,000 was taken, and the other alleges the theft of a gasoline engine.

Upon advice of his attorney, Hank Anderson, Gilmore could not make a statement concerning the indictments, and Anderson was not available for comment.

A federal grand jury indicted Gilmore Feb. 24 on 10 counts of mail fraud, concerning billing for work not done. That trial has been set to begin at 9 a.m. April 19 in federal court in Wichita Falls.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE - Mrs. Elizabeth Meux, community chairperson representing Iowa Park and Wichita Falls, recently attended a Muscular Dystrophy Association conference in Dallas. The Iowa Park High School teacher poses with Darold Haddican, state poster child.

Burned youth's return home delayed six weeks

The young Iowa Park boy recovering from burns suffered the last week of February is ready to change doctors.

Kevin Pace, 8, remains in Shriners' Burn Clinic in Galveston. He tells his father, David, that he feels well enough to come home, but his doctor says it may be another six weeks yet.

The father was explaining how good Kevin's attitude is, because the youth really likes all the doctors caring for him at the clinic.

One cause for the delayed return is because doctors are waiting for the second grafting to heal before a third surgery is undertaken.

David Pace related a conference with a doctor who said young Kevin had recovered so rapidly that he couldn't explain it. "There must have been a lot of prayers given by our friends," David said.

The youth was burned near his home when clothing he was wearing became ignited from a grassfire.

"Several people have called and offered to help any way they can," David said.

Mail call is the highlight of Kevin's day, his father related. Anyone wanting to write to Kevin can address mail in care of Shriners' Burn Institute, 610 Texas Avenue, Galveston, 77550.

Styles receives shock probation

David Styles was granted shock probation Tuesday in 97th District Court in Archer City.

The Wichita Falls resident who owns Styles Tank Truck Service at Kamay was released after serving five months of a 10-year prison sentence for theft of crude oil in Archer County.

Judge Frank Douthitt placed conditions on the probation: to pay restitution not yet paid and to speak before groups in relation to the case history, whenever called upon.

Styles was released from custody after the hearing.

James Morris, local attorney representing Styles, said "David is very grateful for his second chance."

Shock probation is available to some first-time felony offenders after having served a minimum of 60 days of a sentence.

Watson, White nuptial vows exchanged here Sunday

When the organ sounded the strains of "Prelude in Classic Style" by Gordon Young Sunday afternoon, Miss Lisa Wynne Watson entered the sanctuary of First Christian Church with her father who escorted her to the altar for her to exchange marriage vows with Steve Rodney White. Before leaving the altar, the bride's father, speaking for himself and her mother, presented her in marriage.

Rev. Dale Walling, minister, directed the couple in reciting the vows that they had written. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earl F. Watson and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Jack White of Campbell.

The bride was exquisite in a white silk organza gown that lent itself to the airy delicacy of a spring wedding. Artistic use of Chantilly lace appliques and seed pearls combined to give splendor to the gown.

The natural waist was designed with a modified sweetheart neckline that dipped in the back, sheer yoke showered with the appliques and seed pearls, sheer bishop sleeves with wide Chantilly lace cuffs ruffled with organza at the wrists. Dainty self-covered buttons extended from the dip in the neckline to the waistline in the back of the bodice. The full skirt claimed special attention with panels of lace that added grace to the front, formed the hemlines of the skirt and chapel train.

The bride's veil of imported illusion adorned with floral edging cascaded in two tiers from a cap of lace and pearls, made by her mother. Her silk bouquet created of white azaleas, peach rosebuds, lavender forget me nots, yellow lantanas and English ivy, the greenery denoting wedding bliss, added a perfect touch to her gown.

Her bridal traditions of special interest included a gold brooch that belonged to her late great-grandmother loaned to her by her aunt, Mrs. Peter Hinchliffe of Huddersfield, England, for "something borrowed." The brooch contained a picture of the original owner. "Something old" was two sixpences taken from the groom's coin collection. "Something new" was a lace handkerchief from

MRS. STEVE RODNEY WHITE

England, and her garter was the "something blue" accessory.

Mrs. Bill Bates, organist, gave a concert of prelude music while wedding guests were assembling. Her selections included "Claire de Lune," "Traumerai," "Panis Angelicus," "Liebestraum," "Arioso," and "Romance from Les Preludes." She accompanied Mrs. Carl Watson, the bride's sister-in-law, who sang "Longer." At the close of the service, Mrs. Watson sang "Whither Thou Goest" and Mrs. Bates concluded her offerings by playing "Easter Recessional" while the bridal party exited from the church.

