Nation's Rail Industry Threatened By Strike

HEADS BECOME WAR TROPHIES IN VIET NAM—A Vietnamese marine follows a captive Viet Cong suspect as they carry the heads of a Viet Cong platoon leader and two soldiers on a pole between them after a battle near Can Duoc, 30 miles south of Saigon. The battle was between battalion-sized forces. Heads, cut from men killed in engagement, were suspended by the ears to be carried off as trophies. This picture was made by U. S. Marine Sgt. Shop Crafts Call Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad shop craft unions today called a strike that could cripple the nation's transportation industry, to become effective at 6 a.m. local time Tuesday, Sept. 22.

The strike call was announced by Michael Fox, president of the Railway Employes Department of the AFL-CIO. Heads of the six craft unions involved were sitting at his side.

"Our duty to the employes as their collective bargaining representative leaves us no choice except to fix a strike date pursuant to the authority to strike previously voted by them," Fox said.

"We stand prepared to make a fair and equitable settlement but as of now the strike date can no longer be postponed."

Fox said exceptions among the nation's carriers to the general strike call will be the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Long Island Railroad and the Southern Railway system.

He said an agreement has been reached with the Pennsylvania and agreements are being worked on with the two other lines.

Federal mediators have been meeting this week with union and railroad officials in an effort to avert a strike.

The six unions are demanding a job-security agreement along lines recommended last month by a presidential emergency board.

The board recommended five-year pay guarantees for any shopmen thrown out of work or moved to lower-paying jobs because of technological improvements.

Emergency provisions for halting a strike under present laws have been exhausted and the unions are free to strike.

The six unions involved are those representing the sheet metal workers, boiler makers, machinists, carmen, electrical workers, and firemen and oilers.

A FORMER SNYDER RESIDENT, Walter Ernest Hukill, received head and possible other injuries at about 10 p.m. Thursday when this nearly-new Chrysler went head first off a box bridge on Highway 84 near the north end of the Snyder Country Club. Hukill, who was associated with Dr. John Blum here before Dr. Jack Nesbit joined the firm, now lives in San Angelo, but was being treated for a stroke at the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring until released two weeks ago. Clarence Hall, driver of a Caprock Materials Co. truck, saw something shining as he passed the bridge at about 8:30 a.m. He turned around, came back and discovered Hukill lying by the wrecked car. The injured man was taken first to Cogdell Hospital and then transferred to the VA hospital by Bolger Ambulance Service. He is the brother of Mrs. Jake Greene of Snyder.

Krush Now Denies Words On Weapon

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has denied that he said the Soviet Union has a new weapon that can destroy mankind.

Khrushchev said Thursday night scientists had shown him a "terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do." He said it was not a nuclear bomb but gave no indication what the weapon was.

Members of a Japanese parliamentary delegation that met with Khrushchev Tuesday had reported he told them Soviet scientists had showed him a new, secret weapon that could destroy all life on earth.

Khrushchev told reporters at an Indian Embassy reception Thursday night: "I said scientists showed me a terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do. I didn't say anything about unlimited power. It cannot be a nuclear bomb because I saw it near Moscow, and a nuclear bomb would require testing and we are not testing now."

Ford, UAW Make Peace

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union agreed today on a new contract similar to that at Chrysler Corp. except for the addition of a Christmas bonus which UAW President Walter P. Reuther called "frosting on the cake."

The Christmas bonus will come from the supplemental unemployment benefit fund after the fund is fully paid up. Reuther said employes could get $25 to $100 each.

The UAW chief said the first bonus may be paid in 1965 and Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president and labor relations chief, said this was "mathematically possible."

Denise, after a bargaining session lasting some 23 hours, announced the new contract contains substantially improved pensions, earlier retirement, more paid relief time, an additional week of vacation and two more paid holidays.

Other improvements, Denise said, include larger insurance benefits, fully company-paid health insurance for both employes and retirees, and increased severance pay.

Announcement of the Ford settlement came just 55 minutes before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

At the same time the threat of a strike of some 7,000 white collar workers at Chrysler plants in seven states was averted less than an hour before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

Douglas Frazier, who headed the UAW negotiating team, said the Chrysler settlement paralleled last week's agreement covering hourly rated employes.

Reuther and Denise agreed that a Christmas bonus was about the only economic differences from an agreement-in-principle Sept. 9 at Chrysler.

Denise said, however, that in non-economic matters there were many differences.

Reuther said the Ford contract made a number of improvements in working conditions but created "no utopia." Denise said "I accepted as a realistic settlement."

Working conditions were a major point with the UAW. Both the Ford and Chrysler agreements provide for 36 minutes of relief time daily instead of the previous 24 minutes for those whose work pace is controlled by machines or assembly lines.

The Christmas bonus will come from the so-called SUB Fund. The company pays five cents per hour per worker into the fund to boost unemployment benefits when workers are laid off.

Alabama Decision Is Appealed

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The decision of a three-judge federal court against enforcement of the public accommodations section of the civil rights law against a Birmingham restaurant has been appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Justice Department filed notice of appeal late Thursday in Washington.

The panel ruled Thursday that Congress violated the Fifth Amendment in applying the public accommodation section against Ollie's Barbecue and its co-owners, Ollie McClung Sr. and his son.

Acting U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach was placed under a temporary injunction from enforcing the section against Ollie's. The McClungs said they have refused service to Negroes since the bill became law July 2.

The panel heard the case Sept. 1. Panel members were U.S. District Judges H. H. Grooms and Seybourn Lynne of Birmingham, and Circuit Judge Walter Gewin of Tuscaloosa.

McClung Sr. said: "We are pleased with the decision and think it is upholding the Constitution." He declined further comment.

The U.S. Supreme Court already has pending before it an appeal from an Atlanta, Ga., case challenging the public accommodations section.

Mainland In Gladys' Path

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gladys, powerful twin of her late sister Dora, spun on a west-northwest course up hurricane alley toward the U.S. mainland today.

The Miami Weather Bureau said Gladys, intense and well-developed, was 800 miles east of Miami at 5 a.m., EST, packing 125-mile winds near her center.

Forecasters said hurricane-force winds extend 100 miles to the northeast and 50 miles to the southwest. Gale winds were recorded 250 miles to the northeast and 175 miles to the southwest of the center.

Gladys was expected to continue moving west-northwest at 10 m.p.h. for the next 12 to 18 hours with little change in size or intensity.

The Air Force at Cape Kennedy, Fla., went ahead with plans to launch its Saturn 1 rocket today as scheduled.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission approved Thursday the sale of Radio KERC at Eastland, Tex., to the Eastland County Broadcasting Co. for $78,850.

Saturn Makes 7th Test-Flight Success

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A Saturn 1, the world's mightiest space rocket, thundered to its seventh straight test-flight success today, hurling into orbit an unmanned model of the Project Apollo moonship.

