ITALY SAYS WAR IS INEVITABLE

MAN'S SLAYING IS CONFESSED BY NEGROES

BROTHERS ARE HELD IN CORPUS JAIL FOR SAFE KEEPING

(By Staff Correspondent)

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 16—Two negro brothers, confessed slayers of Byron Belschner of Edna, whose body was found in the Navidad river last Friday, were held in jail here today "because feeling still was high against them at Edna."

The brothers, Oscar and Coupie Brown, confessed to the slaying last night to Sheriff William Shely of Nueces county and Sheriff Hugh L. White of Jackson county, the officers said.

Body Weighted Down

The negroes were arrested soon after the body of Belschner was found tied with wire and weighted with an automobile cylinder head.

Coupie Brown's blood-stained clothes and a blood-spattered jacket identified as one belonging to the slain man were found near Refugio last night.

The negroes said Belschner was shot and then dumped into the river and that they fled in his automobile

Denton Woman Dies Of 4-Months Injury

FORT WORTH, July 16. (AP)—A four-months-old injury, received when an automobile crashed into a telephone pole at Haltom City, proved fatal here this morning for Mrs. Ethel Lewis, 32, of Denton.

She died in a Fort Worth hospital at 7 o'clock without knowing of the death of her 75-year old father, J. G. Hester, in Denton three weeks ago.

Relatives said Mrs. Lewis had never been entirely conscious since the accident on the night of March 17, and had not recognized members of her family.

Corpus Christi Man Dies In Plane Crash

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 16. (AP)—Dale Brickley, 35, pilot and airplane mechanic, was killed when a plane crashed today on the W. L. Root farm, three miles east of Taft.

Brickley had left here early to take the plane to Taft, where Eddie Johnson, airport manager, planned to dust cotton.

Cause of the crash was not determined. The plane caught fire, and burned.

AIR SURCHARGED WITH TENSION ON VOTE ON ROOSEVELT

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, July 16. (AP)—Executive committee members of the Young Democrats of Texas met here today in an air surcharged with high feeling to vote on a planned resolution which would oust Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, as first vice-president of the state organization.

MOVE DEFEATED

FORT WORTH, July 16. (AP) — Executive committee members of the Young Democrats of Texas today dealt a smashing defeat to a resolution seeking to oust Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, as vice-president of the state organization.

The committee, well represented from all sections of the state, went through routine business in the opening hour, but pre-meeting promises were that fire works would be ignited later.

MRS. NORWOOD DIES TODAY

RESIDENT OF CITY FOR PAST 18 YEARS DIES OF LONG ILLNESS

With the death of Mrs. E. P. Norwood Tuesday morning, a long life of social activity and contacts with friends throughout the South Plains and Panhandle areas was closed.

Mrs. Norwood, wife of one of Lubbock's prominent land owners, succumbed to a lingering illness at 9:15 this morning at her home, 1914-B Ave. H. Confined to her home for the past ten months, her condition had necessitated frequent blood transfusions and was regarded as serious for the past two weeks.

Burial In Waco

Funeral arrangements were incomplete early Tuesday afternoon, although it was indicated by the Sanders Funeral home that burial would be in Waco.

A resident of Lubbock for the last 18 years, Mrs. Norwood had resided in Plainview, Quanah, and other towns in North Texas. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Survivors are the husband and a sister, who resides in Walla Walla, Wash. Miss Annabelle Norwood of Houston, a sister of Mr. Norwood, is en route here.

Blackshirts May Face Blackjackets In Ethiopia

ROME, July 16 (AP)—If Italy goes to war with Abyssinia, Italian fascists may fight against Ethiopian fascists.

Known as the "blackjackets," there is a fascist party in Abyssinia which has made some headway and the Italian press has given it considerable space from time to time.

Its latest victory is seen in the nomination of its chieftain, young Ras Nasibu, to be governor of the important province of Harrar. This province would feel the first brunt of an Italian attack from Eritrea.

The Ethiopian fascists, say the Italian press, "are young nationalists who possess a sprinkling of European education and hate foreigners. Their dominance over the older men becomes more manifest every day."

Of the two classes, say the Italian newspapers, "the new one is the worse and the more dangerous for peace."

NO SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTE IS SEEN

NEW MILITARY UNITS ARE MOBILIZED FOR ETHIOPIAN DRIVE

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, July 16—The authoritative newspaper Giornale d' Italia—which often mirrors the Italian government's views—today said flatly no diplomatic formula for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute could be found.

Such formulae, the newspaper asserted, "are capable only of altering the conditions of the conflict without eliminating its inevitability."

New Troops Mobilized

Militarists asserted earlier that the mobilization of two new military divisions would make Italy ready for any eventuality in East Africa.

This confidence was based on military opinion that for the present at least, ten white divisions, aided by some 75,000 native troops in the colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland, would be more than sufficient for a push into Ethiopia.

CAMP STAFF IS BEING NAMED

OFFICERS ARRIVING IN CITY FOR DISTRICT CCC OFFICES

With the exception of four members, army personnel of the Lubbock district Civilian Conservation corps staff is complete, Captain J. P. Roehm, district commander, said today.

Two Others To Be Named

Two other officers have been appointed but have not arrived. They are Capt. DeWitt C. Smith, executive officer, and Capt. George W. Wilhite, assistant surgeon. A district chaplain and a district veterinarian are to be named.

Captain Roehm said he would ask immediate transfer to his command all Civilian Conservation corps companies now in operation in this district. Those companies are at Lake Abilene, Big Spring, Hereford, Roosevelt, N. M., and two at Palo Duro. Those groups have been operating under the supervision of the West Texas and Oklahoma districts.

New Deal Plans To Continue Its Tariff Reciprocal Treaties

NEW TRADE AGREEMENT WITH GERMANY IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN OFFERED BY SECRETARY HULL

BY LLOYD A. LEHRBAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Confronted with a demand for the abolition of the law on which it bases its reciprocal tariff policy, the New Deal today gave every indication of going on with the program.

The fact, authoritative sources disclosed that the United States has offered to conclude a new reciprocal trade agreement with Germany, Secretary Hull made the offer in a note handed to Dr. Hans Luther, German ambassador, before the latter left recently for a visit in Berlin.

Due Back Aug. 2

Luther is due back in Washington with Germany's reply August 2. Hull's note answered overtures for a trade agreement made by Luther. It informed Germany that the United States will be glad to conclude a reciprocal pact if basic agreement is reached that it will conform what is termed Roosevelt "equality of treatment" policy. Officials here have felt that Germany's trade policy has resulted in discrimination against American goods.

The demand for abolition of the reciprocal tariff law was voiced in the senate yesterday by Senator McCarran (D-Nev). He introduced a resolution to repeal the law, under which the president can lower or

Allred To Vote Against Repeal But He Will Not Stump For Dry Campaign

RAINS BENEFIT AREA'S CROPS

GOOD PRECIPITATION IS REPORTED MONDAY; ECLIPSE CLOUDED

South Plains feed crops, entering a growing stage in which a maximum amount of moisture is needed, were benefited by wide-spread rainfall last night.

Lubbock experiment sub-station, east of the city, recorded .39 of an inch. At Texas Technological college the precipitation was .29 of an inch. Other sections received rainfall ranging upward to three inches.

Moisture Was Needed

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment sub-station, said feed crops needed additional rain here for maturing. Cotton, generally, is in excellent condition.

Lubbock has had .91 of an inch of rain this month.

Rain clouds curtained the opening performance of the longest eclipse of the moon in a half century. Before midnight, however, clouds had drifted away, revealing the orange disc that was the moon. Gradually the earth's shadow passed from the moon's face, as hundreds of Lubbock and South Plains residents watched the celestial show.

Santa Fe dispatchers said a three-inch downpour fell at Sudan, that Amherst, about seven miles from there, received one inch, Happy from one-eighth to one-half, Kress one-eighth, Slaton one-eighth, Plainview one-fourth. Northeast of Kress was overhung by lowering clouds and heavy rain appeared probable. From Southland to a point about half way to Post received heavy rains, and Levelland a good rain.

Fall Is Light Here

The Fort Worth and Denver City line said Quitaque and Plainview received about .13 of an inch.

Rain fell from Clovis, N. M., to Lubbock, and several inches of water stood in barrow ditches near Sudan, Amherst, Anton and between Anton and Littlefield.

Hail fell on some farms near Anton and Jack Grace, Anton farmer,

CHIEF EXECUTIVE SAYS ALL CITIZENS HAVE RIGHT OF OPINION

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 16—Governor Allred announced today that while he would vote against repeal of the prohibition amendment he would not take the stump in the campaign culminating an election August 24.

Governor Allred said his position in favor of submitting the question of prohibition modification and his intentions to vote against repeal had not been altered.

Position Remains Same

Concerning a newspaper story from Dallas to the effect he would be asked to make speeches opposing repeal of the prohibition amendment, Governor Allred said:

"My position remains just the same as it was during the campaign. I favored submission. The question has been submitted. I stated that personally I would vote against repeal, but that I accorded every other citizen of Texas the same right to his own convictions on the subject.

Is Personal Dry

"I was elected governor not only by the vote of my dry friends but with the enthusiastic support of many liberals, who, while they disagreed with me as to the best method of handling the liquor question, respected my views. Personally and officially, I am against liquor, but feel that my friends on both sides of the question are entitled to the same respect for their views which they extended me."

Japanese Place Tax On Canada's Exports

TOKYO, July 16 (AP)—The Japanese cabinet approved today a surtax of 50 per cent on commodities constituting Canada's chief exports to Japan.

The measure will not become effective until promulgated by imperial ordinance, expected July 20.

A foreign office spokesman said the surtax could be lifted if Canada agreed to modify what he termed trade discriminations against Japan.

GENERAL SAFE AFTER "BAILING OUT" OF BURNING PLANE IN ARIZONA AREA

(By Staff Correspondent)

KINGMAN, Ariz., July 16. — Maj. Gen. George E. Leach, head of the National guard, nursed a lacerated arm today and joked about wandering for hours through Arizona wastelands after "bailing out" of a burning army airplane.

Flying from Washington, D. C., to Santa Maria, Calif., the general parachuted to safety, while the pilot of the ship, Capt. Charles M. Cummings flew on for about ten miles before abandoning the burning plane.

Search Made

A widespread search for the general was under way when he appeared here shortly before midnight.

Captain Cummings landed near a ranchhouse and quickly organized a searching party and later hurried to Seligman to notify war department officials in Washington of the mishap. Rescue planes and two National guard companies had been sent into the area.

General Leach, dusty from his long tramp in the desert and his subsequent ride into town, laughed as he told of his experiences.

Captain Cummings said he told

RESOLUTION ON ACTION IS TABLED

VOTE IS 111 TO 48 TO ADJOURN SESSION ON NEXT TUESDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 16—The house today tabled, 111 to 48, a resolution to force adjournment of this session of congress on next Tuesday.

The resolution — not debatable — was offered by Representative Deen (D-Ga). Immediately one of the Democratic leaders, Representative O'Connor of New York, moved it be tabled. That undoubtedly kills it.

Standing Vote Demanded

Speaker Byrns announced O'Connor's motion had carried on a voice vote, but a standing vote was demanded. On that, the count was 111 to 48.

The vote was almost strictly on party lines, six other Democrats voting with Deen and against the motion to table. Two Republicans joined the Democrats.

Just before Deen offered his resolution, Representative Woodrum (D-Va) made a brief speech in which he said he favored "100 per cent" with those who thought congress should "speedily adjourn."

MARTIN NAMED AS JUSTICE

WICHITA FALLS MAN IS SUCCESSOR TO HAL S. LATTIMORE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 16. (AP)—Governor Allred today appointed Judge P. A. Martin of Wichita Falls to succeed Judge Hal S. Lattimore as associate justice of the Fort Worth court of civil appeals.

He appointed Judge Allen D. Montgomery of Wichita Falls, at present judge of the 30th district court composed of Wichita, Archer and Young counties, as Judge Martin's successor.

Judge Lattimore advised the governor he was resigning effective September 6.

Judge Since 1920

Judge Martin has been judge of the 89th district court of Wichita Falls since its creation in 1920, and prior to that time was district attorney and district judge of the 30th judicial district.

He also was presiding judge of the administrative district in which he resides and a member of the civil judicial council, both of which posts, under the governor's appointment, passed to Judge Montgomery.