The altar was impressively decorated with two fifteen-branched candelabra traced with sprengeri fern from which burning cathedral candles arose, and a bouquet of white silk lilies and stephanotis on the baptistry ledge. A prayer bench in the upper altar and the awe-inspiring three-branched unity candelabrum in the lower altar completed the setting.

As the bride and groom were exiting from the church after they had set flame to the unity candle to symbolize their oneness, she paused by his mother to present her with a red silk rose, a gesture of love that she had bestowed upon her mother on the way to the altar.

Miss Karen Watson of Denver, Colo., sister of the bride, was her honor attendant. She wore a cream silk blouse fashioned with a high lace neckline, delicately-embroidered sheer yoke and lace insets extending from the yoke to the waistline in front. Her floor length cream silk skirt impressed with peach, lavender and yellow floral designs was worn over peach silk. She carried a silk bouquet of yellow azaleas, peach morning glories, lavender forget-me-nots, English ivy and ribbon streamers to match. Mrs. Matt Horn of Burkburnett and Mrs. Peg Layton of Mulvane, Kansas, were the bridesmaids, and their gowns and bouquets were identical to Miss Watson's except for the colors of their underskirts which were lavender and yellow, respectively.

The groom's tuxedo consisted of a light gray cut-away coat, matching pants, white shirt, vest and ascot tie. He wore a boutonniere formed of white stephanotis, peach forget-me-nots and English ivy. His attendants, ushers and candlelighters wore less formal gray tuxedos with pleated shirts and bow ties.

Lee Griffin of Tulsa, Okla. was best man and the groomsmen were Ron Tripp of Irving and Rick White of Lake Worth, brother of the groom. Guests were ushered by Carl Watson of Grand Prairie and Wayne Watson of Iowa Park, brothers of the bride, Kevin White and Rodney White of Plano, sons of the groom, lighted the candles for the service.

The bride's mother was attired in a street-length silver-striped candle-light chiffon dress styled with a ruffled high neck accented with pearl buttons which were repeated on the cuffs of the long sleeves. The groom's mother wore a sky blue chiffon street-length dress made with ruffled neckline and bodice adorned with crystal buttons, and a full skirt. Each wore a silk corsage emphasizing the flowers and colors chosen for the wedding.

Miss Elaine Cole of Fort Worth secured signatures of wedding guests in the church foyer at a table laid with white lace over yellow linen. The appointment with greatest sentimental interest was the couple's wedding invitation in a decorative frame which also held the wedding dates of two sets of the bride's paternal ancestors who were also married April 4, her great-great-grandparents were married on that date in 1867, and her great-grandparents were married in 1899.

The bride's parents honored the newlyweds at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Beauty, refinement and sentiment were reflected in the bride's table draped with an ecru cutwork cloth made by the bride's late great-grandmother, over peach linen. The three-tiered cake was the centerpiece and gave magnificent and dignified accent to the table decor. In front of the confection were crystal wedding ring candleholders filled with peach candles. Other appointments were the crystal punch service and peach napkins with "Lisa and Steve" printed in silver.

The white cake was an ornate confection featuring refreshingly different decorations in the bride's colors. Each tier was accented with four bouquets of royal frosting flowers consisting of peach morning glories, lavender forget-me-nots, yellow azaleas with pale green leaves, sculptured designs between the bouquets and small reverse shells. A set of filigree dividers raised the top tier to afford a view of the second tier covered with an arrangement of the frosting flowers. The crowning touch was a complimentary blown glass ornament featuring a fluted-edged heart accented with glass roses, doves and two wedding bells suspended from the center.

Miss Holly Burrell of The Colony, Miss Carey Roberts and Mrs. William Andersen presided at the table during the reception.

Mrs. Richard Lehman and Miss Trisha Roberts served refreshments from the groom's table laid with a cream-colored cutwork embroidered cloth, the handiwork of the bride's late great-grandmother, over peach linen. The appointments included two special plates, one that belonged to the bride's late great-grandparents who were married April 4, 1899, and the other a hand-painted china plate with names of the bride and groom and their wedding date, a gift from Mrs. C.L. Metz. The German chocolate cake, and the silver coffee service added bits of interest.

Other tables in the setting were adorned with bouquets of the bride and her attendants, the bride's placed in a milk glass vase and the others in crystal glasses.

Following the reception, the couple left for a Caribbean cruise wedding trip. Upon return, they will live in Plano until their new home is completed in Richardson.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School with honors and received a B.S. degree from Phillips University at Enid, Okla. where she was a Presidential Scholar. She is currently employed as a computer programmer in Dallas. The groom was graduated from Bryan Adams High School in Dallas with honors and received a B.S. degree from East Texas State University. He is an independent computer consultant and systems designer.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Boston Tea Party. Special wedding guests were the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Robert White of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hinchliffe and sons of Huddersfield, England, Mrs. Chauncey Weiler and Mrs. Rollins Woodall, chosen by the bride to sit with the family members.