The flight was the second in a long series of unmanned Apollo flights leading to three-man earth orbital missions and eventually a lunar landing. The rockets and spacecraft are early versions of hardware being developed for the moon journeys.

The launching was observed today by nine of the nation's astronauts, some of whom may be crewmen on moon flights late in this decade.

The mammoth Saturn 1, 19 stories tall and weighing 570 tons, blazed skyward at 11:23 a.m. (EST) under the tremendous force of 1.5 million pounds of thrust generated by the world's greatest rocket powerplant.

The rocket's massive cluster of eight first-stage engines trailed a plume of flame the length of a football field as it burned for 147 seconds to shove the payload through the dense lower atmosphere. The second stage fired with a 90,000-pound burst of thrust to push the satellite into orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced 11 minutes after launching that the rockets had performed flawlessly and said the Apollo craft, called a "boiler plate" because it is a weighed metal shell, had settled into an orbit ranging from about 115 to 135 miles high.

This path closely approximates the "parking" orbit into which lunar astronauts will settle before restarting their booster engines to propel their craft on the desired course to the moon.

With its first stage engines consuming fuel at the rate of nearly three tons a second, the Saturn 1 gushed a fountain of flames and sent a thunderclap across Cape Kennedy as it shouldered into the sky.

Because the flight was a test, no attempt was to be made to separate the burned-out second stage from the dummy Apollo spacecraft. Over-all length of the payload section was 80 feet and total weight was 36,700 pounds, the third heaviest object ever launched into space.

There was no plan to recover the satellite, which was expected to burn up from atmospheric friction after about three days in orbit, but scientists did hope to retrieve cameras which were to be ejected in capsules after recording the operation of the vehicle.

Humphrey Holds Rally At Alamo

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey staged a political stand at the Alamo Thursday night before a noisy crowd sprinkled with Barry Goldwater supporters chanting: "We want Barry."

Shouts of the demonstrators, who caused no trouble, did not keep him from continuing a blistering attack on Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

Humphrey, President Johnson's vice presidential running mate, wound up a day-long visit to Texas with speeches at the Alamo and John F. Kennedy Memorial High School, which the late President had promised to dedicate.

The Minnesota senator praised Johnson and lashed out at Goldwater at every opportunity along a campaign trail that also included Wichita Falls and Waco. He was returning to Texas this afternoon for a speech in Houston.

Pictures of Goldwater on placards and a large red and yellow "Goldwater for President" banner were almost overshadowed by hundreds of small "We Love Hubert" placards.

The demonstrators stayed to one side of the Alamo rally, cheering Goldwater at each opportunity.

When he first noticed Humphrey said: "Somebody got in this parade who shouldn't be."

A majority of the audience, estimated by Police Chief George Bichsel at 5,000, cheered. Humphrey raised his hand for quiet and added:

"But we've got to be good winners."

This, too, delighted a majority of the audience.

About 20 to 25 placard-carrying Goldwater supporters appeared later at the airport, from which Humphrey's plane carried him to Hot Springs, Ark.

Humphrey's aides said this was the first such demonstration the senator had faced since he hit the campaign trail shortly after the Democratic national convention.

Crowds almost mobbed Humphrey at both his San Antonio appearances.

About 1,200 persons, mostly students, packed the John F. Kennedy High School auditorium, where Humphrey described the late President as a man who had captured the "hearts and love" of young people like no other American president."

Greek's Youthful Monarch, Danish Princess Are Wed

By EDDY GILMORE

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Constantine of the Hellenes wed Denmark's beautiful Princess Anne-Marie today amid the Byzantine magnificence of Athens' Greek Orthodox Cathedral.

Anne Marie, 18, became the queen of Greece and the world's youngest queen. At 24 her husband is the world's youngest monarch.

She was a gorgeous bride and the dark-haired king a strikingly handsome bridegroom.

It was a spectacularly colorful ceremony, but had its very human moments — when Anne-Marie giggled, and when Queen Mother Frederika came close to hitting Britain's Prince Charles with one of the two crowns used in Greek Orthodox weddings.

Charles did not duck, but he eyed the heavy crowns with concern.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II was the only reigning European monarch not present. Preparing for a visit to Canada, she sent her husband, Prince Philip. Her two teen-age children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, were members of the wedding party.

Anne-Marie's wedding gown was of duchesse satin, in classic Greek style with a high waist and simple lines. The dress was gathered at the waist by an heirloom brooch, and the bosom was covered with lace that had belonged to her maternal grandmother, Crown Princess Margaretha of Sweden, who wore it at her wedding.

Her veil, worn with a family tiara, had been worn by her mother, Queen Ingrid, at her wedding. The wedding gown ended in a short train of frilled silk organza, while another train 40 feet long fell from her shoulders and was carried by her six bridesmaids.

Constantine wore a white military uniform with rows of decorations.

After the wedding, Constantine and Anne-Marie, riding in a gilded, open carriage drawn by six white horses, headed a wedding procession through the streets of the capital. Carloads of royalty drove behind them.

Bands played, cannons boomed a 101-gun salute from Mt. Lycabetus, highest point of Athens, and all the city's church bells rang.

The procession ended at the palace where a wedding feast waited.

Campaign Brings Barry To Texas

By WALTER MEARS

LONGVIEW (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater invaded President Johnson's home state today with a charge that the Democratic chief executive is "the wildest spender of them all."

Before an airport crowd in this East Texas town, the Republican presidential nominee accused Johnson of "trying to deceive the American people" with claims of cuts in spending and a holddown of the federal payroll.

His jibes at Johnson drew applause and cheers from a crowd that packed the airport area. Sheriff Noble Crawford estimated the turnout at 12,000. He said that was based on traffic to the airport.

"He is a spender and he always has been" Goldwater said of Johnson. "I guess you could get in that habit if you had the only television station in Austin."

"The truth is that Johnson has asked for so much power that the Democrats don't know whether to vote for him or plug him in," Goldwater said.

Goldwater was joined by a new Republican ally — Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, and an old one—Sen. John Tower of Texas.

Former Representative Martin Dies, first chairman of the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities, introduced Goldwater.

Goldwater, in turn, said Dies has "done more to alert the country to the dangers of Communism" than anyone else in congressional history.

And he said he hoped Thurmond's switch from Democrat to Republican "will be copied and echoed by unhappy Democrats across this country."

The senator said he could talk about Texas' troubles in oil, beef and lumber "all traceable to the lack in this administration of any desire to help you . . ."

He said, "I'd rather confine my remarks to a Texan." The state has produced hundreds of sons important to American history, men "who believed in America—but the man I want to speak about isn't one of them," he said.

"I refuse to get bound this country discussing complicated, twisted issues," he said.

"I want to talk to you . . . about freedom."