APPLICATION IS MADE FOR SURVEY OF UNDERGROUND WATER SUPPLY IN AREA

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The Works Relief administration reported today the following applications had been received from government departments for funds to carry out construction projects and surveys:

Texas and New Mexico:

Department of interior:

For an investigation of the origin, quantity and availability of the ground-water used extensively for irrigation, and for municipal and industrial supplies throughout the high plains in Western Texas and in adjacent areas in New Mexico, $100,000.

The application said: "because of the area considered is semi-arid, has no surface streams, and is underlain practically everywhere by abandant underground water, irrigation by pumping is of interest. A number of irrigation districts which utilize shallow ground water have already been developed. As ground water is a natural resource that is definitely exhaustible, it is essential that the quantity and availability of the supply be determined accurately as possible, in order to protect the existing devel-

DECISION MADE BY COURT IN BOSTON

RULING HANDED DOWN IN SUIT BROUGHT BY HOOSAC MILLS

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, July 16—The United States circuit court of appeals today held unconstitutional the processing and floor taxes imposed under the Agricultural Adjustment act.

The court found that no such authority to impose taxes had been delegated to the secretary of agriculture by the constitution or by decisions of the Supreme court.

The circuit court's decision was based upon a test case brought by receivers of the Hoosac Mills, which sought recovery of $81,694.48.

One Judge Dissents

The decision was subscribed to by Judges Scott Wilson and George

TO APPEAL PROMPTLY

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Prompt appeal to the Supreme court of the adverse ruling on the constitutionality of processing taxes by a circuit court of appeals at Boston was promised today by justice department lawyers.

Pending an opportunity to study the decision, AAA officials declined comment. Previously government attorneys had said the case would be appealed regardless of the ruling, and that a final decision on constitutionality of the AAA and the processing taxes was expected "before Christmas."

Attorney General Cummings and lawyers in his tax division said the Hoosac mills probably would control more than 150 other suits now on file in various federal courts attacking the processing taxes and asking refunds and injunctions against payments.

Benefit payments to millions of farmers and nearly a billion dollars in collected taxes are involved.

F. Morris. Judge George H. Bingham, senior justice, dissented.

"It is clear," said the decision, that the main purpose of the act, "is to control and regulate the production of the so-called basic agricultural commodities of the several states, through agreements with the producers and in consideration of what is termed rental or benefit payments, to reduce acreage or production for market sufficient to increase the current average price of such products to that elusive point where the returns to the farmer from the production of such commodities will purchase, under present conditions the same amount of industrial products that the returns to the farmer from the same products would buy in the five-year pre-war period from July 1909 to August 1914.

Power Not Authorized

"The power of congress to regulate interstate commerce does not authorize it to do so by taxing products either of agriculture or industry before they enter interstate commerce, or otherwise to control their production merely because their production may indirectly affect interstate commerce.

"The issue is not, as the government contends, whether congress can appropriate funds raised by general taxation for any purpose deemed by congress in furtherance of the 'general welfare,' but whether congress has any power to control or regulate matters left to the states and lay a special tax for that purpose."

Not Administrative Function

The court also set forth that "the power to determine what the law shall be, what property shall be affected by taxation, or regulation, and what standards shall govern the administrative officers in administering acts of congress, has never been held to be an administrative function.

"The power to impose a tax and to determine what property shall bear a tax can only be determined by the legislative department of the government. If congress undertakes to lay down a guide for an administrative officer to follow in carrying out its mandates, it must be by an intelligible and a reasonably definite standard. . . .

"The balance between production and consumption of certain commodities or the equalizing of the purchasing power thereof between

Two Hundred Fifty Guests Call At Jackson Home Honoring Virgil Ballards

Jackson Residence Is Scene Of Party

Approximately 250 guests called at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Jackson, 2515 Twenty-second street, Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ballard who were married June 29. The bride is the former Miss Christine Bundy.

The reception, which was to have been an informal garden party, was indoors because of inclement weather. The house was decorated with bronze and red cannas and gladioli.

These Receive

Guests were met by Dr. and Mrs. Jackson. The receiving line included Mr. and Mrs. Ballard; the bride's mother, Mrs. O. T. Bundy of Silverton; Mrs. Bradford Knapp; the bride's aunt, Mrs. L. W. Kiker, and Mr. Kiker of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Wilson; Mrs. P. W. Cawthon, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Smith.

Others in the house party were Mr. and Mrs. George Woodbury, Miss Roxie Davenport of Phillips, Maine, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Clement, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Goodwin, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Cunningham and Francis Wilson.

At Guest Book

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Cawthon presided, alternately, at the guest book.

College friends of Mrs. Ballard who assisted in serving were her sister, Miss Joni Bundy; Mrs. Marion Harris, and Misses Nancy Ruth Leaverton, Dorothy Rushing, Jean Ayres, Mary Wilson, Crystelle Scudder, Rose Heatly and Mary Geniece Hardberger.

The serving table was decorated with lace vine and bronze nasturtiums.

Mary L. Revier Is To Receive Award

Mary Louise Revier of Carlisle community, winning 4-H club bedroom demonstrator of Lubbock county, has received word from Miss Bess Edwards, state agent of College Station, that she received second place in a South Plains district bedroom improvement contest conducted recently by Texas Extension service.

It was announced Sunday that Miss Revier had won third place but that information, which first had been sent out from College Station, was erroneous, Miss Hazel Bratley, county agent, said today.

Miss Revier competed with 18 other demonstrators of the district. Part of her award will be a place of honor at an annual banquet for bedroom demonstrators at short course, July 29-Aug. 3, at College Station.

This is the fourth year Lubbock county 4-H girls have improved bedrooms. In 1932, Guyrene Horton of Hurlwood community won second place in the district and the following year her sister, Dorothy, won district third place.

Miss Bratley said that in 83 counties over the state, 682 bedroom demonstrators and more than 11,000 club cooperators have improved bedrooms this year.

ATLANTA CITY, N. J.—Animals, long subjects of study in the improvement of human health, are benefiting by the sufferings of man.

For example, Dr. Cassius Way told the New Jersey Veterinary Medical association, science discovered that sciatica, housemaid's knee and policeman's heel were forms of arthritis. Veterinarians went on to discover that ring bones, spavins, curbs and splints in race horses are forms of the same disease.

Outside Job

TULSA, Okla.—The city jail garden has been abandoned because of thieves.

Shucks, 'Twas Easy

NEW YORK—A little flattery, and out came a crime secret.

To John Mang, accused as a member of the Brooklyn-Queens "rifle gang," which eluded police for three years, a police lieutenant said:

"It's almost genius the way you boys always got away. We ought to name your method after you; that is, if we had any idea of how you did it."

Mang beamed, and told.

They used two license numbers, he said, a big one on the rear of their car, a little number on the front. Pursued, they drove fast enough to turn around and double back.

The pursuers, looking out for a big number, paid no attention as the "rifle gang" sailed past with their little number showing in front.

Circles And Readers Group Of First Christian Council, WMS Groups Meet

Circles and a readers group of the First Christian Woman's council and women's missionary societies of several other churches had meetings Monday.

Circle 1 of the woman's council had planned a picnic which was to have been last evening on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Joe Coursey, 2505 Twentieth street. Because of the rain, however, a regular meeting was conducted indoors. Mrs. K. M. Renner, chairman, presided for a brief business session and Mrs. Arthur Prichard conducted a program on the first three chapters of Matthew.

The readers group had a covered dish luncheon at the church at 1 p. m. Mrs. J. M. Davis, who was chairman of arrangements, was assisted by Mesdames Joe Leaverton Gilford Scott, W. D. Benson, jr., and Raymond Marshall.

Mrs. John Wherry reviewed "The Splendor of God" by Honore Morrow.

These Attend

Members attending were Mesdames J. E. Hartley, Scott, Benson, Charles Files, S. J. McFarland, J. D. Walker, Wherry, Pitts, Grady West, Belle Tate, H. W. Moore, Ance English, Renner, M. L. Grady, J. O. Jones, Davis, Leaverton, L. S. Mast, James R. Robinson, Prichard and J. A. Raley, jr.

Visitors were Mrs. J. H. Ashmore of San Antonio, Mrs. Bob Lewellen of Fort Worth, Mrs. Austin Griffith and the Rev. W. R. Vivrett.

Two Entertain

Circle 2 met with Mrs. Paul Bazrier, 1802 Seventeenth street. Mrs. Frank Dysart was co-hostess.

Mrs. Roxie Crausbay led the devotional. The group studied the first three chapters of Matthew.

Attending were Mesdames C. R. Miner, T. Teal, E. C. Young, Joe Leaverton, M. L. Grady, Jewel Davis, Leland S. Mast, Crausbay, Alfred Scott, Dysart and Barrier.

Corinthians Topic At WMS Meeting

Both circles of Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary society met Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Comer, 1614 Avenue Q. The hostess taught a lesson from the eleventh chapter of second Corinthians.

Attending were Mesdames Roy Parks, C. E. Whitley, J. H. York, W. W. Roy, A. A. Bratcher, W. J. Anderson, P. L. Wimberley and I. T. Weed.

TALMADGE MAY BE CANDIDATE

PAPER PRINTS STORY BUT GEORGIA CHIEF DENIES REPORT

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 16—The Jacksonville Journal today quoted Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia as saying he will seek the Democratic nomination for president and will open his campaign in Illinois in September.

"I'm saving Florida until last," the governor was quoted as saying. "Florida will be all right. We're neighbors. Sure, I'll get her vote at the national convention."

Inspects Guard Camp

The bitter foe of President Roosevelt's New Deal was here to inspect Georgia National guardsmen at Camp Foster.

He said he had not mapped his entire campaign for the presidency but would open in Illinois in September a series of speeches in the mid-west.

He dismissed questions about his political connections with Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana with "Oh, Huey's all right, but Florida and Georgia don't believe in share-the-wealth."

TALMADGE SAYS HE ONLY TO MAKE TALKS

ATLANTA, July 16 (AP)—Governor Eugene Talmadge said he planned a series of speeches in the north this fall to "prevent the renomination of President Roosevelt."

On his return from Jacksonville where he visited the Georgia national guard now in annual encampment, the governor was asked about reports that he had said there he planned to seek the Democratic nomination for president and would open his campaign in Illinois in September.

"I didn't say that," the governor said. "Somebody's got me wrong. I'm going up there to prevent the nomination of President Roosevelt, if you get what I mean.

"I already have accepted engagements at Plattsburg, N. Y., and Des Moines, Iowa, and have others under consideration.

"I'm going into the north to work for the nomination of a real Democrat. Dates for my speeches have not been definitely decided."

BAND CONCERT TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Variety is the spice of the band concert to be presented at 8 o'clock this evening south of the Texas Technological college administration building by the summer band school's senior group.

The program follows:

Chicago Tribune march (Paris Chambers), D. O. Wiley directing; Cavalcade, overture, (Holmes), Mac Smith, Waco, directing; Dark Eyes, Russian gypsy air, saxophone quartet, Marion B. Ehridge, Billy Cox, Junior Race and Perry Bowser; One Beautiful Day, overture, (Hildreth), C. Sanford Eskridge, Wink, directing; Cyrus the Great, march, (K. L. King) and Old Kentucky Home, fantasy, (Dalbey), directed by H. A. Anderson, Lubbock High school director; The Silver Chord (O'Neill), Hall Hilton, student, directing.

Dark Eyes is "one of the best known of the Russian gypsy songs," Mr. Wiley, band school director, said. One Beautiful Day is a "new overture that is well written. It has some fine work for all sections of the band, and was used as a National School Band contest number recently," he said.

PURVIS TO WRITE SERIES ON CRIME

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP) — Melvin Purvis has settled some of the speculation as to his future activities by announcing he planned to write a series of magazine articles on crime.

The recent head of the federal division of investigation's office here, the man who brought down Dillinger, "Pretty Boy" Floyd and "Baby Face" Nelson, said he had signed with the magazine (The Red Book) to write an account of his eight years in the federal war on criminals, and had started work on the series.

"I have many other things in mind, of course," Purvis said, "but this is one job I want to finish first."

More Dry Meetings Slated In Section

Texas Drys continuing a drive against repeal of the state prohibition amendment, will conduct a conference in Plainview tonight. Texas votes on repeal of the amendment Aug. 24.

Bishop A Frank Smith, Houston, of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Dr L. D. Young, Dallas, pastor of the City Temple Presbyterian church, will speak.

Lubbock was expected to send many to the meeting, said Dr. W. M. Pearce, chairman of the 30th senatorial district dry forces of Lubbock.

Cliff H. Day, Plainview is chairman of the Hale county dry group and will preside tonight.