Letters to the Editor

The Pacific Avenue Missionary Baptist Church property, located on North Pacific, was not donated to the church, as was reported in a recent issue of the Leader. The property is being purchased from the First Presbyterian Church here in Iowa Park. It is my understanding that they purchased the property from Mr. and Mrs. Manes.

In regard to the paving of the 500 block of Coleman Street, the church has agreed to enter into an assessment program, as was first agreed to by the City Council. Resolution 78-6, section D and section E deal with such a project. At this point the city has not been willing to comply with this Resolution. A copy of this Resolution is available to any concerned citizen, by requesting it from City Hall.

Larry Washburn, Pastor
Pacific Avenue
Missionary Baptist Church

response was to toughen our laws on "driving-while-intoxicated."

At the very front of my 1983 Anti-Crime Program will be legislation imposing tougher penalties for those convicted of the DWI offense. Nationwide, drunk drivers each year take thousands of lives and, in 1980, it was estimated that nearly one-half of Texas' traffic fatalities were alcohol-related. These statistics, coupled with the staggering property losses each year from DWI, clearly indicate that tougher laws are needed to make our streets and highways safer.

In December, 1981, I created a Task Force on Traffic Safety to study Texas' DWI-related traffic fatality problem and make recommendations on legislative actions to be taken to address this issue. In addition, I am pleased to announce that I endorse the goals of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers), and my office is working with the Texas MADD Chapters to develop and fine tune necessary legislative solutions to Texas' DWI problem. When specific legislative proposals have been developed, they will be sent to you.

I am firmly committed to ensuring that tougher DWI laws are enacted in Texas in 1983, but a successful attack on the drunk driving problem demands action by all Texans. I ask that you join with me in making the citizens of Texas aware of the magnitude of this problem and the need for strong DWI legislation and strict enforcement of DWI laws. Texas' highways are no place for drunk drivers, and we must do all we can to get them off the roads.

Sincerely,

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Yes, I certainly do know Ray Hicks. And I also know Rex Wells.

If you don't know what I'm talking about, you either didn't see Ray's advertisement in last week's issue of the Leader or hear a comment about it.

There it was, for everyone to see, Rex's picture in Ray's advertisement.

"To err is to be human," goes the old saying. So I guess I'm as human as anyone around.

Like I said, I do know one from the other. What happened was, Ray's ad was brought in for last week's paper. He was running for a spot on the school board.

The ad didn't include a picture. Because I believe all advertising, especially political ones, should include a picture (for readership and identification), I suggested we pull one from our files.

Well, we found one. It was taken a few years back. Ray and Rex were standing side by side, after having been named recipients of a conservation program award.

To eliminate any confusion at the printing plant, I decided to cut the picture in half. Gosh, I couldn't explain it if someone at the plant were to become confused and put the wrong picture in the ad.

When I cut the picture, I plainly held the portion with Ray and handed off the portion with Rex to be sent to the plant.

Whether Ray is so popular or whether the mistake attracted so much attention, I really can't say. Probably the former. But the count shows it didn't hurt him any, because he drew 21 more votes than anyone else in the election.

Someone commented that using the picture of Rex did the trick, because he didn't have any gray hairs. Ray does.

Maybe that's why Ronald Reagan got elected. Even at 71, he doesn't have any gray hairs showing.

Oh, by the way, Rex did receive one write-in vote, in the Bradford box. Guess someone thought I had put the wrong name with the right picture in the ad.

Worth Quoting

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

The Anti-Crime/Anti-Drug laws enacted by the 67th Texas Legislature clearly established a high water mark for law and order legislation in Texas.

Texas' state leadership and Texas' citizens must not be complacent with this victory under their belts, and the war on crime must continue to be waged. Therefore, in September of last year, I sent a letter to Texas' criminal justice community urging them to identify areas of the criminal justice system which could be effectively corrected and addressed through legislation as part of my 1983 Anti-Crime Program. Their strong

I'm looking for the television weatherman who last Friday was enthusiastically predicting that Saturday and Sunday would be "perfectly wo-nderful" days. After all the bad weather we've had lately, most of us didn't think we could stand another miserable weekend.

This guy was just getting our hopes up. He told a fellow newscaster to plan to play golf Saturday and Sunday and that he, himself, was going to get his sailboat out. It was going to be "perfectly wo-nderful," he said.