SNYDER REALTORS gathered at noon Thursday to hear George A. McCanse of Houston, center, president of the Texas Real Estate Association, and E .W. Ludtke, right, of Austin, executive vice president of the organization. They are shown visiting with S. S. Steinberg, president of the local association. McCanse spoke on state and national legislation, both passed and pending, which affects realtors.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I invited her parents to spend two weeks with us at our summer home. My father-in-law is an ardent sports fan, and while I like to listen to baseball games now and then, I dislike a steady diet of them. I had looked forward to this vacation to catch up on some delayed pleasure reading. My father-in-law turned on all the baseball games without asking whether they would bother anyone else in the room. I took it for a week, but I balked when he added football games. He and his wife accused me of being a poor host. They said that we, by inviting them, had in effect turned over the use of our home to them. I said that their manners were poor, and I would no more turn on a baseball game without asking them than sit down and start reading aloud in their presence without permission. There was a scene and they left in a huff. Who was right?

POOR HOST?

DEAR HOST: There is more than one way to skin a cat. You apparently chose the most painful method. You were right. But you could have set them straight in a more diplomatic manner.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Here's the situation: The girl is 24 and the man is 27. They went steady for two years and have been engaged for the last three years. They are always arguing and he has even hit her a couple of times, but they always make up. He critizes the way she wears her hair, the way she puts on her make-up, how she dresses and spends her money. He has all kinds of excuses for not getting married. They both have good jobs and lots of other couples have made it on less. What can be done about a relationship that seems to be going nowhere?

THE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I think the faster this relationship gets "nowhere," the better off you both will be. Lovers who fight constantly during courtship usually battle forever after if they marry. Throw in the towel before he wins by a technical knockout.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My 20-year-old daughter is an exceptionally pretty girl. She has always been very popular and I never worried about her. We are very close. Lately she has been asking me questions that have led me to believe that she is far more advanced in her experiences with boys (one in particular) than she should be. I wish she would be 100 per cent frank with me so that I could warn her of some of the things girls should be careful of. Yet I don't want her to think I am giving my approval to anything that is wrong. I hope I am making sense, Abby. I guess what I want to ask is this: Is it wrong for a mother to tell her daughter everything she thinks the girl ought to know in case she needs the information?

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If the mother thinks her daughter "ought to know" — it is wrong NOT to tell her.

Rape Conviction Brings Life Sentence

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Tyrone Stanford, a Tennessee jailbreaker, was convicted Thursday night of raping a 13-year-old girl and sentenced to life in prison.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Willia Alexander said the state again will ask the death penalty in Stanford's trial on another rape charge.

The girl testified that Stanford, 24, invaded a bedroom at her Dallas home about 4 A.M. June 15, threatened her with a knife and slapped her before she was raped.

Detectives said the man has admitted raping four Dallas women and burglarizing 37 homes.

Dies At Age 111

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) Charlie Graham, who recalled carrying water at the age of 7 to fellow Negro slaves in Mississippi cotton fields, died Wednesday night at 111.

His philosophy included, "When you drink, don't drink with a crowd. When you're digging ditches, take your time."

Graham, a native of Tippah County, Miss., is survived by four sons, two daughters, 29 grandchildren and 56 great-grandchildren.

Jane Gilmore Rushing will be at Bennett Office Supply Saturday afternoon for an autograph party.

Mrs. Rushing's novel, "Walnut Grove" was published last July 3.

A Scurry County native, she used the area arund Pyron, where she was reared, as the general setting for the novel. It has been described as a warm novel with humor and a haunting, bitter-sweet quality, which is part of Maerica's pioneering history and at the same time of youth everywhere.

Mrs. Rushing now lives at Lubbock where her husband teaches English at Texas Tech. She received her masters degrees at Tech at the age of 19, then was a public school teacher and newspaper reporter before returning for her P.H.D. Later she taught at the University of Tennessee.

She will be at Bennett's to autograph copies of her novel between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday.

Dissention Tears At Red China

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's Communist party structure is showing the strain of its massive quarrel with the Soviet party.

Doubt, contradictions and quarrels are infecting the highest levels of the Chinese party.

Party Chairman Mao Tze-tung has ordered a nationwide purge to halt the infection which began with the publication of the theories of Yang Hsien-chen, a philosopher and central committee member who was educated in the Soviet Union.

Yang, whose influence as president of the higher party school was enormous, pushed a theory that it is possible for capitalism and communism to merge. Mao calls this a betrayal of the Marxian theory of class struggle, of China's own line that revolution is the only way to defeat the West and communize have-not nations.

In August, an article in the party's newspaper, the Peking People's Daily, denounced Yang as a proponent of modern revisionism." This meant he was espousing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's ideas.

For weeks it has been known that not everyone in China agreed with Mao's uncompromising policies of violence. But how deep was the disaffection?

The Sept. 11 issue of "The Peking Review" gives this answer:

At the present time, the debate which has started on the philosophical front in our country is continuing. In terms of numbers of participants or of its widespread influence and great significance, a debate such as this has rarely been seen in our academic circles for many years now. It seems that it is still far from being concluded. Step by step it is deepening. Truth always develops in struggle."

This crisis, heaped on top of his battle with Khrushchev, can threaten Mao's position. He is expected to win.

Held For Bogus Bills

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three employes of the Arkansas Highway Department were charged today with making counterfeit currency in the state Capitol.

A fourth man, who worked for a transportation company, was charged with possessing phony bills.

Leroy Letteer, Secret Service special agent in charge here, said about 150 bills in ones and 10s had been recovered. He said the money had been distributed among the men, but said he did not know if any had been circulated.

The three department employes were reproduction technicians, and used state equipment in the counterfeiting, Letteer said.

COMSAT Corp. Election Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. makes official today election of its temporary managers to permanent positions on the board of directors.

Backed by the traditional trump cards of company directors — management-held proxies — they were elected Thursday at COMSAT's initial stockholders meeting.

But there was considerable opposition, and on a technicality formal certification of the election and a recount were put over until today.

Meanwhile, George H. Poirier of Woonsocket, R.I., who fought management on the election and lost, served notice he will take his battle to unseat the newly named board to federal court.

Just this week, the U.S. District Court and an appeals court here rejected an effort by the textile manufacturer to force a 60-day delay in the meeting to give him time to round up proxies.

Poirier has charged the COMSAT management with improper and undemocratic procedures.

The six members of COMSAT's temporary founding board of directors now permitted to take seats on the permanent board are:

Leo D. Welch, chairman; Joseph V. Charyk, president; David M. Kennedy of Chicago; George Killion of San Francisco; Leonard H. Marks of Washington, and Bruce G. Sundlun of Washington.

These six were appointed originally by the late President John F. Kennedy. They represent the six places on the 15-man board given to public investors.

Communications carrier firms are major stockholders in the congressionally created firm and their six places on the board were given Thursday to:

James E. Dingman, Harold M. Botkin and Horace P. Moulton, all of New York and all designated by American Telephone & Telegraph Co.; Eugene R. Black and Ted B. Westfall, both of New York and both designated by International Telephone & Telegraph Co., and Douglas S. Guild of Honolulu, nominated by the Hawaiian Telephone Co.