A similar meeting will be held at Amarillo Wednesday.

Red Soldier Cited For Rescue In Air

MOSCOW, July 16. (AP) — Ivan Krasikoff, a soldier in the red army, won public thanks and a war department citation for making what is believed to be the first mid-air rescue in the history of parachute-jumping.

Soldier Noskoff, the rescued man, came hurtling through the air today after losing his chute. He caught hold of Krasikoff who counselled him to open his reserve chute. Both landed safely.

Carlsbad Caverns Visitors Increase

CARLSBAD, N. M., July 16. (Special)—Visitors to Carlsbad National park coverns, near here, up to July 1 represented a gain of over 20 per cent for the current year over 1934, it was shown with report of total visitors as 37,132. Last year the first six months had 30,709 visitors.

First eight days of July, including the holiday on the Fourth, showed 5,501 visitors, compared to 5,105 last year, a net gain of 396 or 7.7 per cent.

Former Pep, Energy Returns; Bloating Stops, Now Like New

Gly-Cas Conquers Stubborn Stomach Disorder After Years Of Suffering; Nerves Quieted, Sleeps Good, Work A Pleasure Feeling As He Does Today.

Gly-Cas, the amazing new herbal remedy, is helping people all over Lubbock and vicinity who never before had been given any actual relief by any other medicine or treatment. Many local people say they have never before taken any medicine to act so promptly or thoroughly upon the system. Read what Mr. F. W. Montfort, 1916 4th street, Lubbock, respected local gentleman, said recently to the Gly-Cas Man who is daily meeting crowds of local people at Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway:

MR. F. W. MONTFORT

"Gly-Cas is the one REAL medicine of them all," said Mr. Montfort, "for the past two years anything I ate caused gas and bloating and was often so choked I could not walk but a short distance without becoming short of breath. I became terribly nervous, couldn't sleep and was tired, worn-out all the time, I lost my pep and energy and just dragged myself around at times. My kidneys disturbed what little sleep I was able to get, up three and four times and was also badly constipated. I tried all kinds of medicines—doing my best to get relief—but met with failure on every occasion—until I began Gly-Cas—it was wonderful."

"For the first time in years I can eat my meals without any distress afterwards," he continued. "Gas and bloating no longer trouble me, I can walk all I please and never become short of breath too. Even my nerves have been quieted, sleep better and that tired-out, run-down feeling has left me. My former pep and energy has been restored, bowels regulated, and I am a new person in many ways. Gly-Cas gives the results that are claimed for it and every sufferer should profit from its use."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this valuable new remedy.

Ball Tourney Is To Be Resumed Today

MORTON, NEW MOORE IN FIRST GAME: HUB TO PLAY ROPESVILLE

Baseball teams of Morton and New Moore were to meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock to open their bids for honor and cash and other prizes connected with the fourth annual Lubbock Invitation tournament, with Ropesville and the Lubbock Hub Clothiers, losers in Sunday games, meeting at about 4:30 in the second game of the double header attraction.

One of the most promising games of the tournament is booked for tomorrow when winners of opening day games, Wilson and O'Donnell, meet at the College Avenue park. It may be the only game Wednesday, and if it is, should be sufficient entertainment for one afternoon.

Team May Come Back In

There is the possibility that the combination Abernathy-Petersburg team will come back in, although it was hinted yesterday that Manager Johnny Rodgers' crew had quit on him. If the Hale county entry stays out there will be only one game tomorrow, otherwise Abernathy-Petersburg will meet the loser of today's first game.

Winner of tomorrow's Wilson-O'Donnell game will be favored to play in the finals Sunday.

The New Moore club is a newcomer to the tournament, and well might prove to be the "dark horse" that pops over the favorites. The team has piled up a good record this season, winning the majority of its games. A large crowd of New Moore supporters is expected to be in the stands.

Lubbock and Ropesville, losers in Sunday's games, will clash today in what promises to be a bitter struggle. The survivor stays in the tournament, and is due to be a strong threat. The loser will bid the field farewell.

Manager Hollis Payne's team was caught by O'Donnell Sunday in a game which saw the charges of Manager Shorty Wright in their best hitting form. They worked on Pitcher Bull Thompson of Lubbock for fifteen bingles, chasing him in the eighth inning, and came up with a startling 12 to 3 victory. The eager O'Donnell club smacked away in nearly every inning to pile up an early lead and hold it.

The pitching of the tall senor, Juan Costello, held the Lubbock team handcuffed. The Hub Clothiers were able to garner only half a dozen hits, all of them scattered.

Thus Lubbock, considered to be one of the strongest contenders, finds itself between a rock and a hard place in today's contest with the Ropesville team. Ropesville, managed by Wilburn Chambers, played fine baseball Sunday against Wilson, a pitchers' duel featuring the contest until the sixth inning when Simpson of Ropesville weakened before a home run attack and gave up the ghost. Tied 1 and 1 through five innings in an errorless ball game the Ropes team, unable to solve the offerings of Lefty Bean Fair, came out with the short end of an 8 to 2 score.

The luck of the draw, therefore, makes it necessary for one of the tournament's most potential teams to bow out of the picture on the second day of the tournament. There were no games yesterday.

One of the largest crowds in recent years attended Sunday's games, the majority of the fans coming from O'Donnell, Wilson and Ropesville. There were moments of great baseball, other moments of reckless, over-eager endeavor to stay in the tournament.

For the double header today, beginning at 2 o'clock, the price of admission for adults is 25 cents, 10 cents for juveniles.

Fans are urged to occupy the four sections of bleachers until the seating space is full, and to refrain from parking cars in the outfield. All fans are requested to use the east entrance, the cut-off drive off Second street being closed.

GRAPPLING MATCH ENDS IN FIGHT

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP) — The wrestling match between Danno O'Mahoney, heavyweight champion from Ireland, and George Zaharias of Pueblo, Colo., broke up in a riotous disorder at Mills stadium last night with O'Mahoney winner of the fall and the better man in some impromptu fighting.

Awarded the fall in 18:05 with a body slam, O'Mahoney walked toward Zaharias to shake hands, but the Pueblo wrestler suddenly smashed the Irishman on the jaw. O'Mahoney countered by knocking Zaharias down and a scuffle, officials and members of the Illinois State Athletic commission climbed into the ring to stop the two battlers. Meanwhile, several spectators contributed to the confusion and riot by throwing chairs into the ring.

O'Mahoney weighed 213 1-2 and Zaharias scaled 241.

CAWTHON NAMED ON CENTENNIAL ATHLETIC BOARD

P. W. Cawthon, director of athletics at Texas Technological college, has been named a member of the athletic events committee of Texas Centennial Central exposition.

The announcement was made by Frank N. Watson, director of promotion.

W. H. Hitzelberger of Dallas is chairman. The committee includes business men, coaches, and managers of athletic clubs.

NEW FACE ON MAT CARD

INDIANAPOLIS MAN IS COMING; MARVEL TO TACKLE DOMAR

A new wrestling favorite is expected to make his debut in Sled Allen's Arena tomorrow night when Buck Weaver of Indianapolis steps up to take part in the special event.

Weaver, it is suggested, is cut out to follow in the footsteps of Dory Detton, Otis Clingman, Vic Webber and the Masked Marvel as an outstanding popular favorite, and from all indications he will demonstrate some wrestling equal to that of any of the others.

The Old Sailor

The newcomer from Indiana runs into trouble at the start, and if he comes through his opening match here, he will be favored to cop the Southwestern circuit spotlight in a hurry. The opponent is an old timer, well known hereabouts but who hasn't been around much lately. The name is Sailor Moran, the Arkansas toughie who, it was charged, found the going pretty rough about a year ago and sought softer climes. But he's back now, and the talk is that he times his return to coincide with Vic Weber's departure. He'll have some coming back to do, beginning tomorrow night, if he stays around here, what with his earlier reputation as a potential champion.

Moran and Weaver take the main spot on the supporting card of a match featuring another newcomer to the circuit, wild and rough Jack Domar, the "Cincinnati Cyclone." The Ohioan opened his invasion here last Wednesday night by soundly thrashing, choking and slugging Cliff Chambers of Dallas to an early submission in the semi-final. His work was good enough, at least impressive enough, to land him a main event job. His opponent is the Masked Marvel.

Marvel Postpones Rest

Now the Marvel was due to check out after last week's fracas. He did check out, in fact, and was on his way to a health resort when Sled Allen overtook him with a wire and begged him to come back. A previous arrangement with an opponent for Domar in the main event fell through, and the Marvel consented to fight one more time in Lubbock before taking his ordered rest. It seems that he has been going at a harder clip than is good for even the most staunch and durable grapplers. Three limit fights with Vic Webber almost laid him up, what with a stomach ailment which hasn't been getting any better fast against such long-legged, torso-twisters as Long John LaRue and Tony Piluso.

Another stranger will make his debut tomorrow night. He is Bob Cummings, and he hails from Alabama. His opponent in the preliminary is Red Michael, the comer-upper from Pampa.

RELIEF TRAPPERS SCORE

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—In one month 756 predatory animals, including 476 coyotes and 155 wolves, were trapped by relief "trappers" in Texas, according to the report of the state predatory animal control association. With plenty of game in certain sections, coyotes and wolves are increasing at a rate alarming to livestockmen.

WHO IS MAX TO FIGHT, PUZZLE

JOHNSTON SAYS BAER; JACOBS SAYS LOUIS; BOTH ARE CERTAIN

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 16.—It seems that Max Schmeling is going to fight somebody in September, but his opponent's identity has been obscured in a cross fire of contradictory statements.

The most that can be said at present is that the Teuton slugger will fight either Joe Louis, Detroit negro or Max Baer, the biffing bridegroom from Livermore, Calif.

Both Announced Fights

James J. Johnston of Madison Square garden announced last night he had closed negotiations for a 15-round match between Schmeling and Baer on or about Sept. 26 at the Garden bowl on Long Island.

Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century club previously had announced that Schmeling had been matched to fight Louis at the Polo Grounds Sept. 18.

Completed By Phone

Johnston said he had concluded his arrangements yesterday over the trans-Atlantic telephone with Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's American manager, who is in Berlin.

"As a matter of fact," said Johnston, "we already had Schmeling under contract. We signed Baer, through his manager, Ancil Hoffman, last Friday".

The news incensed Mike Jacobs, who immediately called his name sake in Berlin.

Denied Statement

Turning from the telephone he denied that Johnston's statement was based on actual developments.

"So Johnston said he called Joe Jacobs at Berlin, did he?" he fumed. "Well, I just this minute finished talking to Jacobs myself, and he said he never held a trans-Atlantic conversation with Johnston.

"Moreover, Jacobs told me he was sending a cable immediately to verify the fact that Schmeling has signed to meet Louis."

Joe Signs Nothing

Joe Jacobs, reached in Berlin, said however, that in as much as Schmeling had not yet returned to Berlin from a hunting trip, he had signed nothing.

Hoffman, manager of Baer, stood behind Johnston's statement and said prompt attention would be given to the sore hands of the laughing puncher who lost his title to Jim Braddock last month.

He said Baer would be ready to fight at the Garden's pleasure.

CUBS DOING ALL RIGHT WITH BAND AROUND BANKROLL

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—That big Wrigley bankroll, which used to be dangled in front of club owners as bait for their high priced ball players, is doing all right with a tight rubber band around it.

And so are the Chicago Cubs, once the milk and honey boys of baseball, who are strictly on their own these days with orders to hustle and make good or prepare themselves for the axe that already has cut 15 members of last year's team from the squad.

For a club that has been shaken up completely from the front office down to the bat boy within less than a year, the Cubs have been doing remarkably well this year. Riding on a tide of eight straight victories, Charlie Grimm's youngsters today were trailing the league leading New York Giants by seven games with hopes of winning the pennant yet.

The failure of Chuck Klein to produce undoubtedly caused owner Philip K. Wrigley to jerk back his big bank roll and announce that henceforth the Cubs would build up from the bottom with young players. Klein was purchased for approximately $100,000 from the Phillies.

A GOOD WAY TO KEEP POPULARITY

JUST KEEP THE FANS, WHO PAY THE FREIGHT OF YOUR RACKET, WAITING, DIZ OLD BOY

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 16—Jerome (Dizzy) Dean kept Gov. Henry Horner and 2,000 baseball fans waiting last night while he satisfied himself with steak and potatoes.