We don't really need forecasters like him, but it would be interesting to learn whether he froze to death Saturday or drowned in the high winds Sunday.

In personal terms, I had been waiting for good weather news in order to get some gardening done. I had heard a preacher say he was going to plant potatoes on Feb. 14th because all the signs were favorable for that day. I don't know whether the signs changed when he discovered Feb. 14th was a Sunday.

Neither do I know whether Pete Roach planted his potatoes. He always plants on Feb. 14th because that is his birthday. You can't beat logic like that. Roach may well be the spud stud of Hamilton County.

Without asking the minister what sign he was following, I assumed it had something to do with the signs of the Zodiac which may be justified as Biblical based on the 14th verse of the first chapter of Genesis: "Let there be light to divide the day from the night; and let them be signs and for seasons," etc.

We are assured in Ecclesiastes that "To everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose; a time to be born; a time to die, a time to plant and a time to pluck up that which is planted."

The surprising thing as far as I am concerned is that the time to plant potatoes was on a Sunday. Somehow this seems un-Biblical to me.

Furthermore, Zodiac lore states: "Planting or grafting on Sunday will probably not succeed, as this day is ruled by the sun and therefore considered a dry and barren day."

Offsetting this was the fact that Sunday was the final day of the "dark of the moon." Almanac gardeners follow the general rule: "Plant by the light of the moon anything that grows on top of the ground. Plant by the dark of the moon anything that grows underground."

This could be confusing to new gardeners. People don't wait until night before working in their gardens. They simply follow the moon's phases.

"Dark" means days in which the moon is waning, and "light" means days in which the moon is waxing.

Some people are like that. They seem to fade away when there is no moonshine and they wax most elegantly when there is plenty of moonshine.

Good luck with your potatoes, and to heck with that weatherman.

TAX CREDIT FOR ENERGY SAVERS

Taxpayers who take certain steps to save energy in their homes can cut their federal income tax bills substantially.

The law provides for a tax credit of up to $300 for energy conservation materials installed in the home, with a separate credit of as much as $4,000 for taxpayers who install "renewable" energy source items such as solar or wind equipment, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The credit for energy conservation materials is figured at 15 percent of the first $2,000 spent on such items as storm or thermal windows and doors, insulation, weather-stripping and caulking.

Start average billing before you start your air conditioner.

Electricity is costing more this year mainly because the fuels to make it cost more.

Our Average Billing Plan can help, because it "averages out" your electric bills. You still pay for all the electricity you use, and your payments will still vary from month to month. But in high-use months you pay for less electricity than you use, and in low-use months you pay for more than you use.

Many customers find this helps ease the impact of high summer air conditioning bills. Our average billing plan is available to both residential customers and churches.

Six incumbents, one newcomer are elected by voters Saturday

Holliday voters Saturday returned six incumbents to their respective positions and elected a new school trustee, Dr. Larry Lilley, while city aldermen Monday night found two "clerical" errors in the final count on the city ballot.

Incumbent aldermen Leon Addison and Fred Daume Jr. garnered the most votes along with unopposed mayor James Cook in the city elections.

But, during Monday night's regular city council meeting, errors were found in the final count.

However the corrected count made little difference in the preference of Holliday voters.

City election judge Elizabeth Gorman was called to correct the two mistakes; one giving Addison five fewer votes, and Place 2 challenger Mike Parker five less.

The final canvassed results are as follows:

Mayor - James Cook, 246; Clyde Fair, 3; James Sellars, 1.

Alderman, Place 2 - Fred Daume 151; Mike Parker, 139.

Alderman, Place 4 - Leon Addison, 141; Leo Chappell, 110; Clarence Hoover, 40.

According to Mrs. Gorman, 293 voters cast ballots in the city election.

Lilley placed second out of eight candidates for the three trustee vacancies, with incumbent Larry Finnell garnering the most votes, 386. Lilley received 368, while incumbent W.T. Mankins also won another term with 289.

In the race for the one-year unexpired term, incumbent Gene Harmon won over challenger Clay Lindley, 297 to 268.

Other candidates' totals were Melvin Bills, 228; Carl Nichols, 226, and Bob Martin, 171.

Holliday school board will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in regular session to canvass votes and issue oaths of office to the four winners.

Daume, Addison and Cook were sworn in by city attorney Gary Southard during Monday's meeting.

Elected officials administered oaths

Incumbent aldermen Leon Addison, Fred Daume Jr. and mayor James Cook were sworn in to new terms on the Holliday city council Monday night during the council's regular bi-monthly meeting.

City attorney Gary Southard issued oaths of office to the three, after the group spent two hours canvassing the election results and correcting two "clerical" errors.