President Johnson will appoint three more directors.

Connally Criticizes Goldwater's Words

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally criticized today what he said was Sen. Barry Goldwater's advocacy of "federal solutions to local law enforcement problems."

Speaking to the Texas attorney general's law enforcement conference, the governor said, "Remarkably, we have heard a candidate for president—a candidate who says he believes in more local control and less federal power — who nevertheless advocates more federal participation in local law enforcement."

The governor said, it is "a puzzling paradox" that the Republican presidential candidate "is demanding federal solutions to local law enforcement problems."

TOUR SLIDES SHOWN—Mrs. B. J. Bartels, left, was hostess to the Twentieth Century Club Tuesday at Martha Ann Woman's Club as they met for a luncheon and most colorful program presented by Mrs. H. J. Brice, right. Mrs. Brice showed a number of beautiful slides and gave interesting narration.

Presto! Hibachi Into Smoke Oven

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

WHEN WE heard about a new invention—well, new to us anyway — for outdoor smoke-grilling, we straightway tried it in our New York backyard.

We transformed our fireplace hibachi into a smoke oven by concocting a hood for it from aluminum foil. A table hibachi may be used the same way.

The hood works beautifully. We tested it by smoke-grilling lamb chops; you might like to try it for kebabs and other skewered foods. Our tasters, who watched the project from beginning to end, were enthralled.

We used sheets of super-strength aluminum foil torn from an 18-inch wide roll; this foil is a heavy-duty weight, designed for broiler and freezer use. It worked well in our fireplace-size hibachi; for a smaller table - size hibachi, you might find it practical to use the 12-inch wide roll of this foil.

The inside of the hibachi, with grids removed, is used for molding the hood. Here are specific directions.

MAKING THE HOOD

First remove the food grid and charcoal grid from the hibachi.

Line the inside of the hibachi with sheets of foil, having them crisscross and overhand the rim by about 6 inches. Depending upon the size of the hibachi and the width of the foil, you will need from one to three sheets of foil running on one direction and the same number of sheets running in an opposite direction.

Make sure the entire inside of the hibachi is covered; press down the foil inside, molding it so it takes on the inner contour of the hibachi. Tightly press together the overhang to form a rim.

Remove the foil shell you have molded.

Place the grids back in the hibachi. Place the foil shell over the top; adjust the rim, if necessary, to make it fit tightly and completely cover the food grid.

With a scissors, make two short crisscross cuts in the top of the foil hood. Turn back the four corners to have a small square hole in the top of the hood to permit the smoke-grilled food to brown. With the door of our hibachi closed during the grilling, the smoke issued forth from the hole in the hood in a steady reassuring stream.

Our hibachi is wide and shallow, so of course our hood turned out to be this shape; but it was still high enough to go over the food If you have a narrow deep hibachi, your smoke hood will be that shape.

USING THE HOOD

Place the charcoal on its grid. As you may know, outdoor cooks often use more charcoal than is necessary. In our hibachi — whose top food grid is a foot wide — one layer of evenly distributed charcoal briquets (24) does a fine job.

Light the charcoal and let it get to the gray, hot-coal stage. Now, if you want to follow our method, you may scatter a handful of hickory smoke meal over the coals.

Place the food to be smoke-grilled on the top grid. Place the foil smoke hood over the food. Let the food cook, turning it when it is half-done. Food will cook faster under the hood than it will during open grilling.

We smoke - grill 1-inch thick loin lamp chops about 6 mintes so that they brown on the bottom side; then we remove the hood and turn the chops with tongs. We replace the hood and finish cooking and browning the chops for 6 to 8 minutes longer.

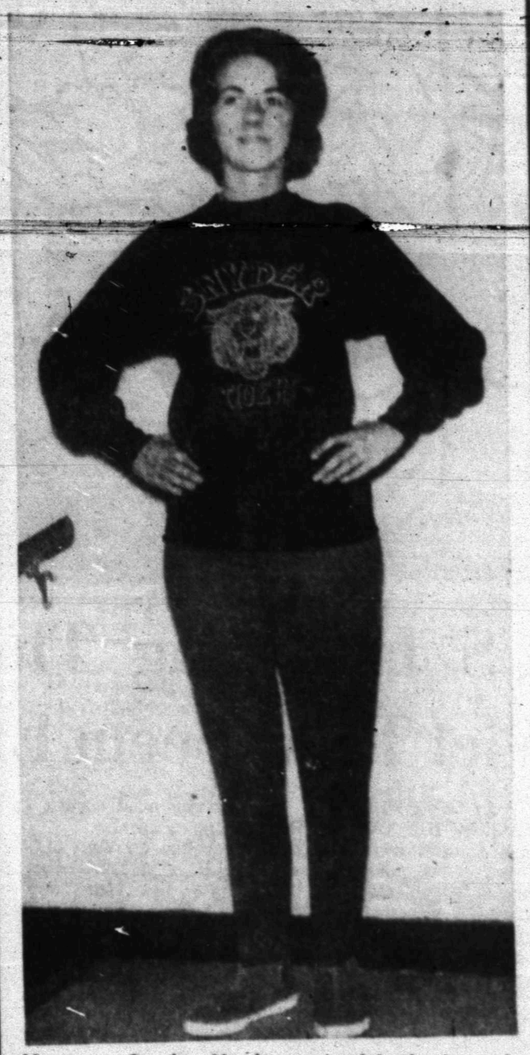

When you take off the hood for the first time to turn the meat, you may find the heat from the coals is uneven. In this case, redistribute the meat before replacing the hood.

Have a good time!

SMOKE COOKING can be done to perfection with a homemade aluminum foil hood molded to fit a table or fireplace hibachi. Dad can smoke-grill the main course and small fry can toast marshmallows and fruit kebabs.

US Is Biding Time Until Viet Talks Seem Expedient

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tough Communist line in the current talks among Laos' leaders is re-enforcing the official U.S. view that now is no time to negotiate with the Reds over neighboring South Viet Nam.

Washington has not slammed the door on a Viet Nam parley someday — perhaps after the campaign against the Viet Cong makes more headway and Peking-Hanoi decide the guerrilla terrorism is not worthwhile. But U.S. authorities say that day is not yet in sight.

Talk of negotiations cropped up during Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor's Washington visit last week. Taylor said all wars end with negotiation and military means alone cannot win the fight in South Viet Nam.

However, the former chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff predicted eventual victory through a combined political-military-economic program. Then he headed back to Saigon — arriving amid another government upheaval.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dean Rusk publicly looked to the talks now under way in Paris between Laos' neutralist, rightist and leftist leaders for any evidence that Asia's Communists have decided to slacken their drive on Southeast Asia.