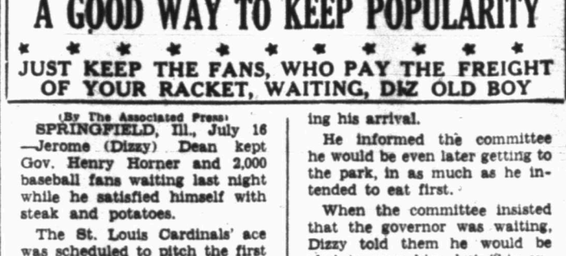

The St. Louis Cardinals' ace was scheduled to pitch the first ball in the finals of the annual Catholic diocesan baseball tournament, with Governor Horner catching.

Dean was met on arrival by a reception committee headed by Mayor John W. Kapp. The older of the brother stars was informed that pre-game ceremonies had been held up pending his arrival.

He informed the committee he would be even later getting to the park, in as much as he intended to eat first.

When the committee insisted that the governor was waiting, Dizzy told them he would be glad to seen him, but "his excellency" would have to "wait until Dizzy gets some steak and potatoes."

Dizzy ordered his meal, then proceeded to the park, an hour and a half after the game was scheduled to start. The game was in the second inning when he arrived.

(This Copyright 1935)

ONE OF THE FEATURE games of the baseball tournament is coming up tomorrow afternoon when the nifty clubs of Wilson and O'Donnell get together. One of these teams is figured to go right on down the line to the finish, and there is a strong possibility that they'll meet again next Sunday with the championship at stake.

This is not reckoning without the possibilities of any of the other teams, but is based on the display of baseball temperament and ability in Sunday's games which saw Lubbock and Ropesville take healthy spankings. If you want to see a couple of the best teams on the South Plains match wits and base hits, see the Wilson-O'Donnell contest tomorrow.

BE SURE AND VOTE

Concerted efforts on the part of West Texas fans to vote big Gwynn Dowell, star halfback at Texas Tech, into the national all-star team which meets the professional Chicago Bears in a feature grid game at Chicago's Soldier Field in August bid fair to results in a large showing of ballots for the Royse City man, according to reports in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Dowell, one of four or five candidates from the southwest, is thought to have a good chance to "make" the team, provided the fans of this section continue to send in votes, concentrating on him. Every fan is invited to vote, as often as he wishes, on an entire all-star team. The ballot printed below is for the convenience of fans wishing to vote.

The following telegram came this morning:

"WINNER OF YOUR BASEBALL TOURNEY IS INVITED TO ENTER DENVER POST TOURNEY WHICH STARTS AUGUST FIRST STOP ENTRY LIST DOES NOT CLOSE UNTIL JULY 30 BUT I WOULD LIKE TO KNOW IF YOUR WINNER WOULD WISH TO COMPETE STOP PLEASE CONTACT MANAGERS AND WIRE ME COLLECT."

The message is signed by C. L. (Poss) Parsons, sports editor of the Denver Post.

That shows that news of our little tournament is getting around. Maybe Professor Parsons remembers the time ten years ago when the Lubbock Hubbers, managed by Sled Allen, hiked up to Denver and came away with the Post championship, and quite a few shekels.

Teams in the Lubbock tournament now are invited to read the telegram again and mull over its contents. It would be a fine thing if the winning team here could go to the Denver party. It is something to think about and work for. Times are pretty good on the South Plains. The town and community which produces the winning team here might throw in and help send the club to Denver.

IN THE MEANTIME, you are all invited to put a shoulder to the wheel, drop a quarter in the till and help put over this Lubbock tournament. Games start daily at 2 o'clock, except Saturday, and from now on they ought to be well worth your time and coin.

The South Plains wants baseball. This was proved last Sunday when one of the largest crowds in local baseball history — in the last five years, anyway—came out to the College Avenue field. The fans will come to Lubbock to see baseball if and when a park is built.

THEY'RE BUILDING grass greens at the Lubbock Country club. Yeah, four of 'em, Nos. 8, 9, 17 and 18. They have had the ditch-digging machine out there and it has scarred up the premises around the

IVORY OF REDS IS PRODUCING RESULTS

SCHUMACHER IS BEATEN FINALLY; YOUNGSTER CREW COMING ALONG

BY ANDY CLARKE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bush safari of the Cincinnati Reds has produced some mighty fine ivory.

Out of minor league clubs here and there the Reds have brought in baseball timber that has been fashioned into an aggressive, fighting ball club. Some of the other teams are wondering what is going to happen when these fledglings become thoroughly seasoned.

Finally Beat Schumacher

The Reds shook off the four-year jinx of Hal Schumacher yesterday and trimmed the league leading New York Giants 13-6. It was the sixth straight victory for the Reds, breaking the 11-game winning streak of the Giants' ace right hander who was shelled from the box in the seventh.

On the team that walloped the Giants were some names that would be unfamiliar to one who hasn't been watching his box scores closely. Most of these players were drafted during the winter.

All Come Up

There was Myers, the shortstop who came up from Columbus in the American association; Goodman the right fielder who came from Rochester in the International; Campbell from Los Angeles on the Pacific coast and Billy Sullivan from St. Paul.

Goodman collected four hits, including a triple; Myers got two including a homer and Sullivan and Campbell got one each.

Schumacher had beaten the Reds 14 times and tied them once since May 19, 1932, before yesterday's uprising. The defeat cut the Giants lead to five games over the rushing Cardinals, who turned back the buffeted Braves for their 11th successive victory.

Cubs Win 8th Straight

The Chicago Cubs ran their victory string up to eight straight when they took a ten inning encounter with the Phillies, Bill Herman's line double with two out sent Augie Galan home with the run that gave them a 2-1 verdict.

The Cards won by the lopsided score of 13-6 in the first of their four games series. Dizzy Dean allowed 14 hits but his mates collected 18 safe blows to give the Dizzy one his 18th triumph of the season.

In the only American league game the St. Louis Browns defeated the Washington Senators 3-2, when Lyn Lary, whom Washington traded to St. Louis a few weeks ago, drove out a double that scored the deciding run.

MCCURDY IS NEW PILOT OF CATS

FORT WORTH, July 16 (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats of the Texas league had a new skipper today.

Business Manager Roy Meehan, now in Houston with his club, said Harry McCurdy, former Texas leaguer and manager of the Wilmington club of the Piedmont league the past two years, had been named manager to succeed Johnny Heving who resigned yesterday.

McCurdy, who will be playing manager, planned to fly from Wilmington to Houston today to take charge of the Cats tonight.

A change in the field management of the Fort Worth club, next to the bottom in the loop standing, had been expected for some time.

McCurdy, veteran catcher, was with Houston in 1924-1925 and was sold to the Chicago White Sox, where he remained through 1928 before going to the Philadelphia Phillies in 1931. He returned to Houston in 1933 and was sent to Columbus. The Cincinnati Reds obtained him in a trade and he was sent to Wilmington.

INDIANS AND BUCS STRANDED IN TIE GAME MONDAY BUT IT HAD TO BE FOR TRIBE TO CATCH TRAIN; BUCS DROP

(By The Associated Press)

A tie game between Oklahoma City and Galveston left the Indians in the Texas league lead but forced the Bucs to give up second place to the idle Beaumont Exporters.

The Indians came to life in the ninth inning and scored two runs to gain a 4 to 4 tie with Bucs. They played another inning but neither team was able to score. The Indians had to catch a train, so the game ended in a tie. Jack Jakucki and Bracheen hurled for Galveston and Stiely and Murray took turns on the mound for the Indians.

After the San Antonio Missions had gained a four-run lead, the Dallas Steers started hitting the ball and came from behind to win the game, 7 to 5.

It was a free-hitting affair in which Wiltse and Mills of the Missions took their share of medicine. They were touched for 15 hits. Tauby with five and Stroner with four led the Dallas attack.

The Houston Buffs clubbed out an 8 to 4 victory over the Tulsa Oilers. Mike Cvengros, veteran left-hander, had the Oilers well in hand until the ninth when he eased up and Tulsa chased home three runs. While Cvengros was giving up seven hits, five of which came in the last two innings, his mates pounded Whitworth, Griffin and Hubbell for 14 wallops.

Fort Worth and Beaumont had a day's rest. The clubs made up for yesterday's game in advance in a twin-bill Sunday.

ELIMINATIONS ARE TO CONTINUE TONIGHT IN AMATEUR RANKS

Eliminations in the Lubbock district of the Texas Amateur Athletic federation boxing tournament continue here tonight with twelve bouts scheduled.

Some of the winners of last Tuesday night's bouts are coming back for the second round, and several of the boys will be making their first bid toward the district and regional tournaments to be staged here. Lubbock is regional as well as district headquarters, being one of six regional centers of the state.

Tonight's program begins at 8:15 o'clock at the Texas Tech gymnasium. An admission charge of 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for youngsters, will be made at the door.

Flake Meets Bradford

M. F. "Snow" Flake is to meet Cecil Bradford of Ralls in the main event of tonight's card. Two semi-finals are scheduled, results of challenges last Tuesday night. Aubrey Perry and Joe Jones of Lubbock challenged the Buck brothers, Shelby and John, of Crosbyton, respectively.

Other scheduled bouts:

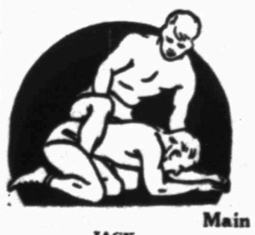

Arnett Ware of Ralls vs. Joe Alexander of Lubbock; Norvell Harris of Lorenso vs. Max Rutledge of Lubbock; John Walters of Crosbyton vs. Hugh Diamond of Slaton; Frank Buchanan of Crosbyton vs. Dixie White of Lubbock; Warren Hilliard of Slaton vs. Forest Jones of Lubbock; Alton Brooks of Meadow vs. H. L. Gantz of Lubbock; Wayne Sullivan of Lubbock vs. Dexter Walthall of Lubbock; Clayton Warren of Lubbock vs. John Morrison of Lubbock.

Local Softballers Defeat Abernathy

Behind the no-hit hurling of Richard Godeke, Lubbock Poultry and Egg company softballers Monday night shut out Abernathy, 2-0, and annexed their tenth straight win. The game, played at Abernathy, preserved the Lubbock club's record of no defeats this season.

Support of the Butter and Egg men's infield kept Godeke from getting in the hole several times, playing without bobbie and cutting off potential scores after runners were given free trips to first base because of Godeke's occasional wildness.

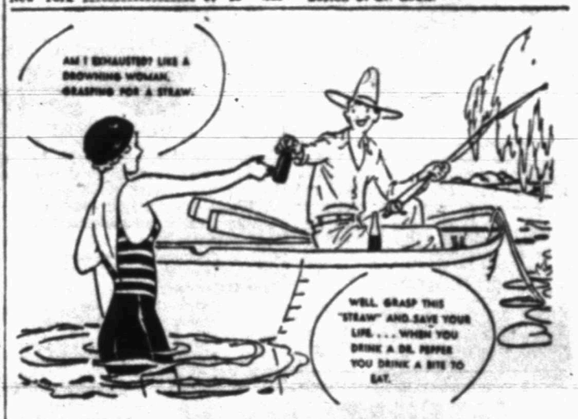

Jerry Briscow and Lawrence Green, co-managers, will take the club to Littlefield for a game tonight.

LOAN MEETING SLATED HERE

FHA OFFICIAL WILL BE HERE WEDNESDAY FOR SESSION

A clinic to discuss insured mortgages will be conducted at Hilton hotel at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, John D. Mitchell, federal housing administration chairman here, has announced.

R. E. Sikes, FHA executive assistant director, of Fort Worth, arrived Monday to make preliminary arrangements. He will remain in Lubbock throughout the week, having headquarters at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce office. He will assist property owners in figuring and filling out mortgagor's applications for FHA loans on new construction or refinancing.

All Are Invited

Anyone interested in FHA loans, whether he be connected with a lending institution, a lumber or material dealer, a contractor, architect, realtor, or an individual interested in building a home or refinancing a loan to lower his interest rate, is invited to the meeting, Mr. Mitchell said.

C. P. Mehaffy, Fort Worth, business manager of the underwriting office of FHA, also will be here and possibly others of the technical staff, Mr. Sikes said.

A blackboard will be used to figure the loans of actual local applicants. By these figures those interested will become entirely familiar with the interest charges, terms and other regulations in connection with the FHA loans.

Similar meetings have been held at Wichita Falls, San Angelo and other cities. Citizens of other South Plains towns are invited, as it will be impossible for the FHA staff to hold meetings in every town in Texas.