According to Cook, the final vote made no difference either way, giving a wider margin of victory to Daume over Parker, and a slimmer margin for Addison over his nearest challenger, Leo Chappell.

Southard referred to the Texas Municipal League manual for the correct procedure in changing the final figures, which stated that the election judge make the corrections.

In other business, council amended the budget to reflect an increase of $30,000 in revenue, and okayed a speed ordinance request from the Texas Highway Department for FM 368 south of Holliday.

SWEEPSTAKES

Band superior in concert, sightreading

The Holliday High School Eagle Band captured the "sweepstakes" award last Wednesday by earning the highest possible rating at the U.I.L. concert and sightreading contest in Vernon.

The Eagle Band, under the direction of Tom Woody and Duncan Brown, also garnered the superior rating during the fall marching contest, qualifying it for the sweepstakes award.

Comments from the three-judge panel in Vernon went as follows: "Everyone in the band is doing their job, and that is exactly what is needed," and "This band shows fine teaching and good dedication by all students as well. Very musical in all respects. You need to be proud of what you have done, and what you are doing. Be proud. Congratulations."

Band members will now prepare for the Greater Southwest Music Festival April 29 through May 1 in Amarillo. The band has already earned honors in march, placing seventh at the state U.I.L. marching contest in Austin last November.

Eight individuals qualify for region literary meet

Eight Holliday High School students will compete Friday and Saturday of next week in the regional U.I.L. contest in Stephenville, after placing in the top three in last week's District 13-AA literary meet.

Sandy Brown, Lori Gulley and Robert Rasmussen each placed first in individual contests for Holliday.

The following list of regional participants includes their placing in district and the event.

Brown, first, persuasive speaking; Gulley, first, prose interpretation; Rasmussen, first, ready writing; Denise Rogers, second, prose interpretation; Terri Davis, third, poetry interpretation; Leslie Mankins, third, calculator application; and, Robert Rasmussen and Steve Snider, third, debate.

Eric Neal won the alternate spot in feature writing, and, due to a scratch by the third place winner, will compete in the regional meet.

Nocona girls capture title

Nocona's Lady Indians pulled away from Windthorst in two of three relays Tuesday afternoon to lead the eight-team field in the District 13-AA track meet in Holliday.

The Lady Indians captured the 800 and 1600-meter relays, in addition to three firsts in individual races.

Windthorst posted a strong bid most of the chilled afternoon finals, with their strong distance runners dominating the 800, 1600 and 3200 meter runs.

Host Holliday wound up in fourth in the team standings, relying mostly on speedy Suzan Dillard in the 100 and 200 meter dashes, where she finished second in both.

Dillard had the fastest qualifying time in the 100 meter dash during the morning's preliminaries, but was nipped by Brenda Zoltz of Windthorst in the final heat.

The Lady Eagles' 800-meter relay team, consisting of Dillard, Kristi Haney, Terri Davis and Jill Bynum finished second to district champ Nocona.

Holliday's regional qualifiers will travel to Stephenville Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24, for the regional track meet.

Boys sweep net title

Holliday High School's tennis team completely dominated Tuesday's District 13-AA boys' tournament, qualifying two teams in doubles and single's champ Mike A. Parker, for regional competition.

The sweep by the Eagles gives Holliday eight players a chance to compete in the regional tournaments in Stephenville on April 23-24 (girls) and May 4-5 (boys). Recently the Lady Eagles won both the singles and doubles championship, with Parker's sister, Susan, capturing the singles title.

Parker won over Petrolia's Rick Beechler 7-6, 7-4, 6-4 in Tuesday's finals to win his second title in as many years.

And, in the doubles final, it was all Holliday, with the team of Todd Stevens and Brad Lawson winning over Kevin and Kurt Lilley.

Their coach is Bill Higgins.

Family law explained

Sen. Ray Farabee was the speaker Thursday afternoon for the 23 Study Club's program that had been planned to emphasize the Public Affairs Department of General Federation of Women's Clubs. His topic, relating to the citizenship division, dealt with estate planning, wills, trust funds and the Natural Death Act.

In stressing the importance of each person making a will, whether holographic or a formal type, Sen. Farabee stated that failure to exercise the right by properly drawn will means that the estate will be distributed strictly according to law, irrespective of the needs of the dependents, and will be handled by an administrator named by the court.

He advised having a will drawn by a lawyer and to name an executor to make sure of the faithful, economical handling of the estate. He also stressed that if one used the holographic method that it was necessary for him to name an executor.