State Department sources reported Thursday that Red Prince Souphanouvong has shown no real intent of withdrawing his Pathet Lao forces from strategic ground seized in the last offensive. Neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma said he is preparing to break off the Paris negotiating session.

This leaves the State Department even less inclined to swing toward French President Charles de Gaulle's view: that another Geneva conference should be held to work out a peace based on neutralization of the Indochina states.

President Johnson roundly denounced the De Gaulle idea earlier this year. "We do not believe in a conference called to ratify terror," he said.

Administration officials explain that:

De Gaulle's idea would involve U.S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam. The United States is against pulling out with the Communists still on the offensive there. Taylor testified that a U.S. departure would bring "a major disaster" turning not only to South Viet Nam but most of South Asia over to the Communist camp.

De Gaulle's premise, drawn from France's defeat in Indochina 10 years ago, is that a military victory there is impossible. But that does not mean negotiation now is the only way out. U.S. policy makers figure that a combination of civil and military measures can gain the upper hand over the insurgents. These include greater governmental stability and incentives to the population to follow peaceful pursuits.

Instead of negotiating from a basis of weakness about U.S. withdrawal, as indicated in the De Gaulle approach, the United States wants to develop a base of strength from which any talk would be about concessions to be made by the Reds. But these conditions, U.S. officials say, are not in the foreseeable future.

Varying ideas about what to do in Viet Nam have come from prominent members of Congress without making much of a dent in administration policy so far.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., while jolting the administration on some other foreign policy matters with his talk about "old myth and new realities," has generally supported the policy on South Viet Nam.

On the other hand, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has suggested that De Gaulle's neutralization proposal is worth looking into.

Yule Cards Pose A Real Problem

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is the Christmas card problem.

There are several aspects to it — such as what cards to buy, when to mail them, and whom to send them to.

Buying them isn't much of a task. If you don't feel like going to a store, all you have to do is stay home and wait. Sometime between the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving, at least 75 strangers will knock on your door and offer to sell you Christmas cards.

There are more people selling Christmas cards this time of year than are taking in laundry.

All of them are doing it to promote a worthy cause. It has been our custom for several years to buy our Christmas cards from a shifty-eyed fellow who says he is trying to raise funds to send more Hottentots to Harvard. The goal isn't so much to help the Hottentots as it is to lift the horizons of Harvard.

Every year he tries to sell us a humorous Christmas card showing the three Wise Men riding piggyback on a single camel. We always turn him down because we think the card is in execrable taste — and besides it costs a quarter.

Year after year we always buy the same card. It shows a lighted candle and a wreath and says "With Seasonal Good Wishes." You really can't expect to get more than that for a nickel — while simultaneously sending a Hottentot to Harvard.

We usually buy 250 cards.

The question arises then as when to send them. Only the desperately insecure person tries to be the first in his block to mail out his Christmas cards.

We follow a simple formula. We wait until we get our first Christmas card of the year — it usually arrives the week before Labor Day — and then we send out ours.

Then comes the real problem: whom to send them to.

First we decide we will send one to all our lifelong friends. After addressing a card to our mother, we realize we still have 249 left.

Then we send a card to all the people we owe money to or may want to borrow from the future. This leaves us with 200 cards.

Next we mail cards to our old girl friends we knew in kindergarten, the people we met on a cruise to Bermuda in 1951, the captain of the ship, and the fellow who once sold us an insurance policy in Kansas City in 1935.

We are now down to 195 cards. Even if we give one to our favorite mailman — leaving off the stamp, of course — we still have 194 to get rid of.

Some years we pick up a telephone book and address them at random to people whose names begin with "Z." We never put stamps on these cards because we feel there is no point in investing a lot of money in people you've never even met socially. They're lucky to get a card from us at all.

Junior Editors Quiz on ITALY

QUESTION: Why is Italy shaped like a boot kicking a football?

* * *

ANSWER: Kitty and Henry are showing how closely Italy, with the island of Sicily at its toe, resembles a boot about to kick a football. To understand how the main shape came, check the line of mountains running down through Italy, curving into the toe of the boot and reappearing in Sicily. Mountains were formed in several ways. One was by the buckling and wrinkling of the earth's crust as it moved under the mighty forces which, ages ago, gave mountains and continents their present shape. Mountains formed in this way are called "folded," and the general mass of Italy's Apennine mountains are of this type. But mountains piled up from volcanic eruption also helped to build up Italy's mountain spine (upper right.) As ancient seas crept around this curving chain of mountains which led first down to the right and back to the left, the rough shape of the boot naturally appeared. The resemblance was heightened by the fact that the heel part, while not mountainous, was higher than the land surrounding it, and so was left dry by the water, helping to give Italy the general shape of a boot.

* * *

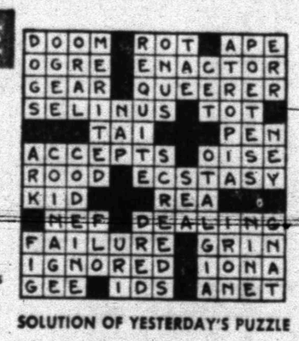

FOR YOU TO DO: Look in an atlas and see if you can find other places which remind you of human shapes. Cape Cod, for instance, looks like an arm thrust into the sea with the elbow at Chatham. The upper arm is curved back, with a kind of clenched fist at Provincetown.

Tigers Face Stamford In Second '64 Outing

The always - tough Stamford Bulldogs will be in town tonight in an attempt to knock off the Snyder Tigers. Stamford, one of the better double-A teams in the state, would like nothing better than to hand Snyder its second loss of the year.

The Tigers, on the other hand, intend to get into the win column after their 8-10 loss to Andrews last week. The boys have worked hard this week in order to be in good shape, mentally and physically for the contest.

The Bulldogs make a specialty of gunning for teams of triple-A classification, and seem to get a special joy out of beating Snyder. — This they have done more than their share of the times down through the years.

The two teams have met 12 times on the gridiron over the years, and the Tigers have come out on top in only five of the contests. Stamford has won six and there has been one tie. Another game was scheduled between the two teams in 1934, but was not played. Snyder gets credit for that one, 1-0 on a forfeit.

The series between Snyder and Stamford is an old one and includes a number of real hair-raising thrillers. Two of the best games were the first one in 1928, won by Stamford 7-6, and the contest last year which Snyder won 28-21. Most Tiger fans will remember how Snyder had to come from behind in the final quarter to take that one.

Although Stamford lost some top members of the powerful team they had last year, Coach Larry Wartes can still start a letterman at nearly everyposition. The Bulldogs have better than average weight, and are trained to hit hard and quick, a traditional trademark of Stamford teams.

The line is anchored by 180-pound Buddy Box, who started against the Tigers last year. He will have ample help from a couple of 200-pounders, George Smith and Roland Acosta. Smith is not listed as an offensive starter, but he does play most of the time on defense.