Mr. Sikes hopes to take a large number of applications for loans to Fort Worth and promises that quick action will be granted.

YOUTH FOUND HANGED

LONGVIEW, July 16. (AP)—Charles Newton Henderson, 11, was found hanged in the barn at his home Monday about an hour after he had been seen playing with a rope.

The boy's father, John Henderson who lives five miles north of Longview, found the body hanging from the end of the rope that had entwined itself about his neck.

PRICES ARE ABOVE PRE-WAR LEVEL IN TEXAS DESPITE SLIGHT DECLINE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 16.—Despite a four per cent decline, the United States department of agriculture reported today the general level of local market prices in Texas on June 15 was 104 per cent of the pre-war level.

Prices averaged 19 points higher than a year earlier.

Comparative figures on April 15 and June 15 for some products were: corn, 1.06 and 67 cents; wheat, 93 cents and 72 cents; oats, 63 cents and 37 cents; cotton, 11.4 cents and 11.5 cents; chickens, 13.1 cents and 8.8 cents; turkeys, 13.1 cents and 8 cents; butter, 29 cents and 20 cents; milk, 10.3 cents and 9 cents, and eggs, 19.1 cents and 11.3.

Prisoners Start On Sentence Serving

Voluntarily appearing at Lubbock county jail yesterday, three Hockley and one Lubbock county men today were serving sentences for violation of internal revenue law. They were convicted at the last term of United States district court here.

Commitments for A. R. Mannin, Dewey H. Russie and Albert Hahn, of Hockley county, and for Otto E. Schilling of near Slaton, were made out May 31, but the men were given until Monday to begin serving sentences so they might attend to early crops.

Mannin, Russie and Hahn were sentenced to 10, Schilling to 30 days.

Mannin and Russie, tenant farmers, received suspended sentence of six months in three other cases, for possession of two small stills. Hahn, 34, said he had been keeping 200 gallons of mash in his cellar for Russie and Mannin. Schilling admitted having 22 gallons of whisky and 100 gallons of mash.

Sentences were pronounced by U. S. District Judge James C. Wilson.

MASON CITY, Ia., July 16. (AP)—A "chain letter" that has been going the rounds for 41 years was mailed the other day by Dr. L. E. Newcomer.

It was started in 1894 by 17 members of the Eureka college, Eureka, Ill., graduating class, of which Dr. Newcomer was a member. When a member receives it he chronicles his activities and thoughts and sends it on. So far it has traveled to China and the remote corners of the world several times.

Fourteen members of the class are still alive and contribute to the letter about twice a year.

TO START WORK

FORT WORTH, July 16. (AP)—Plans for starting complete tick eradication work in 14 East Texas counties where work has been done heretofore have been inaugurated by the Texas Livestock commission, M. E. Howard, office manager, announced today.

Funds for the work will come from the United States department of agriculture, $1,454,000 having recently been allocated to Texas, Florida and Louisiana. Texas' allotment will be $700,000, most of which will be spent in the following counties: Shelby, San Augustine, Sabine, Angeline, Trinity, Polk, Tyler, Hardin, Jefferson, Orange, Jasper, Newton, Liberty, Chambers.

Half a teaspoonful of baking soda added to boiling frosting will keep it from running.

BLOWS WAGES BACK

ULYSSES, Kas., (AP)—Earl Blake, 15 years ago, got $15 for an afternoon's "work" playing baseball. He slept out on the prairie that night and lost the money. USED-CAR DEALERS SAY "PLYMOUTH STANDS UP BEST"

Survey Checks "Trade-in" Values of "All Three"

Critical, Impartial Judges of Used Cars agree Plymouth Sells Quicker and brings Best Prices

USED-CAR DEALERS can tell you what's built into cars . . . they know how cars stand up. And here's their side of the story . . . as we dug it up in 50 cities from coast to coast:

"Used Plymouths command top prices . . . and readiest sale . . . of all the low-priced cars. They show finer engineering and construction . . . they stand up better.

"We can never get enough Plymouths to meet demand . . . first owners hang on to them."

Used-car buyers want Plymouth's great safety features; genuine hydraulic brakes and all-steel body. An all-steel body is always strong. Hydraulic brakes, no matter how old, are self-equalizing.

That certainly indicates the outstanding value built into the 1935 Plymouth . . . the greatest Plymouth we have ever built.

WHO DOES BUSINESS WITH A BANK?

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker? Yes, and their wives and their sons and their daughters. And so do their sisters and their cousins and their aunts.

That's why these banks, knowing how many types of people and businesses they serve, are different. It isn't like the dentist's business, or the garageman's or the grocer's or the housewife's. Yet these banks are like them, something of each of them being a part of these banks make-up.

Put them all together—the dentist's ethics, the garageman's ideals of service, the grocer's pride in his stock, the housewife's sense of values—and add to that a strong feeling of trust, a sense of responsibility for sound advice and watchful protection.

Then and until then, do you begin to define what these banks are, what makes them "different", and they in turn choose them because they are different.

That Girl on Broadway says the best way to avoid being described as a bore is to praise every person with whom you have conversation.

The American Bar association, with a straight face, criticizes the press for making a circus out of the Hauptmann trial. What do the gentlemen think about Mr. Riley's witnesses?

HERE'S a little low down from Washington that probably never will reach the news wires:

"Congress is boondoggling along while the House Ways and Means committee is struggling with the tax bill. As time reveals the session's work and the administration program one great fact stands out. It is that Mr. Roosevelt's program is terribly shattered by the collapse of NRA.

"Confidence in the irresistible power of FDR has been followed by a dread that permeates nearly all branches of the executive government. High and low, officials and employes are trembling for fear of further disasters resulting in their dismissal. The morale of the clerical army is low.

"In spite of the artificial confidence displayed by the upper-ups, the cloud of judicial destruction hangs over the whole works".

Which means, in your and The Plainsman's English, that things are not going so well with the administration.

This under-current report also bears out the opinion brought forth in this column 45 days ago in the series of articles on the New Washington and the New Deal.

There are stormy days ahead for the man at the throttle and for the Democratic party of which he is the titular head.

Just keep watching.

JUST what can and should West Texans do in regard to the Texas Centennial?

Thus far, West Texas has been completely ignored in plans for the forthcoming celebration.

If West Texas is going to get any kind of recognition at all, the Centennial chiefs who are making a racket out of the state's 100th birthday haven't given any indication of the fact.

Millions of dollars already have been allocated but we "step-children" aren't even considered for anything so far.

Frankly, The Plainsman is in favor of a West Texas boycott on the Centennial.

He thinks we should send a delegation down to Dallas (where there are no historical points but which is the seat of the central Centennial celebration) and tell 'em what we think.

If they don't like it, we've lost nothing—because apparently we aren't going to get anything, anyhow!

A LOT of folks will rise up on their hind legs and howl at this expression, hiding behind the threadbare, worn out defense of "Texas, Indivisible".

But "Texas, Indivisible" doesn't change the situation which has put all the state Centennial money in Dallas and other points in East and South Texas—and like the seven year itch, you can't scratch that out.

Talk as you want to about "Texas, Indivisible" but they don't seem to be thinking about it down in Dallas and Austin, where the Texas Centennial has been transformed from what it should be—a state-wide ceremonial—to a measly racket.

The patient was discussing his forthcoming operation with a Lubbock doctor.

"Dangerous!" snorted the doctor. "Dangerous! How in the world do you think you could buy a dangerous operation for $40?"

PROF. P. W. Cawthon, eminent doctor of football, etc., at Texas Tech, tells The Plainsman that the country is full of folks who are postponing their vacations until that fair day in October when the Matadors will again journey to the Pacific coast to take on the Loyola Lions in Los Angeles. Further, he requests that this department put out a little information for the benefit of the grid fans who will make the trek with the Matadors.

A special train will pull out of Lubbock at 8 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, October 23, and will puff into L. A. exactly 24 hours later. A parlor car and a diner will be carried on the train, the latter making it unnecessary to make stops for food.

Tickets will read "Lubbock to Los Angeles and San Diego", giving the customers the opportunity of visiting the big exposition in the latter city while they are on the coast, at no extra cost.

The game will be played on the night of Friday, Oct. 25, but the homeward journey will not begin until midnight of Saturday, Oct. 26. All in all, fans will have three full days on the coast.

The Matador band, 72 pieces strong, will be on the train and Director Dewey Wiley has a date arranged for his tooters to parade at the San Diego exposition.

He figures—and so does The Plainsman—that Tech will get considerable publicity out of the band's appearance in Los Angeles and at the big show in San Diego.

OLD John Santa Fe hasn't announced the price of round-trip tickets and Pullman as yet but Doctor Cawthon says the costivity, as far as transportation is concerned, will be less than 45 bucks.

Equipment will be first class.

Incidentally, Tech made such a good showing at Los Angeles last year, when the Lions came from behind to eke out a 12-7 victory, that officials of Loyola do not believe Gilmore stadium, with a 20,000 seating capacity, will hold the crowd this year.

Plans are under way out there now—more than three months in advance of the game—to put in 7,000 extra seats for the Tech-Lion conflict.

Perpetually Out On A Limb!

Films Want Footwork Now Too; Fred Astaire And Ginger Rogers Start Dancing Flare In Movies; Even Will Gets It

BY DAN THOMAS
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 16—It takes brains to be a movie star these days. But even a head full of gray matter isn't enough. A pair of educated feet must be tossed in to clinch the deal.

In other words, that old gag about having brains in your feet has become a reality.

And all because a young couple named Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers made worshipers at the film shrine feet-conscious. From the moment Fred and Ginger danced their way into the hearts of theater audiences in "The Gay Divorcee," the public has clamored for more dancing feet.

Hot love scenes are okay. Machine gun battles are most satisfying to restless souls. But a touch of the terpsichorean is necessary to convince theatergoers that they have had a full dish of entertainment.

In fact, the demand for highly educated feet has become so insistent that professional dancers can't satisfy it. Even Hollywood's old line celebrities have hearkened to the cry.

Old-Tmers Are At It

Whoever thought, for example, that Will Rogers would go into a dance—unless he was out behind the barn where nobody could see him? But "In Old Kentucky" found him doing some comical cavorting. And there'll be a sequence in his next picture calling for more deft footwork.

Rogers isn't the only one of the old-timers who has turned to dancing either. There's a sequence in "Escapade" that has Bill Powell doing a dance with Luise Rainer. And Gary Cooper and Ann Harding do an old-fashioned dance in "Peter Ibbetson."

Then, of course, we have any number of players who are determined to become just as good dancers as they are actors. Jack Oakie and Dick Powell are taking lessons now. So are Joan Blondell, Joan Crawford, Rochelle Hudson, Anita Louise, Carole Lombard and Norma Shearer.

The real proof of the necessity for nimble feet on the screen, however, is found in the number of accomplished dancers whom the studios have signed and are teaching to act. Eleanor Powell is the most recent. Renowned as the world's best feminine tap dancer, she is being given daily lessons in histrionics so that she soon will be able to do leading roles instead of just specialty numbers.

Ruby Keeler was brought into pictures primarily for her dancing ability and has developed into a genuinely good actress. The same is true of Ann Dvorak, Alice Faye, Frances Grant, Grace Bradley, Rita Casino and June Knight.

Sailors Stay To Sell

With so many sea pictures now being planned, old-time sailors around Los Angeles harbor are reaping a real harvest from studio prop departments. The prop men used to name their own prices for odd objects they bought from the old salts. But the demand has become so great that the sailors now set the price. And if one studio doesn't want to meet it, they say, "Okay, I'll sell it to some other studio."

Versatile Actor

Henry B. Walthall, now playing one of the featured roles in "A Tale of Two Cities," recalls that in 1907 he stuffed himself with pillows and played a feminine role in this drama in San Francisco.

Censors Tame Wild West

You don't hear much about the purity regulations imposed on the movies any more. But they're still in force just the same. In fact, a writer of western stories tells me that censorship is getting more and more strict.

These open air dramas used to be considered perfectly harmless. But not any more. They're rigidly censored.

For instance, they no longer can show an actual holdup of a stagecoach or portray a crooked sheriff. The hero must neither drink nor smoke. There can be no unnecessary killings. And the bandits can't wear masks.

Guess the movie moguls are afraid youngsters were getting too many big, bad ideas from the cowboy movies.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

KNOCKING ON WOOD

Among the incidental casualties of the great depression have been the prophetic reputations of many prominent Americans. Economists, business men and politicians—all sorts of leaders—have flunked as soothsayers when it has come to hazarding forecasts of depression's end.