The speaker further discussed living and testamentary trust funds and the Natural Death Act which gives a person the option to die naturally. For those who do not want their lives prolonged when death is inevitable, they must write their desire to die naturally, sign it, and should give it to the family doctor for his records.

Mrs. Earl Watson, the program leader, introduced the speaker and other program participants.

For the meditation period, Mrs. Charlie Lee played a recording of the Easter Story by Fred Waring and His Pennsylvanians. Mrs. Rollins Woodall read two of her original poems, "Remembrance" and "Pondering" for the arts emphasis.

During the business directed by Mrs. China B. Smith, it was voted to adopt the revised by-laws. Mrs. Bill Bates, chairman of food and decorations for the April 15 luncheon when the Outstanding Senior Girl and Boy of Iowa Park High School for 1982 and their parents will be honored to close the club activities for the year, made food and duty assignments.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Joe Singer which was gaily decorated in an Easter theme. Mrs. John Rentschler was co-hostess. The refreshments, picturing the theme at its prettiest, featured an Easter bonnet filled with colorful eggs and symbols of the spring holiday flanked by pink candles in two-branched crystal holders.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Jimmie Spears

It is amazing to modern cooks to go through an old, treasured family recipe book to find how much food preparation has changed in even a half century. The sentiment of many is "Honestly, I don't know how grandmother did it."

Certainly, the shiny new push button range, microwave oven are a far cry from her old-fashioned wood or coal-burning stoves. Modern, colorful refrigerators and freezers are a vast improvement over her "cool" cellar. Even though modern equipment, methods and foods have cut kitchen hours to a fraction of what they were in grandmother's time, many of her recipes have stood the test of time and are treasured by her children and grandchildren today.

Marcie (Mrs. Jimmie) Spears without any hesitancy that she learned to cook from her mother and grandmother and many of their recipes are the choice ones in her recipe files. In fact, the Kraut Cake recipe that she shares with us today was one of her grandmother's and she made her own kraut for it.

The Spears have lived in Iowa Park for four years. He is owner of Spears Paper and Chemical and she is bookkeeper at Wichita Urology. They are members of First United Methodist Church. They have two daughters, Katherine Davis of Iowa Park and Melissa of the home, a senior at Iowa Park High School, and two sons, James of Wichita Falls and Richard of the home, a high school freshman.

A native of Quana, Marcie was graduated from high school there. She is currently serving as president of Epsilon Eta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. She teaches a class of fourth graders in Sunday school and sings in the sanctuary choir. Her hobbies are sewing and yard work.

KRAUT CAKE

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup cocoa
3/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
3 large eggs
1 cup water
1/2 cup rinsed, drained and chopped sauerkraut

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and cocoa. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla thoroughly. Beat in eggs, one at a time; stir in flour mixture in several additions alternately with water until smooth each time. Stir in kraut. Turn into 2 greased and floured 8-inch round cake pans. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean, about 30 minutes. Cool. Put together and top with:

1 1/2 cups heavy cream whipped with 3 T sugar, 1 T instant coffee and 2 tsps. cocoa until stiff peaks form.

SAUCY LITTLE MEAT LOAVES

1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
3/4 cup uncooked oats
1 1/2 tsps. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 egg
3/4 cup milk

For meat loaves, combine all ingredients. Shape into 6 loaves in shallow baking dish. Top with: 1/2 cup catsup
1 T brown sugar
1 T prepared mustard
Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 35 minutes. For one big meat loaf, combine all ingredients and pack into a loaf pan and spread with topping.

BAVARIAN CREAM

1 pkg. strawberry jello
1/2 pint whipping cream
Small can crushed pineapple
1 cup pecans

Beat half-jelled jello until very fluffy or foamy. Add whipped cream and pineapple that has been drained and nuts. Let set in refrigerator until set (overnight is best)

RICE DRESSING

1 1/2 lbs. ground meat
1 1/2 cups chopped onions
2 cups celery, chopped
1 large bell pepper, chopped
Garlic to taste
3 cups cooked white rice
1/2 cup chopped green onions

Cook bell pepper, onions, garlic and celery. In grease, brown meat, add to rice and green onions.

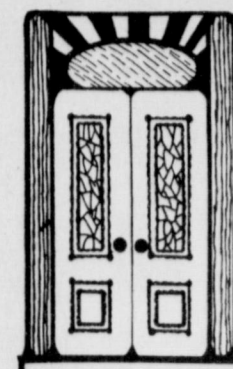

GLAZED PEACH CREME

2 pkgs. peach-flavored jello
2 cups boiling water
3/4 cup cold water
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 - 8 1/2 oz. can sliced peaches

Free baseball clinic today through Saturday

Iowa Park High School baseball coach Daryl Frazier will hold a free baseball clinic for Little League players today through Saturday at the W.F. George Baseball Field.