The backfield will be paced by Ronnie Jenkins, 175; Keith Kainer, 195; and Harrison Cole, 162. Cole starred in the Snyder game last year, scoring Stamford's first touchdown in the contest.

Stamford has played two games thus far this season, and has looked like a different team each time. The Bulldogs started with a 16-12 victory over highly-regarded Quanah, and then fell next to top-notch Iowa Park, 26-0. Iowa Park is currently rated second in the state in AA competition. It is quite likely that the Stamford boys were looking forward to Snyder in that game. No doubt they will be fired up in hopes of getting a victory that would give them prestige throughout the state.

Scoring touchdowns for Stamford in the Quanah game were Jenkins and Cole. Jenkins got his on a 71-yard run from scrimmage. Cole and Max Jones ran for the extra points.

The Tiger team will not be at full strength tonight. Center Mike Williamson sustained a broken hand this week and will be sidelined for most of the season. Tom Kincaid, fullback, suffered some bruises in the Andrews game and is not slated to start, although he will probably see some action. Getting the starting nod at the fullback post will be senior Bobby Kay.

Tonight's contest will be the last non-district encounter for the Tigers at home. They will go to Big Spring next Friday and Kermit the following week. They will open district warfare here against Sweetwater Oct. 9.

Coach Horrace Bostick has named tackle Roy Miller and halfback Albert Williams as captains for tonight's game.

A record of the Snyder-Stamford series is as follows:

1928 - Stamford 7 Snyder 6
1931 - Snyder 52 Stamford 6
1932 - Snyder 20 Stamford 7
1933 - Snyder 28 Stamford 0
1934 - Snyder 1 Stamford 0 (forfeit)
1946 - Snyder 6 Stamford 6 (tie)
1947 - Stamford 19 Snyder 7
1948 - Stamford 20 Snyder 0
1949 - Snyder 13 Stamford 6
1950 - Stamford 12 Snyder 7
1951 - Stamford 20 Snyder 0
1962 - Stamford 10 Snyder 7

3 Winning Streaks Go On Line

By The Associated Press

Winning streaks go on the line from Class AAAA champion Garland, Corsicana and Rockwall in Texas high school football games tonight.

Garland seeks its 14th straight triumph at the expense of Dallas Samuel after whipping Dallas Adams 23-0 last week. The defending titlists aren's expected to encounter much more difficulty with Samuell.

Fifteen-game victory skeins are at stake for Corsicana and Rockwall. Corsicana, the Class AAA champion now competing in AAAA, takes on Fort Worth Carter-Riverside, while Class AA titlist Rockwall goes against Kaufman. Like Garland, both are favored.

Most of the tougher games may be in Class AAA. Top-ranked Pharr-San Juan-Alamo will meet a strong McAllen team Saturday night. The No. 2 club, Athens, will be challenged by McKinney.

Hungry Cardinals Could Shake Up Eastern League

NEW YORK (AP) — The hungry St. Louis Cardinals, underdogs to the Cleveland Browns, can shake up the Eastern Conference of the National Football League Sunday by upsetting Jimmy Brown and Co.

After the New York Giants' disastrous opener in Philadelphia, many pro observers look to the Cards and Browns as the top threats in the East. They also will be stealing glances toward Pittsburgh to see if Y. A. Tittle can bounce back for the Giants.

Minnesota, too, can scramble the NFL's Western Conference form by handing the champion Chicago Bears a second straight defeat. The Bears showed little offensive against Green Bay and the Vikings ran Baltimore out of the park with 463 yards gained, 313 on the ground.

Washington could upend the Dallas Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl. The revamped Skins can run and throw. The Cowboys still are having trouble putting the pieces together.

Green Bay figures over Baltimore, surprising Philadelphia over San Francisco, Detroit over tough Los Angeles and New York over Pittsburgh.

The big one in the American League's three-game weekend program is the replay of last year's championship game — Boston at San Diego. The favored Chargers humiliated the Pats last year 51-10.

Despite upsets by Philadelphia, Minnesota and Boston, things ran close to form in the openers last week. In the NFL we had a 5-22 record and 3-1 in the AFL for a total 8-3.

Taking another stab it looks like this: All games Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Green Bay 31, Baltimore 20 — If Vikings could run through the Colts' line, Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor should rip it to shreds. Johnny Unitas' arm will keep Colts in ball game.

Minnesota 21, Chicago 17 — Loss of linebacker Larry Morris, possibly for the season, a cruel blow to Bears who must rely on defense with sick offense. Bill Brown and Tom Mason carry the load for Vikings.

Detroit 13, Los Angeles 10 — Saturday night — Battle of two fine defensive units. Rams' front four tough to crack but Lions won't make eight ball-losing errors like Steelers did against LA. Rams must go again with rookie quarterback Bill Munson.

New York 28, Pittsburgh 14 — Don't be surprised if Giants run a little on Steelers, give Tittle a chance to open with bombs. Giants need bounce back win badly.

St. Louis 17, Cleveland 14 — Two well-balanced offenses but Cards have edge in deep defense. Frank Ryan was intercepted three times last week at Washington.

Philadelphia 24, San Francisco 17 — Joe Kuharich has Eagles on cloud nine. They can't keep it up, but it should last long enough to handle 49ers who will be minus Bob St. Clair. Another good day for Norm Snead and Tim Brown.

AFL

Oakland 28, Houston 24, Saturday night — Oilers won't blitz Raiders like Boston did last week. Al Davis beat Houston twice last year and again in an exhibition game 34-20. Why not again?

Buffalo 27, Denver 20 — Improved Bills should handle Broncs although Jacky Lee always a threat to leaky Buffalo secondary.

San Diego 21, Boston 13 — These two clubs played two close-to-the-vest games last year before title game rout. Sid Gillman has outside threat to counter Pats' blitzing tactics.

defense. Meredith must have big day to make favorite role stand up.

SWC May Start Feeling Its Age

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference becomes 50 years old Saturday and its opponents may make it start feeling its age.

Only in two of the six games that open the campaign is the league favored to win.

Of course Texas, which puts both the national championship and an 11-game winning stream on the line, is an easy choice to lash Tulane when they tangle at Austin Sahurday night.

Tulane thinks it's stronger than the team that managed only one victory last year but the Greenies will have had to come a long way to draw even with experienced-packed Texas.

Arkansas is the other conference team getting the favorite's nod. The Razorbacks are choices over Oklahoma State at Little Rock Saturday night.

The fact that Arkansas has beaten Oklahoma State seven straight games and that it has five more lettermen have been the determining factors.

Texas Tech plays a powerful Mississippi State at Lubbock and Texas A&M meets Louisiana State at Baton Rouge in other night games.

Texas Tech faces a tough outfit indeed in Mississippi State, which has 23 lettermen led by the talented Hoyle Granger, and expects to be even better than the Liberty Bowl champions of 1963.

Tech looks stronger than it has in a half-dozen years and feels its Donny Anderson can do what Granger does and more. But the Red Raiders still will go into this one as under dogs.