Have we finally found a prophet who can deliver the good on schedule? It will be remembered that last December Charles Gates Dawes, banker and former vice-president of the United States, forecast that June and July would bring an upsurge in purchase of durable goods to signalize, at last, the passing of this greatest of depressions.

There had been so many prophecies that did not prophesy, there had been so many business booms that fizzled without booming, that General Dawes' forecast was received at the time with skeptical calm. Recently the general reaffirmed his confidence that June and July would provide the zero hour for depression's retreat.

Now there are symptoms in the long-stubborn durable goods industries of that frequently heralded permament recovery. But business men, economists and just plain hopeful citizens have their fingers crossed and are knocking surreptitiously on wood.

A bushel of underslung pipes, fashioned of the rarest briar and finished in solid gold, would be too paltry a prize were Charles Gates Dawes to prove the first prophet to guess right on depression's end!

Dutchers' News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 16—Seldom does a brain truster's wife stride into the limelight. The University of Wyoming has reason to wish one never did.

Miss Ware is the wife of Dr. Gardiner C. Means of AAA, an economist who has made some important studies for the New Deal and who co-authored with A. A. Berle on "The Modern Corporation and Private Property."

A former professor of history at Vassar, she has been working here for the consumer sections of the NRA and National Emergency Council.

The position of the university is that the trustees made a rule that it couldn't employe any married woman, that it had no way of knowing Caroline wasn't single, and that the policy had been kept in force to spread employment among more families.

Listen To This Barrage!

Miss Ware, promising to contest cancellation of her contract, has dumped a wagonload of arguments on the university president, Dr. A. G. Crane, to show that such policy — which some corporations have been known to adopt — is poisonous, both to education and American institutions.

From the feminist standpoint, her protest is one of the great documents of the decade. She says:

"The university is supposed to be an educational institution, not a work-relief organization. The trustees' duty is to select the best teachers available.

"Education is prostituted when university positions are turned into jobs to be held for the income received instead of jobs to be done with reference to the best interests of the students. Is the university, when it trains women for teaching and other professional positions, condemning them to lives of celibacy or wasting the state's money training them for positions from which its policy would exclude them?

"The rule is a move to relegate women to the position to which Hitler has openly consigned them in Germany and to which American Hitlers are pushing them, under cover of 'emergency action.'

"The trustees cast aside a long tradition under which Wyoming was the first state to adopt woman suffrage, elect a woman governor and choose many women for high positions. And are the trustees trying to place women in the role of child-bearing for future wars, as in Italy and Germany, or attacking marriage by prescribing single blessedness for all who have any potential usefulness other than child bearing?"

And if the university laughs that off, says Miss Ware, she will be in Wyoming with her lawyer. The National Woman's Party and some other women's groups are supporting her.

Honest Injun, Don?

The Donald R. Richbergs are taking the summer easy at a cottage on Rehoboth Beach, Del., about four hours from Washington. The former "assistant president" will write a couple of magazine articles and do little else but plan resumption of law practice in the fall, probably with offices in Washington and Chicago.

Richberg had hardly arrived before he was accosted respectfully by a native in the Henlopen hotel, who said:

"I want to shake your hand and ask you one question: What do you think of General Johnson?"

Richberg stammered: "I think he's a swell guy." The native thanked him heartily and bowed himself away.

New Freud In New Deal

In case you didn't think there was any link between the New Deal and Dr. Sigmund Freud, the big psychoanalysts complex and wish-fulfillment man of Vienna—

Baby Thomas Freud Wiener, a great-grand-nephew of the old gentleman, was recently born to Esther and Frederick Bernays Wiener, the latter being a grand-nephew of Freud as well as a prominent attorney under Secretary Ickes, lately representing the interior department in its Virgin Islands troubles.

ENEMY'S KISS

by Evelyn M. Winch

SYNOPSIS: Alison Rede has stumbled upon the information that Daphne Sumers is carrying on an affair with another man, although she is about to marry Alison's father. Now Daphne and Robert Rede have ordered Alison not to have lunch with her only ally, Guy Westurn, and have tried to convince her that he is really Guy Lumley, a crooked physician, Alison defies her father.

Chapter 27
DEFIANCE

"It doesn't matter whether you believe it or not!" said Robert, "You've got to do as you're told."

"If you can prove it to me, I will!" Alison returned.

They were almost absurdly alike as they stood there, father and daughter, facing one another in the same stubborn attitude, with the same out-thrust chin and hotly smouldering eyes.

"Prove it?" Daphne's protest was smooth, gentle, faintly amused. "Have a little sense, my dear child. You can't suppose that I go about making charges like that if they're not proved? I tell you, the man was notorious. Why, I believe that there were even anonymous letters and postcards to the club, saying that he oughtn't to be allowed in as a member."

"I don't know anything about that!" said Alison. "For all I know you may be quite right about this Doctor Lumley or whatever he is. All can say is that Guy Westurn's someone else, someone quite different, that's all!"

"I suppose it's no good my telling you," Daphne's voice was ominously nasal, low and level, "that one of my own friends, a girl as young as you, got into the man's clutches and that she disappeared?"

"I'm afraid I don't believe you!"

"You don't think it a little odd that he should turn up in the middle of the night inside my house?"

"He was going for a stroll!"

"I see. At midnight. In the downpour that we had that night. He was going for a walk."

"If he likes walking in the rain, it doesn't mean that he's a crook!"

"No," Daphne never raised her voice, "but it's rather funny, isn't it? Rather unusual, shall we say? Just as its rather unusual that, having run into you there, he should choose to stay all night. It wasn't exactly thoughtful, to risk the reputation of a young g[illegible]

"We haven't all got horrible minds!"

Daphne's laughter was a masterpiece of tolerance.

"We're not all so innocent as you, child! Unfortunately! Some of us might think it queer that he should drive you home, and turn up next day to ask how you were, and take you out to lunch.

"I don't see what you think he could do at lunch!"

"I don't think he'd do, or has done, anything—yet. I'm only saying that a rather more scrupulous man might hesitate before compromising a young girl of eighteen—a rich young girl."

"He doesn't know—" began Alison and stopped, flushing as she remembered that Guy did know. He had commented on the fact that she did not know what it meant to be short of money. Still, that fact didn't prove this charge! But Daphne had caught the half-finished sentence and she thrust home.

"Most people would think that enough to damn him, Alison, without anything else—to pursue a rich young girl against the wishes of her father!"

"He hasn't pursued me. I asked him to lunch today, I wanted to see him, I had to see him about—about something urgent!"

Daphne smiled.

"After two days' acquaintance," she remarked dryly, "can you really wonder that your father is a little anxious? Dr. Lumley—I'm sorry, Mr. Guy Westurn—must be rather fascinating, mustn't he?"

"I don't see what it's got to do with either of you?"

"You can't blame us, my dear, if we feel you're in some danger of losing your head!" She glanced for confirmation at Robert, who nodded. Alison exploded.

She said, in a very loud, clear voice, "if you mean that I might fall in love with Guy, then I am in love with him, and I don't believe a single word you say about him and I'm going to him now." And with that she turned and marched out of the room.

As the door slammed behind her Robert Rede started forward to follow but Daphne caught his arm.

"No, Bob, not now!" she pleaded. "It wouldn't do any good."

"But if she's gone off to meet that fellow?" he protested.

"She hasn't" declared Daphne soothingly. "Don't worry, dear. She's probably rushed off to her room to cry—and that'll do her good. The best thing you can do is to leave her alone."

But Robert was too much roused now to submit tamely to this suggestion. He said with heat, "If she think's she's going to talk to you like that and get away with it—!"

Just for an instant, a glint of satisfaction showed in the woman's eyes and vanished. But she spoke gently.

"She won't again. The child's hysterical, that's all. She's at the age when girls do get all worked up and excitable."

But Robert was stubborn.

"Alison's not hysterical," he declared sternly. "She can be perfectly sensible when she likes. I've never known her go on like this before, and I'm not going to allow it!"

He took a step towards the door, but Daphne drew him back.

"Please, Bob! Honestly, you can't do any good and you may send her—well, right off the deep end!"

"What do you mean?" He frowned.

Daphne hesitated. Then she sighed.

"To tell you the truth, I'm a little bit worried about her," she confessed at last.

"What about?" He was puzzled.

"Well—about her health." That came reluctantly.

"What's the matter with her? She seems perfectly well?" But he could not keep back a note of anxiety.

"In a way, yes," Daphne admitted, "But you know, Bob, these hysterical attacks aren't normal."

"Do you mean you think there's something the matter with her mind?" He was angered, shocked, repelled at the mere suggestion, even while he rejected it, and Daphne replied quickly.

"Of course not! I only mean that she's inclined to hysteria and nerves, like a lot of girls are at that particular age. It's the fault of the schools. They overwork them, too much competition, and drive them to hard at games. A girl at that age is growing up, she needs rest, care. She mustn't overstrain her nerves, that's all."

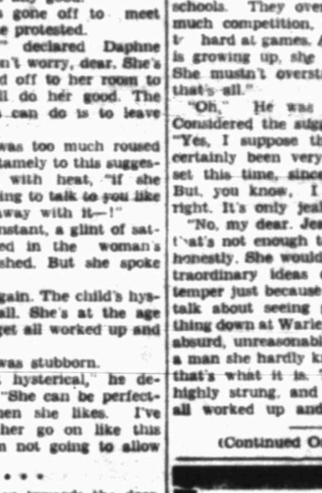

"Oh," He was openly relieved. Considered the suggestion carefully. "Yes, I suppose that's true. She's certainly been very nervy and upset this time, since she got home. But, you know, I think you were right. It's only jealousy."

"No, my dear. Jealousy—yes. But that's not enough to account for it, honestly. She wouldn't get these extraordinary ideas or these fits of temper just because of that. All that talk about seeing ghosts or something down at Warley—and now this absurd, unreasonable infatuation for a man she hardly knows. It's nerves, that's what it is. The child's very highly strung, and when she gets all worked up and hysterical, she

LAMB PIONEERS CELEBRATE

ANNUAL AFFAIR HELD AT LITTLEFIELD ON MONDAY

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Journal Staff Writer

LITTLEFIELD, July 16. — Successful in spite of weather and crop conditions, which held down an expected attendance, the first reunion of Lamb county pioneers yesterday was past history today. Many people continued to talk about it and to discuss a proposition to organize shortly for the 1936 program.

Gus Shaw, general chairman, said the affair went off in better shape than had been anticipated. Pat Boone, president of the chamber of commerce, said business men reported their Monday business was better than they had expected.

Showers Fall

Refreshing showers came just at the right time. In the morning a light shower fell. Several times during the day sprinkles came. Late in the afternoon, after the out-of-door program was over, came a heavier shower that refreshed growing crops and cooled the atmosphere.

Last night's dance was held in legion hall. Jimmie Thornhill and his orchestra from Lubbock, furnished the music.

Crowd Is Large

The crowd was estimated to have approached the 3,500 to 4,000 mark during the entire day. More than 1,000 people witnessed the parade. Old-timer registration was around 300 and probably twice that number attended the dinner.

One family came over 200 miles to attend, Gus Shaw, general chairman and master of ceremonies, said. A number came from 75 to 125 miles.

The affair was, in reality, a county-wide celebration. People from Sudan, Amherst, Olton, Spade, Earth, Fieldton, Pep, Hart's Camp and other communities, were here in large numbers. Muleshoe, Abernathy, Lubbock, Levelland and other towns, also had representatives here.

Most interesting of the day's program were the talks by old-timers from a small truck on the north side of the American Legion hall.

Pat H. Boone, who carried water as a boy for the gang that dug Yellowhouse canyon, welcomed the crowd. Pat is now a "city father" and gave official welcome to the visitors. He recalled some of his early experiences here.

Pete Boesen Speaks

P. E. (Pete) Boesen, "daddy" of Sudan and an early day resident and land salesman, also spoke. It was largely through Mr. Boesen's efforts that the western part of the county was settled and he recalled some of his experiences along that time.

Judge R. C. Hopping, an early day county judge, now of Lubbock, recalled some of his experiences as county judge and as a settler. He mentioned many of the early day cattle men he had known and told of the part they played in developing this section.

Recalling the founding of Littlefield, July 4, 1913, he said that that date marked not only the first sale of lots, but the arrival of the first Santa Fe train. B. F. Smith built the first house in town, he said, while W. G. and J. T. Street established the first general store. A Mr. Richards had a small grocery store when the Street brothers arrived in February, 1913. John Kling grew the first large acreage of cotton.