That's right, free. A former standout at Iowa Park and Midwestern State Univ., the second-year Hawk coach is vitally interested in the direction baseball takes in this town, and an apparent decrease in interest the past few years has him concerned.

"I would like for anybody interested in baseball to come as well as the parents and summer league coaches," Frazier said. "We need to see if we can get something going for baseball here."

Frazier said the Little League sign-up is still in progress, and persons interested can contact league president Mike Price at 592-4747.

The clinic will be held tonight from 6:30-8:30 at the Little League fields. Players are encouraged to attend each night, and need only to bring a glove, shoes, and something to play in.

Instruction will be given on the fundamentals and techniques of fielding, throwing and hitting.

Frazier is adept in each of the fields, breaking virtually all of MSU's pitching records in his years as an Indian, making the District 8 all-district team three years. Frazier traveled with the NAIA all-star team in 1978 in exhibition games around the world. He was the only player on the squad not to be named to the NAIA All-American squad.

Another possible addition to the clinic's coaching staff is Tom McBride, a former Boston Red Sox outfielder who once teamed with the legendary Ted Williams. McBride has instructed Frazier while at MSU and still on occasion helps the Indians with their baseball program.

In addition, Frazier will have three or four Hawk players present to assist him.

"We will emphasize individual instruction in the fundamentals of baseball," Frazier said. "Players ages 8-12 are welcome, and skill level makes absolutely no difference."

"The most important thing is for the parents and coaches to participate in the program, and see if we can have some fun and learn to enjoy baseball more," he remarked.

Girls' coaches to meet

Girls' softball league coaches will hold a meeting at 7:30 this evening at the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center.

DISTANCE RUNNERS LISA MEAKLEY, JAN HALE competing in district track meet.

Vernon takes girls' tennis

Vernon proved to have the power in the girls' Dist. 3-AAAA tennis tournament, played here Monday and Tuesday, and none of Iowa Park's players will advance to region.

Loretta Barlow advanced to the semi-finals in singles play. She defeated Brenda Seale of Hirsch 2-6, 6-3, 6-4. But she lost in the semis to eventual champion Beverly Triana of Vernon, 6-0, 6-0, and then in the consolation finals to Cindy Castillo of Hirsch, 2-6, 6-0, 6-4.

Jodi Corless lost to Castillo 6-1, 6-2 in the quarterfinals.

Tracey Hall and Tracy Lawson lost 6-2, 6-2 in the quarterfinals to Julie Baker and Startyn Thomas of Vernon. The Vernon team went on to win consolation in doubles. Ann Kelly and Delayne Davis were edged 5-7, 6-2, 6-0 by the Vernon team of Gayle Davis and Jill Duncan, the eventual district champions.

In freshman competition, Iowa Park's Bart-Edwards doubles won consolation.

Silent bats win, lose

The Hawks used the "old silent bat treatment" to good effect Friday, but it didn't work Tuesday.

Playing the Dist. 3-AAAA opener in Friday's dust storm at Graham, Hawks swung only once in two innings and took advantage of Steer pitcher who couldn't find the plate in the side wind.

Graham's right-hander couldn't handle the gusts of up to 50 miles per hour that came from his left, but Hawk hurler Keith Mowery, a lefty, had fewer problems.

Three Hawkettes are qualifiers for region meet

Three Hawkette tracksters qualified for the region meet while leading Iowa Park to fourth place in the Dist. 3-AAAA meet Saturday at Burkhardt.

Sophomore Lisa Seick was a double winner, earning her gold medals in both the 100-meter hurdles and triple jump.

Senior Shelly Untalan qualified in both the discus, winning first, and shot put, where she placed second. Another sophomore, Jan Hale, won first place in the 3,200-meter run.

April 23-24 are the dates for the region meet in Odessa.

Seick had her best performances of the season, turning in a 15.92 in the hurdles and surpassing her season best in the triple jump almost two feet, 35-1 1/2.

Untalan's discus throw was measured at 104-11 1/2 and she put the shot 34-3 1/2.

Hale's two-mile time was posted as 13:03.54, more than 20 seconds ahead of the second placer. She was also fifth in the 1,600 meters, 6:11.85.

Almost qualifying for the region was Cindy Wells, who placed third in the 3,200 meters with a 13:50.29.

Lisa Meakley placed fourth in the 1,600 meters, 6:06.28, and fifth in the 800 meters, 2:40.02.

Selem Canada placed sixth in the discus with an 85-5.