Texas A & M hasn't beaten Louisiana State in four years and isn't quite up to it this year although the Aggies undoubtedly are a better team than last season when they tumbled 14-6. LSU is stronger, too.

Two games are afternoon affairs, with Southern Methodist in Florida to meet the Florida Gators and Texas Christian at Lawrence to battle Kansas.

The sophomorish Southern Methodists won't be expected to whip experience-packed Florida and it's the same situation regarding Texas Christian against Kansas.

Baylor and Rice don't open the season until next week.

Here's how they look Saturday:

Texas-Tulane—look for Texas to win as decisively as last year.

Texas Christian-Kansas—The Horned Frogs could bring a lot of red faces but chances are they won't and it's Kansas by a couple of touchdowns.

Texas A&M-Louisiana State—The Aggies might but it's the might of Louisiana State that seems the most awesome.

Texas Tech-Mississippi State — Mississippi State by a touchdown on the basis of reasoning.

Southern Methodist-Florida — The young Mustangs won't be push-overs but they'll hardly win over an outfit like Florida.

Arkansas-Oklahoma State — Arkansas ought to win a solid victory.

Local Junior High Teams Break Even Thursday Night

Snyder Junior High football teams broke even in Thursday night's action, with two local elevens winning games, two losing and one finishing in a tie.

Three games were unreeled on the local junior high field and two were played in Big Spring.

• • •

Lamar 9th 30, Runnels 9th 6

Lamar's 9th Grade Texans erected a crisp defense and trotted four nimble backs on to the field, all of whom contributed to the scoring, to thoroughly trounce Big Spring Runnels, 30-6, on the home field Thursday night.

Kent Noble got the scoring parade underway midway of the first period when he zig-zagged 67 yards for a touchdown. He got excellent blocking as he turned the corner around the right side, was on his own for a spell and then picked up some fancy downfield road - clearing tactics to score easily. Quarterback Mickey Almond added the two extra points.

In the second period, Almond passed to Jerry Hardwick for a 20-yard scoring play. Try for the conversion failed and the Texans led at the half, 14-0.

A runback of a punt from midfield to the 1-yard line on the last play of the third period set up Runnels' only score. They carried over on the first play of the fourth quarter.

However, a few moments later, Ronnie Shields, who punished Runnels all evening with blasts up the middle, went 27 yards for another Texan touchdown and Almond again added the extra points.

Hardwick got the final TD on a 3-yard scamper with a minute and 18 seconds left to play. Almond passed to Frankie Grimmett for the two points.

Grimett, Tim Mebane and Noble were particular standouts in the Texan defense.

• • •

Lamar 8th 16, Runnels 8th 16

BIG SPRING — Lamar's stubborn 8th Grade Texans fought from behind twice Thursday night to emerge with a 16-16 tie with the Runnels Junior High 8th graders.

Runnels took an 8-0 lead in the first period. The Texans battled back to tie the count at 8-0 in the second period, with Mitch Rambin going in for the touchdown from 10 yards out.

In the third period, Runnels hiked its count to 16 points and it was late in the fourth before the Texans could get on the scoreboard again. Rambin again did the honors, this time on a 25-yard run.

Defensive standouts for the Lamar team were Doyle Gallman and Jodi Williamson. Williamson had two pass interceptions in crucial situations.

• • •

Sweetwater 8th 8, Travis 8th 6

Sweetwater's 8th grade football team capitalized on a blocked punt to push over for a touchdown in the second half Thursday night and take an 8-6 victory over the Travis 8th graders on the local junior high field.

Travis had gone into the halftime intermission with a 6 - 0 lead. The Blue Devils scored in the second period after the first quarter had resulted in a complete stalemate.

After a Sweetwater punt was returned to the Sweetwater 35-yard line, the Blue Devils pieced together a sustained drive that was climaxed when Ken Sehested went into the end zone from three yards out. The try for a two point conversion failed.

Sweetwater blocked a Travis punt and gained possession of the ball on the Travis 34 yard line to set up its touchdown. The visitors moved in to score from short yardage.

Sehested, Roy Lee, Efrain Cervantes and Gary Welch were among the more effective defensive men for the Blue Devils, and Sehested and Welch also showed to advantage on offense.

• • •

Lamar 7th 2, Goliad 7th 0

BIG SPRING — A safety early in the second quarter gave the Lamar 7th Grade Texans a 2-0 decision over Big Spring Goliad here Thursday evening.

The two-pointer came when Goliad was attempting to punt from its own end zone while facing fourth down and 18 yards to go on the 2-yard line. The snap from center sailed out of the end zone.

Lamar had a touchdown called back. Dennis Boomer went into the end zone on a 20-yard pass play, but the Texans were off side. The Texans also drove for a first down on the Goliad five, but had a 23-yard run nullified by a back-in-motion penalty. On two other occasions the Texans lost the ball on fumbles after picking up first downs inside the Goliad 20.

Goliad never penetrated the Lamar 35. In fact the Mavericks had a net deficit of some 12 yards offensively.

Steve Shoemake, Carlos Preston and Neal Rinehart were defensive stalwarts for the Texans.

• • •

Runnels 7th 14, Travis 7th 0

Two first half touchdowns proved enough for the Big Spring Runnels 7th grade football team to defeat the Travis 7th graders, 14-0, Thursday night on the local junior high field.

Runnels scored early in the first quarter on a 55-yard touchdown run, and then added another to account for all of its points before half-time.

Although the Travis team never was able to get its offense cranked up for a sustained drive it managed to tighten the defense in the second half to hold the Runnels team scoreless.

Snyder B Hosts Big Spring Team

Snyder High School's B Team footballers are sharpening their claws for their second engagement of the season Saturday night when the Big Spring B Team is scheduled to pull into Tiger Stadium.

The locals, 34-8 victors over Sweetwater B last Saturday night, hope to continue a streak that goes back to the early part of the 1963 season. The '63 team finished with seven victories in a row, last week's triumph made it eight and on Saturday night they'll be going for nine.

The game with Big Spring B has been set for 8 p.m., half an hour later than the kickoff for last week's game. The time was moved back at the request of Big Spring, since some of their B team members were expected to go to Ysleta for tonight's varsity game.

Coaches Bill Hartsfield and Roy Carter probably will start an offensive eleven composed of Buddy Powell and Mike Tipping at ends, Jimmy Wilson and Jim Headstream at tackles, Sam Elledge and Jim Sarter at guards and Keith Noble at center; Rob Golden at quarterback, Bobby Clardy at fullback and Ronnie Hardwick and Rickey Hall at halfbacks.

On defense Joe Breeden and Dennis Kennedy are likely to man the tackle slots, while Eldon Woodward and Murray Bowden will be first string linebackers and Billy Wilson and Ronnie Clemmer will be in service at defensive halfback posts.