Tells Of History

Senator Arthur P. Duggan, who handled the townsite, told of history of the county prior to settlement. He said the first building in this area was an adobe house at Yellowhouse ranch, built in 1876 by buffalo hunters. Ten years later, a ranch house was built. Major George W. Littlefield, founder of the town and owner of the Yellowhouse ranch and other properties, got the Santa Fe to connect up its California and Gulf coast lines through Littlefield.

Miss Ina Belle Wharton, first child born in Littlefield, was introduced, as was J. Frank Norfleet, Hale county rancher and early day cowboy, Mrs. Norfleet and Dr. C. J. Wagner of Lubbock.

Lunch was served at noon, with the American Legion auxiliary in charge. Counters were erected and loaded with meats, pies, cakes, salads, sandwiches, etc.

Parade Is Staged

The day's program opened with a parade from the city hall down Phelps avenue to the Santa Fe depot and back to the hall and then to the City park. L. A. Ratliff, deputy sheriff here, was marshal. The Junior High school band, led by A. B. Taylor, some 50 strong, played. Members of the American Legion post marched in the line. There were more than a score of automobiles containing pioneers of the city and county, grouped by years of their arrival. Dates ranged from 1914 to 1930.

The town was decorated for the occasion.

Among the Lubbock people here were: Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Wagner, and daughters Helen and Ruth; Judge and Mrs. R. C. Hopping and daughter; H. D. Woods, J. A. and A. W. Alexander.

During the afternoon four Littlefield young women, Misses Clyde Willis, Earnestine Cundiff, Dorothy Newgent and Louise Thornton, gave tap dances and Miss Willis gave a special number, "Stars and Stripes."

Games and contests for boys and girls, under the direction of Eugene Latimer, scoutmaster, were held. They included potato races, sack races, greasy pig races and fat men's races.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—The stock market was two-minded today, scattered specialties again attracting buyers while many of the so-called leaders backed water in the face of moderate profit taking.

The list started out with a steady to firm undertone, but the resistance levels which have been present for several days apparently could not be easily surmounted. A slow backing and filling movement resulted. The rails, steels and equipments lost their enthusiasm of Monday and did virtually nothing. There were a few soft spots in evidence.

The grains moved up and then slipped back, following closely the Liverpool market. Cotton was a bit easier. Other commodities were mixed. There was a better demand for secondary bonds while low-yield loans were usually neglected.

Shares that managed to keep even or fractionally ahead of the procession included National Biscuit, Mack Truck, Collins & Aikman, Cerro De Pasco, Kennecott, Union Pacific, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, General Electric, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck and Standard Oil of California.

Among losers of fractions to a point or so were Du Pont, U. S. Steel, Case, Chrysler, General Motors, Macy, National Distillers, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Western Union, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Westinghouse.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—Wheat prices were about a cent a bushel higher here early today, responsive largely to strength in the Liverpool market. An opening advance of more than a cent in wheat at Kansas City also attracted attention. Starting 3-8 to 8-4 cents higher, Sept 83 1-4 to 1-2, Chicago wheat later gained. Corn opened at 1-4 to 5-8 up, Sept 75 7-8, and then held close to this range.

A late decline in Liverpool wheat values was followed by weakness here but there was no pronounced pressure on the Chicago market. Reports of rust spread in spring wheat in localities on both sides of the Canadian border cushioned the decline.

Wheat closed 5-8 lower to 1-8 higher compared with the previous finish, September 82 5-8 to 7-8, and corn displayed independent strength, ending 1-4 to 1 3-4 higher, September 75 7-8-76. Oats were unchanged to 1-8 off, rye unchanged to 5-8 off and barley unchanged to 3-4 down. Provisions were firm.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—Cash wheat: No. 2 red 84 1-4; No. 2 red tough 82 3-4. Cash corn: No. 1 yellow 87 1-4 to 1-2; No. 2 yellow 87 to 87 1-2. Cash oats: No. 2 white 36 1-2.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, July 16. (AP)—Excellent demand for wheat continued today but other grains met only a fair demand here. Estimated receipts were: wheat 20 cars, corn 4, oats 4, barley 1, and sorghums 2.

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: wheat No. 1 hard 1.04 3-4@05 3-4, barley No. 2 nom 51-53; sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom 1.15-25; No. 2 milo nom 1.10-15; No. 2 white kafir nom 1.05-10.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn (shelled) No. 2 white 1.05 1-2@06; oats No. 2 red 36 1-2@38.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 16. (AP)—Light buying in the near months advanced cotton futures 1-3 points at the start of trading on the market here today.

July opened at 11.99, Oct at 11.67, and Dec at 11.63 and held around these levels during the first hour of trading.

After the first call business was out of the way the market settled down into a dull and narrow trading range with actual sales infrequent and prices changes negligle.

The market recovered a little from the lows established around noon and light buying by the trade professionals brought futures up partially to close steady 5 to 13 points lower.

Favorable weather combined with the decision from the United States court of appeals at Boston declaring the AAA unconstitutional brought selling into the market during the morning and prices dropped from 11 to 16 points.

Traders speculated that under the court decision there was a hint that the market might have to go along without supporting loans for the 1935 crop.

July dipped to 11.85 on the downward movement, Oct. was down to 11.52 and May was off 16 points at 11.49. Activity failed to increase on the decline and after registering losses the market held comparatively steady.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1-4 points advance in partial response to steadier Liverpool cables which were offset by commission house selling. July 12.06; Oct 11.74; Dec 11.69, Jan 11.67; Mch 11.65; May 11.72.

Trading was quiet with covering in the near months and buying to fix prices the principal sources of support. After the initial demand had been supplied prices eased under realizing encouraged by talk of improving crop conditions and rather freer offerings of Oct from spot house sources Oct sagged off from 11.74 to 11.67 and March from 11.65 to 11.60 with active months generally showing net losses of 2 to 4 points at the end of the first hour.

Reports from Boston regarding the federal court's decision holding the AAA to be unconstitutional came in for considerable discussion. Trading continued quiet, however, with prices sagging off slightly under moderate seller. At mid-day Oct. was selling around 11.61 and March 11.54 or 8 to 9 points net lower.

Futures closed barely steady, 11-13 lower. Spot steady; middling 12.25.

PROCESSING IS RULED OUT

UNCONSTITUTIONALITY OF PROCESSING TAX HELD IN OPINION

certain widely separated periods alone forms no such standard."

Legislative In Character

"If congress has the power to control or regulate the production of agricultural products within the several states, and issues a tax on their processing or sale for that purpose, it is obviously legislative in character. Query then has congress set up any definite standard for the secretary's action in making rental or benefit payments to producers and thereby imposing a processing tax?

"We find no definite, intelligible standard, set up in the act for determining when the secretary shall pay rental or benefit payments in order to reduce production of any particular commodity except in his own judgment as to what will effectuate the purpose of the act.

Contains No Such Standard

"The declaration of the emergency in the Agricultural act contains no such standard for the secretary of agriculture to follow in entering into restrictive agreement with producers of agricultural products. It is merely a statement of conditions, which in the judgment of congress warranted legislative action. . . .

"Without requiring any findings to warrant his action, congress has empowered him, in conjunction with the producers, to determine when a reduction of acreage of production of any one of the agricultural commodities which it has termed basis should be resorted to to accomplish the act, when rental or benefit payments are to be made and in what amounts, and thereby to determine through the initiation of the benefit payments or rentals the consequent imposition of a tax.

"The secretary made no findings of facts as to why he selected the first list of basis commodities for reducing acreage or production, and was not required to do so. He simply made a proclamation; rental and-or benefit payments are to be made with respect to cotton; and a processing tax automatically followed. . . ."

Yesterday, Judge Brewster hinted that his district court finding might be reversed by the circuit court as he ordered continuation of a temporary injunction preventing collection of processing taxes from four New Bedford mills and a Fall river corporation.

Collection Brings On Ruling

The collection of some $700,000,000 of processing taxes hinges upon the question of their constitutionality.

The Hoosac Mills suit was one of many brought by textile corporations who sought recovery of taxes paid on constitutional grounds. The Hoosac suit was chosen by United States attorneys as a test case to be carried to the United States Supreme court chiefly because of the initial success of the government in obtaining a favorable decision in the district court.

The court's decision held both the processing and floor taxes levied under the AAA unconstitutional.

The Hoosac corporation had sued for the recovery of $44,057.64 in processing taxes and interest, and $37,636.64 in floor taxes and interest.

Habeas Corpus For Girl Is Being Held

Habeas corpus hearing for release of Sarah Margaret Jeffcoat, 19, was to begin in 72nd district court before Judge Homer L. Pharr at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The young woman was held in contempt of court after she was subpoenaed as a witness at a court of inquiry before Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg Saturday. Her attorney, Charles Nordyke, filed application for a writ of habeas corpus this morning.

Her commitment to county jail set out, in part, that "Sarah Margaret Jeffcoat having been duly sworn as a witness . . . having testified she was unmarried and the mother of a child born on March 3, being asked who was the father of said child refused to answer."

She was committed to jail "until she makes answer to the above question and any and all other pertinent questions relating to said court of inquiry."

Jess C. Levens, county attorney, and Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, will represent the state in the hearing.

Nordyke's application for writ of habeas corpus charged he woman was being "unlawfully confined."

Gusher Runs Wild In Louisiana Area

BATON ROUGE, La., July 16 (AP)—The Athens No. 2 well in the McElroy field in Ascension parish, 35 miles southwest of here, continued to gush wildly today as drillers sought means to control the flow.

The well, which is the property of the Athens Oil Co., New Orleans, and is located near the Baton Rouge-New Orleans Airline highway, blew in at noon Sunday when the drillers prepared to make a test. The gusher went beyond control when a concrete casing gave way. It is reported that the casing was defective when poured.

Drilling had reached 4350 feet when the oil gushed to the surface and shot to the top of the derrick. This was the approximate depth of the Athens No. 1 well which started production June 13 and is now choked to 220 barrels a day. The field had been abandoned in 1927 by the Gulf Refining company until operations were recently begun by the Athens Oil company.

Ann Harding Opens New Move In Fight

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 16 (AP)—Seeking to protect her reputation from what she termed questions without foundation and fact Ann Harding, blonde film actress, opened a new legal offensive today in her long drawn battle with her former husband, Harry Bannister, over custody of their child.

Miss Harding filed with the state supreme court a petition for a writ of prohibition to restrain the superior court from ordering her to answer questions in a deposition sought by Bannister.

TECH-MADE SUIT GIVEN ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—President Roosevelt may wear a Texas-made cotton suit if he goes to Texas for the 1936 centennial.

On behalf of Progressive Texans, Inc., Mrs. William E. Talbot of Dallas and her son, Bill Edward, 11, presented the suit Monday with the hope the chief executive would be "courteous enough to his southern constituents" to wear it if and when he visited the state. Her husband is president of the organization.

Mrs. Talbot predicted if the president would do that, he would "be in even better favor" among Texans but hastened to add he had not lost any of his popularity. The suit was manufactured at a Waco, Tex., plant, from cotton raised, spun and woven by students of Texas Technological college at Lubbock.

V. H. Moore Named Secretary Of Lions

V. H. Moore, long a member of the Lubbock Lions club and during the past year, second vice-president, was elected secretary for the coming year, President Hurley Carpenter said this morning in reporting a meeting of the directors last night at the Hilton hotel.

Mr. Moore succeeds J. B. Morrisset, who resigned recently after being reelected, when he moved from the city. Mr. Morrisset had completed two terms and was reelected for his third term.

Directors also voted to pay a registration fee for the delegates from the local club to the International convention which begins next Tuesday in Mexico, D. F. Fees will be paid from the general fund. There will be about 15 local delegates attending, the president said.

Mr. Moore has been acting secretary since Mr. Morrisset resigned. He began his new duties with Tuesday's luncheon. He was chosen from a field of five or six possible candidates.

was reported "rolled out."

Shallowater had a light shower, and rain was heavy from the Broadview community almost to Lubbock.

Good Rain At Lorenzo

Lorenzo had a good rain which followed a two and a quarter inch fall Friday morning. No moisture was reported at Lamesa, Spur and Ralls, but the sky was overcast. Electrical displays at Lamesa and at Ralls substituted for the veiled eclipse of the moon.