The 1,600-meter relay team placed fourth when clocked in 4:42.38. The 400-meter and 800-meter relay teams finished sixth with times of 56:90 and 2:07.4, respectively.

Their 12-10 victory celebration over Graham was short-lived, because the Hawks suffered a 16-2 loss to the Bulldogs at Burkhardt Tuesday, making their conference record 1-1.

LATE FEDERAL TAX PAYMENTS CAN COST FAR MORE THAN 20%

The idea that "credit" with the federal government currently is cheaper than with credit agencies is erroneous, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Late payments of federal income taxes are subject to a 20 percent per year interest rate and a late payment penalty of one-half of one percent per month, or six percent per year. The late payment penalty cannot exceed 25 percent of the unpaid tax.

Consequently, deferring payment of taxes owed in favor of bills owed to other creditors can prove to be far more costly in the long run. Borrowing money to satisfy a tax obligation can be less costly than allowing interest and penalties to accrue.

The law clearly states that taxes must be paid on time, and it calls for penalties and interest in case of late payment, the IRS adds.

USE FORM 1040X TO AMEND TAX RETURN

Many taxpayers discover that after they have filed their federal tax returns, some item was left out, such as a deduction or an income figure. These taxpayers can change their original tax returns by filing corrected returns on Form 1040X, the Internal Revenue Service says. The original return can be amended any time during the three years following the due date (including extensions) of the original, or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later, according to the IRS.

Taxpayers can receive copies of Form 1040X and additional information by calling the IRS Tax Forms/Information number in the local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

SPEED UP TAX REFUND: USE LABEL, BE ACCURATE

Taxpayers can help speed up the processing of tax returns by using the pre-addressed, peel-off labels and by double checking their arithmetic before mailing the returns. As simple as the items appear, they are the cause for thousands of errors every year, the IRS says.

The label comes with the tax package in the mail and lists the taxpayer's name, address, social security number and other bits of information which help the IRS in processing the return quickly.

If any of the information on the label is incorrect, the correction can be made directly on the label. Taxpayers should also use the coded envelope included in the tax package. It's pre-addressed and helps the IRS sort returns.

Errors such as checking the wrong filing status, failing to sign the return, math mistakes, and the omission of necessary documents are common mistakes which can delay taxpayers' refunds. The IRS must correct the errors or obtain the documents before processing the return.

Most errors can be avoided if the return is double checked for accuracy and the label is used.

FREE TAX HELP FOR SMALL BUSINESS OWNERS

Free publications issued by the Internal Revenue Service explain federal tax rights and responsibilities for small business owners, the IRS says.

Publication 334, "Tax Guide for Small Business," goes into detail on such subjects as setting up a tax records system, determination of net income, tax credits and business assets. Publication 583, Record-keeping for a Small Business," explains what a small business person needs to know to meet tax obligations, such as how to file forms and compute the tax.

Taxpayers can obtain these free publications by mail, using the order form in the tax package.

EXCESS SOCIAL SECURITY TAX CAN BE CLAIMED AS A CREDIT

If you worked for two or more employers during 1981 and received wages totaling more than $29,700, and more than $1,975.05 of social security (FICA) tax was withheld, you are entitled to claim the excess social security tax withheld as a credit against your income tax. If you file a joint return, you and your spouse must make separate computations.

However, if you worked for only one employer and more than $1,975.05 was withheld, you may not claim the excess as a credit against your income tax. Your employer should refund the over-collection to you.

INCORRECT SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER DELAYS TAX REFUNDS

To avoid federal tax refund delays persons who changed their names last year, such as newlyweds, should report the new name to their local Social Security Administration (SSA) office. The name and number on tax returns must match those of the SSA, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Incorrect Social Security numbers and addresses slow up processing of tax returns and can delay federal tax refunds.

The Eyes Of Texans

JAMES EDWARDS Optometrist

True color blindness is extremely rare and to have it a person would only have night vision and no day vision. Sorta like an owl. Therefore, it is more correct to speak of people being color deficient or weak. Common color deficiency is a hereditary trait that occurs in 8% of men and less than 1% of women. However, it is the female who transmits the trait to her offspring. Color weakness is of two types. Either Red-Green or Blue-Yellow "blindness." There is no cure for "color blindness" but some help has been possible by using contact lenses. One lens is tinted red and this often allows the person with color problems to distinguish colors better. It should be pointed out that the red contact lens does not enable a color deficient person to actually see a missing color but it creates a difference in the quality of the color so he can more easily know what the missing color should be. Most colors in the real world are not pure so the average color weak person doesn't have too much trouble recognizing colors.

Some drugs cause faulty color perception. e.g., quinine, thorazine and even aspirin.