July, August Will Record Consumer Spending Hike

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — There was no stampede to the stores last spring when the income tax cut took effect, but there is strong evidence that Americans have been spending an increasing percentage of the extra money in the past few weeks.

"We know that July and August will show a significant increase in the proportion of money spent," a government official said today, "but we're not making any estimate yet."

Consumers spent about 52 per cent of the extra money they received during the first three months the tax reduction was fully effective — April, May and June.

This may seem an irrelevant figure to the wage earner who had a hard time making ends meet, even with a few extra dollars. But it is watched closely by economists, most of whom assumed the tax cut would provide an important stimulus to business.

Increased purchases by the consumer inevitably lead to expanded production at the factory level, and therefore, more jobs and profits.

Administration economists argued that consumers normally spend 92 to 94 per cent of every dollar they can lay their hands on, and that this proportion of the increase in take-home pay would be put immediately into the spending stream.

Since consumers spent only about half the extra money, the percentage of their total income which was spent fell to 91.8 per cent.

This was pointed out in speeches by Richard H. Holton, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, and C. Canby Balderston, a member of the Federal Reserve Board.

Holton noted that the rate of spending often is low in the April-June period. He said there usually is a slight lag between an increase in personal income and increased spending.

Balderston put it this way:

"As consumers become accustomed to a little fatter take-home pay, they are likely to increase their spending, and there is some indication that this adjustment has been occurring during the summer months."

The fact that consumers spent 91.8 per cent of their take-home pay does not mean that all of the remaining 8.2 per cent went into savings accounts. There was no massive increase in savings of this type.

The "savings" took the form of paying off some debts — although there was no great reluctance to take on new installment obligations — and purchases of stocks and mutual fund shares.

Sec. Udall Asks Establishing Of Guadalupe Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Stewart Udall urged Congress today to pass legislation establishing the Guadalupe Mountains National Park in Texas.

The proposed park would include the highest point in the state. It would embrace 77,500 acres approximately 100 miles east of El Paso and 55 southwest of Carlsbad, N.M.

The Interior Department said it now has jurisdiction over 5,632 acres as a result of a 1961 private gift to the nation.

The area set aside under $2296 for the park contains a combination of scenic and scientific attributes that qualify it as an outstanding addition to the national park system," the department's report stated.

It said the Permian marine limestone mountains in the proposed park contain the most extensive and significant fossil reefs in the world.

In addition, said the department, 'it contains the most diversified and beautiful scenery in Texas and some of the most beautiful landscape in the entire southwestern part of the United States."

In further description, the department said:

"The Guadalupe range resembles a huge 'V' with the point of the 'V' lying in Culberson County, Tex., and the two arms extending northward into New Mexico.

"The point of the 'V' is El Capitan, which, with its sheer thousand-foot cliff, is visible for over 50 miles.

"Directly north of El Capitan is the highest point in Texas, Guadalupe Peak, rising to a height of 8,751 feet above sea level. Elevations range from 3,650 feet at the base of the western arm of the mountains to the top height of Guadalupe Peak.

Between the two arms of the mountain range is a pine-covered rolling highland deeply incised by canyons. The contrast between desert and high country atmosphere—including shaded canyons nourished by mountain streams—is vividly apparent. . . .

The first historic references to the area were compiled by the Spanish conquistadores on their journeys northward from Mexico. After their explorations, very little exploration occurred until the United States military expeditions began in 1849.

Next the Butterfield Trail was established through the area in 1858, and one trail station was erected at the mouth of Pine Spring Canyon. Remnants of this station are visible today and will present an interesting exhibit to aid in telling the story of the Guadalupe Mountain country."

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

Two Miles Outside Town — Now if everyone will fasten the seat belt and the ladies will stop taking a minute we will explain what this is all about.

Mr. George De Witt of the Mexico City Times threatened to pour ice water on me if he didn't get a column dateline outside Mexico City. So we packed up three or four cigars and made a fast trip to this nice little roadside village.

It is smack on the Laredo Highway and as far as I could determine, has no name. At least nobody around here knew of any. They said it was just a place where people stop.

So to make Mr. DeWitt happy, I stopped and spent the day studying conditions on both sides of the highway.

I must say it is a pleasant little town. Honest. On you have a million cars, trucks and buses rumbling by but they have a wonderful little eating shop that serves barbecued pork.

And what I did mostly was sit at a table in the shade, with my boots on the table, ordering pork tacos. In places like this people are civilized and like for a man to be comfortable.

Some of the plush restaurants in the city get sore if you do this. They have become so enmeshed in civilization they have lost touch with reality.

At any rate it occurred to me that people who run little restaurants of this type have a built-in IBM. They do not write things down on a check and stamp numbers all over it.

You walk in and say, "Four tacos, please." The lady on the business end mumbles without looking up and someone else comes in and orders.

Then you go to the ice box and take a soda pop. And a man gets a couple of beers at the same time. After the second taco you go back for another soda and say, "One more taco, please."

The lady never looks up. And this one has a catchy little rig for making tortillas. She got herself a sheet of some kind of metal and had somebody make a great big tortilla - size hole in the middle.

So she drops a wad of dough in this hole (the metal sheet is on a table), scrapes it a couple of times and out comes a tortilla ready for the stove.

Some years back the Health Ministry passed a law against making tortillas by hand. They said it was unsanitary. So this lady works faster and beats the law.

Anyhow, they are fanning out platters of food to five or six tables and when somebody finishes he walks over and asks, "How much?"

She wipes her hands on her apron, looks out the door a moment, and says, "Four pesos and thirty-five centavos."

I mean you find a lady or gentleman in a store who can't read nor write but they have the tab on how many tables and how much.

Then a fellow starts to leave and says, "It was five tacos and a beer."

The lady looks at him sharply and says, "You had another taco and picked up another beer from the ice box. 'That's seven fifty."

This is the way highway-stop people operate. It is all in the head and nothing is missing.

REV. JACK STRICKLAND

Astronaut Carpenter To Be Promoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter, the second American to orbit the earth, has been selected for promotion from Navy lieutenant commander to commander.

At the same time, Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, announced in Houston that the Navy officer will serve as his executive assistant.

Be still

"He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law." Isaiah 42:4.

Although it often means retreat,
There is no failure in defeat
But only delay to educate
That something better may await!
By error's trail, truth is earned;
Through way of defeat, wisdom learned!

What are your treasures? Where are they hidden? Which do you love most, God, or gold? Are you more interested in the work of His church or in the production of your mine? Do you get more pleasure from helping people or from hoarding wealth? What is the power of yellow metal? What is the hidden lure of riches that makes a man rise to the bait and be caught on the hook of destruction? Don't let this deadly paralysis seize you. Twenty of the world's richest men met in Chicago. All of them died poor men and most of their careers came to a tragic end. The real treasures are Heavenly treasures. Lay up a chest full where rust and thieves cannot break through to them.