Cooling winds followed in the wake of rains and showers. A day that registered a 91-degree maximum at Lubbock gave way to refreshing temperatures that allowed early sleep. The mercury at 6 p. m. had contracted to a 66-degree reading, only one degree higher than the early morning minimum. For most of the summer the reading at that hour has been only two or three degrees different from a given day's maximum.

Woman Faces Term For Beating Child

BIG SPRINGS, July 16. (AP)—Ethel Shields faced a 6-month jail term today for beating six-year-old Buster Mitchell, a child the county paid her to care for.

The woman pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery yesterday, after neighbors had reported that she had raised large welts nearly all over her ward's body.

Care of Buster and four other children was taken over by the county after their mother, a relief client, left the state recently.

GIVEN PEN TERMS

RUSK, July 16. (AP)—Shannon Bothwell and Nathan West were given penitentiary sentences of 14 years each in district court Monday on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property.

Officers said their arrest in May led to the break-up of one of the biggest theft rings ever operated in East Texas.

OIL IS SOLD

AUSTIN, July 16. (AP)—Attorney General McCraw announced receipt of $10,795 from sale of confiscated East Texas oil. It represented payment of 15,989 barrels of crude, 5,227 barrels of kerosene and 4,208 barrels of distillate which a Travis county court had ordered sold in a suit against J. C. Potter.

MOON ECLIPSE IS OBSERVED

CELESTIAL SPECTACLE IS WITNESSED BY MILLIONS

(By The Associated Press)

The moon, totally eclipsed by the earth, shone copper-colored from refracted rays list night and early today in a celestial spectacle that kept millions of Americans up past bedtime.

The eclipse was the longest visible in this country in 50 years. There will not be another of such length for another half century.

Alignment With Sun

The phenomenon came with direct alignment of sun, earth and moon, the moon sliding through the earth's umbral cone, which extends 800,000 miles into space, at a point approximately 226,000 miles away.

The moon touched the penumbra, in which part of the sun's light is cut off, at 9:15 p. m., eastern standard time, and reached the umbra, or totally dark shadow, at 10:12 p. m.

By 11:09 it was in total eclipse, emerging from the other side of the thick cone an hour and 40 minutes later, and clearing the penumbra at 2:35 a. m.

Gave Copper Color

The refracted rays from the sun, which gave the eclipsed moon a pale phosphorescent copper color and made it still visible, were bent around and directed into the earth's umbra by vaporous substances about the earth's surface.

The Atlantic seaboard had favored seats for the show, since the middle of the eclipse was only slightly past its meridian. Thick white clouds, fleeting by in rapid formation, frequently obscured the view in New York and many other sections of the country.

In some regions rain and clouds made visibility impossible.

The west coast had clear skies, and did parts of Texas and most of the region west of the Rocky mountains. Most of the south had an excellent view, the visibility being only slightly hindered at Miami and New Orleans.

Philadelphia and Providence, R. I., and many places in New England reported cloud interferences.

Astronomers at the naval observatory in Washington made many photographs of the spectacle, but made no effort to check their time instruments. The haze with the earth's shadow made accurate observation impossible.

Harvard university scientists were handicapped by the clouds. They were not even able to take pictures.

Scientists at Yerkes observatory in Wisconsin said their observations showed no changes in the craters on the moon's surface since the last eclipse.

Thousands of spectators thronged the shore and piers for the spectacle.

Twenty-one years ago, the king viewed 59 capital ships and 65 cruisers on the same scene. In his post-war review of 1924, there were 11 capital ships and 9 cruisers.

Unknown In War Days

Today there were nine capital ships and 17 cruisers. There were destroyers and submarines in greater numbers and two aircraft carriers—new, since such ships were unknown in World war days.

The British fleet, a major part of which entered into the ceremony, displayed a strength which, although still powerful, was considerably weaker than in 1914.

Great Britain's navy, like that of the United States, has been cut radically in size and regulated by the Washington treaty, which Japan has denounced, effective at the end of 1936.

"Perhaps if I went up and talked to her quietly," he began.

"No. Don't do that. She'd only think you were weakening. Leave her alone now. But what she ought to have is a thorough rest. I'm glad we're taking her with us to Spain. Mountain air, a tonic and complete rest is just what she needs. By the way, has she got a maid?"

"No," Alison's father was worried now. "Do you think she needs one?"

"I think it'd be a good thing. She oughtn't to have to pack or worry about clothes."

He considered that. "I might get hold of her old Nanny. She did act as maid until she got married a year or two ago.

But again Daphne vetoed his suggestion.

"It'd be better to get someone new," she said decidedly. "You don't want someone who'd baby her too much, fuss over her. A sensible woman, with some knowledge of massage would be better. I can find you someone."

"If you would!" He was relieved now. He put an arm round her shoulders. "What a comfort you are to me! I'm terribly sorry, dear, that she behaved to you like that."

"It didn't matter a bit. I was only sorry because," Daphne Sumers' voice grew low, mournful, "I had so hoped to win her over to me."

TO BE SAVED

KEY WEST, Fla., (AP)—An early American cottage is to be rehabilitated as a municipal shrine. Birthplace and present home of Miss Mary Dunn, retired school teacher, the cottage was built in 1810 by a sea captain. Today the wooden structure is in the last stages of decay but FERA authorities have decided to restore it as symbolic of Key West architecture.

attentions to his mother, Burlingame said, and drove Sweitzer from the house. Field, a neighbor, heard the argument and attempted to act as a peace-maker, police said.

Magistrate J. Albert Eckerds, jr., married the couple at Clymer, N. J., shortly after King was arrested on the murder charge. King is in jail at Erie.

Burlingame said about 500 persons appeared at the Sweitzer home, making threats and hurling stones at the windows. He said he found tar and feathers near the house after the couple had been taken away and the crowd dispersed.

clubhouse something pitiful. Which is a bit of all right.

You can't play much of a golf game on four greens, but that's a start, and it is very encouraging. Once the grass gets to growing, which will be in about five or six weeks, maybe the members will get fired up and order grass to be planted on fourteen other spots.

The experiment is calculated to prove that grass, properly planted and attended, can grow at the Country club the same as it grows on the courthouse lawn or the former rocky hills at the county park. As a matter of fact, it already has been proven, for the grass on the new No. 18 green is up to a fine stand, and it has not received the water that will be poured on the other three from the beginning.

Water for the four greens will come from the well which supplies the swimming pool. It will not come direct from the well, but from the pool itself through an outlet at the bottom of the deepest part. Thus will the project serve the added purpose of keeping the pool constantly clean.

A few feet east of the swimming pool stands a motor capable of developing enough horsepower to flood eighteen greens. It pumps the water from the pool, thence into the main pipes, and the pressure through a two-and-a-half-inch pipe is enough to bowl a man over at 15 feet, more or less. From this central station, pipes are being laid to each of the four greens.

The new greens, by the way, are being constructed so as to fit in with the proposed plan of general improvement. The No. 17 green is nearer the lake, increasing the hazard from that angle. It is fifty feet, approximately, west of the present green. No. 8 is moved further to the right, and the No. 9 grass green will be nearer the clubhouse, a shorter hole but with about the same trouble.

Welding of the pipes will be completed in a day or two, and the water will be turned loose. Meanwhile work on the greens continues, and actual sowing of the seeds will be the next step of Cotton McAfee and his crew. They're building the foundation, laying fertilizer on the base of the soft dirt.

It's a step in the right direction, this grass greens business, but just a step. It is to be hoped that the club will not sit around on its four new greens, counting its change for another decade or two before completing the 18-hole circuit. The club is several years behind the times now; sand greens no longer are recognized as worthy of the game of golf, but are considered handicaps to golfers who sometimes get outside the city limits. With good grass greens, Lubbock can attract

Cheney Funeral Is Being Held Today

Funeral services for U. H. Cheney, 86, federal cavalryman during the civil war, were to be read at 3 p. m. Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Jeff . Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church, at Sanders Funeral chapel. At Memorial Park cemetery, Mr. Cheney will be buried with military honors.

A resident of Lubbock for 25 years, Mr. Cheney was a member of the 10th cavalry, a Michigan unit during the civil war. He was injured fatally Saturday when he stepped into the path of a taxicab.

Survivors are a dauguhter, Mrs. Harry Cox, of Manson, Ia., who arrived here Monday afternoon; and a son, C. A. Cheney of Balboa, Canal Zone.

GARNER FRANKLY PUZZLED AS TO HOW TO SPEND THREE MILLION DOLLARS IN TEXAS CENTENNIAL; HE'LL MAKE TRY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 16 — Vice President Garner, as one of the commissioners to provide for the expenditure of $3,000,000 of federal money to help Texas celebrate its 100th anniversary, frankly admits he does not know "what you can spend this money for."

Making an unusual appearance before the senate appropriations committee in behalf of the sum being added to the second deficiency bill, Garner, the hearings made public today disclosed, said:

"I think it would be absolutely 'stretching the blanket' as it were for anyone to tell you just what this can best be expended for.

"Frankly, I would like to be relieved of it, myself, because this is something that somebody else can do just as well or better, I think. But, being a citizen of Texas and holding the office of vice president they naturally thought that they wanted somebody there to take the lead, I guess."

Garner, however, promised to "allocate" the money for the purpose for which it was intended and turn "back to the administration" all money not spent.

"I am willing to take the responsibility on behalf of the Texas people," he said.

Texas has passed measures to raise $9,000,000 for the centennial next year. The secretaries of state, commerce and agriculture will serve on the federal commission with Garner.

BRITONS OFFER SERVICES

MANY SEEK TO JOIN IN ETHIOPIA'S FIGHT FOR PEACE

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 16—Many Britons began to offer their services as volunteers in the Ethiopian army today as Great Britain's peace efforts in the controversy were given another push.

The government is working with France, hoping the two may find some road to settlement of the dispute which could be presented at the meeting of the League of Nations council on the subject about July 25.

Permission Held Up

While the government has held up permission of arms firms to ship munitions to Addis Ababa, it is unable to prevent British citizens from enlisting in the emperor's army.

A rush of applicants have sent their names to the Ethiopian legation here. These offers are "much appreciated," the minister said, but pending further instructions from Emperor Haile Selassie he is not taking active steps to enlist volunteers.

Both Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, and Lt. Col. David John Colville, secretary for overseas trade, dodged a barrage of questions in the house of commons on the question of arms exports to Ethiopia.

Hoare said he had not arrived at a decision on licenses in the matter but expected to make an announcement "shortly."

If Tired Glands Are the Cause Of Lowered Vitality, Try This Doctor's Recommendation

Sluggish glands, say doctors, are often responsible for impaired vigor, many unhappy marriages. They prescribe for this condition a newly discovered hormone now incorporated in Zo-ak Tablets—the formula of a distinguished American physician. Zo-ak is unlike anything else on the market. Try Zo-ak uninterruptedly for one month. If you do not feel a vast improvement physically and mentally, if you do not revel with the thrill and joy of improved vigor and happiness, your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Zo-ak contains the hormone widely recognized by physicians to strengthen natural power. Just ask your druggist for Zo-ak. Blue wrapper (orange wrapper for women). Also ask him for our free booklet "For Men Who Want to Live," a doctor's message to men past 40. Zo-ak is sold by Mark Halsey Drug store and all live druggists.—Adv.

POLICE PROTECTION TO BE GIVEN TO AGED COUPLE AFTER THREATS OF MOB

(By The Associated Press)

ERIE, Pa., July 10.—Sixty-eight-year-old Julius Sweitzer and his 86-year-old bride arranged today to gather up their personal effects and move from the town of Corry, whose residents drove them away with threats of tar and feathers.

Sweitzer, who married the aged Mrs. Anna King two weeks ago, asked Assistant Prosecutor Burton Laub for a state police escort to return to Corry and get the couple's clothing.

Would Provide Protection

Laub replied that Corry officers would provide ample protection and said Sweitzer could return any time he pleased. The elderly bridegroom declined to say when he will make the trip.

"We are going to make Erie our home," he said as he left Laub's office.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweitzer took refuge in an Erie hotel after police and firemen rescued them Sunday from Corry citizens who had wrecked the Sweitzer home and made threats of tar and feathers.

The elderly bridegroom said he will confer with District Attorney Mortimer E. Graham about the state trooper escort. He did not disclose any further plans. Graham made no statement pending Sweitzer's appearance.

Ill-Feeling Shown

Police Chief J. Burlingame of Corry said residents of that community had expressed ill-feeling toward the newly married couple since the arrest July 3 of Gus King, 64, Mrs. Sweitzer's son, on a charge of slaying Laurence Field.

King had objected to Sweitzer's
